After much both private and publick Debate about this Formulary, in the Years 1661. and 1662, it not only was ſubſcribed at ſeveral Times and Places by the proper Hands of threeſcore and ten of their Clergy, (whereof a Biſhop was one) and a hundred ſixty four of their chiefeſt Lay Nobility, Gentry and Proprietors, (whereof one and twenty were Peers, viz. ſeven Earls, nine Viſcounts, and five Barons) but (immediately after the firſt Subſcription at London, Anno 1661.) was ſolemnly preſented to and graciouſly accepted by his Majeſty. And I ſuppoſe they that had any diſlike of it in thoſe Days, were well enough pleaſed with their Shares of the Succeſs; which was his Majeſty's effectual countermanding the Winds and Tempeſt of Perſecution throughout Ireland, and his gracious Smiling on the diſtreſſed Catholicks, both People and Clergy of that Iſland.

But however this honeſt Formulary was ſoon after traduced and impugned, by ſundry Eccleſiaſticks of the Roman Communion.

This honeſt Formulary (now commonly called the Iriſh Remonſtrance) ſo neceſſarily and piouſly eſpouſed thus by ſo many good patriot Subſcribers, as a conſcientious, chriſtian, full, and ſatisfactory Profeſſion of the Duty which by all Laws, divine and humane, they (as well as all other Subjects) owe his Majeſty againſt all Pretences of the Pope to the contrary, was even for that very Cauſe (i. e. for being ſo chriſtianly honeſt and ſincerely loyal) ſoon after traduced and impugned by ſundry Eccleſiaſticks of the Roman Communion, and chiefly by many of thoſe Iriſh who had received moſt Benefit by it.

Who not only made it odious at home, but got it cenſur'd and condemn'd abroad.

By the Divines of Lovain; and the Pope's Internuncio's, and the Roman Cardinals.

Theſe good Men were not content by their Reproaches and Calumnies to make it odious at home, but alſo dealt ſo by their diſloyal Arts and powerful Friends in other Countries, that they got it to be cenſured and condemn'd in formal Terms, as unlawful, deteſtable, ſacrilegious, yea in effect, as ſchiſmatical and heretical, by the publick Cenſures of the Lovain Theological Faculty, and publick Letters alſo both of the Bruxel Internuncio's De Vechii, and Roſpiglioſi, and of the Roman Cardinals De propaganda Fide, under the Preſidency of Cardinal Francis Barbarini himſelf, though amongſt other his many Titles at Rome, ſtyled Protector of England.

By which they got the Face of Authority on their Side; and proceeded againſt the Subſcribers with the utmoſt Severity,

To make them renounce their Allegiance to the King by retracting their Subſcriptions.

Having thus gotten the Face of Authority on their Side, they have not ceaſed ever ſince, for twelve Years to the preſent 1673, but eſpecially theſe five or ſix laſt Years have in a moſt furious Manner proceeded even with all the vileſt Arts of malicious Cabals, Conſpiracies, Plots, Libels, and an Impoſtor Commiſſary, and a forged Commiſſion, and all the moſt lying Slanders imaginable to perſecute and defame the few remaining conſtant Eccleſiaſtical Subſcribers. They have kept them in continual Chace with all the greateſt, and all the moſt illegal, moſt uncanonical Extent of an abuſed Power, with Monitories, Citations, Depoſitions, Excommunications, Denunciations, and even publick affixion or poſting of them. Of which extremely unjuſt and ſcandalous Procedures againſt Men no way contumacious (as I have ſufficiently proved) there was no Cauſe in Nature that appeared or was pretended, but a manifeſt Deſign to force them to renounce their Allegiance to the King by retracting their Subſcriptions.

A learned Proteſtant Writer does vouch for the Sincerity of Father Walſh againſt all the Prevarications of the other Party.

The Author of ſome Conſiderations of preſent Concernment (ſaid to be Mr. Dodwell) publiſhed 1673, 8vo. ſhews the Errors and Devices of the Roman Anti-Remonſtrants, and vouches for the Sincerity of the Subſcribers, eſpecially of Father Peter Walſh.

All that I think reaſonable to believe is, that the Iriſh Remonſtrants meant ſincerely; otherwiſe it is not credible that they would have maintained this Form, having been ſo ſeverely treated by the Court of Rome for ſo doing, ſo ſenſible that politick Court has been how inconſiſtent it is with their Pretences. And what otherwiſe could be the Cauſe of the Procurator's candid Dealing in this particular, in diſcovering of the Fallacies of the deluſory Forms, before they were obſerved by our Governors; in refuſing to preſent ſome of them, and acquainting not only themſelves, but the Duke of Ormond, with their reſpective Deficiences, and drawing up the fourteen Propoſitions for the Prevention of all future Prevarications. —— To which I might add his free and open Diſcovery of his foreign Intelligence without any Intimation otherwiſe that might have made it ſuſpected by the Lord Lieutenant, which was thought an Argument ſo very conſiderable by the Earl of Angleſey, that he thereupon profeſs'd himſelf ſatisfied with his Sincerity, &c.

Lord Clarendon writes thus, the Pope in Time of Charles I. cauſed his Majeſty's catholick Subjects in Ireland to rebel, and when out of the Conſcience of their Sin they ſubmitted to the King, and ſubſcribed and ſwore to the Obſervation of the Articles agreed upon, the Pope abſolved

The ſame Father Peter Walſh in his Letter to the Catholicks dated Octob. 25. 1675. told them, they had loſt three fair Opportunities ſince his Majeſty's Reſtauration of being not only eaſed of all their Preſſures from the Penal Statutes, but rendred as happy as in Reaſon they could deſire, or even wiſh, under a Proteſtant King and Government. The firſt Opportunity was offered them in England in 1661. when it was earneſtly and ſtrongly moved in their Behalf in the Houſe of Lords to repeal the Sanguinary Laws in the firſt Place; and a Bill was ed them from the Performance of their Oaths, and took upon himſelf to be their General in the Perſon of his Nuncio, and aſſumed the Exerciſe of the Regal Power both at Land and Sea, and impriſoned thoſe Catholicks, and threatned to take their Lives who had promoted the Peace, and deſired to return to the King's Subjection.

And ſince the King's happy Reſtauration, the Nobility and Catholick Clergy of Ireland thought it neceſſary to preſent ſome Teſtimony of their future Allegiance to the King, in which they declared that the Pope had no Power to diſpenſe with their Fidelity to his Majeſty, or to abſolve them from any Oaths they ſhould take to that purpoſe. Which Declaration was atteſted and ſubſcribed by many of the principal Catholick Nobility, and others of the beſt Quality and Intereſt, as likewiſe by ſome of their titular Catholick Biſhops, and many of their ſecular and regular Clergy. But Complaint and Notice hereof being ſent to Rome, the Pope was ſo offended at it, that he cauſed his Nuncio in Flanders to command ſome of the Clergy who had ſubſcribed that Paper to attend him, and threatned to excommunicate them, and Cardinal Barbarine at the ſame Time writ a Letter to the Biſhops and Clergy of Ireland, in which he ſignified how much the Pope was diſpleaſed that ſuch a Subſcription and Declaration had been made, and commanded them to diſcountenance and ſuppreſs the ſame, and take Care that it ſhould proceed no farther, and the Cardinal added, that they ſhould remember what they well knew that the Kingdom remained ſtill under Excommunication. Animadverſions on Mr. Creſſy, 8vo. p. 246.

was drawn to that Purpoſe. I myſelf was the only Man employ'd firſt to the Roman-Catholick Clergy both of England and Ireland on theſe Occaſions, to prepare them againſt any Obſtruction from themſelves of the Favours intended towards them, and that nothing elſe was required on this firſt Occaſion from the Roman-Catholicks in England, but their being ready to take the Oath of Allegiance only, as in the Statute tertio Jacobi, his Majeſty being then inclin'd to have diſpenſed with them for the Oath of Supremacy.

Mr. Thomas White alias Blackloe a Roman Prieſt had given great Offence in his Writings not only in political Principles deſtructive of Monarchy and all Civil Government; but in ſeveral Poſitions injurious to the Papal Supremacy and had been under Queſtion and Cenſure for it; upon which he made ſome Recantations, which (ſaith the Writer of the Letters about Doway College) I am obliged rather to give Credit to, than the uncharitable Conjectures of ſuch as cannot allow him thoſe Prerogatives, which Nature has beſtowed upon him. May the 8th 1657. is the Date of one of his Submiſſions, which he publiſhed with all the Solemnity that ſuch a Thing requir'd. I underwritten, &c. do ſincerely profeſs, that I hold it neceſſary, that all Catholicks ſhould in Heart, and in all Humility and Obedience, ſubmit their Divinity Writings to the Holy Church and See Apoſtolick. —— I do humbly and ſincerely profeſs it to all it ſhall concern, by this my preſent Writing or Inſtrument, and this to reach to all my Books either paſt or to come, proteſting never to recede from this Reſolution, as far as God ſhall give me Grace; and this not only before Men, but alſo before God, as I hope and expect good from him. Thomas White alias Blackloe, May 8, 1657.

London, 1715, 8vo. p. 20.

Now when he had thus ſubmitted himſelf and his Writings in ample Manner to the Church and See Apoſtolick; ſome of his Adverſaries gave out, that he did not mean what others uſually do, viz. the preſent Head of the Church and See of Rome, but the whole Church jointly with the Pope. To give Content to theſe Peoples Surmiſes, he publiſh'd a ſecond Recantation, July 2, 1657. in Terms as comprehenſive as any one could deſire. —— I do now likewiſe actually and willingly ſubmit all my Writings to the particular See of Rome, and St. Peter's Succeſſors the Pope, even out of a General Council, and this according as my Opinion and Belief has ever taught me, ratifying and confirming to this Effect all the Contents of my former Submiſſion. In Witneſs whereof I have ſet unto my Hand this July 2, 1657.

And again in the Year 1662, Feb. 3. I find he has in a Letter to his Holineſs ſignified a third Time his Willingneſs to ſtand corrected, and ſubmit to what Puniſhment the See of Rome ſhould allot him, and ſincerely profeſſes he will tamely ſubmit to all its Cenſures. —— Alſo under the ſame Obteſtation I profeſs, that if your Holineſs ſhould proceed to the Puniſhments mention'd in the Decree, without any further Form of Law, I will not contend, but undergo them with as much Humility and Patience as I am able, Feb. 3, 1662.

By the King. A Proclamation for the Prizing of Wines. Given February 4, 1661.

Printed Sheet.

James Smith, S. T. P. was inſtalled Precentor of the Church of Exeter by Proxy, Feb. 7, 1661-2. and in Perſon April 12, 1662. He died June 20, 1667. ſucceeded in that Dignity by Dr. John Wilkins.

Le Neve's Faſti, p 88.

Mr. L'Eſtrange againſt Mr. Bagſhaw in Defence of the Biſhop of Worceſter.

Telling the Occaſion of the Difference betwixt the Biſhop of Worceſter and Mr. Baxter.

A Whip for the ſchiſmatical Animadverter upon the Biſhop of Worceſter's Letter: With an Anſwer to a ſecond and impudent Libel from the ſame Hand entitled, ſome further Animadverſions, &c. By Roger L'Eſtrange. —— Dated Feb. 7, 1661.

Printed at London, 1662, 4to. for Henry Brome. See June 7. 1662.

Concluding with this State of the Caſe between the Biſhop and Mr. Baxter. — The Biſhop of Worceſter finding the Pariſh of Kidderminſter infected with Mr. Baxter's Doctrine (who preach'd there without either Cure or Licence) forbids him to preach there any more, and preaches there himſelf, to diſabuſe them; hinting the unfaithful Dealing they had receiv'd from one in great Authority among them, concerning the King's Cauſe, the Rites of the Church, and the Sinfulneſs of a lawful Command, becauſe by Accident it might be the Occaſion of Sin.

Hereupon Mr. Baxter addreſſes to the Inhabitants of Kidderminſter, pretends that he was ſilenc'd for denying ſuch a Poſition, (which was not ſo, but for Preaching without a Licence) and charges the Biſhop to have deliver'd in the Pulpit Words tending to his Defamation, and neither of Charity, Truth, nor Soberneſs. This Scandal and ſome other partial Relations, ſhort of, and beyond the true State of the Matter, were the Occaſion of the Biſhop's Letter, where I muſt confeſs the Biſhop of Worceſter may be thought thus far ſevere to Mr. Baxter, in that he hath foil'd him by Proofs not to be denied, and by Reaſons not to be anſwered.

Other Animadverſions by a Doctor of Phyſick.

A Letter with Animadverſions upon the Animadverter on the Biſhop of Worceſter's Letter. By J. C. M. D.

London, Printed for M. B. 1661, 4to.

SIR,

I have peruſed the Pamphlet, and with it return you ſome ſlight Animadverſions upon the ſlighteſt of Animadverters. He who called Presbyterians Demicaſters in Divinity was too ſuperlative in his Titles of Honour, ſince with their great Cry there is no Wool, only Dirt and Briſtles, &c. [Concluding.] But leſt I ſhould dwell upon nothing, or a Subject that is worth nothing, farewel. Only remember me to the Animadverter, who may be better cur'd by Phyſick than Divinity. What the Letter is defective in the Profeſſion ſhall ſupply.

J. C.

Hen. Marten one of the Regicides brought to the Bar of the Lords.

The Apology he made for himſelf.

Die Veneris 7. Feb. 1661. In the Houſe of Lords. Henry Marten was brought to the Bar of this Houſe, and demanded, what he could ſay for himſelf, why the Act for his Execution ſhould not paſs; and he ſaid, that the honourable Houſe of Commons that he did ſo idolize, had given him up to Death, and now this honourable Houſe of Peers, which he had ſo much oppoſed (eſpecially in their Power of Judicature) is now made the Sanctuary to flee to for Life. He ſubmitted himſelf to his Majeſty's gracious Proclamation, which he took hold of, and rendred himſelf, and hopes to receive Mercy by it, and now ſubmits himſelf to his Majeſty and to the Mercy of this Houſe. MS. Collect. from Parl. Journals.

Mr. Ant. Wood's Account and Character of him.

After all his Rogueries acted for near twenty Years together, he was at length called to an Account for that grand Villany of having a conſiderable Hand in murdering his Prince; of which being eaſily found Guilty, was not to ſuffer the Loſs of his Life as others did (for it was then commonly reported, that if they hung him, his Body would not hold together, becauſe of its Rottenneſs) but the Loſs of his Eſtate, and perpetual Impriſonment, for that he came in upon the Proclamation of Surrender. So that after one or two Removes from Priſon to Priſon, he was at length ſent to Chepſtow-Caſtle in Monmouthſhire, where he continued another twenty Years, not in Wantonneſs, Riotouſneſs, and Villany, but in Confinement and Repentance if he had pleaſed. —— He lived very poor, and in a ſhabbed Condition in his Confinement, and would be glad to take a Pot of Ale from any one that would give it to him, died with Meat in his Mouth, i. e. ſuddenly, in Chepſtow Caſtle in September 1680. and was on the ninth of that Month buried in the Church of Chepſtow. Aged 78.

SATURDAY Feb. 8.
Mr. Rob. Kilſby Vicar of Rotherſthorp.

Robertus Kilſby Clericus in Art. Bacc. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Rotherſthorpe Com. Northton. vac. per ceſſionem Ricardi Hooke ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Ricardi Samuel Militis pleno jure Patroni, 8. Feb. 1661. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 494.

SUNDAY Feb. 9.
Herbert Croft, S. T. P. Rector of Harding Com. Oxon. Prebendary of Saliſbury, Canon of Windſor, and Dean of Hereford was elected Biſhop Jan. 21, 1661. confirmed Feb. 6. and conſecrated Feb. 9. A Man of exemplary Charity, &c. See Willis's Church of Hereford.

The Conſecration of Dr. Herbert Croft, D. D. Biſhop of Hereford in the Archbiſhop's Palace at Lambeth by Virtue of his Grace's Commiſſion granted to Gilbert Biſhop of London, Henry Biſhop of Chicheſter, Humphrey Biſhop of Sarum, William Biſhop of Glouceſter, and George Biſhop of Worceſter. Reg. Juxon.

The Conſecration Sermon, and Epiſt. to Biſhop Duppa. Remembring his great Services to the Church, and Loyalty to the King and Acts of Charity.

A Sermon preached at the Conſecration of the Right Reverend Father in God Herbert Lord Biſhop of Hereford, By Jaſper Mayne, D. D. Canon of Chriſt-Church, and one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in Ordinary, Feb. 9, 1661. London, 1662, 4^to.

With an Epiſt. Ded. to the right reverend Brian Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter.

He might have mention'd the good Biſhop's frequent Ordinations of young loyal Church Scholars of both Univerſities during his Retirements at Richmond, and giving them authentick Inſtruments of their Orders. when a Diſcovery would have expos'd them all to Perſecution; among whom was the late exemplary Primate Archbiſhop Teniſon, then of Bennet College, Cambridge, as I have heard from his own Mouth.

—— In thoſe late Days of publick Calamity, I ſaw your noble, ſtout, and chriſtian Courage ſtill the ſame. The old Church of England ſtill kept up in your Houſe, with all its Forms and Rites, though publickly forbidden: Prayers conſtantly and twice a Day read by you for the King, at a Time when ſuch Devotions were made Treaſon by the Tyrant: And weekly Sermons preached before you filled with ſo much Loyalty and Truth, as would any where elſe have caſt the Preacher into Bonds, if not ſent him from the Pulpit to the Place of Execution. —— The Payment of your Vow in your Building of an Alms-Houſe on the Place where you yourſelf ſo often ſate. —— Your large Bounty to the College of which I am a Member, which, if I ſhould name the Sum, would make the World believe, you meant to found a new College, and not complete an old. Your dying Liberalities bequeathed to others, even to your meaneſt Servants, who were your Servants in Diſtreſs, are Things which do proclaim you a great and noble Benefactor. See Mar. 26. 1662.

But theſe are but the good Deeds of your Fortune, done by the Biſhop of Wincheſter; the Charities of one poſſeſs'd with Plenty and Abundance; your Rents and Manors here ſhare with you as Co-founders, and your new Almshouſe might have it written on the Walls, a poor Biſhop vow'd this Houſe, but a great and wealthy built it.

—— &c. Dated Feb. 26, 1661.

MONDAY Feb. 10.
A ſhort Speech from the King for the two Houſes to think of a better Union among his Proteſtant Subjects.

His Majeſty on the Throne made a ſhort Speech to both Houſes, recommending to them with great Affection, that they would ſeriouſly think on ſome Courſe to beget a better Union and Compoſure in the Minds of his Proteſtant Subjects in Matters of Religion. Journ. Lords.

TUESDAY Feb. 11.
Dr. Gunning's Sermon for the Obſervation of Lent. Preached the Year before, and now publiſhed with Additions.

The Paſchal or Lent Faſt Apoſtolical and Perpetual. As firſt deliver'd in a Sermon preached before his Majeſty in Lent, and ſince enlarged. Wherein the Judgment of Antiquity is laid down. Publiſhed by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command. With an Appendix, containing an Anſwer to the late printed Objections of the Preſbyterians againſt the Faſt of Lent. By Peter Gunning, D. D. Regius London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1662. 4^to.

gius Profeſſor, Chaplain to his Majeſty, and Maſter of St. John's College, Cambridge.

Epiſt. Ded. to the King.

To his moſt excellent Majeſty, our Sovereign Lord Charles the Second, &c.

Moſt gracious and dread Sovereign,

Lent intermitted for nineteen Years, was reſtored with the King;

Who by Proclamation and Example had enforced the Obſervation of it,

Upon which this Sermon was preached;

Yet the Practice was condemn'd in a Pamphlet,

And excepted againſt in the late Savoy Conference.

The ſubject Matter of this Diſcourſe (the holy Faſt of Lent before Eaſter) which hath always been a ſacred Solemnity of your Royal Court, and hath for nineteen Years (one whole Cycle of thoſe Solemnities) been driven hence together with your Majeſty, and at length by the bleſſed Hand of God, together with your ſacred Majeſty reſtored unto us, was forthwith by your pious Care in its firſt periodical Return, owned in your Royal Proclamation and Example the laſt Year, and by your meaneſt Subject and Servant maintained, in a Diſcourſe preached before your Majeſty. But the ſame Obſervance of Lent was forthwith in the ſame Week by a nameleſs and falſe Pamphlet ſcattered at the very Gates of your Court, maligned and oppoſed, and became ſoon after a Matter of Conteſt and Debate, as Part of that which was thought fit to be excepted to in the publick Liturgy or Common-Prayer-Book, and propounded by ſome to be altered. The depending of which Debate and Controverſy, and the Imployment which by your Majeſty's gracious Commiſſion I had part in, to conſider of that with many other Particulars in the Common-Prayer-Book, and the Expectation of the utmoſt that could be brought againſt that primitive and religious Faſt, which lately now we have received in Print; hath neceſſitated this Diſcourſe (delivered at firſt in a Sermon in your Royal Chapel, and by your Majeſty commanded to be publiſhed; and by the Warrant of your Permiſſion, ſince enlarged) to chuſe rather to expect the beginning of this Lent, than to appear at the ending only of the former. It now, not unſeaſonably I hope, preſents itſelf to your ſacred Hands, and flies to your Royal Protection, who are moſt truly the Defender of that holy Faith, whereof this and other Solemnities of the Church are the Fence and Mound, &c.

Your ſacred Majeſty's moſt humble and loyal Subject and Chaplain,

PETER GUNNING.

London, 1677, 4to.

See the holy Faſt of Lent defended againſt all its Prophaners. Or a Diſcourſe ſhewing, that Lent Faſt was firſt taught the World by the Apoſtles, as Dr. Gunning, now Biſhop of Ely, learnedly proved in a Sermon printed by him in the Year 1662, by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command. Together with a practical Direction how to faſt.

With a Poſtſcript in Praiſe of Tradition. Concluding. Whoever goes about to weaken the Force of univerſal Tradition rightly underſtood, invalidates as much as in him lies all Revealed Religion: It being impoſſible to know aſſuredly any Books, as to all that is contained in them, to be divine Revelations, but by ſuch a Tradition. Concerning this ſee Biſhop Gunning above. Chriſto Jejunanti Gloria.

WEDNESDAY Feb. 12.

The Lords in proceeding upon the Bill of Uniformity, had expected the Book of Common-Prayer, as reviſed and amended by the Convocation.

Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

In the Houſe of Lords, the Earl of Dorſet reported, that the Committee for the Bill for Uniformity of Worſhip hath met oftentimes and expected a Book of Uniformity to be brought: But that not being done, their Lordſhips have made no Progreſs therein. Therefore the Committee deſires to know the Pleaſure of the Houſe, whether they ſhall proceed upon the Book to be brought in: Upon this the Biſhop of London ſignified to the Houſe, that the Book will very ſhortly be brought in.

The Bill to enable the Lord Scudamore to endow ſeveral Churches.

The Lord Lucas reported, that the Committee have conſidered of the Bill to enable the Lord Viſcount Scudamore of Slego in the Kingdom of Ireland, to endow ſeveral Churches with Tythes, wherein they have made ſome Additions and Amendments, which were agreed to: The Bill was read the third Time and paſſed.

A Bill to enable other Perſons to give or create Tythes to Churches.

Ordered, that the Committee for the Bill for enabling Perſons to give Tythes to the Church, ſhall meet on Saturday Morning next at nine a Clock.

THURSDAY Feb. 13.

The Death of the Queen of Bohemia.

Sanford's Geneal. Hiſt. Fol. p. 564.

The Princeſs Elizabeth, Queen of Bohemia, eldeſt Daughter of King James the Firſt, born in Scotland Auguſt 19, 1596. married to Frederick Count Palatine of the Rhine, Feb. 14, 1612. who being elected and inveſted King of Bohemia, was ſoon diſpoſſeſs'd of that Kingdom, and died in Exile at Mentz, Nov. 29, 1632. The Queen a Widow continued at the Hague in Holland with her Niece the Princeſs of Orange, till after the Reſtoration of her Nephew King Charles the Second, who ſoon after ſent for her into England, where ſhe arrived at London May 17, 1661. and continuing till the 8th of February at the Houſe of the Earl of Craven in Drury-Lane, (a Nobleman very aſſiſtant to her in the Time of her greateſt Afflictions) and afterwards at Leiceſter-Houſe in the Pariſh of St. Martin in the Fields (contemplating the great Mercy of God in bringing her Nephew to his rightful Throne, which ſhe declared was the only Deſire of her Heart) there departed this mortal Life upon Thurſday the 13th of February in the ſame Year 1661. and upon Monday following early in the Morning was conveyed to Somerſet-Houſe, from whence her Corps in the Evening was carried by Barge to the Abbey-Church of Weſtminſter, being accompany'd to her Sepulchre by Prince Rupert her Son, and many of the Nobility, and privately interred in the ſame Vault, in King Henry the Seventh's Chapel, with Prince Henry her eldeſt Brother. Upon her Majeſty's Coffin is faſtned a Plate of Silver gilt, on which the following Inſcription is engraven:

Her Burial.

And Inſcription on her Coffin.

DEPOSITUM
Sereniſſimæ & Potentiſſimæ Principiſſæ ELIZABETHÆ
Reginæ BOHEMIÆ, Relictæ FREDERICI nuper Regis
Bohemiæ, Archidapiferi, & Principis Electoris
Sacri Romani Imperii, & Filiæ unicæ JACOBI
Sororis CAROLI primi, & Amitæ CAROLI ejus
Nominis Secundi Magnæ Britann. Fran. & Hibern.
Regis: Quæ Ædibus Comitis Leiceſtriæ die Jovis
Decimo tertio Februarii piiſſime in Domino obdormivit
Anno a Chriſto nato 1661. Ætatis ſuæ ſexageſimo ſexto.

She laid a happy Foundation of entailing the Crown of Great-Britain in a Proteſtant Line of Succeſſion, by her fifth and youngeſt Daughter Sophia, born at the Hague in Holland, on the 13th of Oct. 1630. In 1658. married to Erneſt Auguſt, Duke of Brunſwick and Lunenburgh, by whom ſhe had Iſſue George Lewis eldeſt Son and Heir, born May 28, 1660. the late wiſe and good King of Great-Britain (1727.)

Petition of Alex. Baker, Eſq; for Lands held from the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough in Northborough.

To the right honourable the Lords and others the Commiſſioners nominated and appointed by the King's moſt excellent Majeſty, for the regulating the Sales of Biſhops and Dean and Chapters Lands.

The humble Petition of Alexander Baker, Eſq;

Sheweth,

That your Petitioner and his Father, for the Space of fifty Years laſt paſt, were poſſeſſed of a Meſſuage and certain Lands in Northborough in the County of Northampton, by virtue of ſeveral Leaſes made unto them or one of them, by the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, at the yearly Rent of five Pounds thirteen Shillings and four Pence, and ſome other ſmall Services. And whereas in theſe late Troubles the Lands belonging to all Deans and Chapters in England, were put to Sale by the then commanding though uſurped Powers; and if the Tenants and Poſſeſſors of any ſuch Lands did not come in and purchaſe the Reverſion thereof within forty Days, that then they ſhould loſe their Tenants Right, and the ſaid Lands might be ſold to any other that would buy them. Whereupon your Petitioner (having always approved himſelf a true Son of the Church of England) merely to ſave his Tenant's Right, did come in and purchaſe the Reverſion of the ſaid Meſſuage and Lands, which coſt him in ready Monies, two hundred ſeventy nine Pounds nine Shillings and ten Pence.

And your Petitioner further ſheweth, that neither his Father nor himſelf could ever at any Time whatever make 40*l.* per Annum, clearly of the ſaid Meſſuage and Lands, and the Leaſe which your Petitioner did laſt take from the ſaid Dean and Chapter was expired about two Years ago.

And your Petitioner further ſheweth, that he was a Member of the Houſe of Commons, and ſerved in the laſt bleſſed and healing Parliament, yet during the Time your Petitioner was ſitting in Parliament, there was a Leaſe of the Premiſſes made over your Petitioner's Head by the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough to Sir Gilbert Gerrard, the Dean's Son in Law.

He therefore humbly prays, that in regard of the great Sums of Money that his Father paid for procuring the Leaſe of the Premiſſes at firſt, and of your Petitioner's purchaſing the Reverſion of the Premiſſes aforeſaid, that the ſaid Leaſe lately made by the ſaid Sir Gilbert Gerrard may be vacated, and that your Petitioner may be reſtored to his ancient Tenancy. And that he may have a new Leaſe made unto him for the Term of twenty one Years, reſerving the old Rent, or other Satisfaction as you in your great Wiſdoms ſhall think fitting.

And your Petitioner ſhall ever pray, &c.

Vera Copia, HEN. MAXEY.

March 2. The Anſwer of Edward Rainbow, the preſent Dean of Peterborough to the Petition of Alexander Baker, Eſq; pretended Purchaſer of a Meſſuage and Lands in Northborough.—— That having not been in the Countrey ſince their Honour's Order he hath not had an Opportunity to inform himſelf of the Leaſes made by his Predeceſſor —— and prayeth to be diſmiſſed.

FRIDAY Feb. 14. Biſhops added to the Committee for giving Tythes.

Die Veneris 14. Feb. 1661-2.

Ordered by the Lords, that the Lord Biſhop of Durham, Biſhop of St. Davids, and Biſhop of Llandaff, are added to the Committee for the Bill to enable Perſons to give Tythes to the Uſe of the Church.

The Fleet for fetching over the Queen.

The Fleet which was to fetch home the Queen from Portugal, carried Forces to take Poſſeſſion of Tangier, which was deliver'd by the Portugueſe Gariſon to Sir Richard Stayner, who with 500 Men was left to maintain it, till the Earl of Peterborough, deſigned for that Command, ſhould arrive.

Heath's Chron. p. 504.

Upon

SATURDAY Feb. 15.
Dr. John Sudbury Dean of Durham.
Upon Dr. Barwick's Remove to the Deanery of St. Paul, London.

Upon the Removal of Dr. John Barwick to the Deanery of St. Paul's in London, Dr. John Sudbury had been nominated in October laſt to the Deanery of Durham, and was inſtalled in that Dignity, Feb. 15, 1661-2.

After Dr. Barwick had Notice, that he was ſoon to leave Durham, he put a Stop to all leaſing of Farms (even ſome where the Fine had been already agreed upon between the Chapter and the Tenants) that the Revenue of the Deanery might come more entire to his Succeſſor.

Ath. Oxon. Vol II col. 732. Life of Dr. Jo. Barwick, Engl. 8vo. p. 309.

SUNDAY Feb. 16.
A Queſtion upon the Iſſue of the Savoy Conference.

What was the Iſſue of the Savoy Conference? The ſober Party came off, and would have acquieſced in his Majeſty's gracious Conceſſions, upon thoſe Exceptions they had made to the Liturgy and Ceremonies of the Church. But a more fiery Party (for all the Faction was then in Town) flew ſo high as to ſay, that an indifferent Thing if commanded was no more indifferent but unlawful. —— And when the Conceſſions would not ſatisfy them, they diſperſe a Thing called a Petition for Peace to incenſe the People, to which they annex an unauthorized Form of Prayer, compoſed, printed, publiſhed and diſperſed by private Perſons to affront publick Authority.

The Myſtery of Conventicles unveiled, 1663.

This made Mr. Baxter, tho' much for a ſingle Perſon, yet at firſt rather for reſtoring Richard Cromwell than Charles Stuart, till Lord Lauderdale convinc'd him.

Unhappy that Mr. Baxter had gone too far, and could not in Honour recede. Among his many other Engagements, he had dedicated a Book to Richard Cromwell, and is ſo far from intimating that he was an Uſurper, that he deſcribes and commends him for one who piouſly, prudently, and faithfully, to his immortal Honour, exerciſed the Government.

The King had deſired the diſſatisfied Clergy to read as much of the Common-Prayer as they had no Exception againſt, but in vain.

Mr. Long.

Whereas his Majeſty had deſired them [the diſaffected Clergy] to read ſo much of the Common-Prayer as they had no juſt Exceptions againſt, we heard not of any Compliance to that juſt Deſire, though they confeſſed they could uſe the greateſt Part of it. But inſtead thereof, they clamour for a Reformation of Doctrine, Diſcipline, and Worſhip; and petition his Majeſty, that ſome Divines of both Parties might be employed to compile ſuch a new Form as they there deſcribed, or at leaſt to reviſe and reform the old: The King denies the firſt Part, viz. of making a new Liturgy, but grants the ſecond, and iſſues out his Commiſſion to that End, impowering them to compare it with the moſt ancient Liturgies, and to make ſuch reaſonable and neceſſary Alterations and Amendments as ſhould be thought fit, avoiding all unneceſſary Abbreviations of the Forms wherewith the People were acquainted. But inſtead of this they draw up another Liturgy, or rather Directory, which was penned by Mr. Baxter (as he ſays) in eight Days, and againſt the Conſent of the greateſt Part, offers that in Oppoſition to the eſtabliſh'd Liturgy.

MONDAY Feb. 17.

Thomas Ball Clericus, A. B. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Elton Com. Hunt. 17. Feb. 1661. ad preſ. Nicolai Hunt & Petri Woodcock hac vice Patronorum.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

TUESDAY Feb. 18.

The Houſe of Commons reſum'd the Debate upon the Amendments ſent from the Lords to the Bill for confirming an Act concerning Miniſters: The Amendments were ſeverally read and voted, and a Conference upon them with the Lords deſired.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

The Commons were careful in the improving and advancing his Majeſty's Revenues, and proceeded to offer great Incouragement to all who ſhould lend him any Money for his preſent Occaſions. While they were conſidering of this Point on the eighteenth of February, they receiv'd a very obliging Meſſage from the King by Mr. Secretary Morrice, who inform'd the Houſe, "that he had Directions from his Majeſty to deſire the Houſe, that they would put a Superſedeas "to any further Debate upon the Bill for Permiſſion to ſuch Perſons as ſhould advance "Money for his Majeſty's preſent Occaſions, to take Intereſt at ten per Cent. that his "Majeſty finding the Bill might have ſome ungrateful Reliſh in it, reſolv'd to "put himſelf upon the greateſt Streights, rather than adventure upon any Courſe "that might in the leaſt ſeem to diſguſt this Houſe, or prejudice his good Sub"jects; and therefore would endeavour to find ſome other Means to ſupply his "preſent urgent Occaſions, and deſir'd the Bill might be laid aſide." This Meſſage affected them ſo much, that they immediately return'd their humble Thanks to the King for his Tenderneſs to his People, and ordered, "That his "Majeſty be made acquainted, that this Houſe would leave no Means unat"tempted to advance his Majeſty's Revenue, and ſupply his preſent urgent "Occaſions."

Eachard's Char. II. p. 72.

The King finding his Neceſſities to encreaſe, within ten Days after, ordered the Houſe of Commons to attend him at Whitehall in a Body by themſelves.

See March 1, 1661.

The Preſident of the Convocation directs the lower Clergy to chuſe a Prolocutor, in the Place of Dr. Henry Fearne, promoted to the See of Cheſter.

Die Martis 18. Feb. in ſuperiori Domo Convocat. —— Reverendus Pater Præſidens de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum voluit ad ſe accerſiri Cleros Domus inferioris Convocationis, quibus advenientibus dictus Dominus Præſidens antedictus (verbis Latinis conceptis) eoſdem Cleros dictæ Domus inferioris monuit, quatenus ad ſolitum & conſuetum Conventus ſui locum ſeſe conferentes, unum virum gravem doctum & peritum de gremio ſuo provideant & eligant in eorum Prolocutorem & Referendarium in loco Reverendi Viri Henrici Fearne, S. Theol. Profeſſoris ultimi Prolocutoris, ratione Promotionis ſuæ ad Epiſcopatum Ceſtren' jam vacantem, & ipſum ſic electum exhibeant coram eo hoc in loco immediate poſt electionem ſuam factam. Quibus dimiſſis, ad locum ſolitum ſuum ad effectum eligendi Virum gravem & doctum de gremio ſuo in eorum Prolocutorem ſive Referendarium ſeſe conferebant, & poſt aliquot tractatus inter Epiſcopos habit' & fact' Reverendus Vir Thomas Turner S. Theol. Prof. Decanus nus Eccleſiæ Cathedralis & Metropoliticæ Chriſti Cant. & Johannes Earles S. etiam Theol. Profeſſor, Decanus Eccleſiæ Collegiatæ B. Petri Weſtmon. una cum cœtu Domus inferioris præſentarunt & exhibuerunt & ſiſti fecerunt ven. virum Johannem Barwick S. Th. Prof. in Prolocutorem totius Cœtus predict' Domus inferioris unanimiter electum vice totius Cœtus prædict' & præmiſſa facunda & eleganti Oratione per dictum Decanum Weſtm. & facta alia facunda Oratione in Latinis verbis concept' per eundem Prolocutorem ſic preſentatum, præfatus Reverendus Pater Dominus Epiſcopus London de conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum prædict' eundem Johannem Barwick S. Th. Profeſſorem electum, & electionem prædict. de perſona ſua in Prolocutorem ſive Referendarium per aliam venuſtum & eloquentem Orationem Latinam commendavit & approbavit. Tunc dimiſſo Prolocutore, cum cœtu Domus inferioris, & habita Conſultatione de Caſu Sacerdotum Catholico-Romanorum præſentato & perlecto, Dominus Epiſcopus London, &c. continuavit, &c.

And they accordingly choſe Dr. John Barwick Dean of St. Paul's.

Preſented to the Biſhop of London as Preſident, and confirmed by him.

Account of Dr. Barwick in this Office of Prolocutor.

Life of Dr. John Barwick, 8vo.

Wherein he did not pleaſe himſelf.

Becauſe they were not hearty enough in reſtoring the decay'd Diſcipline of the Church.

By reviving the old Canons, or making new ones.

Wherein their Preparations came to nothing.

Tho' authorized by the King.

This Omiſſion grieved Dr. Barwick, and made him bitterly complain.

Eſpecially of the wicked Principles that were vouch'd and vended without Cenſure or Controul.

While Dr. Barwick was employ'd in the Diſcharge of his Province [as Dean of St. Paul's] he was called to another and a more ſublime Degree of Dignity, to which the Order of Preſbyters in our Church has none equally either illuſtrious or difficult: For by the unanimous Suffrage of all the Clergy of the Province of Canterbury aſſembled in Convocation, he was choſen Preſident of the College of Preſbyters, or (as it is commonly called) Prolocutor. But the Favour and good Will of thoſe who advanced him to that Dignity, gave him far more Pleaſure than the Dignity itſelf: When he found plainly, that ſome whoſe Intereſt it was very much, that the Practice of Religion ſhould be zealouſly promoted, were not yet hearty enough in their Endeavours to reſtore the decay'd Diſcipline of the Church. But if the Convocation had thought fit, they might have conſulted the Reputation of the Clergy better, either by reviving thoſe old Laws, which the late Schiſm had rendred obſolete, or by making new ones, as in their Prudence they ſhould have ſeen occaſion. But who they were that prevented laying hold of an Opportunity of doing the Church that Service, it is not lawful to conjecture, where the Caſe is invidious, and perhaps not ſufficiently known: Yet this is moſt certain, that his ſacred Majeſty granted this venerable Aſſembly Liberty under the Broad-Seal to accompliſh this Work: Nor is it leſs certain, that the Convocation divided itſelf into divers Colleges or Committees for carrying it on, and aſſigned to each their peculiar Share therein; yet to the very great Grief of all good Men, theſe Preparations came all to nothing: For the Endeavours of many, though very hearty, were wholly fruſtrated by one or two, on whom this Matter chiefly depended. But this Neglect of the Affairs of Religion was Matter of ſo much Anguiſh to Dr. Barwick's pious Mind, that I have heard him give Vent to his Grief in Expreſſions to this purpoſe; "that neither the deſperate Diſeaſe he formerly laboured "under, nor the Severity of his Confinement, nor Death itſelf, nor the Tor"ture he was often threatned with, was ever ſo grievous to him." For who that was not abſolutely diveſted, I will not ſay of all Religion, but of common Humanity, could with an even Mind have born to ſee expoſed to Sale in the Bookſellers Shops publickly and with Impunity, Principles worthy of the direſt Anathema's, ſuch as theſe following, viz. That the Murder of the King and other atrocious Crimes perpetrated by the late Rebels, were Facts done by Perſons not uſing their Free-Will, but neceſſarily complying with the Will of God: And that God himſelf is both the Author and Perſuader, not only of all Good, but of all Evil: Nay that nothing is in its own Nature good or evil, any farther than as it is forbid or permitted by the municipal Laws of every Government. Under the Shelter and Protection of theſe Principles, ſuch Impiety as hardly any Age had heard of, diſdaining its ſecret Receſſes and Obſcurity, was not aſhamed to put out its dreadful Head, and with great Arrogance ſtalk publickly through the open Streets, as a moſt unlucky Omen, and melancholy Preſage of thoſe Calamities, which ſoon after followed.

The State of the Church reſtored was ſtill left imperfect.

Chiefly becauſe ſome of the Clergy did now degenerate, and could not bear their Proſperity.

Such at that Time was the State of the Church of England, that had been toſſed of late by ſo many Waves, had ſtruck on ſo many Sands, been daſhed againſt ſo many Rocks, and when at laſt by the Providence of God ſhe was happily driven to the Harbour, and even there juſt ready to periſh, was imploring Help (alas, how in vain!) from her own Sons, who ſhe made no doubt were very fit to govern the Helm. For this was but too evident, that there were ſome at that Time, who on the Reſtoration of the Monarchy did not anſwer the Expectation conceived of them under its Oppreſſion, rather chuſing to make waſte of, and deſtroy all the Effects of God's immenſe Bounty, than reap any Advantages for the Times to come from a Succeſs of Affairs, that far ſurpaſs'd all Men's Hopes: So much more difficult it is to bear Proſperity than Adverſity.

WEDNESDAY Feb. 19.

The Commons agree to ſome Amendments of the Lords in the Bill againſt Quakers, and reject others.

Upon which a Conference of the two Houſes and a Report upon it.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

Die Mercurii 19. Februar. 1661-2.

In the Houſe of Lords, the Lord Chancellor reported the Effect of the Conference with the Commons, which was that their Lordſhips making ſome Alterations in the Bill againſt Quakers, and ſending down the ſame to the Houſe of Commons, they upon Conſideration thereof do agree to ſome, and to others they do not, but adhere to the Bill as it came from them.

They adhere to the Word others in the Title of the Bill, to meet with all others who refuſe Oaths, beſides the Quakers, ſuch as are ſome Anabaptiſts; and to leave out the Word others would fruſtrate the End of the Bill. And beſides, it is not eaſy to define what a Quaker is, if ſo reſtrained, and it is not poſſible to enumerate all the Names by which ſeveral Sects would call themſelves to evade this Bill: And it were great Partiality to ſingle out the Quakers, and pretermit others as dangerous, if not more.

They likewiſe diſagree to the Amendment [any ten or more] becauſe the Miſchief may be great when but five meet, but the Remedy is not ſo eaſy when ten ſhall meet.

They alſo diſagree to the Proviſo concerning Peers, becauſe it is indecent and unſuitable to the Penalties impoſed, and the like Offence is provided againſt by the 35 Eliz. cap. 1. and yet no Proviſion for Peers.

The Commons laſtly deſired, that the Words [for any Offence] may be made for every third Offence.

Order of King and Council to give Leave to the Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen, to have Collections in the City Churches for the Poor during the Time of Lent.

Extracts from the Council Books.

Whitehall, Feb. 19, 1661. Ordered by the King in Council, that the Lord-Mayor and Court of Aldermen, upon a Memorial preſented by them, have Leave, and are accordingly hereby authorized to give effectual Order to the ſeveral Pariſh Churches within the City of London and Liberties thereof, to make Collections for the Poor, every Sunday Forenoon and Afternoon during the Time of this Lent; and the reſpective Church-Wardens and Overſeers of the Poor of every Pariſh within the Limits aforeſaid, are willed and required to perform the ſame accordingly.

Order of Council for the Attorney General to prepare a Meſſage from the King to the Houſe of Lords, upon tranſmitting to them the Book of Common-Prayer brought from the Convocation.

It was this Day ordered by his Majeſty preſent in Council, that the Book of Common-Prayer lately preſented to his Majeſty from the Convocation be brought to the Board on Friday next, and that his Majeſty's Attorney-General do prepare a Meſſage againſt that Time, with which it may be fit for his Majeſty to tranſmit the ſaid Book of Common-Prayer to the Houſe of Peers.

THURSDAY Feb. 20.

To the Lords and other the Commiſſioners for the regulating the Sales of Deans and Chapters Lands.

The humble Petition of William Barnard, Clerk.

Shewing,

Petition of William Barnard Clerk, againſt the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, about Lands in Repham.

That he had been in Poſſeſſion of a Leaſe from the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, of ſeveral Lands in Repham in the County of Lincoln, and to ſave his Right of Tenancy, he had purchaſed the Inheritance from the pretended Truſtees for a full and valuable Conſideration of 205 l. 10 s. And that after the happy Revolution and Reſtitution of the Lands of the Church, he had applied himſelf to Dr. Coſins, then Dean, for a new Leaſe, but he refuſed to treat with him, and hath made a Leaſe thereof to Sir Gilbert Gerrard. —— He prayeth that he may be admitted to renew his ſaid Leaſe for a reaſonable Fine.

To the Right Honourable the Lords, and others his Majeſty's Commiſſioners for Sale, &c.

Anſwer of the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, about the Manor of Glinton.

The humble Anſwer of Edward Rainbow, Doctor of Divinity, the preſent Dean of the Cathedral Church of Peterborough, to the Petition of Godfrey Wildbore and Robert Wildbore, pretended Purchaſers of the Scite of the Manor of Glinton in the County of Northampton, Parcel of the Poſſeſſions belonging to the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough.

FRIDAY Feb. 21.

The Council debate upon the Book of Common-Prayer.

Extracts from the Council Books.

Whitehall, Feb. 21, 1661-2. Ordered that the Council meet on Monday next, at three in the Afternoon, to continue the Debate upon the Amendments of the Book of Common-Prayer, and that the Right Reverend the Lords Biſhops do make Choice of four of their Body to attend this Board at that Time, whereof the Right Reverend Father in God the Lord Biſhop of London to be one.

Chriſtopher Lord Hatton of Kirby in Com. Northamp. was conſtituted Governour of the Iſle of Guernſey, and one of his Majeſty's Privy-Council.

Die Veneris 21. Feb. 1661-2.

The Houſe of Lords debate upon the Quakers Bill, and recommit it in order to agree with the Commons.

Extract from the Journal of the Lords.

The Houſe of Lords took into Conſideration the Matter of the late Conference with the Houſe of Commons concerning the Bill againſt Quakers. The Alterations brought from the Houſe of Commons were read, and compared with thoſe Alterations ſent down by the Lords, and after ſome Debate, it is ordered to be recommitted to the ſame Committee as was firſt appointed, to conſider of this Bill, to add the Word others and explain the Word ſuch, ſo as to make the Body of the Bill ſuitable to the Intent of the Preamble of the Bill, and to extend to thoſe that ſhall maintain that all Oaths are unlawful. And the ſaid Committee alſo to conſider of the Matter of the Conference concerning the Privilege of the Peers.

The Sufferings and Death of a loyal Gentleman Sir John Stawell.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 712.

Sir John Stawell, Knight of the Bath, who had been Gentleman Commoner of Queens College, Oxon. one of the Knights for Somerſetſhire, to ſerve in that Parliament which began at Weſtminſter, Nov. 3, 1640. leaving it when the King was forced to leave Weſtminſter, and ſitting in that conven'd at Oxford. A worthy Perſon, one of the moſt eminent Men in Somerſetſhire, for Eſtate, Wiſdom, and Prudence, after he had undergone all the principal Services and Employments for his Countrey, viz. High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenant, and Knight for the Shire in ſeveral Parliaments, moſt loyally and couragiouſly taking up Arms, with three of his Sons, raiſed three Regiments of Horſe, and two of Dragoons and Foot, upon his ſole Charge in Defence of King Charles the Firſt, the Laws of the Land and the Rights of the Subject, An. 1642. He was then a Colonel of Horſe, ſoon after made Governor of Taunton, and continued there till remanded.

Upon the declining of the King's Cauſe, he was not admitted to his Compoſition, as others were, tho' comprized within the Articles of Exeter, upon the Surrender of that City to the Powers at that Time prevailing. —— He endured tedious Impriſonments in the Preſs-yard in Newgate, and other Goals, and afterward in the Tower of London. And did with admirable Wiſdom and Courage approve himſelf an eminent Aſſertor of the Laws and Liberties of the Kingdom, by making ſuch a Defence in their ſeveral bloody Tribunals, (viz. at their Upper Bench Bar and High Court of Juſtice) as that he put to ſilence thoſe bold Judges, who ſate there with Deſign to take away his Life. And tho' reduced to the greateſt Want and Miſery, by their ſelling his Lands, cutting down his Woods, and demoliſhing his Seat at Cotholſtone; yet by the Subſiſtance which his aged Mother, the Lady Elizabeth Griffin, afforded him, he lived to ſee the happy Reſtauration, again elected one of the Knights for the County of Somerſet to ſerve in the Parliament beginning May 8, 1661. after he had continued at Weſtminſter ſome Months, his urgent Affairs drew him to his Houſe at Ham, three Miles diſtant from Somerton in his own Countrey, where dying Feb. 21, 1661. aged ſixty two Years, he was buried the 23d of April following, on the South-ſide of the Chancel of the Church at Cotholſtone, five Miles diſtant from Taunton; leaving a Son and Heir, Ralph Stawell, Eſq; created a Baron of England in January 1682. by the Style of Lord Stawel of Somerton in Conſideration of the eminent Loyalty and Sufferings of his Father.

SATURDAY Feb. 22.
The Biſhops in Convocation debate upon reviſing the Canons of 1640.

Die Sabbati 22. Februar. 1661-2.

Append. ad Synod. Angl.

In ſuperiori Domo Convocat. Reverendus Pater, &c. tractatum inter eos habuit de & ſuper Reviſione Canonum & Conſtitutionum alias in Anno Domini 1640. in Convocatione tunc congregat' edit' & provis' & poſt aliquot tractatus deſuper Dominus Epiſcopus London. de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum curam diligentis Reviſionis & Examinationis eorundem Reverendis Viris Domino Roberto Oxon. Humphrido Sarum. Georgio Wigorn. Georgio Aſaphen. Ricardo Carliol. Herberto Hereford. & Briano Ceſtren. reſpective Epiſcopis, & pro meliori cura deſuper habend' ordinavit eos ad conveniend' die Lunæ prox' in camera communiter vocat' Jeruſalem Chamber intra Collegium B. Petri Weſtmon' ſit' & ſituat'.

And upon making one Form of Articles of Viſitation.

Hiiſque ita geſtis & cura conficiendi Articulos in Viſitationibus obſervandos Domino Johanni Epiſcopo Dunelmen. commiſſa & relata, dictus Dominus, &c. continuavit, &c.

Dr. Heaver made Canon of Windſor.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 95.

On the Promotion of Dr. Herbert Crofts to the See of Hereford, John Heaver, D. D. obtained Letters Patents for his Canonry of Windſor, dated Feb. 22, 1661-2. and he was inſtall'd in it March 12. following.

MONDAY Feb. 24.
Mr. Brecknock Rector of Thornhaugh, which he left at Bartholomew for Non-Conformity; yet under Pretence of Reſignation, and accepted the Donative of Thorney.

Reg. Laney.

Die 24. Febr. 1661-2. Die Lunæ in Feſto Sancti Matthei Thomas Brecknock Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Thornhaugh in Com. Northton. vac. per mort. Thomæ Crouch ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Gulielmi Com. Bedf.

1662. 9. Jul. die Mercurii. Jacobus Thompſon Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Thornhaugh, vac. per reſign. Thomæ Brecknock Clerici, ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Gulielmi Com. Bedf.

The Biſhops bring to the Council the Book of Common Prayer amended.

To be tranſmitted to the Houſe of Peers.

Council Book MS.

Whitehall, Council. This Day according to an Order of the 21ſt of this Inſtant February, appeared at this Board the Right Reverend Fathers in God the Lord Biſhop of London, the Lord Biſhop of Durham, Lord Biſhop of Saliſbury, Lord Biſhop of Worceſter, and Lord Biſhop of Cheſter; at which Time the Book of Common-Prayer, with the Amendments and Additions, as it was preſented by the Lords Biſhops, was read and approved, and ordered to be tranſmitted to the Houſe of Peers, with this following Recommendation ſigned by his Majeſty, &c.

Reg. Sheldon Lond.

Jacobus Fleetwood Clericus, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Anſty in Com. Hertf. vac. per reſign. Edwardi Young, S. T. P. ad preſ. Johannis Stone Armig.

Reg. Laud.

1671. 22. Maii. Robertus Nevill, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam de Anſty Com. Hertf. vac. per reſign. Jacobi Fleetwood, S. T. P. ex preſ. Rollandi Litton, Militis, veri Patroni.

Advice from our Fleet at Liſbon.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 12.

Adviſed from aboard the Royal Charles at Liſbon, Feb. 24, 1661-2. —— Having formerly acquainted you with our Arrival, Welcome and Entertainment here at Liſbon, as alſo with the Rendition of Tangier to Sir John Lawſon for the King of Great-Britain, which was a Week before we came hither, and the Arrival of the Fleet ſome Days after we got to Liſbon: I am now to tell you of the Tranſportation of the Soldiers from Tangier with their Wives and Families, who landed a Fortnight ſince at Faro, a Sea Town belonging to this Crown of Portugal. We daily expect the Earl of Sandwich, till when our Return will not be prepared for There was never leſs Sickneſs among ſuch a Crowd and Multitude than in this Ship.

The Services of Biſhop Sanderſon in the preſent Convocation.

Biſhop Sanderſon the moſt uſeful Prelate in this Convocation.

Walton's Life of Biſhop Sanderſon, Fol. p. 38.

Though the Debate of the Savoy was ended without any great Satisfaction to either Party, yet both Parties knew the Deſires and underſtood the Abilities of the other much better than before it; and the late diſtreſſed Clergy, that were now reſtor'd to their former Rights and Power, were ſo charitable as at their next Meeting in Convocation to contrive to give the diſſenting Party Satisfaction, by Alteration, Explanation, and Addition, to ſome Part both of the Rubrick and Common-Prayer, as alſo by adding ſome new neceſſary Collects, with a particular

And he uſually worded the Matters agreed upon.

lar Collect of Thankſgiving. How many of theſe new Collects were worded by Dr. Sanderſon I cannot ſay, but am ſure the whole Convocation valued him ſo much, that he never undertook to ſpeak to any Point in queſtion, but he was heard with great Willingneſs and Attention; and when any Point in queſtion was determin'd, the Convocation did uſually deſire him to word their Intentions, and as uſually approve and thank him.

The three new Offices.

Form of Prayers at Sea.

Dr. Will. Sancroft rectified the Kalendar and Rubricks.

The Preface drawn up by Biſhop Sanderſon.

At this Convocation the Common-Prayer was made more compleat by adding three new neceſſary Offices, which were 1. A Form of Humiliation for the Murther of King Charles the Martyr. 2. A Thankſgiving for the Reſtauration of his Son our King: And 3. for the baptizing of Perſons of riper Age. I cannot ſay Dr. Sanderſon did form or word them all, but doubtleſs more than any ſingle Man of the Convocation: And he did alſo by the Deſire of the Convocation alter and add to the Forms of Prayers to be uſed at Sea (now taken into the Service-Book.) And it may be noted, that Dr. Will. Sancroft (afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury) was in theſe Employments diligently uſeful, eſpecially in helping to rectify the Kalendar and Rubrick. And laſtly it may be noted, that for the ſatisfying all the diſſenting Brethren and others, the Convocations Reaſons for the Alterations and Additions to the Liturgy were by them deſir'd to be drawn up by Dr. Sanderſon, which being done by him, and approv'd by them, was appointed to be printed before the Liturgy, and may be now known by this Title, the Preface, and begins thus, It hath been the Wiſdom of the Church, &c.

Two Letters of Dr. Sanderſon to Dr. Barlow, which I think are not yet printed.

Mem. The Biſhop of Peterborough has the Copies of two Letters of Dr. Robert Sanderſon, tranſcribed from the Originals that were in the Hands of Biſhop Barlow. 1. Superſcribed, For Mr. Thomas Barlow at the Library in Oxon; and ſubſcribed your very loving Friend and Servant, Robert Sanderſon; dated Botheby Pagnell, Sept. 28, 1656. importuning Dr. Barlow to undertake the managing that Diſpute in the Queſtion of great Importance, upon the ancient Landmarks by Dr. Jeremy Taylor ſo unhappily (and ſo unſeaſonably too) endeavoured to be removed, in the Doctrine of Original Sin. 2. Another Letter of Dr. Sanderſon to Dr. Barlow at Queens College, dated Botheby-Pagnell, Sept. 17, 1657. expreſſing himſelf ſorry that Dr. Taylor is ſo peremptory and pertinacious of his Errors, as not to hearken to the ſober Advices of his grave reverend and learned Friends —— amidſt the Diſtractions of theſe Times, &c.

Tuesday Feb. 25.

The King's Meſſage to the Houſe of Lords upon tranſmitting to them the Book of Common-Prayer, with the late Alterations and Additions made by Commiſſioners, and by the two Houſes of Convocation.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

The Lord Chancellor acquainted the Houſe of Lords, he was commanded by the King to deliver a Meſſage unto their Lordſhips, which his Lordſhip read as followeth:

Charles R.

His Majeſty having according to his Declaration of the 25th of October 1660. granted his Commiſſion under the Great Seal to ſeveral Biſhops and other Divines to review the Book of Common-Prayer, and to prepare ſuch Alterations and Additions as they thought fit to offer: Afterwards the Convocation of the Clergy of both Provinces of Canterbury and York were by his Majeſty called and aſſembled, and are now ſitting: And his Majeſty hath been pleaſed to charge and require the Preſidents of the ſaid Convocations, and other the Biſhops and Clergy of the ſame, to review the ſaid Book of Common-Prayer, &c. and that after mature Conſideration they ſhould make ſuch Additions or Alterations in the ſaid Books reſpectively, as to them ſhould ſeem meet and convenient, and ſhould exhibit and preſent the ſame to his Majeſty in Writing for his Majeſty's further Conſideration, Allowance, or Confirmation. Since which Time, upon full and mature Deliberation, they the ſaid Preſidents, Biſhops and Clergy of both Provinces, have accordingly reviewed the ſaid Books, and have made, exhibited, and preſented to his Majeſty in Writing ſome Alterations which they think fit to be inſerted in the ſame, and ſome additional Prayers to the ſaid Book of Common-Prayer to be uſed upon proper and emergent Occaſions. All which his Majeſty having duly conſidered, doth with the Advice of his Council fully approve and allow the ſame; and doth recommend it to the Houſe of Peers that the ſaid Books of Common-Prayer, and of the Form of Ordination and Conſecration of Biſhops, Prieſts, and Deacons, with thoſe Alterations and Additions which have been made and preſented to his Majeſty by the ſaid Convocations, be the Book which in and by the intended Act of Uniformity ſhall be appointed to be uſed by all that officiate in all Cathedral and Collegiate Churches and Chapels, and in all Chapels of Colleges and Halls in both the Univerſities, and the Colleges of Eaton and Wincheſter; and in all Pariſh Churches and Chapels within the Kingdom of England, Dominion of Wales and Town of Berwick upon Tweed, and by all that make or conſecrate Biſhops, Prieſts or Deacons, in any of the ſaid Places, under ſuch Sanctions and Penalties as the Parliament ſhall think fit. Given at our Court at Whitehall the 24th Day of February 1661.

Sir Henry Capell in a Speech in the Houſe of Commons, Oct. 26, 1680. ſaid, I remember that after his Majeſty's happy Reſtauration it was thought convenient that an Act of Uniformity ſhould paſs, as the beſt Law that could be invented to ſecure the Church from the Danger of Popery and Fanaticiſm, and accordingly it did paſs; but was relax'd for the Intereſts of Popery.

Dr. Gardiner Rector of Abchurch.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Johannes Gardiner, S. T. P. & Socius Coll. Corporis Chriſti & B. Mariæ Virg. in Acad. Cantebrig. admiſſus eſt ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Paroch. S. Mariæ Abchurch London. vac. per mort. Johannis Kitchin, vel per reſign. Benjamini Stone ad preſ. Franciſci Willford, S. T. P. Magiſtri ſive Cuſtodis Coll. prædicti & Sociorum. —— Obiit Anno 1681.

Dr. Stanley's Aſſize Sermon at Wincheſter.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 195.

A Sermon preached at the general Aſſize held at Winton, Feb. 25, 1661. on Iſaiah i. 26. By Edward Stanley, D. D. Prebendary of that Church. —— Publiſhed London 1662, 8vo. in which Year the Author died, and was buried at Wincheſter, leaving then behind him the Character of a learned, godly, and ortho- dox Miniſter of God's Word.—— Born of genteel Parents in the Pariſh of St. Peter within the City of Chicheſter, educated in Wykeham's School, made perpetual Fellow of New-College 1608. took the Degrees in Arts, left the ſaid College in 1623. and was about that Time made Maſter of the ſaid School, and afterwards Prebendary of Wincheſter and Doctor of Divinity.

Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 77.

Mr. Walker takes him to be the ſame Perſon who loſt all theſe Preferments, viz. a Prebend of Wincheſter, the Prebend of Extiet in the Church of Chicheſter, the Rectory of Hinton-Anmer and of Morton or Motteſfont in Hampſhire.

THURSDAY Feb. 27.

Report in the Houſe of Lords upon the Bill concerning Quakers.

Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

In the Houſe of Lords. The Earl of Bridgwater reported from the Committee, that they have made ſome Alterations and Amendments in the Bill concerning Quakers in purſuance of their Lordſhip's Directions given to the Committee: Which Amendments were read twice; and the Queſtion being put whether to concur with the Committee in the Alterations and Amendments now reported; It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

The Commons agree to the Bill for Endowment of Churches by Lord Scudamore, with ſome Amendments.

A Meſſage from the Commons, that they return a Bill ſent down for the Endowment of ſeveral Churches by the Lord Viſcount Scudamore of Slego in the Kingdom of Ireland, wherein their Lordſhips made ſome Alterations and Amendments, to which the Houſe of Commons do agree.

Death of Mr. Archdeacon Middleton.

Willis's Survey, 4*to*. p. 733.

John Middleton, who had been preſented by the Crown to the Archdeaconry of Glouceſter July 19, 1660. void by the Death of Dr. Hugh Robinſon, died about Feb. 1661. being, as I take it, Rector of Hanwell Com. Middleſex, and was probably there buried.

FRIDAY Feb. 28.

Dr. Henry Savage Rector of Fillingham.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

Dr. Henry Savage, Maſter of Baliol College in Oxford, was admitted to the Rectory of Fillingham in the County of Lincoln, preſented by his Society, Patrons of the ſaid Church. He died June 2, 1672. and was buried in the College Chapel.

The great Storm in this Month.

Plot's natural Hiſtory of Oxfordſhire, p. 5.

A dreadful Storm of Wind happened one Night in February Anno 1661-2. which though general (at leaſt all over England) yet was remarkable at Oxford in theſe two Reſpects: 1. That though it forced the Stones inwards into the Cavity of All-Hallows Spire, yet it overthrew it not. And 2. That in the Morning when there was ſome Abatement of its Fury, it was yet ſo violent, that it laved Water out of the River Cherwell, and caſt it quite over the Bridge at Magdalen College, above the Surface of the River near twenty Foot high; which Paſſage, with Advantage of holding by the College Wall, I had then the Curioſity to go to ſee myſelf, which otherwiſe perhaps I ſhould have as hardly credited, as ſome other Perſons now may do.

Journal of the Earl of Sandwich in his Voyage to Tangier.

The Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich at Liſbon, &c. in Feb. 1661.

Saturday Feb. 1, 1661-2. I went aſhoar to Tangier to help to ſettle and adviſe Matters, and our Boats landed ſome Men and Proviſions: Three Boats loaden were turned back again from the Shoar for want of help aſhoar to clear them.

Where the Earl of Peterborough was Governor, and is ſaid by others to have taken Poſſeſſion Jan. 30. foregoing.

Sunday Feb. 2. It blew hard at N. W. ſo no good to be done to diſembark. Captain Poole ſailed away for Smyrna Convoy to the Merchant Ship John and Marget. I gave him Order if he touch'd at Zant to procure ſome Plants of Currants to deliver my Lord Peterborough at Tangier.

Monday Feb. 3. It blew freſh at N. W. in the Morning; leſs Wind in the Afternoon, when Captain Cuttance went aſhoar and put aboard the Pearl a great deal of Goods of the Portugueſe that go for Pharo.

Tueſday Feb. 4. In the Morning blew freſh at N. N. W. in the Afternoon I myſelf went aſhoar and got many Things landed, and one hundred Portugueſe ſhipp'd off on board the Pearl.

Wedneſday Feb. 5. The Aidill of Tangier, the old Judge Deſſerbarcador, Mr. Mules, &c. dined aboard me; in the Afternoon I went to Tangier, diſcourſed with my Lord of Peterborough. The Pearl ſet ſail for Pharo, the Norwich for Cales.

Lord Sandwich conſiders of the beſt Place to make a Mould at Tangier.

Thurſday 6. In the Morning I went and ſounded about the ledge of Rocks to ſee the moſt convenient Place for making a Mould, and then went round the Town with Major Stephens. After Dinner Sir Jo. Minns, Sir Richard Stayner, Captain Cuttance and myſelf, went in my Boat to ſound again, and adviſe about the Mould; which as we were doing, came up a great Storm with Spouts with a Levant Wind, and ſo I rowed aboard. The Paul ſet ſail for Pharo with two hundred Portugueſe and abundance of Goods.

Friday 7. In the Morning I went aſhoar to ſettle Things with my Lord of Peterborough, and came aboard again about four o' Clock, when the Mountague arrived in the Road from Tetuan, and the Ketch of the Merchants that went with him: Embarqued on board the Elias near three hundred People, aboard the Dartmouth one hundred, and all their Goods.

Saturday 8. Gayland Moore came to us, and ſays he will be with us in ſeven Days to treat. I was aſhoar at Tangier: Embarqued aboard the James of Weymouth two hundred People.

Sunday 9. I was not well and took a little Remedy, in the Afternoon Mr. Nat. Luke came on board me from my Lord of Peterborough. The Dover ſet ſail for Sallye.

Munday 10. The Breda ſet ſail to convoy the James of Weymouth, who had near four hundred People of the Portugueſe for Pharo.

Tueſday 11. I dined aboard the Mary with Sir Rich. Stayner; there came in at that Time a London Merchant's Veſſel from Cales, bound from Venice, ſays the Spaniſh Merchants expect a War to ariſe with Spain. Mr. Nath. Luke came on Board and brought me a Paper. The Council of Officers in Tangier had agreed to ſend into England to ſupply their Wants.

Thurſday 13. in the Morning the Nightingale came in with Letters of Intelligence from Mr. Stayner, and the Charity Ketch from Malaga, with Letters from Mr. Croone. The Norwich and Nonſuch Ketch from Cales, and the Ship Two Friends, Captain Clay his Fly-Boat ſailed loaden with Portugueze for Pharo, Don Lewis d' Almeida in the Colcheſter for Pharo alſo.

Friday 14. the Earl of Peterborough came on board and took Leave of me in the Afternoon; at Night I obſerved the Stars according to Agreement at London.

Account of the Plate Fleet for Spain.

Saturday 15. Captain Utbird ſailed with the Montague for Cales, with Mr. Prideaux the Merchant, of whom I enquired concerning the laſt Spaniſh Plate Fleet that came from the Groyne, which (as I remember) he ſaid were about thirty ſeven Sail, whereof fourteen Sail were Men of War, and about ſix Galleons. They brought to the Groyne about twenty Millions Spaniſh of Plate, whereof was regiſtred about ſix or ſeven Millions, which was taken out of the Groyne and carried to Madrid: The Countrey about the Groyne was ſcarce able to find them Victuals, and if they had not been ſupplied from the Ships they might have ſtarved. This Afternoon I went a-ſhore at Tangier, and took Leave of my Lord of Peterborough: My Men brought off an Alarb Buen Venido.

Of the two Armies in Barbary.

Sunday 16.

Sunday 16. I had given Order to ſail for Liſbon, but the Weather foul and dirty, and the Wind contrary hindred us. About Noon came in the Dover from Sallee, brings News that Ben Bucar is within a Day's March of Sallee with thirty thouſand Men, and Gaylan about Marmora with ſixty thouſand; when Ben Bucar advances, then Gaylan advances alſo, and then Ben Bucar retires again in a Skirmiſh; lately Gaylan's Men killed five of the other Army, and cut off their Heads, and carried them in triumph about the Town of Old Sallee; which Town, he ſays, hath no Walls, nor the Batteries whereon they have Cannon hath no Shelter. The Town is about as big as Tangier. The Caſtle on t'other Side the Water hath in it the St. and two hundred Men, much diſtreſſed. It's believed Ben Bucar cannot relieve him.

Corn in the Town of Old Sallee is worth twenty ſeven Shillings a Buſhel. This Day I wrote my Diſpatch to Sir Jo. Lawſon. This Day in the Morning the Princeſs ſet ſail with two Fly-Boats, bound for Pharo with Portugueſes; one of the Fly-Boats was drove into the Streights, and the Breda being newly come in from Pharo, I ſent her into the Streights; Captain Clay came in again alſo by croſs Winds.

Monday 17. came in again by croſs Winds the Fly-Boat with the Governour's Horſes. In the Afternoon came in the Mermaid with Colonel Fitz Gerard, and a Fly-Boat loaden with Proviſions for my Lord of Peterborough; they were but eleven Days out from Falmouth. Sir Rich. Stayner with the Mary, Yarmouth, Nightingale, and Mermaid ſailed for Algiers, two Merchant-men in his Company.

Lord Sandwich ſailed for Liſbon.

Thurſday 18. continued.

Thurſday 18. Wind S. W. gentle Gales about five o' Clock in the Morning, as ſoon as the weſt Tyde came I weighed for Liſbon, with the Henry, Lyon, York, Norwich, Martyn, and Charity Ketch, and two Fly-Boats, one with People, the other with Horſe. I dined a-board Sir Jo. Mynn's, and was driven back as far as the weſt Point of Tangier Bay before we had done Dinner, my own Ships being about two Leagues a-head of us, ſo I went into my Boat, and in three Hours Time got on Board again my own Ship the Martyn, and a Fly-Boat with the Horſes being got out, the reſt as far off as Tangier, if not driven in; in the Night when Cape Sprat bore off us E. N. E. four Leagues.

Wedneſday 19. Calm all the Morning Cape Sprat bore off us E. S. E. about eight Leagues off, no other Ship in Sight but o. 3. I ſounded with the deep Sea Lead, and veered two hundred Fathoms of Line, hit no Ground, ſtrook, and the Line aright up and down no ſtray at all. At Night a fine Gale N. E. our Ship went all Night about five Leagues a Watch.

Thurſday 20. Wind N. E. our Ship way as it was all Night, and this Morning we were about twenty five Leagues W. off Cape Sprat, ſailed all Night W. N. W. 'till eight next Day, a very good Weſtern Sea and little Wind.

Friday 21. at eight in the Morning, forty Leagues W. by N. from Cape Sprat, at Night, the Norwich fell on our Company. We made little Way all this Day.

Saturday 22. blew very hard Northerly, ſix at Night we had made an E. and by S. Way ſix Leagues.

Pacquet for England.

Wedneſday 26. W. S. at Noon, a good Obſervation in the Latitude of 39° 00′. then we bore E. and between twelve and eight at Night we ran ſeven Leagues. Then the Norwich and Martyn and Mr. Herbert in the Norwich with Letters for his Majeſty and his Royal Highneſs; we ſtood in all Night E. ran nine Leagues until eight next Morning. Mr. Vernatty, my Lord of Peterborough's Muſter-maſter General, came on Board me out of the Norwich, and went with me for Liſbon.

Thurſday 27. Wind S. by E. at eight in the Morning we were about three or four Leagues from the Rock of Liſbon fair in Sight about Noon. The Hind Pacquet from England.

Ketch with Captain Ferrer came in Company, and brought me a Pacquet of private Letters: At Night we came to an Anchor, there being little Wind and high Sea; the Rock bore of us N. E. near a League, in thirty two Fathom, the low Point to the Weſtward of Caſcales bore off us S. E. ½ E. Ouſey Land and for two Miles within us, but in twenty ſix Fathom is foul Ground, and that is within a Cannot Shot of Oſſbar.

Friday 28. at eight in the Morning we weighed, and that Night could get but to an Anchor almoſt between the two Caſtles of St. Gilians and the Wadenore.

Some Eccleſiaſtical Preferments in February 1661-2.

Mr. Owen Vicar of Lindſell, Eſſex.

Nathaniel Owen, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Lindſell Com. Eſſex. Febr. 11. 1661-2. vac. per Ceſſ. Thomæ Conſtable ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Dudleii Domini North.

Reg. Henchman London. Newcourt II. 391.

Mr. Shelton, Vicar of Great Burſted, and Rector of St. James Colcheſter.

Willielmus Shelton Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Burſted Magna Com. Eſſex. 17. Febr. 1661. vac. per Mort. Samuelis Bridge ult. Vicarii ad preſ. Mariæ Dominæ Petre Relictæ Roberti Domini Petre. —— Idem Will. Shelton Cler. ad Rect. S. Jacobi in Colcheſter 19. Aug. 1670. —— Obiit Anno 1700.

Ibid. 116.

Mr. Laſby Vicar of Heybridge.

Johannes Laſby Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Heybridge Com. Eſſex. 27. Febr. 1661. vac. per Mort. Ric. Rederich ult. Vic. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Eccl. Cath. S. Pauli Lond.

Ibid. 329.

Dr. Geo. Stradling Rector of Hanwell.

Georg. Stradling, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Hanwell cum Capella de Brentford Com. Midd. 25. Febr. 1661. vac. per Mort. Johannis Middleton; ex Coll. D. Lond. Epiſcopi. —— Idem ad Vic. Sanctæ Bridgettæ Fleetſtreet, London, 23. Apr. 1672. —— In the ſame Year Dean of Chicheſter, —— died April 19, 1688.

Ibid. 628.

Books and Papers publiſh'd in or about February 1661-2.

The Wonders of God in the Events of Things.

The Wonders of God in the Harmony of the Times, Generations, and moſt illuſtrious Events, therein encloſed: From the Original of Ages to the Cloſe of the New Teſtament. Done from the French of John d' Eſpagne Miniſter of the Goſpel.

London, for Will. Godbid, 1662. 8vo.

Art of making Glaſs.

The Art of Glaſs; how to colour Glaſs, Enamels, &c. written in Italian by Antonio Neri, and tranſlated into Engliſh by Chriſtopher Merret, M. D. To which is added by the Tranſlator, An Account of the Glaſs Drops made by the Royal Society meeting at Greſham College.

Lond. 1662. 8vo.

New Shipping Light.

A new Shipping Light: Shewing by ſundry Maps the Harbours, Rivers, Sounds, Bays, Roads, and Sands of the Northermoſt and Weſtermoſt Parts, for the Benefit of Mariners, Pilots, &c.

Lond. 1662. 4to.

Lord Orrery's Anſwer to a Letter of Father Walſh.

The Earl of Orrery's Anſwer to Peter Walſh his ſcandalous Letter to the Lord Lieutenant in behalf of the Roman-Catholicks of Ireland.

Ibid.

Mr. F. Philips for ſettling a Royal Revenue.

Reſtauranda: Or the Neceſſity of Publick Repairs, by ſettling of a conſtant and royal Revenue for the King, &c. By Fabian Philips of the Middle Temple Barriſter.

Ibid.

Dugdale of Draining the Fens.

Mr. William Dugdale, during the Printing of his ſecond Volume of Monaſt. Angl. laboured about his Hiſtorical Work of Imbanking and Draining the Fens and Marſhes, deduced out of publick Records and ancient Manuſcripts, at the Inſtance of the Lord Gorges and others, who were the principal Adventurers in that coſtly and laudable Undertaking for Draining the Great Level, extending into a conſiderable Part of the Counties of Cambridge, Huntingdon, Northampton, Norfolk, and Suffolk. This Book was adorned with ſeveral exact Maps of the Parts and Places ſo drained, and was publiſhed in 1662.

Lond. 1662. Fol.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 697.

Mr. Oldeſworth's Viſitation Sermon.

A Viſitation Sermon preached at Camden in Glouceſterſhire, on 2 Cor. vii. 1. By Giles Oldiſworth, Rector of Bourton on the Hill in Glouceſterſhire.

Printed in 1662, 4to.

Mr. Vaughan's Britiſh Antiquities.

Britiſh Antiquities Revived. With a Pedigree of the Earl of Carbury [Vaughan] Lord Preſident of Wales. And a ſhort Account of the five Tribes of Cambria. By Robert Vaughan. [Born of an ancient and genteel Family in Merionethſhire, entred a Commoner of Oriel College Oxford in 1612. where paſſing his Courſe in Logick and Philoſophy, he retired without a Degree to his Patrimony in the ſaid County called Hengert or Hengherſt near Dolgethle, and died there in 1666. being then a Juſtice of Peace, noted for his admirable Skill in the Hiſtories and Antiquities of Wales, &c.

Oxon. 1662. 4to.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 257.

Mr. Baxter's Funeral Sermon for the Widow Hanmer.

The laſt Work of a Believer: His Paſſing-Prayer, recommending his departing Spirit to Chriſt to be received by him. Prepared for the Funerals of Mary the Widow, firſt of Francis Charlton, Eſq; and after of Thomas Hanmer, Eſq; and partly preached at St. Mary Magdalen's Church in Milk-ſtreet, London. By Richard Baxter. With a large Preface of Mr. Baxter, dated London Jan. 31. 1661.

London, 1662. 4to.

And at the Deſire of her Daughter, before her Death, re-printed at London, for B. Simmons, 1682. 4to.

Lord Bacon's Life of Henry VII.

Franc. Baconi de Verulamio Hiſtoria Regni Henrici Septimi Angliæ Regis. Opus vere Politicum.

Amſtelodami ex Officina Elzevir, Ann. 1662. 12o.

His Diſcourſes and Colours.

Franc. Baconi de Verulamio Sermones Fideles Ethici, Politici, Œconomici, ſive Interiora Rerum, accedunt Faber Fortunæ, Colores Boni & Mali, &c.

Ibid.

Tho. Smith, de Chaldaicis Paraphraſtis.

Diatriba de Chaldaicis Paraphraſtis eorumque Verſionibus, ex Talmude & Scriptis Rabinorum. Autore Tho. Smith, A. B. Coll. Regin. Oxon.

Oxonii, 1662. 12o.

The

Dr. Gunning's Sermon for Obſervation of Lent.

London, 1662. 4^{to}.

The Paſchal; or Lent Faſt, apoſtolical and perpetual, as firſt delivered in a Sermon, preached before his Majeſty in Lent, and ſince enlarged. Wherein the Judgment of Antiquity is laid down. Publiſhed by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command. With an Appendix containing an Anſwer to the late printed Objections of the Preſbyterians againſt the Faſt of Lent. By Peter Gunning, D. D. Regius Profeſſor: Chaplain in Ordinary to his Majeſty, and Maſter of St. John's College in Cambridge. With an Epiſt. Ded. to his moſt excellent Majeſty our Sovereign Lord Charles II. &c.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 579.

This Treatiſe at firſt was but a Sermon preached before the King, who forced it into the Preſs by his repeated Commands, and thereupon the Author added ſo much to it, as to make it a compleat Treatiſe on that Subject.

A Defence of this Sermon was publiſhed in 1677.

London, Printed in the Year 1677. 4^{to}

The Holy Faſt of Lent, defended againſt all its Profaners: Or a Diſcourſe ſhewing that Lent Faſt was firſt taught the World by the Apoſtles, as Dr. Gunning, now Biſhop of Ely, learnedly proved, in a Sermon printed by him in the Year 1662. By his Majeſty's Special Command. Together with a practical Direction how to Faſt.

Henry Hibbart's Body of Divinity.

London, for John Clark, 1662.

Syntagma Theologicum: Or a Treatiſe wherein is conciſely comprehended the Body of Divinity and the Fundamentals of Religion, orderly diſcuſſed. Whereunto are added certain divine Diſcourſes, &c. By Henry Hibbart, late Paſtor of Trinity Church in Kingſton upon Hull, and now at St. Allhallows the Leſs.

Several of the Quakers Books ſeized and burnt.

Several Books ſeized from Robert Wilſon, a Quaker, had been lately by Order from his Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy-Council, burnt as ſeditious and blaſphemous at St. Martin's le Grand, and in the Palace-Yard at Weſtminſter.

I. Several Primmers, wherein they inſert, that the Way to the Knowledge of the Truth is not by the Scriptures; and that the Miniſters of England are not Chriſt's Miniſters, becauſe they teach the Scriptures to be the Word of God.

II. Several Catechiſms that teach the ſame Doctrine, with abſurd Invectives againſt Miniſters.

III. Threatnings from the Shepherds of Iſrael to the Biſhops of England.

IV. Liberty of Conſcience aſſerted.

V. Truth's Character of Profeſſors and their Teachers; being an Invective againſt the Government of the Church of England.

VI. The Authority of the true Miniſtry.

VII. England's ſad Eſtate and Condition lamented, all tending to the Subverſion of the Government of the Church of England.

Liturgy of the Church of England tranſlated into French, printed at Paris, ſeized in the Preſs.

It had been lately inſerted in the Publick Intelligence, 4^{to}. That the Liturgy of the Church of England, commonly called The Book of Common-Prayer, being lately tranſlated into French for the Uſe and Benefit of the Proteſtant French Churches in England, was lately re-printed at Paris: But before the Book was perfectly finiſhed (indeed whilſt the laſt Sheet was working off) the Lieutenant Civil cauſed the whole Impreſſion to be ſeized, as contrary and prejudicial to the Doctrine and Miſſals of the Church of Rome. The Engliſh Liturgy is well beſet in the mean while, ſuppreſſed by the Roman-Catholicks, and railed at by our Sectaries, as the Daughter of the Maſs-Book.

The Jeſuits Reaſons for their Toleration.

Reaſons why the Jeſuits hope that they ſhall partake of the Favour ſhewed to other Catholick Prieſts, in taking away the Sanguinary Laws.

The Secular Prieſts againſt the Toleration of the Jeſuits.

London, 1662. 4^{to}.

The Jeſuits Reaſons unreaſonable: Or Doubts propoſed to the Jeſuits upon their Paper preſented to divers Perſons of Honour for Non-Exception from the common Favour voted to Catholicks.

Re-publiſhed by Dr. Stillingfleet.

This Piece was long after re-publiſhed by Dr. Edward Stillingfleet, when the Deſign of its Re-publication was to let us ſee how unſincere and undutiful the Behaviour of that Order has been to former Princes; and how little Truſt can be given to their moſt confident Profeſſions of Loyalty, there being no Appearance of any Amendment in them.

Merit and Honour of the old Engliſh Clergy.

London, Printed for R. Royſton, 1662, 8^{vo}. p. 142.

The Merit and Honour of the Old Engliſh Clergy, aſſerted by Laws and Cuſtoms Patriarchal, Moſaical, Evangelical, Engliſh, Eccleſiaſtick, Ethnick; and the Demerit of the New Clergy diſcovered. By an Author Anonymous.

Epiſtle to the Reader. [Said to be written by Dr. Thomas Pierce] The Query will be, why hath this Author no other Name, but is Anonymous and Apocryphal? Poſſibly it may be from this petty Piece of Policy and Prudence, becauſe Authors run the ſame Fate and Deſtiny with their Books, and both are moſt ſought after and admired, when ſuppreſſed and called in.——

Some of the Contents of it.

Sect. VIII. Of the grand Demerits and huge Extravagancies of the Diſciplinarians or New Clergy: With a Parallel of the New Fanaticks with the Old Phariſees.

Sect. X. A third Parallel of Fanaticks with Papiſts.

Biſhops, Deans, and other Dignitaries have been the greateſt Champions againſt Popery.

P. 11. It is a ſignal Honour that the Biſhops, Deans, and Prebends, though their Number exceeds not above four or five hundred Perſons, yet they have been more able and athletick, and publick Champions of Proteſtant Religion againſt Popery, than above 9284 parochial Miniſters.

The late Clergy of the Church of England were worſe uſed than the Papiſts under Henry VIII.

P. 95. Sir William Weſton, Lord Prior of the Order of St. John, had a yearly Penſion of a thouſand Pounds; Rawſon the Sub-Prior of a thouſand Marks, ſome of the Brethren of two hundred Pounds per Annum, and thirty Pounds per Ann. he that had leaſt. And this may ſerve for an Uſe of Inſtruction, or of Reproof and Reprehenſion, of our grand idolatrous Fanaticks, which were more ready to jeer and mock their grave, godly, and learned Predeceſſors, than to pay them a fifth, yea, a tenth or twelfth Part.

Or thoſe under Queen Elizabeth.

P. 132. In Queen Elizabeth's Days, of 9400 parochial Prieſts, there were not above 80 Rectors of Churches, which conſtantly and invincibly refuſed the Oath of Supremacy. —— After the Conference at Hampton-Court, 1603. of 9000 and more parochial Miniſters, only 49 ſtood out, and were depoſed for Diſconformity: Whilſt the late Clergy for Obedience to their Mother the Church, and Loyalty to their Father, and Piety to their Oaths and Obligations, have this fair Indication of their Conſtancy, that of 97 Miniſters within the Walls of London, 85 were driven from their Churches: Not to mention many thouſands that never bowed their Knees to Baal-Berith from our Dan to our Beerſheba.——

P. 139. And beſides thoſe 85 deſpoiled of their Freeholds by the Violence of fanatick Preſbyterians, there were 115 in the Suburbs and Pariſhes adjoining, beſides thoſe of Paul's and Weſtminſter.

Earl of Pembroke's Poems.

Poems written by William Earl of Pembroke, Lord Steward of his Majeſty's Houſhold. Many of which are anſwered by way of Repartee, by Sir Benjamin Ruddiard. With other Poems written by them occaſionally and apart.

London, ſold by J. Magneſs, 1662, 8vo.

Lovell's Hiſtory of Animals and Minerals.

A compleat Hiſtory of Animals and Minerals, with their Place, Nature, Cauſes, Properties, and Uſes, both medicinal and otherwiſe. Collected from the beſt Authors Galenical and Chymical. With the Author's own Obſervations. By Robert Lovell, Student of Chriſt-Church.

Oxon. ſold by Joſ. Godwin, 1661.

Hiſtory of the old Anabaptiſts and new Quakers.

The Fanatick Hiſtory: Or an exact Relation of the Old Anabaptiſts and New Quakers. Being the Sum of all that hath been yet diſcovered about their blaſphemous Opinions, and dangerous Practices to ſubvert all Civil Government.

London, ſold by Joh. Sims, 1662.

Royal Robe of Meekneſs.

The Royal Robe: Or a Treatiſe of Meekneſs, wholly tending to Peaceableneſs. By James Barker, Miniſter at Redbourne in Hartfordſhire.

London, for Rob. Gibbs, 1662.

The King's Deſcent.

Stemma Sacrum: The Royal Progeny. Shewing his Sacred Majeſty's Royal and Lawful Deſcent to his Crown and Kingdoms, from all the Kings that reigned in this Kingdom. By Giles Flemming.

Lond. 1662.

A View of our late Troubles and Confuſions.

A Brief View of England's Troubles and Confuſions from 1640. to 1661. By William Younger.

London, for Rob. Gibbs, 1662.

A Defence of Monarchy againſt the Republicans.

Monarchy triumphing over traiterous Republicans: Or the Excellency of that Divine Government, fully proved againſt the Utopian Chimera's of our ridiculous Commonwealth's Men. By C. S.

London, ſold by W. Palmer, 1662.

The King's Speech to the Commons at Whitehall.

His Majeſty's Gracious Speech to the Honourable Houſe of Commons in the Banqueting-Houſe at White-hall, March 1, 1661-2.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

His Majeſty thought of ſending a Meſſage to them, but is willing to deliver the Meſſage himſelf.

Finding it neceſſary to ſay ſomewhat to you, I thought once of doing it by a Meſſage, which hath been the moſt uſual Way; but when I conſidered, that ſpeaking to you myſelf, with that Plainneſs and Freedom I uſe to do, hath more of Kindneſs in it, and with what Affection you uſe to receive what I ſay to you; I reſolved to deliver my Meſſage to you myſelf, and have therefore ſent for you hither, which hath been done frequently heretofore, though it be the firſt Time I have done ſo.

Lond. 1661. For the King's Printers, two Sheets and an half.

Never was a Houſe of Commons ſo full of Affection and Duty to their King, and Zeal for their King and Countrey.

I do ſpeak my Heart to you, when I tell you, that I do believe, that from the firſt Inſtitutions of Parliaments to this Hour, there was never a Houſe of Commons fuller of Affection and Duty to their King, than you are to me; never any that was more deſirous and ſolicitous to gratify their King than you are to oblige me; never a Houſe of Commons, in which there were fewer Perſons without a full Meaſure of Zeal, for the Honour and Welfare of the King and Countrey, than there are in this: The wonderful Alacrity that you ſhew'd at your firſt coming together, in giving me ſo liberal a Supply, was an unqueſtionable Inſtance of this; and I aſſure you, made our Neighbours abroad look upon me and you with much the more Reſpect and Eſteem, and I am perſuaded, even broke the Heart of ſome deſperate and ſeditious Deſigns at Home. In a Word, I know moſt of your Faces and Names, and can never hope to find better Men in your Places.

You will wonder now, after I have willingly made this juſt Acknowledgment to you, that I ſhould lament and even complain, that I and you and the Kingdom, are yet without that preſent Fruit and Advantage, which we might reaſonably promiſe ourſelves from ſuch a Harmony of Affections, and a Unity in Reſolutions to advance the publick Service, and to provide for the Peace and Security of the Kingdom, that you do not expedite thoſe good Counſels which are moſt neceſſary for both.

But they had not yet ſettled the Revenue of the Crown.

I know not how it comes to paſs, but for theſe many Weeks paſt, even ſince your laſt Adjournment, private and particular Buſineſs have almoſt thruſt the Conſideration of the Publick out of Doors; and in Truth I do not know that you are nearer ſettling my Revenue, than you were at Chriſtmas: I am ſure I have communicated my Condition to you without reſerve, what I have coming in, and what my neceſſary Diſburſements are, and I am exceedingly deceived, if whatever you give me be any otherwiſe given to me, than to be iſſued out for your own Uſe and Benefit; truſt me it ſhall be ſo, and if you conſider it well, you will find that you are the richer by what you give, ſince it is all to be laid out, that you may enjoy the reſt in Peace and Security.

Gentlemen,

The miſerable Effects of the Want of it.

Danger of a Republican Party.

Unleſs they now ſettle a real and ſubſtantial Revenue.

Gentlemen, I need not put you in Mind of the miſerable Effects which have attended the Wants and Neceſſities of the Crown, I need not tell you, that there is a Republican Party ſtill in the Kingdom, which hath the Courage to promiſe themſelves another Revolution, and Methinks I ſhould as little need to tell you, that the only Way, with God's Bleſſing, to diſappoint their Hopes, and indeed to reduce them from thoſe extravagant Hopes and Deſires, is to let them ſee, that you have ſo provided for the Crown, that it hath wherewithal to ſupport it ſelf and to ſecure you, which I am ſure is all I deſire, and deſire only for your Preſervation. Therefore I do conjure you, by all the Profeſſions of Affection you have made to me, by all the Kindneſs I know you have for me, after all your Deliberations, betake your ſelves to ſome ſpeedy Reſolutions, and ſettle ſuch a real and ſubſtantial Revenue upon me, as may hold ſome Proportion with the neceſſary Expences I am at for the Peace and Benefit, and Honour of the Kingdom, that they who look for Troubles at home, may deſpair of their Wiſhes, and that our Neighbours abroad, by ſeeing that all is well at home, may have that Eſteem and Value of us, as may ſecure the Intereſt and Honour of the Nation, and make the Happineſs of this Kingdom, and of this City, once more the Admiration and Envy of the World.

He thanks them for being very zealous for the Church.

And would not be himſelf ſuſpected for a Preſbyterian.

While he is much in love with the Book of Common-Prayer.

And deſires to ſee a Uniformity in the Uſe of it.

Gentlemen, I hear you are very zealous for the Church, and very ſolicitous, and even jealous that there is not Expedition enough uſed in that Affair: I thank you for it, ſince I preſume it proceeds from a good Root of Piety and Devotion; but I muſt tell you, I have the worſt Luck in the World, if after all the Reproaches of being a Papiſt whilſt I was abroad, I am ſuſpected of being a Preſbyterian now I am come home: I know you will not take it unkindly, if I tell you, that I am as zealous for the Church of England, as any of you can be, and am enough acquainted with the Enemies of it, on all Sides; that I am as much in love with the Book of Common-Prayer, as you can wiſh, and have Prejudice enough to thoſe who do not love it; who I hope in Time will be better inform'd and change their Minds; and you may be confident, I do as much deſire to ſee a Uniformity ſettled, as any amongſt you. I pray truſt me in that Affair, I promiſe you to haſten the Diſpatch of it with all convenient Speed, you may rely upon me in it.

And therefore has tranſmitted to the Houſe of Peers the ſaid Book, as altered and amended by the Convocation.

I have tranſmitted the Book of Common-Prayer, with thoſe Alterations and Additions, which have been preſented to me by the Convocation, to the Houſe of Peers, with my Approbation, that the Act of Uniformity may relate to it; ſo that I preſume it will be ſhortly diſpatched there: And when we have done all we can, the well ſettling that Affair will require great Prudence and Diſcretion, and the Abſence of all Paſſion and Precipitation.

He puts them in Mind of riſing, becauſe of the Seaſon of the Year.

The coming over of the Queen.

And his going into the Countrey to meet her.

An Adjournment will be proper before Eaſter.

Recommends the Security of the Fen Lands.

I will conclude with putting you in Mind, that the Seaſon of the Year, the Convenience of your being in the Countrey, in many Reſpects, for the Good and Welfare of it; for you will find much Tares have been ſowed there in your Abſence. The Arrival of my Wife, who I expect ſome Time this Month, and the Neceſſity of my own being out of Town to meet her, and to ſtay ſome Time before ſhe comes hither, makes it very neceſſary that the Parliament be adjourned before Eaſter, to meet again in the Winter: And that it may do ſo, I pray lay aſide private Buſineſs, that you may in that Time diſpatch the Publick. And there are few Things I reckon more publick, than your providing for the Security of the Fen Lands, which I have ſo often recommended to you, and do it now very earneſtly. I pray let no private Animoſities or Conteſts endanger a Work of ſo great a Benefit and Honour to the Nation; but firſt provide for the Support of the Work, and then let Juſtice be done for Determination of particular Intereſts.

And the Amendment of Ways near the Town for her Majeſty's Entry.

The mention of my Wife's Arrival, puts me in Mind to deſire you to put that Compliment upon her, that her Entrance into the Town may be with more Decency than the Ways will now ſuffer it to be: And to that purpoſe, I pray you would quickly paſs ſuch Laws as are before you, in order to the amending thoſe Ways, and that ſhe may not find Whitehall ſurrounded with Water.

And ſo concludes with Confidence in their Affections.

I will detain you no longer, but do promiſe myſelf great Fruits of this Converſation with you, and that you will juſtify the Confidence I have in your Affections, by letting the World ſee that you take my Concernments to Heart, and are ready to do whatſoever I deſire for the Peace and Welfare of the Kingdom.

Proceedings of the Commons.

Eachard's Ch. II. p. 74.

Upon this Speech the Commons proceeded with more Vigour in the diſpatching of the ſeveral Bills before them; and in a ſhort Time they finiſh'd that which his Majeſty had propos'd to them for the repairing of the Streets and Highways in and near London and Weſtminſter, and Parts adjacent. Together with another againſt the People called Quakers, which inflicted certain Penalties upon them, both for their Meeting and their refuſing the Oaths. Both which were paſſed by Commiſſion. In the ſettling of the King's Revenue, they took into Conſideration, the Wants and Neceſſities of many of the loyal Cavaliers, who had loſt their Eſtates in his Father's Service, and appointed threeſcore thouſand Pounds, out of the eighteen Months Aſſeſſment, to be diſtributed amongſt them by Commiſſioners of their own Nomination.

60,000 to the poor loyal Cavaliers.

MONDAY Mar. 3.

Bill for better Maintenance of Miniſters in Market Towns.

In the Houſe of Commons. This Day a Bill was brought in for providing Maintenance for orthodox Miniſters in the Corporations and Market Towns of this Kingdom, and read the firſt Time. —— Read a ſecond Time and committed March 5.

Tuesday Mar. 4. News from Ireland of the good Diſpoſition of the Houſe of Commons; and their Care of the Proteſtant Intereſt.

Mercur. Publ. 4^to^, p. 183.

Adviſed from Dublin, that on March 4. the Earl of Kildare delivered his Majeſty's gracious Anſwer and Conceſſions to the Inſtructions of this Parliament under the Privy-Seal, to the Houſe of Lords here, who were ſo well ſatisfied therewith, that they took them as an eſpecial Mark of his Majeſty's Favour, and cauſed them forthwith to be entred among the publick Records of this Kingdom.

The ſame Day the Houſe of Commons ordered 30,000*l.* to be given as a Preſent to the Duke of Ormond from this Houſe, and ſent two of their Members, Mr. Fitzgerald and Dr. Gorge, with the Bill for the ſaid Money to his Grace the Duke.

The Houſe ordered, that Application ſhould be made to his Majeſty humbly to deſire, that no Proviſo's ſhould be inſerted into the Bill of Settlement, except ſuch as are conſiſtent with his Majeſty's Declaration and Inſtructions. And they nominated ſome Members to attend the Lords Juſtices, and give them Thanks for their Care in removing Iriſh Papiſts out of the walled Towns and Corporations, and thereby ſecuring the Proteſtant Intereſt.

Wednesday Mar. 5. Proceedings in Convocation for altering and amending the Liturgy.

Append. ad Synod. Angl.

Die Mercurii 5. Martii. 1661-2.

In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis —— Reverendus Pater Dominus Robertus Oxon. Epiſcopus, &c. tractatum habuit inter eos circa nonnullas Emendationes ſive Alterationes alias in Libro Publicarum Precum per Domum Parliamenti fact'. Et dictus Dominus Epiſcopus —— de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum curam Reviſionis earundem Alterationum Reverendis viris Georgio Aſaphen. Richardo Carliolen. Briano Ceſtren' reſpective Epiſcopis conjunctim & diviſim commiſit; & eis conjunctim & diviſim dedit poteſtatem & commiſſionem nomine totius Domus ſuperioris Convocationis ad emendand' & corrigend' eaſdem Alterationes, &c. His geſtis, dictus Dominus Præſidens cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum juſſit me ad accerſend' Dominum Prolocutorem, &c. Quo adveniente cum duobus vel tribus Domus inferioris, Dominus Præſidens antedictus declaravit ei, quid per dictos Epiſcopos fuerat actum, de & ſuper dictis Alterationibus, & quibus cura deſuper commiſſa fuerat & inſtanter rogavit ſe eadem communicare Domo inferiori, ut eorum conſenſus deſuper habeatur. Unde dicto Prolocutore cum ejus Aſſociatis ad Domum inferiorem redeunte, & habito tractatu inter Cleros deſuper, omnes & ſinguli Cleri dictæ Domus inferioris in præſentia mei Willielmi Fiſher Notarii publici, &c. unanimiter eorum conſenſum præbuerunt omnibus & ſingulis per dictos Dominos Epiſcopos circa Alterationes prædict' fact' ſalvis eorum Privilegiis, &c. Et hiis ſic geſtis Dominus Epiſcopus London. &c. continuavit, &c. juxta Schedulam, &c.

Thursday Mar. 6. Bill for the Biſhop of London to leaſe out Tenements, &c.

Journ. Lords, MS.

In the Houſe of Lords. Hodie prima vice lecta eſt Billa, An Act to enable the Biſhop of London to leaſe out the Tenements new built upon the Scite of his Palace in London.

Dr. Meredith made Provoſt of Eaton.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

1661-2. 6. Martii. Johannes Meredith, S.T.P. admiſſus eſt ad Rect. & Præpoſituram Coll. Regalis de Eaton in Com. Buck. vac. per promot. Nicolai Monke ult. Præpoſiti.

Rector of Stamford Rivers.

Reg. Lond.

1641. 30. Junii. Johannes Meredith, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Stamford Rivers Com. Eſſex. vac. per reſign. Rogeri Manwaring, Meneven. Epiſcopi ad preſ. D. Regis.

1661-2. 30. Apr. Carolus Gibbs, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Stamford Rivers, Com. Eſſex. vac. per reſign. Johannis Meredith, S. T. P. ex preſ. D. Regis.

Friday Mar. 7. Account of Dr. Joſeph Crowther. Rector of Tredington Com. Worceſter. His Succeſſor Dr. Tho. Turner receiv'd the Fine.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 812. Regiſter of Swillington Church.

Dr. Joſeph Crowther, Præcentor of St. Paul's, and Chaplain to James Duke of York, was inſtalled Prebendary of Worceſter in the Place of Dr. Herbert Croft, promoted to the See of Hereford, and on the 26th of December 1664. he was admitted Principal of St. Mary Hall in Oxford. In his laſt Days he was committed Priſoner to the Fleet in London, by the Endeavour of Sir Tho. Draper, becauſe he refuſed to renew a Corps belonging to St. Paul's Cathedral, then in Poſſeſſion of Sir Thomas, which the Doctor intended to wear out for the Benefit of the ſaid Cathedral. He died in the Fleet the 16th of September 1689. and was buried in St. Paul's Cathedral. —— He is ſaid to have been the Son of Mr. John Crowther, Rector of Swillington Com. Ebor. inducted to that Church Dec. 22, 1610. buried there Jan. 9, 1632.

Saturday Mar. 8. Two Bills depending in the Houſe of Lords.

Extracts from the Journal of the Lords.

Die Saturni 8. Martii 1661-2.

In the Houſe of Lords. A Meſſage from the Commons to put their Lordſhips in mind of two Bills remaining undiſpatch'd, one concerning Sheriffs, the other to reſtore Impropriations to the loyal Party.

Proceedings in Convocation upon a Book of Articles of Viſitation. And upon a new Impreſſion of the Book of Common-Prayer.

Append. ad Synod. Angl. 8vo.

In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis. —— Dominus Johannes Dunelm. Epiſcopus ſecundum mandatum ei datum, & curam ei commiſſam, introduxit & tradidit in manus Domini Præſidentis Librum Articulos Viſitationum concernen' alias per eum concept' & unanimiter aſſenſum fuit ut iidem Articuli Domino Archiepiſcopo Cant' deſtinarentur pro ejus perlectione & debita conſideratione eorundem, & pro eorum emendatione reformatione & correctione ſua. Hoc facto tractatum inivit de & ſuper Impreſſione Libri Publicarum Precum, & poſt intervallum temporis, Dominus Epiſcopus London. de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum conſtituit & ordinavit Doctorem Sancroft. eſſe Superviſorem . . . & Magiſtros Scattergood & Dillingham eſſe correctores dicti Libri in Impreſſione ejuſdem. Hiis peractis Dominus Epiſcopus London. continuavit, &c.

James Adamſon Rector of Teigh in Rutland, was buried there with this Epitaph: Jacobus Adamſon, natu Scotus, Anglus vita, Moribus antiquis, cum ſuo Rege in proſperis & adverſis. Rector hujus Eccleſiæ per XXXI. Annos, Obiit die Martii octavo, 1661.

Sunday Mar. 9.
Biſhop of Peterborough's Sermon before the King.

London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1662, 4to.

The Shepherd: Or the paſtoral Charge, and Obedience due to it, inſtituted by God as a neceſſary Means to preſerve the Sheep from ſtraying. A Sermon preached before his Majeſty at Whitehall, March 9, 1661. By the right reverend Father in God, Benjamin Lord Biſhop of Peterborough. Publiſhed by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command. On 1 Pet. ii. 25. For ye were as Sheep going aſtray, &c. —— P. 2. The ſtraying here will prove to be of another kind, and the Return will be found to be to another Biſhop. The Straying here was of ſuch as had erred like Sheep, whereas ours had little or nothing of the Sheep in it, ſave the Seeep's Cloathing. For dreſs'd up they were with Pretences as ſoft as Wool, God's Glory, Purity of Worſhip, chriſtian Liberty, nothing worſe than theſe, and ſo indeed they erred like Sheep, as if they had been ſuch; but the Truth is, it was liker the Ranging of Wolves tearing and devouring, than the Straying of weak and ſilly Sheep, &c.

Our late Wanderers had nothing of the Sheep but their Cloathing.

The tender Conſcience may be a Diſeaſe of the Soul.

That comes by Fits and Starts.

Quick of feeling in ſome Things, hard and inſenſible in other Caſes.

P. 29. The tender Conſcience for which ſo much Favour is pleaded, may prove in ſome no better than a Diſeaſe of the Soul, a ſpiritual Spleen; for though it be good to be tender of offending God in any Thing where it proceeds from the good Temper and Conſtitution of the Soul, which is the ſame conſtantly in all Caſes, and is not affected or taken up for a Purpoſe, as the ſturdy Beggar carries his Arm in a String, that it may be a Patent to beg and be idle: You may know it certainly to be a Diſeaſe, if it comes upon us by Fits and Starts, as to be tender of offending God when we obey Men, and not to be tender of offending God when we diſobey them; if they be not as tender of one Side, as of another (as I never find them to be) it is but a paralytick Conſcience that is dead of one ſide. For tell him the Church commands it, he preſently ſhrinks and ſtartles at it; and well ſo, for poſſibly he may ſin againſt God: But tell him on the other ſide, that God commands Obedience to thoſe that rule over us, it moves him not at all, you may thruſt a Needle into his Side, and he feels it not: It ſhews plainly the Conſcience hath a dead Palſy on that Side.

Monday Mar. 10.
Bill for reſtoring the Earl of Derby.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

The Bill for reſtoring Charles Earl of Derby to the Manors of Hope and Hopeſdale, Mould and Mouldſdale, in the County of Flint was by Order of the Houſe this Day carried to the Lords by Mr. Edward Stanley, Brother to the Earl of Derby.

Mr. Ignatius Fuller Rector of Sherrington.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

Ignatius Fuller Clericus, admiſſ. ad Rect. de Sherrington Com. Buck. die 10. Martii 1661. ex coll. Roberti Linc. Epiſcopi.

Tuesday Mar. 11.
Mr. Will. Sancroft Preb. of Durham.

Walker's Sufferings Part II. p. 144. See Aug. 14. 1662.
Life of Dr. Barwick, p. 355.

Mr. William Sancroft, who had been ejected from a Fellowſhip in Emanuel College, Cambridge, for refuſing the Engagement; his Progreſs in claſſick Learning, as well Greek as Latin was ſo ſurprizing, that it made him very much taken Notice of, and at laſt recommended him to the Knowledge of all the learned Biſhops of the Age; Biſhop Coſin more particularly, who ſingled him out, not only for his Chaplain, but for his Friend and Confident, and beſtow'd upon him a Prebend of Durham, the 9th Prebend, to which he was admitted March 11, 1661. and ſoon ſucceeded Dr. Barwick in the Rectory of Houghton in le Spring in that County, as he did afterwards in the Deanery of St. Paul's.

Wednesday Mar. 12.
Johannes Heaver, S. T. P. Vicarius de Nova Windſor, inſtallatus eſt in Canonicatu Windſor. 12. die Martii 1661. Frith Catal. contin.
See his Monument and Epitaph in St. George's Chapel.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 830.

John Heaver, S. T. P. was inſtalled Canon of Windſor, in the Room of Dr. Herbert Crofts, promoted to the See of Hereford. He died June 23, 1670.

John Heaver, D. D. of Cambridge was incorporated in Oxford, Feb. 13, 1663. he had been Fellow of Clare Hall in that Univerſity, was now Canon of Windſor and Fellow of Eaton College, and dying June 23, 1670. was ſucceeded in his Canonry by Thomas Viner, Batchelor (afterwards Doctor of Divinity.) He was a Benefactor to his Hall, and a Man of great Learning, Piety, Liberality and Charity.

The extravagant Opinions and abominable Practices of ſome of the Quakers.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 142.
Hiſtory of the Engliſh and Scotch Preſbyterians, 1660, 8vo.

In the late Debates upon the Quaker's Bill, &c. Reference was made to the horrid Impulſes of what they call'd the Spirit, not only dictating the moſt extravagant Opinions, but driving to the moſt abominable Practices. —— Many of that Party had their Brains diſlocated and diſplaced. Some whereof have taken their Children, and gone and ſacrificed them, pretending a particular Command, like that God gave to Abraham: As a Woman of Dover cut off her Child's Head, and alledged this Scripture. Others have ſhut themſelves up with a Bible, and reſolved to eat nothing; becauſe it is written, that Man ſhall not live by Bread alone, but by every Word that proceedeth out of the Mouth of God. Some have killed their Cat, becauſe ſhe had taken a Mouſe on Sunday, but deferr'd the Execution till Monday. Evach ap Evan near Shrewſbury, killed his own Mother and Brother in cold Blood, having no other Quarrel againſt them but that they loved the Liturgy, &c.

Thursday Mar. 13.
On the declining State of Biſhop Duppa, the Biſhop of Exeter

MS. Narrative.

Upon a declining State of the Health of Dr. Brian Duppa, Biſhop of Wincheſter, Dr. John Gauden, Biſhop of Exeter, was an earneſt Solicitor at Court to Exeter was very ſolicitous to be tranſlated to Wincheſter And pleaded he was the Author of Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ. His Widow left ſeveral Papers tending to the Proof of it. Yet rather to his Concern in reviſing and improving the impreſſion, whereby he made it in ſome Meaſure his own.

ſucceed in that beneficial See; and pleaded the Merit of being the Projector and Writer of Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ, the Pourtraicture of his ſacred Majeſty in his Solitude and Sufferings, 1648. Among the Papers left by Mrs. Gauden, Widow of the Biſhop, which came into the Hands of Dr. Simon Patrick, late Biſhop of Ely, there was 1. A Letter from Mr. Secretary Nicholas to Dr. John Gauden. 2. The Copy of a Letter from Biſhop Gauden to the Duke of York, wherein he ſtrongly urgeth his former Service to the Memory of King Charles the Firſt. 3. The Copy of a Letter from Biſhop Gauden to Chancellor Hyde, wherein he is bold to inſiſt, that what was done like a King ſhould have a King-like Retribution; and that his Deſign in it was to comfort and encourage the King's Friends, to expoſe his Enemies, and to convert others, &c. 4. A Letter under the Lord Chancellor Clarendon's own Hand, dated March 13, 1661-2. wherein his Lordſhip expreſſed great Uneaſineſs under the Biſhop's Importunity, and excuſes his Inability yet to ſerve him; and towards the Concluſion he hath theſe remarkable Words: The Particular you mention has indeed been imparted to me as a Secret; I am ſorry I ever knew it, and when it ceaſes to be a Secret, it will pleaſe none but Mr. Milton.

Mr. Toland triumphs and ſays, Thus came all the World to be convinc'd of this notorious Impoſture, which as it was dexterouſly contriv'd, and moſt cunningly improv'd by a Party whoſe Intereſt oblig'd 'em to keep the Secret, ſo it happen'd to be diſcovered by very nice and unforeſeen Accidents. Had not Gauden been diſappointed of Wincheſter he had never pleaded his Merit in this Affair; nor would his Wife have written her Narrative, had King Charles II. beſtow'd one half Year's Rent upon her after her Huſband's Deceaſe, which upon her Petition, and conſidering her numerous Family, none could imagine ſhould be refus'd.

Life of John Milton, 8vo. p. 89, 90.

Mr. Arthur North a Merchant now living [1699.] on Tower-Hill, London, a Man of good Credit, and a Member of the Church of England, marry'd the Siſter of her that was Wife to the Doctor's Son Charles Gauden, who dying left ſome Papers with his Widow, among which Mr. North being concern'd about his Siſter-in-Law's Affairs, found a whole Bundle relating to Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ: Theſe Papers old Mrs. Gauden left to her darling Son John, and he to his Brother Charles.

There are other Papers in this Bundle, but particularly a long Narrative of Mrs. Gauden's own writing, irrefragably ſhewing her Huſband to be Author of Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ. —— I refer the Reader to the original Paper, or to the faithful Extract made out of it before ſeveral learned and worthy Perſons, and which is printed in a Paper intitul'd, Truth brought to Light.

Ib. p. 86.

The Biſhoprick of Wincheſter was promis'd Dr. Gauden, tho' he was afterwards put off with that of Worceſter: And notwithſtanding it was then a Secret, we now know, that in Expectation of this Tranſlation, the great Houſe on Clapham-Common was built indeed in the Name of his Brother Sir Dennis, but really to be a Manſion-Houſe for the Biſhops of Wincheſter.

Proceedings of the two Houſes in the Bill for Uniformity.

Journal of the Lords, MS.

In the Houſe of Lords. The Earl of Bridgwater reported, that the Committee have conſidered of the Bill concerning Uniformity of Worſhip, wherein the Commons have made divers Alterations and Amendments, which are offered to the Conſideration of this Houſe: And that the Commons in their Alterations and Amendments, have made the Bill relate to the Book recommended by the King to this Houſe, and not to the Book brought with the Bill from the Houſe of Commons.

Next it was moved, that the Alterations and Additions in the Book of Common-Prayer, as it came recommended from his Majeſty, might be read before the Alterations and Amendments in the Bill were read; which was accordingly ordered and read. But having made little Progreſs therein, and it being now late, and the Buſineſs will require longer Time, it is ordered, that this Houſe will proceed in the reading the reſt of the Alterations and Additions to Morrow Morning at nine of the Clock.

Mr. Will. King Rector of St. Olave, Silver-ſtreet.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 517.

March 13, 1661-2. William King, A. M. was admitted Rector of the Church of St. Olave Silver-ſtreet in London, who, 'tis ſuppos'd, enjoy'd it 'till it was burnt down in 1666.

Not upon the ejecting or ſilencing of Mr. Tho. Douglaſs, but upon his Ceſſion or Departure from it

Dr Booſie was Rector of this Church when the Rebellion broke out in 1642. and was ſo abus'd by the Rebels that he died with Grief. Mercur. Ruſt. 256.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 33.

Contin. p. 35.

From St. Olave Silver-ſtreet, Mr. Thomas Douglaſs. He fell under ſome Scandals, and afterwards travelled, and took the Degree of Doctor of Phyſick in Padua, return'd to London, practis'd Phyſick and ran in Debt: He afterwards went into Ireland, and dyed obſcurely. —— He was the Author of the ſober Teſtimony againſt ſinful Compliance. In Defence of which his Jerub-baal was written; as appears by the Preface, at the End of which he writes himſelf M. A.

FRIDAY Mar. 14.

Proceedings on the Bill for Uniformity.

Extract from the Journal of the Lords.

Die Veneris 14. Martii 1661.

The Houſe of Lords proceeded in the further Hearing of the Alterations and Additions in the Book of Common-Prayer, and ordered to proceed further in the reading of it to Morrow Morning.

Order of King in Council to expedite the Bill of Settlement in Ireland.

Cox's Hiſt. of Ireland, Part III. p. 5.

Order of King in Council at Whitehall, March 14, 1661. that in regard the Romiſh Catholicks of Ireland have been fully heard as to the Bill of Settlement, no more Petitions or further Addreſſes be required or admitted from them, for obſtructing the ſame; but the engroſſing thereof be proceeded upon without any further Delay.

The Act of Settlement thus paſs'd, there was a Court of Claims erected to adjudge Qualifications of Innocency and Nocency. —— The Commiſſioners were Sir Richard Raynsford, Sir Thomas Beverly, Sir Edward Deering, Sir Edward Smith, William Coventry, Eſq; (in whoſe Stead came Sir Alan Broderick) Sir Winſton Churchill and Colonel Cooke —— who decided the Claims to the great Loſs and Diſſatisfaction of the Proteſtants.

SATURDAY Mar. 15.

The Houſe of Lords order Thanks to the Biſhops and Clergy for their Pains in reviſing and amending the Common-Prayer.

Die Saturni 15. Martii 1661.

The Houſe of Lords proceeded in the further hearing of the Alterations and Additions in the Book of Common-Prayer; which being ended, the Lord Chancellor in the Name and by the Directions of the Houſe, gave the Lords Biſhops

Thanks for their Care in this Buſineſs, and deſired their Lordſhips to give the like Thanks to the other Houſe of Convocation for their Pains herein.

Ordered, That this Houſe will take into Conſideration the Alterations and Amendments in this Bill concerning Uniformity in Publick Worſhip formerly reported from the Committee, and this to be on Monday Morning next.

And yet through Haſte and Inadvertence, there were ſome Eſcapes and Omiſſions in the Book ſent from the Convocation to the Lords. Archbiſhop Teniſon told me by his Bed-ſide on Monday Febr. 12. 1710. that the Convocation Book intended to be the Copy confirmed by the Act of Uniformity had a raſh Blunder in the Rubrick after Baptiſm, which ſhould have run [It is certain by God's Word, that Children which are Baptized dying before they commit Actual Sin are undoubtedly ſaved] But the Words [which are Baptized] were left out, 'till Sir Cyril Wyche coming to ſee the Lord Chancellour Hyde found the Book brought home by his Lordſhip, and lying in his Parlour Window, even after it had paſſed the two Houſes, and happening to caſt his Eye upon that Place, told the Lord Chancellour of that groſs Omiſſion, who ſupplied it with his own Hand.

Die Lunæ 17. Martii, 1661-2.

Monday Mar. 17.
Proceeding of the Lords on the Bill for Uuiformity.

Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

The Houſe of Lords took into Conſideration the Bill concerning Uniformity in publick Worſhip formerly reported from the Committee, and upon ſecond reading of the Alterations and Proviſoes and Conſideration thereof, it is ordered, That this Houſe agrees to the Preamble as it is now brought in by the Committee, and the Queſtion being put, whether this Book that hath been tranſmitted to this Houſe ſhall be the Book to which the Act of Uniformity ſhall relate, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Agreed to the Preamble of it.

A Proviſo recommended by the King.

Then the Lord Chancellour acquainted the Houſe with a Proviſo recommended from the King, to be inſerted in this Bill of Uniformity, which his Lordſhip read, and it was commanded that the ſame ſhould be read again. And it is ordered, That the further Debate of this Buſineſs ſhall be deferred 'till to morrow Morning.

Dr. Harris Rector of Farthingho Com. Northampt.

Reg. Laney. Petriburg.

Martii 17. 1661. Malachias Harris, S. T. P. alias per auctoritatem nuper obtinentem admiſſus ad Rect. de Farthingho Com. Northton. (alias vac. per Mortem Gualteri Jakeman ult. Incumb.) ex Preſentatione Domini Johannis Egerton, Baronetti, pleno jure Patroni, vigore ejuſdem Preſentationis admiſſus & inſtitutus ad eandem in majorem cautelam & ad corroborand' titulum.

Die Martis 18. Martii, 1661-2.

Tuesday Mar. 18.
A Queſtion of ſaving the Privilege of the Houſe upon receiving the King's Proviſo.

Extracts from Journ. Lords.

The Houſe of Lords took into Conſideration the Buſineſs of preſenting the Proviſo Yeſterday from the King to this Houſe. For Debate thereof the Houſe was adjourned into a Committee during Pleaſure. And the Houſe being reſumed a Queſtion was put, whether a Salvo ſhould be entred into the Bill to ſave the Privilege of this Houſe upon the Occaſion of this Proviſo from the King. And it was reſolved in the Negative: And ordered, that to morrow Morning the Debate concerning the Matter of this Proviſo.

The Houſe of Commons deſire the King to beſtow ſome Dignity in the Church upon the Speaker's Chaplain.

Extracts from the Journal of the Commons.

The Commons ordered, that Mr. Henry Carpenter, who reads Prayers to this Houſe, ſhall be commended to his Majeſty's ſpecial Grace and Favour, to be preſented to ſome Dignity in the Church of England, and that Mr. Henry Coventry, Mr. John Aſhburnham, and Colonel Legg (all three of his Majeſty's Bedchamber) do preſent the Deſires of the Houſe to his Majeſty.

Proceedings in Convocation upon the Book of Common Prayer.

Append. ad Synod. Angl. 8vo.

Before the King tranſmitted the Book of the Convocation to the Houſe of Lords, they had received another from the Commons, but the Lords followed the Book from the King. Biſhop Gibſon Codex Juris, &c. Fol. p. 314.

In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis, Reverendus Pater, &c. cum Conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum ad eum accerſiri juſſit Prolocutorem Prælatos & Clerum Domus Inferioris: Quibus advenientibus dictus Reverendus Pater cum Conſenſu, &c. publice ſignificavit & intimavit eiſdem Prolocutori Prælatis & Clero antedictis Librum Precum Publicarum, Adminiſtrationis Sacramentorum, aliorumque Rituum Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ, una cum Forma & Modo ordinandi & conſecrandi Epiſcopos, Preſbyteros, & Diaconos (alias per Reverendos Patres & Prælatos & Clerum Domus Inferioris Convocationis, juxta Literas Regiæ Majeſtatis eis in ea parte directas, reviſum) per Proceres & Magnates in Parliamento congregat. fuiſſe & eſſe gratanter acceptatum, & honorandum Virum Dominum Dominum Edwardum Dominum Cancellarium Angliæ tam Nomine ſuo proprio quam Nomine totius Domns Procerum & Magnatum in Parliamento (ut præfertur) congregat. maximas gratias Archiepiſcopis & Epiſcopis utriuſque Provinciæ pro eorum magna Cura & Induſtria in & circa Reviſionem dicti Libri Publicarum Precum, &c. dedidiſſe & præbuiſſe. Et inſuper dictus Reverendus Pater declaravit quod dictus honorandus Vir Cancellarius Angliæ voluit ſe Reverendum Patrem Nomine totius Domus Procerum & Magnatum prædict. ad reddend. & præbend. gratias Prolocutori Prælatis & Clero Domus Inferioris Convocationis prædict. pro eorum teſpective ſimili Cura & Labore in & circa Reviſionem Libri prædicti. Et tunc dicto Prolocutore & toto Cœtn Domus Inferioris dimiſſis dictus Reverendus Pater, &c. continuavit, &c.

Death of the Biſhop of Cheſter, Dr. Henry Ferne.
His Birth, Education, and Preferments.

Ath. Oxon. laſt Edition, Vol. II. col. 268.

The Death of Dr. Henry Ferne Biſhop of Cheſter. He was the eighth and youngeſt Son of Sir John Ferne, Knight, born at York, educated in the Free-School of Uppingham in Rutlandſhire by the Care of Sir Thomas Nevil of Holt in Leiceſterſhire, who had then lately married his Mother. Admitted of St. Mary Hall in Oxford 1618. thence removed to Trinity College in Cambridge, where he was elected Fellow. When Batchelor of Divinity he was made Domeſtick Chaplain to Dr. Morton Biſhop of Durham, with whom after a Year's Continuance, he was invited by his College to take the Living of Maſham in Yorkſhire, but continuing not long there, his Brother-in-law, Henry Nevil of Holt, Eſq; conferr'd upon him the Living of Medbourn in Leiceſterſhire, and ſoon after the Biſhop of Lincoln gave him the Archdeaconry of Leiceſter. In 1642. he took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity, and anſwered the Divinity Act. Retiring to Leiceſterſhire, when his Majeſty came to Leiceſter, on Friday July 22. he preached before him ſo admirably well, that his Majeſty made him his Chaplain. In November following, he put out his Caſe of Conſcience touching Rebellion, owning it under his Name, having the Honour to be the firſt that printed any thing, as 'tis ſaid, for the King. And ſoon after being forced from Medbourn by the rebellious Party, he retired to Oxford for Shelter, and conſtantly preached, gratis, in St. Aldate's Church belonging to Pembroke College. After Naſeby Fight, he went to Newark Garriſon, and continued there conſtantly preaching 'till it was delivered up. The King ſent for him to the Iſle of Wight, where he was the laſt that preached before him. In 1660. he became Maſter of Trinity College in Cambridge, twice Vice-Chancellour, Prolocutor of the Convocation, Dean of Ely in the Place of Dr. Edward Martin deceaſed, in Auguſt 1661. Conſecrated Biſhop of Cheſter in Ely Houſe, Holborn, on Shrove Sunday, Febr. 9. 1661. in the Room of Dr. Brian Walton deceaſed. Great Matters were expected from him as to Benefaction and Learning, but within five Weeks he was ſuddenly taken away from among the Living, to the great Grief and Reluctancy of all the true Sons of the Church of England, and of the loyal Party, on Sunday March 16. in the Houſe of his Kinſman, Mr. Nevill, in Paul's Church-yard, 1661. aged 56 Years: Buried March 25. 1662. in Edmund's Chapel within the Abbey Church of Weſtminſter, with this Inſcription on his Grave-ſtone:

The Reſolving of Conſcience upon this Queſtion, Whether upon ſuch a Suppoſition or Caſe, &c. Cambr. 1642. 4to.

A Sermon preached at the Publick Faſt the twelfth of April at St. Mary's Oxford. before the Members of the Honourable Houſe of Commons there aſſembled, by Henry Ferne, D D. and printed by their Order, on Judges v. 15. 4to. 1644.

Inſtalled Dean of Ely in the Room of Dr. Richard Love, March 12. 1660. Le Neve Faſti, p. 72.

His Epitaph.

Hic jacet Henricus Ferne, S. T. P. Johannis
Ferne Militis Civitat. Eborac. a ſecretis Filius
Natu octavus. Collegii SS. Trinitatis Cantabr.
Præfectus, ſimul Ceſtrienſis Epiſcopus. Sedit quinque tantum Septimanis. Obiit Martii 16.
A. D. 1662. Ætat. 59.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, 4to. p. 335.

—— Much might be ſaid of his remarkable Devotion and Piety, exemplified in his conſtant Prayers and Faſtings, both publick and private, thro' his whole Life, but eſpecially in the ſad Times he lived: As alſo of his Temper and Diſpoſition, which was ſo ſweet and harmleſs, ſo even, ſo ingenuous, and chriſtian, that ſuch who have converſed with him have deſired to ſit at his Feet continually. The Character given of him by one that knew him from a Youth, was, That if he had any Fault, it was, he could not be angry. And others of his intimate Acquaintance obſerved, that he was never known to be guilty of cenſuring others either privately or publickly, and that alſo ſuch was his publick Spirit, that he never declined any Service that might tend to the Advancement of the Church or State.

The very exact Editor of the Life of Dr. John Barwick in Engliſh has put this Note, p. 240. In a Manuſcript Note on Dr. Price's Myſtery and Method of his Majeſty's happy Reſtauration, p. 38. I find it obſerved, that the King gave Authority to Dr. Duppa then Biſhop of Saliſbury, and other Biſhops (not there named) to conſecrate Dr. Hammond, Dr. Sheldon, Dr. Lacy, Dr. Ferne, and Dr. Walton, and that the Warrant was brought from Bruſſels by Mr. Alleſtrey in May 1659.

He was celebrated in the late Times for his clear Reſolutions of the Differences between the King and Parliament, and between the Churches of England, Geneva, and Rome; which he performed with ſo mighty a Strength and Perſpicuity, that the two adverſe Parties confeſſed, that the Church of England's Cauſe never looked ſo clearly and devoutly in any Writings, as in thoſe of Dr. Ferne.

Eachard's Char. II. p. 70.

The laſt Will and Teſtament of Biſhop Ferne.

In the Name of God Amen. I Henry Ferne Profeſſor of Divinity, now dwelling at Sandbeck in the County of York, being of perfect Health, Memory, and Underſtanding, (I praiſe God for it) do conſtitute this my laſt Will and Teſtament in the Year of our Lord God 1659. Aug. —— Firſt of all I commend my Soul into the Hands of Almighty God, my faithful Creator and gracious Redeemer, and do commit my Body to the Earth to be buried decently by the Diſcretion of my Executor or Friends about me, there to reſt in Hope of a bleſſed Reſurrection. And for my Temporal Eſtate, Goods, Monies, Chattels I diſpoſe of as followeth:

Body to be buried at the Diſcretion of his Executor.

Imprimis, I bequeath to the Society of Trinity College in Cambridge the Sum of 10 l. which I leave to the College not as a free Gift or Legacy, but appoint it hereby to be paid by Way of Reſtitution rather, fearing I did not diſcharge thoſe petty Stewardſhips (which I ſometimes bore there) ſo faithfully as I ſhould; and therefore I deſire the Governours of that Society for the Time being ſo to beſtow the ſaid 10 l. as nothing of it may bear my Name.

To Trinity College Cambridge 10 l. for Reſtitution.

Alſo I bequeath to the Poor of Denbies near Facton in the Weſt-Riding of this County, the Sum of 20 l. Alſo to the Poor of Kirby and Maſſam in this County (where once I was Vicar) the Sum of 3 l. to be diſtributed by the Vicar for the Time being. Alſo to the Poor of the Pariſh where I ſhall be interr'd the Sum of 40 l. Item, To four poor Miniſters, ſuch as my Executor ſhall think fit, the Sum of 10 l. among them. Item, To my beloved Brother in Law Mr. Clement Nevill 40 s. and in lieu of the 50 l. I owe him, I leave him all my Books every where, together with the Great New Bible in ſix Volumes; only four Books excepted, which I leave to Mr. Barry Rector of Blatherwick in the County of Northampton, viz. Paræus his Comment in two Volumes, and St. Ambroſe in two Volumes, or any other four Volumes which he ſhall chuſe of thoſe Books of mine which he hath in his Cuſtody, a Catalogue of which I have by me under his

To the Poor of ſeveral Pariſhes.

To four poor Miniſters.

His Books to Mr. Clement Nevill.

Except ſome to Mr. Barry Rector of Blatherwick, And ſome to the Lady Grace Caſtleton.

Several other Legacies in Rings and Money.

Executor Mr. Tho. Nevill of London, Draper.

his hand. Alſo I except Diodate his Comment upon the Bible in Engliſh, and Dr. Hammond's Paraphraſes upon the New Teſtament and the Pſalms, which three Books I bequeath to the right virtuous and my much honoured Lady the Lady Grace Caſtleton. Item, I bequeath to my beloved Nephew Sir John Kay, and to Dr. Joſeph Gulſton, Rector of Waltham in Hampſhire, and to Mr. Robert Hitch, Rector of Guiſly in the County of York, and to Mr. Anthony Marſhal his Brother, and to Mrs. Hitch his Wife 20 s. to each of them ſeverally to buy them Rings. Alſo to my Coſins Mrs. Margaret Kay and Mrs. Dorothy Carvill 20 s. to each of them to buy them Rings. Alſo I bequeath to my God-daughter Anne Kay, the Daughter of Sir John Kay, the Sum of 5 l. and to my God-ſon George Bretton, the Son of Dr. Bretton of Uppingham in the County of Rutland, 5 Marks. Item, I bequeath to my beloved Coſins Mrs. Bridget and Jane Nevill, the Daughters of Mr. Tho. Nevill of London, Draper, 40 s. to each of them, and to Thomas Nevill his Son the Sum of 5 l. Item, To George Fern School-maſter of Tickhill in the County of York, the Sum of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. Alſo to my Niece Mrs. Mary Fern of London, Widow, to my Nephew Matthew Fern late of London, Grocer, and to her two Children by her late Huſband my Nephew, the Sum of 20 l. to each of them. Alſo to my Niece Elizabeth Micklethwaite 10 l. and to my Niece Anne Prole her Siſter the Sum of 20 l. Of theſe Legacies thoſe which concern the Poor to be paid within two Months after my Deceaſe, the reſt within ſix Months. To which Legacies I add 3 l. to be paid within one Month after my Deceaſe to Thomas Smith (if then my Servant) with ſuch of my Apparel as my Executors ſhall think fit for him. Laſtly, Of this my laſt Will and Teſtament I conſtitute and appoint my beloved Brother Thomas Nevill of London, Draper, the ſole Executor, to whom I leave 50 l. clear above all his Coſt and Expences hereabouts, deſiring him (if he be preſent) to be ſparing in Funeral Charges, and if any thing remains above the above-mentioned Legacies, his 50 l. and the Charges, he would beſtow it in Charity, remembring my Niece Prole with a Part of it.

This is the true Copy examined and atteſted under our Hands,
George Chamberlayne, Probat. 11. Julii, 1662.
Philip Flamuth.

Death of a great Incendiary Mr. Richard Culmer alias Blue Dick.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 554. 8vo.

Death of Mr. Richard Culmer, M. A. put out of the ſequeſtred Vicarage of Minſter in the Iſle of Thanet, on Account of Dr. Caſaubon's being re-poſſeſſed of it.

In Mr. Thoroughgood's Diary (who was ejected from Monkton another ſequeſtred Living of Dr. Caſaubon's) I find it there under his Hand thus: March 20, 1661-2. My loving faithful Friend old Mr. Culmer died in my Vicarage Houſe, where he was ſince he was put by as Miniſter at Minſter, the next Place, having been ill ſome Time before. And on the 22d I preached his Funeral Sermon from Rev. xiv. 13. Bleſſed are the Dead which die in the Lord, &c.

Mr. Wharton's very ill Character of him.

Mr. Wharton who was Miniſter in that Iſland has ſet down this Account of Mr. R. Culmer in his Manuſcript Collections, F. p. 57. Richard Culmer obtained of his rich Father to part with his whole Eſtate, and then ſuffer'd the old Man (who was living 1644.) to want. He was ejected out of his Curacy at Godneſtone for refuſing to read the Book of Sports; in Revenge whereof he accuſed Mr. E. B. a Gentleman (whom he ſuſpected to have been inſtrumental therein) of treaſonable Words before the Council, where the Matter being heard, the Accuſation was found to be falſe and malicious; whereupon Culmer was committed to the Fleet October 9, 1635. About 1644. he was thruſt into the Vicarage of Minſter in the Iſle of Thanet on the Ejection of Dr. Caſaubon, where he took down the Croſs from the Spire of the Steeple, defaced the Windows, and pull'd down the Hall in the Vicarage Houſe. A Man ſo odious for his Zeal and Fury, that the Pariſhioners of Minſter had petitioned the Parliament againſt his coming to that Place; where he lived to the King's Return, and being then forced to yield to the Reſtitution of Doctor Caſaubon, he died ſoon after for Grief and Vexation at Monkton.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 863. London, 1651, 4to.

London, 1655, 4to.

London, 1644, 4to.

When turned out of Godneſtone he became Miniſter of Harbledown in Kent; he publiſhed The Miniſters Hue and Cry: Or a true Diſcovery of the inſufferable Injuries, Robberies, Cozenages, and Oppreſſions acted againſt Miniſters and Impropriators, eſpecially againſt Miniſters placed by Authority of Parliament. Publiſhed by Richard Culmer late Miniſter of God's Word at Harbledown near Canterbury. Another Tract entitled Lawleſs Tythe Robbers diſcovered, who make Tythe Revenue a Mock Maintenance, &c. He had before publiſhed a moſt vile Pamphlet entitled Cathedral News: Or Dean and Chapter News from Canterbury. In which heaping up all he could rake together againſt the Cathedral of Canterbury, Archbiſhop, Dean, Canons, and other Officers belonging thereunto, had immediately two Anſwers from Oxford, &c. he broke down the famous Windows of Chriſt-Church in Canterbury, —— was commonly called Blue Dick, becauſe he wore blue in Oppoſition to black.

Account, 8vo, p. 389.

Continuat. 8vo. p. 554.

Yet a late Author gives a ſmooth Character of him, and concludes that at Minſter, God was pleaſed to own him, and the Pariſh was much reformed. At which the reverend and worthy Mr. Lewis, the preſent Miniſter at Mergate in that Iſland, in a Letter to the Author, aſſured him that he had left but a very bad Character behind him. —— That Archbiſhop Laud charged him with offering to bribe his Servants to procure Chartham for him. However, 'tis certain, he acted more the Part of a Bully, than of a Chriſtian Miniſter. He was often engaged in Broils, and being a very ſtrong Man, car'd not whom he fought with, &c.

Dr. Will. Clarke Vicar of Stepney.

Gulielmus Clarke Clericus, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stebonheath alias Stepney in Com. Middleſex vac. per Mort. nat. Emanuelis Utye ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Gulielmi Harrington, LL. D. Die 18. Martii, 1661. —— He was Doctor of Divinity in Cambridge, made Dean of Wincheſter about 1665. and died in the Pariſh of St. Giles's in the Fields in 1679. leaving by Will conſiderable Augmentations to ten poor Livings.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond.

Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 741.

Mr. Will. Rogers Rector of Laingdon Hills in Eſſex.

Willielmus Rogers, A. M. admiſſus eſt ad Rect. de Laingdon Hills Com. Eſſex (18. Martii, 1661-2.) vac. per Reſign. Will. Pindar ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli Lond.

Ibid. Vol. II. p. 359.

WEDNESDAY Mar. 19. Debates of the Lords upon the King's Proviſo.

Die Mercurii 19. Martii, 1661-2.

The Houſe of Lords took into Conſideration the Matter in the King's Proviſo to the Bill for Uniformity of Worſhip, and the Proviſo was read again and debated; and there being another Proviſo offered to the Houſe, and read, the Queſtion being put, whether this Proviſo ſhall be rejected, it was reſolved in the Affirmative. Ordered, that the Bill for Uniformity is re-committed: Alſo the Proviſo ſent from the King is referred to the Conſideration of the ſame Committee.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

Dr. Theoph. Dillingham, Vice-Chancellour of Cambridge on the Death of Biſhop Ferne.

Theophilus Dillingham, S. T. P. electus ad Officium Procancellarii Cantabr. pro reliqua Parte hujus Anni 19. Martii, 1661-2.

Reg. Cantabr.

Who conſtitutes and appoints Dr. Will. Dillingham Maſter of Emanuel College to be admitted in his Stead.

Whereas the Vice-Chancellourſhip of the Univerſity of Cambridge was lately vacant by the Death of the Right Reverend Father in God Henry Lord Biſhop of Cheſter, and the ſaid Univerſity have been pleaſed to elect me into the ſaid Office for the Remainder of the Year: And whereas by Reaſon of many and great Occaſions, I cannot at preſent attend my Admittance into the ſaid Office in my own Perſon: Leſt therefore the Service of the Univerſity ſhould be interrupted, I do by theſe Preſents conſtitute, ordain, and appoint the right worſhipful William Dillingham, D. D. and Maſter of Emanuel College, to be admitted in my Stead, and to perform all ſuch Acts as are hereunto required by the Statutes of the ſaid Univerſity. Given under my Hand and Seal this 20th Day of March in the Year of our Lord God 1661-2. THEOPH. DILLINGHAM.

THURSDAY Mar. 20. Referred to the Judges to conſider of the Act for reſtoring Advowſons and Impropriations.

Die Jovis 20. Martii, 1661-2.

Ordered by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, that it is hereby referred to the two Lord Chief Juſtices who (having called to them ſuch Judges as are in Town) are to conſider whether an Act entitled An Act for Reſtoring of all ſuch Advowſons, Rectories, Impropriations, Glebe Lands, and Tythes to his Majeſty's Loyal Subjects as were taken from them, and making void certain Charges impoſed upon them in their Compoſitions for Delinquency by the late uſurped Powers be againſt the Act of Indemnity, and the Act for confirming judicial Proceedings, or either of them, and to make Report thereof to this Houſe.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

FRIDAY Mar. 21. Mr. Oldeſworth's Funeral Sermon for Mrs. Dorothy Rutter.

A Sermon preached at the Funeral of Mrs. Dorothy Rutter, Wife of Michael Rutter, Eſq; who died in Child-bearing. On Hoſea vi. 2. By Giles Oldeſworth Rector of Bourton on the Hill in Glouceſterſhire.

London, 1663, 4to.

Before the Sermon is her Picture and Arms inſcribed Domina Dorothea Rutter, vera Effigies Martii 21mo. 1661-2. Anno Ætatis ſuæ ult. & 31mo.

With an Epiſtle to Sir John Hales of Warwick.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Worſhipful Sir John Hales, Baronet, of Warwick, Nephew to the ſaid Lady.

—— She was the Offspring of a very generous Stock, ſhe was a Hales, a Hales, no Way over-reached by any ſpecious Pretences of Hypocritical Rebels. —— The Lady Anne Overbury, late Widow of Sir Giles Overbury, Knight, died October 15, 1660. —— The preſent Lady is the Lady Heſter Overbury, the virtuous Wife of Sir Thomas Overbury, Knight, of Morton in the Marſh, Glouceſterſhire. —— Mrs. Rutter died in Child-bearing. —— She ordered her Funeral Rings Poſie to be, I am not loſt, but gone before.

Commons paſs the Bill for preventing Frauds and Abuſes in the Cuſtoms.

The Houſe of Commons went through the ingroſſed Bill for preventing Frauds and Abuſes in his Majeſty's Cuſtoms, and for Regulation thereof; and after divers Debates paſſed the Bill, which by Order of the Houſe was carried up to the Lords by Mr. Clifford.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 12.

The King ſends Thanks to the States of Holland for ſecuring the three Regicides.

Whitehall, March 21. His Majeſty hath ſent his Thanks to the States of Holland for the Reſpect ſhewn to his Majeſty in their ready Aſſiſtance to apprehend and ſecure theſe three Regicides, Miles Corbet, Okey, and Barkſtead, now Priſoners in the Tower of London.

Ibid.

Colonel Ludlow very angry with Sir George Downing on that Occaſion.

Mr. Ludlow in his Memoirs inveighs againſt Sir George Downing, who as the King's Miniſter there laid the Scene ſo as to ſecure them, whoſe Baſeneſs he aggravates, by telling, he had been Okey's Chaplain, kindly entertained by him, and received many Obligations from him; all which the Factions moſt virulently charged upon him from the Beginning, and he as little regarded; for being by Monk's Recommendation continued in the ſame Employments he had under Cromwell, for which he had then contracted an implacable Enmity from all the Rumpers, he reſolved to be before-hand with them, by hanging as many as poſſible out of the Way, who he was ſure if once more in Power to do the like by him. For Regicides no Saints, &c. 8vo. p. 88.

Gratitude he had converſed too long among them, not to know how little it was regarded when Intereſt ſtood in Competition. —— He continues his Charge againſt the barbarous Part the States acted in this Conjuncture, who contrary to a fundamental Maxim in their Government to receive and protect all, contributed as much as in them lay to the Deſtruction of theſe Gentlemen. That they contributed any thing to the Seizing of them is abſolutely falſe, but were much vexed at it, though when done could not prevent it. Sir George had formerly attempted ſeveral ſuch Stragglers, and the States had freely given him Orders to ſecure them, but withal took ſuch Care, that before he or his Meſſengers came there, the Birds were flown. This was the firſt Time he outwitted them, and I dare engage had he continued there forty Years it ſhould have been the laſt, &c.

Saturday Mar. 22.
Bill for ſettling an Eſtate on George Duke of Albemarle.

Publick Intell 4to. No. 12.

The engroſs'd Bill for confirming and ſettling certain Lands, Manors, &c. upon George Duke of Albemarle was this Day read the laſt Time in the Houſe of Commons, and paſſed Nemine Contradicente, and afterwards by Order of the Houſe carried up to the Houſe of Peers by John Vaughan, Eſq;

Bill for bringing of Perſons to Accompt.

The engroſs'd Bill for the more ſpeedy bringing Perſons to accompt, whoſe Accompts were excepted in the Act of Oblivion, was this Day carried up to the Lords by Sir Thomas Strickland.

Reg. Cantabr.

His Majeſty's Letters directed To our truſty and well-beloved our Vice-Chancellor or Pro-Vice-Chancellor for the Time being, of our Univerſity of Cambridge.

The King's Letters to the Univerſity of Cambridge, in behalf of Mr. Will. Sancroft and Mr John Codde, to be admitted Doctors of Divinity.

Charles, R.

Truſty and well-beloved we greet you well. Whereas William Sancroft, Batchelor of Divinity, and one of our Chaplains in ordinary, was during the late unhappy and unnatural Commotions for his Loyalty and good Affection expreſs'd all along unto us and our Intereſts, ejected out of his Fellowſhip of Emanuel College in that our Univerſity (the local Statutes of which College had otherwiſe obliged him long ſince to have taken the Degree of Doctor of Divinity) and whereas beſides the Month of his ordinary Attendance upon our Perſon, he hath both before and after the ſame been employed in our eſpecial Service, which he hath diſcharged to our Satisfaction, and is now upon his neceſſary Occaſions to remove into the remoter Parts of this our Kingdom: So that he neither could nor yet can without great Inconvenience attend the uſual Forms and Method of academical Promotions. Being therefore well aſſured of his Piety, Learning, and fit Deſervings for the Degree of Doctor of Divinity; and being further inform'd from good Teſtimonies of the pious Life, good Learning, and many Sufferings of John Codde, Maſter of Arts, and that he is every Way duly qualified for the ſame Degree: We have thought good hereby to recommend them unto you, willing you forthwith, upon Receipt hereof, (all neceſſary Diſpenſations being firſt granted) to admit the ſaid William Sancroft and John Codde unto the Degree of Doctors in Divinity, fully to be compleated to them without further Attendance according to their Seniorities, any Statute, Law, Cuſtom or Conſtitution to the contrary notwithſtanding, with all which we are graciouſly pleaſed hereby to diſpence. And ſo we bid you farewell. Given at our Court at Whitehall the 15th Day of March 1661-2.

Publicat' per Dom. Guil. Dillingham Procan. deput. 21. Martii 1661.

By his Majeſty's Command,
Edw. Nicholas.

Preſentment by the Grand Jury at Exeter of Miniſters not reading the Common-Prayer.
This hardned many of them into Nonconformity to the Bartholomew Act.
The Miniſters already ejected out of ſequeſtred Livings in Right to the former Incumbents, were now itinerant ſeditious Preachers.
And People were fond to run from their own Pariſh Churches, and to walk in the Church-yard till Common-Prayer was over.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 12.

Adviſed from Exon, March 22, 1661-2. The loyal Grand-Jury have here formed at leaſt forty Indictments againſt ſome eminent Nonconformiſts of the Miniſtry, for not reading Common-Prayer, as by Law they ought, ſome of which have already pleaded not Guilty, and have put in Bail to traverſe at the next Seſſions, hoping by that Time to ſee a new Law to compel them, or elſe the old to ſignify nothing. They likewiſe preſented the Continuance in Office of diſaffected Perſons, as Petty Conſtables, High Conſtables, &c. without being ſworn to their Allegiance. They likewiſe preſented, as a Matter of very great Concernment to the Peace of the Nation, the travelling about of divers itinerant Miniſters, juſtly ejected out of other ſequeſtrated Men's Benefices, by them unlawfully poſſeſſed, who teach Sedition and Rebellion in private Houſes, and other Congregations, and endeavour to foment a new War for their own particular Intereſt. They likewiſe preſented as a Grievance, ſuch as neglect their own Pariſh Churches, and run abroad to hear factious Miniſters, and ſuch as walk in the Church-yard or other Places at Time of divine Service.

Account of Mr. John Howe, Miniſter at Torrington.

Dr. Calamy's Life of Mr. John Howe, 1724, 8vo. p. 27.

Mr. John How return'd to his old People at Torrington, and continued his Labours among them till the Reſtoration; at which Time there was ſuch a Madneſs attending the univerſal Joy, that it is a perfect Wonder the Nation ever in any Meaſure recover'd it. The King being reſtor'd, made for ſome Time more uſe than was uſual of the Lords Lieutenants and their Deputies, to keep the ſeveral Counties of the Kingdom in awe. Many were made Offenders for a Word, and the moſt cautious Preachers were accus'd and cenſur'd, if they were not intoxicated to the ſame Degree with their Neighbours. Among the reſt Mr. How, tho' as cautious as moſt Men of giving Diſturbance to any, yet met with ſome Trouble, &c.

He was inform'd againſt by John Evans and William Morgan, as delivering ſomewhat that was ſeditious and even treaſonable, in two Sermons preach'd from Galat. vi. 7, 8. on Sept. 30. and Octob. 14. The Information was given before Mr. Wellington the Mayor, who took an Engagement from Mr. Howe and others on his behalf, for his Appearance at the next Seſſions to anſwer to that Matter. Before that Time, ſome of the Deputy Lieutenants of the County (who were not willing the Magiſtrates of the ſeveral Corporations ſhould be too powerful) ſent Word to the Mayor, that they could not be preſent at the appointed Seſſion, but deſir'd to hear the Matter at ſome other Time, and prefix'd a Day for that Purpoſe, to which the Mayor accordingly adjourn'd the Seſſions in Compliance with their Deſire. And whereas Mr. Howe in open Court demanded the Benefit of the Statute of 1 Edw. VI. and 1 Eliz. to purge himſelf by more Evidences than the Informers, the Mayor adminiſtred an Oath to one and twenty Witneſſes, who were judicious Men, enjoining them on his Majeſty's Behalf to declare the Truth of the Matter, and they all clear'd Mr. Howe from the Guilt in the Accuſation, and the Court accordingly diſcharg'd him, &c.

Controverſy about the Election of Proctors at Oxford, decided by their Chancellor Lord Clarendon.

The Controverſy depending at Oxford about the Election of Proctors, occaſioned by the Intermiſſion of the Caroline Cycle, was heard and determined by the Chancellor of the Univerſity, Lord Clarendon, aſſiſted by the Biſhops of London and Worceſter, at his Houſe in Weſtminſter this 22^d of March 1661. and a Decree made, by virtue whereof Mr. Thomas Frankland of Brazen Noſe, and Mr. Henry Bold of Chriſt-Church, were admitted to their procuratorial Office Apr. 9, 1662.

Hiſt. & Antiq. Univ. Oxon. Lib. II. p. 440.

SUNDAY Mar. 23.

R. Drake Chancellor of the Church of Sarum.

One Rich. Drake Fellow of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, was Taxer in 1637.

Richard Drake was collated to the Chancellorſhip of the Church of Sarum void by the Promotion of Dr. John Earle to the See of Worceſter: he died in 1681. —— Ricardus Drake, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Radwinter Com. Eſſex, 28. Nov. 1638. vac. per mort. Johannis Mountford, ex preſ. Rogeri Drake pro hac vice. —— 17. Sept. 1667. Tho. Clendon Clericus ad Eccl. de Radwinter, vac. per reſign. Ric. Drake. —— 1681. Nov. 5. Seth Ward coll. ad Cancellar. Eccl. Sarum, vac. per mort. Ricardi Drake.

Le Neve Faſti, p. 263. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 479. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 230.

The Growth of Popery began viſibly in the late Times.

As openly declar'd by Oliver Cromwell.

The Growth of Popery, tho' too viſible, was not ſo much promoted by Favours at Court, as it had been encourag'd by the late fatal Diviſions and Confuſions. The Protector Cromwell own'd it in his Parliament Speeches Sept. 4. and Sept. 12, 1654. —— The common Adverſary in the mean Time he ſleeps not, and our Adverſaries in civil and ſpiritual Reſpects did take Advantage at our Diviſions and Diſtractions, and did practiſe accordingly in the three Nations of England, Scotland and Ireland. We know very well, that Emiſſaries of the Jeſuits never came in thoſe Swarms, as they have done ſince theſe Things were ſet on foot. And I tell you, that divers Gentlemen here preſent can bear witneſs with me, how that they have had a Conſiſtory abroad, that rules all the Affairs of Things in England, from an Archbiſhop with other Dependents upon him. And they had fixed in England (of which we are able to produce the particular Inſtruments in moſt of the Limits of the Cathedrals) an Epiſcopal Power with Archdeacons, &c. and had Perſons authorized to exerciſe and diſtribute thoſe Things, who pervert and deceive the People.

Printed for G.Sawbridge, 1654, 4^to.

MONDAY Mar. 24.

Bill paſſed the Commons for amending the Streets and Highways in and near London.

The ingroſs'd Bill for repairing the Streets and Highways in and near the Cities of London and Weſtminſter and Parts adjacent, having been recommitted was this Day reported with the Amendments, which were all agreed to, after which the Bill paſſed, and Sir Robert Howard, according to Order, carried it up to the Houſe of Peers.

Mercur. Publ. N^o. 12. 4^to.

Mr. George Withers for a ſcandalous Libel committed to the Tower.

I have by me a Paper written by Mr. Will Griffith, intituled, ſundry paradoxical (if not heterodoxical) Tenets concerning univerſal Predeſtination and Reprobation, the laſt Judgment, the Reſurrection of the Fleſh, &c. held and aſſerted by William Hickman of Gainſburgh, Jun. 10, 1621. Found among the Papers of George Withers, Eſq: (the Fanatick Peet) ſeized by Mr. Northrop the Meſſeng r 1662. by Warrant from Mr. Secretary Nicholas. —— And ſeveral other Papers.

The Houſe being informed that Mr. George Withers had written a ſcandalous and ſeditious Libel to enrage the People, and to vilify and defame the Members of this Houſe, and to blemiſh the Honour and Juſtice of this Houſe, for which he had been committed Priſoner to Newgate; ordered the Serjeant at Arms to ſend for him, and bring him to the Bar of that Houſe, which accordingly was done, and the Libel being ſhewn unto him, he declared that the ſame was his Hand-writing, but that it was but Parcel of what he intended; and two Witneſſes being called in, teſtified that they took the ſaid Libel from him, when he was tranſcribing Part of them; and that they were preſent when himſelf confeſs'd upon his Examination before Mr. Attorney General, that they were of his own Writing and Contrivance. Whereupon he was ſent in Cuſtody to be cloſe Priſoner in the Tower of London, to be debarred Pen, Ink and Paper, and an Impeachment ordered to be drawn up againſt him. And it is referred unto Mr. Pryn, Mr. Serjeant Charlton, Mr. Sollicitor-General, Serjeant Maynard, Dr. Birkenhead, Mr. Smyth, Mr. Vaughan, and Mr. Clifford or any three of them, to peruſe the ſeditious infamous Libel by him contrived, and draw up an Impeachment againſt him, and Report it to the Houſe at their next Meeting.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

The Houſe adjourn'd till Thurſday come ſe'nnight, April 3.

Account given of him.

The ſaid George Wither, Son of George Wither the firſt Son by a ſecond Venter, of the Houſe of Wither of Manydowne near to Wotton St. Laurence in Hampſhire, was born at Bentworth near Alton in the ſaid County on the 11^th of June 1588. 30 Eliz. educated in Grammar Learning under the noted Schoolmaſter of thoſe Parts called John Greaves of Colemore, ſent to Magdalen College, Oxon. in the Year 1604. or thereabouts, where being put under the Tuition of John Warner (afterwards Biſhop of Rocheſter) whom if I miſtake not he ſerv'd, made ſome Proficiency with much ado in academical Learning; but his Genie being addicted to Things more trivial, was taken home after he had ſpent about three

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 274.

Years in the ſaid Houſe, and thence ſent to one of the Inns of Chancery in London, and afterwards to Lincoln's-Inn. But ſtill his Genie hanging after Things more ſmooth and delightful, he did at length make himſelf known to the World (after he had taken ſeveral Rambles therein) by certain Specimens of Poetry, &c. In 1639. he was a Captain of Horſe in the Expedition againſt the Scots, and Quarter-Maſter-General of the Regiment wherein he was. But being always from his Youth puritanically affected, he ſided with the Preſbyterians in the Beginning of the Civil Wars, ſold the Eſtate he had, and with the Monies receiv'd for it, rais'd a Troop of Horſe for the Parliament, was made a Captain, and ſoon after a Major, having this Motto on his Colours, Pro Rege, Lege, Grege: But being taken Priſoner by the Cavaliers, Sir John Denham the Poet (ſome of whoſe Land, at Egham in Surrey, Withers had got into his Clutches) deſired his Majeſty not to hang him, becauſe that ſo long as Withers lived, Denham would not be accounted the worſt Poet in England. About that Time he was conſtituted by the ſaid Long-Parliament a Juſtice of Peace in Quorum for Hampſhire, Surrey, and afterwards was made by Oliver Major-General of all the Horſe and Foot in the County of Surrey, in which Employment he lick'd his Fingers ſufficiently, gaining thereby a great Odium from the generous Royaliſts. After the King's Reſtoration, he loſt all the Lands that had belonged to Royaliſts and Biſhops. And being then look'd upon as a dangerous Perſon to the King and State, eſpecially for a ſcandalous and ſeditious Libel that he had then diſperſed, was committed Priſoner to Newgate, and afterwards, by the Houſe of Commons, ſent Priſoner to the Tower of London. —— In both which Priſons he continued three Years and more, wrote ſeveral Things by the Connivance of the Keeper, of which ſome were afterwards made publick, yet could never refrain from ſhewing himſelf a Preſbyterian Satyriſt. —— After he had lived to the Age of 79 Years, moſtly ſpent in a rambling and unſettled Condition, he concluded this Life on the ſecond Day of May 1667. Whereupon his Body was buried between the Eaſt-Door and South-End of the Church (which ſtands North and South) belonging to the Savoy Hoſpital in the Strand.

Denham's Jeſt upon Withers.

Letters Patent of James I. to Mr. George Withers, for printing his Hymns and Songs of the Church, in Verſe.

Rymer's Acta Publica, Tom. XVII. p. 454.

James by the Grace of God — to all and ſingular Printers and Bookſellers — Whereas our well-beloved Subject George Withers, Gentleman, by his great Induſtry and diligent Study hath gathered and compoſed a Book, intituled, Hymns and Songs of the Church, by him faithfully and briefly tranſlated into Lirick Verſe, which ſaid Book being eſteemed worthy and profitable to be inſerted in convenient Manner and in due Place into every Engliſh Pſalm Book in Metre. — We give full Licence, Power and Privilege unto the ſaid George Withers, his Executors — to imprint or cauſe to be imprinted the ſaid Book —— for the Term of fifty Years —— Witneſs ourſelf at Weſtminſter the 17th Day of February, Regni 20. Anno 1622.

Sir Gilbert Gerrard to ſave harmleſs the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough.

Original in the Cuſtody of the Dean and Chapter.

Sir Gilbert Gerrard gave Bond dated March 24, 1661-2. for indemniſying and bearing harmleſs the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough and their Succeſſors, in or concerning the Purchaſe and Conveyance of ſeveral Lands and Leaſes belonging to the ſaid Church of Peterborough, made to him, &c.

TUESDAY Mar. 25. Burial of Biſhop Ferne in Weſtminſter-Abbey.

Mercur. Publ. No. 12, 4to.

This Evening was buried at the Abbey in Weſtminſter, that right reverend and learned Prelate Dr. Henry Ferne, late Lord Biſhop of Cheſter, who, by his indefatigable Study, Preaching and Writing, teſtified that he valued the Service of his Majeſty and the Church of England, above his Health and Life in this World, for which he is now rewarded in a better.

His Majeſty's great Care in his Exile to keep up the Succeſſion of Engliſh Biſhops.

It may be proper to obſerve, that his Majeſty's great Care in his Exile for continuing the Succeſſion of our Engliſh Biſhops, when they were reduc'd to a declining Number, is thus ſet forth by a Prelate concern'd in it, Dr. Henry King Biſhop of Chicheſter.

As related by a Party concern'd in it, Biſhop King of Chicheſter.

Biſhop King's Funeral Sermon for Biſhop Duppa, 4to. p. 42.

His ſacred Majeſty deſirous to preſerve the Succeſſion of his Engliſh Church, and ſenſible of his Biſhops Decay, moſt whereof were dead, and thoſe few who remain'd not likely to laſt long, was pleas'd to commit this Truſt principally to his [Biſhop Duppa's] Solicitation. In diſcharge whereof, how induſtrious he was, ſome who yet live know, and none better than myſelf, who was his only Aſſociate in ſeveral Travels undertaken to bring it to effect.

See the Letters on this Subject that paſs'd between Mr. Chancellour Hyde and Dr. Barwick, under Sunday Jan. 8, 1659-60, &c.

'Tis true, divers Ways were propounded, yet all found dangerous, under the Inquiſition we then liv'd, both to the Undertakers and the Actors. His Majeſty therefore at laſt thought of a ſafer and more certain Expedient, to call over to him two of the remaining Biſhops, who joined to a worthy Prelate reſiding with him in his Exile [Biſhop Bramball] might canonically conſecrate ſome of thoſe eminently deſerving Divines who then attended him: Thus preſerving the Order in a few, until God gave Opportunity to fill up the other Vacancies.

This Deſire was by a truſty Meſſenger ſent over by his Majeſty, communicated only to five, whereof (I ſhall not magnify my Office to ſay) myſelf was one, who in the Integrity of my Conſcience can profeſs, that in the willing Acceptance of this Summons I never declin'd any Hazard, when I might do the King, my Maſter, or the Church Service. But great Age and great Infirmity denying the Concurrence of any one of the reſt (though otherwiſe moſt ready) that Deſign fell: And God hath in the miraculous Reſtoration of his ſacred Majeſty, reſtor'd the Church to that Luſtre wherein (bleſſed be his Name) you now ſee it. —— Let all take Notice how careful his Majeſty was to preſerve and ſupport the Church, at that Time when in his exil'd Condition he could not well ſupport himſelf.

Wednesday Mar. 26. Death of Dr. Duppa Biſhop of Wincheſter.

Account of his Birth, Education, and Preferments.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 176.

Death of Dr. Brian Duppa, Biſhop of Wincheſter, Son of Jeffry Duppa or D'Uphaugh, Vicar of Lewiſham in Kent, born there March 10, 1588. educated in Grammar Learning in the Condition of a King's Scholar in the College School at Weſtminſter, while Dr. Lancelot Andrews was Dean of that Church, of whom he learned Hebrew. From thence he was elected Student of Chriſt-Church in May 1605. and thence to be Fellow of All-Souls College in 1612. being then Batchelor of Arts: Afterwards proceeding in that Faculty, he took holy Orders, travelled beyond the Seas, and in 1619. he was unanimouſly elected one of the Proctors of the Univerſity: In 1625. he took the Degrees in Divinity, being then Chaplain to the Prince Palatine, and in the Year after he was made Dean of Chriſt-Church: In 1632 and 1633. he did execute the Office of Vice-chancellor of the Univerſity with great Moderation and Prudence: In June 1634. he was made Chancellor of the Church of Saliſbury in the Place of Dr. Francis Dee, promoted to the See of Peterborough. Soon after he was made Tutor to Prince Charles, which prov'd his future Happineſs, being then accounted by all a moſt excellent Man. On the 19th of May 1638. he was preſented to the rich Rectory of Petworth in Suſſex, and being elected to the See of Chicheſter upon the Tranſlation of Dr. Richard Mountague to Norwich, had Reſtitution made of the Temporalties on the 12th of June the ſame Year. In 1641. he was tranſlated to Saliſbury, &c. After his Majeſty was beheaded, this our worthy Author and Biſhop retired to Richmond in Surrey, where ſpending moſt of his Time in great Devotion and Solitude, till the Reſtauration, was tranſlated to Wincheſter, Sept. 24, 1660. to the great Joy and Comfort of many Lords and Gentlemen, as well as Clergy, who all had a deep Senſe and Memory of his Prudence and Piety, &c. When he lay on his Death-Bed at Richmond, the King paid him a Viſit, and craved his Bleſſing on his bended Knees by his Bed-ſide. He died March 26, 1662. honoured and belov'd by all that knew him: His Body being convey'd to York-Houſe in the Strand, having laid in State for ſome Time, was decently conveyed thence on the 24th of April following to the Abbey-Church of Weſtminſter, where it was buried in the Area on the north Side of the Chapel of St. Edward the Confeſſor. At which Time Dr. Henry King, Biſhop of Chicheſter, a moſt admirable and florid Preacher in his younger Days, preached a Sermon to the great Content of the Auditory, containing many Elogiums of the Defunct, which I ſhall paſs by. Soon after was a fair Monument moſtly of white Marble, faſtned to the Wall over his Grave, with an Inſcription thereon.

Life of Dr. Joh. Barwick, Engl. p. 365. Note of the accurate Editor.

The Editor of the Engliſh Life of Dr. John Barwick ſaith, that he ſeems to have held the Rectory of Petworth ſome Time in Commendam with the See of Chicheſter.

When Biſhop of Wincheſter he was made Lord Almoner.

The King's Viſit to him on his Death bed.

See his Monument engraven with the Latin Inſcription on it, in Mr. Dart's Hiſtory of the Church of Weſtminſter, Fol. Vol. II. p. 10. where he is juſtly ſaid to have had the Character of a Perſon of excellent Qualifications, ſingular and exemplary Piety, of a reſign'd Humility, and extenſive Charity, to which if we add a graceful and comely Perſonage, he was every way qualified for the Tuition of the Prince, and for the Conſervation of the diſtreſſed King, who when Priſoner in Cariſbrook Caſtle was uſed to ſay, his Confinement was much reliev'd by that Divine's Converſation, &c.

His holy Rules and Helps to Devotion, both in Prayer and Practice in two Parts, was firſt publiſhed by Benjamin Parry of Corpus Chriſti College, Oxon. with the Author's Picture before it in 1674, 12°. and has been reprinted often.

See the Soul's Soliloquie and Conference with Conſcience: As it was delivered in a Sermon before the King at Newport in the Iſle of Wight, on the 25th of October, being the monthly Faſt during the late Treaty. By the right reverend Father in God Brian Duppa, Lord Biſhop of Saliſbury. London, for R. Royſton, 1648, 4to.

His laſt Will and Legacies.

MS. Copy atteſted.

Part of the laſt Will and Teſtament of Dr. Brian Duppa, Biſhop of Wincheſter, dated Feb. 4, 1661. 14 Car. II. Probat. 16. Maii 1662.

His bountiful Legacies and great Charities.

See Mr. Dart's Hiſtory of the Church of Weſtminſter, Fol. Vol. II. p. 10.

—— My Body to be buried in Weſtminſter-Abbey, and whereas I have built one Alms-houſe at Richmond in Surrey, and purchaſed Land in Sheperton in Middleſex of Dr. Bates for 1540*l.* which I have lately ſettled for the Maintenance of the poor People placed in that Alms-houſe; but the Ground whereon that Alms-houſe is built not being yet ſettled, by reaſon of the Death of the Perſon intruſted, my Executors are hereby directed to purchaſe that Ground, and cauſe it to be ſettled for ever according to my Intent. —— My Lands in Pembridge Com. Hertford which coſt 250*l.* lately ſettled upon an Alms-houſe there begun by my Father. —— 500*l.* which I have directed to be paid to the Biſhop of Sarum, to be beſtow'd upon an Organ in that Church, or ſuch other Uſe as the Biſhop ſhall think fitteſt; if any Part be left unpaid at my Death, the ſaid Sum to be made up by my Executors. —— 500*l.* to the Dean and Chapter of Chriſt-Church in Oxon. which I did give unto them towards the new Buildings. —— I do give to be beſtow'd on the Cathedral Church of Chicheſter, as the Biſhop and Dean and Chapter ſhall think fit, 200*l.* — and to the Cathedral Church at Wincheſter 200*l.* —— to the Poor of Lewiſham in Kent, where I was born, 40*l.* —— to the Poor of Greenwich in Kent 40*l.* — to the Poor of Weſtrham in Suſſex 20*l.* and 20*l.* more to provide Communion Plate for that Pariſh if they want it, otherwiſe that 20*l.* alſo to the Poor —— to the Poor of Witham in Suſſex 20*l.* —— to my Wife all my Plate, Houſhold Stuff and Goods. —— And to my ſaid Wife 4000*l.* owing me by the Earl of Northampton, and 1000*l.* owing me by Richard Browne, Eſq; —— to my Nephew William Salterne 200*l.* per Annum out of the Manor of Potterne in Wiltſhire —— to Dr. Chaworth 100*l.* per Annum out of the ſaid Manor during his Life. —— 10*l.* per Annum for ten Years to William Watts, to encourage him to continue in his Studies. —— to ten Widows of Clergymen 50*l.* each, 500*l.* —— to ten loyal Officers that are not yet any way provided for 50*l.* each, 500*l.* —— to All Souls College in Oxon. 200*l.* —— My Wife, Sir John Adler of St. Martin's in the Fields, Knight, and my Couſin Dr. Chaworth Executors, 100*l.* each. —— Sir Juſtinian Iſham, Dr. George, and Francis Philips, Eſq; Overſeers. To the two firſt 100*l.* each, to the laſt F. P. 200*l.*

By a Codicil he gave 300 l. to the Repair of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, and in ſeveral Sums to private Friends and Servants above 3000 l. ——

Probat. 16. Maii, 1662.

On his Monument in Weſtminſter Abbey.

His Epitaph.

M. S.
Mortalitatis exuvias hic depoſuit Vir
Immortali Memoriæ Sacratus
BRIANUS DUPPA,
Qui Grenovici natus An. Dom. 1588.
Exeunte, nempe die Martii 10. Scholæ
Regiæ Weſtmon. primùm (ubi a Lanceloto Andrews tunc Decano Hebraica didicit)
Mox Ædis Chriſti apud Oxonienſes Alumnus
Magiſter Artium in Collegium Omn. Animarum
Cooptatus. Deinde Sanctæ Theologiæ Doctor
Et Capellanus Palatinus factus
Ædi Chriſti poſtliminio redditus eſt,
Cui præfuit Decanus per decennium.
At Virum tantum ſublimiores expectabant curæ
Majora deſiderabant munia.
Admotus Auguſtiſſimæ Spei Principi Tutor
Exinde Triplici Inſula ornatus
Totidem ipſe ornavit Eccleſias
Ciceſtrienſem, Sariſburienſem, & demum,
Reduce Carolo, Wintonienſem,
Quo nomine & auratæ Periſcelidis Antiſtes audiit
74. ætatis annum ingreſſus An. Dom. 1662.
Jam ineunte nimirum Martis die 26.
Richmondiæ, ubi erudiendo Principi operam
Antea navaverat, ubi calamitoſis temporibus
Bene latuerat, ubi & Hoſpitium inſigne
Ex voto extruxerat, inter ipſos pene
Pupilli Regii amplexus
Piam amimam efflavit.

Yet Biſhop Burnet is pleaſed to detract from his Character, in ſaying, He had been the King's Tutour, though no Way fit for that Poſt, but he was a meek and humble Man, and much loved for the Sweetneſs of his Temper; and would have been more eſteemed, if he had died before the Reſtauration, for he made not the uſe of the great Wealth that flowed in upon him that was expected. Hiſtory of his own Times, p. 177.

Eachard's Ch. II. p. 93.

Dr. Brian Duppa, Biſhop of Wincheſter and Lord Almoner to the King, a Perſon who had formerly gone through many Preferments as well as Troubles, and particularly had the Honour to be for ſeveral Years Tutour to his Majeſty when Prince of Wales; in all which he behav'd himſelf with ſingular Moderation, and an unblemiſh'd Reputation: He was a Man of excellent Parts, exemplary Piety, and every Way qualified for his Function; more particularly as to the Comelineſs of his Perſon, and the Gracefulneſs of his Deportment, which render'd him worthy of the Service of a Court, and moſt fit to ſtand before Princes, &c.

See April 24, 1662.

THURSDAY Mar. 27.
The Quakers preſent a Paper to the King of the Sufferings of Friends.

Journal of George Fox, Part I. p. 582.

There being very many Friends in Priſon in the Nation, Richard Hubberthorn and I George Fox drew up a Paper concerning them; and got it delivered to the King, that he might underſtand how we were dealt with by his Officers. It was directed thus:

For the KING.

Great Numbers of them in Priſon,

Friend who art the chief Ruler of theſe Dominions, here is a Liſt of ſome of the Sufferings of the People of God, in Scorn called Quakers, that have ſuffered under the changeable Powers before thee, by whom there have been impriſoned, and under whom there have ſuffered for good Conſcience Sake, and for bearing Teſtimony to the Truth as it is in Jeſus, three thouſand one hundred ſeventy three Perſons: And there lye yet in Priſon in the Name of the Commonwealth ſeventy three Perſons that we know of. And there have died in Priſon in the Time of the Commonwealth, and of Oliver and Richard the Protectors, through cruel and hard Impriſonments upon naſty Straw and in Dungeons thirty two Perſons. There have been alſo impriſoned in thy Name, ſince thy Arrival, by ſuch as thought to ingratiate themſelves thereby to thee, three thouſand ſixty and eight Perſons: Beſides this our Meetings are daily broken up by Men with Clubs and Arms (though we meet peaceably, according to the Practice of God's People in the primitive Times) and our Friends are thrown into Waters, and trod upon, 'till the very Blood guſheth out of them: The Number of which Abuſes can hardly be uttered. Now this we would have of thee, to ſet them at Liberty, that lye in Priſon in the Names of the Commonwealth, and of the two Protectors, and them that lye in thy own Name, for ſpeaking the Truth, and for a good Conſcience, &c.

Whom they would have the King to ſet at Liberty.

Mr. Simon Gale Vicar of Horndon in Eſſex.

Reg. Hench. Lond.

Die 27. Martii, 1662. Simon Gale, A. M. Clericus, admiſſ. ad Vic. de Horndon ſuper Montem Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. Johannis Davis ult. Vicarii, ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli Lond.

FRIDAY Mar. 28.
The Queen Mother is coming from Paris to England.

Adviſed from Paris, that the Queen Mother of England will go for England about the latter End of May, and that Madam will accompany her to the Sea-Side.

SATURDAY Mar. 29.
Mr. Abrah. Cole Prebendary of Ailesbury in the Cathedral of Lincoln.
The desolate State of the Church of Lichfield repaired by Biſhop Hacket.

Dr. Plume's Life of Biſhop Hacket, Fol. 31.

Abraham Cole Clericus inſtallatus in Prebenda de Aileſbury in Eccl. Cath. Linc. vac. per Promotionem Johannis Hacket, S. T. P. ad Epiſcopatum Cov. Lichf.

At Lichfield before the Wars, had been a moſt beautiful and comely Cathedral Church, which the Biſhop [Dr. John Hacket] at his firſt coming found moſt deſolate, and ruin'd almoſt to the Ground, the Roof of Stone, the Timber, Lead, and Iron, Glaſs, Stalls, Organs, Utenſils of rich Value, all were embezzell'd: Two thouſand Shot of great Ordnance, and fifteen hundred Granadoes diſcharg'd againſt it, which had quite batter'd down the Spire, and moſt of the Fabrick, ſo that the old Man took not ſo much Comfort in his new Promotion, as he found Sorrow and Pity in himſelf to ſee his Cathedral Church thus lying in the Duſt. So that the next Morning after his Lordſhip's Arrival, he ſet his own Coach-Horſes on Work, together with other Teams, to carry away the Rubbiſh; which being cleared, he procured Artiſans of all Sorts to begin the New Pile; and before his Death ſet up a compleat Church again better than ever it was before: The whole Roof from one End to the other, of a vaſt length, all repaired with Stone, all laid with goodly Timber of our Royal Sovereign's Gift, all leaded from one End to the other, to the Coſt of above twenty thouſand Pounds, which yet this zealous and laborious Biſhop accompliſhed a great Part out of his own Bounty, with one thouſand Pounds Help of the Dean and Chapter, and the reſt procured by him from worthy Benefactors, by inceſſant Importunity: The Gentry of Staffordſhire, Warwickſhire, Derbyſhire contributing like Gentlemen, whoſe Names are entred into the Regiſtry of the Cathedral.

Mr. Will. Grove Prebendary of North Grantham in the Church of Sarum.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*258.

William Grove, A. M. became Prebendary of North Grantham in the Church of Sarum May 29, 1662. on the Death of John Still, and himſelf before March 27, 1666. and was then ſucceeded by Richard Hyde. He had been domeſtick Chaplain to Biſhop Davenant, and was ſo at the Time of that Prelate's Death. He was turned out of the Rectory of Polſhot in Wilts about the Year 1644. and lived to re-poſſeſs it after the King's Return.

MONDAY Mar. 31.
Biſhop Gauden of Exeter deſired a Tranſlation to Wincheſter,

Author's Append. to the Life of Dr. John Barwick, 8vo. p. 366.

After the Death of Biſhop Duppa, Dr. Gauden Biſhop of Exon very greedily hunted after that rich Biſhoprick of Wincheſter, aſſiſted by the Favour of ſome Perſons at Court, who managed the Affairs of the King and the Church with too much Negligence, or too little Fidelity. Dr. Gauden to prove himſelf worthy of ſo great a Biſhoprick contriv'd this wonderful Artifice; he ſecretly whiſper'd it into the Ears of ſome, and is ſaid to have attempted without Witneſs or Credit to perſuade the Royal Brothers, King Charles and the Duke of York, that himſelf was the Author of that moſt celebrated Book, entitled, Εἰκὼν Βασιλική. Or the Pourtraicture of his Sacred Majeſty in his Solitudes and Sufferings; and that he had put it out in the Royal Martyr's Name. Yet he did not invent this Fiction 'till about fifteen Years after the Death of King Charles I. who wrote that golden Work, and 'till after that of all others, as he thought, eſpecially in a Matter of ſo much Secrecy, could give any Evidence of the Writing of it, particularly Biſhop Duppa, who was thought by many to have been privy thereto: Yet ſure there is no Man, but ſuch as deſire and reſolve to be deceived, that will give any Credit to Gauden, whatever he affirms or denies, who owns himſelf guilty of ſo daring an Impoſture. He could not obtain the Biſhoprick of Wincheſter, yet I know not by what ill Deſtiny he gain'd that of Worceſter, which yet he did not long enjoy, &c.

On Pretence of being Author of the late King's Book.

As before obſerved.

Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich in March 1661-2.

They reach near Liſbon.

Saturday March 1. We ſet ſail and turned up and came to an Anchor right againſt the Belline Monaſtery. This Day Mr. Mountague and Colonel Talbot came on Board with my Commiſſion and Inſtructions.

The Earl of Sandwich viſited by the Grandees of Portugal.

Sunday March 2. The Count de Rodonda and Don Juan de Sorſa, and the Maſter of the Ceremonies, the firſt from the Queen of England, the ſecond from the Queen Regent, the laſt from the King, all in the Forenoon came to viſit me; in the Afternoon came de Conde de Ponte.

A Pacquet ſent to the King.

Thurſday March 6. Three Veſſels ſailed from hence bound for England, Captain Iſham went in one of them with a Pacquet to the King.

The Treaty is brought ratified.

Saturday March 8. The Pearl with his Convoy for England ſet ſail out of the Bay of Wyers. In the Evening the Conde de Ponte, and Biſhop Ruſſel came on Board me with the Treaty ratified.

The Fleet rides about the Palace.

Sunday March 9. I came with my whole Fleet and rode about the Palace, which I ſaluted with forty one Guns, and my Flag ſtruck.

Biſhop of Cabo-Verde.

Monday March 10. The Biſhop of Cabo-Verde came on Board me. I ſent to ſpeak with the Conde de Ponte, but he came not.

The Queen to prepare for her ſpeedy Voyage.

Tueſday March 11. I deſired the Favour of Mr. Mountague to preſent the Queen a Paper of Reaſons for her ſpeedy Voyage; the which he did.

The Earl's Entry into Liſbon;

Thurſday March 13. I went off from my Ship and landed at Belline with all the Retinue, and was received there by the Conde de Rodonde with ſome thirty Coaches, and ſo entred Liſbon, and arrived at the Houſe of the Conde de Caſtello Rodrigoe's, where the Conde de Ponte met me. This Day the Leopard, Captain Mimms Commander, came from England, and brought me Letters of the ſixth of February from his Royal Highneſs. This Ship was bound for Goa with a Vice-King.

Waited on the Queen and deliver'd the King's Letter.

Friday March 14. I preſented myſelf to the Queen of England, and the King my Maſter's Letter.

Audience of the King and Queen of Portug. and Queen of England.

Sunday March 16. I had Audience of the King and Queen of Portugal, and after of the Queen of England.

A Schedule of the Queen's Portion.

Tueſday March 18. I called the Commanders together to adviſe about the Affairs of the Fleet. The Conde de Ponte came to me, and Duarte de Silva, and Mr. Mules, and brought me a Schedule of the Portion of the Queen.

Complaint of Bills of Exchange inſtead of Money, Jewels, and Rings.

Wedneſday March 19. In the Morning we began to put Sugars on Board, and about Noon I went to viſit the Marquis of Menialva, and complained to him concerning Bills of Exchange accounted in the Schedule as Part of the Queen's Portion: The which I had alſo inſiſted upon with the Conde de Ponte, as being clearly beſides the Treaty, which expreſſes it to be in Money, Jewels, Sugars, or other Merchandizes.

The gracious Expreſſions of Queen to the Earl of Sandwich.

This Afternoon I went to wait upon the Queen of England, to ſee whether ſhe had any Commands for me, and to preſent the Compliments of the Lord Chancellour, my Lord Treaſurer, unto her Majeſty, which her Majeſty received with very gracious Expreſſions for them; and afterward ſhe told me, that ſhe did very earneſtly recommend unto my Care the Schedule of the Portion delivered me the Day before by the Conde de Ponte, that her Majeſty had overcome almoſt Impoſſibilities to haſten her Voyage; and that I muſt put myſelf to the maſtering of ſome Difficulties alſo; and that I ſhould conſider the Poverty of the Portugal Nation, cauſed by the Oppreſſion of their Enemies.

Poverty of the Portugal Nation.

Her Majeſty alſo told me, that it was poſſible that the Enemies of Portugal would ſend a Fleet to invade the River Tagus, as ſoon as this Fleet ſhould be ſailed for England; and therefore wiſhed me to ſend for Sir John Lawſon to come to Liſbon to aſſiſt them; and aſſured me that both the King and the Duke of York would take it well at my Hands.

The Earl's Anſwer to the Queen.

To all which I returned her Majeſty Anſwer, that no Perſon ſhould be more careful to maſter all kind of Difficulties in this Service than myſelf, and that I would conſider what Squadron of the Fleet could be here ſooneſt, and accordingly wait upon her Majeſty, and give her Majeſty further Satisfaction.

The Earl again waits upon the Queen, and gives her a Paper, &c.

Thurſday March 20. In the Morning I went to wait upon the Queen of England again, and concerning the Schedule of the Portion, I gave her Majeſty a Paper (to avoid Uncertainties of Interpretation.) And for the Ships, I told her Majeſty, according to her Commands I had ſent for Sir John Lawſon to come hither. I alſo deſired her Majeſty to give Command that they might work at two Places for the Delivering of the Sugar, which at the Rate it was now a doing would coſt twelve or fourteen Days to diſpatch.

At Night I had two Letters from the Secretary of State, ſhewing the Neceſſity of accepting Bills; and alſo an Anſwer of my Demand of two hundred thouſand Crowns for the King's Occaſions, that I might have one hundred thouſand when I would, but no more except fifty thouſand in Bars of Gold and Silver.

Portugal not able to pay in Money or Goods, but partly in Bills of Exchange.

Friday March 21. In the Afternoon I went to return the Conde de Ponte his Viſit, and then diſcourſed with him, urging the Treaty and the Intereſt of the Queen and Portugal to be preciſe in Performance of the firſt Million, and to put Merchandizes a Board, and not Bills of Exchange. He told me, it was both unreaſonable and alſo impoſſible for all Portugal to do it.

Saturday March 22. In the Morning I went to wait on the Queen Regent, to receive her Commands, to preſs Expedition of the Queen's Voyage, and to let her know that I had ſent for Sir John Lawſon: And alſo to ſhew, that if this Fleet were diſpatched away, it might be here again ſooner for their Aſſiſtance, than Sir John could be.

The Jewels deliver'd as Part of the Portion.

After I came home from the Queen, the Conde de Ponte and Seignior Duarte de Sylva came to my Houſe with Jewels for Part of the Portion; which were view'd and eſtimated by Sir H. Wood, Sir Jo. Minnes, Captain Minos, the Conſul, and a French Jeweller, and then put into the King's iron Trunk, which Duarte de Silva carried home with him, and Sir Joh. Mennes kept the Key, who is alſo appointed to tranſport Duarte de Silva and the Jewels.

More Jewels, &c.

Tueſday March 25, 1662. In the Morning came the Conde de Ponte and Duarte de Silva with more Jewels which were valued and placed as aforeſaid. I diſcourſed the Schedule of the Portion with the Conde de Ponte, and deſired to know of him how I ſhould be ſatisfied if any conſiderable Failing were in the Price of any of the Merchandizes according to my Eſtimation, and alſo to know the Nature and Particulars of the Bills of Exchange they offered.

Mr. Talbot waited on the two Queens, and ſatisfied them in the Conduct of the Earl of Sandwich.

Wedneſday 26. Mr. Talbot went to wait upon both the Queens. The Queen Mother had much Diſcourſe with him, as if I had put Impediments to the Queen's Voyage, my Carriage not having been well repreſented unto her. Mr. Talbot informed her Majeſty of the Truth of what hath paſſed, wherewith ſhe ſeemed well ſatisfied, and the Queen of England alſo was well contented.

This Evening I had a Liſt from the Secretary of the Perſons that are to attend the Queen.

A Relick expoſed, with a Sermon by a Frier.

Thurſday 27. I finiſhed my Pacquet by Mr. Talbot for England, and the Pearl weighed and fell down below Belline, and there came to an Anchor. In the Afternoon upon the Water I ſaw the Sheet our Saviour was wrapp'd in from the Croſs expoſed at Madre de Dios, and a Frier preached.

Proceſſion of Burying our Saviour.

Good-Friday 28. The Pearl went out of the River. I went in the Afternoon into the Ruo Nuevo, where I ſaw the Proceſſion of Burying our Saviour. The Day before alſo I was at St. Bento, and a Pariſh Church to ſee the Sepulchres.

Earl waits on two Queens, &c.

Saturday 29. The Aſſurance ſet ſail for Tangier, with the Swallow Ketch and Sadlington's Boats, to make Reſtitution at Cales.

In the Afternoon I waited upon both Queens, and gave them Buenos Feſtos. To the Queen of England I delivered in a Paper, the State of my Buſineſs, referring myſelf wholly to her Majeſty's Pleaſure.

Books and Papers publiſhed in and about March 1661-2.

Drummer of Tedworth.

The Drummer of Tedworth; containing the whole Story of that Dæmon in the Houſe of John Mompeſſon, Eſq; of Tedworth near Ludgerſhale in Wiltſhire, in March 1661-2. With a particular Account of ſeveral Perſons who went to ſee and hear it: And of two Perſons of Quality ſent on Purpoſe by King Charles II.

Reprinted at London, for J. Roberts, 1716, 8^vo^.

Dr. Edw. Pocock's Verſion and Notes on Tograi.

Verſio ac Notæ ad Tograi Carmen Arabicum; ab Edw. Pocockio, S. T. P. Linguæ Arabiæ Profeſſore.

Oxon. 1661. 8vo.

Lord Bacon's Charge at the Seſſions for the Verge

The Charge given by the Lord Bacon at the Seſſions holden for the Verge in the Reign of King James, declaring the Latitude and Juriſdiction thereof.

Account of the Verge.

By the Verge is meant a Plat of twelve Miles round, laid to the King's ſpecial Manſion-Houſe, ſubject to ſpecial exempted Juriſdiction, depending upon his Perſon and great Officers. This his Lordſhip called an Half-Pace, or Carpet ſpread abroad about the King's Chair of Eſtate; and he judged that it ought to be cleared and void, more than other Places of the Kingdom, that Offences might not ſeem to be ſhrouded under the King's Wings.

Publiſhed at Lond. 1662. 4to. and reprinted in the 2d Part of Reſuſcitatio, &c. Baconiana, 1679. 8vo. Introduct. by Dr. Tho. Teniſon.

Sir Tho. Ridley's View of the Civil and Eccleſiaſtical Laws, publiſhed by Mr. Jo. Gregory.

A View of the Civil and Eccleſiaſtical Law, and wherein the Practice of them is ſtraightned, and may be relieved within this Land. Written by Sir Thomas Ridley, Knight, and Doctor of the Civil Law. The third Edition. By J. G. Maſter of Arts.

Oxford 1662 4to.

Account of Chelſea College, by Mr. John Darley.

The Glory of Chelſea College revived. Wherein is declared, 1. Its Original, Progreſs, and Deſign for preſerving and eſtabliſhing the Church of Chriſt in Purity, and for maintaining and defending the Proteſtant Religion againſt Jeſuits, Papiſts, &c. 2. How this Deſign was by the renowned King James and the three Eſtates of his firſt Parliament highly applauded. 3. By what Means this excellent Work hath been obſtructed. By John Darley, B. D. and of Northill in the County of Cornwall Rector. —— With an Epiſt. Ded. to the King.

Lond. 1662. 4to.

Moſt Dread Sovereign!

The firſt Deſign of it by King James.

Approved by Charles I.

Prince Henry had ſet his Heart upon it.

—— The Deſign of Chelſea College was firſt of all by your Royal Grandfather King James graciouſly and greatly applauded, —— no leſs approved of by your Royal Father, who with great Zeal commanded his late Archbiſhop Laud to promote to the utmoſt this admired Deſign, and ſpeedily to put it into all good Poſture and Accommodation. —— And the Caſe and Dignity of Chelſea College had a known and very large Intereſt in the pious Affections of your famous and glorious Uncle Prince Henry, which he ſet his Heart upon, to get immortal Honour by his moſt endeared Favour and princely Reſpects thereunto, ſtudying with all his Power and Prudence to advance this College to be the Pillar, yea, the ſtanding and living Monument of his flouriſhing Fame and deſerved Glory. —— Let your Majeſty be pleaſed to eſpouſe this College, and to meditate the perfecting of it, &c.

Epiſtle to the Reader.

A Vindication of Dr. Featley the late Provoſt.

The great Advantage of perfecting this good Work.

—— That which did ſet a little ſharper Edge on my Willingneſs herein was, that I might take an Occaſion to clear the Innocency of Dr. Featley, (the late Provoſt of Chelſea College, and one that is honoured in his Duſt for his known Virtues, eminent Piety, abundant Learning and Labours) ſomewhat blotted by Dr. Fuller's Pen. But that which principally moved me was, a clear Perſuaſion of Heart, how much the perfecting and compleating of this College would contribute Glory to God, Honour to the true Religion, Encouragement to Learning and learned Men in every Age; what invincible Help and Aſſiſtance it might afford our Gracious King and his Royal Succeſſors againſt the many ſubtil and unwearied Adverſaries of Chriſt's Kingdom, Goſpel, Faith, Doctrine, and holy Diſcipline. Laſtly, what Knowledge and Satisfaction the People might receive from the Studies, Diſputations, and Writings of ſuch eminently qualified Perſons as ought to have been choſen into the orthodox Society and learned Fellowſhip of this College, &c.

Silas Taylor's Hiſtory of Gavelkind.

With an anonymous Hiſtory of William the Conquerour.

The Hiſtory of Gavelkind. With the Etymology thereof. Containing alſo an Aſſertion, that our Engliſh Laws are for the moſt Part thoſe that were uſed by ancient Britains, notwithſtanding the ſeveral Conqueſts of the Romans, Saxons, Danes, and Normans. With ſome Obſervations and Remarks upon many eſpecial Occurrences of Britiſh and Engliſh Hiſtory. By Silas Taylor, Gent. To which is added, A ſhort Hiſtory of William the Conquerour, written in Latin by an anonymous Author in the Time of Henry I.

London, for John Starkey, 1663. 4to.

Epiſt.

Dedicated to Sir Edward Harley.

Epiſt. Ded. To his much honoured Patron, Sir Edward Harley, Knight of the honourable Order of the Bath.

—— The firſt Eſſay at this Taſk was made in Scotland, —— you engag'd me afterwards at Dunkirk, whilſt you were Governor there —— and my Expectations were there fruſtrated, &c.

The Preface. —— The exquiſite Diſcourſes of that excellent Perſon Dr. T. B. afforded freely to me, then reſiding at Hereford, by his Epiſtolical Correſpondences, gave the firſt Ground and Foundation of ſome Enquiries into the Etymology of this moſt ancient Tenure, &c.

Latche's Reports.

Reports of divers Cauſes adjudged in the three firſt Years of King Charles the Firſt, in the Court of the King's-Bench. By John Latch of the Middle-Temple, [who died at Hayes in Middleſex in the Month of Auguſt 1655. and was buried in the Church there. Some Years before his Death he had embraced the Roman Catholick Religion, &c.]

London, 662, Fol.
Athen.Oxon. *Vol.*I. col. 119.

Bridges of ſhort and ſecret Writing.

Stenography and Cryptography. The Arts of ſhort and ſecret Writing. The ſecond Edition enlarged, with a familiar Method teaching how to cypher and decypher all private Tranſactions: Wherein are inſerted the Keys by which the Lines of Text-Writing affixed to thoſe Cyphers are folded and unfolded. Invented and publiſhed by Mr. Noah Bridges.

London, ſold by Andrew Crook, 1662.

Mr. Hunt's School-Boys Directory.

Libellus Orthographicus: Or the diligent School-Boy's Directory. By Thomas Hunt, Maſter of Arts of Pembroke College in Oxford, and School-Maſter at St. Dunſtan's Church in the Eaſt, London.

London, ſold by John Hancock, 1662.

Logick of Dr. Tho. Tully.

Logica Apodeictica. Sive tractatus brevis & dilucidus de Demonſtratione. Cum Diſſertatiuncula Gaſſendi eodem pertinente. [This Tract was written by Thomas Tully, D. D. Principal of St. Edmund Hall, Oxon. and is commonly bound up at the End of Manuductio ad Logicam, written by Philip de Trieu, ſometimes chief Profeſſor of Philoſophy in the Jeſuits College at Doway.

Oxon. 1662 8vo.
Athen.Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*406.

The Excellency of Epiſcopal Government: In a Sermon by Mr. Will. Sherley.

The Excellency of the Order of the Church of England under Epiſcopal Government: Set forth in a Sermon preached at the Viſitation at Blandford in 1640. By William Sherley, B. D. on 1 Cor. xi. 34. [This learned Divine, who was a Dorſetſhire Man born, became Rector of Huiſh-Comb-Flower in the Dioceſe of Wells, upon the Promotion of Dr. John Atherton to the See of Waterford in Ireland in Feb. 1636. and about the ſame Time beneficed in his own Countrey. This Sermon was publiſhed by Rich. Harris of the Inner-Temple after the Author's Death.]

London, 1662, 4to.
Faſti Oxon. *Vol.*I. col. 870.

Biſhop Ferne's Conſiderations of preſent Concernment.

Certain Conſiderations of preſent Concernment, touching the reformed Church of England. With a Diſcourſe upon the Caſe touching the Diviſion between the Engliſh and Roman Churches upon the Reformation. By H. Ferne, D. D. late Biſhop of Cheſter.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662.

Another Treatiſe of Biſhop Ferne againſt Popery.

A brief Survey of Antiquity for the Tryal of the Romiſh Doctrines, eſpecially in theſe Points. I. Of the Worſhip of Saints and Angels. II. Of the Invocation of Saints and Angels. III. Of the Worſhip of Images. IV. Of Juſtification by Works. V. Of Purgatory. VI. Of real Preſence. VII. Of Communion under one kind. By H. Ferne, D. D. late Biſhop of Cheſter.

Ibid.

Gadbury of Prodigies.

Natura Prodigiorum. A Diſcourſe touching the Nature of Prodigies. By John Gadbury.

London, for Tho. Baſſet, 1662.

Vindication of the Degree of Gentry.

All Brothers to be in Honour equal.

And Daughters to have no Portions.

A Vindication of the Degree of Gentry in Oppoſition to titular Honours, and the Humour of Riches being the Meaſure of Honours. Done by a Perſon of Quality. —— With a Preface, declaring that the Occaſion of this Pamphlet was the Author's Deſire to ſhew to that fanatick Party (who will not pay a civil Reſpect to any) how juſtifiable in Reaſon and Religion the ſeveral Diſtinctions amongſt Men are, and to honour the Degree of Gentry, there being nothing more of Nonſenſe, than for elder Brothers hereditarily to wear naked Titles of Honour, which younger Brothers have not; whereas all Brothers ought to be in Honour equal, —— and Daughters ſhould have no Portions, but their Deſcent, Beauty and perſonal Worth, &c.

London, to be ſold at Oxford and Cambridge, 1662, 12o.

Hiſtory of Algier.

The Hiſtory of Algier and the Slavery there. By John Davies of Kidwelly.

London, 1662, 8vo.

Voyages of the Ambaſſadors of the Duke of Holſtein.

The Voyages and Travels of the Ambaſſadors from the Duke of Holſtein to the great Duke of Muſcovy and King of Perſia: Began in the Year 1633. and finiſh'd in 1639. Tranſlated by John Davies of Kidwelly. Written originally by Adam Olearius, Secretary to the Embaſſy.

London, 1662, Fol. Reprinted 1669, Fol.

Travels of Jo. Albert de Mandeſlo.

The Travels of Joh. Albert de Mandeſlo from Perſia into the Eaſt-Indies, and from thence into England. Began in the Year 1633. and finiſh'd 1650. Written by Adam Olearius, and tranſlated by John Davies of Kidwelly.

London, 1662, Fol. Reprinted 1669.

The Laws of Virginia by Fran. Moriſon.

The Laws of Virginia now in Force, collected out of the Aſſembly Records, and digeſted into one Volume. Reviſed and confirmed by the grand Aſſembly March 23, 1661-2. Publiſhed by Fran. Moriſon, and by him dedicated to Sir William Berkley, Governor of that Countrey.

Lond 1662, Fol.
Athen.Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*434.

Funeral Sermon for Lady Mary Langham, by Dr. Reynolds, now Biſhop of Norwich.

The Church's Triumph over Death. Open'd in a Sermon preach'd Sept. 11, 1660. at the Funeral of the moſt religious and virtuous Lady, the Lady Mary Langham. By Edward Reynolds, D. D. now Biſhop of Norwich.

London, for John Baker, 1662, 4to.

To his ever honoured and moſt worthy Friend Sir James Langham, Knight.

SIR,

It hath not been without a ſpecial Providence of God, that this Sermon preached above a Year and an half ſince, at the Funeral of your moſt religious Lady, ſhould now by your earneſt Deſire come abroad unto publick View, &c.

1662.

WEDNESDAY Apr. 2. Mr. Thomas Freeman Vicar of Cold Aſhby.

Reg. Laney. Petriburg.

1662. 2. Apr. Thomas Freeman Cler. in Art. Magiſter admiſſ. ad Vic. de Cold-Aſhby in Com. Northampt. vac. per mort. Franciſci Clipſham ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Dakins Generoſi veri & pleno jure Patroni.

THURSDAY Apr. 3. Report of the Committee of Commons upon the beſt Way of increaſing the Maintenance of Miniſters.

Journ. Com. MS.

Die Jovis 3. Apr. 1662.

In the Houſe of Commons, the Report of the Committee, and the Agreement of the Houſe hereupon, that the beſt Way to effect what is deſired in the Bill for increaſing the Maintenance of Miniſters is, that the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes do enquire the Value of all Livings in their ſeveral Precincts contained in the Bill, and that they conſider of the beſt Expedients for the better Maintenance of the Miniſters therein, and to inform the Committee thereof at their next Meeting after their Receſs: And that they be deſired to take Copies of the Bill, whereby they may inform themſelves what is fully intended; and the better to repreſent how the Maintenance of the ſaid Miniſters may be encreas'd with the greateſt Eaſe to the People; and that the Inconveniences which would ariſe from the Difference of Caſes may be avoided: And likewiſe to inform themſelves of the Value of other Livings out of Corporations, where the Revenue is too ſmall, and to offer ſome Expedients for the better providing for them.

And of offering Expedients for the better providing for all ſmall Livings.

FRIDAY Apr. 4. A Report of Alterations and Proviſoes in the Bill for Uniformity.

Journ. Lords, MS.

Die Veneris 4. Apr. 1662.

The Earl of Bridgwater reported from the Committee, the Alterations and Proviſoes in the Bill concerning Uniformity of Worſhip. The ſaid Alterations and Proviſoes were read twice and debated. The Queſtion being put whether theſe Words [although indifferent in their own Nature] ſhall ſtand in the Proviſoe as brought in by the Committee, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

SATURDAY Apr. 5. Proceedings in the Bill for Uniformity.

The Clauſe of declaring againſt the Covenant agreed to ſtand.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

Die Saturni 5. Apr. 1662.

The Houſe of Lords reſumed the Debate as was yeſterday, upon the Report of the Bill concerning Uniformity of Worſhip: The Point now in Conſideration was, the Clauſe of Miniſters declaring againſt the Covenant: And after a long Debate the Queſtion was put, whether this Clauſe [I declare that I hold, there is no Obligation upon me or any other Perſon from the Oath commonly called the ſolemn League and Covenant] ſhall ſtand in the Bill as it is brought in by the Committee, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

MONDAY Apr. 7. The Biſhop of Worceſter offered a Paper for explaining a Clauſe againſt the ſolemn League and Covenant.

Die Lunæ 7. Aprilis 1662.

This Day being appointed further to conſider of the Act of Uniformity, the Lord Biſhop of Worceſter offered to the Conſideration of this Houſe, an Explanation in a Paper of the Vote of this Houſe on Saturday laſt, concerning the Words in the Act of Uniformity, which declared againſt the ſolemn League and Covenant, and after a long Debate it is ordered, that this Paper be laid aſide.

Which Paper was laid aſide

A Committee to conſider of a Proviſo for the King to make ſome Proviſion for the deprived Miniſters.

Ordered, that theſe Lords following are appointed to conſider and draw up a Clauſe or Proviſo, whereby it may be left to the King to make ſuch Proviſion for ſuch of the Clergy as his Majeſty ſhall think fit, who ſhall be deprived of their Livings by the Act of Uniformity, and afterwards to make Report thereof to this Houſe.

The Bill was oppoſed by the Papiſts and by the Preſbyterians.

The Oppoſition given to this Bill jointly by Papiſts and Sectaries, is thus repreſented in the Myſtery and Iniquity of Non-Conformity, 1664. p. 55.

They [the Nonconformiſts] after all this Stir, joined Iſſue with the Papiſts, even when they were moſt fiercely declaiming againſt them: And by that Combination, the moſt excellent Act of Uniformity was once thrown out of the Lord's Houſe, and likely to have ſtuck there for ever, &c.

WEDNESDAY Apr. 9. A Proviſo brought in and agreed to.

For ſome Allowance to ejected Miniſters.

Die Mercurii 9. Apr. 1662.

In the Houſe of Lords, the Earl of Angleſea reported, that the Committee have conſidered of a Proviſo, that ſuch Perſons as are put out of their Livings by Virtue of the Act of Uniformity, may have ſuch Allowances out of their Livings for their Subſiſtence, as his Majeſty ſhall think fit. The ſaid Proviſo was read, and after ſome Debate a few Alterations made therein; and the Queſtion being put, Whether this Proviſo with the Amendments ſhall ſtand in the Bill? It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

The Bill for Uniformity paſſed the Lords.

Hodie tertia vice lecta eſt Billa, An Act for Uniformity, &c. and paſſed. Ordered to ſend for a Conference with the Houſe of Commons to Morrow Morning, and communicate this Bill with the Alterations and Amendments to it.

Letter of the Chancellor of Oxford to the Univerſity, in behalf of Mr. Henry Carpenter, Chaplain to the Houſe of Commons and Unkle to the Speaker.

A Letter of the Earl of Clarendon, Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford, to the Vicechancellor and Heads, &c.

Mr. Vicechancellor and Gentlemen,

Reg. Acad. Cantabr.

I have been deſir'd by Sir Edward Turner, Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, that in regard his Unkle Mr. Henry Carpenter is engag'd in a continual Attendance upon the Houſe of Commons for reading divine Service to them every Morning; I would by my Letter recommend him to your Favour, for obtaining the Degree of Doctor in Divinity, of which his Standing in the Univerſity, and his Abilities in Learning, render him very capable. The Merit of the Perſon who makes this Requeſt is ſo great, that I know it will be very acceptable to the King, if he be ſatisfied in it; for which Reaſon I do very earneſtly recommend Mr. Henry Carpenter to you to be created Doctor in Divinity. I am

Mr. Vicechancellor and Gentlemen,

Worceſter-Houſe,
Apr. 9, 1662.
Your very affectionate Servant,

CLARENDON, C.

Account given of him by Mr. A. Wood.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 826.

Henry Carpenter, ſome Time of Exeter College, now Chaplain to the honourable Houſe of Commons, was declared Doctor in Divinity, by a Diploma dated Apr. 19, 1662. upon the earneſt Requeſt of his Nephew, Sir Edward Turner Speaker, to the Chancellor of the Univerſity. The Maſters then murmured, that they ſhould be impoſed upon to confer Degrees on thoſe they never ſaw, and great grumbling there was: With which the Chancellor being acquainted, he by his Letters, dated the 30th of the ſaid Month, doth in a Manner excuſe himſelf for what he had done for ſeveral Reaſons.

Account given of him.

This Henry Carpenter, who was Son of Richard Carpenter, Miniſter of Culleton in Devonſhire, became Prebendary of Yatminſter-prima in the Church of Sarum in Auguſt 1660. and on the 20th of May this Year 1662. Canon of Windſor in the Place of Dr. George Hall, promoted to the See of Cheſter, he being then Rector of St. Dionis Back-church in London. He hath written, his Deputy Divinity, or inferior Deity, and ſubordinate God in the World, Conſcience: In two Sermons, London 1657, 12°. He died on the 14th of October 1662. after a ſhort Enjoyment of Windſor. Whereupon Dr. Peter Mews of St. John's College ſucceeded him in the Canonry there.

His other Preferments in parochial Churches.

Reg. Juxon. Cant.

1661. 7. Junii. Henricus Carpenter Clericus, admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Dionyſii Backchurch, London, vac. per ceſſionem Nath. Hardy ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli Lond.

1661. 17. Jul. Henr. Carpenter, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Stapleford-Tany Com. Eſſex. vac. per mort. Thomæ Nicholſon, ad preſ. Arabellæ Allen filiæ Edmundi Allen Mil.

Account of Dr. Rich. Watſon.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 825.

Eod. die 9. Apr. 1662. Richard Watſon of Caius College in Cambridge, and Chaplain to James Duke of York, was declared Doctor of Divinity in a Convocation at Oxford, he being then abſent. Whereupon a Diploma for it being drawn up, it was ſealed on the third of the Ides of the ſame Month. He had been Maſter of the Free-School in Cambridge while he was Fellow of the ſaid College, and being a moſt zealous Man for the Church of England, preached a Sermon touching Schiſm in St. Mary's Church there Anno 1642. which being highly offenſive to the Preſbyterians, he was ejected from his Fellowſhip and School. Afterwards to avoid their Barbarities, he fled into France, was patroniz'd at Paris by Sir Richard Brown, Clerk of his Majeſty's Council, officiated for ſome Months in his Oratory or Chapel there, and was one of thoſe Engliſh Divines who did many Times argue with the contrary Party concerning the Viſibility of their Church. The ſaid Sir Richard alſo endeavoured to have ſuch an Eſtabliſhment made for him, as thereby in the moſt difficult of Times, he might have had a comfortable Subſiſtence and a ſafe Protection under his ſacred Roof, beſides the other Graces and Civilities received from him. Afterwards he became Chaplain to Ralph Lord Hopton, in whoſe Service he continued till that Lord's Death, being then accounted one of the prime Sufferers of the Engliſh Clergy beyond the Seas. After his Majeſty's Reſtauration, he did not return with him, but continued at Caen till 1661. and then repairing to his native Place, became Chaplain to the Duke of York, Rector of Pewſie in Wilts in Septemb. 1662. Prebendary of Warmiſter in the Church of Sarum, by the Ceſſion of Richard Hyde in the latter End of March 1666. Prebendary of Bitton in the ſaid Church in the Place of Tho. Hill, in Dec. 1671. —— This Perſon who was a good Scholar, but vain and conceited, died on the 13th of January 1684.

Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge.

Ejected, flies into France.

Chaplain to Sir Richard Brown.

Afterward to Lord Hopton.

Then to James Duke of York.

A vain conceited Man.

Dr. Wilford Archdeacon of Bedford.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc. MS.

Eod. die 9. Apr. 1662. Franciſcus Wilford, S. T. P. admiſſus eſt ad Archidiaconatum Bedford ad preſ. Domini Regis pro hac vice ratione promotionis Johannis Hacket, S. T. P. in Epiſcopum Cov. Lichf. —— Idem inſtallatus in Decanatu Elien. vac. per mort. Edwardi Martin, S. T. P. die 30. Maii 1662. Obiit menſe Julio 1667.

THURSDAY Apr. 10.
A Conference of the two Houſes upon the Bill for Uniformity.

Extracts from the Journal of the Lords.

Die Jovis 10. Apr. 1662.

A Meſſage was ſent to the Houſe of Commons by Sir Mundiford Brampſton and Sir Nathaniel Hobart, Knights, to deſire a preſent Conference in the Painted Chamber concerning the Act of Uniformity. The Lord Chancellor, the Earl of Bridgwater, and the Biſhop of London were appointed to manage the Conference.

Directions of the Lords to the Managers.

The Houſe directed, that the Book of Common-Prayer recommended from the King ſhall be delivered to the Houſe of Commons, as that being the Book to which the Act of Uniformity relates: And alſo to deliver the Book wherein the Alterations are made, out of which the other Book was fairly written: And likewiſe ſo to communicate to them the King's Meſſage recommending the ſaid Book. And laſtly, to let the Commons know, that the Lords upon Conſideration had of the Act of Uniformity have thought fit to make ſome Alterations, and add ſome Proviſoes, to which the Concurrence of the Houſe of Commons is deſired.

Report of the Conference made in the Houſe of Commons.

Eod. die 10. Apr. In the Houſe of Commons, a Report from the Conference had with the Lords upon the Bill of Uniformity: That the Reaſon of the Delay of the ſaid Bill was, that the Book of Common-Prayer had by Reference from his

Majeſty been under the Conſideration of the Convocation, who had made ſome Alterations and Additions thereunto: And that the Lords had peruſed the ſame, as alſo the Bill ſent from this Houſe, and had returned the ſame together with the Book of Common-Prayer, as the ſame is amended and by them agreed to, and ſome Amendments and Proviſoes to the Bill.

Friday Apr. 11.

Dr. Joh. Wilkins Vicar of St. Lawrence Jewry, London.

Die Veneris 11. Apr. 1662.

Johannes Wilkins, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vicariam Sancti Laurentii Judaiſmi London. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis jure Prærogativæ vac. per promotionem Sethi Ward, S. T. P. ad Epiſcopatum Exon. —— in Epiſcopum Ceſtren. conſecratus die 15. Nov. 1668.

Reg. Henchman London.

He had been Vicar of Fawſley Com. Northton.

Joh. Wilkins Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Fawſley in Com. Northampt. ex preſ. Ricardi Knightley Armig. die 2. Junii 1637.

Reg. Petriburg.

Saturday Apr. 12.

Proceedings in the Houſe of Commons.

Die Sabbati 12. Apr. 1662.

In the Houſe of Commons, the Amendments and Additions ſent from the Lords to the Bill of Uniformity were read.

And in the upper Houſe of Convocation.

For a Form of Subſcription to the Common-Prayer, &c.

And for printing and publiſhing the Book.

Eod. die. In ſuperiori Domo Convocat. Habito tractatu de Subſcriptionibus Clericorum Inſtituendorum, & Ludimagiſtrorum licentiandorum, & tribus Articulis 36. Canone, &c. Dominus Epiſcopus London Præſidens, &c. de & cum conſenſu, &c. curam commiſit Reverendis Patribus Dominis Epiſcopis Sarum & Coven. & Lichfel. ad conſulend' Juriſperitos de concipiend' Forma in ſcriptis in & circa Subſcriptionem prædictam. Et hoc facto ulterius tractatum habuit de eligendo perſonas aptas & idoneas ad corrigend' Impreſſionem Libri publicarum Precum; quodque poſt Impreſſionem dicti Libri factam, Epiſcopi cujuſlibet Dioceſeos curam in ſeſe ſuſcipiant ad recipiend' eoſdem Libros, & ad procurand' eoſdem publicari & aſportari Eccleſiis Parochialibus ſeparalibus in eorum reſpective Dioceſibus. Et deinde Dominus Epiſcopus London. continuavit, &c.

Dr. James Smith, Precentor of Exeter.

James Smith, S. T. P. ſucceeded Dr. Seth Ward in the Præcentorſhip of the Church of Exeter, inſtall'd by Proxy Feb. 7, 1661. and now again in Perſon Apr. 12, 1662. —— He died June 20, 1667.

Le Neve's Faſti.
See Ath. Ox. Vol. I. col. 279.

Elizabeth Counteſs of Angleſey.

In the Church of Walton upon Thames:
Here lyeth ELIZABETH
Counteſs of ANGLESEY,
Who dyed April the 12th, 1662.

Le Neve.

Sunday Apr. 13.

Sermon before the King by Mr. Rob. South.

Mr. Robert South, Chaplain to the Lord Chancellor Clarendon, was noted for his excellent Oratory, and his Lord being much delighted with a Sermon that he had preached before him, he made way for him to preach the ſame Sermon again before his Majeſty: And having firſt paſſed the Scrutiny of ſo wiſe and learned a Man, and ſo great and famous a Counſellor, every one's Expectation was heightned, and happy was he or ſhe among the greateſt Wits of the Town, that could accommodate their Humour in getting convenient Room in the Chapel at Whitehall to hang upon the Lips of this ſo great an Oracle. The Day appointed being come, which was the 13th of April 1662. for the acting this Scene over again, Mr. South aſcends the Pulpit, and the Eyes of all were immediately faſtned upon him. After he had performed his Obeiſance to his Majeſty, he named his Text, which was Ecclеſ. vii. 10. Say not thou what is the Cauſe that the former Days were better than theſe? For thou doeſt not enquire wiſely concerning this. Then after a witty Preamble, he proceeded to the Diviſion of the Words, and having performed that with great Dexterity, he lays by the Text for the preſent, and according to the ancient and laudable Manner, addreſſed himſelf to the Bid-Prayer, which being ended, he reſumed his Text, and attempted to handle the ſeveral Parts of it. The Prohibition in the Text he laboured to enforce by an Induction of Particulars, the firſt was, that the Pagan Times were not better than theſe, then the Popiſh Times were not, &c. but the laſt inſiſted on was the Times of the late Rebellion; and while he was endeavouring to evince that, which was indeed the main Thing that he intended to handle, it pleaſed God as the Fanatick Author of Annus Mirabilis Secundus obſerved, that he was ſuddenly taken with a Qualm, Drops of Sweat ſtanding in his Face as big as Peaſe, and immediately he loſt the Uſe of his Speech, only he uttered ſome few Words to this Effect: Oh Lord! we are all in thy Hands, be merciful unto us, and then came down. The Expectations of all being thus ſadly diſappointed, they were contented with the Divertiſement of an Anthem, and ſo the Solemnity for the Service of that Day was ended.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. laſt Edition, col. 1044.

Before any Prayer in the Pulpit, he names the Text.

And then bids Prayer.

And ſeemed to intend an Invective upon the late Times

But was confounded and left Speechleſs.

The Story told by the Author of Annus Mirabilis ſecundus.

4to. 1662. p. 33. ſect. 12.

And by Mr. Baxter, who would have it a Judgment upon him, for his intending to deliver ſomewhat againſt him and his Holy Commonwealth.

Biſhop Morley having preferred a young Man, named Mr. S—— (Orator of the Univerſity of Oxford, a fluent witty Satyriſt, and one that was ſome Time motioned to me to be my Curate at Kidderminſter) this Man being Houſhold Chaplain to the Lord Chancellor was appointed to preach before the King; where the Crowd had high Expectations of ſome vehement Satyr; but when he had preached a quarter of an Hour, he was utterly at a Loſs, and ſo unable to recollect himſelf, that he could go no further, but cryed, the Lord be merciful to our Infirmities, and ſo came down. But about a Month after, they were reſolved yet that Mr. S—— ſhould preach the ſame Sermon before the King, and not loſe his expected Applauſe: And preach it he did (little more than half an Hour with no Admiration at all of the Hearers.) And for his Encouragement the Sermon was printed. And when it was printed, many Perſons deſired to ſee what Words they were that he was ſtopped at the firſt Time: And they found in the printed Copy all that he had ſaid firſt, and one of the next Paſſages which he was to have delivered was againſt me for my Holy Common-wealth.

Mr. Richard Baxter's Life, Fol. Lib. I. Part II. p. 380.

The Eſpouſals of the King and Queen.

The Eſpouſals of Catharine Infanta of Portugal by Proxy, with Charles the Second, King of Great-Britain: And the Preparations for embarking the ſaid new Queen of England from the Port of Liſbon.

Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich in April 1662.

The Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich, Ambaſſador to Portugal and Admiral of the Fleet to carry over the Queen.

Wedneſday April 2. The Conde de Ponte, Franciſco Correa de Silva, the Biſhop of Capo Verde, and Mr. Mules dined with me. After Dinner, I went with them on Board the Royal Charles, to ſee the Accommodation for the Queen's Voyage. At Night I cauſed a Note to be drawn of the Cabbins of the Ship, and what Servants Engliſh was of Neceſſity to be in the Ship with the Queen, and then left all the reſt to the Queen's Diſpoſe, by a Letter to the Secretary of State wherein this Note was incloſed; and further I deſired of him a perfect Liſt of all that would accompany the Queen, to accommodate them timely and well.

Care to accommodate her Majeſty and her Servants.

Thurſday April 3. The Queen of England being ill of a Cold, I went to the Door of her Chamber to enquire of her Health. In the Afternoon I went to Ode-Vilas Convent.

More Jewels and Sugars.

Friday April 4. Duarte de Silva came in the Morning with more Jewels, and promiſed great Haſte both for the Sugars and other Merchandizes.

The Queen of England's Care for the Accommodation of her Train.

Saturday April 5. I went to wait upon the Queen Regent, and told her Majeſty what I was commanded in my laſt Inſtruction, and recommended Don Lewis d' Almeida and Mr. Mules, and the Secretary of the Ambaſſy to the Queen's Favour, and alſo gave her Majeſty Thanks for her Favours beſtowed upon the Conde de Ponte. The Queen of England ſent to ſpeak with me, and accordingly I went, and received her Majeſty's Commands, which were to take ſpecial Care to accommodate thoſe Perſons that went along with her Majeſty into England. In the Afternoon, the Conde de Ponte and Don Juan de Sorſa went with me on Board the Ship Charles, and deſigned out Quarters to all that the Queen had appointed to go in her own Ship.

The Admiral deſires timely Notice of her Majeſty's Intention to embark.

Monday April 7. I went to wait upon the Queen of England, to deſire ſix or ſeven Days Warning before the Day her Majeſty would embark, to take Leave of this Court, and to be on Board four or five Days before the Queen to prepare for her Majeſty's Reception; the which her Majeſty ſaid, ſhe would deliberate of, and give me further Notice.

Tueſday April 8. Waltham in his Ketch came from Tangier, and brought me Letters from the Governour and others.

Lord Sandwich takes Leave of the Court of Portugal.

Thurſday April 10. I had Audience of the King and Queen Regent of Portugal, and Queen of England, and took my Leave, and went on Board the James to prepare the Fleet for her Majeſty's Embarkation. I was conducted by the Marquis of Govea in the King's Coaches to the Court, and from thence through the Terero de Paro and Ruo Nuevo to the Alcantara, where the Boats attended for me, and there I embarqued and came on Board the James.

Slow Payment of the Portion Money.

This Morning the Conde de Ponte came to me and ſaid I ſhould have an Anſwer from the Queen to my laſt Papers, and that twenty thouſand Crowns ſhould be at my Order upon Account of the laſt Moiety, the which I deſired for the Supply of Sir John Lawſon.

Friday April 11. In the Morning I ſent a Letter to the Secretary of State to procure the ſaid twenty thouſand Crowns, and to receive the Pleaſure of the Queen for my further Attendance. At Night I had Anſwer, to have ten thouſand paid as ſoon as there was Occaſion, and the other ten thouſand when the Fleet arrived there. And I was ſummoned to wait upon the Queen with my Train to the Church on Sunday.

Saturday April 12. I received a Letter from the Secretary of State by Command of the Queen of England, in Anſwer to my Paper, importing, the Security of the firſt Million to be paid by Duarte de Silva, and that I ſhould not ſtand upon Circumſtances.

A Preſent of the King to the Earl of Sandwich.

This Afternoon Mr. Mules came with Duarte de Silva, and brought me a Preſent from the King, a Bag of Gold of a thouſand Moidores.

Sunday April 13. About ten o' Clock in the Morning I went a-ſhore at the Terrero de Paro, and there was met by Don Lucas Maſter of the Ceremonies, and in the King's Coach conducted to the Palace, where I met the King, Queen of England and Queen Regent, and Don Pedro the Infant coming out of the Preſence Chamber. The Earls of Portugal walk with the King covered, and in that reſpect the Queen of England commanded me to put on my Hat, which I obeyed. The King, &c. went along together to the Head of the Stairs that deſcend into the Court, and the two Queens took Leave with that Decency and Conſtancy that was admirable to ſee. After the Queen of England went into her Coach; next which went the Coach of Reſpect empty, and then my Coach, and then the Nobles of Portugal according to their Dignity. The Streets of Liſbon were all adorned with rich Carpets and Hangings at the Windows, and Pageants made in their Manner to demonſtrate as much Joy as could be; and the Regiments of Trained-Bands and Guards which were in the City drawn out. When the Queen came to the Great Cathedral Church, we all alighted, and went before her into the Church, myſelf placed next before Don Pedro, the

The Queen of England takes Leave of her Royal Relations.

Their Proceſſion to the great Church in Liſbon.

Kiſſing the Croſs and hearing High Maſs.

The Earl of Sandwich retires during Maſs.

The Queen goes aboard the Royal Charles.

King leading the Queen of England by the Hand; when we came into the Church near the Door, the Prieſts brought a Croſs under a rich Canopy, ſupported by ſix Prieſts, which the King and Don Pedro kiſſed kneeling upon Cuſhions. When they came into the Quire, the King and Queen took their Seats to hear Maſs, and the Conde de Ponte (now Marquis de Sandis) and the Viſcount de . . . . and another Don went with me to a Room purpoſely prepared for me to repoſe in until the Maſs was celebrated. After Maſs I came down to the Quire again, and took my Place before the Queen, and ſo we went into the Coaches another Way of the City to a new Bridge built at the End of the King's Yard purpoſely for the Queen to take Water at, all hanged richly and floored with Carpets, where the Queen deſcended, and embarqued with the King and Don Pedro in the King's Barge, and ſo went together a board the Royal Charles; where as ſoon as they were entred, the Henry (Sir John Mennes, Vice-Admiral) fired ſixty one Guns, the James, Rear-Admiral, fifty nine (Captain Clarke Commander) and all the reſt of the Fleet proportionably. After ſome Hours Diſcourſe, the King went a-ſhore, and I by the Queen's Command went a-ſhore with him. The Ships all fired again, the Vice-Admiral forty one, the Rear-Admiral thirty nine, and the reſt proportionably.

At Night the Ships ſhewed out Lights at every Port-hole, and in their Tops, and Yards, and fired Rockets and Squibs very handſome to ſee in the Night-time.

They weigh Anchor and ſail down the River.

Monday April 14. We weighed Anchor about ten a Clock, and fell down as far as the Alcantara, the King and Don Pedro came on board us, under ſail, and ſtay'd 'till we came to an Anchor, and then went off. In the Night about twelve a Clock the King came incognito in a Barge with his Muſick, very good Voices, and lay at the Stern of our Ship, and gave the Queen Muſick.

They put to Sea.

Tueſday April 15. By ſix a Clock in the Morning we weighed Anchor again, the Wind at N. W. and got out of the River to Sea. As I paſſed by the Caſtles the Queen commanded me to lower the Standard, which was done. As ſoon as we were out at Sea, the Queen and all the Ladies were Sea-ſick.

Her Majeſty commanded me to give the King a ſpeedy Account of her Majeſty's ſetting forward, which I did, and wrote a Pacquet for England preſently.

This Afternoon Captain Utbird came on board, and brought me News, that the Engliſh Fleet had taken the Admiral of Algiers; and that the Levant Merchant and a Man of War that was her Convoy was in Tangier Bay bound for Liſbon.

A Liſt of the Ships.

The Ships in my Fleet as followeth:

Admiral Royal Charles,
Vice-Admiral Henry,
Rear-Admiral Royal James,
York,
Mountague,
Lyon,
Princeſs,
Breda,
Dover,
Rubye,
Pearl,
Elias,
Dartmouth.
Colcheſter.

Five Ketches, five Merchant-men bound home.

See Apr. 22.

Monday Apr. 14.
Dr. Joh. Pearſon Maſter of Trinity College, Cambridge.

John Pearſon, S. T. P. was admitted Maſter of Trinity College in Cambridge in the Place of Dr. Henry Ferne Biſhop of Cheſter, lately deceaſed. He likewiſe ſucceeded in the See of Cheſter in 1672.

Mr. Tho. Portman Prebendary of Exeter.

Thomas Portman, A. M. was admitted to a Prebend in the Church of Exeter April 14, 1662. void by the Death of Mr. John Pinſon, a great Sufferer in the late Times, a learned and worthy Man. —— Tho. Flavel, A. M. Rector of Ruan in Cornwall, was admitted to a Prebend in the ſaid Church Jan. 18, 1660. void by the Death of Timothy Shute.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 30.

Death of the Lord Say and Seal.

William Viſcount Say and Sele departed this Life at Broughton Com. Oxon. April 14, 1662. and lyeth there buried: To whom ſucceeded in his Honours James his eldeſt Son by Elizabeth Daughter to John Temple of Stow in Com. Buck. Eſq;

Dugdale's Baron. Tom. II. p. 247.

Die Martis 15. Apr. 1662.

Tuesday Apr. 15.
A Bill for the Biſhop of London to make Leaſes.

The Lords received a Bill from the Commons, entitled, An Act to enable the Biſhop of London to make Leaſes of the Houſes which are built upon the Scite of his Palace. Which being formerly ſent down with ſome Alterations and a Proviſo; to which their Lordſhips Concurrence is deſired; The ſaid Alterations and Proviſo being read were agreed to.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

Advices from Scotland.

Adviſed from Edinburgh April 15. That all Things there are very peaceable. The Biſhops are univerſally received with great Joy and Welcome. On Sunday laſt Dr. Mackenzy, who is deſigned to be Biſhop of Murray, preached in the Forenoon, and Dr. Leighton Biſhop of Dunblain in the Afternoon, that many were in Hazard of being ſtiffled: They clearly evinced the Rebellion in the Covenant, and gave us very orthodox Diſcourſes. To Day the Archbiſhop of St. Andrew's went for St. Andrew's, and is to be met to morrow in Fife by the Earl of Rothes, Preſident of the Council, and the whole Gentry of that Shire.

Mercur. Publ. No. 16. p. 254.

On Friday next the Archbiſhop of Glaſcow goes for Glaſcow, the Provoſt and Bailiffs of that Place being here already, with ſeveral other Perſons to attend him thither. The Conſecration of the reſt of our Biſhops is appointed to be at Holy-Rood Houſe on the fourth of May; after which they will all join their helping Hand for a due Settlement of our Church, in a Reformation of our Diſorders.

Wednesday Apr. 16.

Debate of the Commons on the Lords Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity.

Journ. Com.

The Houſe of Commons reſumed the Debate upon the Amendments ſent down from the Lords to the Bill of Uniformity. And the Queſtion being propounded, Whether Debate ſhall be admitted to the Amendments made by the Convocation to the Book of Common-Prayer, and ſent down by the Lords to this Houſe? It paſſed in the Negative. The Queſtion being put, that the Amendments made by the Convocation, and ſent down by the Lords, might by the Order of this Houſe have been debated: It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

A remarkable Letter of Seignior Bellarini to Father Young.

Fair Warning, 1663, 8vo Part II. ch. III. p. 62.

The New Deſign: Or a Letter from Seignior Bellarini to Father Young, found in his Study upon his Deceaſe, dated April 16, 1662. tranſlated out of the Italian, ſhewing the moſt effectual Ways and Means of introducing Popery into England.

The Contents of it as given by Dr. Stillingfleet.

Stillingfleet's Hiſtory of Separation, 4to. Pref. p. 20.

In this Letter (ſays Dr. Stillingfleet) which more particularly reaches to our own Caſe, are ſeveral very remarkable Things. The firſt Advice is to make the Obſtruction of Settlement their great Deſign; eſpecially upon the fundamental Conſtitutions of the Kingdom, whereunto if Things ſhould fall, they would be more firm than ever. The next Thing is to remove the Jealouſies raiſed by Prynne, Baxter, &c. of their Deſign upon the late Factions, and to ſet up the proſperous Way of Fears and Jealouſies of the King and Biſhops. Thirdly, to make it appear under-hand how near the Doctrine, Diſcipline, and Worſhip of the Church of England comes to us; at how little Diſtance their Common-Prayer is from our Maſs, and that the wiſeſt and ableſt Men of that Way are ſo moderate, that they would willingly come over to us, or at leaſt meet us half way. Hereby the more ſtay'd Men will become more odious, and others will run out of all Religion for Fear of Popery. Fourthly, let there be an Indulgence promoted by the Factions, and ſeconded by you. Fifthly, that the Trade and Treaſure of the Nation may be engroſſed between themſelves and other diſcontented Parties. Laſtly, that the Biſhops and Miniſters of the Church of England be aſperſed, as either worldly and careleſs on the one Hand, or ſo factious on the other, that it were well they were removed.

Theſe Counſels have been followed by them.

Ibid. Preface, p. 22.

Theſe (ſays Dr. Stillingfleet) are ſome of thoſe excellent Advices then given, and how well they have been followed, we all know. For according to this Counſel, when they could not hinder the Settlement then, the great Thing they aimed at for many Years, was the breaking in Pieces the Conſtitution of this Church by a General Toleration.

A printed Copy of the Letter.

Printed in Fair Warning, Part II. 4to. 1663. p. 62.

A Copy of the ſaid Letter from Seignior Bellarini to Father Young, dated April 16, 1662.

Holy Father,

We do here congratulate your Endeavours for the Propagation of the Catholick Faith, and ceaſe not our Prayers for you: Yet we know that in vain do we expect a Bleſſing from above, if we do not prudently apply all Means here below. And upon that wonderful Revolution in England, there muſt be great Alterations in your Councils and Methods, although you muſt aim at one great Deſign, the Obſtruction of Settlement, eſpecially upon the fundamental Conſtitutions of the Kingdom, whereunto if Things ſhould fall, they would be more firm than ever; as ſome Things when ſhaken take deepeſt Root.

To this Purpoſe you would do well,

Jealouſies to be removed of Papiſts joining with the late Factions.

I. To remove that Jealouſy raiſed by Prynne, Baxter, &c. and other diſcontented Perſons of our Deſign upon the late Factions, and to ſet up that proſperous Way of Fears and Jealouſies of the King and Biſhops. You know an Enemy is then with Succeſs eſtabliſhed in his main Hold, when he is with Prudence alarmed elſewhere. We may eaſily break in upon the Engliſh Nation through Liberty and Anarchy, while they think we are coming in through Government and Order.

To teach what is Popery, and what is not.

II. Publickly to agree, declare, and inſtruct Men what is Popery and what is not; leſt under that Notion all laudable, ancient, neceſſary, and pious Inſtructions, when diſpleaſing ſhould be caſt off under the Name of Popery; and leſt any antiquated Superſtition or Hereſy ſhould be received under the Notion of New Lights, or of Order and Decency.

To ſet forth the Church of England as coming near to the Church of Rome.

III. You would do well to make it appear under-hand how near the Doctrine, Worſhip, and Diſcipline of the Church of England comes to us; how willingly (as our good Brother ſpeaks) their Articles would be interpreted in a Catholick Senſe; at how little Diſtance their Common-Prayer is from our Maſs: Whereby you may perſuade the World, that the Proteſtant Religion is weary of itſelf, and that the wiſeſt and ableſt Men of that Way are ſo moderate, that they would willingly come over to us, or at leaſt meet us half Way: Hereby the more ſtayed Men will become odious, and others will run out of all Religion for Fear of Popery.

To raiſe an Odium on the Proteſtant Factions, and whet the Laws againſt them.

IV. Let there be that Odium by Writing and ſecret Practices raiſed upon the Factious, that the Law may be ſo intent upon them, that you may eſcape; and thoſe troubleſome Perſons may be diſabled from ſpeaking againſt you as they uſed to do, of being odious in the Eye of the Law and the People.

V. Let

The King's Supremacy to be decried; and all Parties to join for a general Indulgence.

To ingroſs the Trade of the Nation among themſelves.

V. Let the Power of the King in Matters of Religion be decry'd: Or at leaſt let there be an Indulgence promoted by the Factions and ſeconded by you.

VI. You may have ſuch Inſight into the Trade and Treaſure of the Nation, that you may have the one engroſſed between yourſelves and other diſcontented Parties, and the other ſtopped: So that the Inhabitants will for want either endeavour an Alteration at Home, or tranſplant themſelves among us abroad; ſo that either we may join with them, or they with us, in order to the main Deſign.

To poſſeſs the People that there is no true Ordination in the Church of England.

VII. It were well if you took all juſt Occaſion to make it plain to the People, that there is no true Ordination or Succeſſion of Biſhops, Paſtors, and Miniſters in England; and that they who are pretended Biſhops and Miniſters, are either worldly and careleſs on the one Hand, or ſo factious on the other Hand, that it were well they were removed: However, it were well the People ſhould be taken off from them, by a clear Diſcovery of their Unworthineſs.

To aſk the People what is become of their Forefathers, and where their Religion was before Luther.

VIII. Father R. would uſually ſay, that the beſt Way to work upon the Engliſh, was to make uſe of their natural Affections, and urge them with this; What is become of your Fore-fathers who died in our Religion? Where was your Religion before Luther?

To foment Differences between King and People, by putting the King upon arbitrary Meaſures.

IX. We ſuppoſe that in England, after twenty Years Confuſion, they are at a Loſs for the Revenue: And therefore it were ſeaſonable ſuch a Way were propoſed, that on the one Hand might ſeem very plauſible to the King, the Nobility, and Commons, but is indeed very grievous to the People. As any Alterations in the ancient Cuſtoms have their Advantage for us, ſo eſpecially an Alteration in the Revenue, which will have that Influence on the People, which all your Suggeſtions and Inſinuations cannot have. You know what Counſel Father P. gave Father E. of Bruſſels, to put the King upon the new Way of Impoſition by Exciſe, which muſt be ſettled by a mercenary Army of Horſe and Foot, which ſhall harraſs the Countrey.

To anſwer rather than oppoſe.

And to puzzle the People with ſeveral Queſtions.

Laſtly, Your Method for winning particular Perſons you know given by our Fore-fathers is this; 1. Be ſure to keep the Reſpondents Part and not the Opponents. It is not ſo eaſy to prove, as to wrangle againſt Proof. 2. Follow them with certain Queſtions, which the Vulgar are not vers'd in. As, 1. Where was your Church before Luther? Or where hath it been viſible in all Ages? Q. 2. How prove you that you have a true Scripture that is the Word of God among you? Q. 3. What expreſs Word of God do the Catholicks contradict? Q. 4. How prove you that you have a truly called Miniſtry, that is to be heard and believed by the People? Q. 5. By what Warrant did you ſeparate from the Catholick Church, and condemn all your own Fore-fathers, and all the Chriſtian World? Q. 6. If you will ſeparate from the Catholick Church, what Reaſon have you to follow this Sect, rather than any one of all the reſt? Q. 7. What one Man can you name from the Beginning that was in all Things of Luther's or Calvin's Opinions? Q. 8. Do you not ſee, that God doth not bleſs the Labours of your Miniſters, but People are as bad as they were before? What the better are you for hearing them?

Our hearty Prayers are for your Succeſs: And,

Sir, I am

Yours to Command,

F. B.

Mr. John Ellis Vicar of Mucking and then of Horndon Com. Eſſex.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 427, 343.

Die 17. Apr. 1662. Johannes Ellis Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Mucking Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli London, Proprietariorum. —— Idem ad Vic. de Horndon ſuper Montem Com. Eſſex. 26. Jul. 1669. — Obiit 1690.

THURSDAY Apr. 17.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

Die Jovis 17. Apr. 1662.

A Debate of the Commons upon the Amendments ſent down from the Lords to the Bill of Uniformity.

Account of the three Regicides brought from Holland, Corbet, Barkſtead and Okey.

Theſe three Perſons having been outlaw'd by a former Indictment, were brought to the King's-Bench Bar, and demanded ſeverally what they could ſay, why Execution ſhould not be awarded againſt them: after the Indictment was firſt read to them; they pleaded they were not the ſame Perſons, and thereupon the ſame Day a Jury was preſently returned, the Court ſitting; and they found they were the ſame Perſons, and ſo Execution awarded. So is the Report in the Manuſcript, but the Record is of an Attainder by Act of Parliament, but there might be an Outlawry alſo. —— See Keble's Reports, Fol. p. 14

Regicides no Saints or Martyrs, 8vo. p. 91.

The three of the late King's Judges apprehended in Holland, and ſent over by Sir George Downing, were now under the Sentence of Death.

Miles Corbet, a Gentleman of an ancient Family in Norfolk. His Nephew, Sir Thomas, was a worthy loyal Gentleman, and kept his Unkle from defiling himſelf with his Sovereign's Blood 'till the laſt Day, for fear the Entail ſhould be cut off from his Children, according to his own Confeſſion; but then the Devil with his own as helliſh Zeal ſpurr'd him on both to Sit and Sign. And 'tis probable upon this Inducement, Sir Thomas parted with the Seat of his Family, which to my Knowledge he did, and was very kind to his Siſters with their Deſcendants. —— We have an odd Account of his Carriage in the Houſe of Commons, where he was Inquiſitor-General to the Committee of Examinations, having found an Expedient to purge both Houſes of ſuch Members as the Army or Independents diſliked, without letting them know either their Charge or Accuſers; which the Hiſtory of Independency terms a kind of Hangmans's Office, and that he look'd more like a Hangman, than the Hangman himſelf. 'Tis true likewiſe, he was conſtantly called Corbet the Jew, much reſembling that Nation both in Countenance and Actions.

The next is Barkſtead, a Citizen and Goldſmith of London, ſaith Mr. Ludlow, as if he had been a Banker of Thouſands; whereas the Workers in that Trade are of as dirty and laborious a Profeſſion as Country Blackſmiths, and take as much Pains for a ſmall Livelihood. This Man's chief Imploy was to make Silver Thimbles, whereby he might become endear'd to the Siſterhood; he was Second to Ven in leading up the Mob to threaten and force the Parliament; and thus ſetting forward when the War begun, he had his Advance in it, where nevertheleſs he paſs'd for a very ſhallow Mortal, but continuing a zealous Pretender, and withal very officious to his Maſter Cromwell, he continued him a Tool upon all Occaſions, and as I remember, made him one of his Lords.

The laſt is Okey, whom Mr. Ludlow will have a Citizen of London too, as if he had made ſome great Figure there, whereas he was modeſter, and declar'd, he was of the leaſt of the Families in Iſrael, and he the leaſt of that. Firſt he belong'd to a Brew-Houſe as a Dray-Man, after that a poor Chandler near Lyon's-Key: But betaking himſelf to the Sword upon our Civil Diſtractions, he appear'd a Man of Senſe and Courage, which cultivated by Action and Experience, rendred him one of the beſt Officers among them. —— And after all, no one of the whole Party carried himſelf ſo much like a Gentleman and Chriſtian, as this Okey.

FRIDAY Apr. 18.
Debate of the Commons on the Bill for Uniformity.

Die Veneris 18. Apr. 1662.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

The Houſe of Commons reſumed the Debate upon the remaining Amendments ſent from the Lords to the Bill of Uniformity.

The Militia Bill.

The Lords returned the Commons Bill for ſettling the Militia with divers Amendments, to which they deſired the Concurrence of the Commons.

Francis Heath, LL. D.

The King's Mandate to the Univerſity of Cambridge, to admit Francis Heath to the Degree of Doctor in Law, dated Apr. 18, 1662.

SATURDAY Apr. 19.
Three Regicides are repreſented as undeſerving Sufferers and very Martyrs for the People.

Printed in t Year 1662, 4t

The Speeches, Diſcourſes, and Prayers of Colonel John Barkſtead, Colonel John Okey, and Mr. Miles Corbet upon the 19th of April 1662. being the Day of their Suffering at Tyburn. Together with an Account of the Occaſion and Manner of their Taking in Holland. And alſo of their ſeveral occaſional Speeches, Diſcourſes, and Letters, both before and in the Time of their late Impriſonment. Faithfully and impartially collected for a general Satisfaction.

Beginning with a Narrative of their being decoy'd in Holland by Sir George Downing, and ſent over Priſoners to England.

A Narrative of Colonel Okey, Colonel Barkſtead and Miles Corbet, Eſq; their Departure out of England; their Chriſtian Carriage, and the kind Reception they found in all Places where they came: Together with the unparallell'd Treachery and Inhumanity exerciſed by Sir G. D. in decoying them to, and apprehending them at Delph: As alſo their ſurreptitious embarking thence, and tranſporting to the Tower of London.

Account of theſe Sufferers as given by Authority.

London, printed for Nat. Brooke and Edward Thomas, 1662. 4to.

There was on the Government Side publiſhed a better Account, intituled the Speeches and Prayers of John Barkſtead, John Okey, and Miles Corbet. Together with ſeveral Paſſages at the Time of their Execution at Tyburn, the nineteenth of April 1662. With ſome due and ſober Animadverſions on the ſaid Speeches.

To the Reader. This is to aſſure thee, that firſt there is not a Syllable to the beſt of the Writer's Skill that took theſe Speeches at the Place of Execution either added or diminiſhed in the Tranſcript, either in Favour or Injury to the Dead, &c.

The Animadverſions conclude.— In Concluſion it may be preſumed they knew not what to ſay, as their Crime wanted a Precedent, ſo it wants a Plea or Defence: And therefore they have Recourſe to any Thing, which ſtuff'd out with the old ſpecious Shews of Piety, they think ſhall deceive the World. Finis.

The Execution of the three Regicides.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 16. p. 241.

Senſible of their being odious to the People.

Attended with infinite Crouds

Thoſe three Regicides, John Barkſtead, John Okey, and Miles Corbet, being this Day delivered over to the Sheriffs of London and Middleſex, by his Majeſty's Lieutenant of the Tower, in order to their Execution, were accordingly drawn on ſeveral Sledges from the Tower to Tyburn. So odious were they to his Majeſty's good Subjects, that Miles Corbet himſelf declared how ſenſible he was of the Peoples Hatred and Reproaches expreſſed in their Way to Execution. As they were drawn along, Barkſtead was obſerved to be eating, Okey had an Orange, and Corbet a Book. The Number and Crowd of the People was ſo great (ſo many Thouſands, as thoſe who were not preſent will hardly believe) that the Sheriffs were forced to cauſe the Priſoners to be taken off the Sledges at ſome Diſtance, and ſo conveyed into the Cart, which for that Purpoſe was before placed ready under the Gallows, there being no poſſible Room to be made to drive the Sledges nearer: Barkſtead's Sledge being foremoſt, he was firſt brought into the Cart, where the Executioner immediately took off his Peruke (wherein was a Paper unwritten, worn with his Peruke) and put the Rope about his Neck, which Barkſtead complaining was too ſtreight, the Executioner told him he ſhould have Rope enough, and looſned it. The Executioner perceiving the other two not come (who as yet were hindred by the great Crowd and preſs of People) ſaid to Barkſtead, if you pleaſe, you may to your Prayers now; but Barkſtead taking forth a Silver Bottle, drank, and ſaid, I will ſtay till my Brethren come. Whereupon (as ſoon as Paſſage could be made) Okey was brought up; to whom Barkſtead ſaid, welcome Brother; at which Okey imbraced him, and after ſaid, Mr. Sheriff we ſhall have Liberty to ſpeak and pray, I hope; the Sheriff replied, you muſt not think we can ſtand here to hear you juſtify yourſelf in ſuch a Crime as that for which you are brought hither, but if you can moderate yourſelf, and do any Thing in order to make your Peace with God, you may have Liberty. Then Corbet was brought up, after which the Noiſe being ſomewhat allayed, Okey ſaid, Mr. Sheriff, the Providence of God hath brought us to this Place to pay that which every

They deſire Liberty to ſpeak. Which was granted by the Sheriff.

Speech of Mr. Okey.

every Man oweth. I ſhall not trouble you to boaſt of any Thing but my Infirmities: I can ſay nothing of my Birth, our Tribe being the leaſt of Iſrael, and I the leaſt of the Family. It is not unknown what Troubles have been in the Nation, and that I was called out to ſerve the Parliament, (but recalling himſelf preſently) he ſaid, the King and Parliament, and ſerved according to my beſt Knowledge faithfully. I am adjudged for the Matter of the King. I was not of the Council within or without: I knew nothing of it till I ſaw the Paper that was printed. I ſate once or twice: I prayed for him, and ſo for this King, as is my Duty. I had no Malice; I might err in Judgment, but not in Will. I have often begg'd that if there were any Malice in me againſt the King, the Lord would diſcover it to me; I did it but this Morning. Whatever Aims and Deſigns others had, as appeared afterwards that they had ſome, I had none. I take this as juſt from God for not walking with God. You have ſeen many Troubles and much Bloodſhed, a Vacancy as to a ſingle Perſon. The Nation wiſh'd much for him that now reigns, and I wiſh that he may reign here and for ever with Righteouſneſs. I wiſh the People would in ſome Meaſure walk anſwerable to ſuch a Mercy. I deſire as a dying Man, that ſeeing they have received ſo great a Mercy, they would as they love the King, and as in Duty they ought, pray more for the King, and drink leſs; for if you heard what I heard beyond Sea, it would make your Hairs ſtand an end. I deſire that as this Nation hath and doth flouriſh, ſo it may continue, and every one endeavour to fear God and Honour the King, and every one beg for the flouriſhing of the Goſpel. Here the Sheriff ſaid, I am glad to hear this from you. Then Okey went on, Had there not then been a Face of Authority when I join'd with them, I would have diſown'd them. I was coming over into England, and I ſtaid but two Days too long, and then I heard the Votes of the Houſes had paſs'd that it was too late for me to come in; if I had, I would rather have ſuffered than done any Thing againſt them. I was always for Magiſtracy and Miniſtry, my Prayers are that God would give you Peace and Truth.

Speech of Mr. Corbet.

Then Miles Corbet began (with a Promiſe to obſerve the Sheriff's Directions in ſpeaking nothing that might give Offence) and ſaid thus, We are now dying Men, on dying Ground, in the Preſence of the great God. I deſire to ſpeak in his Fear touching what we are to ſuffer for. I ſhall ſay, if this which is done to us were without Authority it were abominable, but the Wiſdom of the Nation, the Parliament hath done it, and the Judges have adjudged it. Men may judge and make Laws, it is our Duty to ſubmit, or elſe we muſt depart. There have been ſome Aſperſions caſt upon us, as if we were againſt Magiſtracy and Miniſtry: As for his Majeſty, the Hand of God hath brought him in, I deſire in all Things he may act for God, and for the true Profeſſors of Religion, the Proteſtant Religion. I have heard abroad, that there are many Sects broke out; truly there is more and a greater Light in this Nation than in any Place about us. The Glory of a Nation is in the Multitude of People that fear the Lord, and in all the Places where I have travelled (which have been very many Miles) I have not found any that have ſo great a Light, and live ſo much after it: I deſire both the Goſpel may have a free Courſe, and that Men may live according to it. As for the congregational Way, of which I profeſs my ſelf, I think that which was agreed upon at the Savoy to be the beſt, and I can aſſent to that which was done by the Aſſembly of Divines at Weſtminſter, except to their Diſcipline. That which I deſire upon the Knees of my Soul is, that as they are Proteſtants by Name, ſo they would appear ſuch by their Works, forbearing Swearing and Drunkenneſs. If I knew any here that I had wrong'd, I would aſk them Forgiveneſs. I have been in many publick Employments, and in all Parliaments except ſince my Abſence. I brought an Eſtate and ſpent it in them, and have nothing left for Forfeiture. I was no Contriver of the Bill againſt the King, but when it came into the Houſe, I was ſurprized and ſpake againſt it, but being done by what was then call'd the Authority of the Nation, I then thought I did not ill, I ſate but once; I would not ſpeak to juſtify it. I never bought any Land, neither Biſhops nor any other, I knew not that Trade. Let Men keep to their Station, and when God calls them, let them ſerve him and the King. If any have done me any Wrong, as People reproach'd us as we came along, the Lord forgive them; if any pray'd for us, the Lord hear their Prayers.. When we were in Holland, for this is not the only Time, we pray'd together for the King and the Peace of the Nation. As for the Court of Juſtice where we receiv'd our Sentence, I muſt ſay, that as the Law ſtands they did according to their Places.

Here again Okey ſaid to the People, As to your Religion you have ſuch Miniſters both to Life and Doctrine, the like not in the World again. I was ſixteen Years Major and Colonel in the Army, I know not any Man whoſe Ox or Aſs I took away. I forgive all, even thoſe that purſued us to Death.

Speech of Mr. Barkſtead.

Then Barkſtead ſpake, and told the Sheriff he alſo would obſerve Directions, and ſay nothing that ſhould give the leaſt Offence, and I ſhall, ſaid he, be very ſhort, both becauſe my Brethren have ſaid much which I intended, and becauſe of my preſent Weakneſs, which is not of one Day, but of a longer Continuance. I engaged very freely at the Beginning of the War, and I ſerv'd them faithfully. Before this Trouble I begg'd Pardon for my Sins, I ſhould not elſe have ſtood ſo comfortable here as I do now. In my Judgment and Practice I have been in a congregational Way. I ſhould be glad to ſee Men live anſwerable to the Goſpel: For I have been many Thouſands of Miles, and have found none ſo pure. As for the Government as it now ſtands, I can and do, and (as long as I have being) will pray for it: And as for the King, I pray God bleſs him, that he may reign both here and hereafter. I have acted formerly even againſt Men of my own Judgment, that which was very hard, and now I deſire they may live in Love, and love the Nation, I would have them ſit ſtill; the Lord will do his own Work, the late Work was the Work of the Lord. You ſay in the Beginning of your Prayer, thy Kingdom come, thy Will be done, and at the End of it, for thine is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory. God hath given the Kingdom to Jeſus Chriſt, and 'tis no Diſhonour to his Majeſty to be under that King. As to the Buſineſs of the King, I was no Contriver within nor without, but many Miles diſtant, when I was call'd to it, I did it without Malice and pray'd for him, and ſince his Majeſty came to the Throne I pray'd for him: And ſo ended, excuſing his preſent Infirmity.

Then Okey ſaid (in Confirmation of what the other had ſpoken,) it is not only our Judgment now; but was our Practice beyond Sea, to perſuade People to live quietly.

Their Prayers.

After which they went to Prayers, Corbet pray'd firſt, Okey next, and then Barkſtead, each of them praying for the King and Council, and particularly that God would make his Majeſty a nurſing Father over the People of this Nation, with many more like Expreſſions, and deſiring that he might reign happily both here and hereafter.

When their Prayers were ended, and their Caps pull'd over their Faces, they all ſaid, Lord into thy Hands we commit our Spirits, Chriſt have Mercy upon our Souls: Which Words they repeated till the Cart wherein they all ſtood was driven from under them. The Cart was ſo placed that they all hung with their Faces towards Weſtminſter; Barkſtead was firſt cut down and quartered, Okey next, and then Corbet; after which their Quarters were carried away to be boiled, and diſpoſed in ſeveral Places according to Order.

Diſpoſal of their Heads and Quarters;

Only Okey allowed to be buried in the Tower of London.

Merc. Publ. No. 16, 4to. p. 256.

His Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed to ſignify his Will and Pleaſure to the Sheriffs of London, that the Head and Quarters of John Okey, who was executed on Saturday, be buried in the Tower of London, in regard at his Execution he exhorted the People to reſt quietly, and live in Obedience under his Majeſty's Government, as he profeſſed he himſelf would have done, if God would have permitted him a longer Life; and declared that he had endeavoured to make others of the ſame Perſuaſion at his late being beyond Sea. But Barkſtead's Head is to be placed on the Traytor's Gate of the Tower of London, and Miles Corbet's Head on the Bridge, and their ſeveral Quarters on the City Gates.

The Account given by their Friends was a Libel againſt the Government.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. of Account, p. 548.

In a Diary of Mr. Thoroughgood, I find this Note: July 27, 1662. Mr. Street [Miniſter] at St. John's [in the Iſle of Thanet] was ſilenc'd and put by Preaching by Capt. Rook, by ſpecial Order from the King himſelf, becauſe the Book that was ſet out concerning the Execution of Colonel Okey and two others, was ſeen at his Houſe.

Lond. 1662. one Sheet 4to Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 759

There was likewiſe publiſhed, a Letter from Colonel Barkſtead, Colonel Okey, and Miles Corbet to their Friends in the Congregational Churches in London: Together with the Manner of their Apprehenſion. [Reflecting much upon Sir George Downing as a Revolter from their Cauſe, &c.]

Complaints of the Inſolence of popiſh Writers.

Mr. Edward Bagſhaw in the Dedication of his Enquiry into the Pope's Infallibility, dated Drury-Lane, Apr. 19, 1662. complains much of the Inſolence of Popiſh Books. Some (ſays he) have lately pleaded for Popery, and for that which is the chief Bulwark of it, the Pope's Authority, with as good a Grace, (if Railing and needleſs Rhetorick may deſerve that Name) as if they had never been anſwered. One in his great Heat of Zeal, or ſomething worſe [Ruſhworth Dialog. I.] doth tell us, that Queſtions about the Pope's Authority over Biſhops, of Biſhops over Prieſts, and of Prieſts over the Laity, are of no ſmall Moment: For he that goes about to deſtroy that Hierarchy, aimeth at nothing leſs than an utter overthrow of Religion. Which are but Bellarmine's Words in Engliſh. —— And a late nameleſs Author ſo far cries up the Pope's Authority, that he ventures to ſpeak Words which no ſober Man would own. [Fiat Lux, dedicated to the Counteſs of Arundel, and twice printed.] In my Judgment (ſaith he) Chriſt our Lord hath no leſs ſhewn his Divinity and Power in the Pope, than in himſelf. And again, all Things conſider'd, I may truly ſay, that Chriſt in the Pope and Church is more miraculous than in his own Perſon. And yet farther, as if thoſe Expreſſions were too modeſt Blaſphemy, and not barefaced enough, he goes on: The firſt great Fundamental of Chriſtian Religion, which is the Truth and Divinity of Chriſt, had it not been for the Pope, had failed long ago in the World. Whereupon enlarging himſelf, he adds, Whence I may truly ſay, that Chriſt is the Pope's God, for if the Pope had not been, and proved ſo reſolute an Aſſertor, Chriſt had not been taken for any ſuch Perſon as he is believed this Day. And ſo in a Boaſt concludes: This I will boldly ſay and am aſſured of, that if the Pope be not an unerring Guide in Affairs of Religion, all is loſt. For a Man once rid of the Controul of his Authority, may as eaſily deride and as ſolidly confute the Incarnation, as the Sprinkling of Holy Water, nor could the Reaſon of the World confute them. While I relate ſuch kind of Paſſages as theſe, which I tremble to mention, I hope your Lordſhip will pardon my Zeal, if I complain a little that Treatiſes of a far more innocent Nature are ſharply cenſured, while thoſe open Impieties do eſcape unpuniſhed, as if our Laws were keen only againſt the Aſſertors of Chriſtian Liberty, but had no Edge at all againſt the Broachers of Antichriſtian Blaſphemy.

Ruſhworth's Dialogues.

And the Author of Fiat Lux.

The Pope as full of Divinity and Power as Chriſt himſelf.

Chriſt as miraculous in the Pope and Church, as in his own Perſon.

Chriſt is the Pope's God, for without the Pope Chriſt had not been believed.

All Religion is loſt, if the Pope be not infallible.

MONDAY Apr. 21.

Proceedings of the Commons on the Bill for Uniformity.

Extracts from the Journal of the Commons.

The Houſe of Commons proceeded upon the reſt of the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity. And ſo again Die Martis 22. Apr. the Commons proceeded further upon the Lords Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity.

Dr. Mark Frank Preb. of St. Paul's, and Rector of Barley.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond.

Marcus Frank, S. T. P. collatus ab Epiſcopo Lond. ad Preb. de Iſlington in Eccl. Catth. S. Pauli, London, vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. —— ad Eccl. de Barly Com. Hertf. 2. Febr. prox. ſequ.

Augmentation of the Vicarage of Standon by Walter Lord Aſton, at the Requeſt of Mrs. Sadleir.

Sir Henry Chancy's Antiquities of Hertf. Fol. p. 223.

The Benefaction of Walter Lord Aſton, Proprietary of the Rectory, and Patron of the Vicarage of Standon Com. Hertford, who at the Inſtance and Requeſt of Anne Sadleir, Relict of Ralph Sadleir, Eſq; by Indenture dated 21. Apr. 14. Car. II. did convey a fair Houſe, with a Garden and Orchard to Sir Thomas Leventhorpe, Baronet, Sir Richard Atkins, Knt. and Baronet, Sir Ralph Baeſh, Knight of the Bath, Sir John Wats, Knt. Sir John Gore, Knt. Richard Golſton, Eſq; Edward Gardiner, Eſq; and Henry Wilkinſon, Gent. to the Uſe of the Vicars of Standon ſucceſſively for ever, reſerving yearly two Pair of Kid-Leather Gloves to the ſaid Walter Lord Aſton and his Heirs, to be paid at Chriſtmas every Year. Provided he be not preſented or put in by Sequeſtration, or any other indirect Title; but be choſen by the Conſent of Anne Sadleir, and Lord Aſton and their Heirs, with a Clauſe that when the Number of Truſtees ſhall be reduc'd to four or three at the fartheſt, new Truſtees ſhall be choſen.

The Biſhops in Convocation take Care of an Impreſſion of the Book of Common-Prayer before Aug. 24.

And conſult the Chancellor about amending a Miſtake in the Rubrick after publick Baptiſm.

And reſolve there ſhall be no Ordinations but in the four Ember-Weeks.

And that no Biſhop ordain any Man of another Dioceſe, without Letters demiſſory from his Dioceſan.

Acta Convocat. in Append. ad Synod. Angl. 8vo, 1702.

See Biſhop Gibſon's Codex Juris, Fol. p. 161.

Eod. die Lunæ 21. Apr. 1662. In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis, Reverendus Pater, &c. tractatum habuit cum Confratribus ſuis de Imprimendo Libro Publicarum Precum ante 24. Diem Menſis Auguſti Prox. Necnon de recipiend' directionibus a Domino Cancellario Angliæ quibus mediis verbum Children in loco Perſons [not baptized] per Domum Communitatis Parliamenti in Libro Publicarum Precum inſeratur. Et hoc facto, Dominus Epiſcopus London. de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum decrevit & ordinavit, quod Dominus Epiſcopus Dunelmen. in loco Domini Epiſcopi Ceſtren. modo defunct' Dominis Epiſcopis in & circa Alterationes dicti Libri Publicarum Precum 5. Martii ult. elapſ. aſſignatis adjungeretur: & alterius ſtatuit, quod nullæ Ordinationes Clericorum per aliquos Epiſcopos fierent, niſi intra quatuor tempora pro Ordinationibus aſſignat'. Quodque nullus Epiſcopus extra Diœceſin ſuam aliquos Clericos ad ſacros vel Diaconatus vel Preſbyteratus Ordines admitteret, niſi priùs Literis dimiſſoriis a Reverendiſſimo Patre Cantuar' Archiepiſcopo obtentis. Et hoc facto dictus Dominus Epiſcopus London. de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum, &c. curam & reviſionem Libri Publicarum Precum concernen' quintum diem Novembris Reverendo Patri Domino Epiſcopo Dunelm. commiſit & continuavit, &c.

Biſhop Gauden diſappointed in his Ambition to Wincheſter.

Notwithſtanding the bold Importunities of Biſhop Gauden to puſh for a Tranſlation to Wincheſter, Dr. George Morley with leſs Application obtain'd that opulent See; elected Apr. 20. confirmed May 14. following; he lived with great Reputation in it till the 29th of October 1684.

Account and Character of Archbiſhop Juxon.

Promoted in Decency to Canterbury, when his Age had made him leſs capable of filling that Poſt.

The King had no great Regard to him.

Biſhop Sheldon deep in Politicks, and dextrous in Buſineſs.

Biſhop Burnet's Hiſtory, Fol. p. 176.

Juxon the ancienteſt and moſt eminent of the former Biſhops, who had aſſiſted the late King in his laſt Hours was promoted to Canterbury, more out of Decency, than that he was then capable to fill that Poſt; for as he was never a great Divine, ſo he was now ſuperannuated. Tho' others have aſſured me, that after ſome Diſcourſes with the King, he was ſo much ſtruck with what he obſerved in him, that upon that he loſt both Heart and Hope. The King treated him with outward Reſpect, but had no great Regard to him. Sheldon and Morley were the Men that had the greateſt Credit. Sheldon was eſteemed a learned Man before the Wars: But he was now engag'd ſo deep in Politicks, that ſcarce any Prints of what he had been remained. He was a very dextrous Man in Buſineſs, had a great Quickneſs of Apprehenſion, and a very true Judgment. He was a generous and charitable Man. He had a great Pleaſantneſs of Converſation, perhaps too great. He had an Art that was peculiar to him, of treating all that came to him in a moſt obliging Manner: But few depended much on his Profeſſions of Friendſhip. He ſeemed not to have a deep Senſe of Religion if any at all; and ſpoke of it moſt commonly as of an Engine of Government, and a Matter of Policy. By this Means the King came to look on him as a wiſe and honeſt Clergyman.

And tho' with leſs Appearance of Religion, the King thought him a wiſe and honeſt Clergyman.

Account and Character of Biſhop Morley.

Pious, Charitable, and of exemplary Life.

A great Loſs by the Death of Dr. Hammond.

Morley had been firſt known to the World, as a Friend of the Lord Falkland's: And that was enough to raiſe a Man's Character. He had continued for many Years in the Lord Clarendon's Family, and was his particular Friend. He was a Calviniſt with relation to the Arminian Points, and was thought a Friend to the Puritans before the Wars: But he took Care after his Promotion to free himſelf from all Suſpicion of that kind. He was a pious and charitable Man, of a very exemplary Life, but extream paſſionate, and very obſtinate. He was firſt made Biſhop of Worceſter. Dr. Hammond, for whom that See was deſigned, died a little before the Reſtauration, which was an unſpeakable Loſs to the Church: For as he was a Man of great Learning, and of moſt eminent Merit, he having been the Perſon that during the bad Times had maintained the Cauſe of the Church in a very ſingular Manner, ſo he was a very moderate Man in his Temper, tho' with a high Principle, and probably he would have fallen into healing Counſels. He was alſo much ſet on reforming Abuſes, and for raiſing in the Clergy a due Senſe of the Obligations they lay under. But by his Death Morley was advanced to Worceſter. And not long after he was removed to Wincheſter, void by Duppa's Death. Morley was thought always the honeſter Man of the two, as Sheldon was certainly the abler Man.

Morley the honeſter, Sheldon the abler Man.

Mr. William Wood Rector of Oxendon Com. Northampt.

Reg. Laney.

Die Lunæ 21. Apr. 1662. Gulielmus Wood Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Oxendon in Com. Northton. vac. per mort. Magiſtri Langley ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Mileſii Fleetwood de Aldwinkle Armigeri.

TUESDAY Apr. 22.

Order of keeping St. George's Feaſt at Windſor.

Printed by the King's Printers 1662, 4to. Reprinted 1674.

The Order of the Ceremonies uſed at the Celebration of St. George's Feaſt at Windſor, when the Sovereign of the moſt noble Order of the Garter is preſent. Printed by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command. Edw. Walker, Garter.

I. The Manner of Proceeding to the Chapel on St. George's Eve.
II. The Ceremonies to be uſed on St. George's Day.
III. St. George's Day Afternoon.
IV. The Morrow after St. George. [Concluding.]

Then Service being ended, the Prelate and Prebends are conducted down —— and laſtly, the Sovereign, and ſo proceed to the Chapter-Houſe, where the Sovereign and Knights put off their Mantles, leave them there and depart. And ſo ends this great Solemnity.

A Committee of Commons to conſider of the Caſe of thoſe who for their Loyalty had been tranſported into Foreign Plantations.

In the Houſe of Commons, a Committee ordered to conſider as well of the Caſe and Sufferings of ſuch as for their Loyalty were tranſported into Foreign Plantations are already returned, as well as thoſe that are yet beyond the Seas.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 17. p. 259.

The Houſe reſumed the Debate of the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity, and agreed to ſeveral Amendments.

Mr. Tho. Freeman Vicar of Cold-Aſhby.

Thomas Freeman Clericus A.M. ad Vic. de Cold-Aſhby Com. Northton. vac. per Mort. Franciſci Clipſam ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Daking Gen. pleno jure, Die 22. Apr. 1662. —— Obiit 1686.

Reg. Laney. Petriburg. MS.

The King came to viſit his old Tutour Biſhop Duppa upon his Sick Bed, and kneeled down by the Bed-ſide and begg'd his Bleſſing, which the good Biſhop with one Hand on his Majeſty's Head, and the other lifted up to Heaven, gave with a moſt paſſionate Zeal.

As Biſhop Duppa was ever acceptable in the Preſence of his Maſter whilſt able to make his Approaches to the Court; ſo when Infirmity (which confin'd him to his Chamber) render'd him fit only to be viſited, he wanted not thoſe Royal Viſits made to him by his Lord. —— As once the King of Iſrael came to ſee the dying Prophet Eliſha, that he might take his Farewel, and with that Farewel a Bleſſing from one he ſhould never ſee again: So did a better King than he, the King of our Iſrael, repair to this dying Prelate a few Hours before his Expiration, not only to ſee, but to require a Benediction from him at Parting, which in the loweſt Poſture of Humility he beſought. And let me tell you, (not to flatter him) amongſt his other Virtues, never was there a more affable Sweetneſs, or leſs Pride in ſo great a Prince. Both which he fairly expreſſed, when kneeling down at the Bed-ſide, he begg'd his laſt Bleſſing, which he like Jacob on his Death-Bed (and now dim-ſighted as Jacob) with one Hand laid upon his Maſter's Head, and the other lifted up to Heaven, he with a moſt paſſionate Zeal beſtowed.

Biſhop King's [illegible]ral Serm. for Biſhop Duppa, 4to. 1662.

Wednesday Apr. 23.

The great Lords and Court Officers gone to attend the Queen at Portſmouth.

This being his Majeſty's Coronation Day the Houſes did not ſit. Several great Officers of his Majeſty's Houſhold went this Week to Portſmouth, to attend the Queen's Majeſty's happy Landing. The Lord Chamberlain, Edward Earl of Mancheſter, went on Monday laſt; the Lord High Steward, James Duke of Ormond went on Tueſday, and divers other Perſons of Honour are following after.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

The Coronation Oath omitted in the Form and Ceremonies recited in April 1661.

The Coronation Oath, &c. before omitted under April 23, 1661.

The Biſhop of London. Sir, will you grant and keep, and by your Oath confirm to the People of England, the Laws and Cuſtoms to them granted by the Kings of England, your lawful and religious Predeceſſors; and namely, the Laws, Cuſtoms, and Franchiſes granted to the Clergy by the glorious King St. Edward your Predeceſſor, according to the Laws of God, the true Profeſſion of the Goſpel eſtabliſhed in this Kingdom, agreeable to the Prerogative of the Kings thereof, and the ancient Cuſtoms of the Realm?

Skinner Motus Compoſiti in Engliſh, 1685, 8vo.

The King. I grant and promiſe to keep them.

Biſhop. Will you keep Peace and godly Agreement (according to your Power) both to God, the Holy Church, the Clergy, and the People?

King. I will keep it.

Biſhop. Sir, will you to your Power cauſe Law, Juſtice, and Diſcretion, with Mercy and Truth, to be executed according to your Judgment?

King. I will.

Biſhop. Sir, will you grant to hold and keep the Laws and rightful Cuſtoms which the Commonalty of this Kingdom have; and will you defend and uphold them to the Honour of God, ſo much as in you lieth?

King. I will grant and promiſe ſo to do.

Then the Biſhop of Rocheſter read this Admonition to the King before the People with a loud Voice.

Our Lord and King, we beſeech you to pardon, and to grant, and to preſerve unto us, and to the Churches committed to your Charge, all canonical Privileges, and do Law and Juſtice, and that you would protect and defend us, as every good King to his Kingdoms ought to be Protector and Defender of the Biſhops and the Churches under their Government.

The King. With a willing and devout Heart I promiſe and grant my Pardon, and that I will preſerve and maintain to you, and the Churches committed to your Charge, all canonical Privileges, and due Law and Juſtice, and that I will be your Protector and Defender, to my Power, by the Aſſiſtance of God, as every good King in his Kingdom in Right ought to protect and defend the Biſhops and Churches under their Government.

Then the King aroſe, and was led by the Biſhops of Dureſme and Bath and Wells to the Communion Table, where he made a ſolemn Oath in Sight of all the People, to obſerve the Premiſſes, and laying his Hand upon the Bible, ſaid,

The Things which I have promiſed I ſhall perform and keep. So help me God, and the Contents of this Book.

Lambert brought Priſoner to the Tower.

Mr. John Lambert (heretofore called Major-General Lambert) is now according to Order brought Priſoner to the Tower of London, where Sir Henry Vane will ſoon be.

Dr. Sam. Bolton Prebendary of Weſtminſter.

Sam. Bolton, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Petri le Poor, Lond. vac. per Mort. Ric. Holdworth ad praeſ. Dec. & Capit. Paul. 22. Dec. 1662. Idem admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Leonardi Foſter-lane, Lond. vac. per Inconform. Jacobi Nalton ad praeſ. Dec. & Capit. Weſtm. 26. Jan. 1662.

Ath Oxon. Vol. I. col. 562. and Vol. II. laſt Edit. col. 145.

Samuel Bolton, S. T. P. was inſtalled Prebendary of Weſtminſter April 23, 1662. He was the Son of Robert Bolton, a moſt religious and learned Puritan, born at Broughton in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, educated in Lincoln College in Oxford, and afterwards became an eminent Preacher in London, and much followed by the Preciſe Party. Being one of the King's Chaplains, he was created Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, by Virtue of the Chancellour's Letters, which ſay, that he is a Man of extraordinary Abilities, and great Integrity; and one who by preaching in this City is very ſerviceable to the Intereſt of the King and the Church, &c. He died on the eleventh of December 1668. and was buried in the Abbey Church of Weſtminſter on the South Side of the Quire, near to the Stairs leading up to the Pulpit.

Articles of Peace with Algier.

Printed at large in Mercur. Publ. 4^to^. p. 401. See June 25.

Articles of Peace between his Sacred Majeſty Charles II. King of Great-Britain, &c. and the City and Kingdom of Algier, and the Territories thereof, concluded by Sir John Lawſon, Knight, April 23, 1662.

Thursday Apr. 24.

Funeral of Biſhop Duppa, with a Sermon by Biſhop King.

Mercur. Publ. No. 17, 4to. p. 258.

This Day that reverend and virtuous Prelate, Brian late Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter, was buried in Weſtminſter-Abbey, his Corps being very decently attended thither from York Houſe in the Strand, at whoſe Funeral the Right Reverend Father in God Henry Lord Biſhop of Chicheſter, who ſucceeded this Reverend Prelate in that See of Chicheſter, beſtowed a very worthy Sermon, as due to the Memory of ſo pious a Biſhop, and the long and great Amity that had been betwixt them.

Printed at Lond. 1662. 4to. for Hen. Herringman.

A Sermon preached at the Funeral of Brian Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter, in the Abbey Church of Weſtminſter April 24, 1662. By Dr. Henry King Lord Biſhop of Chicheſter, on Pſalm cxvi. 15.

—— P. 11. You had one famous Light, whoſe Learning and exemplary Life ſhone brightly in the Orb of our Engliſh Church extinguiſhed very lately, [Dr. Ferne Biſhop of Cheſter] and when that Earth which cover'd him is ſcarcely made up, behold here another Worthy follows, ready to take his final Lodging in the ſame Duſt.

His Birth and Education.

P. 34. He was born of virtuous and worthy Parents. His Education was in this famous School, in this very College where he was admitted a King's Scholar of that noble Foundation, which hath ſent out ſo many excellent Proficients in Learning to each Univerſity. ——

P. 35. From hence he was tranſlated by Election to Chriſt-Church in Oxford, where having run through ſome Offices in the College conferr'd both as Rewards and Tryals upon the beſt Deſervers, he was remov'd to All-Souls, and when his Degree and Time made him capable of publick Employment, choſen Proctor of the Univerſity.

After the taking his Degree of Doctor, in ſome few Years he was by his Royal Maſter (whoſe Chaplain he had been) made Dean of Chriſt-Church, ſo becoming Head of that College, into which he was firſt admitted Student.

The more publick Office of Vice-Chancellour was then caſt upon him by that martyr'd Archbiſhop, who well underſtood the Univerſity's Advantage from ſo deſerving a Subſtitute.

Theſe Offices he ſupply'd with ſuch Ability and Integrity, that his gracious Maſter thought him worthy to receive the greateſt Truſt he poſſibly could plant him in, to be the Tutour and Educator of our Sovereign in his Minority, together with his Princely Brother.

A comely Perſon, of graceful Deportment, and excellent Parts.

This Truſt brought on him the Honour of a Biſhoprick for his Reward, firſt Chicheſter, then Saliſbury: Thus being lifted up two Aſcents by the Bounty of his old Maſter, he was eaſily raiſed to the third by his preſent Sovereign, the Biſhoprick of Wincheſter, in which he became Ex Officio Prelate of the Garter.—— For which he was every Way qualified, both in the Comelineſs of his Perſon, and the Graceſulneſs of his Deportment, and the Excellency of his Parts.

P. 44. This worthy Perſon —— having compleated ſeventy and three Years, with ſome few Days over, exchanged his painful Life into an everlaſting Reſt, leaving his Virtues to be imitated by thoſe that can, and his Loſs to be lamented by all that are left behind.

Mercur. Publ. 4to, No. 17. p. 260.

The Houſe of Commons proceeded upon the remaining Amendment to the Bill of Uniformity, and that Part of the Paragraph concerning the Allowance of Fifths to Nonconformiſts, and adjourned the Debate 'till Saturday.

Act for regulating Corporations executed in London.

Ibid. p. 257. Publick Intelligence, 4to.

In Purſuance of an Act of this Parliament, for regulating Corporations, the Commiſſioners nominated and appointed by his Majeſty for the City of London, have according to the ſaid Act already ſate, and diſplaced theſe Perſons following, late Members of that great Corporation.

Aldermen. Tempeſt Milner, William Love.

Common-Council Men. Bread-ſtreet Ward, John Acrod, Thomas Stanley, Henry Aſhurſt.

Aldgate Ward. John Marriot, Thomas Paris.

Alderſgate. Stephen Hams.

Bridge. John Brett, Senior.

Cheap Ward. William Hills, Thomas Jackſon, John Taylor, Daniel Nicholls.

There

And as Kidderminster by the Account of Mr. Baxter.

There came out the Act, that all that had any Place of Truſt in Cities, Corporations, or Countries ſhould be put out, unleſs they declared that they held that there is no Obligation lying upon them or any other Perſon from the Oath called the Solemn League and Covenant. Hereupon all the thirteen capital Burgeſſes, Bailiff, Juſtice, and all (ſave one that had been an Officer in the King's Army, were turned out: though I ſuppoſe never any more than two or three of them took the Oath and Covenant themſelves) and almoſt all the twenty five inferiour Burgeſſes were turned out with them. —— After a ſhort Time the Lord Windſor, who was Lord Lieutenant of the County, and Governour of Jamaica, bought a Houſe in the Town and lived among them, —— ſince which they have had three Years of as great Quietneſs and Liberty, as any Place I know in the Land.

Life of Mr. Baxter, Fol. Lib. I Part. II. p. 376.

FRIDAY April 25.

Death of Dr. Sibthorpe.

He ſeems to have been the Son of John Sibthorpe, Clerk, admitted to the Church of Aſhent in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, by Royal Preſentation, May 17, 1564.

Joh. Sibthorpe, Cler. admiſſ. fuit in Ludimagiſtrum de Water Newton in Com. Hunt. & emanarunt inde Literæ Teſtimoniales ſub Sigillo Dom. Epiſc. Linc. 3. Nov. 1604. Acta Will. Chaderton Linc. MS.

13. Febr. 1607. Rob. Sibthorpe, A. B. inſtitutus ad Vic. Sancti Egidii in Villa de Northton. vac. per Ceſſ. ult. Incumb. Reg. Dove. Petriburg.

11. Martii 1618. Robertus Sibthorpe, A. M. Vicariam ſuam ſancti Egidii in Villa Northampt. coram Epiſcopo reſignavit, & Epiſcopus poſtea inſtituit eundem ad Vic. S. Sepulchri Northampt ex Preſentatione Johannis Lamb LL. D. Reg. Dov. MS.

8. Apr. 1662. Epiſcopus inſtituit Rob. Sibthorpe, A. M. ad Vic. S. Petri de Brackley ad preſ. Will. Liſle Armig. vac. per Reſign. ult. Incumb. Reg. Dove.

23. Sept. 1629. Dom. Epiſcopus inſtituit Rob. Sibthorpe, S. T. P. ad Rect. de Burton Latimers ad preſ. Caroli Regis jure Prærogativa per Promot. Joh. Owen, S. T. P. ad Epiſcopatum Aſaphen. Reg. Dove.

5. Maii 1662. Georgius Beck, A. M. ad Rect. de Burton Latimers, vac. per Mort. Roberti Sibthorpe, S. T. P. Reg. Laney.

Death of a much talk'd of Man, Dr. Robert Sibthorpe, initiated in Academical Learning in Lincoln College, Oxon. as it ſeems, but leaving the Univerſity before he took a Degree, entred into Holy Orders, and taking to Wife the Daughter of Sir John Lamb of Rothwell in Northamptonſhire, Chancellour of Peterborough, and afterwards Dean of the Arches, was put into the Commiſſion of the Peace, being then Rector of Water-Stratford in Bucks, by the Gift of Sir Arthur Throckmorton of Paulerſpurg.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 180.

About that Time ſhewing himſelf a fierce Perſecutor of the Puritans living near him, he was through the Means of his Father-in-law made Vicar of Brackley in Northamptonſhire: And by the Endeavours of Dr. Pierſe Vice-Chancellour of Oxon. Doctor of Divinity, Ann. 1624. though he before had not been honoured with any Degree in this, or as I preſume in any other Univerſity. He with Roger Manwaring were ſtiff Aſſertors of the King's Cauſe and Prerogative, and great Promoters for the Raiſing a Loan of Money without the Knowledge and Aſſiſtance of his Parliament, Ann. 1626. For which Service both had Preferment, Manwaring being afterwards made Rector of Stanford-Rivers in Eſſex, &c. and Sibthorpe Chaplain in Ordinary to his Majeſty, Prebendary of Peterborough, and Rector of Burton Latimers in Northamptonſhire; from which two laſt he was violently ejected in the Beginning of the Civil Wars. He was a Perſon of little Learning and of few Parts, only made it his Endeavours by his Forwardneſs and Flatteries to gain Preferment. —— His remarkable Sermon was entitled, Apoſtolical Obedience. An Aſſize Sermon at Northampton, on Rom. xiii. 7. The whole Scope of which is to juſtify the Lawfulneſs of the General Loan; and of the King's impoſing publick Taxes by his own Regal Power without Conſent in Parliament, and to prove that the People in Point of Conſcience and Religion, ought chearfully to ſubmit to ſuch Loans and Taxes without any Oppoſition. For which Matters he was called into Queſtion, and cenſured by the Parliament. In the Time of the Rebellion he ſuffered very great Calamities for his Majeſty's Cauſe: But upon the Return of King Charles II. he was reſtored to his Prebendſhip, Rectory of Burton Latimers, and other Eccleſiaſtical Benefices, if he had any beſides them, and that dying in a good old Age, he was buried on the twenty fifth of April 1662. in the Chancel of the Church of Burton Latimers.

He had taken both the Degrees in Arts.

Not Preb. of Peterb.

London, 1627. 4to.

Theſe Miſtakes are to be rectified in this Account given by Mr. Wood; 1. That he had taken no Degree 'till that of Doctor of Divinity in 1624. whereas in our Regiſters he is ſtyled Batchelor of Arts in 1607. and Maſter of Arts in 1617. and again Maſter of Arts in 1622. 2. That he was Prebendary of Peterborough, whereas 'tis certain he had no ſuch Dignity. 3. That he was a Perſon of little Learning and few Parts; whereas the Court and Countrey thought he deſerv'd a better Character.

During the Uſurpation he underwent great Calamities, and once particularly was forced to fly for his Life in the Habit of his Clerk. He was likewiſe plundered of all that he had. Wood ſaith, he was a Perſon of little Learning and few Parts, and only made it his Buſineſs by Forwardneſs and Flattery to gain Preferment. But Lloyd ſeems to give another Turn to his Character, makes him a Man of Worth and Piety, and tells us, that Biſhop Towers in his Letter to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, wiſhed Sibthorpe as heartily in the Deanery, as himſelf in the Palace.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy. P. II. p. 60. b.

A further Account given by the Honourable Sir John Dolben, Baronet, preſent Rector of Burton Latimers.

After the Reſtauration it does not appear that he had any additional Preferment, or was reſtored to be Chaplain at Court. It being a great Part of the Wiſdom of the King and his Miniſters not to pay much Countenance to any of the Clergy who had been cenſur'd as Incendiaries of the late Civil Wars.

There are now very few in the Pariſh of Burton Latimers that remember him: But the old Men ſay by Tradition, that he was of a very hoſpitable Diſpoſition, and liberal to the Poor; very active and induſtrious in maintaining the Rights of the Inhabitants againſt the Incroachment of the Lords of the Manor [the Bacons]. Upon which Account chiefly his Memory ſeems to be very dear amongſt them; and he was eminently celebrated as a Perſon that always ſtood up for the common Good. The Senſe his Pariſhioners had of his Integrity, and the thorough Confidence they repoſed in him, appears from a written Teſtimony concerning him in one of the Pariſh Books, ſigned by ſeveral of them. The Church of Burton was beautified, and that of St. Giles's in Northampton rebuilt by his Procurement. Over the Pulpit in the Church of St. Giles's Northampton there remains this Inſcription:

MS. Letter to the Biſhop of Peterbor.

Rob. Sibthorpe*'s Care*
To God's true Fear
This down fall'n Church
Got Help to rear.
1616.

The Accurateneſs of the Pariſh Books of Burton, the Precedents of various Kinds, and the uſeful Memorandums of ſeveral remarkable Things, that happened here during the former Part of his Time (which were taken by his particular Direction) ſhew him to have been a very conſiderable and very good Man. He marry'd a Widow whoſe Name was Bird, and there was one of the ſame Name (probably a Relation of his Wife's) his Curate at Burton ſeveral Years. He was D. D. Chaplain to King Charles I. and a Juſtice of Peace. He died here in 1662. and was buried within the Rails of the Altar on the twenty fiſth of April that Year. No Remains or Tradition of any Monument or Inſcription for him.

Dr. Edward Martin Dean of Ely.

Die Dominico Oct. 16, 1631. Edwardus Martin electus eſt & admiſſus Præſidens Collegii Regin. Cantab. S. T. B.

Le Neve Faſti. p. 72. See Aug. 2, 1660. Faſti Oxon. Vol. I. c. 840. Queen's College. See May 30, 1662.

Dr. Edward Martin, S. T. P. Maſter of Queen's College Cambridge, obtained his Majeſty's Letters for the Deanery of Ely, void by the Promotion of Dr. Henry Ferne to the See of Cheſter, dated Febr. 22, 1661. and was inſtalled by Proxy April 26, 1662. and died preſently after. He had been incorporated B. D. at Oxford June 16, 1621. afterwards Doctor of that Faculty, Chaplain to Archbiſhop Laud, Rector of Houghton Conqueſt in Bedfordſhire, and of Dunnington in Cambridgeſhire, Maſter of St. John's College in Cambridge, and Dean of Ely. But being a zealous Man for the Church of England, was turned out of thoſe Livings by the Committee of Religion, as you may largely ſee in that infamous Libel, entitled, The firſt Century of ſcandalous malignant Prieſts, &c. He loſt other Spiritualities, and ſuffer'd much for the King's Cauſe, notwithſtanding he was a godly and learned Man. All that ſeems bad of him, you may ſee in Canterbury's Doom, publiſhed by William Pryn, an inveterate Enemy to Prelacy, &c.

Offence taken at his licenſing an Hiſtorical Relation written by Dr. Tho. Jackſon.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 541.

An Hiſtorical Narration, &c. written by Dr. Thomas Jackſon Dean of Peterborough, was licenſed by Dr. Edward Martin, domeſtick Chaplain to Biſhop Laud, without his Privity, for which he turned him out of his Service (as he himſelf ſaith) and the Book called in and ſuppreſſed. But Pryn, an implacable Enemy to the Biſhop, ſaith, That the ſaid Hiſtorical Narration, which was the vileſt Impoſture that was ever thruſt upon our Church, was licenſed by the ſaid Martin with Laud's Privity, and that the calling of it in was the Act of Archbiſhop Abbot, upon Pryn's Complaint and the publick Scandal it gave, much againſt Laud's Will, who ever ſince connived at the Sale of them.

Cant. Doom. p. 508, 510.

A Collection of Dr. Martin's, publiſhed after his Death.

Lond. 1662. 12°. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 157.

Soon after his Death was publiſhed a ſmall Collection, entitled, Dr. Martin, late Dean of Ely, his Opinion of Churches and Perſons. Together with his Character of divers Engliſh Travellers in the Time of our late Troubles; particularly of Dr. Coſin Dean of Peterborough at Paris, &c. [By which it appears, his Principles were very rigid, and his Temper ſour'd by Sufferings and a tedious Exile.]

Removed from his Maſterſhip of Queen's College in Cambridge, and Mr. Herbert Palmer put in his Place by the Earl of Mancheſter, Chancellour of the Univerſity,

Ex Notis MSS. Tho. Baker, S. T. B. in Rebus Academicis verſatiſſimi.

April 11, 1644. On which Day the Right Honourable Edward Earl of Mancheſter in Purſuit of an Ordinance of Parliament, for regulating and reforming the Univerſity of Cambridge, came in Perſon into the Chapel of Queen's College, and by the Authority to him committed as aforeſaid, did, in Preſence of all the Fellows now reſident, declare and publiſh Mr. Herbert Palmer to be conſtituted Maſter of the ſaid College, in the Room of Dr. Edward Martin, late Maſter there, but now juſtly and lawfully ejected, requiring him the ſaid Mr. Herbert Palmer then preſent to take upon him the ſaid Place, Office, and Charge, and did put him into the ſaid Maſter's Seat or Stall within the ſaid Chapel, and delivered unto him the Statutes of the ſaid College in Teſtimony of his actual Inveſtiture and Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Charge: And the ſaid Earl of Mancheſter doth likewiſe ſtraitly charge all and every the Fellows, Scholars, and Students, and all others belonging to the ſaid College, to acknowledge him the ſaid Mr. Herbert Palmer to be actual Maſter of this College, and ſufficiently authorized to execute the ſaid Office, and accordingly uſe unto him all ſuch Reſpects and Obedience, as the Statutes of the ſaid Houſe do require to be given unto him, as Maſter thereof: Notwithſtanding he be not elected or admitted according to the ordinary Courſe preſcribed by the ſaid Statutes, in this Time of Diſtraction and War; there being a Neceſſity of Reforming as well of the Statutes themſelves, as of the Members of the College. In witneſs whereof the ſaid Earl of Mancheſter hath commanded this Declaration and Act of his Lordſhip to be entred into the Leidger-Book of Acts of the ſaid College, and alſo of the Univerſity of Cambridge to remain of Record for perpetual Memory.

Though not elected or ſtatutably admitted.

MANCHESTER.

Mr. Will. Towers Prebendary of Peterborough and Son of the late Biſhop, admitted to the Rectory of Fiſkerton Com. Linc.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

Die 25. Apr. 1662. Gulielmus Towers, S. T. B. [Prebendarius Eccleſiæ Petriburg. Filius Johannis Towers, S. T. P. nuper Epiſcopi] admiſſus eſt ad Rect. de Fiſkerton in Com. Linc. ad Preſentationem Decani & Capituli S. Petri de Burgo pleno jure Patronorum, [where he was a Benefactor to the Church and Poor, and left a very charitable Daughter.]

SATURDAY April 26.

Order of the Lords for a Report on the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations.

Journal of the Lords.

It is this Day ordered by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, that the Lords the Judges or any one of them to whom the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations hath been by Order referred, are to make their Report to this Houſe on Wedneſday next.

The Commons deſire a Conference on the finiſhed Bill of Uniformity.

Mercur. Publ. N°. 17. p. 260.

The Houſe of Commons reſumed the Debate of the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity, and have now perfectly finiſhed their Debates, and thereupon deſired a Conference with the Lords.

The Biſhops in Convocation agree on the Forms of Prayer for

Append. ad Synod. Angl.

Eod. die Sabbati 26. Apr. 1662. Formæ Precum pro 5to Novembris, 30. Januarii & 29. Maii, fuerunt introductæ & publice perlectæ, & unanimi conſenſu approbatæ.

for Novemb. 5. Jan. 30. and May 29.
And conſult for a Tranſlation of the Liturgy into Latin.

approbatæ. Et tractatu inter eos habit' & fact' de Tranſlatione Libri Publicarum Precum in Sermonem Latinum. Dominus Epiſcopus London, &c. de & cum conſenſu Confratrum ſuorum, &c. curam Tranſlationis ejuſd. Reverendis Viris Johanni Earle Decano B. Petri Weſtm. & Johanni Pearſon ſacræ reſpective Theologiæ Profeſſoribus commiſit.

MONDAY April 28.
Debate of the Commons on the Amendments to the Bill for Uniformity.
Order for recommending to the Convocation reverend and uniform Geſtures and Demeanors at publick Prayers and Preaching.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

Die Lunæ 28. Apr. 1662.

The Houſe of Commons reſumed the Debate upon the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity. —— A Proviſo for being uncovered, and for uſing reverend Geſtures at the Time of divine Service was twice read, but the Matter being held proper for the Convocation, ordered that ſuch Perſons as ſhall be employed to manage the Conference with the Lords, do intimate the Deſire of this Houſe, that it be recommended to the Convocation to take Order for reverend and uniform Geſtures and Demeanors to be enjoined at the Time of divine Service and Preaching.

The Commons make an Amendment for preſerving the Book of Common-Prayer in Courts, &c.
And for tranſlating the Bible into Welſh.

Mercur. Publ. N°. 17. p. 271.

The Houſe paſſed an Amendment to be added to the Amendments ſent from the Lords, for the preſerving of the Book of Common-Prayer, by having it recorded and kept in Cathedral Churches, in the Courts at Weſtminſter, and in the Tower of London; with another Amendment for tranſlating the Bible into Welſh.

Prince Rupert D. of Buckingham and Lord Middleton ſworn of the Privy-Council.

Ibid. p. 272.

This Day his Highneſs Prince Rupert, George Duke of Buckingham, and John Lord Middleton, Lord Great Commiſſioner of Scotland were ſworn of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council.

Mr. Fran. Hall collated to St. Michael Baſſiſhaw, London.

Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 176.

Apr. 28. 1662. Francis Hall, S. T. B. was collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, to the Church of St. Michael Baſſiſhaw in London, which he reſigned in 1664. He had been collated to the Prebend of More in the Church of Paul's, Aug. 23, 1660. by Dr. Will. Juxon, then Biſhop of London, and on Feb. 12. following by the ſame Patron, now Archbiſhop of Canterbury, collated to the Church of St. Pancras, Soper-Lane; he voided his Prebend (if I miſtake not) in 1682.

TUESDAY April 29.
The Commons agree to the Bill for ſowing Flax and Hemp, excepting the Clauſe of exempting from Tythes.
The Lords agree to the Bill for repairing Streets and Highways.

Mercur. Publ. N°. 17. p. 271.

The Bill for ſowing Flax and Hemp was reported to the Houſe of Commons with ſeveral Amendments, which were all agreed to except that Clauſe which exempted the Land ſown with Flax and Hemp to be free from Tythes. Whereupon it was recommitted, and all Members that come are to have Voices.

A Meſſage from the Lords, ſignifying, that their Lordſhips agreed with the Commons in all the Amendments to the Bill for repairing the Streets and Highways in and near London and Weſtminſter.

Proclamation for the Prizing of Victuals within the Verge.

Ibid. N°. 18.

By his Majeſty. A Proclamation for the Prices of Victuals within the Verge of his Majeſty's Houſhold; to prevent the Exaction of Bakers, Butchers, Brewers, &c. upon any his Majeſty's Servants, Train, or others attending the Court, &c. Given Apr. 26, 1662.

The Queen in the Bay of Biſcay ſends Meſſengers to give Account to the King.

Heath's Chron p 507.

The Queen who had imbarked in the Royal Charles from Liſbon, Apr. 13. met with ſuch contrary Winds, that in a Fortnight's Time they hardly got into the Middle of the Bay of Biſcay, where her Majeſty diſpatched away Mr. Mountague, Sir Thomas Sandes, and Sir Joſeph Douglas on the 29th of April at ſeven at Night, to give an Account to the King.

Account from Scotland of the Reception of the Archbiſhop at Glaſcow.

Ibid. p. 265.

Account given from Glaſcow in Scotland, of the Archbiſhop of that See and the Lord Chancellour, attended with a numerous Retinue of Nobility and Gentry, making their Entry into that City on Saturday April 19. and walking on Foot towards the Cathedral, where the Lord Chancellour had provided an Houſe for the Lord Archbiſhop to lodge in with himſelf, the Caſtle where he is to reſide being not yet fully repaired. That on the 20th being the Lord's-Day, the Lord Archbiſhop himſelf preached in the Cathedral a learned, pious, and peaceable Sermon, to the great Satisfaction of that numerous Auditory; after which the Magiſtrates according to ancient Cuſtom waited on him home. That on Monday 21. the Lord Chancellour and Archbiſhop went to viſit the Univerſity, where one of the Profeſſors entertained them with a loyal and learned Speech; after which they received their Archbiſhop in their Faculty Houſe as their Chancellour, it being an ancient Right belonging to the Archbiſhops of Glaſcow, from the very Foundation of that College. In fine, never was any Biſhop ſo chearfully and with ſuch large Teſtimonies of Affection received into this Place. So that I may ſay, the People were truly ſenſible, as Mr. Blair one of the Miniſters of Glaſcow did well obſerve in his Sermon in the Afternoon, that this Time ought deſervedly to be accounted as a Time of the Churches joyful Reſurrection from the Dead.

The Archbiſhops are Viſitors of that Univerſity.

WEDNESDAY Apr. 30.
The Ducheſs of York brought to bed of a Daughter.

Mercur. Publ. 4to N°. 18. p. 269.

Die Mercurii 30. Aprilis, 1662.

This Morning very early her Highneſs the Ducheſs of York was brought to Bed of a Daughter at St. James's.

Conference of Lords and Commons upon the Bill for Uniformity.

A Meſſage was ſent from the Commons by James Herbert, Eſq; (Brother to the Earl of Pembroke) who went up to the Lords with others to deſire a Conference upon the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity; and being returned, that the Lords had conſented to a preſent Conference in the Painted Chamber, which was held accordingly, after which the Commons adjourn'd 'till Friday Morning, having ordered a Report to be then made.

The Lord Chief Juſtice of the King's-Bench reported to the Houſe of Lords, that in Obedience to their Lordſhips Order of the twentieth of March laſt, he and

One Clauſe is againſt the Act of Oblivion;

And may be againſt the Bill for Judicial Proceedings.

and the reſt of the Judges have conſidered, whether the Act entitled, An Act for reſtoring all ſuch Advowſons, Rectories, and Impropriations, Glebe-Land and Tythes to his Majeſty's Loyal Subjects as were taken from them, and making void certain Charges impoſed on them upon their Compoſitions for Delinquency by the late uſurped Powers, be againſt the Act of Indemnity and the Act of confirming Judicial Proceedings, or either of them? And they are of Opinion, that the Clauſe in that Bill concerning the Payment of Arrears as yet remaining in the Tenants Hands unto thoſe to whom the Right did belong is againſt the Act of Oblivion. And they were further informed, that divers of the ſaid Advowſons, Tythes, &c. have been purchaſed for divers valuable Conſiderations, with the Conſent of the former Owners; and for others of them, which exceeded in value the Compoſition Money agreed to be paid) the Owners had a Conſideration. And they conceive, that all the reſt of them (the Truſt which was in the late Truſtees being determined) are now in his Majeſty's Diſpoſe. And the Caſe being various, it may fall out, that this Bill as it is penned, may, as to ſome of thoſe Caſes be againſt the Bill of Judicial Proceedings, or Act of Oblivion; and as to others of them not againſt the ſaid Acts: And therefore they cannot give a full and general Anſwer to their Lordſhips Queſtion. But as to thoſe Advowſons, Rectories, Tythes, &c. which were taken away from any of his Majeſty's Loyal Subjects, only as in Part of, or in full for their Compoſitions, they humbly conceive that it is not againſt the Act of Judicial Proceedings or Act of Indemnity, if his Majeſty (in whom they are now) ſhall conſent to an Act for reſtoring the ſame.

Yet his Majeſty may conſent to an Act for reſtoring Advowſons, &c. taken away from his Loyal Subjects for their Compoſitions in the late Times.

A Letter of the Lord Clarendon as Chancellour of Oxford to his Vice-Chancellour.

Letter of the Lord Clarendon to the Univerſity of Oxford;

In excuſe for his late Deſire of a Diploma for a Doctor's Degree for the Speaker's Chaplain and Unkle Mr. Carpenter:

Inter Archiva Acad. Oxon.

Good Mr. Vice-Chancellour,

I have received your's of the twenty firſt, and have ſince received the Diploma by Dr. Mews, which I have ſent to Mr. Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, for whoſe Sake only I recommended it to you: And indeed having ſtopp'd that Letter, and upon that Occaſion I hope prevented ſending any more of the ſame Nature, I could not well deny his Interpoſition on the Behalf of a Perſon, who doth every Day officiate in the Houſe of Commons. The like Importunity hath not prevailed with me on the Behalf of the other two Prebendaries of Wells, who had likewiſe obtained Letters from the King, which were alſo returned me by you. And in Truth the Favour you have done this third Perſon can hardly be ſaid to have proceeded from my Motion: And therefore I hope the Chearfulneſs with which you ſay the Convocation hath formerly received my Recommendations will not be thereby depreſſed: And you may very confidently aſſure the Convocation, that I am naturally as reſerved in, and averſe to ſuch Recommendations as they can wiſh. And as I have very poſitively refuſed to comply with the Importunity of very great Perſons in that Affair: So if you look over all the Letters I have wrote to that Purpoſe, you will, I think, find none but ſuch as have been on the Behalf of Strangers, who never intend to come into England, and have merited well from the King abroad; or of thoſe who being eſpecially recommended by my Lords the Biſhops of London and Wincheſter, ſeemed by that to have alſo a Pre-approbation from the Univerſity. And even at my being there, when you told me the Univerſity reſolved to do me that Honour as to confer ſome Degrees in my Preſence. I did not myſelf recommend any but Dr. Rawlinſon and three or four more, nor were the reſt known to me otherwiſe than by ſuch Recommendation as I received there of them: So that the Univerſity need have no Apprehenſion of any unreaſonable Condeſcenſions in that kind from me, who never willingly call any Man Doctor, who comes to that Degree per ſaltum, and without performing all thoſe Obligations which are incumbent to the Degree. I have no more to add, but that I am,

With a Promiſe not to yield to the Importunity of others for the like Favour.

Moſt of his former Letters were for Strangers; or for Perſons recommended by the Biſhops of London and Wincheſter.

The Univerſity need not apprehend his unreaſonable condeſcending in ſuch Caſes.

Your very Affectionate Servant,

Worceſter Houſe,
April 30, 1662.

Clarendon C.

In Conventu Præfectorum Ædium tertio Maii ſubſequentis habito, Dr. Baylie Vice-Cancellarius Literas ſupra-ſcriptas perlegit, & quilibet Præfectus tunc Temporis præſens promiſit ſe tenorem Literarum prædictarum in ſuo Collegio vel Aula publicaturum.

Indulgence to Diſſenters publiſhed at Dublin.

Sir Ja. Ware Geſta Hibernorum.

His Majeſty's Royal Indulgence to Diſſenters was publiſhed in Dublin by the Lords Juſtices of Ireland April 30, 1662.

Journal of the Earl of Sandwich in his Voyage with the Queen.

Orig. MS.

A Continuation of the Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich in his Voyage with the new Queen from Portugal.

Lord Marlburgh and others bound for the Eaſt-Indies.

Tueſday April 22. This Morning we met a Merchant Ship bound for the Eaſt-Indies with my Lord Marleburgh; and at Noon the Convertine with Captain Povey and Soldiers for the Eaſt-Indies alſo. They gave us for News that all was well in England.

Complaint of Sugar Cheſts broken up.

Thurſday April 24. Sir John Mennes came a-board, informed me of Men in the Elias that had broken up ſome Sugar Cheſts, I gave him Order to call a Council of War, and to try the Men.

Saturday

Lord Sandwich waits on the Queen, and receives her Commands to make the beſt of his Way, and to ſend Mr. Mountague to England.

Saturday April 26. I waited upon the Queen in the Morning to know her Pleaſure concerning the making the beſt of our Way, and ſending Mr. Mountague before for England. The Conde de Ponte (to whoſe Agreement with me the Queen referr'd herſelf) adviſed not to part Company with the Pearl and Elias. Mr. Mountague to go ſpeedily. And accordingly this Evening Mr. Mountague went for England in the Princeſs, with Letters from the Queen. I wrote to the King, Duke, Lord Chancellour (to whom I incloſed a Letter from the Queen) and Lady Sand. At this Time alſo I ſent the Pacquet prepared to be ſent as ſoon as we came out of the River of Liſbon.

Monday April 28. The Princeſs was yet in Sight four Leagues off us, and two other Ships five or ſix Leagues off on our Starboard Side.

Wedneſday April 30. The Mountague ſtrook Ground at Noon in an hundred Fathom: The Rubye at two o' Clock in eighty five Fathom. They reckon their Latitude 48 ½.

Account of ſome Books and Papers publiſhed in or about April 1662.

The Hiſtory of three famous Non-conformiſts, Barrow, Greenwood, and Penry, in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, now publiſhed by ſome who ſay they ſuffer for the ſame Things.

London, Printed for W. Marſhall, 4to.

The Examinations of Henry Barrow, John Greenwood, and John Penry before the High Commiſſioners and Lords of the Council. With their Anſwers to the many Queſtions why they would not take an Oath, and why they refuſed to hear, or have Communion in the Church of England. As alſo Mr. Penry's Declaration of his Faith and Allegiance to her Majeſty; and his Letter to the Church at London, where he was a Member, under their manifold Tryals: Together with Mr. Barrow's Letter a little before his Death. Faithfully penned by the Priſoners themſelves, very uſeful for all ſuffering Chriſtians, who ſuffer for the ſame Things.

Hiſt. of the Catholick Church for 1000. Years, by the Scots Miniſter at Roterdam.

Printed at the Hague by Adrian Ulack, 1662. Fol.

A compendious Hiſtory of the Catholick Church from the Year 600. until the Year 1600. ſhewing her Deformation and Reformation; together with the Riſe, Reign, Rage, and Begin-Fall of the Roman Antichriſt, with many other profitable Inſtructions. Gathered out of divers Writers of the ſeveral Times, and the other Hiſtories. By Alexander Petrie, Miniſter of the Scots Congregation at Roterdam. Dedicated to his Highneſs William III. by the Grace of God Prince of Orange, &c. Together with a Continuation of the Hiſtory of Scotland's Aſſemblies from 1601. to the Time when they were brought to an End without any repealing Law, or juſt Reaſon.

Mr. Humfrey's ſecond Diſcourſe of Re-ordination.

London, for T. Williams, 1662, 4to.

A ſecond Diſcourſe about Re-Ordination, being an Anſwer to two or three Books come out againſt this Subject, in Behalf of the many concerned at this Seaſon, who for the Sake of their Miniſtry, and upon Neceſſity do yield to it, in Defence of their Submiſſion. By John Humfrey, Miniſter. Together with his Teſtimony, which from the good Hand of the Lord is laid upon himſelf to bear againſt the Evil, and to prevent or redreſs (as much as by him may be poſſible) the Danger of the Impoſition.

The ſixth Edition of Helvicus Theatrum Hiſtoricum at Oxford.

Oxonii 1662. Fol.

Ath. Oxon. *Vol.*II.col 883. Edit. 1721.

Chr. Helvici Theatrum Hiſtoricum, &c.

Mr. Samuel Lee wrote in the Name of Henry Hall the Printer, Epiſtola Lectoribus Chronographicis præſertim Oxonienſis Academiæ florentiſſimæ Alumnis; ſet before this Latin Chron. of Helvicus, when printed at Oxon. in Fol. 1651. the Beginning of which is, Cum exemplaria Helvici, &c. and alſo penn'd Tractatulus ad Periodum Julianam ſpectans, &c. written in the Name of the ſaid Printer to the Reader, and hath this Beginning, Nemo tam præpoſtero conatu, &c. which Tractatulus doth immediately follow the ſaid Epiſtola Lectoribus in the ſaid Edition. Our Author Lee alſo continued the ſaid Theatrum Hiſtoricum of Helvicus from about the Year 1630. to 1651. and from thence again to 1662. when then again it was reprinted the ſixth Time. In which Edition of 1662. Mr. Lee did put, of his Writing, Tractatulus de Antiquitate Academiæ Oxon. printed in a Folio Leaf, and placed between Epiſt. Lectoribus and Tractatulus ad Periodum, which two laſt are, each of them, printed alſo in half a Sheet Folio.

Two Latin Tracts of Dr. Tho. Willis, Sidley Profeſſor at Oxford.

Haga Comitis 1662. 8vo. p. 376.

Diatribæ duæ Medico-Philoſophicæ de Fermentatione, ſive de Motu inteſtino particularum in quovis Corpore. Altera de Febribus ſive de Motu earundem in Sanguine Animalium. His acceſſit Diſſertatio Epiſtolica de Urinis. Studio Thomæ Willis, ex Æde Chriſti Oxon. M. D. & in iſta celeberrima Academia Naturalis Philoſophiæ Profeſſoris Sidleiani. Editio tertia ab Authore recognita, atque ab eodem multiplici Actuario locupletata.

Dedicated to Biſhop Sheldon.

Reverendiſſimo in Chriſto Patri ac Domino Domino Gilberto Epiſcopo Londinenſi & Sacelli Regis Decano.

——— Meditationes illæ, ſemel & deinceps editæ, jam tandem, cum ſacrum tuum Nomen paginis ſuis præterunt, in Lucem primum prodiiſſe gloriantur. Æquum certe erat ut idem Mecœnas, qui me e tenebris meis, ad propria Metalla damnatum a fuligine & pedore, quibus abvolvebar in apricum evocavit, etiam Lucubrationibus meis, & Ornatum, & Splendorem fœnerari non detrectaret. Scripti ſimul & Scriptoris Editor juxta atque Author.

Mr. Heydon's Harmony of the World.

London, for H. Broome, 1662.

The Harmony of the World. Being a Diſcourſe wherein the Phænomena of Nature are conſonantly ſalved and adapted to inferiour Intellects. By John Heydon, Gent.

*Mr.*Clarke's Lives of ten eminent Men; and of Guſtavus Ericſon King of Sweden.

London, ſold by W. Miller, 1662.

A Collection of the Lives of ten eminent Divines, famous in their Generation for Learning, Prudence, Piety, and Faithfulneſs in the Work of the Miniſtry. Whereunto is added, the Life of Guſtavus Ericſon King of Sweden, who firſt reformed Religion in that Kingdom, and of ſome other eminent Chriſtians. By Samuel Clarke, Preacher of the Goſpel in St. Bennet Fink.

Of the Truth and Reaſon of the Chriſtian Religion.

A ſhort Diſcourſe of the Truth and Reaſon of the Religion delivered by Jeſus Chriſt; wherein the ſeveral Arguments for Chriſtianity are briefly handled: The Miracles done by our Saviour's Apoſtles and Chriſtians in Confirmation of this Doctrine are proved from the Confeſſions of the Enemies of our Religion, Jews and Heathens; and from the unqueſtionable Authorities of the moſt eminent Fathers of the Primitive Church. Unto which is added, a Diſquiſition touching the Sibylls and Sibylline Writings; wherein the Objections made by Opſopæus, &c. are examined, and the Authority of thoſe Writings aſſerted.

London, ſold by Hen. Herringman, 1662.

Stone Henge reſtored to the Danes, by Dr. Walt. Charleton.

Chorea Gigantum. Or the moſt famous Antiquity of Great-Britain; Stone-Henge ſtanding on Saliſbury Plain reſtored to the Danes. By Walter Charleton, M. D. and Phyſician in Ordinary to his Majeſty.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

A Place which the King had viſited and ſurvey'd after the Defeat of his Army at Worceſter, when he was flying for Safety.

The ſecond Edition was printed at London, Fol. 1725.

With Stone Henge reſtored [to the Romans] by Inigo Jones, Eſq; Architect General to the King.

And Mr. Webb's Vindication of Stone Henge reſtored, by Mr. Jones, in Anſwer to Dr. Charleton's Reflections.

Your Majeſty's Curioſity to ſurvey the Subject of this Diſcourſe, the ſo much admir'd Antiquity of Stone Henge, hath ſome Time been ſo great and urgent, as to find a Room in your Royal Breaſt, amidſt your weightieſt Cares, and to carry you many Miles out of your Way toward Safety, even at ſuch a Time, when any Heart but your fearleſs and invincible one, would have been wholly filled with Apprehenſions of Danger. For as I have had the Honour to hear from that Oracle of Truth and Wiſdom, your Majeſty's own Mouth, you were pleaſed to viſit that Monument, and for many Hours together, entertain yourſelf with the delightful View thereof, when after the Defeat of your Loyal Army at Worceſter, Almighty God in infinite Mercy to your three Kingdoms, miraculouſly delivered you out of the bloody Jaws of thoſe Monſters of Sin and Cruelty. —— I now at length conceive it to have been erected by the Danes, when they had this Nation in Subjection, and principally if not wholly deſigned to be a Court Royal, or Place for the Election and Inauguration of their Kings, according to a certain ſtrange Cuſtom, yet of eldeſt Date, moſt ſacred Eſteem, and but of late Diſcontinuance, among that Martial People, &c.

April 27, 1662.

With Commendatory Verſes by Rob. Howard and John Dryden.

A Portugueze Grammar.

A Portugueze Grammar. Or Rules ſhewing the true and perfect Way to learn the ſaid Language: Newly collected in Engliſh and French, for the Uſe of either of each Nation that deſire to learn the ſame. By Monſieur de la Molliere.

London, ſold by S. Brown, 1662.

Mr. Bagſhaw againſt Infallibility.

A Brief Enquiry into the Grounds and Reaſons whereupon the Infallibility of the Pope and Church of Rome is ſaid to be founded. By Edward Bagſhaw, Student of Chriſt-Church.

London, Printed by A. M. 1662.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Honourable the Earl of Angleſey, one of his Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy-Council.

Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw lived as domeſtick Chaplain to the Earl of Angleſey, who obſerving his impetuous Warmth and Love of Writing againſt the Biſhops, would have drawn him off by putting him on ſome other Argument, particularly againſt Popery, which his Lordſhip judged might better employ and exhauſt his Thoughts and his Time. So wiſely did Lord Clarendon deal with Dr. Owen, and another great Man with Mr. Matt. Pool. The Earl of Angleſey had carried over his Chaplain, Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw, into Ireland, to ſettle him there, and keep him quiet. But he would not accept of the Preferment offered, and returned to England more diſcontented.

—— It is now, my Lord, ſome Scores of Years ſince we of this Nation have by Scripture Light diſcovered all the Frauds and Cheats of this Myſtery of Iniquity, and yet it ſeems all Mens Eyes are not opened; for ſome of late have pleaded for Popery, and for that which is the chief Bulwark of it, the Pope's Authority. ——[He brings ſeveral Quotations out of Ruſhworth's Dialogues, and the nameleſs Author of Fiat Lux, dedicated to the Counteſs of Arundel, and twice printed; ſuch kind of Paſſages (ſays he) as I tremble to mention.] Since then the Pope's Infallibility is that Name of Blaſphemy, which makes all its Patrons ſo bold and irreligious, ſince that is the bottomleſs Pit, out of which all this deadly Smoak doth iſſue; I have here, according to your Lordſhip's Commands, endeavoured to ſhew the Vanity and Ridiculouſneſs as well as Impiety of that Opinion. —— And now, my Lord, before I conclude, I ſhould crave Leave to tell the World, how good as well as how great you are. I ſhould borrow ſo much Language from Common Fame and the General Voice, as to declare, that for Wiſdom to direct, for Eloquence to expreſs, for Diligence to execute, very few equal, and none exceed your Lordſhip. But ſince what is Truth in itſelf, and would be Juſtice in others, in me, becauſe of my Relation, may be eſteemed Flattery, I ſhall turn my Praiſes into Prayers, &c.

Dated Drury-Lane,
April 19, 1662.

Mr. Breviter's Sermons.

The mighty Chriſt the Saints Help. Being the Subſtance of ſome Sermons preached at North-Walſham in the County of Norfolk, upon Pſalm lxxxix. 19. By Richard Breviter, M. A. Miniſter of God's Word at Walcot.

1662. 8vo. See Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 632.

Of ancient Church Government, by Mr. Woodhead or Mr. Walker.

A Brief Account of ancient Church Government, with a Reflection on ſeveral modern Writings of the Preſbyterians, [The Aſſembly of Divines their Jus Divinum Miniſterii Anglicani, publiſhed 1654. and D. Blondel's Apologia pro Sententia Hieronymi, and others] touching this Subject. [This Book was generally reported to have been written by Abraham Woodhead, yet a certain Roman-Catholick, who was originally of Univerſity College, and much pretended to know all the Works that Mr. Woodhead had written (which he had with great Zeal bought and collected for the Honour he had to the Author) hath ſeveral Times told me that he was not the Author of that Book, but Obadiah Walker.]

Lond. 1662. and 1685. in four Parts.

See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 456.

Funeral Sermon for Mr. Joh. Langham, by Mr. Boroughs of Cotteſbrook.

A Sovereign Remedy for all Kinds of Grief. Opened and applied in a Sermon at the Funeral of Mr. John Langham, the eldeſt Son of Sir James Langham, Knight, a Child of five Years and an half old, who died at Cotteſbrook in Northamptonſhire thamptonſhire July 29, 1657. With a Narrative of ſundry remarkable Paſſages concerning him before and in the Time of his Sickneſs. By Thomas Boroughs, B. D. The Second Edition.

London, for John Baker, 1662. 4to.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Worſhipful Sir John Langham, Baronet, and to his eldeſt Son Sir James Langham, Knight.

—— You have made the Author himſelf yours, by your manifold Favours to him. To the Right Worſhipful Sir John, my honoured Patron, I owe my Preſentation to this Place (though I had alſo a concurrent and unanimous Call from the People without any Contradiction) &c. Dated Cotteſbrook April 10, 1662.

Mr. Hibbert*'s Body of Divinity.*

Syntagma Theologicum. Or a Treatiſe wherein is conciſely comprehended the Body of Divinity and the Fundamentals of Religion, orderly diſcuſſed. Whereunto are added certain Divine Diſcourſes. By Henry Hibbert, late Paſtor of Trinity Church in Kingſton upon Hull, and now at Allhallows the Leſs, London.

London, ſold by Joh. Clark, 1662.

Tract of Architecture.

A Brief Diſcourſe concerning the three chief Principles of magnificent Building, viz. Solidity, Conveniency, and Ornament.

London, ſold R. Lowndes, 1662

Diſcourſe of Women.

A Diſcourſe of Women, ſhewing their Imperfections alphabetically. Newly tranſlated out of the French into Engliſh.

London, ſold by H. Brome. 1662.

Court and State Jeſts.

Fragmenta Aulica. Or Court and State Jeſts, in noble Drollery, true and real: Aſcertained to their Times, Places, and Perſons. By an Extant Wit.

Of making all ſorts of Dials.

A Latin Treatiſe, called Index Horarius, tranſlated into Engliſh; ſhewing an exact Way of making ſeveral and curious ſorts of direct and reflex Dials.

London, 1662.

Forms of Writs in Common Bench, by Francis Brownlow.

Brevia Judicialia. Or an exact Collection of approved Forms of all ſorts of Judicial Writs in the Common Bench; as well Meſne Proceſs before Appearance, as Execution after Judgment, with the ſeveral Entries thereof upon Record —— with the Returns of the ſaid Writs. Collected by Richard Brownlow, Eſq; late chief Prothonotary of the ſaid Court.

London, 1662, Fol.

Moot Book of Law Caſes.

Plowden*'s Queries.* Or a Moot Book of choice Caſes, uſeful for the young Students of the Common Law, engliſhed, methodized, and enlarged. By H. B. Eſq;

London, 1662, 8vo.

Abridgment of Sir Walter Rawleigh*'s Hiſtory.*

The Marrow of Hiſtory. Or an Epitome of all hiſtorical Paſſages, from the Creation to the End of the laſt Macedonian War. Firſt ſet out at large by Sir Walter Rawleigh, and now abbreviated by A. R.

London, ſold by Jo. Place,

FRIDAY May 2.

Die Veneris 2. Maii, 1662.

Act againſt the Quakers paſſed by Commiſſion.

Paſſed by his Majeſty's Commiſſion, An Act for preventing Miſchiefs and Dangers that may ariſe by certain Perſons called Quakers and others refuſing to take lawful Oaths.

Preamble.

A dangerous Opinion and Tenet, that the taking an Oath before a Magiſtrate is unlawful.

And a dangerous Practice to hold ſeparate Aſſemblies under Pretence of Religious Worſhip.

Whereas of late Times certain Perſons under the Names of Quakers and other Names of Separation, have taken up and maintained ſundry dangerous Opinions and Tenets, and amongſt other, that the taking of an Oath in any Caſe whatſoever, although before a lawful Magiſtrate, is altogether unlawful and contrary to the Word of God: And the ſaid Perſons do daily refuſe to take an Oath though lawfully tendred, whereby it often happens, that the Truth is wholly ſuppreſſed, and the Adminiſtration of Juſtice much obſtructed. And whereas the ſaid Perſons, under a Pretence of religious Worſhip, do often aſſemble themſelves in great Numbers in ſeveral Parts of this Realm, to the great endangering of the publick Peace and Safety, and to the Terrour of the People, by maintaining a ſecret and ſtrict Correſpondence amongſt themſelves, and in the mean Time ſeparating and dividing themſelves from the reſt of his Majeſty's good and loyal Subjects, and from the publick Congregations and uſual Places of divine Worſhip. For the redreſſing therefore and better preventing the many Miſchiefs and Dangers that do and may ariſe by ſuch dangerous Tenets and ſuch unlawful Aſſemblies. Be it Enacted, &c.

SATURDAY May 3.

Die Saturni 3. Maii, 1662.

Report of the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations.

The Lord Mohun reported from the Committee the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations and Advowſons to the King's Loyal Subjects, with certain Amendments and Alterations which are offered to the Conſideration of the Houſe. The ſaid Amendments were read twice, and ordered to be recommitted.

Extracts from Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

MONDAY May 5.

The Commons in haſte to diſpatch Buſineſs.

The Houſe of Commons ſate this Day both Forenoon and Afternoon, 'till betwixt eight and nine at Night, for the Diſpatch of Buſineſs.

Extracts from Journal of the Commons.

Dr. Anthony Sparrow Maſter of Queen*'s College* Cambridge.

Antonius Sparrow, S. Theol. Profeſſor Virtute Regii Mandati electus & admiſſus eſt in Præſidentem ſive Magiſtrum Coll. Regin. Cantabr. loco Edwardi Martin, S. T. P. quinto Die Maii, 1662. ejuſque Electio & Admiſſio confirmata eſt duodecimo Die ejuſd. Menſis per Dominum Procancellarium Virtute ſecundi Regis Mandati.

Mr. George Beck Rector of Burton Latimers.

Georgius Beck Cler. A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Burton Latimers Com. Northton. vac. per Mort. Roberti Sibthorpe, S. T. P. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Kinſman Armig. & Johannis Beck pro hac vice Patronorum, inſtitutus Die Lunæ 5. Maii, 1662.

Reg. Laney Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 180.

The Fleet with the Queen about the Iſle of Scilly.

The Queen, who by a rough Sea had lain ſick for the moſt Part of the Voyage, had the Pleaſure of being told, that the whole Fleet had now about the fifth of May reached the Iſlands of Scilly, the furthermoſt weſtern Dominions of England.

Heath*'s Chron, p.* 508.

TUESDAY May 6.

The Commons ſend a Meſſage to the Lords to give Diſpatch to the Bill for Uniformity.

Die Martis 6. Maii, 1662.

A Meſſage was brought from the Houſe of Commons by Sir Thomas Meers and others, to put their Lordſhips in Mind of giving Diſpatch to the Bill for Uniformity, as conceiving it to be of great Conſequence, and the rather becauſe they believe they ſhall not ſit long.

In the Houſe of Commons. The Bill for confirming an Act for Confirmation of Leaſes and Grants from Colleges and Hoſpitals was ordered to be engroſſed.

Mr. Mountague from the Queen to his Majeſty.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 19. p. 291.

On Tueſday about twelve at Night Mr. Mountague came to Whitehall, where he acquainted his Majeſty how on the thirteenth of April the King of Portugal took Leave of his Royal Siſter the Queen of England in the Royal Charles, when having a good Wind they ſet ſail for England, but the next Day the Wind not ſerving retarded their Voyage. Her Majeſty in the mean while diſpatched Mr. Mountague, Sir Tho. Sands, and Sir Joſeph Douglas on the twenty ſixth of April about ſeven at Night for England. They left her Majeſty about the Middle of the Bay of Biſcay, making all Speed homeward, but were followed in Sight by the Royal Charles 'till the Monday after. So that by their own Coming they ſuppoſed her Majeſty and the Fleet would reach the Iſle of Scilly or the Lands End by Monday laſt.

Mr. Joh. Ley or Lee Preb of Cheſter.

Willis of the Preb. of Cheſter, p. 351.

John Ley alias Lee, A. M. collated to the fifth Prebend of Cheſter April 4, 1627. on the Reſignation of Dr. George Snell, died May 6, 1662. and was buried at Sutton Coldfield Com. Warwic. where he was Rector.

WEDNESDAY May 7.

Meſſage from the King that the Queen is ſoon expected, and his Majeſty would give Aſſent to the publick Bills before he goes to meet her.

Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York acquainted this Houſe from the King, that he hath received lately Information, that the Queen is likely to arrive in England very ſpeedily, and it is his Majeſty's Intention to give his Royal Aſſent to thoſe Publick Bills as are depending between the two Houſes, before his going to meet the Queen.

A like Meſſage to the Commons.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 18. p. 288.

The ſame Day a Meſſage from his Majeſty was brought to the Houſe of Commons by Mr. Secretary Morrice, ſignifying the happy News of the Queen's Majeſty's embarking from Portugal divers Days ſince, and being in all Probability e're this upon the Coaſts of England, if not actually landed, which would require his Majeſty's Abſence from Whitehall, and that therefore the Commons would ſet private Buſineſs aſide, and apply themſelves to Bills of publick Concernment.

A Conference of Lords and Commons.

Journal of the Houſe of Lords.

After which the Lords ſent to the Commons for a private Conference in the Painted Chamber, which was had accordingly, where their Lordſhips acquainted the Commons with the happy News of her Majeſty's approaching the Coaſts of England; their Lordſhips alſo declaring their Intentions to wave Matters of private Conſideration, and provide to finiſh what properly concerns the Publick.

Report by the Lord Privy-Seal,

Ibid.

Concerning the Bill for Uniformity.

How far they agree or differ in the Amendments.

After the ſaid Conference, the Lord Privy-Seal made a long Report of the Effect of the Conference with the Houſe of Commons concerning the Bill for Uniformity; that Mr. Serjeant Charleton managed the Conference, who in the Name of the Houſe of Commons acquainted their Lordſhips, that this Conference was deſired concerning the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity. He ſaid, they did agree in moſt of them with their Lordſhips, and wherein they differ will appear by what follows:

To leave out the abuſed Phraſe of Tenderneſs of ſome Mens Conſciences.

The firſt Difference was in omitting theſe Words, [Tenderneſs of ſome Mens Conſciences] being in the fifth Line of the ſeventh Amendment, and inſtead thereof inſert the Word [hath] and then it runs thus, [which the Indiſpoſition of the Time hath contracted] turning the Word have into hath; he ſaid theſe Words might well be omitted, in reſpect there were Cauſes enough beſides mentioned, and the Phraſe of Tenderneſs of Conſcience having been much abuſed, the Commons were loth to give ſo much Countenance to an abuſed Phraſe as to inſert it.

Other Amendments agreed to in Part.

He proceeded unto the eleventh Amendment, unto which he ſaid the Houſe agreed in Part, as inſtead of [a] to read the Word [ſaid] but diſagreed in the other Part thereof, that is, to leave out theſe Words [annexed and joined to this preſent Act] and adhering to the Bill in that particular; and then it goeth thus, in ſuch Order and Form as in the ſaid Book entitled the Book of Common Prayer, &c. and ſo put it in the preſent Tenſe, upon which he ſaid two or three more Differences depend.

To the thirteenth Amendment they agreed in all except theſe Words [which Book is appointed to be annexed and joined in this preſent Act.]

Diſagree to the Amendment concerning the Croſs in Baptiſm.

The ſixteenth Amendment they agree to 'till they come to the Word [Nevertheleſs] in the firſt Line of the fourth Part of the Paper Amendment; after which Word they diſagree to all that follows in that Amendment concerning the Croſs in Baptiſm, the Reaſons whereof he deferr'd 'till he came to the Proviſo; and this was all he offered to their Lordſhips Paper Amendments; and ſo deſcended to thoſe Additions ſent by their Lordſhips to the Commons on Parchment.

The chief Miniſter to read the Liturgy once a Month.

To the firſt of theſe in the ſixth Line, inſtead of [three Months] inſert [Month], the Reaſon is, that it was thought heretofore too ſlight a Work for the chief Miniſters to read Common-Prayers, which was uſually performed by the inferiour ſort of Clergy, and therefore to meet with that Inconvenience, they deſired that the chief Miniſter might read it once a Month.

Subſcription to extend to Schoolmaſters and Tutours, in regard of the great Care to be taken of the Education of Youth.

The next Alteration was in the twenty ſecond Line, from the Word [foreſaid] leave out all to the Word [ſubſcribed] in the twenty ſecond Line, and inſtead thereof inſert theſe Words following [that every Dean, Canon, and Prebendary of every Cathedral or Collegiate Church, and all Maſters and other Heads, Fellows, Chaplains, and Tutours of, or in any College, Hall, Houſe of Learning, or Hoſpital; and every publick Profeſſor and Reader in either of the Univerſities, and in every College elſewhere, and every Parſon, Vicar, Curate, Clerk, Lecturer, and every other Perſon in Holy Orders, and every Schoolmaſter keeping any publick or private School, and every Perſon inſtructing or teaching any Youth in any Houſe or private Family, as a Tutour or Schoolmaſter, who upon the firſt Day of March, which will be in the Year of our Lord God 1662. or at any Time thereafter, ſhall be incumbent or have the Poſſeſſion of any Deanery, Canonry, Prebend, Maſterſhip, Headſhip, Fellowſhip, Profeſſor's Place, or Reader's Place, Parſonage, Vicarage, or any other Eccleſiaſtical Dignity or Promotion, or of any Curate's Place, Lecture, or School, or ſhall inſtruct or teach any Youth as Tutour or Schoolmaſter ſhall before the Feaſt Day of St. Bartholomew, which ſhall be in the Year 1662. or at or before his or their reſpective Admiſſion to be Incumbent, to have Poſſeſſion aforeſaid]. The Reaſon of this Addition was in extending it ſo far as Schoolmaſters, in that the Commons obſerved the Force of Education was great. So as the Commons thought they ought to take Care for the Education of Youth. For ſo, many (he ſaid) of the Gentry and Nobility found in the Long Parliament differing from the Church of England, did (as was conceived) ariſe from this Root. He obſerved, that it was an Overſight in the uſurped Powers, that they took no Care in this Particular, whereby many young Perſons were well ſeaſoned in their Judgment as to the King. This made the Commons take Care that the Schoolmaſters as well as Miniſters ſhould ſubſcribe, and rather more.

Additional Words to renouncing the Covenant.

The next Amendment was in the thirty eighth Line, after the Word [Covenant] add theſe Words [to endeavour any Change or Alteration of Government either in Church or State], the Reaſon of this Alteration was in reſpect the added Words were the very ſame which were uſed in the Act for the Safety of the King's Perſon.

Declaration to extend to Schoolmaſters and Tutours.

The next Alteration was in the fortieth Line, after the Word [Kingdom] leave out all the Words in the forty fifth Line, and inſtead thereof inſert theſe Words [which ſaid Declaration and Acknowledgment ſhall be ſubſcribed by every of the ſaid Maſters and other Heads, Fellows, Chaplains, and Tutours of or in any College, Hall, or Houſe of Learning, and every publick Profeſſor and Reader in either of the Univerſities before the Vice-Chancellour of the reſpective Univerſity for the Time being or his Deputy. And the ſaid Declaration or Acknowledgment ſhall be ſubſcribed before the reſpective Archbiſhop or Ordinary of the Dioceſe; or every other Perſon hereby enjoined to ſubſcribe the ſame; upon Pain that all and every of the Perſons aforeſaid failing in ſuch Subſcription ſhall loſe and forfeit ſuch reſpective Deanery, Canonry, Prebend, Maſterſhip, Headſhip, Fellowſhip, Profeſſor's Place, Reader's Place, Parſonage, Vicarage, Eccleſiaſtical Dignity, or Promotion, Curate's Place, Lecture, and School ſhall be void, as if ſuch Perſon ſo failing was naturally dead. And if any ſuch Schoolmaſter, or other Perſon inſtructing or teaching Youths in any private Houſe or Family as a Tutour or Schoolmaſter, ſhall inſtruct or teach any Youth as a Tutour or Schoolmaſter before Licenſe obtained from his reſpective Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or Ordinary of the Dioceſe according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, for which he ſhall pay twelve Pence only, and before ſuch Subſcription and Acknowledgment made as aforeſaid, ſhall, for the firſt Offence ſuffer three Months Impriſonment without Bail or Mainpriſe, and for every ſecond and other ſuch Offence ſhall ſuffer three Months Impriſonment without Bail or Mainpriſe, and alſo forfeit to his Majeſty the Sum of Five Pounds. And after ſuch Subſcriptions made, every Parſon, Vicar, Curate, and Lecturer ſhall procure a Certificate under the Hand and Seal of the reſpective Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Ordinary of the Dioceſe, who are hereby ordered and required upon Demand to make and deliver the ſame, together with the Declaration or Acknowledgment aforeſaid upon ſome Lord's Day within three Months next following in his Pariſh Church where he does officiate.

To add the Penalty of three Months Impriſonment.

The Clauſe of three Months Impriſonment is added to meet with thoſe Men who have no Livings to loſe, and therefore the Commons thought this Addition neceſſary.

To extend to Curates and Lecturers.

Then he deſcended to an Amendment in the forty ninth Line, of the Word [Benefice] leave out the Words [with Curate] and inſert theſe Words [with Curate's Place or Lecturer's Place reſpectively.]

Sine-Cures not to be left to Nonconformiſts.

In the Diſabling Clauſe, Livings with Cure were only included: But the Commons think not fit to leave Sine-Cures to Non-conformiſts. For therein he thinketh more Favour would be ſhewn them, than to permit them to have Livings with Cure, wherefore they have inſerted theſe Words [Curate's Place or Lecturer's Place.]

Renouncing the Covenant to be omitted after twenty Years, that they might not ſeem to perpetuate the Memory of it.

In the fiftieth Line after the Word [Dead] inſert theſe Words following [Provided always, that from and after the twenty fifth Day of March, which ſhall be in the Year of our Lord 1682. there ſhall be omitted in the ſaid Declaration or Acknowledgment ſo to be ſubſcribed, and read theſe Words following, viz. And I do declare that I do hold there lies no Obligation upon me or any other Perſon from the Oath commonly called the Solemn League and Covenant, to endeavour any Change or Alteration of Government in Church or State, and that the ſame was in itſelf an unlawful Oath impoſed upon the Subjects of this Realm againſt the known Laws and Liberties of this Kingdom. So as any one of the Perſons aforeſaid ſhall be from henceforth at all obliged to ſubſcribe or read that Part of the ſaid Declaration or Acknowledgment. The Reaſon of this Proviſo was, that the Commons would not perpetuate the Memory of the Covenant, when a common Medicine of twenty Years may probably determine the Lives of thoſe that took it.

The next was in the thirty fifth Line after the Word [who] inſert theſe Words [now incumbent and in poſſeſſion of any Parſonage, Vicarage, or Benefice, and who] and leave out the Word [who] in the fifty fourth Line.

Not to exclude from Livings thoſe who will hereafter conform.

The Reaſon of the Alteration was, they would not exclude ſuch as hereafter might be willing to conform, from other Livings, though they diſabled them from ſuch as for the preſent they enjoyed. Whereas in their Lordſhips Alterations there was no Limitation of Time, and ſo none capable of Livings, who are capable hereafter to conform.

The next Alterations were in the fifty ſeventh Line, after the Word [ſhall] leave out [or do] and inſtead thereof inſert the Words [thenceforth be capable to be admitted to any Parſonage, Vicarage, Benefice, or other Eccleſiaſtical Promotion or Dignity whatſoever, or ſhall preſume to conſecrate or adminiſter the Lord's Supper.

Every Incumbent before his Admiſſion to give Teſtimony of his Conformity, and to be in full Orders.

The Commons think every Incumbent ſhould before his Admiſſion give Teſtimony of his Conformity, and ought before his Admiſſion to be in full Orders.

The next Amendment is in the ſixty ſecond Line, where the eighth Line of the Skin is omitted; the Line is [Or that the ſame Avoidance be openly and publickly declared]. Now it doth not appear by that Clauſe, what is meant by openly, and there being Certainty enough in the former Words, the Commons were not willing to leave in a Clauſe which might raiſe Diſputes.

Archbiſhop or Biſhop.

And then the Gentlemen came to the Amendments in the ſecond Paper, which they agreed to, with this Addition of the Words [Archbiſhop, Biſhop of the Province or] after the Words [by the], in the fourth Line add the Words [Archbiſhop or] after the Word [ſame], in the eleventh Line of the ſaid Amendment, the Commons inſerted the Word [Archbiſhop] as being unfit to omit him in that Affair. The ſame Reaſon is for the Amendment in the eleventh Line.

The next Amendment is in the fortieth Line, agreed to with the Addition of the Word [are] between the Word [and] and [hereby] in the Amendment.

The next is the thirty ſeventh Line: Agreed to leave out the reſt of the Bill after the Word [Authority].

Then he came to the Proviſo's in Parchment, Nº. 4.

Proviſo for tranſlating the Liturgy into the Welſh Tongue.

To be uſed in all Places where the Welſh Tongue is commonly uſed.

The Churchwardens to provide the Books.

The firſt Paragraph for providing the Book unto the Word [Provided] in the fifteenth Line in the firſt Skin agreed to with the Addition following, viz. after the Word [therein] add theſe Words following, [Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, that the Biſhops of Hereford, St. David's, Aſaph, Bangor, and Llandaff, and their Succeſſors, ſhall take ſuch Order among themſelves for the Souls Health of the Folk committed to their Charge in Wales, that the Book hereunto annexed be truly and exactly tranſlated into the Britiſh or Welſh Tongue, and that the ſame being tranſlated, and being by them or any three of them at leaſt, viewed, peruſed, and allowed to be imprinted to ſuch Number at leaſt, ſo that one of the ſaid Books ſo tranſlated and imprinted may be had for every Cathedral, Collegiate, and Pariſh Church, and Chapel of Eaſe in the ſaid reſpective Dioceſes and Places where the Welſh is commonly ſpoken or uſed before the firſt Day of May 1665. And that from and after the Imprinting and Publiſhing of the ſaid Book ſo tranſlated, the whole Divine Service ſhall be uſed and ſaid by the Miniſters and Curates throughout all Wales, within the Dioceſes where the Welſh Tongue is commonly uſed, in the Britiſh or Welſh Tongue, in ſuch Manner and Form as is preſcribed, according to the Book hereunto annexed to be uſed in the Engliſh Tongue, differing nothing in any Order or Form from the ſaid Engliſh Book, for which Book ſo tranſlated and imprinted the Church-wardens of every the ſaid Pariſhes ſhall pay out of the Pariſh Money in their Hands for the Uſe of the reſpective Churches, and be allowed the ſame in their Accounts: And the ſaid Biſhops and their Succeſſors, or any three of them at the leaſt, ſhall ſet and appoint the Price for which the ſaid Book ſhall be ſold. And another Book of Common-Prayer in the Engliſh Tongue ſhall be bought and had in every Church throughout Wales, in which the Book of Common-Prayer in Welſh is to be had by Force of this Act before the firſt Day of May 1664. and the ſame Books to remain in ſuch convenient Places within the ſaid Churches, that ſuch as underſtand them may reſort at all convenient Times to read and peruſe the ſame: And alſo ſuch as do not underſtand the ſaid Language, may, by conferring both Tongues together, the ſooner attain to the Knowledge of the Engliſh Tongue; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. And until printed Copies of the ſaid Book ſo to be tranſlated may be had and provided, the Form of Common-Prayer eſtabliſhed by Dean and Chapters to obtain a true and perfect Copy of this Act and the Book.

To be examined and collated by Perſons appointed by the King.

To be Evidence in Law.

by Parliament before the making of this Act ſhall be uſed as formerly in ſuch Part of Wales where the Engliſh Tongue is not commonly underſtood. And to the End that true and perfect Copies of this Act and the ſaid Book hereunto annexed may be ſafely kept and perpetually preſerved, and for the avoiding of all Diſputes for the Time to come, Be it Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, that the reſpective Deans and Chapters of every Cathedral or Collegiate Church within England or Wales, ſhall, at their proper Coſt and Charges, before the twenty fifth Day of December 1662. obtain under the Great Seal of England a true and perfect Copy of the ſaid Act, and of the ſaid Book annexed hereunto, to be by the ſaid Deans and Chapters, and by their Succeſſors, kept and preſerved in Safety for ever, and to be alſo produced and ſhewed forth in any Court of Record as often as they ſhall be thereunto lawfully required: And alſo there ſhall be delivered true and perfect Copies of this Act and of the ſame Book in the reſpective Courts at Weſtminſter, and into the Tower of London, to be kept and preſerved for ever among the Records of the ſaid Courts and Records of the Tower, to be produced and ſhewed forth in any Court as Need ſhall require, which ſaid Book ſo to be exemplified under the Great Seal of England ſhall be examined by ſuch Perſons as the King's Majeſty ſhall appoint under the Great Seal of England for that Purpoſe, and ſhall be compared with the Original Book hereunto annexed, and they ſhall have Power to correct and amend in Writing any Error committed by the Printer in printing of the ſame Book, or of any thing therein contained, and ſhall certify in Writing under their Hands and Seals, or any three of them, at the End of the ſame Book, that they have examined and compared the ſame Book, and find it to be a true and perfect Copy: Which ſaid Books and every of them ſo exemplified under the Great Seal of England as aforeſaid, ſhall be deemed, taken, adjudged, and expounded to be good and available in the Law to all Intents and Purpoſes whatſoever, and ſhall be accounted as good Records as this Book itſelf hereunto annexed, any Law or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

None to be exempted from Subſcription for Fear of eſtabliſhing Schiſm.

The ſecond and third Paragraphs touching the King's Profeſſor of Law, and touching the Subſcriptions to the twentieth Article agreed unto the Word [Provided]. All which Proviſo's they reject for theſe Reaſons:

1. It is a Proviſo without Precedent.
2. That it would eſtabliſh Schiſm.
3. That it would not gratify ſuch for whom it was intended.

And leſt they ſhould allow Men to receive Profits from the Church to which they would not conform.

To the firſt, he ſaid, that it was very apparent in England that it was without Precedent, and as he thought in the World alſo. For they never heard that ever any National Church did the like. It was one thing, he ſaid, to allow a different Religion in a Nation, another thing to allow Men to receive Profits from that Church unto which Men would not conform.

The Diſſenters in Time of Queen Elizabeth and King James diſſented in Opinions only.

Secondly, Though they were Diſſenters in the Particulars of the Proviſo in the Time of Queen Elizabeth and King James, yet in thoſe Days thoſe Opinions ſtayed there and went no further.

No diſpenſing with the two Ceremonies of the Croſs and Surplice, long uſed in the Church, and not to be ſuſpected of Popery.

To the ſecond Head, that it would unavoidably eſtabliſh Schiſm, for all Perſons of different Inclinations would apply to ſuch as ſhould have this Liberty, and that would neceſſarily make Parties, eſpecially in great Cities. He did obſerve, theſe two Ceremonies of the Croſs and Surplice were long in the Church, and he found a high Commendation of the Uſe of the Croſs in Baptiſm in the Book ſent to the Commons from the Lords, wherein it was ſo clearly explained, as there can be no Suſpicion of Popery in it. It was uſed, he ſaid, to quicken the Memory as to the Benefits of Baptiſm, and if it were omitted, much of the Service belonging to Baptiſm muſt be omitted alſo, many Paſſages depending on the Uſe of that Ceremony.

Better impoſe no Ceremonies than diſpenſe with any.

The Gentleman added, that he thought it better to impoſe no Ceremonies, than to diſpenſe with any, and he thought it very incongruous at the ſame Time when you are ſettling Conformity to eſtabliſh Schiſm.

The Notion of Things indifferent not to be enjoined takes away all the Right of human Authority.

To the third Head, it would not ſatisfy thoſe for whom it was intended: For they chiefly reject it upon theſe Grounds, that Things indifferent ought not to be enjoined, which Opinion, he ſaid, took away all the Right of Human Authority, which conſiſts in commanding Things otherwiſe indifferent. So as when this ſhall be yielded, you give them nothing, they oppoſing for the Impoſition's Sake. He added, theſe were Reaſons as to the Nature of the Things; and as to the Reaſons given by their Lordſhips to the Commons, he anſwered as followeth:

The Declaration at Breda as to tender Conſciences no Objection to Uniformity.

The King's Engagements at Breda as to tender Conſciences, unto which he ſaid, that his Majeſty could not underſtand the Miſleaders of the People, but the Miſled. It would be very ſtrange to call a Schiſmatical Conſcience a Tender Conſcience. He ſaid, a tender Conſcience denoted an Impreſſion from without received from another, and that upon which another ſtrikes.

That Declaration was under two Reſtrictions; 1. A Reference to Parliament. 2. A Regard to the Peace of the Kingdom.

Secondly, Suppoſe theſe had been meant, yet he ſaid there could be no Inference of any Breach of Promiſe in his Majeſty, becauſe that Declaration had theſe two Limitations; firſt, a Reference to Parliament; ſecondly, ſuch Liberties to be granted only as are conſiſtent with the Peace of the Kingdom.

No need of allowing Fifths to Incumbents excluded their Livings.

Then he came to the ſecond Proviſo, touching allowing Fifths to ſuch Incumbents as ſhould be excluded their Livings, which he obſerved was no ſeaſonable Proviſo, at leaſt at this Time, and if it were, yet not fit to allow ſuch Perſons any thing out of Eccleſiaſtical Livings. He ſaid, what would be more

Which would encourage Not-Conforming;
And be a Reflection on the Act itſelf.

repugnant than at the ſame Time to enact Uniformity, and to allow the Fifth of an Eccleſiaſtical Living to a Nonconformiſt for not conforming? Which he ſaid, joined with the Pity of the Party, would amount to the Value of more than the whole Living. He ſaid, ſuch a Courſe was too much a Reflection upon the Act, when you ſay ſome Godly People would not ſubmit; and it can ſignify nothing but Fear in making ſuch a Conceſſion.

He added, this would make the Act contradictory, to ſay in one Part of the Bill, that it was an equal Act, and in another Part to allow Diſſenters to it.

And be in Favour of ſome Men who had not paid the Fifths to the Wives and Children of Orthodox Miniſters.

There was another Reaſon of the Commons Diſſent, that divers Wives and Children of Orthodox Miniſters were made miſerable by ſome of theſe Men: It may be, for not paying unto them thoſe Fifths which were allowed unto them in the late Times.

No Law to ſuppoſe that any will break it.

He added, that none that make Laws ought to ſuppoſe that any would break them.

Fifths out of ſmall Livings would leſſen the Maintenance and Reputation of the conforming Clergy.

He ſhid further, that it was not reaſonable to allow the Fifths of Eccleſiaſtical Livings, becauſe generally ſuch Livings were too ſmall, not able to maintain a learned Man with Books. And by leſſening Livings thus, it would gratify unconformable Men, who deſire Livings in ſuch Hands ſhould be made ſmall, whereby the Reputation of the conformable Clergy would be leſſened.

The whole Profit ought to go to the Labourer.

Secondly, he ſaid, ſuch a Conceſſion is not only againſt Reaſon but Juſtice alſo: It was a Divine Canon which ſaid, He that ſerveth at the Altar ſhould live of the Altar. Therefore the Profit of the Living ought to go to the Labourer.

Separation would endanger not only the Peace of the Church, but of the Kingdom.

He ſaid, that Unity was ſo precious, that it ſerved not only for the Peace of the Church, but of the Kingdom alſo. For to give Occaſions for Multitudes to meet (which would certainly follow the Diſſenters) what Danger that might carry with it was worthy your Lordſhips Conſideration.

Decent Geſtures in Time of Divine Service recommended to the Convocation.

He did from the Houſe of Commons deſire their Lordſhips that they would recommend to the Convocation the directing of ſuch decent Geſtures to be uſed in Time of Divine Service as was fitting. He found one Miſtake in the Rubrick of Baptiſm, which he conceived was a Miſtake of the Writer, [Perſons] being put inſtead of [Children].

Agree in all other Matters, and that the Book ſent from the Lords ſhall be annexed to the Bill.

And having thus far diſſented from their Lordſhips in Decimo Sexto, he came to an Agreement in Folio, giving the Commons Conſent that their Lordſhips ſhould annex to the Bill that Book ſent by your Lordſhips; and ſo at length came to a final Concord by his Silence, which put an End to that Conference.

Ordered by the Lords, that the Alterations and the Matter of the Conference ſhall be read and taken into Conſideration to morrow in the Afternoon.

THURSDAY May 8.

The Lords take into Conſideration the Commons Amendments.

Die Jovis 8. Maii, 1662.

The Amendments and Alterations in the Bill of Uniformity brought from the Houſe of Commons at a Conference and reported Yeſterday, were now read twice, and for the better Conſideration hereof, the Houſe was adjourned into a Committee during Pleaſure; and being reſumed, the Queſtion was put, Whether this Houſe agrees with the Houſe of Commons in the Clauſe concerning Schoolmaſters, with the Alterations and Amendments? It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Agree to the firſt concerning Schoolmaſters,

And to all the reſt.

The next Queſtion was put, Whether this Houſe agrees to all the reſt of Alterations and Amendments, as came up from the Houſe of Commons? It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Then the ſaid Alterations and Amendments in the ſaid Bill of Uniformity were read the third Time, and the Queſtion being put, Whether this Houſe agrees to the ſaid Alterations and Amendments? It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

The Biſhops amend at the Table the Miſtake of the Scribe.

Whereas it was ſignified by the Houſe of Commons at the Conference Yeſterday, that they found one Miſtake in the Rubrick of Baptiſm, which they conceive was a Miſtake of the Writer, Perſons being put inſtead of Children. The Lord Biſhop of Durham acquainted the Houſe, that himſelf and the Lord Biſhop of St. Aſaph, and the Lord Biſhop of Carliſle had Authority from the Convocation to amend the ſaid Word, averring it was only a Miſtake of the Scribe, and accordingly they came to the Clerk's Table, and amended the ſame.

Ordered, that the Biſhops and reſt of the Clergy in Convocation prepare ſome Canon or Rule for uniform Geſtures and Demeanours.

Whereas it was intimated at the Conference Yeſterday, at the Deſire of the Houſe of Commons, that it be recommended to the Convocation to take Order, that reverend and uniform Geſtures and Demeanours be enjoined at the Time of Divine Service and Preaching. It is ordered by this Houſe, and hereby recommended to the Lords the Biſhops and the reſt of the Convocation of the Clergy, to prepare ſome Canons or Rule for that Purpoſe, to be humbly preſented to his Majeſty for his Aſſent.

The Lords paſs the Bill of Uniformity with Amendments.

This being Aſcenſion Day, the Houſe of Commons had adjourned over 'till Friday Morning: But the Lords ſate to put their laſt Hand to that neceſſary Bill of Uniformity of Publick Prayers, &c.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 10. p. 289.

Death of Dr. Peter Heylyn, Prebendary of Weſtminſter. See his Epitaph on a Monument in Weſtminſter-Abbey.

Dart's Hiſt. of the Church of Weſtm. Vol. II. p. 115.

Conſecration of ſix Biſhops at Edinburgh.

The Conſecration of ſix Biſhops in the Abbey Church of Haly-rood Houſe at Edinburgh for the Sees of Dunkeld, Murray, Roſs, Brechin, the Iſles and Caithneſs.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

neſs. The Conſecration Sermon was preach'd by Dr. Gordon, who gave great Satisfaction, &c.

Friday May 9.

The Commons in haſte to diſpatch Buſineſs.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 19. p. 294.

This Day the Commons had a Conference with the Lords concerning the Bill for preventing of Frauds and Abuſes; and diſpatched ſeveral ſhort Bills that lay before them.

The Lords paſs the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations.

Die Veneris 9. Maii. —— The Lord Mohun reported that the Committee had conſidered the Bill for reſtoring of Impropriations to ſome of the King's Loyal Subjects with certain Alterations and Proviſoes, which were offered to the Conſideration of the Houſe. The ſaid Alterations and Proviſoes were read twice and agreed to.

The Bill read a third Time and paſſed.

A Meſſage was ſent to the Houſe of Commons, —— to let them know that the Lords do agree with them in the Alterations, Amendments, and Proviſoes in the Bill concerning Uniformity.

Saturday May 10.

A Meſſage from the Lords, of their Agreement with the Commons.

Mercur. Publ. No. 19. p. 294.

The Lords ſent a Meſſage to the Houſe of Commons, that their Lordſhips have agreed with that Houſe in all the Amendments to the Bill of Uniformity; ſo as now that great Work is paſt both Houſes.

Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw's Letter to the Lord Chancellor.

London, printed for J. S. 1662. 4to. p. 10.

A Letter to the Right Honourable Edward Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellour of England. By Edward Bagſhaw Student of Chriſt-Church.

Complains of being condemn'd without being heard.

Having been repreſented as an Enemy to the Church, and not well affected to the State.

Which Suſpicions, if well grounded, would not only render him incapable of Preferment, but unworthy of Protection.

And by the Tenour of the whole Letter it is plain, that he put it in the Power of the Lord Chancellor to bring him to Conformity, by beſtowing ſome good Preferment on him.

—— Since your Lordſhip hath already ſuffered your Goodneſs ſo much to be wrought upon, as in a manner to condemn me unheard, and ſeem to conceive of me as I have been lately repreſented for a direct Enemy to the Church, and but meanly affected to the State; I thought it neceſſary if for no other Reſpect, yet for the Sake of Truth (which always ſuffers in the Oppreſſion of any one of her Followers) to remove your Lordſhips Miſtakes, and by a kind of publick Confeſſion of my Faith, to vindicate myſelf from thoſe Suſpicions, which if well grounded would render me not only incapable of Preferment (the want of which I ſhall never complain of) but likewiſe unworthy of any Protection. —— 1. A Suppoſal that I am no Friend to Biſhops. —— 2. That I have no good Inclination to the Civil Government. —— The Accuſations of Mr. L'Eſtrange in his late Memento, &c. [Concluding.] I can aſſure your Lordſhip, that your great Perſonal Worth, and the Excellence of your Civil Accompliſhments, together with that ſtrict League of Friendſhip, which ſuch Reſemblance of virtuous Qualities muſt needs produce between your Lordſhip and that right Honourable and truly Noble Perſon to whom I am related are ſolely reflected upon by me, when I take Leave thus publickly to profeſs myſelf,

My Lord,

Drury-Lane, May 10, 1662.

Your Lordſhips moſt humble
And moſt obedient Servant,
Edw. Bagshaw.

Death of Dr. Gabriel Clark, Archdeacon of Durham, and Account of him.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 813.

1615. 7. Martii Gabriel Clarke, Cler. A. M. inſtallatus in Preb. de Empingham in Eccl. Cath. Linc. vac. per mort. Nath. Giffard.

1619. 7. Aug. Gab. Clarke, A. M. coll. ad Archidiac. Northumb. vac. per reſign. Johannes Cradock.

1620.. Apr. Gab. Clarke, A. M. ad Archidiac. Dunelm. vac. per mort Willielmi Morton, S. T. B.

The Death of Dr. Gabriel Clarke, Archdeacon of Durham. I take him to be the ſame Perſon who was of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. and proceeded there M. A. May 14, 1612. collated to the Archdeaconry of Northumberland by Dr. Neile Biſhop of Durham, upon the Reſignation of Dr. John Cradocke Auguſt 7, 1619. and being Doctor of Divinity became Archdeacon of Durham by the ſame Hand, on the Death of William Moreton, Batchelor of Divinity, in the Beginning of September 1620.

Farther Account by Dr. Walker.

Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 19.

Mr. Walker finds him Archdeacon of Durham, firſt Prebend in this Church, to which he had been admitted in 1635. Rector of Erlington [it ſhould be Erſington] and Maſter of Greſham [it ſhould be Gretham] Hoſpital. All worth near 1000 l. per Annum. Poſſibly he ſurvived the Uſurpation; for his Succeſſor in the Prebend was not admitted until 1662.

And by Dr. Heylyn.

Heylyn's Life of Archbiſhop Laud, Fol. p. 55.

Dr. William Laud, afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury, was by Dr. Buckeridge commended (Anno 1608.) to the Service of Dr. Richard Neale then Biſhop of Rocheſter, a Man who very well underſtood the Conſtitution of the Church of England, though otherwiſe not ſo eminent in all Parts of Learning, as ſome other Biſhops of his Time: But what he wanted in himſelf, he made good in the Choice of his Servants, having more able Men about him from Time to Time than any other of that Age: Amongſt which (not to reckon B. Laud) were Dr. Auguſtine Lindſell Biſhop [firſt of Peterborough, then] of Hereford, Dr. Thomas Jackſon Preſident of Corpus-Chriſti College, Oxon. and Dean of Peterborough; Dr. John Coſin Prebendary of Durham and Dean of Peterborough after Jackſon; Dr. Benjamin Laney Maſter of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, Dean of Rocheſter [Biſhop of Peterborough] Dr. Robert Newell his half Brother, Prebendary of Weſtminſter and Durham, and Archdeacon of Bucks; Dr. Gabriel Clarke Prebendary and Archdeacon of Durham; Dr. Eleazar Duncum one of the Prebendaries of Durham alſo; Mr. Barlow a right ſolid Man, &c.

In the Cathedral of Durham.

J. H. S.
Hic jacet Dominus Gabriel Clarke,
SS. Theologiæ Profeſſor,
Archidiaconus Dunelm.
Et hujus Eccleſiæ Subdecanus,
Qui mortuus eſt
Anno 1662.
Maii decimo.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, p. 260.

He had the firſt Prebend in the Church of Durham, the Rectory of Erlington in the Biſhoprick, and Greſham Hoſpital, all worth near 1000*l. per Ann.* He is mention'd by Dr. Heylyn as one of the eminent Men retained with others in the Service of Biſhop Neile, to whom he was Chaplain.

Walker's Attempt, Part II. p. 19.

Death and Character of Dr. Peter Heylin.

His Education.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 181.

Death of Dr. Peter Heylyn, Son of Henry Heylyn, deſcended from an ancient Family of his Name living at Pentrie-Heylyn in Montgomeryſhire, born at Burford in Oxfordſhire on the 29th of November 1599. educated in Grammar Learning in the Free-School there under Mr. Thomas North firſt, and after under Mr. Edward Davis, where profiting in Trivials to a Miracle, eſpecially in Poetry (in which he gave ſeveral ingenious Specimens as Occaſion offer'd) was in the Year 1613. plac'd by his Father in Hart-Hall under the Tuition ſucceſſively of two Tutors, viz. Mr. Joſeph Hill, and Mr. Walt. Newberry, a zealous Puritan. The next Year he ſtood to be Demie of Magdalen College, but being then put by was the Year following elected.

His own Account of his early Principles.

Epiſt. Ded. to his Sermon on the Tares, 1659, 4to.

It was my Happineſs to be bred under ſuch a Father, as very well underſtood the Conſtitution of the Church of England, and was a diligent Obſerver of all publick Duties which were required of him in his Place and Station. And altho' my Tutor in Hart-Hall (of which Houſe I was before I went to Magdalen College) was biaſs'd on the other Side, and that I was then very young, and capable of any Impreſſion which he might think fit to ſtamp upon me, yet I carried thence the ſame Principles I brought thither with me, and which I had ſuck'd in as it were with my Mother's Milk.

Mr. A. Wood's fuller Relation.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 182.

—— 1618. choſen Probationer, and the Year following perpetual Fellow of Magdalen College. —— In 1623. made Deacon and Prieſt by Dr. Howſon Biſhop of Oxon. —— In 1625. he went into France. —— On the 24th of April 1627. he anſwered pro Forma on theſe Queſtions: I. An Eccleſia unquam fuerit inviſibilis? II. An Eccleſia poſſit errare? Both which he determined negatively, contrary to the Mind and Judgment of Prideaux the King's Profeſſor of Divinity, &c. —— In Feb. 1627. he was by the Letters of the Lord Danvers commended to Dr. Laud, then Biſhop of Bath and Wells, for his Advancement in the Church. —— Nominated one of his Majeſty's Chaplains, B.D. in Jan. 1629. —— In Oct. 1631. made Rector of Hemingford in Huntingdonſhire, by the Procurement of Bp. Laud, and on the firſt of November following the King gave him a Prebend of Weſtminſter. —— The next Year the King beſtowed on him the rich Parſonage of Houghton in the Spring, within the Biſhoprick of Durham, void by the Promotion of Dr. Auguſtine Lindſell to the Biſhoprick of Peterborough, which for his own Convenience the King gave way that he ſhould change it with Dr. Marſhal, for the Rectory of Ailresford in Hampſhire. In 1633. he proceeded D. D. &c. — In 1638. he became Rector of South-Warnborough in Hampſhire, by exchange with Mr. Tho. Atkinſon of St. John's College for Iſlip near Oxon. and put into the Commiſſion of Peace for Hampſhire. —— Apr. 10, 1640. he was choſe Clerk of the Convocation for Weſtminſter. —— In 1642. he followed the King to Oxon. —— In 1643. voted a Delinquent and ſequeſtred, — compounded for his temporal Eſtate. —— In 1645. he left Oxon. and ſhifted from Place to Place — and ſettled for a Time with his Wife and Children at Wincheſter. —— In 1647. he removed to Minſter-Lovel in Oxfordſhire, —— thence to Abingdon in Berks, where he bought an Houſe and Land call'd Lacy's-Court. —— In 1660. reſtored to his Spiritualties; but never roſe higher than Sub-dean of Weſtminſter, which was a Wonder to many, and a great Diſcontent to him and his: But the Reaſon being manifeſt to thoſe that well knew the Temper of the Perſon, I ſhall forbear to make mention of that Matter any farther, &c.

Inſtall'd Nov. 9, 1631.

Church-Men of the warmeſt Temper were not thought ſo fit to be promoted, as the moderate and pacifick Divines.

His Life more at large by Mr. Geor. Vernon.

London, printed for C. Harper, 8vo. 1682.

The Life of the learned and religious Dr. Peter Heylyn, Chaplain to Charles I. and Charles II. Monarchs of Great-Britain. Written by George Vernon, Rector of Bourton on the Water in Glouceſterſhire.

Epiſt. Ded. To the worthy and my ever honoured Friends, Henry Heylyn of Minſter-Lovell, Eſq; and Henry Heylyn, Gentleman, Son to Dr. Heylyn.

A preſaging Dream.

On Saturday Night before his fatal Sickneſs he had this Dream, viz. that being in an extraordinary pleaſant Place, admiring the Beauty and Glory of it, he ſaw King Charles I. his martyr'd Maſter, and heard him ſpeak to him in theſe Words: Peter, I will have you buried under your Seat at Church, for you are rarely ſeen but there or in your Study. This Dream he related to his Wife the very next Morning, and deſired that his Burial might be exactly according to it. A violent Fever ſeiz'd him May 1, 1662. depriv'd him of his Underſtanding for ſeven Days, the eighth Day he died; but for ſome Hours before had the Uſe of his Faculties reſtored to him, telling one of the Vergers of the Church who came to him, I know it is Church Time with you, and this is Aſcenſion-Day: I am aſcending

His regard to Dreams ſeems to have been borrowed from his great Patron Archbiſhop Laud.

ing to the Church triumphant: I go to my God and Saviour into Joys celeſtial, and to Hallelujahs eternal. He died in his great Climacterical upon Aſcenſion-Day.

His Monument is erected on the North-ſide of the Abbey in Weſtminſter, over againſt the Sub-Dean's Seat: And the right reverend Dr. Earle, then Dean of Weſtminſter, was pleaſed to honour the Memory of his dear Friend with this following Inſcription:

His Epitaph by Dr. Earle.

Depoſitum Mortale
Petri Heylyn, S. Th. D.
Hujus Eccleſiæ Præbendarii & Subdecani,
Viri plane memorabilis,
Egregiis dotibus inſtructiſſimi,
Ingenio acri & fæcundo,
Judicio ſubacto,
Memoria ad prodigium tenaci,
Cui adjunxit incredibilem in ſtudiis patientiam,
Quæ ceſſantibus oculis non ceſſarunt.
Scripſit varia & plurima,
Quæ jam manibus leruntur;
Et argumentis non vulgaribus
Stylo non vulgari ſuffecit.
Et Majeſtatis Regiæ Aſſertor
Nec florentis magis utriuſque
Quàm afflictæ,
Idemque perduellium & Schiſmaticæ Factionis
Impugnator acerrimus.
Contemptor invidiæ
Et animo infracto
Plura ejuſmodi meditanti
Mors indixit ſilentium:
Ut ſileatur
Efficere non poteſt.
Obiit Anno ætatis 63.
Poſuit hoc illi mæſtiſſima Conjux:

Dr. Walker more particular in his Sufferings.

Account of the Sufferings of the Clergy.

Mr. Walker ſpeaks more particularly of his Sufferings: That the Houſe of Commons in 1640. ordered Articles to be drawn up againſt him for promoting the Suit againſt Prynn; though, if I miſtake not, he was no other Ways concerned than in furniſhing the Lords of the Privy-Council at his Majeſty's Command, with Matters out of the Hiſtriomatrix: But getting clear of that Proſecution he was not long after brought before the ſame Committee again on ſome Articles drawn up by Mr. Prynn himſelf; the chief Accuſation in which concern'd a Sermon that he had preach'd many Years before. But Dr. Heylin getting the better of his Adverſary in this alſo, and being diſmiſſed by the Committee, retired to Alresford. In the Beginning of 1643. he was ſent for by a Party of Horſe from Portſmouth, which he had the good Luck to eſcape: But being continually diſturbed with new Alarms, he was forced to betake himſelf for Sanctuary to his Majeſty at Oxford. Upon the News of which the Committee take him in Hand the third Time, vote him a Delinquent, and ſequeſter the Profits of his Prebend, and of both his Livings, as likewiſe his temporal Eſtate, and all his Goods and Chattels. In purſuance of which they ſeiz'd his Books, which themſelves appraiſed at one thouſand Pounds, and carried them to Portſmouth, where they were put into a publick Library, from whence he could never after redeem them. At the ſame Time alſo they ſeized upon his Corn and Hay, and in Carts and Waggons carried away his houſhold Goods, leaving him as naked as Job; inſomuch that being aſked by his Friends at Oxford how he lived, he told them, upon Horſe Fleſh and old Leather, meaning his Coach and Horſes, with which he had fled to Oxford, which was the only Thing he had ſaved of all his Goods, and which he was forced to ſell for a Subſiſtence. When he had eaten up theſe, to uſe his own Figure, he was afterwards for ſome Time ſupported by Charity, ſending his Wife to London among her own Relations to try what ſhe could get there; and travelling himſelf in Diſguiſe through the Countrey, ſometimes under the Name of Barker, and at other Times under that of Harding. —— At length being weary of ſuch a Pilgrimage, and having gotten ſome Supplies of Money, he ſettled at Wincheſter in the Houſe of one Mr. Lizard, a right honeſt Man, where he continued in Peace, until that Gariſon was treacherouſly delivered up to the Parliament; at which Time he was forced to lie concealed in a private Room of that Houſe for a while, the Soldiers in the mean Time ſearching for him with the utmoſt Diligence. At length taking the Opportunity of a Market Day, he made his Eſcape in the Habit of a Countryman with a long Stick in his Hand, but ſome Miles out of that City he met with a Party of the Parliament Soldiers, who examin'd him, and feeling a Ring under his Glove, which in the Hurry he had forgotten to take off, they ſwore he was ſome runaway Cavalier, and preſently fell to rifling him. ——In 1648. he came to the Seat of his elder Brother called Minſter-Lovel in Oxfordſhire, which he farmed of his Nephew Colonel Heylin. — From thence in 1653. he remov'd to Lacy's-Court in Abingdon, ſome Time after which his temporal Eſtate, although he had before compounded for it, was ordered to be decimated, and he appearing on that Account before Oliver's Major-General to argue his own Caſe, one Captain Allen formerly a Tinker, and his good Lady a poor Tripe Wife, took upon him to reprove the Doctor for maintaining his Wife ſo highly: Whereupon Dr. Heylin with his uſual Courage and Spirit told him, that he had married a Gentlewoman, and did maintain her according to her Quality, and ſo might he his Tripe Wife. In the mean Time it was in vain, that the Doctor pleaded his Caſe before the Baſha, and accordingly the Order for Decimation was put in Execution. I have this only to add concerning his Sufferings, that he had in all eleven Children, &c.

Proceedings in Convocation, upon ſome Rule recommended to them for reverend Geſtures in Divine Service.

The Majority agree to preſent the Canon made to that Purpoſe in 1603. to the Houſe of Commons.

Append. ad Synod. Angl.

Die Sabbati 10. Maii 1662. In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis. —— Habito Tractatu ex directione Domus Communitatis Parliamenti de Reverentia ſolenni inter Liturgiæ Publicæ celebrationem, necnon tempore Sermonum & Homiliarum adhibenda, major pars dictæ Domus ſuperioris Convocationis in votis dedit, ut Conſtitutio in Libro Conſtitutionum ſive Canonum Eccleſiaſticorum alias in Anno Domini 1603. ſub titulo de ſolenni Reverentia inter Liturgiæ Publicæ celebrationem edit’ & proviſ’ dictæ Domui Communitatis Parliamenti preſentetur; habita priùs Conſideratione de & ſuper dicto Canone per Domum inferiorem Convocationis.

Six new Biſhops conſecrated for ſo many Sees in Scotland.

With a Sermon preached by Dr. Gordon.

Mercur. Publ. No. 19. p. 309.

Adviſed from Edenburgh, that on the 7th of this Inſtant, ſix of our Biſhops were conſecrated in the Abbey Church of Haly-Rood-Houſe, viz. the Biſhops of Dunkeld, Murray, Roſs, Brechen, Iſles, and Cathneſs. The Conſecration Sermon was preach'd by Dr. Gordon who gave great Satisfaction to that numerous Auditory that throng'd to ſee this Solemnity performed. The Lord Commiſſioner, Lord Chancellor, and moſt of the Nobility were preſent, with above 200 Miniſters: though the Number of the Clergy would have been far greater, had they had Notice of it before Monday laſt. On May the 8th the Parliament ſate; the Biſhop of Dunkeld preach'd before them, who in his Sermon prov'd the Covetant to be rebellious, and that thereby the People were bound to kill even the King under the Notion of a Malignant. He did alſo very learnedly aſſert the Lawfulneſs and Neceſſity of Epiſcopacy againſt thoſe, who though they were convinc'd, yet (as he ſaid) were aſham'd to repent, becauſe they were eſteem'd the Idols of the former Times. After Sermon, the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy being adminiſtred to the Earls and Lords, the Act for reſtoring Biſhops to their ancient Right of ſitting in Parliament was read, which paſſed the Houſe Nemine Contradicente. This Act being paſs'd, ſome Earls, Lords, and others were ordered to bring them into the Houſe, where they were joyfully received, and took their Places according to their Dignities.

Opening of the Parliament in Scotland, with a Sermon by the Biſhop of Dunkeld

Their firſt Act was for reſtoring Biſhops.

Who were accordingly introduc'd.

SUNDAY May 11.

Conſecration of Dr. Hall Biſhop of Cheſter.

Archdeacon of Cornwall and Canterbury, Canon of Exeter and Windſor, Vicar of Minhenet in Cornwall, and of St. Botolph's Alderſgate, London.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col 297
Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, 4to. p. 335.
See Aug. 23, 1668.

The Conſecration of Dr. George Hall, Archdeacon of Canterbury, made Biſhop of Cheſter in the Room of Dr. Henry Fearne, deceaſed: He had about the ſame Time the Rectory of Wigan in Lancaſhire conferred on him by Sir Orlando Bridgman, Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, with an Expectation that it would have been for ever annexed to the ſaid See according to the good Intentions of Sir Orlando's Father Dr. John Bridgman, late Biſhop of Cheſter; but he kept it only in Commendam, and was there buried in Auguſt 1668.

The Dukes of York, Ormond, &c. coaſt about the Iſle of Wight to meet the Queen.

Heath's Chron. p. 508.

On May 11. his Royal Highneſs attended by the Duke of Ormond, the Earls of Suffolk and Cheſterfield, the Lord Berkley, and other Perſons of Quality, went aboard the ſtately Yacht which the City of Amſterdam had preſented to the King, to coaſt about the Iſle of Wight, to meet her Majeſty: And about ten this Sunday Morning they diſcovered the Royal James, but there was ſo great a Calm that they could not reach the Royal Charles till ſix in the Evening, when he went aboard, and being conducted to her Majeſty's Cabbin, he was placed in a Chair on her right Hand, where after ſeveral Expreſſions of Joy for her Majeſty's happy Arrival on the Coaſt of England, and having preſented his Majeſty's high Reſpects to, and exceeding Affection for her, his Royal Highneſs took Leave, and retired to his Yacht.

At ſix in the Evening the Duke goes aboard the Royal Charles, and compliments the Queen.

MONDAY May 12.

The 18th Canon of 1603. for a Reverence and Attention to be uſed within the Church in Time of Divine Service, with ſome Alterations and Amendments, was approved and confirm'd in Convocation.

Append. ad Synod. Angl. 8vo.

In ſuperiori Domo Convocationis. —— Conſtitutio ſive Canon de Reverentia tempore Divinorum adhibenda alias ultima Seſſione in hac Domo tractat' a Domo inferiori Convocationis unà cum nonnullis Alterationibus ſive Emendationibus per eos factis fuit introduct'. Dictoque Canone unà cum dictis Emendationibus publice perlectis, eadem Conſtitutio fuit unanimi conſenſu & aſſenſu totius Domus ſuperioris approbat' & confirmat'. Et hoc facto dictus Dominus continuavit, &c.

Heath's Chron. p. 568.

On Monday Morning Sir Joſeph Douglas was diſpatch'd by his Royal Highneſs to the King, but could not reach Portſmouth till this Evening, May 13, from whence Sir Joſeph took Poſt, leaving the Duke of Ormond to make Preparation for the Reception of her Majeſty.

TUESDAY May 13.

Mr. Nye's Books and Papers to be left with the Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

Journal of the Commons.

Report made in the Houſe of Commons that whereas Mr. Crouch, a Member of this Houſe did acquaint the Houſe, that in purſuance of their Order he had received of Mr. Nye divers Preſentations, Books of Inſtitutions and other Records and Writings concerning Eccleſiaſtical Livings, and now deſired the Directions of the Houſe how he ſhould diſpoſe thereof. Ordered that Mr. Crouch do deliver all the Preſentations, Books of Inſtitutions, and other Records and Writings concerning Eccleſiaſtical Livings, which by Order of this Houſe he received from Mr. Nye, into the Hands of the moſt reverend Father in God the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who is deſired to take Care that the ſame may be preſerved in Perpetuity for publick Uſe.

Ordered,

Eſpecially the late Surveys of Biſhopricks and Deans and Chapters.

Ordered, that Mr. Michael Mallet and Mr. William Ayloffe do deliver all ſuch Surveys and other Records and Writings concerning the Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks, Deans and Chapters, which are in their Hands, unto the moſt reverend Father in God the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who is deſired to take Care for the Preſervation thereof, and to diſpoſe of the ſame to the reſpective Biſhops, Deans and Chapters, who are therein concerned, if he ſhall think fit.

Epitaph of Sir Thomas Cotton, the happy Collector of Manuſcript Books and Papers for a noble Library.

In the South Chancel of Connington Church in Huntingdonſhire.

Le Neve.

THOMAS COTTONUS Baronettus, ROB. Filius, Hæres & Imitator Paternæ ſedulitatis in conquirendis Britannicarum Antiquitatum Monumentis.

H. S. E.

Oppreſſæ Patriæ & Regi CAROLO 1mo. fidem præſtitit,
Bibliothecam inæſtimabilem ſummo ſtudio
Nec minoribus impenſis conſervavit,
Locupletavit, & Poſteritati eruditæ dicavit,
Duas uxores lectiſſimas fœminas ſibi ſociavit.
Ex priori filium Johannem, filias Luciam & Franciſcam ſuſcepit
Ex poſteriori, tres filios (uno prærepto) & duas filias
Superſtites reliquit.
Obiit Maii 13°. Anno Dom. 1662.
JOHANNES COTTON Patri amantiſſimo poſuit.
Quantula pars hominum Corporis exuviæ!

Mr. John Kawley Rector of Bradwell juxta Mare in Eſſex.

Die 13. Maii 1662. Johannes Kawley Cler. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam de Bradwell juxta Mare Com. Eſſex. vac. per mort. Egidii Berry ad preſ. Franciſci Domini Newport. —— Joh. More Cler. ad eand. vac. per reſign. Johannis Kawley 26. Febr. 1662.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 85.

WEDNESDAY May 14. Richard Milward created D. D.

The King's Letters Mandatory to the Univerſity of Cambridge, to admit Richard Milward to the Degree of Doctor in Divinity; dated May 14, 1662.

Ricardus Milward, S. T. P. Coll. Trin. Cantabr. Rector de Braxſted in Com. Eſſex. inſtallatus in Canonicatu Windeſor die 30. Junii 1666. Obiit 30. Septemb. 1680.

Reg. Eccl. Windeſor, MS.

Rector of Braxſted, Eſſex.

Ricardus Milward Clericus, admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Braxſted-Magna Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. Thomæ Meighen, die 12 Decemb. 1643. ad preſ. Philippi Com. Pembroch.

Reg. Lond.

Vicar of Iſleworth Com. Middleſex.

Ricardus Milward, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Iſleworth Com. Middleſ. die 3. Jul. 1678. vac. per Mort. ult. Vicarii ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Windeſor. cui ſucceſſit Joh. Horden, A. M. 16. Apr. 1681. per Mort. Ricardi Milward.

Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 676.

He publiſh'd Mr. Selden's Table Talk.

Mr. Selden's Table Talk: Being the Diſcourſes or his Senſe of various Matters of Weight and high Conſequence, relating eſpecially to Religion and State. London 1689, 4to. Publiſhed by Richard Milward, who had obſerved his Diſcourſes for twenty Years together.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 111.

Bp. Morley tranſlated from Worceſter to Wincheſter.

The Confirmation of Dr. George Morley, Biſhop of Worceſter, tranſlated to the See of Wincheſter May 14, 1662.

Journal of the Earl of Sandwich Admiral.

Journal of Edward Earl of Sandwich his Arrival with the Queen.

News from the Streights.

Thurſday May 1, 1662. We met a Merchant come from the Streights, Leghorne, he touch'd at Toulon, whence he parted two Months ſince, Sir John Lawſon was newly up from the Careen: He ſaith the French would not let him go in, without he would ſtrike his Flag, which he refuſed to do, and ſo careened without. The Crown came Convoy with him along. He ſays alſo, that the Nonſuch had taken the Vice-Admiral of Algier of twenty four Guns. He ſays he was at Alicant ſix Weeks ſince, where he met Sir Rich. Stayner ready to ſail for the Bay of Algier. He arrived in Tangier Bay the ninth of April, where he found the Aſſurance and Swallow Ketch, and left Company of Capt. Beach in the Crown there, who brought three People down from Genoa, Artiſts to build a Mould.

The Fleet at the Land's-End.

Sunday May 4. Wind at E. N. E. at eight in the Morning we were three Leagues off Scilly Iſlands, bearing N. W. fair in Sight, and ſeven Leagues N. E. was the Lands End fair to be ſeen alſo.

Off St. Michael's-Mount.

Tueſday May 6. Wind at E. N. E. freſh Gale. We turned up within two Leagues of St. Michael's-Mount North from us, about ſeven a-Clock at Night, and there we came to an Anchor.

A Preſent of freſh Proviſions to the Queen.

Wedneſday May 7. This Morning Colonel St. Albans came on board and brought the Queen a Preſent of freſh Proviſions from St. Michael's-Mount. I ſent aſhoar a Pacquet to the King, Duke, Lord Chancellor, Lord Chamberlain.

Near to Cape-Lizard.

Wedneſday May 8. We weighed Anchor about four a-Clock in the Afternoon, and turned up within a League and a half of Cape-Lizard, where we ſtopt the Ebb at an Anchor. At that Time came into us the Foreſight with Capt. Allen, bound for Liſbon Convoy to 160 Horſe, Major Dungan Commander, who was on board us. Captain Lambert alſo in the Norwich came to us, he is bound to Tangier, who told us, that before he came out from Portſmouth, News was come from Court, that the Princeſs was arrived from the Fleet. We heard from Penſance, that the Princeſs arrived at Plymouth on Sunday laſt.

His Royal Highneſs comes aboard the Queen's Ship.

Sunday May 11, 1662. At Noon we had Torbay W. N. W. off us ſix Leagues. At Sun-ſet his Royal Highneſs came on board us from his Yacht, and attending upon him, the Duke of Ormond, the Earl of Suffolk, the Earl of Cheſterfield, the Earl of Carlingſord, Mr. Coventry, Mr. Brouncker, Mr. May.

And again the next Day.

Monday May 12. In the Morning his Royal Highneſs came on board again, about Noon we ſtopt the Tide of Ebb at an Anchor, Portland bearing W. N. W. from us three Leagues off. The Duke of Ormond made the beſt of his Way for Portſmouth, and Sir John Douglaſs to go with a Pacquet to the King.

Mr. Mountague and Mr. Talbot.

Tueſday May 13. Wind Weſtwardly, at Noon we were off Dunnoſe-Point of the Iſle of Wight, where Mr. Mountague and Mr. Talbot came on board us. The Duke kept in his Yacht upon the Quarter of the Charles, and every Day came on board to viſit the Queen. At Night we came to an Anchor off St. Ellens-Point.

The Queen lands at Portſmouth, and is received by the Duke of Ormond, the Lord Mancheſter, &c. and conducted to the King's Houſe.

Wedneſday May 14, 1662. Wind weſterly, we weighed Anchor, and about two o' Clock in the Afternoon came to an Anchor off the Spithead, and about four o' Clock in the Afternoon, his Royal Highneſs took the Queen in the Ann Yacht and ſail'd to the Beach at Portſmouth, next the Town-Gate, and then her Majeſty went into the Barge wherein ſhe was brought to Shoar, the Duke of Ormond and the Earl of Mancheſter attending on the Shoar Side to receive her Majeſty, who immediately upon Landing went in her own Coach, the Lords, the Portugal Ambaſſador and myſelf walking a Foot before the Coach to the King's Houſe in Portſmouth.

Sir Joſeph Douglaſs brings an Expreſs from the Queen.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. Heath's Chron p 508.

This Morning Sir Joſeph Douglas came very early to Court with an Expreſs from her Majeſty. He was according to the Orders he had formerly received on Saturday laſt making towards Portſmouth in the Princeſs commanded by Capt. Hall, when his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York met him five Leagues off the Iſle of Wight, and commanded him back with him to meet the Fleet. On Sunday Morning about nine o' Clock we diſcovered the Royal James, but there was ſo great a Calm, that they could not reach the Royal Charles till ſix at Evening. No ſooner had the General eſpyed his Highneſs's Yacht, but he went out in his Barge to meet him, the Royal Banner being all the while vail'd till he was aboard. When his Highneſs came into the Ship, the Soldiers gave three ſeveral Shouts, and all the great Guns in the Royal Charles (which from the Queen's Entrance till that Time had been ſilent) proclaimed his Welcome, after which the ſeveral Ships of the Fleet paid him their Salutes. Being conducted to her Majeſty's Cabbin, he was placed in a Chair on her Right Hand, where after ſeveral Expreſſions of Joy for her Majeſty's happy Arrival on the Coaſts of England, his Highneſs took his Leave, to retire himſelf to his Yacht that Night.

Of the Duke of York's Viſit to his Majeſty.

Meſſage to his Majeſty of the Queen's Arrival.

See Iter Luſitanicum: Or the Portugal Voyage, with what memorable Paſſages interven'd at the Shipping, and in the Tranſportation of her ſacred Majeſty Katherine Queen of Great-Britain from Liſbon to England. By Dr. Samuel Hynde. London, printed for Rob. Pawlet.

On Monday Morning about ten o' Clock, Sir Joſeph Douglaſs was diſpatch'd away in his Majeſty's Yacht, (with whom went the Duke of Ormond, the Earls of Suffolk and Cheſterfield, and other Perſons of Quality) to bring the News to his Majeſty of the Queen's Approach. They were forc'd to tide it thence, and ſometimes lay at Anchor, it being a dead Calm, ſo that they could not reach Portſmouth till four o' Clock laſt Night. There the Duke of Ormond, &c. ſtaid to make Preparations for the Reception of her Majeſty, whilſt Sir Joſeph Douglas took Poſt for Whitehall. When he came thence the Fleet were at St. Hellen's-Point in the Iſle of Wight; from whence, had it not been too bold a Venture to hazard Majeſty in a Night-Tide, they might have reach'd Portſmouth this Morning; but making Uſe of the Day-Tide, which ſerv'd about ten o' Clock, they arrived in all Probability at Portſmouth about four this Afternoon.

Account of Biſhop Morley tranſlated to Wincheſter.

Notes of the Editor of the Engliſh Life of Dr. Jo. Barwick, 8vo. p. 513.

Dr. George Morley, Chaplain in Ordinary to King Charles I. and Canon of Chriſt-Church, who after the Murder of his Royal Maſter, had ſpent moſt of his Time abroad in Exile, was, upon the Reſtoration, for his eminent Loyalty and great Sufferings, made firſt Dean of Chriſt-Church, then Biſhop of Worceſter, Oct. 28, 1660. and at laſt Biſhop of Wincheſter, May 14, 1662. and died at Farnham-Caſtle, Oct. 29, 1684.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c 583,

His great Charity and publick Spirit.

He was confirmed Biſhop of Wincheſter May 14, 1662. where he truly verified the Saying that the King gave out, when he beſtowed the ſaid Biſhoprick on him, that he would never be the Richer for it. For beſides his Expences in building and repairing his Palace at Wincheſter, he laid out much more than the Supplies the Parliament gave him in the Act, which impower'd him to leaſe out Waltham-Park, and his Tenements which were built out of Wincheſter-Houſe in Southwark. He ſpent 8000*l.* in repairing the Caſtle at Farnham before the Year 1672, and afterwards ſpent more; and above 4000*l.* in purchaſing Wincheſter-Houſe at Chelſea to annex it to the See, which when he came to, he found not an Houſe to dwell in, yet afterwards left two fair ones to his Succeſſors. In this firſt Year of his Tranſlation he viſited his Dioceſe in Perſon, and went into the Iſle of Wight, where had not been a Biſhop before in the Memory of Man.

THURSDAY May 15.

Proceedings in the Houſe of Lords.

Die Jovis. 15. Maii 1662.

In the Houſe of Lords, the Lord Mohun reported the Effect of the Conference with the Houſe of Commons concerning the Bill for reſtoring of Advowſons and Impropriations to thoſe that compounded, — that the Houſe of Commons have conſidered of their Lordſhip's Alterations and Proviſo to that Bill:

Upon the Bill for reſtoring Impropriations.

They agree with their Lordſhips in the Alterations with the adding of this Saving, viz. Saving to all Perſons others than the Truſtees and their Heirs, and all claiming under them ſuch Right to the ſaid Rectories and Premiſſes as hath accrued before the 19th Day of May 1662. And as to the Proviſo for allowing the third Part to the Church, the Commons do not agree to it. After the Conſideration hereof, the Queſtion being put, whether to agree to this Saving brought from the Houſe of Commons, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Their Lordſhips agree with Commons.

Mr. John Dod Rector of Hinton.

Reg. Laney.

1662. 15. Maii Johannes Dod Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Hinton in Com. Northton. vac. per Mort. Thomæ Harris ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Hon. Viri Johannis Baronis de Steane pleno jure. —— ceſſit 1692.

FRIDAY May 16.

Death of Mr. John Ley, an eminent Preſbyterian Divine.

His Birth, Education and Preferments.

See Faſti Ox. Vol. II. col. 75. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 190. See Eachard's Ch. II. p. 94.

Death of an eminent and learned Preſbyterian Mr. John Ley, born at Warwick Feb. 4, 1583. deſcended from the Leys of Cheſhire, educated in Grammar Learning in that Borough, became a Student of Chriſt-Church in Oxon. 1601. when M. A. preſented by the Dean and Canons to the Vicarage of Great-Budworth in Cheſhire, and there continued ſeveral Years a conſtant Preacher. Afterwards he was made Prebendary of the Cathedral Church at Cheſter, Sub-Dean thereof 1605. a weekly Lecturer on Friday in St. Peter's Church in the ſaid City, and Clerk of the Convocation of the Clergy once or twice. But he having always been puritanically inclined, ſided with the Preſbyterians upon the Defection of the Members of the Long Parliament An. 1641. took the Covenant, was made one of the Aſſembly of Divines, Examiner in Latin to the ſaid Aſſembly, Rector of Aſhfield in Cheſhire, and for a Time Rector of Aſtbury or Eſtbury in the ſaid County, Chairman of the Committee for the Examination of Miniſters, and of the Committee for Printing, one of the Ordainers of Miniſters according to the Preſbyterian Way, &c. Preſident of Sion College about 1645. and afterwards when Dr. Edward Hyde was ejected from his rich Parſonage of Brightwell near Wallingford in Berks, he was appointed to ſucceed him by the Committee, which if I miſtake not, he kept with other Benefices for a Time. In 1653. he was appointed one of the Tryers for the Approbation of Publick Miniſters, and, in the Year following, an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners of Berks for the ejecting of ſuch whom they then called ſcandalous, ignorant and inſufficient Miniſters and School-Maſters. Soon after, upon Pretence that he could enjoy but little Peace or Hope of Settlement at Brightwell, (for the Truth is, he was much hated while he lived there) he obtained the rich Rectory of Solyhull in Warwickſhire, from the Patron thereof Sir Sim. Archer of Kinberſlade near Tamworth, Knight, before the Year 1656. where he continued for ſome Time. At length breaking a Vein within him, by over-ſtraining himſelf in ſpeaking, became very weak thereupon. So that being not able to go on in the Miniſtry, he reſigned Solyhull upon ſome Conſideration given, and went to Sutton-Colfield in the ſaid County, where after he had lived privately for a ſhort Time, gave up the Ghoſt in a fair Age. He was eſteemed in his Time a Man of Note, eſpecially by thoſe of the Preſbyterian Perſuaſion, well vers'd in various Authors, and a ready Preacher, and Writer, &c. he died at Sutton-Coldfield 16 May 1662. and was buried in the Church there, leaving then the Character behind him by ſome, that he was one of the Pillars of Preſbytery, and by others a Perſon learned and well read in the Fathers and Councils.

SATURDAY May 17.

Motion of the Commons, to addreſs his Majeſty for a Proclamation for the better Obſervance of the Lord's Day; And to enforce his former Proclamation againſt Prophaneneſs, &c.

And that no Miniſter in Poſſeſſion Dec. 25. 1659. be injured by Lapſe to his Majeſty.

Journal of the Commons.

Die Sabbati 17. Maii 1662.

Ordered, that it be humbly recommended from this Houſe of Commons to his Majeſty, to iſſue his Proclamation for the due Obſervation of the Lord's-Day according to the Laws; and likewiſe to enforce his former Proclamations againſt Prophaneneſs, Swearing and Drunkenneſs.

Ordered by the Commons, that his Majeſty be humbly moved, that no Miniſter that was in Poſſeſſion of any Living on the 25th of December 1659. upon a Preſentation, Donation, or Nomination from the rightful Patron, be prejudiced by any Title of Lapſe accrued to his Majeſty; for that a Bill concerning this Matter was now depending betwixt the two Houſes.

The Speaker's Speech to the King.

By the King's Printers. Fol. 1662.

Die Lunæ 19. Maii 1662.

The King preſent on the Throne. —— The Commons called up.

The Speech of Sir Edward Turner, Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, to the King.

The King to his People, as the Sun to the Earth.

May it pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty,

The glorious Body of the Sun doth exhilerate the Soul of Man with its Light, and fructifies the Earth by its Heat: In like Manner, we the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes of the Commons Houſe of Parliament, do with all Humility and Thankfulneſs acknowledge, theſe frequent Acceſſions to your Royal Preſence do both comfort our Hearts, and influence our Actions.

His Return to this Land, as the Flowing of Nile to Egypt.

Geographers do tell us, the Land of Egypt is a dry Soil, but made fertile by the overflowing of the River Nilus; and according to the Degrees of the Flood, the Inhabitants do prognoſticate the Fruitfulneſs of the enſuing Year, if it flows to twelve Degrees, it Preſages a good Harveſt; if to thirteen, then more plentiful, but if to fourteen Degrees, their Hopes are raiſed to an Expectation of an abundant Encreaſe.

Great Sir, Your Return into this Nation in the twelfth Year of your Reign, reſembles the Flowing of the River Nilus in the twelfth Degree; that Year was crowned with the Enjoyment of your Royal Perſon. The laſt Year being the thirteenth Year of your Majeſty's Reign, we were made happy in your Coronation, and by your Sanction of many good and uſeful Laws both for the Church and State. And now our River Nilus begins to flow fourteen Degrees, we are by the Mercies of God in an humble Expectation of a great Jubilee. Our gracious Queen is now happily landed, who we do hope, and daily pray, may prove a ſuitable Companion to your Royal Perſon, and e're long a nurſing Mother to this Nation.

The Queen now happily landed.

If

The great Number of Bills to be paſſed.
Both Hands filled with Preſents from the Commons.
The Church ſettled in her ancient Glory.
And the People reſtored to their ancient Rights and Privileges.

If your Majeſty but pleaſe to caſt your Eyes upon the Table, and behold the great Number of Bills that there preſent themſelves before you, like ſo many Sheafs of Corn bound up and ready to be houſed; and will vouchſafe to ſee how both my Hands are filled with no light Preſents from your Loyal Commons; and if your Royal Majeſty, the great Lord of the Harveſt, ſhall vouchſafe to crown this Day by your gracious Conceſſions to our Deſires, the World will then ſee, how great a Duty your People chearfully pay both to your Royal Perſon and your Government, and likewiſe how great a Zeal your Majeſty hath, by the faithful Advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons aſſembled in Parliament, to ſettle the Church in her ancient Glory, and to reſtore the happy People of this Nation to their ancient Rights and Privileges.

A Reproach upon the Nation wiped away.

Some foreign Writers, that envy the Happineſs of our Government, injuriouſly aſperſe this Nation with a reproachful Saying, That the Crown of England is only maintained by the Benevolence of the People, which never is granted, but in Exchange of ſome Royal Prerogative.

Great Sir,

Prerogative and Property like Stones in an Arch ſupport one another.

We know, the ſtrongeſt Building muſt fall, if the coupling Pins be pulled out; therefore our Care hath been to prepare ſuch Conſtitutions, that the Prerogative of the Crown, and the Propriety of the People, may like ſquared Stones in a well-built Arch, each ſupport the other, and grow the cloſer and ſtronger for any Weight or Force that ſhall be laid upon them.

In the Church the Hedge was broken down, and the Foxes and the Wolves did enter.
Many Diſorders that created a Neceſſity for a Bill of Uniformity.

We cannot forget the late diſputing Age, wherein moſt Perſons took a Liberty, and ſome Men made it their Delight, to trample upon the Diſcipline and Government of the Church: The Hedge being trod down, the Foxes and the Wolves did enter, the Swine and other unclean Beaſts defiled the Temple: At length it was diſcerned, the Smectymnian Plot did not only bend itſelf to reform Ceremonies, but ſought to erect a Popular Authority of Elders, and to root out Epiſcopal Juriſdiction: In order to this Work, Church Ornaments were firſt taken away, then the Means whereby Diſtinction, or Inequality might be upheld amongſt Eccleſiaſtical Governors; then the Forms of Common Prayer, which as Members of the publick Body of Chriſt's Church were enjoyned us, were decryed as ſuperſtitious, and in lieu thereof, nothing, or worſe than nothing, introduced. Your Majeſty having already reſtored the Governours and Government of the Church, the Patrimony and Privileges of our Church-men, we held it now our Duty, for the Reformation of all Abuſes in the Publick Worſhip of God, humbly to preſent unto Your Majeſty, a Bill for the Uniformity of Publick Prayers and Adminiſtration of Sacraments.

We hope, the God of Order and Unity will conform the Hearts of all the People in this Nation, to ſerve him in this Order and Uniformity.

Their Care of the Militia.
A Bill for the Regulation of it, and placing the ſole Right in his Majeſty.

Next to the Worſhip and Service of God, we applied ourſelves to the ſettling our great Concern, the Militia. We have already, according to our Duties, and the Laws, declared the ſole Right of the Militia to be in your Majeſty: And now with your Permiſſion, we humbly tender your Majeſty a Bill for the better Regulation and ordering the ſtanding Forces of this Nation; wherein we have taken Care to make all Things ſo certain, that your Majeſty's Lieutenants and their Deputies, may know what to command, and all the People learn how to obey.

And becauſe our late Wounds are yet but green, and poſſibly before the Body Politick be well purged, may incline to break out again, whereby your Majeſty may be forced to draw your Sword before your Treaſury be ſupplied with Money: We have conſented, that your Majeſty may raiſe for the three next enſuing Years, one Month's Tax in each Year, after the Rate of 70000 l. per Menſem, if Neceſſity ſhall ſo require.

They make an Addition to the Revenues of the Crown.
By a Bill for 2 s. on every Chimney, or Hearth, and Stove.

In the next Place, according to your Majeſty's Commands, we have ſurveyed the waſted Revenue of the Crown: and in Purſuance of our Promiſes, do humbly propound unto your Majeſty a fair Addition: We conſidered, that great Part of your Majeſty's Revenue is but for Life; and both that, and alſo part of the reſt, depends upon the Peace, the Trade, and Traffick of the Nation, and therefore may be much impaired by Wars with foreign Nations: This put us upon the Search of ſomething that might ariſe within our own Walls, and not be ſubject to ſuch Contingences: We pitcht our Thoughts at laſt upon thoſe Places where we enjoy our greateſt Comforts and Securities, our Dwelling-houſes: And conſidering even that Security is ſecured unto us by your Majeſty's Vigilance and Care in the Government; we have prepared a Bill, whereby we deſire it may be enacted, That all Houſes in this Kingdom, which are worth in yearly Value above twenty Shillings, and not inhabited by Almes-men, may pay unto your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, two Shillings yearly, for every Chimney-hearth in each Houſe, for ever.

When the great Abitophels of our Age had by Force raviſhed the venerable Laws of this Nation, (uno abſurdo dato, ſequuntur Millia) then every petty Artiſt in his Way, yea even the very common Beggars, had the Confidence to offer Violence to their Chaſtity.

Several Bills for the Regulation of Trade.

We have therefore been conſtrained to prepare ſeveral Bills for the Regulation of Trade, our Cloathing-Trade, our Fiſhing-Trade, our Trade for Stuffs, our Trade for Silks; and for the better Maintenance of Intercourſe in Trade, to reinforce our former Laws for maintaining the Highways, with ſome Additions for Decency and Pleaſure of Travellers.

And for Relief of three ſorts of Poor.

God in his Providence hath determined, that Poor we muſt have always with us; ſome are made ſo by the immediate Hand of God: others by their Loyalty, Duty, and Service of your Royal Perſon, and your bleſſed Father; others by their own Wickedneſs and Idleneſs: We have taken Care to relieve the firſt, to encourage the ſecond, and to reform the laſt.

Some private Bills.

Nor hath the Caſe of any private Perſon been unwelcome to us; thoſe many private Bills that lie before your Majeſty do enough confirm this Truth, That where we found it juſt and honourable, we have denied our helping Hand to none that prayed it.

Concluſion of the Speech, with Thankſgiving and Prayer.

And now, Great Sir, after theſe many Months moſt painful and faithful Service of your Majeſty, and our Countries, we hope, we ſhall have Leave to go home, to viſit our Relations, to tell our Neighbours, what great Things your Majeſty hath done for us, what great Things (abſit invidia verbo) we have done for your Majeſty, and what great Things God hath done for us all; and to pray Almighty God for his Mercy to this Nation, in the Continuance of your Majeſty's long and happy Reign over us.

Publick Acts.

Cap. II. For Highways and Streets.

An Act for repairing the Highways and Sewers, and paving and keeping clean of the Streets in and about the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, and for Reforming of Annoyances and Diſorders in the Streets of, and Places adjacent to, the ſaid Cities; and for the Regulating and Licenſing of Hackney Coaches, and for the Enlarging of ſeveral ſtrait and inconvenient Streets and Paſſages.

Cap. III. The Militia Act.

Preamble.

The ſole Power of all Forces is by Law in his Majeſty.

The two Houſes cannot lawfully raiſe War offenſive or defenſive againſt the King.

An Act for Ordering the Forces in the ſeveral Counties of this Kingdom.

Foraſmuch as within all his Majeſties Realms and Dominions, the ſole and ſupream Power, Government, Command and Diſpoſition of the Militia, and of all Forces by Sea and Land, and of all Forts and Places of Strength, is, and by the Laws of England ever was, the undoubted Right of his Majeſty and his Royal Predeceſſors, Kings and Queens of England: And that both, or either of the Houſes of Parliament, cannot, nor ought to pretend to the ſame; nor can, nor lawfully may raiſe or levy any War offenſive or defenſive againſt his Majeſty, his Heirs, or lawful Succeſſors; and yet the contrary thereof hath of late Years been practiſed, almoſt to the Ruin and Deſtruction of this Kingdom; and during the late uſurped Governments, many evil and rebellious Principles have been inſtilled into the People of this Kingdom, which may break forth, unleſs prevented, to the Diſturbance of the Peace and Quiet thereof. Be it therefore declared and enacted, &c.

To that Effect an Oath to be taken by all Officers.

Lieutenants, Officers and Soldiers, to take the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, and alſo this Oath following, I, A. B. do declare and believe, that it is not lawful, upon any Pretence whatſoever, to take Arms againſt the King; and that I do abhor that traiterous Poſition, that Arms may be taken by his Authority againſt his Perſon, or againſt thoſe that are commiſſioned by him, in Purſuance of ſuch Military Commiſſions. So help me God.

Cap. IV. Act of Uniformity.

An Act for the Uniformity of Publick Prayers and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies: And for Eſtabliſhing the Form of Making, Ordaining, and Conſecrating Biſhops, Prieſts, and Deacons in the Church of England.

Preamble.

From the firſt of Queen Elizabeth there had been an Uniformity by Act of Parliament.

A Comfort and Bleſſing to the Nation.

Till ſenſual and ignorant People did wilfully and ſchiſmatically abſtain from their Pariſh Churches.

And the Neglect of the Common Prayer and Orders of the Church was to the great Decay and Scandal of the Reformed Religion.

For Preſervation whereof, and to ſettle the Peace of the Church.

Whereas in the firſt Year of the late Queen Elizabeth, there was one Uniform Order of Common Service and Prayer, and of the Adminiſtration of Sacraments, Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, (agreeable to the Word of God, and Uſage of the Primitive Church) compiled by the Reverend Biſhops and Clergy, ſet forth in one Book, entituled, The Book of Common Prayer and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies in the Church of England, and enjoyned to be uſed by Act of Parliament holden in the ſaid firſt Year of the ſaid late Queen, entituled, An Act for the Uniformity of Common Prayer and Service in the Church and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, very comfortable to all good People deſirous to live in Chriſtian Converſation, and moſt profitable to the Eſtate of this Realm, upon the which the Mercy, Favour, and Bleſſing of Almighty God is in no wiſe ſo readily and plentifully poured as by Common Prayers, due uſing of the Sacraments, and often preaching of the Goſpel, with Devotion of the Hearers: And yet this notwithſtanding, a great Number of People in divers Parts of this Realm, following their own Senſuality, and living without Knowledge and due Fear of God, do wilfully and ſchiſmatically abſtain and refuſe to come to their Pariſh-Churches, and other publick Places where Common Prayer, Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and Preaching of the Word of God is uſed, upon the Sundays and other Days ordained and appointed to be kept and obſerved as Holy Days. And whereas by the great and ſcandalous Neglect of Miniſters in uſing the ſaid Orders or Liturgy, ſo ſet forth and enjoyned as aforeſaid, great Miſchiefs and Inconveniences, during the Time of the late unhappy Troubles, have ariſen and grown, and many People have been led into Factions and Schiſms, to the great Decay and Scandal of the Reformed Religion of the Church of England, and to the Hazard of many Souls: For Prevention whereof in Time to come for ſettling the Peace of the Church, and for allaying the preſent Diſtempers, which the Indiſpoſition of the Time hath contracted, the King's Majeſty (according to

His Majeſty had granted a Commiſſion to review the Book of Common Prayer.

Which has been again reviſed by the Convocation, with Alterations and Additions.

Declaration of the five and twentieth of October, one thouſand ſix hundred and ſixty) granted his Commiſſion, under the great Seal of England, to ſeveral Biſhops and other Divines, to review the Book of Common Prayer, and to prepare ſuch Alterations and Additions, as they thought fit to offer: And afterwards the Convocations of both the Provinces of Canterbury and York, being by his Majeſty called and aſſembled, (and now ſitting) his Majeſty hath been pleaſed to authorize and require the Preſidents of the ſaid Convocation, and other the Biſhops and Clergy of the ſame, to review the ſaid Book of Common Prayer, and the Book of the Form and Manner of the Making and Conſecrating of Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons; and that, after mature Conſideration, they ſhould make ſuch Alterations and Additions in the ſaid Books reſpectively, as to them ſhould ſeem meet and convenient, and ſhould exhibite and preſent the ſame to his Majeſty in Writing, for his further Allowance or Confirmation: Since which Time, upon full and mature Deliberation, they, the ſaid Preſidents, Biſhops and Clergy of both Provinces, have accordingly reviewed the ſaid Books, and have made ſome Alterations, which they think fit to be inſerted to the ſame; and ſome Additional Prayers to the ſaid Book of Common Prayer to be uſed upon proper and emergent Occaſions, and have exhibited and preſented the ſame unto his Majeſty in Writing in one Book, entituled, The Book of Common Prayer and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, together with the Pſalter or Pſalmes of David, pointed as they are to be ſung or ſaid in Churches; And the Form and Manner of Making, Ordaining and Conſecrating of Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons. All which his Majeſty having duly conſidered, hath fully approved and allowed the ſame, and recommended to this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Books of Common Prayer, and of the Forms of Ordination and Conſecration of Biſhops, Prieſts, and Deacons, with the Alterations and Additions which have been ſo made, and preſented to his Majeſty by the ſaid Convocations, be the Book which ſhall be appointed to be uſed by all that officiate in all Cathedral and Collegiate Churches and Chapels, and in all Chapels of Colleges and Halls in both the Univerſities, and the Colleges in Eaton and Wincheſter, and in all Pariſh-Churches and Chapels within the Kingdom of England, Dominion of Wales, and Town of Berwick upon Tweed, and by all that make or conſecrate Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons, in any of the ſaid Places, under ſuch Sanctions and Penalties as the Houſes of Parliament ſhall think fit.

Approved and allowed by his Majeſty.

And by him recommended to the preſent Parliament.

By Authority whereof this Book is to be appointed.

For the Peace of the Nation, the Honour of Religion, &c.

Now, in Regard that nothing conduceth more to the ſettling of the Peace of this Nation, (which is deſired of all good Men) nor to the Honour of our Religion, and the Propagation thereof, than an univerſal Agreement in the Publick Worſhip of Almighty God, and to the Intent that every Perſon within this Realm may certainly know the Rule to which he is to conform in Publick Worſhip and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, and the Manner how and by whom Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons are and ought to be made, ordained and conſecrated. Be it enacted by the King's moſt excellent Majeſty, &c.

Cap V. An Act for the Regulating and Making of Stuffs in Norfolk and Norwich.

Cap. VI. An Act for Enlarging and Repairing of Common Highways.

Cap. VII. An Act to reſtrain the Exportation of Leather and raw Hides out of the Realm of England.

Cap. VIII. An Act for Diſtribution of threeſcore thouſand Pounds amongſt the truly loyal and indigent Commiſſion Officers, and for Aſſeſſing of Offices, and Diſtributing Moneys thereby raiſed for their further Supply.

Cap. IX. An Act for the Relief of poor and maimed Officers and Soldiers, who have faithfully ſerved his Majeſty and his Royal Father in the late Wars.

Cap. X. An Act for Eſtabliſhing an Additional Revenue upon his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for the better Support of his, and their Crown and Dignity, by charging every Fire-Hearth and Stove with the yearly Payment of two Shillings.

Cap. XI. An Act for preventing Frauds and regulating Abuſes in his Majeſty's Cuſtoms.

Cap. XII. An Act for the better Relief of the Poor of this Kingdom.

Cap. XIII. An Act for Prohibiting the Importation of foreign Bone-lace, Cut-work, Imbroidery, Fringe, Band-ſtrings, Buttons, and Needle-work.

Cap XIV. An Act for Directing the Proſecution of ſuch as are accomptable for Prize-Goods.

Cap. XV. An Act for Regulating the Trade of Silk-throwing.

Cap. XVI. An Act for the more ſpeedy and effectual bringing thoſe Perſons to Account, whoſe Accounts are excepted in the Act of Oblivion.

Cap. XVII. An Act for the Relief of Collectors of Publick Moneys, and their Aſſiſtants and Deputies.

Cap XVIII. An Act againſt the Exporting of Sheep, Wool, Wool-fells, Mortlings, Shorlings, Yarn made of Wool, Wool-flocks, Fullers Earth, Fulling-Clay, and Tobacco-Pipe-Clay.

Cap. XIX. An Act againſt Importing of foreign Wool-Cards, Card-wyre, or Iron Wyre.

Cap XX. An Act for Providing of Carriage by Land and by Water, for the Uſe of his Majeſty's Navy and Ordinance.

Cap. XXI. An Act for Preventing the unneceſſary Charge of Sheriffs, and for Eaſe in paſſing their Accounts.

Cap. XXII. An Act for Preventing of Theft and Rapine upon the Northern Borders of England.

An Additional Act concerning Matter of Aſſurance uſed amongſt Merchants.

Cap. XXIII. An Act Declaratory concerning Bankrupts.

Cap. XXIV. Cap. XXV. An Act for Reſtoring of all ſuch Advouſons, Rectories, impropriate Glebe Lands and Tythes, to his Majeſty's Loyal Subjects, as were taken from them, and for making void certain Charges impoſed upon them, for their Compoſitions for Delinquency by the late uſurped Powers.

Preamble.

Loyal Subjects on Pretence of Delinquency were forc'd into Compoſitions by the arbitrary Powers then in being.

Whereas many loyal Subjects of our late Sovereign Lord King Charles the Firſt, and of the King's Majeſty that now is, were upon Pretence of Delinquency for adhering unto, and faithfully ſerving their ſaid Majeſties according to their Duty and Allegiance, enforced and conſtrained by the pretended Power of the Long Parliament, not only to part with great Sums of Money in Satisfaction of the ſaid ſuppoſed Delinquency, but likewiſe to ſettle all or part of ſuch Advouſons, Rectories, Glebe-Lands, and Tythes, Eſtates and Terms, as they or any in Truſt for them, were then ſeized or poſſeſſed of, and to make Grants and Aſſurances of Rents and Annuities to and upon ſuch Truſtees as were appointed by the ſaid Long Parliament, as well for the Augmentation of certain Vicarages, as for the Uſe and Maintenance of preaching Miniſters and Lecturers, without any valuable Conſideration given for the ſame, other then ſome Abatement of thoſe exceſſive Fines impoſed on them for their pretended Delinquency, and exacted from them by thoſe arbitrary Powers, to the impoveriſhing and undoing of many of the King's moſt loyal Subjects. Be it therefore enacted, &c.

Cap. XXVI. An Act for Reforming of the Abuſes committed in the Weight and falſe Packing of Butter.

Cap. XXVII. An Act for Repairing of Dover Harbour.

Cap. XXVIII. An Act for the Regulation of Pilchard Fiſhing in the Counties of Devon and Cornwall.

Cap. XXIX. An Act for the Reverſing of the Earl of Strafford his Attainder.

Cap. XXX. An Act for the Importing Madder pure and unmixed.

Cap. XXXI. An Act to prevent the Inconvenience by Melting the Silver-Coin of this Kingdom.

Cap. XXXII. An Act for the better Regulating of the Manufacture of Broad Woollen Cloth within the Weſt-Riding of the County of York.

Cap. XXXIII. An Act for Preventing Abuſes in Printing ſeditious, treaſonable, and unlicenſed Books and Papers, and for Regulating of Printing and Printing-Preſſes.

Some private Bills.

Among the Private Bills.

An Act to enable the Biſhop of London to leaſe out Tenements now built upon the Scite of his Palace in London.

An Act for the Endowment of ſeveral Churches by the Lord Viſcount Scudamore of Sligo in the Realm of Ireland.

An Act for Confirming, Explaining and Enlarging an Act for the Levying of certain Moneys due upon the Collections for the Proteſtants of Piedmont.

After which his Majeſty made a moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

Printed by the King's Printers, Fol.

My Lords, and you Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

Seldom ſo many Bills paſſed in any one Seſſion.

Eſpecially private Bills occaſioned by a Neceſſity of the late ill Times.

I think, there have been very few Seſſions of Parliament, in which there have been ſo many Bills, as I have paſſed this Day: I am confident, never ſo many private Bills, which I hope you will not draw into Example. It is true, theſe late ill Times have driven Men into great Streights, and may have obliged them to make Conveyances colourably, to avoid Inconveniences, and yet not afterwards to be avoided; and Men have gotten Eſtates by new and greater Frauds than have been heretofore practiſed; and therefore in this Conjuncture extraordinary Remedies may be neceſſary which hath induced me to comply with your Advice, in paſſing theſe Bills; but I pray, let this be very rarely done hereafter: The good old Rules of the Law are the beſt Security; and let not Men have too much Cauſe to fear, that the Settlements they make of their Eſtates, ſhall be too eaſily unſettled when they are dead by the Power of Parliaments.

Not to be drawn into Example: but the Settlement of Eſtates to be ordinarily left to the good old Rules of the Law.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The King obliged by his two Houſes, cannot thank them enough.

He will apply the Money well.

The Nation corrupted in their Way of living in Exceſs.

The King himſelf faulty that Way will reform.

You have ſo much obliged me, not only in the Matter of thoſe Bills which concern my Revenue, but in the Manner of paſſing them, with ſo great Affection and Kindneſs to me, that I know not how to thank you enough. I do aſſure you, and I pray aſſure your Friends in the Countrey, that I will apply all you have given me, to the utmoſt Improvement of the Peace and Happineſs of the Kingdom, and will, with the beſt Advice and good Husbandry I can, bring my Expences within a narrower Compaſs. Now I am ſpeaking to you of my own good Huſbandry, I muſt tell you, that will not be enough; I cannot but obſerve to you, that the whole Nation ſeems to me a little corrupted in their Exceſs of Living. Sure all Men ſpend much more in their Clothes, in their Diet, in all their Expences, than they have uſed to do. I hope it hath only been the Exceſs of Joy, after ſo long Sufferings, that hath tranſported us to theſe other Exceſſes; but let us take heed, that the Continuance of them doth not indeed corrupt our Natures. I do believe I have been faulty that Way myſelf; I promiſe you I will reform, and if you will joyn with me in your ſeveral Capacities, we ſhall by our Examples do more good both in City and Countrey, than any new Laws would do. I tell you again, I will do my Part, and Laws for reforming Abuſes in Beggars and Poor will do much good, if well executed.

Settling the Militia will prevent ſeditious Inſurrections, &c.

A Clamour againſt the Multitude of Protections.

and I will tell ſome of you, if you do not do yours. I hope the Laws I have paſſed this Day will produce ſome Reformation with reference to the Multitude of Beggars and poor People which infeſt the Kingdom; great Severity muſt be uſed to thoſe who love Idleneſs, and refuſe to work, and great Care and Charity towards thoſe who are willing to work. I do very heartily recommend the Execution of thoſe good Laws to your utmoſt Diligence, and I am ſure I need not put you in Mind ſo to ſettle the Militia, that all ſeditious Inſurrections may not only be prevented, to which the Minds of too many are inclined, but that the People may be without reaſonable Apprehenſion of ſuch Inſecurity. You will eaſily believe that it is very neceſſary for the publick Juſtice of the Kingdom, and even for the Preſervation of the Reverence due to Parliaments that I make this a Seſſion; and it will be worthy of your Wiſdoms when you come together again, to provide that there be not ſo great Clamour againſt the Multitude of Protections.

I will ſay no more, but renew my hearty Thanks to you all, and refer the reſt to the Chancellour.

His Majeſty's Speech being ended, the Lord Chancellour began as followeth:

Speech of the Lord Chancellour.

The Lord Chancellour's Speech.

My Lords, and you the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes of the Houſe of Commons,

The King had declared his Confidence in this Parliament at the Opening of it.

It is now little more than a Year that the King firſt called you to attend him here, at the Opening of the Parliament; then you may remember he told you, that he thought there were not many of you, who were not particularly known to him; that there were very few of whom he had not heard ſo much good, that he was (he ſaid) as ſure as he could be of any thing that was to come, that you would all concur with him, and that he ſhould concur with you in all Things, which might advance the Peace, Plenty, and Proſperity of the Nation. His Majeſty ſaid he ſhould be exceedingly deceived elſe.

A happy and a bleſſed Omen.

It was a princely Declaration, and a rare Confidence, which could flow from no other Fountain, but the Sincerity and Purity of his own Conſcience, which admitting no other Deſigns or Thoughts into his Royal Breaſt, but ſuch as muſt tend to the unqueſtionable Proſperity and Greatneſs of his People, could not but be aſſured of your full Concurrence and Co-operation with him. It was a happy and a bleſſed Omen, which at the Inſtant ſtruck a Terrour into the Hearts of thoſe, who promiſed themſelves ſome Advantages from the Differences and Diviſions in your Councils, and hoped from thence to create new Troubles and Moleſtations in the Kingdom; and God be thanked, the King hath been ſo far from being exceedingly deceived, that he doth acknowledge he hath been exceedingly complied with, exceedingly gratified in all he hath deſired, and he hopes he hath not in the leaſt Degree diſappointed your Expectation.

Mr. Speaker, and you Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

The Commons have been a noble Soil, and have yielded two Harveſts in one Year,

To pay Debts and to raiſe a ſtanding Revenue.

The greateſt Cauſe of our late Diſtractions was the Poverty of the Crown.

You have like the richeſt and the nobleſt Soil, a Soil manured and enriched by the bountiful Hearts of the beſt Subjects in the World, yielded the King two full Harveſts in one Year; and therefore it is but good Huſbandry to lye fallow for ſome Time: You have not only ſupply'd the Crown to a good Degree for diſcharging many Debts and Preſſures, under which it even groan'd, and enabled it to ſtruggle with the preſent Streights and Neceſſities, Debts not contracted, and Neceſſities not run into by Improvidence and Exceſs; you may when you pleaſe receive ſuch an Account as will clear all ſuch Reproaches; but you have wiſely, very wiſely provided ſuch a conſtant growing Revenue, as may, with God's Bleſſing, preſerve the Crown from thoſe ſcandalous Wants and Neceſſities, as have heretofore expoſed it and the Kingdom to thoſe diſmal Miſeries, from which they are but even now buoyed up; for whatſoever other human Cauſes may be aſſigned, according to the ſeveral Fancies and Imaginations of Men, of our late miſerable Diſtractions, they cannot be ſo reaſonably imputed to any one Cauſe, as to the extream Poverty of the Crown: The Want of Power could never have appeared, if it had not been for the Want of Money.

The two Acts for the Militia and the Revenue will be a Foundation of Peace and Security.

You have, my Lords and Gentlemen, worthily provided for the Vindication and Manifeſtation of the one by the Bill of the Militia, and for the Supply of the other by the Act for the additional Revenue; and I am confident, both the preſent and ſucceeding Ages will bleſs God, and celebrate your Memories for thoſe two Bills, as the Foundation of their Peace, Quiet, and Security, how froward and indiſpoſed ſoever many are at preſent, who finding ſuch Obſtructions laid in their Way to Mutiny and Sedition, uſe all the Artifice they can to perſuade the People, that you have not been ſolicitous enough for their Liberty, nor tenacious enough for their Profit, and wickedly labour to leſſen that Reverence towards you, which ſure was never more due to any Parliament.

The Spirit of Libelling to be reſtrained.

It was a very natural and an ingenious Animadverſion and Reflection, which the late incomparable Lord Viſcount of St. Alban's made upon that old Fable of the Giants, who were firſt overthrown in the War againſt the Gods, when the Earth, their Mother, in revenge thereof, brought forth Fame; which he ſaid, is the ſame, when Princes and Monarchs have ſuppreſſed actual and open Rebellion, then the Malignity of the People, the Mother of Rebellion, doth bring forth Libels, Slanders, and Taxation of the State, which he ſays, is of the ſame kind with Rebellion; but more feminine. And without Doubt this ſeditious Daughter of the Earth, this Spirit of Libelling was never more pregnant than it is now; nor King, nor Parliament, nor Church, nor State, ever more expoſed to thoſe Flagella Linguæ, thoſe Strokes of the Tongue, from which God Almighty can only preſerve the moſt innocent and moſt excellent Perſons, as if repining and murmuring were the peculiar Exerciſe of the Nation, to keep it in Health, as if England had ſo much of the Merchant, Nunquam habendi fructu fælix, ſemper autem quærendi cupiditate miſerrima.

Never more pregnant than now.

Men are in no Degree diſpoſed to imitate or remember the general excellent Temper of the Time of Queen Elizabeth; the bleſſed Condeſcenſion and Reſignation of the People then to the Crown; the awful Reverence they then had to the Government, and to the Governours, both in Church and State. This good and happy Spirit was in a Time beyond our Memory; but they remember, as if it were but Yeſterday, how few Subſidies Parliaments then gave to that Queen, how ſmall Supplies the Crown then had from the People, and wonder that the ſame Meaſures ſhould not ſtill fill the Coffers, and give the ſame Reputation, and make the ſame Noiſe in Chriſtendom.

An excellent Temper of the People in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth.

But ſome will wonder at the few Subſidies then given.

But (my Lords and Gentlemen) how bold ſoever ſome unquiet Spirits are with you, upon this Argument, you are much ſuperior to thoſe Reproaches. You know well, and you can make others know, without breaking the Act of Indemnity, how the Crown hath been ſince uſed, how our Sovereign Lord the King found it at his bleſſed Return to it; you can tell the World, that as ſoon as he came hither, beſides the Infinite that he forgave, he gave more, more Money to the People, then he hath ſince received from them; That at leaſt two Parts of three, that they have ſince given him, have iſſued for the diſbanding Armies never raiſed by him, and for Payment of Fleets never ſent out by him, and of Debts never incurred by him. You will put them in Mind of the vaſt Diſparity between the former Times, and theſe in which we live, and conſequently of the Diſproportion in the Expence the Crown is now at, for the Protection and Benefit of the Subject, to what it formerly underwent. How great a Difference there is in the preſent Greatneſs and Power of the two Crowns, and what they were then poſſeſs'd of, is evident to all Men; and if the Greatneſs and Power of the Crown of England be not in ſome Proportion improved too, it may be liable to Inconveniences it will not undergo alone. How our Neighbours and our Rivals, who court one and the ſame Miſtreſs, Trade and Commerce, with all the World, are advanced in Shipping, Power, and an immoderate Deſire to engroſs the whole Traffick of the Univerſe, is notorious enough; and this unruly Appetite will not be reſtrained, or diſappointed, nor the Trade of this Nation ſupported and maintained, with the ſame Fleets and Forces which were maintained in the happy Times of Queen Elizabeth. Not to ſpeak of the naval Power of the Turks, who inſtead of ſculking abroad in poor ſingle Ships as they were wont to do, domineer now on the Ocean in ſtrong Fleets, make naval Fights, and have brought ſome Chriſtians to a better Correſpondence, and another kind of Commerce and Traffick with them than was expected, inſomuch as they apprehend no Enemy upon the Sea, but what they find in the King of England's Ships, which hath indeed brought no ſmall Damage upon them, with no ſmall Charge to the King, but a great Reputation to the Nation.

They then ſufficed, but there is now a Neceſſity for more ample Proviſion,

For diſbanding of Armies, paying of Fleets, diſcharging of Debts, keeping up the Power of the Crown, and the Honour of the Nation.

My Lords and Gentlemen, You may with a very good Conſcience aſſure your ſelves, and your Friends and Neighbours, that the Charge the Crown is now at by Sea and Land, for the Peace and Security, and Wealth and Honour of the Nation amounts to no leſs than 800000*l.* a Year; all which did not coſt the Crown before theſe Troubles 80000*l.* the Year; and therefore they will never blame you for any Supply you have given, or Addition you have made to the Revenue of the Crown; and whoſoever unſkilfully murmurs at the Expence of Dunkirk, and the other new Acquiſitions, which ought to be look'd upon as Jewels of an immenſe Magnitude in the Royal Diadem, do not enough remember what we have loſt by Dunkirk, and ſhould always do, if it were in an Enemy's Hands; nor duly conſider the vaſt Advantages thoſe other Dominions are like, by God's Bleſſing in a ſhort Time, to bring to the Trade, Navigation, Wealth and Honour of the King and Kingdom. His Majeſty hath enough expreſſed his Deſire to live in a perfect Peace and Amity with all his Neighbours; nor is it an ill Ingredient towards the Firmneſs and Stability of that Peace and Amity, which his Royal Anceſtors have held and maintained with them, that he hath ſome Advantages in caſe of a War, which they were without. It was a right Ground of Confidence, ſuch an one as ſeldom deceives Men, that the great Law-maker, the wiſe Solon, had, when he concluded, that Reverence and Obedience would be yielded to his Laws, becauſe he had taken the Pains to make his Citizens know, and underſtand, that it was more for their Profit to obey Law and Juſtice than to contemn and break it. The extravagant Times of Licence, which I hope we have almoſt outlived, have ſo far corrupted the Minds, and even the Nature of too many, that they do not return with that Alacrity they ought to do, into the Road and Paths of Order and Government, from which they have ſo long been led aſtray; nor it may be, is there Pains enough taken to make them underſtand the Profit, Benefit and Eaſe, which always attends

The Charge of the Crown is now 800,000 l. a Year; when before the late Troubles it was not 80,000 l.

Dunkirk, a Jewel of the Crown, not to be loſt, or put into an Enemy's Hand.

His Maſeſty deſires to live in perfect Peace;

But has ſome Advantages in Caſe of a War.

Men have had their Minds and Nature corrupted by the late extravagant Times of Licenſe:

And may be reduced to their primitive Temper.

Of being the beſt Neighbours, the beſt Friends, and the beſt Subjects in the World.

The Biſhops to act with Moderation, Wiſdom, Charity, and Hoſpitality.

The Clergy to repent viſibly of the former Miſchief they have done;

And the Laity to return into the Boſom of the Church.

tends a chearful Obedience and Submiſſion to Laws and Government. I am perſuaded, a little Pains and Kindneſs and Condeſcenſion in the wiſe towards the weak, half the Diligence and Dexterity in Converſation and Example which hath been uſed to corrupt the People in their Loyalty and Underſtanding, will quickly reduce them to their primitive Temper, which is, to be the beſt Neighbours, and the beſt Friends, and the beſt Subjects of the World: And I make no queſtion, but the great Piety and Devotion, the Moderation, Wiſdom, Charity, and Hoſpitality of my Lords the Biſhops, in their ſeveral Dioceſes, will in a ſhort Time recover the poor miſled People: And though the Frowardneſs and Pride of ſome of their Teachers may not be yet enough ſubdued, though ſome of the Clergy ſtill repeat their old Errors, for which they have been glad to receive Pardon, and do in Truth diſcredit all their other Doctrine with the Abſence of any viſible Repentance, for what Miſchief they have formerly done, yet I hope the Laity will ſoon return into the Boſom of their dear Mother the Church, and eaſily diſcern the Fraud and Impoſture of their Seducers; and that all Diligence and Dexterity will be uſed, ſeriouſly and heartily to reconcile both Clergy and Laity, by all Means which may prove effectual.

Sharper Laws and Penalties to contend with refractory Perſons.

A King of the greateſt Experience can diſtinguiſh between the Tenderneſs of Conſcience and the Pride of Conſcience.

Who will not ſuffer the Weak to undergo the Puniſhment ordained for the Wicked.

You have (my Lords and Gentlemen,) likewiſe Patriots, upon your Obſervation, that the moſt ſignal Indulgence and Condeſcenſions, the temporary Suſpenſion of the Rigour of former Laws, hath not produced that Effect which was expected, that the Humours and Spirits of Men are too rough and boiſterous for thoſe ſoft Remedies, you have prepared ſharper Laws and Penalties, to contend with thoſe refractory Perſons, and to break that Stubbornneſs which will not bend to gentler Applications: And it is great Reaſon, that they, upon whom Clemency cannot prevail, ſhould feel that Severity they have provoked. You have done your Parts like good Phyſicians, made wholſome Preſcriptions for the Conſtitution of your Patients, well knowing that the Application of theſe Remedies, the Execution of theſe ſharp Laws depends upon the Wiſdom of the moſt diſcerning, generous and merciful Prince, who having had more Experience of the Nature and Humour of Mankind, than any Prince living, can beſt diſtinguiſh between the Tenderneſs of Conſcience, and the Pride of Conſcience, between the real Effects of Conſcience, and the wicked Pretences to Conſcience; who having fought with Beaſts at Epheſus, knows how to guard himſelf and the Kingdom from the Aſſaults and Violence of a ſtrong, malicious, corrupted Underſtanding and Will; and how to ſecure himſelf and the Kingdom from the feeble Traps and Nets of deluded Fancies and Imaginations: In a Word, a Prince of ſo excellent a Nature and ſo tender a Conſcience himſelf, that he hath the higheſt Compaſſion for all Errors of that kind, and will never ſuffer the Weak to undergo the Puniſhment ordained for the Wicked, and knows and underſtands better than any Man that excellent Rule of Quintilian, eſt aliquid quod non oportet, etiamſi licet, & aliud eſt jura ſpectare, aliud juſtitiam.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The not obſerving the Hiſtory of former Times a great Reaſon of Miſchief and Deſtruction to States and Kingdoms.

You cannot but remember the paſt Times; and the Confuſions in them.

If we ſuffer again by the ſame Means, we are ill Hiſtorians and worſe Politicians.

Machiavel, who, they ſay, is an Author much ſtudied of late in this Kingdom, to extoll his own excellent Judgment and Inſight in Hiſtory; in which indeed he was a Maſter, would perſuade Men to believe, that the true Reaſon, why ſo many unexpected Accidents and Miſchiefs fall out, to the Deſtruction of States and Empires, is, becauſe their Governours have not obſerved the ſame Miſchiefs heretofore in Story, and from whence they proceeded, and what Progreſs they made, which he ſays, if they had done they might eaſily have preſerved themſelves from Ruin, and prevented the Inconveniences which have fallen out. I am ſure you are all good Hiſtorians, and need only to reſort to the Records of your own Memories. Remember how your Peace hath been formerly diſturbed, by what Contrivance and Artifices the People have been alarm'd with unreaſonable and unnatural Fears and Jealouſies, and what diſmal Effects thoſe Fears and Jealouſies have produced. Remember how near Monarchy hath been diſſolved, and the Law ſubverted under Pretence of reforming and ſupporting Government, Law and Juſtice. And remember how many honeſt Perſons were miſled by not diſcerning Conſequences, who would as ſoon have renounced their Part in Heaven, as have concurred in the firſt unwarrantable Action, if they had ſuſpected what did follow: And if we ſuffer the ſame Enemy to break in upon us at the ſame Avenues, if we ſuffer our Peace to be blown up by the ſame Trains and Machinations, we ſhall be held very ill Hiſtorians, and worſe Politicians.

The great Enemy among us are the Common-wealth's Men,

Who are reſtleſs in their Councils here, and have Encouragement from abroad.

There is an Enemy amongſt us of whom I doubt we are not jealous enough, and towards whom we cannot be too vigilant, and in Truth, in Compariſon of whom we may reaſonably undervalue all other Enemies; that is, the Republicans, the Commonwealthſmen, who are every Day calling in Aid of the Law, that they may overthrow and aboliſh the Law, which they know to be their irreconcileable Enemy. Indeed, my Lords and Gentlemen, there is a very great Party of thoſe Men in every Faction of Religion, who truly have no Religion, but as the Pretence ſerves to advance that Faction. You cannot be too ſolicitous, too inquiſitive after theſe Men, who are reſtleſs in their Counſels, and wonderfully punctual and induſtrious in their Correſpondences, which they maintain Abroad as well as at Home: And you cannot doubt they have Encouragement enough from Abroad; few of our Neighbours love us ſo exceedingly well, but that they would be glad to ſee us entangled in domeſtick Broils. Theſe Men are worthy of your Care and Diligence in your ſpeedy ſettling the Militia, which the King hath even now ſo particularly recommended to you.

Never a more dangerous Sedition at Rome, than when the Citizens were ſullen and ſilent.

I ſhall conclude with only putting you in Mind, that there was ſcarce ever a more dangerous Sedition in the Republick of Rome, then in a Time of full Peace, when the Citizens were ſullen, when there was no Noiſe but in Whiſpers, when Men neglected their Trades, and ſtayed idle in their own Houſes, as if they cared not which Way the World went, from whence alone their Neighbours the Etrurians were encouraged to make a War upon them. Novum ſeditionis genus (ſays Livy) ſilentium otiumque inter cives. Never any Nation under Heaven, has leſs Cauſe of Sullenneſs than we, never more of Joy and Thankſgiving: We all know that God Almighty loves a chearful Giver, and we may as well know that he loves a chearful Receiver: Beſides all other ſtupendious Bleſſings conferr'd upon us, he hath given us the moſt chearful Giver that ever People hath been bleſs'd with; a King that hath with all imaginable Chearfulneſs given us all we have aſked of him, all he hath to give; who would not take or retain any thing we give to him, but for our own Sakes; that by receiving and retaining it, he may give it to us again in more Abundance, in Abundance of Peace, and Plenty and Honour, and all the Comforts which can make a Nation happy.

Never leſs Cauſe of Sullenneſs here, or more of Joy and Thankſgiving.

We wanted but one Bleſſing, the Arrival of our Queen.

Of rare Perfection in Body and Mind.

This Time hath made a glorious Addition to our Happineſs, which ought proportionably to increaſe our Chearfulneſs; we wanted only one Bleſſing, the Arrival of our Queen whom God hath now ſafely brought to us; a Queen of ſuch a rare Perfection in Body and Mind, of ſuch great Endowments of Wiſdom, Virtue and Piety, that we may reaſonably promiſe ourſelves from her, all the Happineſs we are capable of, and a Succeſſion of Princes to govern us, till the End of the World; and there cannot be a more tranſcendent Inſtance of the King's Love and Paſſion for his People, than that he hath ſtaid theſe four Days to take his Leave of you; and that he might give you this Day's Work, all theſe good Laws, hath denied himſelf ſo long the enjoying the greateſt Comfort he is aſſured of in this World.

If People have not an univerſal Joy, they are guilty of great Ingratitude.

If there be not the moſt univerſal Joy in the Reception of thoſe Bleſſings; if there be not an univerſal Contentedneſs and Satiſfaction in the Hearts of all Men; and if that Contentedneſs and Satiſfaction do not break out, and is not viſible in the Looks, and Thoughts, and Words, and Actions of the whole Nation, to the inflaming the Hearts of the other Nations under his Majeſty's Obedience by our Example, we are guilty of an Ingratitude that is worthy to deprive us of all we enjoy, and to diſappoint us of all we pray for. And therefore I do moſt humbly beſeech you, my Lords and Gentlemen, that as there is a moſt noble Chearfulneſs and Alacrity viſible in you; and hath ſhed itſelf over all your Countenances; ſo that you will think it worthy of your Pains, to infuſe the ſame good Spirit into City and Countrey that they may all expreſs that Joy and Delight in the Bleſſings they are poſſeſſed of, and chearfully endeavour to improve thoſe Bleſſings, by their chearful enjoying them, that God may continue thoſe Bleſſings to us, and the King's Comfort may be encreaſed, by the Comfort he ſees we have in him, and in what he hath done for us; and as all Princes may take a Pattern from him to govern, and make their Subjects happy; ſo that all Subjects may learn from us, how to obey, and make that Happineſs laſting to them by an eminent and innocent Alacrity in their Acknowledgment.

This good Spirit to be infuſed into City and Countrey.

Apology for the King's not paſſing the Earl of Derby's Bill.

I am by the King's expreſs Command to add one Particular which his Majeſty meant, but forgot to ſay himſelf. You cannot but obſerve that his Majeſty hath not paſſed the Bill that concerns the Earl of Derby, which you cannot imagine proceeds from his Majeſty's want of Care of, and kindneſs to that noble Family, which hath ſerved him ſo faithfully, and ſuffered ſo much for ſo doing; but all Parties having referred the Matter to his Majeſty, he doubts not but to make a better End for that noble Earl than he would attain if the Bill had paſſed.

The Parliament prorogued to the 18th of February next.

I ſhall only add the King's Commands for the Prorogation of this Parliament till the 18th Day of February, and this Parliament is prorogued till the 18th Day of February next.

To our truſty and well-beloved our Vice-Chancellor, &c. of our Univerſity of Cambridge.

Charles R.

The King's Letter to the Univerſity of Cambridge in Favour of Mr. Rich. Pearſon of King's College.

Truſty and well-beloved we greet you well. Whereas in the Abſence of our Library-Keeper we have intruſted the Care of our ſaid Library to Richard Pearſon, Fellow of King's-College in that our Univerſity, which requires his conſtant Attendance: Our Pleaſure is, that you diſpenſe with him from all Exerciſes and Duties required from him during ſuch his Attendance on our Service, whereof we will not doubt. And ſo we bid you farewell. Given at our Court at Whitehall the 19th Day of May in the fourteenth Year of our Reign, 1662.

The King at Night poſts away to Guildford, and next Day to Portſmouth.

Heath's Chron. p. 508.

The Parliament Affairs being happily ended, his Majeſty poſted away at nine this Monday Night with his ordinary Guards, in the Earl of Northumberland's Coach, Prince Rupert with him only, to Kingſton, where he came ſoon after ten, and at the End of that Town entred into the Earl of Cheſterfield's, there ſet ready for him, and the Duke of York's Guards to attend him, and came before twelve at Night to Guilford, where he lodged that Night: And the next Day by Noon to Portſmouth, and becauſe of the Queen's Indiſpoſedneſs, which yet held her in her Chamber, the King ſatisfied himſelf by giving her a private Viſit, and then withdrew to his own Apartments.

Induſtry of the Papiſts at this Juncture.

Enchiridion. Or a Manual of Controverſies clearly demonſtrating the Truth of Catholick Religion by Texts of Holy Scripture, Councils of all Ages, Fathers of the firſt five hundred Years, Common Senſe and Reaſon. And fully anſwering the principal Objections of Proteſtants and all other Sectaries.—— With the Latin Approbations, dated Duaci 14. Apr. 1654. Onuphrius Eliſeus, S. T. Doctor, nuper Collegii Anglorum Abiſſiponenſis Profeſſor & Præſes.—— Dat. Duaci, Kal. Maii 1654. Ed. Daniel S. Theol. Doctor ejuſdemque Profeſſor.—— Ad H. T. poſt viſum Enchiridion ipſius, dat. prid. Kal. Apr. 1654. Thomas ex Albiis Eaſt-Saxonum.

London, for Matth. Turner, 1686. 12° p. 364.

In the Reign of King James II. this Book was reprinted as written by Henry Turberville a Clergyman. The fourth Edition corrected. To which is added, the Author's laſt controverſial Piece in Verſe, with ſeveral Sentences out of the Fathers, collected by J. D. the Author's Friend, all marked with a Star.

Printed in the Year 1682. 8vo.

The Papiſts were the more buſy in propagating their Faith upon the Expectation of a Queen of their own Religion. It ſeems to have been about this Time, that Father Creſſy who came over to be one of the Servants of Queen Catharine, and lived with her in Somerſet-Houſe, publiſhed a Non eſt Inventus returned to Mr. Edward Bagſhaw's Enquiry, and vainly boaſted Diſcovery of Weakneſs in the Grounds of the Church's Infallibility. By S. C. [i. e. Serenus de Creſſy, Benedictine.]

No Fear betray'd of a Popiſh Queen.

No Member of Parliament moved for the marrying a Proteſtant but the Earl of Caſſils in Scotland.

Biſhop Burnet Hiſt. p. 174.

The King had communicated the Matter of his Marriage both to the Parliament of England and Scotland. And ſo ſtrangely were People changed, that though they all had ſeen the miſchievous Effects of a Popiſh Queen in the former Reign, yet not one Perſon mov'd againſt it in either Parliament, except the Earl of Caſſilis in Scotland, who moved for an Addreſs to the King to marry a Proteſtant: He had but one to ſecond him; ſo entirely were Men run from one Extream to another.

TUESDAY May 20.

Convocation prorogued to February 19.

The King comes to Portſmouth.

Acta Convocat.

Journal of Edw. Earl of Sandwich, Eachard.

His Majeſty's Writ for proroguing the Convocation of the Prelates and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury to the 19th of February next following.

About Noon the King came to Portſmouth, the Queen kept her Bed for a great Cold. She had been welcom'd there by a glorious Show of Nobility, Gentry, and Citizens of London, who appeared with the richeſt Habits and Equipages that could be procured.

WEDNESDAY May 21.

The Form of the Marriage of the King and Queen.

Not ſo much celebrated as declared by the Biſhop of London.

Ibid. MS.

In the Afternoon the King and Queen came into the Preſence-Chamber upon the Throne, and the Contract formerly made with the Portugal Ambaſſador was read in Engliſh by Sir John Nicholas, in Portugueſe by the Portugal Secretary de Saire; after which the King took the Queen by the Hand, and (as I think) ſaid the Words of Matrimony appointed in the Common-Prayer; the Queen alſo declaring her Conſent. Then the Biſhop of London ſtood forth, and made the Declaration of Matrimony in the Common-Prayer, and did pronounce them Man and Wife in the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt.

Account given by Biſh. Burnet, not ſo exact, for the Place was not Wincheſter; and Dr. Sheldon was not then Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

They had been before married by the Lord Aubigney according to the Roman Ritual, in Preſence of the Duke of York.

Bp. Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, Fol. p. 174.

When the Queen was brought over, the King met her at Wincheſter in Summer 1662. the Archbiſhop of Canterbury came to perform the Ceremony: But the Queen was biggotted to ſuch a Degree, that ſhe would not ſay the Words of Matrimony, nor bear the Sight of the Archbiſhop. The King ſaid the Words haſtily: And the Archbiſhop pronounced them married Perſons. Upon this ſome thought afterwards to have diſſolved the Marriage, as a Marriage only de Facto, in which no Conſent had been given. But the Duke of York told me, they were married by the Lord Aubigny, according to the Roman Ritual, and that he himſelf was one of the Witneſſes: And he added, that a few Days before he told me this, the Queen had ſaid to him, that ſhe heard ſome intended to call her Marriage in queſtion; and that, if that was done, ſhe muſt call on him as one of her Witneſſes to prove it.

This Defect and Juggle was afterwards objected to the Earl of Clarendon as prime Miniſter, by the Earl of Briſtol who was himſelf a Papiſt.

In the Articles which the Earl of Briſtol exhibited to the Houſe of Peers againſt Edward Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chancellour of England, July 10, 1663. among other Things it was charged, that he the ſaid Earl in purſuance of his traiterous Deſign, being entruſted with the Treaty of Marriage betwixt his Majeſty and his Royal Conſort the Queen, he concluded it upon Articles ſcandalous, and dangerous to the Proteſtant Religion, and brought the King and Queen together without any ſettled Agreement in what Manner the Rites of Marriage ſhould have been performed. Whereby the Queen refuſing to be married by a Proteſtant Biſhop or Prieſt, in caſe of her being with Child, either the Succeſſion ſhould have been made uncertain for want of the due Rites of Matrimony, or elſe his Majeſty expoſed to the Suſpicion of having been married in his own Dominions by a Popiſh Prieſt.

The Lord Chancellour was likewiſe charged with the Intrigue of procuring this Match in Favour of the deſcent of the Crown to his Daughter's Children.

My Lord Roch. in the Preface to his Father's Hiſtory ſaith, p. 18. That the King knew very well, that his own Marriage had not been firſt projected or propoſed by this

Life of Chancellour Clarendon, 8vo. p. 158.

As to the Preſumption, or rather Aſſurance (in the Phraſe of ſome) the Chancellor had, that the Infanta being a Portugueſe was paſt the Age of bearing Children, there is nothing on Earth can be more abſurd and ridiculous. If it were true, was it ſuch a Secret in Nature that no Body muſt know it but he? But the Lady's Age, and the Example of other Women overthrows all this to the Ground. She was much about three and twenty Years and a half when the Marriage was conſummated, ſhe having been born on the 14th of November 1638. and the Royal Nuptials celebrated on the 21st of May 1662. As for Examples of this kind they are innumerable; the Ducheſs of Braganza was older than ſhe, at the Time when ſhe was delivered of her, &c.

Mem.

this Author, and that he had after told his Majeſty, what Suſpicions there were in the World, that that great and virtuous Princeſs might prove unfruitful.

Mem. There had been a Proclamation publiſhed upon the firſt View of this Match, declaring the Confirmation of the Treaties, and a Continuance of the Amity and Commerce between the Crowns of England and Portugal October 6, 1660.

Order of Council in Favour of Chilniſky, who had begun a Tranſlation of the Bible into the Lithuanian Tongue.

Council Book. MS.

Whitehall May 21, 1662. In Council, upon hearing the Buſineſs between the Delegate of Lithuania, and Chilniſky, who hath begun a Tranſlation of the Bible in the Lithuanian Language: It was ordered that Chilniſky ſhould ſpeedily ſend over a Copy of all that he hath printed (being to the End of the Pſalms) and all that Part he hath written fair, to be viewed and corrected by the Churches, and ſo to be returned to be printed. Alſo that the ſaid Chilniſky ſhould ſpeedily tranſcribe the reſt, and ſo from Time to Time ſend it over to the Churches to be corrected by them, and to do it within five or ſix Months at the fartheſt, and to have four Pounds the Month for his Entertainment in the mean Time: And Mr. Fenn the Treaſurer of Lithuania to pay ſix Pounds to Mr. Nathaniel Adams, at the Deſire of the Delegate.

A Native of Northampton deaf and dumb taught by Dr. Wallis to ſpeak and pronounce diſtinctly.

Lowthorpe's Abridgment, Vol. III. p. 390.

Account of Mr. Daniel Whaley, Son of Mr. Whaley late of Northampton, and Mayor of that Town, born deaf and continuing dumb, taught to ſpeak and to underſtand a Language by Dr. John Wallis of Oxford; who undertook this Taſk about the Beginning of Jan. 1661-2. and the Perſon ſo taught was preſent at the Meeting of the Royal Society, May 21, 1662. and did there, to their great Satisfaction, Pronounce diſtinctly enough ſuch Words as by the Company were propoſed to him; and though not altogether with the uſual Tone or Accent, yet ſo as eaſily to be underſtood. About the ſame Time alſo (his Majeſty having heard of it, and being willing to ſee him) he did the like ſeveral Times at Whitehall, in the Preſence of his Majeſty, his Highneſs Prince Rupert, and divers other of the Nobility. In the Space of a Year, which was the whole Time of his Stay with Dr. Wallis, he had read over a great Part of the Engliſh Bible, and had attained ſo much Skill as to expreſs himſelf intelligibly in ordinary Affairs; to underſtand Letters written to him, and to write Anſwers to them, though not elegantly, yet ſo as to be underſtood. And in the Preſence of many Foreigners (who out of Curioſity have come to ſee him) he hath oftimes not only read Engliſh and Latin to them, but pronounced the moſt difficult Words of their Languages (even Poliſh itſelf) which they could propoſe to him.

See Dr. Jo. Wallis his Treatiſe De Loquela, prefixed to his Grammar of the Engliſh Tongue, 1653.

See a Method of inſtructing Perſons deaf and dumb to Speak and underſtand a Language, by Dr. Joh. Wallis. Abridg'd by Mr. Lowthorpe, Vol. III. p. 393.

See Elements of Speech, An Eſſay of Enquiry into the natural Production of Letters. Together with an Appendix to inſtruct Perſons deaf and dumb. By Will. Holder, D. D. Lond. 1669. 8vo.

The ſaid Doctor did afterwards the like for Mr. Alexander Popham (a young Gentleman of a very good Family, and a fair Eſtate) who did from his Birth want his Hearing; whom I taught (ſaith the Doctor) to ſpeak diſtinctly, and to underſtand a Language, ſo as to expreſs his Mind (tolerably well) by Writing, and to underſtand what was written to him by others.

Dr. Charles Gibbs Prebendary of Weſtminſter.

Le Neve.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 514.

May 21, 1662. Charles Gibbes, D. D. was inſtalled Prebendary of Weſtminſter. The ſixth Son of Sir Ralph Gibbes, born at Hunnington in Warwickſhire November 4, 1604. Student in Oxford 1620. Elected Fellow of Merton College 1624. Preſented by the Warden and Fellows to the Rectory of Gamlinghay in Cambridgſhire in April 1638. He reſigned it in 1647. to prevent Sequeſtration, and retiring to Canterbury taught a private School there. In 1661. April 30. admitted to the Rectory of Stanford-Rivers in Eſſex, where he died in good Reputation, Sept. 16, 1681.

His Sermons were after his Death publiſhed in 4to.

FRIDAY May 23.

Earl of Sandwich comes to his Office of the Wardrobe in London.

Journal of Edw. Earl of Sandwich.

I came to the Wardrobe in London to my Family, where I met a Letter from Captain Teddiman to Mr. Samuel Pepys, ſhewing the News of Sir John Lawſon's having made Peace with Algiers, they agreeing not to ſearch our Ships.

Peace made with Algier.

Printed at large in the Publick Intelligence, 4to.

Articles of Peace between his Sacred Majeſty Charles II. King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, &c. and the City and Kingdom of Algiers, and the Territories thereof, concluded by Sir John Lawſon, Knight, the 23d Day of April, 1662.

Imprimis, That from this Day and for ever forwards there be a good and firm Peace between his Sacred Majeſty of Great-Britain, &c. and the Baſſaw Duan and the Governours of Algiers and the Dominion thereunto belonging; and the Ships, Subjects, and People of either Party ſhall not do nor offer any Offence or Injury to each other, but treat one another with all poſſible Reſpect and Friendſhip, &c.

When theſe Articles came to be printed and publiſhed in England, it was ordered by his Majeſty in Council at Hampton-Court the 25th of June 1662. that the enſuing Clauſe be imprinted together with the Articles aforeſaid.

Upon this Peace the King recommended to his Biſhops the Redemption of Slaves, and they ſoon ſubſcribed and raiſed ten thouſand Pounds for that Purpoſe of Piety and Charity.

His Majeſty out of his princely and tender Care having ſince the Concluſion of this Treaty recommended the Redemption of all the Slaves his Subjects in Algiers unto the Lords Biſhops in this Kingdom, their Lordſhips have in this truly chriſtian and pious Deſign proceeded with ſuch Alacrity and Expedition, that for the Effecting thereof ten thouſand Pounds are already prepared to be tranſmitted into thoſe Parts for Redemption of all Captives, according to the Tenour of theſe Articles, at the Rate they were firſt ſold in the Market.

May 23, 1662. Dr. John Gauden, the forward Biſhop of Exeter, being diſappointed of the See of Wincheſter accepted that of Worceſter, and was this Day elected to it, and confirmed June 10. but in a Hurry of Ambition departed the 10th of September following.

SUNDAY May 25.
Lord Sandwich's Account of the Queen's Incapacity of having Children;
As remonſtrated to him by the Engliſh Merchants,
And told to Sir Rob. Southwell by the Dutcheſs of Guadilopa.

The King at Night firſt bedded the Queen.

The Incapacity of the Queen's having Children was publickly talk'd of among the Engliſh Merchants at Liſbon, before this Princeſs left the Place; and they remonſtrated the ſame to the Earl of Sandwich, when he came to bring her to England. Of this Incapacity Sir Robert Southwell was fully aſſured afterwards by the Ducheſs of Guadilopa at Madrid, a Lady who had been acquainted with her from her Infancy, and in her Nurſery. But this is not to be imputed either to her Age, or her Countrey, but to ſome peculiar Infirmities of Body; and it is manifeſt from the Teſtimonies of ſome Ladies about her, that ſhe was in a child-bearing Condition 'till after the King's Death, which was twenty two Years after her Marriage.

Journal of Edw. Earl of Sandwich. Eachard's Hiſt. Chap. II. p. 83.

Mr. Baxter ſilenced himſelf three Months before the Act of Uniformity, partly becauſe he was afraid of a doubtful Clauſe in the Act, and partly that he might not encourage others to conform by any Hope of his Example of Conformity.

The laſt Sermon that Mr. Richard Baxter preached in Publick was at Black Fryers, on May 25, 1662. for which he was accuſed, as telling the People, that the Goſpel was now departing from them. And he was told by the Lady Balcarres, that the old Queen of Bohemia was much offended, that he ſhould ſay, the Goſpel was going away, becauſe ſome Miniſters were ſilenced, and others put in their Places. Whereas there was not the leaſt Colour of Ground for ſuch an Accuſation, from any thing he ſaid. Thus he ceaſed from his publick Miniſtry three Months before Bartholomew Day, the Time when the reſt of his Brethren were ſilenced, which was a Thing for which many cenſur'd him. But he forbore preaching ſo ſoon, partly becauſe the Lawyers did interpret a doubtful Clauſe in the Act of Uniformity, as putting an End to the Liberty of the Lecturers at that Time; and partly becauſe he would let all the Miniſters in the Nation underſtand in Time, what his Intentions were, leſt any might be influenced to a Compliance, upon a Suppoſition that he intended to conform.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgm. of Dr. Baxter's Life, 2d. Edit. p. 304.

MONDAY May 26.
Biſhop Burnet ſaw a Letter from the King to the Lord Clarendon, of conſummating his Marriage, and being well pleaſed with her:

She was ſaid afterwards to have been with Child, and to have miſcarried.

The King did not care for her, though for ſome Time he carried it decently to her.

But afterwards kept Miſtreſſes without reſerve.
And all the Miniſters applied to them, except Clarendon and Southampton.

I ſaw the Letter that the King writ to the Earl of Clarendon the Day after their Marriage [Bed], by which it appeared very plainly that the Marriage was conſummated, and that the King was well pleaſed with her; the King himſelf told me, ſhe had been with Child: And Willis, the great Phyſician, told Dr. Lloyd, from whom I had it, that ſhe had once miſcarried of a Child, which was ſo far advanced, that if it had been carefully look'd to, the Sex might have been diſtinguiſhed. But ſhe proved a barren Wife, and was a Woman of a mean Appearance, and of no agreeable Temper: So that the King never conſider'd her much; and ſhe made ever after but a very mean Figure. For ſome Time the King carried Things decently, and did not viſit his Miſtreſs openly. But he grew weary of that Reſtraint, and ſhook it off ſo entirely, that he had ever after that Miſtreſſes to the End of his Life, to the great Scandal of the World, and to the particular Reproach of all that ſerved about him in the Church. He uſually came from his Miſtreſſes Lodgings to Church, even on Sacrament Days: He held, as it were, a Court in them; and all his Miniſters made Application to them. Only the Earls of Clarendon and Southampton would never ſo much as make a Viſit to any of them, which was maintaining the Decencies of Virtue in a very ſolemn Manner.

Bp. Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, Fol. p. 175.

Mr. Randolp Croxall Rector of Tolleſhunt.

Die 26. Maii, 1662. Randolphus Croxall, Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Tolleſhunt Militis Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. ult. Rect. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Newcourt II. p. 607.

The great Benefit of Chriſtians Education, illuſtrated, proved, and proſecuted; in a Sermon preached at Acton in Cheſhire, the twenty ſixth of May 1662. upon Occaſion of Founding a Free-School there. Commended by Mr. Zachariah Crofton.

London, ſold by Dorman Newman, 1662.

TUESDAY May. 27.
Dr. Jaſper Mayne's Latin Sermon at Oxford.

Concio ad Academiam Oxonienſem pro more habita inchoante Termino Maii 27, 1662. a Jaſpero Mayne, S. T. P. Ædis Chriſti Præbendario Regique in Ordine a Sacris. Ad Galat. v. 1.

Londoni apud R. Royſton, 1662. 4to.

Cambridge Verſes on the King's Marriage.

Epithalamia Cantabrigienſia in Nuptias Auſpicatiſſimas Sereniſſimi Regis Caroli II. Britanniarum Monarchæ & Illuſtriſſimæ Principis Catharinæ Potentiſſimi Regis Luſitaniæ Sororis Unicæ.

Cantabr. ex Officina Johannis Field. 1662, 4to.

Her Portion was 300,000 l. beſides Tangier and Bombay; and her Jointure 30,000 l. per Ann.

The worthy and virtuous Princeſs Donna Catherina Infanta of Portugal, was born on the fourteenth Day of November 1638. ſo that ſhe was full four and twenty Years of Age at this Time. She was Daughter of Juan Duke of Braganza, reſtored to the Crown of Portugal after that Monarchy had been interrupted for about ſixty Years, and only Siſter of Don Alphonſo the ſixth, of Don Pedro, ſucceſſively Kings of Portugal. The Portion which ſhe brought was two Millions of Croiſadoes, about three hundred thouſand Pounds Sterling; with the Inheritance of Tangier in Barbary, and the Iſle of Bombaim in the East-Indies; in Conſideration of which ſhe had a Jointure ſettled on her of thirty thouſand Pounds a Year.

Eachard Ch. II. p. 83.

Mr. Jeremy Fiſh Vicar of Redgwell and Rector of Alphamſton in Eſſex.

Die 27. Maii, 1662. Jeremias Fiſh, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Redgwell Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. Johannis Pindar, ult. Vicarii, ad preſ. Magiſtri, Sociorum, & Scholarium Aulæ S. Catharinæ Cantabr. —— Idem ad Rect. de Alphonſton Com. Eſſex. 3. Octob. 1662.

Newcourt Vol. II. *p.*490.

Ibid. p. 8.

THURSDAY May 29.
Form of Prayer and Thankſgiving for the twenty ninth of May.

A Form of Prayer with Thankſgiving to be uſed of all the King's Majeſty's loving Subjects on the twenty ninth of May, yearly, for his Majeſty's happy Return to his Kingdoms. It being alſo the Day of his Birth. Set forth by his Majeſty's Authority.

London, for the King's Printers, 1662, 4to.

Some of the Preſbyterian Miniſters, even after they were ejected, did obſerve the thirtieth of Jan. and the twenty ninth of May, though they afterwards deſiſted.

It is added, that at length taking Notice, how much the Obſervation of theſe Days was abuſed; what vile and malicious Falſhoods were vented from the Pulpit, and how much the Innocent were miſrepreſented and vilified at theſe Seaſons; for many Years before his Death he deſiſted from obſerving them in publick.

Life of Mr. Tho. Roſewell, 8vo. p. 18.

Mr. Thomas Roſewell, a Miniſter ejected by the Bartholomew Act, 1662. had been educated in Principles of true Loyalty. He was greatly affected with the Caſe of King Charles I. and did highly eſteem the monarchical Form of Government as it is in England. Theſe Things made him more free in expreſſing his Sentiments during the Uſurpation than were conſiſtent with his Safety: And for theſe Reaſons he was wont for ſeveral Years to obſerve the thirtieth of January and the twenty ninth of May: The one as a Day of Humiliation for the Murder of King Charles I. which he always abhorred as a vile deteſtable Act, and the more ſo for ſome particular Circumſtances which he had heard did attend it. The other as a Day of Thankſgiving for the Reſtauration of King Charles II. which he look'd upon (as Multitudes of his Brethren, and many other wiſe and excellent Perſons did) as a great Mercy; and the rather becauſe it was effected in ſuch a quiet and peaceable Manner.

The like Practice by Mr. Philip Henry.

Zach. viii 19. Heb. x. 2, 3.

Mr. Philip Henry, another eminent Nonconformiſt, for ſome Years after King Charles II. came in, obſerved the yearly Day of Humiliation for this Sin [the Murder of King Charles I.] deſiring that God would not lay the Guilt of Blood to the Charge of the Nation. But afterwards finding to what Purpoſe it was generally obſerved, and improved even to the reproaching and condemning, not only of the Innocent, but ſome of the excellent ones of the Land, and noting that there is no Precedent in Scripture of keeping annual Days of Humiliation for particular Sins, after the immediate Judgment is at an End, he took no further Notice of it. ——

And again, he was a hearty Well-wiſher to the Return of the King, —— and joyned in the annual Commemoration of the King's Reſtauration, and preached on Mark xii. 17. Render to Cæſar the things that are Cæſar's. Conſidering (ſaith he) that it was his Right; alſo that the ſad Poſture of the Civil Government through Uſurpers; and the Manner of his coming in without Bloodſhed. This he would all his Days ſpeak of as a National Mercy, but what he rejoyced in with a great deal of Trembling for the Ark of God.

The King and Queen come to Hampton-Court:

Journal of Edw. Earl of Sandwich, MS.

This Thurſday about nine o' Clock at Night, the King and Queen came to Hampton-Court. In the great Hall at the Screene waited the Lord Chancellour, Lord Treaſurer, and many other of the Nobility, and ſo went up before them into the Preſence Chamber. The Lord Chancellour and Treaſurer only kiſſed her Majeſty's Hand in the Hall.

Their ſeveral Stages from Portſmouth.

In the City Accounts for 1662. A Preſent to the Queen in twenty Shilling Pieces of Gold 1,100 l.

Eachard Ch. II. p. 84.

From Portſmouth the Royal Pair removed to Wincheſter, to Farnham, and to Windſor, and ſo to Hampton-Court, where their Majeſties took up a conſiderable Part of the Summer. Here the Queen received the Addreſſes of all the Nobility, and Submiſſions of the ſeveral Deputies for the Cities of England; more particularly from the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen of London, who by Sir William Wylde their Recorder, pronounced a Spaniſh Oration, and preſented her with a rich Purſe of Gold.

Mr. Will. Groves Prebendary of Sarum.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 66.

Maii 29, 1662. Will. Groves coll. ad preb. de North Grantham in Eccl. Cath. Sarum vac. per Mort. Johannis Still, A. M.

Mr. Beridge's Sermon on the twenty ninth of May;

Lond. 1662. 4to.

No King in Iſrael. In a Sermon preached the twenty ninth Day of May. It being the Birth Day of his moſt Sacred Majeſty, that now is, Charles II. as alſo the Day of his Reſtauration to his Crown and Kingdoms. By John Beridge, M. A. and now Rector of Maſſingham Magna in the County of Norfolk.

Dedicated to the Lady Mary Gaudy.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Honourable the Lady Mary Gaudy, Wife to Sir Charles Gaudy of Crowes-Hall in the County of Suffolk, Knight and Baronet, and eldeſt Daughter of the Right Honourable George and Bridget Earl and Counteſs of Deſmond.

Madam,

As to your Mother I dedicated my firſt (to whom I owe ſo much both of Honour and Thankfulneſs) to her; I had preſented this alſo, had not your Ladyſhip's Merits (as the firſt and immediate Repreſentation of herſelf both in Nature and Goodneſs, and from whoſe Nobleneſs I have likewiſe received Favour) juſtly claimed Right thereunto.

Text. Judges xvii. 6. In thoſe Days there was no King in Iſrael, but every Man did that which was right in his own Eyes.

P. 16. A ſecond Propoſition is, that Monarchy or Regal Power is the beſt of Governments. And had we nothing either of Reaſon or Scripture to make good this Truth, yet your own Experience would be a ſufficient Confirmation. After thoſe many and ſtrange Tryals, great Changes of Times and Revolutions of Things that have been amongſt us in theſe Nations. For hath there not been one while a Parliament without a King (i. e. a Body without a Head) to rule and govern amongſt us, or rather to torment and tyrannize over us? Another while a Protector (as if we were always in our Infancy and Nonage) then a Commonwealth; and another Time Lord Keepers, forſooth, but of what? both of our Eſtates and Liberties; yet not for us, but from us. After them a Council of State, and a Committee of Safety (or rather of Iniquity;) then a Rump, and I know not what. All ſo many Tyrants and Tygers over us, &c.

A Sermon by Mr. Price Chaplain to General Monk in May 1660.

Mr. Price, Fellow of King's College Cambridge, and Chaplain to General Monk in the Work of the Reſtauration, had publiſhed a Sermon preached before the Commons May 10, 1660. being a ſolemn Thankſgiving for the Mercies God had beſtowed on the Nation through the ſucceſsful Conduct of the Lord General

Political Axioms wiſe and good allow'd if not dictated by General Monk.

Monk: And in the Dedication of it to the Commons, he laid down theſe political Axioms wiſe and good.

I. That the Church of England could not have fallen, but by the Heat of its own Eccleſiaſticks. ——

II. That the Countrey will never miſchief the Court, unleſs the Court firſt miniſters Occaſion of Offence, either ſeeming or real. It is the fatal Unhappineſs of Courtiers to miſtake their Intereſt, either by preferring their private Intereſt above their Maſter's, or their Maſter's above their Countrey's, and ſo wrong either themſelves, or their Prince, and often both. ——

III. That the Throne of England cannot fall by the Body of its Subjects.

IV. 'Tis the Subjects Advantage to keep the Prerogative of the Crown unviolable. ——

Character of General Monk.

In his Sermon he gave this Character of the General; "As for his Prudence
" I think the Serpent and the Dove do cohabit in his Breaſt, if ever in any.
" As for his Courage, he hath the Souldier's nobleſt Virtue, without their " nobleſt Vice, Courage without Ambition; notwithſtanding there have not
" wanted Sollicitations, and thoſe great ones to the contrary, &c.

Dr. Reeve's Sermons on the Reſtauration.

London, ſold by W. Grantham, 1663. Sold by Joſ. Goodwin in Oxford.

England's Reſtitution. Delivered in ſeveral Sermons at Waltham Abbey in Eſſex. By Thomas Reeve, D. D.

Biſhop Parry's Sermon of David reſtored.

David Reſtored: Or an Antidote againſt the Proſperity of the Wicked and Afflictions of the Juſt. In a ſeaſonable Diſcourſe on the ſeventy third Pſalm. By the Learned and Right Reverend Father in God Edward Parry, late Lord Biſhop of Killala in Ireland. Dedicated to the moſt illuſtrious Sufferer the Marquis of Ormond, by the Author's Son, who preſerved it from the Ruin of theſe Times.

The Vanity of Mr. Baxter's boaſting that the King was voted home the next Day after his Sermon before the Commons;
When the Subject of his Sermon did not tend that Way, but rather the contrary.

Mr. Long's Hiſt. of Plots, 8vo. p. 112.

May 29. Surely there was ſome Vanity in Mr. Baxter to boaſt that the King was voted home the next Day after a Sermon preached by him before the Houſe of Commons, as if that had not been done, if he had not preached. Whereas though the Commons were then conſulting to call home the King, yet he delivered not one Word that might promote that noble Deſign; but many Things that might hinder or clog it with very diſhonourable Terms. He intimates the Supreme Power to be ſtill in the two Houſes: He magnifies the Loyalty of the Preſbyterians; he adjures the Commons to oppoſe Epiſcopacy, under the Titles of ſound Doctrine and Church Government; he pleads for Preſbytery, and that the Church Revenues might be ſettled on them, as the godly, peaceable, prudent People in the Land, &c. And yet this Man boaſted, that the King was voted home the next Day after that Sermon of his. ——

FRIDAY May 30.
The King's Letter in Behalf of Mr. Tho. Williamſon for the Manour of Scotter Com. Linc. held of the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough.

Inter Archiva Eccleſiæ Petrib.

The King's Letters to the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, concerning the Manour of Scotter, Com. Linc.

CHARLES R.

Truſty and well-beloved we greet you well: By a Petition preſented unto us in the Name of Thomas Williamſon, Eſq; we underſtand that he and his Anceſtors have been ancient Tenants to your Church of Peterborough for the Manour of Scotter in the County of Lincoln, and notwithſtanding he is at preſent a Tenant in Poſſeſſion thereof by Virtue of a Leaſe near expired, and hath made frequent Applications to you to renew the ſame for a juſt and reaſonable Fine offered by him, you have hitherto either excuſed or delayed to hearken to any Propoſitions in his Behalf, upon Pretence of a Purchaſer's Title thereunto, procured in the late publick Diſtempers: In Conſideration of which, and particularly the Petitioner's Right, together with his loyal Affections and Deſervings, as having been inſtrumental in our Reſtauration: We are graciouſly pleaſed effectually to recommend his Suit to you, that according to the Merits of his Caſe, you will afford him the Favour to renew his ſaid Leaſe of the Premiſſes as an ancient Tenant, and in Order thereunto admit him to a Treaty for the ſame, upon ſuch a reaſonable Fine and Conſideration as you and he ſhall agree for, which being an Act of Juſtice to him, as we conceive, we ſhall not doubt your Willingneſs to concur with our Deſires in this Behalf. Given at our Court at Whitehall the thirtieth Day of May, 1662.

To our truſty and well-beloved the Dean and Chapter of our Cathedral Church of Peterborough.

By His Majeſty's Command,

EDWARD NICHOLAS.

The two great Myſteries of Chriſtian Religion, by G. G. G. i. e. Godfrey Goodman Gloc. 1643. 4to.

That Biſhops, Deans and Chapters, had been good Landlords while they continued in Poſſeſſion of their Rights was well affirmed by Biſhop Goodman. And becauſe (ſaith he) I was a Member of ſeveral Cathedral and Collegiate Churches (which are now diſſolved) leſt Poſterity may hereafter blame them, and think their Offence to be great, I ſhall therefore give them this Teſtimony, that I take God to witneſs, I did never ſee any thing amongſt them, but what did proceed from Piety, Charity, and Goodneſs. I was a very diligent Obſerver, and truly in their Chapters Things paſſed with as much Wiſdom and Diſcretion as ever I did ſee Buſineſs paſs in the Lords Houſe of Parliament. What Charity did we ſhew to our Tenants in accepting ſuch ſmall Fines? By our Counſels we ſometimes made them good Huſbands; very often we prevented the Sale, and preſerved the Leaſe for the true Heirs, eſpecially if Orphans: And in a Word, they lived better under us as Tenants, than ever they will do as Landlords; and I do verily believe, that if the Parliament had been pleaſed to employ the Members of the Church, inſtead of their Committees, Surveyors, and other Officers (who were the very worſt of Men) that with renewing Leaſes, and putting Years into Lives, they would have raiſed as great Sums of Money (yet reſerving the Rents and Inheritance to the State) as now they have done by ſelling the Inheritance. And truly we were provident in improving the Church Revenues. I am at this Time in Wants. I would deſire of God no more to live upon than what I have raiſed and improved in Church Rents; and what I have done together with others, that I might have but according to my Proportion. So that in a manner pro tanto, we were in Effect Founders of the Church, for we might have converted our Improvement to our own private Uſes.

Biſhop Hacket's Advice againſt the Increaſe of Popery.

Dr. Plume's Life of Biſhop Hacket, Fol. p. 42.

Biſhop Hacket thought the Increaſe of Popery ought to be ſtrictly watched, not only for the Perniciouſneſs of the Tenents of their Heterodox Religion in themſelves, as being in his Opinion idolatrous and favouring of Rebellion, but likewiſe for the Cruelty and ſanguinary Minds of Papiſts themſelves. That whereas all Proteſtants expreſs a charitable Reſpect towards the Souls and Bodies of all Papiſts, abhorring all bloody Perſecutions of them; on the other Side, deſignant nos Oculis ad Mortem; Papiſts ever bear bloody Minds towards us, and want nothing but Power and Opportunity to make as many Bonfires in England, as they had done formerly: And whereas in their Excuſe ſome ſay, that the many late Treaſons againſt their Princes were but the private Acts of ſome particular Papiſts, then he wondred no Pope ſhould ever think fit to ſend out his Bull to declare that he abhorred them; or that none of their learned Men ſhould print Books Licenſed by Authority, wherein they were renounced.

Reſtauration Sermon at Leghorne, by Mr. Rob. Le Groſt.

London, by Tho. Leach, 1662, 4^to^.

Sionis Reductio & Exultatio. Or Sion's Return out of Captivity, with Sion's Rejoycing for her Return. A Diſcourſe intended for a ſolemn Feſtivity of the Engliſh Nation at Livorno in Italy, upon the happy News of King Charles II. his Return into England, which was there celebrated with munificent Feaſting and magnificent Shows, Fire-works, and other Signs of Triumph three Days together, in the Month of July, Anno Dom. 1660. Since occaſionally preached in Part at St. Margaret's in Weſtminſter, the Sunday after the Solemnization of the King's Birth Day and Entry into London; and now preſented to publick View, as to correct the Miſapprehenſion and Miſinterpretation of ſome that were preſent, ſo to prevent the Miſinformation and Depravation of others that were abſent. By Ro. Le Groſſe, Cleric. an Orthodox Prieſt of the Church of England, and D. Œcumenical then reſiding in Livorno, at his Return from Grand Cairo in Egypt.

Imprimatur. G. Stradling, &c.
Ex Æd. Sabaud. Aug. 24, 1662.

To his moſt illuſtrious Highneſs Rupert Prince Palatine, &c.

—— Having had the Honour to wait upon your Highneſs at Toulon in France, and thence to be remanded by your Highneſs into Italy about ſome Affairs concerning his Majeſty's Service in thoſe Parts whilſt I was abroad, &c.

The Countrey Miniſters go up to London for Advice, and return the more averſe to Conformity.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 713.

Several of the Countrey Miniſters under their Doubts and Scruples of Conformity repaired to London, to know the Opinions and Reſolutions of the leading City Clergy.

Thus Mr. William Jones of Denbigh made a Journey to London to confer with Mr. Baxter and others about Conformity, before the Day came that was fixed by the Act; deſiring a more exact Knowledge of the State of Affairs, than he could get at ſuch a Diſtance. He returned bent for Nonconformity, to which he was moſt inclined before.

No Credit to be given to the little Stories told of Biſhop Sheldon, though he was apt enough to be ſevere upon thoſe whom he thought to be unreaſonable Men.

Abridgm. of Baxter's Life, 8^vo^. p. 171.

Stories were told of Biſhop Sheldon's being afraid and unwilling that the ſcrupulous Miniſters ſhould conform. Two Paſſages (ſays Dr. Calamy) deſerve a Remark. The firſt is related by Dr. Bates in his Funeral Sermon for Mr. Baxter, 'tis this: When the Lord Chamberlain Mancheſter told the King, while the Act of Uniformity was under Debate, that he was afraid the Terms of it were ſo rigid, that many of the Miniſters would not comply with it; he reply'd, I am afraid they will. Nay, 'tis credibly reported, he ſhould ſay, Now we know their Minds, we'll make them all Knaves if they conform. —— Dr. Allen of Huntingdonſhire, Clerk in the Convocation (1661) earneſtly laboured with Dr. Sheldon then Biſhop of London, that they might ſo reform the Liturgy, as that no ſober Man might make Exception; but was wiſhed to forbear, For that what ſhould be, was concluded on, or reſolved.

P. 159.

Death of Biſhop Rutter in the Iſle of Man.

Ex Cartis Rev. Patris Thomæ Sodor & Man Epiſc.
See B. Willis Survey of Cathedrals, 4^to^. p. 369.

Samuel Rutter, A. M. Biſhop of Sodor and Man, and Prebendary of Langden in the Church of Lichfield, died May 30, 1662. in the Iſle of Man, where he was buried under the uncover'd Steeple of St. German (then in Ruins) with this Epitaph on a Braſs Plate:

His Epitaph as drawn by himſelf.

In hac Domo quam a vermiculis
Mutuo accepi Confratribus meis,
Sub Spe Reſurrectionis ad Vitam,
Jaceo Samuel Permiſſione Divina
Epiſcopus hujus Inſulæ.
Siſte, Lector, vide ac ride
Pallatium Epiſcopi.
Obiit 30. Die Menſis Maii Anno 1662.

He was firſt Archdeacon of Man, and upon the Death of Biſhop Parr in 1643. had the Eccleſiaſtical Government as chief Magiſtrate. He was confirmed Biſhop October 8, 1661.

His Succeſſor in the See of Sodor and Man was Dr. Iſaac Barrow.

Sacheverel Willis, &c. See July 5, 1663.

Dean Barwick his Care of preſerving the Church of St Paul free from any incroachments of the City.

Life of Dr. Joh. Barwick, Engl. 8vo p. 307.

About this Time it was, that when the Lord-Mayor of London (while the Dean, Dr. Barwick, was in the Countrey, taking the Air for his Health) had order'd himſelf a new Seat to be made in St. Paul's Church, at the Expence of the City; as ſoon as the Dean heard of it, he preſſed that Honourable Perſon in more than one Letter, to permit the Church, to whom the Care of thoſe Matters properly belong'd, to excuſe the City from that Expence; and took Care that Copies of the Letters which he wrote upon that Occaſion, were tranſcribed into the authentick Regiſters of the Church, leſt poſſibly the City, let into a Miſtake by ſuch a Precedent, might afterwards claim ſome Right in a Church, which under God and the King is altogether free.

Dr. Francis Wilford Dean of Ely.

Le Neve Faſti. p. 72.

Francis Wilford, S. T. P. was inſtalled Dean of Ely in the Place of Dr. Edward Martin, deceaſed, May 30, 1662. and died in July 1667.

Newcourt, Vol. II. *p.*494.

Die 5. Junii, 1662. Franciſcus Poner, A. B. Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Rickling Com. Eſſex. ad Coll. Dom. London Epiſcopi.

Books and Papers publiſhed in about May 1662.

1670. 8vo. p. 174.

The Judgment of the foreign Reformed Divines in Favour of Epiſcopacy oppoſite to papal Tyranny is well collected by the Author of Toleration diſcuſs'd, in the ſeveral Declarations expreſly made by Luther, the Authors of the Auguſtine Confeſſion, Bucer, Calvin, Zanchie, Beza, Gaches, Le Main, Gayon, Bogerman.

London, by R. Young, 1640. 4to.

When the Covenanters in Scotland appealed to the Reformed Churches in France, Peter du Moulin, junr. wrote and publiſhed an excellent Letter of a French Proteſtant to a Scotiſh Man of the Covenant: Wherein one of their chief Pretences is removed, which is their Conformity with the French Churches in Points of Diſcipline and Obedience.

Mr. Ben. Baxter of Man's Ignorance.

London, for G.Sawbridge, 1662. 8vo.

Of Man's Ignorance in knowing what is Good or Evil for him in this Life. And whether the Knowledge of what is here good for him be ſo hid, that he cannot attain to it. By Benjamin Baxter, Miniſter of the Goſpel at Upton.

*Mr.*Cooke's Marrow of Surgery.

London, for J. Sherley, 1662. 12o.

The Marrow of many good Authors in Surgery, with Inſtitutions phyſical and chirurgical; and the Aphoriſms of Hippocrates. By James Cooke, Practitioner.

Dr. Hammond's Practical Cathechiſm.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662. 8vo.

A Practical Catechiſm. By H. Hammond. The ſeventh Edition. Whereunto is added, The Reaſonableneſs of the Chriſtian Religion; by the ſame Author. The fourth Edition.

An Epiſtle of Father Walſh to the Roman-Catholick Archbiſhops and Biſhops in Ireland, in Defence of the late Iriſh Remonſtrance.

London, Printed by Tho. Mabb, 1662, 8vo.

An Epiſtle of Father Peter Walſh to the moſt illuſtrious Lords and moſt reverend Fathers in God the Roman-Catholick Archbiſhops and Biſhops of Ireland, prefixed to his More Ample Account, 1662. 8vo. which he calls A little Treatiſe compoſed upon Occaſion of ſome Diſputes ariſen here at London laſt January, and ſince, about the Expediency of ſigning the late Humble Remonſtrance, Acknowledgment, Proteſtation, and Petition preſented to his moſt Sacred Majeſty in Behalf of the Roman-Catholick Clergy of Ireland. —— Dated London May 6, 1662. —— With an Approbation of the Book ſubſcribed at London this tenth of May, 1662. Fr. Redmond Caron of St. Francis Order, Reader Jubilate of Divinity, Fr. Phil. Roch of St. Francis Order Reader General of Divinity. —— With a Complaint of the Author P. Walſh, that while his laſt Sheet of the Ample Account (juſtifying and earneſtly recommending the Iriſh Remonſtrance and Proteſtation of Loyalty) was in the Preſs, ſome very ignorant and ſeditious Perſons of the Catholick Iriſh Clergy now at Louvain or Bruſſels, have buſied themſelves of late, and troubled the Internuncio at Bruſſels, with Exceptions againſt the Catholickneſs or Lawfulneſs of the Proteſtation. —— Poſtſcript to the Ample Account.

Lord Bacon's Hiſt. of Hen. VII.

Amſtelodami ex Officina Elzevir, 1662. 12o. p. 403.

Franc. Baconi de Verulamio Hiſtoria Regni Henrici Septimi Angliæ Regis. Opus vere Politicum cum Epiſtola Fr. S. Albani illuſtriſſimo ac excellentiſſimo Principi Carolo Principi Walliæ, &c.

Poems of Mr. Edm. Ellis.

Oxon. 1662. 4to.

Miſcellanea Poemata, &c. Autore Edmundo Elliſio A. M. —— They conſiſt of Orations, Meditations, Engliſh and Latin Verſes; with his Picture before the Title.

Life of Mr. Tho. Cawton; with his Effigies, Ætat. 54 Auguſt 7, 1659. and this Motto, Si non nunc, quando?

Born at Rainham in Norfolk 1605. ſent by Sir Roger Townſhend to Queen's College Cambridge, and by him preſented to the Rectory of Wivenho in Eſſex, inſtituted June 27, 1637. called thence to St. Bartholomew's behind the Exchange London, before 1648. impriſoned for preaching loyally. —— in Love's Plot —— forced to fly into Holland —— there called to be Engliſh Preacher at Roterdam. where he died Auguſt 7, 1659.

London, for Tho. Baſſet, 1662. 8vo. p. 120.

The Life and Death of that Holy and Reverend Man of God Mr. Thomas Cawton, ſome Time Miniſter of the Goſpel at St. Bartholomew's behind the Royal Exchange, and lately Preacher to the Engliſh Congregation of Roterdam in Holland. With ſeveral of his Speeches and Letters while in Exile, for his Loyalty to the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty. To which is annex'd, A Sermon preached by him at Mercers-Chapel Febr. 25, 1648. not long after the inhuman Beheading of his Majeſty, for which he was committed Priſoner to the Gate-Houſe in Weſtminſter. Publiſhed with the Approbation of ſeveral of his Brethren, Miniſters of the Word in London.

To the worſhipful Sir Anthony Toby of Boſton in Lincolnſhire, Knight, and to his virtuous and religious Lady Katherine Toby, my much honoured and obliging Friends, in Token of my Thankfulneſs for their Love to my Father while impriſoned, and myſelf at preſent. —— Thomas Cawton, Fil.

The Approbation of this Narrative ſign'd by,

ARTHUR JACKSON, EDMUND CALAMY,
May 24, 1662. SIMEON ASHE, JAMES NALTON,
THOMAS WATSON.

Principles of the Chriſtian Religion.

London, ſold by Francis Tyton, 1662.

A View of the Fundamental Principles of the Chriſtian Religion. In three Parts. I. Of the common Nature of Fundamentals in Religion. II. The ſix firſt Principles out of ſix ſeveral Texts of Scripture. III. Of the ſix laſt Principles out of one eminent Text of Scripture.

Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw Chaplain to the Earl of Angleſey, had been a warm and continual Writer againſt Conformity; and to divert him from that Humour, his Lord had wiſely enjoined him to write againſt Popery, and eſpecially againſt the Pope's Infallibility. But the Chaplain was ſo eager upon his firſt Controverſy, that he could not eaſily draw off his Pen from it; and makes ſome Apology in his Preface to another like Treatiſe againſt ceremonial Worſhip.

London, Printed for C. G. 1662. 4to.

A brief Treatiſe about the Spiritual Nature of God, and of his Worſhip. By Edward Bagſhaw, Student of Chriſt-Church. With a prefatory Epiſtle dedicated to the Right Honourable the Earl of Angleſey.

—— I having now ſome Months been indebted to your Lordſhip for a Work of another Nature. —— I made Haſte, together with my Requeſt for ſome longer Time, to bring along with me this ſmall Offering. —— And though ſome of thoſe Things I have writ, ſince this Engagement was upon me, may ſeem to be caſual and undeſigned in their Choice, yet I muſt humbly leave it to your Lordſhip's Judgment to reſolve, whether my late Treatiſe about Hereſies, and this about the Spirituality of God's Nature and Worſhip, were not antecedently neceſſary to be publiſhed, before I proceeded to meddle with the Pope's Infallibility, which as your Lordſhip hath often moſt judiciouſly obſerved, is the Atlas and principal Column to ſupport all that Babyloniſh Building. —— This Employment of laying my Axe to the Root of that Tree, your Lordſhip, who could have done it much better, was pleaſed long ſince to lay upon me. —— Dated Drury-Lane Febr. 15, 1661.

Sir Will. Berkley's View of Virginia.

London, 4to. p. 12.

A Diſcourſe and View of Virginia. Written by Sir William Berkley the Governour in 1663.

Dr. William Petty of Taxes and Contributions.

London, for N. Brooke, 1662. 4to. p. 75.

A Treatiſe of Taxes and Contributions; ſhewing the Nature and Meaſures of Crown Lands, Aſſeſſments, Cuſtoms, Poll Monies, Lotteries, Benevolence, Penalties, Monopolies, Offices, Tythes, Raiſing of Coins, Hearth Money, Exciſe, &c. With ſeveral imperfect Diſcourſes and Digreſſions concerning Wars, the Church, Univerſities, Rents and Purchaſes, Uſury and Exchange, Banks and Lombards, Regiſters for Conveyances, Beggars, Inſurance, Exportation of Money and Wool, Free Ports, Coins, Houſing, Liberty of Conſcience, &c. The ſame being frequently applied to the preſent State of Affairs in Ireland.

With a Preface concerning the Happineſs of Ireland under the Government of his Grace the Duke of Ormond. [By William Petty.]

Sir Hen. Yelverton of the Truth and Reaſonableneſs of Chriſtian Religion,

With Mr. Twyſden of the Sibylls.

London, 1662. 8vo.

A ſhort Diſcourſe of the Truth and Reaſonableneſs of Religion, delivered by Jeſus Chriſt. Wherein the ſeveral Arguments for Chriſtianity are briefly handled; the Miracles done by our Saviour and his Apoſtles, and Chriſtians defended, &c. By Sir Henry Yelverton, Baronet. To which is added, — Diſquiſition touching the Sybills and Sybilline Writings, &c. Written by John Twyſden, Eſq; of Kent.

Dr. Duport's Poem on the Queen's Arrival.

Inter Poemata, 8vo. p. 426.

Ad Reginam Catherinam de Adventu ſuo Carmen Gratulatorium, quæ verno Tempore huc appulit, cum paucis ante Menſibus, & quidem Die Cinerum, eoque tempeſtuoſiſſimo, obierat Elizabetha Regina Bohemiæ. Autore Jacobo Duporto, S. T. P.

Lond. 1662. 4to.

Portugalia in Portu. Portugal in Harbour: Or England's Joy and Welcome to the moſt illuſtrious Infanta of Portugal, Donna Catherina Queen of England. By John Crouch.

Anſwer to Mr. Crofton's Berith-Anti-Baal.

London, ſold by H. Marſh, 1662.

Anti-Baal-Berith juſtified, and Zachary Crofton tryed and caſt in his Appearance before the (ſo called) Prelate Juſtice of Peace. In an Anſwer to his ſeditious Pamphlet, entitled, Berith-Anti-Baal, wherein his anti-monarchical Principles are made manifeſt and apparent to deſerve his juſt Impriſonment. Together with an Anſwer and Animadverſions upon the Holy Profane League and Covenant.

Biſhop Gauden's Invective againſt the Murderers of King Charles I.

London, ſold by H. Everſden, 1662.

A juſt Invective againſt thoſe of the Army and their Abettors, who murdered King Charles I. on the thirtieth of January 1648. With ſome other poetick Pieces in Latin referring to thoſe tragical Times, never before printed. Written Febr. 10, 1648. by Dr. Gauden then Dean of Bocking in Eſſex; now Lord Biſhop of Exeter.

Mr. Atwood's Diſcovery of the Preſbyterians falſe Expoſition of the Scripture.

Lond. 1662. ſold at the Grey-hound in Paul's Church-yard.

A Court for the Orthodox Chriſtian: Or a Diſcovery of the Preſbyterians falſe Expoſition of Scripture; with their Obſervation of Chriſtmaſs, and of the Oath of the King's Supremacy: Sent in a Letter to his honoured Kinſman Robert Broke, Eſq; By William Atwood, Gent.

SUNDAY June 1.

Conſecration of Biſhop Wiſhart.

See his compleat Hiſtory of the Wars of Scotland, under the Conduct of the illuſtrious and truly valiant James Marquis of Montroſs, 1647. 8vo.

He died at Edinburgh in July or Auguſt 1671. buried in the Abbey Church of Halyrood Houſe.

Faſti Oxon. 819.

The Conſecration of Mr. Robert Wiſhart Biſhop of Edinburgh, and Dr. David Mitchel Biſhop of Aberdeen, at St. Andrew's in Scotland. The firſt was Son of the learned and famous Dr. George Wiſhart, and had been in the Retinue of the noble James Marquis of Montroſs, and afterwards Chaplain to the Queen of Bohemia, and about the Time of his Majeſty's Reſtauration was a Miniſter at Newcaſtle upon Tyne, where he was held in great Veneration for his unſpotted Loyalty. He was a Perſon of great Religion, and very charitable to the Poor, and having been a Priſoner he was always careful, at each Dinner that he made, to ſend the firſt Diſh from his Table to the Priſoners.

Some had revolted to Popery in deſpair of an eſtabliſhed Church in England, as Biſhop Goodman complain'd.

The two great Myſteries of Chriſtian Religion, by G. G. G. i. e. Godfrey Goodman Gloc. 1653.

The Apoſtacy of ſome few conſiderable Men to the Church of Rome under the late Ruins of the Church of England was owning to the Diſorders and Confuſions in having no Uniformity, no Church by Law eſtabliſhed, and not knowing where to ſeek a Church ſo viſible as that of Rome. Biſhop Goodman of Glouceſter confeſſed this Cauſe of his inclining to find out a Catholick Communion. The Socinians (ſays he) did increaſe. Some were queſtioned before the Parliament for denying the Trinity, and yet not greatly puniſhed. I find that the Fonts where we are baptized, and make Profeſſion of the Trinity and the Incarnation, they are generally pull'd down. I find that the Solemnity and Joy at Chriſt's Nativity was forbidden; that Faſting in Lent, and Sorrow at Chriſt's Paſſion, were by publick Order neglected; I found that all the Memorials of Chriſt's Paſſion, the harmleſs Croſſes were demoliſhed: I found no Honour was given to the Name of Jeſus; no ſettled Form of Prayer, but every one left to his own Inventions. Nor was there any Time appointed for Prayers, but only a little Preparation for Preaching. I found that in very many Pariſhes the Church Doors were locked up, and there was not ſo much as any publick Meeting; the Churches generally decaying and never repaired, that many would not have the Children baptized, &c.

4to. in the Dedication of it to Oliver Cromwell Lord General.

MONDAY June 2.
Sir Henry Vane*'s firſt Paper of Defence prepared for his Trial.*

Tryal printed by his Friends, 1662, 4to. p. 11.

The firſt Paper of the deceaſed Sufferer, Sir Henry Vane, Knight, towards the Defence of his Cauſe and Life, preparatory to the Tryal, before he could know how the Indictment was laid, entitled, Memorandums touching my Defence.

The Offence objected againſt me is Levying War, within the Statute of 25 Edw. III. &c.

His Arraignment.

The Day of Arraignment being Monday June 2, 1662. the Proceedings in Court were as followeth:

Sir Henry Vane was the laſt Term indicted of High-Treaſon before the Middleſex Grand Jury, and the Bill being found by them, he was now arraigned to this Effect:

That you as a falſe Traytor againſt his moſt excellent Majeſty King Charles the Second, your ſupreme and natural Lord, not having the Fear of God before your Eyes, and withdrawing that your Duty and Allegiance, which a true Subject ought to have and bear to our ſaid Liege and Sovereign Lord on the thirteenth of May, in the eleventh Year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, at the Pariſh of St. Martin's in the Fields, in the County of Middleſex, did compaſs and imagine the Death of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and the ancient Frame of the Government of this Realm totally to ſubvert, and keep our ſaid Sovereign Lord from the Exerciſe of his Regal Government, &c.

Which being read, he prayed to have it read a ſecond Time, which was granted him. He then prayed to have it read in Latin, which all the Court denied, and Keeling the King's Serjeant ſaid, that though all Pleas are ſet down on Record in Latin, yet the Agitations of Cauſes in Court ought to be in Engliſh.

The Priſoner moved ſeveral Exceptions to the Indictment, and urged the general Pardon, and that he was not the Perſon excepted, &c. at laſt pleaded not Guilty, and had four Days till Friday next, for his Tryal.

Account of the Tryal of Sir Henry Vane.

For the dark Thoughts and Style of Sir Hen. Vane, ſee his Treatiſe intituled, The retired Man's Meditations: Or the Myſtery and Power of Godlineſs ſhining forth in the living Word, to the unmaſking the Myſtery of Iniquity in the moſt refined and pureſt Forms. And withal preſenting to View, 1. The Riches and Fulneſs of Chriſt's Perſon as Mediator. 2. The natural and ſpiritual Man, in their proper Diſtinction. 3. The Reign and Kingdom of Chriſt in the Nature, Limits, and Extent thereof, as well in his Saints as over his Enemies. In which old Light is reſtored, and new Light juſtified. Being the Witneſs which is given to this Age. By Henry Vane, Knt. London, ſold by T. Brewſter, 1655, 4to. Chap. I. Wherein is ſhewed, that the Foundation and firſt Rule of all true and right Knowledge of God is ſeated in Chriſt the living Word, as the bleſſed Trinity by their own immediate Operations do make themſelves perſonally viſible therein.

In the Return of the Rump, or England's Confuſion, printed 1659, 4to. among the Members are temperate Mr. Chaloner, wiſe Alderman Alkin, ſingle-hearted preaching Sir Henry Vane, now become Echard's Ch. II. p. 85.

The Tryal and Execution of the famous Sir Henry Vane, whoſe Blood ſeems to have been demanded by the peculiar Vengeance of Heaven. This prodigious Man had been moſt deeply engag'd in the darkeſt Scenes of the late Calamities, which he carry'd on with infinite Subtlety and Artifice, to the Deception of incredible Numbers in the Nations; and tho' he cunningly kept himſelf from the impious Court that condemn'd the King, it was ſufficiently known that none contributed more to the bringing him thither; and after that none more zealouſly promoted the Eſtabliſhment of the New Commonwealth, and his Actions daily diſcover'd ſo much of Republican Rancour, that it was impoſſible for him to live in quiet under any Reſemblance of Monarchy. So after the Reſtoration, having been found tampering with ſome Malecontents of the Army and others, in order to freſh Diſturbances, the Government thought fit to confine him: And tho' he with Lambert was particularly excepted in the Act of Indemnity, yet he found ſo much Favour afterwards from the Houſe of Commons in the ſame Parliament, that they petition'd the King, in which they were join'd by the Houſe of Peers, that he might yet be exempt from ſuffering the Pains of Death; to which, as his Friends alledge his Majeſty conſented. This was look'd upon as a ſufficient Security; yet either upon the Account of his own Behaviour, or that of his Party, or ſome private Reſentment, the preſent Houſe of Commons thought fit to addreſs the King to bring him, together with Colonel John Lambert to their Tryals.

Accordingly on the 4th of June they were both arraign'd at the King's-Bench Bar, before Sir Robert Forſter, Lord Chief Juſtice, and other Judges, and indicted Sir Henry for imagining and compaſſing the Death of the King, and for taking upon him and uſurping the Government: And Colonel Lambert for levying War againſt the King in ſeveral Parts of this Kingdom. The Carriage and Behaviour of Vane was very extraordinary, for being charg'd by the King's Council with a continued Series of Treaſons from the King's Murder to the Reſtoration, without inſiſting upon the Rebellion with which they might have begun, he abſolutely deny'd they had any Power to try him, and declar'd, that neither the King's Death, nor the Members themſelves could diſſolve the Long Parliament, whereof he being one, no inferior Court could call him in Queſtion. —— His whole Behaviour was ſo aſſuming and inſolent, that the Court and King's Council told him, that his own Defence was a freſh Charge againſt him, and the higheſt Evidence of his inward Guilt, had there not been ſuch a Cloud of Witneſſes to prove the Particulars. —— The Jury after a very ſhort Stay brought him in Guilty of High-Treaſon. Colonel Lambert's Behaviour was quite contrary, full of Submiſſion and Diſcretion. —— He was likewiſe condemn'd, but when he was to receive Sentence with

...tain old Sir Harry, religious Harry Nevill, Colonel Bennet, Sir Harry Vane's little Second at preaching, &c. —— Sir Robert Honywood, Sir Harry Vane's Brother in Law, &c.

Sir Henry Vane, he was by the King's Favour repriev'd at the Bar, upon the Report that the Judges had given of his ſubmiſſive and handſome Deportment at his Tryal; upon which he deſired the Judges to return to his Majeſty his moſt humble Thanks for his ſo unexpected Mercy, which the Judges ſaid might have been, and was once thought to be, extended to Sir Henry, if his Frowardneſs and contemptuous Behaviour had not precluded the Way to it. The Colonel was confin'd during Life in the Iſle of Guernſey, where he continu'd a patient and diſcreet Priſoner for above thirty Years.

WEDNESDAY June 4. Mr. George Wall, Rector of Hemſted.

Mr. Gibſon's View of the Churches endow'd by Lord Scudamore, 4to. 1727. 236, 237.

George Wall Preſbyter, M. A. was inſtituted and put into actual Poſſeſſion of the Rectory of Hemſted near Hereford, lately erected, founded and endowed by John Lord Viſcount Scudamore; this 4th Day of June 1662. And his Lordſhip afterwards built a large and handſome Parſonage-Houſe, for the better Accommodation of the Rector and his Succeſſors for ever.

Dr. Parſons his Account of the Charities of Lord Scudamore.

The Donations and Benefactions of John Lord Viſcount Scudamore of Slego, to ſeveral Churches.

To Hempſtead.

To the Church of Hempſtead near Glouceſter; he gave all the Tithes of the Pariſh to endow the ſame, purchaſing the Moiety of them from Henry Powle, Eſq; for that Uſe, and ſo made it a Rectory, and built a good Houſe for the ſucceeding Rectors upon a Parcel of Land which he purchaſed for that Uſe.

To Bredwardyne.

To the Pariſh-Church of Bredwardyne, in the Dioceſe of Hereford, his Lordſhip gave the Tythe of a Meadow called Roberts-Meadow.

To Little-Birch.

To the Pariſh Church of Little-Birch, in the Dioceſe of Hereford, he gave the Tythes of Aylſton's Wood being ſix Score Acres.

To Home-Lacy.

To the Church of Home-Lacy, in the Dioceſe of Hereford, he gave all the Tythes of the Pariſh, made it a Rectory, built a fair Brick-Houſe for the Rector, repaired the Church, and beautified the ſame, adding very regular Seats and Pews. And to a Chapel of Eaſe in the ſame Pariſh called Bowſon, he gave the great Tythes of that Townſhip.

To Boſbury.

To the Church of Boſbury, in the Dioceſe of Hereford, he gave his Tythes of Uplemdon alias Temple-Court in that Pariſh.

To Door.

His Lordſhip alſo rebuilt Part of the Abbey-Church of Door in the Dioceſe of Hereford, built a new large Tower for the Bells, and was at the Charge of having the ſame Church conſecrated: (All which coſt above 1500*l.*) and built a very good Stone Houſe, Barn and Stable for the Rector there, and added to it the Scite of the Manour of the Abbey, and all the Impropriate Tythes of the Pariſh. All which Donations and the incidental Charges in Building, &c. amounted at a moderate Computation to at leaſt ten thouſand Pounds.

To Llanthony.

And after this about the Year 1670. John Lord Viſcount Scudamore having an Eſtate, which was the Priory of Llanthony near the City of Glouceſter, finding a poor Curacy of not above 10*l. per Annum*, bought in the Impropriation of the Place at a very dear Rate, and gave it to the Church for ever. The ſame Lord having the Scite of the whole Priory in his Eſtate, procur'd a private Act of Parliament to make all his Eſtate that was Tithe-free and Extra-Parochial, to become for ever Tythable at the full Extent, and to belong to Hempſtead, within a Mile of Glouceſter, which now by his Bounty is become a Rectory of good Value, worth at leaſt 150*l. per Annum*, there being an old demoliſhed Chapel in his Priory; he alſo gave the Chapel-yard worth 4*l. per Ann.* to the Church; and alſo built a neat Parſonage-Houſe, which coſt full 700*l.* and dying before the Houſe was finiſhed, ordered his Executors to compleat the ſame, which was honourably done by them.

Death of Mr. Henry Jackſon.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 194.

The Death of Mr. Henry Jackſon, Son of Henry Jackſon, Mercer, born in St. Mary's, Oxon. admitted Scholar of Corpus Chriſti, Dec. 1, 1621. Probationer Fellow Sept. 5, 1612. to the reading of the Sentences five Years after, and at length, upon the Death of Dr. Seb. Benefield, ſome Time his Tutor, he became Rector of Meyſey-Hampton near to Fairford in Glouceſterſhire; which was all the Preferment he ever look'd after, for being a ſtudious and cynical Perſon he never expected or deſired more.

His Character and Works.

He was a great Admirer of Rich. Hooker and John Reynolds, whoſe Memories being moſt dear to him, he did for the Sake of the firſt, induſtriouſly collect and publiſh ſome of his ſmall Treatiſes; and of the latter ſeveral of his Epiſtles and Orations. He alſo did diligently recognize, and added marginal Notes, with a copious Index, to the twelve Books of Joh. Lud. Vives, &c. —— He alſo made a Collection of ſeveral of the Works of Pet. Abelard from ancient MSS. of that Author, reviſed and compared: All which he did intend at his own Charge to publiſh, but the grand Rebellion breaking forth in 1642. the Soldiers belonging to the Parliament rifled his Houſe, ſcattered the ſaid Collection, and made it ſo imperfect, that it could never be recovered. —— Dying on the fourth of June 1662. he was buried in the Chancel of the Church of Meiſey-Hampton, near to the Grave of Dr. Benefield.

THURSDAY June 5. Mr. Stillingfleet's Origines Sacræ.

Printed at London, 1662, 4to.

Origines Sacræ: Or a rational Account of Chriſtian Faith, as to the Truth and Divine Authority of the Scriptures, and the Matters therein contained. By Edward Stillingfleet, Rector of Sutton in Bedfordſhire. With an Epiſtle Dedicatory to Sir Roger Burgoigne, Knight and Baronet, his moſt honoured Friend and Patron, dated June 5, 1662.

Biſhop Sanderſon's Licence to Mr. Stillingfleet.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc. MS.

Licentia Roberti Lincoln. Epiſcopi ad prædicand' verbum Dei infra totam ſuam Linc. Dioc. conceſſa Edwardo Stillingfleet Clerico, A. M. Rectori Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Sutton Com. Bedford die 16. Octob. 1662.

The TRYAL of Sir Henry Vane, Knt.

Sir Henry Vane at his Tryal juſtified what he did as done by Authority of Parliament, and that the King was then out of Poſſeſſion of the Kingdom; and the Parliament was the only Power regnant, and therefore no Treaſon could be committed againſt the King. And he objected, that a levying War in Surrey could not be given in Evidence to a Jury in Middleſex; and he deſired to offer a Bill of Exception, becauſe theſe Things were over-ruled by the Court, upon theſe Reſolutions:

I. That by the Death of King Charles I. that long Parliament was actually determined, notwithſtanding the Act, that it ſhould not be diſſolved but by the Conſent of both Houſes.

II. Reſolved, that tho' King Charles II. was de Facto kept out of the Exerciſe of the kingly Office by Traytors and Rebels, yet he was King both de Facto and de Jure, and all the Acts which were done to the keeping him out were High-Treaſon.

III. Reſolved, that the very Conſultation and adviſing together of the Means to deſtroy the King and his Government, was an Overt Act to prove the compaſſing of the King's Death.

IV. Reſolved, that in this Caſe the Treaſon laid in the Indictment being the Compaſſing of the King's Death, and the levying War being laid only as one of the Overt Acts to prove the compaſſing of the King's Death, tho' this levying of War be laid in the Indictment to be in Middleſex, yet a War levied by him in Surrey might be given in Evidence, for being not laid as the Treaſon, but only as the Overt Act to prove the compaſſing, it is a tranſitory Thing which may be proved in another County.

V Reſolved, that the Statute of Will. II. cap. 31. which giveth the Bill of Exception, extends only to Civil Cauſes not to Criminal.

VI. Altho' the Treaſon of compaſſing the King's Death was laid in the Indictment to be 30. May, 11 Car. II. yet upon the Evidence it appeared, that Sir Henry Vane, the very Day the late King was murdered, did ſit in Council for ordering the Forces of the Nation againſt the King that now is, and ſo continued on all along until a little before the King's coming in: It was reſolved, that the Day laid in the Indictment is not material, and the Jury are not bound to find him Guilty of that Day, but may find the Treaſon (as it was in Truth) either before or after the Time laid in the Indictment, &c. See Kelyng's Reports, Fol. p. 14.

Tryal as printed by his Friends, 1662. 4^to^. p. 21.

A Tranſcript of the Priſoner's own Papers, containing certain Memorandums pleadable upon his Arraignment for and towards his Defence.

Firſt, To lay before the Court the Impoſſibility that he humbly conceives is already in View, as to the having any ſuch indifferent and equal Tryal as the Law intends him, and doth require and command on the Behalf of all the free People of England, &c.

The Judges ought not to deliver their Opinion before-hand, as Cook expreſsly in the Chapter of Petty-Treaſon, fol. 29. but here the Judges being aſſiſtant in the Lord's Houſe, when all Acts of Parliament paſs, and whoſe Advice is taken in them, (as appears by what is declar'd in the ſaid Acts) prejudg'd by their Opinions and the Opinions of the Parliament beforehand, the Merit of the Cauſe that now appears to be put upon the Iſſue in my Tryal. Hereby the Judges are rendred ex parte, and the Indifferency the Law requires, impoſſible to be afforded. ——

Further, it is obſervable how early hard Meaſure appeared in the Way wherein the Priſoner became excepted out of the Act of Indemnity. When the Commons, his proper Judges, declared him in their Thoughts not fit to be endangered in the Point of Life; yet unto the Judgment of the Lords (that ought not to judge Commoners unbrought before them by the Commons, much leſs in oppoſite Judgment to the Commons) the Commons were neceſſitated to yield, leſt otherwiſe the Act of Indemnity to the whole Nation ſhould ſtop upon this Diſpute and eſſential Difference between the two Houſes. —— And when he hath ſaid all that as a rational Man doth occur to him, and is fit for him in all Humility to preſent to the Court, he craves Leave further to add, that he ſtands at this Bar not only as a Man, and a Man cloathed with the Privileges of the moſt Sovereign Court, but as a Chriſtian, that hath Faith and Reliance in God, thro' whoſe gracious and wiſe Appointment, he is brought into theſe Circumſtances, and unto this Place at this Time, whoſe Will he deſires to be found reſigned up into, as well in what he now calls him to ſuffer, as in what he hath called him formerly to act, for the Good of his Countrey and of the People of God in it, &c.

Here follow the chief Obſervables (as to Matter of new Argument) on the Day of his Tryal, being Friday June 6, 1662.

On this Day the Sheriff returned forty eight Freeholders of the County of Middleſex. After thirty two were challenged by the Priſoner, he had a Jury of twelve Men ſworn, to wit, Sir William Roberts, jun. Sir Chriſtopher Abdy, &c.

After the Evidence given by ſeveral Witneſſes, Sir Henry Vane pleaded: Cook in his Pleas of the Crown, fol. 6. ſaith, King is to be underſtood of a King regnant and in actual Poſſeſſion of the Crown, and not of a King when he is only Rex de Jure and out of Poſſeſſion. Now an Interregnum is confeſſed by the Indictment, &c.

The true Copy of another of the Priſoner's Papers, intituled, Memorandums as to my main Defence, in relation to Matter of Fact, and as a Narrative thereof.

That without any ſeeking of mine, I was choſen by Writ under the Great-Seal, to ſerve as Burgeſs for the Town of Kingſton upon Hull in the Parliament that ſate down on the third of November 1640. and having in purſuance thereof taken my Seat in the ſaid Parliament, I was obliged by Law to give my Attendance upon the ſaid Truſt, as well as upon Grounds of Duty and Conſcience. —— As to the War —— this Matter was not done in a Corner, the Appeals were ſolemn, and the Deciſion by the Sword was given by that God, who being the Judge of the whole World, does Right, and cannot do otherwiſe. —— If either or both Houſes cannot commit Treaſon, then thoſe that act by their Authority cannot; —— and what is done in Parliament, or by their Authority, ought not to be queſtioned in any other Court, &c.

The main Subſtance of thoſe Papers was read and enlarged upon by the Priſoner. He was often interrupted, but his Memory was ſtill relieved by his Papers; ſo as after whatever Diverſions were cauſed by the Court or Council, he could recover himſelf again and proceed: Yet the Edge and Force of his Plea, as to the influencing of the Juror's Conſciences, may appear to have been much abated by ſuch Interruptions as was intended, &c.

Reg. Lond.

Die 5 Junii 1662. Johannes Goodman, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Vicariam de Watford Com. Hertford. vac. per mort. Willielmi Davenant ult. Incumb. ad preſ. hon. viri Arthuri Comitis Eſſexiæ. —— Joh. Berrow, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Watford vac. per ceſſ. Johannis Goodman, S. T. P. 8. Apr. 1675. —— Johannes Goodman, S. T. P. coll. ad Eccl. de Hadham vac. per mort. Thomæ Henchman, S. T. P. —— inter Preſbyteros rite ordinatos per Rev. in Chriſto Patrem Rob. Linc. Epiſcopum in loco convenienti infra Parochiam S. Botolphi extra Aldgate London die 13. Feb. 1660. Johannes Goodman, S. T. B. Hezekiah Burton & Sam. Lowe Artium Magiſtri.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

A pretended Letter from the French Church, written by an Engliſh Fanatick.

Popery ſpeaking out of the Mouths of Fanaticks, Fol. p. 52.

I know (ſaith Dr. Hickes) a Gentleman who hath a Letter pretended to be written from Paris in the Name of the French Church, dated June 5, 1662. wherein they call the Parliament of Scotland an ungodly Aſſembly, a Seed of Evil-Doers,

Doers, that gather themſelves together againſt the Souls of the Righteous, and condemn innocent Blood, that ſlay the Upright, and breath out Blaſphemies againſt the Heavens, &c. But the Stile of this Letter demonſtrates, that it was written by ſome weſtern Fanatick, and fathered on the French Church.

FRIDAY June 6. Order of Council for carrying on the Impreſſion of the Lithuanian Bible.

Council Book.

Whitehall, Council-Board. Upon the ſeveral Petitions of Samuel Rogiſlaus Chylinſki, the Tranſlator of the Lithuanian Bible, and Evan Tyler Printer of the ſame: Ordered, that the Treaſurers appointed for the Lithuanian Collection do pay to Evan Tyler Printer of the ſaid Bible 76*l.* 1*s.* 4*d.*

SATURDAY June 7. Mr. L'Eſtrange againſt Bagſhaw.

London, 1662, 4to.

Truth and Loyalty vindicated from the Reproaches and Clamours of Mr. Edward Bagſhaw: With a Diſcovery of him and his ſeditious Confederates, June 7, 1662. By Roger L'Eſtrange, Eſquire.

SUNDAY June 8. The Sectaries were loud for a Toleration.

Which was then thought would increaſe the unhappy Diſſenſions in Religion.

Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4to. p. 23.

The Sectaries of all Sorts were very loud in their Demands of a Toleration. To which a very ſober Writer obſerv'd from ſeveral Inſtances, how Toleration and Connivance did not diminiſh Diſſenſions in Religion, and how wholeſome Laws did ſerve to Unity. But (ſaith he) were we without all other Inſtances, we cannot forget what was the Iſſue of Toleration in our own Nation and our own Days. That Faction which deſigned the Ruine of our Church and State; aiming to get a Party for themſelves, after they had quite overthrown all, whoſe Cares were to be for Diſcipline, did then give Liberty to all tender Conſciences: By which the Diſſenſions of Religion were ſo far increaſed, that it was the Wonder of all conſidering Men, how it was poſſible ſo few Years could produce ſuch a prodigious Catalogue of Hereſies. All theſe were carried on with the uſual Effects of Schiſm; the Independents faſtning Antichriſtianiſm to the Preſbyterians; the Anabaptiſts charging the Independents with ſome Relicks of the Man of Sin; the Seekers damning all for Apoſtates; the Anti-Trinitarians and Socinians daily belching out Blaſphemies againſt the Son and Holy Spirit of God; the Antinomians caſting off the Law of God, and the Quakers all Light to walk by but their own. How was every Houſe filled with Strifes and Contentions, and even the very Foundations of Unity and Society, which are Families, torn in Pieces. In every Town almoſt which was capable of two Preachers, one Preſbyterian and one Independent were planted there; like the Roman Malefactors, condemned as it were by the Factious to Diſpute and Preach and Strive one with the other for the greateſt Congregation. Hence became they the Sport of Atheiſts and Papiſts, &c.

As in the late Anarchy and ſad Confuſions.

Biſhop Wren on the Scotch Covenant, to be ſhortly renounced by Act of Parliament.

London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1662. 4to.

The abandoning of the Scottiſh Covenant: A brief Theological Treatiſe touching that unlawful Scottiſh Covenant, which in the late ungracious Times was (with Fraud enough and Force) obtruded upon the People of England: Written firſt upon ſundry private Occaſions in Priſon. By Matthew the Lord Biſhop of Ely, after the Manner of a Sermon upon theſe Words, Pſalm xliv. 18. Nor behave ourſelves frowardly in thy Covenant. But now thought fit to be publiſhed by him, for the preſent Uſe of his Dioceſe: The readilier to prepare all therein (Divines and others) for that due Abrenuntiation of the ſaid Covenant, which they are (out of Hand) to make by Virtue of the Act for Uniformity.

Concluding. For the Love of God then I beſeech you all, have ſome Care of your Souls, and be not thus fooled out of them. Away with all other Devices, all theſe Baal-Berith's, theſe Idol, new fangled Covenants: Avant all but the Covenant of Grace in Chriſt. —— Let us take Care not to put ſuch foul Scorns upon him, as if he needed our Lying, and could not well be God any longer, without our abominable Diſſembling, which was the Badge that Chriſt put upon the old Phariſaiſme, and is the very Soul of that new Scottiſh Covenant. Now God be merciful unto them all, that lie but within the Shadow of it. Amen.

MONDAY June 9. The Motives to Nonconformity.

Eachard's Ch. II. p. 89.

The Reaſons of the Non-conformity of great Numbers have been variouſly judged and reported; but as they and their Friends have given them, they are reduceable to theſe five: 1. By the Act of Uniformity they were oblig'd to be re-ordain'd, if not epiſcopally ordain'd before, which was the Caſe of only ſome of them. 2. They muſt declare their Aſſent and Conſent to every Thing contain'd in the Book of Common-Prayer, &c. 3. They muſt take the Oath of Canonical Obedience. 4. They muſt abjure the Solemn League and Covenant. And 5. they muſt abjure the taking Arms upon any Pretence whatſoever againſt the King, &c. Tho' theſe Reaſons have been enlarg'd, and inſiſted on with the utmoſt Advantage every Particular would admit of; yet it is juſtly believed, that that temporary Part of the Act which was for the abjuring the Solemn League and Covenant, rais'd greater Difficulties among many, than the conforming to the Ceremonies of the Church. Many People had ſtill an unaccountable Fondneſs and Veneration for it, therefore the Difficulty was inſuperable to ſeveral who thought themſelves under a perpetual Obligation to that lawleſs Engine of Miſery, which had been invented to eſtabliſh Preſbytery, yet fram'd and finiſh'd by thoſe who hated both the Name and Thing.

Proclamation for Chimney Money.

By the King's Printers.

By the King. A Proclamation concerning the better Execution of the Act for the Revenue on Fire-Hearths and Stoves. Given June 9, 1662.

TUESDAY June 10. Mr. Sam. Dillingham Rector of St. Pancras Soper-Lane London.

Reg. Juxon.

Die 10. Junii 1662. Samuel Dillingham Clericus, admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Pancraſii Soper-Lane, London. loco Franciſci Hall Clerici ex coll. D. Cantuar. Archiepiſcopi.

Mr. Lockyer could not be ejected from this Church by the Bartholomew Act.

Mr. Newcourt ſuppoſes him Rector of this Church when it was burnt down in 1666.

Dr. Calamy mentions as ejected from St. Bennet's Sheerbog and Pancras Soper-Lane, Mr. Nicholas Lockyer, who had been the Protector's Chaplain, and quickly after King Charles's Reſtauration, he was depriv'd of his Provoſtſhip of Eaton College, in which he ſucceeded Mr. Francis Rouſe. He continu'd preaching occaſionally till he dy'd, which was in 1685.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 37.

The King's Letter to the Univerſity of Cambridge, for Mr. Anthony Scattergood to be created Doctor of Divinity. for his Pains in digeſting and fitting for the Preſs the Collection of Critici Sacri.

Reg. Cantab.

The King's Letter to the Vice-Chancellor, &c. of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Charles R.

Truſty and well-beloved we greet you well. Whereas Anthony Scattergood, Maſter of Arts, and Prebendary of the Cathedral Church of Lincoln, notwithſtanding his great Abilities and Sufficiency in Learning (whereof we have received good Teſtimony in general, and particularly of his ſingular Merit in the Pains he hath taken to digeſt and fit that great Work the Critici Sacri for the Preſs) did yet forbear to take the Degree of Doctor during the late diſorderly Times, which otherwiſe he might have taken many Years ſince. We being willing that Men of Parts and Piety ſhould rather be encourag'd than any Way prejudiced by ſuch their Forbearance, have thought fit to recommend the ſaid Anthony Scattergood unto you, hereby requiring that you forthwith admit him to the Degree of Doctor in Divinity, without thoſe previous or ſubſequent Uſages and Performances upon which he cannot conveniently attend. —— Given at our Court of Hampton-Court the 10th Day of June 1662. in the 14th Year of our Reign.

Account given of him.

He left a choice Collection of Books, which came at laſt into the Hands of Mr. Smith Bookſeller in Daventry, who ſold many of them to the Biſhop of Peterborough in the Years 1724, 1725.

His Preferments.

The ſaid Anthony Scattergood of Trinity College, was among many other Cambridge Men, incorporated Doctor of Divinity at Oxford on the 13th of July 1669. he was Prebendary of Lincoln and Litchfield; and Rector of Winwick and Yelvertoft in Northamptonſhire, and ſome Time Chaplain to Dr. John Williams, Archbiſhop of York; was eldeſt Son of John Scattergood of Ellaſton in Staffordſhire, was a learned Man and hath extant ſeveral Sermons and other Things. He was living in 1681. aged ſeventy Years or more.

Wood's Faſti Oxon, Vol. II. col. 851.

1641. 2. Apr. Anthonius Scattergood Clericus, A. M. admiſſus eſt ad Rectoriam Eccl. de Winwick in Com. Northampt. ad preſ. Johannis Lincoln. Epiſcopi per mort. ult. Incumb.

Reg. Towers, Petriburg, MS.

1687. 18. Januar. Johannes Cartwright Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Winwick Com. Northton. vac. per mort. Antonii Scattergood, S. T. P. ult. Incumb. ex preſentatione Thomæ Lincoln. Epiſcopi.

Reg. White, Petriburg, MS.

1669. 18. Febr. Antonius Scattergood, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Yelvertoft in Com. Northton. vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Knightley Harriſon Clerici, pro hac vice Patroni.

Reg. Henſhaw, Petriburg, MS.

1687. 4. Aug. Abiel Thomas alias Fretwell, A. M. inſtitutus ad Eccleſiam de Yelvertoſt, vac. per mort. Antonii Scattergood ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Willielmi Comitis de Craven pleno jure Patroni.

Reg. White, Petriburg, MS.

Advice to a Friend.

Advice to a Friend; in a Letter written in Anſwer to this Query, What do you think of the Act of Uniformity? Dated June 10, 1662. Signed E. H.

Printed in 1662, 4to.

Advice from Ireland of a Reſolution of the Commons for the Lords to tranſmit into England a Bill for ſettling 500l. per Ann. on the Lord Primate, for his Sufferings and Services in Defence of the Proteſtant Religion.

Adviſed from Dublin, June 10, 1662. that the Commons have reſolved, that a Committee attend the Lords Juſtices, acquainting them, that this Houſe have taken into Conſideration the great Sufferings of the Lord Primate of all Ireland, and his Services in Defence of the Proteſtant Religion, for which Reaſons that their Lordſhips would prepare and tranſmit a Bill into England for ſettling of 500 l. per Annum ultra Repriſas, upon the ſaid Lord Primate and his Heirs for ever, out of ſuch forfeited Lands as hold in Fee or by Copy of Court Roll from the See of Ardmagh, and are not ſet out and diſpoſed to Adventurers or Soldiers.

Mercur. Publ. 4to, No. 26. p. 407.

Wednesday June 11.

Sir Henry Vane offered ſeveral Matters in Arreſt of Judgment, upon which the Court came to theſe Reſolutions:

I. That as Indictments are wrote in Latin, it is not neceſſary they ſhould be read in Engliſh to the Priſoner, or in ſuch Language as he underſtands, becauſe it is the Matter of the Indictment and not the Form to which he ought to anſwer.

II. That ſuch Priſoners ſhould not have Copies of their Indictments nor Council aſſigned to them, unleſs there ſhould ariſe Matter of Law, and in ſuch Caſe they ſhould have a Copy of ſo much of their Indictment as concern'd that Matter, and not of the whole Indictment.

III. That the Statute of Weſtm. 2. cap. 31. which grants a Bill of Exceptions did not extend to the Criminal

Tryal printed by his Friends, 1662, 4to. p. 52.

Sir Henry Vane being brought into the Court, the Clerk demanded of him, what he had to ſay, why Sentence of Death ſhould not be paſſed upon him.

Sir Henry Vane firſt alledged, that he had not yet heard the Indictment read in Latin, —— and deſired that Council might be aſſigned him to make Exceptions thereto. This was over-ruled by the Court. —— The next Thing Sir Henry offered in his own Defence was the Bill of Exceptions, which he brought with him ready drawn, and offered it to the Judges, deſiring them according to the Statute of Weſtm. 2. made 13 Ed. I. to ſign it. —— The Judges over-ruled this Plea, ſaying it was not allowable in Criminal Caſes for Life. The third Thing Sir Henry deſired was, that the Petition of both Houſes, with his Majeſty's Anſwer thereunto, might be read in Court, which after ſome Diſpute was concluded to be a Thing they were not bound to take Notice of, not being an Act of Parliament. —— At length they condeſcended to read it, and that was all. The fourth and laſt Thing Sir Henry offered to the Conſideration of the Bench was, that Counſel might be aſſigned him to argue theſe Points: 1. Whether a Parliament were accountable to any inferior Court? 2. Whether the King being out of Poſſeſſion, and the Power Regent in others —— Here they ſtopp'd him, not ſuffering him to proceed, nor admitting that the King was ever out of Poſſeſſion, &c.

After Sentence given, Chief Juſtice Forſter endeavoured to take off the King from any Obligation by that Grant to the Petition of both Houſes, ſaying, that God though full of Mercy, yet intended his Mercy only to the Penitent.

Reaſons

nal Caſe of the Priſoners indicted at the Suit of the King, that Statute intending only to remedy of over-ruling of Evidence in Civil Pleas between Party and Party.
IV. That the Priſoners could not offer any Thing in Arreſt of Judgment, but Matters which aroſe upon the Indictment, and not any Thing foreign to it, as what was now offered by Vane, namely that the King then was King de Jure only, and not de Facto, and that the Long-Parliament was yet in being: And therefore the Court proceeded to Sentence. Siderfin's Reports, Fol. Term. Trin. 14 Car. II. B. R.
See Sir Harry Vane's laſt Sigh for the Committee of Safety, breathed forth in Diſcourſes and Conferences with the right honourable Vice-Admiral Lawſon, on the 17th of December 1659. aboard the Great James. London, printed 1659, 4to.

Reaſons for an Arreſt of Judgment, writ by the Priſoner, but refuſed to be heard by the Court.

—— Had nothing been in it, but the Care of preſerving my own Life, I needed not have ſtayed in England, but might have taken my Opportunity to have withdrawn myſelf into Foreign Parts, to provide for my own Safety. Nor needed I to have been put upon pleading, as now I am, for an Arreſt of Judgment, but might have watch'd my Advantages that were viſible enough to me in the managing of my Tryal, if I had conſulted only the Preſervation of my Life or Eſtate. No, my Lords, I have otherwiſe learned Chriſt, than to fear them that can but kill the Body, and have no more that they can do. I have alſo taken Notice, in the little reading that I have had of Hiſtory, how glorious the very Heathens have rendred their Names to Poſterity, in the Contempt they have ſhewed of Death (when the laying down their Life has appeared to be their Duty) from the Love, which they have owed to their Countrey. Two remarkable Examples give me Leave to mention, —— Socrates, —— and a chief Governour of a City of Greece, —— with whom his Life was little in Eſteem, when the Good and Safety of his Countrey required the laying of it down.

II. The Bill of Exceptions tranſlated out of the beſt Latin Form the Priſoner could procure, no Counſel learned in the Law daring to aſſiſt him in thoſe Circumſtances, without Aſſignment from the Court, which was denied.

Tryal printed by his Friends, 1662, 4to. p. 64.

II. The Petition of both Houſes of Parliament to the King's moſt excellent Majeſty on the Behalf of Sir Henry Vane and Colonel John Lambert, after they left them uncapable of having any Benefit of the Act of Indemnity.

Ibid. p. 74.

THURSDAY June 12.

A brief Account of the new Sect of Latitude Men: Together with ſome Reflections upon the new Philoſophy. By S. P. of Cambridge. In Anſwer to a Letter from his Friend at Oxford. —— [The Letter from Oxford is ſign'd G. B. May 15, 1662. the Anſwer from Cambridge S. P. June 12, 1662.]

1662, 4to. Reprinted in the Phœnix, 8vo. Vol. II. p. 500.

Dr. Baſire's Letter to Mr. Durell, to ſhew the Moderation of the Miniſters of Geneva towards the Church of England.

A Letter of Dr. Iſaac Baſire to the reverend Mr. John Durell at the Savoy, June 12, 1662. ſending to him the Letter which the Miniſters of Geneva had wrote to him, dated Oct. 3, 1654. being then at Conſtantinople in the Houſe of the Britiſh Ambaſſador, to ſhew how moderate they were about the Liturgy of England, wherein he had celebrated the Service of God for the Comfort of their Fellow Citizens reſiding at that Time in the Eaſt, and going back now and then from Conſtantinople to Geneva, who never ſcrupled at the Ceremonies of Baptiſm or the Lord's Supper.

Mr. Durell's Conformity of the reformed Churches, 1662, 4to. Append.

Mr. John Blemell Rector of All-Saints in Thames-ſtreet

Die 12. Junii 1662. Johannes Blemell, A. M. preſentatus ab Archiepiſcopo Cantuar. ad Eccleſiam Parochialem Omnium Sanctorum ad fœnum in Thames-ſtreet, London. —— Tho. White, A. M. admiſſ. ad eand' Eccl. die 12. Junii 1666. vac. per mort. ult. Rectoris.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 249.

FRIDAY June 13.

Mr. Parr Rector of Chiſhall by the Reſignation of Mr. Willet, whom Dr. Calamy has put down for ejected or ſilenc'd. Abridgm. Vol. II. p. 307.

Robertus Parr, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Chiſhall Parva Com. Eſſex. 13. Junii 1662. vac. per reſign. Jacobi Willet, ad preſ. Luciæ Comitiſſæ Huntingdon. —— Idem ad Vic. de Chiſhall Magna Com. Eſſex. 26. Feb. 1662. —— He was Incumbent of both the Chiſhall's when the Biſhop viſited in 1680. but died before Nov. 11, 1684.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 150. 151.

A Theſis at the Oxford Act.

Omnes qui audiunt Evangelium idque verum agnoſcunt ſunt Gratiæ & Salutis capaces. Theſis in Academia Oxon. explicata die xiii. Junii 1662. Cui acceſſerunt Animadverſiones in aliqua Janſenii atque etiam Calvini dogmata veritati prædictæ adverſa. Per Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ Preſbyterum.

1677, 8vo.

Sir Philip Matthews created Baronet.

Philip Matthews (Son of Joachim Matthews, LL. D.) of Great Gobions, within the Liberty of Havering in Eſſex, was created Baronet June 13, 1662.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 777

Yet Mr. John Garret was put down by Dr. Calamy as ejected or ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act, in his ſecond Edit. or Account, 8vo p. 256. tho' he died before the Day. And when the Doctor was ſenſible of the Miſtake, he contented himſelf with this Excuſe, that Mr. Garret would have held on preaching till Aug. 24. if Death had not prevented him, and that he was in Reſolution a Sufferer for Nonconformity.

Death of Mr. John Garret, a Fellow-Labourer with Mr. Whiddon in the Church of Totneſs. There is in Print the laſt Words of Mr. Francis Whiddon to his dearly beloved the Inhabitants of Totneſs, in two Sermons June 22, 1662. in the Morning and Afternoon of that Day, on Zach. i. 5, 6. Which are Funeral and Farewell Sermons at once: And there Mr. Whiddon expreſſes himſelf thus: "It was but a "few Days ſince, that God put an End to the Labours of your reverend Mini-"ſter, and my Fellow Labourer (and in the Margin Notice is taken of Mr. John "Garret, who 'tis ſaid died June 13, 1662.)" And then he goes on and ſays, "And now the Lord threatens to put an End to mine; with this Difference, "he died in reſpect of Body, I in reſpect of Office, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 378.

The Behaviour of Sir Henry Vane to the Friends who viſited him in the Tower, after his Condemnation.

On this Day Liberty being given to the Friends of Sir Henry Vane to viſit him in the Tower, he received them with very great Chearfulneſs, and with a compoſed Frame of Spirit, having wholly given himſelf up to the Will of God. He did occaſionally let fall many gracious Expreſſions, to the very great refreſhing and ſtrengthning of the Hearts of the Hearers, to wit, that being ſhut up from the World, he had been ſhut up with God, and that he did know what was the Mind of God to him in this great Matter; but that he had not the leaſt Recoil in his Heart, as to Matter or Manner of what was done by him: And though he might have had an Opportunity of eſcaping, or by Policy might have avoided his Charge, yet he did not make Uſe of it, nor could decline that which was come upon him.

Tryal printed by his Friends, 1662, 4to. p. 77.

Ld. Chanc. Clarendon ſpoke thus of the Writings of Sir Hen. Vane. I remember the Popiſh Book called Sancta Sophia came out much about the ſame Time that Sir Hen. Vane publiſhed a Book of the ſame

Among other Things he ſaid, I die in the certain Faith and Foreſight, that this Cauſe ſhall have its Reſurrection in my Death. My Blood will be the Seed ſown, by which this glorious Cauſe will ſpring up, which God will ſpeedily raiſe.

Ibid. p. 79.

——If by my being offered up, the Faith of many be confirmed, and others convinced and brought to the Knowledge of the Truth, how can I deſire greater Honour and Matter of Rejoicing? As for that glorious Cauſe which God hath owned in theſe Nations, and will own, in which ſo many righteous Souls have loſt their Lives, and ſo many have been engaged by my Countenance and Encouragement, ſhall I now give it up, and ſo declare all them Rebels and Murderers? No, I will never do it, that precious Blood ſhall never lie at my Door.

ſame Subject, of the Love of God, and Union with God, which when I had read, and found nothing of his uſual Clearneſs and Ratiocination in his Diſcourſe, in which he ſeem'd much to excell the beſt of the Company he kept, and that the Stile thereof was very like that of Sancta Sophia, and that in a Croud of very eaſy Words, the Senſe was too hard to find out, I was of Opinion that the Subject Matter of it was of ſo delicate a Nature, that it required another kind of Diet, than Men are ordinarily ſupplied with. Animadverſions on Mr. Creſſy, 8^vo^. p. 61.

Upon Friends perſuading him to make ſome Submiſſion to the King, and to endeavour the obtaining of his Life, he ſaid, If the King did not think himſelf more concern'd for his Honour and Word, than he did for his Life, he was very willing they ſhould take it. Nay, I declare (ſaid he) that I value my Life leſs in a good Cauſe, than the King can do his Promiſe. And when ſome others were ſpeaking to him of giving ſome thouſands of Pounds for his Life, he ſaid, if a thouſand Farthings would gain it, he would not give it; and if any ſhould attempt to make ſuch a Bargain, he would ſpoil their Market, &c.

SATURDAY June 14.

Sir Henry Vane before his being carried to Execution told a Friend, God bid Moſes go to the Top of Mount Piſgah and die, ſo he bid him now go to the Top of Tower-Hill and die.

Tryal printed by his Friends, 1662, 4^to^. p. 82.

Some Paſſages of his Prayer with his Lady, Children, and other Friends in his Chamber.

Moſt holy and gracious Father. —— Thou haſt promiſed that thou wilt be a Mouth to thy People in the Hour of Tryal; for thou haſt required us to forbear the preparatory Agitations of our own Minds, becauſe it is not we that are to ſpeak, but the Spirit of our heavenly Father that ſpeaketh in us, in ſuch Seaſons. In what Seaſons more, Lord, than when thou calleſt for the Teſtimony of thy Servants to be writ in Characters of Blood! Shew thyſelf in a poor weak Worm, by enabling him to ſtand againſt all the Power of thy Enemies. There hath been a Battle fought in Garments roll'd in Blood, in which upon ſolemn Appeals on both Sides, thou didſt own thy Servants, though through the Spirit of Hypocriſy and Apoſtacy, that hath ſprung up amongſt us, theſe Nations have been thought unworthy any longer to enjoy the Fruits of that Deliverance. Thou haſt therefore another Day of Deciſion to come, which ſhall be wrought by Fire. Such a Battle is to begin, and to be carried on by the Faith of thy People, yea is in ſome Sort begun by the Faith of thy poor Servant, who is now going to ſeal thy Cauſe with his Blood, &c.

He was ſaid to have been a Gentleman of an ancient Family in the County of Durham; but the Family was directly South, either in Kent or Eſſex, till old Sir Henry having well fleec'd himſelf at Court, mov'd Northward upon this Occaſion: Raby Caſtle was in the Crown, one of the fineſt Royalties in the North of England, aſſign'd to King Charles with other Lands, when Prince of Wales, for the Support of his Family: When come to the Crown, the Parliament not ſupplying him to carry on the Spaniſh War, as they had promis'd both his Father and ſelf, he was oblig'd to aſſign it over to ſome Citizens for a Sum of Money, giving them Power to let Leaſes, &c. old Sir Henry knowing this to be a conſiderable Purchaſe, agreed with the Citizens for their Intereſt, and then got it confirm'd to him by the King, &c. Regicides no Saints, 8^vo^. p. 99.

His SPEECH on the Scaffold.

Gentlemen, Fellow Countrey-men, and Chriſtians,

When Mr. Sheriff came to me this Morning, and told me he had received a Command from the King, that I ſhould ſay nothing reflecting on his Majeſty or the Government, I anſwered I ſhould confine and order my Speech, as near as I could, ſo as to be leaſt offenſive, ſaving my Faithfulneſs to the Truſt repoſed in me. —— I ſuppoſe you may wonder when I ſhall tell you, that I am not brought hither according to any known Law of England. It is true I have been before a Court of Juſtice —— yet when I was before them, I could not have the Liberty and Privilege of an Engliſh-man; the Grounds, Reaſons, and Cauſes of the Actings I was charged with duly conſidered. I therefore deſired the Judges, that they would ſet their Seals to my Bill of Exceptions. I preſſed hard for it again and again, as the Right of myſelf, and every free-born Engliſh-man; by the Law of the Land, but was finally denied it ——

Here Sir John Robinſon, Lieutenant of the Tower, interrupted him ſaying, you muſt not go on thus to rail againſt the Judges, &c. —— the Trumpets ſounded —— and again ſeveral Times in his Face. —— They endeavoured to ſnatch the Paper out of his Hand, but he kept it for a while, now and then reading Part of it, afterwards tearing it in Pieces, he delivered it to a Friend behind him, who was preſently forced to deliver it to the Sheriffs, &c.

Before the Stroke he ſpake to this Effect: I bleſs the Lord who hath accounted me worthy to ſuffer for his Name: Bleſſed be the Lord, that I have kept a Conſcience void of Offence to this Day. I bleſs the Lord that I have not deſerted the righteous Cauſe for which I ſuffer.

I have by me an original Paper, indorſed, Several Remarks concerning the Intrigues of Sir Henry Vane, &c. from 1648. until April 1653. by Mr. Coſtmore, Servant to Robert Earl of Warwick when Lord Admiral, not to his Advantage.

But his very laſt Words of all at the Block were as followeth: Father glorify thy Servant in the Sight of Men, that he may glorify thee in the Diſcharge of his Duty to thee and to his Countrey.

An ancient Traveller obſerved, that his Countenance did not in the leaſt change; and whereas the Heads of all he had before ſeen, did ſome Way or other move after ſevering, which argued ſome Reluctancy and Unwillingneſs to that parting Blow, the Head of this Sufferer lay perfectly ſtill immediately upon the Separation.

His Tryal, &c. as publiſhed by his Friends in favour of him.

The Tryal of Sir Henry Vane, Knight, at the King's-Bench, Weſtminſter, June the 2^d^ and 6^th^ 1662. Together with what he intended to have ſpoken the Day of his Sentence, June 11, for Arreſt of Judgment, had he not been interrupted and over-ruled by the Court; and his Bill of Exceptions: With other occaſional Speeches, &c. Alſo his Speech and Prayer on the Scaffold.

Printed in the Year* 1662. 4^to^.

Vith his Life and Death.

The Life and Death of Sir Henry Vane, Knight: With a true Account of his purely Chriſtian Goſpel Principles, Doctrine, Life, and Way of worſhipping God

Ibid.

God, for which he ſuffered Contradiction and Reproach from all Sorts of Sinners, and at laſt a violent Death, June 14, 1662. With his laſt Exhortation to his Children the Day before his Death.

Camden's Eliz. Anno 1591.

His Flights of Enthuſiaſm in his dying Hour, cauſed ſome to reflect on the Death of a much more wicked Enthuſiaſt, condemn'd and executed for Treaſon in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, one Hacket born at Oundle in Northamptonſhire, who (as Mr. Camden relates) as he was upon the Hurdle in the Way to Execution, never left calling upon Almighty God with hideous Outcries; And now behold (ſays he) the Heavens are opened, and the Son of the moſt High coming down to deliver me. When he was come to the Place of Execution, he proſecuted his Blaſphemies with more horrid and furious Exclamations. Heavenly and Almighty God, thou that art the Alpha and Omega, Lord of Lords, and King of Kings, thou eternal God, that knoweſt me to be the true Jehovah that thou haſt ſent; ſhew ſome Miracle from Heaven, for the Converſion of theſe Infidels, and ſave me from mine Enemies? or if thou doſt not, I'll ſet the Heavens on Fire, and with theſe very Hands caſt thee out of thy Throne. I ſhould have ſcrupled the bare Recital of theſe Blaſphemies, were it not for a Deſire I have to poſſeſs you with a due Conſideration of thoſe execrable Abuſes, that are frequently impoſed upon the World under the Vizor of Religion. The Condition of the Kingdom was doubtleſs very ſad, that had ſuch turbulent Spirits to deal withal, &c.

Toleration diſcuſs'd, 1670. 8vo. p. 152.

The King chang'd the Sentence of Sir Henry Vane's to Beheading;

And would have extended his Mercy on his Submiſſion:

But he ſeem'd reſolute to dye.

And died in high Fits of Zeal and Paſſion.

He loſt his Head in the ſame Place with the Earl of Strafford.

Mr. Echard's Hiſtory.

Sir Henry Vane when he receiv'd Sentence, had uſed the Words of the bloody Venner, Whom Man judges, God will not condemn.—The King readily favour'd his Friends with changing his Sentence from hanging and quartering to that of beheading; and ſeem'd ſtill willing to have gone further; but when ſome perſuaded him to ſubmit to the King and endeavour to ſave his Life, he ſaid, if the King did not think himſelf more concern'd for his Honour and his Word, than he did for his Life, they might take it. Nay he declar'd, that he valued his Life leſs in a good Cauſe, than the King could do his Promiſe; with ſuch like Rants, as if he deſign'd to precipitate his own Ruin. Then for his religious Deportment, he declar'd he had ſuch Signs of ſpecial Salvation, as to aſſure himſelf a Place no lower than the Right Hand of Jeſus Chriſt. He further ſaid, this was the Day of his ſpiritual Birth, and even whilſt here in Body, he was made Partaker of Eternal Life in the firſt Fruits of it. Being brought to the Scaffold on the 14th of June, he there run out into ſuch Lectures of Treaſon and Enthuſiaſm, that the Sheriff and the reſt, after two or three Warnings, were forc'd to drown them with the Noiſe of Drums and Trumpets, and were going to take his Papers from him; but he with great Rage and Indignation tore them in Pieces, and ſubmitted to the Block in a very diſcompoſed Manner. Yet his Friends tell us, that his laſt Words at the Block which concluded his Prayers were theſe: Father glorify thy Servant in the Sight of Men, that he may glorify thee in the Diſcharge of his Duty to thee and to his Countrey. He dy'd in the very ſame Place on Tower-Hill with the famous Earl of Strafford, of whoſe Death he was the prime Inſtrument, and for whoſe Sake principally he was thought now to have ſuffer'd.—We ſhall only obſerve, that ſo much Diſſimulation and Enthuſiaſm, ſuch vaſt Parts and ſuch ſtrong Deluſions, ſo much good Senſe and ſo much Madneſs, can hardly be believ'd to meet in any one Man in the World. And it is further obſerv'd, that as he was the firſt Man that open'd the Fountain of Blood that over-run the Engliſh Nation, ſo he was the laſt that clos'd it up in his own Execution; for we find none that ſuffer'd in England after him, upon Account of the Grand Rebellion.

He was the laſt who ſuffer'd on Account of the grand Rebellion.

The Reflections made on this Occaſion by Biſhop Burnet, in ſome Favour of him.

Bp. Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, Fol. p. 163.

As the ſparing of John Goodwin and Milton was much cenſured, ſo on the other hand, the putting Sir Henry Vane to Death was as much blamed: For the Declaration from Breda being full for an Indemnity to all except the Regicides, he was comprehended in that, ſince tho' he was for changing the Government and depoſing the King, yet he did not approve of the putting him to Death, nor of the Force put on the Parliament, but did for ſome Time, while theſe Things were acted, withdraw from the Scene. This was ſo repreſented by his Friends, that an Addreſs was made by both Houſes on his Behalf, to which the King gave a favourable Anſwer, tho' in general Words. So he reckon'd that he was ſafe, that being equivalent to an Act of Parliament, tho' it wanted the neceſſary Forms. Yet the great Share he had in the Attainder of the Earl of Strafford, and in the whole Turn of Affairs to the total Change of Government, but above all the great Opinion that was had of his Parts and Capacity to embroil Matters again, made the Court think it was neceſſary to put him out of the Way. He was naturally a very fearful Man; this one who knew him well told me, and gave me eminent Inſtances of it. He had a Head as darkned in his Notions of Religion, as his Mind was clouded with Fear. For tho' he ſet up a Form of Religion in a Way of his own, yet it conſiſted rather in a withdrawing from all other Forms, than in any new or particular Opinions or Forms; for which he and his Party were called Seekers, and ſeemed to wait for ſome new and clearer Manifeſtations. In theſe Meetings he preached and prayed often himſelf, but with ſo peculiar a Darkneſs, that tho' I have ſometimes taken Pains to ſee if I could find out his Meaning in his Works, yet I could never reach it. And ſince many others have ſaid the ſame, it may be reaſonable to believe he hid ſomewhat that was a neceſſary Key to the reſt. His Friends told me, he leaned to Origen's Notion of an univerſal Salvation of all, both of Devils and the damned, and to the Doctrine of Pre-exiſtence. When he ſaw his Death was deſigned, he compoſed himſelf to it with a Reſolution, that ſurprized all who knew how little of that

Though the King gave a favourable Anſwer to the Addreſs of two Houſes, yet it was in general Words only, and could not be called a Promiſe of ſparing his Life.

His Character.

His dark Way of Writing.

Sir Henry Vane had a Set of Diſciples, who firſt ſprang under him in New-England, when he was Governor there. But their Notions were then raw and undigeſted, and their Party quickly confounded by God's Providence, as appears from Mr. Tho. Weld*'s Account. One* Mrs. Dyer a chief Perſon of the Sect, did firſt bring forth a Monſter, which had the Parts of almoſt all Sorts of living Creatures; ſome Parts like Man, but moſt ugly and miſplac'd, and ſome like Beaſts, Birds and Fiſhes, having Horns, Fins and Jaws; And at the Birth of it the Bed ſhook, and the Women were forc'd to leave the Room. Mrs. Hutchenſon the chief Woman among them, and their Teacher (to whoſe Exerciſes a Congregation of them us'd to aſſemble) brought forth about thirty miſhapen Births at once, and being baniſh'd into another Plantation, was kill'd there by the Indians. Sir Henry Vane being Governor, and being found to be the Life of their Cauſe, was fain to ſteal away by Night, before his Year of Government was at an end. Coming over into England he prov'd an Inſtrument of greater Calamity to a ſinful People. Being choſen a Parliament Man, he was very active at firſt for bringing Delinquents to Puniſhment. He was the principal Man that drove on the Parliament with that Vehemence againſt the King. Being of ready Parts, great Subtilty, and unwearied Induſtry, he labour'd, and not without Succeſs, to win others in Parliament, City and Countrey to his Way. When the Earl of Strafford was accus'd, he got a Paper out of his Father's Cabinet (who was Secretary of State) which was the chief Means of his Condemnation. To moſt of the Changes that follow'd, he was that within the Houſe that Cromwell was without. His great Zeal to inflame the War, and to cheriſh the Sectaries, and eſpecially in the Army made him above all Men to be valu'd by that Party. —— The two Things in which he had moſt Succeſs, and ſpake moſt plainly, were his earneſt Plea for univerſal Liberty of Conſcience, and againſt the Magiſtrates intermeddling with Religion, and his teaching his Followers to revile the Miniſtry calling them ordinarily Black-coat Prieſts, and other Names of Reproach. Abridgment of Mr. Baxter's Life, 8vo. p. 98.

that was natural to him. Some Inſtances of this were very extraordinary, tho' they cannot be mention'd with Decency. He was beheaded on Tower-Hill, where a new and very indecent Practice was begun —— Drummers were placed under the Scaffold, who as ſoon as he began to ſpeak of the Publick, upon a Sign given ſtruck up with their Drums. This put him in no Diſorder. He deſired they might be ſtopped, for he underſtood what was meant by it. Then he went thro' his Devotions. And as he was taking Leave of thoſe about him, he happening to ſay ſomewhat with relation to the Times, the Drums ſtruck up a ſecond Time: So he gave over, and died with ſo much Compoſedneſs, that it was generally thought the Government had loſt more than it had gained by his Death.

Read the Speech of that worthy Knight [Sir Henry Vane] at his Execution upon Tower-Hill, on the 14th of June laſt, where in the third Page he ſays, that what the Houſe of Commons did in their acting ſingly and by themſelves (which was no leſs than trying and murdering the King, proſcribing his Son, and voting down Monarchy, with much more which he there ſays lay yet in the Breaſt of the Houſe) was but a more refined Purſuit of the Deſigns of the Covenant. For the Teſtimony of which Perſon in this Matter, I have thus much to ſay, that he who having been ſent Commiſſioner from hence into Scotland, was the firſt Author and Contriver of the Covenant there, was ſurely of all others the moſt likely to know the true Meaning of it; and being ready to die, was moſt likely then, if ever, to ſpeak ſincerely what he knew. ——— P. 86. Diſtinction of Orders confounded, the Gentry outbraved, and the Nobility, who voted the Biſhops out of their Dignities in Parliament, by the juſt Judgment of God thruſt out themſelves, and brought under the Scorn and imperious Laſh of a Beggar on Horſeback. Learning diſcountenanced, and the Univerſities threatned, their Revenues to be ſold, their Colleges to be demoliſhed, the Law to be reformed after the ſame Model, the Records of the Nation to be burnt. —— All this was Sir Henry Vane's villanous and monſtrous Advice.

Sermon on the 30th of January 1662-3. by Dr. Robert South; in his Sermons, Vol. V. *p.*69.

In February 1659. Mr. Henry Stubbe of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. was complained of in the Parliament-Houſe, as one that palliated in Print Sir Henry Vane's Wickedneſs. —— And before the King's Reſtoration, what the ſaid Mr. Stubbe had wrote againſt Monarchy, Miniſters, Univerſities, Churches, &c. he himſelf has told us, was to ſerve his Patron, Sir Henry Vane, and to expreſs his Gratitude to him who had reliev'd him when a Boy at Weſtminſter School, &c. He publiſhed, a Vindication of the honourable Sir Henry Vane from the falſe Aſperſions of Mr. Baxter, London 1659, 8vo. The ſame Year another Book was publiſhed to that Purpoſe, intituled, A Vindication of Sir Henry Vane from the Lies and Calumnies of Mr. Rich. Baxter. Printed at London.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 413, 414.

The Life and Death of Sir Henry Vane, Knight: Or a ſhort Narrative of the main Paſſages of his earthly Pilgrimage. Printed 1662, 4to. 'Tis a moſt canting and enthuſiaſtical Piece, and the Effects rather of a craz'd than ſettled Brain. And inſtead of giving the Reader an Account of the Birth, Extract, Breeding, Actions, &c. of that Knight, uſually called Sir Humorous Vanity, he puts the Reader off with his (ſuch as 'tis) Divinity. Written by George Sikes, a Preſbyterian, a Covenanter, an Independent, made Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxon. by the Viſitors (where he had his Share of the old Gold or Spur-Royals belonging to that Houſe, went away with, and never reſtored them again, as others did) took the Engagement, became a great Admirer and Follower of Sir Henry Vane junior; and therefore eſteemed by the Generality an Anabaptiſt, Fifth-Monarchy-Man, and a Hodge Podge of Religions.

Wood's Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 181.

It was much to the Credit of Sir Henry Vane, that he was a great Encourager of Learning and ingenious Education. Henry Stubbe, Phyſician at Warwick, thus gratefully remembred his Generoſity to him. I was at Weſtminſter School when the late King was beheaded: I never took Covenant nor Engagement: In Sum, I ſerved my Patron. I endeavoured to expreſs my Gratitude unto him who had relieved me, being a Child, and in great Poverty (the Rebellion in Ireland having deprived my Parents of all Means wherewith to educate me) who made me a King's Scholar, preferred me to Chriſt-Church in Oxon. who often ſupplied me with Money, when my tender Years gave him little Hopes of any Return, and who protected me amidſt the Preſbyterians and Independents, and other Sects; with none thereof did I contract any Relation or Acquaintance. I neither enriched nor otherwiſe advanced myſelf during the late Troubles, and ſhared the common Odium and Dangers, not Proſperity with my Benefactor, &c.

Preface of Mr. Hen. Stubbe to his Animadverſions on the Hiſtory of the Royal Society, 4to. 1670.

SUNDAY June 15.

Complaints of the great Severity of the Act of Uniformity.

Anſwer to it.

Great Complaints were made of the Severities in the Act of Uniformity, and the Perſecution that muſt follow upon it: To which a very ſound Writer anſwered: It is an Artifice of the Author of a Diſcourſe of the Religion of England, to raiſe Fears in the Diſſenters, that they ſhall be proceeded againſt in ſome violent Way of Terror, and to raiſe Jealouſies of the King and Parliament, as if they meditated Blood and Cruelty. Nothing of this Nature can ever be charged upon the Church of England, though provoked and incited by the Cruelties on both Sides, thoſe of the Papiſts, and thoſe of the Sectaries, which were uſed to extirpate all her Aſſertors. All that is endeavoured [by the Act] is to extirpate Diſſenſions and not Diſſenters. For 1. No Man's Conſcience is impos'd upon, but notwithſtanding the late Act, he may enjoy his Opinion in his own Houſe, and with his Friends. 2. No Man, either Lay or Clergy, hath any Subſcription enjoined him as a Condition of Communion with us: Only it is required of thoſe who are to be entruſted with the Miniſtry of the Church; that they diſavow all Obligations and Opinions to break the Peace of the Nation, and that they aſſent to the Uſe of thoſe Things which are for the Unity of Chriſtians in this Kingdom among themſelves. Which is no more than what the Law of Nature hath granted to every Society, which the Church hath in all Ages practiſed, and which our Adverſaries themſelves did uſe; for the Preſbyterians required a ſubſcribing their Solemn League, and the Independents had their Church Covenant; &c.

Anſwer to a Diſcourſe of the Religion of England, 4to. 1668. *p.*32.

MONDAY June 16.
Roger Wilford, D. D.

The King's Letters Mandatory to the Univerſity of Cambridge to admit Roger Wilford to the Degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dated June 16, 1662.

Articles of Viſitation by Biſhop Hacket.

London, Printed for John Place, 1662. 4to.

Articles of Enquiry concerning Matters Eccleſiaſtical, exhibited to the Miniſters, Church-wardens, and Side-men of every Pariſh within the Dioceſe of Lichfield and Coventry in the firſt Epiſcopal Viſitation of the Right Reverend Father in God, John, by Divine Providence, Lord Biſhop of Lichfield and Coventry, in the firſt Year of his Conſecration, Anno 1662. —— With a Form of the Oath to be given unto the Church-wardens and Sides-men of every Pariſh; and Advice to them to enquire diligently what Anſwers they will and can give to all theſe Particulars upon Oath, ſetting the Fear of God and the Good of his Church before their Eyes.

His Opinion and Practice of Viſitations.

Dr. Plume's Life of Biſhop Hacket, Fol. p. 38.

His firſt Viſitation was now in 1662. his ſecond in 1665.

Biſhop Hacket duly held his Viſitations every third Year. This Viſitation of Churches he would maintain was no Filia Noctis, ſtarted up in a Night of Darkneſs and Popery, but an Apoſtolical Inſtitution, and practiſed afterwards by all the primitive Fathers and Biſhops. Herein his Lordſhip would oftentimes be the Preacher himſelf, ſo that in his firſt Viſitation, Anno 1662. in his Progreſs in Shropſhire, and at Stafford, from the laſt of May to the fifteenth of June, he preached eight Times in the Compaſs of thoſe few Days, at Bridgnorth, Salop, Elſmere, Wem, Whitchurch, Drayton, Hodnet, and Stafford, and confirmed above five thouſand Perſons, whom he required not to be tumultuarily preſented, but with the Pre-Examination of their ſeveral Miniſters, and was in all Places moſt joyfully received.

Five hundred Pounds per Ann. to be ſettled on the Lady Tyrrel, the Daughter of Archbiſhop Uſher.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

Adviſed from Dublin, June 16. That the Parliament had ordered that five hundred Pounds per Annum be ſettled upon the Lady Tyrrell (of ſuch Lands as are forfeited) Daughter of James late Lord Primate of Ireland, deceaſed, for his Loyalty to the King, and his Sufferings by the Rebellion in this Kingdom, and alſo by the Uſurpers: And that Application be made to the Lords Juſtices about it.

TUESDAY June 17.
Mr. Baxter's Account of his courteous Entertainment by the Lord Chancellour, and yet reproved by him,

For provoking Biſhop Morley,

And ſpeaking unhandſomely to Dr. Earles.

Mr. Baxter's Life, Fol. Lib. I. P. II. p. 381.

The next Time I went to the Lord Chancellour (about the New-England Corporation) after the Biſhop of Worceſter's angry and invective Book, he entertained me with his uſual Condeſcenſion and Courteſy, but with ſome chiding Language, that I would meddle with Dr. Morley to provoke him; which when I had briefly ſpoke to, he followed on his Reprehenſion thus; "Was it a handſome Thing of Mr. Baxter to ſpeak to ſo mild a Man as Dr. Earles, Clerk of the King's Cloſet, as when he offered you a Tippet when you preached before the King, to turn away in Scorn, and ſay, I'll have none of your Toyes!" Would not a fairer Anſwer have been better? I replied to him, that I ſtill perceived more and more the Truth of what I told the Biſhops, what Conſequents would follow the Continuance of unhealed Factions; and what Uſage we muſt expect however we lived, and how little Innocency would do to our Vindication.

Mr. Baxter's Denial of it:

I told him, that I never ſpake any ſuch Word as he mentioned, nor ever had ſuch a Thought in my Heart, nor no more ſcrupled to wear a Tippet than to ſit on a Cuſhion, &c.

Hereupon I wrote this following Letter to Dr. Earles, a mild and quiet Man, who was ſince Biſhop of Worceſter, and afterwards Biſhop of Saliſbury.

Reverend Sir,

His Letter to Dr. Earles on that Occaſion.

By the great Favour of my Lord Chancellour's Reprehenſion, I came to underſtand how long a Time I have ſuffer'd in my Reputation with my Superiours by your miſunderſtanding me, and miſinforming others, as if when I was to preach before the King, I had ſcornfully refuſed the Tippet as a Toy; when as the Searcher and Judge of Hearts doth know, that I had no ſuch Thought or Word. I was ſo ignorant in thoſe Matters, as to think that a Tippet had been a proper Enſign of a Doctor of Divinity, and I verily thought that you offer'd it me as ſuch: And I had ſo much Pride as to be ſomewhat aſhamed when you offer'd it me, that I muſt tell you my want of ſuch Degrees; and therefore gave you no Anſwer to your firſt Offer, but to your ſecond was forced to ſay, It belongeth not to me, Sir: And I ſaid not to you any more; nor had any other Thought in my Heart, than with ſome Shame to tell you that I had no Degrees, imagining I ſhould have offended others, and made myſelf the Laughter or Scorn of many, if I ſhould have uſed that which did not belong to me. For I muſt profeſs, that I had no more Scruple to wear a Tippet than a Gown, or any comely Garment. Sir, though this be one of the ſmalleſt of all the Miſtakes which of late have turned to my Wrong, and I muſt confeſs that my Ignorance gave you the Occaſion, and I am far from imputing it to any ill Will in you, having frequently heard, that in Charity and Gentleneſs and Peaceableneſs of Mind you are very eminent; yet becauſe I muſt not contemn my Eſtimation with my Superiours, I humbly crave that Favour and Juſtice of you (which I am confident you will readily grant me) as to acquaint thoſe with the Truth of this Buſineſs, whom upon Miſtake you have miſinformed, whereby in relieving the Innocence of your Brother, you will do a Work of Charity and Juſtice, and therefore not diſpleaſing unto God, and will much oblige,

Sir,

June 20, 1662. Your Humble Servant,
Richard Baxter.

P. S. I have the more need of your Juſtice in this Caſe, becauſe my Diſtance denieth me Acceſs to thoſe that have received theſe Miſreports, and becauſe any publick Vindication of myſelf, whatever is ſaid of me, is taken as an unſufferable Crime, and therefore I am utterly incapable of vindicating my Innocency, or remedying their Miſtakes.

To the Reverend and much Honoured Dr.
Earles Dean of Weſtminſter, &c. Theſe.

Anſwer of Dr. Earles to Mr. Baxter, allowing him to be partly in the Right,

To this the Doctor returned this civil peaceable Anſwer:

Sir, Hampton-Court, June 23.

[O that they were all ſuch. A Note of Mr. Baxter*'s*.]

I received your Letter, which I would have anſwered ſooner if the Meſſenger that brought it had returned. I muſt confeſs I was a little ſurprized with the Beginning of it, as I was with your Name; but when I read further I ceaſed to be ſo. Sir, I ſhould be heartily ſorry and aſhamed to be guilty of any thing like Malignity or Uncharitableneſs, eſpecially to one of your Condition, with whom, though I concur not perhaps in Point of Judgment in ſome Particulars, yet I cannot but Eſteem for your perſonal Worth and Abilities: And indeed your Expreſſions in your Letter are ſo civil and ingenuous, that I am obliged thereby the more to give you all the Satisfaction I can.

[Theſe Words I heard not, being in Paſſage from him. A Note of Mr. Baxter*'s*.]

As I remember then, when you came to me to the Cloſet, and I told you I would furniſh you with a Tippet, you anſwered me ſomething to that Purpoſe as you write, but whether the ſame numerical Words, or but once, I cannot poſitively ſay from my own Memory, and therefore I believe yours: Only this I am ſure of, that I ſaid to you at my ſecond ſpeaking, that ſome others of your Perſuaſion had not ſcrupled at it, which might ſuppoſe (if you had not affirmed the contrary) that you had made me a formal Refuſal; of which giving me then no other Reaſon than that it belonged not to you, I concluded that you were more ſcrupulous than others were! And perhaps the Manner of your refuſing it (as it appeared to me) might make me think you were not very well pleaſed with the Motion: And this it is likely I might ſay, either to my Lord Chancellour or others; though ſeriouſly I do not remember that I ſpake to my Lord Chancellour at all concerning it. But Sir, ſince you give me now that modeſt Reaſon for it (which by the Way is no juſt Reaſon in itſelf, for a Tippet may be worn without a Degree, though a Hood cannot; and it is no Shame at all to want theſe Formalities for him that wanteth not the Subſtance) but, Sir, I ſay, ſince you give that Reaſon for your Refuſal, I believe you, and ſhall correct that Miſtake in myſelf, and endeavour to rectify it in others, if any upon this Occaſion have miſunderſtood you. In the mean Time I ſhall deſire your charitable Opinion of myſelf, which I ſhall be willing to deſerve upon any Opportunity that is offered me to do you Service, being

Sir,

To my Honoured Friend
Mr. Rich. Baxter, Theſe.

Your very Humble Servant,
Jo. Earles.

Wednesday June 18.
The arbitrary Power of Placing and Diſplacing Miniſters under the Will and Pleaſure of Hugh Peters and other Tryers.

Miniſters not inclining to conform were put in Mind of the late arbitrary Court of Tryers, who rejected ſome Clerks, and removed others, and over-ruled the Right of Patrons at their Will and Pleaſure. The learned Dr. Meric Caſaubon thus complained of them; " In the late diſmal Interruption of Government, " there was a worſhipful Company that were appointed Examiners of them that " were to be ordained or beneficed, whereof Hugh Peters was the Head, a very " fit Man for ſuch a Purpoſe: For by the Queſtions they were wont to aſk, " a Man could not tell what they aimed at, except it was to advance Quakeriſm, " or make Way for Mahometiſm, &c.

Of the Neceſſity of Reformation in and before Luther*'s Time*, 1664, 4^to^.

Friday June 20.
Mr. Fran. Sawyer Rector of Iſham Over-Fee.

1662. 20. Junii. Franciſcus Sawyer, Clericus A. M. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Iſham Superiori alias Iſham Over-Fee in Com. Northton. vac. per Reſign. Moſis Hodges ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Roberti Guy Gen. pleno jure.

Reg. Laney Petriburg.

This Mr. Hodges of Hiſham had been repreſented by Mr. Calamy as a ſuffering Nonconformiſt, either ejected or at leaſt ſilenced by Law; whereas 'tis plain he reſign'd before Bartholomew Day. And therefore the ſame Writer does in Part correct himſelf in the following Account: Whereas I have been told by a near Relation, that Mr. Hodges of Hiſham was no Nonconformiſt (which is an Imputation the Author of the Letter ſeems to think a Diſgrace to his Memory) I have therefore here left out his Name, though ſome ſtill ſay, he was a Nonconformiſt for a Time.

Account, 8vo. p. 498.

An Account of Dunkirk in the Hands of the Engliſh, as ſent in a Letter of John Grenhalgh. Dated June 20, 1662.

A Letter of Mr. John Grenhalgh, deſcribing his View of the Town and Garriſon of Dunkirk.

The Houſes of Religion.

The Monks and Fryars.

Their fantaſtick Habits.

The Jacobins like Magpies.

The Jeſuits more grave.

The Jeſuits Schools.

The Way of Hearing Auricular Confeſſion.

Of ſaying Maſs.

Their Gardens and Orchards.

The Mendicant Fryars.

The great Reſpects paid to them.

They live upon daily Bread;

And when Proviſion fails, they ring the Starving-Bell,

Coſin Liveſey and Mr. Crompton,

In the Beginning of May I took a Reſolution to look abroad beyond Sea. —— About May the ninth I took Ship not far from Blackwall, and after four Days and four Nights the Wind being ſomewhat averſe I landed at Dunkirk, where I ſaw what was to be ſeen, prying into every Corner; eſpecially the Houſes of Religion, which are, three Monaſteries, three Nunneries, and one great College of Jeſuits. The Structures of all which are very ſtately and magnificent, every Houſe having his own Church adjoining as Part of itſelf without Steeple, and only one Bell, wherein the Altars, Candleſticks, Crucifixes, Images of Saints, and goodly Pictures are ſo many, ſo rich, ſo elegant, and exquiſite, as is beyond the Belief of any who have not ſeen them, all the Places and Things being kept moſt neat, clean, and bright, and in print. I was ofteneſt amongſt the Monks and Friars (they are called by both Names) which are here of three Orders, Capuchins Regulars, and Franciſcans, and Jacobins, the two former differ little in their Habit, being a very coarſe grey Coat, with each a very great and broad white Patch on the Back, to make it look more Beggar like, and like a Fool's Cap ſewed to the Neck of it, and this only, without Shirt, Band, or Stocking girt to their Skin, with a Rope twice about the Middle and tyed on Knots, the Ends whereof hang to the Ground, having wooden Sandals, which do only fence the Bottom of their Feet, their Heads ſhaven as bare as my Nail, ſave a little Diper left round above the Ears, each hath at his right Side hanging at his Rope a great Chain of white Beads as big as a Muſket Bullet, with a Croſs of Wood or Braſs hanging at the End of the Chain. The Jacobin goes like a Magpye, for he wears a long white Coat reaching to the Ground, and a ſhort black Cloak upon it, with a black low crown'd and very broad brim'd Hat ſtrangely ridiculous. The Jeſuits Habit is grave and ſomewhat comely, they wearing black Gowns with Sleeves cloſe at Hand, as our mourning Gowns, no Band at all nor Cuffs, a broad brim'd black Hat without Hatband, Shoes without Heels, and Heads not ſhaven but polled cloſe to the Scales. And when they go in the Street (which both of them and each other religious Order is always two together, as I often ſaw) they carry each in his left Hand a ſhort ſmooth Staff, like a Commander's Staff, but dyed black, griping it in the Middle. I was in their Garden, Walks, and College ſundry Times, and heard them at Lectures in Philoſophy, Rhetorick, and Grammar, where he that read but Rhetorick to Youths ſtood in an high Pulpit in a great Gown and a very light Caps with it, Corners ſtanding ſtrait and upwards, mitrewiſe, in a more majeſtick Garb than doth one of our Divinity Profeſſors when he reads in Cambridge. They do affect an outward pompous Show in all Things. One Day I ſaw four of them hearing Auricular Confeſſions of ſeveral Gentlewomen in their Church, the Man ſate covering his Eyes with an Handkerchief that he might not ſee the Woman's Face, while ſhe whiſpered in his Ear kneeling. You muſt know that ſome of them are alſo Prieſts or they could not do this: And then alſo I ſaw one of them celebrate Maſs. I ſaw the Capuchins have Maſs in their Church, and the Franciſcans in theirs, who have alſo very loud Organs, there I ſaw the Monks kneeling on a Row receive the Sacrament before the Altar, the Manner of all ſo ceremonious, too long to relate, often kiſſing the Floor proſtrate, and twenty Poſtures, &c. The chief Monk being a Prieſt did alſo ſay Maſs, and adminiſter to them, and that while he had a moſt gorgeous Cope, and glorious Robes above his poor Coat, I had ſome Words with the ſame Man, and he ſpake Latin well in their Cloyſter: I would have had him to have ſhewed me their Cloyſter Gallery, but he refuſed, I think, becauſe he ſaw a Soldier walking near that would have gone in too. But Capuchin Monks did very friendly, at my Deſire, unlock me the great Door of their Cloyſter and Gardens, and there I was alone, and walked up and down an Hour. Their Gardens and Orchards are ſo large and fair, well planted and ordered as might become the King of Spain, many fine Arbours, as alſo many Images and great wooden Croſſes ſet up in them. The Monks were buſy, ſome dreſſing, ſome weeding, ſome getting Herbs for Dinner. I had ſome little Talk with ſeveral of them, and none that I ſpake to but could ſpeak Latin promptly; but having been once or twice there, laſt Time I ſo far expreſſed my Diſlike of their Fopperies in the Maſs that they were diſpleaſed, and I was glad when got out, and came no more there for Fear of a Miſchief. Some of our Engliſh, who had lived three or four Years in Dunkirk, told me, that thoſe do live moſtly or merely upon Alms. And I ſaw ſome Mendicant Fryars go in the Streets two together, with each a Baſket on his Arm, and into Shops and Houſes, and I noted how theſe, though as Beggars, paſſed along all People of all ſorts take off their Hats and ſhewing great Reverence towards them (as they do ſtrictly obſerve towards all their Religious): They told me that theſe Friars do each Day once cover their Tables with a coarſe but clean Cloth, and ſet on Salt only, there expecting what their Providers will bring them (which Office they do by Turns) of which be it more or leſs they make a Dinner, and be it never ſo ſhort, they who beg the next Day do not complain, their Manner being not to aſk but to ſtand ſilent, and to take what is given, but when it falls out, which ſometimes though ſeldom doth, that they have had many ſhort Meals together, and too ſore pinch'd, they have a Bell on the Top of a Corner of their Houſe, called the Starving Bell, which they having firſt covered their empty Table, ſetting on Salt only, and ſetting their Hall Door wide open, and have out of Modeſty retired themſelves into their Cells out of Sight, they rung out aloud, which being once heard abroad hath the ſame Effect there that a Fire Bell being rung hath in a Town with us; People running out into the Streets and crying Jeſu Maria, the Starving Bell, woe and alas for the holy Men; ſuch an Hubbub as though the Judgment of Sodom were ready to fall upon the Town, for their Neglect of the holy Men, ſome of the richer ſort of Miſtreſſes do in all Haſte ſend out each their Maid running, one with a Cheeſe, another with a Loaf, another with a Diſh of Butter, one carries half a great Paſtive, another runs with a ſtanding Piece of Roaſt Beef, &c. all which ent'ring the Monaſtery Hall, they lay down upon the Table and get them out again; one Monk peeping through a Hole ſees when the Table is ſoundly furniſhed, then comes out and ſhuts the Hall Door of Modeſty, ſo as they who come after that go back again with their Meat, ſaving both it and their Credit; when all are gone the hungry Fryars creeping out of their Holes do fall aboard.

And that brings them in great Plenty.

Their Nunneries.

I was in one of the Nunneries Chapel at the Time of Performance of the Evening Prayers, where I ſaw two Nuns below one old Nun kneeling down within two Yards of where I ſtood, all the reſt were in an upper Partition made with a Lattice, but ſo wide as I could well ſee them.

The Habit of the Nuns.

Their Habit is a black Gown tyed cloſe about their Middle, and a Veil of pure whiteſt Linen caſt over their Head, and reaching to their Girdle, ſet out with ſuch handſome manner of Dreſs upon their Forehead and about the Face as indeed is marvellous comely. Their Altar was rich and moſt curiouſly dreſſed with artificial, pure, white Lillies, white Roſes, &c. Emblemata caſta.

Their Chanting and Muſick at Prayers.

They ſang their Prayers in a moſt mournful Ditty in each Portion, which was diſtinguiſhed by a long Pauſe, one of them did only keep; they groan to the Singing of the reſt as a conjoin'd Underſong, drawing it out long, fœmineo ululatu, very dolefully; but when they ſing Praiſes, they are as merry, for not having Organs, they play on loud Virginals jointly to their Singing, which with the ſmall quavering Voices, make up a ſyrenical and ſpherical Harmony.

Recluſe Nuns and Gadding Nuns.

Of theſe Nuns are two Sorts, the one Regular, which are recluſe and ſtir not abroad; the other are called Gadding Nuns, of which I ſaw divers walk the Streets, and one Day two of them gallant Ladies, in rich Gowns and Veils, and uſhered by a Gentleman; they had under each Arm a big Book, the one whereof had a white Cover, another a black.

The Cathedral Church.

The Cathedral of Dunkirk is great and very munificent, and exceedeth all the other Churches in Riches and Excellency of its various Ornaments; before the higheſt Altar upon the Floor ſtand two Braſs Candleſticks as big as two Braſs Pillars, each three Yards high, and very thick, of brighteſt and pureſt ſhining Braſs, which had two very great wax Tapors blazing upon them with a mighty Flame.

An excellent Picture of the Day of Judgment.

There is a very large Frame or Table many Yards in Length and Breadth, which covers almoſt all the Weſt End of this Church, upon which is drawn or painted the Day of Judgment, ſo lively as is wonderful to behold, and very terrible; diverſe told me that the King of France hath deſired to buy it, and offered to cover it with Gold Coin Pieces all over as the Price of it, which would be a vaſt Sum.

The Services on Whit-ſunday,

With great Noiſe and Shew.

In the ſaid Church upon Whitſunday, which Feſtival they kept with great and extraordinary Solemnity, I was preſent at, and ſaw all the Services, which were many and various; upon the higheſt Altar, which is very great and high, were above thirty great Wax Tapors flaming, each a Yard high, before it at High Maſs upon the three Steps of Aſcent ſtood three Prieſts at a Diſtance one ſtrait behind another in moſt rich red embroidered Copes, which made a mighty Show. The Prieſts are ſhaven only upon the Crown about the Breadth of a Five Shilling Piece of Silver, in which Place they were anointed at their Conſecration. The Quire-men in their Surplices, ſome ſtood on Midſt of the Floor ſinging, ſome ſate in the Seats, the reſt of the Quire was filled with the Burgomaſters, Gentry, and Ladies of the Town; I ſtood at the higher End of the Quire. Their Organs are far bigger and louder than thoſe in St. Paul's, London, and yet when they ſung High Maſs, not only thoſe Organs played, but alſo thereon ſtood loud Wind Muſick, in the Midſt of the Quire, and alſo a Sett of Viols to help, which all playing and ſounding together made a moſt roaring Muſick for an Hour, the which Prieſts meanwhile did divers Times burn Incenſe, which aſcending up as a Cloud before the Altar, filled all with Smoak and moſt fragrant Odour.

The Multitude of Altars.

In latter End of Maſs I walked down the South Iſle, and up the North, even over the Church, and I counted ſeventeen other Altars within the Church, all adorned with rich Hangings, Crucifixes, and Candleſticks of Silver, Images and Pictures of Saints lively; many great Wax Tapors flaming in them, (upon each ſome Hundreds whereof burned in the Church moſt of the Day) Prieſts were ſaying Maſs at ſome of them, and People praying at each of them, and this all at the ſame Time; the Multitude of People was incredibly great.

A Sermon to prove the Corporeal Preſence:

By an active furious Preacher.

Maſs being ended aſcended the great high Pulpit in Midſt of the Church and preached a Sermon, a proper black Man in his Surplice, and an high Cap upon his Head, the Corner whereof ſtood ſtrait up, mitrewiſe; he preached in the Flemiſh Tongue, but by his Quotations of Texts and Fathers in Latin, I perceived the Drift of his Diſcourſe was to prove the real corporeal Preſence, inveighing much againſt us Hereticks, forſooth, a violent and moſt furious Man, he ſweat and his Eyes even candled, and he ſometimes almoſt ready to leap out of the Pulpit for Anger, ever when he named this

The Proceſſion.

A Prieſt bearing the Croſs.

The Hymn, Veni Sancte Spiritus.

A Play or Rare Show acted as the Memorial of the Day.

A fooliſh Farce to deceive the People.

A Dove deſcending and drawn up.

Cloven Tongues of Fire.

A loud Shout,

And Shower of Holy Water.

A poor Fryar preaching,

Without a Text,

Upon the Dignity of Prieſthood.

Another Franciſcan nimble Preacher;

Making a Croſs inſtead of a Prayer:

Then mumbling a Pater noſter.

The new Fortifications at Dunkirk brought almoſt to Perfection.

At Mardyke a Regiment of Iriſh in Hutts.

Other Towns burnt down; and the Walls of Churches only ſtanding.

Burg a Garriſon of Spaniards.

Deſcription of it.

this Word Sacrament. Sermon being ended, all the Congregation, both Prieſts and People, aroſe and went the ſolemn Proceſſion for the Day. Firſt went ſome in red Copes with ſhaven Heads, carrying high Silver Candleſticks with great Wax Tapors burning in them; next followed the chief Prieſt carrying on high the great Silver Croſs, which was very big and long, its lower Part of Wood, the uppermoſt Yard and croſs Piece of it was Silver richly emboſſed; I think it was hollow, or he could not have carried it ſo lightly; after him came other Prieſts in like red embroidered Copes, with each a Book in his Hand, and the Quire-men in their Surplices, all ſinging aloud, Veni Sancte Spiritus, &c. After them followed the Burgomaſters of the Town and Gentry in rich Attire, then the Burghers and Commonalty in ſome Hundreds. They began from the high Altar and came down the Middle Iſle of the Church, then up the North Iſle, ſinging all the Way, and compaſſing the Quire, came down the South Iſle, then as they went up again in the Midſt of the Body of the Church the Prieſts and the whole Proceſſion ſtood ſtill, ſinging very loud Veni Sancte Spiritus, &c. (and then was acted the Memorial of the Day). In the Top of the arched Roof of the Cathedral, which is very high, there is a Cupulo or great round Hole, as round and broad as a Millſtone. In that Hole was firſt made a Flaſh of Fire like Lightning, as if the Heaven opened there; there deſcended from thence a living milk white Dove, was let down by a Pulley with a ſmall String, with its Wings and Tail extended and ſpread by two very ſmall white Sticks at the Back of them, to which the Feathers were tyed with white Thread, and could ſcarce be perceived, but I ſtanding very near did diſcern it; and this done, the Dove looking prettily about, as a Dove will, deſcending by Degrees; when it came near over the Prieſts Heads it ſtaid, hanging and hovering over them a good while (they ſtill ſinging Veni, &c.) then it was drawn up by Degrees into the Cupulo out of Sight; and after this out of the ſame great Hole in the Roof were thrown down, as it were, many cloven Tongues of Fire, which came down flaming over the Prieſts Heads, but they inſtead of receiving them opened to the Right and Left, and let thoſe fall to the Floor, ſo ſaving their ſhaven Crowns. I perceived theſe were Papers beſmeared with ſome ſulphurous Matter to make them blaze better; and at the coming down of theſe Tongues there was a Shout ſet up in the Church that the Town rang again; laſtly, there was thrown down a Shower of Holy Water, which fell in Drops upon the People to ſprinkle and hallow them; ſo ended the Proceſſion of all the fooliſh Fopperies of the Forenoon. In the Afternoon of the ſame Day, and in the ſame Pulpit, I heard another Capuchin Friar preach, without any Surplice, and only in his poor, bare, patch'd grey Coat and Rope, with a Chain of great big Beads, and a Croſs at his Side, and bare Head, with his ſhaven, peeled, naked Scalp, a ſtrange Sight to me; you ſcarce ever ſaw a wretched Beggar ſtand at a Door in ſuch an abject forlorn Garb and deſpicable Habit, yet the People reverence them more than they do either their Prieſts or the Jeſuits, and they are'counted the beſt Preachers. They take no Text at all, but make a Diſcourſe ſomeways relating to the Goſpel of the Day, and by his Latin Quotations I perceived that he inſiſted chiefly in ſhewing the great Dignity of Prieſts, who receive the Holy Ghoſt in more ſpecial Manner, often repeating thoſe two Texts, Accipite Spiritum Sanctum, &c. and Quorum peccata remiſeritis, &c. In the ſame Pulpit again upon the Monday in the Forenoon I heard another, a Franciſcan Monk preach, a mighty big fat Man, but in the ſame like poor Habit as the former; one Thing I obſerved, that all theſe three Preachers were in their Language very prompt, nimble, and eloquent Men; another Thing, that inſtead of Prayer before and after Sermon, as we uſe, each of them did at his coming up into the Pulpit, in the firſt Place, very gravely with his Fore-finger make Croſſes upon his Forehead, Mouth, and Breaſt, (if you ſhould do ſo next Sunday, when you come into your Pulpit, the Folk would think you were mad) then kneeling down with his Face towards the high Altar he mumbled his Pater noſter once over, the People in the mean while doing the very ſame upon the Floor kneeling; after that he aroſe and fell roundly to his Preachment, and ſo did each likewiſe after Sermon. The new Fortifications which our Engliſh are doing about Dunkirk, upon which I often was and viewed, many hundred of Soldiers working daily at them ſtill, are well brought on towards Perfection, and for their Frame and Largeneſs of Heighth, Length, Thickneſs, are each Way indeed ſtupendious; nor do I think a more noble and magnificent Work was ever done by the Roman Legions of old, all the Fronts and Outſides being built with Stone and Brick, which with Lime and Tar they have partly here and partly out of France, and by Ships. I was at Mardyke, the Houſes whereof being burnt down, I ſaw not above ſix ſtanding; a Regiment of Iriſh (being the Duke of York's) keep a Camp there in Hutts made of Sods; moſt of the Towns in the Countrey near about are burnt down in the late Wars. I counted ſeven or eight Churches ſtanding, each alone by itſelf in the Midſt of Field, their Towns being burnt, and of thoſe Churches nothing but bare Walls and Streets remaining. I was at another great walled Town in Flanders, called Burg, wherein the King of Spain hath a ſtrong Garriſon of Spaniards: It is rather bigger than Dunkirk; the Walls, Ramparts, Ditches, and Trenches, and Sluices, making it, one would think, invincible. I went up and down among thoſe Soldiers there and viewed all. I ſaw the Houſes of Religion, which are many here too. Here I ſaw in the Street two, being Nuns, veiled, and their Gown girt about their Middle

The Auguſtine Friars.

Gravelin a French Garriſon.

The Boat-man would not carry Friars, who had no Money.

The Writer comes to Calais,

And lands at Dover.

A Pillar there erected at the King's Landing-place, with an Inſcription.

Thence to Canterbury.

The ſtately Cathedral.

So to Rocheſter;

And through Chatham and Graveſend to London.

dle with a Rope, with either a Baſket on their Arm. I ſaw alſo a little young Friar, being a Child not above ſeven Years old, but in all his Habits like the eldeſt; the Parents here dying put ſome one Child here with its Portion into a Monaſtery at that little Age to be a Saint betime. I was at the great Abbey in this Town, the Monks whereof are Auguſtines, and wearing black Coats more handſome, but are ſhaven, &c. like to the others; I ſaw and ſtood by them when they were at their Morning Service in the Quire of their great Abbey Church adjoining to their Houſe, diverſe of them were tall and goodly Men. Having in the Time of my Stay found no Ship in the Haven of Dunkirk that would land me at Naples or any Port of Italy, I went into France, firſt to a Town called Gravelin, and made ſome Stay there. It is a Town very ſtrong, with Walls, and Trenches, and Sluices deep and broad: In it the King of France hath a ſtrong Garriſon of French and Switzers amongſt them, when I went and viewed the Town; having Horſe-hire from Dunkirk ſo dear, almoſt treble to the Poſt Horſes in England, I went hence many Miles up into the Countrey by Boat up a River: In which Paſſage I remember two Friars who were travelling, being weary and ſore beaten with a Storm of Wind and Rain that then fell, eſpying our Boat, came to the River Bank, and would fain have come to us; but the churliſh Boat-man knowing they carried no Money would not carry them, excuſing want of Room, when there were but ſeven or eight French Officers and Soldiers and myſelf in the Veſſel, which was great, and went with great Sail; I was ſorry for them, being almoſt ſtarved in that their poor Habit before deſcribed. After I had ſeen a Town or two more, finding Horſe-hire ſo exceſſive dear, for I could not have a Horſe to ride ſeven Leagues, which is but twenty one Miles Engliſh, under ſix Livres, which is ſix 20 d. or 10 s. Engliſh, and foot it I might not, the Weather being hot and Countrey ſandy; I tryed one half Day, but it gave me enough; I even ſtruck down to Calais, where I ſtay'd four Days, viewing all worth ſeeing; I ſaw them at Prayers in the Cathedral there, and ſaw ſeveral Orders of their Religious, little differing from thoſe in Flanders, ſave a Fryar that went with a Sandal on one Foot with the other quite bare; alſo three Prieſts walking and talking a long Time in their Surplices and Caps by the Town Side: After four Days Stay here, finding not there any Ship in this Port that was bound towards Naples, I ſhipp'd thence to Dover, where we landed at Midnight with a good Wind, having looſed from Calais at twelve at Noon: Here in the ſame Place where our King ſet Foot on Shore they have ſet up a Pillar with this Inſcription; Siſte Viator iter, veſtigia prima ſecundus, Carolus hic poſuit cum redit Exilio. Finding neither in Dover Port any Ship for my Italian Expedition, though I was provided for it, having taken ſome Gold with me, ſome Silver, beſides had left two conſiderable Sums in London with two ſubſtantial Citizens, one a Goldſmith, my Coſin German, the other a Grocer, an old Scholar of mine, to be returned me; I even took a Horſe of the Poſt-Office and rid to Canterbury, where I tarried viewing the City throughout, which is a moſt pleaſant rich Place; alſo the Cathedral, which is the moſt goodly and ſtately that ever I ſaw, for though it be not full out ſo vaſt as Paul's, yet far exceeds it in curious Structure: I deſired the more to ſee it, becauſe of ſome Deſcription which Eraſmus hath made of it in that Colloquy entitled, Peregrinatio Religionis ergò; I was twice at Service in the Quire of it, and heard a Sermon in it by one of the Prebends: Thence I came to Rocheſter, another Biſhop's See, where I viewed the Town and Caſtle, and was at Service in the Cathedral; there is a Bridge over the ebbing and flowing Water, little inferiour to London Bridge. At Chatham near by I ſaw the King's Ships lying there in Harbour, mighty Men of War, many and great, no Prince in the World can have better; from thence to Graveſend, and that twenty Miles by Water to London, where now I am again,

Your loving Kinſman and Friend,

London June 20, 1662. John Grenhalgh.

Mr. John Coles Rector of Maydwell.

Reg. Lany.

Die 20. Junii, 1662. Johannes Coles Clericus in Artibus Magiſter inſtitutus ad Rect. de Maydwell cum Capella de Kellmarſh in Com. Northampt. vac. per Mort. Antonii Warters ult. Incumb. ad pref. Franciſci Wardeer Gen. veri & pleno jure Patroni.

Account, p. 497.

In the Chapel of Kellmarſh, Dr. Calamy puts among the ejected or ſilenced Miniſters Mr. Samuel Ainſworth, who hath a Sermon extant which he preached at the Funeral of Mr. Andrew Pern, Miniſter of Wilby, who was one of the Aſſembly of Divines, in 1655. 4^{to}. &c.

Proclamation for Officers and Soldiers under the late uſurped Powers to depart the Cities of London and Weſtminſter.

Printed by the King's Printers.

By the King. A Proclamation, requiring all Officers or Soldiers that ſerved under the Armies of the late uſurped Powers, and have been diſbanded, caſhiered, or turned out, to depart the Cities of London and Weſtminſter before the twenty ſixth of this inſtant June. Given —— June 20, 1662.

Ibid.

Another Proclamation for recalling and prohibiting Seamen from the Service of Foreign Princes and States, and that no Prizes taken from the Dutch by Virtue of Portugal Commiſſions be brought into his Majeſty's Ports, or any Part of his Dominions. Given —— June 20, 1662.

SATURDAY June 21.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 606.

Nicolaus Aſhwell Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Tolleſhunt Darcy Com. Eſſex. vac. per Reſign. Johannis Ramſey ad pref. Bernardi Hale, S. T. D. —— Ceſſit Anno 1676.

Advice from Tangier.

Adviſed from Tangier, June 21. Gayland is now marched away with his Army, and hath given us a free Opportunity to fetch in Neceſſaries. 'Tis ſaid he threatned to come again, but we are confident his late Entertainment will give him but very little Encouragement. He is much troubled at the Loſs of his Brother (ſlain before this Place) whoſe Intereſt in the Army was one of the greateſt Props that ſupported his Uſurpation: He is now gone before Tetuan, to try if he can fright them into an Accommodation with him.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 19. p. 434.

SUNDAY June 22.

Collection upon Briefs for Pariſh Churches.

Collected in Barnack Church within the Dioceſe of Peterborough, towards the Repairing of St. Mary's Church in Harborough, the Sum of four Shillings, delivered the ſame Day to Mr. Capet the High Conſtable.

Reg. of Ch. of Barnack, MS.

Upon the King's firſt coming in there was a neceſſitous Occaſion for granting Royal Briefs or Letters for Collection in every Pariſh, towards the rebuilding or repairing of Parochial Churches that had been demoliſhed or much damaged in the late Civil Wars, or had been ſuffer'd to run into Decay by the Iniquity of thoſe Times, as appears upon the ſame Regiſter-Book of Barnack Com. Northampt.

The Pariſh Churches had ſuffer'd much by War, and by Negligence in the late Times of Confuſion.

And to repair theſe Ruins and Defects the Miniſters and People were forced to ſue for Letters Patents to collect the charitable Contributions of well diſpoſed People.

The Manſes or Miniſters Houſes were generally fallen into great Decay for want of legal Incumbents, and the Poverty and Avarice of the new Men thruſt into Livings. So as the preſent Clergy were moſt of them engaged in rebuilding or thorough repairing their parſonage or vicarage Houſes at their own Expences, unleſs in ſome Places aſſiſted by their Patrons, or the neighbouring Gentry. Of which many Inſtances might be given.

1661. June 9. Collected for Scarborough towards the Repairing of their Church, the Sum of four Shillings nine Pence.

1661. Sept. 8. Collected for Pontefract in Yorkſhire towards the Building of their Church, the Sum of four Shillings and Six-pence.

1661. Octob. 13. Collected for Condover in Salop towards the Repairing of their Church, the Sum of three Shillings and ten Pence.

1663. Auguſt 9. Collected in Barnack Church the Sum of two Shillings and ten Pence for Harwich in Eſſex, towards the Repairing of their Church and Steeple.

1663. March 13. Collected for Sandwich in Kent towards the Repairing of their Church and Steeple, two Shillings ten Pence.

1664. April 3. Collected for Wytham in Suſſex towards the Repairing of their Church, the Sum of three Shillings and a Penny.

1664. Auguſt 7. Collected for Cromer alias Shipden in the County of Norfolk, towards the Rebuilding their Church and Pierre, the Sum of three Shillings four Pence.

1664. March 12. Collected for Baſinge Church, two Shillings.

1665. April 2. Collected towards the Repair of the Church of Eymington in the County of Southampton, two Shillings and five Pence.

1665. May 21. Collected towards the Rebuilding of St. Mary's Church in Cheſter, two Shillings five Pence, &c.

Forfeited Eſtates of Regicides in Ireland given to the Duke of York.

Adviſed from Dublin, That an explanatory Clauſe was prepared upon the Proviſo in the Act of Settlement for the Duke of York, with a Saving to ſuch Proteſtants as by Purchaſe or otherwiſe had Right to any Eſtates belonging to the Regicides before the Year 1641. as alſo to ſuch Perſons whoſe Eſtates were unjuſtly detained by any of the ſaid Regicides.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. p. 413.

The Church Doors ſhut againſt the Miniſter of Totneſs.

Some of the People chang'd with the Times. Through the illegal Violence of Mr. John Harlewin and Mr. William Tucker the Church-wardens, under the Influence of Mr. John Brooking and Mr. William Shapley, the Church Doors were ſhut againſt the Miniſter of Totneſs in Devon, Mr. Whiddon, and he was ejected before his Brethren, on June 22, 1662. of which he complained in his Farewell Sermon, &c.

Dr. Calamy's *Contin. p.*285.

MONDAY June 23.

The four Troops ſhipp'd for Portugal.

Adviſed from Plymouth, That on the twentieth of June four gallant Troops were ſhipp'd for Portugal, viz. Captain Bellaſis's Troop, Captain Kellie's Troop, Captain Moldſworth's Troop, and Captain Trelawnie's Troop; all the Men very reſolute and well accoutred. Captain Sutton's remains yet to be ſhipp'd at the next Conveniency. Mr. Child, the Muſter Maſter, was ſo careful, that to prevent Deceit he muſtered them all on Ship-board, and would not admit an unſerviceable Horſe. —— Adviſed afterwards from Liſbon, That the ſame Succeſs that had attended the Forces under Major General Sir Thomas Morgan's Command had waited upon them all along their Voyage to the expected Harbour. That on the eighteenth of June they ſet Sail from Plymouth, and arrived at Liſbon the twenty ſeventh, and after four Days they landed. After which the Brigade of Horſe landed, and are to march with all Speed to join with the Portugal Army upon ſome Enterprize, which when done they will have ſome Refreſhment, whereby they will be enabled to diſpute more hotly with the Enemy, than the Weather hath with them. The two Regiments of Foot after landing were compleatly two thouſand, beſides Officers. When they were viewed by the Earl of Inchequin, their General, his Lordſhip made a ſhort Speech.

Mercur. Publ. 4to.

Arrive at Liſbon.

No. p. 505.

TUESDAY June 24.

Advice from Scotland.

News from Scotland concerning, I. An Act againſt the Covenants. II. An Act concerning Maſters of Colleges, &c. Both paſſed June 24, 1662. —— Being not obliged to renounce the Covenant, but to take the Oath of Allegiance, and own the Government of the Church by Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and to attend at their Viſitations, and to hold no Conventicles in private Houſes.

Printed 1662. 4to.

Mr. Rich. Hall, Rector of Lindon Com. Rutl.

1662. 24. Junii. Richardus Hall Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Lindon in Com. Rutl. vac. per Mortem Abelis Barker ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Hugonis Audley Armig. pleno jure. —— Obiit 1670.

Reg. Laney. Petrib.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, N°. 26. p. 406.

In the Cathedral Church of Briſtol.

In piam Memoriam lectiſſimæ Fœminæ
Aliciæ Gliſſon, Filiæ Gulielmi Gliſſon,
De Marnhill in Com. Dorſet. Generoſi.
In avito hoc tumulo ſepultæ Anno
Ætatis ſuæ 48. Poſuit mæſtiſſimus Conjux
Gilbertus hujus Eccleſiæ Epiſcopus decimus quartus, 24. Die Junii, A. D. 1662.

WEDNESDAY June 25. The Act for regulating Corporations executed at Norwich by the Lord Townſhend.

Mercur. Publ. 4^to^. N°. 10. p. 289.

Adviſed from Norwich, That by Virtue of an Act for Regulation of Corporations, the noble Lord Townſend, with ſeveral other Commiſſioners appointed for that City and County, met at their Guild-hall on Thurſday laſt, and tendred the ſeveral Oaths (ſpecified in the Act) to the Mayor and Court of Aldermen; and that ſome of the Aldermen who at firſt refuſed to abjure the Covenant, after Time given them for Conſideration, and conſulting with the moſt Eminent of our City Divines, came in and did abjure it.

Suit for a Penſion from Dr. John Collins, Vicar of St. Stephen*'s in* Norwich.

Term. Trin. 14 Car. II. in Scaccario. Dean and Chapter of Norwich, Plaintiffs verſus Dr. John Collins, Defendant.

Hardres Rep. p. 230.

See his Character, Works, &c. Dr. Calamy*'s Account,* 8^vo^. p. 474. and Continuation, p. 616.

Upon a Bill in Equity for a Penſion of fifty three Shillings and four Pence, iſſuing yearly out of the Vicarage of St. Steven's in Norwich, of which the Plaintiffs are Patrons, and the Defendant confirmed therein by the Act of Miniſters, though there was no Vicarage Houſe, nor Glebe, nor Tythes, nor other Profits, but only Eaſter Offerings, Burials, and Chriſt'nings, yet, per Curiam, the Vicar is liable, though he have only caſual Profits, and that a Penſion by Preſcription as this is, may be ſued for here, as well as in the Spiritual Court, or at the Common Law by a Writ of Annuity.

A Mandate for Edm. Ibbot to be B. D.

The King's Letters Mandatory to the Vice-chancellour, &c. of the Univerſity of Cambridge, willing and requiring them to admit Edmund Ibbot to the Degree of Batchelor in Divinity. Given June 25, 1662. in the fourteenth Year of our Reign.

Order of Council for imprinting a Clauſe with the Articles of Peace with Algier, touching Monies raiſed by the Lords Biſhops for the Redemption of Captives.

Mercur. Publ. 4^to^. p. 404. See April 23, 1662.

Ordered by his Majeſty in Council at Hampton-Court, June 25, 1662. That the enſuing Clauſe be imprinted, together with the Articles of Peace between his Sacred Majeſty Charles II. &c. and the City and Kingdom of Algier, concluded by Sir John Lawſon, Knight, the 23^d^ Day of April, 1662.

His Majeſty out of his princely and tender Care, having ſince the Concluſion of this Treaty, recommended the Redemption of all Slaves, his Subjects in Algier, unto the Lords Biſhops in this Kingdom; their Lordſhips have (in this truly chriſtian and pious Deſign) proceeded with ſuch Alacrity and Expedition, that for the Effecting thereof ten thouſand Pounds are already prepared to be tranſmitted into thoſe Parts for Redemption of all Captives, according to the Tenour of theſe Articles, at the Rate they were firſt ſold in the Market.

THURSDAY June 26. Mr. John Diggle Rector of Thorpe Mandevile.

Reg. Laney.

Die 26. Junii, 1662. Johannes Diggle Clericus, A. M. ad Vic. de Thorpe alias Thrup Mandevile in Com. Northampt. vac. per Mortem Gabrielis Bridges ult. Incumb. aut alio quocunque modo ad preſ. Dom. Regis pleno jure.

Letter of Advice from Bootel in Cumberland, June 26.

Advice from Bootel in Cumberland of Parents bringing their Children to Baptiſm, who had before refuſed that Ordinance.

Publick Intelligence, 4^to^.

—— Here were lately chriſten'd in this Pariſh Church at one Time ten Boys and Girls, moſt about the Age of ten Years, the others of eight, ſix, and five. The Parents of them were ſuch, as being in the late looſe Times poiſoned with the Principles of the Anabaptiſts, Quakers, &c. had kept their Children from this neceſſary Ordinance, 'till by the Bleſſing of God upon the pious and painful Endeavour of Mr. Richard Hutton, Miniſter of this Place, they were convinced of their Error, and brought again to the Church they had ſo long forſaken. The Children were all chriſten'd by Mr. Hutton, with Godfathers and Godmothers according to the Liturgy of the Church, and their Parents ever ſince do duly repair to Divine Service.

Reg. Peterbor.

A Letter of the Lord Biſhop of London, directed to the Reverend and my very good Friend the Dean of Peterborough, to be communicated to the Dean and Chapter.

Reverend and my worthy Friend,

The Biſhop of London*'s Letter for a Contribution to redeem the* Engliſh Captives at Algier.

I am by my Lord's Grace of Canterbury deſired and required to move you in a Work of great Charity; wherein beſides that Reward which well doing ever carries along with it, you have a fair Opportunity as well of teſtifying your Affections to his Majeſty (the Exigence of whoſe Affairs at preſent renders him in want of Money) as of taking off that injurious Obloquy, which is commonly caſt upon the Clergy, that we receive much and do but little Good with it.

Subſcriptions of Archbiſhop and Biſhops.

You cannot but have heard, that there is a Peace concluded with the Pyrates of Algier, very honourable to this Nation: One Article whereof is, that his Majeſty's Subjects now Captives there ſhall be ranſomed and releaſed at the Price for which they were firſt bought, which is the loweſt. The whole Number is about two hundred and ſixty, and it is conceived that ten or twelve thouſand Pounds will redeem them all. My Lord of Canterbury has given ten thouſand Pounds, I have ſubſcribed five hundred Pounds, my Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter five hundred, dred, and ſome Deans and Chapters each as much. I doubt not but you will think this ſo excellent a Work, and ſo proper for Churchmen to undertake, that you will need neither Precedents nor any other Encouragements than your own pious Inclinations, to which I recommend the Conſideration of this Buſineſs: And ſhall only further deſire, that what your Charity ſhall prompt you to do, and you reſolve to contribute, you will by your Letters, as ſoon as may be, ſignify unto

Your moſt Affectionate Friend,

London June 26, 1662. GILB. LONDON.

Dean and Chapter of Peterborough give one hundred Pounds towards that good Work, the Redemption of Slaves at Algier.

Order and Decree of the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, at a Chapter holden the ſixteenth of July, 1662. That upon reading a Letter of Gilbert Lord Biſhop of London, by Direction from my Lord's Grace of Canterbury, moving to a Contribution to redeem the Captives in Algier, it is ordered, That notwithſtanding this Church, by Reaſon of the Pretenſions of divers Purchaſers, who detain their Rent, be indebted to the Dean and Chapter for their reſpective Stipends a Year and half, at Lady-Day laſt; the Dean and Chapter will be ready to pay the Sum of one hundred Pounds to ſuch Perſon as my Lord of London ſhall impower to receive the ſaid Contribution for Redemption of the ſaid Captives.

Account of this Collection given by Mr. Eachard.

Eachard, Ch. II. 92.

Upon Concluſion of the Peace with Algier, the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Deans and Chapters, to their eternal Commendation, contributed a noble Sum of Money, and ſent their Collection by two of their own Number, the Archdeacon of Bath, and a Prebendary to Algier, with which they redeemed above a hundred and fifty Chriſtian Slaves, Engliſh, Scotch, and Iriſh, from the ſad Miſeries of a Turkiſh Captivity. The King of England had the greater Advantage of keeping the African Parts in Awe, by the new Poſſeſſion of Tangier. To which the Lord Rutherford, late Governour of Dunkirk, newly made Earl of Tiviot, was ſent to be Governour in the Room of the Earl of Peterborough; and his Majeſty made it now a free Port, and granted it all the Privileges of a Merchant City, being ſeated very commodiouſly for Strength and Safety to guard any naval Power, and to command thoſe Seas. But the vaſt Expence in fortifying and defending, and the Neceſſity at laſt of Demoliſhing that Place, in Time made it more a Burthen than a Portion to the Crown of England.

The Advantages of our Poſſeſſion of Tangier.

A Letter of Advice to Will. Griffith, Eſq;

MS.

Advice by Letter to William Griffith, Eſq; that the Council had ordered a Proclamation for the immediate Departure of all ſuch as have been engaged in the late Times of Rebellion againſt his Majeſty or his Royal Father, on or before the firſt Day of November next enſuing, unleſs they ſhall obtain ſpecial Leave to ſtay, according to the Tenour of former Proclamations, to that purpoſe. And that on Thurſday the twenty ſixth of June, Mr. Lory Hyde (Son to the Lord Chancellour) was married to the Earl of Cork's Daughter.

Account of Mr. Lawrence Rooke, Profeſſor of Aſtronomy, and afterwards of Geometry in Greſham College; one of the firſt Members of the Royal Society.

Dr. Pope's Life of Biſhop Ward, 8vo. Ch. 17.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 627, 628.

Hiſt. of the Royal Society, 1667. 4to. p. 189.

Mr. Lawrence Rooke, a very eminent Member of the Royal Society, died June 26, 1662. Born in Kent, educated in Cambridge, a Diſciple of Mr. William Oughtred, and one who did admirably well read in Greſham College on the ſixth Chapter of his Clavis Mathematica; which obtained him great Repute, and much Favour from Biſhop Ward, who gave a Pendulum Clock to the Royal Society, which goes for a Week together, to perpetuate the Memory of his dear and learned Friend Lawrence Rooke. See the Inſcription on it, and his Epitaph prepared by Dr. Bathurſt. Dr. Pope calls him the greateſt Man in England for ſolid Learning; and Dr. Sprat has given us Mr. Rook's Diſcourſe concerning the Obſervations of the Eclipſes of the Satellites of Jupiter; and then adds, Upon the reading of theſe laſt Directions, Mr. Rooke the Author of them being dead, I cannot forbear ſaying ſomething of that excellent Man, which his incomparable Modeſty would not have permitted me to write, if he had been living. He was indeed a Man of profound Judgment, a vaſt Comprehenſion, prodigious Memory, ſolid Experience. His Skill in the Mathematicks was reverenc'd by all the Lovers of thoſe Studies; and his Perfection in many other ſorts of Learning deſerves no leſs Admiration. But above all, his Knowledge had a right Influence on the Temper of his Mind, which had all the Humility, Goodneſs, Calmneſs, Strength, and Sincerity of a ſound and unaffected Philoſopher. This is ſpoken not of one who lived long ago, in praiſing of whom it were eaſy to feign, and to exceed the Truth, where no Man's Memory could confute me: But of one, who is lately dead, who has many of his Acquaintance ſtill living, that are able to confirm this Teſtimony, and to joyn with me in delivering down his Name to Poſterity, with this juſt Character of his Virtues. He died in the Year ſixty two, ſhortly after the Eſtabliſhment of the Royal Society, whoſe Inſtitution he had zealouſly promoted. And it was a deplorable Accident in his Death, that he deceaſed the very Night, which he had for ſome Years expected, wherein to finiſh his accurate Obſervations on the Satellites of Jupiter; however, his Treaſure will not be loſt, for the Society has referr'd it to ſome of the beſt Aſtronomers of Europe, to bring his Beginnings to Concluſion.

Dr. Pope's Life of Biſhop Ward, Ch. 17.

His Papers which he left to the Biſhop of Exeter [Dr. Seth Ward] for ought I know have ſince periſhed. —— He made a Nuncupatory Will, leaving what he had to Biſhop Ward, who buried him decently at St. Martin's Outwich-near Greſham College, and his Corps was attended to the Grave by moſt of the Fellows of the Royal Society, who were then in Town, lamenting theirs and the learned World's Loſs. —— In the Memory of his deceaſed Friend Biſhop

Ward gave to the Royal Society a large Pendulum Clock, made by Fromentel, and then eſteemed a great Rarity, and ſet it up in the Room of their Meeting, upon which were engraven theſe Words:

Societati Regali ad Scientiam Naturalem promovendam
Inſtitutæ dono dedit Reverendus in Chriſto Pater
Sethus, Epiſcopus Exon, ejuſdem Societatis Sodalis,
In Memoriam Lawrentii Rooke, Viri in omni Literarum
Genere inſtructiſſimi, Collegii Greſhamenſis primum
Aſtronomiæ, deinde Geometriæ Profeſſoris, dictæq;
Societatis nuper Sodalis. Qui obiit Junii 26, A. D. 1662.

See his Character given by Dr. Barrow in his Auguration Speech, which he made when he ſucceeded him in the Profeſſor of Geometry's Place in Greſham College, which Oration is printed in the fourth Volume of Dr. Barrow's Works. ——The Biſhop of Exeter had once deſign'd to have put up an Inſcription over or near the Place of his Interrment, for that End Dr. Bathurſt, afterwards Dean of Wells, compoſed an ingenious Epitaph, concluding,

Ne ſe penitus ſæculo ſubducere mortuus poſſit
Qui iniquiſſima Modeſtia vixerat
Sethus Ward Epiſcopus Exon.
Longas ſuaveſque Amicitias
Hoc ſaxo proſecutus eſt.
Obiit Junii 26. Anno Dom. MDCLXII.
Ætatis ſuæ XL.

Friday June 27.
Dr. Edmund Morgan Rector of Gayton Com. Northampt.

Reg. Laney.

1662. 27. Junii. Edmundus Morgan, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Gayton in Com. Norhton. vac. per Mort. ult. Incumb. vel alio quocunque modo ad preſ. Domini Regis per lapſum Temporis.

Wood's Faſti ſub Anno.

Edmund Morgan, M. A. of Magdalen Hall Oxford, was created Doctor of Divinity Decemb. 1, 1660.

Advice from Edinburgh.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 26.

Speeches in Parliament againſt the Solemn League and Covenant.

Letter of Advice from Edinburgh, that on June 21. the Parliament met again and paſſed an Act preſented to them by the Lords of Articles, for Preſervation of his Majeſty's Perſon and Government, wherein both the Covenants are reſcinded, and all Miniſters and others ſtreightly forbidden to preach, pray, print, or ſpeak any thing againſt the Church, as it is now eſtabliſhed. The Lord Archbiſhop of St. Andrews his Grace upon this Occaſion made an excellent learned Speech, ſhewing the woeful Effect of the Covenant in this Kingdom, how it was hatch'd in Confuſion, nouriſhed only with Rebellion, and no way obligatoty, as being made without the Aſſent of the ſupreme Magiſtrate. His Grace did further clear all ſuch Doubts as any ſcrupulous Pretenders might object. This was ſeconded by the Lord Clomartie, who in a loyal Speech to the ſame Purpoſe gave Satisfaction to the Parliament. They likewiſe paſſed an Act, that no Noblemen, Gentlemen, or others ſhould entertain any Chaplain or Schoolmaſter, but by the Conſent and Approbation of the Biſhop of the Dioceſe; and that neither they nor any other Miniſter or Schoolmaſter ſhould be admitted into any Place, 'til they had firſt taken the Oaths of Supremacy and Allegiance. In this Act Care is taken for the Suppreſſing of all Meetings and Conventicles, where under a Colour of ſeeking God, they vent Sedition to the Diſturbance of the Peace of the Kingdom.

Sunday June 29.
The Preſbyterian Miniſters ſcrupled renouncing the Covenant; though the King had declared it illegal, and a great Offence and Scandal to the Foreign Reformed Churches.

Many of the Miniſters who were under Doubts and Suſpence in conforming were moſt offended at the Condition of Renouncing the Covenant, not conſidering that it was unlawfully impoſed, and had been horribly applied; that upon the firſt Propoſal of it, the King had expreſsly declared the Illegality and Nullity of it; and in his Large Declaration, p. 75. had repreſented the Scandal it had given to the Reformed Churches abroad. "The Miniſters and others of the Conſiſtory at Charenton, and of other Reformed Churches in France; as alſo the Profeſſors, Miniſters, and Conſiſtory of Geneva, and of other neighbouring Reformed Churches in thoſe Parts, were ſo ſcandalized with this prodigious Covenant, as that they were afraid of nothing more than this, that it would bring an indelible Scandal upon the Reformed Churches, and alienate the Minds of all the Princes of Chriſtendom from ever entertaining a good Thought of their Religion."

And when the Aſſembly of Divines and their Brethren of Scotland had ſent a Copy of this Covenant, with their Letters in bad Latin to the foreign Churches, exhorting them to follow their Example, they rejected their Advice and made no other Anſwer.

Toleration diſcuſs'd, 1670. 4to. p. 192.

The venerable Aſſembly of Engliſh Divines and Scotch Commiſſioners (as they ſtyl'd themſelves) ſent the Copy of their Covenant, and a ſolemn Invitation to ſeventeen Reformed Churches beyond the Seas to joyn with them. Their Letter ſhould have been Latin, but ſo it was, that they left it a meaſuring Caſt, whether they were the better Chriſtians, Caſuiſts, Subjects, or Grammarians. Their Skill was moſt employ'd in exhorting the French Proteſtants to follow their Example, and caſt off the Yoke of Antichriſt (that is to ſay of Obedience) and in calumniating their Sovereign as a Confederate with the Popiſh Intereſt to deſtroy the Proteſtancy: Which Deſign was only to be obviated by a Holy League. This was the Drift of the Addreſs, but we never heard Syllable of the Anſwer.

Suſpenſion of a Miniſter for not reading Common-Prayer.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 806.

Mr. Oliver Heywood, Miniſter at Coley in Yorkſhire, was proſecuted in the Conſiſtory Court at York, for not reading the Common-Prayer a whole Year before fore the Act of Uniformity commenc'd; and in a little Time was by the Archbiſhop's Chancellor ſuſpended ab Officio. The Suſpenſion was publiſh'd at Halifax, June 29, 1662. Mr. Heywood hereupon forbore preaching at Coley for a while, but did not attempt to get his Suſpenſion off, becauſe of the Quietus eſt given by the Act of Uniformity, in Auguſt following.

A Letter of Lord Chancellor Hyde, that opens the Deſign of entring upon a Negotiation for the Sale of Dunkirk to the French.

Lettres de M. le Comte d'Eſtrades, a 1637. ad 1662, 8vo. p. 279.

A Letter from the Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chancellor of England, to Monſieur le Comte d'Eſtrades in France, dated from Hampton-Court, June 29, 1662. ſignifying, that he found the King of England his Maſter in a Diſpoſition to give all Manner of Proofs of his Deſire to ſtrengthen his Amity with the moſt Chriſtian King; that therefore he had now ſent over Mr. Bealing, a Man whom the Court knew to be in his (the Chancellor's) Confidence, to communicate his Sentiments to him upon that Affair, &c.

Commiſſion of the French King to the Count d'Eſtrades, for the Purchaſe of Dunkirk from the King of England.

Said to be written with the King's own Hand.

The Powers given by the moſt Chriſtian King to the Count d'Eſtrades, to treat for the Purchaſe of Dunkirk.

I do impower the Count d'Eſtrades, Knight of my Orders, to adjuſt, conclude, and ſign a Treaty with the King of England my Brother, about the buying of Dunkirk and its Dependencies, and do promiſe upon the Faith and Word of a King, to approve, ratify, and execute every Thing that the ſaid Count d'Eſtrades ſhall promiſe by Virtue of this preſent Power. Done at St. Germain July 16, 1662.

LEWIS.

The Nonconformiſts encourage their Party to ſtand out againſt the Act of Uniformity:

Myſtery and Iniquity of Non-Conformity, 1664. p. 56.

Money and Preſents.

They (the Nonconformiſts) encouraged their Party to go on, and ſtand out againſt the Act [of Uniformity] that they might appear ſo conſiderable, as to prevail either with his Majeſty for an Indulgence againſt, or with the Parliament for a Repeal of the ſaid Act. To which end they ſent their Letters all over the Kingdom to adviſe every Man to ſtand to his Principles, not doubting of a Toleration upon his Majeſty's Promiſe at Breda, with other Arguments they could make uſe of. And in order hereunto—they ſtand it out, that they might know their Strength and Power, not doubting but their conſiderable Number and Intereſt, which will appear by the publick and general Diſſent to the Uniformity enjoined, might gain them an Indulgence, that will vacate and make void all former Laws. And accordingly we find them with their Bed-Roll of thoſe that were to be ejected, rather threatning than petitioning his Majeſty; after ſome Tumults raiſed in Dr. Seaman's and other Churches through which they would have his Majeſty ſee the Inclination of the People.

And begin already with a Liſt of thoſe who were to be ejected.

[About this Time were ſeveral Meetings of the Countrey Clergy to conſult upon yielding or refuſing Conformity, according to the late Act, wherein they often deceiv'd and even undermin'd one another.]

The Miniſters moſt inclin'd to Non-conformity met to conſult:

Dr. Calamy's Account, 8vo. p. 409.

And in their Reſolutions deceiv'd one another.

There was a Meeting of above twenty Miniſters at Bolton in Lancaſhire, to conſider what Courſe to take. Mr. Ambroſe and Mr. Cole of Preſton declar'd before them all, that they could read the Common-Prayer, and ſhould do it, the State of their Places requiring it, in which otherwiſe their Service was neceſſarily at preſent at an end. The Miniſters conſidering the Circumſtances of their Caſe approv'd their Proceeding. Mr. Cole (afterwards Dr. Cole) was ſo forward as to expreſs himſelf at the ſame Time in Words to this purpoſe, Gentlemen, I am got to my Hercules Pillars, my ne plus ultra, I ſtall go no farther. And indeed he was turn'd out of Preſton, but found ſome ſtronger Motives in other Parts; for he afterwards conform'd, and was Lecturer at Dedham in Eſſex: But as for Mr. Ambroſe he liv'd and dy'd a Nonconformiſt.

Some perſuaded others not to conform, in order to get their Benefices.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. 8vo. p. 471.

Mr. John Lavender, Miniſter of High-Ongar in Eſſex. His Living, I am inform'd was worth 300*l. per Ann.* a neighbouring Miniſter was urgent with him not to conform, and yet conform'd himſelf; and on Mr. Lavender's Ejection got his Place. [There went a common Tradition in Eſſex, that Dr. Anthony Walker exerted a like Influence upon his Predeceſſor in the Rectory of Fifield in Eſſex.]

The Plea for a general Toleration.

Myſtery of Nonconformity.

Some have propounded a Way of Peace, that all Opinions ſhould be tolerated, and none perſecuted, and then all the World will be at Peace. Indeed this relies upon a great Reaſonableneſs; not only becauſe Opinions cannot be forced; but becauſe if Men receive no hurt, it is to be hoped they will do none: But we find that this alone will not do it: For beſides that all Men are not ſo juſt as not to do any Injury, there are very many Men amongſt us who are not content that you permit them, for they will not permit you; but rule over your Faith, and ſay, that their Way is not only true, but neceſſary; and therefore the Truth of God is at Stake, and all Indifference and Moderation is carnal Wiſdom, and want of Zeal for God. Nay more than ſo, they preach for Toleration when themſelves are under the Rod, and when they got the Rod into their own Hands, thought Toleration itſelf to be intolerable. Thus do the Papiſts, and thus the Calviniſts, and for their Cruelty they pretend Charity.

Books and Papers publiſh'd in and about June 1662.

Solomon's Gate, by Adam Littleton of Chelſea.

London, 1662. 8vo.

Solomon's Gate: Or an Entrance into the Church. Being a familiar Explanation of the Grounds of Religion: Contained in four Heads of Catechiſm, viz. the Lord's Prayer, Apoſtles Creed, ten Commandments, and the Sacraments. By Adam Littleton, Rector of Chelſea.

Biſhop Taylor's Univerſity Sermon at Dublin.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662, 4to.

Via Intelligentiæ. A Sermon preached to the Univerſity of Dublin: Shewing by what Means the Scholars ſhall become moſt learned and moſt uſeful. Publiſhed at their Deſire. By the right reverend Father in God Jeremy Lord Biſhop of Down, &c. and Vice-Chancellor of that Univerſity. Ad majorem Dei gloriam.

Preface to it.

To the Reader. I have already in a Diſcourſe before the right honourable the Lords and Commons aſſembled in this Parliament, proved, that Obedience is the beſt Medium of Peace and true Religion, and Laws are the only common Term and certain Rule and Meaſure of it. —— To which I now add, that Obedience to God is the beſt internal Inſtrument, and I have prov'd it in this Diſcourſe. —— I firſt ſpake my Thought of it in the following Words before the little but excellent Univerſity of Dublin, —— they were pleas'd with ſome Earneſtneſs to deſire me to publiſh it to the World. —— I did by a ſecond Communication of thoſe Thoughts, though in differing Words, publiſh it alſo to my Clergy at the Metropolitical Viſitation of the moſt reverend and learned Lord Primate of Armagh in my own Dioceſe. When I found that they alſo thought it very reaſonable and pious, and join'd in the Deſire of making it publick, I conſented perfectly, and now only pray to God it may do that Work which I intended. ——

Account of the Royal Matches.

A brief Account of the Royal Matches, or matrimonial Alliances, which the Kings of England have made from Time to Time ſince the Year 800. to this preſent 1662. Collected by a careful Collation of Hiſtory with Records.

London, for Hen. Brome, 1662.

—— Concluding.] King Charles the Second, married the Lady Catherine, ſole Daughter to Don John the fourth King of Portugal, and Siſter to Don Alonſo the ſixth now regnant, there was a matrimonial Alliance once before 'twixt the Blood Royal of England and Portugal, which was about Ann. 1376. between John the firſt King of Portugal, and the Lady Philippa Daughter to John of Gaunt Duke of Lancaſter. —— As that former was the fortunateſt Alliance that Portugal ever made, by their own Confeſſion, to this Day; ſo may this prove to England! May all the Bleſſings of Heaven be poured down upon it, according to the due and daily Devotions of all true-hearted Subjects, and particularly of J. H. [ſuppoſed to be James Howell.]

Epithalamium on the King's Marriage.

An Hymenæan Eſſay: Or an Epithalamy upon the Royal Match of Charles the Second, &c. and Katherine Infanta of Portugal. By John Drope Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxon.

Oxon. 1662, 4to.
Faſti Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*807.

Mr. White of evil Thoughts.

A Treatiſe of blaſphemous and other wandring Thoughts, their Kinds and Caſes. By Thomas White, L.L. B. [late Lecturer of St. Brides as Dr. Calamy ſuppoſed in his Account, &c. p. 31. but in his Continuation, &c. p. 29. he finds him ſome Time a Preacher at St. Andrew's, Holborn, and St. Anne's, Alderſgate, not ſettled Paſtor, but Lecturer only in thoſe Places. He died about 1672.]

London, 1662, 12o.

Mr. Degory Wheare*'s Method of reading Hiſtories.*

De Ratione & Methodo legendi Hiſtorias Diſſertatio. Sive Relectiones Hyemales de Ratione & Methodo legendi utraſque Hiſtorias Civiles & Eccleſiaſticas. Per Degoræum Wheare. Addita eſt Oratio Auſpicalis habita in Scholis publicis. Cum primum L. Ann-Flori Interpretationem aggrederetur Autor. Accedit Mantiſſa de Hiſtoricis Gentium particularium, &c. a Nicolao Horſman, A. M. & Socio Coll. C. C. Oxon.

Oxoniæ, 1662, 8vo.

Mr. Swinnock*'s Chriſtian Man's Calling.*

The Chriſtian Man's Calling, or a Treatiſe of making Religion one's Buſineſs: As alſo a Form directed how he may perform it. By George Swinnock, M. A. Preacher of the Goſpel at Great-Kimbell in the County of Bucks.

London, by Dorman Newman, 1662.

Mr. Collings*'s Sermons.*

A Cordial for a fainting Soul. Being the Sum of fourteen Sermons preached by John Collings, B. D. and Paſtor of the Church of Chriſt in Stephens Pariſh in Norwich.

Ibid.

Mr. Ed. Bagſhaw, tho' engag'd by his Lord and Patron the Earl of Angleſey to write againſt Popery, could not contain himſelf from running into other Controverſies about Free Grace and Free Will.

The Doctrine of Free Grace no Doctrine of Licentiouſneſs: Or that God's free, unconditional, pardoning of Sin, is the beſt Way to mortify the Power of Sin in Believers. Aſſerted and cleared by Edward Bagſhaw, Student of Chriſt-Church.

London, printed for the Author, 1662, 4to.

The Preface concluding, that the whole Practice of Will-Worſhip, whether it relates to the inventing of uncommanded Methods in divine Worſhip, or to the impoſing ſuch Uſages upon others is altogether founded upon a Suppoſition that every Man hath Free-Will. June 11, 1662.

Dr. Stanley*'s three Sermons on ſolemn Occaſions.*

Three Sermons preached in the Cathedral Church of Wincheſter, the firſt on Sunday Aug. 19, 1660. at the firſt Return of the Dean and Chapter to that Church, after the Reſtauration of his Majeſty. The Second on Jan. 30, 1661. being the Anniverſary of King Charles the Firſt, of glorious Memory. The third at the general Aſſize there Feb. 25, 1661. By Edward Stanley, D. D. Prebendary of that Church.

London, by John Clark, 1662.

Dr. Boreman*'s Antidote againſt Swearing.*

An Antidote againſt Swearing. With an Appendix concerning our Academical Oaths. By R. Boreman, D. D.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662, 8vo.

Mr. Fuller*'s* Piſgah Sight.

A Piſgah Sight of Paleſtine, and the Confines thereof: With the Hiſtory of the Old and New Teſtaments acted thereon. By Thomas Fuller, B. D.

London, by R. D. 1662.

Articles of the Church of England reprinted.

Articles agreed upon by the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of both Provinces, and the whole Clergy in the Convocation holden at London in the Year 1562. for the avoiding of diverſities of Opinions, and for the eſtabliſhing of Conſent touching true Religion. Reprinted by his Majeſty's Command: With his Royal Declaration prefixed thereunto.

London, by the King's Printers.

His Majeſty's Declaration. Being by God's Ordinance, according to our juſt Title, Defender of the Faith, and ſupream Governour, &c.

And the Canons of 1603.

Conſtitutions and Canons Eccleſiaſtical treated upon, the Biſhop of London Preſident of the Convocation for the Province of Canterbury, and the reſt of the Biſhops and Clergy of the ſaid Province: And agreed upon with the King's Majeſty's

London, 1662, 4to.

jeſty's Licence in their Synod begun at London, Anno Dom. 1603, &c. And now publiſhed for the due Obſervation of them by his Majeſty's Authority.

A Reply to Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw in Defence of Biſhop Morley.

D. E. defeated. Or a Reply to a late ſcurrilous Pamphlet vented againſt the Lord Biſhop of Worceſter's Letter, wherein he vindicated himſelf from Mr. Baxter's Miſreports. By S. H.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662, 4to.

The Caſe of Uſury.

An Eſſay towards the deciding of the ſo much, and ſo long controverted Caſe of Uſury. In a problematical Paradox, diſcuſſed, Whether it be lawful, or not rather ſinful, for any Man to borrow merely to encreaſe his Wealth. As alſo ſome Animadverſions upon the Reſolution of the Caſe of Uſury by a reverend and very learned Doctor. By D. C. [ſuppoſed Daniel Cawdrey.]

London, for John Rothwell, 1661, 4to.

To the conſcientious Reader. ——— My preſent Undertaking is to perſuade Men to two paradoxical Truths: 1. That it is not only unlawful for Men that are not Needy, to borrow upon Uſury, but to borrow at all, except in Caſe of a juſt Neceſſity. 2. To perſuade rich Men that they are bound as not to lend to any but the Needy, ſo to lend to the Needy freely, and then there will be no Uſury found.

Biſhop Hacket's Viſitation Articles.

Articles of Enquiry concerning Matters Eccleſiaſtical. Exhibited to the Miniſters, Church-Wardens, and Side-Men of every Pariſh within the Dioceſe of Litchfield and Coventry, in the firſt Epiſcopal Viſitation of the right reverend Father in God John, [Hacket] by divine Providence, Lord Biſhop of Litchfield and Coventry, in the firſt Year of his Conſecration, Anno Dom. 1662.

London, printed for John Place, 1662, 4to.

The Oath to be given unto the Church-Wardens.

You ſhall ſwear to enquire with the beſt Diligence that you may, and to make a true Anſwer unto every Article of this Book now given you in Charge: Preſenting every Perſon of your Pariſh that hath done any Offence, or omitted any Duty therein mentioned. And this you ſhall do without any Favour or Hatred, or Fear of Diſpleaſure. So help you God, and the Contents of this Holy Goſpel.

Life and Death of Moll Cut-purſe.

The Life and Death of Mrs. Mary Frith, commonly called Mal Cutpurſe. Exactly collected and now publiſhed for the Delight and Recreation of all merry diſpoſed Perſons.

London, for W. Gilbertſon, 1662. 12o.

Bp. Pritchett on the Pſalms.

David's Harp ſtrung and tuned: Or an Analyſis of the whole Book of Pſalms. With a proper Prayer at the End of each Pſalm. By William Biſhop of Gloceſter.

London, for Will. Leake, 1662, Fol.

Works of Hugh Broughton.

Hugh Broughton's Works: With his Life. Publiſhed by John Lightfoot, D. D.

London, for N. Ekins, 1662, Fol.

Mr. Trenchfield's Chriſtian Chymiſtry.

Chriſtian Chymiſtry, extracting the Honey of Inſtruction from Variety of Objects. By Caleb Trenchfield, Miniſter of Chipſted.

Dr. Leyburn's Theology.

Theology, Poſitive, Scholaſtical, Polemical, and Moral: Built upon the Foundation of Scriptures, Traditions, Councils, Fathers. By George Leyburn, D. D.

Doway, by Ball. Bellier, 1662, 8vo.

Van Helmont's Phyſick.

John Baptiſta van Helmont's Oriatrike, or Phyſick refined. Engliſhed by J. C.

Spaniſh Grammar.

An Engliſh Spaniſh Grammar. With Remarks on the Portugueſe Grammar.

Czar of Muſcovy's Letter to the King.

A Copy of the Czar of Muſcovy's Letter to King Charles II. tranſlated. An. 1662.

MS. Aſhmole Oxon. 8432.

Harmar's Vindication of Oxon.

Vindiciæ Academiæ Oxonienſis: Sive Oratio Apologetica, qua Exercitiorum Academicorum in Trimeſtre vacatio a Crimine vindicatur. Autore Johanne Harmaro.

1662, 8vo.

His Life of Tully.

M. Tullii Ciceronis Vita ex optimis quibuſque Scriptoribus delibata & in Compendium redacta. Autore Johanne Harmaro.

1662, 8vo.

The Viſions of Will. Juniper, as related to Dr. Gauden.

The ſtrange and wonderful Viſions and Predictions of William Juniper of Goſfield in Eſſex, relating to the Troubles of England, as they were by him delivered to Dr. John Gauden, then at Bocking, and now Lord Biſhop of Exon. [Said to be drawn up by the ſaid Biſhop Gauden.]

London, 1662, 4to.

Edward Martyn, S. T. P. made Dean of Ely by Patent Feb. 22, 1661. he was inſtall'd by Proxy Apr. 25, 1662. ſucceeded by Dr. Fran. Willford, inſtall'd May 30, 1662.

Doctor Martin, late Dean of Ely, his Opinion concerning 1. The Difference between the Church of England and Geneva. 2. The Pope's Primacy as pretended Succeſſive to St. Peter. 3. The Authority of the Apoſtolical Conſtitutions and Canons. 4. The Diſcovery of the genuine Works of the primitive Fathers. 5. The falſe Brotherhood of the French and Engliſh Preſbyterians. Together with his Character of divers Engliſh Travellers, in the Time of our late Troubles. Communicated by five pious and learned Letters in the Time of his Exile. To which is added, the Neceſſity of Epiſcopal Ordination, by the right reverend Biſhop Mountague.

London, printed 1662, 12o.

L'Eſtrange's Memento of King Charles I, &c.

A Memento directed to all thoſe that truly Reverence the Memory of King Charles the Martyr, and as paſſionately wiſh the Honour, Safety and Happineſs of his Royal Succeſſor, our moſt gracious Sovereign Charles the Second. The firſt Part by Roger L'Eſtrange.

London, for Hen. Brome, 1662.

TUESDAY July 1.
Of the Forces tranſported to Portugal.

By Virtue of our Alliance and Treaty with the Crown of Portugal: Several Forces were ſent hence to aſſiſt that Kingdom againſt the prevailing Power of the Spaniard, who juſt at the Majority of the King, and his taking the Government into his own Hands, had made a formidable Invaſion and Progreſs into thoſe Dominions. Theſe Forces moſt of them immediately ſet Sail for Dunkirk, ſome Troops and Companies landing there from Leith, all commanded in chief by his Excellency the Earl of Incbequin (the famous Soldier in Ireland) Colonel Morgan, late Governor in Scotland, being his Major General: They arrived well and in good Health there on the 29th of June, and (being prohibited to eat the Fruit of the Country for fear of Fevers, and other Diſtempers) advanced towards the Campania; but the Spaniard having Notice thereof, thought it not adviſeable viſeable to fight with them in their Strength and Vigour, but to waſte them with the uſual Incommodities of thoſe Climates to us, and retreated back again immediately into Spain.

Heath's Chron. p. 510.

Wednesday July 2. Order of Council for a Brief to make Collections towards enabling the Corporation for Propagation of the Goſpel, to carry on their good Work in New-England.

Council Book.

Whitehall, in Council. The Petition of the Company for Propagation of the Goſpel in New-England, and Parts adjacent of America, was this Day read at the Board, ſhewing that heretofore by the Bleſſing of God on the Endeavours of ſome of the Engliſh Nation, many of the heathen Natives of New-England were converted to the Faith of Chriſt, which being known in England, it invited the pretended Powers that then were, to conſtitute a Corporation for the carrying on that Work, and to grant Liberty for a general Collection to be made throughout England and Wales, whereby divers Sums of Money were raiſed, and Land purchaſed for the ſettling a yearly Revenue for that End, wherein ſuch a conſiderable Progreſs hath been made, that very many of the Indians have been civilized, and brought to like the Engliſh Manners and Government, and many have been brought to the Profeſſion of the Goſpel, and the whole new Teſtament, and a good Part of the Old (whereof the reſt is making ready for the Preſs) hath been printed in the Indion Language.

That his Majeſty graciouſly conſidering the Conſequences of ſo glorious a Work, hath lately erected a Corporation to carry on and perfect the ſame, who at their firſt Entrance do find, that for the Space of two Years laſt paſt, the Charges have much exceeded the Incomes appropriated to this Work, and that their Revenue is much too ſmall at preſent to carry on the ſame according to his Majeſty's pious Intentions, eſpecially in regard to the great Charge that will be requiſite partly for recovering the greateſt Part of their Revenue injuriouſly detained from them, and partly for the perfecting ſo coſtly and yet neceſſary Works, as the perfecting the Tranſlation and Printing of the Bible, and partly for the Maintenance of Schools for the Breeding of the Indian Children, not only in the Principles of Chriſtianity, but to the Knowledge of good Literature and Trades, whereby they be not only taught the true Religion, but civilized alſo, and brought to ſubmit to his Majeſty's gracious Government: And therefore moſt humbly prayed, that his Majeſty would be pleaſed to grant a Brief for a general Collection to be made throughout England and Wales for the Purpoſe aforeſaid.

Which their Lordſhips taking into ſerious Conſideration, and being deſirous to give all Encouragement poſſible to the ſaid Corporation, for the carrying on of the ſaid Work ſo well begun, did think fit to recommend it to the right honourable the Lord Chancellor, who is prayed to take the ſame into his particular Care, and give Order for a Brief accordingly.

A Defence of the Synod at Boſton.

Printed 1662. 4to.

A Defence of the Anſwer and Arguments of the Synod met at Boſton in New-England in the Year 1662. concerning the Subject of Baptiſm and Conſociation of Churches, againſt the Reply made thereunto by the reverend Mr. John Davenport, Paſtor of the Church at New-Haven. By ſome of the Elders who were Members of the Synod abovementioned.

Thursday July 3. Mr. Skingle Curate at Dunmow.

Willielmus Skingle Clericus, licentiatus ad inſerviend' in Cura Animarum in Parochia de Dunmow-parva Com. Eſſex. die 3. Jul. 1662.

Of the Marriage of QUAKERS.

Several Orders of the Quakers, concerning the going together of Friends in Marriage.

The firſt Order for Marriage of Friends was given out by George Fox, and was printed by Tho. Symmons the ſeventh of the eleventh Month 1659.

If any Friends go together in the Power of the Lord, after the Thing hath been made known between themſelves, and laid before able Friends, and nothing appear to the contrary, they may declare it in the End of the next general Meeting, or as they are moved, they may declare it in the Mid-Time of the Market on the Market-Day in the next Market Town, or they may not, as their Freedom is. And if they are moved, they may declare it to the next Magiſtrate if they will, or they may not. Then after in an Aſſembly not leſs than twelve, they may ſpeak their Teſtimony, and then a Certificate may be given of the Day, Month, and Year, and recorded, but that nothing be recorded for Money in theſe Things, but freely a free People to ſerve one another in Love, &c.

And about this Time there was a ſecond Order for Marriage given out by George Fox, Anno 1662.

—— And when they take one another in Marriage, let not leſs than a Dozen Friends and Relations be preſent, according to your former Order, having firſt acquainted your Men's Meeting, and that it be recorded in a Book, &c.

A third Order for Marriage, Anno 1667.

As any are moved of the Lord, and in his Light called to take a Brother or Siſter in Marriage, let it be made known to the Children of Light, and being by the Light made manifeſt to be of God, let them be joined together in the Preſence of many Witneſſes; and a Record in Writing witneſſing the Day, Place and Year, ſubſcribed by Witneſſes.

A fourth Order for Marriage 1675.

See the tender Opinion of Judge Hales in the Caſe of Quakers Marriages. Dr. Burnet's Life of Sir Matthew Hale, 8vo. p. 34.

At a quarterly Meeting in Hadenham in the Iſle of Ely, the firſt of the tenth Month 1675. It is ordered and agreed upon at this quarterly Meeting, that no Friends for Time to come may permit or ſuffer Marriages without the Conſent of Friends at two Mens and Womens Meetings, and the Man and Woman to come both to the ſaid Meetings to receive the Anſwer of Friends, that ſo no diſorderly and indirect Proceedings may be carried on any more contrary to the Unity of Friends.

FRIDAY July 4.
Proclamation for ordering the Reſort of People to Court for Cure of the King's Evil.

By the King. A Proclamation for the better ordering of thoſe who repair to the Court for Cure of the Diſeaſe called the King's Evil, wherein his Majeſty declares himſelf as ready and willing to relieve the Neceſſities and Diſeaſes of his good Subjects by his ſacred Touch, which ſhall come for Cure, as any of his Royal Predeceſſors, in which by the Grace and Bleſſing of God, he hath in an extraordinary Meaſure had good Succeſs: Yet in his Princely Wiſdom foreſeeing that fit Times are neceſſary to be appointed for the performing of that great Work of Charity, doth declare his Royal Pleaſure to be, that from henceforth the uſual Times for preſenting ſuch Perſons, ſhall be from the Feaſt of All-Saints to a Week before Chriſtmas, and in the Month before Eaſter, being more convenient for the Temperature of the Seaſon, and in reſpect of any Contagion that may happen in this near Acceſs to his Majeſty's ſacred Perſon. —— And that ſuch Perſons bring Certificates under the Hands of the Miniſter and Church-Wardens of the Pariſhes where they dwell, teſtifying that they have not at any Time before been touched by the King, &c. Given at Hampton-Court, &c.

Printed 1662

Decree of the Univerſity of Cambridge, for a fit Place to repoſite their Acts and Muniments.

In Senatu Cantabrigienſi die 4. Jul. 1662. Cum ad Academiæ honorem ac columitatem conducat plurimum, ut Reſcripta Regum, Senatus hujus Conſulta, cæteraque Reipublicæ noſtræ Munimenta in loco aliquo tuto ac ſolenni Cuſtodiantur quæ hactenus inter Oppidanorum ædes, incendiis, rapinis, multiſque caſibus obnoxia deliteſcant: Placet vobis ut impoſterum intra publicas Scholas aſſerventur; & ut vacivo loco qui inter Scholas Theologicas & Philoſophicas interjacet, curâ Domini Procancellarii (qui pro tempore fuerit) Archivum publicum Academiæ impenſis clathris & forulis inſtruatur, quo Munimenta prædicta poſſint accuratius & ad uſum hujus Senatus accommodatius aſſervari.

MS. Cantabr. Acad.

SUNDAY July 6.
The Name of Arminian not ſo odious, as before the Wars.

It was obſervable, that whereas before the Civil Wars, one Firebrand towards the kindling of it was to caſt the Odium of Arminianiſm upon the Church Biſhops and Clergy, as opening a Door to Popery: The Name of Arminian was not now ſo odious, nor ſo commonly imputed as a Crime and Scandal to thoſe who were offended at the rigid Opinions of Calvin, &c. For tho' the ſtrict Preſbyterians continued to take Election and Reprobation in the more abſolute Senſe, yet many other Preachers during the Diſſolution of the Church had eſpous'd and defended the contrary Principles; ſuch as Mr. John Goodwyn, and Mr. Toby Conyers, and other Teachers and Writers in a profeſs'd Manner: Nay Mr. Baxter and ſome Brethren were in Moderation leaning that Way. —— See Truth defended and Innocency cleared: Or the Declaration of the Judgment of James Arminius, Doctor and Profeſſor of Divinity in the Univerſity of Leyden; concerning the principal Points of Religion before the States of Holland and Weſt-Frieſland. To which is added, nine Queſtions exhibited by the Deputies of the Synod to the noble Lords the Regulators of the Univerſity of Leyden, with their Solution. Tranſlated for the Vindication of Truth, by Tobias Conyers, ſome Time of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge. Magna eſt Veritas & prevalebit.

MS.

London, for Henry Everſden, 1657. 12o.

MONDAY July 7.
The Queen Mother preparing to come for England.

Adviſed from Paris, that the King of France, the Queen Mother, Monſieur, Madam, and Madamoiſelle, paid their ſeveral Compliments to the Queen Mother of England at Paris, ſo that e're long we may promiſe ourſelves again the Happineſs of her Royal Preſence.

Mercur. Publ No.28. p 448.

A Miniſter proſecuted for not reading the Common-Prayer.

July 7, 1662. Mr. Nicholas Thoroughgood, who was put out of the ſequeſtred Living of Monkton in the Iſle of Thanet, to which Dr. Meric Caſaubon was reſtored, riding to Canterbury as he was near Sar, he was arreſted and forc'd to give two Bonds of 40*l.* each, to appear at the Aſſizes at Maidſtone, and the Seſſions at Canterbury, on Account of his not reading the Common-Prayer. The 17th of the ſame Month he put in a Demurrer at Maidſtone, and on the 23d at Canterbury Seſſions he travers'd the Matter and heard no more of it. This was at the Inſtigation of Mr. Rook his Neighbour, who labour'd to get him out, and that he might have ſomewhat againſt him, he ſent him the Prayers to read. —— Aug. 27, 1662. he preach'd his Farewel Sermon, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. of Account, p. 551.

See Mr. Lewis's Antiqu. of Thanet, 4to. p. 37.

TUESDAY July 8.
Biſhop Sanderſon's Articles of Viſitation.

Articles of Viſitation and Enquiry concerning Matters Eccleſiaſtical, exhibited to the Miniſters, Church-Wardens and Side-Men of every Pariſh within the Dioceſe of Lincoln, in the firſt Epiſcopal Viſitation of the right reverend Father in God, Robert, by divine Providence, Lord Biſhop of Lincoln; with the Oath to be adminiſtred to the Church-Wardens, and the Biſhop's Admonition to them.

London, for A. Seile, 1662, 4to.

Know you aſſuredly, that as the true diſcharging of your Office is the chief Means whereby publick Diſorders, Sins and Offences in your Pariſh may be reformed and puniſhed; ſo if you wilfully refuſe to preſent ſuch Crimes and Faults, as either you know to have been committed, or otherwiſe have heard of by publick Fame, that in ſuch Caſes the Biſhop and his Officers are to proceed againſt you in the Eccleſiaſtical Courts, as in Caſes of wilful Omiſſion and Perjury.

ROB. LINCOLN.

With his two Admonitions to the Clergy.

Admonition to the CLERGY.

I. The Miniſters in every Pariſh are deſired to give in the Names of ſuch of the younger Sort in their ſeveral Pariſhes, as they judge fit to receive Confirmation from the Biſhop, and to preſent them to be confirmed; eſpecially ſuch as having competently learned their Catechiſm, have not yet received the Holy Communion.

II. Alſo the Clergy within the County of Lincoln are deſired to bring with them in Writing, a Note of all ſuch Coats of Arms as are in the Church Windows, and of all ſuch Monuments, Grave-Stones, and Inſcriptions, whether of ancient or later Times, as are yet remaining in their ſeveral reſpective Churches or Chapels, or the Chancels thereof.

And the Oath to the Church Wardens and Side-Men.

The Tenor of the Oath to be adminiſtred to the Church-Wardens and Side-Men of every Pariſh.

You ſhall ſwear to enquire with your beſt Diligence, and to make a true Anſwer unto every Article of this Book now given you in Charge, and to preſent every Perſon that now is, or of late was inhabiting within your Pariſh, that hath done any Offence, or omitted any Duty therein mentioned. And this you ſhall do, as in the Sight of God, uprightly and truly, without Favour or Malice, Hope of Reward or Fear of Diſpleaſure. So help you God.

The Reception of the Biſhop at Bedford.

Mercur. Publ. 4to, No. 29. p. 462.

Adviſed from Bedford, July 11. that on the 7th Inſtant the right reverend Father in God Robert Lord Biſhop of Lincoln came to this Town upon his Viſitation. The right honourable the Lord Bruce with ſeveral of the Gentry of the Countrey went out from the Town on Horſe-back to welcome his Lordſhip. The Train-Bands of the Town march'd out to meet him, and as he paſs'd by gave an handſome Volley; after which they attended his Lordſhip to the Town, where they gave him a ſecond Salute from their Muſkets, whilſt the People flock'd in great Numbers, and gave many joyful Acclamations.

Biſhop Morley's Articles of Viſitation.

London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1662. 4to.

Articles of Viſitation and Enquiry concerning Matters Eccleſiaſtical exhibited to the Miniſters, Church-Wardens, and Side-Men of every Pariſh within the Dioceſe of Wincheſter, in the primary Epiſcopal Viſitation of the right reverend Father in God George, by divine Providence, Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter, &c. with the Tenour of the Oath to be adminiſtred to the Church-Wardens and Side-Men of every Pariſh. With an Admonition for the true diſcharging of their Offices, whereby publick Diſorders, Sins, and Offences, in their reſpective Pariſhes may be reformed and puniſhed.—Together with Advice to the Miniſters of every Pariſh to give in the Names of ſuch of the younger Sort in their ſeveral Pariſhes as they judge fit to receive Confirmation from the Biſhop, and to preſent them to be confirmed: Eſpecially ſuch as having competently learned their Catechiſm have not yet received the Holy Communion.

The Oath of Church-Wardens, and the Directions given to them, are literally the ſame with thoſe given by Biſhop Sanderſon for the Dioceſe of Lincoln.

Other Articles of Viſitation publiſhed by other Biſhops.

All ſeverally printed in 4to, 1662.

Articles ſent to be enquired of in the ſeveral Viſitations made by the right reverend Fathers in God,

Matthew Lord Biſhop of Ely.
Humfrey Lord Biſhop of Sarum.
Edward Lord Biſhop of Norwich.
Henry Lord Biſhop of Chicheſter.
John Lord Biſhop of Worceſter.
William Lord Biſhop of St. David's.
Benjamin Lord Biſhop of Peterborough.
Gilbert Lord Biſhop of Briſtol.
Dr. Bailey Dean of Sarum.
Dr. Porey Archdeacon of Middleſex.

With the Forms of Oath and Charge, &c.

WEDNESDAY July 9.
Table of Degrees of Marriage.

London, for W. Gilbertſon, 1662. open Sheet.

The Table of Degrees of Marriage to be hung up in Churches, entitled, An Admonition to all ſuch as ſhall intend hereafter to enter the State of Matrimony, godly and agreeable to Laws.

Firſt, That they contract not with ſuch Perſons as be hereafter expreſſed, nor with any of like Degree, againſt the Law of God, and the Laws of the Realm.

Secondly, That they make no ſecret Contracts without Conſent and Counſel of their Parents or Elders, under whoſe Authority they be; contrary to God's Laws, and Man's Ordinances.

Thirdly, That they contract not a-new with any other, upon Divorce and Separation made by the Judge for a Time, the Laws yet ſtanding to the contrary, &c.

Set forth by the moſt reverend Father in God, Matthew Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Primate of England, and Metropolitan.

The King had been ſuſpected to be a Papiſt at Bruſſels, and to get clear of the Danger of ſuch Report, he writes to Mr. Cawton, the Engliſh Miniſter at Roterdam, to believe his Sincerity in the Proteſtant Religion, and therefore to vindicate him from ſuch Reproaches.

Life of Mr. Cawton.

In the Year 1658. the King's Majeſty being at Bruxels, and calumniated as being a Papiſt, his Majeſty was pleaſed to ſend a Letter to Mr. Cawton, Miniſter of the Engliſh Congregation at Roterdam, teſtifying his Conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion, and deſiring him to wipe off that unjuſt Aſperſion by ſatisfying all of his Stedfaſtneſs in that Religion. The Letter was printed a little before his Majeſty's Return to this Kingdom, to clear him then, and deſerves here to be inſerted.

CHARLES, R.

Truſty and well-beloved, we greet you well, we have received ſo full a Teſtimony from Perſons (to whom we gave intire Credit) of your good Affection to our Perſon, and Zeal to our Service, that we are willing to recommend an Affair to you, in which we are very much concern'd. We do not wonder that the Malice of our Enemies ſhould continue to lay all Manner of Scandals upon us, which

Of great Affection to the Proteſtant Religion.

which might take away our Reputation; but that they ſhould find Credit with any to make our Affection to the Proteſtant Religion in any Degree ſuſpected, is very ſtrange, ſince the World cannot but take Notice of our conſtant, and uninterrupted Profeſſion and Exerciſe of it, in thoſe Places where the contrary Religion is only practiſed, and allowed. And though we do not boaſt of doing that which we ſhould be heartily aſhamed if we did not do; we may reaſonably believe that no Man hath, or can more manifeſt his Affection to, and Zeal for the Proteſtant Religion, than we have done; or in ſome Reſpects hath more ſuffered for it. And therefore we are the more ſenſibly affected, that thoſe Calumnies can make Impreſſion, to our Diſadvantage, in the Minds of honeſt, and pious Men, as we are inform'd they have done. And we do the rather impart the Senſe we have of our Suffering in this particular to you, becauſe as you have the Charge of the Engliſh Congregation in Rotterdam; ſo you cannot but have much Converſation and Acquaintance with the Miniſters of the Dutch Church, and others in that populous Place, with whom we would not ſuffer under ſo unjuſt and ſcandalous an Imputation. And we preſume and expect from you, that you will uſe your utmoſt Diligence and Dexterity, to root out thoſe unworthy Aſperſions, ſo maliciouſly and groundleſly laid upon us by wicked Men; and that you aſſure all, who will give Credit to you, that we value ourſelf ſo much upon that Part of our Title of being Defender of the Faith, that no worldly Temptations can ever prevail with us to ſwerve from it, and the Proteſtant Religion, in which we have been bred: The Propagation whereof we ſhall endeavour with our utmoſt Power. And as we ſhall never fail in the Performance of our Duty herein, ſo we ſhall take the Offices you ſhall do, in vindicating us from theſe Reproaches, very well from you: In which we promiſe ourſelf you will ſerve us effectually. And ſo we bid you farewel. Given at our Court at Bruxels, the ſeventh Day of November, in the tenth Year of our Reign.

By his Majeſty's Command,

EDWARD NICHOLAS.

Some of the warmeſt Enemies to the King and Church began to be zealous for them.

July 9, 1662. Some of the fierceſt Sectaries and Firebrands in the late War, began to grow cool and to ſubmit themſelves to the Government in Church and State. One remarkable Inſtance in Mr. Henry Stubbe (afterwards an eminent Practitioner in Phyſick) who had been a profeſs'd Enemy to the Univerſities and Clergy, and an Advocate for the Perſon and Principles of Sir Henry Vane: Being ſettled at Stratford upon Avon, he made early and voluntary Applications to Dr. George Morley, Biſhop of Worceſter, for his Protection in his Retirement, aſſuring him of an inviolable Paſſive Obedience, which was all he could or would pay till the Covenant was renounced. And at the firſt Motion of his ſaid Dioceſan, he received Confirmation at his Hands, and ſoon after took Occaſion to publiſh a Tranſlation concerning the Arts of Grandure and Submiſſion, and in the Dedication thereof to make this mention of himſelf. I have at length removed all the Umbrages I ever laid under, I have joined myſelf to the Church of England, not only upon Account of its being publickly impoſed (which in Things indifferent is no ſmall Conſideration, as I learned from the Scottiſh Tranſactions at Perth) but becauſe it is the leaſt Defining, and conſequently the moſt Comprehenſive and fitting to be National.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 413.

Mr. James Thompſon Rector of Thornhaugh, by Reſignation of Thomas Brecknock.

Die 9. Jul. 1662. Jacobus Thompſon Clericus, in Art. Magiſter, pref. ad Rect. de Thornhaugh in Com. Northampt. vac. per lib. reſign. Thomæ Brecknock Clerici ult. Incumb. in eadem per hon. virum Gulielmum Comitem Bedford, pleno jure Patronum; inſtitutus die Mercurii nono die Julii 1662.

Reg. Laney.

Dr. Calamy thought him an ejected Nonconformiſt.

Mr. Brecknock, who was Chaplain to the Duke of Bedford at Thorney, is either wholly omitted in the foregoing Account, or his Name is ſo miſpell'd in the Liſts I have made uſe of, that I cannot diſcover him.

Dr. Calamy's Account, 2d Edit. p. 840.

But he reſigned one Place, and accepted another, with a Sort of Half-Conformity.

[But tho' Mr. Brecknock reſigned Thornhaugh, he remov'd no farther than Thorney, where he officiated many Years as Parochial Miniſter, in that Donative given to him by the Earl of Bedford.]

THURSDAY July 10. Archbiſhop Bancroft's Survey of the Holy Diſcipline, reprinted as Words in Seaſon.

A new Edition of Archbiſhop Bancroft's Survey of the Holy Diſcipline, containing the Beginnings, Succeſs, Parts, Proceedings, Authority and Doctrine of it. With ſome of the manifold and material Repugnancies, Varieties, and Uncertainties in that behalf: Faithfully gathered by way of hiſtorical Narration out of the Books and Writings of the principal Favourers of that Platform, Anno 1513.

Imprimatur denuo Liber hic cui Titulus, A Survey of the pretended Diſcipline, &c. unà cum illo altero cui Nomen dangerous Poſitions, &c. Sæpe enim Chartis imprimi non iniquum, quod ſemper cordibus imprimi, non tam ad Doctrinam Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ, quàm ad Diſciplinam tutò conſervandam æquum eſt.

MA. FRANCK, S. T. P. Reverendo admodum in Chriſto Patri Epiſcopo London, a Sacris Domeſticis.

Quintilis 8, 1662.

A Tract of Biſhop Gauden reprinted.

The Tears, Sighs, Complaints, and Prayers of the Church of England, ſetting forth her former Conſtitution, compared with her preſent Condition. Written in the late Times of Rebellion and Uſurpation, by John Gauden, D. D. Biſhop of Worceſter.

London, by R. Royſton, 1662, Fol.

Dr. Seth Ward Biſhop of Exeter.

Upon the Tranſlation of Dr. John Gauden to the See of Worceſter, elected May 23, 1662. and confirmed June 10. Dr. Seth Ward was elected Biſhop of Exeter July 8, 1662. confirmed the 19th, and conſecrated the next Day, and inthronized December 21. following.

Account of his Promotion.

Dr. Pope's Life of Biſhop Ward, 8vo. p. 55.

Upon the Tranſlation of Biſhop Gauden to Worceſter, Dr. Ward without knowing any Thing of it, by the Intereſt of the Duke of Albemarle, and Sir Hugh Pollard, then Comptroller, and ſome other of his weſtern Friends whom he had obliged during his Reſidence at Exeter, was nominated Biſhop thereof. —— He was very ill when he was to be conſecrated Biſhop, and not without Apprehenſion that he ſhould not ſurvive that Solemnity. It was a cold rainy Morning, when I waited on him to Lambeth to be conſecrated: He had not been out of his Chamber ſor ſome Weeks before. He went Sick to Exeter, and was confin'd to his Chamber a long while, &c.

This Deanery continued in the Biſhops till the Death of Biſhop Blackall, and then by Conſent of Parties, it was made a ſeparate Preferment, and given by his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, to the worthy Clerk of his Cloſet Mr. Harris.

Let us conſider what he did as Biſhop of Exeter. He procur'd the Deanery of St. Burien near the Lands-End in Cornwall to be ſettled upon the Biſhops of Exeter for ever, after the Death of Dr. Weeks, by the King's Letters Patents. It did not become void till Biſhop Sparrow's Time, he firſt enjoy'd it, and it does ſtill, and I hope ever will, continue in the Poſſeſſion of the Biſhops of Exeter and their Succeſſors.

Biſhop Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, p. 192.

Ward was a Man of great Reach, went deep in Mathematical Studies, and was a very dextrous Man, if not too dextrous, for his Sincerity was much queſtioned. He had complied during the late Times, and held in by taking the Covenant: So he was hated by the High-Men as a Time-ſerver. But the Lord Clarendon ſaw, that moſt of the Biſhops were Men of Merit by their Sufferings, but of no great Capacity for Buſineſs. He brought Ward in as a Man fit to govern the Church: For Ward to get his former Errors to be forgot, went into the high Notions of a ſevere Conformity, and became the moſt conſiderable Man on the Biſhop's Bench. He was a profound Stateſman, but a very indifferent Clergyman.

SUNDAY July 13.
Chancellor Clarendon for a ſteddy Execution of the Act of Uniformity.

Animadverſions on Mr. Creſſey, 8vo. p. 140.

Among the divided Sentiments at Court whether to execute or relax and in a manner ſuſpend the Act of Uniformity: The chief Miniſter, Lord Clarendon, was clearly of the ſame Opinion which he afterward expreſs'd in Writing. Sure there cannot be too Intent a Care in Kings and Princes to preſerve and maintain all decent Forms and Ceremonies both in Church and State; which keeps up the Veneration and Reverence due to Religion and the Church of Chriſt, and the Duty and Dignity due to Government, and to the Majeſty of Kings, in an Age when the Diſſoluteneſs of Manners, and the Prophaneneſs and Pride of the People, too much inclines them to a Contempt of Religion, to a Neglect of Order, and to an undervaluing and contending with the moſt Sovereign Authority.

The ſad Effects of Diviſion when no reigning King, nor eſtabliſh'd Church.

Printed 1645, 4to.

The ſad Effect of Diviſions upon the Diſſolution of Church Government was thus lamented by Mr. Edm. Calamy, in his Sermon before the Lords on Chriſtmas Day, then a Faſt-Day, 1644. But above all, let us bemoan the Diviſions that are in the Church about Matters of Religion. Theſe are exceedingly increaſed amongſt us, eſpecially in the famous City of London. One ſaith I am of Paul, another ſaith I am of Apollos, a third ſaith I am of Cephas. Some are Antinomians, that is, Patrons of Free Vice, under the Maſque of Free Grace. Some are Anabaptiſts that ſay, that the Condition of an Infant of a believing Parent, is as ſad and miſerable as the Condition of an Infant of a Turk or Infidel, and one of them was not aſham'd to ſay, that it is as lawful to baptize a Cat or a Dog, as an Infant of a Chriſtian Parent. Some are Browniſts that ſay, that all our Miniſtry is Antichriſtian, and our Worſhip and Churches Antichriſtian. Some are of no Church at all, believing all Churches to be falſely conſtituted, and therefore refuſe to joyn with any Church in the Worſhip of God, and wait till God raiſe up Apoſtles to plant new Churches. Some believe that the Soul dyeth with the Body, and that both ſhall riſe again at the laſt Day. Others begin to ſay, they believe that the Soul is mortal, as well as the Body, and that there is no Reſurrection neither of Soul nor Body. Some plead for an illimited Toleration of all Religions. It would ſeem a Wonder, if I ſhould reckon how many ſeparated Congregations, or rather Segregations there are in the City: What Churches againſt Churches, &c.

A ſeaſonable Diſcourſe reprinted, for Conformity in Caſe of Deprivation.

London. imprinted by John Bill, 1618, 4to.

To the Miniſters who were dubious about Conformity, there was now recommended a very ſober Diſcourſe applicable to the preſent Doubts and Scruples, intituled, Caſſander Anglicanus: Shewing the Neceſſity of Conformity to the preſcribed Ceremonies of our Church in Caſe of Deprivation. By John Sprint Miniſter of Thornbury in Glouceſterſhire, ſome Time of Chriſt-Church in Oxon. —— With an Epiſtle Dedicatory to the right worſhipful Mr. Samuel Burton, Archdeacon of the Dioceſe of Gloceſter.

S I R,

As it pleaſed you to appoint me a certain Time, to give Anſwer of my Purpoſe or Refuſal of Conformity —— I give you to underſtand, that I am reſolved to conform. To the which Reſolution, I confeſs I was the rather drawn, by the Mixture of your diſcreet Proceedings, yet not ſo much driven thereunto by your publick Authority, as drawn by your private Lenity and Kindneſs, and undeſerved Reſpect unto my Meanneſs: I being well acquainted with the common Condition of Man's Will, which may be induced, when it cannot be inforced. And I truſt with equal good Conſcience and Succeſs, to proceed and continue in Service unto God and to his Church in this my Conformity, as I before did in not conforming.

MONDAY July* 14. Proclamation for Prize Goods.

By the King's Printers.

A Proclamation declaring his Majeſty's Grace and Favour towards all Commanders and Seamen, in relation to Prizes and Prize Goods ſeized and taken ſince the Month of January 1642. until the 29th of May 1660. Given July 14, 1662.

Proclamation for Reſort of People to Court for the Cure of the King's Evil.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. p. 439.

A Proclamation lately ſet forth, for the better ordering of thoſe who repair to the Court for Cure of the Diſeaſe called the King's Evil, wherein his Majeſty being as ready and willing to relieve the Neceſſities and Diſeaſes of his good Subjects by his ſacred Touch, which ſhall come for Cure, as any of his Royal Predeceſſors, in which by the Grace and Bleſſing of God, he hath in an extraordinary Meaſure had good Succeſs; and yet in his princely Wiſdom foreſeeing, that fit Times are neceſſary to be appointed for the performing of that great Work of Charity, doth declare his Royal Pleaſure to be, that from henceforth the uſual Times for preſenting ſuch Perſons, ſhall be from the Feaſt of All-Saints to a Week before Chriſtmas, and in the Month before Eaſter. —— That none preſume to repair to Court for Cure of the ſaid Diſeaſe, but within the Limits appointed, —— and that all bring Certificates under the Hands of the Miniſter and Church Wardens, that they have not before been touched by the King.

Form of Prayers at the Healing.

Printed ſingly, and reprinted among the Additions to L'Eſtrange's Alliance of divine Offices, Fol.

Prayers at the HEALING.

The Holy Goſpel written in the 16th Chapter of St. Mark, beginning at the 14th Verſe.

Jeſus appeared unto the Eleven, &c. At the Words, They ſhall lay their Hands on the Sick and they ſhall recover, is this Rubrick Direction, Here the infirm Perſons are preſented to the King upon their Knees, and the King lays his Hands upon them.

The Holy Goſpel written in the 1ſt Chapter of St. John, beginning at the firſt Verſe.

In the Beginning was the Word, &c. At theſe Words, That Light was the true Light which lighteth every Man that cometh into the World, is this Rubrick, Here they are again preſented to the King upon their Knees, and the King puts his Gold about their Necks.

This Office is omitted in Dr.* Nichols's Supplement to the Commentary on the Book of Common-Prayer, Fol. 1711.

This I think was the only Office changed by* K. James II. and performed by his own Popiſh Prieſts. Reſtored by Queen Anne *with very little Variation.

Rubr. Theſe Anſwers are to be made by them that come to be healed.

The Prayers. Lord have Mercy upon us,
Lord have Mercy upon us,
Chriſt have Mercy upon us,
Chriſt have Mercy upon us.
Lord have Mercy upon us.
Lord have Mercy upon us.

Our Father which art in Heaven, &c.
O Lord ſave thy Servants.
Which put their Truſt in thee.
Send them Help from above.
And evermore mightily defend them.
Help us, O God, our Saviour.
And for the Glory of thy Name deliver us.
Be Merciful to us Sinners for thy Name Sake.
O Lord hear our Prayers.
And let our Cry come unto thee.

Mr. Tho. Fuller in his Appeal of injur'd Innocence, hath recited from Dr. Heylyn, the Form of the Service at the Healing of the King's Evil by King Charles I. with no Difference from this Form but in the Collect, which there runs thus: Almighty God, the eternal Health of all ſuch as put their Truſt in thee, heat us, we beſeech thee in the Behalf of theſe thy Servants, for whom we call for thy merciful Help, that they receiving Health may give Thanks unto thee in thy Holy Church thro' Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Amen.

O Almighty God, who art the Giver of all Health, and the Aid of them that ſeek to thee for Succour, we call upon thee for thy Help and Goodneſs mercifully to be ſhew'd unto theſe thy Servants, that they being healed of their Infirmities, may give Thanks unto thee in thy Holy Church, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Amen.

The Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Love of God, and the Fellowſhip of the Holy Ghoſt be with us all evermore. Amen.

WEDNESDAY July* 16. Order for the Commiſſioners to demoliſh the Walls of thoſe Cities and Towns that had been in Defence of the late Rebellion.

Heath's Chron. p. 511, 512.

Commiſſioners had been appointed for regulating Corporations, who proceeded to the Diſmiſſion of ſuch from all Offices and Places in Council and otherwhere, who refuſed to renounce and declare the Solemn League and Covenant illegal, and ſuſpected and not cleared for Diſaffection to the Government; but not many they were that were upon this Account outed and diſcharged.

By theſe Gentlemen named for each County, City and Borough, it was ordered (beſides the diſplacing of Officers) that the Walls of the reſpective Cities and Towns of Glouceſter, Coventry, Northampton, Taunton and Leiceſter (and other Places which had Bulwarks and Gariſons, and maintained them throughout the War againſt the King, and were the Reception and Maintenance of the Rebellion) ſhould be demoliſhed, as Examples and Security to ſucceſſive Times; the County Troops and reſpective Train-Bands guarding thoſe Places while they were demoliſhed.

Biſhop Coſin's Gift of 300l. to the Repair of the Cathedral of Peterborough.

Act-Book of Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, MS.

Dr. John Coſin, late Dean of Peterborough, now Lord Biſhop of Durham, had paid three hundred Pounds as his generous and free Gift towards the Reparation of the Cathedral Church of Peterborough, which Sum was rightly expended before this 16th of July 1662.

Orders for due Repairs of the Cathedral Church of Peterborough.

Act-Book, fol. 9.

Ibid. fol. 16.

1662. July 16. Ordered by the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, that the Dotation for the Repairs of the Church ſhall hereafter be the full Sum of one hundred Pounds yearly, and the Sub-Treaſurer to enter that Sum in the firſt Head of his Payments. —— By a former Chapter Act, June 16, 1662. it had been ordered, that the ſeventh Part of Fines ſhould be allotted towards the Reparation of the Church. And Apr. 23, 1669. ordered, that forty Pounds be given out of a Fine now received towards the Repairs of the Cathedral Church.

Father Creſley's Letter to Mr. Markham, in Defence of a Paſſage that offended Biſhop Morley.

Tracts of Biſhop Morley, 1683. 4^{to}.

A Letter from Father Creſſy, a Benedictine Monk, to Mr. Markham, an Engliſh Gentleman, endeavouring to defend a Paſſage in his Book whereat Biſhop Morley was offended, viz. That ſeveral of the wiſeſt and learnedeſt of his [King Charles I.] Clergy, have been content to buy their Security with a voluntary degrading themſelves from their Offices and Titles. Concluding, with Regard to that Paſſage, having been long ſince informed, that ſome of my Friends complain'd of it, who underſtood the Expreſſion in too rigorous and literal a Senſe, I had an Intention to have expreſs'd my Mind more eaſily; but the Corrections which I had made of ſeveral Paſſages came too late to the Printer's Hands, when he was about a ſecond Impreſſion; ſo with my humble Service I reſt,

July 16, 1662. Your moſt affectionate Friend and humble Servant, &c.

Biſhop Morley's Anſwer to Father Creſſey's Letter.

With an Anſwer of Biſhop Morley.

It was not this Clauſe only or ſpecially, viz. That ſeveral of the wiſeſt and learnedeſt of the Clergy have been content to buy their Security with a voluntary degrading of themſelves from their Offices and Titles,] that the Biſhop did, and the whole Clergy of England may, moſt juſtly except againſt, as being falſe and injurious: For firſt it is falſe and injurious to ſay, "that the Preſbyterians did conſtrain the "whole Kingdom to forſwear the Religion in which they had been bred." Secondly, "That the King was almoſt the only Perſon that remained conſtant in his "Religion." Thirdly, he affirms likewiſe, "That it may be truly ſaid, that "though many of them (he means the Clergy) have ſuffered in Extremity, yet "it was not properly with an Eye to their Religion, but rather to their Fidelity "and Loyalty to their Prince." Fourthly, he affirms, "I reflected principally "upon the Generality of the Biſhops, who neglecting to perform the proper and "then moſt neceſſary Function of their Order, (which was to fulminate Eccleſiaſtical Cenſure and Excommunication againſt all thoſe that rebell'd againſt the "King, and their Eccleſiaſtical Authority) did thereby ſignify, that they voluntarily ceaſed to be Biſhops." [All which Paſſages the Biſhop does ſtrongly confute, and concludes] I cannot but believe that he believes himſelf to be ſo [i. e. Calumniæ reus] unleſs he will confeſs ingenuouſly what (as I am credibly informed) he may confeſs truly, that this (firſt) whole Paſſage was put into his Book by another Hand without his Knowledge, and that as he was forced to own it in his firſt, ſo he was permitted to retract or correct it (as he calls it) in his ſecond Edition. And then let any Man judge, what a Tyranny thoſe that are of the Church of Rome, and eſpecially thoſe that revolt to the Church of Rome muſt live under, and how impoſſible it is for the World to know whether what ſuch Men write or aſſert in Print, be not indeed quite contrary to what themſelves do really believe or no.

He may confeſs the Paſſage was put into his Book by another Hand.

THURSDAY July 17.

The brewing of a War between England and Holland.

Mercur. Publ. N^{o}. 17. p. 462.

Adviſed from the Hague, that the States of Holland have ſent Orders to their Ambaſſadors in England, to agree the Time from which the Merchants of the Eaſt-India Company in England, ſhall compute their Loſſes, and other Things formerly in Diſpute, in which they have condeſcended to the Demands made by his Majeſty of Great-Britain, which cauſeth a general Joy among theſe People, who from thence Hope for a firm and laſting Peace.

Lord Inchiquin and Sir Thomas Morgan.

Mercur. Publ. 4^{to}.

Adviſed by Letters from St. Sebaſtian, that thoſe Forces under the Command of the Lord Inchiquin, and Major General Sir Thomas Morgan, are ſafely landed at Liſbon.

The Duke of Ormond going for Ireland, is nobly entertained at Cheſter.

Ibid.

On this Thurſday, July 17. about three in the Afternoon, his Grace the Duke of Ormond came to the City of Cheſter, attended by a gallant Train of Gentry, and a Troop of the Country Horſe commanded by Sir Philip Egerton. Our loyal Mayor, to manifeſt his good Affection to ſo excellent a Perſonage, ordered his Reception in the greateſt State and Grandeur this Place was capable of. From the Entrance of the Suburbs, the Trained Bands and Auxiliaries made a Lane to the City Gates; within the Walls ſtood the ſeveral Companies on both Sides the Way, with Flags and Streamers of Diſtinction. The Mayor and Aldermen in their Scarlet were ſeated on a Scaffold richly adorned with Tapiſtry. His Grace upon his Arrival was conducted to the Mayor, who received him with all Reſpect imaginable, which Mr. Recorder ſeconded with an handſome loyal Speech. The Speech ended, his Grace went to the Biſhop's Palace provided for his Entertainment; where after a ſhort Repoſe he went to the Cathedral to hear divine Service. The next Day his Grace was invited by the Mayor to a ſtately Banquet, &c.

Author of Vulgaria, ſive Miſcellanea Proſaica hinc inde decerpta, ad Diſcipulos non vulgares è Ludis Literariis emittendos, quam maximè conducentia, modò ſolerter edoceantur, &c. in

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 195.

Death of Thomas Merriot, born at Steeple-Langford in Wilts, educated in Wykeham's School near Wincheſter, admitted true and perpetual Fellow of New-College, Oxon. An. 1610. aged 21 Years or more, took one Degree in the Civil Law, and for a Time taught in the Grammar-School joining to the Cloyſter there. Afterwards being preſented to the Vicarage of Swalclive near Banbury by the Warden and Society of the ſaid College, he preached there and taught Grammar in novem Claſſes diſtributa. Oxon. 1652, 8vo.

mar there to the Time of his Death, July 19, 1662. after he had been Vicar of that Place thirty eight Years, and was two Days after buried in the Church there.

SUNDAY July 20.

The Conſecration of Dr. Seth Ward Biſhop Elect of Exeter at Lambeth by the Biſhops of London, Winton. Sarum. Ciceſtr. & Glouceſt.

MONDAY July 21.
Letter of the Pope's Nuncio at Bruſſels to the Iriſh Catholicks, againſt the late Remonſtrance.

A Letter from the Pope's Nuncio at Bruſſels, dated July 21, 1662. to the Iriſh Catholicks, informing them, that their late Remonſtrance of Loyalty to the King had been ſince examined at Rome by certain Cardinals and Divines, and was found to contain ſeveral Propoſitions condemned by Paul the fifth and Innocent the tenth, and that the preſent Pope was ſo far from approving it, that he did not ſo much as permit or connive at it, and therefore condemned it in this Form, that it could not be kept without Breach of Faith, according to the Decrees of Paul the fifth, and that it denied the Popes Authority in Matters of Faith according to that of Innocent the tenth, and by his preſent Holineſs, &c.

Stillingfl. Idolatry of the Ch. of Rome, 1672. 8vo. p. 305.

See the Narrative of Mr. John Smith, Fol. 1679.

An Anſwer to a ſcandalous Letter lately printed and ſubſcribed by Peter Walſh, Procurator for the Secular and Regular Prieſts of Ireland, entitled, [A Letter deſiring a juſt and merciful Regard of the Roman-Catholicks of Ireland.] By the Right Honourable the Earl of Orrery.

London, ſold by Jo. Crook, 1662. 8vo.

An Obſervation of Biſhop Taylor upon the Growth of Popery.

It is the Obſervation of a very wiſe and learned Prelate of the Church of England, That in the Days of Queen Elizabeth and of King James, this Nation was ſo watchful to prevent the Growth of Popery, that they neglected other Sects, 'till by Connivance they became ſo numerous, and over-ran both Church and State. But ſince the happy Reſtauration of our Sovereign, we have been ſo intent on the ſuppreſſing of Sectaries, that we have ſuffer'd the Papal Party to increaſe to ſuch an Heighth, as ſeems to threaten the like ſad Iſſue from them.

Biſhop Taylor's Pref. to Diſſuaſ. from Popery, 4to.

TUESDAY July 22.
A Grace in the Senate at Cambridge, upon the Archbiſhop of Canterbury's Claim of Books of his Predeceſſor to be now reſtored to Lambeth Library.

In Senatu Cantabrigienſi. —— Whereas the moſt Reverend Father in God the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury that now is, doth demand and claim all thoſe Books which are now in your Cuſtody, and were formerly removed from Lambeth hither, as of Right belonging to himſelf and his Succeſſors. May it pleaſe you, that Dr. Gunning and Dr. Pearſon may be your legal Syndicks, for you and in your Name to treat and conclude with the ſaid Archbiſhop concerning his and your Right and Intereſt in the ſaid Books; and that whatſoever ſhall be by them agreed and concluded in that Buſineſs may be by you ratified and confirmed: And that upon this your Conceſſion, they may have Letters of Attorney to that Effect above-mentioned, ſealed with your Common Seal.

Reg. Acad. Cantabr.

Die 22. Julii, 1662. Reyner Harman Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Tynwell in Com. Rutl. vac. per Mort. Magiſtri Johnſon ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Comitis Exon. pleno jure.

Reg. Laney.

SUNDAY July 27.
The King invites the Count d'Eſtrades, now in his Way to Holland, to come over into England.

Upon a Propoſal made by the Lord Chancellour [i. e. for the Sale of Dunkirk.]

The King of England's Letter to the Count d'Eſtrades going on his Embaſſy from France to Holland in his Way to Calais, to acquaint him that his Majeſty had ſeveral Things to communicate to him, in order to come to a Reſolution upon an Affair which the Chancellour had propoſed to him, and therefore deſiring him to take a Tour to England, in a Yacht which he had ſent for him. Dated from Hampton-Court July 27, 1662. —— With another Letter to the ſame Effect, and of the ſame Date, from the Earl of Clarendon Lord Chancellour to the ſaid Count d'Eſtrades, importuning him to accept of his Majeſty's Invitation.

Lettres de Monſieur d'Eſtrades, 8vo. p. 279.

The landing of the Duke of Ormond at Ireland.

Account of the Landing of James Duke of Ormond, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, at Houth, on Sunday July 27, 1662. with the Earls of Oſſory and Angleſea, and a noble Retinue. His extraordinary Reception. The Houſe of Lords expreſſing their Joy for his Arrival by the Lord Primate their Speaker; the Houſe of Commons by Sir Audley Mervin their Speaker; the Lower Houſe of Convocation by Dr. Moſſom their Prolocutor; the Univerſity by their Vice-chancellour, the Lord Biſhop of Down and Connor; and the Mayor and City by their Recorder, who in Teſtimony of their Affections preſented his Grace with a Bowl of Gold to the Value of four hundred Pounds, and an Inſtrument for his Freedom of the City, with a Box of Gold to keep the Seal.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 30. p. 513.

The Copy of a Speech delivered by Dr. Moſſom Dean of Chriſt-Church, and Prolocutor of the Lower Houſe of Convocation, before the Lord Lieutenant, the 29th of July, 1662.

He was ſworn Lord Lieutenant in due Form, July 28.

MONDAY July 28.
Dr. Gibſon Lucas Vicar of Swafham, St. Mary's.

Ann. 1662. Jul. 28. Inſtitutus eſt per Collationem Gibſonus Lucas, S. T. P. ad Vicariam perpet. de Swafham S. Mariæ in Com. Cantabrig. [So that Mr. Jonathan Jephcot was not ejected for Nonconformity at Bartholomew Day.]

Reg. Wren. See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 113. Contin. p. 140.

WEDNESDAY July 30.
Dining of the Royal Family.

Her Majeſty the Queen Mother of Great-Britain having ſafely landed on Monday laſt at Greenwich, this Day, July 30. the King and Queen's Majeſty, with the Queen Mother, the Duke and Ducheſs of York, dined all together at St. James's, to the great Joy and Satisfaction of all Beholders, as well as to thoſe now happy and great Princes themſelves.

Mercur. Publ. No. 30. p. 198.

Mr. Heywood*'s Account of ſtrange Thunder and Lightning at* Ormeſkirke.

Somewhat very remarkable happen'd on July 30, 1662. at or near Ormeſkirke in the County of Lancaſter, of which Mr. Nathaniel Heywood, Miniſter, gave this Account in a Letter to a Friend. About four o' Clock (ſays he) that Day in the Afternoon, was a dreadful Thunder and Lightning for a long Time together; and in the Town of Ormeſkirke, and about it, fell a great Shower of Hail in a terrible Tempeſt: Hail Stones were as big as ordinary Apples, ſome ſay nine Inches compaſs; one Stone that I took up was above four Inches after it had thaw'd in my Hand: The Hail broke all our Glaſs Windows weſtward, we have not one Quarrel whole on our Backſide; and ſo it is with moſt of the Houſes in and about Town. It hath cut off all the Ears of our ſtanding Corn, ſo that moſt Fields that were full of excellent Barley, and other Grain, are not worth reaping: It hath ſhaken the Apple Trees, and in ſome Places bruiſed the Apples in Pieces, and cut Boughs from the Trees. All (eſpecially the Ignorant) were much terrified, thinking it had been the Day of Judgment.

Dr. Calamy*'s Contin. of Account, p.* 560.

An Application to God by Mr. Samuel Birch, one of the three Vicars of Bampton in Oxfordſhire.

Upon the Act of Uniformity, and my conforming thereunto, or leaving my Miniſtry, Vicarage; &c. Humble Addreſs to my Lord. Dated July 30, 1662.

My Lord and Maſter,

It is now high Time that I proſtrate myſelf at thy Feet, and earneſtly beg to know thy good Pleaſure with thy poor Creature. Thou gaveſt me my Commiſſion to preach the Goſpel, and by many ſtrange Providences haſt ſettled my Station in Bampton. —— Concluding, My God, I beg thy Direction in this great Buſineſs, and beſeech thee to ſhew me what is fully pleaſing to thee, and enable me to do it, for my Lord Jeſus's Sake, my Saviour and bleſſed Redeemer. Amen.

Tranſcribed at large by Dr. Calamy, his Contin. p. 707.

THURSDAY July 31.

Dr. Boreman Rector of Bliſſworth.

1662. ult. Die Julii. Robertus Boreman, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Bliſſworth in Com. Northton. vac. per Mort. Roberti Cooke ult. Incumb. ad preſ. D. Chriſtopheri Hatton Baronis de Kirby pleno jure.

Reg. Laney. Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 716.

This Robert Boreman was Brother to Sir William Boreman, Clerk of the Green-cloth to King Charles II. he had been Fellow of Trinity College Cambridge, and proceeded Doctor of Divinity. He was admitted to the Church of St. Giles in the Fields, London, Novemb. 18, 1663. and died at Greenwich 1675.

Ibid.

Dr. Mich. Evans Prebendary of Cheſter.

July 31, 1662. Michael Evans, S. T. P. was collated to the fifth Prebend in the Church of Cheſter, void by the Death of John Lee, M. A. He died Ann. 1670. being alſo Treaſurer of Bangor, and was buried at his Rectory of Llanfaelog in that Dioceſe.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, 4*to*. p. 350.

Books and Papers publiſhed in or about July 1662.

Dr. Hyde's Catholick Tenure.

The Catholick Tenure: Or a good Chriſtian's Certainty of his Religion and Salvation. By Edward Hyde, D. D.

Cambridge, by J. Field, 1662, 8*vo*.

Mr Tucker of the Fear of God.

An Encouragement to fear God in the worſt of Times. By Nat. Tucker, Preacher at Portſmouth.

London, for D. Newman, 1662, 8*vo*.

Expedient for reducing Diſſenters.

An Expedient to reduce all Diſſenters to the Obedience of the Eccleſiaſtical and Civil Government.

London, 1662, 4*to*.

Mr. Leigh's Critica Sacra, a new Edition enlarged.

Critica Sacra. In two Parts. The firſt containing Obſervations on all the Radices or primitive Hebrew Words of the Old Teſtament, in Order Alphabetical: Wherein both they (and many Derivatives alſo iſſuing from them) are fully opened out of the beſt Lexicographers and Scholiaſts. The ſecond philological and theological Obſervations upon all the Greek Words of the New Teſtament, wherein uſually the Etymon of the Word is given, its Force and Emphaſis obſerved, and the ſeveral Acceptions of it in the Scripture, and the Verſions by Expoſitors are ſet down. By Edward Leigh, Eſq; Maſter of Arts of Magdalen Hall in Oxford. The Fourth Edition, much enlarged by the Author by Addition of a Supplement to both Parts.

London, by And. Crook, &c. 1662.

Obligation of Oaths.

A Diſcourſe of the Nature and Obligation of Oaths, wherein Satisfaction is tendred touching the Non Obligation and Unlawfulneſs of the Oath called the Solemn League and Covenant.

London, ſold by Thomas Pierrepoint, 1662.

Mr. Heydon's Holy Guide.

A Roſa Crucian Whim.

The Holy Guide. An exquiſite Treatiſe, having been near ſeventeen Years detained in private Hands, and now much deſired by the Learned of the World, eſpecially by the Gentlemen and Scholars of the Inns of Court and Chancery, and Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, it teaching them the Way to Happineſs, and to know all paſt, preſent, and to come, viz. The Way to long Life, Health, Youth, Bleſſedneſs, Wiſdom, and Virtue; and to cure, change, and remedy all Diſeaſes in Young or Old with Roſa Crucian Medicines, which are verified by a practical Examination of Principles in the Great World, and fitted for the Uſe and Profit of all People. By John Haydon, Gent. A Book by the good Hand of God long preſerved from the Tyranny of the late Times, and now publiſhed.

London, ſold by Tho. Whitleſs, 1662.

Mr. Tho. Hobbes's Phyſical Problems.

Problemata Phyſica, viz. 1. De Gravitate. 2. De Æſtibus Marinis. 3. De Vacuo. 4. De Colore & Luce. 5. De Duro & Molli, de Pluvia, Vento, aliiſque Cœli varietatibus. 7. De Motuum ſpeciebus. Adjunctæ ſunt etiam Propoſitiones duæ de Duplicatione Cubi, & Dimenſione Circuli. Authore Thoma Hobbes.

Londoni apud Andream Crook, 1662.

Dr. Hen. Stubbe of Chocolate, upon his late Experience in Jamaica.

The Indian Nectar. Or a Diſcourſe concerning Chocolate. Wherein the Nature of the Cocoa Nut and other Ingredients of that Compoſition are examined and and ſtated according to the Opinion and Experience of the beſt Writers, both Indian and Spaniſh: With the Ways how to prepare and make all Sorts of Chocolate, ſhewing the Uſe of it, with all the beneficial Virtues thereof. By Henry Stubbe, Phyſician for his Majeſty and the Lord of Windſor in the Iſland of Jamaica.

London, ſold by Andrew Crook, 1662.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 413.

[He was deſigned Phyſician to that Place by his Majeſty, who (as he ſaith) honoured him with that Title; in which Place having been moſtly ſick during his Abode there, he would otherwiſe have advantaged himſelf much in the Knowledge thereof, and in Experiments and Things philoſophical. For which Reaſon alſo it was why he did not accept of an Invitation to go to Mexico and Peru, to practiſe his Faculty there. He returned to England in 1665. &c.]

Printed in Mercur. Publ. No. 31. 4to.

An Act for Suppreſſing of Theſt, Robberies, and Depredations, at Edinburgh the eighth of July, 1662.

Arguments for Uniformity out of the Writings of the Preſbyterians. By a London Citizen.

London, ſold by N. Brook, 1662.

The Reformed Preſbyterian, humbly offering to the Conſideration of all pious and peaceable Spirits ſeveral Arguments for Obedience to the Act of Uniformity, as the Way to Unity: And endeavouring to demonſtrate by clear Inferences from the ſacred Scriptures, and the Writings of ſome of the Ancients, of ſeveral old Paſtors of the Reformed Churches abroad, and of the moſt eminent old Non-conformiſts among ourſelves, as Mr. Joſias Nichols, Mr. Paul Baines, Mr. Hilderſham, Mr. John Ball, with Mr. Richard Baxter, and other learned Divines, as Mr. Perkins, Mr. John Randal, and Mr. Rob. Bolton, that there is nothing required by the Act of Uniformity, that is forbidden by the Law of God. By Richard Litler, Citizen of London.

With an Epiſtle Dedicatory to the Reverend non-conforming Miniſters.

Mr. Waterhouſe's Apology for the late Act for Chimney Money.

London, printed by R. Norton, 1662, 4to. p. 35.

One Tale is good until another is told. Or ſome ſober Reflections upon the Act for Chimney-Money, drawn up for the Uſe of ſome Neighbours, and thought uſeful to be communicated to the good People of this Nation. By William Waterhouſe, Eſq;

Under the following Chapters, 1. That all our Payments are for our Advantage. 2. That this Payment is of our own impoſing. 3. That this Payment is of our own procuring. 4. That this Payment eaſeth us of greater Burthens. 5. That this Payment lyeth not ſo much upon the Common People that complain, as upon the Gentry who are complained of. 6. That if it lay upon the People, it is nothing to what the People ſuffer in other Nations. 7. That it is nothing to what we have ſuffered in the Land of our Nativity theſe twenty Years, and what we may ſuffer if by Diſcontent we ſhould return (which God forbid) to our former Miſeries, &c.

Codrington's Tranſlation of Ignoramus.

London, 1662, 4to.

Ignoramus. A Comedy tranſlated from Latin into Engliſh. By Robert Codrington. With a Supplement which (out of Reſpect to the Students of the Common Law) was hitherto wanting.

Mr. Hobbes's Vindication of himſelf againſt Dr. Joh. Wallis.

Oxoniæ, 1662, 8vo.

Conſiderations upon the Reputation, Loyalty, Manners, and Religion of Thomas Hobbes, by Way of a Letter to a learned Perſon, [written by himſelf] intended for Dr. John Wallis, who publiſhed an Anſwer to it.

Mr. Glanvill of the Præ-exiſtence of Souls.

Ibid.

Lux Orientalis. Or an Enquiry into the Opinion of the Eaſtern Sages concerning the Præ-exiſtence of Souls: Being a Key to unlock the grand Myſteries of Providence. By Joſeph Glanvill.

A new Light to Popery; by a Franciſcan Fryer.

Printed in 1662, 8vo. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c 561. See Anſwer in Octob. 1662.

Fiat Lux. Or a general Conduct to a right Underſtanding and Charity in the great Combuſtion and Broils about Religion in England, between Papiſts and Proteſtants, Preſbyterians and Independents. [This was written by a learned Franciſcan Fryar, called John Vincent Cane, who dying in or near Somerſet Houſe in the Strand, in June 1672. was buried in the Vault under the Chapel belonging to that Houſe.]

A further Account of the Libel entitled Annus Mirabilis Secundus.

Printed in the Year 1662. 4to.

Of Prodigies and Signs of the End of the World; and the Deſtruction of God's Enemies; i. e. All who oppoſe the Nonconformiſts.

See July 25, 1661.

Mirabilis Annus Secundus. Or the ſecond Year of Prodigies. Being a true and impartial Collection of many ſtrange Signs and Apparitions which have this laſt Year been ſeen in Heavens, and in the Earth, and in the Waters. Together with many remarkable Accidents and Judgments befalling divers Perſons, according to the moſt exact Information that could be procured from the beſt Hands; and now publiſhed as a Warning to all Men ſpeedily to repent, and to prepare to meet the Lord, who gives us theſe Signs of his coming.

The Preface (beginning) Amongſt all the Symptoms of an approaching Miſery and Deſtruction to any People, none is more ſignificant and fatal, than a general ſlighting and neglecting of the great Signs which God openly ſheweth, and the wonderful Things which (as on a publick Theatre) he is pleaſed to act in the Sight of all Men, &c.

Cap. I. Several Prodigies and Apparitions ſeen, with ſtrange and terrifying Noiſes often heard in the Heavens, from the Month of April 1661. to the Month of June 1662.

Cap. II. Several Prodigies and ſtrange Apparitions ſeen on the Earth, together with many dreadful and violent Storms which have happen'd from the Month of April 1661. to the Month of June 1662.

Cap. III. Several ſtrange and remarkable Prodigies and Apparitions ſeen on the Waters from the Month of June 1661. to the Month of July 1662.

Cap. IV. Many ſtrange and remarkable Accidents, together with divers eminent and ſignal Judgments, that have happen'd to ſeveral Miniſters, that have been drawn to do Things againſt their Light and Conſcience in the Worſhip of God. As alſo many other Perſons, who have moleſted and perſecuted merely for Non-conformity, thoſe who are of tender and peaceable Spirits in the Lord. From the Month of April 1661. to the Month of July 1662.

A Collection of ſome Tracts of Biſhop Andrews, Archbiſhop Uſher, and Mr. Hooker, concerning the King's Supremacy, the Subjects Duty, Church Government by Biſhops, &c. With a Preface to them by the Lord Biſhop of Lincoln.

London, ſold by P. Marriot, 1662, 8vo.

Mr. Crofton's Sermon upon his Releaſe from the Tower.

The hard Way to Heaven. Explained and apply'd, in a Sermon intended to be preached at Peter's Cornhill, but by Reaſon of the diſorderly Concourſe, preached at St. Catherine's Creed-Church, London, the 27th of July, 1662. Being the third Day after his Releaſe. By Z. Crofton, Miniſter at Botolph's Aldgate. Taken (as preached) in Characters compared with his own Notes, providentially loſt and brought to our Hands. Now publiſhed to check and correct the Miſrepreſentation thereof by the Sons of Slander, and Subjects of Weakneſs.

Preface ſubſcribed H. M. Dated Auguſt 9, 1662.

London, Printed in the Year 1662, 4to.

Dr. Pordage his Enthuſiaſtical Myſteries.

Mundorum Explicatio. Wherein are couched the Myſteries of the external, internal, and eternal Worlds: Shewing the true Progreſs of a Soul from the Court of Babylon to the City of Jeruſalem, from the Adamical fallen State to the Regenerate and Angelical. Alſo the Explanation of a large Hieroglyphical Figure. By S. Pordage.

London, ſold by Lodowick Lloyd, 1662.

A Roſa Crucian Tract about the Doctrine of Van Helmont.

Novum Lumen Medicum. Wherein the excellent and moſt neceſſary Doctrine of the highly gifted Philoſopher Helmont concerning the great Myſtery of the Philoſopher's Sulphur is fundamentally cleared by Joachim Poleman, out of a faithful and good Intent to thoſe that are ignorant and ſtraying from the Truth, as alſo out of Compaſſion to the Sick. Written by the Author in the German Tongue, and now publiſhed by F. H. a German.

London, ſold by J. Crook, 1662.

Tho. Smith of the Chaldee Paraphraſts.

Diatriba de Chaldaicis Paraphraſtis, eorumque Verſionibus ex utraque Talmudo, & ſcriptis Rabbinorum concinnata. Autore Thoma Smith, A. B. Coll. Reg. in Oxon.

Oxon. 1662, 8vo.

Account of the Author.

Tho. Smith Son of John Smith was born in the Pariſh of Allhallows Barkin, London, admitted Batler of Queen's College Oxon. in 1657. and ſoon after Clerk took the Degrees in Arts, that of Maſter being conferr'd upon him in 1663. &c.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 1020. Edit. 1721. See June 2, 1668.

Mr. Aſhmole of Arms and Inſcriptions in Derbyſhire.

Account of Arms, Inſcriptions, &c. in the Churches of Derbyſhire, copied by Mr. Aſhmole, Anno 1662.

Cod. MSS. Aſhmol. Oxon.

Anſwers to the Objections urged againſt Mr. Aſhmole's being made Hiſtoriographer to the Order of the Garter, A. D. 1662.

Ibid. 7413.

Will. Holbrook Blackſmith, betray'd by Cornet Joyce.

The Loyal Blackſmith and no Jeſuit. Being a true Relation how William Holbrooke Blackſmith of Marlborough was betray'd by Cornet George Joyce, who carried the King Priſoner from Holmeby, with his Examination before Bradſhaw and that bloody Crew.

London, 1662. 8vo. re-printed in 1676.

The Queſtion in Diſpute among the non-conforming Divines, Whether to yield a Lay Conformity to the Church, when they could not conform as Miniſters; or whether totally to ſeparate from the publick Aſſemblies, becauſe of the Liturgy and Ceremonies not lawful, not owning ſuch Separation to be Schiſm: Between Mr. Zach. Crofton late Miniſter of Botolph Aldgate; and Mr. Tho. Douglaſs late Miniſter of St. Olave Silver-ſtreet in London; who according to Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 33. wrote the Book called Jerubbaal; and fell under ſome Scandals, and afterwards travell'd and took the Degree of Doctor of Phyſick in Padua, returned to London and practiſed Phyſick, and ran in Debt. He afterwards went into Ireland and dy'd obſcurely. He was alſo the Author of the Sober Teſtimony againſt ſinful Compliance, in Defence of which Jerubbaal was written.

Jerubbaal. Or the Pleader Impleaded. Being an Anſwer to Mr. Crofton's (lately publiſhed) Plea for Communion with the Church under her preſent Corruptions, &c. entitled, Reformation not Separation, by Way of humble Remonſtrance thereunto, ſhewing, that Non-Communion with the Church of England in her Liturgy and Common Prayer in thoſe that (yet) joyn with her, in the ſubſtantial Ordinances and inſtituted Worſhip of Chriſt is no Schiſm, and that ſuch are unjuſtly called Separatiſts. In a Letter written by T. P. for the private Satisfaction of a Friend, and by him publiſhed for common Benefit.

London, 1662, 4to.

Jerubbaal Juſtified. Or a plain Rebuke of the High (pretended Humble) Remonſtrance and Plea againſt Mr. Crofton his Reformation not Separation, &c. Demonſtrating T. P. alias D. his groſs Miſtakes of Mr. Crofton his Principle and Argument: As alſo the Fallacy and Vanity of his pleaded Neceſſity for his (confeſſed) Separation from publick Aſſembles, which is found inſufficient to acquit him of Schiſm. To which is added, A Poſition diſputing the Lawfulneſs of Miniſters receiving an impoſed Liturgy.

London, 1663, 4to.

A Word to Dr. Womock: Or a ſhort Reply to his pretended Reſolution of Mr. Crofton's Poſition concerning Miniſters Uſe of an impoſed Liturgy: Diſcovering his Weakneſs and Errors in Defence of his groundleſs Seceſſion from ſolemn publick Worſhip miniſtred by the Engliſh Liturgy. By R. S. the Publiſher of Reformation not Separation.

Ibid.

The Works of Hugh Broughton. His Commentaries on Daniel, Revelations, &c. Publiſhed by Dr. Lightfoot.

London, 1662, Fol.

The Counteſs of Pembroke's Arcadia. Written by Sir Philip Sidney.

Ibid.

Friday Aug. 1.

Reſpects of the King to the Queen Mother.

This Day her Majeſty the Queen Mother came from Greenwich to Hampton-Court, where ſhe dined with the King's and Queen's Majeſties, the Duke and Ducheſs of York, all at the ſame Table, and returned the ſame Night to Greenwich. ——— On Saturday Auguſt 9. his Majeſty went this Morning to viſit the Queen Mother at Greenwich, and returned back that Evening to Hampton-Court.

Mercur. Publ. 4to.

The good Reception of Biſhop Hall at Cheſter.

Adviſed from Cheſter Auguſt 1. That on Wedneſday July 30. our Right Reverend Biſhop Dr. Hall came to this City, accompanied with the moſt loyal and worthy High Sheriff Thomas Leigh of Adlington, Eſq; and many Gentry of this County Palatine. About fourſcore Clergy-men rode before the Biſhop by two and two, next the Biſhop the Gentry, and after them the Citizens, all in decent Order, to the great Satisfaction of all his Majeſty's good Subjects in this County

Ibid.

ty. —— The next Day after my Lord Biſhop's Entrance into the City, he was ſolemnly inſtalled according to the Diſcipline of the Church of England.

Saturday Aug. 2.
Mr. Tho. Holbech, Rector of St. Auſtin's, London, in the Room of Mr. Simeon Aſh, deceaſed, who as Dr. Calamy obſerves, went ſeaſonably to Heaven at the very Time when he was caſt out of the Church, yet caſt out by Death, not by Act of Parliament.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 264.

Thomas Holbech, B. D. had the Rectory of St. Auſtin's London, conferr'd upon him by the Dean and Chapter of Paul's Auguſt 2, 1662. towards the Pewing of which Church he gave one hundred Pounds, and one hundred Pounds more towards the Rebuilding of St. Paul's Cathedral. He had been collated to the Prebend of Hoxton in the Church of St. Paul Auguſt 23, 1660. There ſeems no Doubt but he was the ſame Perſon with Mr. Holbech of Emanuel College Cambridge, who was voted Non Socius by the Houſe of Commons in 1642. He was born, if I miſtake not, in Warwickſhire, and beneficed ſome Time, as I have heard, in Oxfordſhire. But be that as it will, this is certain, that March 15, 1641. he was admitted to the Vicarage of Epping in Eſſex, and diſpoſſeſſed of it about October 1643. by the Houſe of Commons, who at the ſame Time thruſt one Henry Wilkinſon into it. He was alſo Doctor of Divinity, made Maſter of his College in 1677. and died before Novemb. 1680.

Dr. Clem. Breton Archdeacon of Leiceſter.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc. MS.

Clement Breton, S. T. P. admiſſus ad Archidiac. Leiceſtr. in Eccleſia Lincoln. vac. per Reſign. Roberti Hitche, S. T. P. ex Collatione D. Epiſcopi Lincoln. —— Obiit Anno 1669.

Account of Dr. Breton.

Clement Breton, M. A. born of a good Family, was before the Wars Rector of Church Langton in Leiceſterſhire, and Chaplain to King Charles I. After his Sequeſtration he came to live at Uppingham Com. Northton in a fair Houſe on the South Side of that Town, left to his Son Clement Breton, Eſq; and now 1723. inhabited by the Reverend Mr. Hodgſkin, where in the Parlour hangs the Picture of Mr. Archdeacon in his Doctor's Habit, repreſented as a grave, ſanguine, comely Man.

The French King's Letter of Leave to the Count d'Eſtrades.

Lettres de Monſieur d'Eſtrades, 8vo.

A Letter of the French King to the Count d' Eſtrades, going his Embaſſadour towards Holland, giving him Leave to go firſt over into England to talk with the King and Chancellour about important Affairs, &c. Dated St. Germain en Lay le 12. Aug. 1662.

Sunday Aug. 3.
One Objection to the Act of Uniformity cleared up.

In Defence of Injunctions and Subſcriptions.

Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4to, p. 44.

It is made an Argument againſt the Injunctions of Uniformity in the late Act, that Men might more eaſily agree in the Uſe of theſe little Things, were their internal Judgments ſpared, and Subſcriptions not enjoin'd. To which this Anſwer was given by an excellent Pen: Churches and States have never thought it ſafe to permit the Concernments of their Peace to the Ingenuity of Men, but have ſecured their Quiet by ſtrict Laws, and the Engagements of thoſe that were to miniſter in them. —— So that to take off Injunctions on this Score is neither prudent nor ſafe. But, alas! there is no Probability, that if they be not enjoyn'd, they will ever be uſed. For all the Time from the King's coming home, to the Time that the Act of Uniformity was to be put in Execution, there was a Suſpenſion of theſe Injunctions, yet it is ſufficently known, that none of the preſent Nonconformiſts did in the leaſt Meaſure agree in the Uſe of any of theſe little Things (as he calls them) but writ, preached, and rail'd againſt them. And tho' deſired by the King, to read ſo much of the Liturgy as themſelves had no Exception againſt, and ſo could have no Pretenſion from Conſcience; yet the Honour of their Party, and their Credit, was not to be reconciled; with ſuch a Compliance to the Condeſcenſions of their Sovereign, they thought to bring him and the Parliament to better Terms, by being high in their own Reſolutions. So freſh an Experiment cools us as to all the Hopes of what they may do; when they will not give any Aſſurance that they will do ſo.

A Cenſure of the Diſingenuity of the preſent Nonconformiſts.

Death of Sir Tho. Hewit.

Chauncey Hertfordſhire p. 176.

Death of Sir Thomas Hewit, Knight, Lord of the Manour of Sabridgworth Com. Hertford. knighted 16 Car. I. and created Baronet 12 Car. II. He died Auguſt 4, 1662. leaving Sir George his only ſurviving Son, created an Iriſh Peer Viſcount Hewitt of Goran 9. Apr. 1 Will. & Mary.

Monday Aug. 4.
Advice from Durham of the great Hoſpitality and other Virtues of Biſhop Coſin.

Mercur. Publ. 4to, No. 32. p. 531.

Adviſed from Durham, Auguſt 4, that the Lord Biſhop of Durham having (with abundance of Coſt) put ſome Part of his Caſtle of Durham in Order, did entertain the Judges, the Gentry, and Clergy of that Countrey during the whole Aſſizes, where the Gravity and good Order of his Entertainment and Hoſpitality was much admired by all. His Lordſhip with his Family and the Dean and Prebends went to the Choire to Divine Service each Day by ſix o' Clock. As he was rightly eſteemed in France, during his Exile, a great Pillar of the Church of England againſt the Papiſts; ſo doth he now, being returned, prove himſelf the ſame againſt Schiſmaticks; many and indeed moſt of the Preſbyterian Perſuaſion ſtriking ſail to the Force of his Reaſons and Example. For in ordaining Orthodox Prieſts and Deacons, in executing his Epiſcopal Function in Confirmation, in viſiting his Dioceſe in his own Perſon, both the Church-men and their Churches, in reſtoring the goodly Church and Caſtle of Durham defaced by the Scots, and in forming a Chapel and the Caſtle of Aulkland, demoliſhed by the ſacrilegious Hands of Sir Arthur Hazlerig; the Zeal for God's Houſe and the Church of England doth even (too truly) conſume the good old Man. His former Buildings at Cambridge and Branſpath manifeſt his noble and publick Spirit; the Value of this Biſhoprick being very much fallen by the Rapine of the late Uſurpers, the Poverty of the Tenants lying ſo under the Preſſure of ſo many Scotiſh and Engliſh Armies; and the Court of Wards being taken away without any Recompence; all which now make this Biſhoprick ceaſe to be the Envy of its Enemies.

And eſpecially his good Works.

A Quaker had propheſied evil Things by the Spirit.

Mr Long reports in his Hiſtory of Plots, 1684. 8vo. p. 92. that a good Author ſaith, He hath been credibly informed that a Jeſuit of St. Omer*'s declared, that they were twenty Years in hammering out the Sect of the* Quakers.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

At this Aſſizes John Langſtaffe, a Quaker, the Demoliſher of the goodly Chapel and Caſtle of Aulkland under Sir Arthur Hazlerig, pretending he was ſtirred up in the Night by the Spirit, writ a Letter to the Bench, wherein he took upon him to prophecy, that many ſtrange Judgments do hang over this Kingdom and Government, and forcing the Juſtices to take Notice of him, and denying to obey the Laws of the Land, and to take the Oaths enjoyned 3 Jacobi Cap. IV. he and many others being convicted by a Jury had the Sentence of Premunire pronounced againſt them, according to the good old Statute, openly avowing that they will meet in Aſſemblies, and glorying in their Sufferings.

George Fox his indefatigable Journies.

Journ. P. II. p. 27.

George Fox declares, that he and his Companion this Summer went from York to Burrough Bridge; thence we paſſed into the Biſhoprick, to one Richmond's, where there was a General Meeting, and the Lord's Power was over all; though People were grown exceeding rude about this Time. After the Meeting we went to Henry Draper's, where we ſtay'd all Night; and the next Morning a Friend came to me, as I was paſſing away, and told me, If the Prieſts and Juſtices (for many Prieſts were made Juſtices in that Countrey at that Time) could light on me, they would deſtroy me. But I being clear of the Biſhoprick, went over Stainmore into Part of Yorkſhire, and to Sedberg, where having viſited Friends I went into Weſtmoreland, &c.

The Quaker Women travelled to propagate their Tenets.

Impriſoned in the Inquiſition; to be ſet at Liberty by a Popiſh Lord: A Friend and Advocate of the Quakers.

Journal of George Fox, 8vo. Vol. I. p. 591.

There were two of our Friends in Priſon in the Inquiſition at Malta; they were both Women, the Name of the one was Catherine Evans, and of the other Sarah Chevers. I was told, that one called the Lord D'Aubenny could procure their Liberty, wherefore I went to him; and having informed him concerning their Impriſonment, deſired him to write to the Magiſtrates there for their Releaſe. He readily promiſed me he would, and ſaid, if I would come again within a Month, he would tell me of their Diſcharge. I went again about that Time, and he ſaid, he thought his Letters had miſcarry'd, becauſe he had received no Anſwer. But he promiſed he would write again; and he did ſo: And thereupon they were both ſet at Liberty.

Geo. Fox laboured to confute the Popiſh Lord, who confeſſed more than any other Papiſt to ingratiate himſelf.

With this great Man I had a great deal of Reaſoning about Religion, and he did confeſs, that Chriſt hath enlightned every Man that cometh into the World with his Spiritual Light, and that he had taſted Death for every Man, and that the Grace of God which brings Salvation hath appeared to all Men; and that it would teach them, and bring their Salvation, if they did obey it. Then I aſked him, What would they, the Papiſts, do with all their Relicks and Images, if they did own and believe in this Light, and receive the Grace to teach them, and bring their Salvation? And he ſaid, thoſe Things were but Policies to keep People in Subjection. Very free he was in Diſcourſe, and I never heard a Papiſt confeſs ſo much as he did.

TUESDAY Aug. 5.

Biſhop Hacket*'s Reception at* Coventry.

John Riland, A. M. admitted Archdeacon of Coventry Dec. 6, 1661. He died March 3, 1672. ætat. 53 and was buried at Birmingham in Warwickſhire. Le Neve and B. Willis.

Speech of Sir Tho. Norton to his Lordſhip.

The Account given by Dr. Plume in his Life of Biſhop Hacket runs thus, 30. He took his Journey to reſide upon his Charge, with great Congratulations of the loyal Gentry, and moſt dutiful Solicitations of the Orthodox Clergy, and unconceivable Joy and Satisfaction of all People. When his Lordſhip came to Coventry he was entertained with a Latin Speech made by Sir Thomas Norton, Baronet and in Holy Orders; and again, upon his firſt Entrance into Staffordſhire by Mr. Powell School-maſter of Stafford with another; to which his Lordſhip preſently in the ſame Language gave an elegant Reply to every Particular.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 32. p. 533.

Adviſed from Lichfield, That the Lord Biſhop of the Dioceſe being in his Journey towards Coventry, the High Sheriff of the County of Warwick, accompanied with the principal Gentry and Clergy of that Shire, to the Number of three hundred, met him at Willoughby, where after many Salutations of Endearment and Welcome, Mr. Archdeacon Riland addreſſed himſelf on Behalf of the Company to his Lordſhip in a Latin Oration, to let him know what an Eſteem the whole County had both of his Perſon and Function: With this noble Attendance our Biſhop was conducted towards Coventry, where about a Mile's Diſtance from the City, the Countrey Troops and Trained Bands were drawn up in a Readineſs to receive their much expected Dioceſan, who at his Approach towards them, welcomed him with loud Shouts and Acclamations of Well-wiſhes. After which Sir Thomas Norton in an handſome Speech gave an Account of the Value and Reſpect that they had alſo of his Lordſhip. —— From thence his Lordſhip went towards his Lodgings, whither Mr. Mayor and the Aldermen in their Formalities came to congratulate his Lordſhip's Arrival, from whence, after a ſmall Pauſe, he went to Trinity Church; and Divine Service ended, he was again accoſted in the Name of the Mayor, &c. with a third Speech, to all which his Lordſhip gave ſuch ſuitable Returns of Affection and Civility, that many of the moſt obſtinate Oppoſers of Epiſcopacy are melted into Moderation. 'Tis a Pleaſure to ſee, how earneſt and induſtrious both City and Countrey were to give Demonſtrations of their Loyalty to his Majeſty, and the good Opinion they have of the Church Government, notwithſtanding the ill Endeavours of ſome. They were very near five hundred that received Confirmation from his Lordſhip in one Day.

By theſe and other true Relations of the Reception of the ſeveral Biſhops of this Kingdom, the Reader may obſerve how ridiculouſly malicious theſe Brethren are that cry up the Preſbytery, whereof this Kingdom, and other Parts of his Majeſty's Dominions have had a ſufficient Taſte in the Days of their Covenant.

WEDNESDAY Aug. 6.

Mr. Hopkins*'s Funeral Sermon for* Algernon Grevil, Eſq;

London, for N. Ranew, 1663. 4to.

A Sermon preached at the Funeral of the Honourable Algernon Grevil, Eſq; ſecond Brother to the Right Honourable Robert Lord Brooke, &c. who died July 21. at Magdalen College in Oxford, and was buried at Warwick Auguſt 6, 1662. By Ezekiel Hopkins, M. A. [afterward Lord Biſhop of London-Derry in Ireland.]

Epiſtle Dedicatory.

To the Right Honourable the Lady Katherine Brook, Dowager.

Madam,

The Deſire of your dying Son brought me into the Pulpit, and now your Ladyſhip's commands into the Preſs. —— That God would preſerve your noble Sons yet remaining, and lengthen out their Lives, to fill up their deceaſed Brother's Hopes —— is the Prayers of,

Madam,

Hackney October
4, 1662.

Your Ladyſhip's moſt humble
And obedient Servant,
EZEKIEL HOPKINS.

Text, Eccleſ. ix. 5. For the Living know that they ſhall die.

His Character.

Having thus exhorted you to prepare for Death, I know not how farther to enforce it upon you with greater Advantage, than by propounding to you the Example of this noble Perſon deceaſed; whoſe whole Life was a more ſerious Preparation for Death, than moſt Mens dying Thoughts. —— In the Series of his whole Life there evidently appeared ſuch an Awe of God, and a real Senſe of true Piety and Religion, &c. His Induſtry was remarkable in the Aſſiduouſneſs of his Studies, where he ſpent not his Hours in Plays or Romances, thoſe Follies of good Wits, but in the Diſquiſition of ſolid and maſculine Knowledge, &c. ——

With Elegies by W. H. J. F. A. C. S. L. J. Y. and R. Y.

The Papiſts were ſoliciting a Royal indulgence to the Diſſenters, in order to obtain a general Toleration to themſelves.

The Papiſts were buſy at Court in preſſing the King to an Indulgence of the Proteſtant Diſſenters, hoping to carry it into a general Toleration. Of which Deſign Mr. Baxter was very ſenſible, and argued thus with a warm Diſſenting Brother, "Verily you will keep up the Papiſts Hope, that by an univerſal Toleration, they may at laſt come in on equal Terms with you; or by Connivance, be endured as much as you: And if they be equal in England with you, their tranſmarine Advantages will make them more than equal, notwithſtanding their Diſadvantages in their Cauſe, and their Contrariety to kingly Intereſt.

Mr. Baxter's laſt Anſwer to Mr. Bagſhawe p. 31.

Advice of the Book of Common Prayer as annexed to the Act of Uniformity, being printed and ready to be delivered.

Publick Advertiſement given, London Auguſt 6, 1662. That in Purſuance of the late Act for Uniformity of publick Prayers in the Church of England, the Book itſelf is now perfectly and exactly printed, and by the great Care and Prudence of the moſt Reverend Archbiſhops and Biſhops, Books in Folio are provided for all Churches and Chapels in this Kingdom: The Price of which Book, (though it contain one hundred ſixty five Sheets) is ordered to be but ſix Shillings ready bound.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 31. p. 514.

Biſhop Hacket was an Enemy to all Separation from the Church of England of whatſoever Faction or Sect. But their Hypocriſy he thought ſuperlative, that allowed the Doctrine, and yet would ſeparate for miſlike of the Diſcipline; theſe Mens Impudence outwent all preceding Hiſtories; and he would challenge any to ſhew him in all Antiquity for fifteen hundred Years, where any Chriſtian withdrew from the Churches Communion, much leſs roſe up againſt lawful Governours, for their Impoſition of indifferent Matters or Ceremonies? though in ancient Times they impoſed more than we do now: All that were baptized were preſented in white Garments, which the Prieſt charged them to keep white and undefiled to the Coming of the Lord; and they uſed not only the Sign of the Croſs, but Prægustatio Mellis & Lactis, intimating, that they were now brought to the Land of Canaan flowing with Milk and Honey: Standing at Prayers was required upon all Lord's-Days between Eaſter and Whitſuntide, and Prayer with their Hands extended, after the Similitude of a Croſs ſometimes, which muſt needs be very tedious; and ſo many other Things in St. Auſtin's Time, that his Complaint is well known, Tolerabilior erat Judæorum Conditio; yet no ſeparate Churches were then ſet up for theſe Things.

Dr. Plume's Life of Biſhop Hacket, Fol. p. 42.

THURSDAY Aug. 7.
The good Affection of the City of London.

Sir Rich. Brown had five hundred Pounds per Ann. ſettled on him.

To let the World ſee how falſe the Reports are concerning the Affections of the Common-Council and City of London to his Majeſty's Service and Government, we cannot but acquaint you, that the moſt vigilant and worthy Sir Richard Brown, Knight and Baronet, had, by the unanimous Conſent of that great Body of the City of London in Common-Council aſſembled, five hundred Pounds per Annum conferred on him, for no other Reaſon, but for that great Zeal, Prudence, and Fidelity he hath expreſſed in Preſervation of the Peace of that City, whereof by his Majeſty's Commiſſion he is Major-General; an Act ſo worthy, and (thus generouſly beſtowed) ſo becoming the Honour of the City of London, that his Majeſty's good Subjects will all look upon it, as an unanſwerable Argument of the great Loyalty of that now excellent Common-Council and City.

Mercur. Polit. 4to. No. 33. p. 553.

Mr. Will. Cave Vicar of Iſlington.

1662. 7. Aug. Gulielmus Cave, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Iſlington Com. Midd. vac. per Mort. Leonardi Cooke ult. Incumb. ex preſ. Duke Stonehouſe Armig.

Reg. Henchman.

1691. 4. Maii. Robertus Gery, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Iſlington, vac. per Ceſſ. Guliel. Cave, S. T. P. ex preſ. Georg. Stonehouſe Gen.

Reg. Compton.

FRIDAY Aug. 8.
Publick Notice given of an Ordination by the Biſhop of London,

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 33. p. 554.

There is Notice publickly affixed at the Entrance of the great Cathedral of St. Paul, London, that the Right Reverend Father in God Gilbert Lord Biſhop of this Dioceſe, ſeriouſly conſidering, that divers Perſons of competent Abilities for the Miniſtry, not yet admitted into Holy Orders, and ſeveral others who

As a Means for many Scholars and incompetent Miniſters to return to their Mother the Church.

who took upon them the Execution of that Function without fit Qualifications, according to the Conſtitutions of the Church of England, might want the deſired Means of Reception or Return to their Mother the Church, by the ſacred Impoſition of Hands at this critical Seaſon, (the Time of Ordination according to the Canons being now paſt, and his Right Reverend Brethren the Biſhops all returned to their ſeveral Dioceſes) did, out of his indulgent Care and wonted Prudence (notwithſtanding his neceſſary Attendance on the Sacred Perſon of his moſt excellent Majeſty, and not without eſpecial Faculty and Diſpenſation for that Purpoſe) appoiht a particular Day and Place, viz. Thurſday the twenty firſt of this inſtant Auguſt, in his ſaid Cathedral for a Day of Ordination to all Perſons within his Dioceſe, who upon ſufficient Recommendation, fit Qualifications, and due Examination ſhall be found capable to receive the ſacred Orders of Deacon and Prieſt, or either of them, according to the Manner and Form lately publiſhed and enjoined in the Church of England: Whereof Publication is here made, that ſuch as have theſe holy Deſires may come and receive the Benefit, and others prevented from pleading Impoſſibility or want of timely Notice.

Order of Council for revoking Letters Patents granted upon falſe Suggeſtions to obtain a Brief.

At Whitehall the 8th of Auguſt, 1662.

The Lords of his Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy-Council being informed, that upon falſe Suggeſtions and counterfeit Certificates, Letters Patents have been granted to one Thomas Thornton, James Nelſon, and Chriſtopher Milner (Inhabitants of Sowreby in the Pariſh of Thirſke in the North-Riding of Yorkſhire) for a Collection for Loſs by Fire to the Value of three thouſand one hundred Pounds (whereas in Truth no ſuch Fire was;) and one Richard Brookes of St. Andrew's Holborn in the County of Middleſex, Eſq; is conſtituted Treaſurer, with Power to depute Collectors, and to diſtribute and diſpoſe the Monies collected by Virtue of the ſaid unduly procured Letters Patents: Theſe are to give publick Notice of the ſaid Cheat, to the End that his Majeſty's Subjects receive no further Prejudice by the ſaid falſe Directions from Brookes: There being likewiſe Care taken for the bringing of all Perſons who have been Contrivers and Acceſſaries to this leud Practice to condign Puniſhment: And it is ordered, that Dr. Birkenhead do take Care that this Advertiſement be printed in the next weekly News Book

Richard Brown.

Saturday Aug. 9.

The diſſenting Miniſters very buſy in conſulting about the Act of Uniformity.

Eachard, Ch. II. p. 88.

The diſſenting Miniſters, eſpecially the Preſbyterians, were under great Conſultations and Difficulties with relation to the formidable Act of Uniformity. Some indeed were poſitive and reſolute againſt any Compliance with it, but great Numbers were very doubtful and uncertain, and appeared to have had hard Struggles among the various Attractions of Conſcience and Honour, Intereſt and Humour. The Act was ſtrictly penn'd, and preſſed hard upon late Principles and Practices; and the Severity of it was, no doubt, promoted by ſome who were concerned in it, to keep out ſeveral particular Teachers, who they thought did not deſerve to enter into the Church. A continual Intercourſe of Letters and Meſſages paſſed between thoſe in the City and the reſt in Countries, how to proceed in this nice Affair: Sometimes the chief of them were for Compliance, as I have been aſſured by the beſt Hands; and then upon further Conſideration, they changed their Minds. They were under conſiderable Temptations on both Sides; on one Side their Livings and Preferments were no ſmall Inducement towards their Compliance: On the other Side, beſides their Conſciences, they were much encouraged by the Greatneſs of their Numbers, and were made to believe, that if they unanimouſly ſtood out, the Church muſt come to them, ſince the People would never bear ſo ſhocking a Change, nor endure ſo great a Silence of the Word, as muſt happen if the Act took Place. Beſides, they had great Expectations from ſeveral Friends at Court, and particularly the Popiſh Party, who gave them great Encouragement, not only by a Promiſe of Penſions to ſome, but alſo by a Toleration, and a Suſpenſion of the Act itſelf, which not long after was partly made good. No doubt but the Noncompliance of ſeveral proceeded purely from a tender Conſcience, and in that Caſe ought not only to be pitied, but rather applauded than condemned.

The Temptations on both Sides.

They truſted to their Numbers.

And ſo in Scotland, as Biſhop Burnet well obſerves, the Heads of the Preſbyterians reckoned, that if great Numbers were turned out all at once, it would not be poſſible to fill their Places on the ſudden, and that the Government would be forced to take them in again. Hiſtory of his own Times, p. 153.

Mr Ralph Sanderſon Prebendary of Sarum.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 133

Auguſt 9, 1662. Ralph Sanderſon, M. A. had the Prebend of Netherhaven in the Church of Saliſbury, on the Reſignation of John Pearſon, and died before January 22, 1679. and was then ſucceeded by Thomas Ward.

Sunday Aug. 10.

Mr. Baxter's Reflections on the Act of Uniformity not charitable.

Life of Mr. Baxter, *Fol. Lib.*I. Part. II. p. 384.

When the Act of Uniformity was paſſed, it gave all the Miniſters that could not conform no longer Time than till Bartholomew Day, Aug. 24, 1662. and then they muſt be all caſt out. (This fatal Day called to Remembrance the French Maſſacre, when on the ſame Day thirty or forty thouſand Proteſtants periſhed by religious Roman Zeal and Charity.) I had no Place, but only that I preached twice a Week by Requeſt in other Mens Congregations at Milk-ſtreet and Black-Fryars; and the laſt Sermon that ever I preached in publick was on May 25. The Reaſons why I gave over ſooner than moſt others, were, 1. Becauſe Lawyers did interpret a doubtful Clauſe in the Act, as ending the Liberty of Lecturers at that Time. 2. Becauſe I would let Authority ſoon know, that I intended to obey them in all that was lawful. 3. Becauſe I would let all Miniſters in England underſtand in Time, whether I intended to conform or not: For had I ſtay'd to the laſt Day, ſome would have conformed the ſooner, upon a Suppoſition that Though he himſelf loſt nothing but the Opportunities of Preaching in other Mens Congregations.

He himſelf had left off Preaching two Months before, to let other Miniſters know that he never intended to conform that I intended it. Theſe with other Reaſons moved me to ceaſe three Months before Bartholomew Day, which many cenſured me for a while, but after better ſaw the Reaſons of it.

The late Diſſenters ſhew the ſame inveterate Spirit:

And give an odious Account of the Act of Uniformity, as far from Truth as Charity.

For the Clergy had very little Power to move the two Houſes.

Nor could they ſuggeſt the moſt ſevere and unaccountable Paſſages in it.

Nor were they able to have any hand in Sham Plots.

They knew the old Liturgy, and could not but hear that the Alterations were ſuch as their own Friends had deſired in the Savoy Conference, for their own Satiſfaction.

None who had conformed to the old Liturgy, could now be offended with the new.

Mr. Robinſon's Anſwer to Dr. Bennet's brief Hiſtory of Liturgies, 1720. 8vo. p. 394.

All the unprejudiced World will without Doubt agree, that it was an inſufferable Hardſhip to be obliged to aſſent and conſent to, and declare their Approbation of, they know not what. And this was the Caſe of the Clergy in general, when this National Liturgy was ſo rigorouſly impos'd ih 1662. I do not at all enter in the Hiſtory of the Act of Uniformity; I do not tell the World, that it was chiefly at the Inſtigation of ſome furious High-flying Clergymen that it was firſt mov'd; that all the ſevereſt and moſt unaccountable Paſſages in it, were what they ſuggeſted; that they alſo had a principal Hand in the Sham Plots, and other indirect and unjuſtifiable Methods, by which (though with great Difficulty) they gain'd their Point at laſt: A juſt and impartial Account of which Things, would at once entertain and amaze all the conſidering Part of Mankind. But that ſingle Circumſtance, to which I confine myſelf at preſent is, the Time appointed and limited by the Act for their Compliance: Which was before it was poſſible for them to know what they were to conform to.

To make this appear with the moſt convincing Evidence, it ſhould be remember'd, firſt, that there were various Additions and Alterations now made by the Convocation, whereupon the Book of Common-Prayer became another Book, and not the ſame with that they were before acquainted with. Of this they had frequent Intimations in the Act of Uniformity itſelf, in the Preamble to which they were inform'd, that his Majeſty had been pleas'd to authorize and require the Preſidents of the Convocations, [then ſitting] and other the Biſhops and Clergy of the ſame, to review the Book of Common-Prayer, &c.

And had the old Liturgy been impos'd they would have complain'd more grievouſly, and indeed more juſtly, that they could obtain no Alterations or Additions.

Secondly, It was to this Book, with all thoſe Alterations and Additions, that the Clergy were oblig'd to aſſent and conſent, and all theſe they muſt declare their Approbation of, and not the old Book that had been in uſe before the Alterations and Additions were made. And conſequently, tho' they had never ſo carefully conſider'd the old Common-Prayer-Book, and were able unfeignedly to profeſs their Aſſent and Conſent to, and Approbation of all and every Thing in the old Book, yet they could not therefore alſo agree to all the Alterations and Additions, with which they were then unacquainted.

Not true, that every Miniſter not conforming to the Act before Bartholomew Day, was ipſo facto depriv'd.

For a lawful Impediment was to be allow'd by the Ordinary.

And without ſuch expreſs Allowance, many kept in their Benefices, who did not rightly conform till ſome Months after Bartholomew Day.

And thirdly, the Time allow'd was not ſufficient to ſatisfy themſelves what were the Alterations and Additions, now ſo ſeverely bound upon them; much leſs to enable them (as they were requir'd) to declare their unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent to 'em, to all and every Thing contain'd in and preſcrib'd by them. This they muſt do, every Miniſter in England, that had any Benefice upon ſome Lord's-Day before Bartholomew Day, or from that Day be ipſo facto depriv'd of their Livings. Yet when this was the utmoſt Time allow'd 'em, thoſe who had the Management in their Hands, took effectual Care, that they ſhould not (within that Time) be ſo much as able to know, what they were requir'd to aſſent and conſent to.

Not true, that the new Liturgy did not come out of the Preſs till about Bartholomew Eve.

It was publiſh'd and deliver'd ſome Weeks before.

Nor did one Miniſter (that we ever heard of) ſuffer merely for want of the Book in Time.

'Tis well known, and what has oft been complain'd of, that this new Liturgy (to every Part of which they muſt declare their unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent on ſome Lord's-Day before Bartholomew Day) did not itſelf come out of the Preſs till about Bartholomew-Eve. So that tho' the printed Books had been (as not any one of them, either then or ever ſince were) true and perfect Copies of that Liturgy the Act refers to, 'tis the Admiration of all the unprejudiced World, that the whole Body of the Engliſh Miniſtry were not thereupon ſilenc'd at once.

Some of the Lords encourag'd the Miniſters in their Nonconformity, by their own Confeſſion.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 143.

Suppoſed to be Lord Wharton.

The Preſbyterian Lords encourag'd their Clerks to diſpute the Act of Uniformity. Mr. Benjamin Agas, Miniſter of Cheyneys in Bucks, gave this Relation: A little before the Black-Bartholomew, a certain noble Lord in Diſcourſe, enquir'd of me what my Intentions were, and whether I would conform or not? I anſwer'd his Lordſhip, that ſuch Things were requir'd and enjoyn'd, as I could not ſwallow, and therefore ſhould be neceſſitated to march off, and ſound a Retreat. His Lordſhip ſeem'd much concern'd for me, and us'd many Arguments to reconcile me to a Compliance. But perceiving me not mov'd, at laſt he ſaid with a Sigh, I wiſh it had been otherwiſe, but they were reſolv'd either to reproach you, or undo you. And about a Year after, another great Peer ordering me to wait on his Lordſhip, propos'd ſomething with Reference to the Liturgy, which I was not free to, and therefore crav'd to be excus'd: And ſpeaking about the hard Terms of Conformity, his Lordſhip reply'd, I confeſs, I ſhould ſcarcely do ſo much for the Bible as they require for the Common-Prayer. Which ſhews (ſays he) how little the Nobility were pleas'd with the high and rigorous Proceedings of the Clergy, and how they were rather the Advocates than the Accuſers of the Nonconformiſts,

For ſome of the Lords were Preſbyterian, Lord Wharton, &c.

And the ſaid Miniſters were more incourag'd by the confident Report, that the King would indulge them, and diſpenſe with the Act of Uniformity.

It is very plain, that many of the Miniſters were encourag'd to ſtand out, in hopes that the King would be favourable to them, and reſtore them and their Way. One of their chief Advocates, Mr. Edward Bagſhaw, had raiſed himſelf and Brethren to this glorious Expectation, in his Second Part of the great Queſtion concerning Things Indifferent, publiſhed in September 1661. where he concludes his Arguments for Non-Conformity with theſe comfortable Words: "How will "Truth then being unfettered and ſet free from the Clogs of pretended Decency, "but indeed Antichriſtian Tyranny, run through this Nation, and chaſe Error "before it as Light doth Darkneſs! This great and glorious Work I dare al- "moſt Prophecy that his Majeſty is reſerved for, whoſe pious and unequalled “ Declaration hath already indulged as much Liberty, as any ſober-minded “ Chriſtian can pretend to; and which will then undoubtedly be made a Law, “ when by our conſtant and chearful Sufferings for this Doctrine of Liberty, we “ have expiated and waſhed away thoſe Scandals which our many odious and “ unparallell'd Abuſes have caſt upon it.

MONDAY Aug. 11.

Dr. Peter du Moulin's Obſervation of a Paſſage in Blondell's Apologia in favour of Epiſcopacy, left out at the Entreaty of Preſbyterians, in the late Times.

A Letter of Dr. Peter du Moulin, Prebendary of the Church of Canterbury, one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in ordinary, touching a Paſſage for Epiſcopacy, written by Mr. David Blondell in his Apologia pro Hieronimi Sententia, but left out at the Entreaty of the Preſbyterians. The Words were to this purpoſe: “ By “ all that we have ſaid to aſſert the Rights of the Preſbytery, we do not intend “ to invalidate the ancient and apoſtolical Conſtitution of Epiſcopal Pre-eminence: But we believe that whereſoever it is eſtabliſhed conformably to the “ ancient Canons, it muſt be carefully preſerved, and whereſoever by ſome Heat “ of Contention or otherwiſe, it hath been put down or violated, it ought to “ be reverently reſtored.”

Durell's Conformity of the Church of England, 4^to^. 1662. Append.

Mr. Richard Moody Rector of Teigh Com. Rutl.

Die 11. Aug. 1662. Ricardus Moody Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Teigh in Com. Rutl. vac. per reſign. Franciſci Meres ult. Incumb. ad preſ. D. Benneth Sherard, Baronis de Trim in Regno Hibern.

Reg. Laney.

The Lawfulneſs of Conformity ſtated, in the grand Caſe of the preſent Miniſtry.

The Grand Caſe of the preſent Miniſtry, whether they may lawfully declare and ſubſcribe, as by the late Act of Uniformity is required? And the ſeveral Caſes thence ariſing (more eſpecially about the Covenant) are clearly ſtated and faithfully reſolved. With an Addition to his former Caſes of Conſcience hereunto ſubjoined. By the ſame indifferent Hand.

London, for T. Dring, 1662, 12^o^.

Recenſui Tractatum hunc cui Titulus, The Grand Caſe. Grande quidem opus, ſi quod intendit efficiat. Sextilis 11^o^. 1662. M. FRANK, S.T.P. &c.

A pathetical Preface to it.

The Preface concluding —— Are the Talents of our Offices our Gifts, and our Opportunities of doing good, at our own Diſpoſal? Are the Shrieks and Cries of the Souls of our People, of our Wives and Children hanging upon us, eaſily anſwered? Or the Importunity of Friends, the Reaſonings of Brethren, the Perſuaſions of all the eminent foreign reformed Divines, the Authority of long continued Cuſtom in our own Church, or the Laws of the Land, can all theſe nothing prevail! What ſhall we ſay to theſe Things? If it be ſinful to conform, declare wherein: If not, but ſome ſmaller Matter hinders us, I cannot but remember then, that he that died of the Bite of a Weaſel, lamented that it was not a Lyon. I ſpeak as unto wiſe Men; judge ye what I ſay, and the God of Truth and Peace be with you. Amen.

Another excellent Piece by the ſame Hand.

There is extant an excellent Piece, entituled, Some neceſſary and ſeaſonable Caſes of Conſcience, about Things indifferent in Matters of Religion. Briefly, yet faithfully ſtated and reſolved, wherein the juſt Bounds of Impoſing on the one Hand, and of Obeying on the other, are truly fixed. By the ſame Hand.

Ibid.

WEDNESDAY Aug 13.

The King grants Liberty to the Walloons at Thorney, to exerciſe their Proteſtant Religion and Diſcipline.

And even this common Juſtice to Foreigners, gave Hopes of Indulgence to our own People.

The two Chaplains then appointed at Thorney.

Letters Patents of King Charles II. granting free Indulgence and Liberty to the Walloons and other Foreigners to exerciſe their Proteſtant Religion and Diſcipline in the Church of Thorney in the Iſle of Ely in the French Tongue, as it hath hitherto been practis'd by them, with Power to make Choice of Miniſters to be approved by William Earl of Bedford, and the Biſhop of the Dioceſe for the Time being. Given at Hampton-Court this 13^th^ Day of Auguſt 1662. in the 14^th^ Year of our Reign. [Upon which the Earl of Bedford appointed the Engliſh Chaplain or Miniſter, Mr. Brecknock, who refuſed to conform in his Church of Thornhaugh Com. Northampton; and the French Miniſter Monſieur Menard, who died lately Canon of Windſor.]

La Mothe Correſpond. Fraternelle, 1707. 8vo. p. 518.

THURSDAY Aug. 14.

Debate in Council upon ſuſpending the Execution of the Act of Uniformity.

The Earl of Mancheſter for it.

The Biſhop of London againſt it;

Who undertakes to fill the London Pulpits with better Men.

Others took great Pains to perſuade the Party to ſtick together.

And infuſed into them to ſhew their Strength by their Numbers.

This encourag'd many to go out to keep their Friends Company.

This Readineſs to ſuffer Perſecution, rais'd a Compaſſion for them.

There was a great Debate in Council a little before St. Bartholomew's Day, whether the Act of Uniformity ſhould be punctually executed or not. Some moved to have the Execution of it delayed to the next Seſſion of Parliament. Others were for executing of it in the main, but to connive at ſome eminent Men, and to put Curates into their Churches to read and officiate according to the Common-Prayer, but to leave them to preach on, till they ſhould die out. The Earl of Mancheſter laid all theſe Things before the King with much Zeal, but with no great Force. Sheldon on the other hand preſs'd the Execution of the Law: England was accuſtomed to obey Laws. So while they ſtood on that Ground they were ſafe, and needed fear none of the Dangers that ſeemed to be threatned: He alſo undertook to fill all the vacant Pulpits that ſhould be forſaken in London, better and more to the Satisfaction of the People, than they had been before. And he ſeemed to apprehend that a very ſmall Number would fall under the Deprivation, and that the Groſs of the Party would conform. On the other hand, thoſe who led the Party, took great Pains to have them all ſtick together: They infuſed it into them, that if great Numbers ſtood out, that would ſhew their Strength, and produce new Laws in their Favour: Whereas they would be deſpiſed if after ſo much Noiſe made, the greater Part of them ſhould conform. So it was thought, that many went out in the Crowd to keep their Friends Company. Many of theſe were diſtinguiſhed by their Abilities and Zeal: They caſt themſelves upon the Providence of God, and the Charity of Friends, which had a fair Appearance, as of Men that were ready to ſuffer Perſecution for their Conſciences. This begot Eſteem, and raiſed Compaſſion. Whereas the old Clergy, now much enriched, were as much deſpiſed: But the

Bp. Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, Fol. p. 192.

See Aug. 20.

young

The good Eſtate of Learning at Oxford.

young Clergy that came from the Univerſities did good Service. Learning was then high at Oxford, chiefly the Study of the Oriental Tongues, which was much raiſed by the Polyglot Bible, then lately ſet forth. They read the Fathers much there: Mathematicks and the new Philoſophy were in great Eſteem; &c.

Dr. Henry Brunſell Rector of Stretham in Com. Cantabrig.

Reg. Wren. Elien.

An. 1662. Aug. 14. Collatus eſt Henricus Brunſell, Legum Doctor, ad Rectoriam de Stretham cum Capella de Thetford in Com. Cantabrig. per varios defectus quibus quendam Magiſtrum Robertum Car Incubatorem nuper ibidem degravari conſtat, de jure Regni Angliæ, prorſus vacantem.

Dr. William Sancroft Maſter of Emanuel College, Cambridge.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 144.

Aug. 14, 1662. Dr. Will. Sancroft, who after his Expulſion from a Fellowſhip of Emanuel College, Cambridge, for refuſing the Engagement, had ſpent ſome Years in France and Italy, among the moſt learned Men of thoſe Countries, and proſecuted his Studies there with indefatigable Induſtry; was elected Maſter of his College Aug. 14, 1662. and govern'd that Houſe with great Prudence and Affability.

Sunday Aug. 17.

Renouncing the Covenant the greateſt Obſtacle of Conformity to the Preſbyterians.

Which ſeems to have been the Caſe of Mr. Edmund Calamy, and ſome others, who in Speeches, Sermons, and Tracts had ſhewn a ſuperſtitious Zeal for the Covenant, beyond the Degrees of common Superſtition. So Mr. Crofton, &c.

The Renouncing the Covenant was the greateſt Objection to the Conformity of the Preſbyterians, eſpecially to thoſe who had preſs'd the taking of it, and cried it up for the Sovereign Balſame of the Times, and made the Obligation of it the common Subject of their Sermons, tho' they confeſs'd their wilful breaking long before this legal renouncing of it. As Mr. Calamy in his famous Faſt Sermon upon Chriſtmas Day 1644. Conſider (ſaid he) the late National Covenant you have taken, wherein you have lifted up your Hands to the moſt high God, and have ſworn to ſtudy Unity and Conformity in Religion, &c. and to endeavour according to your Places to extirpate Hereſy, Schiſm, &c. I know not how it is come to paſs, but ſure I am our Diviſions are greater ſince we took this Covenant than before. And ſure I am, that God will call us to a ſtrict Account for this grievous Sin of Perjury. And if ever England periſh by theſe Wars, this ſhall be England's Motto: Here lyeth a Nation that hath broken Covenant with God, and therefore is this great Evil come upon her.

Form of a Certificate from the Ordinary, for not reading the new Book of Common-Prayer within the Time appointed by the Act.

Reg. Dec. & Capit. Petriburg, MS.

A Certificate given by the Lord Biſhop of Peterborough, allowing a lawful Impediment for Perſons not reading the Book of Common-Prayer, &c. within the Time preſcribed by the late Act of Uniformity.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament made and printed this preſent Year 1662. for the Uniformity of publick Prayers, &c. it is enacted among other Things, &c. and that every ſuch Perſon, who ſhall (without ſome lawful Impediment, to be allowed and approved of by the Ordinary of the Place) neglect or refuſe to do the ſame within the Time aforeſaid, ſhall ipſo facto be deprived of his ſpiritual Promotions. And foraſmuch as the Books of Common-Prayer appointed by the ſaid Act to be read, could not be gotten by the Dean and Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church of Peterborough (ſo as they might read the ſame in the ſaid Cathedral) before the 17th of this Inſtant Auguſt, being the Sunday immediately preceding the Feaſt of St. Bartholomew, upon which Day it is not poſſible, that all the Members of the ſaid Cathedral Church ſhould read the ſaid Service in Manner and Form as is by the ſaid Act directed: We therefore by the Power given to us by the ſaid Act, do allow and approve of the ſaid Impediment, and do hereby declare it ſo to be for the not reading the ſaid Service as directed, and for not declaring of their Conſents as required in and by the ſaid Act.

The lawful Impediment was declared to be, the Book not coming down to the Church till Aug. 17. the Sunday before Bartholomew, when all the Members could not read it in due Form.

And the like Diſpenſation by Law was to be granted to any of the Clergy upon the like Reaſon.

Sealed and Signed this 17th of Auguſt 1662.

B. Peterborough.

The London Miniſters not conforming now, preached their Farewell Sermons, ſoon after publiſhed with Cuts.

Printed at London, 1662, 8vo.

The Farewell Sermons of the late London Miniſters, preached on the 17th of Auguſt 1662. before their Ejectment on St. Bartholomew's Day. Joſeph Caryl, Edmund Calamy, Dr. Thomas Manton, Thomas Caſe, William Jenkyns, Richard Baxter, Dr. Thomas Jacomb, Dr. William Bates, Thomas Watſon, Thomas Lye, and Matthew Mead. With their ſeveral Effigies in the Title Page.

The Preachers who reſolved not to conform, were many of them angry in their laſt Sermons.

Dr. Calamy's *Contin. p.*238. Letter of an aged Clergyman.

Mr. Robert Atkins, Preacher at St. John's in Exeter, preached a Sermon on 2 Cor. iii. 6. called Able Miniſters of the New-Teſtament, a few Days before the fatal Bartholomew, when Biſhop Gauden and a Multitude more were his Hearers. And I yet well remember he affirm'd (and by 1 Cor. iv. 15. Ye have not many Fathers, for in Chriſt Jeſus I have begotten you through the Goſpel, proved) that thoſe Miniſters who beget Converts to Chriſt, may moſt properly be called Fathers in God.

A Collection of their Sayings in the Pulpit.

The Author of Evangelium Armatum: Or a Collection of ſeveral Doctrines and Poſitions deſtructive to our Government, preached and vented by Mr. Calamy, Mr. Jenkins, &c. (ſuppoſed to be Dr. Tho. Pierce) London, 4to. 1663. concludes his Preface to that Collection in theſe Words:

The fooliſh People had been bewitched by them.

There ſeems to be a more than ordinary Significance in that Saying of the Prophet, that Rebellion is as the Sin of Witchcraft, and that I conceive, not only for its equal Malignity, but alſo for its peculiar Analogy and Cognation: For if we reflect upon the late Inſtances of it amongſt ourſelves, we ſhall find, that the People could never be brought to rebel till their Preachers had firſt bewitched them. But I hope the World will be ſo far unbewitched as to read this Collection with their Farewell Sermons lately printed together, and expoſed to Sale with ſo much Oſtentation: Of which I ſhall ſay this, that they may very properly be called Fare-well Sermons, ſince Experience is like to manifeſt, that their Congregations never fared ſo well, as when ſuch Preachers preached their laſt.

The

Some of their Sermons were printed ſingly.

London, printed in the Year 1662, 4^{to}.

The Paſtor's Love expreſſed to a loving People, in a farewell Sermon preached at Stephens Wallbrook, London, Auguſt 17, 1662. By Mr. Thomas Watſon. Acts xx. 38. Sorrowing moſt of all for the Words that he ſpake, that they ſhould ſee his Face no more.

To the Reader. Here is preſented to thy View the laſt Sermon of Mr. Thomas Watſon that he preached to his loving and beloved People of Stephen's Wallbrook, the reverend Author having no Knowledge of its Publication, &c.

A ſeaſonable Leſſon to them.

Dr. Stillingfleet's Sermon of the Miſchiefs of Separation, 1680, 4^{to}.

Ball againſt Cann of Separation, p. 13.

They might have conſider'd how many Things muſt be born with in the Conſtitution of a Church, which cannot be expected in this World to be without Spot or Wrinkle. And if Men will ſet themſelves only to find Faults, it is impoſſible in this State of Things they ſhould ever be pleaſed. And if they ſeparate where they ſee any Thing amiſs, they muſt follow his Example, who purſued this Principle ſo far, till he withdrew from all Society, leſt he ſhould communicate with them in their Sin; in which Condition he continued till his Children lay dead in the Houſe, and he became utterly unable to help himſelf. And becauſe no humane Inventions were to be allow'd about the Worſhip of God, he had cut out of his Bible the Contents of the Chapters, and Titles of the Leaves, and ſo left the bare Text without Binding or Covers. This is the Caſe the rigid and impracticable Principles of ſome would bring us to, by cutting off all Rules of Order and Decency as Encroachments on the Inſtitution of Chriſt.

MONDAY Aug 18.

Dr. Rob. Cary Dean of Exeter.

Robert Cary, LL. D. was inſtalled in the Archdeaconry of Exeter, void by the Reſignation of Dr. Edward Young, Aug. 13, 1662. and reſigned it in 1664. —— Edward Young, S. T. P. was elected and inſtalled Dean of the Cathedral Church of Exeter, in the Room of Dr. Seth Ward, promoted to that Biſhoprick Aug. 21, 1662. —— He had been Fellow of New-College, Oxon. and Proctor for the Univerſity Apr. 20, 1642. he died in 1663.

TUESDAY Aug. 19.

Mr. Hen. Jeanes, his Birth, Education, Preferments.

Ath. Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*195.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 585. Continuat. p. 736.

Death of an eminent Preſbyterian Mr. Henry Jeanes, Son of Chriſtopher Jeanes of Kingſton in Somerſetſhire, born at Allenſay in that County; Commoner of New-Inn in Oxon. 1626. After he had taken the Degrees in Arts, he removed to Hart-Hall, took Holy Orders, and ſoon after was cried up for a learned Preacher in the Univerſity. In the Beginning of Aug. 1635. he was preſented by Sir John Windham to the Rectory of Beer-Crocomb and Capland in Somerſetſhire, and ſoon after became Vicar of Kingſton in the ſame County. At length upon the Change of the Times in 1641. he cloſed with the Preſbyterians, notwithſtanding he had before (while he continued in the Univerſity) been a Scoffer of them: And when Dr. Walter Rawleigh was thrown out of Chedſey near Bridgwater, he became Rector of the Church there; where during the Times of Uſurpation, he took into his Family divers Youths deſigned for the Univerſity, and read to them (contrary to his Oath) Logick and Philoſophy, and had oftentimes ſet Diſputations among them, while he himſelf moderated. He was a moſt excellent Philoſopher, a noted Metaphyſician, and well grounded in Polemical Divinity. He was alſo a ſcholaſtical Man, a Contemner of the World, generous, free-hearted, jolly, witty and facetious, and in many Things repreſented the Humour of Dr. Rob. Wild the Poet. All which Qualities do very rarely meet in Men of the Preſbyterian Perſuaſion, who generally are moroſe, clowniſh, and of ſullen and reſerved Natures. —— He gave way to Fate in the City of Wells ſome few Days before the fatal Day of St. Bartholomew 1662. and was buried in the Cathedral Church there. At which Time one of his Perſuaſion intended to preach a Sermon of Mortality, but Dr. Piers the then Biſhop of that Place, who had no Affection for Jeanes, becauſe he knew him to be a Heretick, and often call'd him ſo, examined the Sermon, leſt any Thing therein might be ſpoken in Commendation of him and his Opinions.

Rector of Chedſey in the Room of Dr. Walter Rawleigh ſequeſtred.

His Learning and good Abilities.

His Death at Wells.

Buried in the Cathedral Church.

Debate in Council upon a Petition to ſuſpend the executing the Act of Uniformity, as repreſented by the common Hiſtorians.

Heath's *Chron. p.*511. See Aug. 14. and 20.

Many Endeavours there had been in Parliament for ſome Toleration of the Preſbyterians, after the Act of Uniformity, and their Friends ſolicited it to the utmoſt, but not able to carry it there, they applied themſelves to his Majeſty and the Privy-Council, but upon full Debate of their Petition, and as full a Hearing, the Council laid it aſide, there being none preſent to anſwer and diſpute their Pretences to a ſuperſeding the expreſs Meaning of the Act, but the Biſhop of London: And ſo all their Chimera's or Expectations they had raiſed in the Countrey by their Letters, to the obſtinating of the more indifferent to the Reſiſtance of this Law, from which they made ſure to get a Diſpenſation (to the Ruin of ſome Families) came to nothing.

Mr. Ralph Sanderſon, Prebend of Sarum.

Walker's Sufferings, Part II. *p.*67.

Die 19. Aug. 1662. Radulphus Sanderſon, A. M. coll. ad Preb. de Netherhaven in Eccl. Cath. Sarum. vac. per reſign. Johannis Pearſon, S. T. P.

WEDNESDAY Aug. 20.

Mr. Jerameel Terrant, Prebend of Sarum.

Ibid.

Die 20. Aug. 1662. Jerameel Terrant Cler. admiſſ. ad Preb. de Preſton in Eccl. Sarum vac. per mort. E. Triplet. But it muſt be (ſaith Dr. Walker) undoubtedly per Ceſſ. or Reſign. unleſs Mr. Wood be groſsly miſtaken in the Time of his Death, which he fixes in 1670. [But E. Triplet might not be the ſame Man with Tho. Triplet mention'd by Mr. Wood.]

A Report ſpread that the King would give an Indulgence, upon a Petition of the London Miniſters.

A Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4^{to}.

It is ſufficiently known, that about that Time the Act of Uniformity was to be put in Practice, there was then ſpread abroad through the whole Nation a Report, that the King and Council would give an Indulgence, that their Friends at London had petition'd for it, and that the ſurer Way to obtain what they aimed at was to hold out from conforming: When as indeed there was nothing petition'd for but only an Indulgence for ſome few Miniſters in London, who pretended to have been

When ſuch Petition was only for a few, not for the whole Party.

Yet by virtue of that false Report many were trepan'd into Nonconformity.

Between Shame and Despair.

Yet several of them did afterwards conform for new Presentations.

And most of them would have done so, but for the continual Hopes of Indulgence.

been very Induſtrious for the King's Return, without any Conſideration of their Party in the Nation. Yet this had the Effect of Truth for a Time; for it made many Miniſters that were inclined to Conformity to neglect the Seaſon when they ſhould have done it. And by this Means were the greateſt Part of them trepan'd into Nonconformity: For having loſt their Livings, and having ſo publickly declar'd againſt the Law, the Shame of being too changeable, and the unprofitableneſs of returning made moſt of them hold out, though we can name ſome, after they had given Examples to others of ſlighting that Act, did immediately by their Patrons Favour in a new Preſentation, gain an Inſtitution by ſubſcribing to what before they declared againſt: And no Year is without Examples of ſome coming into Conformity, when they have Opportunities of getting a Benefice by it; while the others are almoſt every Year abuſed to an Obſtinacy by renewed Hopes of Indulgence.

In the late Accounts ſome are reckon'd Nonconformiſts and Sufferers, who only reſign'd their Livings and accepted better.

Reg. Laney Petriburg.

Die 20. Aug. 1662. David Some Clericus, A. M admiſſus ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Draughton Com. Northampt. vac. per reſign. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. diſcreti viri Caſtell-Sherard de Glatton in Com. Hunt. Armig.

Account, p. 497. Continuation, p. 646.

Dr. Calamy had repreſented Mr. Edward Trott as ejected or ſilenc'd at Draughton in Northamptonſhire, but upon better Information was ſatisfy'd, that though he turn'd out of his Living in or about 1662. yet he conform'd and bought the Living of Newton near Higham-Ferries. [He turn'd out by his own Reſignation, and for his own Intereſt.]

Reg. Henſhaw. Petriburg.

1663. 15. Jan. Edwardus Trott Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Newton Bromſhold, vac. per reſign. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Jacobi Seaton Patroni.

Reg. White; Petriburg.

1689. 7. Martii. Thomas Bletſoe Clericus, A. B. inſtitutus ad Rect. de Newton Bromſhold Com. Northampt. vac. per ceſſionem Edwardi Trott ult. Incumb. ad preſentationem Edwardi Trott ejuſd. Eccleſiæ Patroni.

Reg. Wren. Elyen.

Anno 1662. 20. Aug. Inſtitutus eſt Thomas Wren, tam Medicinæ quàm Legum Doctor, ad Rect. Eccl. de Willingham Com. Cantebrig. vac. per deprivationem cujuſdam . . . Bradſhaw nuperi Incubatoris ibidem jam vacantem ex Lege Regni tanquam per mortem nat.

Account, p. 111.

This was Mr. Nathaniel Bradſhaw of whom Dr. Calamy ſpeaks great Things; "a Boanerges, well adapted to the People of Wivlingham, whom he found very "prophane and ignorant, but in a little Time God was graciouſly pleaſed to "give him numerous Seals to his Miniſtry among them, and he left many good "People, and a Living between 3 and 400*l. per Ann.* for the Eaſe and Safety of "his Conſcience, Aug. 24, 1662." [But if the Tranſcript receiv'd from the Regiſter be true, Mr. Bradſhaw was depriv'd, and his Church was fill'd up before Aug. 24. and whatever was the Cauſe of his Deprivation, it could not be for Conſcience upon the Act of Uniformity.

Reply of Sir Geo. Downing, 1665, 4^to^. p. 43.

See April 16, 1663.

Aug. 20, 1662. Depoſitions taken and ſworn in the High Court of Admiralty in England concerning the Ship Merchant's Delight, affirming, that the ſaid Ship's whole Company were put into naſty Holes at Caſtell-Delmina, by Jaſpar Van Huyſen (General for the Weſt-India Company of Holland) where ſeveral of them were famiſhed to Death; and the reſt that were ſet at Liberty after a cruel Impriſonment, moſt of them were never ſince heard of. And that the Company of the Ship Paragon, after like cruel Impriſonment, were turn'd to ſhift for themſelves amongſt the wild Beaſts.

Reflections made on the Miniſters who reſolv'd to leave their Livings in the Name of Conſcience.

Mercur. Publ. N°. 33. 4^to^. p. 562.

You poſſibly may expect ſome Account of ſome London Miniſters Behaviour on Sunday laſt, who (as many as reſolve to hold an Intereſt with their Party) did pretend, it was their Conſcience bid them refuſe Conformity; expreſſing themſelves the very Pillars of the Church, as if a Famine of the Word would attend their Departure, and even the Chriſtian World were now at an End. But if their Conſciences now drive them forth of their Benefices, I wonder whoſe Conſcience firſt call'd them in, (into other Mens Livings, for ſo moſt of them were) and bid them keep them ſo many Years without one Penny Allowance to the true Incumbent then, or his poor Widow and Orphans ſince? Was it no Conſcience in the lawful Miniſter to loſe his own Benefice, rather than ſwear an Oath againſt King, Church and Laws of England? And yet now is it all Conſcience to juſtify that fatal Oath, and refuſe Obedience to the Laws made by his Majeſty and the two Houſes of Parliament, who (God and the World know) have uſed all poſſible Means by Conference, Diſputation, and Acts of Grace (after twenty Years Confuſions) to invite thoſe Brethren to that Doctrine and Diſcipline, which they cannot diſprove, yet will not obey.

They thought the Number of Nonconformiſts was leſs than it really was.

Should we here relate, how in all Northamptonſhire there is ſcarce one Miniſter that refuſes Conformity, but two in all Cheſhire, and how very few in the reſt of England, you would wonder ſuch a Handful ſhould expect the whole Kingdom (Church and State) ſhould for their Sakes hazard the Peace of England; ſince nothing leſs than a monſtrous Ingratitude and high Impiety will reſiſt that King and Church, which were reſtored by Miracle.

Iſaac Sterling Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Beamont Com. Eſſex. 20. Aug. 1662. ad preſ. Ricardi Vicecom. Lumley. ——Obiit Anno 1669.

THURSDAY Aug. 21.

Ordination at Paul's.

The Preſbyterians themſelves confeſſed that in the late Times there was indeed a Set of Lay-Preachers and raw young Students get into Livings;

Merc. Polit. 4^to^. N°. 34. p. 563.

This Day the right reverend Father in God Gilbert Lord Biſhop of London (according to former Notice affixed upon the Door of St. Paul's Cathedral) ordained many Prieſts and Deacons, divers whereof had before been under the Hands of the Preſbytery only, but now (according to the good old and again re-eſtabliſhed Laws of this Kingdom, as well as the Practice of the primitive Catholick vings; many of whom were alſo corrupted in their Judgments, and juſtly chargeable with Diſorders, &c. See a ſober and temperate Diſcourſe of the Intereſt of Words in Prayer, 1661. 4^{to}; p. 62.

tholick Church of Chriſt) received Epiſcopal Ordination from the Hands of this prudent and moſt worthy Prelate, wherein their pious Mother the Church of England freely opened her Arms to receive ſuch as the Fraud and Iniquity of the late Times had ſeduced.

Moſt of the Preſbyterian Miniſters having deſerted and relinquiſhed their Livings, the Biſhop of London, with much Prudence and Foreſight, had provided able and pious Miniſters, and exceptionleſs, to be ſettled in their Places.

Heath's Chron. p. 511.

English Regiments land in Portugal.

By an Expreſs from Portugal it is certified, that upon the Landing of the Engliſh Regiments, the Spaniſh Army did not only quit two Gariſons, whereof before they were poſſeſs'd, but alſo march'd back out of Portugal.

Earl of Peterborough Governor of Tangier.

This Day the Right Honourable the Earl of Peterborough began his Journey to his Command in Tangier.

Dr. Edward Young Dean of Exeter.

Edward Young, D. D. Archdeacon of Exeter, and Canon Reſidentiary was elected Dean Aug. 21, 1662. on the Promotion of Dr. Seth Ward to that Biſhoprick; at which Time he reſigned his Prebend of Norwich. He had likewiſe the rich Living of Up-Loman in Com. Devon. but lived a very little while to enjoy theſe Preferments, dying in 1663.

Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 26. See the Benefactions at the end of 1663.

Some at laſt conformed who had been moſt obnoxious to the Church.

Many more would have conform'd, if they had not made themſelves ſo obnoxious, as to think they could not be forgiven: And yet even many were indemnified by conforming. Of which are many Inſtances beſides that of Mr. G. Colliere, who upon the Sequeſtration of Mr. George Durant from the Rectory of Blockley in Worceſterſhire, dying under the Uſurpation, was thruſt upon the Pariſh, and afterwards became very active in diſpoſſeſſing others of the loyal Clergy, tho' he conform'd and kept the Living upon the King's Return.

Walker's Sufferings, &c. Part II. p. 234.

FRIDAY Aug. 22.

His Majeſty's Letters of Indulgence to the Quakers.

His Majeſty's Letter of Grace and Indulgence to the Quakers and other Separatiſts, directed to the Lord-Mayor of London, and other Commiſſioners and Juſtices for the Goal-Delivery of Oyer and Terminer, and of the Peace for London and Middleſex.

Merc. Publ. 4^{to}. N°. 34. p. 569.

CHARLES R.

Whom the King was inclinable to favour above any of the ſeparating Parties.

Whether he lov'd them as more plain and ſimple People,

Or whether he thought their Leaders were under the Direction of the Romiſh Prieſts and Jeſuits.

Or whether an Act of Grace to pleaſe the Queen at her firſt coming.

Right Truſty and Well-beloved, and Truſty and Well-beloved, we greet you well. We are informed, that there are ſeveral Perſons who go under the Name of Quakers, or other Names of Separation, now in the Gaols for London and Middleſex, for being at unlawful Aſſemblies, who yet profeſs all Obedience and Allegiance unto us. We would be glad, that all our Subjects could be brought to agree in an uniform Worſhip of God; and we hope that the Foreſight of the Dangers which they run into by a wilful Contempt of the Laws, and our preſent Indulgence, may prevail with ſome of theſe Perſons, to reduce them to a better Conformity. And therefore we do willingly lay hold of this Time and Occaſion of publick Joy for the firſt coming of our dear Conſort the Queen to our Royal Palace at Weſtminſter, to declare this our Royal Pleaſure unto you, that you cauſe all ſuch of the ſaid Perſons in our Gaols for London and Middleſex, who have not been indicted for refuſing the Oath of Allegiance, nor ſhall appear to you to have been Ring-Leaders or Preachers at their Aſſemblies, to be enlarged. Given at Hampton-Court Auguſt 22, 1662.

By his Majeſty's Command,

EDWARD NICHOLAS.

SATURDAY Aug. 23.

A mean Collection from other Mens Works without naming of them; as 1. from Sir William Lower's Relation of the King's Voyage and Reſidence in Holland, 1660. Fol. 2. Mr Ogilby's Deſcriptions of the King's Entry into London, his Coronation, &c.

The glorious and magnificent Triumphs of the bleſſed Reſtitution of his ſacred Majeſty King Charles II, from his Arrival in Holland 1659-60. till this preſent Time. Comprizing all the Honours and Grandeurs done to and conferred by him. By James Heath, formerly Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Queen Mother's moſt excellent Majeſty.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

With the moſt humble and moſt proſtrate Submiſſion I lay at your Feet this my Endeavour, which though for its own Worth, it may juſtly be debarr'd ſuch bold Approaches, yet for its illuſtrious Subject, and moſt ſtupendious Matter will well become your Auguſt Preſence, &c.

London, printed and ſold by N. G. 1662, 8^{vo}. p. 271.

The Duty and Affection of the City to the King and Queen upon the Thames.

The City of London have given another large Demonſtration of their Duty and Affection to the King's and Queen's Majeſty on the River Thames this 23^{d} of Auguſt, being the Day of her Majeſty's firſt coming to Whitehall. To particularize the ſeveral Companies, Barges, Repreſentations of the Mercers, Drapers, Merchant-Taylors, Goldſmiths, &c. is neither poſſible nor proper for this Place: Therefore we ſhall only ſay (which none but the Abſent will deny) that the oldeſt Perſon alive never ſaw the Thames more, or more nobly covered, than it was on this great and happy Occaſion.

Mercur. Publ. 4^{to}. N°. 34. p. 568. Heath's Chron. p. 509.

A Relation of the noble Reception of their ſacred Majeſties by the Honourable City of London, by Water from Hampton-Court to their Landing at Whitehall, on Saturday Auguſt 23, 1662.

London, 1662, Fol.

Sermon at the Funeral of Mr. Simeon Aſh.

The Righteous Man's Death lamented. A Sermon preached at St. Auſtin's, London, Auguſt 23, 1662. at the Funeral of that moſt eminent Servant of Jeſus Chriſt Mr. Simeon Aſh, late Miniſter of the Goſpel there. By Edmund Calamy, B. D. Text, Iſaiah lvii. 1. The Righteous periſheth, &c.

—— I muſt confeſs, the little Time allotted me for the providing for this ſolemn Work, and the neceſſary Avocations in this little Time, have hindred me from informing myſelf about his Breeding and Manner of Education at Emanuel College under Mr. Stocker, and his excellent Carriage and Converſe with Mr. Hilderſham, Mr. Dod, Mr. Ball; Mr. Langley and other Miniſters famous in their Generations. —— I would confine my Diſcourſe only to the Time ſince his coming to live with us in London, which is about the Space of twenty two or twenty three Years, all which Time I have had the Happineſs to be intimately acquainted with him, inſomuch that I can freely and clearly profeſs, and that with a ſad Heart, that I and many others have loſt a real wiſe and godly Friend, Brother, and Fellow-Labourer in the Lord; the Church hath loſt an eminent Member, and choice Pillar, and this City hath loſt an ancient, faithful, and painful Miniſter; a great Loſs to all his Relations, his Wife hath loſt a dear and loving Huſband, his Siſter a dear Brother, his Pariſh and Congregation a faithful Paſtor. —— God hath of late Years taken to himſelf many famous Men, ſeven of the Lecturers of Cornhill are dead, Mr. Burroughs, Dr. Bolton, Mr. Sedgewick, Mr. Whitaker, Mr. Cranford, Mr. Vines, and now Mr. Aſh. I might name many other excellent Miniſters that are dead, as Dr. Gough, Mr. Walker, Mr. Gataker, Mr. Marſhal, Mr. Robinſon, and lately Mr. Cook, with many more. Now all theſe are Warning-Pieces from Heaven of Judgments approaching, the Righteous are taken from the Evil to come. Thus Methuſalah died a Year before the Flood: Thus Auſtin died a little before Hippo was taken, and Luther a little before the Wars in Germany began. —— (Concluding.) Whatever was good in this Reverend Miniſter let it live in you, and though he be dead, yet let not his Sermons which he preached dye with you, but let them be in you, that at the great Day when he and you appear before God, he may be able to ſay, Here am I, and the Children thou haſt given me. Finis.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 1.

See his two Sermons at the Funerals of Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Gataker.

He had his Education in Emanuel College, Cambridge. His firſt Employment in the Miniſtry was in Staffordſhire, but for his Non-Conformity to the Ceremonies, and refuſing to read the Book of Sports, he was ſoon diſplac'd from his Living. He gain'd however a little Liberty in an exempt Church at Wroxhall under the Covert of Sir John Burgoyne, and elſewhere under the Lord Brook in Warwickſhire. He was a Chriſtian of the primitive Simplicity, and a Nonconformiſt of the old Stamp. —— He had a good Eſtate, and was inclin'd to Entertainments and Liberality — He was Chaplain to the Earl of Mancheſter in the Wars, and fell under the Obloquy of the Cromwellians for croſſing their Deſigns, and particularly for his vehement oppoſing the Engagements. He had a conſiderable Hand in bringing in King Charles II. —— Mr. Calamy preach'd his Funeral Sermon, and gave him but his deſerved Character. —— He was called Father Aſh in a common Proverb, &c.

Farewel Sermon by Mr. Wadſworth.

See his Life in Clark's Lives of eminent Men, 1682. Fol.

A Sermon of Farewell preached on the Saturday Night before St. Bartholomew's Day, on Malachi iii. 16. By Thomas Wadſworth, Miniſter of St. Laurence Pountney.

Death of an eminent Nonconformiſt Mr. Bowles of York.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 782. Contin. p. 933.

Death of the Reverend Mr. Edward Bowles of York in the Flower of his Age, not exceeding forty five. He was buried on the Eve of Bartholomew Day, 1662. Mr. Tillotſon and Mr. Stillingfleet counted Mr. Bowles a very extraordinary Perſon: One, from whom I had it, was told by the latter of them, that they deſir'd to bring him into the eſtabliſhed Church, above any one Man in England. They ſpent a whole Afternoon together upon him in London, but a little before the Act of Uniformity took Place, but could not prevail. His final Anſwer was, I can eaſily do enough to loſe my Friends, but I can never do enough to gain my Enemies.

He had no proper Cure, but was the chief Preacher in the Cathedral Church.
He muſt of Courſe be excluded the Minſter, when the Dean and Chapter return'd to it.
It is ſaid he might have been Dean of York; and was certainly elected Vicar of Leeds;
But a Difference aroſe that was a Complaint to King and Council.

Account, ib.

'Tis credibly reported the Deanery of York was offer'd him. But not being ſatisfy'd with Conformity, he was preſently excluded the Minſter; but continued preaching at Allhallows, and afterwards at St. Martin's. However he ſeems to have preferr'd the Vicarage of Leeds, and reſolv'd to have retir'd thither.

Vicaria Leodienſis, 8vo.

Mr. Ralph Thoreſby hath in his Collection of Manuſcripts ſome Sheets of original Subſcriptions of the Inhabitants of that Town and Pariſh, and a Tranſcript of the Magiſtrate's Letter, under the Hands of Alderman Thoreſby, Dawſon, Allenſon, &c. to the King and Council concerning his Election, &c. April 1661. But thro' the Favour of the Times Dr. John Lake (afterwards Biſhop of Chicheſter) was inſtituted into that Vicarage.

London, for Sam. Gellibrand, 1648. 4to.

Good Counſel for evil Times. Or a plain Sermon preached at Paul's in London, April 16, 1648. By Edward Bowles, M. A. of Katherine-Hall, Cambridge. Printed by the Deſire and Order of the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen of that famous City.

Printed and ſold in York by Thomas Broad, 1655, 4to.

The Duty and Danger of Swearing. Opened in a Sermon preached at York, Feb. 3, 1655. the Day of ſwearing the Lord-Mayor. By Edward Bowles, M. A. Preacher of the Goſpel there.

SUNDAY Aug. 24.

Life of Mr. Baxter, and Abridgment of it. Dr. W. Bates's Fun. Serm. for Mr. Baxter, &c. Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 33. p. 570.

The commencing of the Bartholomew Act, as they call'd the Act of Uniformity, for ejecting and diſqualifying thoſe Miniſters who would not ſubmit and conform to it. The great Complaints made by thoſe who choſe to ſuffer by it.

Divers Miniſters in and near London left their Churches.

With a Diſturbance in ſome of them.

Divers Miniſters who in the late broken Times were poſſeſſed of Benefices in and about London, having refuſed to conform to the Church of England according to Law eſtabliſhed, did this Day of St. Bartholomew leave their Flocks: But their reſpective Churches, through the Care and Prudence of the moſt worthy Dioceſan, were fully ſupplied by Divines very eminent for their Learning and good Converſation, to the great Satisfaction of many good Chriſtians, though a few Fanaticks (raked together from both Sides of London-Bridge) laboured to diſturb the Miniſters in one or two Churches, whereof themſelves have ſmall Reaſon at preſent to glory, and may have leſs hereafter.

Dr. Bates not ingenuous in ſtating the Caſe of Nonconformity.

Do but compare thoſe many Thouſands that were undone by the Covenant, with thoſe few that did not conform; and then it will appear but an empty Boaſt to talk of their Numbers. A Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4to. p. 53.

Dr. Bates's Fun. Serm. for Mr. Baxter, 1692.

The Act of Uniformity expell'd from their publick Places about two thouſand Miniſters. I will only take Notice concerning the Cauſes of that Proceeding, that the old Clergy from Wrath and Revenge, and the young Gentry from their ſervile Compliance with the Court, and their Diſtaſte of ſerious Religion, were very active to carry on and compleat that Act, that this is no raſh Imputation upon the ruling Clergy then, is evident not only from their Concurrence in paſſing that Law, for Actions have a Language as convincing as that of Words, but from Dr. Sheldon, then Biſhop of London, their great Leader, who when the Lord Chamberlain Mancheſter told the King, while the Act of Uniformity was under Debate, that he was afraid the Terms of it were ſo rigid, that many of the Miniſters would not comply with it, he replyed, I am afraid they will.

This Act was paſs'd after the King had engag'd his Faith and Honour in his Declaration from Breda, to preſerve the Liberty of Conſcience inviolate, which Promiſe open'd the Way for his Reſtoration; and after the Royaliſts here, had given publick Aſſurance that all former Animoſities ſhould be laid aſide, as Rubbiſh under the Foundation of an univerſal Concord. Mr. Baxter was involv'd with ſo many Miniſters in this Calamity, who was their brighteſt Ornament, and the beſt Defence of the righteous, tho' oppreſſed Cauſe: Two Obſervations he made upon that Act and our Ejection.

The one was, the Miniſters were turned and kept out from the publick Exerciſe of their Office, in that Time of their Lives, that was moſt fit to be dedicated and employ'd for the Service and Glory of God, that is, between thirty and ſixty Years, when their intellectual and inſtrumental Faculties were in their Vigour. The other was in a Letter to me, after the Death of ſeveral Biſhops who were concurrent in paſſing that Act, and expreſs'd no Sorrow for it, his Words were: For ought I ſee the Biſhops will own the turning of us out at the Tribunal of Chriſt, and thither we appeal.

Mr. Oſland's dead Paſtor yet ſpeaking.

London, 1662. 8vo.

The Dead Paſtor yet ſpeaking: In two Sermons preached on Bartholomew Day, Auguſt 24, 1662. in Bewdley Chapel. By Henry Oſland then Miniſter there. With the Chriſtian's daily Walk, a Sheet. By the ſame Author.

The Proſecution and Puniſhment of Barrow, Greenwood and Penry now publiſhed to raiſe the Cry of Perſecution.

London, printed for William Marſhall, 4to. p. 48.

Now or ſoon after, to raiſe the Cry of Perſecution, was publiſhed, the Examinations of Henry Barrow, John Greenwood, and John Penry, before the high Commiſſioners and Lords of the Council: With their Anſwers to the many Queſtions, why they would not take an Oath, and why they refuſed to hear, or have Communion in the Church of England. As alſo Mr. Penry's Declaration of his Faith and Allegiance to her Majeſty; and his Letter to the Church at London, where he was a Member under their manifold Trials: Together with Mr. Barrow's Letter a little before his Death. Faithfully penned by the Priſoners themſelves, very uſeful for all ſuffering Chriſtians, who ſuffer for the ſame Things.

Epiſtle to the Reader.

Full of Complaints.

To the Reader. The Teſtimony and Sufferings of the Priſoners, whoſe Examinations here enſue, cannot eaſily (gentle Reader) be forgotten of any whoſe Heart is touched with Care of Religion, and Zeal of the Truth. How weighty the Cauſes were for which they ſuffered, may appear partly by that which followeth, but chiefly by other Writings and Books by themſelves ſet out heretofore. Here haſt thou the Manner of the Prelates proceeding againſt them, and how they were convicted of their Browniſm, Donatiſm, Anabaptiſtry, Schiſm, Hereſy, &c. wherewith they were charged, and for which they were ſo many Years kept in miſerable cloſe Priſons, and at laſt bereaved of their Lives. Sure whoſoever had been the Perſons, and whatſoever the Errors, it would well have become the Lord Archbiſhop of the Church of England to have better inſtructed and informed them, by the Word of Truth and wholeſome Doctrine, before they had been adjudged to Priſon and Death. —— Evil therefore have our Biſhops provided for their Cauſe and Credit, ſo ſlightly to deal in ſuch Matters of Moment, and to proceed to ſuch ſevere Tortures, before more open and orderly Conviction of the Faults and Errors. Lo now all Poſterities ſhall ſee their Practices; and though they have ſpilt the Blood of theſe Men, which vexed them ſo ſore, yet can they not bereave the World of their Teſtimony, which by Word and Writing they left behind them. The Lord give theſe Men (if they belong unto him) to advert and ſee their Dealings, &c.

An Outcry againſt the Biſhops.

Addreſs to the ſober Nonconformiſts.

Goodman's ſerious Enquiry, 8vo. Poſtſcript.

I will entreat all ſober Non-Conformiſts to remember, that at the Concluſion of the famous Conference at Hampton-Court before King James, when Dr. Reynolds, Dr. Sparks, and others had ſtrenuouſly diſputed for an Abatement of Ceremonies, and ſeveral Alterations in the Liturgy, but could not obtain their Deſires, they were not tranſported with Heat and Paſſion, but ingenuouſly promiſed the Biſhops their Antagoniſts, that they would nevertheleſs reverence them as ſpiritual Fathers, and join with them againſt the common Enemy.

And it is very obſervable, in the Times of King Edward and Queen Elizabeth, thoſe that had their Scruples, as others have now, did not for all that forſake the Communion and Society of the Church, nor childiſhly throw away their Meat for their diſreliſh of the Sauce.

Some of the Savoy Commiſſioners did afterwards conform.

Conformiſt's Plea for Nonconform. 4to. 1681, p. 33.

Some of the very Commiſſioners on the Presbyterian Side in the Savoy Conference, very worthy Perſons, did now conform, Dr. Wallis, Dr. Horton, Dr. Lightfoot, and after about ſeven Years Silence (to the great Loſs of Exeter Coll. Oxford, and the Church of God) Dr. Conant conformed, and theſe were all.

That

MONDAY April 25.

The King had deſired that the Miniſters would read ſo much of the Liturgy as they had no Exception againſt, but they would read no Part 'till the Law compelled them to read the whole.

And then ſome of the fierceſt of them did comply.

The Inconveniences of Toleration, 1667. 4^to^. p. 25.

That there is not good Nature enough in them for kind Uſage to work upon, of this we ſhall give one, but that ſhall be a moſt convincing Evidence. The King's Majeſty immediately after his moſt happy Reſtauration, being deſirous to ſatisfy ſo many of all Parties, as did not reſolve for ever to remain unſatisfied, did accordingly give ſo much Reſpect to the Clamours then made againſt the Liturgy, as to order a Review of it: But withal did, by his Declaration ſet forth about that Affair, deſire that ſo many of them as would be thought conſcientious or peaceable, would in the mean Time read ſo much of the Liturgy, as themſelves had no Exception againſt: An eaſy Requeſt one would think; Read only ſo much as you have no Exception againſt. Here Conſcience ſure could not be pretended, when their own Conſcience (nay, their very Jealouſy) was the only Rule which was ſet them to walk by; yet they ſtood it out, becauſe there was no Danger in ſtanding it out; and after all, the Act of Uniformity brought many of the fierceſt to read the whole of that, of which before they could not be brought to read a Syllable; ſo much is a Law more available than an Indulgence. And as many did come in that Bartholomew-tide, ſo (had there not been great Expectation of a Toleration) we have Reaſon to believe that many more would have come in.

Great Contributions to the ejected Miniſters.

Printed at London, 1681. 4^to^. p. 44.

Mr. Baxter in his Funeral Sermon for Henry Aſhurſt, Eſq; gives this Acount; I knew this from his own Mouth, that he gave theſe eighteen Years (ſince Aug. 24, 1662.) an hundred Pounds a Year to the ejected Miniſters of Lancaſhire, and ſome Schools there, and in the neighbouring Parts; and many Bibles, Catechiſms, and other good Books to diſperſe, beſides the ſaid hundred Pounds a Year. And a Friend of his and mine tells me, that it was to him that he yearly delivered it to be diſtributed, ſave that lately twenty Pound a Year of it went to Northumberland. And that about 1662. and 1663. he endeavoured hard to have got the pious Citizens of London to contribute yearly to the Relief of the poor ejected Miniſters of the ſeveral Counties where they were born, and I (ſays Mr. Baxter) was employ'd to the Lord Chancellour Hyde to acquaint him with it, and get his Conſent, that it might not be taken for a fomenting of Faction. But though he ſaid, God forbid that he ſhould be againſt Mens Charity, yet moſt durſt not truſt him, and ſo it fell.

Advice from Northampton of a general Conformity.

Mercur. Publ. 4^to^. p. 577.

Adviſed from Northampton, Aug. 25. That there are but few (very few) in theſe Parts that have not conformed to the Act for Uniformity, nor can I hear of many in our neighbour Countries. Mr. Barley, a very leading Man in this County, and all except two or three have ſubſcribed, and I wonder who they are at London that ſhould report the contrary of us.

At Taunton the People well affected to a new Miniſter, and to the Common Prayer.

The printed Copy came time enough to ſome of the remoteſt Parts.

Monday Auguſt 25. Adviſed from Taunton in Somerſetſhire. This Pariſh being deſtitute of a Miniſter to preach, &c. by the Nonconformity of Mr. Newton; a very worthy Gentleman, Mr. Thomas James (late of All-Souls College in Oxford) yeſterday, being St. Bartholomew's Day, ſupplied his Place. The neighbour Gentry were purpoſely there preſent, and Mr. James being furniſhed with the Book of Common-Prayer, Church-Veſtments, &c. according to the late Act of Parliament, read the whole Service for Morning and Evening Prayer, and chriſten'd two Children accordingly. And I cannot but acquaint you, the whole Town was preſent, behaving themſelves as if their Miniſter Mr. Newton had carried away with him all Faction and Nonconformity. The Mayor and Aldermen were all in their Formalities, and not a Man in all the Church had his Hat on, either at Service or at Sermon, which gave the Gentry of that Countrey great Satisfaction.

A Letter from Glouceſter of the Miniſters readily conforming and ſubſcribing in that County.

Adviſed from Glouceſter, Auguſt 25. I purpoſely deferred my Writing 'till the Subſcription of the Miniſters of this Dioceſe was paſt, and now I can aſſure you, there is ſcarce a Man that hath not ſubſcribed, the whole Miniſtry as one Man chearfully conforming according to the Act of Parliament. I hear divers of our Clergy were reported to have refuſed Subſcription; but thoſe very Men on whom this Rumour was grounded are very much injured, viz. Mr. Mew, Mr. Britain, Mr. Thatch, Mr. Heron, Mr. Pleydell, Mr. Winnington, Mr. Harding, Mr. Hodges, Mr. Stansfield, Mr. Dorwood, Mr. Trapp, and Mr. Kenrick, who have all ſubſcribed, and teſtified their Conformity with as much Alacrity as any in this County.

Reg. Henchman, Lond.

Aug. 25. 1662. Johannes Greſwold, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Stowe S. Mariæ Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. Jacobi Waldew ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Petre, Armig.

TUESDAY Aug. 26.

The Unlawfulneſs of the Solemn League and Covenant.

Lond. 1662. 4^to^.

A Diſcourſe of the Nature and Obligation of Oaths, wherein Satisfaction is tendered touching the Non-Obligation and Unlawfulneſs of the Oath called the Solemn League and Covenant, the Acknowledgment whereof is required of us by a late Act of Parliament, entitled, An Act for Uniformity. Publiſhed as an Appendix to the Peace-Offering by the ſame Author.

Scruples of different Kinds.

Conform. Plea for Nonconformity, 4^to^. 1681. p. 46.

[Some conquered all Scruples but the leaſt of all.] I knew a Man of Years and Parts, that could conform to all Things ſave the Croſs, and loſt near two hundred Pounds per Annum for that.

Some who now refuſed, did afterwards conform.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 915. Edit. 1721.

Some refuſed to conform within the appointed Time, and yet afterwards conſidered better of it. As Mr. John Tickel of Exeter, who refuſed to conform in 1662. but changing his Mind, upon the Advice of Friends he became Miniſter of Barnſtaple, and afterwards of Widecomb near Exeter, where he died June 30, 1694.

Some aſham'd to conform becauſe of their Violence againſt King Charles I.

Some of them had been ſo violent for bringing King Charles I. to Judgment, that they expected no Quarter in the Churrch, and therefore went out of it. As Dr. Samuel Aneley (who wrote himſelf Anneſley) Paſtor of St. Giles near Cripplegate, London, who refuſed to conform, having preached and printed a Sermon before the Houſe of Commons at Margaret's Weſtminſter, July 26, 1648. wherein he perſuaded them to do Juſtice upon the King, and not to treat with him any more; yet highly extolled and affirmed the Obligation of the Covenant.

Ibid. col. 967.

One afterwards conformed who had defended the King's Murder.

One Walden, a rigid Independent, who got Poſſeſſion of the Vicarage of Leamington-Haſting in Warwickſhire, worth two hundred Pounds a Year, after the Sequeſtration of the lawful Vicar Lee, but was diſpoſſeſſed of the Living at the Reſtauration, not on the Claim of the former Incumbent (as the Abridgment ſaith) but by due Courſe of Law, for having defended the King's Murder. He was very loth to let go this Living, and afterwards conformed for another near Coventry, where he died.

Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 299.

Farewell Sermons in the Countrey.

England's Remembrancer: Or a Collection of Farewell Sermons, preached by Miniſters in the Countrey.

1662. 8vo.

It hath been remark'd by ſeveral, that the Volume of the Countrey Miniſters is much to be preferr'd before that of the London Miniſters. One Reaſon of it was, that that Volume was printed from their own Notes, whereas the other is but ſome mangled Scraps, for the moſt Part, from ignorant Scriblers.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 524.

Mr. Joſ. Allen's Call to Archippus.

A Call to Archippus. Being an earneſt Motive to the ejected Miniſters to continue in their Miniſtry. [Written by Mr. Joſeph Allen of Taunton.]

1661, 4to.

The grand Caſe of the preſent Miniſtry; to perſuade them to Conformity.

The Grand Caſe of the preſent Miniſtry continued, whether they may lawfully declare and ſubſcribe as by the late Act of Uniformity is required. And the ſeveral Caſes thence ariſing (more-eſpecially about the Covenant) are clearly ſtated and faithfully reſolved. By the ſame indifferent Hand. With an Addition to his former Caſes of Conſcience hereunto ſubjoyned. The Preface to my diſſenting Brethren.

London, for J. Dring, 1662. 12o.

Addreſs to his diſſenting Brethren.

A Man may be Felo de ſe by deſtroying himſelf by our Law, and Fur de ſe by depriving and ſtealing himſelf away from him to whom his Service is due, by the Imperial Law, and Proditor de ſe by the Law of Nature; if he deſcend from the Dignity of Humanity, and ſubmit to the Danger which he might avoid. Theſe are Words of the very learned Dr. Donne againſt the Jeſuitical Ambition to ſuffer: And with all my Heart I wiſh, they were not in all Particulars too pertinent to our preſent Caſe.

Amongſt Chriſtians Bellarmine (by way of Reproach indeed to his Adverſaries) hath this Gradation in his Obſervation of Sufferers, wherein he placeth the worſt firſt. To ſuffer (ſaith he) the Anabaptiſts are forwardeſt, the Calviniſts next, and the Lutherans very ſlack. And if it may be no Offence to my Brethren, we may eaſily note, that with us the Quaker is forwardeſt, the Anabaptiſt next, the Independent and the Preſbyterian laſt (no Diſparagement to him) though all too forward in expoſing themſelves to neeedleſs Sufferings. Let me beſeech you to ſuſpect that natural Corruption, which upon Ambition, Diſcontent, and Temptation of Credit and Glory in the World, is prone to haſten you in this Criſis of Diſtemper to unwarrantable Sufferings.

I ſpeak as unto you wiſe Men, judge ye what I ſay, and the God of Truth and Peace be with you. Amen.

Advertiſement. There is extant an excellent Piece, entitled, Some neceſſary and ſeaſonable Caſes of Conſcience about Things indifferent in Matters of Religion, briefly yet faithfully ſtated and reſolved: Wherein the juſt Bounds of Impoſing on the one Hand, and of Obeying on the other, are truly fixed. By the ſame Hand.

Imprimatur, M. Frank, S. T. P. &c.
Sextilis II. 1662.

Latin Apology for the Nonconformiſts.

Apologia pro Miniſtris in Anglia vulgo Nonconformiſtis Anno 1662. Aug. 24. Die Bartholomæo dicto, ejectis, &c. adverſus argutiolas putidaſque calumnias Durelli, Elliſii, aliorumque.

Eleutheropoli Anno Æra Bartholomæa ſecundo & tertio.

Said to be written by Henry Hickman.

Matthew Scrivener, in the Beginning of his Actio in Schiſmaticos, affirms this Apology to have been written by Henry Hickman. Dr. Durell wrote againſt this Latin and another French Apology for Engliſh Puritans, a Book entitled, Sanctæ Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ adverſus iniquas atque inverecundas Schiſmaticorum criminationes Vindiciæ, &c. Reſponſio ad Apologiſtæ Præfationem; wherein he complains, that though ſuch Defences have been ſtyl'd Apologies, yet in Truth they are Satyrs, and no other but famoſi adverſus Eccleſiam Anglicanam Libelli.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 551.

News from the Dead, i. e. of the Miniſters Dead in Law.

News from the Dead. By Samuel Hardy, Curate of Charmiſter in Dorſetſhire. [It was written and publiſhed in Haſte, and perhaps had it been done more deliberately, and better poliſh'd, it had not done ſo much good. Its firſt Title was News from the Dead, that is, the civilly dead Nonconformiſts; but he was eaſily perſuaded to alter that for a better, The Guide to Heaven. I don't know whether any one Book has been oftner printed, or done more good, than that little homely Book.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 283.

Their laſt Words as dying Speeches.

The Laſt Words of Mr. Francis Whiddon to his dearly beloved and longed for the Inhabitants of Totneſs in Devon, delivered in two Sermons, on Zach. i. 5, 6. The Prophets, do they live for ever? With a Preface written by his Brother in Law Mr. John Lydſton, Vicar of St. Melion in Cornwall.——

See Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 288.

Several of the Countrey Miniſters who had been forc'd by Law to quit their Livings to the ſurviving legal Incumbents, came up to London, and got in to be

Several of the Country Miniſters who had been by Law obliged to leave their Livings to the old ſequeſtred Incumbents came up to be Lecturers in London.

be Lecturers or Aſſiſtants in ſome of the City Churches. As Dr. Calamy relates of Mr. Samuel Smith, M. A. who had before been caſt out of the ſequeſtred Living of Bodenham in Herefordſhire, and came up to be Aſſiſtant at St. Olave Southwark, and was ſilenced there. ——

Account, Vol. II. p. 22.

Mr. Thomas Wadſworth at the Reſtauration was in the ſequeſtred Living of Newington-Butts, and afterwards removed into the City, to be Preacher at St. Lawrence Poultney and Lecturer of St. John Baptiſt's; from whence he was ejected and ſilenced by the Bartholomew Act.

Contin. p. 318.

Account, p. 26.

Some of the Miniſters in London who had given Place to the rightful Incumbents were put into the Liſt of ejected or ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act.

As Mr. Dyer at Allhallows on the Wall.

From Allhallows on the Wall. Mr. Samuel Dyer; he was M. A. of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, not mentioned by Newcourt; [who yet mentions the right Incumbent Mr. William Lewis, admitted to that Church October 27, 1661. who voided it by Death before March 19, 1683.] —— Dr. Calamy was informed, that Dr. Lewis laying Claim to this Living, Mr. Dyer not willing to diſpute it with him, quitted it to him before Bartholomew Day; but then he was ejected from his Lectureſhip at Lothbury, which he had enjoy'd for ſome Time before. After he was ſilenced he kept a School at Mile-End for twenty five Years or more. He died Anno 1700. ætat. 67.

Account, p. 33.

Contin. p. 35.

Mr. Woodcock at St. Andrew Underſhaft.

From St. Andrew Underſhaft. Mr. Thomas Woodcock, who muſt have given Place to the right Incumbent John Pritchett, admitted to it June 14, 1641. upon whoſe Reſignation Thomas Grigg, A. M. ſucceeded September 30, 1664. Dr. Calamy complains, that none of the Incumbents of this Pariſh are mentioned by Newcourt, p. 265. when it is plain they are all mentioned in Order from the Time this Church was united to St. Mary Ax in 1561.

Account, p. 44.

Contin. p. 62.

Dr. Drake of St. Peter's Cheap.

Dr. Calamy among the ejected or ſilenced Miniſters in London, —— from St. Peter's Cheap Dr. Roger Drake; whom Mr. Baxter calls a Wonder of Humility and Sincerity. He was one of the Commiſſioners at the Savoy. He always laid by a tenth Part of his worldly Incomes for the Poor before he uſed any himſelf. — See Dr. Anneſley's Preface to his Funeral Sermon for Mr. Whitaker.

Account, p. 25.

Contin. p. 22.

Yet it does not appear how Dr. Drake ſhould come into St. Peter's Cheap, in any regular Way: For Daniel Votier, M. A. had been admitted to that Church Novemb. 24, 1615. and George Davenport, A. M. ſucceeded Jan. 21, 1660. by the Death of Mr. Daniel Votier; and George Woodward, M. A. came in Febr. 20, 1664. by the Ceſſion of Mr. Davenport. So that Dr. Drake at leaſt could not be ejected thence upon the Bartholomew Act.

See Newcourt Vol. I. p. 522.

He was in the Plot with Mr. Love, wherein Mr. Wood miſtakes him for a Phyſician as it ſeems: He ſubmitted to the Mercy of the Parliament.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 74

Sept. 5, 1662. Ezekiah Joſſelin Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. de Copford. Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis pleno jure. —— Obiit 1671. ——

Newcourt Vol. II. p. 192.

Mr. Thompſon of Copford.

Dr. Calamy among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex places at Copford Mr. Robert Thompſon, who had been inſtituted to that Rectory Jan. 24, 1638. at the Preſentation of King Charles I. and had been by the ſame Prince preſented to the Prebend of Wildland in the Church of Paul's, while void by the Promotion of Dr. Pierſe to the See of Bath and Wells, April 29, 1631. which he voided by Death before Septemb. 1662. and was far from Nonconformity.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p 313.
Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 192.
Ibid. Vol I. p. 227.

Mr. Kitchin at St. Mary Abchurch.

From St. Mary Abchurch. Mr. John Kitchen, M. A. who could not here ſuffer by the Bartholomew Act, becauſe the rightful Incumbent, Mr. Benjamin Stone, admitted June 19, 1613. was reſtored to it in 1661. and upon his Reſignation, John Gardiner, S. T. P. ſucceeded Febr. 25, 1661. and kept it to his Death in 1681.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 44. and Contin. p. 62.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 432.

Mr. Bragg at Allhallows the Great.

From Allhallows the Great. Mr. Robert Bragg, who only ſettled in this Pariſh, and gathered a Church, of which he continued Paſtor to the Day of his Death. And therefore no Room for Complaint that Mr. Newcourt takes no Notice of him. Mr. John Blemell, M. A. was admitted to this Church before the Bartholomew Act, viz. June 12, 1662. —— Mr. Bragg departed this Life April 14, 1704. aged ſeventy ſeven Years, as appears by the Inſcription on his Tomb-Stone in the Burying-place near Bunhill Fields.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 51. and Contin. p. 74.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 249.

Mr. Vinke at St. Michael's Cornhill.

From St. Michael's Cornhill. Mr. Peter Vinke, B. D. who muſt have given Place to the right Incumbent, Dr. William Brough, in 1661. and upon the Reſignation of Dr. Brough, then Canon of Windſor and Dean of Glouceſter, Mr. John Meriton, M. A. was admitted to this Church of St. Michael's Cornhill, March 28, 1663. —— Mr. Vinke died at Darlſton in Hackney Septemb. 6, 1702. His Funeral Sermon was preached by Mr. Howe, where his Character may be ſeen at large.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 51. and Contin. p. 74.

Adviſed from London. Here is certain News come, that thoſe two great leading Preſbyters, Mr. Bolles and Mr. Jeanes, have now left off to diſturb the Church of England, being taken away by Death; which if others of their Brethren about this great City would ſeriouſly conſider (and preach a true Funeral Sermon to themſelves) they would not forge and ſcatter ſo many Papers of Untruths (to ſay no more) of Letters and Diſpenſations already ſent out from his Majeſty, to ſuſpend the Execution of the Act for Uniformity as to ſome few Miniſters, when themſelves know there are no ſuch Letters or Diſpenſations yet granted, and the Reporters (if for no other Reaſon) have not deſerved any.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 30. p. 513.

The Diſſenters were very angry at the Brethren who conformed to the Church.

A Libell againſt Mr. Gurnall.

The Diſſenters were very bitter againſt thoſe Preſbyterian Miniſters who renounced the Covenant, and conform'd to the Liturgy, &c. when they had led the People into a contrary Expectation. A very rude Libel was publiſhed on this Account againſt Mr. Gurnal of Lavenham, 1665. 4to. whereof the Author of the Epiſtle writes thus:

Mr. Grey of Cavendiſh in Suffolk preached a Farewell Sermon one Sunday and conformed the next;

And others in that County, who by conforming are ſaid to have bow'd to the Whore of Babylon.

Neither is Mr. Gurnal alone in theſe horrible Defilements, hateful to the Soul of God and his Saints, but he is compaſſed about with a Cloud of Witneſſes (even in the County where himſelf liveth, as well as elſewhere) Men of the ſame Order of Antichriſtian Prieſthood, and Brethren in the ſaid Iniquity with himſelf; witneſs Mr. Grey of Cavendiſh, who upon one Lord's-Day preached his farewell Sermon, and argued very ſtrongly, and with many Conſiderations the Unlawfulneſs of Common Prayer Book Conformity; and ſo took his Farewell of the Congregation. But by the very next Lord's-Day following, he had, it ſeems, met with ſome Epiſcopal Eye-Salve, which wrought ſo effectually, that it immediately cloſed his right Eye, by which the Lord's-Day before he ſaw ſuch great Deformity in Common Prayer Book Devotion, and alſo opened his left Eye to ſee Conformity Truth in that Aſſertion, which the Apoſtle gives Notice to be only ſuppoſed by ſome in his Days, viz. that Gain is Godlineſs, 1 Tim. vi. 5. and then with much Zeal and Heat preached up Subjection to the Higher Powers. —— To theſe may alſo be added for Company, Mr. Hudſon of Capel, Mr. Knight of Ipſwich, Dr. Harriſon of Hadley, Mr. Blackerby of Stowe, with more than a good many beſides, who have all bowed themſelves to the Whore of Babylon, &c.

Mr. Wood, ſays he, was buried Sept. 8. with no other Ceremony than we would uſe to a Dog.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 753. Continuat. p. 684. Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 206. Dr. Bates's Funeral Sermon for Mr. Rich. Baxter, 1692.

Dr. Humphry Chambers, one of the Aſſembly of Divines, firſt Rector of Claverton Com. Som. then of Pewſey Com. Wilts, quitted this laſt when the Act of Uniformity took Place, and he died ſoon after, viz. Septemb. 8, 1662. I have been ſince inform'd that the Doctor did not quit the Rectory, but having preached his Farewell Sermon on Pſal. cxxvi. 6. that this Life is a Seed Time for Eternity, he ſicken'd preſently and died.

After the Act of Uniformity had taken its Effect, in the Ejection of ſo many Miniſters, there was ſometimes a Connivance at the private Exerciſe of their Miniſtry, ſometimes publick Indulgence granted, and often a ſevere Proſecution of them, as the popiſh and politick Intereſt of the Court varied.

Mr. Tho. Riſden collated to Allhallows Bread-ſtreet,

In the Room of Dr. Lazarus Seaman.

Account of him.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 246.

Tho. Riſden Clericus Coll. ab Archiepiſcopo Cantuar. ad Eccleſiam omnium Sanctorum Bread-ſtreet, London. Die 26. Aug. 1662. —— Obiit 1673.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgm. Vol. II. p. 16. See the Contin. 1727. 8vo. p. 17.

From Allhallows Bread-ſtreet. Dr. Lazarus Seaman. He was born in Leiceſter, and bred in Emanuel College Cambridge, but as he came in mean Circumſtances to the College, ſo he was forc'd ſoon to leave it, and to teach School for a Livelyhood. —— A Sermon accidentally preached at Martin's Ludgate procur'd him that Lecture, and his Reputation there brought him into Allhallows Bread-ſtreet and the Aſſembly, where he appeared very active. —— While he was Maſter of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, he acquitted himſelf with abundant Honour. He was admirable for his Patience under great Pains. He was an excellent Caſuiſt, a dextrous Expoſitor, and both a judicious and moving Preacher, &c. He died September 1657. [1675.] Mr. Jenkyn preach'd his Funeral Sermon, in which the Reader may ſee his Character at large.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 44.

He loſt the Maſterſhip of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, and the Church of Allhallows Bread-ſtreet in London, after his Majeſty's Return, liv'd afterwards a Nonconformiſt, moſtly in Warwick-Court near Warwick-Lane in London, where he died about September 9, 1675. much lamented by the Brethren, in regard he was a learned Man.

Dr. Calamy complains that Dr. Seaman is not mention'd among the Rectors of this Pariſh of Allhallows Breadſtreet by Mr. Newcourt. [Becauſe he was put in by Order of Parliament.] Archbiſhop Laud in his own Hiſtory relates, that Jan. 6, 1642. I received a Letter from the Earl of Mancheſter, commanding me in the Name of the Houſe to give Allhallows Bread-ſtreet to Mr. Seaman. This I was no Way moved at, becauſe I had before expreſs'd myſelf to my Lord of Northumberland, that I would give the Benefice, out of Reſpect to his Lordſhip, to Mr. Seaman his Chaplain: Yet I cannot but obſerve, that tho' this was made known to the Earl of Mancheſter, yet he would not forbear his Letter, that the Benefice might be given by Order, and not ſeem to come from any Courteſy of mine to that honourable Perſon.

WEDNESDAY Aug. 27
Dr. Tho. Hacket Rector of St. Chriſtopher's, void by the Ceſſion of Dr. Joh. Pearſon.
Account of them.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond. MS.

Tho. Hacket, S. T. P. coll. per D. Epiſc. Lond. ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sancti Chriſtophori juxta le Stockes, London. vac. per ceſſionem Johannis Pearſon, S. T. P.

See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 675. Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 375.

John Pearſon was born at Creak in Norfolk, bred in Eaton School, admitted into King's-College, Cambridge, An. 1631. commenc'd Maſter of Arts, became Chaplain to George Lord Goring at Exeter, Preb. of Sarum, Preacher at St. Clement Eaſt-cheap, then collated to the Church of St. Chriſtophers, Aug. 17, 1660. and in the ſame Year inſtall'd Archdeacon of Surrey, being then Doctor of Divinity, was afterwards Maſter of Jeſus College in Cambridge, Preb. of Ely, Chaplain in Ordinary to his Majeſty, Maſter of Trinity College in the ſaid Univerſity, and at laſt Biſhop of Cheſter, to which he was conſecrated (with Dr. Peter Mews to Bath and Wells) Feb. 9, 1672. He died about the Middle of July 1686.

1660. . . Febr. Tho. Hacket, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Datchworth Com. Hertf. ex preſ. D. Arthuri Domini Capell. Reg. Sanderſon Linc. Rob. Wenſley A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. & Eccl. de Cheſhunt vac. per Promot Tho. Hacket ad Epiſc. Dunen. & Connor in Regno Hibern. ad preſ. Regis, 22. Oct. 1672.

Athen. Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*811.

Thomas Hacket was Maſter of Arts of Trinity College near Dublin, admitted to the Vicarage of Cheſhunt in Hertfordſhire, Aug. 16, 1660. and Nov. 29. following actually created Doctor of Divinity at Oxford; one of his Majeſty's Chaplains upon or ſoon after the Reſtoration; was Dean of Cork in Ireland, (collated to St. Chriſtophers in 1662. which became void by Ceſſion the Year after) at length An. 1672. he was made Biſhop of Down and Connor in the Kingdom of Ireland.

Reg. Sheldon. MS.

Eod. die 27. Aug. 1662. Johannes Blemell Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. Omnium Sanctorum majoris in Civitate London. ad preſ. Domini Cantuar. Archiepiſc.

Mr.

The Petition was promoted by Mr. Calamy, and ſigned by a good Number of the City Miniſters.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. and Account, p. 10.

Mr. Edmund Calamy of Aldermanbury, London, adviſing with his great Friends at Court, a Petition was drawn up to his Majeſty, and ſigned by a good Number of the Miniſters in and about the City, who were affected with that Act [of Uniformity] It was in the Words following:

A Copy of it.

See the Copy of Bp. Parker containing the Subſtance of this Addreſs.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The Humble Petition of ſeveral Miniſters in your City of London.

May it pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Upon former Experience of your Majeſty's Tenderneſs and Indulgence to your obedient and loyal Subjects (in which Number we can with all Clearneſs reckon ourſelves) we, ſome of the Miniſters within your City of London, who are likely by the late Act of Uniformity to be caſt out of all publick Service in the Miniſtry, becauſe we cannot in Conſcience conform to all Things required in the ſaid Act, have taken the Boldneſs humbly to caſt ourſelves and our Concernments at your Majeſty's Feet, deſiring, that of your princely Wiſdom and Compaſſion you would take ſome effectual Courſe whereby we may be continued in the Exerciſe of our Miniſtry, to teach your People Obedience to God and your Majeſty. And we doubt not but by your dutiful and peaceable Carriage therein, we ſhall render ourſelves not altogether unworthy of ſo great a Favour.

Said to be preſented Aug. 27.

Biſhop Parker ſaith three Days after.

This Petition was preſented to his Majeſty Auguſt 27, three Days after the Act took Place, by Mr. Calamy, Dr. Manton, Dr. Bates and others; and Mr. Calamy made a Speech upon the Occaſion, intimating, that thoſe of his Perſuaſion were ready to enter the Liſt with any for their Fidelity to his Majeſty, and did little expect to be dealt with as they had been. And they were now come to his Majeſty's Feet, as the laſt Application they ſhould make, &c.

THURSDAY Aug. 28.

This next Day the Matter was fully debated in Council, his Majeſty himſelf being preſent, who was pleaſed to declare, that he intended an Indulgence, if it were at all feaſible. The great Friends of the ſilenced Miniſters who had encouraged their Hopes by a Variety of ſpecious Promiſes, were allow'd upon this Occaſion freely to ſuggeſt their Reaſons againſt putting the Act in Execution, and they argued very ſtrenuouſly: But Dr. Sheldon Biſhop of London in a warm Speech declar'd, that it was now too late to think of ſuſpending that Law; for that he already in Obedience to it, had ejected ſuch of his Clergy as would not comply with it the Sunday before; and ſhould they now be reſtored after they were thus exaſperated, he muſt expect to feel the Effects of their Reſentment, and ſhould never be able to maintain his Epiſcopal Authority among ſuch a Clergy, who would not fail to inſult him as their Enemy, being countenanced by the Court. Nor could the Reſolutions of the Council-Board juſtify his Contempt of a Law, which had paſſed with ſuch an unanimous Conſent, and upon ſuch mature Deliberation of both Houſes. Should the Sacred Authority of this Law be now ſuſpended, it would render the Legiſlature ridiculous and contemptible. And if the Importunity of ſuch diſaffected People were a ſufficient Reaſon to humour them, neither the Church nor State would ever be free from Diſtractions and Convulſions.

And upon the whole it was carried that no Indulgence at all ſhould be granted.

The Diſſenters had great Friends at Court, and depended too much upon them.

Bp. Parker's Hiſt. of his own Time, p. 29.

The greateſt Hopes of the Faction depended upon their Friends at Court; for they being admitted into the ſecret Councils of the King, and the higheſt Offices of State, did only clog and obſtruct the publick Affairs, give a Check to the Laws that were made againſt the Factious, appear as Advocates for their Faults, and make it their chief Endeavour to prevent the Church and State from ſettling upon their old legal Foundations. For they found that if this Deſign, which was ſo well begun, ſhould be brought to Perfection, they ſhould ſink into the deepeſt Deſpair. Therefore they preſently met together, and whiſper'd into the Ears of the King (whom they had experienced to be enough inclined to Mercy, and indeed, as it happen'd, too much for ſparing them) that ſo great and powerful a Body of Men ſhould not be raſhly provoked, that they were the greateſt Part of the Nation, both for Number and Wealth, and that they did not refuſe to comply with the ancient Conditions of Uniformity; but if theſe new and unheard-of Obligations to abjure the holy Covenant were taken away, they would all, even to a Man, flock to the Church of England: And laſtly, unleſs there were ſome ſpeedy Care taken to prevent it, there would be a general Revolt of the People.

Thoſe Courtiers ſuggeſted many Things to the King in favour of them.

The King ſomewhat moved with their Petition,

Call'd a Council to conſider of it.

To which Biſhop Sheldon came and pleaded ſtrongly for the Law and the ſteddy Execution of it.

Biſhop Burnet ſays, that Lord Tarbot told him, that the

When the King was in ſome Meaſure moved with theſe Suggeſtions, they at length, with Difficulty, obtain'd from him, that the Matter ſhould be ſuſpended for a little Time; and therefore whereas the Law ought to be in Force the next Sunday, they prevailed to have the Council called but three Days before, for the effecting their Purpoſe, leſt, perhaps, any one ſhould unſeaſonably ſtep in before the Time to prevent their Deſigns, which yet unexpectedly happen'd through the Prudence and Fortitude of one Man, namely, that great Prelate Gilbert Sheldon, then Biſhop of London, afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury. For the Council being held, he came of his own Accord (for he was not yet called to the Privy-Council) and pleaded for the Law, with that Sharpneſs of Wit, that copious Eloquence, and that Weight of Reaſon, that he did not ſo much perſuade as command the Aſſent of the King, the Duke, the Council, and all the King had expreſſed to himſelf the Eſteem he had for Sheldon, upon Account of the Courage he had ſhewed in the Debate concerning the Execution of the Act of Uniformity at the Time prefixed, which was St. Bartholomew's. Hiſt. of his own Times, p. 155.

that were preſent, and almoſt even the Petitioners themſelves to his Opinion. He told them, that the Suſpenſion of the Law came almoſt too late, that by the Command of that Law he had ejected all who had not obey'd it in his Dioceſe the Sunday before, by which he had ſo provok'd their Anger and Hatred, that if they were again reſtor'd, he ſhould not live henceforward in a Society of Clergy, but in the Jaws of his Enemies; neither could he dare to contradict a Law that was paſſed with ſo great Approbation of all good Men, ſo general a Conſent of Parliament, and with ſo much Deliberation. And further, that if at that Time ſo ſacred a Law ſhould be repealed, it would expoſe the Lawgivers to the Sport and Scorn of the Faction. And laſtly, that the State and Church would never be free from Diſorders and Diſturbances, if factious Men could extort whatever they deſir'd, by their Impudence and Importunity.

As paſſed with ſo great Approbation of all good Men,

And ſo general a Conſent of Parliament,

To ſuſpend it would be to inſult the Law, and to expoſe the Law-makers.

The Council conſented to the immediate Execution.

The Preſbyterians ſurprized and ejected,

They that were preſent at the Council, being overcome by theſe and the like Reaſons, did with great Alacrity and Earneſtneſs conſent to the immediate Execution of the Law. Whence it happily came to paſs, that whereas there was but one Day to intervene between the Change of Counſel and the Event of the Matter; almoſt all the Preſbyterians, who feared no ſuch Thing, and on the contrary were joyfully ſecure, did on a ſudden, almoſt in the twinkling of an Eye, perceive themſelves defeated by one Stroak, and turned out of their Pariſhes, to their great Surprize and Aſtoniſhment.

And all the Schiſmaticks intangled and deceived themſelves.

By this ſeaſonable Interpoſition, the Biſhop freed the Church of England from theſe Plagues for many Years. For thus it happen'd luckily, happily, and proſperouſly, and indeed very providentially, that the Schiſmaticks intangled themſelves in their Schiſm by Covenant and Agreement, ent'ring into a new Aſſociation, being deceived by the large Promiſes of the London Teachers, that they would not obey the Law, and thence imagining that they ſhould defend themſelves by their Multitude.

And on the Sunday following the London Pulpits were filled with Orthodox Divines, learned and elegant Preachers.

And whereas the Courtiers would have perſuaded the King, that there would be Preachers wanted in the City of London upon that Sunday, the very prudent Biſhop of that Dioceſe, who had computed the Number of the Faction, had ready at Hand an equal Number of Orthodox Divines, and thoſe elegant and learned, who, at the Sign given, did, as it were, come out of Ambuſh, and take Poſſeſſion of the Pulpits.

Mr. Edward Wakeman collated to St. Matthew Friday-ſtreet,

In the Place of Mr. Henry Hurſt.

Gilbertus London Epiſcopus Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sancti Matthæi Friday-ſtreet, vacantem Edwardo Wakeman Clerico contulit intuitu Caritatis, vac. per Inconformitatem Henrici Hurſt.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Rob. Cheſten, A. M. ad Eccl. S. Matthai Friday-ſtreet, Lond. 8. Oct. 1640.

Henr. Hurſt, A. M. coll. ab Epiſc. Lond. ad Eccl. S Matthai Friday-ſtreet, Die 11. Martii, 1660. vac per Mort. Rob. Cheſten.

Henry Hurſt, Son of Henry Hurſt, ſome Time Vicar of Mickleton in Glouceſterſhire, was born there, entred a Batler of Magdalen Hall in Oxford, after the Surrender of that Place, in the latter End of 1649. he was made by the Viſitors Probationer Fellow of Merton College, where, as in the Schools, he ſhewed himſelf a quick, dextrous, and ſmart Diſputant. After he had taken the Degrees in Arts, he became a frequent Preacher in thoſe Parts (without any Orders from a Biſhop) eſpecially in the Church or Chapel of St. Croſs of Holywell in the Suburbs of Oxford. Much about the Time of his Majeſty's Reſtauration, he left the College and preached in London, and was by the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, St. Matthew Friday-ſtreet, by Majority of Votes elected (ſaith my Author) Rector of this Church: And at their Solicitation (I ſuppoſe) collated to this Rectory by the Biſhop of London March 11, 1660. then void by the Death of Robert Cheſten, A. M. But in 1662. ejected for Nonconformity, upon which he became afterwards a great Preacher in Conventicles. About 1675. his Preaching being much admir'd by Elizabeth Counteſs of Angleſey, he was taken into the Service of that Family, and made Chaplain to her Lord. —— Upon the Indulgence granted by King James II. he had his Lectures in and near London, and at laſt preaching in a Meeting-Houſe in or near Covent-Garden, on Sunday April 13, 1690. he was taken with an apoplectick Fit, whereof he died the next Day, and was buried in Covent-Garden Church-yard, near the Sun-Dial within the Rails.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c 639.

Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 476.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 41.

Contin. p. 60.

Mr. Stareſmore Vicar of Hendon in the Room of Dr. Tho. Paſke.

Aug. 28, 1662. Tho. Stareſmore, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Hendon Com. Midd. ad preſ. M. de Lawn Generoſi. —— reſignavit Anno 1679.

Newcourt Vol. II. p. 644.

Hendon. Mr. Francis Wareham, M. A. of Bennet College in Cambridge; a Man of great natural Wit, of genteel Learning, of great Pleaſantneſs in Converſation, and a very practical and profitable Preacher, but unſucceſsful. His Vicarage was worth an hundred Pounds per Annum.

Abridgment, Vol. II. *p.*470. *Contin. p.*613.

Dr. Thomas Paſke was Vicar of Hendon in Middleſex, and Archdeacon of London before the Wars, and liv'd to be reſtored to thoſe two Preferments, and died before Septemb. 1662. So as Mr. Wareham had no legal Title.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 63.

Mr. Tho. Willis not deprived of the Vicarage of Twickenham by Act of Uniformity. Dr. Tho. Goach had been ſequeſtred from it, and died 1649.

Twickenham. Mr. Thomas Willis: A good Scholar; like his Father, the famous Schoolmaſter of Twickenham. A grave Divine, a ſolid Preacher, of a very good Preſence, and a Man zealous for Truth and Order in the Churches of Chriſt; of great Holineſs of Life, of a publick Spirit, and much Fervour in his Work, and great Uſefulneſs in the County of Middleſex.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 470.

Succeeded by Dr. William Hobſon.

Willelmus Hobſon, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Twickenham in Com. Midd. 29. Junii 1661. vac. per Deprivat. ult. Vicarii, ad preſ. Decani & Can. lib. Capellæ S. Georgii infra Caſtrum de Windſore.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 358.

Dr. Richard Ball preſented to the Rectory of Bluntſham Com. Hunt, by the Ceſſion of Mr. James Bedford.

Ann. 1662. 28. Aug. Præſentatus eſt Richardus Ball, S. T. P. & Domino Regi à Sacris, atque Eccleſiæ Cath. Elienſ. Prebendarius, ad Rectoriam de Bluntſham cum Capella de Erith. in Com. Hunt. per Ceſſionem Bedford. ult. Incubatoris

Reg. Wren Elienſ.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 371.

batoris ibidem vacantem. [So that it appears, that Mr. James Bedford [not Incumbens but Incubator only] was not deprived by the Act of Uniformity, but voided the Living by Ceſſion or withdrawing for want of Title to it, or rather upon ſome other Conſideration.]

Reg. Henchman Sarum.

Conſecrata eſt Capella infra Palatium Epiſcopale Sarum Die 28. Aug. 1662. ab Humfredo ejuſdem Sedis Epiſcopo.

FRIDAY Aug. 29.

Mr. Ezek. Edgar, Rector of Stanmore, void by the Ceſſion of Mr. Sam. Stancliffe, a charitable and peaceable Man.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond. MS.

Ezekiel Edgar Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. per D. London Epiſcopum ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Stanmore-magna in Com. Midd. vac. per Ceſſionem Samuelis Stancliffe Clerici, ult. Incumb. ad preſ. diſcreti viri Thomæ Lake, Armigeri.

Dr. Calamy's Account of the ſilenc'd Miniſters, 8vo. 1713. p. 470.

Mr. Samuel Stancliff, M. A. of St. John's College in Cambridge. An eminent Divine of no Party. His Rectory of Stanmore-magna was worth better than 150*l. per Ann.* He was Paſtor of a Congregation at Rotherhith. He had an admirable Gift in Prayer. He died at Hoxton near London, Dec. 12, 1705. [and was indeed a good Man without Guile.]

A Conformiſt for a Living pleading for the Nonconformiſts, obſerved, that many of them after their Ejectment were well provided for.

London, 1681, 4to. p. 11.

The Conformiſt's Plea for the Non-Conformiſts, by a benefic'd Miniſter and regular Son of the Church of England, obſerves, that God became their Patron whom Men ejected, and preſented them ſome to Places always vacant, dark and neglected, and others he preferred from Countrey Villages to Towns and Cities. One Inſtance comes into my Mind of Mr. Edward Lawrence of Baſſe Church in Shropſhire, (a worthy Preacher) turned out with a Wife and many Children, who being aſked how he did intend to live, made Anſwer, the ſixth Chapter of St. Matthew muſt maintain me, my Wife and Children, and it is enough for us all. And ſo he found it true, for his double Ejection, the firſt out of his Pariſh, the ſecond out of his Countrey, made way for his Settlement in London. And ſuch Reaſon may be given, why many of the Non-Conformiſts reſort to London and other Towns, which is imputed to them by ſome as a Fault of Ambition, or worſe.

Calamy's Abridgment of Baxter, Vol. II. p. 557.

He firſt ſettled at Whitchurch, and was driven thence in 1670. when he remov'd to London, where he ſpent the reſt of his Days. He died in Nov. 1695. aged about 68. His Funeral Sermon was preached by Mr. Nathaniel Vincent.

Mr. M. Chamberlaine, Vicar of Willeſdon, in the Room of Mr. Edward Perkins.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 760.

Die 29. Aug. 1662. Marcus Chamberlaine Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Willeſdon Com. Midd. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli London. — Obiit Anno 1667.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 469.

Willeſden. Mr. Edward Perkins, a great Man, a very ready and well ſtudied Divine, eſpecially in School-Divinity; a great Tutor in Magdalen-Hall in Oxon. and particularly famous for his giving Mr. John Corbet his Education and Direction in his Studies.

Mr. Gabriel Price of Stanes no Sufferer by the Bartholomew Act.

Ibid.

From Staines in Middleſex. Mr. Gabriel Price, an honeſt plain Preacher, and of blameleſs Life and Converſation.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 734.

Mattheus Day, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stanes Com. Mid. 17. Aug. 1660. vac. per mort. Thomæ Some ult. Vic. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Edw. Furnice Cler. ad Vic. de Stanes 13. Octob. 1663. vac. per mort Matth. Day.

Mr. Swift a Fifth Monarchy Man, ejected from Edgworth, a Curacy.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 471.

Edgworth in Middleſex. Mr. Swift a pious Man, but led away by the Fifth-Monarchy Notions. He was impriſon'd a long Time in Newgate for keeping a Conventicle in his Houſe, and at laſt inlarg'd: And being much decay'd and impoveriſh'd died at Hendon.

Mr. Taverner could not be ejected from Hillingdon, where Mr. Boſton had been Vicar from Dec. 1. 1660.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 470.

Hillingdon in Middleſex. Mr. Philip Taverner, a grave peaceable Divine of an unblamed Life, but who choſe to live retir'd. His Rectory was reputed worth 100 l. per Ann. &c.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 650.

Thomas Boſton, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Hillingdon Com. Mid. ad coll. Epiſc. London, 1. Dec. 1660.

Mr. Richard Booker, admitted to St. Michael's Querne, in the Place of Mr. Matthew Pool, a very worthy and learned Man.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 490.

Die 29. Aug. 1662. Ricardus Booker, Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Michaelis Querne, London. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli Lond.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 491.

Ejected from St. Michael's Querne, Mr. Matthew Pool, M. A. who wrote Vox Clamantis in Deſerto, a Latin Piece with reſpect to the Ejection of the Miniſters at Bartholomew Day, Born at York, Son of Francis Pool, Eſq; had an Eſtate of one hundred Pounds per Ann. left by his Father. He had his Education in Emanuel College under Dr. Worthington, univerſally acknowledg'd a very learned Man. He was very facetious in his Converſation, very true to his Friend, very ſtrict in his Piety, and univerſal in his Charity.—— He died at Amſterdam in Holland in Octob. 1679.

A good Character given him by Mr. Wood.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 796.

Matthew Pole or Poole, M. A. of Emanuel College, Cambridge, was incorporated at Oxford July 14, 1657. He was Miniſter of St. Michaels in le Querne, London, from whence being ejected for Nonconformity Ann. 1662. he ſet himſelf to the Writing of thoſe admirable and uſeful Books entitled, Synopſis Criticorum Bibliorum. —— He left behind him the Character of Clariſſimus Criticus & Caſuiſta, &c.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 203.
Ibid.

29. Aug. 1662. Petrus Lane, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. Sancti Benedicti Paul's Wharf, London. ad coll. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli Lond.——

Account of Mr. Peter Lane, who was admitted to St. Bennet's Paul's-Wharf, in the Room of Mr. John Jackſon.

Peter Lane was born in the City of Norwich, bred up in St. John's College, Cambridge, of which he had been Fellow and a Maſter of Arts, benefic'd at . . . in Kent, but ejected thence by Sequeſtration in the late Rebellion: Reſtor'd upon the King's Reſtauration, but left it when he was admitted to this of St. Bennet, Paul's-Wharf, where he continu'd to do his Duty during all the Time of the great Plague in 1665. out of which being burnt in 1666. Dr. Henchman Biſhop of London not long after conferr'd on him Paddington in Middleſex, a Curacy endow'd dow'd with 80*l. per Ann.* He liv'd till his Church of St. Bennet was rebuilt, and enjoy'd that with the Church of St. Peter annex'd) as alſo his ſaid Curacy for ſome Time; and aged about 75. died at Paddington aforeſaid, and was buried in the Chancel of the Church there in May 1688.

He publiſh'd his Father's Annotations on Iſaiah, with a Preface giving an Account of his Life and Death. Dr. Calamy's Continuat. p. 37. Mr. Brian Turner fill'd the Church of Mr. Arthur Jackſon.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 33. Con. p. 36.

From St. Bennet Paul's-Wharf. Mr. John Jackſon, Son to Mr. Arthur Jackſon, noted for an Orator and Philoſopher when at Queen's College in Cambridge, and Moderator in the Schools. He was a profitable Preacher, a pious Liver, &c.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 349.

Aug. 29, 1662. Mr. Arthur Jackſon being ejected from the Rectory of St. Faith in London for Nonconformity, Mr. Brian Turner was collated to it by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul, who enjoy'd it till the Church was burnt down in 1666. Soon after he voided it by taking another Living in the Countrey. [Souldern Com. Oxon.]

Dr. Calamy's Account of Mr. Jackſon.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 3.

Mr. Arthur Jackſon, one of unwearied Induſtry and Diligence, who ſtudied fourteen or ſixteen Hours a Day at the Univerſity, and conſtantly roſe at three or four of the Clock in the Morning, Summer and Winter, to redeem his Time; and held it to the Age of 73. He was Miniſter of St. Michael's, Woodſtreet, Anno 1624. when a Peſtilential Sickneſs rag'd in the City, and continu'd all the Time of it.——He was fin'd 500*l.* for refuſing to give in Evidence againſt Mr. Love, and committed Priſoner to the Fleet, where he continu'd about ſeventeen Weeks. After the Reſtauration he was choſen by the Provincial Aſſembly of London, to preſent the Bible to King Charles in his triumphal Progreſs thro' the City. And he did actually preſent it at the Head of the City Miniſters in St. Paul's Church-yard, over againſt the School. The King thank'd them for it, and promis'd to make that Book the Rule of his Government and Life. He was afterwards one of the Commiſſioners at the Savoy, &c. He died Aug. 5, 1666. See the Account of his Life and Death prefix'd to his Annotations on Iſaiah.

Contin. p. 7.

Account by Mr. Ant. Wood.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. c. 716. Ibid. Vol. II. p. 75, 77.

He was Miniſter of St. Michael Woodſtreet, London, in 1636, and in 1649. but the Times of his Admiſſion and Ceſſion appear not. He was Maſter of Arts of Cambridge, and incorporated in the ſame Degree at Oxford, July 15, 1617. He was ingag'd in the ſame Plot with Love, but was afterwards (with ſeveral others that were alſo ingag'd therein) at the Motion of a certain Noble Perſon, pardon'd for Life and Eſtate, and freed both from Sequeſtration and Impriſonment.

By Mr. Newcourt.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 497.

He was Miniſter of St. Faith's under St. Paul's, both before and at the Time of the Reſtauration of King Charles II. but was ejected for not conforming, as was required by the Act of Uniformity. To whom ſucceeded Brian Turner, M. A. collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's in London, Aug. 29, 1662. who kept it till the Fire of London 1666.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 27.

Mr. Thomas Brooks, ſaid to be ejected from St. Mary Magdalen, Fiſhſtreet, London. He was a very affecting Preacher, and uſeful to many. And tho' he us'd many homely Phraſes, and ſometimes too familiar Reſemblances, which to nice Criticks appear ridiculous, yet he did more good to Souls than many of the exacteſt Compoſers.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 305.

But however ſilenc'd, he was not ejected by the Bartholomew Act: For before the Troubles, Mr. Matthew Griffith was collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's to that Church of St. Mary Magdalen, Old-Fiſhſtreet, and after great Sufferings was reſtored to it upon the King's Return, and held it till his Death, Octob. 14, 1665.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 372. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 372. Walker's Sufferings, &c.

From St. John Baptiſt: Mr. Peter Witham. [Who ſeems to have come in after Mr. Richard Walmſley had been for his Loyalty ejected by Sequeſtration, in the late Times of Rebellion; who had been preſented to this Church by King Charles I. and admitted May 8, 1633.]

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 44.

From St. Andrew Underſhaft. Mr. Woodcock and Mr. Thomas Underwood. As for Mr. Woodcock he had the univerſal Reputation of a learned Man. He was a ſmart Diſputant, and one of great Ability and Readineſs in Academical Exerciſes. He had been long Fellow of Jeſus College, and Proctor of the Univerſity of Cambridge.——After his Ejectment, he and Dr. Tuckney liv'd for ſome Time together in the Countrey.——He died of a Fever in 1695. [But whatever were his Abilities, his Title could not be good, while Mr. John Pritchet, collated to this Rectory of St. Andrew Underſhaft, June 14, 1641. after being ſequeſtred was repoſſeſs'd of his Church again upon the Reſtauration, and reſign'd it in 1664. made Biſhop of Gloceſter, 1672.]

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 182, 368.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 44. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 432.

From Abchurch. Mr. Kitchen. [Where Mr. Benjamin Stone had been admitted Rector June 19, 1613. and after being plunder'd, ſequeſtred, and ſent Priſoner by Sea to Plymouth, was re-inſtated in 1660. and reſign'd in 1661.]

John Nye Vicar of Quendon.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 477.

27. Aug. 1662. Johannes Nye Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Quendon Com. Eſſex vac. per ceſſ. Abrahami Clyfford ad preſ. Sam. Gibbs Gen.—— Obiit Anno 1668.

Mr. Paul Ducket Rector of Rettenden.

Ibid. 491.

29. Aug. 1662. Paul Ducket, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Rettenden Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Galfridi Watts pro hac vice.—— Obiit Anno 1670.

In the Place of Mr Will. Clopton, who was adviſed not to conform by a neighbouring Miniſter, who ſoon after did himſelf conform.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 310.

Reckenden. Mr. William Clopton, M. A. His Living was worth 160*l. per Annum.* He was of a good Family in Suffolk, but very humble and condeſcending. He had his Education in Emanuel College, Cambridge. He had the Offer of a much better Pariſh than that he was in, but he refus'd it becauſe it was a Sequeſtration. Mr. Nathan Hewſon of Burnham viſiting him a little before Bartholomew Day 1662. aſked him what he intended to do? Mr. Clopton anſwer'd, he did not know what he ſhould do. Oh, ſaid Mr. Hewſon to him, never conform. But he did not follow the Advice himſelf: For when the Day came, he gave his Aſſent and Conſent. He afterwards ſent Mr. Clopton a Letter, in which he deſir'd him to have a Care what he did; for that Reckendon was a good Living. He wrote him back Word, that he hop'd he ſhould keep a good Conſcience. And he had afterwards a great deal of Satisfaction in his witneſſing againſt Eccleſiaſtical Impoſitions. He died in the fifty eighth Year of his Age, and was bury'd in the ſame Grave, and at the ſame Time, with his Neighbour and intimate Friend Mr. Philologus Sacheverell.

SATURDAY Aug. 30. Progreſs of the Treaty for the Purchaſe of Dunkirk to the French King.

There had been a Letter of the French King to his Ambaſſador going towards Holland, the Count d'Eſtrades, giving him Leave to go over into England to confer with his Britannick Majeſty and the Chancellor about important Affairs, [i. e. obtaining a Surrendry of Dunkirk.] Dated from St. Germane en Laye, Aug. 2, 1662.

Lettres & Memoirs du Comte d'Eſtrades, 8vo. 1719. p. 282.

The Conference of Count d'Eſtrades with the King and the Chancellor.

The Chancellor confeſs'd, that this Project came from himſelf,

The General, the Treaſurer, and Earl of Sandwich to be gained over.

Who had propos'd an Expedient for keeping it, by leaving it to be maintained by the Parliament.

And perhaps better Offers from Spain.

A Letter of Count d'Eſtrades to the French King, dated de Londres le 17. Aouſt 1662. giving Account of one Conference with the King himſelf, and two with the Chancellor upon the Subject of his Voyage into England —— And of their Demand of a Sum of twelve Millions for that important Place. —— That the Chancellor had confeſs'd, that the Project of this Treaty came from himſelf; that he alone was in the Secret with the King and the Duke of York; that he was ſtill to manage General Monk, the Lord Treaſurer, and the Earl of Sandwich, whom he could not hope to gain over without urging the great Profit and Advantage to the King himſelf; for that when he had intimated to them the Neceſſities of the State to be that way reliev'd, they ſeem'd to propoſe an Expedient for keeping it, and yet ſaving the King's own Expence in it, which was to put the Place into the immediate Authority of the Parliament, who ſhould charge themſelves with the whole Burden of it, and the King be no leſs Maſter: —— Beſides, there were Offers from Spain, which the King had hitherto rejected. —— No Reaſon however, for agreeing to that exorbitant Demand of twelve Millions, &c.

In other Conferences; And eſpecially in private with the Chancellor, he had learn'd that nothing could induce the King to part with Dunkirk, but Neceſſity alone.
The Spaniard would offer any Thing, and Holland no doubt would give an immenſe Sum for it.
And the Parliament would be willing to maintain it.
But the King of England would accommodate his Brother of France.
Yet there muſt be a valuable Conſideration.
At leaſt ſeven Millions.

A ſecond Letter of Count d'Eſtrades to his Maſter the French King, dated from London, Aug. 21, 1662. informing, that whatever had lately paſſed in the three Conferences he had held with the King and the Chancellor, had been ſince communicated to the Duke of York, the General Monk, Lord Treaſurer, and Earl of Sandwich, and that they all had two Conferences upon it; —— ſince which the Lord Chancellor had ſent for him by his Servant Mr. Beling, and told him, that it was Neceſſity alone that could induce the King his Maſter to part with Dunkirk; that he could treat with the Spaniard, who would offer any Thing for that Place; or ſecondly, with Holland, who would no doubt give an immenſe Sum for it; or even thirdly, put it into the Hands of the Parliament: —— But they had rather accommodate your Majeſty; — yet not for a leſs Sum, —— leſt he, the Chancellor, ſhould fall under a publick Cenſure, and be in Danger of loſing his Head; and therefore rather than depart from their firſt Demand, he ſhould think it better to make a Preſent of it to your Majeſty, and depend upon a Return of your Liberality: — That however, they would after all, to oblige your Majeſty, be content with ſeven Millions. —— To which I anſwered, that as the firſt Demand was very exorbitant, ſo this was ſtill too exceſſive, &c.

The French King offers four Millions.

A Letter from the French King to his Miniſter the Count d'Eſtrades at London, from St. German Aug. 27, 1662. to beat down the Price by ſeveral Arguments, and among others that of Cromwell's offering it to France for two Millions, —— however he might now offer four Millions for it, &c.

See End of Sept. 1662.

The chief Manager of this Treaty had publickly declar'd againſt the Delivery of it to Spain.
In two ſeveral Speeches to both Houſes of Parliament.

The Lord Chancellor in his Speech to the two Houſes of Parliament, May 8, 1661. —— My Lords of the Council obſerved, that in the ſame Memorials in which the Spaniſh Ambaſſador threatens War, if the King marries with Portugal, he preſſeth very earneſtly the delivering up of Dunkirk and Jamaica; and it is plain enough he would have that Recompence for the Portion he would give: And in Truth, whoever is againſt the Match with Portugal, is for the Delivery of Dunkirk and Jamaica, &c.

Printed 1661. Fol.

The Lord Chancellor in a later Speech to the two Houſes at their Riſing, May 19, 1662. had ſaid:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

—— You may with a very good Conſcience aſſure yourſelves and your Friends and Neighbours, that the Charge the Crown is now at by Sea and Land, for the Peace and Security and Wealth and Honour of this Nation, amounts to no leſs than eight hundred thouſand Pounds a Year, all which did not coſt the Crown before theſe Troubles, fourſcore thouſand Pounds the Year; and therefore they will never blame you for any Supply you have given, or Addition you have made to the Revenue of the Crown; and whoever unſkilfully murmurs at the Expence of Dunkirk, and the other new Acquiſitions, which ought to be look'd upon as Jewels of an immenſe Magnitude in the Royal Diadem, do not enough remember what we have loſt by Dunkirk, and ſhould always do, if it were in an Enemy's Hand.

Printed 1662, Fol.

Bp. Burnet's Account the more ſtrange, to throw it all upon Monk, and to acquit Clarendon from any Concern in it.

[The Account given by Biſhop Burnet is a little the more to be wondred at] concerning the Sale of Dunkirk, when that Matter was under Debate. —— The Earl of Clarendon ſaid, he underſtood not thoſe Matters; but appealed to Monk's Judgment, who did poſitively adviſe the letting it go for the Sum that France offered. —— Hence the King loſt his Reputation abroad, and the Court was believed believed venal. And becauſe the Earl of Clarendon was in greateſt Credit, the Blame was caſt chiefly on him, tho' his Son aſſured me, he kept himſelf out of that Affair entirely.

Hiſtory of his own Times, p. 173.

Sunday Aug. 31.

The Number of Conformiſts much greater than of thoſe who refuſ'd to conform.

The Number of the Non-Conformiſts compared with thoſe that do now conform, and of thoſe that under the Uſurpers ſuffered for Conformity to the Laws, are ſo inconſiderable, that the Teſtimonies of a few ought not to come in Ballance with the Multitude on the other ſide. Moreover, though it ſhould be granted that their Diſſents are from Conſcience either ſcrupulous, dubious, or erroneous, yet we cannot ſay their holding out is upon that Account, nor as that Author ſaith, againſt Hopes of Indulgence, but upon hopes of it.

A Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4to. p. 31.

No ſuch great Numbers as commonly reported.

Upon aggravating the Numbers of the deprived and ſilenced Miniſters, Notice was taken of what Archbiſhop Spotſwood had obſerv'd, that after the Hampton-Court Conference, of above nine thouſand Miniſters, there were but forty nine upon the Roll, that ſtood out and were depoſed. Such a Noiſe (ſaith the Archbiſhop) will a few Diſturbers cauſe in any Society where they are tolerated.

Hiſtory of the Church of Scotland, p. 487.

A Connivance at ſome few Non-Conformiſts.

Some were conniv'd at after their neglecting and omitting to comply with the Terms of Conformity. As in the Year 1665. among other Articles objected to Thomas Sanderſon Clerk, Vicar of Thingdon Com. Northampt. and Maſter of the School there. After Idleneſs and Immorality and Dilapidations, it followeth: —— That after the Act of Uniformity, you did not publickly and ſolemnly read the Morning and Evening Prayer, nor declare your unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent, nor ſubſcribe the Declaration, &c.

MS.

The ſingular Caſe of Mr. Aſhhurſt of Arleſey Com. Bedf. who continued in his Living without Conformity.

Mr. Aſhhurſt of Arleſey in Bedford. His Caſe was particular. He could not comply with the new Impoſitions in the Act of Uniformity; and therefore would have quitted his Living, but was rather adviſ'd to continue in it, and did ſo without Moleſtation. He was old, and his Vicarage ſmall, even below a Competency. Judge Brown was his Patron, Pariſhioner, and great Friend. The whole Pariſh was well affected, for his worthy Behaviour amongſt them, and entirely under the Influence of the Judge, and another Gentleman who was alſo his great Friend. And ſo, tho' he was legally ſilenc'd, he continued in his Church a Non-Conformiſt. He read Part of the Morning and Evening Service, viz. the Confeſſion, Scripture Hymns, and Creed, and ſome of the Collects. —— He took for his ſmall Tythes, juſt what his Pariſhioners were pleas'd to give him. —— He liv'd to be very old. Mr. Read of Henlow, his near Neighbour and old intimate Friend, preach'd his Funeral Sermon, and gave a large Encomium of him, which he well deſerv'd.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 193. Contin. p. 131.

Some who left their Livings did afterwards conform, and even ran from one extream to another.

Several were prevail'd on by Example and other Motives to leave their Benefices upon the Bartholomew Act, and yet afterwards conformed, and ſhewed themſelves in another Extream. As when Alexander Gordon, D. D. was turned out of the Rectory of Porteynon Com. Glamorgan before 1649. he was ſucceeded by one Evan Griffiths, who had alſo the neighbouring Church of Oxwich, was a Nonconformiſt in 1662. but afterwards accepted of the Living of Adderley in Glouceſterſhire, and became, as I am informed, as violent a Perſecutor of the Diſſenters as he had once been of the Royaliſts.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 259.

Books and Papers publiſh'd in or about Auguſt 1662.

Mr. Hacon's Vindication of his Exceptions againſt Mr. Horne's Catechiſm.

A Vindication of the Review. Or the Exceptions formerly made againſt Mr. Horne's Catechiſm, ſet free from his late Allegations, and maintained not to be Miſtakes. By J. H. [Joſeph Hacon] Parſon of Maſſingham in Norfolk.

Cambridge, printed by John Field, 1662. 8vo.

Dedicated to Sir Charles Mordaunt.

Epiſt. Ded. Digniſſimo viro ac Domino omnigena virtute claro, multiſque nominibus honorando D. Carolo Mordaunt Baronetto, hoc quicquid eſt conaminis in receptæ Fidei Vindiciis, grati animi & debitæ obſervantiæ teſſeram, L. M. D. D. C. Z. Joſephus Hacon.

Eraſtus, by a Papiſt.

Eraſtus Senior. Scholaſtically demonſtrating this Concluſion, that admitting the Lambeth Records for true, thoſe called Biſhops here in England are no Biſhops, either in Order or Juriſdiction, or ſo much as Legal.

Printed 1662. 8vo.

Lawſon on the Epiſtle to the Hebrews.

An Expoſition of the Epiſtle of Saint Paul to the Hebrews. By George Lawſon.

London, 1662, Fol.

Mr. Boyle againſt Hobbs.

An Examen of a Diſcourſe of Mr. Hobbes, intitled, Dialogus Phyſicus de Natura Aeris. By the Honourable Robert Boyle, Eſq;

London, 1662, 4to.

Dod and Clever.

An Expoſition of the Decalogue or ten Commandments delivered by God: Done by Mr. Dod and Mr. Clever.

London, 1662. 4to.

Sermons of Mr. Vines.

Thirty two Sermons on St. John vi. 44, &c. By the late Reverend Mr. Richard Vines.

London, 1662, 4to.

Mr. Archdeacon Pory's Articles of Viſitation.

Articles to be enquired of within the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, in the Viſitation of the Right Worſhipful Dr. Robert Pory, Archdeacon of the ſaid Archdeaconry. Holden in the Year of our Lord God 1662.

London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1662, 4to.

The Form of the Church-Wardens Oath.

The Oath to be adminiſtred to the Church-Wardens and ſworn Men.

You ſhall ſwear, that you and every of you, ſhall diligently enquire of the Articles given you in Charge, and without any Affection, Favour, Hatred, Hope of Reward and Gain, or Fear of Diſpleaſure, or Malice of any Perſon, you ſhall preſent all and every ſuch Perſon and Perſons, that now is or of late was within your Pariſh, as hath committed any Inceſt, Adultery, Fornication, or Simony, and any Miſdemeanour or Diſturbances committed or made in any Church or Chapel in Time of Common-Prayer, Preaching, or Divine Service there uſed, to the Diſturbance thereof, and alſo that have committed or done any other Offence, Fault or Default preſentable in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, according to the Articles now delivered to you. Wherein you ſhall deal uprightly, fully, and according to Truth, neither of Malice preſenting any contrary to Truth, nor of corrupt Affection ſparing to preſent any, and ſo conceal the Truth; having in this Action God before your Eyes, with an earneſt Zeal to maintain the Truth and ſuppreſs Vice. So help you God and the Contents of this Book.

Mr. Roſſe's Epitome of Sir Walter Rawleigh's Hiſtory.

The Marrow of Hiſtory, abridged from Sir Walter Rawleigh. By Alexander Roſſe. The ſecond Edition.

London, for J. Place, 1662, 12º.

Mr. Swinnock's Farewell Sermon.

The Paſtor's Farewell, and Wiſh of Welfare to his People. Or a Valedictory Sermon on Acts xx. 32. Preached at Great Kimbell in Bucks. By George Swinnock, M. A. [late Vicar, who being ejected for Non-conformity, was received into the Family of Rich. Hamden of Great-Hamden Com. Bucks, Eſq; and continued with him for ſome Time in the Quality of a Chaplain.]

London, 1662, 4to. Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 383. Dr. Calamy's Account, 8vo p. 104.

Mr. Lye's Farewell Sermon.

The fixed Saint. Held forth in a farewell Sermon at Allhallows in Lombard-ſtreet the 17th of Auguſt 1662. on Phil. iv. 1. By Thomas Lye, M. A. —— [It was reprinted the ſame Year in Octavo, among other Farewell Sermons at Bartholomew-tide, with his Picture very like him.]

London, 1662, 4to.

A Book of Medicines by Dr. E. M.

Theſaurus Remediorum. A Book of very choice Medicines, Internal and External. Their Virtues, right Uſe, and juſt Doſes, according to Strength, Sex, and Age, exactly declared. Whereunto is added diagnoſtick Signs to know the Temperament and Conſtitution of each Body, with a phyſical Diet and ſelect Counſels for each Complexion. Alſo indicating Signs, Advice, and Cautions for Purging, Vomiting, Sweating, and Bleeding, with their Effects and Benefits. The ſecond Impreſſion reviſed, corrected, and enlarged with other curious Medicines. By E. M. Doctor in Phyſick.

London, ſold by Samuel Thompſon, 1662.

A whimſical Roſie Crucian Book by Mr. Heydon.

The Holy Guide, leading the Way to the Wonder of the World: Teaching the Knowledge of all Things paſt, preſent, and to come. With Cures of all Diſeaſes, and Roſie Crucian Medicines. By John Heydon, Gent. To which is added) his Roſie Croſs uncovered, and his Barto-Thomas-Street.

London, by J. M. 1662. 8vo.

Dr. Wallis againſt Mr. Hobbs

Hobbius Heauton-Timorumenos. Or a Conſideration of Mr. Hobbes his Dialogues. By John Wallis, D. D.

Oxford, by Lichfield, 1662, 8vo.

Mr. Cowley's Latin Poem of Plants.

Plantarum Libri duo. Carmine Latino. Authore Abrahamo Couleio. [Reprinted in Poemata Latina. In quibus continentur ſex Libri Plantarum. Cum Notis. Lond. 1668. and 1678, 8vo.]

Londini, 1662, 8vo. Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 797.

Animadverſions on the Scottiſh Covenant.

Animadverſions on the Scotch Covenant. Wherein all may receive Satisfaction as to the Illegality of it, and be eaſily perſuaded to the Renunciation thereof. By J. L.

London, ſold at the Angel in Cornhill, 1662, 4to.

Whole Armour of God, and the dying Preacher's Legacy.

Panoplia. Or the whole Armour of God applyed for the Conduct and Comfort of a Chriſtian in all his Tryals. Alſo the dying Preacher's Legacy in ſeveral Sermons, being the laſt Labours of the Reverend Author in the Courſe of his Miniſtry. With certain ſeaſonable Conſiderations, proving the Lawfulneſs and Expediency of a ſet Form of Liturgy in the Church. By Richard Venour, late Rector of St. Mary's in Warwick.

London, 1662, ſold by John Durham.

Coke's ſecond Inſtitutes.

The ſecond Part of the Inſtitutes of the Laws of England, containing the Expoſition of many ancient and other Statutes. Whereof you may ſee the Particular in a Table following. Authore Edwardo Coke Milite, J. C. Hæc ego grandævus poſui tibi, candide Lector.

London, printed by J. Fleſher. 1662, Fol.

Monday Sept. 1.

Mr. Baxter very bitter upon the caſting out of Nonconformiſts.

Reprov'd by Biſhop Bramhall.

Mr. Baxter had before the Reſtauration without a Cauſe, provoked the Biſhops and Clergy of the old Church of England, by repreſenting them as Followers of Grotius, and Profeſſors of the Grotian Religion, in a printed Diſcourſe Anno 1658. he had put King Charles I. at the Head of this Grotian Party, and made Archbiſhop Laud a Tool to introduce this Grotianiſm, or refined Popery; and had declared that moſt or all the ſuffering Biſhops and Clergy were Grotians, i. e. half Papiſts, and well nigh ready to be altogether ſo. —— To which an excellent Anſwer was given by Biſhop Bramhall.

Great Murmurs and Complaints upon ejecting of the Non-conforming Miniſters; Mr. Baxter had uſed thoſe Words, when yet the moſt Learned, Godly, Powerful, Painful, Peaceable Men, that durſt not uſe the old Ceremonies nor the new, muſt be caſt aſide, or driven away, &c. To which Archbiſhop Bramhall anſwered, “ Compariſons are odious, but ſuch Superlatives are incredible, and argue nothing but the Writer's Pride and Partiality, and little Regard to what he writeth. Let Mr. Baxter ſumm up into one Catalogue all the Non-Conformiſts throughout the Kingdom of England ever ſince the Beginning of the Reformation, who have been caſt aſide and driven away at any Time, becauſe they durſt not uſe the old Ceremonies or the new, or rather becauſe they found it advantageous to them to diſuſe them: I dare abate him all the reſt of the Kingdom, and only exhibit the Martyrologies of London and the two Univerſities, or a Liſt of thoſe who in theſe laſt inteſtine Wars have been haled away to Priſons, or chaſed away into Baniſhment by his own Party in theſe three Places alone; or left to the mercileſs World to beg their Bread, for no other Crime than Loyalty, and becauſe they ſtood affected to the ancient Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, and they ſhall double them for Number, and for Learning, Piety, Induſtry, and the Love of Peace, exceed them incomparably. And if he compare their Perſecutions, the Sufferings of his ſuppoſed Confeſſors will appear to be but Flea-bitings in Compariſon of theirs. But after all this, the greateſt Diſparity remaineth yet untouched, that is in the Cauſe of their Sufferings, the one ſuffered for Faith and the other for Faction. —— His ſuperlative Expreſſions did draw me unwillingly to do this right to the orthodox and genuine Sons of the Church of England. I will add but one Word more, that we have ſeen but little Fruits of their peaceable Diſpoſitions hitherto; but the contrary, that they have made all Places to become Shambles of Chriſtians. God grant that we may find them more peaceable for the future.”

Biſhop Bramhall's Works and Life, Fol.

The Lawfulneſs of Conformity believed by the People and by their Miniſters.

The modern Pleas for Comprehenſion, Toleration, &c. 1665. 12°. p. 13.

The Lawfulneſs of joining in the publick Worſhip is underſtood by the Laity as well as Clergy among them, as is evident from theſe three Things: Firſt, That there are thoſe Perſons to be named, who came to Church before the Act of Oblivion, who never did ſince. Secondly, That immediately after the Act of Uniformity, whilſt the Hopes of Toleration were very uncertain, there was a much greater Uniformity both in the City of London and over the whole Nation, than ever hath been ſince. Thirdly, That I have enquired and could never learn, that there was ſo much as one Example to be given of any one of all the Patrons or Proſelytes of the Conventicles, who did leave the ſmalleſt Office whatſoever, rather than he would in Obedience to a late Act of Parliament, join in the Prayers and receive the Sacrament, according to the Order of the Church of England. From which it doth appear plainly, that in thoſe Mens Eſteem, either there is no Sin in communicating with the Church of England; or elſe that theſe Gentlemen of ſo extremely tender Conſciences can deliberately commit a Sin, and that when they are performing the moſt ſolemn Act of Adoration of Almighty God, and with all the Shews of Devotion imaginable.

Copy of the Powers given to the King's Commiſſioners to ſettle, conclude, and ſign the Treaty for the Sale of Dunkirk.

Printed in the general Collection of Treaties, 1710. 8vo.

A Copy of the Powers and Inſtructions given by the King to the Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellour, the Earl of Southampton Lord High Treaſurer, the Duke of Albemarle and the Earl of Sandwich appointed Commiſſioners to treat for the Surrendry of Dunkirk to the French King. Dated Sept. 1, 1662.

I do impower my Couſins the Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellour of England, the Earl of Southampton Lord High Treaſurer of England, the Duke of Albemarle, and the Earl of Sandwich, to ſettle, conclude, and ſign a Treaty with the Count D'Eſtrades, for the Sale of the Town of Dunkirk and its Dependences, and promiſe upon the Faith and Word of a King to approve, ratify, and execute every Thing that the ſaid Chancellour, Treaſurer, Duke of Albemarle, and Earl of Sandwich ſhall promiſe by Virtue of this Power. Done at London Sept. 1, 1662.

CHARLES R.

TUESDAY Sept. 3.

Mr. Will. Carrington Preb. of Linc.

Reg. Linc.

Willelmus Carrington, A. M. inſtallatus eſt in Præb. de Empingham in Eccl. Cath. Linc. 2. Sept. 1662.

Mr. Tho. Laney Rector of Paſton.

Reg. Laney. Epiſc. Petrib.

Thomas Laney, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Paſton Com. Northampt. vac. per Deprivationem Edwardi Dickenſon ex Coll. D. Epiſcopi Petriburg. pleno jure.

The Number of Nonconformiſts inconſiderable when the Government was in earneſt with them.

Liberty of Conſcience upon its true and proper Grounds, 1668.

And would be now much leſs if they did not hope for a Toleration.

As to the Nonconformiſts, if the Government would pleaſe but to own it ſelf, the Numbers of theſe Men would preſently appear to be very inconſiderable. And this hath no oftner been try'd, than it hath been found to have been accompany'd with good Effect. In Queen Elizabeth's Days theſe Mens Predeceſſors were very troubleſome, made a great Noiſe with their great Numbers, and the great Dangers which would ariſe by diſobliging them; and they had ſome great Favourites in Court upon ſome Accounts which were not very religious: But when by Reaſon of their inſolent Provocation in the Year 1588. when the Queen was in her Fears from the Spaniſh Armada, and in a Condition as they thought to deny them nothing, they ſo far provok'd her, as to alienate her Mind for ever from them; their boaſted of Numbers did immediately abate, and the Laws were immediately ſubmitted to, as ſoon as ever they did perceive, that it was but in vain to think of longer trifling with them. So likewiſe it happen'd in King James's Days, their loud Clamours were preſently ſilenced, as ſoon as ever the King declared himſelf reſolute at the Conference at Hampton-Court. Nor would the Act of Uniformity had any leſs Effect, if it had not been accompany'd with a general Diſcourſe at the ſame Time of a Toleration to follow immediately upon it. And I appeal to the Conſciences of ſeveral of the Preachers in the ſeparated Congregations, whether they did not leave their Livings upon this very Hope, which without it they would never have done.

Death of John Biddle, a profeſſed Diſputer againſt the Deity of the Holy Ghoſt.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 202.

A Man of great Parts and Piety.

Mr. John Biddle, Author of ſeveral Treatiſes againſt the Deity of the Holy Ghoſt, having been very often impriſon'd by the Long Parliament and Cromwell for his heretical Writings, and upon his Diſcharge from Confinement in the Iſle of Scilly, had returned to London and carried on his Conventicles and Diſputes without Contradiction; did now upon his Majeſty's Reſtauration hold his Meetings more private, and but ſeldom. And being narrowly watch'd, he was taken in the Houſe of a certain Citizen, while he was conventicling in the Beginning of July 1662. whereupon being carried before Sir Richard Brown, then lately Lord-Mayor, was by him impriſon'd, and uſed (as his Party ſaith) with great Cruelty, eſpecially in this reſpect, that he hindred all Sureties or Bail to be given for him. So that by the Filth of a Priſon in hot Weather contracting a Diſeaſe, he died thereof, in the Month of September (one tells me the ſecond, and another the twenty ſecond Day) about five of the Clock in the Morning, to the great Grief of his Diſciples, in 1662. Whereupon his Body being convey'd to the Burying-place joining to Old Bedlam in Moorfields near London, was there depoſited by the Brethren, who ſoon after took Care, that an Altar Monument of Stone ſhould be erected over his Grave with an Inſcription thereon, ſhewing, that he was Maſter of Arts of the Univerſity of Oxon, and that he had given the World great Specimens of his Learning and Piety, &c. He had in him a ſharp and quick Judgment, and a prodigious Memory, wonderfully vers'd in the Scriptures, and could not only repeat all St. Paul's Epiſtles in Engliſh, but alſo in the Greek Tongue, which made him a ready Diſputant. He was accounted by thoſe of his Perſuaſion a ſober Man in his Diſcourſe, and to have nothing of Impiety, Folly, or Scurrility to proceed from him. Alſo ſo devout that he ſeldom or never prayed without being proſtrate or flat on the Ground, &c.

I have heard Dr. John Mapletoft, a worthy City Miniſter, and a Relation of Mr. Tho. Firmin often ſay, That Tho. Firmin while an Apprentice in London was a young Diſciple of John Biddle's; and then adventured to deliver a Petition for his Releaſe from Newgate to Oliver Cromwell, who gave him a ſhort Anſwer. You curl Pate Boy you, do you think I'll ſhew Favour to a Man that denies his Saviour, and diſturbs the Government.

Joannis Bidelli Angli Academiæ Oxonienſis quondam Artium Magiſtri celeberrimi Vita. Londini 1682. in three Sheets and an half in 8^vo^. the Author of which was (ſaith Mr. A. Wood) as I have been informed, (for there is no Name ſet to it) one Job. Farrington, J. C. T. of the Inner Temple.

Life of Mr. Tho. Firmin, 8^vo^ p. 25.

Account of a Letter ſent from the Unitarian Congregations in Poland to Chriſtian Friends in England, to entreat their Help and charitable Contributions. Whereupon Mr. Thomas Firmin in London procured ſome Aſſiſtances from private Perſons, and (though without a Brief) ſome Collections in Churches within the Year 1662.

Miſcellan. Aulica, 8^vo^. p. 173.

A ſhort Narration of the Eſtate of Affairs in Scotland: As they ſtood at the Down-ſitting of the Parliament January 1661. and as they are now at the Diſſolving of the ſecond Seſſion of that Parliament. Sent by the Earl of Middleton, Lord Commiſſioner of that Kingdom, to King Charles II.

Beginning.

What can we ſuppoſe the Condition of a People to be, who under the ſpecious, but falſe, Pretences of Religion and Liberty, had by ſolemn Voices engaged themſelves in a publick Rebellion againſt lawful Authority, and were for many Years too ſucceſsful in it, but endleſs Miſery and Diſtraction, &c.

Concluding.

By all which it appears, that a Rebellion begun and carried on upon Pretence of Religion and Reformation, ſtrengthen'd by twenty Years Succeſs, confirmed by ſolemn and renew'd Oaths and Covenants, and in which his Majeſty's Authority and Government both in Church and State, the Liberties of the Kingdom, and the Rights of the People were deſtroy'd, is now within the Space of twenty Months rooted up, and in lieu thereof his Majeſty's Authority and Royal Prerogative more fully aſſerted and eſtabliſhed by Law than formerly, the ancient and right Government of the Church reſtored and ſettled, the Laws and Rights of the People ſecured, and the Kingdom fully returned to his Majeſty's Obedience; ſo as nothing remains to the perpetuating of this happy Condition, but the employing of Perſons well principled and affectionate to this Change in the future Adminiſtrations of it.

A ſhort Eſſay upon the Diſorders of Scotland. Ibid.

WEDNESDAY Sept. 3.

Mr. Heardman, B. D. collated to St. John Zachary, London.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 376.

Sept. 3, 1662. Mr. John Heardman, S. T. B. was collated to the Church of St. John Zachary, London, by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and was the laſt Rector thereof before it was burnt, and afterwards united to St. Anne Alderſgate.

Abridgm. Vol. II. p. 33. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 376.

Dr. Calamy among the ejected or ſilenced Miniſters in London ſaith. From St. John Zachary, Mr. Ralph Strethill. —— We know not whether any ſuch Man came in, after Mr. Philp Edlyn in 1642. was for his Loyalty ſequeſtred, forc'd to fly, and plundred.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 36.

Silenc'd, Lecturer at St. John Zachary, Mr. Humphreys.

Mr. Barker. ſaid to be ejected or ſilenced at St. Leonard Eaſtcheap.

Ibid. p. 44. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 392.

From St. Leonard Eaſtcheap, Mr. Matthew Barker, one of conſiderable Learning, great Piety, and univerſal Candour and Moderation, &c. [But no legal Poſſeſſor, and no Sufferer by the late Bartholomew Act. For Dr. Elkanah Downes had been admitted to this Church Nov. 17, 1661. as void by the Death of Mr. Abraham Colf, the laſt legal Incumbent, who died Decemb. 5, 1657.]

Death of William Lenthall, Eſq; late Speaker of the Long Parliament.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 205.

William Lenthall, Eſq; Speaker, and one of the principal Agents in the Long Parliament, miſſing his Deſign of being elected Burgeſs for the Univerſity of Oxford, when recommended by General Monk, to ſerve in the Parliament which began April 25, 1660. had retired in private, and endeavoured to hide or convey away the vaſt Deluge of Wealth, which he had obtained, as alſo to ſecure to his Poſterity that Eſtate he had purchaſed in the Name of other People.——

Made ſubject to any Penalty not extending to Life.

Yet only made incapable of any Office.

June 11, 1660. Reſolved by the Commons, That William Lenthall, Eſq; be one of the twenty Perſons to be excepted out of the Act of General Pardon and Oblivion, for and in reſpect only of ſuch Pains, Penalties, and Forfeitures (not extending to Life) as ſhall be thought fit to be inflicted on him by another Act intended to be paſſed for that Purpoſe, —— by which other Act, if he the ſaid William Lenthall ſhall, after the firſt of September, 1660. accept or exerciſe any Office, Eccleſiaſtical, Military, or Civil, he ſhall to all Intents and Purpoſes in Law ſtand as if he had been totally excepted by Name in the ſaid Act. —— At length after a great deal of Moyling, Turmoyling, Perfidiouſneſs, and I know not what, he laid down his Head, and died in his Houſe in Burford, Oxfordſhire, on that memorable Day the third of September, 1662. and two Days after was buried without Pomp in a little Iſle on the North Side of the Church there, next below that Iſle where the coſtly Tomb of Sir Lawrence Tanfield ſtands. —— He forbad, as I have been informed, any exceſſive Coſts at his Funeral, or for a Monument to be put over his Body; and was heard ſeveral Times in his laſt Hours to ſay, that he deſired no other Epitaph but Vermis ſum. So that as yet he hath no Monument, nor ſo much as any Stone over his Grave, the Floor being (now or at leaſt lately) covered only with Sand, and unpaved. What remains more to be remembred of him, is his own Confeſſion on his Death Bed, made to Dr. Ralph Brideoake, then Rector of Witney near Burford, who gave this Account of it in a Letter written from Oxford within this Month of September.

No Monument or Graveſtone.

His Confeſſion and Repentance on his Death Bed. As atteſted by the Miniſter of Witney, Dr. Ralph Brideoake.

Reprinted with the Memoirs of Sir Tho. Herbert, &c. 8vo. 1702. p. 300.

S I R,

He joyned in the Prayers of the Church;

And deſired Abſolution.

But firſt underwent Examination:

And then made Confeſſion of his Diſobedience to the King, complying too much with his Murderers, though not conſenting to his Death.

Too guilty of three Things laid to his Charge.

He went from the Parliament to the Army, in hopes they would reſtore the King, which he knew the Preſbyterians would never do to his full Rights.

He propoſed the Queſtion for Tryal of the King, becauſe he thought the very putting of the Queſtion would have clear'd him.

And he ſate after the King's Death, hoping to do ſome Good, and hinder ſome ill Things.

He diſowned any Hand in the Ruin of the Church;

And died a dutiful Son of it.

And then again deſired Abſolution:

And received it with great Satiſfaction.

He prayed for the King,

Received the Sacrament,

And repeated before Dr. Dickenſon the Effect of what he had confeſſed to Dr. Brideoake.

—— When I came to his Preſence he told me, He was very glad to ſee me; for he had two great Works to do, and I muſt aſſiſt him in both; to fit his Body for the Earth, and his Soul for Heaven: to which Purpoſe he deſir'd me to pray with him. I told him the Church had appointed an Office at the Viſitation of the Sick, and I muſt uſe that; he ſaid, Yes, he chiefly deſired the Prayers of the Church; wherein he joyned with great Fervency and Devotion. After Prayers he deſired Abſolution; I told him I was very ready and willing to pronounce it; but he muſt firſt come to a Chriſtian Confeſſion and Contrition for the Sins and Failings of his Life: Well Sir, ſaid he, then inſtruct me to my Duty. I deſired him to examine his Life by the Ten Commandments, and wherein he found his Failings, to fly to the Goſpel for Mercy. Then I read the Ten Commandments in Order to him, mentioning the principal Sins againſt each Commandment. To paſs by other Things (under the Seal of this Office) when I came to the Fifth Commandment, and remember'd him that Diſobedience, Rebellion, and Schiſm were the great Sins againſt this Commandment, Yes Sir, ſaid he, there's my Trouble, my Diſobedience, not againſt my natural Parents, but againſt the Pater Patriæ, our deceaſed Sovereign. I confeſs with Saul, I held their Clothes, whilſt they murthered him, but herein I was not ſo criminal as Saul was; for, God, thou knoweſt! I never conſented to his Death; I ever prayed and endeavoured what I could againſt it; but I did too much, Almighty God forgive me! I then deſired him to deal freely and openly in that Buſineſs, and if he knew any of thoſe Villains that plotted or contrived that horrid Murther, who were not yet detected, now to diſcover them; he anſwered, He was a Stranger to that Buſineſs; his Soul never enter'd into that Secret; but what concerns my ſelf (ſaid he) I will confeſs freely. Three Things are eſpecially laid to my Charge, wherein indeed I am too guilty; That I went from the Parliament to the Army, That I propoſed the bloody Queſtion for Trying the King, and That I ſate after the King's Death. To the firſt I may give this Anſwer; That Cromwell and his Agents deceived a wiſer Man than myſelf, that excellent King, and then might well deceive me alſo; and ſo they did. I knew the Preſbyterians would never reſtore the King to his juſt Rights; thoſe Men ſwore they would. For the ſecond, no Excuſe can be made; but I have the King's Pardon, and I hope Almighty God will ſhew me his Mercy alſo. Yet, Sir, ſaid he, even then, when I put the Queſtion, I hoped the very putting the Queſtion would have clear'd him; becauſe, I believed four for one were againſt it; but they deceived me alſo. To the third I make this candid Confeſſion, That it was my own Baſeneſs and Cowardice, and unworthy Fear to ſubmit my Life and Eſtate to the Mercy of thoſe Men that murther'd the King, that hurried me on againſt my own Conſcience to act with them; yet then I thought alſo I might do ſome Good and hinder ſome Ill. Something I did for the Church and Univerſities, ſomething for the King, when I broke the Oath of Abjuration, as Sir O. B. and yourſelf know; ſomething alſo too for his Return, as my Lord G. Mr. J. T. and yourſelf know. But the Ill I did, over-weighed the little Good I would have done; God forgive me for this alſo. After this I remembred him, That the Fathers of the Church alſo had been barbarouſly murther'd and ruined; and aſked whether he had any Hand, or gave any Conſent therein? He anſwer'd, None; for he always did believe, that was the Primitive and beſt Government of the Church; and ſaid, He died a dutiful Son of the Church of England as it was eſtabliſhed before theſe Times; for he had not yet ſeen the Alteration of the Liturgy. After this Office, wherein indeed he ſhew'd himſelf a very hearty Penitent, he again deſired the Abſolution of the Church, which I then pronounced, and which he received with much Content and Satiſfaction: For, ſays he, Now, now indeed do I find the Joy and Benefit of that Office which Chriſt hath left in his Church. Then praying for the King that he might long and happily reign over us, and for the Peace of the Church he again deſired Prayers. The next Day he received the Sacrament, and after that Work I deſired him to expreſs himſelf to Dr. Dickenſon (a learned Phyſician, Fellow of Merton College, who received the Sacrament with him) concerning the King's Death, becauſe he had only done it to me in Confeſſion; which he did to the ſame Effect as he had to me. The reſt of his Time was ſpent in Devotion and penitential Meditations to his laſt.

This Letter twice printed and the Contents certified by Dr. Dickenſon, in a Letter to his Friend.

As to the Letter, which gives an Account of Mr. Lenthall's Carriage and Behaviour on his Death Bed: It was twice printed Ann. 62. and the Truth of it atteſted by the learned Dr. Dickenſon, now living in St. Martin's-Lane, who wrote the following Anſwer to his Friend, who deſired Satiſfaction about it.

S I R,

I have carefully read over Mr. Lenthall, the Speaker of the Long Parliament's Death Bed Repentance, and do aſſure the Truth of all that is there ſaid. The Miniſter who then prayed with him, confeſs'd him, and gave him Abſolution, was Dr. Bredock, afterwards Biſhop of Chicheſter. Beſides what I read in the Letter, I very well remember one very obſervable Paſſage, which I had from Mr. Lenthall's own Mouth in his laſt Sickneſs; which was, That General Monk did aſſure King Charles II. that had it not been for Mr. Lenthall's ſecret Concurrence and Aſſiſtance, he could not have brought about the Reſtauration. This is what I perfectly remember, though many other Paſſages declaring his Affection to

The different Treatment of the old Clergy, and the preſent Nonconformiſts.

Mr. Long's Hiſtory of Plots, 1684, p. 57.

to the Church and State paſſed from him in his laſt Sickneſs. This, Sir, you may be confident is the very Truth, which can be own'd by me.

The Ejectment of the old Church-men and of the preſent Diſſenters was frequently obſerved to be very different. The religious and loyal Clergy were ejected (about forty Doctors of Divinity, and many hundreds of learned and grave Divines) for no other Crime but their Loyalty and good Benefices (of which a Treatiſe called Perſecutio undecima, gives a particular Account) againſt whom the chief Articles were for preaching Obedience to the King, againſt Sacrilege and Rebellion, and for keeping their Pariſh Churches; for reading the Liturgy, and bowing at the Name of Jeſus; for having popiſh Books, or being in the Company of Papiſts; inſomuch as Mr. Selden, one of their Members, ſaid to a Perſon of Honour, that Learning and Honeſty were Sins enough in a Clergyman to undo him.

The Nonconformiſts ſuffer'd only according to Law, with no Violence to their Perſons, nor Slander to their Names.

Ibid. p. 58.

Nay, and the Perſons who made themſelves incapable of enjoying Church Livings, by reſolving to tranſgreſs the Laws of the Land, when removed, had not their Characters publickly expoſed, as the Church Clergy had when ejected without and againſt Law. One Mr. White publiſhed his Centuries of ſequeſtred and ejected Miniſters, laying to their Charge ſuch Things as were never attempted to be proved againſt them. And it was obſerved at that Time, that he was greatly troubled in Conſcience for abuſing and ruining ſo many Clergymen, and died in a diſtracted Condition, which hitherto I have not ſeen or heard to be contradicted.

No Centuries or other Libels againſt them.

Letter, MS.

Had any Clergyman of the Church of England now drawn up a Liſt of the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters, and ſet them all out in the Colours then caſt upon them, Hereſy, Ignorance, Uſurpation of other Mens Rights, bloody Acting and Preaching in the late Times, dilapidating Manſes and Chancels, detaining the legal Fifths from the ſequeſtred Clergy, their Wives and Children, their gathering of Congregations to the diſſolving of parochial Cures, their taking of Contributions and Subſcriptions, to the Decay of Tythes and Offerings, their Contempt of Baptiſm, and their Neglect of the Lord's Supper: Their Intermiſſion of Regiſters and Terriers, and many other Injuries to Poſterity, beſides the open Scandal of ſome, and the ſhrewd Suſpicion and Pariſh Talk of others; it would have made a very black Liſt. But there ſeems to have been more Tenderneſs and Charity in the Church Clergy: No one Enquiry into the Characters of thoſe who went out from them: They thought themſelves reſtrain'd from any ſuch Retaliation, and that not ſo much by the Act of Oblivion, as by the Laws of Chriſtianity; not then imagining that their Silence would have been abus'd by raiſing up at this long Diſtance very contrary Reports, and repeated Impreſſions of them, repreſenting them after above fifty Years, as Saints and Sufferers, when there was no need to revive the Memory of them.

THURSDAY Sept. 4.

Relation of a Spirit appearing at Drifield, told by Hen. More and by Mr. Blackwell.

Remains of Dr. Lightfoot, 8vo. 1700. Pref. p li.

A notable Relation of a Spirit appearing to a Woman named Iſabel Billinger at Drifield in the County of York, that was ſent to Mr. (after Dr.) Hezekiah Burton, then Fellow of Magdalen College in Cambridge, by Mr. Moore formerly Fellow of the ſaid College. As alſo another Relation ſent by Mr. Thomas Blackwell, another Miniſter as it ſeems, who took the Relation from the Woman's own Mouth. Both which Accounts were tranſcribed by Dr. John Lightfoot with his own Hand, about Sept. 4, 1662. and printed from his Manuſcript by Mr. Strype.

FRIDAY Sept. 5.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond. MS.

Ricardus Edwards Clericus, coll. per Gilbertum London. Epiſcopum ad Rectoriam Eccl. Parochialis Sanctarum Annæ & Agnetis Alderſgate, London. per Inconformitatem Danielis Bachelor ult. Poſſeſſoris ſive Incumbentis modo vacantem 5. Sept. 1662. —— Mr. Bachelor had no proper Title to this Church, but thruſt himſelf in, after the Sequeſtration of Dr. Richard Cluet collated to this Church June 20, 1617. and ſequeſtred from it in 1642. —— Dr. Calamy mentions one Mr. Samuel Backlar as ejected from Whatfield in Suffolk, a uſeful popular Man, &c.

Dr. Calamy was inform'd, that he was M. A. of St. John's College in Cambridge. Contin. p. 43.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 34.

Vol. II. 8vo. p. 654.

The Nonconformiſts complain of Perſecution by Law.

Myſtery and Iniquity of Non-Conformity, 1664. 4to.

When all their Shifts failed, they [the Non-Conformiſts] prepared themſelves for Perſecution as they call'd it, and preached that the Lights were extinguiſhed, the dear Paſtors torn from their beloved Flocks; then they ſay, they preach their laſt, and that they are dying Men, and that this may be the laſt Opportunity. And now they give their Rules, one 17, another 25, another 36. All may be reduced to theſe ſix: 1. That they ſhould not forget their faithful Paſtors. 2. That when they cannot hear their Words, they may read their Works. 3. That they ſhould take heed whom they hear. 4. That they have nothing to do with Idols. 5. That they perſevere. 6. That they hold Communion one with another.

SATURDAY Sept. 6.

Le Neve Faſti.

Byrom Eaton, S. T. P. Archdeacon of Stow, was admitted Principal of Glocester-Hall in Oxford. On the ſame Day, Sept. 6, Dr. Richard Hyde was inſtalled Prebendary of Wincheſter, in the Room of Dr. Edward Stanley, deceaſed. And Dr. William Hawkins in the ſixth Stall of the ſaid Church of Wincheſter, void by the Ceſſion of Thomas Gaven, M. A.

SUNDAY Sept. 7.

The Quakers were moſt indulg'd in their ſeparate Aſſemblies, as being thought no Enemies to the Government upon a Principle of not Fighting, and having the moſt unaffected Pretenſions to new Light and the Spirit of God. They made no great Figure of a Party till about the Year 1655. when very ſtrange Accuſations were brought againſt them. See Several Tracts againſt Quakers.

I. The Quakers unmaſked, and clearly detected to be but the Spawn of Romiſh Frogs, Jeſuits and Franciſcan Fryars, ſent from Rome to ſeduce the intoxicated giddy-headed Engliſh Nation: By an Information taken upon Oath in the City of Briſtol, Jan. 22, 1654. and ſome evident Demonſtrations. By William Prynne, of Swanſwick, Eſq; The ſecond Edition enlarged.

London, for Edw. Thomas, 1655, 4to.

II. The Quakers ſhaken. Or a Warning againſt Quaking: Being 1. A Relation of the Converſion and Recovery of John Gilpin of Kendale in Weſtmoreland, who was not only deluded but poſſeſſed of the Devil. 2. A Vindication of the ſaid John Gilpin from the Aſperſions of the Quakers. 3. Twelve lying blaſphemous Prophecies of James Milner, of Beak in Lancaſhire, delivered by him November 14, 15, 16. 4. A Relation of a horrid Buggery committed by Hugh Biſbrown, a Quaker, with a Mare. 5. A Relation of one Cotton Croſland of Ackworth in Yorkſhire, a profeſſed Quaker, who hanged himſelf.

London, for Simon Waterſon, 1655. 4to.

III. An Anſwer according to Truth, that trembles not, nor quakes, nor quayleth. Given to thirty ſix Queries propounded by James Parnell, (commonly called the young Quaker) to an ancient Countrey Miniſter. With ſome Counter Queries returned by the ſame Miniſter unto the ſaid young Quack and his Fellows: With a Word to the Reader (ſigned) W. P.

London, printed in the Year 1655, 4to.

IV. The Quakers Catechiſm. Or the Quakers queſtioned. Their Queſtions anſwered: And both publiſhed for the Sake of thoſe of them that have not yet ſinned unto Death, and of thoſe ungrounded Novices that are moſt in Danger of their Seduction. By Richard Baxter.

London, for Tho. Underhill, 1655, 4to.

V. The World's Wonder: Or the Quakers blazing Star. With an aſtronomical Judgment given upon the ſame from 2 Cor. xi. 13, 14, 15. proving them to be altogether deluded by Satan, both in their Judgments and Walkings. Together with a probable conjecture of the End of the World, and the Eſtate of Things in the Interval. By Edmund Skipp, Preacher of the Goſpel unto the People of Bodenham in Herefordſhire.

London, by Henry Hills, 1655, 4to.

VI. Stabliſhing againſt Shaking. Or a Diſcovery of the Prince of Darkneſs, (ſcarcely) transformed into an Angel of Light, powerfully now working in the deluded People called Quakers. With a ſober Anſwer to their Railings againſt Miniſters for receiving Maintenance from their People. Being the Subſtance of one Sermon preached Feb. 17, 1655. at Shalford in Eſſex. By Giles Firmin (Paſtor of the Church there) upon Occaſion of the Quakers troubling thoſe Parts.

London, for Nath. Webb, 1656, 4to.

[With many other Diſcourſes in Detection and Confutation of their extravagant Tenets and Practices.]

MONDAY Sept. 8.
Dr. John Lamphire.

John Lamphire, M. D. ſucceeded Dr. Chriſtopher Rogers, deprived Principal of New-Inn Hall in Oxford. He was tranſlated to the Headſhip of Hart-Hall May 30, 1663. He had been Fellow of New College, and elected Camden Profeſſor of Hiſtory, Aug. 16, 1660. He died March 30, 1688. and was buried in the Chapel of New College. —— Mr. Thomas Lydiat, that great Maſter of Aſtronomy and Mathematicks, beſides his admired Works in Print, left ſeveral Manuſcripts, amounting to the Number of thirty eight at leaſt, that were bound up in twenty two Volumes, and reſerved as Rarities in the Hands of this Dr. John Lamphire.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 91. laſt Edit.

Mr. Lively Moody Rector of Great-Billing, in the Room of Mr. Dan. Cawdrey, a learned Writer.

1662. 8. Sept. Lively Moody Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. & inſtitut. ad Rect. Eccl. de Billing-magna in Com. Northampt. vac. per deprivat. Danielis Cawdrey ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Boume de Ufford, gen. & Edmundi May de Kirby in Com. Northton. gen. pro hac vice ratione Advocat. conceſſ. per D. Chriſtopherum Hatton Baronem Hatton de Kirby. —— Obiit dictus Lively Moody, S. T. P. ante 11. Septemb. 1688.

Reg. Laney See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 161, 421.

The ſaid Mr. Daniel Cawdrey had been legally inſtituted and inducted to this Church of Great-Billing upon the Death of Mr. Juſtinian Bracegirdle, by the King's Preſentation during the Minority of Chriſtopher Hatton, Eſq; December 6, 1625.

Dr. Calamy's Account and Character of Mr. Dan. Cawdrey.

Daniel Cawdrey, M. A. was the Son of an old Nonconformiſt Mr. Robert Cawdrey, who ſtruggled hard with the Biſhops upon his Deprivation for Nonconformity. His Caſe is in Print, and the Injuſtice that was done him is upon Record. [See Mr. Strype's Life of Biſhop Aylmer, Chap. 8. p. 129.] This Son, the youngeſt of many, was bred in Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, and afterwards ſettled in this County of Northampton. He was a conſiderable Man, of eminent Learning, and a noted Member of the Aſſembly of Divines. He was ejected from this Place after ſix or ſeven and thirty Years Labour in the Goſpel. He remov'd afterwards to Wellingborough, where he had a Daughter married, there he liv'd in great Pain and Uneaſineſs receiving all that came to him, and encouraging them in the Ways of Holineſs and Piety till October 1664. when he breathed out his Spirit, and fell aſleep in the Lord, aged forty Days ſhort of ſeventy ſix Years. Mr. Vincent Alſop made him an Epicædium comprehending his Life, and Labours, Works and Death. His Works are theſe, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment of Baxter's Life, Vol. II. 8vo. p. 489.

Dr. John Newton Rector of Upminſter in Eſſex.

1662. 8. Sept. Johannes Newton, S. T. P. admiſſus ad Rectoriam de Upminſter Com. Eſſex. vac. per ceſſ. Johannis Halke ad preſ. Joh. Halke. —— vac. per mort. ipſius ante 28. Martii 1679.

Reg. London.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex; Dr. Calamy puts Mr. Hawks at Upminſter,

John Newton, Son of Humphrey Newton of Oundle in Northamptonſhire, Commoner of Edmund Hall, Oxon. 1637. created A. M. in 1642. at which Time his

Wood's Ath. Oxon, Vol. II. col. 471.

Genie

September 1662.

14 Car. II.

Upminſter, who yet voided that Living by Ceſſion only, and ſeems to have been the ſame Perſon who preſented Dr. Newton to ſucceed him, as being Patron of it.

Genie being naturally inclined to Mathematicks and Aſtronomy, he by continual Induſtry made great Proficiency in them, which he ſound advantageous to him in the Times of Uſurpation. After his Majeſty's Return he was actually created Doctor of Divinity, made one of the King's Chaplains, and Rector of Roſs in Herefordſhire, in the Place, I think, of Mr. John Tombes ejected, which he kept to his dying Day, Decemb. 25, 1678. —— a learned but capricious and humorous Perſon, &c.

TUESDAY Sept. 9.

Robertus Ivory Clericus, collatus per D. Epiſcopum London. ad Rectoriam Eccl. Parochialis S. Magni Martyris Lond. per Inconformitatem ult. Incumbentis modo vacantem, Sept. 9, 1662.

Reg. Hench.

Experiments made by Mr. Robert Boyle, upon Frogs, Kitlings, and other Creatures in the Air-Pump, Sept. 9, 1662. and at ſeveral other Times.

Lowthorpe's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 217.

See Dr. Calamy*'s Account of Mr.* Thomas ejected. Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 32.

September 9, 1662. Mr. Thompſon, A. M. was collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's to the Rectory of St. Mary-Magdalen, Milk-ſtreet, in London, and died Incumbent thereof ſome Time after the Fire.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 470.

Edward Alſton, Rector of Pentlow Com. Eſſex, was ſequeſtred in the Rebellion of 1642. but enjoy'd it again many Years after the Reſtoration, and voided it by Death in 1675.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 468.

Mr. Eſday not ejected, but giving Place to the ſurviving Incumbent.

Pentlow. Mr. Henry Edſay. He had a conſiderable Eſtate left him by a Relation after his Ejectment. He liv'd and dy'd privately in Hoxton-Square, in the Pariſh of St. Leonard, Shoreditch.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 307

Mr. Tho. Sherman, Rector of St. Antholin's.

Die 9. Sept. 1662. Tho. Sherman, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam S. Antonii ſive Antlini Lond. ad preſ. Dec. & Capit. S. Pauli, Lond.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 284.

From St. Antholin's. Mr. Elias Pledger. He preaching in his Meeting at Lothbury, died ſuddenly Anno 1676. He hath a Sermon in the Morning Exerciſe at Cripplegate, on the Queſtion of the Cauſe of inward Trouble.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 25.

From the Lectureſhip at St. Antholin's. Mr. Tobias Conyer, a very learned and extraordinary Perſon.

Ibid. p. 33.

WEDNESDAY Sept. 10.

Mr. Sam. Biſhop Vicar of Finchingfield, by the Ceſſion, not by the Non-conformity of Mr. Glover.

Die 10. Sept. 1662. Samuel Biſhop, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Finchingfield Com. Eſſex. vac. per ceſſionem Johannis Glover, ad preſ. Ricardi Marriot Gen.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 265.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters. Finchingfield. Mr. Hugh Glover. A facetious genteel Perſon, and a very popular Preacher; like his Predeceſſor Mr. Stephen Marſhall. He was a Leiceſterſhire Man, and bred at Emanuel College in Cambridge. He did not preach after his Ejectment till the Diſſenters had Liberty given them. He went to Church with his Family. He died at Biſhop-Stortford of a Conſumption.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 307. Contin. p. 474.

Form of Prayer and Service for St. George's Chapel at Windſor.

This Day was publiſhed the Service that is performed in the King's free Chapel of St. George in the Caſtle of Windſor, upon Obiit Sunday in the Morning (that is the Sunday before every Quarter-Day) and at the Offering up of the Atchievements of the deceaſed Knights of the Garter. With the Collects read daily at the Morning and Evening Prayer.

Printed in four Sheets, Fol. 1662.

The Rubrick. The Service is the ſame that is appointed in the Book of Common Prayer, until you come to the Pſalms for the Day of the Month, inſtead of which you have theſe proper Pſalms XXI, CXLVI, CXLVII. After the Pſalms the junior Canon upon the Place cometh out of his Stall with the Verger before him, and readeth the Leſſon at the Deſk, which is taken out of the 44th Chapter of Eccleſiaſticus. After the Leſſon, Te Deum Laudamus is ſung. After the Te Deum is ended, they all depart out of the Quire into the Body of the Church to Sermon. After Sermon is ended, the Canons go up to the Altar, and the Quire go to their Stalls. And the Communion Service beginneth: The Epiſtle is taken out of the 23d Chapter of Deuteronomy; the Goſpel in the 5th of St. John, beginning at the 24th and ending at the 30th Verſe. After the Sacrament (which is always on the Obiit Sunday) is ended, and the Bleſſing given at the Altar, the Canons go to their Stalls, and theſe following Prayers are read.

Prieſt. O Lord ſave our King.

Quire. And mercifully hear us, when we call upon thee.

Collect. O Lord our heavenly Father and merciful Saviour, — we praiſe and thank thee, O Lord, &c.

God ſave our gracious Sovereign, and all the Companions of the moſt honourable and noble Order of the Garter.

Here endeth the Obiit Service.

Theſe following Prayers are read daily at the Morning and Evening Service.

Almighty God we beſeech thee, &c.

God ſave our gracious Sovereign, &c. Finis.

A Regiſter of the Scholars of Merchant-Taylor's-School, London, from May 13, 1644. to Sept. 10, 1662. kept by William Dugard Maſter.

MS. in Bibl. Sar.

Mr. Baxter's Particularities of himſelf and Wife.

Mr. Baxter, in a Letter dated January 16, 1682-3. —— After the Edge-Hill Fight, Octob. 23, 1642. I lived in Coventry, where Mr. Clark often was; and where his very humble, godly, chearful old Father in Law Mr. Overton, a Miniſter above eighty Years of Age, was with many other excellent Men, one of my frequent Company. Mr. Clark went to London, and there was Paſtor of a ſmall Pariſh, Bennet-Fink. When the King commiſſioned us to treat for Concord with the Biſhops, he was daily with us, and had the chief Hand in drawing up the Exceptions againſt the Liturgy, at which I was abſent. In 1662. on September 10. he married me in Bennet-Fink Church, in the Preſence of Alderman Aſhurſt

Printed before Mr. Clark's Lives of ſeveral eminent Men, Fol. 1682. Life of Mrs. Margaret Baxter, written by her Huſband Richard, 4to.

Aſhurſt and Mrs. Aſhurſt. —— The Wife was Margaret Charleton, Daughter of Francis Charleton Com. Salop, Eſq; Mr. Baxter and ſhe had been before contracted in the Preſence of ſome Chriſtian Friends: But before their Marriage theſe Conditions were concluded upon. Firſt, That Mr. Baxter ſhould have nothing that before Marriage was hers, that ſo he (who wanted no outward Supplies) might not ſo much as ſeem to marry her for Covetouſneſs. Secondly, that ſhe ſhould ſo order her Affairs, that he might not be entangled in any Law Suits about the ſame. Thirdly, That ſhe ſhould expect none of his Time, which his miniſterial Employment ſhould call for.

Put in Mind of his former Judgment.

Mr. Baxter upon his Non-Conformity, was put in Mind of his own Judgment in his Diſputations about Church Government, Chap. 15. p. 483. If we do through Weakneſs or Perverſeneſs take lawful Things to be unlawful, that will not excuſe us in our Diſobedience; our Error is our Sin, and one Sin will not excuſe another Sin. —— It is their own erring Judgment that intangleth them in a Neceſſity of ſinning till it be changed, &c.

Thursday Sept. 11.

Count d'Eſtrades had told his Maſter of his artful Management in the Court of England about the Purchaſe of Dunkirk.

Lettres de Count d'Eſtrades, 8vo. p. 383, &c.

A Letter of the Count d'Eſtrades to the King his Maſter, dated Londres 2. Sept. 1662. to ſignify, that he had abundantly repreſented to the Engliſh Court, the exorbitant Value they put upon Dunkirk, and that he had plainly told them, if they would not abate of their Demand, he would retire to Holland; that however, before his Departure he had rais'd his Offer to two Millions and a half.

The French King's Inſtructions not to depart till he had made the Bargain.

The French King's Letter to his Miniſter the Count d'Eſtrades, dated S. Germain 13. Sept. 1662. to let him know, that what he had now offered was a very conſiderable Sum, and beyond the due Value of the Place; that he hop'd therefore he would not leave London till he had made the Bargain.

The Count renew'd his Offer of two Millions and a half.

And the Engliſh came down to ſix Millions.

At leaſt to nothing under five.

Letter of the Count d'Eſtrades to the French King, dated Lond. 8. Sept. 1662. O. S. that he had renewed the laſt Offer of two Millions and a half to the King and Chancellor; but that inſtead of accepting it, they declared, they would ſooner agree to put the Place into the Hands of the Parliament, upon which I advanc'd to three Millions, — and they came down from ſeven Millions to ſix, — ſince which the Chancellor alone with me and Mr. Beling declared, nothing could be done if your Majeſty would not come up to five Millions.

The French King's Inſtructions to promiſe the five Millions on Condition.

A Letter of the French King to the Count d'Eſtrades, dated 12. Sept. 1662. giving him Power to promiſe the five Millions, provided the King of England would remit Dunkirk, the Fort of Mardick, and that of Berg, in their preſent State, with all the Artillery, Ammunition, and Proviſions, — paying two Millions in ready Money, and one Million yearly for three Years.

The Count not agreeing to the Terms of ready Money threatned to be gone.

A Letter of the Count d'Eſtrades to the King his Maſter, from London 21. Sept. 1662. that he had propoſed the Terms of Payment to the Chancellor, who anſwered, that the King his Maſter would not have parted with a Place of that Importance, but for the Neceſſity of his Affairs, which oblig'd him to expect ready Money as the only Remedy. —— At laſt I offer'd the remaining three Millions to be paid in two Years inſtead of three, —— and if they would not comply with this, I would be gone for Holland. ——

But within four Days acquaints his Maſter, that all Matters were adjuſted.

Another Letter of the Count d'Eſtrades to the French King, 25. Sept. 1662. that after ſeveral Diſputes, all Matters were now adjuſted, &c.

A Medal ſtruck in France for the Purchaſe of Dunkirk, as a Part of the Glories of that Monarch.

Advertiſement of the Tranſlator of the ſecond Part of Mr. le Clerc's Account of the E. of Clarendon's Hiſtory, 1710, 8vo.

As for the Purchaſe-Money paid by France for Dunkirk, tho' Mr. le Clerc quotes an Author of undoubted Credit (the Abbot Deſmaris) I ſhall add, that there was a Medal ſtruck upon that Occaſion in France, and the ſame is plac'd among the great Events of the French King's Reign. I forget the Motto of the Medal. The Book which I ſaw, belong'd to a Perſon truly noble. I was inform'd, it was preſented by the French King to a Foreign Miniſter at his Court. It is the Hiſtory of Lewis the Fourteenth by way of Medals, and comes down to the Year 1700. the Book is full of the groſſeſt Flattery and Vanity. What it ſays about the Sale of Dunkirk is perhaps one of the trueſt Things in it. I remember it boaſts, that their auguſt Monarch got Poſſeſſion of one of the ſtrongeſt Fortreſſes in the World at the cheap Price of five Millions of Livres.

A Paſſage tranſlated from the Book of the Abbot of Deſmarais.

The Abbot Deſmarais's Book being none of the commoneſt to be had, I ſhall give the Reader a Tranſlation of that Part of it, which concerns the Buſineſs of Dunkirk.

Whilſt the Affairs of Italy (he ſpeaks of the Duke of Crequy's) were thus managing without Succeſs, the King had concluded a very important one with the King of England, which was what he had in View when in his Letter written in Cypher of the 15th of September, he told the Duke of Crequy, that one Reaſon which made him the more deſirous to have Things accommodated, was the Fear leſt his Quarrel with Rome might croſs the Meaſures he was taking for Deſigns of quite another Conſideration. He had got out of the Hands of the Engliſh, for five Millions of Livres (prompt Payment) Dunkirk, Mardike, and the Fort Bergue, which the Conjuncture of the Times had formerly oblig'd him to deliver up to them: And thereby (beſides the Advantage of ſending away the Engliſh, who might in a Tide throw ten Thouſand Men into the Kingdom, and of removing this Proſpect from the Hugonot Party, and ſuch a Refuge from all Sorts of Malecontents, and of acquiring a conſiderable Port on a Coaſt, where France had not properly any) he advantageouſly repair'd the Damage, which the Benefit of a Peace had, as it were, forc'd him to do at that Time to Religion.

The Advantages gain'd to the French by the Acquiſition of this important Place.

As it might have been a Door to enter France, and a Refuge to the Hugonots.

There

No Example of greater Honour to a Nation.

The King of England truſted his Brother of France upon his bare Word.

There is not perhaps any Example, that one State did ever gain from another, without War, a Place ſo important; or that five Millions of Livres ſhould be paid down on the Nail all at once: And yet perhaps theſe were not the moſt remarkable Circumſtances of that Acquiſition. The Count d'Eſtrades, who had managed the Treaty in England, where he was Embaſſadour, and afterwards Mareſchal of France, had ſtipulated that the Payment ſhould not be made, 'till the Day after the Evacuation of the Places; and for the Security of the ſame, he offer'd to remain in Hoſtage, and to procure to be ſent into England ſuch other Hoſtages as ſhould be deſired. But the King of England declared, He would have none, and that he valued the bare Word of the moſt Chriſtian King more than all the Hoſtages in the World. The Treaty was afterwards punctually and faithfully executed on both Sides. The Court of Rome would perhaps at another Time have given Signs of Joy to ſee a Place of that Conſequence returned into the Hands of a Catholick Prince; but as Affairs then ſtood, the two Courts being fall'n out, they looked upon that Acquiſition only as it was advantageous to France, and conſequently receiv'd the News not without ſome ſort of Diſſatisfaction.

How the Engliſh at firſt became Maſters of Dunkirk.

Intereſt of the United Provinces, 4to. 1673

France was to pull down Spain by Land, with his own Forces, and ſuch as the Protector could ſpare, which Lockhart the Embaſſadour there commanded, who having been more uſed to fight in the Field, than to play the Pioneers with their Spades, were not ſo much at firſt eſteemed by the French, 'till the Fight with Don John of Auſtria's Army which came to relieve Dunkirk, wherein they behav'd themſelves with that Gallantry, that Don John cry'd out, he was beat by raging wild Beaſts rather than Men; and that great Soldier the Prince of Conde hath often ſaid ſince, that he never ſaw the like Action, as was that Day performed by the Engliſh, ſhortly after Dunkirk yielded, and was put into the Engliſh Hands.

How they parted with it.

For which the French derided them.

And it ſtuck in the Stomachs of all true Engliſh-men.

And thence the new Houſe built by Clarendon was called Dunkirk Houſe.

——— It is well known by what Means the French got Dunkirk again into their Hands, and were thereby capacitated the better to carry on their Work againſt theſe Countries [the Netherlands] at which the French made themſelves merry, and ſome ſay abuſively, by having Dunkirk drawn with a Purſe hanging over it. The Engliſh ſtormed, and ſome ſwore, Oliver would have ſold his great Noſe rather that Dunkirk. Yea, this ſtill ſticks on many of their Stomachs. I remember at my laſt being in England in 66. and ſeeing Clarendon Houſe, and wond'ring a little why it was ſituated ſo near the Road, which made it both unfree, and moleſted with Duſt; and criticiſing upon ſome other Things, the Oratory eſpecially, that the Chancellour who was the eldeſt Son of the Church of England, ſhould make his Chapel (as a Wag writ of Emanuel College) ſo awry, juſt North and South. When I came above on the Leads, I was ſo pleaſed with the Pleaſantneſs of the Proſpect, that I thought, for that it might compare with any Houſe I had ſeen, knowing no Place in England, except above Greenwich, that I thought comparable to it. Upon which the Domeſtick had the Confidence, perceiving me a Stranger, to tell me, I could not thence ſee Dunkirk: For the Commonalty had chriſten'd it, and made Dunkirk the Godfather, calling the Houſe after its Name. But though I confeſs it was againſt the common Intereſt of Europe, that it ſhould fall to the French again; yet whether it was againſt the Intereſt of the King of England and that Kingdom, is not ſo clear to me. I will only ſay this, that I know a Perſon hath weighed that ſo well, that I ſhall carry this Challenge for him, That if any Gentleman, Engliſh or French, pleaſes fairly to ſtate this Queſtion in Hypotheſi, according to the Circumſtances of thoſe Times, let him take which Side he pleaſes, and he ſhall not want an Antagoniſt that ſhall fight him fairly.

Count Schomberg oppoſed the Sale of Dunkirk.

Hiſtory of his own Times.

[The Biſhop of Sarum ſeems to think, that the only Man who oppoſed the Sale of Dunkirk was a French-man, who the better underſtood the Value and Importance of it.] Schomberg adviſed in Oppoſition to all this [of the King and Court] that the King ſhould keep it; for conſidering the Naval Power of England, it could not be taken. He knew that though France ſpoke big, as if they would break with England unleſs that was deliver'd up, yet they were far from the Thoughts of it. He had conſider'd the Place well, and he was ſure it could never be taken, as long as England was Maſter of the Sea. The holding it would keep both France and Spain in a Dependence upon the King. But he was ſingular in that Opinion, ſo it was ſold: And all the Money that was paid for it was immediately ſquandred away among the Miſtreſſes Creatures.

The Price of Dunkirk brought a Portion to the King's Siſter.

Coke's Detection of the Court and State of England, 8vo. Vol. II. p. 7.

The want of Money a little retarded the Marriage of the Princeſs Henrietta Maria, the King's beloved Siſter, with Monſieur of France; but this might be eaſily help'd, if the King would give up Dunkirk to the French, whereby he might pay 200,000 l. for his Siſter's Portion (which was more than his Father had with his Mother) and alſo receive 200,000 l. more for himſelf. Nor was this all, he might ſave the Charges of maintaining a Garriſon there; yet the Parliament in the Hereditary Exciſe, allow'd him 60,000 l. per Annum for the Support of it. I do not find this mentioned in the Body of the Act, yet ſeveral Members aſſured me, it was ſo intended in paſſing the Act.

The ſevere Reflections made by Mr. Coke.

All this the King agreed to, and ſo Dunkirk and Mardyke Fort were given up to the French againſt all Laws of Juſtice, Humanity, and Prudence. I ſay, it was againſt all Laws of Humanity; for the Spaniard entertained and relieved the King, when the French had expelled him, and joyned with Oliver the Uſurper of all his Dominions. It was againſt Juſtice, for the Sovereignty of Dunkirk was of Right and Juſtice the Spaniards: And againſt the Rules of Policy and Prudence, the French Nation being the natural Enemies of the Engliſh, and the next Neighbour to it, and of all Nations the moſt formidable.

The ill Conſequences of it.

It had been happier for the poor Spaniard, and the Engliſh Nation, if the Unkindneſs of the King to the Spaniard had ended in his giving up Dunkirk to the French; but it ended not here, for the King employ'd the Army which ſhould have kept Dunkirk againſt the Spaniard in Portugal; and with theſe and another Band of the diſbanded Engliſh Army joyned to them, the French, Portugueze, and Engliſh, or rather the Engliſh without them, routed the whole united Army of the Spaniard at the Fight of Elvas: So as now the French had a new Inlet into Flanders, and the Spaniard no Army to defend it.

It deſerves ſome Notice that the Earl of Rocheſter in the Vindication of his Father paſſes over this Affair of Dunkirk.

Yet here I take Leave, ſo well as I can, to vindicate the Memory of my Lord Chancellour Hyde, from an Aſperſion, that he was the Adviſer of the giving up Dunkirk to the French; I was aſſured, by a credible Perſon (though a Confident of my Lord Chancellour's) that he was ſo far from adviſing the King to give up Dunkirk to the French, that only he and my Lord Treaſurer Southampton (upon whoſe Honour my Lord Chancellour relied more than any other) of all the Council entred their Proteſtations againſt it. The Truth of this may be reſolved by inſpecting the Privy-Council's Books. [No ſuch Thing appears upon the Council Books.]

Sir Ja. Ware Geſta Hibernorum.

The Bill of Settlement was paſſed into an Act of Parliament in Ireland; and a Court of Claims was erected to adjudge the Qualifications of Nocent and Innocent. The Commiſſioners to examine and judge, were Sir Edward Dering, Sir Richard Rainsford, Sir Thomas Beverly, Sir Edward Smith, William Coventry, Eſq; (in whoſe ſtead came Sir Alan Broderick) Sir Winſton Churchill, and Colonel Cook.

Mr. Sam. Blackerby Rector of Marſton Truſſel.

Reg. Laney. Petriburg.

1662. 11. Sept. Samuel Blackerby Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Marſton Truſſel in Com. Northton. vac. per Mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Walteri Hornby, veri ejuſdem Patroni.

Reg. Laney.

1662. 23. Martii. Johannes Boddington Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel, vac. per Ceſſ. Samuelis Blackerby ad preſ. Gualteri Hornby, Gen.

Reg. Henſhaw.

1669. 27. Nov. Richardus Pike Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel, vac. per Mort. Johannis Boddington ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Gualteri Hornby de Shawell in Com. Leic. Generoſi.

Mr. Walter Hornby Patron.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 497. Contin. p. 647.

1682. 30. Martii. Johan. Howard Cler. A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel, vac. per Ceſſ. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Walteri Hornby de Lubenham in Com. Leic.

1701. 22. Sept. Tho. Reynolds Clericus ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel vac. per Ceſſ. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Roberti Breton Armig. pro hac vice.

Ejected or ſilenc'd at Marſton Truſſel, Com. Northampt. Mr. Walter Hornby. I am informed there were two Walter Hornby's, the Father and the Son, who were both of them Miniſters: Both of them preached at Harborough Lecture in Oliver's Time, and were much reſpected. The Father had this Living worth 150*l.* per Annum, and bought the Advowſon of it for his Son, after he had been in it a great many Years. He died juſt before the Act of Uniformity took Place in 1662. aged about eighty. Mr. Walter Hornby, the Son, was educated in Emanuel College in Cambridge. When the Act of Uniformity was in Force he refuſed to conform —— and preſented Mr. Blackerby to Marſton Living, and upon his removing into Suffolk, he preſented Mr. Boddington, and after him Mr. Pike, and the Right of Preſentation is in the Family to this Day. —— Though Patron of the Living he received nothing out of the Profits of it, unleſs Mr. Blackerby and his Succeſſors might now and then ſend him ſome ſmall Preſent.

The Number of Nonconforming Miniſters within the Dioceſe of Peterborough not ſo great as thoſe depriv'd under Queen Mary and King James.

Amidſt the terrible Complaints of thouſands deprived by the Bartholomew Act, it is certain that within the Dioceſe of Peterborough the Deprivation of Miniſters under Queen Mary for Hereſy or Matrimony in 1554. did exceed in Number thoſe who were now deprived for Nonconformity in 1662. Nay, and more of the Parochial Clergy within the ſame Dioceſe ſuffer'd as Puritans under King James I. in 1604. and 1605. than now upon the Queſtion of Conforming; as the reſpective Regiſters make appear.

Edward Bagſhaw the Lawyer, Father of Edward the Divine.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 24.

1670. 10. Junii. Henricus Bagſhaw, S. T. B coll. ad Eccl. S. Botolphi extra Biſhopſgate Lond. per Reſign. Johannis Lake, S. T. P.

Death of Edw. Bagſhaw, Eſq; who wrote the Life and Death of Mr. Robert Bolton in 1633. and was a Reader in the Middle Temple againſt Epiſcopacy, 15 Car. I. and a Speaker and Publiſher of two Arguments in Parliament againſt the Canons, and for a Præmunire on them in 1641. yet perceiving what mad Courſes the Members took, he left them, went to Oxon, and ſate in the Parliament there called by his Majeſty; for which he was committed Priſoner to the King's-Bench in Southwark June 29, 1644. and ſuffer'd in his Eſtate in Northamptonſhire. —— He departed this mortal Life on the twelfth Day of September or October 1662. and was buried in the Church of Moreton Pinkney in Northamptonſhire; as I have been informed by his Son Henry Bagſhaw, Doctor of Divinity, ſome Time Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. He had another Son Edward, M. A. of a different Character.

FRIDAY Sept. 12.

Death of James Willymot. Account of Mr. Sam. Fairclough Rector of Ketton.

Chauncey Hertfordſhire p. 85.

See the Epitaph of James Willymot of Kelſhall, Com. Hertſ. Gent. charitable to the Poor, hoſpitable to his Neighbours, &c. who died September 12, 1662. Aged 81.

Life of Mr. Sam. Fairclough in Mr. Clarke's Lives of eminent Men, p. 175.

Mr. Samuel Fairclough had been long in Poſſeſſion of the Living of Ketton in the County of Suffolk, and the Inſtitution of him into that Rectory was procured by the Patron Sir Nathaniel Barnardiſton from the Biſhop of the Dioceſe [Norwich] as the Inſtitution into Barnardiſton had been before, namely, without the Incumbent's taking the Oath of Canonical Obedience, or his Subſcription to the three Articles. How this was effected, we ſhall not here enquire, but it was done both Times, without the Incumbent's perſonal Attendance on the Biſhop. He was about five and thirty Years of Age, when he came to Ketton, and he continued near five and thirty Years there. He had been nominated one of the Aſſembly of Divines, and upon the Death of Dr. Hill had a Grant of the Maſterſhip of Trinity College Cambridge, but declined both Troubles. —— Upon the Bartholomew Act, he wrote upon the laſt Leaf of his Diary theſe Words; Non propter paleam relinquam aream Domini, neque propter Piſces malos rumpimus retia Domini. —— Many came adviſing him not to loſe ſuch a Living of two hundred Pounds per Ann. or to part with ſuch a fine Parſonage Houſe, or with ſuch a fine Glebe, or with ſuch a great Auditory, or with ſuch a loving People or kind Neighbourhood. —— But deſiring his Friends to joyn with the Patron and himſelf in ſetting ſome Time a-part to ſeek God upon that Account, which they did, &c. Upon the Removal of ſo eminent a Perſon, it could be no eaſy thing for the Patron to provide for a Man who might bear any Proportion to him who had left them. An univerſal Search (in both the Univerſities, and in the City and Countrey) was made for a Man that might riſe up in his Place, and might tread in his Steps. At length the Reverend and Learned Dr. Tillotſon was recommended to the Patron, as a Perſon of great Worth and Abilities, a Man of a moderate and candid Spirit, and of a large and generous Temper: To him therefore was the Preſentation given, whereby much of the Loſs was repaired, it being alſo no ſmall Eaſe to their former Miniſter's Heart, that a Man of that Worth did ſucceed him.

Succeeded by Dr. John Tillotſon.

This large and generous Temper of Mr. Tillotſon, and his giving Eaſe to the Heart of Mr. Fairclough, is an Argument ſeeming to prove that he allow'd him ſome Part of the Profits of the Living.

The Letter of a Reverend, Renowned, and very Learned Conformiſt, to the Publiſher of the Life and Death of Mr. Samuel Fairclough.

Printed in the ſaid Life.

Mr. Samuel Fairclough, the ſometimes famous and juſtly applauded Rector of Keddington alias Ketton, in Agro Suffolcienſi, was a Perſon of great Renown, of eminent Note, and of tranſcendent Abilities, &c. I much bewailed his exauthoriſing himſelf and his publick Miniſtry; and have often thought, that if there had been a Temper found, whereby ſuch uſeful and ſober ſpirited Men (as I always obſerved him to be) might have been continued in their publick Function, under the Shelter and Protection of a legal Sanction, it had been a mighty Strengthening to the Proteſtant Intereſt, and much better with the Church of England than now it is. Though far be it from me to cenſure or call in Queſtion the Actions and Decrees of our Superiours. ——

SATURDAY Sept. 13.
Dr. John Michaelſon reſtored to Chelmsford and Orſett.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 304.
Newcourt Vol. II. p. 129. & 538.

Dr. Calamy mentions Mr. Mark Mott as ejected or ſilenced at Chelmsford, when at leaſt no one was thence ejected upon the Bartholomew Act: For Dr. John Michaelſon, after barbarous Uſage in the late Times, had been ſequeſtred from that Rectory, and was reſtored with the King to the Churches of Chelmsford and Orſett, and voided them both by his Death in 1674. In like manner at Springfield in the ſame County he turns out Mr. John Reve, who died in London, Paſtor of a Congregation there, when the Church was fill'd from Decemb. 1661. to the Death of Dr. Pindar in 1694.

Mr. Nathaniel Crowther Vicar of Biſhops-Stortford.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 896. Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 360.

Die 13. Sept. 1662. Nathaniel Crowther Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Biſhops-Stortford. Com. Hertf. per Amotionem ult. Vicarii: Which laſt Vicar was Mr. Jonathan Paine, who Mr. Newcourt ſuppoſes was put into this Vicarage in the late Times of Uſurpation, and was thrown out again in 1662. for Nonconformity. Dr. Calamy calls him Mr. John Paine, and ſays no more of him.

Mr. Nath. Partridge and Mr. Will. Haworth.

Ibid.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 799.

Among the ejected Miniſters in Hertfordſhire. St. Albans: Mr. Nathaniel Partridge and Mr. William Haworth. The latter was of St. Peter's. He was of St. John's College in Cambridge, and was well ſkill'd in the three learned Languages Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. After his Ejectment here, —— he lived for twenty Years with a Congregation at Hertford. [He could not be ejected by the Bartholomew Act, becauſe John Retchford, M. A. was admitted to the Vicarage of St. Peter in St. Albans April 12, 1661. void by the Ceſſion of Will. Retchford, and was in Poſſeſſion of it in 1700.]

Mr. Mocket and others reputed as ejected or ſilenc'd, when having been Uſurpers they only gave Place by Law to the right Owners.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 368.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 827.
Chauncey Antiq. Hertf. p. 190.

Dr. Calamy mentions Mr. Mocket, a very pious humble Man, as ejected from Geldeſden [Gedleſton] in Hertfordſhire. [But it was only giving Place to the right Incumbent, Mr. Charles Webb, who had been ejected out of this Church, and his Vicarage of Sawbridgworth by Sequeſtration for his Loyalty, reſtor'd in 1660. and died in Poſſeſſion of both in October 1669.]

Mr. Warren of Thornly.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 369.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 878. & 831.

Thorly in Hertfordſhire. Mr. Warren, a very hopeful young Man. [But the lawful Incumbent was Dr. Robert Pory, who for his Loyalty had been plundered, ſequeſtred, and forced to fly, reſtored to Thorly in 1660. which he afterwards left.]

Mr. Dyke of Great Hadham.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 370.

Great Hadham. Mr. Daniel Dyke, an Anabaptiſt, who therefore needed no other Nonconformity to remove him. [The lawful Incumbent was Dr. Thomas Paſke, upon whoſe Death Dr. Robert Pory was inſtituted Sept. 22, 1662.]

Mr. Dodderidge of Sheperton.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 466.
Newcourt, Vol I. p. 726.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Middleſex. Sheperton: Mr. John Dodderidge. He was an ingenious Man, and a Scholar of the Univerſity of Oxon. An acceptable Preacher, and a very peaceable Divine. His Rectory was worth 150 l. per Ann. [But he was not lawful Rector, the Title belong'd to Lewis Hughes, M. A. inſtituted Dec. 14, 1638. And Richard Peacock, M. A. ſucceeded July 30, 1660. in the ſaid Rectory, void by the Death of Hughes, and enjoy'd it 'till he died in 1683.]

Mr. Elford of Acton.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 571.

Acton in Middleſex: Mr. Thomas Elford. A grave Divine of conſiderable Parts and Learning, a moderate Independent. [Dr. Bruno Ryves is ſaid to have come into the Rectory of Acton in 1660. and to have kept it 'till his Death in 1677.]

Mr. Knight of Fulham.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 466. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 610.

Fulham: Mr. Iſaac Knight, B. D. A Godly Man, and of a good Temper: But he wanted Academical Learning, and yet had the Honour of his Degree conferr'd upon him for the ſake of the General. [Upon the Death of Dr. Richard Cluet Archdeacon of Middleſex, Mr. Edmund Keene, M. A. was admitted to the Vicarage of Fulham Jan. 11, 1660.]

Mr. Greenhill and Mr. Mead of Stepney.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 471.

Stepney: Mr. Greenhill and Mr. Matthew Mead. Mr. Greenhill was one of the Aſſembly of Divines, and one of the diſſenting Brethren in that Aſſembly: But a worthy Man, &c. Mr. Mead was a Man of great Prudence, and an excellent uſeful Preacher, &c. He died Octob. 16, 1699. [But neither of theſe had a Title to the Rectory, or to the Vicarage of Stepney.

Dr. Eman. Utye.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 741.

Eman. Utye, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stepney Apr. 8, 1661. vac. per Mort. Willelmi Stampe ult. Vic. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis per lapſum.

Dr. William Clarke.

Willelmus Clarke, S. T. P. inſtitutus ad Vic. de Stepney Aug. 31. 1661. vac. per Mort. Emanuelis Utye ad preſ. Alexandri Fraſier M. D. ratione Advocationis ei Conceſſ. per Dom. Tho. Cleveland & Tho. Dom. Wentworth ejus Fil. & Hæred. pro hac vice.

SUNDAY Sept. 14.

Complaint of a Profaneneſs at Court.

Imputed to ſeveral Cauſes.

Great Complaint (and too juſt) was made of a Spirit of Profaneneſs and Irreligion at Court; ſome aſcribed it to the King's Indifference and Lukewarmneſs in Religion, others to the profuſe Jollity of the Cavaliers upon eſcaping their Perſecutions, and coming ſuddenly to Eſtates or Preferments, or the ſanguine Hopes of them: Others even to the Biſhops and Clergy of the Church for not being ſo godly as the Presbyterian Divines: While ſome ſerious Churchmen thought, that the Seeds of Atheiſm had been ſown in the late Times, and now apppear'd the Fruits thereof.

Of which the chief, no doubt, was the Hypocriſy and Villany lately acted.

Toleration diſcuſſed, 1670. p. 260.

You have done more in your Practices towards the Vindication of Atheiſm than all that ever went before; and he that overlooks our Story from 1640. to 1660. will find Matter not only to ſtagger a weak Chriſtian, but to put a wiſe Man to a ſecond Thought, and to make him exclaim with the Prophet, Lo, theſe are the Ungodly, theſe proſper in the World, and theſe have Riches in Poſſeſſion. Then have I cleanſed my Heart in vain, and waſhed mine Hands in Innocency.

And even by the Miniſters of the Goſpel.

To ſee the ſame Men ſwearing to Day, with their Hands lifted up unto the Lord in a Holy Covenant to defend and preſerve his Majeſty's Perſon: And a while after with the ſame conſecrated Lips bleſſing that curſed Vote, that led to his Deſtruction (the Vote of Non-Addreſſes) to ſee Miniſters like ſo many Pulpit-Weathercocks, ſhifting from Party to Party 'till they have run through every Point of the Compaſs; ſwearing and counterſwearing: And when the City was ſplit into more Factions than Pariſhes, ſtill to maintain, that the whole Schiſm was acted by the Holy Ghoſt. To find the Pulpit trading only in dark and oraculous Deluſions, inſtead of plain and ſaving Truths, and the pretended Meſſengers for Peace turned Agents for Blood: To hear and ſee all this, and more, and the Cauſe proſper too, what could the Invention of Man add more to this Temptation to Apoſtacy?

MONDAY Sept. 15.

Reaſons pleaded for the Selling of Dunkirk.

MSS. 8vo. E. E. p. 65.

The Reaſons for, and Objections againſt the Sale of Dunkirk to the French.

The Reaſons pleaded for it, I. The great Charge of maintaining the Gariſon of Dunkirk, and the little Benefit ariſing from it. II. The Jealouſy of ſome Part of the Parliament, that ſo near a Gariſon might help to the Raiſing of a Standing Army. III. The great Occaſions the King had for Money, greater than he could hope for by the ordinary Supplies in Parliament. IV. The ill Underſtanding between the Crowns of England and Spain, and the latter demanding the Surrendry of Jamaica, Dunkirk, and Tangier. V. The King's own Inclination to oblige his Brother of France, and to court his riſing Power. VI. Some added their Suſpicions, that by ſecret Articles at the Pyreneau Treaty, King Charles in his great Exigences at that Time, had promiſed to give up Jamaica to the Spaniard, and Dunkirk to the French, upon Condition of their joint Aſſiſtance towards the Recovery of his Kingdoms. VII. The King inclining to ſell the Place could have no other Purchaſer but the French King; for by a former Treaty he was obliged not to part with it to Spain, and Holland had not Money for it.

Objections againſt the Sale of it.

Mr. Lancelot Addiſon had been invited from being under the Eye and Care of Biſhop King of Chicheſter, to go in the Quality of a Chaplain to Dunkirk; an Imployment he accepted of, contrary to the Sentiments of that worthy Prelate. He ſtay'd at Dunkirk 'till it was given up to the French or thereabouts, and from thence coming into England he was preſently ſolicited to go for Tangier; and accordingly

The Objections made to the Sale of Dunkirk upon thoſe Terms were theſe; I. The French had ſet their Heart upon it; and upon the firſt taking of it from the Spaniard, Mazarine would have cheated Cromwell of his Bargain for it, if Cromwell had not threaten'd to demand the Keys of Dunkirk at the Gates of Paris: And therefore a Place of ſuch Importance to the French ſhould not have been eaſily ſurrendred to them. II. A much greater Price ſhould have been taken for it, the firſt Demand was more reaſonable, ten Millions; to fall ſo low as five Millions was too great Abatement, eſpecially when moſt believed that the French King would have given the firſt Sum if inſiſted on. III. Not only the Town, Citadel, and Forts were ſold at that low Rate, but all the Artillery and Ammunition of War, Magazines, and Stores were thrown into the Bargain, which were thought equivalent to the whole Purchaſe Money; ſo as the Town coſt them dingly going thither, he ſtay'd ſeveral Years in the Place of Chaplain to that Garriſon; and after his Return was D. D. Chaplain to the King, Prebendary of Sarum, Dean of Lichfield. Father of Mr. Secretary Addiſon. Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 970. laſt Edit.

them nothing. IV. The Purchaſe Money ſhould have been paid before the Surrendry of the Eſtate, or at leaſt a Mortgage of the Premiſſes for it; whereas the Town was given up, before any Part of the Money was paid in; and there appear'd no real Security for it. V. It was thought enough for the King to give Poſſeſſion, and renounce his Claim and Title to it; whereas he was now oblig'd to defend it for two Years againſt Spain, nay and to help to retake it, if ſeiz'd within that Time, which Preparations of War might have coſt more, than the whole Purchaſe Money, and the Foot of the Account muſt have been, Dunkirk given away for nothing. VI. The Payment ſhould have been made in London, and the Money brought to the Seller, whereas the firſt and all following Payments, were agreed to be made at Dunkirk, when in Hands of the French. VII. The Engliſh Merchants and other Britiſh Subjects were not ſuffered to carry away with them any Corn, or other Proviſions and Ammunitions of War, but were oblig'd to ſell them at the Market Price, i. e. What the new Tenants of the Purchaſer would pleaſe to give for them. VIII. That no Liberty of the Proteſtant Religion was reſerved to thoſe of the Engliſh Subjects who would there remain.

The Act of Settlement paſſed in Ireland.

Upon the coming over of the Duke of Ormond, the Iriſh Parliament was then ſitting, and had prepar'd the Act of Settlement, which was the firſt his Grace paſſed on September 15. This Act was for the ſettling of Eſtates upon ſuch as had gotten thoſe before belonging to the Iriſh, ſince the beginning of the Rebellion in England, Anno 1641. In order to the paſſing that Act, the Court of Claims was erected to adjudge Qualifications of Innocency and Nocency as to the Iriſh claiming their Eſtates, upon clearing themſelves from the Guilt of Rebellion, in favour of the Nominees who were to continue till Innocents were firſt reſtor'd: And by Conſent of the Iriſh Agents, the Period for this Purpoſe was appointed by the King's Declaration to have been May 2, 1661. but the Iriſh Parliament enlarg'd the Time to Auguſt 1, 1662. and afterwards prolong'd it farther to July 22, 1663. The Commiſſioners appointed for this Court were Sir Richard Raynford, William Coventry, Eſq; in whoſe Place came Sir Allen Brodrick, Sir Winſton Churchill and Colonel Cook. Theſe ſate ſeveral Times at the King's-Inns, but would not enter upon Tryals, till they had prepar'd Deeds, Witneſſes, and other Things proper to proceed regularly, and then in this Month they declar'd thirty ſix Innocent, and ſeven Nocent; and in the remaining Months they decided ſix hundred and ſeventy Claims.

Account of the Family of Butlers, 1716. 12°.

It was thought moſt equitable to ſend over Men from England, who were not concern'd in the Intereſts or Paſſions of the Parties of that Kingdom, to try thoſe Claims. Their Proceedings were much cried out on: For it was ſaid, that every Man's Claim who could ſupport it with a good Preſent, was found good, and that all the Members of that Court came back very rich, &c. Biſhop Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, p. 176.

TUESDAY Sept. 16.

Mr. Alford Vicar of South-weld.

It does not appear that Mr. Rathband was ejected, or that he ever was the legal Vicar.

Die 16. Sept. 1662. Theophilus Alford Cler. ad Vic. de South-Weld Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. —— Obiit Anno 1675.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 646.

Southbold by Burntwood. Mr. Rathband, M. A. Brother to Mr. Rathband ſome Time Preacher in the Minſter of York. He had his Education in Oxon. After many Removes he ſettled at Highgate, where he continued to his Death.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 306.

WEDNESDAY Sept. 17.

Paul Ducket Vicar of Boreham.

Mr. John Oakes not legal Vicar.

Paul Ducket Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Boreham Com. Eſſex ex collatione D. London Epiſcopi. — Obiit Anno 1670.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 75.

Boreham. Mr. John Oates. He ſtept but over the Brook from the Pariſh where he was publick Miniſter to Little-Baddow, and was Paſtor there. Afterwards he was invited into the City upon the Death of Mr. Thomas Vincent, whom he ſucceeded in his Congregation. —— He was ſuddenly ſeiz'd by a divine Arreſt in his Pulpit, and ſilenc'd by his great Maſter in the midſt of his Work in December 1688. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Slater. He was ſucceeded by Mr. Daniel Williams.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 300.

A Viſitation by Dr. Humphrey Henchman, Biſhop of Sarum.

The Sermon by Dr. Thomas Tully, Rector of Griggleton in Wilts, and Principal of St. Edmund Hall, Oxon.

Dr. Humphrey Chambers a Native of Somerſetſhire, bred up in Univerſity College, Oxon. firſt Rector of Claverton in Somerſet, and then Member of the Aſſembly of Divines, after which the Earl of Pembroke gave him the rich Rectory of Pewſey, which he quitted when the Act of Uniformity took Place, and he died ſoon after, viz. Sept. 8, 1662. Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 753.

The Biſhop's Viſitation was held this Day for Chippenham in Wilts, the major Part, if not all the Gentry in that Diviſion, went forth and met that right reverend and prudent Humfrey Lord Biſhop of Saliſbury, and attended him to the Town, where they were nobly entertained by him. I never ſaw the Town ſo much thronged. Dr. Tully Principal of St. Edmund's Hall in Oxford, preached a moſt learned Sermon, which I hear has given great Satisfaction to our Nonconformiſts, of which ſort of People the Number with us is very inconſiderable, and now more apt to hearken to Reaſon, in regard their Miſ-leader Dr. Chambers is taken from them, he and his Wife being dead within this Fortnight. The next Day the Biſhop invited the Gentry, Clergy, Church-wardens, and Sides-men to dine with him, which they did accordingly: After Dinner the Biſhop went to Church, where the Gentry, with a great Multitude of all Sorts of People, received Confirmation from his Lordſhip, and the next Day attended him out of Town with great Solemnity. Sure no Countrey can be more happy than this Dioceſe is in the Wiſdom and Piety of this moſt worthy Biſhop.

Mercur. Publ. 4^to. p. 645.

See Ath. Ox. Vol. II. c. 105.

Mr. Thomas Perkins not ejected from Burley.

Dr. Calamy, among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Rutland, places at Burley, Mr. Thomas Perkins. [Who could not be ejected by the Bartholomew Act; becauſe Mr. Robert Freckleton Clerk, had been admitted to the Vicarage of Burley on the Hill, December 11, 1660. on the Preſentation of George Duke of Bucks.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 544.

Nor Mr. Ware from Morton-Pinkney.

The ſame Author mentions Mr. Ware as ejected or ſilenc'd at Morton-Pinkney, in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, and in his Continuation of that Account corrects himſelf, and ſays, it ſhould be Mr. Warr, who came to this Place from beyond Brackley. This Town is large, and yet his Income was but 35*l.* per Ann. 50*l.* a Year being paid out of the Living to Oriel College in Oxford. Mr. Warr was ſuſpended in 1662. for half a Year, and one Mr. Bett preach'd in his Stead: But at length he conform'd, and the College reſtor'd him, and he continu'd preaching here to the eightieth Year of his Age. So that he ſhould be here expunged. [i. e. from the Liſt of Nonconformiſts.]

Account, p. 496. Contin p. 642.

Mr. Tho. Douglaſs Preacher at St. Olave Silver-ſtreet, fell under Scandal, travell'd abroad, turn'd Phyſician, and died obſcurely, not ejected.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in London, Dr. Calamy relates from St. Olave Silver-ſtreet, Mr. Thomas Douglaſs. He fell under ſome Scandals, and afterwards travell'd, and took the Degree of Doctor of Phyſick in Padua, return'd to London, and practis'd Phyſick, and ran in Debt. He afterwards went into Ireland, and dy'd obſcurely. He wrote a Book called Jerubbaal.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 33.

Dr. Booſye was Rector of this Church of St. Olave Silver-ſtreet, when the Rebellion broke out in 1642. and was ſo abus'd by the Rebels, that he died with Grief. And ſince the Reſtauration William King, A. M. was admitted Rector of this Church, Mar. 13, 1661. who, I ſuppoſe, enjoy'd it till he was burnt out in 1666.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 517.

Mr. William Wiggans.

From St. Andrew Hubbard in Little-Eaſtcheap. Mr. William Wiggans. He was bury'd in his own Pariſh in a good old Age. He was an excellent Hebrecian and Grecian, and never uſed any other Bible in his Cloſet or Pulpit, but the Originals.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 34.

Mr. Richard Chambers continu'd Rector of St. Andrew Hubbard till about 1642. when he was ejected by the Rebels for his Loyalty. Mr. Thomas Parker is ſaid to have been admitted to this Church May 30, 1659. and to have been burnt out in 1666.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 265.

Mr. John Fuller.

From Ironmonger-lane. Mr. John Fuller. A moſt pious Man and practical Preacher. He had three Sons that were Scholars and Miniſters of Note. Two of them conform'd, but his Son Mr. Francis Fuller died a Nonconformiſt in London. [His three Sons were all epiſcopally ordained, by their Unkle Dr. Thomas Fuller, Biſhop of Ardſert in Ireland 1641. tranſlated to the Archbiſhoprick of Caſhel in January 1660. The eldeſt Son was Dr. Tho. Fuller, Fellow of Chriſt College Cambridge, Rector of Willingdale Doe in Eſſex, and of Nanby in Lincolnſhire. The ſecond Brother was Dr. Sam. Fuller, firſt Chancellor, then Dean of the Church of Lincoln. The third was an uneaſy Man. The Father is ſaid to have died at or before the Reſtauration, and tho' a ſtrict Preſbyterian, did not ſuffer for Nonconformity.

Did not live to ſuffer for Nonconformity.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 36. and Contin. p. 53.

Edwardus Sparks, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Martini Ironmonger-Lane, London, 28. Sept. 1639. vac. per deprivationem Joſ. Symonds, ad preſ. Caroli Regis.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 412.

Tho. Neaſt, A. M. ad Eccl. S. Martini Ironmonger-Lane, London, 5. Junii 1661. vac. per reſign. Edwardi Sparks, ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Edward Sparks, afterward D. D. was ejected out of this his Church by Sequeſtration, and plundered by the Rebels; but outliving the Storm was reſtor'd again to it upon the coming in of King Charles II. ſoon after which he reſign'd it, and became Miniſter of Clerkenwell, &c.

Ibid. 412. See Walker's Sufferings of Clergy, p. 175.

The Speech of James Duke of Ormond, which he made in the Parliament of Ireland aſſembled at Dublin, Sept. 17, 1662. tranſlated from the Engliſh into Italian by Dudley Loftus, LL. D.

Printed at Dublin, 1664.

THURSDAY Sept. 18.

Mr. Joſ. Maynard, Rector of Exeter, in the Place of Dr. John Conant, who afterwards conform'd.

Joſeph Maynard, S. T. B. Prebendary of Exeter, was elected Rector of Exeter College in Oxford, in the Room of Dr. John Conant, and reſign'd in 1665. He was the only Perſon licenſed to proceed D. D. at Oxford, July 2, 1663. Vicar of Maybend in Cornwall, where he died in 1670.

Wood's Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 827.

Mr. Bentham Rector of Loddington.

Sept. 18, 1662. Joſephus Bentham Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Loddington Com. Northton. legitime & de jure vacantem ad preſ. Domini Regis pleno jure.

Reg. Laney, Petriburg.

Mr. Henry Willes ſaid to be ejected.

Lodington. Mr. Henry Willes, M. A. An able Scholar, a conſiderable Mathematician, and of great Skill in the Law. An eminent Preacher, and of a moſt engaging Carriage. After his Ejectment he liv'd at Cranſley, a Town in the ſame County, having a conſiderable Eſtate, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 496. Continuat. p. 640.

1641. 21. Aug. Ricardus Killbye Cler. S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Loddington Com. Northton. vac. per reſign. ult. Incumb. ex preſ. Caroli Regis.

Reg. Towers, Petriburg.

Mr. Killbye, Rector of Loddington, was, unleſs I very much miſtake, not only ſequeſtred, but ſuffered otherwiſe alſo in a very remarkable Manner.

Dr. Walker, Part II. *p.*288.

Mr. Tho. Medbury Rector of Thrapſton.

Eod. die 18. Septemb. 1662. Thomas Medbury, Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Thrapſton Com. Northampt. legitime & de jure vacantem ad preſ. Domini Regis pleno jure Patroni.

Mr. Tho. Tarrey ejected.

Mr. Thomas Tarrey ejected from Thrapſton. He had a very large Congregation, and was much belov'd by his Pariſhioners, and greatly reſpected by all the neighbouring Miniſters. —— After his Ejectment he was reduc'd ſo low, that his Wife made Band-ſtrings for a Livelihood. But after ſome Time he was invited to the Free-School at Higham, the Salary of which was 10 l. per Ann. and he had a flouriſhing School, and many Gentlemen ſending their Sons to him for Inſtruction he grew rich. But ſome Differences ariſing between him and ſome wealthy Perſons in the Town, he remov'd to ſome Place near London, where he ſpent the Remainder of his Days.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 641.

Some Nonconformiſts were more to be truſted than thoſe who unwillingly conform: As in the late Revolution, ſome of the Non-Jurors were more honeſt than ſome who took the Oaths againſt the Grain.

Yet thoſe who refuſed to conform in a tender Regard to Oaths and Subſcriptions, were more to be commended and truſted, than thoſe who with Reluctancy conformed to keep or get a Benefice, and were afterwards cold Friends, and even Betrayers of the Church. It was even ſo at the happy Revolution and Deliverance from Popery, when ſome of the Non-Jurors were more honeſt than ſome of the complying ſwearing Clergy; of whom Complaint was juſtly made by the Rev. Mr. Tho. Walker, B. D. Fellow of Sidney Suſſex College, Cambridge, in a Sermon preached at Great St. Mary's Church in Cambridge, before the Lord Chief Juſtice Holt, at the Aſſizes held there Aug. 1, 1693. on Prov. xii. 26. —— The righteous Man who has ſworn Fidelity to their preſent Majeſties, thinks himſelf in Conſcience obliged to obſerve his Oath; —— and cannot but wonder at the Indiſcretion and Inconſiſtency, as well as ſinful Folly of thoſe, who having taken the Oath to King William and Queen Mary, are ſtill as much Enemies to the preſent Government as if they had not, and beſpatter it with more odious Reflections, and ſly Inſinuations, than ſome others who have not ſworn. This is ſo open and palpable a Piece of Hypocriſy, and ſuch plain and downright Diſſimulation, that certainly thoſe Men who are conſcious to themſelves of being guilty this Way, can never at the ſame Time be ſo vain, as to entertain any Hopes of being recorded in Hiſtory for Men of Fidelity, Integrity, and Honour.

Printed at Cambridge, 1693.

FRIDAY Sept. 19. Younger Son of Sir Bevil Greenvill, Brother of John the firſt Earl of Bath, Fellow of Exeter College, Oxon. Rector of Eaſington and Elwick in the County Palatine of Durham, &c.

Dennis Greenvill, A. M. having married Anne Daughter of Dr. John Coſin, Biſhop of Durham, was collated to the Archdeaconry of Durham, void by the Death of Dr. Gabriel Clarke. In 1684. he was made Dean of Durham, and held his Archdeaconry with it till the Revolution, when he followed King James into France, was depriv'd of his Dignities in England, and had (as I was informed by Letters from France) the Archbiſhoprick of York conferr'd on him by that King, void by the Death of Dr. Thomas Lamplugh. In April 1695. he returned into England incognito.

Athen. Oxon. laſt Edit. Vol. II. p. 959.

SATURDAY Sept. 20. Mr. Nathaniel Robinſon, late Miniſter of a Congregation, convicted of Words ſpoken againſt the King and the Biſhop.

This Day at Southampton, in the Guild-hall, before the Mayor and Juſtices, one Nathaniel Robinſon, formerly a Miniſter of a congregated Party for about ſixteen Years laſt paſt, was for ſome Words ſpoken againſt the Lord Biſhop of Winton, and for ſome other Paſſages formerly let fall againſt his Majeſty, brought to anſwer; but upon his humble Confeſſion, Submiſſion, and his Promiſe of Reformation and Conformity, had only a ſmall Fine impoſed upon him and was diſmiſſed.

Merc. Publ. 4to. p. 644.

Death of Biſhop Gauden of Worceſter.

Death of Dr. John Gauden, Biſhop of Worceſter. He was Son of the Miniſter of Mayland in Eſſex, educated in Grammar-Learning at St. Edmundſbury, at about ſixteen Years of Age admitted a Student of St. John's College in Cambridge under one Mr. Wright, where making great Proficiency in Academical Learning, he took the Degrees in Arts. In 1630. or thereabouts, he removed to Wadham College in the Univerſity of Oxford, where he became Tutor to Francis and William Ruſſel, Sons of Sir William Ruſſel, Baronet (into whoſe Family he about that Time had matched,) and after their Departure to other Gentlemen of Quality. In 1635. he took the Degree of B. D. was afterwards Chaplain to Robert Earl of Warwick, Rector of Brightwell near Wallingford in Berks, beneſic'd in Cambridgeſhire. And when the Aſſembly of Divines was to be ſettled in 1643. he was nominated one of them to the Parliament, by Sir Dudley North and Sir Thomas Chichely, Knights for Cambridgeſhire, to ſit among them: But by what Trick Mr. Thomas Goodwyn was ſubſtituted in his Place, as a Perſon more fit for the great Deſigns then carrying on, you may ſee in our Author Dr. Gauden's Book, intituled Anti-Baal-Berith, printed at London 1661, p. 89, 90. At that Time 1643. he had the Rectory and Deanery of Bocking in his own Countrey conferr'd upon him, which he kept during the Time of Uſurpation; and was, as before at Brightwell and elſewhere, much reſorted to for his moſt admirable and edifying Way of Preaching. After the Death of Dr. Brownrigg, Biſhop of Exeter, (which was in December 1659.) he became Preacher of the Temple at London; and after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. Chaplain in Ordinary to him; made Biſhop of Exeter in November 1660. tranſlated to Worceſter in 1662. where he died in his Palace Sept. 20, 1662. aged 57. and was buried in the Chapel at the eaſt End of the Choir of the Cathedral Church. Over his Grave was ſoon after erected a fair Monument, containing his Effigies to the Middle, in his Epiſcopal Habit, with this Inſcription:

Juxta hoc marmor poſitæ ſunt
Reliquiæ JOHANNIS GAUDENTII, SS. T. D.
Eſſexiæ oriundi, qui Anno illo mirabili
Reſtitutionis Regis CAROLI II. ad Sedem
Exonienſem ſubvectus, inde favore ejuſdem
Regis ad Cathedram hanc Wigornienſem
Statim vacantem tranſlatus eſt, ſed honorem
Quem optime meruit, non ita diu ſuſtinuit,
Meliori enim ſorte dignus juſſus eſt a
Supremo Rege ad Beatorum Sedes demigrare,
Ubi expectat novam tranſlationem, harum ſcil.
Reliquiarum in noviſſima omnium Reſtitutione.
Hoc monumentum non memoriæ
(Quam ſcripta non ſinent perire)
Sed Amoris ergo poſuit Conjux mæſtiſſima,
Epitaphium par meritis ſcripſiſſe
Suum voluit ſolummodo ingenium,
Adſcriptus eſt immortalibus 20. die
Menſis Septemb. A. D. 1662. Ætat. 57.

His ſaid Wife was Elizabeth Daughter of Sir William Ruſſel, Baronet, of Chippenham in the County of Cambridge, ſhe died March 21, 1671. in the fifty ſixth Year of her Age; and was buried near her Huſband with a Latin Inſcription on her Grave Stone.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 208.

Dr. Peter Barwick. in his Appendix to the Life of his Brother Dr. John Barwick, gives a very ſevere Character of him. —— Chaplain to the unhappy Lord the Earl of Warwick, when he ſeem'd to be a very eminent Preacher, but he ſeem'd ſo only to himſelf; to no others that were of ſounder Judgment. He was extreamly fond of popular Applauſe, and after the Rebels had got the Government into their Hands, he continued fix'd and undiſturb'd in his rich Benefice of Bocking; joining himſelf to the ſworn Enemies of the Church and Crown. —— Made Biſhop of Exeter, tho' he had before abjur'd the whole Epiſcopal Order, and was ſaid to have openly adviſed King Charles II. in a Letter alſo to abjure the ſame in Scotland. —— He could not now obtain the Biſhoprick of Wincheſter, yet I know not by what ill Deſtiny he gain'd that of Worceſter, which yet he did not long enjoy, for a little while after that falſe Apoſtate Gauden departed this Life, the unhappy Blemiſh and Reproach of the ſacred Order, after it was happily reſtored. And how much that moſt vain Man was at laſt deſpiſed by King Charles, appear'd evidently from hence, that when Archbiſhop Sheldon [then Biſhop of London] acquainted him that Biſhop Gauden was dead, his Majeſty replied, that he made no doubt but that it would be eaſy to find a more worthy Perſon to fill his Place.

The

See Willis's Survey, 4to. p. 651.

His Friends were fond of his being thought the Author of 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ becauſe the firſt Editor of it.

Continuation of Abington's Antiquities of Worceſter, 8vo. 1717. p. 111.

The Continuator of Mr. Abington's Antiquities of Worceſter tells us, Biſhop Gauden's Monument is of Marble on the Wall, bearing a Buſt in Epiſcopal Robes, and a Book in its Hand, whereon is inſcribed 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ. His Friends ſeem by this Innuendo to father that excellent Book on him, ungenerouſly as well as unjuſtly attempting to rob the Royal Martyr of that excellent Work, a Work which none but himſelf could be the Author of, if we conſider the Style, the Occaſions, the various Circumſtances, handed down to us by undoubted Hands; who have cleared up this Matter, and carried their Point beyond Diſpute. But the Original of this we owe to a pretended Memorandum ſeen by none of any Authority, and much built on by one, &c. [Mr. John Toland.]

The Silence of my Lord Clarendon in this Matter, is preſum'd to be an Argument of his not believing the Book to be of the King's writing, eſpecially when he ſays upon another Occaſion with a different Application, This was the true Pourtraicture of his Majeſty, &c.

Account given by Biſhop Burnet, who begins with an Opinion, that it was the King's Writing, and concludes with an Obſervation that Gauden was incapable of writing in ſuch a Style. And that the Earl of Lothian, no Friend to his Majeſty, affirmed it to be his Work.

Bp. Burnet's Summary of Affairs before the Reſtoration Fol. 1724. p. 50.

Upon the publiſhing of the Book called 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ, it was univerſally believ'd to be the King's own, and coming out ſoon after his Death, had the greateſt run in many Impreſſions that any Book has had in our Age. There was in it a Nobleneſs and Juſtneſs of Thought, with a Greatneſs of Style, that made it to be look'd on as the beſt writ Book in the Engliſh Language. And the Piety of the Prayers made all People cry out againſt the Murder of a Prince who thought ſo ſeriouſly of all his Affairs in his ſecret Meditations before God. I was bred up with a high Veneration of this Book, and I remember that when I heard how ſome denied it to be his, I aſked the Earl of Lothian about it, who both knew the King very well and loved him little: He ſeem'd confident it was his own Work, for he ſaid, he had heard him ſay a great many of thoſe very Periods that he found in that Book. Being thus confirmed in that Perſuaſion, I was not a little ſurpriſed, when in the Year 1673. in which I had a great Share of Favour and free Converſation with the then Duke of York, afterwards King James the Second, as he ſuffered me to talk very freely to him about Matters of Religion, and as I was urging him with ſomewhat out of his Father's Book, he told me that Book was not of his Father's writing, and that the Letter to the Prince of Wales was never brought to him. He ſaid Dr. Gauden writ it: After the Reſtoration he brought the Duke of Somerſet and the Earl of Southampton both to the King and to himſelf, who affirmed, that they knew it was his writing; and that it was carried down by the Earl of Southampton, and ſhewed the King during the Treaty of Newport, who read it, and approv'd of it, as containing his Senſe of Things. Upon this he told me, that tho' Sheldon and the other Biſhops oppoſed Gauden's Promotion becauſe he had taken the Covenant, yet the Merits of that Service carried it for him notwithſtanding the Oppoſition made to it. There has been a great deal of diſputing about this Book: Some are ſo zealous for maintaining it to be the King's, that they think a Man falſe to the Church that doubts it to be his: Yet the Evidence ſince that Time brought to the contrary has been ſo ſtrong, that I muſt leave that under the ſame Uncertainty under which I found it: Only this is certain, that Gauden never writ any Thing with that Force, his other Writings being ſuch, that no Man from a Likeneſs of Style would think him capable of writing ſo extraordinary a Book as that is.

Dr. Burnet the more ſurpriſed to hear the Duke of York declare it was not his Father's Writing, but Dr. Gauden's.

The Letter to the Prince was not inſerted in the firſt Edition.

The Duke of Somerſet is ſaid to have been confin'd to his Chamber from June 1660. to the Time of his Death.

The Earl of Southampton a Man of great Honour and Veracity, who would not have been concern'd in ſuffering a ſpurious Book to be aſcrib'd to the King.

Biſhop Gauden deny'd that he ever took the Covenant, in his Anti-Baal-Berith, 1661. p. 275.

He leaves it as he found it uncertain.

The Collector's Opinion in this Matter.

See Dr. Hollingworth's Defence of King Charles the Firſt's holy and divine Book called 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ againſt the rude and undutiful Aſſaults of the late Dr. Walker of Eſſex: Proving by living and unqueſtionable Evidences, the 'foreſaid Book to be the Royal Martyr's and not Dr. Gauden's. London 1692, 4to.

A Second Defence of K. Ch. I. by way of Reply to an infamous Libel called Ludlow's Letter to Dr. Hollingworth. London, 1692, 4to.

The Character of K. Ch. I. from the Declaration of Mr. Alex. Henderſon upon his Death Bed, with a further Defence of the King's holy Book. To which is annexed ſome ſhort Remarks upon a vile Book called Ludlow no Lyar. With a Defence of the King from the Iriſh Rebellion. By Richard Hollingworth, D. D. London, 1692, 4to.

Dr. Walker's true modeſt and faithful Account of the Author of 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ ſtrictly examined, and demonſtrated to be falſe, impudent, and deceitful. In two Parts. The

MS.

After much and long Enquiry and Conſideration, the Truth ſeems to lye between the two Extreams, as in many other Caſes. It is highly probable, that King Charles amidſt his Solitudes and Sufferings did write moſt of thoſe Eſſays or Meditations upon the particular Occaſions, and ſoon after the ſpecial Times to which they are adapted: And that ſuch Papers written by the King's own Hand were committed to a loyal Chaplain, Mr. Edward Symonds, Miniſter of Rayne in Eſſex, to convey them to the Preſs with all Privacy in London or elſewhere. But he being interrupted by Sequeſtration, and under a Neceſſity of flying and abſconding, delivered the Royal Papers to his Friend and Neighbour Dr. Gauden, who being a Man of an enterpriſing Genius and a very luxuriant Fancy, and finding himſelf the more at Liberty by the Abſence of Mr. Symonds, would not let them paſs without ſomewhat of his own Additions, and (as he thought) Improvements of them. Accordingly he enlarg'd the Draught with ſome new Heads, and prevail'd with Biſhop Duppa to give him one Chapter; and moſt likely of his own Invention threw in moſt (if not all) of the Ejaculations and Devotions at the End of each Subject, and ſet the Title of his own deviſing, 'Εἰκὼν Βασιλικὴ, the Pourtraicture of his ſacred Majeſty in his Solitude and Sufferings. Rom. viii. More than Conquerour, &c. Bona agere & mala pati regium eſt, MDCXLVIII. 8vo. [without any Preface or other Notice of Author or Editor.] Concluding, p. 269.

Vota dabunt quæ Bella negarunt.

When he had thus dreſs'd up the King's Papers, he thought it decent to ſend and ſhew them for his Majeſty's Approbation. This he did by the Earl of Southampton going down to wait upon the King in his Confinement in the Iſle of Wight: Whether the King had Time to reviſe the Papers, and give his Aſſent to the publiſhing of them (as ſome affirm) does not ſo well appear; but it ſeems probable, that Dr. Gauden hearing nothing of the King's Diſlike or Reſtraint, and finding his violent Death to be ſoon after the univerſal Subject of Wonder and Lamentation, he got the Impreſſion wrought off within a Month after the Tragedy was acted, and the Cry of the Times ſoon made Way for ſeveral Editions.

Having had ſo much of his Hand in it, it was natural for his Ambition at the King's Return to aſſume the Honour of it, tho' his firſt Pretenſions reach'd no farther than writing a Part of it; and the King himſelf immediately after his Reſtauration told Dr. Reynolds, All that is in that Book is not Goſpel; ſeeming to imply Interpolations and Additions made to it, ſo that all was not to be taken for his Royal Father's very Thoughts and Words.

However, upon this great Share of Concern in it, Dr. Gauden was very preſſing for Preferment at Court, and having obtain'd the See of Exeter, he urged this Merit for a Tranſlation to Winchester, and when upon the Preference of Biſhop Morley he was glad to take up with Worceſter, the Repulſe and Reſentment ſtuck ſo cloſe to him, that 'tis believed his Death following ſo ſoon after was owing to his Diſappointment and Regret upon it. He was certainly a Man that lov'd Invention, and had even refin'd his own Name, Gauden for Gawding; his Father, John Gawding, M. A. had been inſtituted Vicar of Mayland in Eſſex, at the Preſentation of W. Wiſeman, Eſq; Decemb. 13, 1598.

He was capable of Under-work. I took it once from the Mouth of a very eminent Primate, that there was in 1662. a Declaration for Liberty of Conſcience extending to Papiſts drawn up, and ſome printed Copies of it work'd off in a Preſs within Somerſet Houſe, though preſently call'd in. And what was the worſt Circumſtance, the Draught of it was framed by a Biſhop of the Church of England, even by Dr. Gauden then Biſhop of Exeter, who had made himſelf a Tool to the Court, by the moſt ſordid Hopes of greater Favour in it; and he was about the ſame Time employ'd to draw up another Declaration of Indulgence to the Quakers, by an Exemption from all Oaths, &c. though he little enjoy'd the Price of that ſervile Compliance, being ſoon after ſnatch'd away by untimely unexpected Death, and the laſt of the Family Sir Dennis Gauden died a Beggar.

The Difference of Style between the 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ and the profeſſed Writings of Dr. Gauden will appear the greater, if we compare what was written about the very ſame Time by the Doctor, namely, his Letter of Remonſtrance againſt putting the King to Death, publiſhed in January 1648. wherein (though the Subject and many of the Thoughts are much the ſame) the Style and Expreſſion have a very different Turn. And the very Words he puts into the King's Mouth would not have dropp'd from his Royal Pen. Says he, methinks I hear his Majeſty in his Agony, Solitude, and Expectation of an enforced Death calling to me and all other his Subjects, You that never believe my Life was ſought after in the Bottom of this War, but my Safety and Honour; you that never fought for me, yet profeſſed to abhor the fighting deſtinately againſt me, or deſtroying of me: Cannot you, dare not you ſpeak one Word to ſave my Life, and your own Souls? Shall your Silence ſeem to encourage and make up their Suffrages, who therefore pretend they may and will deſtroy me, becauſe it pleaſeth you, and the Generality of my People. Nothing ſo high and low even in the ordinary Style of King Charles I. And the Concluſion is as flat, When the World ſhall ſee your Power bounded with Loyalty, ſanctified with Piety, and ſweetned with Pity, not fooliſh and feminine, which I would have below you, but maſculine, heroick, truly chriſtian and divine; which commands you to add to your many other Victories, this Crown of our Rejoycing, and your Triumphs, the Conqueſt of yourſelves, by overcoming what you conceive evil and blameable in another, with ſuch unqueſtionable Goodneſs in yourſelves; wherein I humbly entreat the God of Mercies to make you to abound, over-powering all Paſſions and Frailties in you as Men, and perfecting all Graces in you as true Chriſtian Subjects to a Chriſtian King. This I write and pray, as

Your faithful Monitor and Servant,
January 5, 1648. (according to the Will of God)
JOHN GAUDEN.

Upon the firſt Publication of the 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ the Book was taken for granted by all People to be the King's; and it is ſuppos'd that even Dr. Gauden himſelf was very induſtrious to have it ſo acknowledg'd. For in the firſt thirtieth of January Sermon, commonly imputed to Dr. Gauden, the Preacher aſcribes this Book to the King in two ſeveral Paſſages, as if the Truth were intimately known to him. He ſpeaks thus, P. 19. " As that firſt great Patron of Chriſtianity, Conſtantine the Great, would have his Effigies kneeling engraven on his Coin with his Hands ſpread, and his Eyes advanced towards Heaven: So did our late moſt religious King deſire that unto that his Golden Manual might be prefixed his Repreſentation kneeling, contemning a temporal, holding our bleſſed Saviour's Crown of Thorns, and aſpiring unto an eternal Crown of Happineſs." Again, P. 23. " But the lively Features and fair Lineaments of his Graces and Virtues are beſt and moſt lively drawn out by his own Pencil. His Works praiſe him in the Gate. His Writings preſent unto us the lively Pourtraicture of his divine, large, and graſping Soul. Theſe (what they are wanting in Volume, recompencing an hundred fold in worth) are the Repertory of all his Actions, and the trueſt Index of his Virtues. That Book is the Quinteſſence of knowing Zeal, the Store-Houſe of the ripe and choice Fruits of Chriſtian Piety; there are the Principles of Religion perfectly digeſted into holy Practice; there is the true princely Image of King Charles.
" That

The firſt diſproving it to be Dr. Gauden's; the ſecond proving it to be King Charles the Firſt's. By Tho. Long, B. D. and Prebendary of St. Peter's Exeter. London, 1693. 4to.

A Vindication of K. Charles the Martyr: Proving that his Majeſty was the Author of 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, againſt a Memorandum ſaid to be written by the Earl of Angleſey, and againſt the Exceptions of Dr. Walker and others. To which is added, A Preface, wherein the bold and inſolent Aſſertions publiſhed in a Paſſage of Mr. Bayle's Dictionary relating to the preſent Controverſy are examined and confuted. The third Edition with large Additions: Together with ſome Original Letters of King Charles I. under his own Hand, never before printed, and faithfully copied from the ſaid Originals. By Tho. Wagſtaffe, A. M. London 1711. 4to.

A Defence of the Vindication of King Charles the Martyr, juſtifying his Majeſty's Title to 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, In anſwer to a late Pamphlet, entitled, Amyntor. By the Author of the Vindication. London, 1690, 4to.

Several Evidences which have not yet appeared in the Controverſy concerning the Author of 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, produced in a Letter to the Reverend Mr. Wagſtaffe. By J. Y. [Young] of Plymouth. London, 1704 8vo.

The Religious and Loyal Proteſtation of John Gauden, Doctor in Divinity, againſt the preſent declared Purpoſes and Proceedings of the Army and others about the trying and deſtroying our Sovereign Lord the King: Sent to a Colonel to be preſented to the Lord Fairfax and his general Council of Officers, the fifth of January 1648. London, for Rich. Royſton, 1648. 4to. p. 12.

What Dr. Gauden wrote at the ſame Time upon the ſame Subject doth not come near the Style of 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ. See the Princely Pelican Royal Reſolves, preſented in ſundry choice Obſervations, extracted from his Majeſty's Divine Meditations. With ſatisfactory Reaſons to the whole Kingdom, that his Sacred Perſon was the only Author of them. Printed Ann. Dom. 1649. Reprinted with Sir Tho. Herbert's Memoirs, &c. 1702. 8vo which ſome aſcribe to Dr. Gauden.

Even Dr. Gauden own'd it to be the King's Book.

The Author of the Princely Pelican in 1649. tells us, That ſome Men of Malice were then diſperſing Reports abroad, that this Work was none of his penning, but one of his houſhold Chaplains; who by his ſtudious Endeavour, not only perfected, but with all poſſible Speed procur'd

See Dr. Bates's Funeral Serm. on Mr. Baxter.

Reg. Grindal

“ That Golden Manual being a ſtately Building of Meditations, Conſultations, Eſſays, Debates, and Devotions, raiſed upon emergent Occaſions, with ſuch judicious Artifice of Grace, adorned with ſo rich Furniture of Piety, enlarged with ſo many fair Rooms, and convenient Receipts of Grace, that it ſhews his Body was the Temple of the Holy Ghoſt, that there was no Corner nor Vacuity in his great and glorious Soul. I doubt not to affirm, that in what we have of this holy King's Daughter, we are abundantly repaired in the Loſs of Solomon's Phyſicks: For here is a Shop full of heavenly Medicines for all the Maladies of the Soul; by ſo much is their Sin the greater whoſe Malice hath deprived us of thoſe other later Pieces of his Majeſty. What we already have is the greateſt Monument of Piety of any King's (after their's whoſe Writings become authentick from God, as being the Penmen of his own divine Dictates) ſince the Creation, and ſhall have continual and unwearied Travels made unto it in all Languages and Kingdoms, by all Men and Women, who know, love, and honour Piety, Prudence, and all other divine and moral Graces and Virtues, every of which hath its ſeveral Atchievement and particular Trophy erected in this One Work which ſhall be as long as Time.”

Again, in 1660. there was publiſhed by the ſame Bookſeller, Mr. Rich. Royſton, a ſmall Piece, entitled, The faithful yet imperfect Character of a glorious King, King Charles I. his Countrey's and Religion's Martyr. Written by a Perſon of Quality. It was certainly written by a Divine, as many Paſſages betray, and in ſuch a copious and verboſe Style as agreed with Dr. Gauden's Way of Writing. The Book ſeems to have been deſign'd for a ſort of Appendix to the 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, and hath the King's Head in the Front, ſubſcribed in the ſame Language, The Lively Pourtraicture. In the following Pages, the Author delights to ſpeak of the former Pourtraicture, and calls it, the King's ſpeaking Ghoſt, the Eccho of his Life and Death, his never to be parallell'd Book, &c. filled with thoſe ſad but ſweet Meditations, P. 16. And again, P. 21. he refers to thoſe divine and prudent Conſiderations of his expreſſed in his poſthume Book, inferiour to none but Scriptures themſelves. Some do from hence infer, that Dr. John Gauden, a daily Writer was likewiſe the Author of this Character, and did not then aſſume the Honour of being the ſole Inventor of 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, but dwells on it as if he had been much concern'd in it; and ſo he was in having dreſſed up the Original Papers, affix'd the Title, and convey'd the finiſh'd Copy to the Preſs. All this may be conſiſtent with the different Relations of the King and the Doctor, being each the Author of that admirable Book. It is certain, that the Popery of King James made him leſs inclin'd to reſpect the Memory of his Father; and the more willing to deprive him of the Honour of that Book. Mr. Richard Chiſwell who inherited the Copies of Mr. Richard Royſton, has been heard to complain, that when he undertook a ſecond Edition of the Works of King Charles the Martyr, &c. which he publiſhed in 1687. Fol. he could not obtain the King's Leave to inſert the 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ among his Royal Father's Works, as had been done in the firſt Edition; but was glad to thruſt it in as an Appendix after he had ſet The End to the whole Collection— of the other Writings.

See 'Εικὼν 'Αληθινή. The Pourtraicture of Truth's moſt Sacred Majeſty truly ſuffering, though not ſolely: Wherein the falſe Colours are waſhed off, wherewith the Painter-Stainer had bedaubed Truth, the late King, and the Parliament, in his counterfeit Piece, entitled, 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ. Publiſhed to undeceive the World.

London, ſold by George Whittington, 1649. 4to.

The Frontiſpiece is a black Curtain drawn up by a Hand, diſcovering a Doctor peeping out, with this Motto on the Top, Spectatum admiſſi riſum teneatis, and under it theſe Verſes:

The Curtain's drawn, All may perceive the Plot,
And him who truly the black Babe begot:
Whoſe ſable Mantle makes me bold to ſay
A Phaeton Sol's Chariot rul'd that Day;
Preſumptuous Prieſt to ſkip into the Throne,
And make his King his Baſtard Iſſue own.
The Author therefore hath conceiv'd it meet,
The Doctor ſhould do Penance in this Sheet.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Honourable the Council of State, &c.

Moſt honoured Patriots,

—— If he that counterfeits the Stamp, or debaſes the Coin be accounted a Traytor amongſt moſt if not all Nations! What better Title is due to this Counterfeiter of the Perſon of a Prince, and Debaſer of the Reputation of a Parliament, to cheat the World? Give me Leave therefore to preſent to your View the Author, before the Treatiſe; one both preſumptuous and crafty, cunning in his Preſumption and bold in his Craft. —— in a Gaudy Phraſe —— by his Gaudy Outſide —— a malignant Prieſt —— a prelatical Levite gaping after a Biſhoprick, Deanery, or the like.

The Author to the Doctor upon his 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ.

But how durſt thou thy Holy Orders quit,
And throwing off the Prieſt thus Monarch it?
Daring Idolater! What made thee take
His Name on thee, thou didſt an Idol make!

What

cur'd it to be publiſhed, to beget an Eſteem of Learning and Piety in his Maſter, as likewiſe to allay the Rigour of approaching Sentence at Weſtminſter, and by this Work of his Devotion, to woo his Enemies to commiſerate his Condition. — This has been lately with a confident Boldneſs reported by ſome, but how frivolous and malicious their Arguments appear, ſhall be clearly and demonſtratively proved in the next Chapter.

Chap. VIII. Entituled, Satisfactory Reaſons to rectify their Judgment, and evince their Error, who entitle theſe his Majeſty's pious princely Devotions to any other Author. In which Chapter the Writer does not mention Dr. Gauden as a ſuſpected Perſon, but only that to delude the World they ſay, that one Dr. Harris was the Compoſer of it, others aſſign it to Dr. Hammond.

The ſaid Chapter concludes: As for thoſe late Additions annexed to his divine Meditations, they might with more Diſcretion have been ſilenced than publiſhed, being only familiar Expreſſions of fatherly Affection to his Children, and thoſe ſo digeſted, as if he meant not they ſhould be divulged.

Upon the reprinting of Milton's 'Εικονοκλάστης, there was publiſh'd againſt it a Sheet intituled, Our modern Demagogue's Modeſty and Honeſty in its true Light: Being a Vindication of the Royal Martyr's ſacred Memory from the antiquated Calumnies and Fictions of the Villain Milton &c. In a Letter to a Friend.

A Libel upon the King's Book, firſt printed in 4to, 1649. with only the two initial Letters of the Author's Name J. M. but reprinted in 8vo. with his Name at length. John Milton, juſt after the Revolution.

When the King's Book was firſt publiſh'd, it was acknowledg'd almoſt by every one, that the two firſt Chapters of it had been taken among the Royal Spoils at Naſeby Fight. It was alſo as univerſally own'd, that that venerable Perſon, the Reverend Mr. Symond's, who tranſmitted that Book to Mr. Richard Royſton to be publiſhed under the King's Name had received the ſame from his Majeſty; which Thing he himſelf alſo abundantly certified, &c.

Add to all this, that there is ſcarce any of our Friends who hath had the leaſt Familiarity or Acquaintance, but hath often heard him ſay, that in the Time of the Treaty in the Iſle of Wight between the King and the Parliament, he receiv'd a Meſſage from his Majeſty, ordering him to have all Things in readineſs requiſite for publiſhing ſome Papers, which his Majeſty would ſhortly tranſmit to him: And Mr.

Royston added, that from that Time he never received from the King any Papers whatſoever, except thoſe only which were ſent him by Mr. Symmonds, and had the Royal Title prefixed to them. Dr. Peter Barwick in his Append. to the Life of Dr. John Barwick, Engliſh 8vo. p. 370.

What did thy Belly wonted Offerings want,
And as thy Credit, ſo thy Coin grew ſcant?
And therefore hoping by thy Sovereign's Fame
To make thy Copper current, ſtamp'd his Name.
&c. ———

The Book concludes with bidding a long Night to the Reverend Doctor:

——— Doctor
Impoſuit Titulum, quem Liber ipſe negat.
Finis.

[It is plain that the Author of this Libel meant Dr. Gauden, and would ſuppoſe him the Writer, becauſe they found him to be the Meſſenger to the Preſs. Some think that this Rumour firſt put it in the Head of Dr. Gauden to aſſume the Honour of that Work, having been ſo far an under Workman, and at the King's Return was very greedy of Wages. I know not how to account for the Note of the Editor of Dr. John Barwick's Life in Engliſh, where in ſpeaking of this Libel of Mr. Milton, he adds, "However that profligate Author, amongſt "all the Scandal wherewith he aſperſes the bleſſed Martyr, had not the Impu- "dence to rob him of the Honour of writing that divine Book, but both in his "Preface, and through his whole pretended Anſwer to it, takes it for granted "to have been compoſed by his Majeſty." I think the contrary is very evident from the Frontiſpiece of a Doctor, the Verſes alluding to a Cheat, and the Epiſt. Ded. by the repeated Epithet of Gaudy, points out ſufficiently Dr. Gauden.]

This Piece was anſwered in 1651. by a Book entitled, 'Εικὼν 'Ακλαστος. The Image Unbroken: A Perſpective of the Impudence, Falſhood, Vanity, and Profaneneſs publiſhed in a Libel entitled, 'Εικονοκλάστης, &c. ſaid by Mr. Wood (A. O. II. 196.) to be written by Mr. Henry Jeanes, one that had cloſed with the Preſbyterians in 1641. had intruded upon Dr. Walter Rawleigh's Living, —— and yet was prevailed upon by the Force of Truth to chaſtiſe that impious Libel againſt the beſt of Kings.

Even John Goodwin who dared to juſtify the King's Murder, did not dare to deny him the Honour of this Book; he only ſpeaks doubtfully, and is afraid to determine. Yet he would imply the King's Incapacity to write it from an Hour's Converſation they had together a few Days before his Death, when it is well known that however this wicked Man was ſent with ſome other Wretches to intrude into the Royal Preſence, under a Pretence of preparing him for Death, yet the K. well knew the Men and their Errand, and would have little or no Communication with any of them.

It may be further obſerved, that Mr. John Goodwin in his horrible Defence of the King's Execution, entituled, The Obſtructours of Juſtice: Or a Defence of the honourable Sentence paſſed upon the late King by the High Court of Juſtice. —— Fiat juſtitia & ruat cælum, dares not aſcribe the King's Book to any other Writer, tho' he talks of it with the ſame Contempt and Inſolence, that he pours upon the Royal Martyr. Says he p. 96. As for the Book which paſſeth up and down by the Title of 'Εικὼν Βασιλικὴ, which ſtrains ſo many Mens Wits to invent, ſo many Mens Conſciences to exhibit Elogies of Honour, Admiration, Aſtoniſhment, commenſurable with the Seraphick Worth of it, whether he was the poſitive or only putative Author of it, though ſome make it their great Intereſt, yet to me it is a mere Impertinency to determine. Were it the legitimate Iſſue of his own Pen only, we know Men may be ſkilful in limning, able to give Comelineſs of Face and Feature to their artificial Productions, whoſe natural Children in the mean Time are full of Deformity. Yet let me ſay this, that Kings have Opportunities above other Men, to adorn their Names and Reputations with the choiceſt Plumes of what Wit, Parts, or Learning (almoſt) they pleaſe, as if they were their own. By that Hour's Diſcourſe or more with him, whereunto both he (I conceive) as well as myſelf were rather importun'd by others, than led by either of our reſpective Deſires, a few Days before his Death, I found an Experiment of Truth in that common Saying, —— minuit preſentia famam. What Fame makes great, Preſence makes leſs to be.

London, Printed for Hen. Cripps and Lodowick Lloyd, 1649. 4to.

Die 20. Sept. 1662. Samuel Burnap Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Laver-parva Com. Eſſex. vac. per derelictionem Edwardi Wilſon ult. Iucumb. —— ceſſit Anno 1670.

Newcourt Vol. II. p. 370. *Contin. p.*464.

Dr. Calamy means the ſame Perſon, Mr. Wilſon.

Little-Laver. Mr. Edward Whiſton, M. A. of Trinity College in Cambridge; Brother to Mr. Joſeph Whiſton, who was ejected at Maidſtone in Kent. He never appear'd in Print, but preach'd twice every Lord's-Day, when he was ninety Years of Age at Aubrey-Hatch near London.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 302.

Mr. Fowler, Miniſter of Norbill in Bedfordſhire was not ſatisfy'd with Conformity at the firſt, but afterwards conform'd, and was Biſhop of Gloceſter.

Ibid. p. 95.

Some Miniſters who ſtood out Bartholomew Day, conformed within ſome Weeks after.

Some who profeſs'd themſelves Nonconformiſts at Bartholomew Day, did within a few Weeks after repent and conform. Thus Mr. Thomas Bawden, a Gentleman whom the Abridgment, p. 305. makes ejected from the Rectory of Buckland and Filleigh in Com. Devon. but was no other than Curate to the poor ſequeſtred Miniſter of that Place, (Mr. Henry Wilſon) who had lived to be reſtored. 'Tis true indeed, that Mr. Bawden refuſed to conform at St. Bartholomew's Day; but he continued a Non-conformiſt, as he hath aſſured me with his own Mouth, for a few Weeks only; and upon the Death of Mr. Wilſon, which happen'd about two Months after, endeavouring to get the Living; and miſſing of it, he went into Cornwall, from whence after ſome Time he returned again into Devon. and is the preſent (1714.) worthy Rector of Aſhton in this County.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 392.

MONDAY Sept. 21.
Dr. James Hyde Principal of Magdalen Hall.

James Hyde the eleventh and youngeſt Son of Sir Laurence Hyde of Saliſbury, Knight, having been Fellow of Corpus-Chriſti College in Oxford, and M. D. was now admitted Principal of Magdalen Hall, by the Nomination of his Kinſman the Lord Chancellor, and by the ſame Intereſt was made Regius Profeſſor of Phyſick in that Univerſity in April 1665. An Admirer of Zabarella. He died May 7, 1681. ætat. 64. and was buried in the Church of St. Peter in the Eaſt, Oxon.

See Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. co. 735.

Dr. Robert Porey Rector of Hadham Com. Hertf.

22. die Sept. 1662. Robertus Porey, S. T. P. admiſſus eſt ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Hadham-magna cum Capella de Hadham-parva in Com. Hertf. vac. per mortem Thomæ Paſke, S. T. P. ult. Incumb. ad coll. Reverendi Patris.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Account of Dr. Tho. Paſke.

The ſaid Thomas Paſke, A. M. had been admitted to the Vicarage of Hendon in Middleſex (void by the Reſignation of William Paſke) upon the Preſentation of William Goldſborough of Stortford in the County of Hertford, Sept. 9, 1611. In the Archdeaconry of London he ſucceeded Dr. Theophilus Aylmer (who died in January 1622. and was buried in the Church of Much-Hadham) in 1635. being D. D. he ſucceeded Dr. Iſaac Bargrave, promoted to the Deanery of Canterbury, in the fifth Prebend of that Church. While B. D. he was elected Maſter of Clare-Hall in Cambridge 1620. Vice-Chancellor in 1623. ejected from his Headſhip in 1644. ſucceeded therein by Mr. Ralph Cudworth, who in 1660. quitted it to Dr. Theophilus Dillingham, who had married a Daughter of Dr. Paſke. Mr. Lloyd tells us, that he was againſt his Will Maſter of Clare-Hall, and without his Knowledge Archdeacon of London, that he firſt modeſtly refus'd and then unhappily miſs'd a Biſhoprick: That he ſaw of his Scholars and Pupils eminent here on Earth, three Biſhops, four Privy Counſellors, three Doctors of Phyſick, who came all in one Day to pay him a Viſit: And that he left this Character of his Modeſty behind him, that as the Lyon out of State will not run; ſo he out of Humility would not perform any Action while many looked on.

Memoirs, Fol p. 504.

Mr. Tho. Lant, Preb. of St. Paul's, and Rector of Hornſey.

Eod. die 22. Sept. 1662. Tho. Lant Clericus, coll. ad Preb. de Willand in Eccl. Cath. S. Pauli, London. —— He had been collated to the Church of Hornſey Com. Mid. Aug. 29, 1637. was in the late rebellious Times ſequeſtred for his Loyalty, to which he had been reſtored, and had his Sufferings rewarded with this Dignity. He died before May 22, 1688. after he had been lawful Rector of Hornſey fifty one Years.

Reg. Sheldon. Newcourt's Dioc. London. Vol. I. p. 227.

Mr. Hen. Hibbert Vicar of St. Olave's Jewry.

Henricus Hibbert Clericus, A. M. admiſſus eſt ad Vic. Eccleſiæ Parochialis S. Olavi Jewry, London. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis, die 22. Sept. 1662. ——Upon the Promotion of Dr. Wilkins to the Biſhoprick of Cheſter, he ſucceeded him in the Prebend of Chamberlainwood in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Jan. 12, 1668. and died before Octob. 1, 1678.

Reg. Sheldon. Newcourt's Dioc. London. Vol. I. p. 137.

Dr. Tho. Jeamſon, a Sufferer for his Loyalty in the late Time of Rebellion.

Eod. die Thomas Jameſon Clericus, S. T. P. admiſſus eſt ad Vic. de Hackney Com. Middleſex. per Inconformitatem Willielmi Spurſtow ult. Incumb. jam vacantem, ad preſ. Thomæ Fowke Gen. & ſimul ad preſ. Domini Regis.

Reg. Sheldon. See Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*286. Wood's Faſti Oxon, Vol. II. col. 861. Newcourt's Dioc. London. Vol. I. p. 620.

Account of Dr. Will. Spurſtow.

Dr, William Spurſtow was the Son and Heir of William Spurſtow, Citizen and Mercer of London, deſcended from the Spurſtows of Spurſtow in Cheſhire, educated in Catharine Hall in Cambridge, incorporated in the Degree of Batchelor of Arts at Oxford, July 15, 1628. was afterwards Maſter of Arts, a grand Preſbyterian, one of the five Smectymni (Stephen Marſhal, Edmund Calamy, Tho. Young, and Mat. Newcomen being the other four) one of the Aſſembly of Divines, admitted Vicar of Hackney upon the Reſignation of Dr. Calibut Downing, May 3, 1643. a Preacher before the Long-Parliament, Maſter of Catharine Hall in Cambridge in the Place of Dr. Ralph Brownrig, and Doctor of Divinity. After his Ejectment from his Benefice at Hackney, he lived there and in the Neighbourhood (exerciſing his Parts in private among the Brethren) till his Death (which was at Hackney as I conceive) in Jan. or Feb. 1665.

No inſulting or upbraiding the ejected Miniſters, as the Church Clergy had been ſerv'd in their Sufferings; when Mr. Bridges in a Sermon on Rev. iv. 8. uſed this Language againſt them: Whenſoever ye ſhall behold the Hand of God in the Fall of Babylon, ſay, True here is a Babyloniſh Prieſt, crying out, alas, alas, my Living, I have Children to maintain. Ay, but all this is to perform the Judgment of the Lord, though as little ones they call for Pity, yet as Babyloniſh they call for Juſtice, even to Blood.

A Man of great Humility and Meekneſs, and great Charity both in giving and forgiving. One of the Commiſſioners at the Savoy. He always had an innocent and grateful Chearfulneſs in his Converſe, which render'd it very acceptable. He was of a very peaceable Diſpoſition. He was preſerv'd in the Peſtilential Sickneſs, but died ſoon after.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment of Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 471.

Mr. George Hyer Vicar of Bumſtead.

Georgius Hyer Clericus, admiſſ. ad Vic. de Bumſted ad Turrim Com. Eſſex. 22. Sept. 1662. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. —— vac. per ceſſionem ejuſd. 8. Mar. 1665.

Steeple-Bumſted. Mr. Edward Symmes: A very humble, modeſt, holy Perſon.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 112. Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 112.

TUESDAY Sept. 23.

Mr. Simon Patrick Rector of Covent Garden.

In the Room of Dr. Thomas Manton.

Simon Patrick, S. T. B. ad Rect. Eccl. Paroch. S. Pauli Covent-Garden in Com. Mid. jam vacantem ad preſ. Gulielmi Com. Bedford admiſſus & inſtitutus, die 23. Sept. 1662. —— Dean of Peterborough, Prebendary of Weſtminſter, and in Oct. 1689. promoted to the Biſhoprick of Chicheſter, thence tranſlated to Ely.

See Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 446.

Dr. Thomas Manton had been in Poſſeſſion of the Church of Covent-Garden, and being epiſcopally ordained by Thomas Biſhop of Galloway, he took a legal Inſtitution to it, Jan. 10, 1660. when having been ſworn one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in Ordinary, he was in that Quality, by virtue of his Majeſty's Letters, created Doctor of Divinity at Oxford of Wadham College, Nov. 19, 1660. yet he did not read the Engliſh Liturgy in his Pariſh Church, nor ſuffer it to be read, till the latter End of 1661. when the Pariſhioners petition'd the Biſhop of London to have it read to them. In the Interim he had a Deanery offered to him, upon a Suppoſal that he would conform; and it was verily thought he would have taken it (as Reynolds had the Biſhoprick of Norwich) could he have been aſcertain'd, that the King's Declaration about Eccleſiaſtical Affairs (publiſhed at his Reſtoration) would have indulged him while Dean, as while a parochial Miniſter; or, as 'tis ſaid, had not a Female Saint (who had read many of his Books, and wrote much of his Sermons) extracted every Sentence, that made for the Covenant, for the Government by Preſbytery, for the Honour of Smectymnus, or that made againſt the Biſhops and Liturgy of the Church; all put in a Letter and ſent by her to him. However he left his Rectory at Bartholomew Day 1662. Afterwards he did ſet up a Conventicle in Covent-Garden, and tho' impriſoned for it ſome Time in the Gate-Houſe, yet (as 'twas thought) he got more from the Brethren, than if he had been a Dean, or had continued in his Rectory. He died October 18, 1677, and was accompanied to his Grave in Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 446. Newcourt's Dioc. London. Vol. I. p. 707.

In 1655. upon his publiſhing of Dr. Sibbs's Commentary or Sermon on 1 Cor xi. he calls himſelf Tho. Manton, B. D. and Preacher of the Goſpel at Stoke-Newington near London.

Dr. Calamy tells us, that he was ordain'd Deacon by Biſhop Hall before he was twenty; and that Mr. Joſeph Hill of Rotterdam was poſitive, that he never took any other than Deacon's Orders, and never would ſubmit to any other Ordination. Contin. 8vo. p. 69. [Which could not conſiſt with his Admiſſion to the Church of Covent-Garden.]

in the Church at Stoke-Newington by hundreds of the Brethren, where Dr. William Bates preached and publiſhed his Funeral Sermon, with a Character and great Encomiums of him.

His laſt Sayings.

London, for P. Brookeſby, 1677. in a large Sheet.

See Words of Peace: Or Dr. Manton's laſt Sayings: Many of them taken from him on his Death-bed, or obſerved on other remarkable Occaſions: Tending very much to the Edification of Chriſtians.

He diſclaim'd the Farewel Sermon and Prayer printed in his Name.

On Heb. xii. 2. Printed in the Publick Intelligence, by Roger L'Eſtrange, 4^to^.

He diſclaim'd the Farewel Sermon and Prayer that were printed in the Collection for him, in a Certificate thus worded: I do utterly diſclaim the Farewel Sermon and Prayer, printed in my Name among other Farewel Sermons pretended to be preached by ſome London Miniſters, as being done without my Privity and Conſent; and indeed as having preached no Farewel Sermon at all at the Time ſpecified, and that which the ignorant Publiſher calls ſo, is ſtrangely diſguiſed, and miſrepreſented by his fooliſh Miſtakes. So much I would have ſignified ſooner to the World, if Occaſion had been offered.

Covent-Garden, Sept. 23, 1663. THO. MANTON.

Dr. Manton was indulg'd in his Subſcription for the Church of Covent Garden.

Reg. Lond. MS.

1660. 10. Jan. Tho. Manton, S. T. P. admiſſus ad Eccleſiam S. Pauli Covent-Garden, ad pref. Will. Com. Bedf. ſubſcriptis prius Articulis Fidei Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ tantum, ac præſtito Juramento de Allegiancia & Supremitate & Canonica Obedientia in omnibus licitis & honeſtis & de Simonia non commiſſ.

His Birth, Education, Preferment, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 42.

He was born in 1620. at Laurence-Lydiard in the County of Somerſet. Both his Father and Grandfather were Miniſters. He went to Oxon. at fifteen Years of Age. He was firſt Miniſter of Culliton in Devon, and afterwards of Stoke-Newington in Middleſex, before he came to Covent-Garden; where he ſucceeded Mr. Sedgwick. He was in great Reputation at the Time of King Charles's Return; one of the Savoy Commiſſioners, and very earneſt in his Endeavours to get the Declaration for Eccleſiaſtical Affairs paſſed into a Law: And had it been compaſs'd, would have accepted the Deanery that was offer'd him. He was a Man of great Learning, Judgment, and Integrity, and an excellent unwearied Preacher. One of great Temper and Moderation, and reſpected by all that knew him, whoſe Spirits were not uncurably canker'd. Dr. Bates in his Sermon at his Funeral, gives this Account of him, a clear Judgment, rich Fancy, ſtrong Memory, and happy Elocution met in him, and were excellently improv'd by his diligent Study. Archbiſhop Uſher was wont to ſay of him, that he was a voluminous Preacher; not as if he was tedious in Length, but becauſe he had the Art of reducing the Subſtance of Volumes of Divinity into a narrow Compaſs. And Mr. Charnock oft repreſented him as the beſt Collector of Senſe of the Age. He was no Fomenter of Faction, but ſtudious of the publick Tranquillity, &c.

The Character of him given by Dr. Bates.

Printed Memoirs of him, by Mr. Harris.

Sold by R. Ford and S. Chandler, 1725, 8^vo^.

See Some Memoirs of the Life and Character of the Reverend and Learned Thomas Manton, D. D. prefix'd to the ſecond Edition of his Sermons on the 119^th^ Pſalm. By William Harris. Reprinted in 8^vo^. 1725. in which there is little not ſaid before. — Mr. Wood ſays, he became a Preacher tho' not in Holy Orders at Culliton in Devonſhire, and afterwards that he took Orders at Weſtminſter from Thomas Biſhop of Galloway, in the beginning of 1660. He ſeems to ſuppoſe that he had preached without Orders all that Time, when he was certainly ordained by Biſhop Hall before he was twenty. And tho' he was ordained only to Deacon's Orders, he never would ſubmit to any other Ordination. His Judgment was, that he was properly ordained to the miniſterial Office, and that no Power on Earth had any right to divide and parcel it out. —— In his Expoſition of James he expreſſes the humbleſt Acknowledgment of his Fault, and which has prov'd monitory and affecting to others. He deliver'd it with Tears in his Eyes, on the nineteenth Verſe of the firſt Chapter, Be ſlow to ſpeak. I remember (ſays he) my Faults this Day: I cannot excuſe myſelf from much of Crime and Sin in it: I have been in the Miniſtry theſe ten Years, and yet not fully compleated the thirtieth Year of my Age. The Lord forgive my raſh Intruſion.

Here muſt be a Miſtake; tho' ordain'd Deacon by Biſhop Hall, he muſt have been ordain'd Prieſt, and moſt likely by the Biſhop of Galloway, before he could have been thought capable of Inſtitution to Covent Garden Church, Jan. 10, 1660-61.

Mr. Philip Nye not ejected from St. Bartholomew-Exchange.

Abridgment, Vol, II. p. 29. Contin. p. 28.

Dr. Calamy mentions Mr. Philip Nye as ejected from Bartholomew-Exchange. But it could not be by the Bartholomew Act. For Dr. Ralph Brideoak was admitted Rector of St. Bartholomew Exchange, London, Sept. 8, 1660. as void by the Death of Dr. John Graunt, ſequeſtred by the late prevailing Powers: And upon Brideoak's Promotion to the See of Chicheſter, John Sharp, A. M. was admitted Rector, April 23, 1675.

Mr. Philip Godwyn not ejected from the Vicarage of Watford.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 360. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 960. Ibid. Vol. II. p. 393.

The ſame Writer mentions Mr. Philip Godwyn as ejected or ſilenc'd from Watford Com. Hertford. [To which Living William Davenant, M. A. had been admitted by the Preſentation of Arthur Earl of Eſſex, June 16, 1661. and was ſucceeded therein by John Goodman, B. D. June 5, 1662. who voided it by Ceſſion in 1675. So as Mr. Philip Godwyn could not well ſuffer there by the Bartholomew Act: However he afterwards conform'd, and was admitted to the Rectory of Liſton in Eſſex, Octob. 4, 1673. and his Son after him, June 10, 1649.]

Mr. Bull a ſcandalous Man.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 472.

Newington in Middleſex. Mr. Bull, a good Scholar, and very agreeable Preacher. As to what remains, I deſire leave to draw a Veil. —— Mr. Stancliffe ſaith, his laſt Hours and dying Prayers and Tears, with the chearful Reſignation of his Soul to Chriſt, ſpake him both a penitent Sinner, and a returning Backſlider.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 700.

Mr. William Heath had been ſequeſtred from this Church of Newington for his Loyalty in 1642. but liv'd to enjoy his Church again upon the Reſtoration, and reſign'd it in 1664.

Mr. James Jolliffe Rector of Irtlingborough All-Saints.

Reg. Laney.

1662. 23. Sept. Jacobus Jolliffe Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. & inſtitut. ad Rect. Eccl. de Irtlingborough omnium Sanctorum, vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. vel alio quocunque modo, ad pres. ven. Decani & Capituli Petriburg.

Indulgence and Favour ſhewn to the moderate Nonconformiſts.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 118.

Great Indulgence was ſhewn to the moderate Non-Conformiſts, who had left their Benefices upon the Bartholomew Act. Mr. Richard Kennet, B. D. born in Kent, and bred in Corpus Chriſti College in Cambridge, where he was Fellow many Years, was ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at Eaſt-Hatley in Cambridgeſhire. Soon after Mr. (afterwards Doctor and Biſhop) Stillingfleet, aſſiſted him in taking a capacious Houſe at Sutton in Bedfordſhire, where he ſet up a private School, keeping a Conformiſt to teach it. Many Gentlemen committed their Sons to him. In ſome Time the School-Maſter left him, and he took the Care of the School upon himſelf, and was conniv'd at; the neighbouring Gentry having a great Eſteem for him. And his Wife's Son had a Licence and was his Uſher. He went to Church both Forenoon and Afternoon on the Lord's-Day, and was there with the firſt. He died of a Fever, and was buried in the Chancel at Sutton, Jan. 23, 1670. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by worthy Mr. Stephens, the Miniſter of the Pariſh, who gave him his due Character.

A ſtrange Prevarication in ſome of the Enemies of the Church, to keep the Benefices of it, by the groſſeſt way of equivocating and eluding of Oaths and Subſcriptions.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 332.

—— Mr. Mew of Eſington in Hampſhire preach'd his Farewel Sermon, as did the reſt of the ejected Miniſters: But the Lord's-Day following he read, I A. B. do declare my unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent, &c. without ſaying, I William Mew. A Miniſter from whom I had the Paſſage, diſcourſing afterwards with him, told him that he muſt alſo go to the Biſhop, and ſubſcribe as well as read. He reply'd, that by his Subſcription he only declar'd, that he did read I A. B. This looſe Diſtinction brought in him, who had been one of the Aſſembly at Weſtminſter, and Mr. Briton of Beeſley, and ſeveral. And ſeveral others of this County follow'd upon the like Grounds.

Mr. Thompſon of St. Mary Magdalen Milk-ſtreet.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 471.

Mr. Thompſon, M. A. was collated to the Rectory of St. Mary Magdalen, Milk-ſtreet, London, by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, September 9, 1662. and died Incumbent thereof ſome Time after the Fire.

See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 32. and Continuation, p. 30.

Mr. Thomas Vincent, M. A. of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. ſucceeded Mr. Caſe in this Living, elder Brother of Mr. Nathaniel Vincent. He died in 1678. at Hoxton. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Slater.

Mr. John Wells.

Dr. Calamy, in his Contin. writes him M. A. ſome Time Fellow of St. John's College Oxon.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 39. Contin. p. 58.

From St. Olave's Jewry. Mr. John Wells, ſome Time Student of St. John's Oxon. He wrote the Practical Sabbatarian, or Sabbath-Holineſs crown'd with Happineſs, 4^to^. 1668. and a Proſpect of Eternity. He died in June 1676. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Watſon.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 515.

Quære, Whether Mr. Wells immediately took the Place of Mr. Thomas Tuke ſequeſtred, plundred, and impriſon'd for his Loyalty in 1642?

Mr. Seth Wood.

Abridgm. Vol. II. p. 39. Contin. p. 59.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 392.

From St. Leonard's Eaſtcheap. Mr. Seth Wood, who had before been caſt out of Weſtminſter-Abbey. He was an ingenious Scholar, and an awakening Preacher. He was call'd from Chriſt-Church in London, to join with Mr. John Rowe of Weſtminſter-Abbey. [It does not appear that he had any Title to this Place, and if he had, it was forfeited by Law before the Bartholomew Act. —— Die 17. Novemb. 1661. Elkanah Downes, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Leonardi Eaſtcheap, London. ad pres. Decani & Capituli Eccleſiæ Chriſti Cantuar.

Mr. Ezrael Tongue.

Chaplain to Sir Edw. Harley at Dunkirk.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 501.

See June 26, 1666.

Eſrael Tongue, who ſince the Reſtoration had ſettled at Iſlington near London, and taught Boys after an eaſy Method; and had there alſo a little Academy for Girls to be taught Latin and Greek, and as I have been informed, one of them at fourteen Years of Age could conſtrue a Greek Goſpel. But having a reſtleſs and freakiſh Head, he went with Colonel Edward Harley to Dunkirk, and was there a Chaplain for ſome Time. Which Place, with the Gariſon, being ſold by the Engliſh, he returned, and that Colonel ſettled him in the Vicarage of Lentwarden in Herefordſhire. But that being a poor Thing he ſoon left it, and by the Favour of the Biſhop of London he obtained the Cure of St. Mary Stayning in that City.

1670, 8^vo^. p. 192.

The Author of a private Conference between a rich Alderman and a poor Countrey Vicar made publick, writes thus of the Non-conforming Clergy.

The ſeveral Reaſons upon which ſome of the Miniſters had left their Livings.

Some Covenanters relinquiſhed their Benefices upon the Act of Uniformity, becauſe they were aſhamed to conform, who had been ſo violent in the late Times: Or perhaps they were Perſons of ſuch mean Learning, that they knew they ſhould have no Preferment in our Church: Or laſtly, thoſe that being either by Surpriſal, or thro' hopes of ſome Toleration and Allowance drawn in. Or finally, who by the Familiarity and Combination of ſome leading Men of that Party, for Company's Sake, deſerted their Livings, and ſo perhaps might be unwarily ejected, who now being vexed for their unadviſed Loſſes, envy thoſe that were more prudent and wiſe, and out of Hate and Malice to the preſent Poſſeſſors, propagate Opinions to the Detriment of our Church and for ſupporting the Schiſm.

Or were rather fooled out of them.

And now angry at it.

Many now repent of their raſh Action, in forſaking their Livings, by the Example of others, and the great Intereſt they had in them, and ſo were pitifully fooled out of their Benefices, who though but little concern'd in the Support of that Party, yet now being irrecoverably loſt, are great Zealots againſt Common-Prayer, which before that black St. Bartholomew Day did not only afford their Preſence and Devotion to the Liturgy of the Church, but alſo read it themſelves before the Impoſition.

The Number of Nonconformiſts a great Infelicity to the Church.

p. 49.

In the Notion of Schiſm ſtated according to the Ancients: With Animadverſions upon the Plea for the Nonconformiſts, London 1676, 8^vo^. the Writer ſaith, It was doubtleſs one of the greateſt Infelicities that ever befel the whole Body of People in theſe three Nations, that when in the Year 1662. Religion was ſo happily ſettled in Faith, Worſhip and Government, according to the Pattern of the ancient Catholick Church in the three firſt Centuries; and though this Religion was ratified by the very Hand of God, and the dry Bones revived by the Miracle of an unexpected Reſtitution, that yet there ſhould be amongſt us ſo many Thouſands of ſuch perverſe and ſullen Tempers, as not to be perſuaded into the Church's Communion neither by Law, Reaſon, nor Miracle.

A great Cry of Perſecution.

1663, 4to.

This occaſion'd a great Cry of Perſecution. But, ſays the Prefacer to Evangelium Armatum, to the Plea that they are now perſecuted, I ſhall only make this Reply, that I deſire the World to take Notice, that thoſe Perſons, who turn'd almoſt all out of their Livings that adhered to their lawful Sovereign; who ſent ſuch with their Wives and Families a begging, as durſt not deflower their Conſciences with downright Perjury, and having ſworn Canonical Obedience to the moſt reformed Church in the World, durſt not by a contrary Oath ſwear and endeavour its Extirpation. Thoſe alſo who procured that murdering Order from a bloody Tyrant and Uſurper, that every epiſcopal Divine ſhould not only be uncapable of a Benefice, but alſo to exerciſe any Act of his miniſterial Function, as Preaching, Baptizing, or the like; nor yet ſuffered to get ſome little Subſiſtence by teaching School: No, nor laſtly to live in any Gentleman's Houſe, who out of Pity might take him in to keep him from ſtarving. All which are ſuch unheard-of Inſtances of barbarous Tyranny, that the Spite of the heathen Nero's, Diocleſian's, Julian's, (all Circumſtances conſidered) was much inferior to them. Now, I ſay, I deſire the World to take Notice, that thoſe who were partly the Authors, partly the Procurers of theſe hideous remorſeleſs Actions, are thoſe poor gentle ſuffering Lambs of Chriſt, that now bleat out Perſecution.

WEDNESDAY *Sept.*24.
When we had ſold Dunkirk, then Tangier was cried up as a Place of much greater Importance.

Bp. Burnet's Hiſtory of his own Times, Fol. p. 173.

After the Sale of Dunkirk, it was pretended that Tangier was a Place of much greater Conſequence. Its Situation in the Map indeed is very eminent. And if Spain had been then in a Condition to put any Reſtraint on our Trade, it had been of great Uſe to us; eſpecially if making a Mole there had been more practicable than it proved to be. It was then ſpoken of in the Court in the higheſt Strains of Flattery. It was ſaid, this would not only give us the entire Command of the Mediterranean Trade, but it would be a Place of Safety for a Squadron to be always kept there for ſecuring our Weſt and Eaſt India Trade. And ſuch mighty Things were ſaid of it, as if it had been reſerved for the King's Reign, to make it as glorious abroad, as it was happy at Home. Tho' ſince that Time we have never been able, neither by Force or Treaty, to get Ground enough round the Town from the Moors to maintain the Gariſon. But every Man that was employed there ſtudied only his own Intereſt, and how to rob the King. If the Money that was laid out in the Mole at different Times, had been raiſed all in a Succeſſion, as faſt as the Work could be carried on, it might have been made a very valuable Place. But there were ſo many diſcontinuings, and ſo many new Undertakings, that after an immenſe Charge the Court grew weary of it: And in the Year 1678. they ſent a Squadron of Ships to bring away the Gariſon, and to deſtroy all the Works.

An ill Managment in it, and at laſt a Deſtruction of it.

Some Papiſts had thruſt themſelves into Pariſh Cures in the late Times of Rebellion.

It was obſervable, that whereas to prepare for a Perſecution of the Clergy in 1641. many of them were repreſented as Papiſts, and all of them as popiſhly affected: Yet it ſo happen'd that ſeveral Roman Prieſts in a Diſguiſe had thruſt themſelves into parochial Cures in the late Times of Confuſion. Archbiſhop Teniſon had ſo obſerv'd of his Father's Succeſſor in Norfolk. And ſome other Inſtances are given by Dr. Walker, in his Account of the Sufferings of the Clergy.

Inſtances given.

Part II. p. 29.

1. When Dr. Richard Mervyn was diſpoſſeſs'd of his Vicarage of Okehampton in Devon, he was ſucceeded in it by one Jonas Ware who about the Year 1650. turned Papiſt, went beyond the Seas, and was, as I have been informed, immured at Doway, by Order of the Inquiſition for defending Janſenius his Tenets.

Jonas Ware.

Ibid. p. 207.

2. When Mr. Banger was turned out of the Rectory of Yarlington in Somerſetſhire, his Succeſſor was one Dorrington, a reputed Papiſt, who (as himſelf afterwards confeſs'd to the Gentleman who inform'd me of this) was bred at St. Omer's, and deſign'd for Phyſick.

One Dorrington.

Ibid. p. 341.

3. When Mr. Richard Reynolds was ſequeſtred, plundred and barbarouſly uſed, the Perſon who was ſubſtituted in his Rectory at Stoke-Fleming Com. Devon. kept a Curate who had been a Lieutenant in the Army, and was a Jeſuit.

A Countrey Curate, Lieutenant and Jeſuit.

Ibid. p. 392.

4. When Mr. Henry Wilſon was for his Loyalty turned out of the Rectory of Buckland Com. Devon. his firſt Succeſſor was one Owen Williams, who died there in 1655. and was buried at the Weſt End of the Church, on the outſide of the Belfrey Door, over which there is in the Wall a Stone, with theſe Words inſcribed on it by his own Order, Mia Goda Gida. After him came one Nanſcoine, a Perſon utterly unknown to any in the Pariſh, and thought by ſome to have been a Romiſh Prieſt. On the Reſtoration he left his Wife and Children, and went to Ireland: Nor can I learn that he was ever heard of after.

Owen Williams.

One Nanſcoine.

Popiſh Pamphlets now abounded; yet not leſs before the Reſtauration.

And whereas it is obſerved, that great Numbers of popiſh Pamphlets have been printed and diſpers'd ſince the King's coming in: The ſame Activity of the Prieſts and Jeſuits was as notable in the late Times of Confuſion. Some of them here follow. A Treatiſe of the Schiſm of England. By Philip Scot. Said to be printed at Amſterdam, 1650, 8vo. A Character of Mrs. Margaret Boate, and her pure Devotions. Printed at Paris 1651, 8vo. An Apology for the Dialogues of Mr. Ruſhworth. By Tho. de Albiis. [i. e. Thomas White.] Printed 1654. 8

8vo. A Contemplation of Heaven, with an Exercise of Love by Tho. White, 1654, 8vo. An Enchiridion of Faith. By Fr. Covent. Printed at Doway 1655, 8vo. Scripture mistaken the Ground of Protestants, &c. By J. Spencer. Printed 1655, 8vo. Schiſm diſpatch'd, againſt Dr. Henry Hammond, 1657, 8vo. Schiſm unmaſk'd: Or a Conference betwixt Dr. Gunning, Pearſon, and two Roman Catholicks, 1658, 8vo. An Anſwer to the Provincial Letters, 1659, 8vo. A Method to arrive at Satisfaction in Religion, 1659, 8vo. A Vindication of the Doctrine in Pope Benedict the Twelfth his Bull. By G. W. 1659, 8vo. Thomæ de Albiis Angli Tabulæ Suffragiales de terminandis Fidei Litibus. Londini 1655, 8vo. Nuntius a Mortuis. Hoc eſt ſtupendum juxta ac tremendum Colloquium diſtinctis alterniſque vicibus a pluribus auditum inter Manes Henrici VIII. & Caroli I. Angliæ Regum in Eccleſia Windeſorienſi ubi ſub eodem marmore contumulati ſunt. In quo tota Divini Judicii Series in iſtis Inſortunatis Inſulis a Capite uſque ad Calcem cœleſti quodam Penicillo liquidè ob oculos depingitur. Juxta exemplar Anglicum nuper Typis excuſum, Latinè redditum, & in lucem bono publico emiſſum. Pariſiis 1657, 4to.

The King's Pardon to Lord Lorn, condemned for writing a Letter to purge himſelf from the Lies given out againſt him.
See Biſhop Burnet, p. 148.

Mercur. Publ. by Authority, 4to. No. 38.

Advice from Edinburgh, That there was brought hither Sept. 15. from his Majeſty a Remiſſion for the late Marquis of Argyle's Son, as to Life, but his Perſon to be detained in Priſon during his Majeſty's Pleaſure, his Eſtate to remain ſubject to all his juſt Creditors, and the Remainder to be diſpoſed as his Majeſty ſhall think fit. —— And that on the fifth Day of September 1662. was an Act paſſed concerning the Declaration to be ſigned by all Perſons in publick Truſt.

A Declaration to be ſigned by all Perſons in Truſt.

I —— do ſincerely affirm and declare, that I judge it unlawful to Subjects, upon Pretence of Reformation or other Pretence whatſoever, to enter into Leagues and Covenants, or to take up Arms againſt the King, or thoſe commiſſioned by him. And that all theſe Gatherings, Convocations, Petitions, Proteſtations, and erecting and keeping of Council Tables, that were uſed in the Beginning, and for the carrying on of the late Troubles were unlawful and ſeditious. And particularly that theſe Oaths, whereof the one was commonly called the national Covenant (as it was ſworn and explained in the Year one thouſand ſix hundred and thirty eight, and thereafter) and the other entituled, a ſolemn League and Covenant, were and are in themſelves unlawful Oaths, and were taken by, and impoſed upon, the Subjects of this Kingdom, againſt the fundamental Laws and Liberties of the ſame. And that there lyeth no Obligation upon me, or any of the Subjects, from the ſaid Oaths, or either of them to endeavour any Change or Alteration of the Government either in Church or State, as it is now eſtabliſhed by the Laws of the Kingdom.

Thursday Sept. 25.
Some of Oliver's old Officers were Quakers.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 39.

Advice from Southampton, that on Sunday the 14th Inſtant, there aſſembled in the Houſe of one Herſnet a Quaker, ſome Perſons of the ſame Faction, which being made known to the Mayor, were by his Command apprehended; fourteen of them were brought before him, the chiefeſt were George Emery, formerly one of Oliver's Captains, and one Dunford, a Lieutenant under the ſame Command, &c.

Friday Sept. 26.
Reviews of the Tower Regiment, and of the Horſe and Foot Guards.

Publick Intelligence, 4to.

Sir John Robinſon, Knight and Baronet, his Majeſty's Lieutenant of the Tower of London, drew his Regiment of the Hamlets into Tuttle-Fields, Weſtminſter, where they were exerciſed, &c. And the next Day, Saturday 27, his Majeſty's Regiment of Guards, both Horſe and Foot, were drawn up in Hyde-Park, a very noble Sight, worthy the Royal Spectators, who came purpoſely to behold it, his ſacred Majeſty, the Queen, the Queen-Mother, the Duke and Ducheſs of York, and many of the Nobility, the Horſe and Foot were in excellent Order, and there were few of that great Body who had not formerly been Commanders.

Mr. Anthony Walker Rector of Fyfield.

1662, 26. Sept. Antonius Walker Clericus admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Fyfield in Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli Com. Warwic.

Wood's Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 796.

Ant. Walker, M. A. of St. John's College, Cambridge, was incorporated at Oxford, July 14, 1657. He was afterwards D. D. Chaplain to his Majeſty, and a Publiſher of ſeveral Sermons, &c. elected Curate of Aldermanbury in London. —— He died in 1692.

Account of Dr. Anthony Walker.

The Author's Append. to the Life of Dr. Barwick Engl. p. 361. and p. 16.

He had been admitted Apr. 3, 1638. Pupil at St. John's to the eminent Mr. Peter Barwick, afterward Dean of St. Paul's; but unhappy young Man, upon Advice of a venerable old Man of an exemplary good Life, (Dr. Ralph Brownrigg) he began to warp towards the Puritans, and was afterwards promoted to be Chaplain in his new Way of Worſhip to the Earl of Warwick, the Lord High Admiral of the Rebel's Fleet. After he had forſaken the more wholeſome Inſtructions of Mr. Barwick, he got into the Family of Dr. John Gauden. —— Under this Inſtructor he learnt the Art of blurting out crude Sermons, and indigeſted Prayers, &c.

Mr. Theoph. Gale Tutour to the Lord Wharton's Sons in France.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 97.

In September 1662. Mr. Theophilus Gale, the learned Author of the Court of the Gentiles, &c. a Nonconformiſt, went over into France with two Sons of the Lord Wharton, Thomas and Goodwin, and ſettled with them at Caen. He ſtaid in the Town two Years, and had an intimate Acquaintance with the great Bochart, who was at that Time Paſtor and Profeſſor there. He left my Lord Wharton's Sons in France, and return'd into England in 1665.

John

Mr. John Bargrave Prebend of Canterbury.

John Bargrave, D. D. educated at Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, was admitted to the fifth Prebend in the Church of Canterbury in the Place of Dr. Thomas Paſke deceaſed, Sept. 26, 1662. and dying May 11, 1680. was buried in that Cathedral.

Mr. Edward Norris Rector of Cranford St. John's.

Reg. Laney.

Edwardus Norris Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Cranford Sancti Johannis de jure vacantem vigore nuperi Statuti Conformitatis per non Subſcriptionem ult. Incumbentis ad preſ. Roberti Lincoln. Epiſcopi.

Mr. Henry Searle ſaid to be ejected.

Account, 8vo. p. 497.

Dr. Calamy has inſerted the Name of Mr. Henry Scarl, ejected from Cranford St. John's: An excellent ſpirited Man: A lively fervent Preacher, and wonderfully circumſpect and pious. Greatly reverenc'd and admir'd.

Dr. Edward Sparke Vicar of Walthamſtow,

Reg. London.

1662. 26. Dec. Edwardus Sparke, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vicariam de Walthamſtow ad preſ. Henrici Epiſcopi Ciceſtr.

1666. 15. Maii. Andreas Caſſe, A. B. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Walthamſtow, vac. per ceſſ. Edwardi Sparke, S. T. P.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 36.

26. Sept. 1662. Robertus Edwards, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Barling Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli.

Mr. Tho. Elborough Vicar of Chiſwick.

Reg. London.

Note of the Editor of Dr. Barwick's Life fol. 333.

Newcourt, Rep. p. 587.

Eod. die 26. Sept. 1662. Thomas Elborough Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Chiſwick in Com. Midd. vac. per reſign. Jacobi Thompſon. —— Originally of Haſlebeech in Northamptonſhire, admitted in St. John's College, Cambridge, Apr. 3, 1639. and made Vicar of Chiſwick 1662. on the Preſentation of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, moſt probably by his Tutor's Intereſt Dr. Barwick. He publiſhed two Books of Expoſition of the Common-Prayer, and in the Dedication of the laſt, mentions his having parted with two Livings in Leiceſterſhire, which he ſeems to repent of, probably diſappointed of better Preferment by Dr. Barwick's Death. He died himſelf, April 15, 1675.

The Biſhop's Viſitation of his Dioceſe of Briſtol.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 39.

Adviſed from Briſtol, Septemb. 26, 1662. Our Lord Biſhop hath now ended his Viſitation with great Satiſfaction to himſelf, having throughout his whole Dioceſe ſeen great Numbers of Gentry and Commonalty flock for Confirmation. There was not any one Place where there did not come two three or four hundred to receive it. The Gentry in all theſe Parts went out ſome Miles to give his Lordſhip welcome, and at his Departure paid their Reſpects in waiting on him out of Town. The ſeveral learned Sermons that were preach'd wrought much upon the Auditors, and have given the Nonconformiſts a juſt Occaſion to acknowledge their Conviction. —— The like Account of a Viſitation held at Henley upon Thames by the Lord Biſhop of Oxford, with a great Confluence of People to be confirmed, &c.

SUNDAY Sept. 28.

Advice from Leiceſter of Conformity and Peace after ſome Diſorders.

Publick Intelligence, 4to No. 39.

Adviſed from Leiceſter, that there has been a Riot and publick Indignity offered to the Church, by breaking open the Doors, ſtealing away the Surplice, &c. But now the Town is truly ſo ſenſible of the Effects of theſe giddy Brains and diſobedient Spirits, that all Things promiſe Conſtancy and Loyalty for the future; for Confirmation of which, Maſter Burton, a late but ſincere Convert, hath preached two learned Sermons concerning Magiſtracy, and the King's Supremacy over the Church, and Maſter Paſke, a very able Preacher, hath undertaken the Weekly Lecture.

Mr. Burton, a late Convert, being chief Miniſter, and Mr. Paſke Lecturer.

Lay Conformity was at firſt allow'd by the Nonconforming Miniſters.

London, for Walt. Kettilby, 1678.

Some of the Clergy who had their peculiar Reaſons for not conforming in their miniſterial Capacity, did plead and write for their own and others Lay Conformity to the Service and Communion of the eſtabliſh'd Church. So Mr. Crofton by avow'd Practice, and moſt others at leaſt occaſionally. Nay Mr. Baxter himſelf wrote much to perſuade the common People not to forſake their Pariſh Churches under Liturgy and Epiſcopal Miniſters. See a Collection of his Advices to that purpoſe, gathered by Mr. Long in a Tract 1678. intituled Mr. Baxter's Arguments for Conformity againſt Separation. By which the moſt material Parts of Mr. Hales's Tract of Schiſm are confuted, &c.

Own'd by Mr. Baxter to be the ſame or eaſier than before the Wars.

The Liturgy amended.

Ceremonies not greater.

And more preaching Miniſters.

And therefore Separation is now more ſinful.

For Conformity (ſaith he) though to Miniſters it be another Thing, by Reaſon of the new Impoſitions, than it was to our Predeceſſors: Yet to the People Conformity is the ſame, if not eaſier (eſpecially to them I now ſpeak to) for it is the Liturgy, Ceremonies, and Miniſtry that muſt alienate them: And the Liturgy is a little amended as to them, by the Change of the Tranſlation, and ſome little Words, and by ſome longer Prayers; and the Ceremonies are the ſame; and thirty Years ago there were many bare reading, not preaching Miniſters for one that is now. Therefore our Caſe of Separation being the ſame as of old, I take it to be fully confuted by the ancient Nonconformiſts, —— Cartwright, Egerton, Hilderſham, Dod, Ames, Parker, Baines, Brightman, Ball, Bradſhaw, Paget, Langley, Nicholls, Herring, &c. who wrote more againſt Separation than the Conformiſts did.

And even for miniſterial Conformity.

Though more Engagements.

Yet Subſcription may be made.

Aſſent and Conſent may be given.

And the Oath of Canonical Obedience may be taken.

Again, Mr. Baxter doth acknowledge, that though Miniſterial Conformity was now much alter'd as to Engagements [meaning Subſcription, Declaration, Renunciation of the Covenant] yet (ſaith he) many of the Aſſembly of Divines that are yet living do conform again. —— And as to Subſcription he puts this Queſtion; Is it lawful to ſubſcribe or profeſs full Aſſent and Conſent to any religious Books beſides the Bible, ſeeing all are fallible? Anſwer. It is lawful to profeſs or ſubſcribe our Aſſent and Conſent to any humane Writing, which we judge to be true and good, according to the Meaſure of its Truth and Goodneſs. As if Church Confeſſions that are ſound be offered us for our Conſent, we may ſay or ſubſcribe. I hold all the Doctrine in this Book to be true and good. —— And even of the Oath of Canonical Obedience, he puts this Queſtion; May we lawfully ſwear Obedience in all Things lawful and honeſt, either to Uſurpers or to our lawful lawful Paſtors? Anſwer. If the King ſhall command us, it is lawful. So the old Nonconformiſts, who thought the Engliſh Prelacy an unlawful Office, yet maintained that it is lawful to take the Oath of Canonical Obedience, becauſe they thought it was impoſed by the King and Laws.

As it was by the old Nonconformiſts.

The Intruders into ſequeſtred Livings had been very unwilling to give up their Poſſeſſions to the Right of the old Incumbents.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 324, 328, &c.

Thoſe Intruders into Benefices in the late Times of Confuſion, who by Law were conſtrained laſt Year to give Place to the right and lawful Incumbents, were then very unwilling to leave their uſurp'd Poſſeſſions. Some gave the Sheriff the Trouble of diſpoſſeſſing them: And even ſome of them conform'd with no better View than by ſo doing to keep out, if poſſible, the right Owner. Mr. Richard Pote, Rector of Lydford in Devon, had been ejected, and one Clement Hatch obtruded, who after the Reſtauration (Mr. Pote being grown poor and ſtricken in Years) thought fit to conform, and endeavoured all he could to keep him ſtill out of his Living. But Mr. Pote found ſome of his old Friends ſtill alive, who help'd him to bring down a Tryal upon an Ejectment againſt this Intruder, and obtained a fair Verdict, and ſoon after the Re-poſſeſſion of his Church and Rectory.

MONDAY Sept. 29.
Mr. Edw. Bagſhaw, late Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon, and Vicar of Amerſden, now Chaplain to the Earl of Angleſey, had been ſo warm and intemperate a Writer, that he had forfeited all Hopes of Preferment in England, and therefore was carried over by his Lord into Ireland, to be there ſettled out of the Way of thoſe that knew him.

A Narrative of the Proceedings in Ireland about Mr. Edward Bagſhaw, Anno 1662. [Written by himſelf.]

Printed 1662. 4to. p. 11.

There having been many and moſt of them falſe Reports raiſed concerning Mr. Edward Bagſhaw's Demeanour in Ireland, I being at that Time upon the Place, and privy to all that paſſed, thought good to make this brief, but true and impartial Account of all that happened, ſo far as Mr. Bagſhaw, during his Stay there, was concerned.

But his ill Fame followed him, and his turbulent Spirit went along with him.

On July 27, 1662. Mr. Bagſhaw landed at Hill Hoth in Ireland, and from thence repaired to Captain Jones's Houſe upon the College-Green in Dublin, where the Right Honourable the Earl of Angleſey (upon whom he did attend as his Domeſtick Chaplain) had provided him a Lodging. After he had ſpent ſome few Days to refreſh himſelf, and to enquire into the State of Affairs, eſpecially thoſe that concerned the Church he thought himſelf obliged in Conſcience not to be idle; but ſince moſt of the Miniſters, who had any Gift in Preaching, were ſilenced; he conceived he could not do God better Service, than once every Lord's-Day to ſpend his Pains that Way; which he ſuppoſed none could take Offence at, ſince he was himſelf epiſcopally ordained, and thereby freed from that Exception which was taken againſt the ſilenced Miniſters, who ſtill own'd and adher'd unto their former Ordination by Preſbytery: And beſides being Chaplain to a Perſon of ſo great Worth and Eminence, as the Earl of Angleſey was known to be, he had Reaſon to think, that his Relation would facilitate his Deſign, and open thoſe Churches to him, which were ſhut to others, that wanted thoſe Qualifications.

So that he was inhibited from Preaching by the Archbiſhop of Dublin.

Accordingly he did on July 31. by Means of a Friend, addreſs himſelf to one Mr. Huſon, Miniſter of the Pariſh Church of St. Warbours, in the Confines of which Pariſh Mr. Bagſhaw lodged; and deſired Leave, that ſometimes he might aſſiſt and eaſe him in his Preaching; which Motion was readily embraced and aſſented to by Mr. Huſon, who did appoint the next Lord's-Day following in the Morning to be the Time wherein Mr. Bagſhaw ſhould begin. But on the Saturday Mr. Bagſhaw was ſomewhat amazed, when he had News from Mr. Huſon, that one Dr. Seile had commanded him in the Biſhop's Name, to let no Stranger preach, unleſs he brought with him the Archbiſhop of Dublin's Licenſe. Though under the Civil Term of prohibiting a Stranger, Mr. Bagſhaw had Reaſon to think himſelf particularly meant, yet becauſe he did not know what he had done to deſerve ſuch an Excluſion, he made his Caſe known to the Right Honourable the Earl of Angleſey, who on the Lord's-Day about ſeven in the Morning ſent his Servant to wait upon the Archbiſhop of Dublin with this Letter:

The Earl of Angleſey his Patron interceded for him.

May it pleaſe your Grace,

My Chaplain, Mr. Bagſhaw, being willing to take Pains whilſt he ſtaid in Dublin, got Leave of Mr. Huſon to ſupply his Place for him this Morning: But your Grace having given Order, that no Stranger ſhould preach without your Licenſe; I do deſire it on his Behalf, as for one that not only is epiſcopally ordained, but likewiſe is very ſober, orthodox, and inoffenſive in his Preaching. Your Grace's Permiſſion at this Time will be very acceptable to many, and particularly to Mr. Huſon, who in confidence of my Chaplain's Aſſiſtance, hath omitted to provide himſelf. In Caſe hereafter you think fit to examine him, I ſhall ſome Day the next Week ſend him to wait upon your Grace, and doubt not but he will give you all manner of Satisfaction. I reſt,

Your Grace's Humble Servant,

Aug. 3, 1662. ANGLESEY.

But could not prevail.

This Letter ſo civil in itſelf, and coming from a Perſon of ſo great Eminence, might have prevailed for a much greater Favour; but after two Hours Stay, the Meſſenger returned with this ſhort and inſignificant Anſwer;

The Archbiſhop ſent a ſhort Anſwer.

My Lord,

Your Chaplain came not to me, according to your Lordſhip's Directions; and before I ſpeak with him, I cannot diſpenſe with his Preaching in my Dioceſe; who am otherwiſe very ready to approve myſelf,

My Lord,

St. Sepulchres Aug. 3, 62. Your moſt Affectionate Servant,

Ja. Dublin.

Wherein Mr. Bagſhaw charges him with a wilfull Miſtake, and falſe Subſcription.

Two Things in this ſhort Letter were ſomewhat admirable; one was, the wilful Miſtake, which the Biſhop made, in taking Exception at Mr. Bagſhaw's not waiting upon him, according to the Earl of Angleſey's Direction, whereas that Honourable Perſon mentioned it only for ſome Day in the following Week, but for that Day deſired he might preach without uſing that Ceremony. And the other was, the little Reaſon the Biſhop had to ſubſcribe himſelf my Lord's moſt affectionate Servant, ſince in a Thing of ſo trivial and facile a Nature, he had not only unjuſtly, but, as ſome think, uncivilly, refuſed that noble Earl's expreſs and earneſt Deſire. But however, Mr. Bagſhaw ſubmitted to the Biſhop's Pleaſure, and did not only forbear preaching in publick, but came himſelf in the Afternoon unto the very Place where he had deſigned to preach; to ſhew that though he had Reaſon to be diſſatisfied, yet he was no Separatiſt.

Mr. Bagſhaw at firſt ſubmits to Silence, and goes to Church for fear of being thought a Separatiſt.

The Archbiſhop accuſed him of being the Author of a Letter againſt the Biſhop of Worceſter.

On the Tueſday following, Mr. Bagſhaw waited upon the Archbiſhop, and was much ſurprized, when for a Salutation, he was told, that he came to ſet the Nation in a Flame; and when Mr. Bagſhaw deſired the Biſhop to have nobler, or, at leaſt cooler Thoughts of him; the Biſhop aſked him in great Heat, whether he were not the Author of the Letter againſt the Biſhop of Worceſter? To which Mr. Bagſhaw anſwered, that he did not remember, that his Name was ſubſcribed to any ſuch Letter: Whereupon the Biſhop preſently demanded, whether he would deny it? And when Mr. Bagſhaw inſiſted, that he thought himſelf not bound, either to affirm, or, how innocent ſoever he was, to deny any ſuch Thing, until he was legally charged with it; the Biſhop forthwith told him, that unleſs he would expreſly deny he had any Hand in writing that Letter, he did forbid him preaching in his Dioceſe. Which whether it were a ſufficient Reaſon, upon Suppoſition that Mr. Bagſhaw had been the Author, muſt be left to others to judge: For how could the Writing a Letter in England, diſable a Man a Year after from preaching a Sermon in Ireland? Or why ſhould the Archbiſhop of Dublin be more fierce for vindicating the Biſhop of Worceſter's Honour, in caſe Mr. Bagſhaw had injured him, then either the Biſhop of Worceſter himſelf, or all the Biſhops in England were; who either thought Mr. Bagſhaw innocent, or elſe that ſo petty a Fact did not deſerve ſo ſharp a Sentence? for though Mr. Bagſhaw often preached publickly, yet he was never ſo much as once queſtioned for it.

Which he would not confeſs or deny.

Upon which the Archbiſhop forbid him to preach in his Dioceſe.

At which Mr. Bagſhaw was very angry;

And ſet up a Conventicle in his own Lodgings.

But though Mr. Bagſhaw was thus prohibited by the Biſhop, yet he could not look upon himſelf ſo diſcharged from that Duty he owed to God, as to forbear the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry, and therefore he did conſtantly in private, in his own Lodgings, preach every Lord's-Day in the Morning, and gave ſtrict Order, that none who were willing to come ſhould be excluded; which occaſioned the Reſort of many, and thoſe of as great Quality as any were then in Dublin, who could not imagine that any Law was broken, in their aſſembling to hear one, who by Law was qualify'd to preach, and was always ready in Perſon to defend both his Fact and Doctrine.

Diſturbed by the Mayor.

Three Lord's-Days paſſed thus without any Diſturbance, when the Archbiſhop, being much enraged that any ſhould dare to conteſt with his Sovereignty; under Pretence of ſuppreſſing Maſs (which at that Time was very frequent in Dublin) got the Mayor to ſend Soldiers up and down the Town, who having, it ſeems, their Errand what to do, came only to Mr. Bagſhaw's Lodgings, and there, contrary to their Inſtructions (as the Mayor afterwards affirmed) forcibly broke open the Doors, and for ſome Hours detained Mr. Bagſhaw and all the Company, to the Number of above one hundred and twenty Priſoners; though Mr. Bagſhaw did very often and earneſtly entreat, that either he himſelf might anſwer for all, or at leaſt, that the Women, whoſe Health might be much prejudiced by the Alarms of rude Soldiers, might be diſmiſſed, but could prevail in neither.

Yet ſoon quietly diſmiſſed.

About one o' Clock the City Marſhal came and diſmiſſed the Guard, to the no little Grief of the Soldiers, whoſe Commander expected great Sums for Ranſom; though ſuch was the Reſolution and Courage of all there preſent, that none did ſo much as conceal their Names, but freely offer'd themſelves to appear any where, and to juſtify the Action.

And Mr. Bagſhaw in the Afternoon had a like Meeting.

About four in the Afternoon Mr. Bagſhaw and the greateſt Part of his Company, with many others, met again, and performed the remaining Duty of the Day without any Impediment.

Hitherto without the Knowledge of his Patron Lord Angleſey.

Hitherto Mr. Bagſhaw had acted upon his own Account, without ever acquainting the Right Honourable the Earl of Angleſey with what he had done; whoſe Name he was reſolved never to uſe in any thing, where the Iſſue might be hazardous; and therefore he concealed from that noble Perſon, not only the Archbiſhop's ſilencing him, but likewiſe his own Reſolution of continuing to preach in as publick a manner as he could. But now the Diſturbance he had

Who when acquainted with it wiſely gave him Leave to be gone.

And ſo he unhappily returned to England.

met with, being ſo notorious, he preſently addreſſed himſelf unto that Honourable Perſon, to beg Leave of him, that ſince there was no Liberty either for publick or private Preaching, though he had attempted both, he might be diſmiſſed unto his native Countrey; for however his Lordſhip's Service was dear to him, yet he found he could not continue any further Attendance, without creating Jealouſies of himſelf, which at laſt would reflect upon his Lordſhip; and therefore he prayed a Diſcharge, to which that prudent and excellent Perſon readily aſſented; and an Opportunity ſhortly after preſenting itſelf in the Right Honourable the Viſcounteſs of Valencia's and her Daughter's coming to England, Mr. Bagſhaw went to Sea in their Company, to wait upon them, and ſo came for England: But before he left Ireland, to ſtop thoſe many ſlanderous Reports which were raiſed about him, he made this brief Declaration; which he left to be convey'd unto the Hands of his Grace James Duke of Ormond, by whoſe mild and temperate Government he doth ſuppoſe it came to paſs, that he was ſo long protected.

Having left a Declaration in Writing for the Lord Lieutenant the Duke of Ormond,

To clear himſelf from the Cenſure and Calumny of being heretical, ſchiſmatical, and ſcandalous.

The Declaration was as followeth:

Underſtanding that I lye under the Cenſure of ſome, and the Calumny of others, as if I were a Perſon heretical in my Judgment, ſchiſmatical in my Practice, and ſcandalous in my Life; though as to myſelf, I ought to rejoice in theſe Reproaches, (which are no other than our Saviour and his Apoſtles underwent before me) yet for the Sake of others, who poſſibly may ſuffer for their more favourable Opinion of me; and for the Sake of Truth, which I ought to clear from all Miſtakes and Prejudices; and leſt the Goſpel ſhould ſuffer for my Sake, who am, as I hear, condemned as an unworthy Miniſter of it, I thought fit to make this enſuing Declaration, &c.

Concluding with a Profeſſion of Loyalty.

Clear of Error and Vice, &c.

And wonders he ſhould not preach publickly, or at leaſt in private.

Ending.] Did I think it needful, I would conclude with teſtifying my Loyalty to his Majeſty, but my Actions hitherto, my Writings, and my conſtant Prayers for him, do it much more than my preſent Words can: And whether or no ſuch an one that is thus qualified, according to the 'foregoing Declaration, who is not charged with any Error in Doctrine, with any Vice in his Life, or with Unpeaceableneſs in his Converſation, even as to thoſe very Things wherein he differs; whether ſuch an one may not be allowed to preach publickly, or at leaſt not to be diſturbed in private, is humbly left to the Conſideration of the Supream Civil Magiſtrate in this Nation; to whom the Peace of the Nation, and in that the Peace of the Church, doth ſolely and properly of Right belong.

Subſcribed,

Sept. 3, 1662. Edw. Bagshaw.

This Paper, as I am informed, was delivered into the Hands of the Duke of Ormond; and what the Thoughts of that noble Perſon were upon it, is left to every indifferent and impartial Reader to judge.

A Rental of the Hoſpital of St. John's in Northampton.

MS. Penes Epiſc. Petrib.

Rentale Hoſpitalis Sancti Johannis in Villa de Northampton prout renovatur 29. Die Septembris, 1662. —— Examined by us Simon Forde, Horatio Woodhouſe, Francis Goodiar. —— With a Petition of John Ringroſe, Clerk, Co-Brother in the ſaid Hoſpital to Joſeph Lord Biſhop of Peterborough, complaining of his being unjuſtly diſcharged and diſcontinued from his Place, ſince the Year 1659.

Death of Lord Aſtley.

Dugdale's Bar. Tom. II. p. 473.

Sir Jacob Aſtley having ſerved King Charles I. with great Fidelity and Courage in ſeveral Battles, had been by Letters Patents 4. Nov. 20 Car. I. created Lord Aſtley of Reading in Com. Berks, and departing this Life at Maidſtone in Kent Ann. 1651. left Iſaac his Son and Heir, who died in this Month of Septemb. 1662. and was buried in Maidſtone Church near his Father.

Books and Papers publiſh'd in or about September 1662.

Mr. Hickman againſt Dr. Heylyn.

London, 1662. 8vo.

There was a ſecond Edition corrected and enlarged, 1674.

A. O. ſecond Edition, col. 896.

Hiſtoria Quinque-Articularis Exarticulata. Or Animadverſions on Dr. Heylyn's Quinquarticular Hiſtory. In which 1. The Aſperſions caſt on foreign Reformers are wiped off. 2. The Doctor's manifold Contradictions are manifeſted. 3. The Doctrine of the Arminians in the five Points is proved to be contrary to the Doctrine of the Reformed Church of England. By Henry Hickman, B. D. [I have heard the learned Mr. Henry Dodwell frequently relating, that when he was in Holland about 1685. he convers'd with Mr. Hen. Hickman, and found him at that Time a ſtupid and forgetful Man to that Degree, that he could hardly remember he was ever himſelf engaged in any controverſial Writing.] This Author Mr. Hickman died at Leyden about Michaelmas Anno Dom. 1692.

Proteſtant Picture of Jeſus Chriſt.

London, ſold by Edw. Thomas, 1662.

A Proteſtant Picture of Jeſus Chriſt, drawn out in Scripture Colours, both for the Light of Sinners, and the Delight of Saints, by the Pencil of Tho. Symſon, M. A late Preacher at Tottenham High-Croſs, in the County of Middleſex, and now in the City of London.

Gadbury's Calculation of Nativities.

London, ſold by Jam. Cottrel, 1662.

Collectio Geniturarum. In an hundred and fifty ſelect Nativities, viz. Princely, Prelatical, Cauſidical, Phyſical, Mercatorial, Mathematical, &c. Diſcovering the Aſtral Cauſes of Honour, Preferment, Sickneſs, Death, natural or violent, &c. Being of practical Concernment to the Sons of Art. Together with one hundred choice Aphoriſms, pertaining to the Genethliacal Part of Aſtrology. The Epiſtle thereunto contains a modeſt Defence of the Syderal Science againſt its three grand Enemies in theſe Days. Written by John Gadbury.

Durell's View of the Reformed Churches.

London, for R. Royſton, 1662, 4to. p. 344.

A View of the Government and publick Worſhip of God in the Reformed Churches beyond the Seas. Wherein is ſhewed their Conformity and Agreement with the Church of England, as it is eſtabliſhed by the Act of Uniformity.

By John Durel, Miniſter of the French Church in the Savoy, by the ſpecial Appointment of his Majeſty.

Epiſt. Ded. to the Lord Chancellor.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Honourable Edward Earl of Clarendon, Viſcount Cornbury, Baron of Hindon, Lord High Chancellor of England, and Chancellor of the moſt famous Univerſity of Oxford.

My Lord,

We being ſuch a dull Generation of Men, as I think the like was never heard of before, I doubt whether there be many that take Notice, as they ought, of that no leſs pious than ingenious Motto engraven under your Lordſhip's Coat of Arms, Deus nobis hæc otia fecit; which I would engliſh thus in the Language of Scripture, This is the Lord's Doing, wherefore not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name give Glory. —— Surely it is God that hath reſtored the King to his Throne, the Church to her Rights, the Parliament to their Privileges and Honour, and the whole Nation to its true Liberty. —— But as God when he had brought the Children of Iſrael into the promiſed Land, left amongſt them ſome of the old Inhabitants, to be as Thorns in their Sides; ſo it ſeems he is pleaſed in his Wiſdom, that ſome Canaanites, I mean ſome Zealots, ſhould remain in this Land whither he hath brought his People back, to be Incentives to ſet us forward in well doing. Nevertheleſs I conceive it the Duty of all thoſe who love the Peace of the Church, to contribute what they can to procure it. Hence it is, my Lord, that I have endeavoured to do ſomething that Way, by ſhewing them who are not ſatisfied with our Church Government and Publick Worſhip by Law eſtabliſhed, that they are the only Men in the World of all thoſe that profeſs the Proteſtant Religion, who ſcruple to ſubmit to the one, and join with us in the other. And that if they refuſe to conform in all thoſe Things which are impoſed by lawful Authority upon all the Members of the Church of England, they muſt likewiſe renounce the Communion of all other Reformed Churches, there being not one in all the World, but doth impoſe Things of like Nature, againſt which the ſame Exceptions may be made with as much Reaſon; nay all and every one of thoſe Ceremonies, which are here impoſed, being alſo impoſed in one or other of the Reformed Churches beyond the Seas, and all and more in ſome of them, which are not therefore accounted ſuperſtitious in the Judgment of other Churches, which do not uſe the ſame, &c.

The English Nonconformiſts are the only Proteſtants in the World who would ſcruple to ſubmit to our Church Government, or to join with us in publick Worſhip.
And they who refuſe to conform to the Church of England, muſt renounce Communion with all other reformed Churches.

An Introduction to remove the miſtaken Prejudice, that the reformed Churches abroad are averſe to our Church Government and Worſhip.

The Contents of the Introduction are, the Preſbyterians have given out, that the Reformed Churches beyond the Seas were as much averſe to the Government and publick Worſhip of God in the Church of England as themſelves. Others likewiſe have been ſo perſuaded both Abroad and at Home, and by what Means they all miſtake. The Deſign to undeceive them, by ſhewing, that the Reformed Churches beyond the Seas are no Strangers or Enemies to our Church Government or Publick Worſhip, &c.

Philips's Study of the Law.

Directions for the Studying of the Law. By W. Philips. — Lond. 1662.

Triplex Medicina.

Triplex Munus Phyſicum. I. Panacea aurea purpurea. II. Quinteſſentia Salis Aromatica. III. Balſamum Vitæ. Authore E. B. Med. Cantabr. — London, by B. Coe, 1662.

Neri's Art of making Glaſs.

Anthony Neri's Art of Glaſs: Wherein are ſhewn the Ways to make and colour Glaſs, &c. With the Obſervations of C. M. [Chriſtopher Merrett.] and an Account of the Glaſs Drops made at Greſham College. — London, by A. W. 1662, 8vo.

Ogilby's Hiſtory of the Coronation.

The promiſed and much expected Treatiſe of his Majeſty's Entertainment, paſſing through London, with the whole Cavalcade, and the four Arches. As alſo a Narrative and Sculptures of his Majeſty's ſolemn Coronation. Not till now publiſhed. By John Ogilby, Gent. — London, ſold by Rich. Marriot, Fol. 1662.

Mayne of Juſtification.

A Treatiſe of Juſtification, by Z. Mayne. [See Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 784.]

Biſhop Taylor of Artificial Beauty.

A Diſcourſe of artificial Beauty in Point of Conſcience between two Ladies. By J. T. D. D. [i. e. Jeremy Taylor, D. D. Lord Biſhop of Down and Connor. — London, 1662, 8vo.

Firth's Monument of Saints.

The Saint's Monument. Or the Tomb of the Righteous. By Will. Firth. — Ibid.

Franc's Touchſtone of Truth.

The Touch-Stone of Truth, &c. in ſeveral Sermons by James le Franc. — Ibid.

Wingate's Body of Com. Law.

A Body of the Common Law of England abridged, by Edmund Wingate. — Ibid.

Lord Coke on Fines.

Le Reading del mon Seign. Coke ſur le Statute de 27 Ed. I. de Finibus levatis. — London, 1662, 4to.

Maps of Harbours, Rivers, &c.

A new Shining Light, ſhewing by ſundry Maps the Harbours, Rivers, Sounds, Bays, Roads, and Sands of the Northermoſt and Weſtermoſt Parts, for the Benefit of Mariners, Pilots, &c. — London, 1662, 4to.

Trade of Fiſhing.

The Royal Trade of Fiſhing. Diſcovering the ineſtimable Profit the Hollanders have made thereof. — London, 1662, 4to.

A Tragedy.

~~King John~~ and Matilda. A Tragedy. As it was acted at the Private Houſe in Drury-Lane, by her Majeſty's Servants with great Applauſe. Written by W. Davers, Gent. — London, for Richard Grammon, 1662, 4to.

WEDNESDAY Oct. 1.
Mr. Sam. Cherrey, Miniſter of Little-Trinity, London.

Samuel Cherry Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Paroch. SS. Trinitatis vulgo vocat' Little-Trinity London. vac. per ceſſionem ſive deprivationem Matthei Haviland ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Cantuar. die 1. Oct. 1662. — Reg. Sheldon.

When Edward Harriſon, Rector of this Church was turned out for his Loyalty, and died with Grief in 1642. Matthew Haviland was put in by the Rebels. — Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 556.

This Intruder, Mr. Matthew Haviland, is call'd by Dr. Calamy a Man mighty in Prayer, and a ſavoury Preacher. — Abridgment, of Mr. Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 33. Contin. p. 36.

Dr. Matthew Fowler, Rector of St. Alphage, London, in the Room of Mr. Thomas Doolittle.

Eod. die 1. Octob. 1662. Mattheus Fowler, S. T. P. admiss. ad Rect. Ecclesiæ Parochialis Sancti Alphagii infra Cripplegate, London. vac. per Inconformitatem . . . . . Doolittle ult. Incumb. ad coll. D. Episcopi.

Reg. Lond. See May 7. 1663.

Dr. James Halsey of Clare Hall in Cambridge, was collated to this Living by the Bishop of London, Octob. 13, 1638. was one of the most early Sufferers of all the Clergy, being voted unfit to hold any Ecclesiastical Preferment by the House of Commons, Feb. 22, 1639. shamefully abused, violently turned out, died of Grief, and Apr. 1, 1641. was succeeded by the infamous John Sedgwick, said to be prov'd Guilty of Simony, Sacrilege, and Adultery in one Day: He died in Octob. 1643, and was succeeded by Sam. Fawcet, A. M. of Queen's College, Oxon. It does not appear what Time Mr. Doolittle intruded into this Living; only we are told by his Friend, that Mr. Thomas Doolittle, M. A. ejected from St. Alphage, was sent to the University by Mr. Baxter; and that he was a serious, useful, awakening Preacher, and continued the Exercise of his Ministry at a Meeting-House he had erected in Mugwell-street near Cripplegate to the Day of his Death, on June 1, 1707. his Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Dr. Daniel Williams. He hath several Tracts extant, &c.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 171.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 16.

Dr. Calamy's Life of Baxter, Vol. II. p. 52.

Dr. Calamy adds in his Continuation, that he was a Native of Kidderminster, and had his Education in Pembroke Hall, Cambridge, under the Tuition of Mr. William Moses. He was well beloved by his Parishioners of St. Alphage, who built him a House to dwell in, which after his Ejectment was divided into two Tenements, without going to his Successors. —— He died some Years since Pastor of a dissenting Congregation at Reading in Berks, May 24, 1707. ætat. 77.

8vo. p. 75.

THURSDAY Oct. 2.

Seditious Papers seized in the Press.

There having been sundry idle and seditious Papers lately printed and scattered abroad, contrary to the Intent of the late Act, Sir Edward Nicholas his Majesty's principal Secretary of State, issued out his Warrant for the apprehending the Authors and Publishers. Many diligent Enquiries and Searches were made, till at last on Saturday Sept. 27. they discovered a private Printing-Press ready furnished with all Sorts of Materials for the Trade, secretly conveyed into a Shed in a Garden thro' an Alley 'twixt Long-Lane and Charter-House-Lane, —— and now we hope for the future, Libels will not become so common, for since this Seizure we have heard nothing of Farewell-Sermons, fathered upon such as had not so much Impudence to vent them, or at least convinced of their Folly have since disowned them as spurious; we have not heard of the Raving of the Ranter, nor of the mystical Nonsense of the Quaker, &c.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. Nº. 40.

Mr. John Hutchinson Prebend of Litchfield.

John Hutchinson, B. D. Rector of Astbury Com. Cestr. was collated to the Prebend of Tervin in the Church of Litchfield, void by the Death of Dr. Richard Hunt, Octob. 2, 1662. He died 1704. and was buried in the Cathedral of Litchfield, with Monument and Epitaph.

Willis.

Mr. Richard Sykes Prebend of York.

Richard Sykes collated to the Prebend of Tockerington in the Church of York, Octob. 7, 1662. on the Resignation of Dr. Gilbert Ironside. He was Rector of Spofford and died 1670.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, 4to. p. 171.

Complaint of Sir Edward Nicholas resigning his Secretary's Place.
Given to Sir Henry Bennet against the Will of the Lord Chancellor.

Complaint made of its being a great weakening of the Protestant Interest, that Sir Edward Nicholas, a faithful old Servant of the King and Church, should be put out of his Office of Secretary of State, and Sir Henry Bennet, a Witness (if any) of the King's declaring for the Communion of the Church of Rome, in Spain or France, and was himself a concealed Papist, and died professedly so, in a popish Reign when Earl of Arlington, should be sworn into his Place, much against the good Liking of my Lord Chancellor Clarendon.

So that now began the Divisions and Intrigues visible to the French Ambassador.

The Count d'Estrades, Purchaser of Dunkirk, tells his Master the French King in a Letter from London, dated Octob. 17, 1662. that the Chevalier Bennet was declar'd Secretary of State; and that the King of England had commended him to go see the Chancellor, and to live well with him; but I believe (saith d'Estrades) there will be a very indifferent Friendship between these two Persons. I will explain to your Majesty all the Intrigue of this Court, when I shall have the Honour to see you, &c.

Lettres & Memoirs du Comte d'Estrades, 8vo. p. 358.

A soft Representation made of it in a Paper publish'd by Authority.

His Majesty being sensible of the eminent Merit of that ancient and faithful Servant of the Crown Sir Edward Nicholas, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, and how his great Age and last great Sickness had impaired his Health and Strength, that his Majesty conceived those Floods of Business which daily break in upon so great an Officer, would tire out his Spirits, and make his Employment far less comfortable than it had been formerly, was therefore (in Consideration of his many great Services and former Sufferings for his Loyalty to the Crown) graciously pleased to grant him Leave to retire and enjoy some rest from the Pressure of so wasting an Employment. And though his Majesty best knows the Value of a Barony of England, and is unwilling to increase the Peerage, yet as an eternal Mark of the Loyalty and Integrity of so very deserving and ancient Servant freely offered to make him a Baron, but Sir Edward Nicholas (according to his wonted Candour and Modesty) after he had most humbly rendred his Thanks, besought his Majesty therein to spare him. So that whether you consider his Fidelity, Constancy, Modesty or Affection to the Service of his Majesty and his glorious Father, you have not known a more worthy Servant to the Crown of England than Sir Edward Nicholas.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. Nº. 42.

See Heath's Chron. p. 512.

Fasti Oxon. Vol. I. col. 855.

To supply his Room, his Majesty hath made Choice of Sir Henry Bennet, a Gentleman who from his very Youth was eminent for his Parts in the University of Oxford, and when the War began, left his Studies and devoted himself to his Majeſty's Service, wherein he expreſs'd ſuch Zeal and Affection, that though he took upon him no Command, yet as a Volunteer he would ſtill make one in charging the Rebels; and at that ſharp Encounter near Andover he received that honourable Mark he ſtill wears in his Countenance. When the Wars ended, he left not his Majeſty when Succeſs did, but attended his Intereſt in foreign Parts; and the better to fit himſelf for his Majeſty's Service he travelled into Italy, and made his Remarks and Obſervations of all the Parts and States of Chriſtendom. Afterwards he was made Secretary to his Highneſs the Duke of York, and then (his Majeſty's Affairs ſo requiring) he was ſent Leiger to the Crown of Spain, in which Negotiation with that wary Court, he carried Things with ſo much Prudence, Circumſpection and Succeſs, that his Majeſty upon his happy Return for England, ſoon called him home, and made him Keeper of his Majeſty's Privy Purſe, and now principal Secretary of State, and one of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council. His Place of Privy Purſe his Majeſty hath conferred on Sir Charles Berkley, Captain of the Guards to his Highneſs the Duke of York, and Governor (under his Highneſs) of the Town and Gariſon of Portſmouth, the true Son of that moſt loyal Sir Charles Berkley, now Treaſurer of his Majeſty's Houſhold.

This a weakening of my Lord Clarendon's Intereſt.

Life of Lord Chancellour Clarendon, 8vo. Vol. I. p. 207.

It was a great weakening to my Lord Clarendon's Intereſt and Stability at Court, that Mr. Secretary Nicholas ſhould on the ſecond of October this Year, be put out of his Office of Secretary of State, and that Sir Henry Bennet, afterwards Earl of Arlington, no real Friend of the Chancellor, and one that died at length a Papiſt, ſhould be ſworn into his Place. This the Chancellor, who was a Nobleman, not only of great Experience in State Affairs, but of an uncommon diſcerning Genius, could not but foreſee was deſigned for no good to him, &c.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

1662. 2. Octob. Johannes Reynolds Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Blaby in Com. Leic. vac. per deprivat. ult. Incumb. virtute Actus Uniformitatis ad preſ. Domini Regis.

The vacant Churches fill'd with ſufficient and worthy Men.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. I. p. 98.

The Churches void by Nonconformity and other Incapacity, were fill'd with Men of learned Education and good Character. It was a very different Caſe in the Sequeſtration and illegal Ejectment of the Church Clergy in the Times of Rebellion, when there crept into their Places mean and mechanick Fellows, ſcandalous for their Ignorance, and alſo for their Lives and Conditions, as in very many Inſtances given by Mr. Walker of Intruders who were Wool-Combers, Taylors, Butlers, Bakers, Coach-men, Apprentices, Weavers, Joyners, Pedlars, Troopers, &c. Particularly in the ſmall Dioceſe of Peterborough, in the Time of the Civil Wars, the excellent Mr. Canon, B. D. of Brampton near Northampton, was ſucceeded on his Sequeſtration by a Boy (Son to a poor Alehouſe-keeper) who had been but one Year at Cambridge. Mr. Haywood of Badby in the ſame County, had for his Succeſſor on his Sequeſtration a Fellow that made Nails at Birmingham, and went up and down the Country with a Bag at his Back to ſell them. Mr. Foliot (Son to Sir . . . . Foliot) who was ſequeſtred from the Rectory of Alderton in that County, was ſucceeded by one H. a ſquint-ey'd Fellow that us'd to ſing and ſell Ballads. The worthy Mr. John Whitford of Aſhton in the ſame County of Northampton, (worth 140 l. per Ann.) was on his Sequeſtration ſucceeded by a Boy lately at Grammar-School, ſcarce eighteen Years of Age, and had hardly ever ſeen the Univerſity.

FRIDAY Oct. 3.

Mr. William Lacy and Mr. George Pariſh, by Mandate Doctors in Divinity.

Ex Archivis Acad. Cantab.

A Royal Mandate ſent to the Univerſity of Cambridge, for their admitting of William Lacy, B. D. and George Pariſh, M. A. to the Degrees of Doctors in Divinity. Given, &c. this third Day of Octob. 1662.

Grace granted to Mr. Geo. Pariſh in the Service of the Archbiſhop of York to be admitted by Proxy.

Cum Magiſter Georgius Pariſh virtute Regiarum Literarum admitti & creari debeat ad gradum Doctoratus in S. Theologia: Cumque jam in ſervitio & negotiis Reverendiſſimi in Chriſto Patris Archiepiſcopi Eboracenſis verſatus, adeo diſtrictus & impeditus ſit, quo minus adeſſe poſſit ad admiſſionem creationemque ſuam accipiend. Placet vobis ut dictus Georgius Pariſh ex ſpeciali veſtro favore admiſſionem creationemque ſuam recipiat, ſub perſona Iſaaci Barrow Procuratoris ſui in hac parte legitime conſtituti. — conceſſ. 10. Octob. 1662.

Mr. Richard Argall Rector of Rivenhall, in Place of Mr. George Liſle.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 495.

Die 3. Octob. 1662. Ricardus Argall, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Rivenhall Com. Eſſex. vac. per Inconformitatem Georgii Liſle; ad preſ. Willielmi Wiſeman Mil.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 304.

Mr. George Liſle ejected from Rivenhall, was one that honoured his Function. He was impriſon'd for his Nonconformity at Colcheſter.

Mr. Nathaniel Ranew, Vicar of Coggeſhall.

Nathaniel Ranew Clericus, admiſſ. ad Vic. de Coggeſhall Com. Eſſex. die 1. Martii 1660. ad preſ. Car. Com. Warwic. — cui ſucceſſit Tho. Jeſſop Clericus, die 3. Octob. 1662. ad preſ. ejuſd. Caroli Com. Warwic.

He was not poſſeſs'd of the Living, but was occaſional Preacher there to a gather'd Congregation. And therefore Mr. Newcourt takes no Notice of him.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 303. Contin. p. 465.

Coggeſhall. Mr. John Sams. He came out of New-England, where he had his Education. He ſettled firſt at Keldon in this County, and afterwards ſucceeded Dr. Owen at this Place, where the Act of Uniformity ſilenc'd him. After the Loſs of his Living, he and ſome of his People went to Church; but others of them not being ſatisfy'd to do ſo, and the Miniſter at the ſame Time reproaching them in publick, for not being preſent in Time of Divine Service, he deſiſted, and ſet up a ſeparate Meeting, and died Paſtor of a gather'd Church there. He was a Man of good Learning, and valuable miniſterial Abilities, but Melancholy to an Exceſs. He died about 1675.

Mr. William Clotterbooke Rector of Danbury.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 309.

Die 3. Octob. 1662. Will. Clotterbooke, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Danbury Com. Eſſex. vac. per mort. Ricardi Man ad preſ. Humph. Mildmay Armig.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex, Dr. Calamy hath Danbury, Mr. John Man. [If the ſame with Rich. Man, he voided the Living by Death.]

Mr. Nath. Walker, Rector of St. Katharine Coleman, in room of Mr. Joſeph Church.

He publiſh'd the Chriſtian's daily Monitor to the Performance of perſonal and relative Duties. With a Reſolution of ſome Caſes of Conſcience, for the Benefit of young Perſons, 8vo. 1669.

Newcourt, Vol. II.

Die 3. Octob. 1662. Nathaniel Walker Clericus, admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Katharinæ Coleman, London. vac. per Inconformitatem ult. Rectoris ad coll. D. Lond. Epiſcopi. —— Obiit 1664.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 38. Contin. p. 57.

From St. Katharine Coleman, Mr. Joſeph Church. A worthy Man, of good Subſtance till the Fire of London conſum'd it: Afterwards indeed he was in Straits, and had many Children, and very little to ſubſiſt on, and had conſiderable Offers if he would have conform'd.

Walker's Sufferings, Fol. p. 171, 172.

Mr. Church was put in after Mr. Henry Kiberd had been for his Loyalty ſequeſtred, who dying before the Reſtauration, Mr. Church was left in legal Poſſeſſion by Act of Parliament.

Mr. John Hawkins Vicar of Enfield in the Place of Mr. Daniel Manning.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 602.

Die 3. Octob. 1662. Johannes Hawkins, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Enfield Com. Midd. vac. per deprivationem Danielis Manning ad preſ. Magiſtri Sociorum & Scholarium Coll. Trin. Cantabr.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 468.

Mr. Daniel Manning. An excellent Scholar and Preacher; much admir'd and follow'd both for his natural Wit and good Learning, and ſerious Godlineſs. He was educated in Catharine Hall in Cambridge, and noted there as eminent in his Improvements for his Time.

Alphamſton. Mr. Samuel Brinſley. Some Time Fellow of St. John's College, Cambr. After his Ejectment he liv'd pretty much in and about London. He was an holy and painful Miniſter of Chriſt. He died about the Year 1695. Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 305.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 8. and 490.

Eod. die 3. Octob. 1662. Jeremias Fiſh Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Alphamſton Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. —— Idem Jer. Fiſh, A. M. ad Vic. de Redywell Com. Eſſex. vac. per mort. Johannis Pindar ad preſ. Magiſtri Sociorum & Scholarium Aulæ S. Catharinæ Cantabr.

SATURDAY Oct. 4.

Dr. Meric Caſaubon admitted Rector of Ickham.

Wharton Collectan. MS. Fol. p. 77.

Mericus Caſaubon, S. T. P. ad Canonicatum in Eccl. Cath. Cantuar. admiſſus Anno 1628. die 19. Junii. Ad Vicariam de Menſtre Dioc. Cant. ab Archiepiſc. collatus 4. Octob. 1634. inductus ad Eccl. de Monckton 25. ejuſd. Menſis Octob. a Rebellibus vi & armis ejectus & ſpoliatus Anno circiter 1644. Vicariam de Menſtre recepit 1660. & poſt biennium ab Archiepiſc. obtinuit ut eam cum Rectoria de Ickham permutaret, ad hanc admiſſus 4. Octob. 1662. Obiit 14. Jul. 1671.

Mr. John Nicholas Maſter of St. Nicholas's Hoſpital, Sarum.

Wood, Le Neve, &c.

John Nicholas, A. B. Fellow of New-College, Oxon. was collated by Biſhop Henchman to the Maſterſhip or Wardenſhip of St. Nicholas's Hoſpital near Sarum, founded by Robert Bingham Biſhop 1245. and reſtored by King James the Firſt, April 3, 1610. He was afterward Fellow of Wincheſter, elected Warden of New-College on the Death of Dr. Mich. Woodward, June 30, 1675. and again July 17, 1679. was elected Warden of Wincheſter, on the Death of Dr. William Burt; and on Apr. 2, 1684. was inſtalled Prebendary of Wincheſter in the tenth Stall, void by the Death of Dr. Walter Dayrell, and dying in 1712. was ſucceeded in the ſaid Prebend by Mr. Tho. Sprat.

Mr. Tho. Winnard Rector of Creek in the Room of Mr. Stephen Fowler.

Reg. Laney.

1662. 4. Octob. Thomas Winnard Clericus, S. Th. Bac. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Creek in Com. Northton. de jure vacantem ad preſ. Præſidis & Scholarium Coll. S. Joh. Bapt. Oxon.

Elder Brother to Dr. Edward Fowler Biſhop of Gloceſter. —— He does not appear upon the Regiſters.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 494. Contin. p. 639. See Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 310.

Ejected from Creek, Mr. Stephen Fowler, Fellow of St. John's in Oxon. His was a great Rectory, and yet no Temptation to him to conform againſt his Conſcience. He was a very popular Preacher, and indefatigable in his Labours. He was call'd to Newbury upon the Death of Mr. John Woodbridge, who was turn'd out there. And he alſo died with an Exceſs of hard Studies and over frequent Preaching.

SUNDAY Oct. 5.

The popiſh Prieſts and Miſſionaries very buſy in perverting young Scholars.

The ſincere popiſh Convert J. S. 168 , 4to.

The popiſh Prieſts and Jeſuits were now very buſy in the inveigling and gaining Proſelytes to their Church; as by Confeſſion of a young Cambridge Scholar now perverted, and again returning to the Communion of the Church of England in 1678. Says he, a little after the Reſtauration I came up from Cambridge A. B. to London, where by a Gentlewoman I was introduc'd to one of the moſt grave, ſubtle and acute Fathers in the Nation, I mean Father Franc. a S. Clara, with whoſe winning Diſcourſe I was extremely taken, and to whoſe extraordinary Civilities I muſt always account myſelf extraordinarily obliged. You cannot be long in ſuſpenſe concerning the Iſſue of this Interview. He who had triumph'd over ſo many Perſons of Honour and Quality, Clergy and Laity (witneſs among the reſt Dr. G. Biſhop of Gloceſter) might eaſily baffle ſuch a young Stripling as myſelf, &c.

Meaning Mr. Chriſt. Davenport, or De Sancta Clara.

Account given of him.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 486.

Chriſtopher Davenport, born at Coventry, and in Grammar Learning there educated, at about fifteen ſent to Merton College, Oxon. where having ſpent about two Years, by the Invitation of ſome Roman Prieſt he went to Doway Anno 1615. where remaining ſor ſome Time, he went to Ypres, and entred into the Order of the Franciſcans, Octob. 7, 1617. returning to Doway he entred into the Houſe of the Engliſh Recollects there Octob. 18, 1618. which was then built for them, and dedicated to S. Bonaventure, where (after a Journey to Spain) he became chief Reader of Divinity, and was made Doctor of that Faculty. At length he became a Miſſionary in England, where he went by the Name of Franciſcus a Sancta Clara, and was made one of the Chaplains to Henrietta Maria, the Royal Conſort of King Charles the Firſt. Here continuing (going and coming) more than fifty Years, he did very great Service for the Roman Catholick Cauſe by gaining Diſciples, raiſing Money, &c. After the Reſtoration of Charles II. upon his Marriage with Catharine of Portugal, he became her Theologiſt, or one of the chief Chaplains about her, and was ſeveral Times choſen Provincial Miniſter

Chaplain to Queen Henrietta Maria.

And to Queen Catharine.

Of great Intereſt at Court.

October 1662.

14 Car. II.

His Death and Burial.

ſter of his Order for the Province of England. —— He died in Somerſet-Houſe in the Strand May 31, 1680. and was buried (not according to his Deſire, in the Vault under Somerſet-Houſe Chapel, which the Queen oppoſed) but in the Church belonging to the Savoy.

Articles of Peace with the City and Kingdom of Tunis.

Printed at large in the Publick Intelligence, 4to, No. 47.

Articles of Peace betwixt his Sacred Majeſty Charles II. King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, &c. and the moſt Excellent Seignior Mahomet Baſſa, the Duan of the noble City of Tunis, Hadgie, Muſtaph Dye, Mahomet By, and the reſt of the Soldiers in the Kingdom of Tunis, concluded by Sir John Lawſon, Knight, the fifth of October, 1662. Signed and Sealed in the Preſence of the Great God.

TUESDAY Octob. 7.
Mandate for Will. Croon to be Doctor of Phyſick.

Ex Archivis Acad. Cant.

The King's Letters of Mandate to the Univerſity of Cambridge for William Croon, Profeſſor of Rhetorick in Greſham College, and one of the Royal Society in London, to be admitted to the Degree of Doctor of Phyſick. Dated Octob. 7, 1662. Lect. Octob. 16.

Reg. Laney.

Octob. 7. 1662. Thomas Archer Clericus, S. T. P. ad Rect. de Preſton in Com. Rutl. de jure vacantem per non Subſcriptionem ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Edwardi Fawkener, Armig. Patroni. —— The laſt Incumbent is, according to Dr. Calamy, Mr. Gabriel Major.

Some Nonconforming Lecturers continued to preach after the Bartholomew Act.

Without any ſevere Proſecution of them.

Life of Mr. Owen Stockton, printed in Mr. Clarke's Lives of eminent Men, 1682, Fol. p. 193.

Some of the ſilenc'd Lecturers made bold to continue their Preaching for ſome Time after the Incapacity of the Bartholomew Act. As Mr. Owen Stockton having been elected by the Alderman and Common-Council of Colcheſter to be Lecturer in that Town, though debarred from the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry by the late Act of Uniformity; yet thinking himſelf not bound to be his own Executioner, and there being mutual Obligations by Contract between the Town and him, that the one ſhould not eject, nor the other deſert, without ſo long Warning, he continued his publick Preaching, 'till having Occaſion to go unto Cambridgeſhire, in his Abſence another was put into his Place by the B. of L. [Biſhop of London.]

WEDNESDAY Oct. 8.
Commiſſion for proſecuting Diſcoveries.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 40.

There being a Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England granted to the Right Honourable Richard Earl of Dorſet, Thomas Earl of Berkſhire and others, ſitting at the Savoy for proſecuting Diſcoveries: Theſe are therefore to give Notice, that all Perſons whom it may concern, either Diſcoverers, Witneſſes, or others, that have been formerly ſummoned to appear at the Savoy, or had or have Buſineſs there depending, are now deſired to make their perſonal Appearance before his Majeſty's ſaid Commiſſioners at the Office formerly uſed for their Sitting near the Water-gate.

Biſhop King's Viſitation Sermon.

London, 1663, 4to.

A Viſitation Sermon preached at Lewes in Suſſex October 8, 1662. on Titus ii. 1. By Henry [King] Lord Biſhop of Chicheſter.

Mr. Edw. Pope Archdeacon of Glouceſter.
Mr. Le Neve calls him by Miſtake Godfrey Pope.

Willis's Ch. of Glouceſt, p. 733.

Edward Pope, A. M. was collated to the Archdeaconry of Glouceſter, void by the Death of John Middleton, October 8, 1662. He died Decemb. 26, 1671. and was buried at Walton on the Hill, Com. Surr. with an Engliſh Inſcription on his Grave-Stone.

Account of Mr. John Gibbons ejected from Black-fryars.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 13.

Mr. John Gibbons, ſaid to be ejected from Black-fryars, London, ſome Time Fellow of Emanuel College, and Proctor of the Univerſity of Cambridge, a very learned and judicious Man, but withal of great Modeſty, who died of a Conſumption not long after his being ſilenc'd and put out, Author of a Sermon upon the Nature of Juſtification in the Morning Exerciſe of St. Giles; and of another about Checking the firſt Riſings of Sin in the Morning Exerciſe at Cripplegate. He wrote himſelf B. D. in his Poem at the End of the Funeral Sermon for Mr. Samuel Jacomb. He was the Son of Mr. John Gibbons of Waltham, one of the Aſſembly of Divines.

Contin. p. 15.

THURSDAY Oct. 9.
Dr. John Caſtilion Vicar of Mynſtre.

Whartoni Collect. MSS. F, p. 77.

Johannes Caſtilion Canonicus Cantuarienſis Anno 1660. factus Rectoriam de Ickham (Archiepiſcopo ſic volente) Caſaubono reſignans, ad Vicariam de Mynſtre collatus eſt Octob. 9, 1662. Rectoriam de Merſham acceſſit Anno 1661. dimiſit 1667. obiit 21. Octob. 1688. ætatis 75. ſepultus in Ala auſtrali Eccleſiæ Cath. Cant.

Joh. Caſtilion, S. T. P. reſignavit Eccl. Sancti Dionyſii Backchurch, London, ante 11. Apr. 1665. Reg. Sheldon.
Account given of him.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 815.

John Caſtilion, M. A. of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. created Doctor of Divinity Dec. 15, 1660. On Novemb. 15, 1676. he was inſtall'd Dean of Rocheſter in the Place of Dr. Thomas Lamplugh, promoted to the See of Exeter. [In Truth he did not ſucceed Dr. Lamplugh who never was Dean of Rocheſter, but was inſtall'd Dean March 6, 1672. upon the Promotion of Dr. Peter Mew to the See of Bath and Wells. —— His Daughter Mary Caſtilion was the Wife of Herbert Randolph, Eſq; and died Jan. 26, 1695.]

FRIDAY Oct. 10.
A Viſitation Sermon by Biſhop Reynolds.

Works of Biſhop Reynolds, fol, p. 1053.

The Paſtoral Office. Opened in a Viſitation Sermon, preached at Ipſwich October 10, 1662. By the Right Reverend Father in God Edward Lord Biſhop of Norwich, on Zech. xi. 7. And I took unto me two Staves, the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the Flock.

The Second Part of this Diſcourſe was entitled, The Staves of Beauty and Bands. Opened in a Sermon, preached at Yarmouth October Auguſt 23, 1663. By Edward Lord Biſhop of Norwich, on Zech. xi. 7.

Mr. Robert Ridgway Vicar of Terling. Com. Eſſex.

Ibid. p. 1063, Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 578.

Die 10. Octob. 1662. Robertus Ridgway, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Terling Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Roberti Mildmay Armig. Terling. Mr. John Stalham. He was a Native of Norfolk, and bred up in the Univerſity of Oxon. an able Preacher, cher, and an holy Liver; one of ſtrict congregational Principles. He kept up a Meeting in this Place after he was turned out. He wrote a Book againſt General Redemption, call'd, Vindiciæ Redemptionis, againſt Samuel Oats the Arminian.

Die 5. Maii, 1632. Johannes Stalham, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Terling. Com. Eſſex. vac. per Deprivat. Tho. Weld ad preſ. Roberti Mildmay Armig.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 364. Reg. Laud. Lond.

The ſaid Mr. Stalham died Paſtor of a diſſenting Congregation in the Town where he was ejected in 1680. or 1681. He wrote againſt the Quakers. And he and Mr. John Newton of Little Baddow, and Mr. Enoch Grey of Wickham, had a Conference at Terling with two Anabaptiſts January 11, 1643. and Mr. Stalham was the principal Manager: And he afterwards publiſhed it with this Title, The Sum of a Conference, &c. 4^to. 1644.

Dr. Calamy's. Contin. p. 468

SATURDAY Oct. 11.
Dr. John Dolben Archdeacon of London.

Johannes Dolben, S. T. P. coll. ad Archidiaconatum London. vac. per Mort. Thomæ Paſke, S. T. P. ult. Incumb. Die 11. Octob. 1662. —— Tho. Lamplugh, S. T. P. coll. ad Archidiac. Lond. vac. per Reſign. Johannis Dolben, S. T. P. 27. Maii, 1664. —— Johan. Dolben, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Eccl. Sancti Egidii extra Cripplegate, London. Die 15. Novemb. 1662. quam reſignavit ante 18. Martii, 1663. —— He was the Son of Dr. William Dolben, inſtituted in the Rectory of Stanwick by the Preſentation of King James I. and into the Rectory of Benefield (the ſame Day) by the Preſentation of Robert Earl of Warwick, both Churches in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, which he voided by Death before February 9, 1631.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond.
Reg. Dove & Piers Epiſc. Petrib.

Mr. Rich. Henchman Vicar of Chriſt-Church, London.

Eod. Die 11. Octob. 1662. Richardus Henchman Clericus, A. M. ad Vic. perpet. Eccleſiæ Chriſti infra Newgate London. modo vacantem per Inconformitatem Willelmi Jenkyns, ad preſ. Majoris & Communitatis London. admiſſus eſt.

Reg. Sheldon.

Account of him.

The ſaid Mr. Rich. Henchman had been admitted Vicar of Chigwell in Eſſex Sept. 17, 1661. collated by his Unkle Dr. Humphrey Henchman Biſhop of London, to the Prebend of Meaſden in the Church of St. Paul, October 13, 1663. to the Treaſurerſhip of Paul's June 7, 1664. to the Prebend of St. Pancras (being then Doctor of Divinity) March 14, 1666. all which Preferments (except Meaſden) he held 'till his Death, which happening at his Vicarage Houſe in Chigwell about the latter End of 1671. he was buried in the Chancel of that Church.

Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 108.

Mr. Will. Jenkyns.

William Jenkyns a moſt rigid Preſbyterian, he had been Paſtor of the Blackfryars, and afterwards of Chriſt-Church, London, had been engaged with the Preſbyterian Miniſters in their Plot to bring in King Charles II. from Scotland in 1651. for which Mr. Love was executed, and he upon a ſordid Submiſſion hardly eſcaped: His Predeceſſor in Chriſt-Church was Mr. Edward Finch, inſtituted A. M. Dec. 9, 1630. Brother to Sir John Finch, afterwards Lord Finch of Fordwich. Upon a Petition of the Faction againſt him, he was the firſt Parochial Clergy-man that I find actually diſpoſſeſſed, which was done by the whole Houſe May 8, 1641. when it was Reſolved, that he was unfit to hold any Benefice or Promotion in the Church. And Mr. White was ordered to prepare the Tranſmiſſion of his Caſe to the Lords, to the End that the Pariſh of Chriſt-Church might be the ſooner eaſed of him. He died ſoon after the Sequeſtration, and Febr. 1, 1642. William Jenkyns, A. M. was admitted to it (as void by the Death of Finch) who was afterwards (for what Reaſons I know not, but gueſs it to have been for his being concerned with Love) diſpoſſeſſed alſo, as I find by the Books of the Commiſſioners for the Approbation of publick Preachers. However, after that he obtain'd it again, but loſt it a ſecond Time for Nonconformity, 1662. He carried on afterwards (ſaith Mr. Wood) the Trade of Conventicling, was ſeveral Times impriſon'd, and otherwiſe troubled. He died in the Priſon called Newgate, in London, the nineteenth of January 1684. and on the twenty fourth of the ſame Month his Corps, being attended by at leaſt an hundred and fifty Coaches, was interr'd in the Burying-place, called by ſome the Phanatical, and by others, Tyndale's Burying-place, joyning on the North Side to the new Artillery Garden or Yard near London. Soon after was printed and publiſhed, An Elegy on that Reverend and Learned Miniſter of the Goſpel Mr. William Jenkyns, who finiſhed his Teſtimony, &c. A Comment on which with many Things concerning Mr. Jenkyns himſelf you may ſee in the ſecond Volume of the Obſervator, N°. 209, 210. written by Roger L'Eſtrange, Eſq; wherein alſo you'll find his Petition to the Supreme Authority the Parliament of the Commonwealth of England, for the Pardon of his Life and Eſtate, for being engaged in the Plot beforementioned, in which Petition it being aſſerted by him, that Poſſeſſion and Strength give a Right to govern; and Succeſs in a Cauſe or Enterpriſe proclaims it to be lawful and juſt, &c. it was by the Decree and Judgment of the Univerſity of Oxon. paſſed in their Convocation July 21, 1683. burnt with certain Books in the School Quadrangle, as deſtructive to the ſacred Perſons of Princes, their State and Government, &c.

Will. Jenkyns, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam Chriſti Lond. 1. Febr. 1642. vac per Mort. Edwardi Finch ult. Vicarii ad preſ. Majoris & Communitatis Civitat. London. Reg. Lond.

His Death in Newgate.

His popular Funeral.

An Elegy on him.

His Petition to the Parliament,

Burnt at Oxford.

Athen. Oxon. col. 552.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 320.
Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, p. 170.
Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 552.

Dr. Calamy's fuller Account of him.

His Father of Folkſtone where the Name lately remain'd.

The Son born at Sudbury.

Dr. Calamy in his Account of the ejected or ſilenced Miniſters, is very large upon him. His Grandfather was a Gentleman of a conſiderable Eſtate at Folkſtone in Kent, that his Father, bred under Mr. Richard Rogers of Wethersfield, an old Puritan Miniſter, was ordained and fixed Miniſter of Sudbury in Suffolk, where he married the Grand-daughter of Mr. John Rogers the Protomartyr in the Marian Days, by whom his eldeſt Child was this Mr. William Jenkyns, born at Sudbury Ann. 1612. ſent to Cambridge in the fourteenth Year of his Age to Abridgment of Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 17.

Continuat. p. 17, 18.

Will. Jenkyn, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. Sancti Leonardi in Villa Colceſtre ad preſ. D. Regis Die 27. Jan. 1640. ceſſit ante 25. Martii, 1643. Reg. Lond.

Suſpended and ſequeſtred from Chriſt-Church.

Paſtor of Black-fryars.

And again preſented to Chriſt Church.

Upon the Act of Uniformity he turned a private Preacher.

Died at laſt in Newgate.

St. John's College, under the Tuition of Mr. Anthony Burgeſs, afterwards Rector of Sutton Coldfield. He took his Degrees with great Applauſe, and began not to preach of a conſiderable Time after he had commenc'd Maſter of Arts. Soon after he appear'd in publick, he was choſen Lecturer of St. Nicholas Acons, London, and call'd thence to Hithe near Colcheſter in Eſſex, where he firſt marry'd. The Aguiſhneſs of that Place, and the Solicitation of his London Friends, brought him back to this City about the Year 1641. where he was choſen Miniſter of Chriſt-Church, and ſome Months after Lecturer of St. Anne's Black-fryars. He continued to fill up this double Station with great Diligence and Acceptance, 'till upon the Deſtruction of the Monarchy, he (with others of his Brethren) refuſed to obſerve the publick Thankſgivings appointed by the Parliament. For this he was ſuſpended from his Miniſtry, and had his Benefice of Chriſt-Church ſequeſtred. This induc'd him to retire to Billerica in Eſſex. Upon his Return to London, at or about ſix Months End, he was ſent to the Tower for Love's Plot. Dr. Arthur, Miniſter of Clapham, drew up the Petition for him, and with great Difficulty prevailed on him to ſign it. Mr. Feak the noted Fifth Monarchy Man was put into Chriſt-Church by the Government, upon Mr. Jenkyn's Sequeſtration. But his Pariſhioners ſet up a Lecture for him on Lord's-Days Mornings at ſeven o' Clock, and raiſed him a conſiderable Subſcription for it. In this and his Lecture at Black-fryars he continued 'till Dr. Gouge's Death, when he was choſen Paſtor of that Church. But Mr. Feak becoming obnoxious to the Government was remov'd, and two others ſucceſſively not fixing there, upon a Vacancy, the Governours of St. Bartholomew's Hoſpital preſented Mr. Jenkyns to it afreſh, which he readily accepted. —— He could not be ſatisfy'd to deſiſt from the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry upon the Act of Uniformity, but ſtill preach'd in private, as he had Opportunity. Upon the Oxford Act (not being free to take the Oath preſcribed in it) he retir'd to his own Houſe at Langley in Hertfordſhire, and preach'd there every Lord's-Day. —— Upon the Indulgence 1671. he returned to London, where he had a new Meeting-place erected for him in Jewin-ſtreet. And after revoking that Indulgence, there was ſo far a Connivance, that his Exerciſes on Lords-Days continued undiſturbed 'till that terrible Storm broke out in 1682. —— On Sept. 2, 1684. he was taken and committed to Newgate, —— where he departed this Life Jan. 19, 1684-5, &c.

His Epitaph expreſly makes him a Martyr.

His Epitaph over his Grave in Bunhill-Fields.

In Dom. Guli. Jenkyn M. V. D. Lond. cujus Gratia
Inter graves Eccleſiæ procellas Novo-pylo
Incarceratus Martyr obiit Anno Ætatis LXXII.
Miniſterii LII. Domini MDCLXXXIV. ejuſdemque
Filiæ Annæ Gurdon, Generiq; Dom. Joh. Scot, cum
Filio Suo Guil. Scot, Dna. Elizabetha Juyce
Proles ſola ſuperſtes Soror, Uxor, atque Mater,
Hæc Sepulchralia D. S. P. L. M. fieri curavit
Anno Dom. MDCLXXXV.

Character of Mr. John Sheffield, ejected from St. Swithin's, London.

From St. Swithins. Mr. John Sheffield: He was educated in Peter-Houſe, Cambridge, and from his Youth up was addicted to Piety and Seriouſneſs. —— He was well ſkill'd in Books, had a Genius for witty and divine Poetry, and many other curious Parts of Learning. After his Expulſion from London, he retir'd to Enfield, where he continued his Miniſtry as Opportunity offer'd. He died in a good old Age, &c.

Abridgment, Vol. I. p 38.

Contin. p. 58.

But really giving Place to the right Incumbent, Mr. Richard Owen.

Therefore no Mention made by Mr. Newcourt.

He muſt have intruded after Mr. Richard Owen, B. D. had been thrown out for his Loyalty in 1643. who living to be reſtor'd in 1660. Mr. Sheffield was in Law oblig'd to give Place to him before the Act of Uniformity.

See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 543.

Will. Baſſet, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Swithini London, vac. per Mort. Richardi Owen ult. Incumb. 18. Jul. 1683.

Newcourt Vol. I. p. 544.

Mr. Will. Taylor.

From St. Stephen's Coleman-ſtreet. Mr. Will. Taylor: He ſucceeded Mr. John Goodwin. He is ſtyl'd in Oxon. the Loyal Preſbyterian.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 39.

Dr. Calamy in the Continuation of his Account was better inform'd, that Mr. Taylor died in 1661. and that his Funeral Sermon by Dr. Spurſtow was preached Sept. 12, 1661. and is in Print. Contin. p. 58.

He did not ſucceed Mr. John Goodwin. The Regiſters are of good Authority. Die 29. Maii, 1661. Theophilus Alford, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. S. Stephani Coleman-ſtreet, Lond. vac. per Deprivat. Johannis Goodwin. —— Die 12. Feb. 1663. Johannes Sproſton Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. S. Stephani Coleman-ſtreet Lond. vac. per Reſign Theophili Alford.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 537.

SUNDAY Oct. 12.

Dr. Alleſtrey's Sermon at Whitehall.

A Sermon preach'd before the King at Whitehall, Octob. 12, 1662. By Richard Alleſtrey, D. D. Chaplain then in Attendance. Publiſhed by his Majeſty's Command. St. John XV. 14. Ye are my Friends if ye do whatſoever I command you.

London, for John Martyn, &c. 1662. 4to.

The low and coarſe Language of the Enemies of the Church had made ſome of its Friends run almoſt into another Extreme of being too quaint and elegant

P. 34. Sure we of this Nation know what it is to have God our Enemy, who for many Years lay under ſuch Inflictions as had much of the Character of his laſt Executions. They had the Blaſphemies and Confuſion, the dire Guilt and the black Calamities, and almoſt the Deſpair and Irrecoverableneſs of thoſe in Hell. And though he be at Peace with us at preſent, at leaſt there is a Truce, yet I beſeech you in the Preſence and in the Fear of God, to think in earneſt whether the preſent Provocations of this Nation do not equal thoſe that twenty Years ago engaged him into Arms againſt us, and made him daſh us ſo in Pieces? Whether thoſe Actions of the Clergy be reformed, that made the People plegant, of which Number there were two excellent Men in the ſame College, Dr. Fell and Dr. Alleſtrey.

abhor their Function and their Service, the Offerings and Miniſters of the Lord, and made God himſelf ſpew them out? 'Twere endleſs to go on to the Profaneneſs, to the looſe Impieties, and the bold Atheiſm of the Laity, eſpecially of the better ſort. In ſhort, what one Degree, or State, or Sex is better? Sure I am, if we are not better, we are worſe beyond Expreſſion, or Recovery; who have reſiſted every Method, and conquered all God's Arts of doing Good upon us, been too hard for his Judgments and his Mercies both.

The ill Effects of truſting to extempore Prayers.

The Preſbyterian Miniſters had gain'd a Popularity by what they call'd their Gift of Prayer, that touch'd the Senſes of the People, and made them the more unaffected with the moſt ſerious Reading of the Prayers of the Church. And yet a very ſober Writer about this Time, well acquainted with the Impreſſions and Effects of extempore Prayers in publick has left this Opinion of them. —— This Liberty has proved a ſingular Diſhonour to God, and Scandal to Chriſtian People. For the moſt ſeraphick of theſe Men, when they venture upon extempore Prayers, happen to loſe themſelves oftentimes, and that their Imperfections may not be diſcerned, they have an Art to fill up the Chaſms with Humms and Haghs, which the poor People are made to believe, are the Groanings of the Spirit, or elſe with miſerable Tautologies, or which is worſe, execrable Blaſphemies. If all the Nonſenſe and Blaſphemy were gathered together, which have fallen from Men in their Effuſions of late Time, they would make a Volume as great as Thomas Aquinas. I ſhall, πρὸς δεῖξιν, foul a little Paper with a Narration of ſome of them, &c.

Rex Theologus, &c. 1664. 4to. p. 52.

TUESDAY Oct. 14.
The King's Letter to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, upon the Abuſes and Extravagances of Preachers in the Pulpit.

Printed by the King's Printers 1662.

Re-printed in Rex Theologus, &c. 1664. 4to.

To the moſt Reverend Father in God William Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

CHARLES R.

Much increaſed in the late Times.

And do yet continue,

Among unquiet and factious Preachers.

And ſundry young Divines handle deep Points which they do not underſtand.

Or meddle with Affairs of State.

Or fruitleſs Controverſies.

Moſt Reverend Father in God, we greet you well. Whereas the bold Abuſes and Extravagances of Preachers in the Pulpit, have not only by the Experience of former Ages been found to tend to the Diſhonour of God, the Scandal of Religion, and the Diſturbance of the Peace both of Church and State, but have alſo (through the Licentiouſneſs of the late Times) much increaſed, to the inflaming, fomenting, and heightning of the ſaid Diſtempers and Confuſions that were among us. And whereas even at this preſent (notwithſtanding the merciful Providence of God, ſo ſignally manifeſted in reſtoring us to our Crown, and our pious Care and Endeavours to govern our Realms in Peace and Tranquillity) the ſaid Abuſes do yet continue in a very high Meaſure in ſundry Parts of this Realm, through the buſy Diligence of ſome unquiet and factious Spirits, who inſtead of preaching the pure Word of God, and building up the People in Faith and Holineſs, have made it a great Part of their Buſineſs to beget in the Minds of their Hearers, an evil Opinion of their Governours, by inſinuating Fears and Jealouſies, to diſpoſe them to Diſcontent, and to ſeaſon them with ſuch unſound and dangerous Principles, as may lead them into Diſobedience, Schiſm, and Rebellion. And whereas alſo ſundry young Divines and Miniſters, either out of a Spirit of Contention and Contradiction, or in a vain Oſtentation of their Learning, take upon them in their popular Sermons to handle the deep Points of God's eternal Councils and Decrees, or to meddle with the Affairs of State and Government, or to wrangle about Forms and Geſtures, and other fruitleſs Diſputes and Controverſies, ſerving rather to amuſe than profit the Hearers; which is done for the moſt Part and with the greateſt Confidence, by ſuch Perſons as leaſt underſtand them. We out of our princely Care and Zeal for the Honour of God, the Advancement of Piety, Peace, and true Religion, and for the preventing for the future, as much as lieth in us, the many and great Inconveniencies and Miſchiefs that will unavoidably enſue, if a timely Stop be not given to theſe and the like growing Abuſes, do according to the Examples of ſeveral of our Predeceſſors of bleſſed Memory, by theſe our ſpecial Letters ſtraightly charge and command you to uſe your utmoſt Care and Diligence, that theſe Directions, which upon long and various Conſideration we have thought good to give concerning Preachers, and which we have cauſed to be printed herewith ſent unto you, be from henceforth duly and ſtrictly obſerved by all the Biſhops within your Province. And to this End, our Will and Pleaſure is, That you forthwith ſend them Copies of theſe our Directions, to be by them ſpeedily communicated to every Parſon, Vicar, Curate, Lecturer, and Miniſter in every Cathedral, Collegiate, and Pariſh Church within their ſeveral Dioceſes: And that you earneſtly require them to employ their utmoſt Endeavour for the due Obſervation of the ſame, whereof we ſhall expect a ſtrict Account both of you, and every one of them: And theſe our Letters ſhall be your ſufficient Warrant and Diſcharge in that Behalf.

To prevent theſe Miſchiefs,

The following Directions are given to the Archbiſhop,

To be obſerved by all the Biſhops;

And Copies ſent to all the Clergy.

Given at our Court at Whitehall the fourteenth Day of October, in the fourteenth Year of our Reign, 1662.

By His Majeſty's Command,

EDW. NICHOLAS.

Directions concerning Preachers.

1. Not to meddle with Matters of State.

I. That no Preachers in their Sermons preſume to meddle with Matters of State, to model new Governments, or take upon them to declare, limit, or bound out the Power and Authority of Sovereign Princes, or to ſtate and determine the Differences between Princes and the People; but that upon all good

Occaſions they faithfully inſtruct the People in their bounden Duty of Subjection and Obedience to their Governors, ſuperior and ſubordinate of all Sorts, and to the eſtabliſhed Laws according to the Word of God, and the Doctrine of the Church of England, as it is contained in the Homilies of Obedience, and the Articles of Religion ſet forth by publick Authority.

2. Not to ſpend their Time in ſpeculative Notions.

II. That they be admoniſhed not to ſpend their Time and Study in the Search of abſtruſe and ſpeculative Notions, eſpecially in and about the deep Points of Election and Reprobation, together with the incomprehenſible Manner of the Concurrence of God's Free Grace and Man's Free Will, and ſuch other Controverſies as depend thereupon: But howſoever, that they preſume not poſitively and doctrinally to determine any Thing concerning the ſame.

3. Not to treat of other Controverſies with Bitterneſs or Railing.

III. That they forbear in their Sermons ordinarily and cauſeleſly to enter upon the handling of any other Controverſies of leſs Moment and Difficulty: But whenſoever they are occaſioned by Invitation from the Text they preach upon, or that in regard of the Auditory they preach unto, it may ſeem requiſite or expedient ſo to do; that in ſuch Caſes they do it with all Modeſty, Gravity and Candor, aſſerting the Doctrine and Diſcipline of the Church of England, from the Cavils and Objections of ſuch as are Adverſaries to either, without Bitterneſs, Railing, Jeering, or other unneceſſary or unſeemly Provocation.

4. To inſtruct the younger Sort in the Catechiſm of the Church; and to preach on catechetical Doctrines.

And Moral Duties.

The Afternoon's Exerciſe in explaining the Catechiſm, &c.

The Miniſter to read the Prayers himſelf, with Gravity, Diſtinctneſs, and Devotion.

To ſhorten the Sermon rather than the Prayers.

IV. That for the more edifying of the People in Faith and Godlineſs (the aforeſaid Abuſes laid aſide) all Miniſters and Preachers in their ſeveral reſpective Cures, ſhall not only diligently apply themſelves to catechize the younger Sort, according as in the Book of Common-Prayer is appointed; but alſo ſhall in their ordinary Sermons inſiſt chiefly upon catechetical Doctrines (wherein are contained all the neceſſary and undoubted Verities of Chriſtian Religion) declaring withal unto their Congregations what Influences ſuch Doctrines ought to have into their Lives and Converſations, and ſtirring them up effectually, as well by their Examples as their Doctrines, to the Practice of ſuch religious and moral Duties as are the proper Reſults of the ſaid Doctrines, as Self-Denial, Contempt of the World, Humility, Patience, Meekneſs, Temperance, Juſtice, Mercy, Obedience, and the like; and to a Deteſtation and ſhunning of Sin, eſpecially ſuch Sins as are ſo rife among us, and common to the Age we live in; ſuch are thoſe uſually ſtiled the ſeven deadly ones; in ſhort all kind of Debauchery, Senſuality, Rebellion, Prophaneneſs, Atheiſm, and the like. And becauſe theſe licentious Times have corrupted Religion even in the very Roots and Foundations, that where there is an Afternoon's Exerciſe, it be eſpecially ſpent either in explaining ſome Part of the Church Catechiſm, or in preaching upon ſome ſuch Text of Scripture as will properly and naturally lead to the handling of ſomething contain'd in it, or may conduce to the Expoſition of the Liturgy, and Prayers of the Church (as Occaſion ſhall be offered) the only Cauſe they grew into Contempt amongſt the People being this, that they were not underſtood. That alſo the Miniſter as often as conveniently he can, read the Prayers himſelf; and when he cannot ſo do, he procure or provide ſome fit Perſon in Holy Orders who may do it with that Gravity, Diſtinctneſs, Devotion, and Reverence, as becomes ſo holy an Action: And whenſoever, by Reaſon of his Infirmity, or the Concurrence of other Offices, the Time may ſeem too ſhort, or he be unable to perform the Office of both Prayers and Sermon at length, he rather ſhorten his Diſcourſe or Sermon than omit any Thing of the Prayers, leſt he incur the Penalty of the Act for Uniformity, requiring them to be read according as the Book directs.

5. To read over the Canons in Force once a Year.

And the Articles twice.

V. And further our Will and Pleaſure is, that all Miniſters within their ſeveral Cures, be enjoined publickly to read over unto the People, ſuch Canons as are or ſhall be in Force, at leaſt once, and the thirty nine Articles twice every Year, to the End they may the better underſtand, and be more throughly acquainted with the Doctrine and Diſcipline of the Church of England, and not ſo eaſily drawn away from it as formerly they have been.

6. The Biſhops only to licence Preachers.

VI. Since Preaching was not anciently the Work of every Prieſt, but was reſtrained to the choiceſt Perſons for Gravity, Prudence and Learning; the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Kingdom are to take great Care whom they licenſe to preach, and that all Grants and Licences of this kind heretofore made by any Chancellor, Official, Commiſſary or other ſecular Perſon (who are preſumed not to be ſo competent Judges in Matters of this Nature) be accounted void and null, unleſs the ſame ſhall likewiſe be allowed by the Archbiſhop, or the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, and that all Licences of Preachers hereafter to be made or granted by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, ſhall be only during Pleaſure, otherwiſe to be void to all Intents and Purpoſes, as if the ſame had never been made nor granted.

7. Better Obſervance of the Lord's-Day.

A Writer in this Reign is ſoft upon this Matter: His Majeſty to ſatisfy the Kingdom of his Intents, in reference to the Unſatisfiedneſs of Diſſenters to the eſtabliſhed Settlement of the Church, expreſſed his Indulgence to their Conſciences, ſo far as ſuch Liberty would not diſturb the publick Peace, nor intrench upon the orthodox Religion profeſſed,

VII. Laſtly, That for the better obſerving of the Lord's-Day, too much neglected of late, they ſhall, as by often and ſerious Admonitions, and ſharp Reproofs, endeavour to draw off People from ſuch idle, debauched, and prophane Courſes as diſhonour God, bring a Scandal on Religion, and Contempt on the Laws and Authority Eccleſiaſtical and Civil; ſo ſhall they very earneſtly perſuade them to frequent divine Service on the Lord's-Day, and other Feſtivals appointed by the Church to be kept ſolemn: And in Caſe any Perſon ſhall reſort unto any Tavern, Ale-houſes, or uſe any unlawful Sports and Exerciſes on ſuch Days, the Miniſter ſhall exhort thoſe which are in Authority in their ſeveral Pariſhes and Congregations, carefully to look after all ſuch Offenders in any kind whatſoever, together with all thoſe that abet, receive or entertain them, that they may be profeſſed, and that he would uſe his beſt Endeavours with the Parliament to that end. Heath's Chron. Fol. p. 513.

proceeded againſt according to the Laws, and quality of their Offences, that all ſuch Diſorders may for the Time to come be prevented.

Given at our Court at Whitehall, October the fourteenth, in the fourteenth Year of our Reign 1662.

By his Majeſty's Command,

Edw. Nicholas.

A very good Diſcourſe written on this Occaſion by Mr. Robert Seppens.

London, for R. Royſton, 1664, 4to.

Rex Theologus, The Preacher's Guard and Guide in the didactical Part of his Duty: Or a Vindication, ſhewing, that the King's Majeſty's Letter to the late Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ſent with his Majeſty's Directions concerning Preachers, is moſt conformable to the Judgment and Practice of Antiquity. Wherein is diſcuſs'd, I. The Duty of Preaching in general. II. To whom it primarily belongs. III. How managed in the ancient Church. IV. What Innovations theſe later Times have made.

Dedicated to Sir Ralph Hare and Sir Edward Walpole.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Right Worſhipful Sir Ralph Hare, Knight and Baronet, and Sir Edward Walpole, Knight of the Bath, two worthy Members of the Honourable Houſe of Commons.

Honoured Gentlemen,

Who were highly inſtrumental in his Majeſty's Reſtauration.

See the Verſes of Dr. James Duport, Dean of Peterborough: In Obitum viri Præclariſſimi, & æterna memoria digniſſimi, Domini Edwardi Walpoli, Militis de Balneo, Pupilli quondam ſui chariſſimi. — Horæ Subſecivæ 1676, 8vo. p. 474.

As you were in your Capacities highly inſtrumental to the Reſtauration of his ſacred Majeſty to this Crown, ſo I know there is nothing more in your Wiſhes than the happy Settlement of his Majeſty with the Church and State under his Dominion upon the Foundations of Peace and Piety. Amongſt other Things that hinder ſuch a deſired Eſtabliſhment, one is the Exorbitancy of the Pulpit. Though you have done great Things already in the Parliament (which we acknowledge to your everlaſting Honour) in order to the correcting of thoſe Irregularities, yet ſomething you left undone, as a Work proper for the Intelligence of an higher Orb. Wherefore his ſacred Majeſty hath made a further Progreſs in his late Directions recommended to the reverend Fathers of the Church, &c. — My daily Prayers for you both, and the Branches of your honourable Families, to whom I am

A moſt devoted Servant in all Obſervance,

Robert Seppens.

Another by Dr. Meric Caſaubon.

London, for Tim. Garthwait, 1663. 4to.

The Queſtion to whom it belong'd anciently to Preach? And whether all Prieſts might or did? Diſcuſſed out of Antiquity. By Meric Caſaubon, D. D. Occaſion'd by the late Directions concerning Preachers ſent by his Grace to all Miniſters.

A third in a Letter from Gray's-Inn, by J. A.

Printed at London, 1662. 4to.

A Letter from a Gentleman in Gray's-Inn, to a Juſtice of Peace in the Countrey, explaining the Act of Uniformity in that Part which doth concern unlicens'd Preachers. Dated Octob. 30, 1662. and ſign'd J. A.

Mr. Will. Bell, Vicar of St. Sepulchre's, London.

Reg. Sheldon, MS.

Die 14. Octob. 1662. Gulielmus Bell Clericus, S. T. B. ad Vic. Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sancti Sepulchri, London. vac. per deprivationem . . . . Gouge ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Preſidentis & Scholarium Coll. S. Joh. Bapt. Oxon. admiſſus.

Account of him.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 554.

Newcourt's Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 96.

William Bell was born in the Pariſh of St. Dunſtan in the Weſt, London, Feb. 4, 1625. educated in Merchant-Taylor's School, elected Scholar of St. John's College, Oxon. 1643. afterwards Fellow, but in 1648. ejected by the Viſitors. He was in France 1649. and about 1655. had a ſmall Benefice in Norfolk conferr'd on him, but could not paſs the Tryers. In 1660. he became Chaplain in the Tower of London to Sir John Robinſon Lieutenant, and in the Year after was created B. D. When ſettled at St. Sepulchres, he was March 23, 1665. collated to the Prebend of Reculverland; in 1677. he was ſworn Chaplain to his Majeſty; in 1668. he proceeded D. D. and was for his Eminency in Preaching made ſoon after one of the Lecturers of the Temple. He died July 19, 1683. and was buried in the Chancel of his own Pariſh Church, with a Marble Stone and Inſcription.

Account of Mr. Tho. Gouge who left St. Sepulchre's for Nonconformity.

Newcourt. Vol. I. p. 534.

Thomas Gouge, M. A. ſome Time Fellow of King's College in Cambridge, was inſtituted Vicar of St. Sepulchres, Octob. 6, 1638. void by the Death of Dr. Thomas Beriſford. He died Octob. 29, 1681. aged ſeventy ſeven Years, and was buried in the Church of St. Anne Black-Fryars, London, Nov. 4, 1681. at which Time Dr. Tillotſon, then Dean of Canterbury, preach'd his Funeral Sermon, and gave a good Account of his Piety and Charity.

Abridgment of Mr. Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 8.

Contin. p. 12.

He was Son to the eminent Dr. Gouge of Black-Fryars. He was a Wonder of Charity, Humility, Sincerity, and Moderation. Mr. Baxter ſays, that he never heard any one Perſon of what Rank, Sort or Sect whatever, ſpeak one Word to his Diſhonour, or name any Fault that they charg'd on his Life or Doctrine. — Dr. Tillotſon in his Character hath theſe Words of him, —— all Things conſider'd, there hath not ſince the primitive Times of Chriſtianity, been many among the Sons of Men, to whom that glorious Character of the Son of God might be better apply'd, that he went about doing good. ——

Death of Dr. Henry Carpenter.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 826.

Henr. Carpenter Clericus admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Dionyſii Back-church Lond. die 7. Junii 1661. Reg. Lond.

Death of Henry Carpenter, D. D. Canon of Windſor. He was Son of Richard Carpenter, Miniſter of Culleton in Devonſhire, of Exeter College, Oxon. had the Prebend of Yatminſter-prima in the Church of Sarum in Aug. 1660. and being Chaplain to the Houſe of Commons, was declared Doctor of Divinity at Oxford by a Diploma dated Apr. 19, 1662. and on May 20. following, was made Canon of Windſor in the Place of Dr. George Hall promoted to the See of Cheſter; he being then Rector of St. Dionis Back-church, London. He ow'd his Degree to the earneſt Requeſt of his Nephew Sir Edward Turner, Speaker of the Houſe of Commons. —— He died Oct. 14, 1662. after a ſhort Enjoyment of Windſor.

Johannes

Mr. John Redman Vicar of Halſted Com. Eſſex. in Room of Mr. Will. Sparrow.

Johannes Redman, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Halſted Com. Eſſex. 14. Octob. 1662. vac. per Inconformitatem ult. Vicarii ad preſ. D. London. Epiſcopi.

Mr. William Sparrow ejected from Halſted, a Norfolk Man of good Extraction, bred at Cambridge. He was firſt awakened by the Preaching of Mr. Stephen Marſhall. He was early in declaring for the Congregational Way, and a great Correſpondent of Dr. Owen's. He was a Man of conſiderable Learning and remarkable Miniſterial Gifts. As much reputed through the Countrey for a Preacher, as Mr. Rogers of Dedham had been ſome Time before. —— He died at Norwich.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 299. Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 305. Contin. p. 471.

WEDNESDAY Oct. 15.

A Lecture ſettled at Cheping Ongar by orthodox Divines.

Adviſed from Cheping-Ongar in Eſſex, that this Place much thirſted for a Continuance of a Lecture by Orthodox Divines, and did for that Purpoſe petition the Right Reverend Father in God Gilbert Lord Biſhop of London, in whoſe Dioceſe we are, and his Lordſhip no ſooner received our Deſires, but granted our Requeſt. So that yeſterday, October 15. our Lecture began, Dr. Charles Gibbs preaching our firſt Lecture. I need not tell you, that Common-Prayer was read according to the Statute. Many worthy Divines were preſent, who undertook to ſupport the Lecture for the better Service of his Majeſty and the Church, being the more encouraged by all the Gentry of the adjacent Pariſhes, who with great Satisfaction alſo came thither.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to. No. 42.

Proclamat. about the Breadth of the Tyre of Wheels.

By his Majeſty. A Proclamation for ſuſpending the Proſecution of that Part of the late Act of Parliament for enlarging and repairing the common High-ways, as concerneth the Breadth of the Tyre of Wheels, until the Parliament re-aſſemble, and take further Order. Given, &c. this fourteenth Day of October 1662. in the fourteenth Year of our Reign.

THURSDAY Oct. 16.

A Licence to Preach granted to Mr. Edw. Stillingfleet.

Licentia ad prædicandum verbum Dei infra Dioc. Lincoln. conceſſa eſt Edwardo Stillingfleet Clerico A. M. Rectori Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Sutton in Com. Bedford.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc. MS.

Author of Origines Sacræ.

Origines Sacræ. Or a Rational Account of the Grounds of the Chriſtian Faith, as to the Truth and Divine Authority of the Scriptures, and the Matters therein contained. By Edward Stillingfleet. This was a Work of great Extent and Variety of admirable Learning; written with great Perſpicuity of Expreſſion, Solidity of Judgment, and Strength of Argument, — juſtly eſteemed one of the beſt Defences of Revealed Religion, that ever was extant in our own or any other Language.

London, 1662, 4to.

Life of Biſhop Stillingfleet.

Mr. Richard Watts Rector of Morecote Com. Rutl.

Ricardus Watts Cler. preſ. ad Rect. de Morecote in Com. Rutl. vac. per mort. Ricardi Watts ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Henrici Herenden Patroni, inſtitutus 16. Octob. 1662.

Reg. Laney.

Mr. Will. Wilſon Vicar of Stanford Com. Northton.

Die 16. Octob. 1662. Willielmus Wilſon Clericus ad Vic. de Stanford in Com. Northton. vac. ipſo jure per ejus non Subſcriptionem ad preſ. Domini Thomæ Cave Mil.

Reg. Laney.

1666. 11. Junii. Valentinus Booth Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stanford in Com. Northton. ad preſ. Thomæ Cave Baronetti.

Reg. Henſhaw. Vid. Calamy, 370.

The Incumbents deprived for Non-Conformity were put into no Incapacity of Preferment if they ſhould afterward conform: And therefore after the legal Forfeiture of their Benefices ſome upon Compliance were again reinſtated in them.

Mr. John Cliffe, Rector of St. Bennet Grace-church.

Eod. 16. Octob. Johannes Cliffe Cler. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam S. Benedicti Grace-Church-Street, Lond. ad preſ. Decani & Capit. S. Pauli Lond.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 301.

Henricus Halſted, S. T. P. ad eand. Eccl. 7. Feb. 1675.

Dr. Calamy's Account of Mr. Zach. Crofton, Curate at Aldgate.

Who was not ejected from Aldgate, but gave Place to the legal Miniſter, Dr. Thomas Swadlin.

From St. Botolph's Aldgate, Mr. Zachary Crofton. A quick and warm but upright Man. He was turn'd out from Wrenbury in Cheſhire for refuſing the Engagement, and appearing very zealous to diſſuade others from taking it. He not long after King Charles's Return, had a hot Conteſt with Biſhop Gauden, about the Obligation of the National Vow called the ſolemn League and Covenant. —— He was ſent Priſoner to the Tower. —— Again caſt into Priſon in his own Countrey of Cheſhire. And when he procur'd his Liberty, he was forc'd to ſet up a Grocer's Shop to get a Maintenance for his Family. —— He afterwards took a Farm at Little-Barford in Bedfordſhire, where he ended his Life.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 39.

Larger Account or Contin. p. 18.

[They who remembred him in that Pariſh of Aldgate, gave him the Character of a zealous weak Man, who run himſelf into many Difficulties; and among others, he was proſecuted in Weſtminſter-Hall for giving the Correction of a School-Boy to his Servant-Maid, and was bold to print his Defence.]

4to.

Mr. John Sympſon Antinomian and Anabaptiſt.

Dr. Calamy is pleas'd to give in Mr. John Sympſon as ejected from his Lectureſhip at Botolph Biſhopſgate or Aldgate, a great Antinomian. [He was likewiſe a profeſs'd and buſy Anabaptiſt, and getting a Party in the Pariſh of St. Botolph Aldgate, he attempted to get Poſſeſſion of the Church, and while Mr. Crofton was in the Pulpit, Mr. Sympſon would be preaching out of the oppoſite Gallery, to the great Diſturbance and Scandal of Chriſtian People. However he went off at or before the King's Reſtauration, and had no Title to the Name of a Sufferer for Nonconformity. See a Tract of Mr. Crofton of the Virtue and Value of Baptiſm againſt John Sympſon, London, 1658, 12°.]

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 39.

Mr. Thomas White of St. Brides.

From St. Brides, Mr. Tho. White. He was Lecturer there. One of great Humility and Sincerity, and an excellent practical uſeful Preacher. He was a general Scholar, and Mr. Chillingworth's Amanuenſis. Much eſteem'd and protected at the Chapel at Ludgate by Biſhop Sheldon, and often very kindly treated by him.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 31.

The Dominicans in Ireland not content with the late Remonſtrance, draw up another Form.

Account of the Family of the Butlers, 8vo. 1716. p. 115.

The Dominicans in Ireland cavilling at ſome Expreſſions in the late Iriſh Remonſtrance, drew up another Form of their own, and introduc'd it with this Application to the Lord Lieutenant.

With an Addreſs to the Duke of Ormond.

For his Grace the Duke of Ormond, Lord Lieutenant General, &c.

Gracious Sir,

Leſt our Silence (in this deſir'd and moſt happy Time, wherein his Sacred Majeſty's Subjects ſtrive to manifeſt their Loyalty unto their natural King and Sovereign Charles II.) ſhould draw upon us any Suſpicion prejudicial unto our Loyalty to him, or give way to his ſometimes, and ſtill our Adverſaries, to brand us with the vile Spot of any Diſloyalty, we the whole Body of St. Dominick's Order in Ireland, do preſent unto your Grace the incloſed Remonſtrance, ready to ſign and ſeal the ſame with our deareſt Blood, moſt humbly deſiring it may be as favourably accepted by your Grace, as cordially preſented by thoſe, who will never ceaſe to pray for your Grace's good Preſervation and Proſperity.

Gracious Sir,

Your Grace's humble Servants,

F. John Hart, Provincial.
F. Laurence Kelly, Diffinitor.
F. J. Burgate, Diffinitor.
F. Richardus Maddin, Diffinitor.
F. Eugenius Croigly, Diffinitor.

Copy of the Form of Remonſtrance.

The humble Remonſtrance of the Dominican Friars in Ireland.

Rejoice at the Reſtauration of the King.

And their being delivered from the Oppreſſion of uſurped Power.

To vindicate themſelves from Calumnies and Lies.

They profeſs Sincerity of Mind and Purity of Intention.

In Thankſgiving and Prayers for the King.

Whereas the divine, natural and human Law dictates, that all Subjects ſhould heartily congratulate the Proſperity and Felicity of their natural King, it is moſt juſt that all the Iriſh Nation ſhould highly rejoice at the miraculous Reſtoration of Charles the Second, their natural King, their only Deliverer from the hard and intolerable Durance and Tyranny, which they have ſo many Years ſuffer'd in his Abſence, under the Oppreſſion of an uſurp'd Power, and the Iriſh Clergy do hold themſelves by double Obligation bound ſo to do, firſt by the Tye of natural Subjection to their moſt gracious and lawful Prince. Secondly, that they may vindicate themſelves from the innumerable Calumnies and Lies, whereby they are miſrepreſented unto the King and his Miniſters, moſt falſly ſuggeſted to them, that they intend to raiſe Rebellion and Tumults. Wherefore we the whole Body of the Dominican Friars, unanimouſly (that it may appear to the World with what Sincerity of Mind and Purity of Intention we are inclined to our Sovereign Charles the Second, following the Steps of our Predeceſſors, and fully ſatisfied in our Conſcience) firſt do render moſt hearty Thanks unto the King of Kings, for the miraculous Reſtoration of his moſt ſacred Majeſty to his Hereditary Kingdoms, and will ever pray, that the ſame divine Power and Providence that eſtabliſh'd him in his Right, may give him long Time happily to reign and govern. And for our Manifeſtation of our Fidelity to him, we do proteſt before God, Angels and Men, without any Equivocation or mental Reſervation, our Sovereign Charles the Second, to be true and lawful King of Ireland, and therefore that we are in Conſcience, and under Pain of highly offending God, to obey our ſaid Sovereign in all Civil and Temporal Affairs, no leſs than any of our Function to their reſpective Princes in Europe. And do furthermore proteſt, that we know no external Power that can abſolve us from this religious Obligation, no more than other Subjects of the like Function with us from the like Obligation in Spain, France, or Germany, or elſewhere. Finally we execrate, abjure, and renounce, that (not Catholick) pernicious Doctrine, that any Subject may kill or murther his King by himſelf or any other, tho' differing with him in Religion; nay we proteſt the contrary, ſaying that all Subjects are bound to manifeſt all Rebellions and Machinations againſt the King's Perſon, his Kingdom or State to the King or his Magiſtrate, which we do hereby promiſe to do. And this Proteſtation of our Fidelity, we the aforeſaid Body of the Order of St. Dominick in Ireland, do freely offer to his moſt meek and clement Majeſty, and proſtrate under his ſacred Feet, we pray he may be pleaſed to accept this our Proteſtation, and to defend and deliver us from the Oppreſſion of our Perſecutors; for our Profeſſion is to fear and follow him, who in the Goſpel commands us to give unto God his due, and to Cæſar his, and we will always pray for his Majeſty, his Queen, and the Bleſſing of a happy Poſterity.

They proteſt his being true and lawful King of Ireland:

And that they are bound to obey him in all civil and temporal Affairs.

No Power to abſolve them.

They renounce the pernicious Doctrine that any Subject may kill or murder his King.

And promiſe to manifeſt all Rebellions and Machinations againſt him.

And pray to be defended from the Oppreſſion of their Perſecutors.

Dated Oct. 15, 1662.

Sign'd by the Provincial, and twenty four of the Chief of the Order.

The Jeſuits offer their Remonſtrance or Proteſtation of Fidelity.

Next the Jeſuits drew up and preſented to the Lord Lieutenant, a Remonſtrance or Proteſtation, which being rejected by his Grace, as of no Force, they offer'd a ſecond with the ſame Succeſs, and then a third, which was in the following Words:

The Jeſuits third Remonſtrance, Declaration, or Proteſtation of Allegiance.

Acknowledging King Ch. II. to be true and lawful King.

And themſelves bound in Conſcience to obey him.

We the undernamed do acknowledge his Majeſty King Charles II. to be our true and lawful King, ſupreme Lord, and right Sovereign of this Realm of Ireland, and all other his Majeſty's Dominions. We acknowledge ourſelves bound in Conſcience to obey his Majeſty in all Civil and Temporal Affairs; and notwithſtanding

And to expoſe their Lives in Defence of him.

To diſcover all Treaſons and Conſpiracies againſt him.

They deteſt the impious Doctrine of a Subject murthering his Prince, tho' of a different Religion.

Without Equivocation or mental Reſervation.

withſtanding the Diverſity of Religion in him and us, we engage ourſelves, that during Life, we ſhall be as loyal to his Majeſty as any of his Subjects whatſoever. And we engage ourſelves to expoſe our Lives (if Occaſion ſhall require) in Defence of his Majeſty's Perſon and Royal Authority; and that no Sentence of Depoſition, Excommunication, or any other Cenſure whatſoever ſhall move us to recede from any Point of this our Engagement of Allegiance and Duty.

We engage ourſelves to detect and diſcover to his Majeſty and his Miniſters, whatſoever Treaſons and Conſpiracies againſt his Majeſty or Governours ſhall come to our Knowledge.

We deteſt from our Heart that impious Doctrine, which averreth, that any Subject can murther or kill his anointed Prince, though of a different Judgment in Religion; and we abhor the damnable Practice of that wicked Aſſertion. All which we ſwear religiouſly to obſerve, according to the common and uſual Signification of the Words, without Equivocation or mental Reſervation. So help us God.

The Duke of Ormond rejected both theſe Forms;

And writes a Letter to Father Walſh in favour of his firſt Form of Remonſtrance, which the King had well received.

Theſe two Proteſtations of the Dominicans, and the Jeſuits, the Lord Lieutenant rejected, as not being ſo full as the firſt of the other Clergy, and liable to various Interpretations, and therefore writ the following Letter to Mr. Walſh, who was Agent for the Clergy, and had been the great Promoter of the firſt Proteſtation approv'd of by the King and his Grace, as was ſaid above.

For Mr. Peter Walſh.

SIR, Dublin 26, Jan. 1662.

And deſires to know who had ſubſcribed it, and who had refuſed it.

Conſidering how well his Majeſty received the Subſcriptions to the Proteſtation preſented to him in England, I do a little wonder that the Example hath not been more readily and frequently followed here, than for ought I can hear from you it hath been. I have no other End in wiſhing it ſhould, than that thoſe of loyal and peaceable Diſpoſitions may thereby be diſtinguiſhed from others, for their own Advantage, yet any prudent Perſon will believe the Subſcribers are more like to find it than the Refuſers. I deſire to know who have already ſubſcribed ſince your Arrival in the Kingdom, and who have refuſed to ſubſcribe. And ſo I reſt,

Your very Affectionate Friend,

ORMOND.

The Lord Lieutenant being come to Ireland, the Procurator (Peter Walſh) was commanded by his Grace to gain more Subſcriptions to the firſt Remonſtrance. But they then gave him fine Words and Offers of Money for his Pains taken hitherto for them, and three hundred Pounds more, if he would prevail with his Grace to accept of their Subſcriptions to another Form, ſuch as themſelves would frame; becauſe that ſigned at London was odious in the Court of Rome, as leſſening the Authority of the moſt Holy Father. Hiſt. of the Iriſh Remonſtrance, p. 19.

A Conſpiracy of the Fanaticks at Dublin.

Soon after this, eight Lords and twenty three Colonels, Eſquires and Gentlemen, ſign'd the firſt Proteſtation, which added to thoſe who had before ſubſcribed at London, made one hundred twenty one, wherof twenty one were Earls, Viſcounts, and Barons. Thoſe who at this Time ſign'd at Dublin, writ alſo thirty two ſeveral Letters of the ſame Tenour, to be ſent to the thirty two Counties of Ireland, to get all the Hands of the Roman-Catholick Nobility and Gentry; but though the Letters were writ they were not ſent, becauſe being to go by the Lord Lieutenant's Leave and Direction, who was for promoting the Subſcription, his Grace did not think fit to have them ſent at that Time, a dangerous Conſpiracy of the Fanaticks, to ſeize the Caſtle of Dublin, being juſt then providentially diſcover'd, leſt the carrying about of ſuch Papers ſhould give Occaſion to thoſe Fanaticks to pretend a Plot of Papiſts, to excuſe themſelves for meeting as they did in arm'd Troops by Day and Night. However, the Roman-Catholick Gentry, and old Proprietors of the County of Wexford, and the few Survivors of that Town, ſign'd the aforeſaid Proteſtation, to the Number of two hundred wanting three, and ſent it up to his Grace, by Mr. William Stafford of Lobſtown, with a ſuitable Petition to the Duke, and Preamble to the King. But all theſe Proceedings came to nothing, and therefore it will be needleſs go on in the farther Relation of them.

Several Letters and Papers relating to the Iriſh Remonſtrance.

A Letter of Patrick Plunket, Catholick Biſhop of Ardagh, then in France, to his Brother Sir Nicholas Plunket, in full Approbation of the firſt Remonſtrance or Proteſtation of Loyalty offered by Father Walſh. Dated Seez December 2, 1662.

Walſh's Hiſt. of the Iriſh Remonſtrance, Fol. p. 13.

A Letter of John Archbiſhop of Tuam, then at Dinan in France, to the moſt Reverend the Lord Biſhop of Dromore at London, promiſing to communicate the ſaid Remonſtrance to his Brethren in France, and having no Objection to it, but that the Style was ſomewhat reſembling the Oath of Allegiance. Dated Dinan Jan. 30, 1662.

Ibid. p. 15.

The Subſtance of ſeveral Letters written by the Pope's Nuncio at Bruſſels, Hieronymus de Vecchiis, to the Catholick Biſhops and others in Ireland, ſignifying by Direction from his Holineſs, and from the Congregation De Propaganda, the ſaid Remonſtrance to contain Propoſitions co-incident with thoſe condemned by Paul V. long ſince, and lately by Innocent X. and therefore there needed no new Cenſure againſt it. Dated Bruſſels July 21, 1662. And in another Letter, that ſuch a Form of Loyalty would do more Hurt to the Church of God than all former Perſecutions of Hereticks, —— Quam quævis anteacta Hereticorum Perſecutio.

Ibid. p. 16.

A Letter of Cardinal Francis Barberini from Rome, in the Name of the whole Congregation De Propaganda, as Preſident thereof, to the Nobility and Gentry of Ireland, complaining of the Subſcribers to that Remonſtrance as departing from the Faith, &c. Erroris Magiſtri fiunt, qui ſe veritatis Diſcipulos aſſerunt, utque Fidelitatem Regi oſtentent, fidem corrumpant, &c. Dat. Romæ Die 8. Julii, 1662.

Ibid. p. 18.

Some Miniſters put into the Liſt of Sufferers by the Bartholomew Act, who were dead before it.

Contin. p. 58.

Some Miniſters were ſaid to be ejected or ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act (to ſwell the Number of Sufferers) who were really dead before that Time. Dr. Calamy in his Account, p. 38. puts down from his Lectureſhip at Botolph Biſhopſgaty or Aldgate, Mr. John Sympſon a great Antinomian. But in his Continuation he does acknowlege, that he died in June 1662. and ſo ſhould not have been mention'd among the Silenc'd, or Ejected. So again from St. Stephen's Coleman-ſtreet, Mr. Willam Taylor, who ſucceeded Mr. John Goodwyn: When yet the ſame Writer, Dr. Calamy, was better inform'd that this Mr. Taylor died in 1661. and was aſſur'd by one who has ſeen and read it, that his Funeral Sermon by Dr. Spurſtow preached on Sept. 12, 1661. is in Print. He could not therefore be ejected or ſilenc'd by the Act for Uniformity, and ſo ought to be dropp'd. And ſome others who were ſaid to ſuffer by Intention or by Deſignation.

Ibid. p. 58.

Mr Geo. Smallwood Rector of St. Mary le Bow.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 440.

Die 16. Octob. 1662. Georgius Smallwood Cler. coll. ab Archiepiſc. Cant. ad Eccl. S. Mariæ de Arcubus London. —— obiit Anno 1679.

Mr. Rutten ejected or ſilenced at St. Mary le Bow, not legal Incumbent.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 33.

From St. Mary le Bow: Mr. Rutten, a Man of excellent Parts and Learning, of which we have a Specimen in his Sermon on Eternal Judgment, preached before the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen.

And Mr. Walley at White-Chapel; no legal Rector.

Account, p. 33. Contin. p. 34.

From St. Mary White-Chapel: Mr. Walley. A very pious and peaceable Man, who afterwards went over to New-England, where he liv'd much deſir'd, and died greatly lamented, on March 24, 1678-9. [If he were really ejected, a Succeſſor would appear upon the Regiſter, which is only; Radulphus Davenant Clericus admiſſ. ad Eccl. Mariæ Matfellon 27. Nov. 1668. vac. per Reſign. Johannis Johnſon.]

Toleration diſcuſſed, 1670. 4*to* p. 144.

Some few of the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters went over to Holland, and ſome few to New-England, where they behav'd in a much better Manner than thoſe who took Refuge there in former Times. For take the Pains to read Bayly's Diſſuaſive, P. 75. and there you ſhall ſee what Work they made in Holland: Even ſuch, that Peters himſelf was ſcandalized at it, quitted his Congregation, and went to New-England. Bridge, Sampſon, and Ward renounc'd their Engliſh Ordination, and took Ordination again from the People. The People after this depoſed Mr. Ward, and the Schiſm betwixt Sympſon's Church and Bridge's, was ſo fierce, that their Miniſters were fain to quit their Stations, and the Dutch Magiſtrate forc'd to interpoſe the Civil Authority to quiet them. In New-England their Humour and Behaviour not much better (according to the Report of the ſame Author, p. 60, 61.) of forty thouſand Souls not a third Part would be of any Church, and ſuch Hereſies ſtarted, as a Man would tremble to recite. If only ſuch as theſe forſake us, the Land has a good Riddance, &c.

FRIDAY Oct. 17.

Mr. David Barton Rector of St. Margaret's New Fiſh-ſtreet.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond. MS.

David Barton Clericus admiſſus & inſtitutus ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sanctæ Margaretæ in Nova Piſcaria London, vac. per Ceſſionem Georgii Smallwood, S. T. P. ad collat. D. Epiſc. Lond. Die 17. Oct. 1662.

Dr. Robert Porey a great Sufferer.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 83.

Robert Pory, S. T. B. (afterwards D. D.) had been collated by Biſhop Juxon to this Rectory of St. Margaret's New Fiſh-ſtreet, Sept. 28, 1640. and in November following to the Church of Thorly in Hertfordſhire. On the breaking out of the Rebellion, he was ſequeſtred from both theſe Livings, and was likewiſe plundred and forced to fly. Who were the mean Intruders I think does not appear in Dr. Calamy's Account of the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters. In 1660. Dr. Pory was reſtored to it, and upon his Reſignation it was beſtowed on George Smallwood, A. M. who by taking St. Mary le Bow, by Ceſſion made it void for the Acceptance of Mr. David Barton, who is ſuppoſed to have kept it 'till the Fire, after which it was united to St. Magnus.

Mr. Charles Duck, Rector of St. Margaret's Friday-ſtreet.

Reg. Sheldon.

Eodem Die 17. Octob. 1662. Carolus Duck Clericus A. M. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sanctæ Margaretæ in Friday-ſtreet in Civitate London, legitime vacantem ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis admiſſus & inſtitutus.

Account of Mr. Benjamin Needler.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 531. Reg. Sheldon.

The lawful Avoidance of this Living was by the Removal of the laſt Intruder, Mr. Benjamin Needler, Son of Thomas Needler of Lanum (or Lalam) in Middleſex, elected Scholar of St. John's College from Merchant Taylor's School, Ann. 1642. aged eighteen Years; afterwards a Fellow and Cringer to the Preſbyterian Viſitors in 1648. by ſubmitting to their Power, and accepting of (by Way of Creation) the Degree of Batchelor of the Civil Law. Whether he afterwards took Orders from a Biſhop, I know not; ſure I am, that he being a well gifted Brother for Praying and Preaching, he was ſome Years after made Miniſter of Margaret Moſes in Friday-ſtreet, where continuing 'till after his Majeſty's Reſtauration, was ejected for Nonconformity Ann. 1662. He died at North Warnborough in Hampſhire (where for ſome Years he had exerciſed his Function in private) in May or June 1682. and was according to his Will (as I preſume) buried frugally in ſome Church-yard, I think in that of North Warnborough before mentioned. At which Time he left behind him a Son called Culverwell Needler, another named Benjamin, and a Brother-in-law called Richard Culverwell, Miniſter of Grundeſburgh. [From this Name of Culverwell one may conjecture, that Mr. Needler married the Daughter of his Predeceſſor, Mr. Richard Culverwell, A. M. inſtituted Rector of this Church of St. Margaret Moſes, March 30, 1618.]

To this Account Dr. Calamy adds nothing, but that he was in his Senſe a worthy Divine. Account p. 24. but in his Continuation, p. 21. he adds ſomewhat more.

Mr. John Beadle Rector of Bennet Sherehog.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond.

Eodem Die 17. Octob. 1662. Johannes Beadle Clericus A. M. ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sancti Benedicti Sherehog in Civitate London. vac. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis admiſſus.

Account of Dr. Matthew Griffith.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 249. Newcourt, Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 304.

Mr. Griffith Matthew, born of genteel Parents in London, Commoner of Brazen Noſe College in Oxford, took a Degree in Arts as Member of Glouceſter Hall in the Beginning of May 1615. took holy Orders, and ſoon after became Lecturer of St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt. In 1640. 29. April he was inſtituted to this Church of St. Bennet Sherehog. He was likewiſe collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's to the Church of St. Mary Magdalen Old Fiſh-ſtreet; where, ſhewing himſelf a hearty Epiſcopalian, he was in the Beginning of the Rebellion ſequeſtred, plundred, and impriſon'd in Newgate, whence being let out, he was forced to fly, but taken, and afterwards impriſoned in Peter-Houſe, London.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 173.

It does not appear who was the firſt Intruder into this Church; Mr. Walker mentions an Incumbent after Mr. Griffith, viz. Morgan Cadwallader, whoſe Name (ſays he) occurs in the Liſt of the ſequeſtred London Clergy ſo often printed, but nothing is there added to it, ſave that he was dead with Grief.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 37.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 589.

Dr. Calamy in his Account of the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters in 1662. mentions from St. Bennet's Sherehog and Pancras Soper-lane, Mr. Nicholas Lockyer, who had been the Protector's Chaplain, and quickly after King Charles's Reſtauration was deprived of his Provoſtſhip of Eaton College, in which he had ſucceeded Mr. Francis Rouſe. He continu'd preaching occaſionally 'till he died, which was in 1685. Mr. Wood ſays, that upon the Act of Uniformity he loſt an Eccleſiaſtical Benefice, which poſſibly might be this.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 34. Contin. p. 43.

Dr. Calamy likewiſe mentions as ejected or ſilenc'd, from St. Bennet's Sherebog, Mr. Nehemiah Benton, who was M. A. of St. John's College in Cambridge. His obſerving that he is not mentioned by Mr. Newcourt, is a Sign that he was not there lawful Miniſter.

The Papiſts playing faſt and looſe with the Iriſh Remonſtrance, between Love of the King, and fear of the Pope.

Walſh's Hiſt. of the Iriſh Remonſtrance, Fol. p. 42.

An Inſtance in Father Brodin, who went forward and backward with great Inſincerity.

Many of the forward Subſcribers to the Iriſh Remonſtrance or Profeſſion of Loyalty to the King, went back from it, and raiſed Scruples againſt it. Of this Number was one Father Bonaventure Brodin, a Franciſcan, bred in the College of the Iriſh Franciſcans, and Univerſity of Prague in Bohemia, where he taught Divinity for ſome Years; a very unconſtant Perſon. For being come to London in the Beginning of the Year 62. ſoon after that Remonſtrance was publiſhed, and having often and of purpoſe accoſted Father Caron and Father Walſh the Procurator, to move to them, as he did all his ſtrongeſt Objections out of the late School Divines, Bellarmine, Suarez, and ſuch other Maintainers of papal Pretenſions, whether divine or humane, to the Temporals of Kings, and in particular to the Crowns of England or Ireland upon what Pretext ſoever; and having no leſs often from them (as himſelf confeſſed then) received ample Satisfaction in every particular; and therefore reſolved to ſubſcribe, &c. yet after all this, had ſecret Conventicles at London to diſſuade the Nobility and Gentry from concurring, by putting into their Heads many Chimæra's againſt it. And when this was found out by the Procurator, and objected to him ſo as he could not deny it, he returned again to his former Profeſſion, craved Pardon on his Knees of the Procurator, in the Preſence of others, upon his Departure for Paris; and renewed his Promiſes never more to expoſe, but perſuade others all he could of the Chriſtian Sincerity and Catholickneſs of it. Yet the ſecond Time getting himſelf from France to Flanders, relapſed again, raiſing all the Scandal he could there, even alſo by writing a Book againſt it; though he could not get Leave for the Printing of it.

Newcourt's Vol. II. c. 424.

Octob. 17. 1662. Jacobus Houblon, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Moreton Com. Eſſex. vac. per Inconformitatem Edmundi Calamy ad preſ. Caroli Comitis Warwic. —— Obiit Anno 1698.

Mr. Edm. Calamy Son and Father of Edmund, had been ordained by ſome Countrey Miniſters Nov. 10, 1653. while an Undergraduate. He was preſented to the Rectory of Moreton Com. Eſſex. by the Truſtees of Robert Earl of Warwick Apr. 20, 1659.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 302.

Mr. Edmund Calamy, M. A. ſome Time Fellow of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge. Eldeſt Son of Mr. Calamy of Aldermanbury. After his Ejectment he retired to London, where he for ſome Years kept a Meeting in his own Houſe in Aldermanbury, when King Charles put forth his Declaration for Indulgence, he ſet up a publick Meeting in Curriers Hall near Cripplegate. He continued his Labours there as long as the Times would permit. —— He died of a Conſumption in May 1685. and was ſucceeded by Mr. Borfet, leaving Edmund Calamy his Son, afterwards Doctor of Divinity in Scotland, a Teacher in Weſtminſter, and a conſiderable Writer.

SATURDAY Oct. 18.

The Popiſh Clergy in England vindicate themſelves from obſtructing the Remonſtrance in Ireland.

P. Walſh's Hiſt. of Iriſh Remonſtrance, Fol. p. 56.

A Letter of Dr. Humphrey Ellice, Dean of the Chapter of the Catholick Clergy in England and Wales, to the Right Reverend Father in God Oliver Lord Biſhop of Dromore, to vindicate himſelf and Brethren from the Imputation laid upon them, of obſtructing the Subſcriptions of the Iriſh Catholick Clergy to the Declaration of Allegiance exhibited to his Majeſty King Charles II. Dated London Octob. 18, 1662.

Mr. Will. Skingle Vicar of Stebbing in Eſſex.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 551.

Die 18. Oct. 1662. Willelmus Skingle Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stebbing Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Johannis Sorrel Gen.

Mr. Sam. Bantoft.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 310.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex. Stebbing; Mr. Samuel Bantoft, B. D. He was many Years Fellow of Jeſus College in Cambridge, and ſome Time Preſident. He was a noted Univerſity Preacher. A Man of profound Judgment, and great Senſe, and yet much Modeſty and Candour in his Converſation: Eminently pious, acceptable, and uſeful. He preach'd for ſome Time after 62. at Braintre, but was forced from thence to London, and there proſecuted to an Excommunication. He removed afterwards to Ipſwich, but never undertook any paſtoral Charge. He died there Aug. 21, 1692. in the 73d Year of his Age. Mr. Angel was alſo ſilenc'd at the ſame Place.

The Surrendry of Dunkirk to the French King.

Copy of the Treaty for the Surrendry of Dunkirk to the French King.

MS. 8vo. E. E. p. 60.

Lewis by the Grace of God King of France and Navarre, to all thoſe to whom theſe Preſents ſhall come, greeting. The Count d'Eſtrades Knight of our Orders, and one of the Lieutenants General of our Armies, having by Virtue of the Powers received from us, diſpatch'd, concluded, and compleated the following Treaty in our Name at London, on the twenty ſeventh of this inſtant October, with the Commiſſioners deputed by our moſt dear and moſt beloved Brother the King of Great-Britain.

The King of Great-Britain to increaſe his Friendſhip with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty.

The King of Great-Britain being deſirous more and more to increaſe the Friendſhip already contracted with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, has thought himſelf obliged to give ear to the Propoſals made to him on his Part, to treat upon reaſonable Conditions concerning the Town and Citadel of Dunkirk, and to embrace the ſame as the moſt agreeable and efficacious Means to perpetuate the good Underſtanding he is deſirous to propagate with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and which is ſo neceſſary for the Good of his Subjects, and the common Tranquillity of both Nations; and after ſeveral Conferences had been held on this Occaſion with the Count d'Eſtrades, Knight of the moſt Chriſtian King's Orders, heretofore his Ambaſſadour extraordinary in Holland, the following Articles have been agreed on in the moſt Chriſtian King's Name by the Count d'Eſtrades, with the Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellour of England, the Earl of Southampton Lord High Treaſurer of England, the Duke of Albemarle, and the Earl of Sandwich in the Name of the King of Great-Britain, and by Virtue of the Powers given them, and inſerted at the End of this Treaty.

The Articles of this Treaty.

I. Dunkirk in the Condition it now is to be put into the Hands of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty.

I. In the firſt Place it is concluded and agreed, that the Town of Dunkirk, together with its Citadel, Redoubts, old and new Fortifications, and in general, every thing that makes up the Body of the Place, the Out-works, Counterſcarps, Rights of Sovereignty, Sluices, Dams, Ports and Havens, Lands and Properties, Appurtenances, annexed Dependencies, Territories and Countries belonging thereunto, the whole in the Condition now it is, ſhall be put into the Hands of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, or ſuch Commiſſioners as he ſhall appoint and furniſh with a full Power for that End, within fifteen Days, to reckon from the Date of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty's Ratification of this Treaty, or ſooner if it can be done. —— with all the Materials, together with all the Artillery and Ammunition of War, —— with the Fort of Mardyke, the wooden Fort, the great and ſmall Forts between Dunkirk and Fort St. Wenox. ——

For the Sum of ſeven Millions of Livres; two Millions to be paid on the Place, two Millions to be ſhipp'd for England, and the other three Millions to be paid in two Years following.

VI. That the ſaid Bargain and Sale is made in Conſideration of the Sum of ſeven Millions of Livres, according to the Computation and Value of French Money, and the preſent Currency thereof, viz. a Silver Crown at ſixty Sols. Of which Sum two Millions of Livres ſhall be paid down in the ſaid Place, at the ſame Time, that it ſhall be put into the Hands of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty or his Commiſſioners; two Millions ſhall be carried and put on board the Ships which the ſaid King of Great-Britain ſhall ſend into Havens of the ſaid Place for that Purpoſe; and thoſe Ships ſhall have Liberty when they think fit to go out of it. And the other three Millions remaining ſhall be paid in the two Years following, viz. fifteen hundred thouſand Livres each, at four Payments every three Months; the three firſt to be of four hundred thouſand Livres each, the laſt of three hundred thouſand, making up in the whole the ſaid three Millions in the Space of the ſaid two Years; which Payments in the ſaid two Years ſhall be made in the Town of Dunkirk, to thoſe who ſhall be empowered to receive it by the King of Great-Britain; and ſufficient Security ſhall be given at London for the due and faithful Performance of the ſame.

Payable in Dunkirk.

The King of England to warrant the Place for two Years, againſt the King of Spain.

VIII. And foraſmuch as his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty hath deſir'd, that the ſaid King of Great-Britain would warrant the Sale of the ſaid Town of Dunkirk, it is covenanted and agreed, that the ſaid King of Great-Britain doth warrant the ſaid Place of Dunkirk, with all its Circumſtances and Dependencies, for the Space of two Years only, to the moſt Chriſtian King, and to that End does oblige himſelf, that in Caſe the King of Spain, from whom it was taken by the Right of Arms, ſhould happen during that Time, or any other Aggreſſor, to diſpute the Matter with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and by open Force to lay Siege to the ſame, the King of Great-Britain in that Caſe does oblige himſelf and promiſe, that he will, during the Space of two Years only, as aforeſaid, and no longer, defend it in Conjunction with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and engage to furniſh as numerous a Fleet of Ships as ſhall be adjudged ſufficient for preſerving a free Paſſage to it, to the Seaward, by which thoſe Succours that are adjudged neceſſary may be thrown in.

And if it ſhould be taken by Spain, the King of England to furniſh a Fleet for the retaking of it.

IX. And if it ſhould ſo happen, that notwithſtanding all the Reſiſtance made by the ſame Place, and the Efforts made by the two Kings for ſuccouring it, it ſhould be taken by the King of Spain, either by open Force or Surprize and Intelligence, the ſaid King of Great-Britain does in like Manner oblige himſelf and promiſes during the ſaid two Years only, to furniſh a conſiderable Fleet towards the retaking of it, and ſuch a Number of Ships as ſhall be thought ſufficient to make him Maſter of the Sea, and the Mouth of the Harbour, and to concur in good earneſt with his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty in this Deſign. Concluding.]

And the Engliſh Commiſſioners by Name to be Guarantees of this Treaty.

The Points and Articles abovenamed, together with every Thing contain'd in any or all of them, have been treated of, agreed, paſſed and ſtipulated, viz. between the ſaid Count d'Eſtrades, for and in the Name of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and the Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellor of England, the Earl of Southampton Lord High Treaſurer, the Duke of Albemarle, and the Earl of Sandwich, for and in the Name of the King of Great-Britain, as Commiſſioners choſen for that end by their Majeſties, who by virtue of the Powers given them, have promiſed, and do promiſe, under the Obligation and Engagement of all and ſingular the Goods and Eſtates now or at any Time hereafter poſſeſſed by the Kings their reſpective Maſters, that they ſhall be inviolably obſerved and accompliſh'd by their Majeſties, and that they will cauſe the ſame to be exactly and ſincerely ratify'd, without any Addition, Diminution, or Curtailing; and of which they ſhall mutually deliver to and receive of each other, authentick and ſealed Letters, wherein all that is contained in this preſent Treaty ſhall be inſerted Word for Word, and that within fifteen Days after the Date of theſe Preſents, and ſooner if it can be done. In Witneſs whereof we the Commiſſioners abovenamed have ſubſcribed this Treaty, and ſet our Seals to it. Done at London, Oct. 27, 1662.

Dunkirk given up to the French King.

Lettres du Comte d'Eſtrades, 8vo. 1719.

After Commiſſions and full Powers granted on the Part of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty to the Count d'Eſtrades, and on the Part of the King of Great-Britain to the Earl of Clarendon Lord Chancellor, the Earl of Southampton Lord Treaſurer, the Duke of Albemarle Lord General, and the Earl of Sandwich, to treat and conclude, &c. the Treaty of Sale was ſign'd at London October $\frac{17}{27}$, 1662. And the ſame Day the Count d'Eſtrades writes to his Maſter, that he had at laſt ſurmounted all Difficulties, and they had ſign'd the Treaty which he ſent by this Expreſs: That the Chancellor had ſuffered moſt in the Conteſts about it, that the other Commiſſioners themſelves had endeavoured to break it off, but the King of England kept to his Reſolutions. —— That the Spaniards were much offended at it: —— That Letters from Bruges, Guant, and Antwerp were full of Complaints upon it. —— That a great Number of the London Merchants had come up to Whitehall to complain of it, and of the Grievances and Loſſes they ſhould ſuffer by it. —— That Mr. Beling had the greateſt Share in the Conduct of this Negotiation, and it would be juſt to give him ſome Mark of his Royal Bounty. —— That he would explain to his Majeſty the whole Intrigues of the Engliſh Court, when he ſhould have the Honour to wait upon him.

The Chancellor moſt for it.
The other Commiſſioners againſt it.
The King reſolved upon it.
Flanders complain'd greatly of it.

Mr. Beling*'s Conduct in it deſerv'd ſome Mark of the* French King's Royal Bounty.
Great Intrigues at Court.

The Inſults of the Sieur Priolo on this Occaſion.

Tranſlated by Chriſt. Waſe, London, 8vo. 1671.

An inſulting Reflection of the Sieur Priolo in his Hiſtory of France under the Miniſtry of Cardinal Mazarine. —— It may be called a Victory without Blood, when the King bought of the Engliſh Dunkirk for ready Money. What Matters it, whether ſo ſtrong, ſo conſiderable Gariſons come by Gold or by Steel? While the Nation planted in the Kingdom of Neptune is excluded from the Continent.

This Sale of Dunkirk an Effect of the Match with Portugal.

Echard's Hiſt. Ch. II. Fol. p. 84.

One Effect of the Marriage with the Infanta of Portugal was the Sale of Dunkirk, which happen'd not long after the Conſummation of it; of which the Foundation was laid by the very Treaty itſelf: For the Portugueze had ſo far prevail'd, that by the nineteenth Article of the ſaid Treaty, it was expreſly ſtipulated, "that Dunkirk ſhould never be parted withal to the Spaniard," which gave France a fair Opportunity to cloſe with the King, and to make a Bargain with him at a Time when he wanted ready Money for the extraordinary Expences of this Year, and particularly the Payment of his Siſter's Portion. Many Reaſons were urg'd for the parting with this important Place, and the firſt Motive to the King, as I am aſſur'd by a knowing Man, was the great Expence in the keeping of it, which Rutherford the Governor had encreas'd to an exorbitant Degree ſince the Diſmiſſion of Sir Edward Harley. And the Earl of Sandwich particularly alledg'd to his Majeſty, that the Coaſt was generally ſo tempeſtuous, and the Grounds ſo rolling upon every Storm, that there never would remain a certain Steerage to that Port. Theſe and other Reaſons being alledg'd in Council, tho' oppos'd by Chancellor Clarendon, and Treaſurer Southampton, the King was content to deliver up the Town and Port of Dunkirk, with all the Ordnance and Ammunition, for the Sum of five hundred thouſand Pounds Sterling, one half to be paid down, and the other in a ſhort Time after. Several Books were written in Vindication of the Sale, ſhewing how uſeleſs the Place was to England, unleſs Millions of Money were expended upon it; and at this Time we do not find many Complaints either againſt this, or the Portugal Match. But when the ill Effects of both began afterwards to appear, as the increaſing Power of France, and the Queen's want of Iſſue, great Outcries were made, and Chancellor Hyde was unreaſonably charg'd with the Scandal of both, when he was really free from the Guilt or rather Misfortune of either.

Not oppos'd but promoted by Chancellor Clarendon.

True of the Portugal Match: Not ſo in the Caſe of Dunkirk.

Lord Chancellor not vindicated in this unhappy Affair by his own Son.

[It is very remarkable, that in the noble Preface to the firſt Volume of the Lord Clarendon's Hiſtory, and in the Epiſtles Dedicatory to the Queen prefixed to the other two Volumes, wherein all Juſtice and Honour is done by the Son to the Father, and the common Imputations upon his Memory are ſo clearly taken off, there is not a Word ſaid of this Matter of Dunkirk; as either not wanting or not well bearing, a Vindication of his Conduct in it.]

Dunkirk-Houſe was no Argument of his Corruption; and yet argued a ſhrewd Suſpicion the People had of him.

Ibid. p. 192.

There was one unpopular Act of the Lord Clarendon not to be forgot, becauſe it had a great Influence in a ſhort Time: And this was the building a very ſtately large Houſe by the Park, call'd Clarendon-Houſe, which in a little Time obtain'd the Name of Dunkirk-Houſe, as tho' it had been built by the Money taken for the Sale of that Place. This Houſe was built in the Chancellor's Ab ſence in the Plague Year, principally at the Charge of the Vintners Company, who deſigning to monopolize his Favour, made it abundantly more large and magnificent than ever he intended or deſired. And I have been aſſured by an unqueſtionable Hand, that when he came to ſee the Caſe of that Houſe, he rather ſubmitted than conſented, and with a Sigh ſaid, this Houſe will one Day be my Ruin!

Biſhop Burnet's Account of this Affair.

Count Schomberg in Favour and Familiarity with King Charles II.

Bp. Burnet's Hiſt. Ch. II. p. 172.

As the Treaty with Portugal went on, France did engage in the Concerns of that Crown, tho' they had by Treaty promiſed the contrary to the Spaniards. —— When Count Schomberg paſs'd thro' England, to concert with the King the Matters of Portugal, and the Supply that was to be ſent thither from England, he told me, that the King had admitted him into great Familiarities at Paris, and that he had now much free Diſcourſe with him.—— What he preſs'd moſt on the King, as the Buſineſs then in Agitation, was concerning the Sale of Dunkirk. The Spaniards pretended it ought to be reſtored to them, ſince it was taken from them by Cromwell, when they had the King and his Brothers in their Armies: But that was not much regarded. The French pretended that by their Agreement with Cromwell, he was only to hold it till they had repaid the Charge of the War: Therefore they offering to lay that down, ought to have the Place delivered to them: The King was in no ſort bound by this. So the Matter under Debate was, whether it ought to be kept or ſold? The military Men, who were believed to be corrupted by France, ſaid, the Place was not tenable; that in Time of Peace it would put the King to great Charge, and in Time of War it would not quit the Coſt of keeping it. The Earl of Clarendon ſaid, he underſtood not thoſe Matters, but appealed to Monk's Judgment, who did poſitively adviſe the letting it go for the Sum that France offered. To make the Buſineſs go the eaſier, the King promiſed that he would lay up all the Money in the Tower, and that it ſhould not be touched, but upon extraordinary Occaſions. Schomberg advis'd in Oppoſition to all this, that the King ſhould keep it; for conſidering the naval Power of England, it could not be taken. He knew, that tho' France ſpoke big, as if they would break with England, unleſs that were delivered up, yet they were far from the Thoughts of it. He had conſider'd the Place well, and he was ſure it could never be taken, as long as England was Maſter of the Sea. The holding it would keep both France and Spain in a Dependance upon the King. But he was ſingular in that Opinion, ſo it was ſold; and all the Money that was paid for it was immediately ſquandred away among the Miſtreſs's Creatures.

A Pretence of the French that they had agreed with Cromwell to deliver the Place.

Clarendon here ſaid to appeal to Monk, who poſitively adviſ'd to ſell it.

Schomberg with great Wiſdom againſt it.

The ill Conſequences.

And the Blame caſt chiefly on the Lord Clarendon.

By this the King loſt his Reputation abroad. The Court was believed venal. And becauſe the Earl of Clarendon was in greateſt Credit, the Blame was caſt chiefly on him, tho' his Son aſſured me he kept himſelf out of that Affair entirely.

Articles of Peace with Tripoli.

Articles of Peace betwixt his ſacred Majeſty Charles the Second, King of Great-Britain, &c. and the moſt excellent Oſman Baſſa, and the People of the noble City and Kingdom of Tripoli, concluded by Sir John Lawſon, Knt. the 18th of October 1662.

Printed at large in Publick Intelligence by Authority, N°. 47. 4^to.

SUNDAY Oct. 19.

Mr. Rich. Watts Rector of Morecot.

1662. 19. Octob. Richardus Watts Clericus, admiſſ. ad Rect. de Morecot in Com. Rutl. vac. per mort. Richardi Watts ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Henrici Herendon Patroni. Reg. Laney.

1624. 19. Nov. Richardus Watts Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Morecote Com. Rutl. vac. per reſign. Willielmi Collinſon ult. Incumb. ad preſ. ven. Viri Franciſci Harvy Armig. Servientis ad Legem. Reg. Dove.

1663. 27. Maii. Gulielmus Halls Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. de Morecot Com. Rutl. ad preſ. Matthei Hutton gen. pro hac vice Patroni, vac. per mort. Richardi Watts ult. Incumb. Reg. Henſhaw.

MONDAY Oct. 20.

Publick Intelligence, 4^to.

Adviſed from Cheſter, that the Lord Biſhop of Bangor, in his late Viſitation throughout his Dioceſe had found only one Perſon that had ſubmitted to Preſbyterian Ordination, and he ſenſible of the Invalidity thereof had renounced it: So that in all that Dioceſe there was not one Miniſter unconformable. And that the Biſhop in this Viſitation was accompanied by a numerous Clergy, with divers worthy noble and loyal Gentry, amongſt whom was the High-Sheriff of the County of Caernarvon, Sir Griffith Williams; both Parties, Eccleſiaſtical and Civil, congratulating ſuch a Reſult of all their late Years Miſery.

The Moderation of the Biſhops upon the Act of Uniformity.

Conformiſts Plea for Nonconformity, 4^to. 1681. p. 35.

Several of the Biſhops grew very gentle. I begin within my own Knowledge, or good Information. I ſhall not need to ſpeak of Biſhops Monk and Gauden, nor of Reynolds, who carried the Wounds of the Church in his Heart and Bowels to the Grave with him, as is well known to many that knew him, but ſpeak of the moſt Rigorous at firſt Hand.

Biſhop Laney of Peterborough.

Dr. Laney, firſt Biſhop of Peterborough, who had made a great Buſtle in the Croud of aſpiring Men at Cambridge, — was very moderate in his Government. In his prime Viſitation, (as I have heard one ſpeak that was by) before Bartholomew, he in his Chamber told ſome of his Clergy what he came about, and as tho' he would wipe his Hands ſaid, οὐκ ἐγὼ, ἀλλὰ νόμος, not I, but the Law; and could (to uſe his own Phraſe to a ſcrupulous Perſon) look through his Fingers, and ſuffer a worthy Non-Conformiſt to preach publickly very near him, for ſome Years together, after his Remove to another Biſhoprick.

Biſhop Sanderſon of Lincoln.

Biſhop Saunderſon was ſevere, and troubled long with a ſharp Diſeaſe, which might exaſperate his Mind, he had a Roll of Miniſters under his angry Eye deſigned for Diſcipline; but when he drew nigh to his latter End, he commanded that Roll to be burnt, and ſaid, he would die in Peace.

Biſhop Earle of Saliſbury.

Dr. Earle, Biſhop of Saliſbury, was a Man that could do Good againſt Evil, forgive much out of a charitable Heart. He died to the no great Sorrow of them, who reckoned his Death was juſt, for labouring all his Might againſt the Oxford five Mile Act.

Biſhop Coſin of Durham.

But moſt remarkable is that Paſſage in the laſt Teſtament, printed both in Engliſh and Latin, of the learned Dr. Coſins Biſhop of Dureſme: He leaves a Mark upon the Preſbyterian, to ſatisfy us that he was none; but tells the Church, that our great and main Work is to unite. The Paſſage deſerves tranſcribing, viz. "I take it to be my Duty, and of all my Brethren, eſpecially the Biſhops and "Miniſters of the Church of God, to do our utmoſt Endeavours, according "to the Meaſure of Grace which is given to every one of us, that at laſt an End "may be put to the Differences of Religion, or at leaſt that they may be leſſened."

Biſhop Wilkins of Cheſter.

The wiſe and good Biſhop Wilkins was of a peaceable Spirit, and took Comfort in his healing Endeavours upon his Death-Bed, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 123.

Mr. James Bradſhaw, born in Darcy-Leaver, train'd up in Oxon. Miniſter at Wigan in Lancaſhire, called thence to Maxfield, where the Act of Uniformity ſilenc'd him. Then he liv'd in his own Houſe in Darcy-Leaver, and obtain'd Liberty for a while to preach publickly at Haughton Chapel in Dean Pariſh, and afterwards at Bradſhaw Chapel, by the Connivance of Mr. —— Bradſhaw of Bradſhaw Hall, reading ſome of the Prayers without ever ſubſcribing. He died in May 1683. ætat. 73.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 308.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 573.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex, Dr. Calamy mentions, Much Tay, Mr. Green. Who could not be ejected by the Bartholomew Act, becauſe Mr. Zachary Rogers became poſſeſs'd of that Vicarage Apr. 1, 1662. and continu'd Vicar there in 1700.

Tuesday Oct. 21.

Dr. Thomas Hodges Rector of St. Peter's Cornhill; who had been once of the Aſſembly of Divines, and a Parliament Preacher.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Thomas Hodges, S. T. P. admiſſus eſt ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sancti Petri Cornhill London. modo vacantem ad preſentationem diſcreti viri Nicolai Rainton Armigeri. —— Idem ad preſ. Majoris & Commun. Civitat. London.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 526.

This Thomas Hodges was collated to the Vicarage of Kenſington in Middleſex, June 11, 1641. He was a Preacher ſometimes before the Long Parliament, one of the Aſſembly of Divines, and a Covenanter. After the Reſtauration of King Charles [he was Chaplain to the Houſe of Lords, and at their Requeſt] was made Dean of Hereford, Ann. 1661. and now Rector of this Pariſh. Which Preferments became void by Death before Nov. 22, 1672.

Dr. Will. Fairfax.

Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, P. II p. 168.

Vicar likewiſe of Eaſt-Ham in Middleſex, and Chaplain to King Charles I.

The laſt regular and legal Incumbent before the Wars was Dr. William Fairfax, originally of the Univerſity of Cambridge, and came to the Living of St. Peter's Cornhill in the Year 1626. if I miſtake not. He is one of White's ſcandalous and malignant Prieſts, in whoſe infamous Century the Cauſes of his Sequeſtration are thus aſſigned, that he refuſed to adminiſter the Sacrament but at the Rails, that he uſed to play at Cards on the Sabbath-Day, that he refuſed to admit Lecturers into his Houſe, —— and that he had charg'd the Parliament to be the Cauſe of all the Troubles and Diſturbances in the Kingdom: As alſo that he had neglected his Cure, and ſupply'd it with ſcandalous Curates. Notwithſtanding which heavy Charge, I have heard the late moſt learned and pious Biſhop of St. Aſaph (one of his Succeſſors in this Living) ſay, that he was an honeſt old Gentleman. He was diſpoſſeſs'd of this Living by the Houſe of Commons about Auguſt 1643. at which Time Thomas Coleman was ſubſtituted in his Room by the ſame Authority. After his Sequeſtration he was alſo plundered and impriſoned in Southwark, in Ely-Houſe, in the Tower, and on Ship-board; and died in 1655.

With Wife and Children turn'd out of Doors. Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 346.

Mr. Thomas Coleman, an Eraſtian Independent.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 52.

That firſt Intruder Thomas Coleman was born in Oxford, entred of Magdalen Hall in the beginning of 1615. aged 17. took the Degrees in Arts, holy Orders, and became ſo accompliſh'd in the Hebrew Language, that he was commonly called Rabbi Coleman. Afterwards he was made Rector of Blyton in Lincolnſhire, but being ſchiſmatically enclined, he left that Place in 1642. and retiring to the great City, became a grand Covenanter, an Inveigher againſt the King and his Party, againſt the Biſhops and orthodox Clergy, one of the Aſſembly of Divines, Rector of St. Peter's Church in Cornhill in the Place of a loyal Doctor ejected, and a Preacher before the Parliament, —— inclin'd to the Tenets of Eraſtus, and to the Independents. —— He died ſuddenly about the Beginning of 1647. The next Intruder is ſuppos'd to have been Mr. William Blackmore, whom Dr. Calamy repreſents as ejected from St. Peter's Cornhill; and that he was impriſon'd in the Tower upon Love's Plot, was Scribe to the Provincial Aſſembly of London, and a conſiderable Man.

Abridgment, of Mr. Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 35.

The Non-Conformiſts fail in their Expectation of the King's Indulgence to diſpence with the Act of Uniformity.

Myſtery and Iniquity of Nonconformity, 1664. p. 56.

C. Well, but his Majeſty is reſolved, and the Law indiſpenſable.

And fall into Ways of keeping up the Hearts of the Party.

D. P. When they ſaw that, 1. They take an Account of the ejected Miniſters through every County. 2. They take the Subſcriptions of ſeveral well-affected Perſons towards the Maintenance of thoſe ejected Perſons, eſpecially of the elect Ladies. 3. They have Countrey and City Committees for that Purpoſe, together with their Treaſurers in both Places; by whoſe Order the Money is delivered to the reſpective ejected Men, according to their Conditions, provided they have good Certificates of their Sufferings and Faithfulneſs.

Eſpecially by printing and reprinting the Farewel Sermons.

And then to keep the Cauſe in Heart and Life, the Farewel Sermons are printed firſt ſingly, and then in Volumes, as the dying Words of the faithful Paſtors, whoſe Heads are ſet before their Sermons, juſt as they looked from the Pulpit, wrapped in their reverend black and white Caps, like the twelve Apoſtles before the Bible. —— After this a Seed Plot of honeſt young Men were to conform as their Fathers had done formerly, and ſo undermine the Hierarchy once more, as they did; who were to be choſen Lecturers (for the Lecturers are their only Hope) for the Faction would be quite over, if the Miniſtry depended for its Maintenance only upon the Church.

Account of ſome Miniſters ejected or ſilenced, as reported by Dr. Calamy.

Two different Accounts given of Mr. Lloyde or Flood, ejected from Woodford in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, where is a Rectory of two Medieties, not two Pariſh Churches.

The Regiſters of the See ſhew, that two of the Name of Lloyd had been poſſeſs'd of a Moiety of this Church; and the third Will. Lloyd, tho' it does not appear how he came in, yet he went out by his own Reſignation, not in being ejected or there ſilenc'd, tho' poſſibly he was afterwards a Nonconformiſt.

Woodford Com. Northampt. Ejected Mr. Floyde, commonly called Doctor, becauſe of his practiſing Phyſick: But I know not whether he ever took his Degree. He was a very good Scholar and a uſeful Preacher. He liv'd ſome Time after his Ejection for a while at Ipſwich in Suffolk, where he hath left a good Name behind him.

Account, &c. by Dr. Calamy, p. 431.

It was Mr. William Flood. There are at this Place two Pariſh Churches, and two diſtinct Livings, and Mr. Flood had both given him by the Lord St. John of Melchburn. He had a very ſmiling Countenance, and was much commended as a Preacher: Well belov'd by his Neighbours, and reckon'd one of the greateſt Scholars in the County. After his being ejected and leaving theſe Parts, he would now and then go and viſit and preach for his old Neighbour Mr. Whiting of Cranford.

*Contin. p.*636.

1608. 25. Jan. Hugo Lloyd Cler. A. M. admiſſ. ad Medietatem Rectoriæ Eccl. Paroch. de Woodford ubi Edwardus Ball nuper fuit Incumb. & ante eum Johannes Stile, ad preſ. Jacobi Regis per lapſum temporis.

Reg. Dove, Petriburg.

1629. 15. Dec. Thomas Lloyd Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad medietatem Rectoriæ de Woodford, ad preſ. ven. viri Domini Rowlandi St. John Militis Balnei legitime vacantem.

Reg. Dove.

1638. 30. Martii. Willelmus Beecher Cler. A. M. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Woodford ubi Magiſter Hugo Lloyd nuper fuit Incumbens ad preſ. ven. viri Rowlandi St. John Mil. Balnei vac. per reſign. ult. Incumb.

Reg. Dee, Petriburg.

1660. 2. Feb. Johannes Ixem Cler. A. M. admiſſ. ad medietatem Rectoriæ de Woodford, vac. per reſignationem Willelmi Lloyd ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Oliveri Comitis Bollingbroke.

Reg. Laney, Petriburg.

Mr. Raymond of Ringſtead or Denford cum Ringſtead.

It does not appear upon the Biſhop's Regiſters how or when Mr. Raymond came in, or who ſucceeded him.

Ringhead Com. Northampt. Mr. Raymond a very affectionate Preacher, zealous againſt the Errors of the Times.

Account by Dr. Calamy, p. 492.

It ſhould be Ringſtead, which was his Living and Denford too, both together making about 40 or 50*l.* a Year. He was an able Preacher, and bold as a Lyon. He died not long after his Ejectment in the ſeventieth Year of his Age. I cannot hear of his preaching after he was caſt out of his Living: But he liv'd privately in the Place where he was ejected till he died, and his Family was well provided for: He had two Sons whom he bred to the Miniſtry that conform'd.

*Continuation of Account, p.*637.

The firſt Entry after 1660. is this: 1673. 12. Maii. Samuel Lee Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Denford cum Ringſted ad coll. Epiſcopi per lapſum temporis.

Reg. Henſhaw, Petriburg.

Mr. Tho. Andrews ejected from Wellingborough.

It does not appear upon the Regiſter, how or when he came in, or by whom he was ſucceeded. The firſt Entry after the King's Return is: 1665. 20. Dec. Tho. Welchman Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Wellingborough Com. Northampt. ad preſ. Domini Brookes.

Wellingborough Com. Northampt. Mr. Thomas Andrews, a Cantabrigian, but of what Houſe I cannot learn. A Man of great Courage and Boldneſs. After his Settlement in this Living (which was given him by the Lord or Lady Brook) he often had Diſturbance from the Soldiers that quarter'd in the Town, and once two of them had form'd a Deſign to ſtab him in his Bed, but they were prevented. He had Trouble here alſo from the Quakers, who would come into the Church and diſturb him as he was preaching: And he would not proceed till the Officers carried them out of the Church. When the Act of Uniformity took Place, he retir'd to Meers-Aſhby, where he preach'd at Mr. Preſton's in the Night. He preach'd alſo often at the Lady Tyrrel's. —— His Frugality while he continu'd the Incumbent, ſav'd him ſome hundreds of Pounds againſt his Ejectment: So that he was better provided for than many of his Brethren. Archdeacon Palmer, his Wife's Brother, much preſs'd him to conform, but he was not to be prevail'd with. However he took the Oxford Oath, and ſo liv'd quietly at Aſhby. His Son John conform'd, and was Miniſter of Yaxley near Peterborough.

Dr. Calamy's *Contin. p.*637.

Mr. Tho. Coleſton.

1632. 26. Maii, Georgius Lawſon Cler. A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Meres-Aſhby Com. Northampt. ad preſ. Tho. Cook Clerici, S. T. B. vac. per mort. Johannis Garret ult. Incumb. Reg. Piers Petrib.

1660. 10. Jan. Gulielmus Holmes Cler. ad Vic. de Meres-Aſhby, vac. per reſign. Georgii Lawſon ult. Vic. ad preſ. Georgii Harris Patroni ejuſd.

Meres-Aſhby. Mr. Thomas Coleſton. It ſhould be Mr. Richard Colſton, born at Woolaſton and bred at Cambridge. When he came from the Univerſity, he kept a School at the Place of his Nativity, and preach'd about the Countrey with good Acceptance. At length he ſettled in this Town, where he was well-belov'd by his Pariſhioners, but did not continue in the Living above three or four Years. Mr. Holmes, who came to it at the Reſtoration, ſays he was ſettled here by Mr. George Lawſon, (whoſe ſequeſtred Living this had been) offer'd to continue him as his Curate: But he return'd to his Parents at Woolaſton, and not long after died of a Conſumption, being between thirty and forty Years of Age.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 492. *Contin. p.*639.

Mr. George Lawſon, A. M. Vicar of Meres-Aſhby was much harraſſed and abuſed before he left his Living. He ſupported himſelf afterwards by keeping a School at Houghton-Conqueſt in Bedfordſhire. He lived to claim his Living again on the Reſtoration, and then ſettled one Mr. Holmes in it. He was a Man of good Learning and ſober Converſation.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*306.

It does not appear upon the Regiſters who was Vicar of Deſborough from 1626. to 1681.

From Deſborough near Rowell, Mr. Thomas Browning. A remarkable Story in which this Mr. Browning was concern'd, may be met with in the *Conformiſt's fourth Plea for the Nonconformiſts, p.*83. In the latter Part of his Life he had a great great deal of Trouble from his Neighbour Mr. Richard Davis, who with his odd Notions, and dividing Principles and Practices, gave no ſmall Diſturbance to all the Miniſters and Congregations round him, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 493. *Contin. p.*638.

Nor who was Vicar of Oundle from Mr. Arthur Smith 1621. to Mr. Thomas Oley 1679.

Oundle Com. Northampt. Mr. Richard Reſbury. He laid down ſix Weeks before Bartholomew Day. He preach'd afterwards at his own hir'd Houſe at Oundle, practiſ'd Phyſick with good Succeſs, and was adviſ'd with by Perſons of all Ranks, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 493. Contin. p. 639.

1665. 18. Aug. Henricus Alden Cler. A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Cotterſtock, vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad pref. Johannis Norton gen. Reg. Henſhaw.

Cotterſtock. Mr. Malkinſon. Bred up in Emanuel College in Cambridge under Dr. Tuckney. He was one of the Lecturers at Oundle. He liv'd at the Place where he was ſilenc'd to the Day of his Death. Juſtice Norton was very much his Friend, both while he was in his Living, and when he was out of it. [It does not appear that this ſmall Living was fill'd till 1665.]

Account, p. 495. Contin. p. 639.

Neither he nor any immediate Succeſſor to be found in the Regiſters of the See.

Killeſby. Mr. Worth. Born in Woolſtone Pariſh near Coventry. He was ejected out of a Sequeſtration at Bourton upon Duniſmore in Warwickſhire, and afterwards out of this Place by the Bartholomew Act. After his Ejectment he preach'd for a while at Daventry, and afterwards at Chipping-norton.

Ibid.

Mr. Crofts, Vicar of Daventry appear'd in the Biſhop's Viſitation 1663.

Daventry. Mr. Timothy Dod, Son of the famous Mr. John Dod of Fawſley. Mr. Crofts had the Vicarage, and Mr. Dod was only Lecturer. —— He remov'd from Daventry to Egerton, upon the Occaſion of a great Sickneſs at Daventry, and his own great Diſorder. But ſoon after died there about the Time of the Plague in 1665. He bred up his Son John to the Miniſtry, and he conform'd.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 640.

I have heard of no ſuch Place or Perſon in this County.

Cheſter Com. Northampt. Mr. Strickland Negus. An holy good Man, and very uſeful Preacher. He was one of the Thurſday Lecturers at Oundle.

1631. 24 Dec. Joſephus Bentham Cler. A. M. ad Rect. de Broughton vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad pref. D. Edwardi Mountague. Reg. Pierce. Petriburg. Obiit Anno 1671.

Broughton Com. Northampt. Mr. John Bazely, jun. A Man of great Note in theſe Parts. He was put in by the Parliamentary Commiſſioners, in the Room of Mr. Bentham who was ſequeſtred, of whom Dr. Walker gives a particular Account. At the Reſtoration Mr. Bentham came again. Mr. Bazely, who was a Man of Subſtance, after his Ejectment bought a Houſe and Eſtate at Kettering, and liv'd there. —— His only Daughter was married to Eſquire Morgan of Kingeſthorpe near Northampton, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 643. Sufferings, P. II. p 205.

Gryndon. Mr. Samuel Bayes. He was a Yorkſhire Man, bred in Trinity College, Cambridge. He was alſo ejected in Derbyſhire. After his being ſilenc'd here [at Grendon] he liv'd privately at Mancheſter, where he died many Years ſince. [The poor Vicarage is in the Gift of the Maſter and Fellows of Trinity College, Cambridge, but no Preſentation appears upon the Regiſters till 1625.]

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 644.

Mr. Cooper to be expung'd from the Liſt of ejected Miniſters.

Potterſbury. Mr. Cooper. Some of the ancient Inhabitants here being enquired of, have informed me, that it was Mr. Newel that was Incumbent here in 1662. and that he conform'd, to keep his poor Benefice of 30*l.* a Year, and taught School. And therefore Mr. Cooper muſt be here expung'd.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 644.

And ſo likewiſe Mr. Nevill, or Newell.

Mr. Nevil was put down as ejected or ſilenc'd at Pantlerſpury, Pantherſlury, or Paulſpury in Northamptonſhire. It is afterwards amended; his Name was Newell, but neither was he Miniſter of this Place, nor a Nonconformiſt, but liv'd and died in the Church. He had indeed a good Living at Lechamſted in Bucks, which he loſt for ſome Immoralities, and was afterwards Vicar of Potterſbury.

Account, p. 644. Contin. p. 644.

Paulſperry. Mr. Vincent Cooper or Cupper. —— He pray'd for King Charles before his Reſtoration, and read the Creed and ten Commandments, &c. This Living is worth 300*l. per Ann.* and Mr. Cooper when he was ſilenc'd liv'd with his Son, whom he had bred up to the Miniſtry, who conform'd. He was reckon'd but a mean Preacher, but was an honeſt good Man, and employ'd many poor, and was very charitable.

Ibid. Contin. p. 644.

Dr. Beale Rector and Dean of Ely, and Maſter of St. John's, Cambridge, after Sequeſtration and great Sufferings died Heart-broken in 1651.

1637. 31. Octob. Willelmus Beale, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ de Pauleſpiry Com. Northampt. ad pref. Caroli Regis pro hac vice ratione pravitatis Simoniæ.

Reg. Dee, Petriburg.

1660. 27. Novemb. Thomas Vyner Clericus admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Pauleſpiry Com. Northampt. per W. Cant. Archiepiſc. vacante Sede Petriburg. —— Obiit 1672.

Reg. Cantuar.

Dr. Walker takes Notice of one —— Johnſon, ſequeſtred in the late Times from Pauls-perry Rectory in Northamptonſhire, worth 300*l.* a Year. He was a Gentleman of a good Deſcent, Life, and Learning; and was ſucceeded by an old Fellow one C—— who 'tis certain had followed the Law ſome Time, in the Quality of an Attorney, though his Friends affirmed him to be Maſtar of Arts.

Sufferings of the Clergy. P. II. p. 283.

Mr. Nich. Kenrick thought to be ejected or ſilenc'd did conform, or to keep his Living was an half Conformiſt.

Barton Comitis, Earl's-Barton. Mr. Nicholas Kenrick repreſented as ejected or ſilenc'd in this Place. But (ſays Dr. Calamy) I am informed he conform'd to keep his Living, but never went up the Pulpit Stairs with Comfort afterwards. He had written againſt the Ceremonies, and was but an half Conformiſt: For which he was cited into the Spiritual Court, but ſkreen'd by Archdeacon Palmer, under a Pretence of his bodily Infirmities. —— [Mr. Kendrick, Vicar of Earls-Barton appeared at the Biſhop's Viſitation in 1663. and ſeems to have died in 1676. when he was ſucceeded by Thomas Smart admitted to this Vicarage by the Death of the laſt Incumbent June 15, 1676.]

Contin. p. 645.

So Mr. Samuel Howlet.

Horton Com. Northampt. Mr. Samuel Howlet. His Preaching was univerſally applauded. Both in 1662. and for ſome Time after he refuſed Conformity; but was at length prevailed on by George Mountague, Eſq; and his Lady to uſe a little of the Common-Prayer, and doing ſo he continued there 'till the Reign of King

Dr. Calamy's Contin. of Account, p. 645.

King William, and then died of the Small Pox, and was much lamented. [Mr. Thornton Curate of Horton appeared at the Biſhop's Viſitation in 1663.]

The Regiſters ſay nothing of Mr. Jeremiah Lewis.

Northampton, St. Giles. Mr. Jeremiah Lewis preached at St. Giles in this Town, and was much followed. This Living was formerly in the Gift of the Earl of Northampton, who had beſtowed it on Mr. Bennet. He being rich, and not needing it, gave Leave to Mr. Whaley, Mayor of the Town, to put in any one that he and the People liked beſt, and he with Mr. Bennet's full Approbation, and the Good-liking of the Body of the People, gave it to Mr. Lewis, who had enjoy'd it near twelve Years before his Ejectment in 1662. —— He died at Northampton not long after his being ſilenc'd. [1663. Apr. 16. Tho. Pointer Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. Sancti Egidii in Villa Northampt. per Dom. Cantuar. Archiepiſcopum Sede Petriburg. vacante.]

Continuat. p. 645.

Reg. Cant.

Mr. John Seaton of Twywell does not appear entitled to it.

Twywell. Mr. John Seaton, very fervent in the Pulpit, but very mild out of it. After his Ejectment he taught School at Iſlip, and remov'd from thence to Thrapſton, where alſo he continued to keep School, and died there many Years ſince. [The Biſhops Regiſters have nothing of his Name, or of his immediate Succeſſor. The firſt Entry is 1665. 19. Maii. Robertus Butcher Clericus A. M. ad Rectoriam de Twiwell Dioc. Petriburg. admittendus Articulis ſubſcripſit & declaravit.]

Dr. Calamy's *Contin. p.*646.

Mr. Humphrey Lucas not ejected.

1661.23 Sept. Jacobus Jolliffe Clericus A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Irtlingborough vac. per Mort. ult. Incumb. ſeu alio quocunque modo. — ſucceſſit Carolus Carter, A. M. 11. Maii, 1664.

1660. 22. Aug. Ric. Harris Cler. ad Vic. de Irtlingborough admiſſ. per Archiepiſc. Cant. Sede Petriburg. vac.

Irtlingborough. Mr. Humphrey Lucas. He removed from hence about 1662. but whether ejected for Nonconformity is not ſo certain. This Cure is but twenty Marks a Year. Though the old Lord Nick of Banbury gave forty Pounds per Annum to ſome married Men for a while, yet his Steward coming to the Management of it paid twenty Marks and no more, and put in none but Batchelors, and Mr. Lucas was one of that ſort. I underſtand they have had twenty Parſons ſince: For no one will ſtay there longer than he is neceſſitated for want of a better Living. [There be two Livings, the Vicarage of Irtlingborough S. Peter's, and the Rectory of Irtlingborough All-Saints, both augmented by the Royal Bounty in Conjunction with the Beneficence of Thomas Wentworth, Eſq;]

Ibid. 647.

Not half that Number.

Nor Mr. Cauthorn by the Bartholomew Act.

Tanſover. Mr. Cauthorn. A meek mild Man, but a very able worthy Preacher. He had a good Eſtate at Oundle, to which Place he removed after his Ejectment in 1662. and there he lived 'till his Death, which was in 1665. or 66. he was one of the Lecturers at Oundle. —— Dr. Calamy was afterwards informed, that this Mr. Edward Cauthorn was depriv'd in 1660. [There is no Entry upon the Biſhops Regiſters after 1625. 'till 1671. Octob. 2. David Llewelyn Clericus A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Tanſor alias Tanſover in Com. Northampt. Decanat. Oundle vacant. per Mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Linc.]

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 497.

Contin. p 648.

Reg. Henſhaw.

Mr. Francis Fuller in Epiſcopal Orders, an occaſional Preacher. His two Brothers were zealous Conformiſts and Doctors in Divinity, Thomas and Samuel.

Warcup Com. Northampt. Mr. Francis Fuller. He was Curate to Dr. Temple in this Living. He was the Son of Mr. Fuller of Ironmonger-lane in London. He was a facetious pleaſant Man; and had a very prophetick Genius. He was ſometimes in the Weſt, and ſometimes in London, preaching occaſionally, but not inclin'd to fix. He died at London July 21, 1701. ætat. 64. His Funeral Sermon was preached by Mr. Jeremy White. [But there is no Parochial Church or Chapel called Warcup, or near that Sound in Northamptonſhire.]

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 497.

Contin. p. 649.

1635. 21. Nov. Tho. Canon S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Brampton alias Church-Brampton, cum Capella eidem annexa vac. per Mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. D. Chriſtoph. Hatton mil. Reg. Dee.

1668. 23. Jan. Gulielmus Rolfe Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Church & Chapel Bramptons ad preſ. Chriſtoph. Hatton Baronis de Kirby & Johannis Clements Armig. Reg. Henſhaw.

Church-Brampton. Mr. Vintreſs. He was reckoned much to reſemble Mr. Stephen Marſhal. He lived after his Ejectment at Godmancheſter in Huntingdonſhire, where he died many Years ago. He was a Perſon of great Worth, and above the common Level for Miniſterial Abilities. [His being ejected was the giving Place to the right Incumbent, Thomas Canon, B. D. admitted to this Living 1643. reſtor'd 1660. After his Sequeſtration, his firſt Succeſſor was one T. . . Son of a poor Sadler in Northampton, and was commonly known by the Name of Drunken Dick. —— In his Room one V. . . . a beardleſs Boy (who had been one Year at Cambridge) and incapable of the Living by Statute. His Father was a poor Ale-houſe Keeper in Northampton, and had been many Years in Priſon. [Whereas Dr. Calamy in his Continuation obſerves, that Dr. Walker owns, that Mr. Ventris paid the ſequeſtred Miniſter his Fifths. —— This relates not to Church-Brampton and Mr. Canon; but to Piſford and Mr. Vaughan, where the Uſurper of that Living was one Ventris, who paid Mr. Vaughan the Fifths, tho' otherwiſe he behav'd very inſolently towards him.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 497.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*223.

P. 648. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*289.

Mr. Rowlet a Preacher at Sudborough in this County of Northampton; he preached in his Turn at the Lecture of Thrapſton. —— After St. Bartholomew's in 1662. he removed to Nether-Dean in Bedfordſhire, where he lived privately, but preached frequently, as he had Opportunity, and was ſupported by a little Eſtate he had of his own of about twenty Pounds per Ann. &c.

Dr. Calamy's *Contin. p.*648.

This was no preſentative Living, but a Chapel of Eaſe to Greens - Norton, from which Dr Skinner Biſhop of Oxon. had been ſequeſtred. The Suit between the Biſhop and the Intruder, Mr. Fido, muſt have been before the Reſtauration, when Juſtice leaned to the prevailing Side.

Whittlebury. Mr. John Fido, M. A. of Trinity College Cambridge, firſt Miniſter of Hardwick three Miles weſt of Cambridge, and afterwards by the Parliament preſented to this Living of Whittlebury worth three hundred Pounds a Year. At the Reſtauration Dr. Skinner laid Claim to it, though I know not upon what Pretence. Mr. Fido ſtood a Tryal with him at the Aſſizes at Northampton, and caſt him. The Judge declared that Mr. Fido had a legal Title to the Living, and no one could diſpoſſeſs him of it: And told the Doctor, that where Preachers were well provided for, and ſtill coveted more, it ſhew'd they minded the Fleece more than the Flock. But what could not be done this Way was effectually brought about by the Bartholomew Act ſome Time after. He retir'd afterwards to London, and there died in 1667. or 1668. [Hardly any Part of this Account can be true. Whittlebury is no diſtinct Benefice, but a Foreſt Chapel pel belonging to Greens Norton alias Norton Davy; to which Dr. Rob. Skinner Biſhop of Oxford had a legal Title, preſented to that (as well as to Launton in Oxfordſhire) before the Civil Wars; and when made Biſhop of Briſtol in 1636. was allow'd to keep thoſe two Livings in Commendam, receiving Greens Norton while Biſhop Elect of Briſtol; ſo as at the Reſtauration Dr. Skinner [i. e. the Biſhop of Oxford] had the legal Title to Whittlebury, a Chapel to Greens Norton; nor could there be any Tryal at Northampton near that Time, or had there been any Tryal, the Judge would not have uſed ſuch Words to the Biſhop in the Court, if then preſent; the Tryal muſt have been in the Times of Confuſion, when Juſtice was not thought due to Biſhops.

Ibid. 649.

1636. 17. Nov. Robertus Skinner, S. T. P. Briſtol Epiſcopus electus, admiſſ. ad Rect. de Greens-Norton Com. Northamps. vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Domini Regis. Reg. Dec.

Dr. Walker's ſufferings, Part II. p. 57. Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 672.

The Rectory of Greens-Norton ſequeſtred from Biſhop Skinner to the uſe of two godly Divines.

July 26, 1645. Whereas the Rectory of the Pariſh Church of Greens Norton in the County of Northampton is and ſtandeth ſequeſtred by Order of this Committee of the twenty ſecond of July, 1643. from Dr. Skinner Biſhop of Oxon. for his Malignancy againſt the Parliament, to the Uſe of Daniel Rogers Maſter of Arts, a godly and orthodox Divine, who hath ſince left the ſame; it is ordered, that the ſaid Rectory ſhall ſtand and be ſequeſtred to the uſe of Rich. Prideaux Maſter of Arts, a godly and orthodox Divine.

Ex Literis Rev. Viri Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

The Vicarage of Cuddeſton ſequeſtred from the ſame Biſhop, to the uſe of another godly Divine.

June 13, 1646. Whereas the Vicarage of the Pariſh Church of Cuddeſden and Whatley in the County of Oxon. is annexed unto the Biſhoprick of Oxon. It is ordered, that the ſaid Vicarage ſhall from henceforth ſtand ſequeſtred from Robert Skinner Biſhop of Oxon. to the Uſe of William Beecher, a godly and orthodox Divine, &c.

No Caſton in Northamptonſhire.
No Mr. Henry Rooſe.

I am alſo informed (ſaith Dr. Calamy) of one Mr. Henry Rooſe, who was in 1662. turned out of the Living of Caſton, and that he was reckoned one of the beſt Preachers in England. [Surely there is no ſuch Place in this County, it is perhaps a Miſtake for Eaſton, of which Name there be ſeveral Churches, Eaſton-Neſton, Eaſton juxta Stanford, Eaſton-Mauduit; but Mr. Rooſe does not appear in the Regiſters under any of them; nor does any of them appear vacated in 1662.]

Contin. p. 649.

[There be ſome other Miſtakes committed in the Account and Continuation of it by Dr. C. within this ſmall Dioceſe of Peterborough.]

WEDNESDAY Oct. 22.
A Florentine allow'd to teach Hebrew in Sion College.

Alexander Amidei, Florentine and Hebrew, by the Grace of God turned Chriſtian, for the great Reſpect and many Favours received from both famous Univerſities of this Realm, for the Space of ſeven Years, to return that Obligation in ſome Manner by complying with that ardent Deſire he hath of ſerving his Countrey to his laſt, hath inſtituted a Publick Lecture in the Hebrew Tongue in Sion College, for the publick Good, intending to read every Term twice a Week, namely, Mondays and Thurſdays at Nine a Clock in the Morning, and will begin the twenty ſeventh of October 1662. All therefore that honour good Learning are deſired to favour him with their Preſence. If any pleaſe privately to learn the Hebrew, Chaldaic, Rabinick, Talmudiſtick, Italian, Spaniſh, or Portugueze Tongues, he liveth at Mr. Thomas Warren's Houſe, over-againſt St. Martin's Church at the Eaſt End of Threadneedle-ſtreet.

Mercur. Publ. by Authority, 4^to. N^o. 42. p. 692.

The great Reſpects paid to Dr. Edward Reynolds, Biſhop of Norwich, in his Viſitation at Ipſwich.

Advice by Letter, that the Lord Biſhop of Norwich came to Ipſwich laſt Week, and was met with about four hundred Knights, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Men of good Quality on Horſeback, and was carried unto Mr. Sicklemoor's, the Recorder's Houſe, which was by the Magiſtrates of that Town provided for his Entertainment, where he and his Retinue, and all the Clergy that would come thither, were all the Time entertained at the Town Charge; he continued there five Days. Upon the fourteenth inſtant he came to St. Edmund's-Bury, where his Reception was very noble, being met by all the Juſtices that were then keeping their Seſſions, about two Miles out of Town, with a very great Number of Gentry and Clergy. At their Meeting his Lordſhip alighted out of his Coach, and rode into the Town on Horſeback, where in a broad large Place, near the School Hall, he was met by the Town Magiſtrates in their Gowns with their Maces, and the Trained-Bands, where his Lordſhip and the Gentry alighted, and went on foot 'till they came to a Place where one of the Scholars of the Free-School (Sir John Duncomb's Son) ſaluted him with a Latin Oration. From thence all went on foot (the Trained-Bands marching before them) to the Town Hall, where was provided a ſumptuous Banquet, which done, they accompany'd him to Mr. Coleman's the Regiſtrer of St. Edmund's-Bury, where he did lodge. Three eminent Clergy-men preached, viz. Dr. Herbert Clerk of the Convocation, Mr. Warwell of Boxford, and Mr. Heron of Bradwell, who made three learned and excellent Sermons, much ſatisfactory to all Perſons. Many Perſons of Quality and others were confirmed by the Lord Biſhop, every of the three Days, with much Reverence and Devotion. Above ſix hundred at Bury, and as many at Ipſwich.

Ibid. p. 695.

The School Speech.

Three eminent Preachers.

The famous Mr. Edmund Hickeringhill.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex; Dr. Calamy recounts at Boxſted Mr. Lax: And again Boxſtead, Mr. Car an able uſeful Preacher. Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 307, 308.

Die 22. Octob. 1662. Edmundus Hickeringill Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Boxted Com Eſſex. —— quum reſignavit ante 12. Dec. 1664. —— Idem Edmundus ad Rect. omn. Sanctorum in Villa de Colcheſter 21. Octob. 1662. And fearing he ſhould be outed of All-Saints by taking the Vicarage of Boxted without Diſpenſation, he procur'd a Preſentation under the Great Seal of England to the Church of All-Saints, and was again inſtituted thereto the laſt Day of Decemb. 1662. He was Jan. 20, 1691. inſtituted to the Vicarage of Fingringho in Eſſex, which he afterwards reſign'd; but ſtill continued Rector of All-Saints 1700. He was a Man, though epiſcopally ordained, yet publickly bade Defiance to the Prelacy, and that to his own Dioceſan in particular; an impudent, violent, ignorant Fellow, very troubleſome as far as he could to his Dioceſan, and to all that lived near him.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 80.

THURSDAY Oct. 23.

Reg. Lond.

1662. 23. Octob. Thomas Hodges, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Petri Cornhill, London ex preſ. Majoris, Aldermann. & Commun. Civitat. London.

1672. 22. Nov. Willel. Beveridge Cler. admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Petri Cornhill, vac. per Mort. Thomæ Hodges.

A Day of Thankſgiving to the Iriſh Proteſtants, for their Deliverance from the Popiſh Maſſacre.

Reprinted at London for Rob. Clavell, 1662, 4^to^.

A Form of Divine Service to be uſed on the twenty third Day of October, to be kept and celebrated as an Anniverſary Thankſgiving to Almighty God for the Deliverance from the bloody Maſſacre and Rebellion begun by the Iriſh Papiſts on that Day, in the Year 1641. With a Copy of the Act of Parliament, Anno Regni 14 Car. II. Die 27. Septemb. 1662. appointing that Anniverſary to be kept and celebrated. —— With Notice given, that the Proteſtants of Ireland at preſent in and about the City of London, intend to meet at the Church of St. Mary le Bow, upon Wedneſday the twenty third of this inſtant October, at ten of the Clock in the Morning, in purſuance of an Act of Parliament in that Kingdom, to give Thanks to Almighty God for the Deliverance from the bloody Maſſacre and Rebellion begun by the Iriſh Papiſts the twenty third Day of October 1641.

With Notice to meet in the Church of St. Mary le Bow. And the like pious Uſage of Prayers, Sermon and Feaſt have been ſince kept up.

Beginning of the Act of Parliament.

Whereas many malignant and rebellious Papiſts and Jeſuits, Fryars, Seminary Prieſts, and other ſuperſtitious Orders of the popiſh pretended Clergy moſt diſloyally, treacherouſly, and wickedly conſpired, —— a Conſpiracy ſo generally inhuman, barbarous, and cruel, as the like was never before heard of in any Age or Kingdom, —— whereby many thouſand Britiſh and Proteſtants have been maſſacred, many thouſands of others of them have been afflicted and tormented with the moſt exquiſite Torments, &c.

Firſt Collect after the Collect for the Sunday.

Some of the Collects for the Day to be uſed in Ireland.

Almighty God and Heavenly Father, who out of thy moſt wiſe and watchful Providence, and tender Mercies towards us thine unworthy Servants, haſt been pleaſed, as at all other Times, ſo on this Day, to prevent the extreme Malice, miſchievous Imagination, and bloody Intention of our Enemies, by revealing ſo wonderfully and opportunely their Rebellion and cruel Enterpriſes, plotted againſt our dread Sovereign Lord the King, and the whole State of this Realm, for the Subverſion of this Government, and the utter Extirpation of the Truth of thy Goſpel, and pure Religion profeſſed amongſt us. We moſt humbly praiſe and magnify thy glorious Name for thine infinite Goodneſs in this our marvellous Deliverance. We confeſs it was thy Mercy (thy Mercy alone) that we were not conſumed. And therefore not unto us, not unto us, O Lord, but unto thy Name be aſcribed all Honour and Glory, in all Churches of the Saints throughout all Generations. For thou Lord didſt diſcover unto thy Servants the Snares of Death; thou didſt break them, and we were delivered. Be thou ſtill our mighty Protector, and ſcatter our Enemies that delight in Blood, infatuate their Counſels, enfeeble their Strength, put Fear in their Hearts, and accompliſh this thy Mercy in our Safety and future Deliverance. And to that End, ſtrengthen the Hands of our gracious King, the Lord Lieutenant, the Nobility and Magiſtrates of the Land, with Judgment, Juſtice, and Power to reſtrain ſuch Workers of Iniquity, who pretend Religion and practiſe Rebellion, to devour thine Inheritance. This, Lord, we crave at thy merciful Hands, together with the Continuance of thy powerful Protection over our dread Sovereign, the whole Church, and theſe Realms, and the ſpeedy Subverſion of all our Enemies, and that for thy dear Son's Sake, Jeſus Chriſt our only Mediator and Advocate. Amen.

Third Collect after the Litany.

O moſt Gracious Lord God, we of this Nation whom thou didſt ſnatch as a Brand out of the Fire of the late horrid Maſſacre, being this Day aſſembled before thee, do with Shame and Sorrow acknowledge and confeſs, that our Sins had moſt juſtly provoked thee to Wrath, when thou didſt ſuffer thoſe Men of Blood to make their Sword fat with the Slaughter of ſo many thouſand Innocents, &c.

FRIDAY Oct. 24.

The Biſhop of Edinburgh endeavours Uniformity in that City, without a Liturgy.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4^to^. N^o^. 43.

Adviſed from Edinburgh, that the Synod there had appointed the Doxology to be ſung at the Concluſion of the Pſalms, the Creed to be rehearſed Article by Article after the Miniſter by the Preſenter of the Child at Infant-Baptiſm: Publick Prayers to be uſed Morning and Evening; and the good old Pſalms to be again made Uſe of in Churches. —— The Biſhop did nominate Moderators, and preſſed their frequent Meeting for ſuppreſſing Sin and Wickedneſs, and for hind'ring the ſpreading of Popery. The Biſhop alſo recommended to them their Habit, that a Miniſter ſhould by his Habit be known from any other Perſon. His Lordſhip alſo recommended to the Synod, that in their publick Prayers they ſhould pray in this Manner for the Royal Family. We pray, O Lord, for thy Servant our dread Sovereign Charles by the Grace of God, King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, in all Cauſes and over all Perſons, under Chriſt Jeſus, only Supream, and for his Royal Conſort the Queen's Majeſty, and for the Queen Mother, and his Highneſs James Duke of Albany and York.

Prayers for the King and Royal Family.

24. Octob. 1662. Tho. Simpſon Clericus admiſſ. ad Eccl. Sancti Johannis Evangeliſtæ London. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Eccl. Chriſti Cant. —— Cui ſucceſſit Joh. Stoning Clericus 1. Jan. 1662-3.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 375.

October 1662.

14 Car. II.

Dr. Calamy in his Continuation, p. 29. ſays, he was M. A. and ſucceeded Mr. George Walker in this Living, 1651.

Ejected from St. John Evangeliſt, Mr. Robert Tatnal; bred in Weſtminſter School, and Trinity College, Cambridge, where he was Fellow, —— choſen to this Pariſh as a Succeſſor to Mr. Walker [who died in 1651.] Being ejected thence he took Shelter in a School. —— He was a Man of great Skill in vocal and artificial Muſick, which rendred him acceptable to many of the Gentry in and about the City.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 30.

Die 23. Octob. 1662. Willielmus Alchorne, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam de High-Ongar Com. Eſſex. jam vacantem ad preſ. Caroli Com. Warwic. —— He continued Rector here in 1700.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 453.

High-Ongar. Ejected or ſilenced Mr. John Lavender. He was all Love to Chriſt in Life and in Death: An holy heavenly Divine, of a very ſweet Diſpoſition; much and great in Prayers and ſpiritualizing Occurrences. —— A neighbouring Miniſter was urgent with him not to conform, and yet conform'd himſelf; and on Mr. Lavender's Ejection got his Place, a Living worth 300*l. per Ann.*

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. *p.*306.

24. Octob. 1662. Johannes Reddrich Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. de Stapleford-Tany Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Arabellæ Allen Fil. Edw. Allen, Mil. per Curatores.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 556.

Among the Miniſters ejected or ſilenc'd in Eſſex, Dr. Calamy places at Stapleford-Tany, Mr. Ward. —— It only appears upon the Regiſters, that Henry Carpenter, M. A. was admitted to the Rectory of Stapleford-Taney Com. Eſſex. Jul. 17, 1661. void by the Death of Thomas Nicholſon laſt Incumbent; and that Mr. John Reddrich ſucceeded Carpenter, Oct. 24, 1662. with no mention of Mr. Ward.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 313.

SATURDAY Oct. 25.
The Arrears of Tithes due to the Crown, granted by the King for the Repair of St. Paul's.

Commiſſioners appointed for the Receipt of them.

By the Commiſſioners for Arrears of Tithes unpardoned, &c. impowered by Virtue of his Majeſty's Grant under the Great Seal of England, whereby the ſaid Arrears are granted to the Right Honourable the Lord Chancellor of England, Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Biſhop of London, and Dean of St. Paul's, for and towards the Repair of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, London.

The ſaid Commiſſioners do hereby give Notice, to all Perſons concerned as Debtors for the ſaid Arrears or otherwiſe, that from henceforth every Tueſday, Thurſday and Saturday weekly, at two of the Clock in the Afternoon, they have and do appoint to meet at the Maſter's Lodgings in the Savoy, now belonging to the ſaid Lord Biſhop of London, where all Perſons concerned may be heard, and receive a Diſpatch of their Buſineſs, and a Diſcharge of their Accounts, according to the Merit of the Caſe. The firſt Meeting is appointed to be at the ſaid Houſe and Place upon Tueſday the 28th of this inſtant October.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to. No. 43.

SUNDAY Oct. 26.
The ejected Miniſters were put in Mind of Silence and Submiſſion, according to the good Example of the old Puritans, who were all againſt Separation from the eſtabliſh'd Church of England.

While the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters ſeem'd inclinable to ſet up ſeparate Congregations, they were put in Mind, that Mr. William Rathband, an eminent Preſbyterian, had put forth a modeſt Conviction of Separatiſts, as argued from the joint Conſent of the godly and learned Miniſters of this Kingdom who ſtood out and ſuffered in the Caſe of Uniformity: They in it ſhewing the Church of England to be a true Church of Chriſt, and therefore Separation from it to be unlawful. He [Mr. Rathband] with Mr. Thomas Langley, Mr. Simeon Aſhe, Mr. Francis Woodcock, and Mr. George Croſs, all, ſo far as I can conjecture, Nonconformiſts, put forth a Book of Mr. John Ball, a Nonconformiſt, wherein he writes learnedly and piouſly againſt Separation, and writes in Defence of ſet Forms of Prayer, and that Men are not to ſeparate from the Church becauſe of ours.

Mr. Joſeph Bentham's Sermons, 4to.

MONDAY Oct. 27.
Affairs in Ireland.
Biſhop Burnet in his Hiſtory, p. 176. tells us, that the Engliſh Intereſt was manag'd chiefly by two Men of very different Reputation, the Earls of Angleſey and Orrery: The chief Manager of the Iriſh Intereſt was Richard Talbot, one of the Duke's Bed-Chamber Men, who had much cunning, and had the Secret both of his Maſter's Pleaſures, and of his Religion for ſome Years, and was afterwards rais'd by him to be Earl and Duke of Tyrconnell.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and moſt of the Perſons of Honour in thoſe Parts, were entertained on the 18th at Evening by the Earl of Orrery at Thomas-Court, where his Lordſhip treated them with a noble Banquet, and a Play of his own making. Captain Roſſe, a Member of the Houſe of Commons in Ireland, is come Expreſs to Court, from the Lord Lieutenant and Council there, with an explanatory Act of Settlement of Ireland lately paſs'd in that Kingdom; as alſo an Act for eſtabliſhing an additional Revenue to the Crown from Chimney Hearths, with ſome other Acts of more private Concern, which according to Poyning's Law are to be approved by his Majeſty here, and then tranſmitted under the Great-Seal of England to the Parliament of Ireland to be paſs'd there.

Publ. Intell. by Authority, 4to. No. 43.

A Letter from Richard Povey, Eſquire, Secretary of Jamaica, to a Gentleman in England, giving a brief Hiſtory of their Condition and Affairs ſince the Arrival of his Excellency the Lord Windſor, their noble Governor. Dated Point-Cagway, Octob. 27, 1662. —— With a true and exact Account and Relation of the Service done by his Majeſty's Forces of the Iſland of Jamaica, under the Command of the Lord Windſor upon the Enemy on the Iſland of Cuba, in taking the City of St. Jago, and the ſtrong Caſtle and Blockhouſes thereunto belonging.

Printed in the Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to.

WEDNESDAY Oct. 29.
Sir John Robinſon Lord Mayor of London.

This Day (according to Cuſtom) the Right Honourable Sir John Robinſon, Knight and Baronet, his Majeſty's Lieutenant of the Tower of London, came and took his Oath before the Barons of his Majeſty's Court of Exchequer, as Lord-Mayor of the City of London for this following Year. The ſeveral Shows and Entertainments by Land and by Water, are given you at large by another Hand in Verſe and Proſe, in a Book written and printed for that Purpoſe.

Ibid. No. 43.

Thomas Greenfield, A. M. was collated to a Prebend in the Church of Exeter, Octob. 29, 1662. void by the Reſignation of Richard Pearſon, D. D. ſome Time

Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 3.

Vicar of St. Brides in London. —— Francis Fullwood, D. D. was collated to a Prebend in the ſame Church, Oct. 26, 1662. void by the Deprivation of George Kendall, B. D. for Nonconformity.

THURSDAY Oct. 30.
Dr. Peter Mew Canon of Windſor.

Reg. Windſor. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 1179. Edit. 1721.

Peter Mew, Doctor of Laws, Archdeacon of Huntingdon, was inſtalled Canon of Windſor in the Room of Dr. Henry Carpenter deceaſed; and about this Time was made Canon of St. David's; and in 1672. was promoted to the See of Bath and Wells.

Mr. Jo. Bentham Rector of Lodington.

Die 30. Octob. 1662. Joſephus Bentham Rector de Loddington in Com. Northampt. compoſuit pro Primitiis.

Mr. Henry Willes ejected.

In his Continuation he would have it added, that he was M. A. and that he publiſh'd The Marriage Bleſſing in a Crown of Children, 1658.

Abridgment of Mr. Baxter's Life, Vol. II. p. 496.

Dr. Calamy recommends Mr. Henry Willes, ejected from Lodington Com. Northampt. an able Scholar; a conſiderable Mathematician, and of great Skill in the Law; an eminent Preacher, and of a moſt engaging Carriage. After his Ejectment he liv'd at Cranſley, a Town in the ſame County, having a conſiderable Eſtate. Some Time after he preach'd privately to the People at Wellingborough, among whom his Memory is to this Day exceeding precious, and that for two Things eſpecially; for the extraordinary Suitableneſs of his Compoſures to the Minds of the weakeſt, and yet his Depth and Fulneſs of Matter; and for that great Piety and refreſhing Savour which ſeaſon'd his common Converſation.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 436.

Die 30. Octob. 1662. Willielmus Colebron Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. de Newenden Com. Eſſex. vac. per . . . . Davidis Fowles, ad preſ. W. Wakefield Armig. —— Obiit Anno 1665.

FRIDAY Oct. 31.
Mr. Gabr. Towerſon Rector of Wellwyn, in the Room of Dr. Nic. Greaves.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

1662. Die ult. Octob. Gabriel Towerſon Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Wellwyn Com. Hertford. per privationem Nicolai Greaves, S. T. P. ult. Incumb. virtute Actus Uniformitatis legitime vacantem, ex preſ. Cuſtodis & Sociorum Coll. Omn. Animarum Oxon.

Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 500.

Edward Greaves, Doctor of Phyſick, had an elder Brother called Nicholas Greaves, who from a Commoner of St. Mary's Hall became Fellow of All-Souls College Oxon. in 1627. afterwards Proctor of the Univerſity, and a Dignitary in Ireland.

Death of Thomas Lord Coventry.

Dugdale's Bar. Tom. p. 460.

Thomas Lord Coventry (Son and Heir of Thomas Lord Coventry Keeper of the Great-Seal) departed this Life within this Month of October 1662. leaving Iſſue by Mary his Wife, Daughter of Sir William Craven, two Sons, George his Heir, and Thomas.

Mr. Ogilby Rector of St. Martin's Ongar.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 418.

Die 31. Octob. 1662. Johannes Ogilvy alias Ogilby, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccleſiam S. Martini Orgar Lond. ad preſ. Dec. & Capituli S. Pauli London. —— Johannes Sherwood, A. M. ſucceſſit 27. Junii 1666. per mort. J. Ogilby.

Mr. Ruting Rector of St. Leonard's Colcheſter.

Ibid. p. 174.

31. Octob. 1662. Johannes Ruting Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. S. Leonardi in Villa de Colcheſter Com. Eſſex. vac. per ceſſionem Pauli Ducket ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. —— Edwardus Burles ad eand. 17. Junii 1668. vac. per mort. ult. Rectoris.

Mr. Ewer Rector of Ingatſtone.

Ibid. p. 318.

Johannes Ewer, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Ingatſtone Com. Eſſex. 31. Octob. 1662. ad preſ. Willelmi Domini Petre. —— He continued Rector in 1700.

Mr. John Willis ejected from Ingatſtone.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 306.

Among the ejected Miniſters in Eſſex. Ingerſtone. Mr. John Willis, an able Divine.

Johannes Willis, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Ingatſtone 19. Junii 1630. vac. per ceſſ. ult. Rectoris ad preſ. Willielmi Smith, S. T. P. pro hac vice Patroni.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 330.

John Willis was one of thoſe who were deſign'd by the Foundreſs of Wadham College to be admitted as Scholars of that Houſe, and the ſaid Willis was accordingly admitted Apr. 20, 1613. he was afterwards preſented by the Warden, Fellows, and Scholars of that College to the Vicarage of Hocklie Com. Eſſex. Sept. 24, 1619. but how long he held it, appears not. He was after An. 1630. admitted Rector of Ingatſtone, and in 1662. ejected by reaſon of Inconformity. He afterwards remov'd to London, and being a very acceptable and popular Preacher, had a numerous Auditory in Wapping, to whom he preach'd for ſome Time after King Charles's Indulgence. Upon his Deceaſe Mr. George Day was choſen Paſtor of that Congregation.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 472.

An excellent Diſcourſe upon the Act of Uniformity, without the Name of the Writer; who was at leaſt an ancient Divine of ſome Figure in the Church or Dioceſe of Canterbury; and many have thought it was Archbiſhop Juxon himſelf, and the rather, becauſe of the Arms of his See in the Title Page, which no other Author could decently aſſume. And certainly the Stile and Matter are ſo grave and ſerious, that it ſeems becoming moſt the Wiſdom and Sanctity of that good old Man.
Tho' Mr. Wood in his Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 663. tells us, that this Archbiſhop, Dr. Juxon, hath only extant one Sermon on Luke xviii. 31.

London, printed for Edward Thomas and Hen. Marſh, 1662. 4to.

About this Time came out an excellent Diſcourſe intituled, ΧΑΡΙΣ ϗ ΕΙΡΗΝΗ. [Grace and Peace.] Or ſome Conſiderations upon the Act of Uniformity. With an Expedient for the Satisfaction of the Clergy within the Province of Canterbury. [In the Title Page are the well cut Arms of the Metropolitical See of Canterbury.] By a Servant of the God of Peace.

Sect. I. Although frail Nature below, heavenly Grace above, and the common Float of all Things round about me (the lively Emblems of Mortality,) ſummoned me to die daily, — the Keepers of the Houſe trembling, the ſtrong Men bowing themſelves, the Grinders ceaſing, becauſe they are few, and thoſe that look out at the Windows being darkned, &c. Although I was willing to retire to another World, while that Darkneſs covered the Face of this.

Yet when by a wonderful Revolution of Providence managed by nothing leſs than an Omnipotence, that perplexed Chaos of Affairs and confuſed Heap, was admirably diſpoſed to a ſweet Order and Beauty, and a new Frame of another World, viz. a new Heaven, and a new Earth, wherein dwelleth Righteouſneſs; I was in a Strait betwixt two, having a Deſire to depart and to be with Chriſt, which is far better; nevertheleſs to abide in the Fleſh, I thought might be more needful for the Church, whoſe ſad Breaches I hoped ſhould now be carefully repaired, The Order and Happineſs of the Church of England, as now reſtored and eſtabliſhed.

paired, whoſe ſacred Order, Peace, Honour, Unity, and Happineſs, I hoped ſhould now be recovered to a Glory becoming ſo ancient, ſo holy, ſo true, ſo venerable, ſo divine a Religion as ours, every Member keeping to its Congregation, every Congregation to their lawful Miniſter ſet over them to watch over their Souls, every Miniſter to his own Biſhop, obeying them that have the Rule over them and ſubmitting themſelves, every Biſhop to his Metropolitan, upon whom is the Care of all the Churches, and the Metropolitan to his Sovereign as Supreme, and He to God, over all bleſſed for ever.

The Faith delivered to the Saints I thought might have been ſolemnly eſtabliſhed, the Worſhip in Spirit and in Truth, decent and in order, legally ſettled, the primitive Diſcipline orderly reſtored, and our ancient Church recovered to that Beauty, Order, Glory and Majeſty, for which it was ſpoken of throughout the reformed World, that rejoiced to behold our Faith and Order.

A great Bleſſing toward Beauty and Glory.

A Happineſs we thought unqueſtionable, when our God ſeeming to be angry but for a Moment, returned to embrace us with everlaſting Kindneſs. When 1. Aſſiſted by his Grace and Bleſſing; 2. Countenanced with the Preſence and Authority of a gracious Sovereign; 3. Furniſhed with an incomparably pious, prudent and learned Clergy; 4. Befriended by Perſons of true Piety, Honour and Prudence, who excelled in Virtue; 5. Provided for by juſt, equal, and exact Laws; 6. Supported with the effectual fervent Prayer of devout Sons; the Church in all Probability was likely to recover her ancient Life, Vigour, Beauty and Glory. ——

Yet notwithſtanding his Majeſty's Care, and the Helps of learned Men, and the Acts of Indemnity and Oblivion.

Sect. II. But there is a Vanity and Vexation of Spirit written upon all Things under the Sun. For, 1. Notwithſtanding his Majeſty's great Condeſcenſion and Care for publick Good and Peace.

2. Notwithſtanding the Endeavours of learned, grave and godly Men, who were ableſt for Gifts, moſt eminent for their Labours, and the higheſt for their Place to reconcile Differences. ——

There is ſtill a general Diſcontent, Murmur and Complaint.

3. Notwithſtanding the many Acts of Grace and Favour for the Perſons, Liberties and Eſtates of thoſe that had forfeited all by a general Rebellion and Guilt. —— Yet behold inſtead of that general Submiſſion and Compliance, that might have huſh'd all Things into an univerſal Calm and Quiet, God (in whoſe Hand are the Hearts of all Men) bowing their Hearts as one Man to the Fear of God, and the Obedience due to the King. Behold a general Diſcontent, Fear, Sorrow, and ſullen Sadneſs upon the Face of the Kingdom. Behold a catholick Murmur and Complaint whiſpered throughout the Nation, a Contempt of Dominion, a ſpeaking Evil of Dignities, a curſing the King in their Hearts, a carrying of Tales to ſhed Blood: So that if his Majeſty had not his own Innocence, and God's Protection, it were hard for him to ſtand out againſt theſe Stratagems and Conflicts of Malice which by Falſities ſeeks to oppreſs the Truth, and by Jealouſies to ſupply the Defect of real Cauſes, which might ſeem to juſtify a new Engagement againſt him.

A Contempt of Dominion, and ſpeaking evil of Dignities.

Schiſms and Separations.

O what Dividings, Shatterings, Schiſms, Separations, Sidings, Strifes, Envies, Animoſities and Contempts, whence grow Confuſion, and every evil Work, &c.

King, Lords and Commons, would quiet and compoſe the Minds of People, by the Act of Uniformity, made by moderate and wiſe Men.

To reſtore the Happineſs of Church and State.

A Neglect of due Obedience to this Law, exceeding ſinful, miſchievous, and dangerous.

Sect. III. Now it pleaſed God, by the publick Counſels of King, Lords and Commons, to give all juſt Satisfaction to modeſt and ſober Deſires, to prevent all Miſunderſtandings and Miſcarriages by the Act of Uniformity, compoſed with that Gravity and Diſcretion of pious, moderate, and wiſe Men, as might allay and fix the People to a due Temperament, guiding their well meaning Zeal by ſuch Rules of Moderation, as might beſt preſerve and reſtore the Happineſs of Church and State. Yet a Neglect of due Obedience to this Act, a Contempt of its Authority, a Diſcontent under its Reſtraints, evil Thoughts and Diſcourſes of the Authors and Impoſers, and a general Oppoſition to its bleſſed Deſign of Peace and Settlement. I appeal to the tender Conſciences of ſober Men, who live within Sight of the great Day of the Revelation of the righteous Judgment of God, whether they be not 1. Exceeding ſinful. 2. Deſperately miſchievous. 3. Very dangerous, &c.

And ſome Mens Oppoſition to Authority muſt be againſt their own Conſcience.

This Oppoſition to his Majeſty's Authority in Matters Eccleſiaſtical, is againſt their own Conſcience (and unhappy are they that condemn themſelves and others, in thoſe Things which they allow.) You that diſown Authority in Matters of Religion, did you not exerciſe it? You that repine at the impoſing of the Liturgy, did not you impoſe the Directory? You that are troubled for Deprivation upon Non-Subſcription, did not you turn out holy, pious, painful Miniſters, becauſe they durſt not take the Covenant, or ſubſcribe the Engagement? Only the ſame Meaſure that you meaſured out to others, ſhall be meaſured to you, you ſhall ſuffer but what you have done. Neither is his Majeſty more ſevere in ſupporting his Government by Laws, than the Parliament was to ſupport theirs by an Ordinance. [And ſo on with an excellent Spirit of Piety, Charity and Moderation.]

Some Inſtances of the great Lenity and Charity of the Biſhops, ſhewn to the Nonconforming Miniſters after their being ejected or ſilenc'd, as ſet forth by Dr. Calamy.

Mr. Perrot.

Biſhop Laney.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 92.

1. Mr. Robert Perrot, ejected or ſilenc'd at Deane Com. Bedford, had an Opportunity of preaching in Huntingdonſhire for one Mr. Rede in a publick Church, not far from Bugden, juſt under Biſhop Laney's Eye, who let him alone for three Years, till Mr. Rede died.

2. Mr.

Mr. Aſhurſt.

Biſhop Sanderſon.

As to Charity and ſhewing Kindneſs to thoſe diſſenting Miniſters who will not conform to the Church and to the Laws, this the Biſhops have done and are ready to do: For all Men know how willingly they have inſtituted thoſe to Livings, who before had been the Enemies of their Order: How they have invited into their Order and the Church Preferments, thoſe that have preached and writ againſt them: And we want not any Examples that they have been ſincere in their Tender, for ſome have really received what was offered, and we ſhould have had more, had not their Followers hindred them by minding them of their former Doctrines. Diſcourſe of Toleration, 1668, 4^to^.

2. Mr. Aſhurſt of Arleſey in Bedfordſhire, could not comply with the new Impoſitions in the Act of Uniformity, and therefore would have quitted his Living, but was rather adviſed to continue in it, and did ſo without Moleſtation. —— And ſo tho' he was legally ſilenc'd he continu'd in his Church a Nonconformiſt. —— Ibid. p. 93.

3. Mr. Rolt caſt out of the Living of Thempsford Com. Bedſ. which had been ſequeſtred, he reſign'd it to Mr. Hughes the former Incumbent, but continu'd a Nonconformiſt all his Days. After his Removal from Thempsford he liv'd at Graftham. He had an Eſtate of 60 l. per Ann. For ſome Time he preach'd publickly in a Church near Bugden, and was conniv'd at by Biſhop Laney, then Biſhop of Lincoln, &c. Ibid. p. 94.

4. Mr. Jonathan Jephcot of Swaffham Prior in the County of Cambridge, determin'd to remove at the firſt Opportunity. Soon after he was recommended by Dr. Tuckney to the Free-School of Boſton in Lincolnſhire, which being offer'd him, he readily accepted, and remov'd thither with his Family. Going to Biſhop Sanderſon for a Licence, he treated him very reſpectfully, told him, it was pity a Man of his Worth ſhould be confin'd to the Drudgery of a School; and offer'd him his Choice of two ſmall Livings which he had then to beſtow, worth about 60 l. a Year a-piece. He thank'd his Lordſhip, but wav'd Acceptance. Ibid. p. 115.

5. Mr. James Bradſhaw, ſome Time Miniſter at Wigan in Lancaſhire, and ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at Macclesfield, obtain'd Liberty for a while to preach publickly at Haughton Chapel in Dean Pariſh; and afterwards at Bradſhaw Chapel, by the Connivance of Mr. Bradſhaw of Bradſhaw Hall, reading ſome of the Prayers without ever ſubſcribing. Ibid. p. 123.

Mr. Rogers.

Biſhop Rainbow.

6. Mr. John Rogers, M. A. ejected from Croglin in Cumberland in 62. and before this from Bernard Caſtle, kept a fair Correſpondence with the neighbouring Clergy: Nay, he was treated very reſpectfully upon Occaſion, by thoſe of the greateſt Eminence; as Dr. Stern Archbiſhop of York, Dr. Rainbow Biſhop of Carliſle, and Dr. Crew Biſhop of Durham. He continu'd the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry after his being ſilenc'd, without Fear. Ibid. p. 152.

Mr. Atkins.

Biſhop Gauden.

Biſhop Lamplugh.

7. Mr. Robert Atkins, M. A. expell'd from the Church of Eaſt-Peters in Exeter, and again ejected from St. John's in the ſame City by the Act of Uniformity; when without any Proof he was committed to Priſon. The very next Day Biſhop Gauden procur'd him his Liberty.—— And when one of his Hearers was proſecuted in the Spiritual Court for having his Child baptiz'd by a Nonconformiſt: When Dr. Lamplugh then Biſhop of Exon, underſtood that Mr. Atkins had baptiz'd it, he put a Stop to the Proceedings of the Court, diſmiſs'd the Man without paying any Coſts, and ſpake very honourably of Mr. Atkins for his Learning and Moderation. Ibid. p. 214.

Mr. Howe.

Archbiſhop and Biſhop in Ireland.

8. Mr. John Howe, M. A. ejected from Torrington Com. Devon. among many Inſtances of his excellent and generous Temper, his ſeaſonable Service to Dr. Seth Ward (afterwards Biſhop of Sarum) was an Evidence of his Zeal for the Intereſt of Learning, and thoſe who were eminent in it. This Character (which he always retain'd) gain'd him the Friendſhip of the great Dr. Wilkins, and ſeveral others who were great Supports of real Piety and Goodneſs in thoſe Times. Some Years after Bartholomew Day (when from a Principle of undiſſembled Conſcience he laid down his publick Station) being invited by the Lord Maſſarene, he remov'd his Family into Ireland (in the Pariſh of Antrim) where his great Learning and Chriſtian Temper procur'd him the particular Friendſhip of the Biſhop of that Dioceſe, who (together with his Metropolitan) without demanding any Conformity, gave him Liberty of preaching in the Church of Antrim. Ibid. p. 237.

Mr. Frankland.

Biſhop Coſin.

9. Mr. Rich. Frankland, M. A. of Biſhops-Aukland in the Biſhoprick of Durham. —— Biſhop Coſins ſolicited him to conform, promiſing him not only his Living, but greater Preferment upon his Compliance. Mr. F. told him, that his Unwillingneſs to renounce his Ordination by Preſbyters, made him incapable of enjoying the Benefit of his Favour. This engag'd him in a Debate with the Biſhop that was manag'd with great Calmneſs, and this was the Reſult of it: His Lordſhip condeſcended to aſk him, whether he would be content to receive a new Ordination, ſo privately that the People might not know of it, and have it conditionally with ſuch Words as theſe, If thou haſt not been ordained, I ordain thee, &c. He thank'd him, but told him he durſt not yield to the Propoſal, &c. In the Reign of King William, Archbiſhop Sharp ſent for him, and treated him with great Civility, &c. Ibid. p. 286.

Mr. Stubbes.

Biſhop Pritchett.

10. Mr. Henry Stubbes, M. A. the Act of Uniformity found him actually at Durſley, tho' he was not Incumbent there, but rather an Aſſiſtant to Mr. Joſeph Woodward, who died of a Conſumption before Bartholomew Day.—— After he had preach'd a while privately in London, he was allow'd the publick Exerciſe of his Miniſtry, by the Connivance or Forbearance of Dr. Pritchet, then Biſhop of Glouceſter, in the Pariſh Church of Horſley, &c. Ibid. p. 219.

Mr. Sprint.

Biſhop Morley.

11. Mr. Sam. Sprint ejected from South-Tidworth in Hampſhire, —— was afterward proſecuted, and to be excommunicated for not receiving the Sacrament in his Pariſh-Church at Chriſtmas, notwithſtanding that his Wife lay upon her Death-Bed at that very Time. To prevent it, he rode to Farnham to Biſhop Morley, and told him his Caſe: And his Lordſhip was pleaſed to tell him, that his Chancellor ſhould not treat him ſo ſeverely as he imagined and ſuſpected: And accordingly the Proſecution was ſtopp'd. The Biſhop made him ſtay and dine with him, and diſcourſed with him about his Nonconformity, Mr. Sprint Ibid. p. 241.

telling him, that the declaring unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent was what he could not be ſatisfied to yield to; the Biſhop told him, he muſt not philoſophize upon the Words Aſſent and Conſent, nor ſuppoſe that the Parliament did by Aſſent mean an Act of the Underſtanding, and by Conſent an Act of the Will: For no more was intended, than that the Perſon ſo declaring intended to read the Book: And therefore if he would make the Declaration, in the Words preſcribed in the Act, and then ſay, that thereby he meant no more than that he would read the Common-Prayer, he would admit him into a Living. Mr. Sprint thank'd his Lordſhip, but could not think that Expedient lawful, &c.

Mr. Primroſe. Biſhop Crofts. P. 352.

12. Mr. Geo. Primroſe, one of the joint Paſtors at Hereford, had his Education in Scotland; his Mother was Nurſe to Prince Henry. He ſtudied alſo at Saumur in France. He was of a grave, even, and compoſed Temper. Diſcourſing with Biſhop Crofts after he had been releas'd from Impriſonment, he attempted to perſuade him to conform: But when he heard his Objections, he told him, he wiſh'd the Church Doors had been wider, &c.

Mr. Hawes. Biſhop Crofts. Biſhop H. Lloyd.

13. Mr. Rich. Hawes, Miniſter of Leintwardine, —— when the Bartholomew Act came out, ſuch was his Moderation, that it was by ſome apprehended he might have conform'd, particularly by one of his Neighbour Miniſters Mr. C——y of W——c, who complain'd that he was like to ſtand alone on that Side of the Countrey, being ſo bent againſt yielding to any of the Terms requir'd, though it were but to read ſome ſmall Part of the Popiſh Maſs-Book (as he termed it) the Common-Prayer, that he declar'd he would ſooner ſuffer himſelf to be torn in Pieces. But when they went in both together to the Biſhop, this Man overcome with the Importunities of his Wife (ſoliciting him thereto) ſoon yielded, but to his Death deteſted. —— Mr. Hawes maintained his Ground in a Conference with the Biſhop, who civilly allow'd him to preach a Month after Bartholomew Day, and profeſſed it to be contrary to his Inclination to have ſuch as he removed, ſaying, it was the Law that turned him out, and not he. —— During his Abode at Awre, the Biſhop of Llandaff (a very moderate Man, Dr. Hugh Lloyd) allow'd him to preach in Publick without ſubſcribing; which Licence he made uſe of occaſionally, and ſtill to his Death enjoy'd the ſame upon his Removal into another Dioceſe, by the Connivance of Dr. Nicholſon Biſhop of Glouceſter.

Mr. Carter. Biſhop Stillingfleet. Ibid. p. 383

14. Mr. Tho. Carter ejected for Nonconformity from Chatham in Kent; a fine Scholar, and an excellent Preacher, was much eſteemed and loved by Dr. Stillingfleet Biſhop of Worceſter to his Death, and often help'd by him. They were Cotemporaries at St. John's in Cambridge.

Mr. Tilſley. Biſhop Wilkins. Ibid. p. 403.

15. Mr. John Tilſley, A. M. was ejected from the Church of Dean in Lancaſhire by the Act of Uniformity in 62. After which, though he forbore Preaching, he continued living in the Houſe adjoining to his Church, which being in the Hands of Truſtees was ſtill allow'd him. When the excellent Dr. Wilkins became Biſhop of the Dioceſe, he allow'd him to preach in his Church again as Lecturer, another being Vicar, who read the Prayers, &c.

Mr. Shaw. Archbiſhop Sheldon. Biſhop Fuller. Ibid. p. 424.

16. Mr. Sam. Shaw, M. A. removed from the Rectory of Long-Whatton in Leiceſterſhire about a Year before the Act of Uniformity, and ſilenc'd by that Act, was choſen to be the ſole School-maſter of the Free-School in Aſhby de la Zouch in 1668. and had a Difficulty how to get a Licenſe, without Subſcription to ſuch Things as his Conſcience did not allow of. But he got over that: For by means of the Lord Conway, he obtained from the Archbiſhop of Canterbury a Licence to teach School any where in his whole Province; and that without ſo much as once ſeeing or waiting upon the Archbiſhop. And he needing a Licence alſo from the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, got a Friend to make his Application to Dr. Fuller, who was then Biſhop of Lincoln, who put his late Book, occaſioned by the Plague in his Family, into his Hands, in order to his Satisfaction as to his real Worth. The Biſhop was ſo pleaſed with his Piety, Peaceableneſs, Humility, and Learning, that he gave him a Licence upon ſuch a Subſcription as his own Senſe dictated and inſerted; and added, that he was glad to have ſo worthy a Man in his Dioceſe upon any Terms. He alſo ſaid, that he underſtood there was another of his Books in Print, viz. the ſecond Part of the Angelical Life, which he deſired might be ſent him. —— And Biſhop Barlow afterwards ſent him a very friendly Letter.

Mr. Sylveſter, Biſhop Sanderſon. Ibid. p. 449.

17. Mr. Matthew Sylveſter had his Education in St. John's College in Cambridge, and left the Univerſity ſooner than his Inclination would have led him by the Force of Neceſſity. After ſome Time ſpent in the Countrey, he fix'd in the Living of Gunnerby Com. Linc. where the Act of Uniformity found and ejected him. The learned Dr. Sanderſon, then Biſhop of the Dioceſe, who was ſome way related to him, ſent for him, treated him moſt courteouſly, and offer'd him conſiderable Preferment, if he would but have conform'd. —— He cultivated however, a good Correſpondence with ſeveral Divines of the Eſtabliſh'd Church, and was well reſpected by ſeveral of them, eſpecially by the late Archbiſhop Tillotſon and Dr. Whichcot.

Mr. Ainſworth. Biſhop Laney. Ibid. p. 496.

18. Mr. Samuel Ainſworth was deprived from Kellmarſh Com. Northampt. Biſhop Laney, after his Remove to Lincoln, look'd through his Fingers, and ſuffer'd this worthy Man, though a Nonconformiſt, to preach publickly very near him (at Brampton joining upon Bugden) for many Years together; as is obſerved by Mr. Pierce in his Conformiſts Plea for the Nonconformiſts, p. 39.

19. Mr.

Mr. Trueman.

Biſhop Gunning.

Ibid. p. 528.

19. Mr. Joſeph Trueman, B. D. bred up at Clare-Hall in Cambridge; a Man of great Parts and cloſe Study, —— ejected from the Living of Cromwell in Nottinghamſhire in 62. He liv'd afterwards at Mansfield. He was well known to and much valued by Dr. Tillotſon and Dr. Stillingfleet, the late worthy Biſhops of Canterbury and Worceſter. —— Biſhop Gunning lighting on his Book ſtyl'd The Great Propitiation, was ſo pleaſed with it, that he charged the Bookſeller to bring him into the Author's Acquaintance, whenever he came to Town.

Mr. Stretton.

Biſhop King.

Ibid. p. 676.

20. Mr. Richard Stretton, M. A. of New College Oxon. was Aſſiſtant to Dr. Cheynel at Petworth in Suſſex. At Michaelmas 1660. Dr. Cheynel was put out at Petworth to make Room for Dr. King Biſhop of Chiceſter. Mr. Stretton, however, ſtay'd and preach'd there 'till November, having two Friends, viz. Captain Taylor and Mr. Barnard, who were very great with the Biſhop, and prevented his ſending down any other. The Biſhop by them offer'd Mr. Stretton one hundred Pounds per Ann. and the Choice of any Prebend he had that was vacant, if he would be his Curate there. But Mr. Stretton not being ſatisfied to conform, declin'd it.

Mr. Jones.

Biſhop Lloyd.

Ibid. p. 721.

21. Mr. Samuel Jones, M. A. Fellow of Jeſus College Oxon. left the Church of Llangynwyd in Glamorganſhire for Nonconformity in 62. —— Dr. Lloyd Biſhop of Llandaff had a great Reſpect for him, and made him conſiderable Offers. —— He drew up a Paper in 65. by way of Queries, when he was preſſed hard by Dr. Davies Archdeacon, and the Biſhop of Llandaff to accept of a Preſentation then offered him by them.

Mr. Powell.

Biſhop Lloyd.

Ibid. p. 731.

22. Mr. John Powell, M. A. was turned out of St. Lithian in Glamorganſhire in the Year 60. for not burying a Gentleman's Son according to the Liturgy. Dr. Lloyd afterwards offer'd him his Choice of two Places, if he would have conformed; which he could not be ſatisfied to yield to.

Mr. Burgeſs.

Biſhop Hacket.

Ibid. p. 740.

23. Mr. Anthony Burgeſs, M. A. educated in St. John's College in Cambridge, thence choſen Fellow of Emanuel, ſucceeded Dr. John Burgeſs in the Living of Sutton-Coldfield Com. Warwic. near three hundred Pounds per Ann. which he left for Nonconformity. After his Ejectment he lived at Tamworth in a very chearful and pious manner, frequenting and encouraging the publick Miniſtry of a Perſon, who though he conform'd was yet his faſt Friend. Before he left his Living, the new Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield ſent for him, as he did for ſeveral other worthy, but diſſatisfied Miniſters in his Dioceſe, hoping to gain upon them. But his Deſign fail'd; and yet he gave Encomiums of ſeveral of them. Of Mr. Burgeſs he ſaid this, that he was fit for a Profeſſor's Place in the Univerſity.

Mr. Grew.

Biſhop Hacket.

Ibid. p. 751.

24. Mr. Janathan Grew had been of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, Tutour to Sir John Hales of Coventry, Baronet, and his Brother was at Caucut Hall, when the Act for Uniformity took Place. Caucut was a Living of one hundred and twenty Pounds per Ann. and a pleaſant Seat. This with another Living hard by, worth eighty Pounds per Ann. were offer'd to Mr. Grew, and Dr. Hacket the Biſhop of the Dioceſe added the Offer of a Prebend of Lichfield. But they were no Temptation to him.

Mr. Taylor.

Biſhop of Sarum.

Ibid. p. 756.

25. Mr. Thomas Taylor, a valuable Man, ejected from Burbich Com. Wilts; was offer'd a Living of four hundred Pounds a Year by the Biſhop of Saliſbury if he would conform, but he rather choſe to keep the Peace of his Conſcience in much meaner Circumſtances.

Mr. Evans.

Ibid. p. 843.

26. Mr. John Evans ejected from Oſweſtry School by the Act of Uniformity; —— About the Year 1681. he was earneſtly preſſed by the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, who at firſt expreſs'd a particular Regard to him becauſe of his Epiſcopal Ordination, and offer'd him a very good Living; which he poſitively refuſed.

Mr. Owen.

Mr. Henry.

Ibid. p. 706.

27. Dr. William Lloyd Biſhop of St. Aſaph, coming into the Parts of North-Wales, ſet himſelf with Vigour to reduce Diſſenters, and affected to do it in a reaſoning Way. —— There was a publick Conference between his Lordſhip and ſome Nonconformiſt Miniſters, Mr. Owen of Oſweſtry, Mr. Henry, &c. His Lordſhip promiſed, that nothing that ſhould be ſaid by Way of Argument, ſhould be any Way turned to the Prejudice of the Diſputants, nor Advantage taken of it to give them Trouble. —— The Biſhop managed his Part of the Conference with a great deal of Gravity, and Calmneſs, and Evenneſs of Spirit, &c.

Inſtances of the general Kindneſs of the Biſhops.

Biſhop Morley.

Abridgment, Vol. I. p. 171.

Biſhop Morley being conſulted by the Mayor of a Countrey Congregation, what Method he ſhould take effectually to root out the Fanaticks in the Year of his Mayoralty; the Biſhop now grown old, firſt preached Friendlineſs to him, by ordering him a Glaſs of Canary as oft as he ſtarted his Queſtion in Company; and next admoniſh'd him when alone, to let thoſe People live quietly, in many of whom he was ſatisfied there was the true Fear of God; and who were not likely to be gained by Rigour and Severity.

Biſhop Coſins.

Ibid. p. 172.

Biſhop Coſins of Durham had a remarkable Paſſage in his laſt Will and Teſtament, "I take it to be my Duty, and of all my Brethren, eſpecially the Biſhops and Miniſters of the Church of God, to do our utmoſt Endeavours according to the Meaſure of Grace which is given to every one of us, that at laſt an End may be put to the Differences of Religion, at leaſt they may be leſſened."

Biſhop Sanderſon.

Part I. 4^to^. p. 35. as recited by Calamy.

Mr. Pierce in his Plea for the Nonconformiſts, ſaith of Biſhop Sanderſon of Lincoln, that he was ſevere and troubled long with a ſharp Diſeaſe, which might exaſperate his Mind. And that he had a Roll of Miniſters under his angry Eye, deſign'd for Diſcipline; but when he drew nigh to his latter End, he commanded that Roll to be burnt, and ſaid, that he would die in Peace. —— At his Death he made it his Requeſt, that the ejected Miniſters might be uſed again: But his Requeſt was rejected by them that had outwitted him, as being too late.

Abridgment, Vol. I. p. 173.

Biſhop Laney.

Mr. Pierce in his ſaid Plea, p. 35. ſays, that Biſhop Laney was very moderate in his Government; in his prime Viſitation before Bartholomew Day, he in his Chamber told ſome of his Clergy what he came about; and as though he could wipe his Hands, ſaid, οὐκ ἐγὼ, ἀλλὰ νόμος. Not I, but the Law. And he could (to uſe his own Phraſe to a ſcrupulous Perſon) look through his Fingers, and ſuffer a worthy Nonconformiſt to preach publickly very near him, for ſome Years together, after his Remove to another Biſhoprick [i. e. Lincoln]. —— [I have heard the Story thus; the Biſhop told his Clergy that his coming to viſit them was to perſuade them all to Conformity, and among other Things urged the Penalty of the late Act of Uniformity; and when they complained of that grievous Penalty, and hoped his Lordſhip would not inflict it; he ſo anſwered to imply, that it was the Law, not his Will and Pleaſure.]

Ibid. Note of Dr. Calamy.

Biſhop Reynolds.

Mr. Pierce ſays, that Biſhop Reynolds of Norwich carried the Wounds of the Church in his Heart and Bowels to the Grave with him; as is well known to many that knew him.

Ibid. p. 174. Note of Dr. Calamy.

Biſhop Earle.

Mr. Pierce gives Dr. Earle Biſhop of Saliſbury this Character, "That he was "a Man that could do Good againſt Evil; forgive much, and of a charitable "Heart, and who died to the no great Sorrow of them, who reckon'd his "Death was juſt, for labouring with all his Might againſt the Oxford Five "Mile Act, quickly after it."

Ibid.

Mr. Tapper. Biſhop Wilkins. Biſhop Ward.

28. Mr. Samuel Tapper had been preſented by Cromwell to the Vicarage of St. Meren in Cornwall, from which Mr. Hen. Banbrigg was ſequeſtred; and continued in it 'till the Reſtauration, when Mr. Banbrigg was reſtored. —— He withdrew from the Eſtabliſhment with a very charitable and peaceable Diſpoſition. —— His great Learning, with his Moderation, Modeſty, and Candour, procur'd him the intimate Friendſhip of the moſt valuable and learned Clergy and others of the City of Exeter. Dr. Wilkins afterward Biſhop of Cheſter, Mr. Hopkins afterward Biſhop of London-derry, and others often viſited him, and invited him to a Latin Theological Diſputation, which the Clergy held once a Week. Biſhop Ward had ſo great a Value for him, that he offer'd his Intereſt to get him Preferment if he would conform, which he modeſtly refuſed. He often dined at the Palace, and that when the Times ran high againſt the Nonconformiſts: And the Biſhop told him, the oftner he came the more welcome. Once and again hath that learned Prelate laid his Hands on Mr. Tapper's Head, and bleſſed him, and then would ſmilingly ſay, Mr. Tapper, Where is the Harm of a Biſhop's laying on of Hands? Mr. Baldwin Acland, B. D. Treaſurer of the Cathedral at Exeter had ſuch a Reſpect for him, that he importun'd the Biſhop to grant him a Licence to preach in his Chapel. This the Biſhop could not do: But he promiſed to connive at him, as long as he could, provided the Liturgy was always read by another. The Treaſurer promiſed this, and took Care to have it perform'd; and the Biſhop took no Notice, 'till the repeated Clamour of ſome of the furious Gentry oblig'd him privately to adviſe him to deſiſt; which he did.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. of Account, 8vo. Vol. I. p. 218.

Mr. Whiddon. Biſhop Sparrow.

29. Mr. Francis Whiddon, M. A. ejected before his Brethren from Totneſs in Devon. on June 22, 1662. —— He continued in the Town and ſtatedly preached twice on the Lord's-Day. —— He was put into the Spiritual Court at every Turn, and had Proceſſes out againſt him. But a Gentleman of his Name and Family, by his Intereſt with Biſhop Sparrow, preſerved him once and again from Danger from that Quarter.

Ibid. p. 286.

Mr. Hanmer. Biſhop Ward.

30. Mr. Jonathan Hanmer, M. A. caſt out of the Living of Biſhops-Tawton in Devon. Aug. 24, 1662. Among his Papers there is an Order ſigned by Seth Exon to ſeveral of the Pariſhioners of Biſhops-Tawton, requiring them to pay him what was due of Tythes at the Time of his Removal, &c.

Ibid. p. 303.

Mr. Dod. Biſhop Juxon.

31. Mr. Robert Dod, afterwards Rector of Inworth in Eſſex, and there ſilenc'd in 1662. was ordained by Biſhop Juxon ſoon after the coming in of King Charles. That Biſhop declar'd to him, that he was not for going high againſt the Preſbyterians, but others were of another Mind.

Ibid. p. 477.

Mr. Tray. Biſhop Nicholſon.

32. Mr. William Tray ejected from the Benefice of Oddington Com. Glouc. for Nonconformity, —— excommunicated for preaching at his own Houſe in Leonard Stanley: But he that was at that Time Biſhop of Glouceſter wrote to him twice, and offer'd him, that if he would conform, he ſhould have as good a Parſonage as any in his Dioceſe. Mr. Tray thankfully acknowledg'd the Biſhop's Kindneſs, but ſaid, that he was too old to conform.

Ibid. p. 502.

Mr. Croſſin. Biſhop Ward.

33. Mr. Croſſin turn'd out from a Sequeſtration near Fordingbridge in Hampſhire, to which Mr. Cuff the old Incumbent return'd at the Reſtauration, went into Devonſhire and found ſo much Favour with the Biſhop of Exeter as to be continued in a Living there ſome Time after 1662. without Reordination.

Ibid. p. 515.

Mr. Tombes. Biſhop Sanderſon.

34. Mr. John Tombes, B. D. ejected from Lemſter Com. Hereford, and the Parſonage of Roſs, &c. —— Biſhop Sanderſon had a great Eſteem for him, as had alſo one of his Succeſſors, Biſhop Barlow. —— Even Mr. Wood ſays of him, that ſet aſide his Anabaptiſtical Poſitions, he was conformable enough to the Church, would frequently go to Common-Prayer, and receive the Sacrament at Saliſbury, and often viſit Dr. Ward Biſhop of that Place, who reſpected him for

Ibid. p. 522.

Biſhop Ward.

for his Learning. And this his Occaſional Conformity Biſhop Burnet took particular Notice of, in the free Conference between the two Houſes of Lords and Commons, of which he was one of the Managers in 1702. mentioning him as a very learned and famous Man that lived at Saliſbury.

Mr. Bradſhaw.
Biſhop Wilkins.

35. Mr. James Bradſhaw ejected and ſilenc'd at Hindley in the Pariſh of Wigan Com. Lanc. —— moved to Rainford, a conſecrated Chapel in Preſcot Pariſh, and there held a fair and amicable Correſpondence with ſeveral of the Clergy of the Eſtaliſhed Church, who reſpected him, and ſometimes preached for him,—and read the Divine Service. And the Biſhop of Cheſter diſcharged Informations againſt peaceable and ſober Perſons; and ſo without being proſecuted, he continued his miniſterial Service in the Chapel aforeſaid. Nor had he any Moleſtation except at the Time of Monmouth's Rebellion.

Ibid. p. 568.

Mr. Harriſon.
Biſhop Wilkins.

36. Mr. Cuthbert Harriſon, a Nonconformiſt in Ireland, return'd back to England, and ſettled at a Place called Bankefield near Singleton in Lincaſhire; and having obtained a Licence from Biſhop Wilkins, he preached in his own Houſe.

Vol. II. p. 573.

Mr. Lomax.
Biſhop Coſins.

37. Mr. John Lomax ſilenc'd and giving Place at Wooler in Northumberland, ſuffer'd much for his Norconformity; —— he was one of ſubſtantial and polite Learning, which Biſhop Coſins, a Prelate of great Integrity (how high ſoever his Notions were as to Eccleſiaſtical Poilcy) did him the Juſtice to acknowledge. When Dr. Cartwright then Prebend. of Durham (who was afterwards made a Biſhop by King James) took Occaſion in the Preſence of Biſhop Coſins, to reflect upon Mr. Lomax amongſt other diſſenting Miniſters (which was at that Time very cuſtomary) the Biſhop ſaid to him, Doctor hold your Tongue, for to my certain Knowledge John Lomax is a learned Man. And indeed it was obſerved, that that learned Biſhop ſeem'd to be more earneſt and ſolicitous to get him to comply with the Eccleſiaſtical Settlement, and come into the Church, than any Preacher in the County: And though he did not ſucceed, he often ſpake of him with great Reſpect.

Ibid. p. 672.

Mr. Woodman.
Biſhop King.

38. Some Time before the Act of Uniformity took Place, Dr. King, who conform'd and was made Biſhop of Chicheſter, was importunate with Mr. Woodman (in the Living of Slynford Com. Suſſex, which he after loſt by Nonconformity) to conform with him, and promiſed him his utmoſt Intereſt for the Deanery of that Dioceſe.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. of Account, p. 830.

Mr. Pruthero.

39. Mr. Rice Pruthero, and Man of great Worth and equal Modeſty, an excellent School-maſter, &c. ſilenc'd in Caermathenſhire; had conſiderable Offers made him, if he would have conform'd, from Dr. Thomas, then Biſhop of St. David's, and afterwards of Worceſter, who always carry'd it to him with great Reſpect.

Ibid. p. 845.

Dr. Grew and Dr. Bryan.

40. When the Miniſters were turned out on Auguſt 24, 1662. Biſhop Hacket was particularly urgent with Dr. Obadiah Grew and Dr. Bryan of Coventry, to bring them to Conformity, and gave them Leave to preach a Month longer. But then Dr. Grew preach'd his Farewell Sermon.

Ibid. p. 850.

Mr. Taylor.
Biſhop Henchman.
Biſhop Hyde.
Biſhop Earle.

41. Mr. Thomas Taylor ejected from the Vicarage of Burbich Com. Wilts, a ſequeſtred Living, remov'd to Saliſbury, —— where he continued ſeven Years in Peace with his numerous Family. Biſhop Henchman and the two ſucceeding Biſhops, Hide and Earl, and their Courts, giving neither him nor the other Nonconformiſts that were at that Time in Saliſbury, any Trouble or Diſturbance.

Ibid. p. 866.

Mr. Thompſon.
Biſhop Pierce.

42. Mr. William Thompſon, ſenior, who was the Incumbent at Corſham Com. Wilts, in 1663. and afterwards, would often complain to Mr. Tho. Roſewell of the Burden of the Ceremonies, and told him, he was drawn in by a mere Wheedle of the Biſhop to conform before he was aware. He meant Dr. Pierce then Biſhop of Bath and Wells.

Ibed. p. 883.

Mr. Spilſbury.
Biſhop Hall.

43. Mr. John Spilſbury, M. A. who left the Vicarage of Broomſgrove for Nonconformity, was exceedingly valued by Dr. Hall Biſhop of Briſtol, whoſe Siſter he married. The Biſhop ordinarily viſited him once a Year, and continued ſome Weeks at his Houſe; and when he died, he made his only Child his Heir, tho' Paſtor of a Congregation of Diſſenters in the Town of Kidderminſter.

Ibid. p. 893.

Mr. Durham.
Biſhop Compton.

44. Mr. William Durham who left one of the beſt Livings in England (Tredington in Worceſterſhire, worth ſeven hundred Pounds per Annum, conformed afterwards, perſuaded (as it was ſuppoſed) by the late Biſhop of London, his Intimate [Dr. Hen. Compton] who was often at Compton Houſe in Warwickſhire. The lowermoſt Church on Bread-ſtreet Hill was given him (which was ſcarce worth a Quarter of what he quitted) and there he lived and died.

Ibid. p. 895.

Mr. Bowles.

45. Dr. Tillotſon and Dr. Stillingfleet counted Mr. Bowles of York a very extraordinary Perſon. One from whom I have it, was told by the latter of them, that they deſired to bring him into the Eſtabliſhed Church, above any one Man in England. They ſpent a whole Afternoon together upon him in London, but a little before the Act of Uniformity took Place, but could not prevail. His final Anſwer was, I can eaſily do enough to loſe my Friends, but I can never do enough to gain my Enemies.

Ibid. p. 933.

Biſhop Sanderſon.

Mr. Stephens of Sutton in Bedfordſhire told me, that being with Biſhop Sanderſon on the Evening, after the King had paſſed the Act of Uniformity, he among other Things told him, that more was impoſed on Miniſters than he wiſh'd had been.

Dr. Calamy's Remarks on Dr. Walker's laſt Edit. p. 29.

Mr. Hanmer. Biſhop Ward. Contin p. 303.

Mr. Jonathan Hanmer, M. A. ejected from the Living of Biſhop's-Tawton, and the Lecture at Barnſtaple in Devon. had great Kindneſs from Biſhop Ward: Among Mr. Hanmer's Papers there is an Order ſigned by Seth, Exon. in 1695. to ſeveral of the Pariſhioners of Biſhop's-Tawton, requiring them to pay him what was due of Tithes, at the Time of his Removal.

We deſire you forthwith to make Satisfaction to Mr. Jonathan Hanmer in his paſt Demands: As alſo to admoniſh you, that if you ſhall delay to do it, ſuch a Courſe will ſpeedily be taken againſt you, as will be very much to your Prejudice. Withal adding, that as your Performance of your Duty in doing Right to Mr. Hanmer upon this my brotherly Deſire and Admonition, ſhall be now taken by me as an Act of Kindneſs and Reſpect: So if this Entreaty ſhall be deſpiſed, and you ſhall perſiſt (contrary to the Laws of God and this Kingdom) to detain his Dues from him, I ſhall think myſelf oblig'd in all juſt and legal Ways to diſcountenance you, by taking Care within the Compaſs of my Juriſdiction, that the Laws be ſtrictly executed upon you, when that ſhall be required, &c.

Mr. Herring. Ibid. p. 325.

46. Mr. Richard Herring, M. A. ejected from the Living of Drews Teignton Com. Devon. liv'd in an Eſtate he had call'd Perridge in the Pariſh of Kenn, three Miles from Exeter. He preach'd in his own Houſe on the Lord's Day, and many went out of Exeter to hear him. He alſo ſometimes preach'd in the Houſe of Mr. John Meyne in the City. He inſtructed a few Boys in Grammar Learning, for which a Proſecution was ſet on Foot againſt him in the Spiritual Court: But by the Favour of Biſhop Ward, who was acquainted with him in the Univerſity, and had a Kindneſs for him, he was diſcharg'd.

Biſhop Ward.

Mr. Crabb. Ibid. p. 451.

47. Mr. Joſeph Crabb, M. A. of Beminſter ejected, after continuing ſome Time a Nonconformiſt, accepted of Axminſter in Devon. and continu'd Miniſter there to the Day of his Death. Though he was in the eſtabliſhed Church, yet in his Principles, and way of preaching and praying, he ſo reſembled the nonconforming Miniſters, that he was ſtill look'd on as one of them; ſhewing on all Occaſions that his Heart was with them. About 1683. or 1684. he was accus'd to Dr. Lamplugh Biſhop of Exeter, for neglecting to read Prayers on Wedneſdays and Fridays, and not coming up to the Heighth of Conformity: But the Biſhop after he had heard his Defence, diſmiſs'd him with Favour, to the Diſappointment of his Accuſers.

Biſhop Lamplugh.

Mr. Creſſwick. Ibid. p. 519.

48. Mr. James Creſwick, B. D. who loſt the Living of Freſhwater in the Iſle of Wight for Nonconformity, preached there not only on Aug. 17, 1662. but alſo on the 24th and 31ſt of the ſame Month, inſiſting on theſe Words, Heb. x. 34. And ye took joyfully the ſpoiling of your Goods, &c. For his preaching two Lords Days after the Time which the Law confin'd him to, except he conform'd, two of his Pariſhioners inform'd againſt him, and attended Biſhop Morley of Wincheſter, who was juſt then making a Viſitation. Mr. Creſwick underſtanding their Intention himſelf, made Application to the Biſhop, and told his Lordſhip what he had done, ſignifying that his continuing to preach, was out of his Willingneſs the Pariſh ſhould be ſupplied till another Incumbent came. He added, that he conceiv'd himſelf ſufficiently impower'd for what he did, as he was yet Fellow of St. John's College, [Cambridge] which gave him a Privilege to preach in any Church or Chapel at Pleaſure. And producing his Licence, he took the Freedom to aſk the Biſhop, whether that was invalidate by the Act of Uniformity? The Biſhop reply'd, that he thought not, &c.

Biſhop Morley.

Mr. Bradſhaw. Ibid. p. 568.

49. Mr. James Bradſhaw ejected and ſilenc'd at Hindley in the Pariſh of Wiggan in Lancaſhire, after Bartholomew Day, ſuffer'd ſome Months Impriſonment for the Crime of preaching. —— When King Charles granted Toleration, he mov'd to Rainford, a conſecrated Chapel in Preſcot Pariſh; and there held a fair and amicable Correſpondence with ſeveral of the Clergy of the eſtabliſh'd Church, who reſpected him, and ſometimes preach'd for him, which was one Means of keeping his Chapel. The Chapel-Wardens were oblig'd at the Viſitation to make their Appearance, and he having a Friend in Court, the Queſtion was commonly propoſed to them in this Manner, Have you Common-Prayer read yearly in your Chapel? To which they could ſafely anſwer Yes, becauſe once or more in every Year, ſome of the neighbouring Clergy that were his Friends, read the divine Service, and preach'd for him. And the Biſhop of Cheſter diſcharg'd Informations againſt peaceable and ſober Perſons, and ſo without being proſecuted, he continu'd his miniſterial Service in the Chapel aforeſaid.

Biſhop Wilkins.

Mr. Harriſon. Ibid. p. 573.

50. Mr. Cuthbert Harriſon ejected from Lurgan in Ireland for Nonconformity, return'd back to England, and ſettled at a Place call'd Bankefield near Singleton in Lancaſhire. Having obtain'd a Licence from Biſhop Wilkins, he preach'd in his own Houſe: And in 1672. he obtain'd the King's Licence for the Chapel of Elſwick-Lees in the Pariſh of St. Michael in the ſaid County, for the Uſe of ſuch as did not conform to the Church of England, commonly call'd Congregational.

Biſhop Wilkins.

Mr. Brice. Ibid. p. 705.

51. Dr. Seth Ward, Biſhop of Sarum, hearing that Mr. William Brice, a deprived Nonconformiſt, had preach'd in ſome Churches in his Dioceſe, expreſſed ſome Diſpleaſure at his doing it: Which Mr. Brice hearing of, took an Opportunity to wait upon him, and frankly own'd to him, that he had indeed preached in ſome Churches in his Dioceſe, and ſhould make bold to continue to do it as Opportunity offer'd, unleſs his Lordſhip took more Care of the Souls of the poor People, and made berter Proviſion for them.

Mr. Philips.

Biſhop Thomas.

Contin. p. 843.

52. Mr. Peregrine Philips, who had been an eminent Sort of itinerant Preacher in South-Wales, and loſt his Living of Llangone in Pembrokeſhire for Nonconformity; retired to a Countrey Farm call'd Dredgmanhill, and became Tenant to Sir Herbert Perrot. —— He was caſt into Priſon a ſecond Time, for keeping a Conventicle in his Houſe, and the Judges and Biſhop Thomas coming then to the Aſſizes at Haverford-Weſt, made him conſiderable Offers if he would conform, but nothing prevailing they ſet him at Liberty.

Mr. Heath.

Biſhop Hall.

That Biſhop at that Time was not Biſhop Walton, who died Nov. 29, 1661. who yet might reſpect him and adviſe him to Church Conformity.

Account, p. 548.

53. Mr. Richard Heath, Preacher at St. Mary's in Shrewſbury, late of Chriſt's College, Cambridge, had great Learning eſpecially in the oriental Tongues, in which he was one of the greateſt Maſters of the Age. He was employ'd to correct the Syriac and Arabic of the Polyglot Bible, which was ſent down to him in Sheets for that Purpoſe, for which Biſhop Walton gave him a Copy. He at the Perſuaſion of that Biſhop continu'd a few Lords-Days after Aug. 24, 1662. reading the Liturgy, but was ſoon ſilenc'd, becauſe he could not come up to the impos'd Terms of Conformity.

Mr. A. Burgeſs.

Biſhop Hacket.

Ibid. p. 740.

54. Before Mr. Anthony Burgeſs left his Living of Sutton-Coldfield in Warwickſhire, the new Biſhop of Coventry and Litchfield ſent for him, as he did for ſeveral other worthy, but diſſatiſfy'd, Miniſters in his Dioceſe, hoping to gain upon them. But his Deſign fail'd, and yet he gave Encomiums of ſeveral of them. Of Mr. Burgeſs he ſaid this, that he was fit for a Profeſſor's Place in the Univerſity.

Mr. Baxter.

Biſhop Sheldon.

And thus he went on till May 15, 1662. when he preached his farewell Sermon at Blackfryars. Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 901.

Life of Mr. R. Baxter, Lib. 1. Part II. p. 302.

55. I reſolved (ſaith Mr. Richard Baxter) to go to the Biſhop of London, to aſk him for his Licence to preach in his Dioceſe. Some Brethren blamed me for it, as being an owning of prelatical Uſurpation. —— The Biſhop received me with very great Expreſſion of Reſpects, and offered me his Licence, and would let his Secretary take no Money of me: But he offered me the Book to ſubſcribe in: I told him, that he knew that the King's Declaration exempted us from Subſcription: He bid me write what I would: I told him, that what I reſolved to do, and what I thought meet for him to expect I would do of Choice, though I might forbear: And ſo in Latin I ſubſcribed my Promiſe not to preach againſt the Doctrine of the Church, or the Ceremonies eſtabliſhed by Law in his Dioceſe.

The Biſhops no Perſecutors.

[To theſe Inſtances of Epiſcopal Good Will and Charity to the late deprived or ſilenc'd Miniſters, it would be too tedious to add the many others. Theſe may the better ſuffice, becauſe acknowledg'd by their own Friend and Advocate Dr. Calamy, a laborious Searcher after Things and Men. And certainly this Specimen may ſerve to cover the Biſhops from the Name and Odium of Perſecutors, ſo freely caſt upon them. Whereas they ſhew'd all Humanity and brotherly Love, and either indulg'd or conniv'd at the diſſenting Miniſters even beyond the Strictneſs of their Canons, and the Laws of the Land.]

Biſhop Bramhall's Vindication of the Epiſcopal Clergy againſt the Aſperſions of Mr. Baxter.

Biſhop Bramhall in the Vindication of himſelf and the Epiſcopal Clergy from the Preſbyterian Charge of Popery, as managed by Mr. Baxter in his Treatiſe of the Grotian Religion, has one particular Chapter with this Title, An Anſwer to ſundry Aſperſions caſt by Mr. Baxter on the Church of England; wherein he writes thus of the late Intruders into ſequeſtred Livings, while they were in the uſurped Poſſeſſion of them.

B. B. 60.

Before I leave Mr. Baxter, I cannot chuſe but tell him, that I do not, I cannot approve of his Defence of Sequeſtrations, and what he believeth of idle, ignorant, unworthy Paſtors, that they are obliged to make Reſtitution; the ſame do I firmly believe of his Sequeſtrators, that without Reſtitution according to the Extent of their Power, they can have but ſmall Hope of Salvation. He doth diſown indeed the caſting out of able and godly Miniſters becauſe they were Prelatical, or ſuppos'd Arminians, or intereſſed in the late civil Differences. But we know that the greateſt Part of ſequeſtred Perſons were ſuch, and ejected for thoſe very Reaſons. He would divert the Queſtion from ſequeſtred Miniſters, to ignorant unſufficient reading Miniſters. He cannot chuſe but know, that good Uſe may be made of reading Miniſters in a conſtituted Church; and that there is much leſs Danger of them than of ignorant or ſeditious Preachers: Yet our reading Miniſters of all the Clergy were in leaſt Danger of their Sequeſtrators, who looked more at the Value of the Benefice, than at the Qualifications of thoſe Perſons who were turned out. He who doubteth of this general Truth, upon Enquiry into particular Caſes may ſoon ſatiſfy himſelf. And as he diſowns the Queſtion, and diverts the Queſtion, ſo he begs the Queſtion: That thoſe Miniſters whom they put in were incomparably better than thoſe they turned out. No nor yet worthy to be named the ſame Day with them. Compare thoſe Provoſts and Preſidents, and Profeſſors, and Fellows, and Scholars who were turned out of our Univerſities, with thoſe Bulruſhes in Compariſon, whom they for the moſt Part introduced; or read but the Martyrology of the City of London alone with an impartial Eye, and conſider ſadly how many eminent Perſons for Learning, Piety and Induſtry, have been turned out of their Livelihoods merely for thoſe Reaſons which he diſowneth, and dares not juſtify. He who ſhall do this Thing ſeriouſly, and compare them with their crawling Succeſſors, will find Cauſe enough to write upon the Doors of their Habitations, O Domus antiqua, quam diſpari dominaris Domino!

From this Foot a Man may eaſily conjecture the Proportion of the whole Body; and what have been the Sufferings of our orthodox Clergy throughout the whole Kingdom, contrary to the Laws of God and Man; how many of them have been beggar'd and neceſſitated to turn Mechanicks or Day-Labourers; how many impriſon'd or forc'd to forſake their native Countrey, and ſeek their Bread among Strangers; how many have had their Hearts broken, ſome ſtarved, ſome murdered, and the Spoil of their Houſes given for a Reward to the Murderer. But this is a ſad Subject to dwell upon. God Almighty pardon them who have had a Hand in ſuch cruel Courſes, and give them true Repentance. In the mean Time their Sequeſtrators, notwithſtanding their former Cenſures againſt all Pluraliſts, and their preſent pretended Self-Denial, were well contented to hold Pluralities themſelves with Confidence enough.

But ſuppoſing that all who have been ſequeſtred, or turned out of their Benefices by them had been ſuch undeſerving Perſons as he feigneth; yet theſe ſequeſtred Perſons had a juſt Title to their Benefices by the Laws of England: And that which was theirs by Law, cannot be taken from them without Law, or againſt Law. Dominion is founded in Nature not in Grace, &c.

By the Laws of England they were poſſeſſed of their Benefices, and by the Laws of England they ought to be outed of their Benefices. They who decried Arbitrary Government, ſhould not be the only Men to introduce Arbitrary Government into England. The Law of England knoweth no way to out a Man of his Benefice, but by Death, Ceſſion or Deprivation. It knoweth no Deprivation but for Crimes committed againſt Law; and no Deprivation but by Perſons to whom the ancient Law of England hath committed the Power of depriving. So every way their Sequeſtrations are unlawful, and they who hold them are like Moths inhabiting in other Mens Garments. —— Sequeſtration may have Place during the Vacancy of a Benefice, or until the Deciſion of ſome Proceſs depending, or for the Diſcharge of ſome Debt which by Law is incumbent upon the Benfice; but ſuch lawleſs Arbitrary Sequeſtrations as theſe were, are plain Robbery by all Laws of God and Man.

Upon the Complaints made of ſo many ejected Miniſters for Nonconformity,

A Liſt was publiſh'd of the much greater Sufferings of the late loyal Clergy of the Church of England in one ſingle County, that of Hampſhire.

London, 1662, 4to.

A Liſt of the Clergy of Hampſhire: Or a brief Catalogue of the learned, grave, religious and painful Miniſters of Hampſhire, who have been impriſoned, plundered and barbarouſly uſed, deprived of all Livelihood for themſelves and their Families in the late Rebellion; for their Conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion, and their Loyalty to their King under that grand Preſbyterian Tyranny. London, printed to ſhew the World the Stubbornneſs and Cruelty of the Preſbyters 1662.

After a Liſt of the like Sufferers in the City of London;

And a Catalogue of the ſilenc'd Non-Conforming Miniſters.

Let People now judge which Side has moſt Reaſon to complain of Perſecution.

The Church Clergy were ejected, plundred, ſequeſtred, impriſon'd, murdered, ſtarved, poyſoned, and all contrary to Law.

The Nonconforming Sufferers not a fourth Part of the other, diſobedient to Law.

And many of them only ejected out of thoſe Livings which they had got by Rapine, &c.

A Letter, &c. I met here by Chance with a ſeaſonable Sheet, call'd a Bill of Mortality, being a Liſt of the ejected, orthodox and loyal Divines in the City of London, under the late Preſbyterian Tyranny. And another Catalogue of certain Preachers of the ſame City, whoſe Mouths the Law hath lately ſtopp'd, which laſt doth cauſe a great Clamour abroad. Now to undeceive the ignorant, ſeduced People of the Nation, being a great Expedient to advance the Peace of the Church and State; I cannot but commend his Love to both, that hath begun ſo good a Work, as to publiſh the Names of both the ejected Parties, that the very People who have been ſo long miſled, may judge which Side have moſt Reaſon to cry out of Perſecution, whether the former who were all ejected and plundered, moſt ſequeſtred, and many impriſoned and murdered, ſome by the pretended Sword of Juſtice, others ſtarved and poyſoned, and all this done contrary to Law by Rebels and Traytors: Or the latter (who are not a quarter of the Number of the former) who firſt for not conforming to the Government of the ſame Church, which gave moſt of them their Orders, and it eſtabliſh'd by the ancient Fundamental Laws of the Land; and ſecondly, becauſe they may not be permitted to live in a perpetual Freedom to alter the Government of Church and State, whenſoever they have Opportunity: They are only ejected out of thoſe Livings which moſt of them enjoy'd by Rapine, and permitted to keep thoſe great Riches which they got by preaching Rebellion. Now Friend, being very ſenſible what a right Underſtanding this may work in the good People of this Land, I have club'd my Mite towards it, and have ſent you a perfect Liſt of the ſequeſtred Divines in our Countrey, and if every one that loves their own Poſterity, and the Peace of Sion would do as much, I hope that by God's Bleſſing the Happineſs of this Nation would be ſettled upon a ſure and laſting Foundation which ſhall be the conſtant Prayer of,

The Churches Son, and your Servant,

T. C.

In the Deanery of Wincheſter.

Deanery of Wincheſter 14.

1. The Dean and the twelve Prebendaries, and the two Archdeacons, and all the other Officers of the ſame Church, to the Number of Thirty at the leaſt, all turned out and plundred, and many of them impriſoned.—
2. St. Mary Calendar, and Lawrence. } Mr. Will. Taylor ſequeſtred and plundred.
3. Chilcombe. Mr. Fagor ſequeſtred and plundred.
4. Crawley. Dr. Alexander ſequeſtred and plundred.
5. Kingſgate and St. Mary's. } Mr. Alworth ſequeſtred and plundred.
6. Moreſtead. Mr. Goſling ſequeſtred.
7. St. Clements. Mr. Holloway ſequeſtred and plundred.
8. St. Thomas. Mr. Cotton ſequeſtred and plundred.
9. St. John's and St. Peter's in Soca. } Mr. Lucy ſequeſtred.

10. St. Michael's. Mr. Martin ſequeſtred.
11. Stoke Epiſcopi. Mr. Gawen ſequeſtred.
12. Weeke. Mr. Truſſell ſequeſtred.
13. Winhall. Mr. Tutt ſequeſtred.
14. St. Croſs Hoſpital. Dr. Lewis.

In the Deanery of Arleſford.

Deanery of Arleſford 8.

1. Arleſford. Dr. Peter Heylyn ſequeſtred and plundred, and his great Library all taken away by Colonel Richard Norton of Southweek.
2. Avington. Dr. Green ſequeſtred.
3. Bramdean. Mr. Rolfe ſequeſtred and plundred.
4. Cheriton. Mr. Hugh Halſwell ſequeſtred.
5. Hinton Amner. Dr. Stanley ſequeſtred and plundred.
6. Itchin Stoke. Mr. Maddocks ſequeſtred.
7. Sutton Epiſcopi. Mr. Loweman ſequeſtred.
8. Worthy Martyr. Mr. Clapham ſequeſtred.

In the Deanery of Alton.

Deanery of Alton 4.

1. Alton. Mr. Maſon ſequeſtred and plundred.
2. Bentworth. Mr. Hood ſequeſtred.
3. Headly. Mr. Thompſon ſequeſtred.
4. Selborne. Mr. Langworth ſequeſtred.

In the Deanery of Baſingſtoke.

Deanery of Baſingſtoke 10.

1. Aſhdean. Mr. Holdepp.
2. Baſingſtoke. Mr. Webb.
3. Crundale. Mr. Lively.
4. Clidſden. Mr. Moringe.
5. Dean. ———
6. Heckfield. Mr. Croſs.
7. Hannilon. Mr. Page.
8. Odyham. Mr. Hollneſſe.
9. South-Warnborough. Dr. P. Heylyn.
10. Dogmerſfield. Mr. Hanham.

In Andover Deanery.

Deanery of Andover 11.

1. Abbots-Inn. Dr. Hyde impriſoned.
2. Andover. Mr. Clarke ſequeſtred and impriſoned.
3. Amport. Mr. Souch ſequeſtred and impriſoned.
4. Burrough-Cleere. Dr. Lucy now Biſhop of St. David's.
5. Eaſt-Woodhaw. Dr. Lewis.
6. Jacombe. Mr. Whiſtler.
7. High-Cleere. Dr. Lucy.
8. Lakenholt. Mr. Lake.
9. Over-Wallop. Dr. Younge, the Reverend Dean of Wincheſter ſequeſtred and plundred, and a Tinker placed to preach there.
10. Upclatford. Mr. Samburne.
11. Wherwell Rect. Dr. Nicholas.

In Droxford Deanery.

Deanery of Droxford 17.

1. Alver-Stoke. Mr. Rolph ſequeſtred and plundred.
2. Buriton. Dr. Laney now Biſhop of Peterborough.
3. Bleridworth. Mr. Shaw.
4. Bedhampton. Mr. Aderne.
5. Charlton. Dr. Gillingham.
6. Clanfield. Mr. Heath.
7. Droxford. Dr. Preſton.
8. Eaſtmeane. Mr. Shingley ſequeſtred and impriſoned.
9. Fearham. Mr. Hamilton.
10. Harant. Mr. Ringſtead.
11. Portſmouth. Mr. Flea.
12. Rowner. Mr. Searle.
13. Upham. Mr. Waſerer.
14. Warnford. Dr. Coxe.
15. Warblington. Mr. Payne.
16. Weſtmeane. Mr. Bloodworth.
17. Waltham. Dr. Gulſton.

In the Deanery of the Iſle of Wight.

Iſle of Wight 9.

1. Bonchurch. Mr. Dickſon.
2. Calborne and } Dr. Sydenham.
3. Brixton. }
4. Freſhwater. Mr. Goodman.
5. Godſhill. Mr. Croſsfield.
6. Gatſcombe. Mr. Price.
7. St. Laurence. Mr. Moſeley.
8. Woolton. Mr. Barlows ſequeſtred and impriſoned in a Dungeon for many Weeks.
9. Youverland. Mr. Richards.

In the Deanery of Sumborne.

Deanery of Sumborne 11.

1. Broughton. Mr. Dowſe.
2. Barton-Stacey. Mr. Morgan.
3. Chilbolton. Dr. Hinton impriſoned.
4. Houghton. Dr. Alexander ſequeſtred and plundred.
5. Seckford. Mr. Noſe impriſoned.
6. Long-Stoke. Mr. Beaſly impriſoned.
7. Michelmerſh. Mr. Maningham.
8. Motſon. Dr. Stanley.
9. Stoke-Charity. Mr. Pink impriſoned.
10. Iwiſbury. Mr. Eaſtgate.
11. Wanſton. Dr. Burby.

In the Deanery of Southampton.

Deanery of Southampton 6.

1. Botley. Dr. Lambe.
2. Dibden. Mr. Squire.
3. Fauty. Mr. Tull.
4. Murſhing. Mr. Goode.
5. Holy Cood. Mr. Edmundſon.
6. North-Stoneham. Mr. Alcocke.

In the Deanery of Fordingbridge.

Deanery of Fordingbridge 5.

1. Chriſt-Church. Mr. Imber ſequeſtred, plundred and impriſoned.
2. Fordingbridge. Mr. Cuffe ſequeſtred.
3. Minſtead. Mr. Lake ſequeſtred.
4. Milton. Mr. Bound ſequeſtred.
5. Soply. Mr. Lake ſequeſtred.

This is as perfect a Liſt as I could collect in ſo ſhort a Time: But note that though the Word ſequeſtred be not added to every Name herein, yet every one of thoſe were ſequeſtred at leaſt, and many plundred and impriſoned.

The total Sum of the Miniſters ejected above 100, with the Dean and Chapter, whereof Doctors at leaſt 25.

Books and Papers Publiſhed in or about October 1662.

Min. Fœl.

Minucii Felicis Octavius, &c.

Oxon. 1662. 12^{o}.

Dr. Henry More.

A Collection of Philoſophical Writings: Publiſhed by Henry More, D. D. Fellow of Chriſt's College in Cambridge.

Lond. 1662. Fol.

Mr. John Cotton's Covenant of Grace.

A Treatiſe of the Covenant of Grace. By John Cotton, Miniſter of the Word.

London, 1662. 8^{vo}.

D'Eſpaigne's Wonders of God.

An Eſſay on the Wonders of God in his Works, &c. By John D'Eſpaigne.

Ibid.

Mr. Dudley Digges againſt Subjects taking Arms.

The Unlawfulneſs of Subjects taking up Arms againſt their Sovereign in what Caſe ſoever, with Anſwers to all Objections, &c. By Dudley Digges Fellow of All-Souls College in Oxford. [Mr. A. Wood calls it ſo ſubtil and ſolid a Treatiſe of the Differences betwixt the King and Parliament, that ſuch Royaliſts that have ſince handled that Controverſy have come far beneath him. Firſt printed at Oxford, 1643. 4^{to}. Re-printed at London, 1647. Whereupon a Complaint being made to the Committee of Complaints, the Printers and Publiſhers of it were to be tried at the King's-Bench. It was alſo publiſhed again at London, 1662. 8^{vo}. Part of which Impreſſion lying dead, there was a new Title, dated 1679. put to it.

Ibid.

Athen. Oxon. ſub Ann. 1643.

Ogilby of the King's Paſſage and Coronation.

The large Treatiſe formerly promiſed and much expected, of his Majeſty's Entertainment, in his paſſing through London; with the whole Cavalcade, and the four Arches, in Sculpture. As alſo a Narrative and Sculptures of his Majeſty's ſolemn Coronation, not 'till now. Publiſhed by John Ogilby, Gent.

London, ſold by Rich. Marriot, &c. 1662. Fol.

Sheppard's Actions upon the Caſe.

Actions upon the Caſe for Deeds, viz. Contracts, Aſſumpſits, Deceipt, Nuiſances, Trover and Converſion, Delivery of Goods, and for other Male-feaſance and Miſ-feaſance; a Learning of great and common Uſe for all Men. By William Sheppard, Eſq;

London, ſold by S. Speed, 1662.

Pharamond: A Romance.

Pharamond: The Hiſtory of France. An excellent new Romance; written by the Author of Caſſandra or Cleopatra, and elegantly rendred into Engliſh.

Ibid.

Maps ſet out by John Speed, of all the Counties of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales, with Proſpects of all the moſt famous Ports of the World, &c.

London, ſold by Rog. Roe, 1662. Fol. 1710. 8^{vo}.

Treaty for the Surrendry of Dunkirk.

A Treaty between Lewis XIV. of France and Charles II. King of England, for the Sale and Surrendry of Dunkirk to his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty: Agreed and concluded at London on the twenty ſeventh of October 1662. Printed in the General Collection of Treaties.

Dr. John Owen againſt Fiat Lux.

Animadverſions on a Treatiſe entitled Fiat Lux, [a Popiſh Treatiſe lately writ by John Vincent Cane, Franciſcan Fryar] by John Owen, D. D. —— who afterwards wrote A Vindication of the Animadverſions on Fiat Lux. London 1664. 8^{vo}. and thereby followed the Advice given him by the Lord Chancellour Clarendon, to employ his Time and Abilities in Writing againſt the Papiſts.

Lond. 1662. 8^{vo}.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 561.

A Diſcourſe of Oaths as an Appendix to the Peace-Offering.

A Diſcourſe of the Nature and Obligation of Oaths, wherein Satisfaction is tendred touching the Non-Obligation and Unlawfulneſs of the Oath called The Solemn League and Covenant, the Acknowledgment whereof is required of us by a late Act of Parliament, entitled, An Act for Uniformity, &c. Publiſhed as an Appendix to the Peace-Offering, by the ſame Author.

London, for Tho. Pierpoint, 1662. 4^{to}.

Farewel Sermon of Mr. Hen. Stubbe.

God's gracious Preſence the Saints great Privilege. A funeral Sermon to a Congregation in London, on 2 Theſſ. iii. 16. Together with a Diſſuaſive from Conformity to the World. By Henry Stubbe, [a nonconforming Miniſter, and ſome Time a Preacher in the City of Wells, where I find him as an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners appointed by Parliament to eject ſuch whom they then (1654.) called ſcandalous and ignorant Miniſters and Schoolmaſters.]

Re-printed Lond. 1675. 8^{vo}.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 420.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 318.

A Play of Mr. Shirley.

Honoria and Memnon. Written by James Shirley, Gent. Scene, Metropolis or New Troy. Whereunto is added, The Contention of Ajax and Ulyſſes for the Armour of Achilles, as it was repreſented by young Gentlemen of Quality at a private Entertainment of ſome Perſons of Honour.

London, ſold by Joh. Crook, 1661.

Matthews's Pill.

The Unlearned Alchymiſt. By Rich. Matthews. With his Antidote, or Explanation of his Pill.

Lond. 1662. 12^{o}.

A true and faithful Receipt of Mr. Richard Matthews his Pill. Publiſhed by Mrs. Anne Matthews.

Ibid.

Abridgment of Sennertus.

Sennertus's Practical Phyſick drawn out by N. Culpeper and Cole.

Lond. 1662. 8^{vo}.

SATURDAY Nov. 1.

Dr. Earie Biſhop of Worceſter.

John Earle, S. T. P. was elected Biſhop of Worceſter in the Room of Dr. John Gauden deceaſed, confirm'd on the nineteenth inſtant, and ſolemnly conſecrated Novemb. 30. following, in the Chapel of Henry VII. at Weſtminſter, by Gilbert Lord Biſhop of London, aſſiſted by George Biſhop of Wincheſter, Humphrey Biſhop of Sarum, Henry Biſhop of Chicheſter, and William Biſhop of Glouceſter, by Virtue of a Commiſſion granted by the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

Rex. Juxon. Cant.

Letters-Patent to examine printed Books of Common-Prayer.

His Majeſty's Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England to authorize ſeveral Commiſſioners to examine and compare the printed Book of Common-Prayer, to be repoſited in each Cathedral Church and elſewhere in the Courts of Juſtice, with the Original confirmed by Act of Parliament, in Purſuance of the following Clauſe in the ſaid Act. XXVIII. And to the End that the true and perfect Copies of this Act, and the ſaid Book hereunto annexed may be ſafely kept, and perpetually preſerved, and for the avoiding of all Diſputes for the Time to come: Be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, that the reſpective Deans and Chapters of every Cathedral or Collegiate Church within England and Wales, ſhall, at their proper Coſts and Charges, before the twenty fifth Day of December one thouſand ſix hundred and ſixty two, obtain under the Great Seal of England a true and perfect printed Copy of this Act, and of the ſaid Book annexed thereunto, to be by the ſaid Deans and Chapters and their Succeſſors kept and preſerved in Safety for ever, and to be alſo produced and ſhewed forth in any Court of Record, as often as they ſhall be thereunto lawfully required. —— Which ſaid Books ſo to be exemplified under the Great Seal of England ſhall be examined by ſuch Perſons as the King's Majeſty ſhall appoint under the Great Seal of England for that Purpoſe, and ſhall be compared with the Original Book hereunto annexed, and ſhall have Power to correct or amend in Writing any Error committed by the Printer in the Printing of the ſame Book, or of any thing therein contained, and ſhall certify in Writing under their Hands and Seals, or the Hands and Seals of any three of them at the End of the ſame Book, that they have examined and compared the ſame Book to be a true and perfect Copy, &c.

SUNDAY Nov. 2.
Mr. Evanke's Farewel Sermon, complaining of ſilenc'd Miniſters; and threatning of God's Judgments.

Printed in the Year 1663. 4^to^.

A Farewel Sermon preached at Great-Ayton in the County of Yorkſhire. By George Evanke, Chaplain to the right worſhipful Sir George Narwood, Baronet, at Cleveland in Yorkſhire, on Matth. xxvi. 39. Nevertheleſs not my Will but thine be done.

P. 41. How many of the dear Children of God are crying for Bread, for the powerful Preaching of the Word of God amongſt them, and there is no Bread to be given to them; nor the pleaſant Voice of their faithful Miniſters to be heard amongſt them; and they left to lament over their ſilenc'd Miniſters as King Joaſh wept over the dying Prophet, 2 Kings xiii. 14. O my Father, my Father, the Chariot of Iſrael and the Horſemen thereof! Will not God viſit for theſe Things? Will he not be avenged on ſuch a Nation as this? Yes, yes, he will; Iſrael's Woe may be England's Warning. Amos iv. Thus I will doe unto thee; and becauſe I will doe thus unto thee, therefore prepare thy Heart to meet thy God, O Iſrael, &c.

Contin. p. 360.

Dr. Calamy finds this Sermon among the Farewel Sermons of the London Miniſters in 4^to^ 1663. and therefore thinks it proper to bring in the Preacher among his Additions, that he may not be wholly overlook'd.

MONDAY Nov. 3.
John Perrot Quaker.

Printed in the Year 1662. 4^to^. Printed for Rob. Wilſon, 1663. 4^to^.

To the upright in Heart and faithful People of God: Being an Epiſtle written in Barbadoes the third of the ninth Month 1662. By John Perrot.

Glorious Glimmering of the Life of Love, Unity, and pure Joy. Written in Rome Priſon of Mad-men in the Year 1660. but conſerved as in Obſcurity until my Arrival at Barbadoes in the Year 1662. from whence it is ſent a ſecond Time to the Lord's Lambs. By J. P. [John Perrot] —— dearly ſaluting all Priſoners and Freemen in the Cauſe of the free Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus, that as concerning Truth in this Iſland, it is proſperous, many now are become Liſtners to it, and its Favour is good amongſt moſt, &c. a great Refreſhment to me after many weary Days, &c.

WEDNESDAY Nov. 5.
Sermon of Mr. Rich. Carpenter.

Fiery Jeſuits, 1667. 4^to^. p. 47.

I will only ſubjoin what Mr. Richard Carpenter (ſome Time one of the Society of Jeſuits, if not ſo ſtill in diſguiſe) hath printed in his Sermon preached Nov. 5, 1662. p. 11. viz. Father Thompſon the Jeſuit our ghoſtly Father at Rome, when he often told his Scholars there, that his Shirt had been many Times wet in his digging under the Parliament Houſe upon this horrible Account, intimated that their Intention was to blow up the Foundation and all with Powder.

Publick Intelligence, 4^to^ N^o^. 46.

Adviſed from Dublin Nov. 5, 1662. That about ten Days ſince my Lord Lieutenant Duke of Ormond went to Dunmore, a very fine Seat of his Lady's, near Kilkenny, where the Lord Cavendiſh was married to the Lady Mary Boteler the twenty ſeventh of October laſt.

Biſhop Barlow's popiſh Principles, &c. 4^to^.

In an Almanack printed in 1662. and commonly ſold, called, Calendarium Catholicum; the Gun-powder Treaſon is called Cecil's Contrivance. And at the End of the ſaid Almanack, about Holy-days ſet a-part by Act of Parliament, it ſays, that the Gun-powder Treaſon was more than ſuſpected to be the Contrivance of Cecil, the great Politician, to render Catholicks odious; and that there were but very few (and thoſe Deſperadoes too) detected of it, &c.

A Sermon of Dr. Reynolds on Nov. 5, 1659. The Papiſts had fiſh'd in our troubled Waters; and had help'd to make up a diſmal Scene of Affairs before the Reſtauration.

Nov. 5, 1662. The Papiſts were ſtill buſie, as indeed they had been before the Reſtauration. Dr. Reynolds, now Biſhop of Norwich, had complain'd of their fiſhing in thoſe troubled Waters, in his printed Sermon preach'd before the Lord-Mayor of London at Paul's Nov. 5, 1659.

P. 36. We know how buſie Foreign Emiſſaries are, who are ſaid to ſwarm among us under a Diſguiſe, and in a myſterious Way to infuſe their Doctrines into the Minds of credulous and ſeduced People. We ſee what hideous Errors are every where broached: What Contempt is poured out upon a learned and faithful Miniſtry? What Diſhonour is caſt upon Magiſtracy, as if it belonged not either to their Power or Duty to take Care of the Truth or Worſhip of God in their Territories? What immenſe and boundleſs Licence Men take to write, print, publiſh the moſt horrid Opinions without Check or Controul? What ſad Effects this infinite Liberty hath produced, in ſome Atheiſm, in ſome Scepticiſm, in others Apoſtacy, in others ſad Diviſions, Jealouſies, Animoſities. Scarce any Face left of that Chriſtian Love and holy Communion, which heretofore ſhined in the Aſſemblies of Profeſſors? What woeful Symptoms we have of God's threatning to remove our Candleſtick and our Glory from us? —— the doleful Confuſions and Changes in the State: Governments changing, as it were, with the Moon, up one Month and down another. It is for the Tranſgreſſion of a Land that many are the Princes thereof. It was the Fore-runner of a final Wrath amongſt the ten Tribes, when God left them to pull down one another.

THURSDAY Nov. 6.

Emanuel Auſtyn Clericus admiſſus ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis Sanctæ Mariæ Stayning in Civitate London. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Reg. Sheldon. London.

FRIDAY Nov. 7.
Statute or Decree for Biſhop Sanderſon for Sermons in the Cathedral Church of Lincoln.

Statutum & Decretum Roberti Lincoln. Epiſcopi de annuis Prebendariorum Concionibus in Eccleſiæ Cathedrali ſolenniter habendis. Dat. apud manerium noſtrum de Buckden ſeptimo Die Menſis Novembris Anno Domini milleſimo ſexcenteſimo ſexageſimo ſecundo, noſtræque Conſecrationis Anno tertio.

MS. penes D. Epiſc. S. Petri de Burgo.

The Lord Biſhop of Norwich, after his Return from Walſingham, held four Days Viſitation at the Cathedral in Norwich, and had ſeveral learned and godly Divines preached before him. And on Friday the ſeventh of November his Lordſhip having appointed to hold a Viſitation at the Town of North Walſham (a Town where ſeditious Miniſters have been as buſy as any in that Dioceſe) whereof Notice being taken by that worthy Perſon, Sir William Paſton, who conſidering the cold Entertainment a Biſhop was like to find there, invited his Lordſhip with his Officers and whole Retinue to lodge at his Houſe in Oxnead the Night before (being but three Miles ſhort of North Walſham) which Invitation his Lordſhip moſt kindly accepted: And that nothing might be wanting to teſtify to his Lordſhip how free a Welcome he might expect at Oxnead, Sir Robert Paſton, eldeſt Son to Sir William, one of the Deputy Lieutenants of the County, and a Member of the honourable Houſe of Commons, went with his Coach and a handſome Retinue of Servants, to wait upon his Lordſhip, and brought him and his Chancellour in his own Coach to Oxnead (his Lordſhip's Coach being filled with his Chaplain, Regiſter, and other Retinue) where his Lordſhip had a noble Reception, and was the next Morning waited upon by Sir Robert Paſton, and carried in his Coach to North Walſham, being met by the Way by hundreds of his Orthodox Clergy, the Royal Gentry, and other Perſons of Quality, who waited upon his Lordſhip into the Town, and as ſoon as he entred the Market-place, he was ſaluted from the Free-School by a Youth, Son to Robert Jegon, Eſq; and Grandchild to a former Biſhop of Norwich, in a handſome Latin Oration. His Lordſhip calling him from the Scaffold to the Coach Side, took him by the Hand and thank'd him by the Name of Little Nephew. After which his Lordſhip went to Church, and after Sermon ended, made a pious Speech to his Clergy, exhorting them above all Things, to Holineſs of Life, and Soundneſs of Doctrine, as the moſt excellent Expedients for the Peace and Unity of the Church, of which he expreſſed his moſt paſſionate Deſires: After Sermon and Dinner ended he returned to Church, where he confirmed divers Perſons, both of the elder and younger Sort, which holy Action he prefaced with a moſt ſolemn and ſerious Exhortation, declaring the Nature, Uſe, and End of that holy Ordinance: Having finiſhed his Work at this Place, he was reconducted by Sir Robert Paſton that Night to Oxnead; where he found again the like Reception, where his Lordſhip having ſpent that Night and Part of the next Morning in viewing the many Rarities both of Art and Nature, of which that Houſe affords as great Variety as moſt in England; he was again waited upon by Sir Robert Paſton home to Norwich: On Monday next his Lordſhip holds another Viſitation at Windham, and after that intends to viſit the City of Norwich, and ſo to finiſh his whole Viſitation.

Merc. Publ. 4to. No. 764.

SATURDAY Nov. 8.
Dr. Whichcotte.

Benjaminus Whichcotte, S. T. P. licentiatus ad Curam Animarum in Paroch. S. Annæ Black-fryars London. 8. Nov. 1662. —— admiſſ. ad Vic. S. Laurentii in Judaiſmo Lond. 18. Dec. 1668.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 515.

Die 8. Nov. 1662. Johannes Lychfield, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Maſhbury Com. Eſſex. vac. per Ceſſionem Willielmi Alchorne ad preſ. Johannis Bramſton, Milit.

Newcourt's Vol. II. p. 409.

Mr. John Gibbons.

Dr. Calamy in the Review of his Account of the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in London, puts down from Black-fryars, Mr. John Gibbons, ſome Time Fellow of Emanuel College, and Proctor of the Univerſity of Cambridge, a very learned and judicious Man, but withal of great Modeſty, who died of a Conſumption not long after his being ſilenc'd and put out. And in his Continuation he adds the Degree of B. D. becauſe he finds that added in his Poem at the End of the Funeral Sermon for Mr. Samuel Jacomb; and ſays further, that he was the Son of John Gibbon of Waltham, one of the Aſſembly of Divines.

8vo. 1613. p. 13.

Ibid. p. 15.

Die 8. Nov. 1662. Georgius Hawden Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Naſing Com. Eſſex. legitime vacantem, ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Reg. Henchman Sarum.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex, Dr. Calamy mentions Naſing, Mr. Brown, without any other Deſcription.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 311.

Die 6. Nov. 1662. Tho. Aleyn, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Waltham parva Com. Eſſex. vac. per Inconformitatem ultimi Rectoris, ad preſ. Will. Jones Armig. & Eliz. Uxoris Gardianorum Arabellæ Alleyn.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 634.

Johannes Harriſon, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Waltham parva Com. Eſſex. 23. Nov. 1643. vac. per Mort. Egidii Alleyn ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Caroli Regis. The ſame Perſon who is remembred by Dr. Calamy among the ejected Miniſters in Eſſex. Waltham. Mr. John Harriſon: A very intelligent judicious Perſon.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 306.

Mr. Sam. Ely.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex, Dr. Calamy mentions from Henham Mr. Samuel Ely, who lived afterwards at Biſhops Stortford: He was a great Critick in Greek and Hebrew, and the Oriental Tongues, and one of great Worth, but humble and modeſt to a Fault.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 30. Contin. p 460.

SUNDAY Nov. 9.

Mr. Robert South*'s Sermons.*

A Sermon preached at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul's London, on Sunday Novemb. 9, 1662. on Gen. i. 27. God created Man in his own Image, &c. By Robert South, M. A. publick Orator to the Univerſity of Oxford, and Chaplain to the Lord High Chancellour. Publiſhed by Order of the Court November 11, 1662.

Imprimatur, Geo. Stradling, S. T. P.
Novemb. 17, 1662.

Lond. 1662. 4^to. for Tho. Robinſon in Oxford. Reprinted in his firſt Volume of Sermons, 8^vo. p. 76.

And Epiſt. Ded.

Epiſt. Epiſt. To the Right Honourable the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen of the City of London.

—— To me it was Honour enough to have your Audience, Enjoyment enough to behold your happy Change, and to ſee the ſame City, the Metropolis of Loyalty and of the Kingdom, to behold the Glory of Engliſh Churches Reformed, that is, delivered from the Reformers; and to find at leaſt the Service of the Church repaired, though not the Building; to ſee St. Paul's delivered from Beaſts here, as well as St. Paul at Epheſus; and to view the Church thronged with Troops of Auditors, not of Horſes, &c. Dated Worceſter-Houſe Novemb. 24, 1662.

MONDAY Nov. 10.

Petition of a deſolate Miniſter's Widow.

To the Right Honourable Edward Earl of Clarendon Lord High Chancellour of England, &c.

The Humble Petition of Elizabeth Hickman of Upton-Level in the County of Wilts, Widow,

Moſt humbly Sheweth unto your good Honour,

That in the Time of the late Uſurpers (of execrable Memory) your Honour's poor Petitioner's Huſband, Thomas Hickman, was in his Life-time inveſted in the Parſonage of Upton aforeſaid, and there ſtudious in his Function, a dutiful Son of the Church of England, in Judgment orthodox, conſtantly loyal, zealouſly affected to the Royal Intereſt, manifeſted in providing Horſes and Arms at his own proper Charges, and ſending both his Sons and Servants in Vindication thereof. Our eldeſt Son, Samuel Hickman, Maſter of Arts in Oxford, Captain of a Troop of Horſe in his late Majeſty's own Regiment (which ſaid Troop alſo we raiſed at our own proper Coſt and Charges) was ſlain at Newbery firſt Fight. Our other Sons employ'd in Matters of Conſequence, in order to and purſuance of the Intereſt of his late ſacred Majeſty of famous and ever bleſſed Memory. For which your Honour's poor Petitioner's Huſband was thrown out of his Parſonage (worth an hundred and twenty Pounds a Year) plundred of our Goods portable, his Perſon divers and in ſeveral Places impriſoned, and villainouſly entreated, and conſtrained to purchaſe his Peace and Liberty at one hundred Pounds, which Money we were forced to borrow to ſatisfy the avaritious cormorant Committee. All which Loſſes and Charges, beſides the Loſs of your poor Petitioner's Son, the Hope and Staff of her old Age, amounted to more than one thouſand eight hundred Pounds. And thus after fourteen Years Expulſion from our Living, your poor Petitioner's Huſband departed this miſerable Life, leaving your Petitioner two hundred Pounds indebted, and but a very ſmall Subſiſtence for your ſaid Petitioner, and her ſurviving Children.

Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings of the Clergy, Part* II. *p.*276.

I am loth to tell the Reader what Succeſs, or rather Diſappointment this moving Petition met with from the Hands of that great Man to whom it was preſented; and have only to add, that Mr. Hickman had a temporal Eſtate of about twenty Pounds per Ann. on which his Wife and Children ſubſiſted during the Uſurpation; and that his Succeſſor was one Bradiſh an Iriſh Man, of whoſe ridiculous Preaching, &c. Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings of the Clergy, P.* I. p. 276.

May it therefore pleaſe you (Right Honourable) to take into your pious Breaſt a Reſentment of your poor Petitioner's ſad Sufferings, that according to your Honour's innate Beneficence to the worthily Deſerving, your poor Petitioner alſo may receive ſuch Compenſation which may enable her to diſcharge her Engagements contracted by the 'foreſaid Services. The Way and Means ſhe humbly leaves to your Honour's excellent Prudence.

And your Petitioner ſhall ever pray for the Augmentation of your Honour here, and eternal Happineſs hereafter.

TUESDAY Nov. 11.

Mr. Henry Havers.

Die 11. Nov. 1662. Robertus Cooke, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Stambourne Com. Eſſex. vac. per Inconformitatem ult. Rectoris ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 541.

Stanborn, Mr. Henry Havers: Born in this County Ann. 1620. of an ancient Family, that had continued there for ſeveral Centuries. He was of Catherine Hall in Cambridge, when Dr. Brownrigg afterwards Biſhop of Exeter was Maſter. When he left the Univerſity he firſt preached at Ongur in this County, and afterwards was Chaplain to the Earl of Warwick. Being preferr'd to this Living of Stanborn in the Time of the Commonwealth, he was ordained by the Preſbytery at London, and admitted without taking the Engagement. He was couragious in his Work, and wonderfully preſerved in the moſt troubleſome Times. He did not quit the Place where he was ſilenc'd, and even afeer the Five Mile Act took Place never remov'd his Habitation. He continued preaching twice a Day 'till he was eighty Years of Age, and even then held on to do it once. He was a good Philologiſt, and a ſubſtantial Divine; one of great Holineſs, and a moſt amiable peaceable Temper, on whom Malice itſelf could never faſten a Blot.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 303.

I know him to be a very moderate and quiet Man, who kept Poſſeſſion of his own Houſe and Land in that Pariſh, and had an Outhouſe fitted for a Meeting, which was the better fill'd, becauſe the Pariſh Church was too much neglected.

From St. Mary Stayning. Dr. Nathaniel Holmes. A Man well ſkill'd in the Tongues, particularly the Hebrew. His Works are many, the moſt noted are, The Reſurrection revealed, Fol. 1654. wherein he ſhews himſelf a Millenarian, &c. He dy'd An. 1678 Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 16.

Nath. Holmes, Son of George Holmes Miniſter of Kingſwood in Glouceſterſhire, born in Wilts, Commoner of Magdalen Hall in Oxford 1616. He took the Degrees in Divinity as a Member of Exeter College, that of Batchelor in 1633. and that of Doctor four Years after. Being a ſevere Calviniſt, he clos'd with the Preſbyterians, and when the Rout of orthodox Miniſters in and near London was made in 1642. and 43. he obtained one or more Cures, of which the Church of St. Mary Stayning was one. But being ſoon after delivered from the Preſbyterian Contagion, as he call'd it, he and Henry Burton, B. D. ſet up their Independent Congregations, &c. Beſides a Congregation or more in London, he had ſeveral in the Countrey, particularly at Dover. —— He was accounted by many, eſpecially thoſe of his Perſuaſion, a profound Divine, and to be well ſkill'd in the Tongues, particularly the Hebrew, and by others a mutable and fantaſtical Perſon. When the Act of Uniformity was publiſhed he left his Cure or Cures, and ſpent moſt of his Time in the Pariſh of St. Giles without Cripplegate, where he died in June 1678. dying rich, &c. Athen.Oxon. Vol. II. c. 460.

Dr. Calamy in his Continuation complains, that no Notice is taken of him in Newcourt's Repertorium Eccleſiaſticum, among the Miniſters of this Pariſh, though his Succeſſor is mention'd Mr. Auſtin. [When the expreſs Deſign of Mr. Newcourt was to make no mention of thoſe who had intruded or been irregularly thruſt in, and had not legal Inſtitution by the Biſhop.] He adds that this Dr. Nathaniel Holmes was written againſt with Warmth by Mr. Thomas Hall, in a Tract intituled, Hometius Enervatus. Contin. 8vo. 1727. p. 17.

Wednesday Nov. 12.

At the Court at Whitehall the 12th of November 1662. By the Lords and others of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council.

Order of King and Council for Liberty to all Sufferers by the Dutch, to bring their Complaints and Demands in writing to Sir Geo. Downing.

Whereas there are ſundry Perſons who pretend to have received great Injuries, and ſuſtained great Loſſes from the Dutch: It was this Day ordered (his Majeſty preſent in Council) that all ſuch Perſons do ſpeedily prepare and bring in their Complaints, Claims and Demands in writing to Sir George Downing, Knight, Envoy Extraordinary with the States of the United Provinces in the Netherlands, who is required to put the ſame, and all ſuch Matters as ſhall be offered by them unto his Conſideration, into ſuch Method and Form, as may beſt tend to the obtaining Satisfaction in all their juſt Pretenſions. Printed in the Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to. No. 46.

Richard Browne.

Advice from Dublin of Meetings and Plots.

Advis'd from Dublin, Novemb. 12. that on the 9th Inſtant Captain Oland, Mr. Ludlow (Kinſman to Ludlow, one of the King's Murderers) Major Deſborough, and ſome others, were found at a private Meeting about Finglaſs, two Miles from hence, it being Sunday. They were apprehended and brought Priſoners hither, but upon Bail were releaſed, being to give an Account thereof to the Lord Lieutenant and Council. And on the 10th Colonel Kempſton (Brother in Law to the 'foreſaid Ludlow,) Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Alden were brought Priſoners to the Caſtle of Dublin. Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 46.

Thursday Nov. 13.

The Plague raging in Poland.

Adviſed from Warſaw in Poland, that the Plague doth mightily rage here, which makes the principal Inhabitants remove from hence into the Countrey. Publick Intelligence, 4to.

Thomas Roberts Clericus, A. M. ad Rect. de Overſton in Com. Northampt. vac. de jure per Non-Subſcriptionem ult. Incumb. ad preſ. D. Regis pleno jure. Reg. Laney.

Dr. Calamy mentions Mr. Lionel Goodrick as ejected.

Mr. Symonds Rector of Colne-Engaine Com. Eſſex.

Die 13. Nov. 1662. Sam. Symonds, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Colne-Engaine Com. Eſſex. vac. per reſign. Johannis Clarke ult. Rect. ad preſ. Majoris, Communitatis & Civium London. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 188.

Dr. Calamy puts Mr. John Clarke as ejected or ſilenc'd at Colne-Engain, tho' the Regiſter is expreſs Reſignation. Contin. p. 476.

Mr. Oſbaſton Rector of Stapleford-Abbots.

13. Nov. 1662. Henricus Oſbaſton, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Stapleford-Abbots in Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 555.

Mr. Lewis Calendrine.

Stapleford-Abbots. Mr. Lewis Calendrine. He had nothing to truſt to when he was ejected, but threw himſelf upon Providence with his ten Children. His Father had been Miniſter of the Dutch Church in London: But this Son of his met with many Difficulties and Tryals, and yet was contented and chearful under all. He liv'd in his old Age in an Alms-Houſe at Mile-End, where he officiated as Chaplain. Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 311. Contin. p. 485.

Mr. Cæſar Calendrine.

Cæſar Calendrinus Clericus, admiſſ. 26. Junii 1620. ad Rect. Eccl. de Stapleford-Abbatis Com. Eſſex. vac. per reſign. Godefridi Goodman, ad preſ. Caroli Principis Walliæ. —— I take him to be the ſame who was of Exeter College, Oxon. and went out there B. D. July 18, 1620. (leſs than a Month after he was admitted to this Church.) He was by Birth a German, by Profeſſion a Puritanical Theologiſt, but being a learned Man, was belov'd of the famous Dr. Uſher, who took him into Ireland and preferr'd him. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 555. Cited by Mr. Newcourt, from Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 837.

Mr. John Iſaac Vicar of Marks-Tay.

Die 13. Nov. 1662. Johannes Iſaac Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Marks-Tay Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 575.

Dr. Calamy in his Account of ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex. Marks-Tey, Mr. Richard Rand. He was ſome Time after his Ejection Paſtor of a Congregation Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 308.

gregation at Little-Baddow in this County, and there he died about the Year 1692. He was a laborious uſeful Preacher. He had a very hopeful Son, a young Miniſter, who dying about the ſame Time, was bury'd with him in the ſame Grave.

FRIDAY Nov. 14. Report to the Council about the Walloons at Canterbury.

Council-Book.

Whitehall, Nov. 14, 1662. A Report of the Solicitor-General, upon a Reference made to him by Order of this Board Nov. 5, 1662. for reconciling all Differences among thoſe of the Walloon Nation who live in and about the City of Canterbury, who have agreed,

I. That all Differences and Diviſions occaſioned by the late Separation be for ever forgotten and buried in perpetual Oblivion.

To be one Congregation.

II. That for the Time to come, both Parties ſhall agree and unite in one entire Congregation of Walloons, and continue in the Exerciſe of the Proteſtant Religion, according to the common Rites and Diſcipline, which have formerly been exerciſed under the gracious Protection and Conceſſions of your Majeſty's Royal Progenitors.

New Election of a Miniſter.

III. That for avoiding all Diſputes touching the Miniſter that is to officiate among them, they do immediately proceed to a new Election of ſome fit and able Perſon for that Service, and cauſe him to be preſented to the general Colloquy for their Approbation, whoſe Judgment is to be final, and all Perſons to ſubmit accordingly.

Nothing to the Reproach or Contempt of the Liturgy.

IV. That they ſhall not permit or ſuffer the Miniſter or any other Member of the Congregation to do or to ſpeak any Thing tending to the Reproach or Contempt of the Liturgy, or any other Part of the Doctrine or Diſcipline eſtabliſhed in the Church of England, which may give juſt Cauſe of Scandal or Offence to any of your Majeſty's good Proteſtant Subjects.

To maintain their own Poor.

V. That they ſhall from Time to Time maintain their own Poor, without ſuffering them to be burthenſome to any Part of the City of Canterbury.

On which Conditions his Majeſty grants,

The ſame Place of Meeting.

Which Things being agreed upon on their Part, his Majeſty granted,

I. That the uſual Place of Meeting near the Cathedral be continued and allowed to this Congregation as formerly.

And allows them to be a Part of the Foreign Reformed Churches indulged by the Act of Uniformity.

II. That for avoiding the Penalties of the Act of Uniformity, his Majeſty declares this Congregation to be ſuch a Part of the Foreign Reformed Churches as his Majeſty is pleaſed to allow.

The Tryal of John James for High-Treaſon at the King's-Bench Bar, the fourteenth Day of November, 14 Car. II. 1662.

John James, a Preacher, indicted for High-Treaſon.

The Indictment ſet forth, that the ſaid John James, not having the Fear of God before his Eyes, &c. did compaſs and imagine the Death of the King, the Subverſion of the Government, &c. and to that End, that he being aſſembled with other falſe Traitors in Bulſtake-Alley in the Pariſh of White-Chappel, in the County of Middleſex, did ſpeak and publiſh theſe treaſonable Words following, viz. That the King was a bloody Tyrant and blood-thirſty Man, and his Nobles the ſame; that the King and his Nobles had ſhed the Blood of the Saints at Charing-Croſs, and the Blood of the Covenanters in Scotland, that the King was brought in to this End, to fill up the Meaſure of his Iniquities; and that the King's Cup of Iniquity had filled more within this laſt Year than in many Years before, and bewailed that they had not improved their Opportunity when they had Power in their Hands; that it would not be long before they had Power again, and then they would improve it better; and he bemoan'd the Apoſtacy of the People of God, and ſaid they had not fought the Lord's Battles throughly, but when the Lord ſhould give his Work into their Hands again, they would do it better, and that the Death and Deſtruction of the King grew very near. All which is laid to be done againſt the King's Peace, his Crown and Dignity, &c.

To which pleading not Guilty, he was brought to his Tryal at the King's-Bench Bar on Nov. 19, 1662. where a Jury being ſworn, Mr. Serjeant Kelynge open'd the Indictment, and Mr. Attorney ſhew'd the Aggravations of his Crime, and having given a brief Relation of the late Troubles, he obſerv'd that they proceeded from the ſeditious Diſcourſes of ſome ſuch diſcontented Preachers in thoſe Times.

After the Evidence given, the Priſoner objected to the Form of the Indictment, which charged him with acting maliciouſly, wickedly and traiterouſly and by the Inſtigation of the Devil, &c. and ſaid, he did in the Fear of the Lord deny it, for that he had no malicious Thought againſt the King, but prayed for his Soul. He ſaid he had never been in any publick Employment againſt his preſent Majeſty or his Father, that he was an inconſiderable Perſon and liv'd by his Calling, and could not by any Conſtruction be deem'd guilty of compaſſing the King's Death; that as to the Words laid in the Indictment he denied he ſpoke them, or any other Words to that Effect, and that he was ſo far from contending for Cromwell's Power, whom God had ſo eminently wip'd off, that he had always declared againſt that Power, and ſuffer'd under it: He bid the Jury have a Care of ſhedding his innocent Blood, and told them that the Lord Jeſus Chriſt was King of Nations as well as Saints, and that the Government did of right belong to him.

Here the Chief Juſtice interrupted him, and aſk'd him if he thought he was in his Conventicle at White-Chapel, and ordered the Act for the Preſervation of the King's Perſon to be read to him. And then the Court told him it was the Intention tion of the Heart that was the Treaſon, the Printing, Preaching, &c. was but a Manifeſtation of the Treaſon.

Then the King's Council ſumm'd up the Evidence, and told the Jury, that when the Subſtance and Effect of the Words laid in the Indictment were proved, it was not neceſſary to prove the very Words; and obſerv'd, that tho' the Priſoner's Witneſſes denied that he ſpoke thoſe Words, yet they had not depos'd what he did ſay, and that as to his Integrity and Innocence, the vileſt Miſcreant would never have received the Reward of his Doings, if his own Excuſe or Proteſtations could have ſaved him: That the Priſoner was not queſtion'd for his Religion or Conſcience, but for horrid Treaſon and Rebellion againſt the meekeſt King on Earth, who had lately extended his Mercy to the whole Nation, and reduc'd them again to a State of Innocence: That the Men of theſe Principles did not only endeavour the Deſtruction of the Monarch, but of Monarchy itſelf, and that the Priſoner in his pernicious Sermon preſſed his Doctrine on the Peril of their Salvation, and now would affright the Jury with his innocent Blood; but they would find, if his Blood was rightly and ſwiftly purſued, it would be a Means of preventing the ſhedding the Blood of Thouſands.

Then the Chief Juſtice directed the Jury, and told them, that it was theſe Principles and this Spirit that put the Nation in a Flame before; and that there was no Treaſon comparable to that which was covered with a Pretence of Religion.

The Jury being withdrawn about a quarter of an Hour, return'd and brought the Priſoner in Guilty.

The 22d of November the Priſoner was again brought to the Bar; and it being demanded what he had to ſay, why Judgment of Death ſhould not paſs upon him according to Law, he anſwer'd out of the Prophet Jeremiah, That if they put him to Death, they ſhould ſurely bring innocent Blood upon themſelves and upon this City, and added, That precious in the Sight of the Lord is the Death of his Saints. After which Sentence was pronounc'd againſt him as a Traytor. Between his Conviction and Condemnation his Wife delivered a Petition to the King, but obtain'd no other Anſwer, than that Mr. James was a ſweet Gentleman; and on Mrs. James preſſing the King further, he anſwer'd, he is a Rogue and ſhall be hang'd.

Dr. John Birkenhead knighted.

John Birkenhead, LL. D. Member of Parliament for Wilton received the Honour of Knighthood from his Majeſty, Nov. 14, 1662. and in January 1663. he was conſtituted one of the Maſters of Requeſts in the Place of Sir Richard Fanſhaw, be being then alſo Maſter of the Faculties, and a Member of the Royal Society. About this Time he publiſhed The Aſſembly Man: Or the Character of an Aſſembly Man. Written in 1647. with a Preface ſhewing, that the Copy of it was taken from the Author by thoſe who ſaid they could not rob, becauſe all was theirs; and ſo exciſed what they liked not, and ſo mangled and reform'd it, that it was no Character of an Aſſembly Man, but of themſelves. At length after it had ſlept ſeveral Years, the Author, &c.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 1476.

London, 1662-3, in three Sheets 4to.

Saturday Nov. 15.
Birth-Day of the Queen Mother and Queen Conſort.

Whitehall. This is a ſignal Day, and has been auſpicious to the Crown of England. For as it gave Birth to her Majeſty Queen Mary, the Mother of our Sovereign Lord the King, and of his Royal Brother the Duke of York: So alſo it bleſſed the World with the Birth of Katharine his Majeſty's Royal Conſort; whereby it would be, if the Calendar did not make it (as in Truth it doth) Saint Katharine's Day, which therefore moſt juſtly was celebrated with Bonfires, &c. as being the Anniverſary of the great Nativity of two moſt excellent Queens of Great-Britain.

Merc. Publ. 4to. p. 413.

Dr. John Dolben Vicar of St. Giles's Cripplegate.

Die 15. Nov. 1662. Johannes Dolben, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. Sancti Egidii extra Cripplegate, London. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Eccl. Cath. S. Pauli Lond. —— reſignavit 1663.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 258.

Mr. Anneſley was firſt fix'd at Cliffe in Kent, in the Room of an ejected Miniſter, and then intruded into Cripplegate, after the ſequeſtring, plundering, and impriſoning of the legal Vicar, Dr. William Fuller.

Ejected from St. Giles's Cripplegate, Dr. Samuel Anneſley, a moſt ſincere, godly, humble Man; an Iſraelite indeed: One that may be ſaid to be ſanctify'd from the Womb, &c. —— When he came to the City, he had two of the largeſt Auditories to preach to, which were St. Paul's, where he was Lecturer, and Cripplegate where he was Rector. —— He chearfully reſign'd his Soul to God December 31, 1696. in the 77th Year of his Age. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Dr. Daniel Williams, who hath added an Accouut of his Life and Character.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 47. Contin. p. 65.

Tangier declared a free Port.

His Majeſty had ſet forth a Proclamation, declaring his Royal Will and Pleaſure to ſettle a free Port at his City of Tangier in Africa, wherein his Majeſty doth publiſh to all his Subjects, that Tangier ſhall be a Port free to all Merchants, as well Foreigners as others, with their Ships and Veſſels, except ſuch as ſhall come from beyond the Cape of Good Hope, and Ships coming from any of our Engliſh Plantations for ſuch Time and on ſuch Terms as are hereafter expreſs'd, &c. this Liberty to continue from Sept. 29, 1662. for five Years next coming.

Publ. Intell. by Authority, 4to.

Mr. Edw. Bathurſt takes a new Title to his Church of Cheping-Warden.

Die 15. Nov. 1662. Edwardus Bathurſt Clericus, S. T. B. alias admiſſus per le Tryers ad Rect. Eccl. de Cheping-Warden in Com. Northampt. vac. per mort. Ricardi Stanwix ult. Incumb. ad preſent. Ricardi Saltonſtall Armigeri pleno jure Patroni ad novam ejuſdem Patroni preſentationem ad eand. Eccleſiam inſtitutus eſt ad corroborandum titulum; in Domo Prebendali dicti Epiſcopi apud Weſtm.

Reg. Laney.

Sunday Nov. 16.
The Preſbyterians are ſaid to prepare for Perſecution, and to uſe many Acts of Popularity.

When all the Shifts of the Preſbyterians fail'd, they prepare themſelves for Perſecution as they call it, and preached that the Lights were extinguiſhed, the dear dear Paſtors torn from their beloved Flocks: Then they ſay they preach their laſt, that they are dying Men, and this may be their laſt Opportunity: Now they give their Rules, one 17. another 25. another 36. all may be reduced to theſe ſix: 1. That they ſhould not forget their faithful Paſtors. 2. That when they cannot hear their Words, they may read their Works. 3. That they ſhould take heed whom they hear. 4. That they have nothing to do with Idols. 5. That they perſevere. 6. That they hold Communion one with another.

The Myſtery of Conventicles unveiled, 1663.

After which they encourage their Party to go on, and ſtand out againſt the Act, that they might appear ſo conſiderable as to prevail with his Majeſty for an Indulgence againſt, or with the Parliament for a Repeal of the ſaid Act. To which end they ſent their Letters all over the Kingdom to adviſe every Man to ſtand to his Principles, not doubting of a Toleration upon his Majeſty's Promiſe at Breda; with other Arguments they could make uſe of. —— We find them with their Bed-Roll of thoſe that were to be ejected, rather threatning than petitioning his Majeſty (after ſome Tumults raiſed in Dr. Seaman's and other Churches, through which they would have his Majeſty ſee the Inclination of the People.) And when at laſt they ſaw his Majeſty was reſolved, and the Law indiſpenſable, then 1. They take an Account of the ejected Miniſters through every County. 2. They take the Subſcription of well-affected People towards the Maintenance of thoſe Perſons, eſpecially the elect Ladies. 3. They have City and Countrey Committees for that Purpoſe, together with their Treaſurers in both Places, by whoſe Order the Money is delivered to the reſpective ejected Men, according to their Conditions, provided that they have proper Certificates of their Sufferings and Faithfulneſs. Then to keep the Cauſe in Heart and Life, the Farewel Sermons are printed firſt ſingly, and then in Volumes, as the dying Words of the faithful Paſtors, whoſe Heads are ſet before their Sermons juſt as they looked from the Pulpit, wrapped in their reverend black and white Caps, like the twelve Apoſtles before the Bible.

WEDNESDAY Nov. 19.
Mr. Tho. Laney Prebend of Peterborough.

Reg. Laney.

Thomas Laney, S. T. B. was collated to the ſixth Prebend in the Cathedral Church of Peterborough, void by the Death of the reverend Mr. John Wyldbore, by his Unkle Biſhop Laney, who on Sept. 2. foregoing had collated and inſtituted him to the Rectory of Paſton near Peterborough.

Exeter in Arms on the Rumour of an intended Inſurrection.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 48.

Adviſed from Exeter, November 19. Our Governor, Sir James Smith, upon the late News of the intended Inſurrection of the Fanaticks, took the Alarm, and raiſed a Company of Foot Soldiers in one Day's Time at his own Charge, clad them in red Coats, and gave the Leading of them to Captain William Glyde (a Perſon whoſe Loyalty is very well known by his Sufferings, having headed one thouſand Men when this City declared for a free Parliament:) The Captain marched theſe new raiſed Men through the City, drew them into the Church-yard, thence they were diſpoſed for the Safety of the City in and about the Caſtle, &c.

Mr. Ralph Battle Miniſter in Hartford.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

1662. 19. Nov. Radulfus Battle Cler. A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Omn. Sanctorum & Vic. Sancti Johannis in Villa de Hartford annexatas vac. per mort. Humphredi Tabor ult. Incumb. ex preſ. Johannis Hariſon Mil. —— He had a Son Ralph Battle, M. A. of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, Prebendary of Worceſter, and Sub-Almoner, &c.

Mr. Joſ. Wilcocks Vicar of Harrow on the Hill.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 638.

Die 19. Nov. 1662. Joſ. Wilcocks Clericus, admiſſ. ad Vic. de Harrow ſuper Montem Com. Midd. ad preſ. Aliciæ Pits viduæ.

Mr. Tho. Pakeman.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 468.

Harrow on the Hill. Mr. Thomas Pakeman, M. A. of Clare Hall in Cambridge. He was firſt Miniſter at Hadham in Eſſex, from whence he was ejected in 62. with ten Children. He was in great Eſteem with Sir Gilbert Gerrard, and indeed with the whole Pariſh for his diligent Preaching, and great Charity. —— He afterwards remov'd to Old-Brentford, and continued to keep Boarders there, and they were inſtructed by Mr. Button, who liv'd next Door. There he preach'd conſtantly and adminiſtred the Sacrament. —— Afterwards he liv'd and preach'd conſtantly at Mrs. Methwold's in Brumpton near Knightſbridge: And thence he remov'd into the Family of Eraſmus Smith, Eſq; where he continued ſome Years. In 1685. he liv'd with his Children in the City, attended on Dr. Kidder's Miniſtry, and ſometimes receiv'd the Sacrament from him. —— In 1687. he remov'd to Stratford, where he had an Opportunity of ſome Service. —— He died in June 1691. in the 78th Year of his Age. —— His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Biſhop Kidder from Revel. xiv. 13. He was a grave, ſound, pious, ſober, and peaceable Divine.

Mr. Sam. Vicars Vicar of Stanwell.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 737.

Die 18. Nov. 1662. Samuel Vicars Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Stanwell Com. Midd. vac. per ceſſionem ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Mr. John Bulkley.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 311. Contin. p. 487. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 270.

Dr. Calamy has put down Mr. John Bulkley as ejected or ſilenc'd at Fordham in Eſſex. The London Regiſters mention only Richard Pulley, M. A. inſtituted to the Rectory of Fordham, May 4, 1646. as then void by the Death of Mr. John Alſop; and then Thomas Bayley, B. D. admitted Feb. 6, 1677. void by the Death of the laſt Rector. ——

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 312.

Mr. Bulkley after his Ejectment retir'd to Wapping in the Suburbs of London, where he liv'd ſeveral Years practiſing Phyſick with good Succeſs, &c.

Mr. Burnaby.

Ibid. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 312.

The ſame Writer remembers Mr. Burnaby as ejected or ſilenc'd at South-Okendon in Eſſex. —— Mr. Newcourt, from the Regiſter of the See of London, finds Mr. Francis Goldman, M. A. admitted to the Rectory of South-Okendon, where he continu'd Rector near ſixty five Years, and at his Death was ſucceeded by Offſpring Blackball, M. A. Jan. 24, 1689. afterward Biſhop of Exeter.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 312.

So at Lynſel, Mr. Clark, who could not ſuffer much, becauſe that Vicarage of Lindſell was fill'd by Mr. Nathaniel Owen, B. D. Feb. 11, 1661. void by the Ceſſion of Thomas Conſtable laſt Incumb. and again by Mr. John Morden, Jul. 9, 1666. upon the Reſignation of Mr. Owen.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 312.

At Wanſted. Mr. Leonard Hoar, who after his being ſilenc'd here, went to New-England to preſide in the new Univerſity there, and there he died Nov. 28, 1675.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 639.

There was no room for his ſuffering by the Bartholomew Act, for Thomas Harriſon, M. A. was admitted to the Rectory of Wanſted, Decemb. 10, 1660. then void by the Death of Mr. Humphrey Maddiſon. And Daniel Mills, M. A. on the Death of Maddiſon succeeded June 26, 1667.

THURSDAY Nov. 20.

The Diligence of the Biſhop of Durham in his Viſitation.

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 48.

Adviſed by Letter from Durham. The Biſhop of this Place ſince his late diligent Viſitation, hath made a fair Progreſs through the largeſt Part of this County-Palatine, preaching upon every Sunday in ſeveral Churches, and being received with great Joy and Alacrity both of the Gentry and all other People where he came. In his Progreſs abroad he went to view the ſad Ruins of his Predeceſſor's epiſcopal manour Houſe and Caſtle at Stockton pulled down and deſtroyed there (Chapel and all) by two covetous and ſacrilegious Perſons. Gladly would the Biſhop, if he were able, ſet it up again for his Succeſſors, but the Revenues of his Biſhoprick (whereof there is well near as much taken from him of late, as there is now left to him and his See) would not be ſufficient to do it, though they were totally laid out and ſpent upon the Repairs of that Caſtle ten whole Years together. He therefore contents himſelf with the Repairs of his other three Houſes at Durham, Aukland, and Darlington, upon which he hath been at the Coſt and Care both all this laſt Summer, and the former to employ above an hundred Men at continual Work and Wages; and I am in doubt whether he will be able to finiſh them (eſpecially his fair new Chapel at Aukland) in two Summers more. In the mean while he giveth Order to his Officers, and expendeth all the Fines for Leaſes (which are very moderate, and ariſe not to the Tenth Part of what Report and common Rumours made them) upon theſe and ſome other good Works which he hath begun.

Unable to rebuild his Houſe and Caſtle at Stockton.

He repaired his three other Houſes at Durham, Aukland and Darlington.

The Biſhop catechiz'd himſelf, and enjoin'd the Miniſter ſo to do.

The Sunday after his Return to Biſhop-Aukland he went abroad to Evening Prayer in a Countrey Church three Miles off, and there both catechized the Youth of the Pariſh himſelf, and enjoyned the Miniſter of the Place (where catechiſing had been formerly omitted) diligently to perform that religious Duty hereafter. A few Days following he went in Perſon to the chief Pariſh Church of Aukland, and there took Order (having prepared for it before) that three Children paſt their Infancy, and two of them well grown in Years ſhould be ſolemnly baptized with the Conſent of their Parents, who had formerly neglected it, and been miſled from the Church, but is now firmly by the Biſhop converted to it.

And baptized ſome Children paſt their Infancy.

The Biſhop as his Majeſty's Lieutenant impriſoned a ſuſpected Perſon

His Lordſhip being his Majeſty's Lieutenant in this County Palatine (as his Predeceſſors have always been) and hearing of many ſeditious and dangerous Perſons that appeared abroad, eſpecially among you at London, ſent forth his Warrant, which was alſo ſigned and ſealed by three of the Deputy-Lieutenants here, to apprehend one John Joplin, who being committed to Priſon, refuſed to enter Bond for his peaceable Demeanour and Obedience according to his Majeſty's Inſtructions. He was by the Biſhop and the Juſtices of the Peace here in open Seſſions called before them, and had the Oath of Allegiance tendred to him, according to the Act of Parliament 3 Jac. and upon his Refuſal to take the Oath was again by Order of the Seſſions ſent back to the Gaol, there to continue until the Seſſions next to come, and in the mean while to conſider whether he would take the Oath or no. Being in this Condition, he got Means, through the Negligence of the Gaoler, to ſend to his Houſe for a great Satchel full of Papers (which perhaps he thought might diſcover his ill Doings) and pretending them to be private Accounts he burnt them in the Priſon, which gave his Lordſhip and the Deputy-Lieutenants greater Reaſon to look to him the more ſtrictly, and to keep him cloſe. In the Interim he and the Quakers that are now here in Hold have ſent to London to their Brethren there, where they have printed a Libel againſt the Proceedings of the Judge at the laſt Aſſizes, and of the Biſhop and the Juſtices Doings ſince that Time againſt Joplin, full of Falſehood and Lying.

Who refuſed to take the Oath of Allegiance.

He burnt a Sachel full of Papers.

He and Friends print a Libel.

Dr. Martin*'s Letters ſaid to be fraught with Untruths and Railing.*

There is alſo another Pamphlet called Dr. Martin's Letters, fraught with groſs Untruths, and railing againſt the Biſhop and others whilſt he lived among the Proteſtants in France, ſet out by the Spite and Peeviſhneſs of a Pedant Miniſter R. W. and ſcarce one Line true in all he writes.

Nov. 20. 1662. Sam. Coe, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Albury Com. Hertford. ad preſ. Theſaurarii Eccl. Cath. S. Pauli Lond. —— Dr. Calamy among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters under Albury Com. Hertſ. mentions Mr. Francis Comyn, and ſaith no more of him; only in his Continuation refers to Newcourt.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 792.
Abridgment, Vol. I. p. 360.

Jonathan Anderſon Clericus A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Grandborough Com. Hertford. Die 20. Nov. 1662. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 828.

Die

Mr. Rob. Billio.

Die 20. Nov. 1662. Sam. Leake Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Wickham S. Pauli Com. Eſſex. ad coll. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli London.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex mention'd by Dr. Calamy, Wickham near Malden, Mr. Billoway. His Living was worth one hundred and twenty Pounds per Annum. He was a plain, zealous, practical Preacher: And his Miniſtry was bleſs'd to the Converſion of many Souls. He preach'd conſtantly in the moſt difficult Times 'till his Death. This was the Father of Mr. Billoway, who ſucceeded Dr. Bates at Hackney.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 308.

Contin. p. 478.

FRIDAY Nov. 21.
The Archbiſhop of Canterbury having Leave to abſent from Parliament,

Appoints the Biſhop of London to be his Proxy.

The Archbiſhop of Canterbury's Proxy to the Biſhop of London.

Omnibus Chriſti Fidelibus ad quos hoc præſens ſcriptum pervenerit Gulielmus Providentia Divina Cantuarienſis Archiepiſcopus, &c. Cum ſereniſſimus Dominus noſter Rex quibuſdam de Cauſis Sublimitati ſuæ intimatis Licentiam à præſenti hoc ſuo Parliamento tento & inchoato apud Weſtmon. octavo Die Maii Anno Regni ſui tertio decimo & continuato ad decimum nonum Diem Maii Anno decimo quarto dicti Domini Regis & inde prorogato ad decimum octavum Diem Februarii proxime inde ſequentem nobis abſentandi ac ſuo ſpeciali Gratia & Favore nuper conceſſerit dummodo Fidelem aliquem Procuratorem vice locoque meis ponerem ordinarem & conſtituerem: Noveritis igitur me præfatum Archiepiſcopum dilectum mihi in Chriſto Reverendum in Chriſto Patrem Gilbertum eadem Divina Providentia Dominum London. Epiſcopum meum verum certum & indubitatum Factorem, Actorem, Procuratorem, Attornatum negotiorumque noſtrorum Geſtorem & Nuncium ſpecialem nominare ordinare facere & conſtituere per præſentes, &c. Dat. apud Lambeth viceſimo primo Novembris Anno Regni, &c. 14. Annoque Domini 1662.

Sir John Petty's Conſtitut. of Parl. 8vo. p. 296.

SATURDAY Nov. 22.
Mr. William Foſter Rector of Eaſiwick.

Succeeded Mr. Edm. Godwin.

Willelmus Foſter, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Eaſtwick Com. Hertford. 22. Nov. 1662. vac. per Ceſſionem Edmundi Godwin ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Humphredi Gore, Mil.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 880.

Edmundus Godwin, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Cowley Com. Midd. 19. Junii 1679. vac. per Reſign. Williel. Greaves ult. Incumb. ad præſent. Williel. Baker, Gen.

Ibid. p. 594.

Dr. Calamy in the laſt Edition of his Abridgment ſaith, In my former Edition I mentioned theſe Perſons as conforming after they had been for ſome Time Nonconformiſts. —— I now add to them Mr. Godwin of Eaſtwick (which was a Sequeſtration) who I underſtand alſo afterwards conformed. —— [He voided the Living by voluntary Ceſſion; not deprived nor ſilenc'd.]

Vol. II. p. 370.

SUNDAY Nov. 23.
A Letter of Mr. Secretary Bennet, complaining of the King's Want of Money.

A Letter of Sir Henry Bennet, Secretary of State to the Duke of Ormond in Ireland. Dated from Whitehall Nov. 23, 1662.

—— His Majeſty, his Royal Highneſs, Prince Rupert, my Lord Aſhley, and myſelf preſent, after ſome ſhort Debate upon the Letter from the Council in Ireland, it was concluded utterly impoſſible to help that Kingdom with the Sum of ready Money deſired in order to compound the Debts there; and reſolved this ſhould be immediately written to your Grace, without taking any more Time to think upon it here, or amuſing you with half Hopes, or Promiſes which could never be effected; in ſo ill a State are the publick Affairs here for want of ready Money; the little Reſerve his Majeſty hath kept out of the Sale of Dunkirk being not to be touch'd for a leſs Occaſion than an Inſurrection here at home, which the fooliſh and diſcontented People are apt every Day to threaten and apprehend. —— I have no News to add out of your Knowledge but the ſending Mr. Davies to the Tower by his Majeſty's Command a cloſe Priſoner, which was the Work of Saturday laſt, of which I do not repeat the Occaſion, believing that your Grace is not ignorant of it. I am ever

Miſcell. Aulica, 8vo. p. 280

Mr. Davies ſent Priſoner to the Tower.

Your Grace's moſt Humble

And moſt Obedient Servant,

HEN. BENNET.

Some Clergymen were but half Conformiſts.

Some Clergy who conformed againſt their Cuſtom and their Inclination were called Half-Conformiſts, and evaded the Rules of the Church as much as ſafely they could. —— I have heard of one who wore his Surplice upon his Heel: He was a kind of Half quarter Conformiſt, and when he came into the Reading Pew, where he muſt put on his Whites, he uſed to hold up one of his Legs behind him (like a Gooſe) and reſting it on his Matt, he would hang the Surplice on his Foot, that he might be able to ſwear, he both wore the Surplice, and bow'd the Knee at the Name of Jeſus.

Animadverſions upon naked Truth, 4to. 1676. p. 29.

MONDAY Nov. 24.
Mandate for Simon Potter to be Doctor in Divinity at Cambridge.

The King's Letters Mandatory to the Univerſity of Cambridge for Simon Potter, Fellow of Clare Hall, to be admitted to the Degree of Doctor in Divinity. Given this twenty fourth of November 1662.

Reg. Cantabr.

WEDNESDAY Nov. 26.
Order of King in Council for reprinting the Book of Allegiance, intituled, God and the King.

Whitehall, Council-Board, November 26, 1662.

This Day the Draught of a Proclamation recommending to all his Majeſty's loving Subjects the having and uſing the Book entitled God and the King was read at the Board, and approved with Amendments therin made. And it was ordered dered (his Majeſty preſent in Council) that his Majeſty's Attorney-General do forthwith cauſe the ſame to be engroſſed, to paſs his Majeſty's Royal Signature, and ſo to be printed and publiſhed. —— As it was accordingly. Given at Whitehall the fifth Day of December, 1662. in the fourteenth Year of Our Reign.

Council-Book.

Mr. Tho. Iſham Rector of Barby Com. Northampt.

Die 26. Nov. 1662. Thomas Iſham Clericus A. M. ad Rect. Eccl. de Barby cum Only in Com. Northton. vac per Privationem Richardi Thorpe ult. Incumb. pro non ſubſcribendo, &c. ad preſ. Hon. Viri Edwardi Baronis Mountague de Boughton pleno jure Patroni.

Reg. Laney.

Mr. Rich. Thorpe ejected from Barby.

Mr. Rich. Thorpe ejected from Barby, a Parſonage worth two hundred Pounds per Ann. and when the Men of Only (a Village that belongs to this Parſonage) plough'd much Ground, it was worth two hundred and fifty Pounds. None of the Miniſters in theſe Parts were reckon'd to go beyond Mr. Fowler of Crick [Creek] in Preaching, and this Mr. Thorpe in Praying. He kept the Youth of the Town in great Awe, and from profaning the Sabbath, as had been too uſual and common. He was ſo much taken up with ſpiritual Things, that he knew not his own Cattle, except the Horſe he uſually rode on. And he left all his worldly Concerns to the Care of a faithful Servant. After his being ejected and ſilenc'd, he preached in his own Houſe on Thurſdays without Moleſtation. He went on Lords-Days to Church to hear Mr. Iſam [Iſham] with whom he had a fair Correſpondence 'till his Death, which was forty Years ago.

Dr Calamy's Continuation of Account, p. 642.

Mr. John Head Vicar of Maldon, in the Place of Mr. Tho. Horrocks depriv'd for Nonconformity.

Johannes Head Cler. admiſſ. ad Vic. Omn. Sanctorum & S. Petri de Maldon Com. Eſſex. 26. Novemb. 1662. vac. per Inconformitatem Tho. Horrocks, ad preſ. Richardi Ingram.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 399.

Dr. Calamy has remembred Mr. Thomas Horrocks as an able Divine, of a very chearful Temper.

Abridgment, Vol II. p 305. Contin. p. 468.

Dr. Will. Young Rector of Salcot-Verley.

Die 26. Nov. 1662. Willelmus Young Cler. M. D. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Salcott-Verley Com. Eſſex. vac. per Mort. ult. Rectoris; ad preſ. Suſannæ, Annæ, & Mariæ Wilsford. —— Johannes Negus Cler. ad eand. vac. per Mort. Willi. Young 26. Aug. 1663.

Newcourt, Vol II. p. 513

THURSDAY Nov. 27. Impriſonment of Mr. Henry Jeſſey.

Mr. Henry Jeſſey, a ſilenc'd Miniſter, was ſeized and kept in the Meſſengers Hands, but releaſed by the Privy-Council in December, after a Month's wrongful Reſtraint. Aug. 30, 1662. he was again apprehended (by Miſinformation) and ſecured ſix Months in the Meſſenger's Houſe, 'till by an Order of Council he was again releaſed on Febr. 20. following.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 48.

Mr. Anthony Palmer.

Mr. Anthony Palmer having got into the rich Rectory of Bourton on the Water Com. Glouc. in 1649. about the Time of his Majeſty's Reſtauration, he was by the Force of ſome of the Royaliſts of his Town driven from his Charge, as having been a moſt pernicious Perſon as to his Doctrine, and a great Enemy to the Royal Party; whereupon he withdrew and put in a Curate. —— After he had been forced to leave that comfortable Harbour, he retired to London, where we find him to have had a Hand in, or at leaſt conſenting to, that ſtupendious Tragedy, which was intended to be acted by the Satanical Saints, in November 1662. [a rigid Independent.]

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 1473.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 316. Contin. p. 77. and 493.

Mr. Tho. Palmer late Miniſter of St. Laurence Pountney, taken up for the Plot.

Another of the ejected Miniſters taken up for this Plot was Mr. Thomas Palmer, who had been Miniſter of St. Lawrence Pountney in London, and had zealouſly aſſerted the former Rebellion as well with his Sword as his Pen. Upon his Majeſty's Reſtauration, being ejected, he retired into Derbyſhire. —— We find him engaged in that Fanatical Helliſh Plot in the North Parts of England, which was diſcovered in the Beginning of October 1663. for which ſeveral ſuffered Death at York and elſewhere. He is named in his Majeſty's Proclamation, and therein deſcribed to be a tall Man, flaxen hair'd, between forty and fifty Years of Age.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 473.

See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 205.

SATURDAY Nov. 29. News from Yarmouth of the Plot, and Care taken to diſcover it by Sir Tho. Meadows.

A Letter dated Yarmouth 29, 1662.

—— Major Swallow and Colonel Sparrow being ſuſpected to have a Hand in the Plot, and ſearch'd for, made their eſcape, ſince which Major Swallow was taken at a Place called Creek in Norfolk. Before he was taken, it was thought he might be fled hither to make his Eſcape beyond the Seas, upon which Sir Thomas Meaddows cauſed all our Gates to be ſhut up, and Search to be made from Houſe to Houſe. The Report of the Conſpiracy had no ſooner reach'd this Town, but Sir Thomas forthwith cauſed the ordinary Watch to be doubled, the Train'd-Bands to watch Night by Night in Arms, and cauſed all Letters that came by the Poſt to be brought to his Houſe, whither he ſent for ſuch Perſons whoſe Principles or former Actings gave juſt Cauſe of Suſpicion, who there opened their Letters themſelves for their Vindication. Here was nothing left undone by him that might tend to the diſcovering ſuch Perſons, or the Security of this Place.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. p. 761.

Mr. Tho. Martin Vicar of Elmſted.

Tho. Martin, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Elmſted Com. Eſſex. 29. Nov. 1662. ad preſ. Caroli II. Regis per lapſum Temporis. —— Idem Tho. Martin Cler. ad Rect. de Ailesford Com. Eſſex. 25. Maii 1661. —— Obiit Ann. 1672.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p 5. and 245.

Mr. Ric. Reddrick Rector of Langford.

Richardus Reddrick Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Langford Com. Eſſex. 29. Nov. 1662. vac. per Reſign. Johannis Reddrick ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Matthei Harvey Armig. —— Idem Ric. Reddrick A. M. ad Capellam & Rectoriam de Haſeleigh Com. Eſſex. 14. Nov. 1660. ad preſ. Egidii Aleyn Armig. —— ceſſit Ann. 1663. —— obiit Ann. 1667.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 363.

Ibid. 314.

Mr. Philip Anderton outed of Low-Layton in Eſſex. See Dr. Calamy*'s Account p.* 307. and Continuation, p. 475.

Philip Anderton, A. M. of Emanuel College in Cambridge, Vicar of Low-Layton in Eſſex, about the Year 1651. had an Augmentation of fifty Pounds per Ann. out of certain ſequeſtred Eſtates; he was outed by the Bartholomew Act, and after taught a School in this Pariſh. John Cox ſucceeded A. D. 1662. and held it 'till Sept. 1669. when he became Rector of Stapleford Abbots.

Newcourt. Vol. II. p. 36

Sunday Nov. 30. John Earle S. T. P. Dean of Weſtminſter, Chancellor of Sarum, and Rector of Biſhopſton com: Wilks, elected Nov. 1. confirmed 16. vid. June 1663.

This Day the Right Reverend Father in God Dr. John Earle Lord Biſhop of Worceſter was conſecrated at Weſtminſter, by Gilbert Lord Biſhop of London, Dean of his Majeſty's Chapel Royal, George Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter, Henry Lord Biſhop of Chicheſter, Matthew Lord Biſhop of Ely, and Benjamin Lord Biſhop of Peterborough, by Commiſſion from his moſt ſacred Majeſty, and Deputation from the moſt Reverend Father in God William Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury. This is that Dr. Earle who from his Youth (I had almoſt ſaid from his Childhood) for his natural and acquired Abilities was ſo very eminent in the Univerſity of Oxon; and after was choſen to be one of the firſt Chaplains to his Majeſty (when Prince of Wales) who knew not how to deſert his Maſter, but with Duty and Loyalty (ſuitable to the reſt of his many great Virtues, both moral and intellectual) faithfully attended his Majeſty both at home and abroad, as Chaplain and Clerk of his Majeſty's Cloſet, and upon his Majeſty's happy Return was made Dean of Weſtminſter, and now Lord Biſhop of Worceſter, (for which December 7. he did Homage to his Majeſty) having this high and rare Felicity by his excellent and ſpotleſs Converſation, to have lived ſo many Years in the Court of England ſo near his Majeſty, and yet not given the leaſt Offence to any Man alive, though both in and out of Pulpit he uſed all Chriſtian Freedom againſt the Vanities of this Age, being honoured and admired by all that have either known, heard, or read him. His former Place as Dean of Weſtminſter his Majeſty hath conferred on that learned and deſerving Dr. Dolben, one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in ordinary, who all along the late Troubles hath ſo zealouſly purſued his Majeſty's Service where there was greateſt Danger and leaſt Hope of Reward.

Books and Papers publiſhed in and about November 1662.

A Defence of S. Athanaſius.

The Hiſtory of the Life and Actions of St. Athanaſius. Together with the Riſe, Growth, and Downfal of the Arian Hereſy. Collected from Primitive Writers. By N. B. P. C. Catholick. With a Preface, concluding, —— To leave a Caveat to my dear Countrey to hold theſe Fundamentals concerning the Trinity in conſtant Adoration, eſpecially in theſe Days, wherein ungodly Rapes are ſo ordinarily committed upon them, by the Conceits of ſeeming Reaſon; and thereby the holy Spouſe of Chriſt divided into ſmall Pieces, and ſcattered thro' the Nations.

Imprimatur, Geo. Stradling. Nov. 23, 1662.

London, for Chriſtopher Eccleſton 1663. 8vo.

Sir Robert Stapleton*'s Tranſlation of* Juvenal, in large Letter and Paper.

Mores Hominum. The Manners of Men, deſcribed in ſixteen Satyrs by Juvenal; as he is publiſhed in his moſt Authentick Copy lately printed by Command of the King of France. Whereunto is added, the Invention of ſeventeen Deſigns in Picture, with Arguments to the Satyrs. As alſo Explanations to the Deſigns in Engliſh and Latin. Together with a large Comment clearing the Author in every Place, wherein he ſeemed obſcure, out of the Laws and Cuſtoms of the Romans, and the Latin and Greek Hiſtories. By Sir Robert Stapleton, Knight.

London Sold by Simon Waterſon, fol. 1662.

Mr. John Stillingfleet's divine Preſence in religious Worſhip.

Shechinah. Or a Demonſtration of the Divine Preſence in the Places of Religious Worſhip. Being an Eſſay tending to promote Piety, prevent Apoſtacy, and to reduce groſly deluded Souls, firſt to their right Wits, then to the right Ways of God's publick inſtituted Worſhip. By John Stillingfleet, M. A. Rector of Beckingham in Lincolnſhire, late Fellow of St. John's College in Cambridge.

London Printed for Henry Mortlock, 1663.

Mr. Stileman's View of Church Government.

A View of Church Government, wherein the proper Church Governours are demonſtrated, their Office, Duty, Work, and Employment, with the Object thereof is declared, and the Neceſſity of Obedience to them aſſerted in a Sermon preached at a Viſitation of the Lord Biſhop of Rocheſter at Weſt-Malling. By John Stileman, M. A. and Vicar of Tunbridge in Kent.

London for Thomas Pierpoint 1663. 4to.

Divine Services and Anthems.

The Divine Services and Anthems ſung in the Cathedral and Collegiate Choirs in the Churches of England. Collected by J. C.

Sold by Henry Brome 1663.

A third Volume of the Works of Biſhop Hall.

Divers Treatiſes written upon ſeveral Occaſions. By Joſeph Hall, late Biſhop of Norwich. The third Tome. Now firſt collected into one Volume, and digeſted in the Order deſigned by the Author.

London Sold by J. Williams 1662. fol.

To the Reader.

Epiſtle to the Reader.

Straggling Soldiers in an Enemy's Countrey are apt to fall ſhort of their main Body. Like is the Fate oftimes of excellent Pieces dropp'd from the Pens of the beſt Authors, which if they lye ſcattered in rude and barbarous Times, are ſubject, through the peeviſh Malice of ſome, and Heedleſneſs of others, one Way or other, to miſcarry and be loſt in the World. Such Times we may ſay we have lived in, and, Thanks be to God, out-lived: Times wherein Authors have been miſ-eſteemed for their Functions Sake; and their Works, though never ſo admirable in their Kinds, ſlighted and trod under Foot for the Author's Sake: Days that unleſs they had been ſhortned, no Fleſh living (to ſpeak of honeſt and right principled Hearts) could have been ſaved. It was in thoſe black and diſmal Days that this Collection of ſmall Tracts writ by the right reverend, pious, and learned Father in God Dr. Joſeph Hall, late Lord Biſhop of Norwich, was made and committed to the Preſs, though it now firſt appear abroad in better and rightly reformed Days.

This Volume begins with Obſervations of ſome Specialities of Divine Providence in the Life of Joſeph Hall Biſhop of Norwich. Written with his own Hand.

II. Biſhop Hall's Hard Meaſure.

Ends with the Balm of Gilead, or the Comforter.

Anſwer to the diſſenting Brethren in the late Synod at Boſton.

An Anſwer to the apologetical Preface, publiſhed in the Name and Behalf of the Brethren that diſſented in the late Synod, and ſet before the Reverend Mr. Davenport's Treatiſe called another Eſſay, &c. — 4to. 1663.

A Defence of the Synod.

A Defence of the Anſwer and Arguments of the Synod met at Boſton in the Year 1662. concerning the Subject of Baptiſm and the Aſſociation of Churches. Againſt the Reply made thereunto by the Reverend Mr. John Davenport, in his Treatiſe, entituled, An Eſſay for Inveſtigation of the Truth, &c. — 4to. 1663.

Jo. Amos Comenii Janua Linguarum Trilinguis.

Janua Linguarum Trilinguis: Sive Johannis Amos Comenii Janua Linguarum noviſſime ab ipſo Authore recognita, aucta, emendata. Adjunctis Metaphraſi Græca, & Anglicana Verſione, Authore conſulto & approbante. — Londini apud Joh. Clarke, 1662, 8vo.

Reports of Sir Francis Moore by Sir Jeffery Palmer.

Caſes collect & report par Sir Francis Moore Chivaler, Serjeant de le Ley. Premierement imprimé & publié par l'Original remainant en les Maines de Sir Gefrey Palmer Atturney General à ſon tres Excellent Majeſty le Roy Charles le Second. — London, ſold by Rob. Pawlet, 1662, Fol.

Collection of farewell Sermons in the Countrey.

England's Remembrancer. Or a Collection of Farewel Sermons preached by the Miniſters in the Countrey. [Said to be more correct than the like Farewel Sermons by the London Miniſters.] — Printed 1663, 8vo.

The true Catholick Tenure, &c. By Edward Hyde, D. D. — Cambridge, 1662, 8vo.

MONDAY Dec. 1.

Die 1. Dec. 1662. Tho. Edwards, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Wakering-magna Com. Eſſex. ad coll. Epiſcopi London. —— ceſſit ante 21. Martii 1662. — Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 462.

Mr. Rob. Oſbaldſton Rector of Great-Parndon in Eſſex.

Die 1. Decemb. 1662. Rob. Oſbaldſton, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Parndon-magna Com. Eſſex. legitime vacantem, ad preſ. Gubernatorum Hoſpitalis Chriſti Bridewell & S. Thomæ Lond. —— He ſeems to have been the Son of Dr. William Oſbaldſton, ejected from this Living in 1642. — Ibid.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex. Paringdon-magna. Mr. Baſtwick. — Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 311.

Dr. Ralph Cudworth Vicar of Aſhwell.

Radulphus Cudworth, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Aſhewell Com. Hertford. ad preſ. D. Gilberti London Epiſcopi. He was Maſter of Chriſt College, Cambridge, upon the Death of Dr. Sam. Bolton in October 1654. and died June 26, 1688. — Reg. Sanderſon Linc. Le Neve's Faſti, p. 432.

Dr. Calamy mentions Mr. Sandford as ejected or ſilenc'd at White-Roding in Eſſex; yet it is certain that Charles Leventhorp, M. A. was legally inſtituted to that Rectory, Sept. 22, 1617. and died in Poſſeſſion of it in 1680. being Rector there near ſixty three Years, he was a Baronet at the Time of his Death. — Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 34. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 500.

Mr. Lemuel Franklyn Vicar of Little-Houghton.

Lemuel Franklyn Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. in Eccleſia de Houghton-parva in Com. Northampt. de jure vacantem per Non-ſubſcriptionem ultimi Incumbentis Thomæ Marton, ad preſ. Willielmi Ward Armig. pleno jure. —— Obiit 1675. — Reg. Laney. See Ath. Ox Vol. II. col. 280.

Mr. Tho. Marton.

From Little-Houghton. Mr. Thomas Martyn, [in the Regiſter Marton.] After his Ejectment here, he came to London and liv'd retir'd. — Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 635.

Mr. John Curtis Vicar of Thaxſted.

Die 1. Dec. 1662. Joh. Curtis, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Thaxſted Com. Eſſex. vac. per Inconformitatem ult. Vicarii, ad preſ. Willelmi Domini Maynard. — Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 582.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex. Thackſted. Mr. James Parker. — Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 307. Contin. p. 475.

TUESDAY Dec. 2.

Mr. Joſeph Glanvill Vicar of Frome-Sellwood.

Joſephus Glanvill, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Frome-Selwood in Com. Somerſet. vac. per Inconformitatem Johannis Humphry ult. Incumb. ex preſentatione Jacobi Thynne Militis. — Prince's Worthies of Devon. p. 351. See 1666. June 23.

WEDNESDAY Dec. 3.

Edwardus Pierce Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Duſton Com. Northampt. vac. per ceſſionem Magiſtri Coles ult. Incumb. ad preſent. Mariæ Reading pleno jure Patroniſſæ die 3. Dec. 1662. — Reg. Laney.

31. Octob. 1663. Johannes Ruſſell Clericus, A. M. ad Vic. de Duſton vac. per ceſſionem Edwardi Pierce ad preſ. Mariæ Reading Viduæ. — Ibid.

Mr. Ben. Rowles Curate at Kingſbury.

3 Decemb. 1662. Benjamin Rowles, A. M. licentiatus ad inſerviend' Curæ Animarum infra Paroch. de Kingſbury Com. Midd. — Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 683.

Mr. James Prince.

Kingsbury. Mr. James Prince. A Gentleman born, and of a good Family. In good Repute both for Learning and Piety, but young when ejected. He liv'd and died Paſtor of a Congregation at Ockingham in Berkſhire. — Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 468.

Burial of Sir Tho. Cecil, Knt.

Sir Thomas Cecil, Knight, was buried in the Chancel of the Pariſh Church of St. Martin in Stamford-Baron, from Burleigh, the noble Seat of the Earl of Exeter, on the 3d of Decemb. 1662. — Regiſter of the Church.

Mr. Sam. Lowe Rector of High-Laver.

Die 3. Decemb. 1662. Samuel Lowe Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Laver-alta Com. Eſſex. vac. per ceſſ. Samuelis Boſphett ad preſ. Antonii Stanlake gen. — Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 368.

It is ſaid expreſly in the Regiſter, that Mr. Lowe came in by the Ceſſion, not by the Deprivation of Mr. Borfet.

High-Laver. Mr. Samuel Borfet. He was ſome Time Fellow of King's College in Cambridge, where he was Cotemporary with Mr. John Janeway, to whoſe Life he hath prefix'd an Epiſtle. —— After his Ejection in Eſſex for Nonconformity, he ſettled at Maidſtone in Kent, where he was very uſeful and much belov'd. — Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 302. Contin. p. 464.

Being driven thence by the Rigours of King Charles his Reign, he retir'd into the City. He there ſucceeded Mr. Calamy in his Congregation after his Deceaſe, —— and was ſucceeded by Mr. John Shower.

THURSDAY Dec. 4.
The King's Letters Mandatory for Mr. Anthony Walker to be D. D. Mr. John Bonwick and John Hannum to be B. D. and Hen. Woolnough to be M. A.

CHARLES, R.

Truſty and well-beloved, we greet you well. Having received good Teſtimonies of the orthodox Learning, ſober Life, and loyal Affection of Anthony Walker, Maſter of Arts, John Bonwick, Rector of Newdigate in our County of Surrey, John Hannum, Maſter of Arts, and Henry Woolnough Clerk; and conſidering that amongſt other Severities of the late unhappy Times, they were for their Conſtancy to us and the Church, by the then uſurping Powers, diſcouraged or diſabled from taking their reſpective Degrees in that our Univerſity when regularly they might: We have thought good upon humble Suit made to us on that behalf, hereby effectually to recommend them to your Favour, willing you forthwith upon Sight hereof to confer on the ſaid Anthony Walker the Degree of Doctor in Divinity, on John Bonwick and John Hannum the Degree of Batchelors in the ſame Faculty, and on Henry Woolnough that of Maſter of Arts.

Given at our Court at Whitehall, the 4th of December 1662. in the 14th Year of our Reign.

Reg. Acad. Cantabrig.

See Life of Dr. John Barwick, written in Latin by his Brother Dr. Peter Barwick, M. D. tranſlated by the Editor, London 1724, 8vo. p. 16. and the Advice of Dr. Brownrigg, Maſter of Katherine Hall, given to him, which made him warp, &c. p. 17.

Anthony Son of William Walker Vicar of Winſton in Suffolk, born at Conington in Cambridgeſhire, and from Ely School, at the Age of ſixteen Years, admitted Penſioner of St. John's College under the Tuition of Mr. Barwick, Apr. 3, 1636. In Auguſt 1642. he was ſo zealous in the Royal Cauſe, as publickly to certify againſt the Rebels, by a Paper delivered into the Regiſter's Office under his Hand, and that of another of his College (if not alſo confirm'd by their Oaths) that they and divers others had Muſkets ſeveral Times diſcharged in at their Windows. Above a Year after he was ſo well recommended to the King, that his Majeſty ſent a Mandate, dated Oxford Dec. 11, 1643. to admit Anthony Walker, B. A. into the next Fellowſhip that ſhould become void in St. John's College in Cambridge, but probably this Mandate was too late, the Ejectments beginning ſoon after: It is certain he was never Fellow. I know not how long it was after this, that Mr. Walker wrote the Life of his Grandfather Mr. Bois: My learned Friend Mr. Baker (who has a Manuſcript of it) tells me, it was written in the Times, and that he expreſſes his Loyalty therein: But as his Teſtimony concerning himſelf, in a Piece that I ſuppoſe was never publiſhed, is of no great Weight; ſo it is no little Abatement to what ſome may be willing to infer in his Favour from the Mandate of King Charles I. that after he had ſufficiently diſcovered himſelf, and had been Chaplain to the Admiral of the Rebels, he yet found Means to obtain a Mandate alſo from King Charles II. for the Degree of D. D. —— theſe are too often Things in Courſe, and ſeveral of the Preſbyterian Stamp had Degrees.

Notes on the Engliſh Life of Dr. John Barwick, 8vo. p. 18.

Querela Cantabr. p. 4.

FRIDAY Dec. 5.
Advice from Southampton of the ill Behaviour of Quakers. Anabaptiſts, &c. the Proſecution of them.

The Quakers were now of ſo turbulent a Spirit, that they were frequently impriſon'd, but the King ſeem'd to pity them, as Men who by their preſent Spirit could not help it. See Compl. Hiſtory of England, Part III. 2d Edit. p. 254.

Advis'd from Southampton. Since the committing certain Quakers and other Fanaticks in this Place, our Magiſtrates (with much Patience having obſerved their inſolent Carriage and Miſdemeanours, with their wilful Obſtinacy perſiſting to oppoſe all Government, but what ſhall ſuit to their rebellious Humour) are reſolved to proſecute the Act to that Purpoſe publiſhed. Not long ſince one Trodd a Carpenter, an Anabaptiſt, was committed to the common Goal for Words ſpoken by him. On Sunday laſt, the laſt of November, were apprehended in divers Meetings certain Quakers, Independents, Anabaptiſts, ſome of them upon ſmall Fines impoſed for a Warning to them, and Promiſe of Conformity were acquitted, others bound over to anſwer their Offence at the next Seſſions. Laſt Night, Decemb. 4. were apprehended in the Houſe of one Harding a Company of Anabaptiſts committed, but not yet examined. Amongſt thoſe committed about Michaelmas laſt, was one James Wiſe a Clothworker, who continuing his Inſolence of taking upon him to be a Preacher, was removed to the common Goal, where having Opportunity, and the Conveniency of a grated Iron Gate to the high Street, perſevered in his old Way, and drew Numbers to the Place; he is this Day to be tranſported to Caiſhot Caſtle.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to. No. 49.

Dr. John Dolben Dean of Weſtminſter.

Dr. John Dolben was inſtalled Dean of Weſtminſter, Dec. 5, 1662. in Nov. 1666. he was made Biſhop of Rocheſter, and held this Deanery with that See, till he was tranſlated to York in Auguſt 1683.

See Engliſh Life of Dr. Joh. Barwick, 8vo. p. 281.

Mr. Francis Sawyer Rector of Thorp Malſor.

Eod. die 5. Decemb. 1662. Franciſcus Sawyer Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Eccl. de Thorp Malſor alias Malſworth vac. per deprivat. ſive Non-ſubſcriptionem juxta Statutum nuper editum Johannis Courtman ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Maunſell Armig. pleno jure Patroni.

Reg. Laney.

Account of Mr. John Cortman.

Tho' a Nonconformiſt he kept the Living till he could reſign it to his Son.

Mr. John Cortman, B. D. Fellow of Trinity College in Cambridge, and one of the College Preachers. He was a very facetious Perſon, of a quick Wit, and florid Parts. He did not preach publickly after his Ejection, but in Mr. Manſell's Houſe that was the Patron, keeping the Living and employing a Curate. He afterwards reſign'd it to his Son, and himſelf practis'd Phyſick with great Succeſs, being particularly famous for curing paralytick Diſtempers, and diſtracted People. On a Sabbath-Day, when all the Family were gone to Church, he was ſeiz'd with a Fit, and lay ſo long in it, that when they came home he was paſt Recovery, and ſo expir'd.

Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 492.

Mr. Richard Salmon Rector of Kelſhull.

An. 1662. Dec. 5. Preſentatus eſt Ricardus Salmon, A. M. ad Rect. de Kelſhull in Com. Hertf. vacantem per ceſſionem cujuſdam Gulielmi Jenoway ultimi Incum-

Reg. Wren, Elien.

Incumbentis ibidem. [Dr. Calamy ſaith, that Mr. William Janeway, Son of William, ſucceeded his Father in this Living of Kelſhull, and was there ejected and ſilenc'd for his Nonconformity. [Which if true the Regiſter would not have run per ceſſionem.]

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 533.

Complaint that the new Common-Prayer could not be ſeen before Bartholomew Day.

It is certain the Book came out of the Preſs not a few Days, but ſeveral Weeks before Aug. 24.

Yet by neglect of Officers or Carriers, it might not come to the Hands of ſome Miniſters till after that Day.

And even they might have pleaded a lawful Impediment of not reading what they ſaw not: And the Ordinary muſt have allowed and approved of ſuch lawful Impediment, as was done in the Caſe of the Church of Peterborough.

Beſides the Amendments and Additions were not likely to be the Cauſe of Refuſal, becauſe they were all made at the Suggeſtion of the Presbyterian Commiſſioners, and were agreed to by the Biſhops and Church Divines to make Conformity the more eaſy.

A Complaint was made that very few of them could ſee the Book, to all Things in which they were to declare their Aſſent and Conſent before the Time limited by the Act expir'd: For the Common-Prayer-Book with the Alterations and Amendments (for ſo they are called, how deſervedly I enquire not) made by the Convocation, did not come out of the Preſs till a few Days before the 24th of Auguſt. So that of the ſeven thouſand Miniſters in England who kept their Livings, few except thoſe who were in or near London, could poſſibly have a Sight of the Book with its Alterations, 'till after they had declar'd their Aſſent and Conſent to it.

Dr. Calamy's Life of Mr. Baxter, 8vo. p. 201.

Mr. Olliffe in his Defence of Miniſterial Conformity to take this off, reports, from an aged Miniſter in their Parts, that he and his Neighbours ſent to London and had the Amendments and Alterations copied out; and adds, that it is to be hoped, that the Charge here brought is groundleſs againſt ſo many thouſand Miniſters, &c.

The Return made by Dr. Calamy in his Defence of moderate Nonconformity, Part II. p. 100, 101. is this, that perhaps that might be a peculiar Favour, becauſe I have it under the Hand of another worthy ejected Miniſter (who is ſince dead) that this was true in Fact; and that ſeveral Miniſters even in London never read it before they gave their Aſſent and Conſent; and that in Middleſex few Pariſhes had the Book till a Week, Fortnight, three Weeks, or a Month after. But as for written Copies of the Amendments, they were ſo liable to Abuſes and Miſtakes, that 'tis dubious how far they might be ſafely depended on. And being he is ſo willing to ſuppoſe there might be a Miſtake, I'll give him one of his own Church for a confirming Witneſs, viz. the worthy Author of the Conformiſt's Plea for the Nonconformiſts, who Plea 2. p. 55. ſays, that a Divine of Years and Learning in the Dioceſe of Lincoln gave this for one Reaſon in his Farewel Sermon, that he was to be ſilenc'd by Law, for not ſubſcribing and aſſenting to a Book which he had not ſeen. And he adds, that it was the Caſe of many more in that Dioceſe: And that Mr. B. of W. in the County of L. was ejected by Sir Edward Lake, altho' he gave that Reaſon, that the Book was not brought him before the 24th of Auguſt, nor before he was declar'd depriv'd by the Commiſſary.

The Popiſh Intereſt at Court ſtill labouring for a Toleration.

The Papiſts thought they had an Intereſt at Court, and pleaded for a Toleration: And having petition'd the Lords and Commons, that by their Mediation to his Majeſty, they may receive the Benefit of a gracious and a general Indulgence [and hearing the main Objection againſt them to be the Inconſiſtence of their Principles to the Peace and Safety of the King and Proteſtant Nation] they drew up a Paper intituled, The Anſwer of the Roman Catholicks to the Queſtion, Whether their Opinions be conſiſtent with their Obedience to the King, and the Peace of the Kingdom? 1661. MS.

Note of the Editor of the 2d Edit. of the compleat Hiſt. of England, p. 254.

SATURDAY Dec. 6.
A ſecond Year of Prodigies to terrify the People.

Mirabilis Annus Secundus: Or the ſecond Year of Prodigies. Being another true and impartial Collection of many ſtrange Signs and Wonders.

Printed in the Year 1662, 4to.

The firſt Collection of this kind by a nameleſs Author was publiſhed in Auguſt 1661. the ſecond in Auguſt 1662. and the third in December the ſame Year; but whether any more followed I find not. They were publiſhed purpoſely to breed in the Vulgar an ill Opinion of the Change of Government and Religion after the King's Reſtauration.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 210.

SUNDAY Dec. 7.
Mr. Goad's Sermon of the ſecond coming of our Lord.

He was Maſter of Merchant-Taylor's School, and appear'd at laſt to be a Papiſt.

Ἡ ἡμέρα ἐκείνη. An Advent Sermon delivered at the Cathedral of St. Paul's Church, December 7. Being the ſecond Sunday in Advent. By J. Goad, B. D. Imprimatur, Dec. 30, 1662. M. Frank, S. T. P. &c.

London, for Hugh Robinſon, 1663. 4to.

To the Right Worſhipful Nicholas Delves, Eſq; the Maſter, William Jeſton, Thomas Cole, Edmund Fabian, George Nodes, Wardens of the worſhipful Company of the Merchant-Taylors.

——— The World that begins to take Notice of your late built Library, for which you ſhall be eternally honoured, may by theſe Notes perceive a little, that you have of one Side ſome theological Worthies, modern and ancient, therein inſtalled; my Endeavour ſhall be with God's Bleſſing to ſhew the World alſo, that you have another Side of that Building furniſh'd at the Coſt of noble Spirits, with Languages, Hiſtory, Poetry and Oratory, for the Education of ſprightly Youth, who ſhall labour and contend after that Praiſe which moſtly redounds to yourſelves. ———

Merchant-Taylor's-School, Decemb. 19, 1662. J. GOAD.

Betraying ſome little Inclinations towards Popery. The Pope not Antichriſt.

P. 12. Much leſs would I have any Zealots, upon an unlucky Miſtake of Rome Heathen for Rome Chriſtian, and the imagined Antichriſt there, be engaged in the Ways of Core and Dathan, &c.

A middle State of Souls, and a Priſon for them.

P. 14. Preparing againſt Judgment; becauſe the Soul wherever it is, or whatſoever it feels, is in a reſerved Eſtate related to Judgment; and though by its Confinement and Uſage like a Priſoner, it gives a ſhrewd Gueſs what will become of it at that Day, yet it ſurely receives not any final Sentence till that Day, &c.

Daily Sacrifice.
Canonical Hours, &c.
Dr. Haywood*'s Sermon againſt ſpeaking Evil of Rulers.*

P. 28. Was it the worſe with holy Job that ſacrific'd every Day, or with Daniel that kept his Canonical Hours, or with David that pray'd at Midnight, beſides ſeven Times a Day? &c.

A Sermon diſſuading from Obliquy againſt Governors. Preached on Sunday December 7, 1662. in a ſolemn Audience; and how at the Requeſt of divers that heard it, made Publick. By William Haywood, Doctor in Divinity, Chaplain in Ordinary to his Majeſty, and Rector of St. Giles's in the Fields.

London, for R. Royſton, 1663. 4^to. See Wood*'s* Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c 218. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 928. Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings of the Clergy, P.* II. p. 91.

Imprimatur, Geo. Stradling, 22. Decemb. 1662.

Good Doctrine and peaceable Concluſion.

Acts xxiii. 5. For—it is written, thou ſhalt not ſpeak evil of the Ruler of thy People. I have read you a Text which if duly conſidered, and made Conſcience of, might help to abate much of thoſe Fires which lately threatned the common Safety.——[Concluding.] Let all theſe Things move us to beware of ſo ungrateful, ſo unnatural a Sin, as to revile and ſpeak Evil of thoſe whoſe whole Study and Care Day and Night is only to do us good; or to blaſt and deprave their good Names, who defend us and our Names, and all we have elſe from Injury. Let us be ſo far from ſpeaking Evil of ſuch, that we neither endure to hear Evil of them from others, nor to think or imagine any in our Hearts, or give Credit to ill Rumours we hear with our Ears: But inure our ſelves quite contrary to think and ſpeak the beſt, to put the faireſt Colours we can upon all that our Rulers do, to defend their Reputation, and honour them as our Parents, ever bleſſing and praying for them, that God would deliver them from the Peril of wicked Tongues, and more wicked Hands. And though undeſervedly they ſometime hear ill, that they may never be diſcouraged from doing well; nor by the Unthankfulneſs of ſome few envious People be withdrawn from loving and caring for all their People: But that Rulers and People may be happy one in another, and being mutually bleſſed and praiſed one of another, may receive the Bleſſing of Peace internal and external here, till they be received into the Bleſſing of Peace eternal hereafter. Amen.

MONDAY Dec. 8.
Some very unworthy Fellows did now conform to the Church, and bring Reproach to it.

It had been happier for the Church if ſome of the now conforming Miniſters had continued in their Non-Conformity; too many came in for the Barn and the Cup-board, not upon Principle. Thus upon the Sequeſtration of Henry Smith, A. M. from the Vicarage of Cornwood in Devon, his Succeſſor was one W. Shute, who had been indeed ſome Time at the Univerſity, but was, if I am right informed, a very ignorant and gluttonous Fellow. Upon the black and villanous Murder of the King, he had, as 'tis ſaid, this Expreſſion in his Sermon the Sunday following, Now I plainly ſee that Hell is paved with the Skulls of Kings and Princes. And at another Time in Deriſion of the Lord's-Prayer told his Pariſhioners, they might go to Hell with our Father which art in Heaven in their Mouths. However he conformed at the Reſtauration, and was by the Clemency of that Government, as bitterly as it hath been railed on for Perſecution, allowed to continue in the Living, to the Ruin of the Vicarage-Houſe and Glebe. He had alſo permitted the Church to be much abuſed, the Rood-Loft to be pulled down, and the painted Windows to be broken all in Pieces.

Walker*'s Sufferings of the Clergy, P.*II. p. 355.

Collections made for the deprived and ſilenc'd Miniſters.

Private Collections were made, eſpecially in London, for the Nonconformiſts deprived or ſilenced. A while after the London Miniſters, among many hundred of other, were ejected out of their Places, and thereby deprived of the Means of Subſiſtence for themſelves and Families, Mr. Tho. Gouge late Miniſter of Sepulchre's in London, with two or three of his Brethren, applied themſelves to many worthy and charitable Citizens, of whom they received ſome conſiderable Sums of Money, whereby they relieved the Neceſſities of ſuch as were in preſent Want: And this Courſe they continued for ſome Years, till that Charity was diverted into other Chanels.

Life of Mr. Tho. Gouge in Clark*'s Lives of eminent Men.*

TUESDAY Dec. 9.
The loyal and indigent Officers had a Sum of Money given among them by Act of Parliament.
The Diſtribution left to Commiſſioners.
Their Proceeding in it.
The Money not well paid in.

At the Star-Chamber in Weſtminſter the 9^th of December 1662. by the honourable the Commiſſioners for diſtributing the Money given by Act of Parliament, amongſt the truly loyal and indigent Commiſſion Officers.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4^to. N^o. 50.

In regard the 'foreſaid Commiſſion Officers may by this Time probably expect to receive the Moiety of ſuch Monies as are due to them, according to their true Certificates; and in regard five thouſand Pounds is all that is yet paid to their reſpective Treaſurer, although above thirty thouſand Pounds ought to have been paid to the ſaid Treaſurer before this Time, by the High Sheriffs or Receivers General of the laſt eighteen Months Aſſeſſment from the Counties of Cornwall, Rutland, Monmouth, Lancaſter, Weſtmoreland and Angleſey; the ſaid Commiſſioners have therefore thought fit to publiſh the ſame, that ſo the ſaid Officers may take Notice, that for want of the ſaid Monies no Diſtribution can be for ſome Time made amongſt them by the Commiſſioners according to the ſaid Act: And therefore all the ſaid Officers are deſired to forbear putting themſelves to needleſs Trouble or Charge by attending on the ſaid Commiſſioners, until the ſaid Monies are paid into the Treaſurer's Hands, to which Payment the ſaid Sheriffs have been urged by Letters; and if in this good and charitable Work they ſtill (to their Shame) fail to make Payment according to their Truſts, then they will be compelled thereunto with Damages, and when thirty thouſand Pounds, or the Moiety of the whole Sum is paid into the Treaſurer's Hand, then other like publick Notice ſhall forthwith be given, after which a ſpeedy Diſtribution of ſuch Monies ſhall be made to the ſaid Officers or to their Aſſigns deputed according to the ſaid Act, being able and reſponſible Perſons; by which Time many

When 30,000 l. a Moiety of the whole Sum ſhall be receiv'd,
Then a ſpeedy Diſtribution to be made.

many falſe Certificates may be diſcovered, to the great Advantage of thoſe that have true ones.

Ordered that the ſaid Declaration be printed and publiſhed.

Star-Chamber, Weſtminſter, Tueſday Dec. 16, 1662. By the ſaid Commiſſioners, &c.

Another Order of the Commiſſioners.

Ibid.

It is this Day ordered, that any Commiſſioner of the Star-Chamber ſhall have Power to bring in upon Tueſday next the Names of all ſuch Officers q[illegible]fied according to the Act, who are now actually in Town, and in a ſtarving Condition, whom ſuch Commiſſioner will undertake under his Hand and Seal to be qualified as aforeſaid.

FRANCIS LOVELACE, Regiſter.

Mr. Charles Adams Rector of St. Michael Royal.

Newcourt Vol. I. p. 149.

Die 9. Decemb. 1662. Carolus Adams Cler. admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Michaelis in Riola ad preſ. Decani & Capituli Eccl. Chriſti Cant. —— Mr. Newcourt ſuppoſes he continued Rector 'till the Church was burnt in 1666.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, p. 174.

Mr. Luke Proctor, M. A. had been admitted to this Living Febr. 11, 1636. on the Preſentation of the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, and diſpoſſeſſed by the Parliament in Aug. 1643. and, as I gueſs, never lived to be reſtored with his Majeſty.

WEDNESDAY Dec. 10.

The King's Letters obtained by the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of London, for a Collection to be made in Churches every Sunday for the Poor in this hard Seaſon.

Extracts from Council Books.

Whitehall Council, December 10, 1662.

Upon a Memorial exhibited, and this Day read at the Board from the Lord-Mayor and Court of Aldermen of the City of London, praying an Order from his Majeſty and this Board for a Collection to be made on the Sundays weekly, for a Month or ſix Weeks in the ſeveral Pariſh Churches within the ſaid City of London and Liberty thereof for the Relief of the Poor, in regard of the Neceſſities to which they are expoſed by the Hardſhip of the Seaſon: It was ordered (his Majeſty preſent in Council) that the ſaid Lord-Mayor and Court of Aldermen have Leave, and accordingly are hereby authorized to give effectual Order at the ſaid ſeveral Pariſh Churches within the ſaid City and Liberties, to make Collections for the Poor every Sunday in the Morning and Afternoon during the Space of ſix Weeks from the Date hereof. And the reſpective Church-wardens and Overſeers of the Poor of every Pariſh within the Limits aforeſaid are willed and required to perform the ſame accordingly.

The like Practice is continued by Letters to collect from Houſe to Houſe.

Advice of the horrid Plot.

Publick Intelligence, 49 4^to

London, Dec. 10. We formerly told you of the deſperate Folly of ſome wicked Men, who were ſo far Enemies to their own Happineſs and the Peace of the Kingdom, that they needs would engage themſelves and Friends in a horrid Plot againſt the Settlement of this Nation; how vain and inconſiderable (though impudently malicious) their Deſigns were, you may hear and ſee at the Seſſions-Houſe in the Old-Bailey to Morrow (Thurſday the eleventh inſtant) where ſome of them are to be arraign'd and try'd for their Lives.

THURSDAY Dec. 11.

Printed Tryall, 1663.

The Tryal of Thomas Tongue, George Philips, Francis Stubbs, James Hinde, John Sellers, and Nathaniel Gibbs for High Treaſon at the Old-Bailey, London, the eleventh of December, 14 Car. II. 1662.

Tryal of the Conſpirators in a late Plot againſt the King and Government.

The Indictment ſet forth, that the Priſoners not weighing the Duty of their Allegiance, &c. did compaſs and imagine the Death of the King, the Subverſion of the Government, &c. and to that End they together with other falſe Traytors, did on the thirty firſt of October laſt, at the Pariſh and Ward of St. Michael's Cornhil, London, aſſemble, conſult, and agree to depoſe the King, and alter the Government, and to ſurprize the King's Perſon, his Palace of Whitehall, &c. againſt the King's Peace, his Crown, and Dignity.

Witneſſes, Hill, Riggs, Bradley and Tyler.

It was ſoon after advertiſed in the publick Papers, that there was ſtol'n abroad a moſt falſe imperfect Copy of the Narrative of the Indictment, Tryal Condemnation, Confeſſions, Speeches and Prayers of Tho Tongue, George Philips, Nathaniel Gibbs, and Francis Stubbs, in ſix Sheets, without Name either of Printer or Bookſeller, whereas the true and perfect Edition is printed in 12 Sheets, and to be ſold by Charles Adams, at the Talbot in Fleetſtreet.

Mr. William Hill depoſed, that all Intereſts were agreed in this Matter, Fifth-Monarchy Men, Anabaptiſts, Independents, and Fighting Quakers, and the Congregational Churches were conſenting, and were reſolved to endeavour their Deliverance from their Adverſaries at Whitehall, —— by ſurprizing Windſor Caſtle, —— and taking the Tower of London, —— and preparing Arms and Men under Ludlow Commander in Chief, by Direction of a Council of Six, of which Council Colonel Danvers, Philips, Nye the Miniſter, Lockier, and one Cole were five of them, &c.

Edward Riggs depoſed to the like Effect, and that he had heard of a Deſign of ſurprizing the King at Camberwel, when he was to come from Hampton-Court to ſee the Queen-Mother at Greenwich.

Mr. Bradley and Mr. Tyler ſwore to the like Purpoſe; and that at ſeveral Meetings it was debated and thought Expedient, that the old Parliament ſhould be choſen again, i. e. So many of them as had approved themſelves faithful from firſt to laſt to a Common-wealth Intereſt, eſpecially in the Times of Declenſion; that none ſhould be capable of electing or being elected, but ſuch as had ſo approved themſelves: Provided that this intended Parliament ſhould have no Power in Things of an Eccleſiaſtical Nature, to impoſe any thing upon the Conſciences of the People: And that it ſhould be High-Treaſon to aſſert the Intereſt of a King, Houſe of Lords, or a ſingle Perſon.

An Aſſociation of all Parties.

And it was much urged, that there ſhould be an uniting of all Intereſts, viz. Quakers, Fifth-Monarchy Men, Anabaptiſts, Independents, Preſbyterians, and Levellers; and at one Conſult, every one oblig'd themſelves to ſee what Intereſt he could make among the Preſbyterians, becauſe they look'd upon them as the Perſons who had moſt Money and Strength. —— And that Riſings were intended in ſeveral Counties of England, while they were in dread of a Maſſacre by the Papiſts on Alhallows-Eve.

Sir William Morrice, Sir Henry Bennet.

To the laſt Point, Sir William Morrice and Sir Henry Bennet, Secretaries of State, depoſed, that they had received Letters from ſeveral Counties, that a Report was ſpread about, that the Proteſtants were to have their Throats cut by the Papiſts on ſuch a Day, and that theſe Rumours were in order to incite People to join with the diſaffected.

Sir J. Talbot, Mr. Hodges and Sir John Weld.

Sir John Talbot depos'd, that theſe Reports occaſion'd great Diſturbances in Warwickſhire and Worceſterſhire. And Mr. Hodges and Sir John Weld depoſed, that the ſame Reports were in Dorſetſhire and at Shrewſbury, and that ſeveral Perſons were taken up about it.

The Priſoners Defence.

The Priſoners in their Defence denied, that they had been engaged in any formed Deſign againſt the Government: They ſaid they had heard indeed ſome ſuch Diſcourſes as had been teſtified, but they heard them only as common News, and had no ill Intention: And that Hill and Riggs, two of the Witneſſes had confeſs'd themſelves guilty of the Crimes they charg'd on them, and therefore they ſuppoſed they were not competent Witneſſes againſt them.

The Jury's Verdict.

The Judge's Sentence.

The Lord Chief Juſtice having directed the Jury they withdrew, and within an Hour brought in their Verdict, that Tongue, Philips, Stubbs, Sellers, and Gibbs were guilty, who being ſet to the Bar with Hinde (who confeſs'd the Fact, and would not abide his Trial,) the Chief Juſtice proceeded to pronounce Sentence againſt them as Traytors.

Arraignment of ſix of the Traytors, as by the Account given by Authority.

Mercur. Publ. 4to. No. 50.

Tho. Tongue a Diſtiller of Strong-Waters, George Philips a Foot Serjeant, Francis Stubbs Cheeſemonger, James Hinde Gunner, John Sellers Compaſs-Maker, and Nath. Gibbs Felt-Maker.

Their Commander in chief was to be Ludlow, Colonel Danvers, Mr. Nye, Mr. Lockyer, and Lieutenant Strange, with Captains Spencer and Taverner. Heath's Chron. p. 512.

The Indictment was for High-Treaſon for compaſſing the King's Death, and the Overt Acts laid in the Indictment were the aſſembling of themſelves together, and conſulting and agreeing to deſtroy the King, ac ad eaſdem proditiones perimplendas, the conſulting to ſeize Whitehall, where the King was reſident.

And in this Caſe it was reſolved by all the Judges:

I. That the Meeting together of Perſons and conſulting to deſtroy the King, was of itſelf an Overt-Act to prove the compaſſing of the King's Death.

II. Reſolved, that where a Perſon knowing of the Deſign does meet with them, and hear them diſcourſe of their traiterous Deſigns, tho' he ſay or act nothing, this is High-Treaſon in that Party, for it is more than a bare Concealment, which is a Miſpriſion, becauſe it ſheweth his liking and approving of their Deſign, &c.

III. It was reſolved, that ſome of thoſe Perſons who are equally culpable with the reſt, may be made uſe of as Witneſſes againſt their Fellows, and they are lawful Witneſſes within the Statutes of 1 Ed. VI. 12. 5, 6 Ed. VI. 11. and 1 Mar. I. &c. Keling's Reports, Fol. p. 17.

This was repreſented by the Faction as a Sham Plot; as indeed every Plot has been ſo call'd by the guilty Party, when they could not bring it to effect.

The Evidence was poſitive of the Fellow Conſpirators.

Six of the Traytors lately apprehended were this Day arraigned at the Seſſions Houſe in the Old-Bailey, London, viz. Thomas Tongue, George Philips, Francis Stubbes, James Hinde, John Cellars, and Nathaniel Gibbs, who were not brought forth ſingly, but (as Conſpirators in the ſame wicked Plot) were all ſet at the Bar together. 'Twas the ſame Jury which was empanelled for all the reſt of the Criminals this Seſſions, nor did the Traytors except againſt any of them ſave only Thomas Tongue againſt one Perſon, but immediately he recall'd himſelf, and allowed that Perſon alſo. After the Indictment read, Tongue, Stubbs, Cellars and Gibbs pleaded not Guilty. Philips confeſs'd himſelf Guilty as having not diſcovered the Plot, but not guilty as an Actor in it; but being told by the Court that he muſt plead poſitively to the Indictment, he then ſaid not Guilty: But James Hind confeſs'd himſelf Guilty; and kneeling down did with Tears humbly beg his Majeſty's Mercy, and thereupon was remov'd from the Bar, whilſt the Court proceeded upon the Tryal of the reſt. Four Witneſſes were called and ſworn, who all depoſed, That the Priſoners at the Bar with ſeveral others, had a Deſign to ſeize particularly the Perſon of his ſacred Majeſty, his Highneſs the Duke of York, the Duke of Albemarle, and Major-General Brown; that in order to ruin his Majeſty's Perſon they reſolved to fall upon Whitehall, and after many Debates among themſelves whether to come through St. James's-Park, or by Charing-Croſs, concluded neither of thoſe Ways ſo ſafe as to paſs by King's Street Weſtminſter, and ſo through the Privy-Garden; that they formerly had contrived to ſeize his Majeſty's Perſon when he went to Greenwich to the Queen-Mother, and had then done it, but that all the congregated Intereſts were not then united; that if they could once obtain his Majeſty's Perſon, they would give him ſuch Quarter as was deſign'd for Ludlow; that they reſolved to ſurprize the Tower of London; that they had corrupted a Sergeant and a Gunner in Windſor Caſtle, in order to take that Gariſon; that they alſo deſigned to ſurprize two Caſtles in Kent; that they meant to ſeize the Treaſure at Guildhall; that they had already delivered out 600 Arms, and were delivering out more, had they not been prevented by Diſcovery; that this Deſign was firſt managed by a Council of forty; that the Council of forty was afterwards reduced to a Council of ſix, Thomas, Nye, Elton, Rawdon, Spurway and Ward; that this Council of ſix were to unite the congregated Intereſts; that the riſing of the Council ſhould be a certain Sign that the Intereſts were agreed; that they ſaid many of the congregated Churches in London had already aſſented to this Deſign; that an Agitator was ſent to every County, who gave an Account only to one of the ſix; that (for the better drawing in of the late Soldiers) old Army Colonels were nominated to head the ſeveral Regiments, and Majors of their own Election ſhould take the Command of the Regiments if ſuch old Officers did not appear; that Ludlow ſhould command in Chief; that ſeveral Forces in the Countrey were already liſted of Fifth-Monarchy-Men, Anabaptiſts, and fighting Quakers, of which the Fifth-Monarchy-Men were to lead the Van; that All-Hallows Eve was the Time appointed for their general Riſing; that to give leſs Cauſe of Suſpicion, they forged Letters, and ſent them into ſeveral Counties, ſignifying that the Papiſts that Day intended a general Maſſacre; that above five thouſand Copies of theſe Letters were diſpers'd; that a Declaration alſo was prepared to be publiſh'd for ſetting up a Commonwealth Government; that ſuch of the Rump as had not ſwerved from their Principles ſhould be called into the Government; that a Paper was written to work Diviſion among the Seamen, and great Encouragement offered to ſuch as would come to ſerve them. After which Philips his own Confeſſion for further Confirmation (upon his Examination concerning theſe Particulars) was read in Court.

But to all this large Evidence, atteſted by ſo many Witneſſes, the Priſoners made little Reply, beſides a bare Denial. Whereupon his Majeſty's Council ſumm'd

In plain Facts and apparent Circumſtances.

But it did not appear that the Preſbyterians were concerned in it.

ſumm'd up the Evidence, and ſhew'd how ſmall Credit is due to their Denial or Affirmation, who in their forged Letter of the Papiſts intended Maſſacre, do call the eternal God to witneſs that it is no Trepan, but a real Truth. The Jury having heard the Evidence found them all guilty, who having nothing further to ſay, (though called upon by the Court) were all ſix condemned to be drawn, hang'd, and quartered, &c. as guilty of High-Treaſon.

Mr. Edward Galton Rector of Wilbye Com. Northton. in the Place of Mr. Vincent Alſop.

Die 11. Decemb. 1662. Edwardus Galton Clericus A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Wilbye in Com. Northampt. vac. per Privationem ratione non Subſcriptionis Vincentii Alſop ult. Incumb. ad preſ. D. Henrici Yelverton Baronetti pleno jure Patroni.

Reg. Laney.

Dr. Calamy's Account of Mr. Alſop.

Others gave him the Character of a witty fooliſh Writer.

Wilbye: Mr. Vincent Alſop, M. A. of St. John's College in Cambridge. After he left the Univerſity he was for ſome Time Aſſiſtant to the Maſter of the Free-School at Okeham in Rutland. He was there engaged in looſe Company, to whom his Facetiouſneſs made him very acceptable: But by Converſation with Mr. King the Miniſter of the Town (whoſe Daughter he afterwards married) he came to ſee the Folly of it, ſhook off his bad Acquaintance, and heartily fell in with ſerious Piety and practical Godlineſs, of which he was all his Life after a diligent Promoter. After his Ejectment at Wilbye he lived ſome Time at Wellingborough, where he exerciſed his Miniſtry, as Times would permit. —— Mr. Cawton, who had gathered a Congregation at Weſtminſter, recommended him for his Succeſſor, —— where he was well accepted. —— He died at his Houſe in Weſtminſter, May 8, 1703. His Funeral Sermon was preached by Mr. Slater, &c.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 488.

Saturday Dec. 23.

Mr. John Smith Rector of Barnſton.

Die 13. Decemb. 1662. Johannes Smith Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Barnſton Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli Comitis Warwick.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 39.

Johannes Beadle Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Barnſton 31. Maii 1632. vac. per Reſign. Willi. Wright ad preſ. Rob. Com. Warwic.

Ibid.

Barnſtone: Mr. John Beadle, M. A. Though he was long exerciſed with much Weakneſs, yet he bore up with much Faith and Patience. He printed The Journal or Diary of a thankful Chriſtian, 8vo 1656.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, p. 301. Contin. p. 460.

Mr. Rich. Mitchel Vicar of Childerdick.

Die 13. Decemb. 1662. Richardus Mitchel Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Childerdich Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Edwardi Com. Manceſtre & aliorum. He died in 1666.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 312.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in Eſſex, at Childerdich, Mr. Harris. —— His Title does not appear.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 312.

A Certificate of Commiſſioners comparing the Book of Common-Prayer with the Original.

The like Certificates were made and tranſmitted to the ſeveral Cathedral Churches in purſuance of the Act of Uniformity.

A Certificate in Writing under the Hands and Seals of ſeveral Commiſſioners appointed by his Majeſty, that they had examined and compared this ſaid Book of Common-Prayer with the Original, and did find it to be a true and perfect Copy.

See Mr. Robinſon's Review of the Caſe of Liturgies, 8vo.

We whoſe Names are here underwritten, Commiſſioners amongſt others appointed by our Sovereign Lord Charles II. by the Grace of God, King of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. by his Highneſs Letters-Patents under the Great-Seal of England, bearing Date the firſt Day of November, in the fourteenth Year of his Reign, in Purſuance of a certain Act made in the Parliament begun and held at Weſtminſter the eighth Day of May, in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord King Charles the Second, and there continued until the nineteenth Day of May, in the thirteenth Year of his ſaid Majeſty's Reign, and thence prorogued to the eighteenth of February then next following, entitled, An Act for the Uniformity of Publick Prayers and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies, and for eſtabliſhing the Form of making, ordaining, and conſecrating Biſhops, Prieſts, and Deacons in the Church of England, do certify, That we have examined and compared this Book with the Original, and we find it a true and perfect Copy. In witneſs whereof we have hereunto ſet our Hands and Seals this thirteenth Day of December, in the fourteenth Year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord King Charles the Second, and in the Year of our Lord Chriſt, one thouſand ſix hundred ſixty and two.

Jos. Henshaw, Decan. Ciceſtre.	Mark Frank, Archid. S. Alban.
Rich. Chaworth,	Geo. Stradling,
Will. Brabourne,	Jo. Pritchett, S. Andrew Underſhaft.

The Act allow'd Time till the 25th of December. And therefore no Grounds for this Reflection.

Mr. Robinſon makes this Comment on it.

I have lately had the Opportunity to conſult one of thoſe Common-Prayer Books which was exemplify'd under the Great-Seal of England, and there is Reaſon to think it was one of the firſt, that was examined and compared with the Original Manuſcript agreed upon in Convocation, and annexed by Parliament to the Act of Uniformity: Yet I find that was not certify'd to be a true and perfect Copy 'till about the Middle of December 1662.

Lord Clarendon's Letter to the Univerſity of Oxford, again recommending the Exerciſe of publick Declamations to be performed in the Schools by Batchelors of Arts, before they proceed to be Maſters.

A Letter of the Earl of Clarendon, as Chancellour of the Univerſity of Oxford, to the Reverend the Vice-chancellour, &c.

Reg. Acad. Oxon. MS.

Mr. Vice-chancellour and Gentlemen,

I did in the Time of the laſt Vice-chancellour recommend to his and your Conſideration, whether it might not be of ſome Uſe to impoſe ſome Exerciſe in Rhetorick, to be performed by the Batchelors of Arts before they took the Degree of Maſters; and whether the enjoyning them to make ſome publick Declamations in the Schools might not be an Exerciſe very ſuitable to that Seaſon of your Studies. I remember Mr. Vice-chancellour wrote me Word, that the Univerſity very well approved the Motion, and that there would be ſome Order made upon it: If that Order be not yet perfected, I do very earneſtly recommend it to you to give new Life to it; preſuming that the well-performing that Exerciſe will be attended with many Advantages, eſpecially if the Perſons concerned find by the Number and Quality of their Auditors, that their Reputation is indeed at Stake, and that they are to hear well or ill in the Univerſity, and conſequently in the World, from the Maniſeſtation they ſhall then make of their Abilities. I wiſh that in that Exerciſe they ſhould look upon themſelves under an Obligation of Memory, and not as if they were under an equal Liberty, or at leaſt an equal Countenance of reading their Compoſitions. I hope the Injunction of this new Exerciſe will be ſo far from making them leſs vigilant in diſcharge of the old, which are enjoyn'd by the Statute, that it will in Truth oblige them to remember, that no Exerciſe which is enjoyn'd to be publickly done, as an Evidence of their Sufficiency for the Degree for which they are Candidate, ought to be performed perfunctorily, and I doubt not but your Care and Wiſdom will provide (whatever the Licence of theſe late ill Times hath produc'd in thoſe Particulars) that Men may not receive a Benefit or Promotion from being as idle and impertinent in the Schools, as if they were in the Fields. I am,

Worceſter-Houſe, Dec.
13, 1662.

Mr. Vice-Chancellour and Gentlemen,
Your very Affectionate Servant;
CLARENDON, C.

SUNDAY Dec. 14.
Of the Spirit of Popery moving at Court.

Dr. Tho. Teniſon, afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury, did obſerve in his Diſcourſe concerning the Eccleſiaſtical Commiſſion in 1689. that the Spirit of Popery had been already moving at Court, and obſtructing Reformation and Union. His Words are, Our Conſtitution was review'd in 61. And yet notwithſtanding that Review is capable of another; the Commiſſioners of that Time did not add the laſt Hand to that Work, ſo as to render it incapable ever after of being corrected and improved. Some who have well conſider'd all the Alterations and Additions then made by them (which amount to the Number of about ſix hundred) are ſufficiently convinced, that if they had Reaſon for thoſe Changes, there is equal, if not greater Reaſon for ſome farther Improvements. If they had foreſeen what is ſince come to paſs, I charitably believe, they would not have done all that they did, and juſt ſo much, and no more. And yet I alſo believe, that if they had offer'd to move much further, a Stone would have been laid under their Wheel by a ſecret, but powerful Hand. The Myſtery of Popery did even then work, and a Romaniſt has very frankly informed us, of the Expectation raiſed in that Party in the Beginning of the Summer 61. They had ſome Hopes cheriſhed in them, of Liberty of Conſcience, of the Removal of the Sanguinary and other Penal Laws, and of forty Chapels to be opened for them, in and about the City of London. Much more is underſtood by thoſe who have penetrated into the Deſign of a certain Paper, called commonly The Declaration of Somerſet-Houſe.

See Compleat Hiſtory of England, ſecond Edition.

Complaints of the Suffering Nonconformiſts retorted by the Accounts of much greater Sufferings of the Loyal Members of the Church.

While the Nonconformiſts were complaining of Perſecution, the Church-Men repreſented the Tyranny, Cruelty, and Profaneneſs of the Engliſh Covenanters.

Tyranny and Popery, 4^to^. 1678.

The early Plunders of Sir John Lucas, Sir William Boteler, the Lady Rivers, with other Perſons of eminent Condition, both Lay-men and Divines, are to be read at large, with the inhuman Inſolencies that were acted upon their Perſons and Relations, in Mercurius Ruſticus; but the Outrages that followed were ſo great and ſo many, that theſe are hardly worth the mentioning, and the other would be too tedious to recite; for the whole Story of the Rebellion was carry'd on with Rapine and Blood. How many Noblemens Houſes were turned to Priſons without the Maſter's knowing either his Accuſer, or his Offence? Several Gentlemen of Quality put on Ship-board, and half ſmother'd in the Heat of the Year; where they contracted Diſeaſes, and by an arbitrary Power were to have been tranſported no body knew whither. Others were ſold for Slaves into Plantations: Near an hundred Miniſters were brought out of the Weſt, and clapp'd up in Lambeth-Houſe, where almoſt all of them were deſtroy'd by a Peſtilential Fever. Nay, ſo profane was their Barbarity, that upon Sunday the fifth of March 1642. Dr. Featley preaching that Day at Lambeth-Houſe, Order was given to diſſolve the Congregation, and the Reformers took with them ſome great Guns to do the Work; at which Time ſome Miſchief was done, and there had been more, but for a Gentleman, who is at preſent an eminent Perſon in the City, who ſnatch'd away the Linſtock juſt as they were going to give Fire upon the Congregation, into the Quire of the Chapel. This I have upon the Credit of a Man of Worth and Value. I could tell you of a Miniſter in Covent-Garden that refuſed Chriſtian Burial to the Body of a Gentleman that was quarter'd for his Loyalty; one that made it a Moot-point, upon an Anniverſary Faſt whether or no the King's Death were a Murther.

In Priſons.
In Ships.
Tranſportation.
Murder'd by cloſe Confinement, &c.

MONDAY Dec. 16.
Dr. Boughen's Expoſition of the Church Catechiſm.

A ſhort Expoſition of the Catechiſm of the Church of England, in Engliſh and Latin. By Edward Boughen, D. D.
Imprimatur. Dan. Nicols, R. P. D.
Arch. Cant. Capell. Domeſt. Dec. 15, 1662.

London, for W. G. 1663. 8vo.

In

Some Singularities in it.

In the Forms of Prayer annexed — for the King — that our Sovereign King Charles may be ſtrengthened with the Faith of Abraham, endued with the Mildneſs of Moſes, armed with the Magnanimity of Joſhua, exalted with the Humility of David, beautified with the Wiſdom of Solomon, &c. For the Queen, that our moſt gracious Queen Catharine may be holy and devout as Heſther, loving to the King as Rachel, fruitful as Leah, wiſe as Rebecca, faithful and obedient as Sarah, &c.

The firſt Edition of this Book came out at Oxon. 1646. and ſeveral Times after at London.

Account of the Author.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 115.

The Author was a Buckinghamſhire Man born, elected from Weſtminſter School, a Student of Chriſt-Church in 1605. aged eighteen Years; and after he had been ſome Time ſtanding in the Degree of Maſter, was made Chaplain to Dr. Howſon Biſhop of Oxford. Afterwards he had ſome Cure at Bray in Berks, and in 1636. became Rector of Woodchurch in Kent, whence being ejected by the Preſbyterians in the Time of Rebellion, he retired for a Time to Oxon. where he was actually created Doctor of Divinity a little before the Surrender of the Gariſon there to the Parliament's Forces Anno 1646. Afterwards he reſided at Chartham in Kent, but in what Condition I know not as yet. His Works are theſe, &c. He lived, as I have been informed, to ſee his Majeſty reſtored, and what before he had loſt he did obtain.

His Viſitation Sermon reprinted for a Copy of High Church.

Unanimity of Judgment and Affection neceſſary to Unity of Doctrine and Uniformity in Diſcipline. A Sermon preached at Canterbury, at the Viſitation of the Lord Archbiſhop's Peculiars, in St. Margaret's Church, Apr. 14, 1635. By Edward Boughen, Parſon of Woodchurch in Kent. Reprinted 1714. with a Preface by Tho. Brett, LL. D. Rector of Betteſhanger in Kent: Giving ſome Account of the Author.

TUESDAY Dec. 16.

Dr. William Outram.

Reg. Cantabr.

In Senatu Cantabr. Placet, ut Gulielmus Outram S. Theol. Profeſſor unus e concionatoribus hujus Academiæ per nupera hæc tempora conſtitutus & rite ordinatus juxta formam Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ, ſpeciali veſtro favore denuo confirmetur, & Literas habeat Patentes ſigillo veſtro communi ſigillatas.

Edm. Calamy Conv. 2. admiſſus in Matric. Acad. Cant. Jul. 4, 1616. Art. Bacc. An. 1619. Bac. Theol. An. 1632. both which Times he ſubſcribes (ex Animo) the three Articles, &c.

Ben. Calamy was Son of Edmund Calamy the famous Nonconformiſt Miniſter, but of far different Principles from his Father, for he was a ſtrict Conformiſt to the eſtabliſh'd Church of England, an eminent Preacher in the City of London, where he died in 1686. Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 154.

Edmundus Calamy filius Edmundi Calamy natus Edmunburgi in agro Suff: admiſſus Penſionarius minor Coll. Sidn. Cantabr. Mar. 28, 1651. Art. Bacc. 1654. Idem Aul. Pembr. Art. Magiſter, An. 1658.—— So that if his Son be right in reporting him ordained to the Miniſtry, Nov. 10, 1653. it muſt have been whilſt he was a young Sophiſter without any Degree. Contin. p. 464.

From the Veſtry-Book of St. Mary Aldermanbury.

Upon the legal Incapacity of Mr. Edmund Calamy, B. D. Curate of the Pariſh of Aldermanbury in London, the worthy Mr. John Tillotſon was choſen by the Pariſhioners to ſucceed him in that Cure, Decemb. 16, 1662. but he not accepting the Offer, Mr. Richard Martin was elected Jan. 28, 1662. and Dr. Anthony Walker, Feb. 11, 1663. to whom ſucceeded Mr. John Harper, choſen June 3, 1666. After him Dr. John Conant was elected Dec. 19, 1670. but he wav'd the Acceptance, being about the ſame Time called to be Miniſter of the Church of Northampton; and his Predeceſſor Dr. Simon Ford was elected by the Veſtry of Aldermanbury, Dec. 29, 1670. he ſurrendred Mar. 30, 1677. upon which Mr. Benjamin Calamy was choſen Apr. 25, 1677.. and upon his Ceſſion July 1, 1683. (being then collated by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's to the Church of St. Laurence-Jury, with that of St. Mary Magdalen annex'd, and by the Biſhop of London to the Prebend of Harleſton, June 8, 1685.) came in by Election Dr. Nicholas Stratford, Dean of St. Aſaph, upon whoſe Promotion to the See of Cheſter, Dr. Ezekiel Hopkins, Biſhop of Londonderry, was elected Sept. 8, 1689. and upon his Return to Ireland, Dr. Anthony Walker of Fiſield in Eſſex was a ſecond Time elected Curate of Aldermanbury, but the Town not agreeing with him, he recommended his very worthy Neighbour in Eſſex, Mr. Lilly Butler, M. A. Rector of Bobbingworth (which he had taken Jul. 23, 1678. and reſign'd before Apr. 29, 1692.) who was choſen by Veſtry Oct. 25, 1691. Lecturer of Abchurch, had a Week Lecture at St. Bartholomew's behind the Exchange, was the moſt frequent and conſtant Preacher of all the City Clergy. He proceeded Doctor of Divinity of St. Edmund-Hall in Oxford (with two others of the ſame Degree, Dr. Joſiah Woodward and Dr. White Kennet of the ſame Houſe.) Upon the happy Acceſſion of King George he was made Chaplain to his Majeſty, and Prebendary of Canterbury, and died ſoon after.

WEDNESDAY Dec. 17.

Mr. Joſeph Thompſon Vicar of St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Joſephus Thompſon Clericus, admiſſ. ad Vicariam perpet. Sancti Dunſtani in Occidente London. jam vacantem, ad preſ. Richardi Cocks Armig. filii & hæredis apparentis Domini Ricardi Cocks de Dumbleton in Com. Glouc. Baronetti.—Obiit Anno 1677.

Dr. James Marſh.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. c. 868.

The laſt regular Incumbent at St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt, was Dr. James Marſh of Merton College, Oxon. who took his Degree of Doctor of Divinity June 22, 1630. admitted Vicar of St. Dunſtan's in the Room of Dr. Donne deceaſed, at the Preſentation of Edward Earl of Dorſet, June 21, 1631. and to the Rectory of Chingford in Eſſex, May 17, 1632. ſequeſtred from both by the Houſe of Commons July 12, 1643. and from the Archdeaconry of Chicheſter. He fled to the King at Oxford, where he is ſaid to have died in 1643.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 549. and Contin. p. 73.

After one or more Intruders into St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt, Dr. William Bates is ſaid to have been in Poſſeſſion and ejected from it in 1662. and to have died at Hackney 1699. Mr. Thompſon Vicar died in 1677. Dr. Bates was born in November 1625. and died July 14, 1699. ætat. 74.

THURSDAY Dec. 18.

Some came into the Church to be as Nonconformable as they could be in it.

The Myſtery and Iniquity of Non-Conformity, 1664.

C. How may theſe conforming Nonconformiſts be known?

D. B. 1. By their Habit, for they wear neither Girdle nor Caſſock, but are Alamode and Querpo-divines. 2. By their double Ordination. 3. By their ſetting poor Readers to make the Prayers contemptible, and then praying an Hour themſelves, as if the Common-Prayer were inconſiderable. 4. By their preaching over the old One's Notes: Ah, precious are thoſe Eliſha's who have the Spirit of the Elijah's upon them? 5. By their canting Notions of In-dwelling, Enlightening, Soul-ſaving, Heart-ſupporting, and I know not what deluding Notions that deceive the Simple. 6. By their affectedly mortified Countenances, their furious Zeal, their bauble Jingles, their indirect and wary mention of King and Biſhops, bewailing the Sins of the Times, preaching up inward Sincerity againſt outward Conformity, the Sabbath againſt Holidays, and a pure Heart inſtead of the Surplice. 7. By their Attendance on the old Patriarchs of the Province, and their Correſpondence with, and their Certificates from them. 8. By their refreſhing Solifidian Doctrines, their flowings of Milk and Honey, when others preach Moral Honeſty, Univerſal Obedience, and Good Works. 9. By the great Name of Moderation.

The diſtinguiſhing Characters of 'em.

C. What do theſe Men to diſtinguiſh themſelves from their Brethren?

Other Marks of Diſtinction.

B. D. Beſides what I declared, 1. They groan under the Burden of Ceremonies. 2. They ſhake their Heads at the Times. 3. They bury, marry and chriſten by the Directory. 4. They viſit and give the Communion the ſame Way, diſpenſing with kneeling even in publick.

C. Why are they ſuffered to do theſe Things in other Men's Pariſhes?

B. D. Why a Piece of Money is ſent the poor Pariſh Prieſt to ſtop his Mouth as a Fee for Regiſtring. Yea there are ſeveral Men maintained about Town to get into careleſs Mens Pulpits, who no ſooner give them leave, but the whole Town knoweth it; and then what running? What thronging? What crouding? But St. Anthony's Lecture, the old Seminary, is the ſureſt Cord they have. There indeed they hear Common-Prayer, but they think according to the Directory, till the poor Reader hath done, and then the Preacher forſooth cometh up with his religious gathering out of Wilkins his Gift of Prayer of an Hour long, as if the Church Prayers had been nothing without his.

Mr. Joſeph Maynard Rector of Exeter College in the Place of Dr. John Conant.

18. Decemb. 1662. Joſeph Maynard, S. T. B. Prebendary of Exeter Church was elected Rector of Exeter College in Oxford in the Place of Dr. John Conant, and reſigned in 1665. —— Dr. Conant afterwards conformed.

FRIDAY Dec. 19.

Mr Edward Pym Rector of Thorpe Mandeville Com. Northampt.

Reg. Laney.

Die 19. Dec. 1662. Edwardus Pym Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Thorpe-Mandow alias Thorpe-Mandevill in Com. Northampt. vac. per reſignat. Thomæ Swift ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Ricardi Gardiner gen. pleno jure. —— He was ſucceeded by Mr. Rob. Wainwright, Apr. 23, 1668. the preſent worthy Rector and Patron is the reverend Mr. Nathaniel Humfrey.

SATURDAY Dec. 20.

Mr. Tho. Walker Clerk, of Wakefield, had left a Legacy of 20l. for poor Scholars in Cambridge.

Reg. Cantabr.

Whereas Mr. Thomas Walker Clerk, of Wakefield in the County of York lately deceaſed, did in his laſt Will and Teſtament bequeath to the poor Scholars in Cambridge the Sum of twenty Pounds, to be paid to the Truſtees of the ſaid Univerſity: And whereas it appears not that any ſuch Officers as Truſtees are conſtituted by the ſaid Univerſity, it pleaſed the Senate by their Common Seal to authorize and appoint the Vice-Chancellor, together with the two Proctors to be Truſtees to receive and diſpoſe of the 'foreſaid Sum to the 'foreſaid Intent.

Cenſure of the Divines of Louvaine upon the Iriſh Remonſtrance.

Walſh's Hiſtory of the Iriſh Remonſtrance, Fol. p. 103.

A ſolemn Cenſure paſſed by the theological Faculty of Doctors and other Students, againſt the late Iriſh Remonſtrance or Profeſſion of Loyalty made in Form by the Catholicks of Ireland to King Charles II. and againſt all the Subſcribers to it. Dated at Louvaine 1662. Decemb. 20.

Mr. Robert Carr Vicar of Braintre, Eſſex.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 390.

Die 20. Decemb. 1662. Rob. Carr Clericus admiſſ. ad Vic. de Braintree Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Caroli Comitis Warwic.

Mr. John Agur, i. e. Argor.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 304, 312. Contin. p. 465.

Dr. Calamy among the ejected or ſilenced Miniſters in Eſſex, remembers at Braintree Mr. John Agar, an holy good Man; and likewiſe Mr. Fryer. — Mr. Argor in the latter Part of his Time had a People at Wivenhoe, and died at Coptford in this County in December 1679. ætat. 77. and lies buried in Coptford Church.

SUNDAY Dec. 21.

Inthronization of Bp. Ward at Exeter.

Dr. Pope's Life of Biſhop Ward, 8vo. p. 57, &c.

The Inthronization of Dr. Seth Ward Biſhop of Exeter, Dean of that Church, Decemb. 26, 1661. upon the Tranſlation of Biſhop Gauden to Worceſter, Dean Ward without knowing any Thing of it, by the Intereſt of the Duke of Albemarle, and Sir Hugh Pollard then Comptroller, and ſome other of his weſtern Friends whom he had obliged during his Reſidence at Exeter, was nominated Biſhop thereof. —— Elected July 8, 1662. confirmed July 19. and conſecrated the next Day. —— He was very ill when he was to be conſecrated, and not without Apprehenſion that he ſhould not ſurvive that Solemnity. It was a cold rainy Morning, when I waited on him to Lambeth to be conſecrated; he had not been out of his Chamber for ſome Weeks before. He went Sick to Exeter, and was confin'd to his Chamber a long while. —— Let us conſider what he did as Biſhop here. —— He firſt retriev'd the Palace out of the Hands of the Sugar-Baker, whom his Predeceſſor found and left in quiet Poſſeſſion: He repair'd it and made it habitable, for it was very ruinous, having been deſerted before the Civil War by the Biſhops, who liv'd in other Houſes. He took Care of executing his Majeſty's Letters (commanding the Augmentation of poor Vicarages) in that Dioceſe, and did it effectually. He alſo increaſed the Prebends Stipends from four to twenty Pounds a Year. He kept his conſtant Triennial Viſitations, in the firſt whereof he confirmed many Thouſands of all Ages and different Sexes. He alſo ſettled the Eccleſiaſtical Courts, and without any Noiſe or Clamour re-

Of the Birth and Benefaction of Biſhop Ward, ſee Chancy's Hertfordſhire, Fol. p. 126.

His good Works to the Church and Palace.

Augmenting poor Vicarages.

And the ſmall Prebends.

duc'd

He got the Deanery of St. Burien annexed to the Biſhoprick of Exeter.
As leſs invidious than any other Commendam.

duc'd that active, ſubtile and then factious People to great Conformity, not without the Approbation of even the Adverſaries themſelves. —— He procur'd the Deanery of St. Burien near the Land's-end in Cornwall to be ſettled upon the Biſhops of Exeter for ever after the Death of Dr. Weeks, by his Majeſty's Letters Patents: It did not become void till Biſhop Sparrow's Time, he firſt enjoy'd it, and it does ſtill, and I hope ever will, continue in the Poſſeſſion in the Biſhops of Exeter and their Succeſſors.

Monday Dec. 22.
Dr. Sam. Bolton Rector of St. Peter's Poor, London.

Die 22. Dec. 1662. Sam. Bolton, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Eccleſ. S. Petri le Poor in Broadſtreet London vac. per mort. Ricardi Holdſworth, S. T. P. ad preſ. Decani & Capituli S. Pauli London.

Account of Mr. Will. Hill, an ejected Miniſter, the firſt Diſcoverer of the Fanatick Plot.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 291.

William Hill of Merton College, Oxon. (the Son of a Committee-Man, a notorious Schiſmatick of Herefordſhire) became one of the Bible Clerks of that Houſe in the latter End of 1647. and afterwards did all, or moſt of his Exerciſe with much ado, for the Degree of Batchelor of Arts, and ſo abruptly left the College. But while he continued there, he ſhew'd himſelf a Dunce, a Tale Bearer to the Parliamentarian Viſitors, and a factious Perſon. Soon after his Father provided for him a Parſonage that had belonged to an honeſt Man, and a wiſe; the firſt of which he keeping till his Majeſty's Reſtauration, was then ejected, and put to his Shifts. At length repairing to London, he fell into the Company of deſperate Fanaticks, as Fifth-Monarchy-Men, Anabaptiſts, Independents, &c. and did ſeemingly plot with them to ſurprize the King at Whitehall, the Lord Chancellor Clarendon, George Duke of Albemarle, Major General Sir Richard Browne, &c. to have the Tower, Windſor-Caſtle, and other Holds delivered to them; and of reducing the Kingdom to a free State. Theſe Things being freely imparted to him by one or more of the ſaid Fanaticks, knowing that he and his Father had been Villains in the Time of Uſurpation, he ſecretly betrayed all to the ſaid Sir Richard Browne. Whereupon the ſaid Sir Richard putting him into a Way of getting more Intelligence, which he accordingly did, draw'd them on till almoſt the Time they were to riſe and be in Arms, which was to be on the Vigil of All-Saints Day, Anno 1662. But two Days before that Time, when all Things were in a manner made ready, ſome of the principal Actors were ſeized on by the ſaid Sir Richard Brown, and Sir John Robinſon, Lord-Mayor of London, according to the Directions of the ſaid William Hill, viz. Thomas Tonge, George Philips, Francis Stubbs, James Hind, John Sellars, and Nathanael Gibbs. All which coming afterwards to a Tryal at Juſtice-Hall in the Old-Bailey, four of them were condemned, and afterwards ſuffer'd at Tyburn on the 22d of December following, viz. Tongue, Philips, Gibbs, and Stubbs. Soon after came out a Pamphlet in Quarto, entituled, A brief Narrative of that ſtupendous Tragedy late intended to be acted by the Satanical Saints of theſe reforming Times: Humbly preſented to the King's Majeſty, &c. before which is printed and ſet, a Narrative of the ſaid Plot, written by the ſaid William Hill to the King's moſt excellent Majeſty; and in the Pamphlet following, wherein is the Tryal and Condemnation of the ſaid Perſons, Hill is one of the principal Speakers, as being a chief Witneſs. Afterwards for a Reward of his Loyalty, he had a conſiderable Benefice beſtow'd upon him in Glouceſterſhire; but being hated by one Party for his Falſeneſs, and by another for his Factiouſneſs, did enjoy it but few Years, he dying upon the Place.

Having been a chief Party in it.

Advertiſement in the Publick Intelligence of Dec. 18, 1661. —— Whereas there is lately publiſhed an unlicens'd Pamphlet, being a Relation of the Tryal and Condemnation of Thomas Tongue, George Philips, &c. in three Sheets of Paper, without the Name either of Author or Printer, theſe may give Notice that a true and impartial Narrative of the whole Proceedings is now in the Preſs, and will ſhortly be publiſhed by Authority.

Mr. Hill was the Author of that promis'd Narrative.

Had a Benefice beſtow'd upon him but was hated.

Execution of four of the Plotters.

Heath's Chron. p. 513.

Philips, Tongue, Gibbs and Stubbs were executed this 22d of December according to Sentence, but his Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed to give their Quarters to be buried, their Heads were ſet up on ſeveral Poles, two on each Tower-Hill, the neareſt Place to the Tower.

The Deſign of this Plot as repreſented by Mr. Long.

Long's Hiſt. of Plots, p. 130.
MS. 8vo. G. G. p. 130.

This Plot was to cut off Root and Branch, King, Queen, Duke, Biſhops and Gentry; that none of them might run beyond Sea: For which Tongue, Philips, Stubbs, Hinde, Sellers, and Gibbes were executed at Tyburn, which Plot was to be carried on upon the Fear and Jealouſy of a popiſh Maſſacre. And ſeditious Letters were diſperſed to that Purpoſe, a Copy of which was read in the Court. And the Fifth-Monarchy-Men, Quakers, Anabaptiſts, and all ſorts of Fanaticks were invited to join in the Plot. In their Tryal Sir John Maynard obſerved, about five thouſand Letters were to be diſperſed through the Nation, to poſſeſs the People that the Papiſts would about that Time maſſacre the Proteſtants, which was done (ſays he) to raiſe a Fear and Diſcontent in the Nation, to induce them to join in the Deſign, which was to kill the King and alter the Government.

A ſham Letter to draw in the People.

A Copy of the LETTER read in Court.

A Copy of it.

S I R,

Out of the Reſpect which I bear to you in particular, and to the Proteſtant Party in general, I give you Notice of this Paſſage. About a Fortnight ſince a Woman, which you muſt be ignorant where, who had it from a Correſpondent of the Papiſts, that they intend to make uſe of their Army (which all the World ſees they have provided) againſt Allhallows Eve next. It was thought good therefore in as prudent a Way as may be, to give Notice to our Friends in remote Parts, that they may do what Piety to God, Loyalty to their Prince, Love to their Countrey, and Self-Preſervation ſhall direct them.

Sir, I call the eternal God to witneſs, that 'tis not to trepan, to put a Trick upon you, but a ſober Truth, and alſo communicated to a Juſtice of Peace, and by him to the Privy-Council, &c.

Adviſed

TUESDAY Dec. 23.
Lord Gerard of Brandon ſent to the French King.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to. No. 1.

Adviſed from Paris, that the Lord Charles Gerard of Brandon, whom the King of Great-Britain ſent hither to his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, had been in a very particular and noble Way welcomed by his Majeſty, who not only commanded divers eminent Perſonages to treat his Lordſhip with all poſſible Reſpect, but alſo took my Lord along with his Royal Perſon to his ſeveral Houſes in the Countrey, ſhew'd all his Guards drawn up to his Lordſhip, and at laſt conferred upon him a very noble Diamond Ring of very great Value.

WEDNESDAY Dec. 24.
Mr. Allen Geare.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 220. *and Contin. p.*252.

About the end of Decembr 1662. died Mr. Allen Geare, M. A. ejected from Dartmouth in Devon. for Nonconformity; —— ſaid to be an excellent Man, and of an exemplary Converſation, and of conſiderable Learning; born at Stoke-Flemming near Dartmouth, bred in the Univerſity of Utrecht or Leyden. He tranſlated the Dutch Annotations on the Bible.

THURSDAY Dec. 25.
The Engliſh Liturgy had no Enemies abroad but the Papiſts.

Dr. Durell of the reformed Churches, 4to.

The French Proteſtants had given their Approbation of it.

The Princeſs of Turenne.

The Ducheſs de la Force.

And would give her Heart's Blood to have it received in Aquitaine.

The Reverend Monſieur Chabret of Geneva.

Monſieur de l'Angle ſen.

Monſieur Bochart.

Monſieur Gaches.

Monſieur de l'Angle, jun.

Monſieur du Boſc.

Monſieur Gayon.

Spanheim Profeſſor at Geneva.

Monſieur Daillé and his Son.

The two Bocharts.

Our Engliſh Liturgy hath no other Enemies abroad, where it is well known, but only Papiſts. And as for Proteſtants, as many as have ſeen it, do either value it very much, or at leaſt eſteem it ſuch, that they would be willing to embrace the Uſe thereof, where it is eſtabliſhed, judging it a Madneſs both in the Miniſters and in the People to refuſe to follow the Order of Prayer therein preſcribed. The Reader may remember what Judgment that moſt illuſtrious and accompliſh'd Perſon the noble Princeſs of Turenne makes of it, in that Letter of her Highneſs, where ſhe calls it an excellent Book, and ſays, that every Body is deſirous to have it, and that ſhe uſeth it for a Help to her private Devotions, there being no Congregation in France wherein it is uſed publickly. Another excellent Perſon is the Ducheſs of la Force, the Princeſs of Turenne's own Mother, who in a Letter to her Daughter, whom I would call incomparable if ſhe had not ſuch a Mother, writes thus, after ſhe had ſeen and peruſed carefully our Book of Common-Prayer; Je lis la Liturgie Angloiſe avec grand plaiſir & beaucoup d'edification; & je donnerois de mon ſang pour la faire recevoir en Guienne, m'aſſurant qu'elle y donneroit grande Inſtruction. Les temps ſont en la main de Dieu, pour nous donner en ceux qu'il a Ordonné l'abondance de ſa grace & de ſa ſainte connoiſſance. That is, "I read the Engliſh Liturgy with great Satisfaction and much Edification; and I would give of my Heart's Blood to have it received in Aquitain, being ſure that it would give great Inſtruction to the People of this Countrey. The Times and Seaſons are in the Hand of God for him to give us, in thoſe which he hath appointed, the Abundance of his Grace and holy Knowledge." Aquitain is the Countrey where the Duchy of la Force is ſeated, from whence ſhe writ, where moſt of the common People are of the Reformed Religion. So her Grace conceives, and that with great Reaſon, that the Liturgy of the Church of England being ſo full of Inſtruction for the meaneſt Capacities, would prove very uſeful amongſt them, and ſo it would undoubtedly. We have ſeen heretofore that reverend Monſieur Chabret writing from Geneva, and ſpeaking not only as for himſelf, but reporting the Opinion that Church hath of the Book of Common-Prayer of the Church of England, ſaith, That they ſee nothing in it reſembling either Idolatry or Superſtition. And reverend Monſieur de l'Angle, That his Heart did leap for Joy when he was told our Liturgy and ancient Diſcipline ſhould be reſtored. And the famous Monſieur Bochart of Caen, That there never were any of the reformed Men of France, after they attained the Underſtanding of the Engliſh Tongue, but did aſſiſt willingly at God's Service in our Churches, and received the Holy Communion of the Epiſcopal Miniſters or the Biſhops themſelves, they being not ſo ſuperſtitiouſly timorous as to be afraid of a Surplice, or of Lawn-Sleeves. And thoſe other worthy Miniſters of Paris, Roan, Caen, Bourdeaux, ſaying: Monſ. Gaches, That he read our Liturgy a long Time ſince, and that he was wonderfully edified with it, and that he was often preſent at it in the King's and the Lord Ambaſſador's Chapel when it was ſaid there. Monſ. de l'Angle the Son, that he approved very well that it ſhould be uſed in the French Congregation of the Savoy, to ſhew that the French reformed Churches are deſirous to keep Communion with the Church of England. And Monſ. du Boſc, That he likes as well a Miniſter performing Divine Service after the Way of the Church of England, as after the Way of the French reformed Churches. And Monſ. Gayon, That there is not one Miniſter in all the Province of Acquitaine, that thinketh the Conſcience wounded by uſing the Engliſh Liturgy, and that thoſe are in a Dream and dote that have ſuch an Opinion. We have ſeen likewiſe Spanhemius, the then Geneva Profeſſor, in his Epiſtle to the Right Honourable the Earl of Lauderdale, highly extolling and admiring the publick Worſhip of God, and publick Piety of the Church of England, whereof the like is not eaſily to be found elſewhere. But to theſe I muſt add ſome others, and thoſe Men of great Note and Worth, as well as thoſe aforequoted. When I had made the new Edition of our Liturgy in French, I ſent ſeveral Copies of it to them with whom I was acquainted in France during my Exile, and with it likewiſe ſome Copies of a Sermon which I delivered before the French Congregation of the Savoy (the firſt Time the Engliſh Liturgy was there uſed) and afterwards ſet forth in Print to inſtruct them about the Forms of Prayer and Ceremonies preſcribed therein. Amongſt them (for it would be too tedious to procure them all) were the moſt learned and famous Monſieur Daillé, and his Son (who is alſo his Colleague in the Reformed Church of Paris, ſoboles tanto non inficianda parenti,) Monſieur Gaches, Monſieur de l'Angle, Monſieur Bochart of Caen, Monſieur Bochart of Alençon (who is famous for his great Knowledge in Monſieur Vauquelin.

Monſieur de la Freſnaye.

Monſieur Morin.

Monſieur Daille the Son leſs a Friend to the Engliſh Liturgy, till he had read it over.

When he read it, he did the more approve of it.

Monſieur Bochart of Alançon.

Monſieur Morin.

Monſieur Vauqueline.

Monſieur Martel.

Monſieur Drelincourt.

in Antiquity, and his learned Writings againſt the Abuſe of Relicks, the Invocation of the departed Saints, the pretended Sacrifice of the Maſs, and other Errors and Superſtitions of the Church of Rome) Monſieur Vauquelin one of the Miniſters of Diep, a learned Man, and one whom the Enemies of the Church of England courted much during the late Troubles, Monſieur du Boſc, Monſieur de la Freſnaye, one of the Miniſters of the Reformed Church of St. Lo in Normandy, known for a very wiſe judicious Man, Monſieur Morin another Miniſter of Normandy, moſt learned in all the Oriental Tongues. All theſe have written Letters to me in Approbation of the Book of Common-Prayer, and the Defence I made thereof in my Sermon. I refer the Reader to the Engliſh Tranſlation of the ſaid Sermon, where he ſhall find the Extracts of the Letters of the two Daille's, the Father and the Son, of Monſieur de l'Angle, of Monſieur Gaches, of Monſieur Bochart of Caen, and of ſome others: Only of Monſieur Daille the Son, this I think proper to be ſaid here, that in a Letter to me written May 16, Anno 1661. before he had peruſed our Liturgy all over, he hath theſe Words, Je ſuppoſe qu'il n'y a rien dans la Liturgie Angloiſe qui chaque les fondements de la verité; Je dis que je le ſuppoſe, par ce que je'n ai jamais leu ce livre tout entier pour en pouvoir parler affirmativement. Ainſi je ne ſuis nullement de l'avis de ceux qui en ont fait une pomme de diſcorde & qui ont fait la guerre pour s'empeſcher de le recevoir; au contraire je tiens que l'uniformité a cette eſgard la entre les Egliſes d'un meſme Royaume, peut contribuer a une plus grande edification; & ſi vos preſbyteriens ne ſont pas dans un ſentiment auſſi moderè que celui la, vous aves raiſon de dire qu'ils ne nous reſemblent pas. “I “ſuppoſe that in the Liturgy of the Church of England, there is nothing found “againſt the Grounds of Truth. I ſay, I ſuppoſe it, becauſe I never read the “whole Book all over, to be able to ſpeak of it affirmatively. So I am not at “all of their Mind who have made it an Apple of Diſſenſion, and who have “made a War to keep themſelves from ſubmitting to it. On the contrary, I “hold that Uniformity in this particular, in the Congregations of the ſame “Kingdom, may contribute to a greater Edification; and if your Preſbyterians “be not of the ſame moderate Judgment, you have good Reaſon to ſay they “do not reſemble us.” This he ſaid before he was well acquainted with the whole Book, but after he had conſidered all the Contents thereof, Je n'y trouve point de venom: Saith he in another Letter, Je n'y voi rien de mauvais ni de dangereux dans leur uſage; mais au contraire je tiens qu'elles peuvent aider à l'edification des Egliſes ches qui elles ſont paſſées en couſtume. That is to ſay, “I ſee no Venom “therein. I ſee nothing ill or dangerous in the Uſe of them; but rather on the “contrary, I hold that they may help forward the Edification of thoſe Churches, “where they are by Cuſtom eſtabliſhed.” Monſieur Bochart of Alançon hath theſe Words, J'ai leu voſtre Sermon avec grande ſatisfaction & approbation. Je ſuis de voſtre avis, que ceux qui renoncent à voſtre communion pour vos ceremonies, ſont des ſchiſmatiques; je trouve voſtre Liturgie tres belle & tres bien faite. I have read your “Sermon with great Satisfaction and Approbation, I am of your Mind, that “thoſe who refuſe to communicate with you, becauſe of your Ceremonies, are “Schiſmaticks.” I find your Liturgy very good and very well ordered. Monſieur Morin writes thus, J'ai eſté ravi de voir que les ceremonies de voſtre Egliſe ne ſont pas contraires aux maximes des noſtres; & ſi vous aves touche les principales, come je me le perſuade fortement, ce ſeroit eſtre ſcrupuleux au dernier point que de s'en ſcandaliſer. “I was raviſhed to ſee that the Ceremonies of your Church are not con“trary to the Principles of ours; and if you have touched the chiefeſt, as I am “ſtrongly perſuaded you have; it would be an extream Peeviſhneſs to be ſcan“dalized at them.” This he ſaith of the Surplice, Sign of the Croſs in Baptiſm, kneeling at the Communion, and of all the Contents of the Book of Common-Prayer, which I ſet forth and defend in that Sermon to which his Words relate. Theſe are the Words of Monſieur Vaugueline's Letter: Je ſouhaiterois quant a moy, puiſque la Religion demeure en ſon entier, & que la Liturgie telle que je l'ai veüe dans cet exemplaire qu'il vous a plu de m'envoyer, eſt elongnée de toute Idolatrie & qu'elle ne contient aucune ſuperſtition formelle. Meſſieurs les preſbyteriens ne ſe monſtraſſent pas ſi animes, mais moderaſſent cette grande chaleur, &c. “As for me, ſince ſo it is, “that Religion remaineth in its Integrity; and the Book of Common-Prayer, as “I have ſeen in that Copy which you were pleaſed to ſend me, is very far from “any Idolatry, and that there is not in it any formal Superſtition, I could wiſh “that the Preſbyterians would not ſhew ſo much Animoſity, but would mode“rate that great Heat.” Monſieur de la Freſnaye expreſſes himſelf in a Word, ſaying, Le ſurplis ne cauſera jamais de ſchiſme entre nous; “The Surplice ſhall ne“ver cauſe any Schiſm between you and us;” meaning by the Surplice, the publick Worſhip and Ceremonies of the Church of England. Monſieur Martel, Maſter of the Chair in the Univerſity of Montalban, in that Letter which I quoted in the firſt Section, delivers his Judgment thus of our Book of Common-Prayer, Legi Liturgiam quæ Anglicanæ Eccleſiæ fuerat in uſu communi; quædam ibi putem concorditer eſſe corrigenda; plura ſunt quæ maxime laudem. “I have read the Li“turgy which was commonly uſed in the Church of England, wherein I would “think ſome Amendments ſhould be made peaceably, and by common Con“ſent; but the moſt Part of it I commend very much. Monſieur Drelincourt in a Paper directed to Doctor Brevint, wherein he hath ſome Obſervations upon the Liturgy of the Church of England, ſaith, Qu'eſtant Reformée, ce ſera avec la benediction du ciel un clair flambeau qui non ſeulement eſclairera nos trois Royaumes, mais qui reſpandre ſa lumiere celeſte par toute la Chriſtinte. “That being amended, “it

The Liturgy when amended by the Commiſſioners would be a Light to the Chriſtian World.

Some Amendments that might be made.

Satiſfied when his Objections were anſwered.

Eſpecially in the Communion Services,

And the Office of Burial,

And the Litany.

"it will be by God's Bleſſing a bright Light, which will enlighten with its "heavenly Beams, not only our three Kingdoms, but all the Chriſtian World." And though he points at ſome Things in the ſaid Paper, which he only propounds and offers to be conſidered, whether it will be thought fit by the Divines appointed by his Majeſty, that they ſhould be amended; yet after ſome Papers paſt between him and me, wherein I gave him an Account of moſt of thoſe Paſſages that he had obſerved, he ſeems ſatisfied in all, one only excepted, in the Form of Baptiſm, about the Queſtions made, not to the Infants, as he ſuppoſed, but to the Godfathers, and I doubt not but that he would have been ſatisfied therein as well as in the reſt, had I repreſented to him what I might have ſaid as to that Particular; but the Truth is, that I forgot it, and ſince I had other Things to do. His firſt Papers, and thoſe ſince paſſed betwixt us, would be too long to be inſerted here. But in ſhort, thoſe Things wherein he conceived, ſome Amendments might be made not out of any Neceſſity, but for the Satisfaction of weak Conſciences, were only about the Reading of ſome of the Apochrypha, not of all; about ſome of the Holy-Days obſerved in our Church, not of all neither; and yet he ſaith with all, Tout ce qui ſe dit ces jours la ſolon voſtre Liturgie eſt fort devot & fort Chreſtien. "That all that which is ſaid upon "thoſe Days according to our Book of Common-Prayer, is very devout and "Chriſtian-like." He would have had likewiſe ſome Amendment in the Form of Marriage, but he doth not ſay what; yet ſaith nothing againſt the Ring: So about Confirmation. But in all theſe Particulars, and ſome few others, his Letters to me wherein he replies nothing to what I had ſaid for his Satisfaction, ſhew that he was ſatisfied. And it is very obſervable that he hath not one Word againſt the Surplice, the Croſs in Baptiſm, kneeling at the Communion, or other Things which are moſt diſliked by ſome among us: Nay, about the Office for the Communion and Celebration thereof, he hath Expreſſions which ſhew that he is very much taken with it. En la celebration de la cene du Seigneur, je trouve quantite d'excellentes choſes, & qui ſont de grande edification & particulierement les paroles que le paſteur prononce en diſtribuant le pain & le vin, me ſemblent fort ſignificatives & fort touchantes: Je trouve auſſi fort grave la maniere de reciter les Commandements de Dieu, comme cela ſe fait d'aboard. "In the Celebration of the Lord's-"Supper, I find many excellent Things, and of great Edification; and ſpecially the Words which the Paſtor pronounceth in the Delivering of the Bread "and Wine, ſeem to me very ſignificant and moving. I find likewiſe much "Gravity in the Manner of Rehearſing the Ten Commandments at the Beginning." So about the Burial of the Dead, he ſays that he is very much ſatisfied and edified therewith, J'en ſuis tres ſatisfait & tres edifié; and he bewails the ſad Condition of the Reformed Churches of France, which are not afforded the Liberty to bury their Dead with like Decency, ſo becoming Chriſtians that live and dye in Hope of a glorious Reſurrection. Of the Litany he hath this, which I forgot to put in its right Place. Je ſai que graces à Dieu, vos Litanies n'ont rien de commun avec celles de Rome, & au contraire qu'elles ſont fort pieuſes & fort Chreſtiennes. "I know that, Thanks be to God, your Litany hath nothing common "with that of the Church of Rome, and that on the contrary, it is very pious "and Chriſtian-like.

Teſtimony of Ludovicus Capellus.

I will end this Matter with the Teſtimony of Ludovicus Capellus the Divinity Reader of Saumur, of whom I ſpake in the firſt Section, where I quoted him to prove that all the Reformed Churches of Europe have and uſe ſet Forms of Prayer in their Publick Worſhip. In the Body of Divinity which was ſet forth by him and his two Collegues, Moſes Amyraldus and Joſue Placæus, and is commonly known by the Name of Theſes Salmurienſes; he hath a Treatiſe wherein he ſheweth the Lawfulneſs, the Uſe and Neceſſity of a Set Form of Liturgy againſt the new Invention of a Directory, which the Preſbyterians endeavoured to introduce into the Church of England.

FRIDAY Dec. 26.

Extracts from Council Book.

Whitehall. This Day his Majeſty by the Advice of the Privy-Council approved of the Declaration, entitled, His Majeſty's Declaration to all his loving Subjects of this twenty ſixth of December 1662. and did order that the ſame be forthwith printed and publiſhed.

CHARLES R.

Publiſhed by the Advice of his Privy-Council, Fol. For the King's Printers.

Happy Reſtauration without the leaſt Bloodſhed.

The King would govern by Clemency.

Yet neceſſitated to do Juſtice on ſome.

After publick Tryals.

As it hath pleaſed Almighty God ſo wonderfully to reſtore us to the Throne of our Anceſtors, and our Subjects to happy Peace and Tranquillity without the leaſt Bloodſhed by the military Sword; ſo having ſtill earneſtly wiſhed that both might be ſecured and maintained with the leaſt Effuſion poſſible of the ſame by the Sword of Juſtice, as deſiring much rather to cure the ill Intentions of the Diſaffected by our Clemency, than to puniſh the Effects of them by Rigour of Law: We cannot but expreſs our great Grief and Trouble, that the unpardonable as well as incurable Malignity of ſome ſhould have carried them a-new to ſuch traiterous Practices againſt our Perſon and Government as have neceſſitated us to make freſh Examples by the Death of any more of our Subjects.

To prevent all Occaſions for the Future.

Is the End and Intent of this Declaration.

But as the Publickneſs of their Tryal in the ordinary Courſe of Law, hath, by their Conviction, ſufficiently ſatisfied the World of the Enormity of their Crimes, ſo we have thought fit at the ſame Time that we are forced to puniſh, to endeavour as much as in us lieth, the Preventing all Occaſions of the like for the Future by this Declaration; wherein our principal Aim is, to apply proper

Antidotes

To take off four false and malicious Scandals.

Antidotes to all thoſe venomous Inſinuations, by which (as we are certainly informed) ſome of our Subjects of inveterate and unalterable Principles do daily endeavour to poyſon the Affections of our good People by miſleading their Underſtandings; and that principally by four ſorts of moſt falſe and malicious Scandals, which we do look upon as the Grounds of thoſe traiterous Attempts.

1. That we intend not to obſerve the Act of Indemnity.

The firſt by ſuggeſting unto them, That having attained our Ends in re-eſtabliſhing our Regal Authority, and gaining the Power into our own Hands, by a ſpecious Condeſcenſion to a general Act of Indemnity, we intend nothing leſs than the Obſervation of it; but on the contrary by Degrees to ſubject the Perſons and Eſtates of all ſuch who ſtood in need of that Law to future Revenge, and to give them up to the Spoil of thoſe, who had loſt their Fortunes in our Service.

2. That we intend to introduce a Military Power.

Secondly, That upon Pretence of Plots and Practices againſt us, we intend to introduce a military Way of Government in this Kingdom.

3. That we have given Scandal by the Act of Uniformity.

Thirdly, That having made Uſe of ſuch ſolemn Promiſes from Breda, and in ſeveral Declarations ſince, of Eaſe and Liberty to tender Conſciences, inſtead of performing any Part of them we have added ſtreighter Fetters than ever, and new Rocks of Scandal to the Scrupulous, by the Act of Uniformity.

4. That we are too indulgent to the Papiſts.

Fourthly and laſtly, we find it as artificially as maliciouſly divulged throughout the whole Kingdom, That at the ſame Time we deny a fitting Liberty to thoſe other Sects of our Subjects whoſe Conſciences will not allow them to conform to the Religion eſtabliſhed by Law; we are highly indulgent to Papiſts, not only in exempting them from the Penalties of the Law, but even to ſuch a Degree of Countenance and Encouragement, as may even endanger the Proteſtant Religion.

All which are wicked and malicious Suggeſtions.

We think fit to declare our ſtedfaſt Reſolutions.

Upon Occaſion of all which wicked and malicious Suggeſtions, although we are confident that the innate Loyalty and good Affections of the Generality of our People, ſtrengthen'd by a due Senſe of the late Calamities brought upon them by the ſame Arts, will hinder Seeds of ſo deteſtable a Nature from taking Root, and bringing forth the Fruits aimed at by the Sowers of them: Yet we think that in our fatherly Care to prevent any miſleading of thoſe, who are ſo dear to us, we owe unto them and to ourſelves this Publication of our ſtedfaſt Reſolutions in all theſe Particulars.

1. As to the Act of Indemnity;

We freely conſented to the firſt Paſſing.

And ſince to the Confirming of it.

And we renew our Engagement on the Word of a King,

That we ſhall never decline from the Religious Obſervance of it.

As to the firſt Point concerning the Act of Indemnity; certainly there can be no greater Evidence, that the paſſing it proceeded from the Clemency of our Nature, as well as from the preſent Conjuncture of that Parliament wherein it was firſt framed, than that we have been pleaſed to make it our eſpecial Care to have it confirmed by a new Act in this, a Parliament compoſed of Members ſo full of Affections to our Perſon, and of Zeal for the publick Good, as we could never have Cauſe to apprehend their exacting from us a Confirmation of any thing that had been before extorted, or had at preſent been judged by us prejudicial to either; and therefore as we not only conſented unto, but moſt earneſtly deſired the paſſing that Act at firſt, and confirming it ſince, as being no leſs conformable to our Nature, than conducible to a happy Settlement: So we do hereby moſt ſolemnly renew unto all our Subjects concerned in it, this Engagement on the Word of a King, that it ſhall never be in the Power of any Perſon or Intereſt whatſoever, to make us decline from the religious Obſervance of it; it having been always a conſtant Profeſſion of ours, that we do and ſhall ever think our royal Dignity and Greatneſs much more happily and ſecurely founded on our own Clemency and our Subjects Loves, than in their Fears and our Power. Which moſt ſincere Profeſſion of ours may ſuffice alſo to expoſe the Wickedneſs and Falſhood of the other Malice concerning the Deſign of introducing a Way of Government by military Power.

2. As to the Introducing a Military Power.

We ought not to want ſufficient Guards to reſtrain rebellious Spirits.

As in the late Occaſion upon Venner's Inſurrection.

But we found our Security in the Affections of our People, rather than in any military Power.

It is true, that we ſhould not think we diſcharged rightly what we owe to the publick Peace, and to the Freedom and Security of Parliaments, as well as to the Safety of our Perſon, if whilſt we daily diſcover ſuch Multitudes of diſtempered Minds, and ſuch dangerous Practices iſſuing from them, we ſhould for want of ſufficient Guards put it in the Power of thoſe rebellious Spirits to undertake probably at any Time what they have at ſeveral Times ſo madly attempted for the Ruin and Deſtruction of us all. Of which certainly beſides the preſent Occaſion of new Precaution as well as new Severity, we ſuppoſe all our good Subjects need not a livelier nor more moving Inſtance, than what their Memories can furniſh them with, from the deſperate Undertaking of Venner and his Crew, which (as mad as it was) we leave to all the World to judge, of how dangerous a Conſequence it might have been without that little Strength remaining of thoſe Forces, which (to give our People a Teſtimony of our founding all our Security rather in their Affections than in any military Power) we had ſo frankly diſbanded, and which afterwards, by Advice of our Council, merely upon Motives of the publick Safety, we conſented to increaſe to that moderate Proportion which was indeed abſolutely neceſſary, and hath ſince been ſufficiently proved to be ſo, by the Security which we owe to them from the late dangerous Practices.

We deſire only neceſſary Guards;

And abhor all military and arbitrary Rule.

But the Reaſons of ſuch Precautions once ceaſing, we are very ſure that what Guards ſoever may be found neceſſary for us to continue, as in former Times, for the Dignity and Honour of our Crown; the ſole Strength and Security we ſhall ever confide in, ſhall be the Hearts and Affections of our Subjects iudeared and confirmed to us by our gracious and ſteddy Manner of Government, according to the ancient known Laws of the Land; there being not any one of our Subjects who doth more from his Heart abhor than we ourſelves, all ſort of military and arbitrary Rule.

3. As to the Act of Uniformity.

We remember and repeat our Declaration from Breda for Liberty to tender Conſciences.

As for the third concerning the Non-performance of our Promiſes, we remember well the very Words of thoſe from Breda, viz. We declare a Liberty to tender Conſciences, and that no Man ſhall be diſquieted or called in Queſtion for Differences of Opinion in Matters of Religion, which do not diſturb the Peace of the Kingdom; and that we ſhall be ready to conſent to ſuch an Act of Parliament, as upon mature Deliberation ſhall be offered to us for the full granting that Indulgence.

We have ſince confirmed thoſe Promiſes, and are reſolved to perform them.

Yet thoſe Promiſes were made to the Parliament;

And no Wonder we have given Eſtabliſhment to the Church, before Indulgence to Diſſenters.

This being done by the Bill of Uniformity.

We remember well the Confirmations we have made of them ſince upon ſeveral Occaſions in Parliament; and as all theſe Things are ſtill freſh in our Memory, ſo are we ſtill firm in the Reſolution of performing them to the full. But it muſt not be wondred at (ſince that Parliament to which thoſe Promiſes were made in relation to an Act, never thought fit to offer us any to that Purpoſe) that being ſo zealous as we are (and by the Grace of God ſhall ever be) for the Maintenance of the true Proteſtant Religion, finding it ſo ſhaken (not to ſay overthrown) as we did, we ſhould give its Eſtabliſhment the Precedency before Matters of Indulgence to Diſſenters from it. But that once done (as we hope it is ſufficiently by the Bill of Uniformity) we are glad to lay hold on this Occaſion to renew unto all our Subjects concerned in thoſe Promiſes of Indulgence by a true Tenderneſs of Conſcience, this Aſſurance:

We ſhall conſtantly maintain that Uniformity of the Church of England.

That as in the firſt Place we have been zealous to ſettle the Uniformity of the Church of England, in Diſcipline, Ceremony, and Government, and ſhall ever conſtantly maintain it:

But as to Penalties on thoſe who do not conform,

We ſhall incline the Wiſdom of Parliament in the next Seſſion to enable us to exerciſe that Power of Diſpenſing, which we conceive to be inherent in us.

Nor can we doubt of their chearful co-operating with us.

So as for what concerns the Penalties upon thoſe who (living peaceably) do not conform thereunto through Scruple and Tenderneſs of miſguided Conſcience, but modeſtly and without Scandal perform their Devotions in their own Way, we ſhall make it our ſpecial Care, ſo far as in us lies, without invading the Freedom of Parliament, to incline their Wiſdom at this next approaching Seſſions to concur with us in the making ſome ſuch Act for that Purpoſe, as may enable us to exerciſe, with a more univerſal Satisfaction, that Power of Diſpenſing, which we conceive to be inherent in us. Nor can we doubt of their chearful co-operating with us in a Thing wherein we do conceive ourſelves ſo far engaged, both in Honour, and in what we owe to the Peace of our Dominions, which we profeſs we can never think ſecure, whilſt there ſhall be a Colour left to the Malicious and Diſaffected to inflame the Minds of ſo many Multitudes upon the Score of Conſcience, with Deſpair of ever obtaining any Effect of our Promiſes for their Eaſe.

4. As to the Scandal of our favouring the Papiſts.

This was caſt on our Royal Father, and help'd to bring on the late Calamities.

And ſome involve all good Proteſtants under the odious Names of Papiſts or popiſhly affected.

We appeal to our Education and Courſe of Life, and Conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion among the Roman-Catholick Princes.

In the laſt Place, as to that moſt pernicious and injurious Scandal, ſo artificially ſpread and fomented, of our Favour to Papiſts; as it is but a Repetition of the ſame deteſtable Arts, by which all the late Calamities have been brought upon this Kingdom in the Time of our Royal Father of bleſſed Memory (who, though the moſt pious and zealous Proteſtant that ever reigned in this Nation, could never waſh off the Stains caſt upon him by that Malice, but by his Martyrdom.) We conceive all our Subjects ſhould be ſufficiently prepared againſt that Poiſon by Memory of thoſe Diſaſters; eſpecially ſince nothing is more evident, than that the wicked Authors of this Scandal are ſuch as ſeek to involve all good Proteſtants under the odious Name of Papiſts, or popiſhly affected: Yet we cannot but ſay upon this Occaſion, that our Education and Courſe of Life in the true Proteſtant Religion hath been ſuch, and our Conſtancy in the Profeſſion of it ſo eminent in our moſt deſperate Condition abroad among Roman-Catholick Princes, when as the Appearance of receding from it had been the likelieſt Way in all human Forecaſt, to have procured us the moſt powerful Aſſiſtances of our Re-eſtabliſhment, that ſhould any of our Subjects give but the leaſt Admiſſion of that Scandal into their Beliefs, we ſhould look upon it as the moſt unpardonable Offence that they can be guilty of towards us. 'Tis true that as we ſhall always according to Juſtice retain, ſo we think it may become us to avow to the World a due Senſe we have of the greateſt Part of our Roman-Catholick Subjects of this Kingdom having deſerved well from our Royal Father of bleſſed Memory, and from us, and even from the Proteſtant Religion itſelf, in adhering to us with their Lives and Fortunes for the Maintenance of our Crown in the Religion eſtabliſh'd, againſt thoſe, who under the Name of zealous Proteſtants, imploy'd both Fire and Sword to overthrow them both. We ſhall with as much Freedom profeſs unto the World, that it is not in our Intention to exclude our Roman-Catholick Subjects, who have ſo demeaned themſelves from all Share in the Benefit of ſuch an Act, as in Purſuance of our Promiſes, the Wiſdom of our Parliament ſhall think fit to offer unto us for the Eaſe of tender Conſciences. It might appear no leſs than Injuſtice that thoſe who deſerved well, and continued to do ſo, ſhould be denied ſome Part of that Mercy, which we have obliged ourſelf to afford to ten Times the Number of ſuch who have not done ſo. Beſides, ſuch are the capital Laws in Force againſt them, as though juſtified in their Rigour by the Times wherein they were made, we profeſs it would be grievous unto us to conſent to the Execution of them, by putting any of our Subjects to Death for their Opinions in Matter of Religion only. But at the ſame Time that we declare our little liking of thoſe ſanguinary ones, and our gracious Intentions already expreſſed to ſuch of our Roman-Catholick Subjects as ſhall live peaceably, modeſtly, and without Scandal; we would have them all know, that if for doing what their Duties and Loyalties obliged them to,

It was ſoon obſerved, that of all Parties, the Preſbyterians when in Power were the moſt averſe to the granting any Toleration, at leaſt not without great Limitations and Reſtrictions. Mr. Calamy in his Faſt Sermon, Decemb. 25, 1644. preached and printed thus, Take Heed of the land-deſtroying Opinion of thoſe that plead for an illimited Toleration of all Religions. —— The Lord keep us from being poiſoned with ſuch an Error! The Text itſelf riſeth up againſt it, for it will divide a Kingdom againſt itſelf. It will rend it into a thouſand Pieces. It is a Doctrine directly contrary to your late Oath and Covenant, a Doctrine that overthroweth all Church Government, bringeth in Confuſion, and openeth a wide Door unto all Irreligion and Atheiſm. For at the ſame Door that all falſe Religions come in, the true Religion will quickly get out. And if it be as good for a Man to live where nothing is lawful, as where all Things are lawful, ſurely it is every Way as uncomfortable to live where there's all Religions, as where there is no Religion at all.

During their good Behaviour.

to, or from our Acknowledgment of their well-deſerving, they ſhall have the Preſumption to hope for a Toleration of their Profeſſion, or a taking away either thoſe Marks of Diſtinction or of our Diſpleaſure, which in a well governed Kingdom ought always to be ſet upon Diſſenters from the Religion of the State, or to obtain the leaſt Remiſſion in the Strictneſs of thoſe Laws, which either are, or ſhall be made to hinder the ſpreading of their Doctrine, to the Prejudice of the true Proteſtant Religion; or that upon our expreſſing (according to Chriſtian Charity) our Diſlike of Bloodſhed for Religion only, Prieſts ſhall take the Boldneſs to appear and avow themſelves to the Offence and Scandal of good Proteſtants, and of the Laws in Force againſt them; they ſhall quickly find. We know as well to be ſevere, when Wiſdom requires, as indulgent when Charity and Senſe of Merit challenge it from us.

The Papiſts own'd that ſuch Declaration was made in favour of them; nay and would long after have ſhelter'd themſelves under the Protection of that as legally iſſued, and not legally repeal'd. For ſo in the Popiſh Plot 1679. William Marſhall convicted of taking Orders from the Church of Rome and coming into England, pleaded thus: —— I have this further to add, his Majeſty ſome Years ago put forth a Declaration under the Broad-Seal for a Toleration of Religion and Liberty of Conſcience, whereby the Roman Catholicks had the Uſe of their Religion in their private Houſes. Now I have been informed that according to Law, whatſoever is put forth under the Broad Seal muſt be recalled by ſomething under the Broad Seal, or it remains in force; which was never done as to this Declaration, and then I lye under the Protection of the Declaration. Printed Tryal, Fol.

Such was the Policy of the Court, that they (the Nonconformiſts) muſt either be cruſh'd by their Fellow Proteſtants, to the ſtrengthening of the Romiſh Intereſt; or if favour'd with any Connivance, they muſt have the Papiſts Partners with them, that ſo the Proteſtant Intereſt might be that Way weakened. This was a great Hardſhip that attended their Circumſtances: But it was altogether their Unhappineſs, and very remote from being their Choice, and therefore no Matter of juſt Reflection. Abridgment of Mr. Baxter's Life, 8vo. p. 305.

With this we have thought fit to arm our good Subjects Minds againſt the Practices of our ill ones, by a true Knowledge of our own; of which now rightly perſuaded. We make no queſtion, but that whoſoever they be from whom they can derive the ſpreading or fomenting of any of thoſe wicked Suggeſtions, they will look upon them with Deteſtation, as the moſt dangerous Enemies of our Crown, and of the Peace and Happineſs of the Nation; and that what we have here publiſhed will happily prepare them all to a chearful Expectation of the approaching Seſſions of Parliament, an Aſſembly ſo eminent in their Loyalty, and their Zeal for the Peace and Proſperity of our Kingdoms, that having already made thoſe happy Settlements for the Maintenance of the Religion eſtabliſhed, and of our juſt Rights, their full Concurrence with us, can no Way be doubted in the Performance of all our Promiſes, and to the effecting all thoſe gracious Intentions which (God knows) our Heart is full of, for the Plenty, Proſperity, and univerſal Satisfaction of the Nation.

In order to which, although it be foreign to the main Scope of this our Declaration, which is principally to prevent the Miſchiefs aimed at by the Scandals therein mentioned, and that wherein we reſerve the Enlargement of ourſelf till the opening of the next Seſſions of Parliament, yet we cannot forbear hinting here unto our good Subjects four Particulars, wherein we think to give them the moſt important Marks of our Care. Firſt, in puniſhing by ſevere Laws that Licentiouſneſs and Impiety, which ſince the Diſſolution of Government we find to our great Grief hath overſpread the Nation.

Secondly, As well by ſumptuary Laws, as by our own Example of Frugality, to reſtrain the Exceſs in Mens Expences, which is grown ſo general, and ſo exorbitant, beyond all Bounds, either of their Qualities or Fortunes.

Thirdly, So to perfect what we have already induſtriouſly begun in the retrenching of all our own ordinary and extraordinary Charges in Navy, Gariſons, Houſhold, and all their Dependants, as to bring them within the Compaſs of our ſettled Revenue, that thereby our Subjects may have little Cauſe to apprehend our frequent preſſing them for new Aſſiſtances.

And laſtly, ſo to improve the good Conſequences of theſe three Particulars to the Advancement of Trade, that all our Subjects finding (as well as other Nations envying) the Advantage this hath of them in that prime Foundation of Plenty, they may all with Minds happily compoſed by our Clemency and Indulgence (inſtead of taking up Thoughts of deſerting their Profeſſions, or tranſplanting) apply themſelves comfortably, and with redoubled Induſtry to their ſeveral Vocations, in ſuch Manner as the private Intereſt of every one in particular may encourage him to contribute chearfully to the general Proſperity.

Given at our Court at Whitehall, this 26th Day of December, in the fourteenth Year of our Reign.

Mr. Baxter*'s Account of granting this Indulgence.*

The Life of Mr. Baxter, Fol. Lib. I. Part II. p. 429.

When I was abſent (ſaith Mr. Baxter) after Bartholomew Day, Mr. Calamy and the other Miniſters of London, who had Acquaintance at the Court, were put in hope that the King would grant that by way of Indulgence, which was before denied them [by the Act of Uniformity.] And that before the Act was paſſed it might be provided, that the King ſhould have Power to diſpenſe with ſuch as deſerved well of him in his Reſtauration, or whom he pleaſed: But that was fruſtrate. And after that they were told that the King had Power himſelf to diſpenſe in ſuch Caſes, as he did with the Dutch and French Churches. And ſome kind of Petition (I have not a Copy of it) they drew up to offer the King: But when they had done it, they were ſo far from procuring their Deſires, that there fled abroad grievous Threatnings againſt them, that they ſhould incur a Premunire for ſuch a bold Attempt: When they were drawn to it at firſt, they did it with much Heſitancy (through former Experience) and they worded it ſo cautiouſly that it extended not to the Papiſts. Some of the Independents preſumed to ſay, that the Reaſon why all our Addreſſes for Liberty had not ſucceeded, was becauſe we did not extend it to the Papiſts, and that for their Parts, they ſaw no Reaſon why the Papiſts ſhould not have Liberty to worſhip as well as others; and that it was better for them to have it, than for all us to go without it. But the Preſbyterians ſtill anſwered to that Motion, that the King might himſelf do what he pleaſed; and if his Wiſdom thought meet to give Liberty to the Papiſts, let the Papiſts petition for it, as they did for theirs: But if it be expected by any that it ſhall be forced upon them to become Petitioners for Liberty for Popery, they ſhould never do it, whatever be the Iſſue, nor ſhall it be ſaid to be their Work.

Mr. Baxter puts in the Margin theſe Words, if I ſhould at length recite the Story of this Buſineſs, and what peremptory Promiſes they had, and how all was turned to their Rebuke and Scorn, it would more increaſe the Reader's Aſtoniſhment.

The Independents were for equal Liberty to the Papiſts.

The Preſbyterians not ſo.

On the 26th of December 1662. the King ſent forth a Declaration, expreſſing his Purpoſe to grant ſome Indulgence or Liberty in Religion (with other Matters) not excluding the Papiſts, many of whom had deſerved ſo well*. When this came out, the ejected Miniſters began to think more confidently of ſome Indulgence to themſelves: Mr. Nye alſo and ſome others of the Independents, were encouraged to go to the King, and when they came back told us, that he was now reſolved to give them Liberty. On the ſecond of January, Mr. Nye came to me, to treat about our owning the King's Declaration, by returning him Thanks for it; and I perceived that it was deſigned, that we muſt be the Deſirers or Procurers of it: But I told him my Reſolutions to meddle no more in ſuch Matters, having incurred already ſo much Hatred and Diſpleaſure by endeavouring Unity: And the reſt of the Miniſters alſo had enough of it, and reſolved that they would not meddle: So that Mr. Nye and his Brethren thought it partly long of us that they miſs'd of their intended Liberty. But all were averſe to have any Thing to do with the Indulgence or Toleration of the Papiſts, thinking it at leaſt unfit for them.

 1. The Declaration for Liberty at* Breda was for them.
2. Next the Clauſe offered to be added to the Declaration of Eccleſiaſtical Affairs gave them the free Exerciſe of their Religion.
3. The 'foreſaid Motion next attempted it.
4. This Declaration Dec. 26. 1662. expreſsly promiſed it them.
5. Our Treaty after ſet on Foot by the Lord Keeper Bridgman, would have offer'd it them. And by breaking all theſe Offers, we are ourſelves in our preſent afflicted State.

This Declaration ſaid to be procured by a popiſh Lord, the Earl of Briſtol.

The Independent Brethren alſo told me, that the Lord Chancellor had told them that their Liberty was motioned before when the King's Declaration came out, and that we ſpake againſt it, even I by Name. But when I told them what Words I ſpake (before recited) they had no more to ſay: But now they grew greatly affected to the E. of B. (a Papiſt) thinking that the King's Declaration was procur'd by him, and that he and the Papiſts muſt be the Means (for their own Ends) to procure our Liberty: But the Declaration took not at all with the Parliament or People, and the E. of B. ſetting himſelf againſt the Lord Chancellor (accuſing him by Articles of High Treaſon in the Lord's Houſe) was caſt off by the King as an Incendiary and forced to hide his Head.

Die 26. Decemb. 1662. Robertus Bretton Clericus, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccleſiæ Parochialis S. Martini infra Ludgate, London. vac. per Inconformitatem . . . . Jacomb, ult. Incumb. ex coll. Reverendi Patris D. London Epiſcopi.

Reg. Sheldon, Lond.

Dr. Thomas Jacomb.

See his Character given by Dr. Calamy in his Account of ejected Miniſters, Vol. II. p. 46. that his Miniſtry was acceptable and uſeful, his Sermons clear, ſolid and affectionate, &c. a Nonconformiſt upon moderate Principles, &c.
Very different from the Character given of him by an eminent Writer, Dr. William Sherlock, that he was the prettieſt, nonſenſical, trifling Gooſe-cap, that ever ſet Pen to Paper.
He was in Preſbyterian Orders, and came into St. Martin's Ludgate, after the Sequeſtration, Plunder and Miſeries of the legal Incumbent Dr. Mich. German.

The Nonconformiſt was Dr. Thomas Jacomb, Son of John Jacomb, born at Burton Lazer's in Leiceſterſhire, enter'd in Magdalen Hall, Oxford, in Eaſter Term 1640. aged eighteen; left it upon the breaking out of the Rebellion, went to Cambridge and taking the Covenant became Fellow of Trinity College there, in the Place of a Loyaliſt ejected, had the Degree of M. A. conferr'd upon him: And about that Time taking Orders according to the Preſbyterian Way, retired to London, became Miniſter of this Church of St. Martin's, and one of the Aſſiſtants to the Commiſſioners of London for the ejecting of ſuch whom the Rebels then call'd ſcandalous, ignorant and inſufficient Miniſters and Schoolmaſters; and from that Time to his ſilencing, he was a very zealous Perſon for promoting the Cauſe. In 1659. he was appointed one of the Approvers or Triers of Miniſters. In 1662. ejected for Nonconformity, being about that Time D. D. Afterwards he followed the Trade of Conventicling, for which he was brought ſeveral Times into Trouble; and at length became Chaplain to the Counteſs of Exeter, in whoſe Service and Houſe in Little-Britain, he died on March 27, 1687. and was buried in the Church of St. Anne within Alderſgate.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 606. Newcourt's Dioc. Lond. Vol. I. p. 416.

See Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 65.

Robertus Bretton, S. T. P. coll. ad Preb. de Cadington minori in Eccl. S. Pauli Lond. vac. per mort. Chriſtopheri Newſted ult. Preb. die 7. Martii 1662.

Reg. Sheldon. Lond.

He was likewiſe Vicar of Deptford in Kent, his Preferments became void by Death before the 4th of May 1672.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 132.

Dr. Edward Sparks.

Die 26. Dec. 1662. Edwardus Sparks, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Walthamſtow Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Henrici Ciceſtr. Epiſcopi. —— reſignavit Anno 1666.

Ibid. 637.

Edward Sparke, D. D. had been admitted to the Rectory of St. Martin Ironmonger-Lane, London, Sept. 28, 1639. ſequeſtred and plundred in the late Times, was reſtored to it 1660. reſigned it in 1661. removing to St. James's Clerkenwell, after which he had alſo the Vicarage of Walthamſtow Com. Eſſex. admitted to it December 26, 1662.

Walker's *Sufferings of the Clergy, P.*II. p. 175.
See Jan. 23. 1665.

SUNDAY Dec. 28.

The King's Religion not yet queſtion'd.

The King's Religion was not yet queſtion'd, eſpecially not by the Biſhops and Clergy of the Church of England, who ſuppos'd his Diſpoſition to favour the Roman Catholicks did ariſe only from Gratitude and Goodneſs of Nature. Yet the Writer of plain Engliſh in 1690. is bold to ſay, that Sir Allen Brodrick, who was with King Charles II. beyond Sea at the Time of his firſt profeſſing the popiſh Religion, has been often heard to lament the burning of his Journal, wherein the very Day and Circumſtances of it were entred. And I am aſſured that one of his preſent Majeſty's Chaplains, Miniſter of the Place where Sir Allen died, [meaning Dr. Reſborough] can give an Account of his Death-Bed Declaration of what he knew in it: With this additional Circumſtance, that it was done in the Abſence of the old Lord Culpeper, who knowing of it at his Return fell into a great Paſſion, and told the King he muſt never expect to ſee England again, if it ſhould be known there. [It is well remembred, that at the growing Report of the King being a Papiſt, Dr. Reſbury was terribly afraid of being called to Account for what he had ſpoken on that Subject.]

Tho' afterwards affirm'd to be popiſh.

By Sir Allen Brodrick, a Witneſs of the Secret.

MONDAY Dec. 29.

Audience given to the Ruſſian Ambaſſadors.

This Day between two and three in the Afternoon at Whitehall, his Majeſty gave Audience to the great Lord Ambaſſador, the Great Duke and Governor of Toolkſy Peter, to the Lord Governor of Coarmeſky, John the Son of Offonaſſey ſurnamed Zelebouky, and to Juan Stephano Chancellor, &c. Ambaſſadors from the Emperor

Publick Intelligence, 4to. No. 1.

Emperor of Ruſſia, they paſſed along from York-Houſe to Whitehall through his Majeſty's Guards, who ſtood on both Sides the Street, and made a Lane for their more orderly Proceſſion. The Earl of Lauderdale and Sir Charles Cotterel, Maſter of the Ceremonies conducted the Ambaſſadors to his Majeſty in the Banqueting-Houſe, where they delivered their Credential Letters under their Maſter's Seal (which all the Way were expoſed to the View of the People) and paſs'd the reſt of their Addreſs all the while uncovered, though his Majeſty ſpake to forbear that Ceremony. Their Audience ended, they offered their Preſents, which were as followeth, &c. carried by one hundred and ſixty five Perſons.

Mr. Robert Bragg.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 51. Contin. p. 75.

Among the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters in London, from Allhallow the Great, Mr. Robert Bragg. His Father was a Captain in the Parliament Army. When Oxford was ſurrendred, he went thither, and was admitted of Wadham College, choſen Fellow. Coming afterwards to London, he ſettled in this Pariſh, and gathered a Church, of which he continu'd Paſtor to the Day of his Death. [So not ejected or ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act, before which Mr. John Blemell had been inſtituted to this Church, June 12, 1662.]

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 249.

Mr. Peter Vink no legal Incumbent.

Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 52. Contin. p. 74.

From St. Michael's Cornhill. Mr. Peter Vink, B. D. He was long Fellow of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge; a very good Scholar, of grave Behaviour, and moderate Principles. He ſpent the latter Part of his Life at Darlſton in Hackney, where he died Sept. 6, 1702. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Howe. [Dr. William Brough ſequeſtred from this Church return'd to it at the Reſtauration, and reſign'd it at the End of this Year 1662.]

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 443.

Death of Mr. Giles Thornborough, and of

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, 4to. p. 669.

Within this Year died Giles Thornborough, M. A. Rector of Orſton-George Com. Wilts. and Vicar of Crowle; inſtalled in the ſecond Prebend of Worceſter 1629. He died Anno 1662. and was buried at Crowle. In his Prebend ſucceeded William Owen, M. A. inſtalled Feb. 13, 1662.

Dr. Edward Stanley.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 195

Edward Stanley, born of genteel Parents in the Pariſh of St. Peter within the City of Chicheſter, educated in Wykeham's School, made perpetual Fellow of New-College 1608, aged twenty Years or thereabouts, left the ſaid College in 1623. and was about that Time made Maſter of the ſaid School, and afterwards Prebendary of Wincheſter and Doctor of Divinity. In 1662. he died, and was buried at Wincheſter, leaving them behind him the Character of a learned godly and orthodox Miniſter of God's Word. — He died before Sept. 6, 1662. when Richard Hyde, S. T. P. was inſtalled in his Place.

TUESDAY Dec. 30.
Account of publiſhing the King's Declaration.

Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4to.

This Day was publiſhed in Print his Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration to all his loving Subjects, wherein his Majeſty is pleaſed to take Notice of ſeveral Scandals wherewith the Government is defamed, by thoſe that would do worſe againſt it, if their Hands were as free as their Tongues. Notwithſtanding which Malignity of theirs, his Majeſty is pleaſed with his accuſtomed Candour to ſhew, that he is an indulgent Father to all his People; and that the Parliament concurring with him therein, he is ready to paſs any Act which ſhall be made in favour of tender Conſciences: So that it is believed the ſaid Declaration will diſpleaſe none but thoſe that are thereby diſarmed of thoſe Exceptions by which they daily inflame many good People againſt the eſtabliſhed Government.

Mr. William Forſter Rector of Stanground, on the Deprivation of Mr. Richard Kidder.

Reg. Sanderſon Linc.

Die 30. Decemb. 1662. Gulielmus Forſter, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Vicariam de Stanground Com. Hunt. vac. per deprivationem Ricardi Kidder ult. Incumb. ad preſentat. Magiſtri. Sociorum, & Scholarium Coll. Eman. Cantabr. pleno jure Patronorum.

See Faſti Ox. ſub Anno 1658.

The ſaid Mr. Richard Kidder ſo ejected for Nonconformity, did afterwards ſeriouſly conform, became an eminent London Divine, Prebendary of Norwich, Dean of Peterborough, and at laſt Biſhop of Bath and Wells.

WEDNESDAY Dec. 31.
Mr. Thomas Williamſon Rector of Kettering, in the Place of Mr. John Maidwell.

Reg. Laney.

Die ult. Decemb. 1662. Thomas Williamſon Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Kettering Com. Northampt. vac. per Non-conformitatem Johannis Maydwell ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Hon. viri Edwardi Dom. Rockingham Patroni.

Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 492.

Mr. John Maidwell ejected from Kettering was born at Geddington in this County of Northampton, and bred in Cambridge, where he was Chamber-Fellow with Biſhop Gunning. He firſt ſettled in a good Living at Sympſon in Bucks. During the Civil War he put in another to ſupply the Place, and take the Profits, and he retir'd to London and there ſpent his Pains. When the War was well over, he was ſent down to Cleabrook in Leiceſterſhire; where Mr. Herbert Thorndike had been Miniſter, and built a Parſonage-Houſe, one of the beſt and moſt beautiful in the Countrey. He did not continue long there, before the People of Sympſon laid claim to him, and invited him to return to them again. The Matter was referr'd to Dr. Arrowſmith and three more of the Aſſembly. Upon hearing both Sides, two of them were for his Stay at Cleabuck, and two for his Return to Sympſon, finding they could not agree, he determined for himſelf to return to Sympſon, becauſe they were his firſt People. — He continued his Miniſtry among them till the Uniformity Act ſilenc'd him. The religious Sir Thomas Alſton and his Lady had him in very great Eſteem, and he preach'd often at their Houſe at Odell in Bedfordſhire. He was a good Scholar, and an excellent Preacher: One of great Modeſty and Humility, and eminent Piety, &c. He died Jan. 9, 1692. being about eighty four Years old. He had a conſiderable Congregation in Kettering to the laſt.

Mr. Henry Sheppard Vicar of Little-Baddow, in the Place

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 27.

Die ult. Decemb. 1662. Henricus Sheppard Cler. ad Vic. de Baddow parva in Com. Eſſex. ad preſ. Ricardi Hooke Rectoris ejuſd. Eccl.

Ejected

Place of Mr. Tho Gilſon who had taught here in the Times of Confuſion.

Dr. Calamy's Abridgment, Vol. II. p. 305.

Ejected or ſilenc'd at Little-Baddow in Eſſex, Mr. Thomas Gilſon, M. A. born at Sudbury in Suffolk, and train'd up in the Free-School at Dedham, from whence he went to that famous Seminary of Piety and Learning, Emmanel College in Cambridge, and afterwards for the Sake of a Fellowſhip remov'd to Corpus Chriſti College, Oxon. After his being ſilenc'd at this Place, he remov'd to London, and became Paſtor of a diſſenting Congregation in Ratcliff, where he died of a middle Age 1680. His Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Slater, &c.

Abuſe of the King's Indulgence.

The Conſequences of the King's Indulgence are thus touch'd upon by the Writer of the Myſtery and Iniquity of Nonconformity, p. 56.

C. But when his Majeſty declar'd for an Indulgence, did they acquieſce in that?

D. B. No! but they immediately petition for more, viz. that the tender Conſciences of young Men in the Univerſity ſhould be free. —— Which was as much as to ſay, that we may have a young Set of Preſbyterians and Elders againſt the old one decayeth. And over and above all this, they ſent to the Foreign Churches to keep Correſpondence with them.

C. Now I hope they have done.

D. B. Not ſo neither; but they are up with their old Trade of Prophecying, of Wonders, Prodigies, Star-gazing, Conjunctions, and the Judgments of God, which they would ſay are the ſame now as in Queen Mary's Days, and in Times of great Alterations and Changes.

C. But were they true?

D. B. No: But upon the Examination of Particulars, theſe were alive and well whom they write dead; and they dead of a natural Death whom they printed Thunder-ſtruck, &c.

The Obſtinacy and Rudeneſs of Mr. Edward Bagſhaw.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 359.
Life of Biſhop Ward, 8vo. p. 31.
Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 543.

In December 1662. Mr. Edward Bagſhaw, M. A. late Vicar of Amerſden Com. Oxon. was ſeiz'd on by Order of Council, and committed Priſoner to the Gate-Houſe in Weſtminſter, whence he was removed to the Tower. Dr. Pope tells us, that King Charles ſent for him, deſigning to work ſome good upon him, and do him a Kindneſs; but he found him ſo obſtinate and refractory, that he was forc'd to leave him to his own Imaginations. When he was with the King, he ſaid ſomething that was ſo offenſive to him, that he was ſent to the Dungeon in the Tower; thence to South-Sea-Caſtle near Portſmouth, at laſt to Newgate, where he died Jan. 26, 1671.

Account of ſome Books and Papers publiſh'd in and about December 1662.

Vid. ΣΟΛΟΜΩΝ ΕΜΜΕΤΡΟΣ. Sive Tres Libri Solomonis, ſcilicet Proverbia, Eccleſiaſtes, Cantica, Græco carmine donati per Jacobum Duportum Cantabrigienſem G. L. P. Cantabrigiæ 1646, 12º.

Ex officina Joh. Field, Cantab. 1662. 12º.

Eccleſiaſtes Solomonis. Auctore Johanne Viviano. Canticum Solomonis, necnon Epigrammata Sacra per Ja. Duportum. Accedunt Georgii Herberti Muſæ Reſponſoriæ ad Andreæ Melvini Anti-Tami-Cami Categoriam.

Printed 1662.

By the King. A Proclamation for preventing Frauds and Imbezzlement in his Majeſty's Stores, particularly in Cordage and Nails, explaining and enforcing a former Proclamation dated Novemb. 19, 1661.

Order of Lord Mayor and Aldermen for Conſervation of the River Thames.

Printed 1662.

Order of the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen of the City of London (in purſuance of a Letter to them from the Right Honourable the Earl of Mancheſter, Lord Chamberlain of his Majeſty's Houſhold) to the Rulers of the Company of Watermen, to prevent the killing or deſtroying Fowl on the River of Thames: With an Order to that purpoſe, ſigned at Watermen's Hall the 10th Day of December 1662.

Dr. Ramſey of Poyſons.

London, for S. Speed, 1663, 8vo.

Of the Names, Natures, Virtues, Symptoms, and Antidotes of Poyſons. By Will. Ramſey, M. D.

Stanley's Edition of the Tragedies of Æſchilus.

Londini, Typis Joh. Fleſher, 1663. Fol.

Æſchyli Tragœdiæ VII. Cum Scholiis Gr. deperditorum Dramatum Fragmentis, Verſione & Commentariis Thomæ Stanleii.

Mr. Hughes's Parſons Law; third Edition.

London, printed for W. Leak, &c. 1673. 8vo.

The Parſon's Law. Or a View of Advowſons: Wherein is contained the Rights of the Patrons, Ordinaries and Incumbents, to Advowſons of Churches, and Benefices with Cure of Souls, and other ſpiritual Promotions. Collected out of the whole Body of the Common Law, and ſome late Reports. By William Hughes of Gray's-Inn, Eſquire. The third Edition. Reviewed and much enlarged by the Author in his Life-Time, and purged from ſundry Errors in the former Editions, and publiſhed now.

The Author's Dedication of the ſecond Edition.

To all the Reverend Clergy of the Kingdom of England.

This little Treatiſe was firſt written by me, at the earneſt Requeſt of ſome eminent Men of the Clergy in Anno Dom. 1634. to whom I delivered ſeveral Manuſcript Copies thereof (as alſo to many other honourable and worthy Perſons) for their private Uſe. In Anno 1636. I delivered a perfect Manuſcript Copy of it to the Right Honourable the then Lord Chief Juſtice of his Majeſty's Court of King's-Bench, to overview it and have his Approbation of it, who finding it ſo much to concern the Church and Church-Men in their Temporals, recommended it to William then Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who likewiſe peruſed it and tranſmitted it to ſome learned Doctors of the Canon and Civil Laws —— who returned it with their Signification, that what was written in that Treatiſe was for the Benefit and Advantage of the whole Clergy. —— It was firſt imprinted Anno 1641, &c.

From my Study in Gray's-Inn,
December 19, 1662.

WILL. HUGHES.

Adver-

A falſe Copy of Hudibras.

Advertiſed Decemb. 23. There is ſtollen abroad a moſt falſe imperfect Copy of a Poem called Hudibras, without Name either of Printer or Bookſeller, as fit for ſo lame and ſpurious an Impreſſion. The true and perfect Edition printed by the Author's Original, is ſold by Richard Marriot under St. Dunſtan's Church in Fleet-ſtreet. That other nameleſs Impreſſion is a Cheat, and will but abuſe the Buyer as well as the Author, whoſe Poem deſerves to have fallen into better Hands.

Publ. Intell. by Authority, 4^{to}.

A Catalogue of Writers on the Holy Scriptures.

An exact Collection or Catalogue of our Engliſh Writers on the Old and New Teſtament, either in whole or in part, whether Commentators, Elucidators, Annotators, or Expoſitors, at large or in ſingle Sermons, very uſeful for any one's Information as to what hath been writ upon any Part of the Holy Scriptures.

Printed for Joh. Williams 1663.

By which Diſcourſe (ſaith Dr. Durell) it appears, that the ſaid Churches have been troubled with Nonconformiſts and Extempore Prayers as well as the Church of England; that the Pretences of ſuch Men there againſt Set Forms were the ſame with them that have been here objected; that Uniformity in every Part of the publick Worſhip of God is the Means uſed by them to preſerve the Peace of the Church againſt the ſaid Innovators.

A Diſcourſe or Preface of the Agenda or Book of Common-Prayer and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Reformed Churches of the Kingdom of Poland and Great Dukedom of Lithuania; faithfully tranſlated out of the Polonian Language into Latin. By Mr. Samuel Wartenſius, a Polonian born, now living at Hackney; which Tranſlation hath been peruſed and compared with the Original, by Mr. John de Kraino Krainſki, Delegate of the Reformed Churches of Lithuania, at preſent in England.

Printed in the Appendix to Dr. Durell's Reformed Churches, 1662. 4^{to}.

Amſterdam Toleration or no Toleration. In a Diſcourſe between Conformiſts and Nonconformiſts, Papiſts, Anabaptiſts, Quakers, and others, in their own Words before a gracious King, about the Extent of a Chriſtian Indulgence to all Diſſenters. By J. V. C. O. a Friend to Men of all Religions.

London, 1663. 8^{vo}.

A Manuſcript Catalogue.

A Catalogue of Authors, Books, Manuſcripts, and Chronicles, quoted by the Hiſtorians of England; collected A. D. 1662. Inter Cod. MSS. Edwardi Couſini Armig. de Com. Gloc.

Catal. Libr. MSS. Vol. II. p. 252.

Mr. Joſeph Cooper's Sermons at his Farewell.

The Dead Witneſs ſtiil ſpeaking to his Living Friends. Being the Subſtance of eight Sermons preached in the Chapel of Mowſley Com. Worceſter. By Joſeph Cooper Miniſter of the Goſpel, 1663. 8^{vo}.

Dr. Calamy's Continuation of Account, p. 884.

Mr. Hen. Oaſland's Farewell Sermon.

The Living dead Paſtor yet Speaking: In two Sermons preached at Bewdley in Worceſterſhire. By Henry Oaſland. [They were printed without his Knowledge, by three of his People that took them in Short-Hand.] He was troubled at their taking that Method, becauſe he intended to have publiſhed them himſelf, more to Advantage.]

Ibid. p. 892.

Tradition.

Tradidi Vobis. Or the Traditionary Conveyance of Faith, cleared in a rational Way.

Lond. 1662. 8^{vo}.

Sir Rich. Baker's Vindication of Plays.

Theatrum Redivivum. Or the Theatre vindicated. In Anſwer to Mr. Will. Prynne's Hiſtrio-Maſtix. By Sir Richard Baker, Knight. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 35.]

Ibid.

Dr. Featley's Defence of the thirty nine Articles.

The Doctrine of the Church of England maintained: In a Juſtification of the Thirty Nine Articles of the Church of England, againſt Papiſts and Schiſmaticks, &c. By the late Divine Daniel Featley, D. D.

Lond. 1662. 4^{to}.

The dangerous Doctrines and Poſitions of the late Teachers:

Evangelium Armatum. A Specimen or ſhort Collection of ſeveral Doctrines and Poſitions deſtructive to our Government both Civil and Eccleſiaſtical; preached and vented by the known Leaders and Abettors of the pretended Reformation, ſuch as

Mr. Calamy,	Mr. Baxter,
Mr. Jenkyns,	Mr. Marſhall,
Mr. Caſe,	Mr. Caryll, and others.

London, Printed for Will. Garret, 1663. 4^{to}. p. 59.

The Preface to the Reader.

With a Preface of the ſeaſonable Publication of them.

At this notable Seaſon and great Criſis both of Church and State, in which Parties are ſo high, Factions ſo reſtleſs, and Diſcontents ſo general; I know none ſo likely a Means to re-ſettle and confirm our ſhaking Fabrick, as to diſabuſe the People, and to redeem their Underſtandings from a Captivity to thoſe Guides, who have preached and lectured them into theſe Miſeries and Confuſions. —— It was no other than a blind and furious Opinion of the extraordinary Piety of thoſe Teachers who pretending a more intimate Acquaintance with God, and immediate Poſſeſſion by his Spirit, as Plenipotentiary Commiſſioners and Ambaſſadours from Almighty God, animated the People to the late Rebellion. And ſtill they endeavour to captivate their Pity by a bold and impudent Inſinuation of theſe two Things; that they are the People of God, and that they are a perſecuted People, &c.

Suppoſed to be done by Dr. Thomas Pierce.

Declaration in Scotland.

A Declaration ſet forth by the Lords of his Majeſty's Privy-Council in Scotland concerning Eccleſiaſtical Affairs in that Kingdom. Given at Edinburgh the twenty third Day of December one thouſand ſix hundred ſixty and two Years.

Printed in the Publick Intelligence by Authority, 4^{to}. N°. 5.

Mr. Oldeſworth's Holy Royaliſt.

The Holy Royaliſt. Or the ſecret Diſcontents of Church and Kingdom reduced unto Self-Denial, Moderation, and Thankfulneſs. By Giles Oldſworth Rector of Bourton on the Hill in Glouceſterſhire. [A Second Edition had another Title.] The Stone rolled away, and Life more abundant. An Apology urging Self-Denial, New Obedience, Faith, and Thankfulneſs.

Imprimatur, Geo. Stradling.
Ex Æd. Sab. Dec. 20, 1662.

Lond. 1663. 4^{to}. See Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. col. 737.

Epiſt. Ded. to the King.

Epiſt. Ded. To the Sacred Majeſty of Charles the Second.

Dread Sovereign,

At ſundry Times and in great Deliverances, the Lord hath already ſaid unto your Majeſty, Let not your Heart be troubled: Believe in God, believe alſo in me, &c.

Collection of Precedents in Law, by J. H.

The young Clerk's Tutour: Being a moſt uſeful Collection of the beſt Precedents of Recognizances, Obligations, with all Sorts of Conditions, Acquittances, Bills of Sale, Warrants of Attorney, &c. As alſo the Names of Men and Women in Latin, their Terminations in the proper Caſes, the Days of Date, and the ſeveral Sums of Money. Together with the Directions of Writs, the ſeveral Trades and Employments, and the Returns of the Terms, &c. By J. H. of Staple Inne.

London, ſold by Robert Crofts, 1662, 8vo.

Hudibras.

Hudibras. A Poem. A true and perfect Edition, printed by the Author's Original.

Sold by Rich. Merriot, 1662. 8vo.

Mr. White of wandring Thoughts.

A Treatiſe of blaſphemous and other wand'ring Thoughts: Their Kinds and Cures. By Thomas White, LL. D. late Lecturer in London.

See Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 20.

Mr. Breviter*'s Sermons.*

The Mighty Chriſt the Saints Help. Being the Subſtance of ſome Sermons preached at North Walſham in the County of Norfolk, upon Pſalm lxxxix. 19. By Richard Breviter Miniſter of the Goſpel, M. A. [See Dr. Calamy's Continuation, p. 631.]

1662, 8vo.

Voyage to Behgal.

Glanius his Voyage into the Kingdom of Bengall.

London, 1662, 8vo.

Of draining the Fens by William Dugdale.

The Hiſtory of Imbanking and Draining of divers Fens and Marſhes, both in Foreign Parts and in this Kingdom, and of the Improvement thereby. Extracted from Records, Manuſcripts, and other authentick Teſtimonies. Adorned with ſeveral Cuts. By William Dugdale.

London, 1662, Fol.

Account of this Book.

Mr. Will. Dugdale among other Works about his Hiſtorical Work of Imbanking and Draining the Fens and Marſhes, deduced out of publick Records and ancient Manuſcripts, at the Inſtance of the Lord Gorges and others, who were the principal Adventurers in that coſtly and laudable Undertaking, for Draining the Great Level, extending into a conſiderable Part of the Counties of Cambridge, Huntingdon, Northampton, Norfolk, and Suffolk. This Book was adorned with ſeveral exact Maps of the Parts and Places ſo drained, and was publiſhed in 1662. Fol.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 697.

Mr. Oldeſworth*'s Viſitation Sermon.*

A Viſitation Sermon preached at Camden in Glocesterſhire, on 2 Cor. vii. 1. By Giles Oldeſworth, Rector of Bourton on the Hill in Glocesterſhire.

London. 1662, 4to.

Scarron*'s Novels in* Engliſh.

Three Novels written by Monſieur Scarron, formerly publiſhed 1657. now re-printed. To which are added, four other Novels of the ſame Writer M. Scarron. Tranſlated by John Davies, Eſq;

London, 1662. 8vo.

A Political Sermon by Mr. Sam. Shaw.

A Receipt for the State Palſy. Or a Direction for the Government of the Nation. A Sermon from Prov. xxv. 5. By Samuel Shaw Miniſter of the Goſpel. [See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 436.]

Lond. 1660.

A Sermon of Charity by the ſame Preacher.

By the ſame Author, —— Samuel in Sackcloth. A Sermon from 1 Sam. xv. 35. Aſſaying to reſtrain our bitter Animoſities, and commending a Spirit of Moderation, and a right Conſtitution of Soul, and Behaviour towards our Brethren.

Lond. 1660.

Some Books and Papers omitted under the Years 1660, 1661.

Mr. Tho. Douglaſs Myſtery of Godlineſs.
The Author has an ill Character given him, even by Dr. Calamy*'s Account, p.* 33. who tells us he wrote the Book call'd Jerubbaal; and was alſo the Author of the ſober Teſtimony againſt ſinful Compliance; in Defence of which Jerubbaal was written.. And this appears by the Preface at the End of which he writes himſelf M. A.
Mr. Newcourt had no Reaſon to mention him among the Incumbents of St. Olave*'s* Silver-ſtreet; becauſe he came not in by Law.

ΘΕΑΝΘΡΩΠΟΣ. Or the Great Myſtery of Godlineſs opened by Way of Antidote againſt the great Myſtery of Iniquity (now a Work in the Romiſh Church) in a ſound and ſeaſonable Treatiſe; wherein, I. The Incarnation of the Son of God (and Evangelical Love, Wiſdom, Humility, &c. expreſſed in that Contrivance) is fully explicated and diſplayed. II. Ceremonies in Point of Divine Worſhip are concluded to be by Chriſt (the true Meſſiah) abrogated; and examined whether they are not ſince Chriſt, Jewiſh, Antichriſtian, where the Jew and Judaizing Chriſtian are deſervedly taxed. III. Chriſtian Liberty with its eight Steps and five Boundaries is modeſtly and briefly aſſerted: And many other Matters of Conſequence and Moment are imparted: But now publiſhed for Vindication of the Truth and its Aſſerter. By Thomas Douglas, M. A. Miniſter of the Goſpel at Olave's Silver-ſtreet, London.

Printed for H. C. and T. P. 1661. 4to.

An Epiſtle Premonitory, —— Concluding.] —— My Suit is to thee (worthy Reader) 1. That thou wouldſt forbear to tax me further, 'till thou haſt read me thorough, and then I hope thou wouldſt not tax thy Forbearance. And, 2. Pray for him who is thy Servant in and for Chriſt,

T. D.

Funeral Sermon for Mr. William Adams a great Benefactor, by Dr. Tho. Horton, —— Son of Laur. Horton, Citizen of London, born in that City, bred in Emmanuel Coll. Cambr. of which he became Fellow, and a noted Tutour to young Preſbyterian Scholars, among whom was Dr. John Wallis, &c. See Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 100.

The Unrighteous Mammon exchanged for the true Riches: Or a Sermon preached at the Funeral of William Adams, Eſq; in the Pariſh-Church of St. Lawrence Jewry, on Tueſday Sept. 3, 1661. By Thomas Horton, D. D.

London, for John Clark, 1661, 4to.

Epiſt. Ded. To the right Worſhipful the Maſter, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants of the Company of Haberdaſhers in London, —— who are made the Truſtees for that Bounty which this worthy Citizen and Brother of your Company now lately deceaſed hath left behind him.

Mr. Edward Bagſhaw*'s ſecond Part againſt obeying in Things indifferent becauſe unlawfully impoſed.*

The Second Part of the great Queſtion concerning Things indifferent in Religious Worſhip briefly ſtated, and tendred to the Conſideration of all conſcientious ſober Men. By the ſame Author. [i. e. Edward Bagſhaw of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. who had publiſhed the firſt Part 1660. 4to.]

London, printed in the Year 1661, 4to.

The Author was indeed a contentious Man, and had ſhew'd that Spirit in his Studentſhip at Chriſt-Church, in his Uſher's Place at Weſtminſter, and in his Vicarage of Amerſden, and even in the Family of the Lord Angleſey, and in Ireland; and was at laſt as angry with Mr. Baxter, as with any of the Biſhops.

The Preface.

—— About deviſed and unneceſſary Ceremonies there are two Queſtions at this Day more hotly diſputed than ever: The one is, Whether they may be lawfully impoſed? The other is, Whether when they are impoſed they may be lawfully obſerved? The firſt of theſe I have already handled; the ſecond is the Subject of this preſent Diſcourſe. —— Since the leaſt Evil may not be done to obtain the greateſt Good, and ſince our Lord Chriſt hath ſufficient Power to propagate his Goſpel without our Sin; it is to be feared that at the laſt Day he will not accept this as a ſufficient Anſwer, that we mingled his Worſhip with the otherwiſe unlawful Commands of Men, merely to obtain our Liberty of Preaching, ſince he can make our Suffering for his Truth to be as effectual a Means for the Converſion of others as our open and free declaring it. As the Apoſtle Paul confeſſes that his Bonds did beget many to the Faith of Chriſt. I wiſh therefore that too many do not indulge themſelves a dangerous Latitude, not ſo much to preſerve their Miniſtry, as to retain their Maintenance; and ſo to their Sin of Compliance add a ſecret Diſtruſt of God's Providence, &c.

Chriſt-Church September 10, 1661.

EDW. BAGSHAW.

Mr. E. Bagſhaw's Diſcourſe of Chriſt and Antichriſt, and Reſurrection.

A Diſcourſe about Chriſt and Antichriſt. Or a Demonſtration that Jeſus is the Chriſt, from the Truth of his Predictions, eſpecially the Coming and the Seduction of Antichriſt. To which is added, A Treatiſe about the Reſurrection. By Edward Bagſhaw Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon.

Printed for Sim. Miller, 1661. 4to.

Dedicated to Sir Humphrey Wynche and John Brown, Eſq;

Inſigniſſimis & Fidei Chriſtianæ Studioſiſſimis Viris Humphredo Wynche Equiti & Baronetto, & Johanni Brown Armigero opellam hanc D. D. C. Q. Edwardus Bagſhaw. —— The Preface dated May 21, 1661.

Mr. Bagſhaw*'s further Animadverſions on the Biſhop of* Worceſter's Letter: With his Anſwer to all that Mr. Rog. L'Eſtrange intends to write, whom he Abuſes in rudeſt Manners, calling him Monſieur Le Friſque the Morrice-Dancer, a Fidler, Oliver's Fidler, a common Barreter, a mercenary Songſter, a whiſling Fellow, &c.

A Second Letter unto a Perſon of Honour and Quality, containing ſome farther Animadverſions upon the Biſhop of Worceſter's Letter. Together with a brief Anſwer unto all that one L. S. [R. L'Eſtrange] intends to write, dated Febr. 6, 1661. Subſcribed D. E. [i. e. Edward Bagſhaw] very bitter againſt L'Eſtrange —— a Perſon ſo loſt unto all good Breeding, of ſo forfeited, ſo undone a Reputation in Point of mere Morality, that for a Biſhop ſo much as to countenance him, is a Crime for which ſome Councils have pronounced an Anathema againſt. —— The Biſhop may as well ſet a Hog to play upon his Organs, or appoint a Scavenger to waſh his Surplice. —— For him [the Biſhop] now to ſuſpect his own Strength, and to entruſt Monſieur Le Friſque the Morrice-Dancer to undertake his Quarrel, to chuſe one for his Champion who hath been a Fidler in all Governments, and would have been a Fidler to the worſt of them (for which End he knows how many pitiful Legs and Faces he made to ſcrape Acquaintance with the Tyrant Oliver) —— this common Barreter, this mercenary Songſter, —— a whiſling and thin-ſoul'd Adverſary.

London, 1662. 4to.

And treats his other Anſwerer J. C. M. D. with the utmoſt Scorn and Contempt.

Poſtſcript. I have juſt now received an elaborate Piece, written by one that ſtyles himſelf J. C. M. D. a Man very well read in the modern Fathers, and of ſo elegant and facete a Style, that I am ſorry all the Places in Gotham-College are full, for this Man will be an excellent Preſident of it. I hope the Biſhop will be ſo charitable as to provide a Sine-Cure for him, for his Employment in Phyſick will never be able to maintain him in Books and clean Linnen elſe: I wiſh neither he may never want ſuch able Champions, nor they befitting Penſions.

Hiſtory of Civil Wars.

The Hiſtory of the Civil Wars of Great-Britain and Ireland. — London 1661. fol.

Tutour to Aſtrology.

The Tutour to Aſtrology. With an Ephemeris for the Year 1662. — Lond 1662. 8vo.

French Diſeaſe.

Bunworth, of the French Diſeaſe. — Ibid.

Tumours.

Tractatus de Tumoribus, &c. Autore Roberto Buyfield.

Drayton's Polyolbion, a new Edition.

Polyolbion, Great-Britain. By Michael Drayton, Eſq; With a Preface from the Author of the Illuſtrations and Notes, John Selden, Eſq; And Sculptures to each of the eighteen Songs. — Lond. 1662. Fol.

Reformation of Schools.

A Diſcourſe of the Reformation of Schools. By John Amos Comenius. — Lond. 1662. 4to.

Mr. Spencer*'s Thankſgiving Sermon at* Cambridge.

The Righteous Ruler. A Sermon preached at St. Mary's in Cambridge, June 28, 1660. Being appointed a Day of publick Thankſgiving to God for the happy Reſtauration of his Majeſty to his Kingdoms. By John Spencer, B. D. Fellow of Corpus-Chriſti College in Cambridge.

Printed by John Field, Cambr. 1660. 4to.

To the Reader. —— God hath not only furniſhed us with an Occaſion but an Ability to rejoice: The Joy of his Majeſty's Entrance to his Kingdoms being aſſiſted by the three national Bleſſings, Plenty, Peace, Health, rarely in Conjunction obſerved to grace the Inauguration of our Engliſh Kings. —— Dated Cambridge July 28, 1660.

Text. Prov. xxix. 2. When the Righteous are in Authority, the People rejoice.

Commendation of the King, eſpecially for his Conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion.

P. 34. A ſmall Meaſure of Charity will warrant us to ſtyle his Majeſty religiouſly Righteous: For that can be ſaid of him, which can of no Prince in the World beſides, that he hath Evils enough to diſcover and improve his Virtues, and Enemies (under Freedom and Malice too much) to report and greaten his Vices, if he had been chargeable with any. —— Who obſerveth not his Conſtancy in Religion? All his Injuries from Enemies could not conquer his Charity; all the Difficulties he beheld between himſelf and his Throne tire out his Hope, nor yet any Temptations from Rome ſtagger his Faith, &c.

Memoirs of the Duke of Rohan.

Memoirs of the Duke of Rohan in France. Engliſhed by George Bridges. — Lond. 1660. 8vo.

Pricæus in Novum Teſtamentum.

D. Joannis Pricæi Commentarii in varios Novi Teſtamenti Libros. — Londini, 1660. Fol.

December 1662.		14 Car. II.
	A Book of the Juſtices of Peace: With the Proceſs of the Seſſions to be held by them.
Gadbury's Royal Star.	Britain's Royal Star diſcovered, &c. By John Gadbury, Philomath.	Lond. 1660. 4to.
Atwell's Defence of Aſtrology.	Mr. Atwell's Defence of the noble Science of Aſtrology, &c.
Catalogue of Plants.	Catalogus Plantarum circa Cantabrigiam, &c.	Cantabrig. 1660. 8vo.
Greek Lexicon.	Gulielmi du Gard Lexicon Græci Teſtamenti Alphabeticum de novo contextum.	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Life of St. Anthony of Padua.	The Life and Miracles of St. Anthony of Padua. [Said to be printed at Paris, more likely at London.]	1660. 8vo.
Thomæ Jones Proluſiones.	Thomæ Jones Proluſiones Academicæ. [Vide Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. Col. 532.]	Oxon. 1660. 8vo.
The Life of Dr. Thauler, a German Dominican myſtical Divine. The late Engliſh Enthuſiaſm was borrowed from the Popiſh Monks and Friars, great Pretenders to the Spirit, &c.	The Hiſtory of the Life and Doctrines of Dr. John Thauler. [A famous myſtical Divine, born in Germany, lived in the fourteenth Century, of St. Dominick's Order, ſaid to be inſpir'd, and called the Illuminated Divine. He died at Cologn, where his Tomb remains. His Principles are thus repreſented by a modern Divine in his Theologia Germanica. That the Soul of Man by the Mortification of Paſſion and Vice, by the Practice of Virtue; by diſengaging from the World, and Self-denial; by renouncing her Inclinations and Appetites, and bidding adieu to all created Satisfactions; by this Method of Diſcipline and Diſengagement, the Soul may return to its own Centre, and innermoſt Receſs, in queſt of the Deity; and here ſhe is ſo happy at laſt, as to find God Almighty; for here he diſcovers himſelf by the Birth of his Divine Word, and by the Illapſes of his Holy Spirit. And thus the Soul by a continual Introverſion of her Faculties, keeps herſelf in this Privilege of more immediate Communication with Heaven; and being in this Abſtraction and Receſs, ſhe continues rightly qualified for the Divine Impreſſions.]	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Roger Coke, Eſq; againſt Tho. White, Tho. Hobbes and Hug. Grotius.	Juſtice vindicated againſt ſome late Writers, viz. Thomas White, Thomas Hobbes and Hugo Grotius. By Roger Coke, Eſq;	Ibid.
Guillim's Heraldry. Account of the Book by Mr. A. Wood.	The Diſplay of Heraldry, collected by John Guillim: And enlarged by Francis Nower. [It was firſt publiſhed at London 1610. Fol. The true Author was Mr. John Barcham, Chaplain to Archbiſhop Bancroft and Dean of Bocking, who having compoſed it moſtly in his younger Years, deemed it too light a Subject for him to own; and therefore being well acquainted with John Guillim an Officer of Arms, he gave him the Copy, who adding ſome trivial Things to it, publiſhed it, with Leave from the Author, under his own Name, and it goeth this Day under the Name of Guillim's Heraldry.]	Lond. 1660. Fol. Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 910.
Amyraldus of Religion.	A Treatiſe concerning Religion. By the learned Moſes Amyraldus. Tranſlated into Engliſh.	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Dr. Smith's Pourtraicture of Old Age. The Circulation of the Blood known to King Solomon.	The Pourtraicture of Old Age. Wherein is contained a ſacred Anatomy both of Soul and Body; and a perfect Account of the Infirmities of Age incident to them both. Being a Paraphraſe upon the ſix former Verſes of the twelfth Chapter of the Eccleſiaſtes. By John Smith, M. D. [A Philoſophical Diſcourſe, though upon a ſacred Theme; and therein is to be met with an ingenious Obſervation concerning the Antiquity of the Doctrine of the Blood's Circulation. This learned Doctor died in his Houſe at Great St. Helen's in London in October or November 1679. and was there buried in the Church. In the Preface to the Reader are theſe Words; —— It is here clearly demonſtrated, that Solomon perfectly knew, and as plainly as his figurative Method would give Leave, deſcribed the circular Motion of the Blood. —— And in the Book, p. 245. he proves the Agreement of King Solomon and Dr. Harvey.]	Ibid. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 475.
Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy.	The Anatomy of Melancholy, &c. By Democritus junior, i. e. Robert Burton Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. [There were many Editions, to the great Profit of the Bookſeller, who got an Eſtate by it. Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. Col. 535.]	Lond. 1660. Fol.
Serious Romance.	Aretina. Or the ſerious Romance.	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Ball of Divine Meditation.	A Treatiſe of Divine Meditation. Written by the learned John Ball Curate of Whitmore in Shropſhire: Publiſhed by Simeon Aſhe Miniſter of St. Auſtin's in London. [See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. Col. 543.]	Lond. 1660. 12°.
Fun. Sermon for Mrs. Foot.	A Sermon preached at the Funeral of Mrs. Hellen Foot, Wife of Samuel Foot, Eſq; in Aldermanbury Church in London. By Francis Warham, M. A. Miniſter of the Goſpel. [See Dr. Calamy's Continuation of Account, p. 613.]	Lond. 1661. 4to.
Wilſon's Chriſtian Dictionary.	Mr. Wilſon's compleat Chriſtian Dictionary under Scriptural Heads, &c.	Lond. 1661. Fol.
Draining of Bedford Level.	A Relation concerning the Buſineſs of Bedford Level, and the Undertakers for the Draining of it.	Lond. 1661. 4to.
Gadbury's Examination of Hen. Jeſſey.	The Examination of Henry Jeſſey, taken and publiſhed by John Gadbury.	Ibid.
Edmundſon's Homonyma, &c.	Homonyma & Synomyna Linguæ Latinæ conjuncta & diſtincta. Autore Henrico Edmundſon. [See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 236. laſt Edit.]	Oxon. 1661. 8vo.
Treaſury of Promiſes.	A rich Treaſury for the Promiſes: Being the Subſtance of certain Sermons on Micah vii. 19. By the ſame Author.	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Dr. Hen. Hammond againſt the Diſpatcher diſpatched.	A brief Account of a Suggeſtion againſt the Diſpatcher diſpatched; or an Examination of the Romaniſts Rejoinder to Dr. Hammond's Replies. By Henry Hammond, D. D.	Lond. 1660. 4to.
	The daily Practice of Piety. With Devotions and Prayers in Time of Captivity. By Henry Hammond, D. D. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 161.]	Lond. 1660. 8vo.
Mr. Terry's Character of King Charles II.	The Character of King Charles the Second, with a ſhort Apology before it: An Introduction to it: A Concluſion after it. By Edward Terry, M. A. Rector of Great Greenford in Eſſex. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 165.]	Lond. 1660. 4to.

Speculum

December 1662.	Speculum Speculatum. Or a conſidering Glaſs: Being an Inſpection into the preſent and late ſad Conditions of theſe Nations. By George Withers. A Poem.	14 Car. II.
Mr. Prynne's Memento reprinted.	A brief Memento to the preſent unparliamentary Juncto, touching their preſent Intentions and Proceedings to depoſe and execute King Charles. Written Jan. 1, 1648. Printed 1649, 4to. By William Prynne.	Reprinted London, 1660, 4to.
His Queries to the Rump reprinted.	Conſcientious, ſerious, theological, and legal Queries, propounded to the twice Diſſipated, Self-Created, Anti-Parliamentary Weſtminſter-Juncto, and its Members; to convince them of, and humble them for their Sins, &c. Publiſhed in December 1659. and now Reprinted. By William Prynne, Eſq;	London, 1660. in ſix Sheets and a half, 4to.
His Caſe of the ſecluded Members.	The Caſe of the old ſecured, ſecluded, and twice excluded Members, briefly and truly ſtated, for their own Vindication, &c. By William Prynne, Eſq; Publiſhed in Decemb. 1659. and now reprinted.	London, 1660, one Sheet, 4to.
Indictment of Colonel Alvred, Colonel Okey, &c.	A Copy of the Preſentment and Indictment found and exhibited by the Grand Jury of Middleſex on the laſt Day of Hilary Term 1659. againſt Colonel Matthew Alvred, Colonel John Okey, and others, for aſſaulting and keeping Sir Gilbert Gerrard (and other Members) by Force of Arms out of the Commons Houſe of Parliament, on the 27th of December 1659.	London, 1660, 4to.
Mr. Archdeacon Riland's Aſſize Sermon.	Dooms-Day Book opened. An Aſſize Sermon preached at Warwick on Revel. xx. 12. By John Riland, M. A. Archdeacon of Coventry.	London, 1660, 4to.
Mr. Hinkley's Funeral Sermon for Mr. George Purefoy.	A Sermon preached at the Funeral of George Purefoy the elder, of Wadley in Berks, Eſq; who was buried by his Anceſtors at Drayton in Leiceſterſhire, Apr. 21, 1661. on Gen. xxv. 8. By John Hinkley, M. A.	London, 1661, 4to.
Dr. Parr of Chriſtian Reformation.	Chriſtian Reformation. Being an earneſt Perſuaſion to the ſpeedy Practice of it. Propoſed to all, but eſpecially deſigned for the ſerious Conſideration of his dear Kindred and Countreymen of the County of Cork in Ireland, and the People of Ryegate and Camerwell in Surrey. By Richard Parr, D. D. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 880. 2d Edit.]	London, 1660, 8vo.
Heydon's Idea of the Law.	The Idea of the Law characterized from Moſes to King Charles II, &c, By John Heydon, Gent. [A great Pretender to the Roſa-Crucian Phyſick. In the Preface to which, he with great Boldneſs tells the Reader, that Mr. Elias Aſhmole had made publick a Book called the Way to Bliſs; being a learned Treatiſe of the Philoſopher's Stone, in three Books, very deficient and imperfect, for that which himſelf had publiſhed had four Books.]	London, 1660. 8vo. Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 891 ſecond Edit.
Mr. Hickman's Libel againſt Archbiſhop Laud.	Laudenſium Apoſtaſia: Or a Dialogue in which is ſhewn, that ſome Divines riſen up in our Church ſince the Greatneſs of the late Archbiſhop are in ſundry Points of great Moment quite fallen off from the Doctrine received in the Church of England. By Henry Hickman, B. D. Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford. [A Character of which Book given by Stephen le Moyne, one of the ordinary Preachers to the reformed Congregation of Roan, written in a Letter to Daniel Brevint the ſame Year that that Book came out, you may ſee in Dr. Durell's Book entituled, Vindiciæ S. Eccleſ. Angl. &c. cap, 12. p. 100.]	London, 1660, 4to. Athen. Oxon Vol. II, c. 895 ſecond Edit.
Cleopatra Romance.	Hymen's Præludia. The eleventh and twelfth Parts of the ſo much admired Romance, entituled Cleopatra. Done into Engliſh by John Davies of Kidwelly, Eſq;	London, 1660, Fol.
Evelyn's Panegyrick on the King.	A Panegyric on his Majeſty King Charles the Second his Coronation. By John Evelyn, Eſq;	London, 1661, Fol.
His Tract of the Smoak of London.	Fumigerum. Or the Inconveniences of the Air and Smoak of London diſſipated. Together with ſome Remedies humbly propoſed. By John Evelyn, Eſq;	London, 1661, 4to.
P. Pett of Liberty of Conſcience.	A Diſcourſe concerning Liberty of Conſcience, &c. By R. T. [Being the two laſt Letters of Peter Pett; Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 1008. 2d Edit.]	1661, 8vo.
Sermon of Mr. Jo. Howes.	Real Comforts extracted from moral and ſpiritual Things, in a Sermon preached on 1 Theſſ. iv. 18. By John Howes, [who ſeems to have been educated in Emanuel College, Cambridge. See Athen Oxon. Vol. II. col. 1015. 2d Edit.]	London, 1660, 4to.
Comedy and Songs by Sir Robert Howard.	The blind Lady. A Comedy written by Sir Robert Howard. With Poems containing a Panegyrick to the King, and to General Monk. With other Songs and Sonnets. [Athen. Oxon. 2d Edit. Vol. II. col. 1018.]	London, 1660, 8vo.
His Tranſlation of the fourth Book of Virgil.	The fourth Book of Virgil. Of the Loves of Dido and Æneas. Tranſlated into Engliſh. By Sir Rob. Howard.	London, 1660, 8vo.
And of Statius his Achilles	P. Papinius Statius his Achilles, in five Books. With Annotations on each Book. By Sir Robert Howard.	London, 1660, 8vo.
Philips's prophetical Almanack.	Montelion: Or the prophetical Almanack for the Year 1660. Written by John Philips, [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 1119. 2d Edit.]	London, 1660, 8vo.
Mr. John Horne's Funeral Sermon for Mrs. Neave.	A Diſcourſe of the new Heavens and new Earth. At the Funeral of Mary the Wife of Philip Neave of Rockland in Norfolk, June 19, 1660. on 2 Pet. iii. 14, 15. By John Horne, Miniſter of the Goſpel. [See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 485.]	London, 1660, 4to.
His Tracts againſt the Quakers.	By the ſame Author. —— A fuller Diſcovery of the Quakers, 1660, 4to. — Quakers prov'd Deceivers, 1660, 4to. —— Truth's Triumph, &c, 1660. 4to. — The Reviewer review'd, &c. 1661, 4to. —— An Appeal, &c. 1662, 4to.
Inſtructions for a Library.	The Inſtructions of Gabriel Naudæus for the erecting a Library. Tranſlated into Engliſh.	London, 1661, 8vo.
Grobianus, &c.	Frederici Dedekindi Grobianus & Grobiana. Libri tres.	Londini, 1661, 8vo.
Dr. Rogers's Drollery.	The Horn exalted: Or Room for Cuckolds. By Dr. George Rogers. [This Perſon is mention'd as a Writer of Lincoln College in Oxford, in Wood's Athen. Oxon. laſt Edit. col. 997. but no mention of this Piece of Drollery.]	London, 1661, 8vo.
Of the Jeſuits.	An Account of the Jeſuits in their Life and Doctrine.
Grebner's Viſions.	Grebner's Viſions and Prophecies concerning England, Scotland and Ireland.	London, 1661, 8vo.

Hiſtorical Diſcourſes of the Inſurrections of Great-Britain and Ireland.

The Hiſtory of Eriander. A Romance. By John Burton, Gent.

Sir H. Wotton*'s Letters to Sir* E. Bacon.

Letters to Sir Edmund Bacon, &c. By Sir Henry Wotton, Knight. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. col. 532.]

London, 1661, 8vo.

Of Coffee.

A Character of Coffee and Coffee-Houſes. By M. P.

London, 1661, 8vo.

Proſodia Arabica.

Scientia Metrica & Rythmica. Seu Tractatus de Proſodia Arabica ex Authoribus probatiſſimis eruta. Autore Samuele Clarke Oxonienſi Architypographo.

Oxon. 1661, 8vo.

Twelve Wonders of the World: Set to Muſick.

The twelve Wonders of the World: Set and compoſed for the Viol de Gambo, the Lute, and the Voice to ſing the Verſe, &c. By John Maynard. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 335. a moſt admired Luteniſt at the famous School of St. Julian's in Hertfordſhire.

London, 1661, Fol.

Soul's Looking-Glaſs by E. Bury.

The Soul's Looking-Glaſs: Or a ſpiritual Touchſtone, whereby true Grace may be diſcovered from counterfeit. By Edward Bury, Miniſter of the Goſpel at Great-Bolas in Shropſhire.

London, 1660.

Short Catechiſm.

By the ſame Author — A ſhort Catechiſm containing the fundamental Points of Religion. [See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 560.]

Mr. Joſ. Swaffield*'s Sermons.*

Sermons on the Body of Death: Or a Diſcourſe concerning the Saint's Failings and Infirmities. By Joſeph Swaffield, Paſtor at Odſtocke in the County of Wilts. [Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 759.]

London, 1661, 12°.

Some Inſtances of Charity and Benefactions within the Year 1662.

In the Church of St. Mary*'s in* Oxford.

John Nixon of this City Alderman
Ended that Race he ſeventy three Years ran.
In April ſixty two, no Merits he Owned but Chriſt's, yet by it's Fruit the Tree
Is to be known: Twice twenty Free-School Boys
Immortalize his Name, and with leſs Noiſe
Far greater Bounties were diſpers'd unknown,
Except to Reapers where his Seed was ſown.
May many more this worthy Pattern eye,
A good fair Copy for Poſterity.

Lord Scudamore and Son James poſſeſſed of ſeveral Lands diſcharged from Tythes which they were deſirous to make tythable.

An Act for the Endowment of ſeveral Churches by the Lord Viſcount Scudamore of Sligo in the Realm of Ireland, 13, 14 Car. II. reciting that Sir John Scudamore Lord Viſcount Sligo and James Scudamore, Eſq; his Son and Heir in 1648. were ſeized of ſeveral Lands and Tenements diſcharged from the Payment of Tythes, and that they were minded and deſirous to reſtore the Tythes of the ſaid Premiſſes to the Church, and to make the ſaid Premiſſes ſubject and liable to the Payment of all and all manner of Tythes whatſoever, (the which by reaſon of the then Troubles in this Kingdom, they could not in Safety do in ſuch Manner as to anſwer the End they aimed at therein) they the ſaid Lord Viſcount Scudamore and James Scudamore in purſuance of ſuch their Purpoſe and Deſire, did then agree and promiſe to reſtore the ſaid Tythes of the ſaid Premiſſes unto the Church, and to charge the ſaid Premiſſes and every Part thereof with the Payment of all and all manner of Tythes whatſoever, ſo ſoon as the ſame might be lawfully and ſafely done, without Danger of being miſemployed or abuſed.—— And whereas alſo, all or the greateſt Part of the aforeſaid Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, lying in the County and City of Glouceſter, do lye within or near the Pariſh of Hempſteed aforeſaid, within which Pariſh there hath not been for many Years laſt paſt any Miniſter eſtabliſhed, nor any ſettled Maintenance for one, but the whole Tythes of all the reſt of the ſaid Pariſh are impropriate, and now are or lately were in the Hands of Henry Powle, Eſquire: And therefore the ſaid Viſcount Scudamore and James Scudamore do think the ſaid Pariſh Church of Hempſteed the fitteſt to be endowed with the ſaid Tythes of the ſaid Premiſſes, and are therefore willing and deſirous to endow the ſaid Church therewith accordingly, if the ſame may be effected; and in order thereunto the ſaid Lord Viſcount Scudamore hath for a valuable Sum of Money, procured the aforeſaid Henry Powle to grant and convey unto him the ſaid Lord Viſcount Scudamore and his Heirs for ever, all that the Church and Chancel, and Church-yard of Hempſteed aforeſaid, and all that the Meſſuages and Dwelling-Houſe called the Vicarage-Houſe, and that Room and Building thereunto adjoining, and all that Barn called the Parſonage-Barn, and that other Building called the Church-Houſe, and all the Back-Sides, Gardens, and Orchards to the ſaid Houſes belonging, and adjoining to the South-ſide of the Church-yard of Hempſteed aforeſaid: And alſo all that Parcel of Meadow-Ground or Paſture lying in Hempſteed-Moor, containing by Eſtimation half an Acre, together with all other Meſſuages being or reputed to be Part or Parcel of the impropriate Rectory of Hempſteed; and all his the ſaid Henry Powle's Portion of Tythes, Oblations and Obventions of what Sort or Quality ſoever, increaſing ariſing and renewing within the tytheable Places of the Pariſh of Hempſteed aforeſaid, (charged nevertheleſs with the whole Rent of forty Shillings, reſerved and payable unto the King's Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for and out of the impropriate Tythes of the ſaid Henry Powle in Hempſteed aforeſaid) together with the ſaid Henry Powle's Right and Claim of any Nomination or Preſentation of a Clerk unto the ſaid Church.

Printed in the Appendix of Mr. Gibſon*'s View of the Church of* Door, 4to. 1727.

And did then Promiſe to reſtore the ſaid Tythes to the Church.

No eſtabliſh'd Miniſter, or ſettled Maintenance for one at Hempſteed.

Wherefore they purchaſe of Henry Powle the Church, Chancel, Church-yard, Vicarage-Houſe, &c. in Hempſteed.

And the impropriate Rectory and Tythes, &c.

They are likewiſe deſirous to endow the Pariſh Church of Bredwardine.

And they the ſaid Lord Viſcount Scudamore and James Scudamore, are likewiſe willing and deſirous to endow the Pariſh Church of Bredwardine, in the County of Hereford, with the Tythes of the aforeſaid Meadow or Parcel of Paſture called Robert's-Croft, alias Home-Meadow, lying in the ſaid Pariſh of Bredwardine, and to grant and convey the ſaid Tythes of the ſaid Meadow or Parcel of Paſture unto the Vicar of the Pariſh Church of Bredwardine aforeſaid, and to his Succeſſors for ever.

And to endow the Pariſh Church of Little-Birch.

And alſo to endow the Pariſh Church of Little-Birch in the County of Hereford, with the Tythe of all the Wood and Wood-ground called Ayleſtone alias Addleſtone's Wood aforeſaid, lying in the Pariſhes of Little-Birch and Aconbury aforeſaid or one of them: And to grant and convey the Tythes of the ſaid Wood and Wood-Ground unto the Parſon of the ſaid Pariſh Church of Little-Birch aforeſaid, and his Succeſſors for ever.

And have erected, founded and endowed the Pariſh Church of Doore.

And whereas alſo the ſaid John Lord Scudamore, in or about the ſeventh Year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Charles the Firſt, by and with the Licence of the ſaid late King, hath erected and founded the Pariſh Church of Doore in the County of Hereford, and endowed the ſaid Pariſh Church and Parſon thereof and his Succeſſors with the Scite or Manor-Houſe of Doore aforeſaid, and certain Buildings, and the Garden thereunto belonging, and a certain Parcel of Land or Paſture called the Great Orchard, and certain Lands in the Conveyance thereof made by the ſaid Lord Viſcount unto the late Parſon of the ſaid Pariſh Church particularly mentioned, bounded and expreſſed: And alſo with the impropriate Rectory of the ſaid Pariſh Church of Doore, and with all Oblations and Profits to the ſaid Rectory of Doore belonging: And with all Tythes as well great as ſmall, predial and perſonal and mix'd, ariſing out of his the ſaid Lord Viſcount's Scite and Demeſne Lands of the late Monaſtery of Doore, and hath charged the ſame Scite and Demeſne Lands with the Payment of all and all manner of Tythes to the ſaid Parſon and his Succeſſors.

And have granted to the Vicar of Home-Lacy, the Chapel of Boulſton and Rectory of the Pariſh of Home-Lacy.

And hath alſo by and with the ſame Licence, given and granted to the Vicar of Home-Lacy in the County of Hereford, and his Succeſſors for ever, all that the Chapel of Boulſton and the Rectory of Home-Lacy aforeſaid, and all Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Tythes, Portions, Penſions, Oblations and Hereditaments whatſoever to the ſaid Chapel and Rectory or either of them belonging.

And to the Vicar of Boſbury the Tythes of the Demeſne Lands of the Manor of Spledon.

And hath alſo by and with the ſame Licence, charged the Demeſne Lands of the Manor of Spledon alias Temple-Court in the Pariſh of Boſbury in the County of Hereford, with the Payment of all leſſer Tythes whatſoever to the Vicar of the Pariſh Church of Boſbury aforeſaid, in the ſaid County of Hereford and his Succeſſors for ever.

This Act to confirm and ſettle all the ſaid Gifts and Endowments made to the ſaid ſeveral Churches.

And therefore for the more perfect abſolute Settlement and conveying of the aforeſaid Tythes and Premiſſes in Manner and Form, and to the Intents and Purpoſes before expreſſed; and to the Intent that the ſame may be accordingly enjoyed, and for the avoiding and removing of all Doubts and Queſtions which may hereafter ariſe concerning the ſame, they the Lord Viſcount Scudamore and James Scudamore do moſt humbly beſeech your Majeſty that it may be Enacted, and be it Enacted, —— that the ſaid Lord Viſcount Scudamore and his Heirs ſhall be for ever Patrons of the ſaid Church of Hempſteed —— and the Parſon ſhall enjoy the Endowment, —— and the Vicar of Bredwardine, —— and the Parſon of Little-Birch, —— and the Parſons of the Church of Doore, —— and the Vicar of the Pariſh Church of Home-Lacy, —— and the Vicar of the Pariſh Church of Boſbury, —— ſhall enjoy the reſpective Endowments, —— and all Rights and Privileges, &c. —— [Copia vera, 4. Maii 1662. examined then by the Record remaining in the Clerk of the Parliament's Office in Weſtminſter.

Witneſs my Hand,

JOHN SHEAPARD.

Ld. Scudamore's great Charity to the diſtreſſed Clergy:

And that at a Time when he had his Perſon committed to Priſon, ſome of his Houſes ruined by the Rebels, his Eſtates ſequeſtred, and his Goods and Chatels ſold. In ſhort, when beſides three Years and ten Months Impriſonment, which occaſioned his Lordſhip ſo great Sickneſs, as he very hardly ſurvived; he ſuffered in his Eſtate to the Value of thirty ſeven thouſand ſix hundred and ninety Pounds, [ſaith the reverend Mr. Gibſon.]

View of the Churches of Door, &c. 4to. p. 110.

Mr. Fuller in his Worthies of England, ſpeaks of the Lord Scudamore's Charity to the diſtreſſed Clergy whom he bountifully relieved. Amongſt theſe were ſome, not only of the higheſt Order and Dignity in the Church, but alſo of ſhining Characters in the learned State. Such were Dr. Wren and Dr. Bramhall, then Biſhops of Ely and Derry, Dean Fuller, and Dean King, Dr. Stern (afterwards Archbiſhop of York) Dr. Boughen, Dr. Swadlin, Mr. Thorndike and Mr. Stephens.

To Dr. Wren, who had formerly been his Dioceſan, his Lordſhip gave ſometimes fifty, ſometimes an hundred Pounds at once. To Dr. Stern Chaplain to his Friend Archbiſhop Laud, and Attendant upon him at his Martyrdom, he always allowed twenty Pounds a Year: The reſt being only occaſionally relieved by his Lordſhip, excepting Mr. Stephens, who never fail'd of his ten Pounds annual Charity from this nurſing Father of the Church, &c.

Mr. R. Farmer Benefactor to the Church and Town of Daventry.

Ex Cartis MSS. penes Epiſcop. Petriburg.

Richard Farmer, Gentleman, of the Town of Daventry in the County of Northampton, gave and ſettled in the Hands of Truſtees thirty Pounds per Ann. for ever, out of which twenty Pounds annual Rent Charge to the Miniſter or Curate of the Place, and ten Pounds yearly to the Poor of that Pariſh, to be paid in even Portions at Michaelmas and Lady-Day, by the Bailiff and three ſenior Burgeſſes of the ſaid Corporation.

John Sanderſon, Eſq; augmented the Vicarage of Little Addington Com. Northampt.

Ex Cartis MSS.

John Sanderſon, Eſq; Counſellor at Law, is ſaid to have given one Yard Land to be added to the Glebe of the Vicarage of Little-Addington in the County of Northampton; out of great Reſpect to the Church and Crown, for which he had been a great Sufferer. He was Patron of the ſaid Church, and preſented to it Nathaniel Hewſon, Clerk, inſtituted Vicar therein Feb. 6, 1662.

Dr.

Biſhop Reynolds built a new Chapel to his Palace in Norwich.

Dr. Edward Reynolds, Lord Biſhop of Norwich, built a new ſtrong and decent Chapel adjoining to his Palace at Norwich, for the Uſe and Service of the Domeſticks, wherein the Biſhop and his Succeſſor were interred.

Dr. Tho. Holbeech, a Benefactor to his Parochial and Cathedral Church.

Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings of the Clergy. Part* II. *p.*264.

Thomas Holbech, D. D. a ſequeſtred Divine, collated to the Prebend of Hoxton in the Church of Paul's, Aug. 23, 1660. and by the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul to the Rectory of St. Auſtin, London, Aug. 2, 1662. gave one hundred Pounds towards the Pewing his Pariſh Church, and one hundred Pounds towards the Repairing St. Paul's Cathedral.

Laſt Will of John Brown. Gent. deviſing ſeveral Gifts and Legacies to pious Uſes.

MS. Copy.

Laſt Will and Teſtament of John Brown of the County of Middleſex, Gent. —— I give and bequeath unto the Poor of White-Fryars where is moſt need, according to the Diſcretion of my Executors, with the Advice of Mr. Fenſham, five Pounds.

To the Hoſpitals of Chriſt-Church, Bridewell, and St. Thomas.

Item, I give and deviſe to the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London, Governors of the Poſſeſſions, Revenues and Goods of the Hoſpitals of Edward King of England the Sixth, of Chriſt, Bridewell, and St. Thomas Apoſtle, the Sum of 400*l.* of lawful Money of England to be by them yearly imployed and diſpoſed of, for the Education and bringing up of poor Children in Chriſt's Hoſpital aforeſaid. Upon Truſt and Confidence that the Governors aforeſaid and their Succeſſors, ſhall maintain three Children from Time to Time, until their reſpective Age of fifteen Years. And as any of them die, or attain the ſame Age, to take in others in the Rooms or Places of ſuch of them as ſhall ſo die, or attain the Age or Ages of fifteen Years. One of the Children to be out of the Precinct of White-Fryars, London, and one out of the Pariſh of St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt, London, and one out of the Lordſhip of Finſbury in the Pariſh of St. Giles without Cripplegate in the County of Middleſex. The Pariſhioners of the ſaid reſpective Pariſhes and Places giving Caution to the Governors aforeſaid and their Succeſſors, at their reſpective Admittances into the ſaid Hoſpital, to take them out at the ſaid Age of fifteen Years, if they be then living, and not otherwiſe diſpoſed of.

For the Maintenance of three Children in Chriſt*'s Hoſpital.*

To maintain ſix Scholars in Cambridge.

Item, I give and deviſe all that Meſſuage and Land, with the Appurtenances thereunto belonging or therewith uſed, in Iſlington in the County of Middleſex, commonly called or known by the Name and Sign of the Nags-Head, now in Leaſe to John Gregory at the yearly Rent of 60*l.* to the Governors aforeſaid, and to their Succeſſors for ever; upon Truſt and Confidence that they and their Succeſſors ſhall for ever hereafter pay, towards the Maintenance of ſix Scholars, to be taken out of the Children admitted into Chriſt's Hoſpital aforeſaid into the Univerſity of Cambridge, three in Chriſt's College, and three in Emanuel College; and my Will is, that none of the ſix Scholars ſhall continue any longer than ſeven Years. And my Will and Deſire is, that the Children of the ſeveral Pariſhes and Places aforeſaid to be taken into the ſaid Hoſpital, ſhall be from Time to Time preferred before any other, (if capable) to the Univerſity, and to the Allowance beforementioned.

In witneſs, &c. the 10th Day of October, the 14th of Charles the 2d, Annoque Domini 1662.

Dr. Tho. Turner a good Benefactor to Canterbury and St. Paul's.

Dr. Peter du Moulin*'s Funeral Sermon for Dr.* Turner, 1672, 4to.

Dr. Tho. Turner Dean of Canterbury and Reſidentiary of St. Paul's, advanced the Good of the Place whereſoever he preſided, whatever Toil, or Cenſure, or Money it coſt him. Of which he hath given magnificent Memorials to our Church and Library in Canterbury. It is memorable, that in Thankfulneſs for a great Deliverance from an imminent Danger, he vowed and dedicated to our holy Table that coſtly Folio Bible with Covers of beaten Silver double gilt. His Behaviour at Paul's hath given many ſignal Teſtimonies how much he preferred the Honour of God's Houſe, and the Benefit of the Society, before his private Emolument. The fair Houſe which he lately built there for his Succeſſors, having little Hope to enjoy it himſelf, and yet ſpent the better Part of a thouſand Pounds upon it, is a great Proof of that Truth, and a laſting Monument of his magnanimous and publick Spirit.

Mr. Du Gard to Sion College, London.

Reading*'s State of* Sion Library, p. 41.

William Du Gard Clerk, Maſter of Merchant-Taylor's School, London, gave by Will ſeveral Books to the Library of Sion College, Anno 1662.

Dean Barwick to his Pariſh Church in Therfield.

Engliſh Life of Dr. John Barwick, p. 332.

Dr. John Barwick gave a Communion Flagon of Silver to the Uſe of his Pariſhioners in the Church of Therfield Com. Hertford, with this dedicatory Inſcription upon it:

Deo Opt. Max.
Eccleſiæ de Therfield,
D. D.
Reverendus Vir Johannes Barwick,
Decanus } Eccleſiæ { Paulinæ.
Rector } { Therfieldianæ.
Tu ne deſpice Chriſte.

On the Lid of it is inſcrib'd:

Poculum Benedictionis cui benedicimus,
Nonne Communicatio ſanginis Chriſti eſt? 1 Cor. x. 16.

Dr. Vilvain to the City of Exeter.

Wood*'s Ath. Oxon. Vol.* II. col. 217.

Dr. Robert Vilvain, a moſt noted Phyſician and Writer, who was buried in the Cathedral Church of Exeter 1662. was a liberal Benefactor to two Hoſpitals for poor Children in that City; and in the Year 1633. gave thirty two Pounds per Ann. for four poor Scholars (each to have eight Pounds per Ann.) to come from that Free-School in the ſaid City, founded by Hugh Croſſing, Eſq; (ſome Time twice Mayor thereof) to Exeter College, or any Place elſe in Oxon. either College or Hall.

Mr. Webb to Wotton under Edge.

In the Pariſh Church of Wotton under Edge in Com. Glor. is a Marble Monument fixed in the Laſt Wall of the South Iſle, denoting, that Robert Webb, who gave by Will twenty ſix Pounds per Ann. to the Poor of that Town, died Jan. 14, 1662. ætat. 74. with this Anagram,

Robertus Webb,
O tu Rebus uber.

Mr. Ric. Samwell to Gayton and Upton.

Richard Samwell late of Gayton in the County of Northampton, Eſq; by his laſt Will dated Febr. 9, 1661. proved May 1, 1662. gave and bequeathed unto the Poor of the Pariſhes of Gayton and Upton five Pounds each, to be diſtributed amongſt them in ſuch manner and ſort as Frances Samwell his Wiſe, Executrix, ſhall think fit.

Ex Libr. Teſtament. MS.

Mr. Mat. Silleſbye to the Town of Northampton.

Matthew Silleſbye of Northampton, Gent. by his laſt Will and Teſtament bearing Date April 18, 1662. proved at London Febr. 19. following, gave and deviſed unto Salathiel Lovel, Eſq; George Norwood, Gent. and Lawrence Wollaſton, Gent. of the ſaid Town of Northampton, ſeveral Meſſuages, Orchard, Garden, and one Cloſe of Ground, in Order for them to convey the Fee Simple of the Premiſſes to the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Town, and to their Succeſſors for ever, to the Intent and Purpoſe that they ſhall fit and prepare the ſaid Meſſuage in the Horſe Market for the comfortable Habitation of two poor Widows or Widowers of good honeſt Life and Reputation, Natives of the ſaid Town of Northampton, and more-eſpecially of the Pariſh of All-Saints; to be elected and choſen by the Mayor and Aldermen for the Time being, or the major Part of them, and all the Rents, Iſſues, and Profits of other the ſaid Premiſſes to be by them equally divided between the ſaid two poor People for the Time being for ever.

Ibid. MS.

Mr. Jo. Evans to the ſaid Town of Northampton.

John Evans of Northampton, Sadler, deceaſed, had by his laſt Will dated Nov. 20, 1650. proved Decemb. 4. following, given and bequeathed unto the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Town of Northampton, and their Succeſſors for ever, the Sum of five hundred Pounds, that from and after the Expiration of thirty ſix Years they ſhould yearly for ever pay the Sum of thirty Pounds per Ann. for the placing out ſix poor Children of the ſaid Town of Northampton Apprentices, ſuch as they in their Diſcretions ſhould think fitteſt to be put forth.

Tho. Martin to the ſame Town of Northampton.

Thomas Martin of Northampton, Woollen-Draper, deceaſed, had by his laſt Will and Teſtament, dated the tenth Day of Auguſt 1644. and proved March 19, 1645. given and bequeathed to the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of the Town of Northampton all that his Cottage or Tenement ſituate in a Street there called St. Mary's-ſtreet, for ever, with this Proviſo, and for the Intent and Purpoſe that the Mayor for the Time being and Corporation there ſhall beſtow and employ the Rent coming and renewing yearly for four Sermons to be preached yearly in the Pariſh Church of All-Saints in the ſame Town of Northampton, viz. one of them upon the firſt Day of January, another upon the firſt Day of April, another upon the firſt Day of July, and the other upon the firſt Day of October; but when any of the ſame Days ſhall happen upon the Lord's-Day, that then the ſaid Sermon or Sermons ſhall be preached upon the Monday or Tueſday following, to be preached by ſuch ſound, able, and orthodox Miniſter or Miniſters as ſhall be procured and appointed by my ſaid Son Samuel during his Life, and after his Deceaſe by the right Worſhipful the Mayor of the Town of Northampton for the Time being, and by the Church-wardens of the Pariſh of All-Saints likewiſe for the Time being for ever.

Sir Francis Nicolls to All-hallows Church in Northampton.

Sir Francis Nicols late of Hardwick in the County of Northampton, Baronet, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, dated the ſecond Day of March 1641. proved January 29. following, had given a pious Legacy in theſe Words (Inter alia), Item, I give to the Curate of Allhallows Pariſh, for the Time being, ſix Pounds per Annum, to preach twelve Sermons in the Year to the Priſoners in the County Gaol there, becauſe it is not meet that when they cannot come to him, ſome ſhould not be procured to go to them, and if any of the aboveſaid Perſons fail in performing the Work, then ſo much of the Allowance to be deducted rateably as they ſhall ſo fail in for that Time only.

Mr. Ja. Adamſon to Teigh in Rutland.

James Adamſon of Teigh in the County of Rutland, Clerk, gave by Will, dated March 6, 1661. proved Decemb. 16, 1662. twenty Shillings to the Poor of that Pariſh, and forty or fifty Shillings at the Diſcretion of his Executrix to be beſtowed on a Chalice for the Communion, for the Uſe of the Church of Teigh aforeſaid.

Ex Libr. Teſtament. Petriburg.

Mr. Jo. Aldwinckle to Cottingham and Market-Harborough.

John Aldwinkle of Cottingham in the County of Northampton, Yeoman, by Will bearing Date the eleventh Day of April 1660. and proved Novemb. 16, 1661. gave to the Town of Market Harborough in the County of Leiceſter, the Sum of forty Shillings, to remain in Stock perpetually to buy Coals for the Poor there: And likewiſe ten Pounds to remain in a perpetual Stock for the Uſe of twelve of the pooreſt Widows, viz. eight of Cottingham and four of Middleton, the Uſe of which Money to be laid out in Bread, and diſtributed on every firſt Sunday in the Month for ever, at the Diſcretion of his Heirs, and the Miniſter and Church-wardens for the Time being for ever.

Ibid.

Alderman Adams to Newport in Shropſhire.

William Adams, Eſq; ſome Time called to the Place and Dignity of Alderman in London, a worthy Member of the right worſhipful Company of Haberdaſhers, and an ancient Inhabitant of the Pariſh of St. Lawrence Jewry, was buried there on Tueſd. Sept. 3, 1661. with a Funeral Sermon then preached by Dr. Tho. Horton,

London, for John Clark, 1661. 4to.

Horton, on Luke xvi. 9. printed and entitled, The Unrighteous Mammon exchanged for the true Riches. Or a Sermon preached at the Funeral of William Adams, Eſq; in the Pariſh Church of St. Lawrence Jewry, on Tueſday Septemb. 3, 1661. By Thomas Horton, D. D. who gave this large Account of his Benefactions:

P. 36.

Being a Batchelor, and having comfortably and plentifully provided for his own Relations, and ſhewn Piety at Home, his next Care was of the Publick, and doing Good Abroad: For which Purpoſe, after good and ſerious, and very private Advice taken with ſuch Friends as were fit to be conſulted in ſuch a Buſineſs, he pitched upon a Deſign of Founding a Free Grammar-School at Newport in the County of Salop, the Place of his Nativity, where he erected a large Fabrick, for the Teaching of fourſcore Scholars (gratis) born in the ſaid Town, or living within three Miles Compaſs thereabout. A large Library over the ſaid School; and alſo two fair Houſes thereunto adjoining for the two Schoolmaſters therein to inhabit; together with Gardens and Ground appertaining: He likewiſe ſettled Lands of about ten Pounds per Annum for the Teaching of Children in the Engliſh School, to fit them for the Latin Grammar School.

A Grammar-School.

A large Library.

Two Houſes for the two Maſters.

An Engliſh School.

Four Alms-Houſes.

He built four commodoius Alms-Houſes fronting the Court-yard of the ſaid School towards the Srreet, and likewiſe ſettled a yearly Maintenance upon the Miniſter of the ſaid Town, for the yearly Catechizing of the ſaid Scholars and other Youths.

Rxhibitions for four Scholars.

And four Apprentices.

He ſettled Exhibitions for the Maintenance of four poor Scholars of his Foundation at the Univerſity: And alſo yearly to cloath and put forth to be Apprentices four Youths to convenient Trades.

He made Proviſion for the conſtant Repairs of the ſaid School and Alms-Houſes, and for other Conveniencies belonging thereunto, all which in his Life-time he ſaw fully effected, and did himſelf amply endow with good Lands there adjacent. He obtained a Confirmation of the Settlement thereof, and of the prudent Statutes for the Government of the ſaid School by Acts of Parliament according to Law.

His good Works confirmed by Act of Parliament.

A Market-Houſe and Town-Hall.

He hath moreover taken Order, that after his Deceaſe there ſhould be built a fair Market-houſe with a Town-hall over it in the ſaid Town of Newport: For the effecting whereof he hath made ample Proviſion.

To Chriſt's Hoſpital.

To the Poor of St. Lawrence Jewry.

To poor Miniſters Widows.

To the Poor of the Haberdaſhers Company.

Furthermore, he hath by his laſt Will and Teſtament given unto Chriſt's-Hoſpital (where he was a Governour) an hundred and fifty Pounds. To the Poor and Pariſh of St. Lawrence Jewry (where he had lived for many Years) an hundred and twenty Pounds. To ten poor Miniſters Widows, five Pounds a-piece. To twenty poor Men of the Haberdaſhers Company, twenty Shillings a-piece, yearly, for ever. And to the ſame worthy Company (whereof himſelf had been an ancient Member) he left friendly Memorials of his Reſpect. In whom likewiſe he repoſed the Truſt of all his former Settlements, and made them the Viſitors and Overſeers thereof, with due Allowance for defraying the Charges concerning the ſame.

When the aforeſaid Schools were finiſhed and endowed, and two able and eminent Schoolmaſters ſettled therein, and the Scholars grown numerous, which was in a very ſhort Time; an Account coming to his Hands of thoſe great Hopes which the Viſitors and Schoolmaſters conceived of much Happineſs, that the Foundation promiſed both to preſent and future Ages, he with Tears uttered theſe Words, or to the like Effect:

The Comfort he had in doing Good.

That he had great Cauſe to bleſs God who had entruſted him with ſuch an Eſtate, but much greater Cauſe to bleſs him for giving him an Heart to diſpoſe it in a Way that might conduce to God's Glory, and the Good of his Countrey.

And yet divided a good Eſtate among his Relations.

After all this his Coſt, Labour and Travel, which was great and of long Continuance, he hath, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, with ſo much Wiſdom, Love, and Impartiality, bequeathed a very fair Eſtate among all his Relations and other Friends, as that it is believed there's not one of them but reſts abundantly and thankfully ſatisfied. There's many a Man that in dividing his Eſtate divides alſo his Friends, whom he divides that Eſtate unto, and does not make Friends but Enemies of the Mammon of Unrighteouſneſs. But it was his Happineſs to do the quite contrary, he did not hereby divide his Friends but rather unite them; and not only make them Friends to himſelf, but alſo one to another.

God bleſſed him with a long Life, which in itſelf is a great Bleſſing, and accordingly both to be accounted and improved; he was an old Man and full of Days, about fourſcore Years of Age, and (which made it ſo much the longer) free from thoſe Infirmities which old Age is ſubject unto, and oftentimes incumber'd withal, God making good that Promiſe to him, which is conditionally made to a good and righteous Perſon; Job v. 26. Thou ſhalt come to thy Grave in a full Age, like as a Shock of Corn cometh in its Seaſon.

To Caius College in Cambridge by Dr. Thomas Bachcroft.

Ex MS. J. Goſlin, M. D.

Hoc Anno 1662. D. [Thomas] Bachcroft, S. S. Theol. Doctor bis Coll. Cuſtos, licet poſtremo pro forma tantum (uti videbatur) electus, Vir Integer Vitæ ſceleriſque purus, ad Collegii (dum vixerit) Negotia Summa cum Induſtria & Fidelitate natus factus & inſtitutus peragenda, apud Wangfordiam Villam parvulam in Agro Norf. Amicis & Affinibus undiq; conſtipatus, ſenio quaſi confectus obiit: Qui Dives opum moriens procul omni dubio Collegii Theſaurum admodum locupletaſſet, niſi a quibuſdam male feriatis ſui Temporis Sociis peſſime tractatus, & a Cuſtodis Officio ejectus fuiſſet (verum cur ipſum Collegium Delinquentium quorundam Sociorum pœnas lueret nondum niſi de facto conſtat quod ſane certiſſime evenit.) Siquidem niſi duos Paſturæ clauſos (quos gratiſſimi interim accepimus) in Milton juxta Cantabr. jacentes, Collegio legavit, quorum reditus annuatim ad novem tantum Libras Sterlinas extenditur, quarum quatuor Prælectori Hebraico, totidem Græco, altera Coll. Theſauro ſecundum ipſius Voluntatem enumerantur. In Animo autem habuit, dum primo inter nos Cuſtodis Officio fungebatur, Juniorum Sociorum ſtipendia curta nimis & anguſta adeo ampliaſſe, ut ad Vitæ ſaltem Modeſtæ neceſſaria comparanda ſufficerent: Verum ob rationem jam dictam, ſimul ac affinium Obſervantiam, quam in Exilio inter illos præſentiebat maximam, mutavit Sententiam, adeo ut non pauperes juniores, quin Divites affines, nepotes, & conſobrinos Hæredes conſtituit.

Locatio Impropriationum de Dilham & Honing in Com. Norf. jam expiratura ab Epiſcopo Elienſi pro viginti Annis proximo ſecuturis redintegrata fuit & renovata, cui ob finem (ut vocant Juriſtæ) Collegium quingentas Libras e Coll. Theſauro depromptas perſolvit: Cuſtode interim Sociiſq; ea de re decernentibus, quod nec Socius nec Scholares iſtius Fundationis denuo eligerentur, donec ab earum Impropriationum reditibus quingentæ Libræ Coll. ciſtæ ſint reſolutæ.

To the Cathedral Church of Lichfield.

Willis's Survey of Cathedrals, p. 375. 4^to^.

The Donors and Benefactors to the Repairing and Beautifying the Cathedral Church of Lichfield, under the pious Care and Conduct of Biſhop Hacket, have their Names put over each reſpective Stall, in Letters of Gold, as follow, with the Title of each Dignitary.

Several Benefactors had their Names put over the Stalls which they ſeverally built and beautified.

On the Right Hand of the Choir on the South Side.

Decanus, Gilbertus Archiep. Cantuar. F. F. i. e. fieri fecit.
Hanſacre, Thomas Comes Southampt. Theſaur. Angliæ F. F.
Biſhopſhall, Henricus Marchio Dorſetſhire F. F.
Pipa Minor, Arthur Comes Angleſey F. F.
Whittington, Henricus Comes Arlington Principal. Secretar. F. F.
Ulveton, Georgius Epiſcopus Winton. F. F.
Bolton, Johannes Baro Berkley F. F.
Offley, Honoratiſſ. Nich. Comes de Scarſdale F. F.

On each Side of the Quire.

The ten following middle Stalls belonging to the Vicars, Choral and Lay Officers of the Church, are thus inſcribed:

Johannes Aſhburnham Armig. F. F.
Georg. Carteret Vicecom. Eques Auratus F. F.
Edwardus Bagot Baronettus F. F.
Thomas Beverley Eques Aurat. & a Suplicibus Libell. F. F.
Gulielmus Boreman Eques Auratus F. F.
Prænobilis Gulielt Legg a Secretior. Cubil. Tribun. Mil. F. F.
Randolph Egerton Armig. Tribun. Milit. F. F.
Georgius Legg Armiger F. F.
Gualterus [forte Gulielmus] Walker Eques Auratus F. F.
Richardus Alleſtrey S. T. P. F. F.

Above theſe follow the other Prebendal Stalls on this Side.

Pipa Parva, Simon Degge Armig. F. F.
Wellington, Daniel Sheldon Armig. F. F.
Gaia Major, Edwardus Vernon Tribun. Milit. F. F.
Tachbrook, Johannes Pigot Armig. F. F.
Wolvey, Steph. Fox Eques Aurat. F. F.
Tervin, Rolandus ——— F. F.
Freford, prænobilis Vir Dom. Rob. Coke Eques Aurat. & Baronett. F. F.
D. Cancellarius, prænobilis Heros Dom. Rob. Digby Baro Geaſill in Hibernia, F. F

On the Left Hand, on the North Side, are theſe:

Precentor, Edwardus Comes Clarendon, Cancellarius Angl. F. F.
Longdon, Georgius Dux Albemarliæ F. F.
Weford, prænobilis Heros Theophilus Comes Huntingdon F. F.
Gaia Minor, Richardus Comes Dorſet F. F.
Eccleſhall, Edw. Vicecomes Conway F. F.
Ulveton, Richardus Comes Bridgwater F. F.
Sandiacre, Johannes Epiſcopus Dunelm. F. F.
Dorſet Parva, Geo. Baro Berkley F. F.

Then follow on the other Stalls, not aſſigned to Prebends.

Domina Maria Airmin Baronetta F. F.
Guil. Aſhburnham Tribun. Milit. F. F.
Tho. Trevor Baronettus F. F.
Brian Broughton Baronett. F. F.
Johannes Robinſon Baronett. Cuſtos Turris Lond. F. F.
Gualterus Chetwind Armig. F. F.
Gulielm. Venables, Filius Baronis de Kenderton Co. Cheſter F. F.
Gulielmus Chetwind de Rugeley Armig. F. F.
Francis Dive Armig. F. F.
Richard Buſby S. T. P. F. F.

Then follow the Prebend Stalls, viz.

Flixton, Samuel Gardiner S. T. P. F. F.
Bobenhall, Andreas Hacket Armig. F. F.
Ruiton, Henr. Srott Arm. F. F.
Colwich, Johannes Warner S. T. P. F. F.
Dornford, Richard Terrick Armig. F. F.

Stotfold, Digniſſ. Vir Johannes Sharp, in Curia Regis Cancellar. Practitionar. F. F.

Guiborough, i. e. Curborough, Tho. Wilmore Miles honoratiſſ. Ordinis de Balneo F. F.

D. Theſaurarius, Clariſſ. Vir Banaſter Maynard Hæres honoratiſſ. Gul. Maynard, Baron de Eſtaynes F. F.

Over the great South Door of the Church.

Hoſpes qui ingrederis hanc Eccleſiam, cupio te noſcere & celebrare Munificentiam illuſtriſſ. & pient. Heroinæ Dom. Catherin. Leweſon de Trentham, hujus Ædis cum miſere vaſtatæ Patronæ lubentiſſimæ & benigniſſimæ.

Over the Choir Entrance.

Vir inſignis D. Hen. Webb, Mercator Londin. ad Indos Oriental. Dioc. Lichf. Regiſtrarius, propylæum hoc impie dilaceratum ſuis ſolius impenſis reſtituit, atque ad majorem Dei Gloriam cultui ſacro aptum fieri curavit Anno Salutis reparat MDCLXXX. Semper ei ſit porta Chori Celeſtis aperta.

Benefaction of Mrs. Mary Brudenell to the Pariſh of Eaſton in the Dioceſt of Peterborough.

Regiſt Peterb.

Mrs. Mary Brudenel in this Year 1662. giveth unto the Inhabitants of Eaſton the Sum of five Pounds to buy them a Piece of Plate to be uſed at the Adminiſtration of the Sacrament, —— her Executor ſhall pay or cauſe to be paid into the Hands of the Miniſter and Church-wardens of Eaſton aforeſaid, at or before the Feaſt of St. John Baptiſt next enſuing, the Sum of ten Pounds, to be by them, their Succeſſors, and Aſſigns let out to Intereſt, and upon good Security, and the Increaſe thereof yearly coming to be paid and diſtributed amongſt the Poor of Eaſton aforeſaid, as the ſaid Miniſter and Church-wardens for the Time being ſhall think fit —— leaving her loving Unkle Mr. Thomas Tompſon ſole Executor.

Augmentation of the Vicarage of Standon Com. Hertford.

Chauncy Hertfordſh. p. 223.

Walter Lord Aſton of Standon Com. Hertſ. at the Inſtance and Requeſt of Anne Sadler, Relict of Ralph Sadler, Eſq; by Indenture dated April 21, 14 Car. II. did convey a fair Houſe with a Garden and Orchard to Sir Thomas Leventhorpe, Baronet, Sir Richard Atkins, Knight and Baronet, Sir Ralph Baaſh, Knight of the Bath, Sir John Wals; Knight, Sir John Gore, Knight, Sir Henry Cæſar, Knight, Sir Humphrey Gore, Knight, Richard Golſton, Eſq; Edward Gardiner, Eſq; and Henry Wilkinſon, Gent. to the Uſe of the Vicars of Standon for ever ſucceſſively, reſerving yearly two Pair of Kid-leather Gloves for the ſaid Walter Lord Aſton and his Heirs, to be paid at Chriſtmaſs every Year: Provided he be not preſented, or put in by Sequeſtration, or any other indirect Title; but be choſen by the Conſent of Anne Sadler and Lord Aſton, and their Heirs; with a Clauſe, that when the Number of Truſtees ſhall be reduced to four or three at the fartheſt, new Truſtees ſhall be choſen.

The generous Contributions of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, London, towards the Repair of that Church.

Engliſh Life of Dr. John Barwick, p. 319. 8vo.

They give the Rents of the Houſes lately built in St. Paul's Church-yard due and to become due to that pious Uſe.

And the Dean and each Reſidentiary five hundred Pounds out of their own Pockets.

The three Reſidentiaries beſides the Dean were Dr. Thomas Turner, Dr. John Hacket, and Dr. Edward Layfield.

The Dean remitted the third Part of a Fine to a Gentleman in Conſideration of his aſſiſting the King in his Exile with an hundred Pounds.

The Condition of the Church of St. Paul in London was ſo deplorable in the Ruins of the Fabrick as far exceeded the Abilities of the Chapter to repair, and required at this Time the Aſſiſtance not only of all the Clergy, but of all Orders of Men. —— However, they who adminiſtred the Affairs of this Church look'd upon it as their Duty eſpecially, more than others, according to their ſeveral Abilities, and in Proportion to what every one had received from the Church Revenues, to ſet others an Example of Munificence. Theſe, together with the Dean, are four, having each an equal Dividend with him of the common Income of the Church. They compaſſionating (as was but meet) the diſmal Eſtate of the Fabrick, did not only by an unanimous Order of Cha[illegible] appoint all the Rents of the Houſes lately built in St. Paul's Church-yard, bo[illegible] then due, and afterwards as they ſhall become due, to be ſet a-part for the Repairs of it, but every one of them likewiſe out of his own Pocket gave five hundred Pounds for the ſame Uſe.* When Dr. Barwick had been ſo little a while Dean of this Church, as beſides that Sum hardly to have received from its Revenue enough to defray his daily Expences. Little of what belong'd to the Dean in particular happen'd to be leas'd out in his Time, except one Houſe in the City; in letting which he made a conſiderable Abatement to his own Loſs, in favour of a certain Gentleman of London, of whom he had formerly received an hundred Pounds towards his Majeſty's Support in his Exile: For the good Dean was ſo affected with this Inſtance of his Piety to his Prince in his Diſtreſs, that when the Price agreed for this Houſe did not exceed three hundred Pounds, he yet willingly remitted a third Part thereof to a Perſon that had deſerved ſo well of the King and of the Church.

Faſti Oxon. 2d Edit. Vol. II. col. 6.

An eminent Phyſician in London gave his Sunday Fees to the Poor.

Turner's Hiſtory of Providences, Fol. ch. 76. p. 96.

Dr. John Bathurſt, who had been Maſter of Arts of Pembroke-Hall in Cambridge, and incorporated of the ſame Degree in Oxford Febr. 1, 1642. and was afterwards Doctor of Phyſick, a Practitioner in London, and a Burgeſs for Richmond in Yorkſhire, to ſerve in that Parliament called by Oliver Ann. 1656. and for that called by Richard 1658. —— kept his Lord's-Days Fees as a Bank for the Poor, which was ſo far from leſſening his Incomes, that by the Bleſſing of God upon his Practice, they were greatly in few Years augmented by it: For though at his firſt coming to London, he brought little Eſtate with him, and here had ſmall Acquaintance, Yorkſhire being his Native Countrey, where he had ſpent his former Days, yet the Lord was pleaſed ſo to proſper him in his Calling, that in twenty Years Time he purchaſed Lands of Inheritance to the Value of one thouſand Pounds per Ann. to ſpeak (ſaith mine Author) what I know to be certain, for in the Repute of ſome, his Eſtate at his Death was no leſs that two thouſand Pounds of yearly Value.

The like pious Practice by other great Phyſicians.

John Clark, Doctor of Phyſick, one of great Repute for his Learning, Piety, and Charity, ſome Time Preſident of the College of Phyſicians, was wont in like manner to lay by all the Lord's Days Fees, as a ſacred Stock for charitable Uſes; devoting that entirely to God, which he received on his Day, accounting it a Piece of Sacrilege to appropriate it to himſelf or to any common Uſe. Whereupon God ſo proſpered him in his Calling, that tho' at firſt his Practice was but little, and his Eſtate not very great, yet afterwards his Practice ſo increaſed, and the World ſo flowed in upon him, that he lived plentifully and comfortably. —— Dr. Edmond Trench likewiſe obſerved the ſame Courſe, and gain'd a very conſiderable Eſtate.

The good Works of Dr. Seth Ward, late Dean, now Biſhop of Exeter.

Dr. Seth Ward, now Biſhop of Exeter, while he was Dean of that Church, got twenty five thouſand Pounds of the Churches own Money to be laid out in repairing and beautifying that Cathedral (after the Ravages made in it by the Reformers) and in erecting the noble Organ there. And whilſt he ſate in the Epiſcopal Chair, he augmented ſeveral poor Vicarages, increaſed the Stipends of the Prebendaries, got the Deanery of St. Burien annexed to the Biſhoprick, and reduced the Dioceſe to great Conformity.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, p. 159.

Account of ſome Books and Papers omitted under the Year 1662.

Tragical Hiſtory of the Jews.

The Jews Tragedy: Or their fatal and final Overthrow by Veſpaſian and Titus his Son. By William Hemmings, late Student of Chriſt-Church in Oxford. [Written agreeable to the authentick Hiſtory of Joſephus. See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 73.

London, 1662. 4to.

Britiſh Antiquities.

Britiſh Antiquities revived. To which are added the Pedigree of the Earl of Carbury [Vaughan] Lord Preſident of Wales: And a ſhort Account of the five Tribes of Cambria. By Robert Vaughan. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 257.]

Oxon. 1662. 4to.

Leigh's Critica Sacra.

Critica Sacra. On the Hebrew Words of the Old, and on the Greek Words in the New Teſtament. In two Parts. With a Supplement. By Edward Leigh, Eſq; [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 352.]

London, 1662, Fol.

Biſhop of Oſſory's Sermons.

Sermons preached at ſeveral Times by the Right Reverend the Lord Biſhop of Oſſory, [Dr. Griffith Williams.] I. God's War with the wicked Rebels and Murderers, on Iſa. lvii. 21. —— II. The Property and Prerogative of true Saints on John x. 27, 28. —— III. The monſtrous Murder of the moſt holy Jeſus parallel'd to the Murder of Kings, on Acts vii. 32. —— IV. The four chief Duties of every Chriſtian Man, on 1 Pet. ii. 17. —— V. The chiefeſt Cauſe why we ſhould love God, on 1 John iv. 19. —— VI. The lively Picture of theſe hard Times, on Jerem. xiv. 10. —— VII. The Grand Rebellion, on Pſal. cvi. 16. — VIII. The Tragedy of Zimri that ſlew his King that was his Maſter, on 2 Kings ix. 31, &c. [See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 365.]

Ibid.

Sermons of Archdeacon Riland.

Elias the Second his coming to reſtore all Things. A Sermon on Iſa. i. 26. Preached by John Riland, M. A. Archdeacon of Coventry.

Oxon. 1662. 4to.

Moſes the Peace-Maker, his Offers to make one of the two contending Brethren. A Sermon on Acts vii. 26. By John Riland, M. A. Archdeacon of Coventry.

Ibid.

Branteen de Spheris & Globis.

Doctrinæ Sphæricæ Adumbratio. Uſus Globorum Artificialium. Autore Thoma Branteen, A. M. [Vid. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 422.]

Oxon. 1662.

Tranſlation of Selden's Mare Clauſum.

That inſolent Scribler Marchamont Needham, had tranſlated into Engliſh Mr. Selden's Mare Clauſum. Printed in Folio 1652. or thereabouts, and being then no way affected to Monarchy, he gave himſelf the Licence to foiſt in the Name of a Common-wealth inſtead of the Kings of England, and alſo to ſuppreſs the Epiſt. Ded. to the King. He alſo added an Appendix to it concerning the Sovereignty of the Kings of Great-Britain on the Sea, intituled, Additional Evidences, which he procur'd, as 'twas thought, of John Bradſhaw. All which, beſides treaſonable Comments and falſe Gloſſes, were done in the Life-time of the learned Selden. After the Reſtauration of King Charles II. the Engliſh Copy was corrected, perfected, and reſtored by J. H. Gent. and printed at London 1662. Fol.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 470.

Pre-exiſtence of Souls by Mr. Glanvill.

Lux Orientalis. Or an Enquiry into the Opinion of the Eaſtern Sages, concerning the Pre-exiſtence of Souls: Being a Key to unlock the great Myſteries of Providence, &c. By Joſeph Glanvill, M. A.

Lond. 1662. 8vo.

The Adventures of five Hours. A Tragi-Comedy. Written by Sir Samuel Tuke of Creſſing-Temple in Eſſex.

Lond. 1662. 4to.

Mr. Palk's loyal Nonconformiſt.

The loyal Nonconformiſt: Or the religious Subject yielding to God his due, and to Cæſar his Right. In Diſcourſes from John iv. 23, 24. and Rom. xiii. 1. Printed as preached in the Month of Auguſt 1662. By T. P. P. [Thomas Palk, M. A. ejected or ſilenc'd at Woodland Com. Devon.] In the Epiſtle, he writes himſelf Theophilus, Philanax Philadelphus.

Lond. 1662. See Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 375.

A Supplement of ſome Things omitted in the Years 1660, 1661, 1662.

A Letter of Dr. John Worthington, written at London to a Friend in the Countrey, dated May 8, 1660. —— There is little of News but what the Papers comprize. To which may be added, that the Houſe of Commons have twice read two Bills to be ſent to the King, viz. 1. The Confirmation of the Parliament's Sitting. 2. For Confirmation of Sales and Purchaſes. There are others of the Aldermen beſides thoſe mention'd in the Papers, that are to go with the City's Anſwer to the King's Letter, many ſtriving to go. When thoſe two Bills abovemention'd and ſome others are fitted, they are to be ſent away with thoſe that go from both Houſes to Breda.

Editions of the Bible.

Dr. Worthington in a Letter to Mr. Hartlibb, dated May 28, 1660. —— There is in the Preſs here at Cambridge an Engliſh Bible in Octavo, the ſtately large Letter of the late Edition in Folio I have not ſeen lately: I ſuppoſe the Books are gone to London. I hear that Mr. Ogilby (who publiſhed Virgil in Engliſh) has got the hiſtorical Pictures for the Bible, and intends to preſent one of the Bibles to the King at his coming to London.

The Cambridge Folio Bible was begun by Dr. Worthington when Vice-chancellor; the Cuts by Mr. Ogilby.

Concerning the abovemention'd Edition of an Engliſh Bible in Folio, Dr. Worthington had wrote thus in a Letter to Mr. Hartlib, Dec. 21, 1658. —— Yours of Dec. 10. came to me the laſt Week, with two incloſed Papers. That from Dublin expreſſed a very affectionate Zeal for a good Impreſſion of the Bible: And the Gentleman, I hope, will have his Wiſh. For before I went out of my Office [of Vice-Chancellor] I did give Order (ſeveral Months ſince) for a fair Impreſſion of the Bible in Folio; which is now a great Way advanced, and the other Books in the Preſs move but ſlowly, that this may be the ſooner diſpatch'd. For a fair large Letter, large Paper, with fair Margin, &c. there was never ſuch a Bible in being. —— It is larger than the largeſt of the Bibles printed by Mr. Buck in 1639. ſince which Year there hath not been a Bible printed at Cambridge in Folio. And therefore I know not what the Gentleman means by a thin Bible in Folio extreamly diſlik'd by him: For thoſe that were then printed, were better than ever any before, for true pointing, a good Letter, printing the additional Words to the Hebrew and Greek in another Character (as it ought to be) and this in two hundred Places and more; and for affixing in the Margin many parallel Places of Scripture: In the doing of which two latter Pieces of Service, Dr. Ward, Mr. Mede, and other grave and learned Men took no ſmall Pains. This is all that I have to ſay, in Anſwer to that honeſt Deſire of having the Bible neatly and pleaſantly printed; and for the Vindication of our Preſs from the Suppoſal of being guilty of printing that thin Folio Bible lately extant.

Inſtitution of the Fellows of Jeſus College, Cambridge, by the Biſhop of Ely, Viſitor.

Dr. John Worthington in a Letter to Mr. Sam. Hartlib, dated Ditton Nov. 5, 1660. —— Laſt Saturday the Fellows of Jeſus College came down from attending upon the Biſhop of Ely, who inſtituted them into their Fellowſhips; it was ſuſpected that there would have been a Refuſal of ſome: But he was very fair and civil towards them, and diſpatched them without the uſual Height of the Fees, and perſuaded them to Studiouſneſs and Peace, againſt all Animoſities, &c.

The King at Greſham College.

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in a Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated Oct. 15, 1660. —— His Majeſty was lately in an Evening at Greſham College, where he was entertained with the admirable long Tube, with which he view'd the Heavens to his very great Satisfaction: Inſomuch that he commanded Sir P. Neale to cauſe the like to be made (the former coſt 100*l.*) for the Uſe of Whitehall. Sir Paul hath very highly commended Mr. Wren to greater Preferment, and there is no queſtion but he will find the real Effects of it. His Majeſty hath alſo threatned to beſtow a Viſit upon Mr. Boyle.

The Beginning of the Royal Society,

From a Project of L. Skytte, a noble Swede.

The firſt Meetings at Greſham College, and at Mr. Ball's in the Temple;

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in a Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated December 17, 1660. Much honoured Sir, I long to hear that my laſt Packet of Dec. 10. is come to your Hands. In the Letter I anſwer'd not ſo fully as now I ſhall that Paſſage in your laſt of Nov. 29. about the Autilia: For ſince I have received ſome other Papers that have been confided to me, holding forth almoſt the ſame Things as the other Autilia (for be not offended if I continue to uſe this myſtical Word) but as I hope, to better Purpoſe. At leaſt, the Author and Founders walking in the Light, we ſhall know from Time to Time how this propoſed Affair is managed by them. Lord Skytte, a Swediſh Nobleman of a Senatorian Rank in that Kingdom, is one of the prime Gentlemen; who, it ſeems, hath devoted the ſpending of his Life and Eſtate after this Manner. His Excellency (for ſo he is called) ſent me Word, that ſhortly he would wait upon me, which I dare not own; but I ſuppoſe he intends to come and ſee me in my own Lodging. If he does ſo, I ſuppoſe I ſhall know the whole Deſign more fully. I received the Papers without Explication; ſo that I do but gueſs, that one of the Papers contains the Propoſitions which were made to his Majeſty by the Lord Skitte, and the other a Draught for the Royal Grant or Patent which is deſired for the eſtabliſhing of this Foundation. Thus much is certain, that there is a Meeting every Week of the prime Virtuoſi, not only at Greſham College in Term Time, but alſo out of it at Mr. Ball's Chamber in the Temple. They deſired his Majeſty's Leave, that they might thus meet, or aſſemble themſelves at all Times; which is certainly granted. Mr. Boyle, Dr. Wilkins, Sir Paul Neale, Viſcount Brounker, are ſome of the Members. Mr. Wren is choſen Regiſter. I look upon this Society as a previous Introduction of the grand Deſign here repreſented. His Majeſty is ſaid to profeſs himſelf one of thoſe Virtuoſi. Laſt Lord's Day Mr. Dury preſented, by the Favour of the Earl of Mancheſter, the Lithuanian Scholar, with ſo much as is printed of the Lithuanian Bible, which is come to the Chronicles, being very well printed: His Majeſty did ſeem to approve very well of it. ——

And then at Dr. Goddard's.

Mr. Hartlib in a Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated Jan. 1, 1660. Honoured Sir, —— Lord Skytte deſires to come to me to confer about his Deſign. He is one of the Virtuoſi; ſo is Mr. Brereton. Mr. Boyle one of them told me, that for preſent they are removed from Greſham College to Dr. Goddard's Lodgings. He offers to contribute to it. ——

Mr Hartlibb's Hiſtory of himſelf.

Mr. Hartlib's Account of himſelf, &c. in a Letter dated Aug. 3, 1660. — My Father was a Merchant, but no ordinary one, being the King of Poland his Merchant, who hath founded a Church at Poſnania in Poland. And when the Jeſuits prevailed in that Kingdom) he was fain to remove himſelf into Pruſſia; where he came to Elbing, where not any Houſe of Credit was yet built: But he with another Patricius of Breſlaw in Sileſia, built two ſtately Houſes, which are yet ſtanding at Elbing, being the principal Houſes of the Town; the Building whereof coſt my Father many Thouſands of Rixdollers in thoſe cheap Days. Immediately after he erected there Niumferbing, my Grandfather the Deputy of the Engliſh Company at Dantzick, bringing the Engliſh Company to Elbing; and ſo that Town by Trading came to that Splendor and Wealth, wherein it hath continued theſe many Years.

My Father had married before two Polonian Gentlewomen of a noble Extraction, both of them being Ladies according to the Faſhions in thoſe Countries; in regard of which he obtained the ſooner his thrd Wiſe, my own Mother. How many Sums of Gold, and erecting of Pillars of Honour both to my Grandfather and Father, were offered both by Dantzick and Elbing, remains yet in the Memory of ſome very old People in Pruſſia.

My Mother had two Siſters, both which were very honourably married: One to a Lord-Mayor's Son at London, Mr. Clark; and afterward to a very rich Knight, Sir Richard Smith, one of the King's Privy Council, ſhe bringing a Portion to him of 10000*l.* Sterling. This is my Aunt the Lady Smith; who marrying afterwards to Sir Edward Savage, was made one of the Ladies of Honour to our King's Mother. The other Siſter was married to a younger Brother Mr. Peak; whoſe Son hath now an Eſtate of 300*l.* Sterling of Land of Inheritance yearly, and who is ſtill alive. Our Couſin German, or my Aunt's the Lady Smith's Daughter, was married to Sir Anthony Irby at Boſton, a Knight of 4 or 5000*l.* Sterling a Year; who is ſtill alive, and a Parliament Man.

But before all this I ſhould have told you, that I have been upbraided for my too much Negligence of my Pedigree: Whereas they told me, that my Family was of a very ancient Extraction in the German Empire, there having been ten Brethren of the Name of Hartlib. Some of them have been Privy Counſellors to the Emperor, ſome to other inferior Princes; ſome Syndicks of Auſpurg and Norimberg. But they paſſed afterwards not ſo ſtrictly for Udallanta in the Empire, when ſome turned Merchants; which (you know) is derogatory to the German Nobility. —— I may ſpeak it with a ſafe Conſcience, that I never (all the Days of my Life) reflected ſeriouſly upon my Pedigree; preferring my heavenly Birth above all ſuch Vanities, and afterwards ſtudying more (to this very Day) to be uſeful to God's Creatures, and ſerviceable to his Church, than to be rich or honourable.

Let it not ſeem a Paradox unto you, if I tell you, as long as I have lived in England by wonderful Providences, I have ſpent yearly out of my own betwixt 3 or 400*l.* Sterling a Year: And when I was brought to publick Allowances, I have had from the Parliaments and Councils of State a Penſion of 300*l.* Sterling a Year, which as freely I have ſpent for their Service and the Good of many. —— I could fill whole Sheets, in what Love and Reputation I have liv'd theſe thirty Years in England; being familiarly acquainted with the beſt of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Earls, Viſcounts, Barons, Knights, Eſquires, Gentlemen, Miniſters, Profeſſors of both Univerſities, Merchants, and all Sorts of learned or in any kind uſeful Men, &c. And in all the three Kingdoms, under all the Changes that have fallen out, recommended before and in Parliaments; Books dedicated unto me from ſeveral Places and Countries, &c. But I grow weary to purſue ſuch Vanities.

MS. Hiſt. Jo. Goſtlin.

A. D. 1660. Poſt Sereniſſimi Regis Caroli II. ad regimen & imperium e poſtliminio reditum non minus fœlicem quam miraculi ſaturum, privata ſubditorum jura & dominia, quorum per 5 plus minus luſtra (graſſante nempe Tyrannide & Rebellione) vel meminiſſe nefas audiit & excidium, ſingulis denuo quoad fieri poſſit reſtituuntur, ſuum cuique tribuendum eſſe cum lege Naturæ inſtat Carolus, unde Coll. noſtri exules Cuſtos Sociique, qui temporum & Matrimonii fata ſuperſtites evaſerant, domi redeunt, antiqua repetunt in Coll. Jura & Privilegia. Quid fit? Proles ſuppoſititia illico ex mandato Comiti Manceſtriæ Acad. Cancel. cui res Academiæ tum temporis commiſſæ erant, locum cedit; & genuina in Collegii gremium læta recipitur. Hic inſerendæ ſunt Litteræ Mancheſtr.

Titularis ſiquidem tunc temporis Cuſtos Magiſter Dell, ut iram ſimul ac vindictam Regiam, quam toties meruit, tutius ſubterfugeret, ab eminenti magis & ſpectato Cuſtodis officio (quo quomodo per decennium extat æquum eſt ut neſcirent poſteri, nê illius delicta in Exemplar traherentur, Noſtrique Nepotes peccare diſcerent) clanculum ſe ſubduxit, omne jus & privilegium ad Cuſtodem Coll. ſpectans reſignavit, jam tandem latere cogitat, non tantum ut bene viveret, quin ut vivat. Nec hac interim parte ipſius vitæ diſcrimen evaſiſſe potuiſſet læſæ Majeſtatis ſimul ac Coll. reus, niſi coram tribunali poſitus, litteras dimiſſorias Magno Angliæ Sigillo ſignatas produxiſſet: Cui ergo Clementiſſ. Rex condonare non recuſavit, condonent Coll. alumni, & quod majora damna incommoda & diſpendia ſub illius regimine Coll. non ſuſtinuit ſerio gratulentur.

See the Character of Maſter Dell given by Mr. Baxter; that he was in his Opinion a Perſon who neither underſtood himſelf, nor was underſtood by others, any farther than to be one, who took Reaſon, ſound Doctrine, Order and Concord, to be the intolerable Maladies of Church and State, becauſe they were the greateſt Strangers to his Mind. Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 144.

Accepta jam reſignatione Socii hilari animo alacrique ad alterius electionem feſtinant, in Sacello conveniunt & unanimi conſenſu digniſſ. & reverend. Doctorem Bachcroft denuo eligunt, eumque illico in Villa in agro Norff. hoſpitantem inviſunt, ſupplicesque precantur, ut ad antiquum Cuſtodis Munus & officium ſubeundum rediret, quo per temporum & malevolorum quorundam tum temporis in Coll. Socior. injurias, tam diu viduatus & privatus extitit.

His Eſtate in Milton had been put under Sequeſtration in 1643. his Goods had been plundred, and redeem'd for 20*l.* Feb. 25, 1644. he was then under the Sentence of Seque-

Rediit

Sequeſtration from his Headſhip, but continuing in Poſſeſſion till 1649. when the Committee adjudged him to be diſcharged from his Maſterſhip by an Order, wherein they ſay, " that it did " appear to them upon ſerious " Conſideration had of the " Matters alledg'd on both " Sides, that the ſaid Dr. Bachcroft had been ſe- " queſtred by Order of Par- " liament for his ſending " Money to the Aid and " Aſſiſtance of the late King " againſt the Parliament, " and hath otherwiſe ex- " preſſed his Diſaffection to " the Parliament." Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 145. —— Yet it muſt not be conceal'd that he comply'd too much with the Times, &c. Ibid.

Rediit vir bonus ſecundum vel tertium ſupra Octogeſimum agens annum, Valetudinarius inſuper & infirmus; quapropter non diu apud nos commoratus eſt, quin conſtituto prius preſidente, amicos cognatos & affines, quibuſcum durante exilio hoſpitatus eſt, denuo repetiit, ut inter illos placide & quiete ſupremum efflaret Spiritum. Verum in breviuſculo illo temporis ſpatio, priuſquam a Collegio diſceſſit, Socios ad Officia Decanorum, Burſarii, &c. ſecundum Statuta peragenda deſignavit. Inferioris inſuper ſubſellii officiariis, Coquo, Promo & Janitori, licet ante ejus adventum electis, ſingulis ſua munera & officia ſarta tecta confirmavit. Effecit inſuper ut Mr. Raphael Kenrick Attornatus ad Legem electus ſit a Sociis Collegii Curiarum in Norf. & Cant. Seneſchallus, tametſi Mr. Kitchingman alter Attornatus ad Legem & Olivarii temp. oppidi Aldermanus jam a Magiſtro Dell ad idem Officium inſtitutus erat, & in eodem (non tantum durante beneplacito, verum ipſius vitæ termino) per diploma communi Coll. Sigillo ſignatum, (quod interim aperte Statutis contradixit) confirmatus. Unde inter Kenrick & Kitchingman magna lis oritur & contentio: Cauſa in Aula Weſtmonaſterienſi coram communium Placitorum Juſticiario examinatur, ubi per biennii Spatium ſtrenue utrinque litigant (uti ſolent id genus Juridici) priuſquam finalem & decretoriam Judicis Sententiam habuiſſent prolatam. Erat autem hujuſmodi: Quod tametſi diploma Kitchingman conceſſum diſerte privato Coll. Statuto contradicit, & Kenrick legitime ſecundum eadem Statuta Coll. conſtitutus & agnitus eſt a Cuſtode & Sociis preſentibus verus & genuinus Curiarum Seneſchallus, verum quia nihil in illo diplomate legibus aut Statutis Angliæ publicis (per quas jam tum adjudicanda res erat) diverſum & contradictorium conſenſum eſt, pro legitimo habendum eſſe eique reſervandum, unde Kitchingman ſubridens (uti ſolet) victoriam nactus eſt, & quod fieri non debuit, factum valuit.

Hiſce in Coll. pro re nata peractis, exiit Dr. Bachcroft nunquam (quod ſociis interim nondum innotuit) rediturus; Coll. ſiquidem regiminis ob ſenectutis & morborum gravamina pertæſus (quod antea per tot annos tanta cum induſtria & fidelitate ſubiit) Cuſtodis officium digniſſ. Roberto Brady noſtri Coll. M. D. illico reſignavit, qui ſimul acceptum mandatum Regium mox ſubſcriptum (licet non minimo cum negotio ob ſimultates & partium ſtudia tunc temporis inter ſocios regnantia) procuravit, cujus virtute & tenore a locum tenente admiſſus & Juratus eſt Coll. Cuſtos venerabilis. Antiqui mores & conſuetudines, qui (ut nihil dicamus de Statutis ipſis) tam diu ſpreti & neglecti jacuere, jam reviviſcere incipiunt & obtinere. Scil. dies feſti ſimul ac jejunii more ſolito denuo obſervantur, cum hoc tantum diſcrimine, quod cum olim nullæ omnino cœnæ in diebus Veneris publicæ habebantur, nunc conſtitutum & ordinatum eſt quod Baccalaurei & Scholares leve aliquod dimenſum ex piſcium familia vel frumentorum proſapia oriundum parandum & conficiendum in Aula comederent, unde illa luxuria & intemperantia in iſtis noctibus vel publicis in Cauponis & Œnopoliis vel in privatis cubiculis frequentiſſima optimo Jure præcavetur & evitatur. Jam Socii una omnes Seniores (excepto quodam Magiſtro Wheeler, de quo poſtea) qui a Magiſtro Dell predicto Cuſtode titulari admiſſi fuerant, quo jus ſuum & intereſſe ad Sodalitia ſtabilirent & corroborarent, literas Regias nanciſcuntur, quibus lectis & acceptis a preſenti Cuſtode in loco Capitulari illico ſinguli iterum ab illo admiſſi & jurati ſunt ſecundum formam Statuti, niſi quod eorum alter hoc pacto Senioritatem ſuam amiſſurus, in priori admiſſione acquievit.

Mr. Marſh Fellow of Caius, who was now in Ireland, and ſoon after reſign'd his Fellowſhip, was by Sir John Ellys Maſter, reported to be the ſame with Dr. Richard Marſh, but this could hardly be.

Dr. John Goſtlin Fellow of Caius College, Author of this hiſtorical State of that Houſe in Latin.

In eodem Conventu Literæ etiam Regiæ leguntur, quarum virtute conceſſa eſt venia & libertas Magiſtro Marſh alteri e Senioribus in Hibernia commorandi, ſalvo ſibi interim Sodalitio, omnique commodo & emolumento eidem quovis modo ſpectante.

Johannes Goſtlin in Medicinis Doctor Petrenſis Socius virtute Regiarum Literarum electus juratus & admiſſus eſt in Sodalitium Fundationis Dominæ Cleere, quod ex reſignatione Magiſtri Marſh jam vacabat. Erat autem hic Johannes Doctor Goſtlin quondam hujuſce Coll. Cuſtodis celeberrimi pronepos, noſtrique Coll. per ſexennium a prima ejus Academiæ ſalutatione Scholaris & Alumnus. Verùm propter lites & diſcordias inter Cuſtodem tunc temporis titularem Magiſtrum Dell & Goſtlinum ob Regis & Eccleſiæ cauſam —— diſceſſit, obtenta interim venia ad Coll. D. Petri, ubi ſtatim electus eſt Socius, non autem ex fundatione, &c.

Mr. Wheeler Fellow deprived; Mr. Boult elected, ſoon died.

Mr. Ellys now elected Fellow, was afterwards Maſter of this College, elected Jan. 1, 1702. M. D Sir John Ellys, Knt.

Sub finem hujuſce anni —— Magiſter Boult alter e Sociis junioribus electus juratus & admiſſus eſt Socius loco Magiſtri Wheeler amoti & privati —— mox variolis laborans conceſſit fatis. —— Vacante Sodalitio Magiſtri Boult —— duo erant Candidati, Magiſter Ellys & Magiſter Parker, Socii autem in calculis & ſuffragiis adeo diviſi extiterunt ob factiones neſcio quas partiumque ſtudia nondum in Coll. (proh dolor) conſopita, quod impoſſibile videbatur alterum electum fore, niſi etiam & alter præeligeretur. Huic autem ægre concedunt Socii qui a partibus Magiſtri Parker ſteterunt. Veruntamen, licet reluctante eorum genio, concluſum eſt quod Magiſter Naylor jam Socius ſenior de novo electus ſit Socius in ſodalitium Magiſtri Boult ex fundatione Magiſtri Willowes, Magiſter Ellys in Sodalitium Magiſtri Naylor, & Magiſter Parker in proximum vacaturum præelectus evaderet.

Hint of a Propoſition of Dr. Cowley, i. e. Mr. Cowley the Poet.

Dr. Petty ſent by the King to finiſh the Survey of Ireland.

Letter of Mr. Sam. Hartlib to Dr. Worthington, dated Apr. 2, 1661. —— Dr. Cowley's Propoſition I have taken ſpecial Notice of, but have as yet not ſeen the Book. The King ſends away Dr. Petty to perfect the Surveying of Ireland. There comes nothing of Lord Skytt's Buſineſs, and I believe the other Virtuoſi will not have it that it ſhould go forward. ——

Mr. Thorndike oppoſed in his Admiſſion to Convocation, becauſe of his Singularities.

Letter of Mr. Samuel Hartlib to Dr. John Worthington, dated May 28, 1661. —— What the Convocation is doing is but little as yet. There hath been ſomething to do to bring in Mr. Thorndyke amongſt them: For he doth not agree with them in all Things, ſpeaking much of the Orders of the Bohemian Churches, called Unitas Fratrum ——

Princeſs Elizabeth.
Queen of Bohemia.
Lord Craven.

Letter of Mr. Samuel Hartlib to Dr. John Worthington, dated June 4, 1661. —— The Princeſs Elizabeth is not arrived with the Queen of Bohemia. I think I have told you already that the Lord Craven hath a Mind to marry her, if he can accompliſh it. —— If ſhe comes, I ſhall not fail (God willing) to give you ſpeedy Notice of it. ——

A Letter of Mr. Beal of Yeovil in Somerſet, a Man of great Sagacity in Natural Hiſtory, giving an Account of Worms as the Seeds of peſtilential Diſtempers.

A Letter of Mr. Samuel Hartlib to the Reverend Dr. Worthington, dated Aug. 10, 1661. —— Mr. Beal complains in his laſt as followeth, —— The Air is at this Time hereabout much infected, and ſeems to me to appear in ſmall Animals (upon all green Leaves) of divers Kinds and ugly Shapes. The Horſe Plague hath deſtroyed very many Horſes, now lately in our neighbouring Dorſetſhire. I hear many intelligent Perſons affirm, that their Maws are full of Millions of ſmall Worms. Some Worms were brought to my Houſe, as taken from the Body of a Child that died preſently. The Body of the Child of four Years old ſwelled: The Worms I did put into a magnifying Glaſs, where they ſeemed like Palmer Worms, but of metalline, hard, huſky Skins, leſs they were than Fleas, inceſſantly wagging at both Ends: We never ſaw the like. In my magnifying Glaſs they lived three Days, and I think they devour'd one another, for of ſix of them remained but two, and we could not diſcern how they ſhould be convey'd away. Now it is ſaid, that theſe Worms fell upon the Body of the ſick Child from a Rat that was found dead on the Bed's Covering. My three Daughters are here ſick of a ſtrange Diſeaſe, that reigns here very much! All are ſpotted as with Meazles: They cough vehemently and inceſſantly, and with great Peril of breaking a Vein, and bleeding to Death: And all their Stomachs and Bellies are full of Worms of divers Kinds. The Lord ſhew Mercy on us! —— From Yeovil in Somerſetſhire Aug. 7, 1661.

Prognoſticks of the Plague.

This Opinion confirmed by Kircher in his Book De Peſte. And even ſome Authors have thought Infection convey'd by the Eggs of Inſects carried in the Air; but the very learned and judicious Doctor R. Mead thinks this a Suppoſition grounded on no manner of Obſervation.

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in a Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated Aug. 24, 1661. —— The former Paſſage which I wrote unto you in my laſt out of Mr. Beal's Letter, I ſent likewiſe to worthy Mr. Patrick, who writes in his laſt, —— "I thank you "for communicating to me Mr. Beal's Letter. I remember Kircher in his Book "De Peſte, ſaith, That in peſtilential Diſeaſes he hath found the Blood and the "Tumours (when there were any) full of Worms ——

The Royal Herring Buſs.

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in a Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated Decemb. 7, 1661. —— The Royal Herring Buſs proceeds very well, and laſt Sabbath-Day publick Collections were made in all the Churches of London to carry on that Deſign. It will, as you write, employ many of the numerous Swarm of Poor. ——

Dr. Caſtell and Dr. Worthington neglected.

Death of the Queen of Bohemia.

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in his laſt Letter to Dr. Worthington, dated Febr. 14, 1661. —— This may be the laſt of mine, for ought I know, being very much tormented in Body. —— Oh, what a Shame it is that labouring Dr. Caſtell is not better encouraged and rewarded! And that the great pretending World knows no better Dr. Worthington than yet they do! But your great Labours and Uſefulneſs ſhall never be in vain in the Lord, to whoſe Love you are ſo heartily commended. Laſt Thurſday the Queen of Bohemia, ſeventy two Years of Age, departed this Life: She died at Leiceſter Houſe in the Fields. His Majeſty would have removed her to Denmark or Somerſet Houſe, had the Phyſicians conſented to it. But of this I doubt not you will hear more from others. I deſire to live and dye, worthy Sir,

Your ever moſt affectionately, obliged,
faithful Friend to love and ſerve you,
Sam. Hartlib, ſen.

Judgments upon Perjury and Blaſphemy.

Dr. Worthington in a Letter to Mr. Samuel Hartlib, dated Auguſt . . . . 1661. —— There is a ſtrange Story of a Woman, that denied ſhe had ſuch Money, and wiſhed if ſhe had it, that ſhe might ſink into the Ground: She ſunk ſome Yards into the Ground, and was digged out dead: It was not long ſince in Derbyſhire. But the Particulars of this Story I have not yet: Nor of another concerning a Man who was a confident Atheiſt (he had been a Scholar) and that very Day wherein he had ſaid to his Companions, This Day I deny Providence, he was met and killed by one that came from a drunken Meeting, with a Reſolution to kill the firſt he met with ——

The new Cambridge Bible.

Sickly Time.

Dr. Worthington in a Letter to Mr. Hartlib, Aug. 22, 1661. —— What you writ of Mr. Ogilby's Pictures for the Bible is that which was ſpoken of laſt Time I was in London. The Bible was printed at Cambridge in two Folio Volumes, a large Paper and Letter, and preſented to the King at his firſt coming to the Chapel at Whitehall. —— What Mr. Beal writes of the Sickneſs in the Weſt may in ſome meaſure be parallell'd in theſe Parts. Very many both in Towns and Villages fall ſick. ——

Terrible Storm at Ditton.

Dr. Worthington's Letter to Mr. Hartlib, dated Febr. 24, 1661. —— Something anſwerable to your Sufferings by Fire I have experienc'd in the Violence of the late Wind [Febr. 18. at Ditton near Cambridge]. It was in the Morning, elſe it had been more dreadful. I feared it would have proceeded to have done more Prejudice than the uncovering the Roofs, and beating down the Walls in ſeveral Places of my Dwelling, even to have overturned the Structure, as it hath done in ſome Towns, and ſome Parts of this Village. To repair theſe Damages will coſt Money, but it might have made our Houſes our Sepulchres, and buried many Families in the Ruins of their Houſes. God always inflicts leſs than we deſerve. Scarce any Wind hath been known like to this, except that in the Year 1636. in the Beginning of November, which Dr. Jackſon hath taken Notice of in his Writings, ——

Mr. Hartlib*'s Petition to the Houſe of Commons.*

To the Right Honourable the Commons of England aſſembled in Parliament.

The Humble Petition of Samuel Hartlib, ſenior,

Sheweth,

That your Petitioner, ever ſince he came into this Kingdom, hath ſet himſelf a-part to ſerve his Generation in the beſt Objects.

Setting forth his good Services to the Publick;

Firſt, by erecting a little Academy for the Education of the Gentry of this Nation, to advance Piety, Learning, Morality, and other Exerciſes of Induſtry, not uſual then in common Schools.

Secondly, by giving Entertainment, and becoming a Solicitor for the Godly Miniſters and Scholars, who were driven in thoſe Days out of the Palatinate and other Proteſtant Churches then laid waſte; by which Means,

In the third Place, your Petitioner found an Opportunity to maintain a religious, learned, and charitable Correſpondence with the chief of Note in Foreign Parts; which for the Space of thirty Years and upwards he hath managed for the Good of this Nation, as well in Civil as Eccleſiaſtical Concernments (as is well known to moſt of the leading Men of all Parties) by procuring unto them,

I. Rare Collections of Manuſcripts in all the Parts of Learning, which your Petitioner freely hath imparted, tranſcribed, or printed, and ſent to ſuch as were moſt capable of making Uſe of them.

II. The beſt Experiments of Induſtry practiſed in Huſbandry and Manufactures, and in other Inventions and Accommodations tending to the Good of this Nation; which by Printing he hath publiſhed, for the Benefit of this Age and of Poſterity.

III. A conſtant Relief according to his Ability or Addreſs for poor diſtreſſed Scholars, both of this Nation, and of Foreigners, who wanted Employment, to recommend them to ſuch as could make Uſe of their Service.

IV. A conſtant Intelligence in Matters of Piety, Virtue, and Learning, both at Home and Abroad, with thoſe that were beſt able to concur therein, for the Good of Mankind in all Reſpects.

And his preſent Want of Relief.

Now your Petitioner having continued in this Courſe of Life for the Space of thirty Years and upwards (without Partiality, ſerving all publick and ingenuous Spirits indifferently) and in theſe great and ſtrange Revolutions being deſtitute of Support to continue this kind of Negociation, and in his old and ſickly Age to maintain himſelf and his Family; for the Relief of which, and of his Agency, he hath been forced to contract Debts, which in the End will ſink him, except ſome favourable Aſpect be ſhewed unto your Petitioner from your Honours, as the Patrons of Piety and Learning.

May it therefore pleaſe your Honours, in Conſideration of the Premiſſes, to take your humble Petitioner into your favourable Conſideration; that he may find from your Goodneſs and Bounty ſome Relief in this his diſtreſſed Condition, by being freed from his Debts, and put in a Capacity to continue his Service to the Publick, to advance in his Generation the beſt Objects for the Uſe of Mankind in all kinds.

And your Petitioner, &c.

Mr. Hartlib repreſents his diſtreſſed Condition to Lord Herbert.

Mr. Samuel Hartlib in a Letter to the Lord Herbert, dated Novemb. 22, 1660. My moſt honoured Lord, I have been very ill of late, and by manifold Miſeries ſo far oppreſſed, that I could not ſend this Week my wonted Paper Reſpects. Lord Anneſley was pleaſed ſome Months ago to honour me with a Viſit, having an Intimation of my forſaken Condition. He was pleaſed to tell me, I ſinned, if I did not make my Condition known. I confeſs this is a very hard Duty to be performed, which alſo I have deferred to this Day. But Neceſſity being ſo urgent (& Literæ non erubeſcunt) I beſeech your Honour give me Leave to intimate very briefly my preſent moſt diſtreſſed and forſaken Condition. I ſuppoſe your Honour is not ignorant of the Votes that have paſſed concerning Gifts, Penſions, Debts, allowed or contracted by the former Powers, that all of them are made void by this Parliament: Alſo that no Motion is to be made concerning Money-Matters, 'till the Debts of the Army and Navy be firſt ſatisfied. Both theſe Votes fall moſt heavily upon your Honour's tormented Servant: So that he hath nothing to expect of all his Arrears (which amounting to ſeven hundred Pounds, would have fully freed him from all his Debts, and given him a preſent comfortable Subſiſtence, nor of his yearly Penſion ſettled upon him by the firſt Parliament conſiſting of Lords and Commons. —— I have nothing therefore left to keep me alive, with two Relations more, a Daughter and a Nephew, who is attending my ſickly Condition. —— You ſee, moſt honoured Lord, how I am neceſſitated to make my humble and hopeful Application to your ſo often experimented Kindneſs, that your Honour would not leave me nor forſake me at this Time, but rather enlarge the Bowels of your Love, by joining with ſome other honourable Worthies (I mean chiefly the Right Honourable Earl of Mancheſter, and the 'forenamed Lord Anneſley) to make up ſuch an Aſſiſtance, as may ſave your and their moſt devoted Servant from utter periſhing, 'till ſome other Means of publick Love and Encouragement may be (if it may be) be) determined. I durſt not have expreſſed myſelf ſo boldly, but that I know your Honour hath been always a Perſon of ſolid Honour and Faithfulneſs unto me, and that I really believe, that when the Times of Refreſhing ſhall come, ſuch Deeds of Compaſſion will certainly be honoured and rewarded with exceeding Joy. ——

Account of the firſt Impulſe of Mr. Valentine Greatrakes to cure by Touching.

Account of the great Stroaker, Mr. Valentine Greatrakes.

Be it known (ſaith the diligent Mr. Wood) that this Valentine Greatrakes, Son of Will. Greatrakes, was born at Affane in the County of Waterford in Ireland on St. Valentine's Day, Febr. 14, 1628. was bred a Proteſtant in the Free-School at Liſmore, and at thirteen Years of Age was deſigned to be a Student in the College at Dublin, but the Rebellion breaking out in that Nation, he was forced with his Mother to fly for Refuge into England, where by the Favour of his Uncle Edmund Harris Brother to Sir Edward Harris Knight, his Mother's Father, he was for the preſent Time relieved. After his Death, his Mother, for his farther Progreſs in Literature, committed him to the Charge of Joh. Daniel Getſius, a High German, Miniſter of Stoke Gabriel in Devonſhire, with whom he ſpent ſome Years in ſtudying Humanity and Divinity, and found from his Hands much Favour and Love. After five or ſix Years Abſence, he returned to his native Countrey, at that Time in a moſt miſerable and deplorable Eſtate, which made him retire to the Caſtle of Caperquin, where he ſpent a Year's Time in Contemplation, and ſaw ſo much of the Madneſs and Wickedneſs of the World (as he ſaith) that his Life became a Burthen to him, and his Soul was as weary of this Habitation of Clay, as ever was Gally-Slave of the Oar, which brought his Life even to the Threſhold of Death; ſo that his Legs had hardly Strength to carry his enfeebl'd Body about, &c. In 1649. or thereabouts, he became a Lieutenant in the Regiment of Roger Lord Broghill, then acting in Munſter againſt the Iriſh, Papiſts and others, then called the Rebels, and in 1656. a great Part of the Army there of the Engliſh being diſbanded, he retired to his native Countrey of Affane, the Habitation of his Anceſtors, and by the Favour of the then Governour he was made Clerk of the Peace of the County of Cork, Regiſter for Tranſplantation, and Juſtice of the Peace: After his Majeſty's Reſtauration, he was removed, as I have heard, from his Employments, and grew thereupon diſcontented. In 1662. or thereabouts, he had an Impulſe, or a ſtrange Perſuaſion in his Mind (of which he was not able to give any rational Account to another) which did very frequently ſuggeſt to him that there was beſtowed on him the Gift of Curing the King's Evil; which for the Extraordinarineſs of it, he thought fit to conceal for ſome Time, but at length he communicated it to his Wife, and told her that he did verily believe that God had given him the Bleſſing of curing the ſaid Evil, for whether he were in private or publick, ſleeping or waking, ſtill he had the ſame Impulſe; but her Reply was to him, that ſhe conceived this was a ſtrange Imagination; yet to prove the contrary, a few Days after there was one Will. Maker of Salterbridge in the Pariſh of Liſmore, that brought his Son Will. Maker to his Houſe, deſiring his Wife to cure him, who was a Perſon ready to afford her Charity to her Neighbours, according to her ſmall Skill in Chirurgery. On which his Wife told him, there was one that had the King's Evil very grievouſly in the Eyes, Cheek, and Throat: Whereupon he told her, that ſhe ſhould now ſee whether this were a bare Fancy or Imagination, as ſhe thought it, or the Dictates of God's Spirit on his Heart; and thereupon he laid his Hands on the Places affected, and pray'd to God for Jeſus Sake to heal him; and then he bid the Parent two or three Days after to bring the Child to him again, which he accordingly did, and then he ſaw the Eye was almoſt quite whole, and the Node which was almoſt as big as a Pullet's Egg, was ſuppurated, and the Throat ſtrangely amended, and in a Month diſcharged itſelf quite, and was perfectly healed.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 416.

The Death of ſome Perſons within the Year 1662.

Sir William Lower.

Sir William Lower a Corniſh Knight (Son of John Lower of Tremere, a younger Son of Sir William Lower of St. Winnow in Cornwall) a noted Poet, who tranſlated into Engliſh the French Hiſtory of Joſeph, printed at London, 1655. 8vo. [and publiſhed A Relation in Form of a Journal of the Voyage and Reſidence which the moſt Excellent and moſt Mighty Prince Charles II. King of Great-Britain, &c. hath made in Holland, from the twenty fifth of May to the ſecond of June 1660. Rendred into Engliſh out of the Original French. By Sir William Lower, Knight.] died at London about the Beginning of this Year 1662. but where buried, unleſs in the Pariſh Church of St. Clement Danes, within the Liberty of Weſtminſter, where his Unkle Thomas Lower, Eſq; (to whom he was Heir) was buried March 21, 1660. after he had laid dead ſince the fifth of February going before, I know not.

Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 15.

Hague, 1662. Fol.

Henry Lawes, Eſq;

The incomparable Henry Laws, Servant to King Charles I. in his publick and private Muſick; who out-living the Tribulations which he endured for the Royal Cauſe, was reſtored to his Places after the Return of King Charles II. and for a ſhort Time lived happy, and venerated by all Lovers of Muſick. He was buried by the Title of Gentleman of his Majeſty's Chapel, in the Cloyſter belonging to St. Peter's Church within the City of Weſtminſter Octob. 25, 1662.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 19.

Nathaniel Jones.

Mr. Nathaniel Jones removed from the Living of Weſtmeſton in 1660. —— A Maid Servant inſtigated by her malicious Maſter, charged him with ſpeaking treaſon-treaſonable Words in his Farewell Sermon, for which he was committed Priſoner to the common Gaol of the County. He was provided with a double Plea; That the Words charged were not ſpoken, and that if they had been ſpoken they were not Treaſon. But no Proſecutor appearing, he was cleared by Proclamation, and died in 1662.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 694.

John Harriſon.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 271.

Mr. John Harriſon, M. A. Rector of Yelvertoft in Northamptonſhire in the late Times lay under Sequeſtration fifteen Years, was barbarouſly dragged out of his Houſe, and forced to ſeek Shelter where he could find it. He lived to be reſtored, but died about the Year 1662. leaving a very poor and ſuffering Family. [He died in Summer 1661. Gulielmus Chauncey Clericus A. M. admiſſ. Die 10. Jul. 1661. ad Rect. de Yelvertoft. Com. Northampt. vac. per Mort. Johannis Harriſon ult. Incumb. ad preſent. Knightley Harriſon Clerici Patroni.]

Reg. Laney. Petriburg.

Chriſtopher Newſted.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. *p.*318.

Mr. Chriſtoper Newſted, a great Sufferer in the late Times, was collated to the Prebend of Cadington Minor in the Church of St. Paul, London, Aug. 25, 1660. and died ſome Time before March 23, 1662.

Charter of King Charles II. for founding and eſtabliſhing the Royal Society of London.

Sprat's Hiſtory of the Royal Society, p. 134.

His Majeſty's Letters Patents for Erecting and Eſtabliſhing the Royal Society of London, for the Improving of Natural Knowledge.

The King reſolving to promote Arts and Sciences.

And eſpecially Philoſophical Experiments.

To be not only a Defender of the Faith but a Patron of Knowledge.

Charles the Second, by the Grace of God, of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, &c. To all unto whom theſe Preſents ſhall come, Greeting. Having long reſolved within ourſelf to promote the Welfare of Arts and Sciences, as well as that of our Territories and Dominions, out of our princely Affection to all kind of Learning, and more particular Favour to philoſophical Studies, eſpecially thoſe which endeavour by ſolid Experiments to reform or improve Philoſophy: To the Intent therefore that theſe Kinds of Study, which are no where yet ſufficiently cultivated, may flouriſh in our Dominions; and that the learned World may acknowledge us to be, not only the Defender of the Faith, but the Patron and Encourager of all Sorts of uſeful Knowledge:

Doth grant a Society of Preſident, Council and Fellows, of the Royal Society of London.

The King himſelf Founder and Patron.

To hold Lands and Tenements.

Know ye, that we out of our ſpecial Grace, certain Knowledge, and mere Motion, have given and granted, and do by theſe Preſents give and grant for us, our Heirs and Succeſſors, that there ſhall be for ever a Society conſiſting of a Preſident, Council, and Fellows, which ſhall be called by the Name of the Preſident, Council, and Fellows of the Royal Society of London, for promoting and improving of Natural Knowledge, of which Society we do by theſe Preſents declare ourſelf to be Founder and Patron. And we do hereby make and conſtitute the ſaid Society by the Name, &c. to be a Body corporate, to be continu'd under the ſame Name in a perpetual Succeſſion; and that they and their Succeſſors, whoſe Studies are to be employ'd for the promoting of the Knowledge of natural Things, and uſeful Arts by Experiments (to the Glory of God, and the Good of Mankind) ſhall, by the 'foreſaid Name of Preſident, Council, &c. be enabled and made capable in Law, to levy, hold, poſſeſs, and enjoy, Lands, Tenements, &c. Liberties, Franchiſes, Juriſdictions, for Perpetuity, or Terms of Lives, or Years, or any other Way: As alſo Goods, Chattels, and all other Things of what Nature or Kind ſoever. And alſo by the Name aforeſaid, to give, grant, demiſe, or aſſign the ſaid Lands, Goods, &c. and to do all Things neceſſary thereabout. And the ſaid Perſons by the Name aforeſaid are enabled to implead, be impleaded, ſue, defend, &c. in any Courts, and before any Judges, Officers, &c. whatſoever of the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in all and ſingular Actions Real and Perſonal: Pleas, Cauſes, &c. of what kind ſoever, as any of his Subjects, within his Kingdom of England, or Corporations, are by Law capable and enabled to do.

To ſue in any Courts of Juſtice.

To have a Common Seal,

And the ſaid Preſident, Council, and Fellows are impowered to have a Common Seal for their Uſe in their Affairs; and from Time to Time to break, change and make a-new the ſame, as ſhall ſeem expedient unto them.

And Coat of Arms.

And his Majeſty in Teſtimony of his Royal Favour towards the ſaid Preſident, Council, and Fellows, and of his eſpecial Eſteem of them, doth grant a Coat of Arms to them and their Succeſſors, viz. On a Field Argent a Canton of the three Lyons of England: For a Creſt, an Eagle proper on a Ducal Coronet ſupporting a Shield charged with the Lyons aforeſaid; and for Supporters, two Talbots with Coronets on their Necks. The ſaid Arms to be born, &c. by the ſaid Society upon all Occaſions.

The Council to conſiſt of twenty one Perſons.

To chuſe Fellows, &c.

Well qualified to promote the Honour of the Society.

And that his Majeſty's Royal Intention may take the better Effect, for the good Government of the ſaid Society from Time to Time: It is eſtabliſhed, That the Council aforeſaid ſhall conſiſt of twenty one Perſons (whereof the Preſident for the Time being always to be one) and that all Perſons, which within two Months next enſuing the Date of the ſaid Charter ſhall be choſen by the ſaid Preſident and Council; and in all Times after the ſaid two Months, by the Preſident, Council, and Fellows [and noted in a Regiſter to be kept for that Purpoſe] ſhall be Fellows of the ſaid Society, and ſo accounted and called during Life, except by the Statutes of the ſaid Society to be made any of them ſhall happen to be amoved. And by how much any Perſons are more excelling in all kinds of Learning, by how much the more ardently they deſire to promote the Honour, Buſineſs, and Emolument of the ſaid Society, by how much the more eminent they are for Integrity, Honeſty, Piety, Loyalty, and good Affection toward his Majeſty, his Crown and Dignity; by ſo much the more fit and worthy ſuch Perſons are to be judged for Reception into the Society.

His Majeſty names William Lord Brouncker the firſt Preſident.

And for the better Execution of his Royal Grant, his Majeſty hath nominated, &c. his Truſty and well-beloved William Viſcount Brouncker, Chancellor to his deareſt Conſort Queen Catharine, to be the firſt and modern Preſident to continue in the ſaid Office from the Date of the Patent to the Feaſt of St. Andrew next enſuing, and until another Perſon of the ſaid Council be duly choſen into the ſaid Office. The ſaid Lord Brouncker being ſworn in all Things belonging thereto well and faithfully to execute the ſaid Office, before our right well-beloved and right truſty Coſin and Counſellor, Edward Earl of Clarendon, Lord High Chancellor of England, in the Words following.

Form of the Oath to be taken by the Preſident.

I William Viſcount Brouncker do promiſe to deal faithfully and honeſtly in all Things belonging to that Truſt committed to me, as Preſident of the Royal Society of London, for improving Natural Knowledge. So help me God.

His Majeſty nominates the Council of twenty one for one Year.

All Perſons of great Worth and Diſtinction.

And his Majeſty hath nominated, &c. the Perſons following, his truſty and well-beloved Sir Robert Moray, Knight, one of his Privy-Council in his Kingdom of Scotland, Robert Boyle, Eſquire, William Brereton, Eſquire, eldeſt Son to the Lord Brereton, Sir Kenelme Digby, Knight, Chancellor to his deareſt Mother Queen Mary, Sir Gilbert Talbot, Knight, Maſter of his Jewel-Houſe, Sir Paul Neile, Knight, one of the Uſhers of his Privy-Chamber, Henry Slingſby, Eſquire, one of the Gentlemen of his ſaid Privy-Chamber, Sir William Petty, Knight, Timothy Clarke, Doctor of Phyſick, and one of his Phyſicians, John Wilkins, Doctor of Divinity, George Ent, Doctor of Phyſick, William Erſkyne, Eſq; one of his Cupbearers, Jonathan Goddard Doctor of Phyſick, William Ball, Eſq; Matthew Wren, Eſq; John Evelyn, Eſq; Thomas Henſhaw, Eſq; Dudley Palmer of Gray's-Inn, Eſq; Abraham Hill of London, Eſq; and Henry Oldenburg, Eſq; together with the Preſident aforeſaid, to be the firſt and modern Twenty one of the Council and Fellows of the Royal Society aforeſaid, to be continued in the Offices of the Council aforeſaid, from the Date of the Patent to the Feaſt of St. Andrew next following, and from thence till other fit Perſons be choſen into the ſaid Offices. The ſaid Perſons to be ſworn before the Preſident of the Society for the Time being, well and truly to execute the ſaid Offices, according to the Form and Effect of the aforeſaid Oath, to be adminiſtred to the Preſident by the Lord Chancellor as aforeſaid. For the adminiſtring which Oath to the ſaid Perſons, and all others hereafter from Time to Time to be choſen into the ſaid Council, full Power and Authority is granted to the Preſident for the Time being: And the ſaid Perſons duly ſworn, and all other from Time to Time duly choſen into the ſaid Council and ſworn, are to aid, adviſe and aſſiſt in all Affairs, Buſineſſes, and Things, concerning the better Regulation, Government, and Direction of the Royal Society; and every Member thereof.

To be ſworn before the Preſident.

To hold frequent Meetings.

Furthermore, Liberty is granted to the ſaid Society lawfully to make and hold Meetings of themſelves, for the ſearching out and diſcovery of natural Things, and Tranſaction of other Buſineſſes relating to the ſaid Society, when and as often as ſhall be requiſite, in any College, Hall, or other convenient Place in London, or within ten Miles thereof.

To elect a Preſident on St. Andrew's Day.

And Power is granted to the ſaid Society, from Time to Time to nominate and chuſe yearly, on St. Andrew's Day, one of the Council aforeſaid, for the Time being to be Preſident of the Society until St. Andrew's Day next enſuing (if he ſhall ſo long live, or not be removed for ſome juſt and reaſonable Cauſe) and from thence until another be choſen and put into the ſaid Office: the ſaid Preſident ſo elected, before Admiſſion to that Office, to be ſworn before the Council, according to the Form before expreſſed, who are impower'd to adminiſter the ſaid Oath from Time to Time, as often as there ſhall be cauſe to chuſe a Preſident.

And in caſe that the ſaid Preſident, during his Office, ſhall die, recede, or be removed, then and ſo often it ſhall be lawful for the Council of the Royal Society, to meet together to chuſe one of their Number for Preſident of the ſaid Society, and the Perſon ſo choſen and duly ſworn, ſhall have and exerciſe the Office of Preſident for the Remainder of the Year, and until another be duly choſen into the ſaid Office.

Election of the Council of twenty one Members.

And in caſe that any one or more of the Council aforeſaid ſhall die, recede, or be remov'd (which Perſons or any of them, for Miſdemeanour, or other reaſonable Cauſe, are declared to be amovable by the Preſident and the reſt of the Council) then and ſo often it ſhall be lawful for the Preſident, Council, and Fellows, to chuſe one or more of the Fellows of the Royal Society, in the room of him or them ſo deceaſing, receding, or removed, to compleat the aforeſaid Number of twenty one of the Council, which Perſon or Perſons, ſo choſen, are to continue in Office until St. Andrew's Day then next enſuing, and until others be duly choſen, the ſaid Perſons being ſworn, faithfully to execute their Offices, according to the true Intention of the Patent.

Ten of the Council to be yearly changed.

And his Majeſty doth Will and Grant unto the ſaid Preſident, Council, and Fellows, full Power and Authority on St. Andrew's Day yearly, to elect, nominate, and change ten of the Fellows of the Royal Society, to ſupply the Places and Offices of ten of the aforeſaid Number of twenty one of the Council, declaring it to be his Royal Will and Pleaſure, that ten and no more of the Council aforeſaid be annually changed and removed by the Preſident, Council and Fellows aforeſaid.

A Vice-Preſident or Deputy.

One Treaſurer, two Secretaries, one or more Clerks, &c.

William Ball the firſt Treaſurer.

John Wilkins and Henry Oldenburgh the two firſt Secretaries.

Who are to be of the Number of the Council.

And it is granted on the Behalf of the ſaid Society, that if it ſhall happen that the Preſident be ſick, infirm, detained in his Majeſty's Service, or otherwiſe occupied, ſo as he cannot attend the neceſſary Affairs of the Society, then and ſo often it ſhall be lawful for him to appoint one of the Council for his Deputy, who ſhall ſupply his Place from Time to Time, as often as he ſhall happen to be abſent during the whole Time of the ſaid Preſident's Continuance in his Office, unleſs he ſhall in the mean Time conſtitute ſome other of the Council for his Deputy; and the Deputy ſo conſtituted, is impower'd to do all and ſingular Things which belong to the Office of the Preſident of the Royal Society, and in as ample Manner and Form as the ſaid Preſident may do by Virtue of his Majeſty's Letters Patents, he the ſaid Deputy being duly ſworn before the Council in Form before ſpecified, who are impower'd to adminiſter the Oath as often as the Caſe ſhall require. It is further granted to the Society, to have one Treaſurer, two Secretaries, two or more Curators of Experiments, one or more Clerk or Clerks, and alſo two Serjeants at Mace, who may from Time to Time attend on the Preſident: All the ſaid Officers to be choſen by the Preſident, Council and Fellows, and to be ſworn in Form and Effect before ſpecified, well and faithfully to execute their Offices, which Oath the Council are impower'd to adminiſter: And his Majeſty nominates and appoints his well beloved Subjects, the aforeſaid William Ball, Eſq; to be the firſt and modern Treaſurer, and the aforeſaid John Wilkins and Henry Oldenburg, to be the firſt and modern Secretaries of the Royal Society, to be continued in the ſaid Offices to the Feaſt of St. Andrew next following the Date of the Patent: And that from Time to Time, and ever hereafter, on the ſaid Feaſt of St. Andrew (if it be not the Lord's-Day, and if it be Lord's-Day, on the next Day after) the Preſident, Council, and Fellows aforeſaid are impower'd to nominate and chuſe honeſt and diſcreet Men for Treaſurer and Secretaries which are to be of the Number of the Council of the Royal Society, which Perſons elected and ſworn, in Form before ſpecified, are to exerciſe and enjoy the ſaid Offices until the Feaſt of St. Andrew then next following.

Elections to be on the Feaſt of St. Andrew, or near it.

And if it ſhall happen, that the aforeſaid Elections of the Preſident, Council, Treaſurer, and Secretaries, or any of them, cannot be made or perfected on the Feaſt of St. Andrew aforeſaid: It is granted to the aforeſaid Preſident, Council, and Fellows, that they may lawfully nominate and aſſign another Day, as near to the ſaid Feaſt of St. Andrew as conveniently may be, for making or perfecting the ſaid Elections, and ſo from Day to Day till the ſaid Elections be perfected.

And in caſe that any of the aforeſaid Officers of the Royal Society ſhall die, recede, or be removed from their reſpective Offices, then and ſo often it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Preſident, Council, and Fellows, to chuſe one or more into the Office or Offices vacant, to hold the ſame during the Reſidue of that Year, and until others be duly choſen and ſworn in their Places.

To meet in any College, Hall, or other Place.

To make Statutes, Orders, &c.

Moreover on the Behalf of the Society, it is granted unto the Preſident and Council, that they may aſſemble and meet together in any College, Hall, or other convenient Place in London, or within ten Miles thereof (due and lawful Summons of all the Members of the Council to extraordinary Meetings being always premiſed) and that they being ſo met together, have full Power and Authority from Time to Time, to make, conſtitute, and eſtabliſh ſuch Laws, Statutes, Orders, and Conſtitutions, which ſhall appear to them to be good, uſeful, honeſt and neceſſary, according to their Judgments and Diſcretions, for the Government, Regulation and Directions of the Royal Society and every Member thereof: And to do all Things concerning the Government, Eſtate, Goods, Lands, Revenues, as alſo the Buſineſſes and Affairs of the ſaid Society: All which Laws, Statutes, Orders, &c. ſo made, his Majeſty Wills and Commands that they be from Time to Time inviolably obſerved, according to the Tenor and Effect of them: Provided that they be reaſonable and not repugnant or contrary to the Laws, Cuſtoms, &c. of his Kingdom of England.

To chuſe one or more Printers and Gravers.

And furthermore full Power and Authority is given and granted unto the ſaid Society, from Time to Time to chuſe one or more Printers and Gravers, and by Writing ſealed with the Common-Seal of the Society, and ſigned by the Preſident for the Time being, to grant them Power to print ſuch Things, Matters and Buſineſſes concerning the ſaid Society, as ſhall be committed to them by the Council from Time to Time; the ſaid Printers and Gravers being ſworn before the Preſident and Council in Form before ſpecified, which Preſident and Council are impower'd to give the ſaid Oath.

To take dead Bodies of Perſons executed.

And for the greater Advantage and Succeſs of the Society in their Philoſophical Studies and Endeavours, full Power and Authority is granted unto them, to require, take, and receive, from Time to Time, dead Bodies of Perſons executed, and the ſame to anatomize, to all Intents and Purpoſes, and in as ample Manner and Form as the College of Phyſicians, and Company of Chirurgeons of London (by what Names ſoever the ſaid two Corporations are or may be called) have had and made uſe of, or may have and uſe the ſaid Bodies.

To hold Correſpondence abroad.

And for the Improvement of ſuch Experiments, Arts, and Sciences as the Society may be imployed in, full Power and Authority is granted unto them from Time to Time by Letters under the Hand of the Preſident in the Preſence of the Council, to hold Correſpondence and Intelligence with any Strangers, whether private Perſons, or Collegiate Societies or Corporations, without any Interruption or Moleſtation whatſoever: Provided that this Indulgence or Grant be extended to no further Uſe than the particular Benefit and Intereſt of the Society in Matters Philoſphical, Mathematical, and Mechanical.

To erect and build one College or more.

Full Power and Authority is alſo granted on the Behalf of the Society to the Council, to erect and build one or more Colleges within London, or ten Miles thereof, of what Form or Quality ſoever, for Habitation, Aſſembling, or Meeting of the Preſident, Council and Fellows, about any Affairs and Buſineſſes of the Society.

Perſons appointed to compoſe any Differences, &c.

And if any Abuſes or Differences ſhall ever hereafter ariſe and happen about the Government or Affairs of the Society, whence the Conſtitution, Progreſs, and Improvement, or Buſineſſes thereof may ſuffer or be hindred: In ſuch Caſes his Majeſty aſſigns and authorizes his right truſty and right well-beloved Couſin and Counſellor, Edward Earl of Clarendon, Lord High Chancellor of England by himſelf during his Life, and after his Deceaſe the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England, the Lord High Treaſurer of England, the Lord Keeper of the Privy-Seal, the Lord Biſhop of London, and the two principal Secretaries of State for the Time being, or any four or more of them, to compoſe and redreſs any ſuch Differences or Abuſes.

And laſtly, his Majeſty ſtreightly charges and commands all Juſtices, Mayors, Aldermen, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, and all other Officers, Miniſters, and Subjects whatſoever, from Time to Time to be aiding and aſſiſting unto the ſaid Preſident, Council and Fellows of the Royal Society, in and about all Things, according to the true Intention of his Letters Patents, &c.

The Lord Chancellor, Attorney and Solicitor General take no Fees.

Sprat's Hiſtory of the Royal Society, 4to. p. 143.

This is the Legal Ratification which the Royal Society has receiv'd. And in this Place I am to render their publick Thanks to the Right Honourable the Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chancellor of England, to Sir Jeffery Palmer Attorney General, and to Sir Heneage Finch Solicitor General; who by their chearful Concurrence and free Promotion of this Confirmation have wip'd away the Aſperſion that has been ſcandalouſly caſt on the Profeſſion of the Law, that it is an Enemy to Learning and the Civil Arts.

The King's Application and Advice to the Society.

Ibid. p. 133.

When the Society firſt addreſs'd themſelves to his Majeſty, he was pleas'd to expreſs much Satisfaction that this Enterprize was begun in his Reign: He then repreſented to them the Gravity and Difficulty of their Work, and aſſur'd them of all the kind Influence of his Power and Prerogative. Since that he has frequently committed many Things to their Search: He has referr'd many foreign Rarities to their Inſpection: He has recommended many domeſtick Improvements to their Care: He has demanded the Reſult of their Trials, in many Appearances of Nature: He has been preſent, and aſſiſted with his own Hands at the performing of many of their Experiments, in his Gardens, his Parks, and on the River. And beſides I will not conceal, that he has ſometimes reprov'd them for the Slowneſs of their Proceedings; at which Reproofs they have not ſo much Cauſe to be afflicted that they are the Reprehenſions of a King, as to be comforted that they are the Reprehenſions of his Love and Affection to their Progreſs.

An Abſtract of the Statutes of the Royal Society.

Abſtract of their Statutes.

Whatever Statute ſhall be made or repeal'd, the making or repealing of it ſhall be voted twice, and at two ſeveral Meetings of the Council.

This Obligation ſhall be ſubſcrib'd by every Fellow, or his Election ſhall be void.

Every Fellow to ſubſcribe.

We who have hereto ſubſcrib'd, do promiſe each for himſelf, that we will endeavour to promote the Good of the Royal Society of London for the Improvement of Natural Knowledge, and to purſue the Ends for which the ſame was founded: That we will be preſent at the Meetings of the Society, as often as conveniently we can: Eſpecially at the Anniverſary Elections, and upon extraordinary Occaſions: And that we will obſerve the Statutes and Orders of the ſaid Society: Provided, that whenever any of us ſhall ſignify to the Preſident under his Hand, that he deſires to withdraw from the Society, he ſhall be free from this Obligation for the future.

To pay Admiſſion Money and Contribution.

Every Fellow ſhall pay his Admiſſion Money, and afterwards Contribution towards the defraying of the Charges of Obſervations and Experiments, &c.

Weekly Meetings.

The ordinary Meetings of the Royal Society ſhall be held once a Week, where none ſhall be preſent, beſides the Fellows, without the Leave of the Society, under the Degree of a Baron in one of his Majeſty's three Kingdoms, or of his Majeſty's Privy-Council, or unleſs he be an eminent Foreigner, and theſe only without the Leave of the Preſident.

The Buſineſs of them.

The Buſineſs of their weekly Meetings ſhall be, to order, take Account, conſider, and diſcourſe of philoſophical Experiments, and Obſervations; to read, hear, and diſcourſe upon Letters, Reports, and other Papers, containing philoſophical Matters; as alſo to view and diſcourſe upon the Productions and Rarities of Nature and Art; and to conſider what to deduce from them, or how they may be improved for Uſe or Diſcovery.

To make Experiments.

The Experiments that be made at the Charge of the Society. Two Curators at leaſt ſhall be appointed for the Inſpection of thoſe which cannot be performed before the Society; by them the bare Report of Matter of Fact ſhall be ſtated and returned.

The Election of Fellows ſhall be made by Way of Ballot; and their Admiſſion by a ſolemn Declaration made by the Preſident of their Election.

To elect by Ballot.

The Election of the Council and Officers ſhall be made once a Year: Eleven of the preſent Council ſhall be continued, by Lot, for the next Year, and ten new ones choſen, in like manner. Out of this new Council ſhall be elected a Preſident, Treaſurer, and two Secretaries, in the ſame Way.

Duty of the Preſident.

The Preſident ſhall preſide in all Meetings, regulate all the Debates of the Society and Council; ſtate and put Queſtions; call for Reports, and Accounts from Committees, Curators, and others; ſummon all extraordinary Meetings upon urgent Occaſions; and ſee to the Execution of the Statutes. The Vice-Preſident ſhall have the ſame Power in the Abſence of the Preſident.

Of the Treaſurer.

The Treaſurer or his Deputy ſhall receive and keep Accounts of all Money due to the Society, and diſburſe all Money payable by the Society. He ſhall pay ſmall Sums by Order of the Preſident under his Hand, but thoſe that exceed five Pounds by Order of the Council. All Bills of Charges for Experiments ſhall firſt be ſigned by the Curators. The Accounts of the Treaſurer ſhall be audited four Times a Year, by a Committee of the Council, and once a Year by a Committee of the Society.

Of the Secretaries.

The Secretaries are to take Notes of the Orders, and material Paſſages of the Meetings; to take Care of the Books, Papers, and Writings of the Society; to order and direct the Clerks in making Entries of all Matters in the Regiſter and Journal Books of the Society or Council; to draw up ſuch Letters as ſhall be written in their Name, which ſhall be approved at one of their Meetings; to give Notice of the Candidates propounded in order to Election.

Of the Curators.

The Curators by Office ſhall have a ſufficient Allowance for their Encouragement, which ſhall increaſe proportionably with the Revenue of the Society, provided that it exceed not two hundred Pounds a Year. They ſhall be well ſkill'd in philoſophical and mathematical Learning, well vers'd in Obſervations, Inquiries, and Experiments of Nature and Art. They ſhall take Care of the managing of all Experiments and Obſervations appointed by the Society, or Council, and report the ſame, and perform ſuch other Taſks as the Society or Council ſhall appoint; ſuch as the examining of Sciences, Arts, and Inventions now in Uſe, and the bringing in Hiſtories of natural and artificial Things, &c. They ſhall be propounded at leaſt a Month before they are choſen. They ſhall be examin'd by the Council before the Election: To their Election every Member of the Society ſhall be ſummon'd: They ſhall at firſt only be elected for a Year of Probation (except they be of known Merits) at the End of the Year, they ſhall be either elected for Perpetuity or for a longer Time of Probation, or wholly rejected. The Cauſes of ejecting a Curator ſhall be the ſame with ejecting a Fellow, or for fraudulent Dealing, and Negligence in the Affairs of the Society, provided that he ſhall firſt receive three reſpective Admonitions. If any Curator ſhall be diſabled by Age, Infirmity, or any Caſualty, in the Service of the Society, ſome Proviſion ſhall be made for him during Life, if his Condition requires, according as the Council ſhall think fit.

Of the Clerk.

The Clerk ſhall conſtantly attend at all Meetings; he ſhall follow the Directions of the Secretaries, in regiſtring and entring all Matters that ſhall be appointed; he ſhall not communicate any thing contained in their Books, to any that is not a Fellow. He ſhall have a certain Rate for what he copies, and a yearly Stipend for his Attendance.

Of the Printer.

The Printer ſhall take Care for the Printing of ſuch Books as ſhall be committed to him by Order of the Society or Council; and therein he ſhall obſerve their Directions, as to the Correction of the Edition, the Number of Copies, the Form or Volume, &c.

Of the Operators.

The Operators of the Society, when they have any of their Work under their Hands, ſhall not undertake the Work of any other Perſons, which may hinder the Buſineſs of the Society. They ſhall have Salaries for their Attendance.

The keeping of the Seal.

The Common Seal of the Society ſhall be kept in a Cheſt with three Locks, and three different Keys, by the Preſident, Treaſurer, and one of the Secretaries. The Deeds of the Society ſhall be paſſed in Council, and ſealed by them and the Preſident.

The ſeveral Books.

The Books that concern the Affairs of the Society ſhall be the Charter Book, Statute Book, Journal Books, Letter Books, and Regiſter Books, for the entring of philoſophical Obſervations, Hiſtories, Diſcourſes, Experiments, Inventions.

A Book of Benefactors.

The Names of Benefactors ſhall be honourably mention'd in a Book provided for that Purpoſe.

In caſe of Death, or Receſs of any Fellow, the Secretaries are to note it in the Margin of the Regiſter, over-againſt their Names.

A Cauſe of Ejection.

The Cauſes of Ejection ſhall be contemptuous Diſobedience to the Statutes and Orders of the Society; defaming, or malicious damnifying the ſame. This ſhall be declared by the Preſident at one of the Meetings; and the Ejection recorded.

The King Founder and Patron.
The Duke of York and Prince Rupert Fellows.

When theſe Statutes were preſented to his Majeſty, he was pleaſed to ſuperſcribe himſelf their Founder and Patron; his Royal Highneſs, and his Highneſs Prince Rupert, at the ſame Time declaring themſelves Fellows.

At the beginning of the late Confuſions, ſeveral Patrons continued to make a regular Preſentation of their Clerks to the Biſhop of the Dioceſe: And the Biſhop gave them Inſtitution without Power of giving them Poſſeſſion.

Inſtanced in the Dioceſe of Ely, even while the Biſhop was a Priſoner in the Tower.

Mr. Zach. Pepper Rector of Lolleworth, by the Reſignation of Tho. Whincop, perhaps to avoid Sequeſtration.

Decemb. 11, 1644. Exhibita eſt Reſignatio quædam Rectoriæ de Lolleworth per Rev. virum Thomam Whincop Rectorem nono die Septemb. facta, &c.

Ex Regiſtro Matthæi Epiſc. Elien. MS. Extract per Honeſtum Virum Johannem Worthington, Exſocium Coll. D. Petri Cantabr.

Dec. 19, 1644. Inſtitutus eſt Zaccheus Pepper, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Lolleworth vac. per reſign. &c.

Dr. Cheyney Rowe to prevent the Effect of being ſequeſtred from Orwell by Order dated Feb. 8, 1644. preſents another Clerk.

Dec. 12, 1644. Inſtitutus eſt Ricardus Flower, A. M. ad Vicariam de Orwell —— ad quam per ven. virum Cheynæum Rowe, S. T. P. preſentatus eſt pleno jure.

Mr. R. Hayne to Weſton-Colvile; and Mr. Weller to Baſtelowe.

Maii 10, 1645. Inſtitutus eſt Rob. Hayne, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Weſton-Colvile —— per mort. Abrahami Gates vacantem. ——

Junii 6, 1645. Inſtitutus eſt Ric. Weller, S. T. B. ad Rectoriam de Baſtelowe, per mort. Joh. Baker vacantem.

Mr. Joſeph Beaumont (afterwards Regius Profeſſor) preſented to the Rectory of Elm cum Emneth.

Apr. 11, 1646. Inſtitutus eſt Joſephus Beaumont Clericus, A. M. atque unus jampridem e Scholaribus Epiſcoporum Elien. in Coll. S. Petri —— ad Rectoriam de Elm cum Capella de Emneth —— per mort. Roberti Dove vacantem —— ad quam per Jo. Beaumont de Hadley in Com. Suffolc. Pannarium, &c. pro hac vice preſentatus fuit.

See Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings, Part* II. p. 22.

Mr. Edm. Mapletoft made Archdeacon of Ely, in Place of Mr. Daniel Wigmore, with the Churches of Willingham and Haddenham annex'd.

Feb. 4, 1646. Edmundus Mapletoft, A. M. inſtitutus eſt ad Archidiaconatum de Ely cum Eccleſiis de Wilberton & Hadenham eidem annexis. [vac. per mort. Danielis Wigmore ult. Archidiaconi.]

Mr. Nath. Bradſhaw was but an Intruder to Willingham, and had he conform'd, could not have kept it.

A Succeſſor was admitted before the Bartholomew Act, Aug. 20, 1662. and had the legal Incumbent Mr Mapletoft been living in 1660. he would have returned to it.

Feb. 6, 1647. Edmundus Mapletoft. Archidiaconus Elien. inſtitutus eſt ad Rectoriam de Willingham. [The Intruder into this Living was Mr. Nathaniel Bradſhaw, B. D. Son of Mr. Thomas Bradſhaw of Bradſhaw in Lancaſhire, born at Keddington-Hall in Suffolk, May 29, 1619. Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, who is ſaid to have left many good People, and a Living of between 3 and 400*l. per Ann.* for the Eaſe and Safety of his Conſcience, Aug. 24, 1662. —— When the Act for Toleration came forth, he return'd to his old People of Wivlingham, and preach'd amongſt them to the laſt Sabbath of his Life: And deſir'd no more of them than to pay for his Diet from Saturday Night till Monday Morning, and his Horſe Hire from St. Ives, which was five Miles diſtant, where he liv'd with Mrs. Maſon his Wife's Daughter. —— He died there October 16, 1690. in the ſeventy firſt Year of his Age.]

Dr. Calamy*'s Account, p.* 111.

See Aug. 20, 1662.

Mr. Joſeph Beaumont made Prebend of Ely.

Feb. 24, 1647. Collatus eſt Joſephus Beaumont, A. M. ad Canonicatum primum in Eccleſia Cath. Elien. vacantem —— per Rev. Matthæum Epiſcopum Elien.

And Rector of Little-Granſden.

Anno 1650. Junii 5. Inſtitutus eſt Joſephus Beaumont, A. M. ad Rect. de Granſden-parva —— per collationem Rev. Patris Matthæi Epiſcopi Elien.

Mr. Richard Ball Prebend of Ely.

An. 1651. Jan. 19. Inſtitutus eſt Ricardus Ball Clericus ad Canonicatum octavum in Eccleſia Cath. Elien.

Mr. Archdeacon Mapletoft made Prebend of Ely.

An. 1651. Mar. 12. Inſtitutus eſt Edmundus Mapletoft, A. M. Archidiaconus Elien. ad Prebendam primam in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [After the Death of Mr. John Bois, Archdeacon of Ely, which happen'd January 14, 1643. John Montfort, S. T. P. is ſaid to have been collated to this Prebend in the Time of the Grand Rebellion, and after him Mr. Edmund Mapletoft, but neither of them inſtalled.]

See Mr. Le Neve*'s* Faſti Angl. p. 75.

Mr. William Holder Prebend of Ely.

An. 1652. Jan. 25. Inſtitutus eſt Willelmus Holder, A. M. ad Prebendam tertiam in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [void as it ſeems by the Death of Elizæus Burgeſs, S. T. B. who had been collated in 1630.]

Ibid. p. 76.

Mr. Stephen Hall Prebend of Ely.

An. 1652. Dec. 20. Inſtitutus eſt Stephanus Hall, A. M. ad Preb. primam in Eccl. Cath. Elien. per mort. Magiſtri Edmundi Mapletoft, A. M. vacantem. [He was inſtalled Sept. 22, 1660. and died ſoon after Midſummer 1661.]

Ibid. p. 75.

A Tranſcript of the ſeveral Preſentations, and eſpecially of the Epiſcopal Collations and Inſtitutions, both in the Time of the uſurped Powers, and from and after the Reſtauration to the End of 1662. would make up the beſt Comment on the Account and Continuation of the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters, by or before the Act of Uniformity.

To inſtance in Ely Dioceſe.

Mr. Tho. Reeve inſtituted to the Rectory of Fulborne S. Vigoris.

Junii 22, 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Thomas Reeve, S. T. B. ad Rectoriam de Fulborne S. Vigoris per mort. Tho. Wilſon vacantem, ad preſ. Rob. Ramſey. [See Thomas Reeve, Clerk, inſtituted to the Rectory of Bradwell juxta Coggeſhall in Eſſex, March 21, 1662. who died before Aug. 22, 1693. and Thomas Reeve, D. D. who ſucceeded Mr. Tho. Fuller in the Curacy of Waltham Com. Eſſex. who was buried Feb. 29, 1671.]

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 83. and Vol. II. p. 631.

Dr. Bernard Hale to the Rectory of Fen-Ditton.

Eod. die 22. Junii 1660. inſtitutus eſt Bernardus Hale, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Fen-Ditton.

And to the Archdeaconry of Ely.

Jul. 2. 1660. Idem Bernardus Hale, S. T. P. inſtitutus eſt ad Archidiaconatum Elien. [Inſtalled Sept. 22, 1660. He died March 29, 1663. and was buried in the Chapel of Peter-Houſe, Cambridge.]

Le Neve*'s* Faſti, p. 74.

And to a Prebend of Ely.

Jul. 3, 1660. Inſtitutus eſt idem Bernardus Hale, S. T. P. ad Preb. ſecundam in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [Anthony Sparrow, S. T. P. inſtalled in this ſecond Stall, May 7, 1661.]

Ibid. p. 76.

Dr. Laur. Womack, Prebend of Ely.

Le Neve.

Jul. 5, 1660. Laurentius Woomack inſtitutus eſt ad Preb. ſextam in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [Laurence Womack, S. T. P. inſtalled in this Prebend, Sept. 22, 1660. conſecrated Biſhop of St. David's, Nov. 11, 1683.]

Mr. William Walker to the Rectory of Borough-Green.

Jul. 11, 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Gulielmus Walker ad Rect. de Borough-Green per mort. Thomæ Wake vacantem —— ad preſentat. Antonii Cage Equitis.

Dr. Tho. Wren to the Rectory of Littlebury.

Aug. 3, 1660. Thomas Wren Medicinæ Doctor [Filius Matthæi Elien. Epiſcopi] preſentatus eſt ad Rectoriam de Littlebury.

Dr. John Pearſon Prebend of Ely.

Ibid, p. 77.

Aug. 27, 1660. Joannes Pearſon, S. T. P. inſtitutus eſt ad Canonicatum quintum in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [Inſtalled Sept. 22, 1660. ſucceeded by Dr. Tho. Wren, inſtalled Jan. 25, 1661.]

Dr. Iſaac Barrow to the Rectory of Downham.

Eod. die Aug. 27, 1660. inſtitutus eſt Iſaacus Barrow, S. T. P. ad Rect. de Downham. [Conſecrated Biſhop of Man July 5, 1663. tranſlated to St. Aſaph Mar. 21, 1668.]

Sept. 3, 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Lucas Skippon, S. T. P. ad Rect. de Tydd Sancti Egidii.

The Biſhop's Mandate of Inſtallation.

Quarto die Septemb. 1660. poſtquam nominatus eſt Decanus Elienſis, Literæ Mandatoriæ a Domino Matthæo Epiſcopo Elien. exierunt pro Inſtallatione Bernardi Hale, S. T. P. ad Archidiaconatum Elien. ut ad Canonicatum ſecundum; Necnon Gulielmi Holder ad Canonicatum tertium; Joannis Pearſon, S. T. P. ad Canonicatum quintum; Laurentii Womack ad Canonicatum ſextum; Joſephi Beaumont ad Canonicatum ſeptimum; & Ricardi Ball, S. T. P. ad Canonicatum octavum.

Dr. Richard Love inſtituted Dean of Ely.

Sexto die Sept. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Ricardus Love, S. T. P. ad Decanatum Eccl. Cath. Elien. quæ quidem Inſtitutio ſequitur in hæc verba.

Form of Inſtitution.

Richard Love, D. D. was Son to Richard Love Apothecary in Cambr. [Collect. of Mr. John Worthington, late Fellow of Peter-Houſe in Cambr.]

Mr. Lloyd in his Memoirs, p. 463. calls him the natural Wit and Orator, Maſter of Bennet College, and Margaret Profeſſor after Dr. Holdſworth, in which Place he was ſure to affront any Man that put up Queſtions againſt the Doctrine or Diſcipline of the Church of England in the worſt of Times. One of his Daughters married Dr. Thomas Teniſon, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and another Dr. Lawſon an eminent Phyſician.

Matthæus permiſſione divina Elienſis Epiſcopus dilecto nobis in Chriſto Ricardo Love, S. T. P. Gratiam & Benedictionem. Ad Decanatum Eccl. Cath. Elien. per deceſſum ven. viri Gulielmi Fuller, S. T. P. ultimi Decani jam diu vacantem, ad quem per Auguſtiſſ. Principem & Dominum noſtrum Carolum ſecundum Dei Gratia Angl. Scot. Franc. & Hibern. Regem Fidei Defenſorem nominatus, electus, præfectuſque exiſtit, per Literas Patentes ſub Magno Sigillo ſuo per te Nobis præſentatas, licet Nobis non directas, nos rogatu tuo permoti, hanc tuam Præſentationem potius pro valido ſumpſimus, quam in deploratis hiis afflictæ Eccleſiæ tempeſtatibus Reſtitutioni ejuſdem aliquam moram imponere, te admittimus intuitu Charitatis teque præfatum Ricardum Love in Decanum Eccleſiæ Elien. inſtituimus atque per præſentes inveſtimus, in & de eodem Decanatu, cum ſuis Juribus, Membris & Pertinentiis univerſis: Curam & Regimen ejuſdem Cath. Eccleſiæ tibi in Domino committentes committimus, Juribus & Conſuetudinibus noſtris Epiſcopalibus in omnibus ſemper ſalvis. In cujus rei teſtimonium Epiſcopale Sigillum noſtrum præſentibus appoſuimus, datis ſexto die Menſis Septembris Anno Domini 1660. noſtræque ſecundæ Tranſlationis (ad Sedem Elien.) viceſimo tertio.

Eodem die emanavit Mandatum pro Inſtallatione prædicti Ricardi Love, &c.

Mr. Ben. Skelton Vicar of Hinton.

Sept. 7. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Ben. Skelton, A. M. ad Vicariam de Hinton per ceſſionem Iſaaci Barrow, Clerici & S. T. P. vacantem, ad preſentat. Coll. S. Petri.

John Franklyn Rector of Kelſhall in Hertfordſhire.

Sept. 25. Præſentatus eſt Joannes Franklyn ad Rectoriam de Kelſhall Linc. Dioc.

Mr. Will. Brunſell Prebend of Ely.

Account of him.

Ibid. p. 76.

Fasti Oxon. ſub Anno.

Octob. 4, 1660. Henricus Brunſell, A. M. inſtitutus eſt ad Canonicatum quartum in Eccl. Cath. Elien. [Inſtalled Octob. 18, 1660. ſucceeded by William Saywell, S. T. P. inſtalled March 8, 1679. —— Henry Brunſell, M. A. of Magdalen Hall, was admitted Doctor of Laws at Oxford, Jan. 16, 1660. He had been before admitted to practiſe Phyſick, but after his Majeſty's Reſtauration, laying aſide that Faculty, he betook himſelf to Divinity, and became Rector of Chaworth in Nottinghamſhire, Prebendary of Ely, and of Southwell.]

Dr. Richard Sterne reſigns Harleton.

Le Neve and Willis.

An. 1660. Nov. 20. Ven. vir Ricardus Sterne, S. T. P. reſignavit Rectoriam de Harleton, &c. præfatam Reſignationem Dominus gratioſe admiſit, &c. [Richard Sterne, S. T. P. was conſecrated Biſhop of Carliſle, Dec. 2, 1660. tranſlated to York Apr. 28, 1664.]

Dr. Ben. Whichcot Rector of Milton ſoon after reſign'd.

Ben. Whichcot, M. A. Fellow of Emanuel Coll. Camb. preſented by that Society to the Rectory of North Cadbury in Com. Som. which he left to Mr. Sam. Cradock; when in 1644. he was made Provoſt of King's College in the Place of Dr. Sam. Collins, to whom was allow'd a yearly Stipend out of the Provoſtſhip.

Ben. Whichcote, S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Vic. Sancti Laurentii in Judaiſmo Lond. 13. Dec. 1662. vac. per promot. Joh. Wilkins, S. T. P. ad Epiſc. Ceſtr. ad preſ. D. Regis.

10. Decemb. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Benjaminus Whichcot, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Milton alias Middleton in Com. Cantebrig. Elien. Dioc. per mortem Sam. Collins, S. Th. Profeſſoris Regii in Univerſitate Cantebrig. ultimi Incumbentis ibidem vacantem, & ad Patronatum Coll. Regalis in Univerſitate predicta pleno jure ſpectantem: Sed ad quam per Auguſtiſſ. Dominum Regem propter lapſum temporis præſentatus fuerat.

Eodem die præfatus Benjaminus Whichcot exhibuit Inſtrumenta duo Ordinationis ſuæ in ſacros Ordines, ex quibus apparuit eundem Benjaminum admiſſum fuiſſe ad S. Diaconatus Ordinem die Dominico, videl. quinto die Martii A. D. 1636. per Joannem D. Epiſcopum Lincoln. in Capella ſua infra Manerium de Buckden notorie ſituat. eundemque Benjaminum deinde fuiſſe ad ſacrum Preſbyteratus Ordinem admiſſum fuiſſe per eundem Epiſcopum eiſdem die, anno & loco prædictis.

Mr. Martin Frances Rector of Caſtle-Camps.

Dec. 20, 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Martinus Frances, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Caſtle-Camps Com. Cantebr. per mort. Nicolai Gray, S. T. D. jam vacantem, &c. [See an Account of Dr. Nicholas Gray, Fellow of Eaton, and Rector of Caſtle-Camps, in Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 87.]

Mr. Charles Buſſey reſign'd the Vicarage of All Saints, Cambridge.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 147.

Feb. 5, 1660. Carolus Buſſy, S. T. B. reſignavit Vicariam Omn. Sanctorum Cantebrig. [Charles Buſſey, B. D. born in Nottinghamſhire, ſent firſt to Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, thence elected Fellow of Jeſus College, Vicar of All-Saints in Cambridge in 1629. which he ſeems to have loſt with his Fellowſhip in 1644. reſtored in 1660. and in the Year following, preſented to the Rectory of Harleton in Cambridgeſhire: Preſident of his College.]

Dr. Henry Fearne Dean of Ely by Death of Dr. Rich. Love.

Febr. 16. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Henricus Ferne S. T. P. ad Decanatum Eccleſiæ Cath. Elien. per deceſſum ven. Viri Richardi Love S. T. P. jam vacantem. [Inſtalled March 12, 1660. promoted to the See of Cheſter 1661. while Prolocutor of the Lower Houſe of Convocation.]

Ordination by the Biſhop of Ely.

Martii 10. 1660. Dominus admiſit ad S. Diaconatus Ordinem Edw. Stearne, Tho. Cook & Gul. Abell ſingulos Artium Magiſtros, & ad tit. Aul. Pembr. Cant. Item Tho. Rider, & Matth. Goldſmith ad eund. tit. Deinde Thomam Spratt A. M. in ſacrum Preſbyteratus Ordinem cooptavit. [Tho. Spratt, A. M. Fellow of Wadham College Oxon. Chaplain to the Duke of Buckingham, and to King Charles II. Prebendary of Weſtminſter and Windſor; Dean of Weſtminſter Sept. 21, 1683. conſecrated Biſhop of Rocheſter Nov. 2, 1684.]

Mr. Edw. Stearne Vicar of Barton.

Martii 11. 1660. Edwardus Stearne collatus eſt ad Vic. perpet. de Barton.

Mr. Will. Jackſon Fellow of Jeſus.

Account of Mr. Tho. Anſcell.

Maii 27. 1661. Gul. Jackſon A. M. inſtitutus eſt ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu quod Magiſter Tho. Anſcell nuper tenuit, quodque per aliquot annos vacavit, eaque de Cauſa in Collatione Dom. Epiſc. Elien. [Thomas Anſcell, B. D. Fellow of Jeſus, and Vicar of Gilden-Morden in Cambridgeſhire: Born at Barfield Com. Bedford. Deprived of both his Fellowſhip and Vicarage in 1644. In 1660. he became Doctor of Divinity, at which Time he was reſtored, as I preſume, to his Preferments.]

Dr. Walker, p. II. p. 147.

Ordination by the Biſhop of Ely.

Junii 9. 1661. Admiſſi ſunt ad S. Diaconatus Ordinem Carolus Gibſon A. M. ad tit. Coll. Jeſu Cant. —— Tho. Kelke A. M. ad tit. Coll. Regin. —— Et Dominus in S. Preſbyteratus Ordinem cooptavit Thomam Wren Medicinæ Doctorem Filium Domini Matthæi Epiſc. Elien. Junii 10. 1661. Idem Tho. Wren preſentatus eſt ad Rectoriam de Norwold Com. Norf. per Mort. Johannis Nowell S. T. B. vacantem.

Dr. Tho. Wren, the Biſhop's Son, Rector of Norwold.

Mr. Charles Buſſy Rector of Harleton.

Jul. 13. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Carolus Buſſy S. T. B. ad Rectoriam de Harleton per Reſign. Stephani Hall S. T. B. vacantem.

Mr. Edw. Rood to a Mediety of Gamlinghay; by Reſignation of Mr. Charles Gibbs.

Jul. 18. 1661. Edwardus Rood A. M. inſtitutus eſt ad medietatem Rectoriæ de Gamlinghay Com. Cantabrig. per Reſign. Caroli Gibbs vacantem ad preſentat. Coll. Merton Oxon. [Mr. Wood thinks he had reſigned Gamlinghay in 1644. to prevent Sequeſtration; but more likely he was then ſequeſtred, and was reſtored in 1660. and reſigned in 1661. Afterwards Prebendary of Weſtminſter and Rector of Stanford Rivers in Eſſex, where he died Sept. 16, 1681.]

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 689. 2d Edit.

Obadiah Sedgwick Rector of Rampton. Query, whether not the Son of Mr. Obadiah, or Mr. William Sedgwick.

Aug. 16. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Obadiah Sedgwick A. M. ad Rectoriam de Rampton Com. Cantabrig. ad quam per Auguſtiſſ. Dominum Carolum II. propter lapſum Temporis ad corroborandum titulum preſentatus eſt.

Mr. Nich. Bullingham Vicar of Wilbraham in Place of Mr. Tho. Tyrwhit.

Aug. 29. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Nic. Bullingham S. T. B. ad Vic. de Wilbraham Magna in Com. Cantabr. vacantem per Inſtitutionem Tho. Tyrwhitt S. T. B. ad aliud Beneficium incompatibile. [Tho. Tyrwhitt S. T. P. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Thurrington Com. Eſſex. 23. Nov. 1661. vac. per Mort. ult. Rect. ad preſ. Magiſtri Sociorum & Scholarium Coll. S. Johannis Evang. Cantabrig. —— Obiit ante 10. Maii, 1666.]

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 593.

Mr. Theod. Groſland Vicar of Cheſterton.

Sept. 4. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Theod. Croſland S. T. B. ad Vicariam de Cheſterton Com. Cantabrig. vacantem per Mort. nat. Richardi Watts Clerici.

Ordination by the Biſhop of Ely.

Sept. 22. 1661. Dominus Epiſcopus cooptavit in S. Preſbyteratus Ordinem Edwardum Stearne ad tit. Aulæ Pembroc. & Tho. Belk ad tit. Coll. Regin. [Thomas Belk, S. T. P. inſtalled Prebendary of Canterbury 1676. Rector of Wickham in Kent; he died Sept. 17, 1712. Son of Dr. Will. Belk.]

Dr. Joh. Pearſon changes his fifth for the firſt Prebend of Ely.

Account of Mr. Steph. Hall.

Octob. 9. 1661. Jo. Pearſon S. T. P. reſignavit Canonicatum quintum in Eccl. Elienſi, —— & eodem Die collatus eſt ad Canonicatum primum in ead. Eccl. Elien. vacantem per Mort. nat. ven. Viri Stephani Hall S. T. B. [Stephen Hall, B. D. ſaid to have been deprived in the late Times of a Prebend in the firſt Stall at Ely, of a Fellowſhip in Jeſus College Cambridge, of the Vicarage of Fordham in Cambridgeſhire, and the Lecture of St. Paul's. —— He died in his College of Jeſus, to the Library of which he left a ſmall Legacy, and lies buried in the Chapel there.]

Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 22.

Dr. Ben. Whichcot reſign'd Milton,

And accepted again the College Title to it.

Nov. 16. Exhibita eſt Reſignatio Rectoriæ de Milton per ven. Virum Benjaminum Whichcot S. T. P.

Nov. 20. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Benjaminus Whichcot S. T. P. ad Rect. de Milton —— ad præſentat. Coll. Regalis.

Dr. Tho. Wren to the fifth Prebend of Ely.

Jan. 14. 1661. Collatus eſt Thomas Wren Preſbyter tam Medicinæ quam Legum Doctor ad Canonicatum quintum in Eccl. Cath. Elien. per Reſign. ven. Viri Johannis Pearſon S. T. P. vacantem, &c. [Tho. Wren, ſecond Son of Matthew Biſhop of Ely, was by his Father made Archdeacon of Ely, inſtalled in that Dignity April 13. he died in 1679.]

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 810.

Dr. Edm. Boldero Rector of Glemsford Com. Suff.

Febr. 15. 1661. Preſentatus eſt Edmundus Boldero S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Glemsford in Com. Suffolc. vac. per Mort. Rogeri Cook. [Dr. Edm. Boldero Maſter of Jeſus College Cambridge from 1663. to 1679.]

Mr. Edw. Kempe Vicar of Okinton.

Febr. 25. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Edwardus Kempe S. T. B. ad Vicariam de Okinton Com. Cantabr. ad preſentat. Coll. Reginæ. [Ejected from his Fellowſhip of Queen's in Cambridge April 9, 1644. ſucceeded by Will. Ames, A. B.] Mr. Chandler, B. D. had been turned out of his Fellowſhip in the ſame College June 1, 1644. and July 16. the ſame Year deprived of his Vicarage of Okekington for his Loyalty, and for his betaking himſelf to his Majeſty's Army.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 157.

Dr. Adiel Baynned Rector of Bartlow.

Martii 19. 1661. Adiel Baynned S. T. P. inſtitutus eſt ad Rectoriam de Bartlow ad quam preſentatus erat per Carolum Regem, &c. propter lapſum Temporis. [One Baker had been ſequeſtred from Bartlow, then worth one hundred per Annum, about March 22, 1643. and William Hinton was violently put into Poſſeſſion of it.]

Walker's Sufferings, p. II. p. 190.

Mr. Edw. Stearne Rector of Teverſham.

Eodem Die Martii 19. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt per Collationem Edwardus Stearne A. M. ad Rectoriam de Teverſham in Com. Cantabr.

Mr. Simon Potter Rector of Fulmere; lapſed to the King. Doctor Calamy makes Mr. Ezekiel King ejected or ſilenced at this Place.

Eodem Die inſtitutus eſt Simon Potter A. M. ad Rect. de Fulmere ad quam per Auguſtiſſ. Regem Carolum propter lapſum Temporis præſentatus erat.

Dr. Edw. Martin Dean of Ely.

Martii 21. 1661. Inſtitutus eſt Edwardus Martin S. T. P. ad Decanatum Elien. per Ceſſionem ult. Decani vacantem. [On the Promotion of Dr. Fearne Biſhop of Cheſter, the Deanery of Ely was granted to Dr. Edward Martin Maſter of Queen's College by Patent, dated Febr. 22, 1661. He was inſtalled by Proxy April 25, 1662. and died preſently after.]

Le Neve.

Dr. Francis Wilford the fourth Dean of Ely ſince the Reſtauration.

Maii 20. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Franciſcus Wilford S. T. P. ad Decanatum Eccl. Cath. Elien. vac. per deceſſum ven. Viri Edwardi Martin S. T. P. ultimi Decani. [Francis Wilford Maſter of [Bennet] in Cambridge, and Vice-Chancellour in 1665. and part of 1666.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 153.

Mr. John Sherman Rector of Harleton.

Maii 24. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Joannes Sherman A. M. ad Rectoriam de Harleton vacantem per Mort. naturalem Caroli Buſſey S. T. B. &c. [John Sherman ejected from a Fellowſhip of Trinity College Cambridge, was afterwards D. D. and died in 1663.]

Ibid. 160.

The Biſhop's Commiſſion for viſiting his Dioceſe of Ely.

Junii 30. 1662. Emanarunt Literæ directæ Roberto King Vicario in Spiritualibus generali, Antonio Sparrow Archidiacono Sudburienſi, Marco Frank Archidiacono S. Albani, & Joſepho Beaumont, Gulielmo Holder & Edmundo Boldero S. Th. Profeſſoribus, Henrico Hitch Commiſſario Elien. & Thomæ Wren atque Henrico Brunſell Legum Doctoribus, atque Edwardo Stearne Preſbytero ad viſitand. Dioc. Elien.

Mr. Nich. Dichons Rector of Elſworth by Death of Dr. Tho. Wincopp.

Jul. 8. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Nic. Dichons A. M. ad Rectoriam de Elſworth per Mort. nat. Doctoris Thomæ Wincop vacantem.

Dr. Gibſon Lucas Vicar of Swaffham St. Mary's.

Jul. 28. Inſtitutus eſt per Collationem Gibſonus Lucas S. T. P. ad Vicariam perpetuam de Swafham S. Mariæ in Com. Cantabr.

Dr. H. Brunſell Rector of Stretham in the Place of Mr. Rob. Carr, deprived for ſeveral Defects.

Aug. 14. 1662. Collatus eſt Henricus Brunſell LL. D. ad Rectoriam de Stretham cum Capella de Thetford —— per varios defectus quibus quendam Magiſtrum Rob. Carr Incubatorem nuper ibidem depravari conſtat, de Jure Regni Angl. prorſus vacantem. [Query if this were the ſame Robert Carr, Clerk, inſtituted to the Vicarage of Braintre Decemb. 20, 1662. on the Preſentation of Charles Earl of Warwick.] Mr. Nicholas Felton had been turned out for his Loyalty in 1644.

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 90.

Mr. Gervaſe Fullwood Rector of Coton.

Aug. 15. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Gervaſius Fullwood A. M. ad Rectoriam de Coton, &c.

Dr. Rich. Ball preſented by the Biſhop of Ely to the Rectory of Blunſham Com. Hunt. by the Ceſſion of Mr. James Bedford, late Intruder; who rather gave it up, than was ejected from it.

Account given of him.

Aug. 28. 1662. Preſentatus eſt Richardus Ball S. T. P. & Domino Regi a Sacris, atque Eccleſiæ Cath. Elien. Præbendarius ad Rectoriam de Blunſham cum Capella de Erith in Com. Hunt. per Ceſſionem Bedford ultimi Incubatoris ibidem vacantem. [James Bedford, a young forward Preſbyterian of Emanuel College in Cambridge, B. A. was one of the Number of Cambridge Men that came to Oxon. in 1648. to obtain Preferment from the Viſitors, and was by them made Fellow of Queen's College, &c. Being a forward and conceited Perſon, in 1657. he preſumed to take his Degree of Batchelor of Divinity before thoſe who were much his Seniors in the Houſe; —— his Brother Sam. Bedford was a Member of Parliament and Juſtice of the Peace for the County of Bedford. Another Brother Mr. Iſaac Bedford of Willion in Hertfordſhire. Their Father was Miniſter of Clifton in Bedfordſhire.]

Faſti Oxon, ſub Anno 1657.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 371. and Contin. p. 533.

Dr. Tho. Wren to the Rectory of Willingham, void by the Deprivation of Mr. Bradſhaw.

Aug. 20. [forte 30.] 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Thomas Wren tam Medicinæ quam Legum Doctor ad Rectoriam de Willingham in Com. Cantabr. per Deprivationem cujuſdam . . . . . Bradſhaw nuperi Incubatoris ibidem jam vacantem ex Lege Regni tanquam per Mort. nat. &c. [Mr. Nathaniel Bradſhaw, B. D. Son of Mr. Tho. Bradſhaw in Lancaſhire, born at Keddington Hall in Suffolk May 29, 1619. &c.]

Ibib. p. 3.

Licence of Preaching granted to Dr. Algernon Peyton Rector of Donnington.

Sept. 2. 1662. Conceſſa eſt Algernono Peyton S. T. P. Rectori de Doddington Elien. Dioc. Licentia prædicandi in Eccleſ. Paroch. prædicta & alibi infra totam Diœceſin Elien. &c. ad bene placitum tamen Domini Epiſcopi tantummodo duratura.

Mr. Sam. Petit Rector of Girton.

Sept. 9. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Sam. Petit A. M. ad Rectoriam de Girton ad preſ. Joh. Cotton. [One Ling had been ſequeſtred from the Rectory of Girton in Cambridgſhire, worth an hundred Pounds a Year, by the Earl of Mancheſter July 23, 1644. for his Affection to the King in Oppoſition to the Parliament.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 291.

Mr. Joh. Leeds Rector of Croxton.

Sept. 20. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Johannes Leeds A. M. ad Rectoriam de Croxton Com. Cantabr. ad Præſentationem Edmundi Leeds, &c.

Mr. Edw. Staunton Rector of Kingſton, by Death of Dr. Cuth. Perſon.

Sept. 24. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Edw. Staunton A. M. ad Rectoriam de Kingſton per Mortem Cuthberti Perſon S. T. P. vacantem, ad Præſentationem Collegii Regalis. [Mr. Cuthbert Perſon, B. D. born in Yorkſhire, educated at Eaton School, from whence he was elected to King's College Cambridge in 1610. where he afterwards became Vice-Provoſt. Being Rector of Kingſton in Cambridgſhire, he was put under Sequeſtration by the Earl of Mancheſter April 15, 1644. for doing his Duty, &c. having a Wife and ſeven Children; and 'tis a Matter of Query whether he did not alſo loſe a temporal Eſtate. The Intruder was one Robert Brand.]

Dr. Walker, Ibid.

Sept.

Mr. Edm. Keen Rector of Hardwick.

Sept. 24, 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Edmundus Keen, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Hard wick, &c. [Mr. Mapletoft had been ſequeſtred from the Rectory of Hardwick in Cambridgeſhire by the Earl of Mancheſter, Apr. 6, 1644, &c. there were two Perſons of the Name of Keene ſen. and jun. both ejected from their Fellowſhips in Pembroke Hall Cambridge in 1644. each of them then M. A.]

Dr. Walker's ſufferings of the Clergy, P. II. p. 304.

Mr. Henry Gray Rector of Stanton S. Mich. by Death of Jo. Gooche.

Octob. 3, 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Henricus Gray, A. M. ad Rect. de Stanton S. Michaelis per mort. Jo. Gooche vacantem ad Præſentat. Collegii Magdal. &c.

ibid. p. 154.

Mr. Will. Yanvis Rector of Wentworth.

Nov. 20, 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Gul. Yanvis, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Wentworth. [Mr. William Burrhill ejected in 1662. from Wentworth in Cambridgeſhire. He was bred in Trinity College, Cambridge, under Dr. Hill. After his Ejectment he liv'd privately at Wilsford, a Mile diſtant, where he had a ſmall Eſtate, &c.]

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 117.

Mr. Rich. Salmon Rector of Kelſhall Com. Hertf. by Ceſſion of Mr. Will. Janeway the laſt Intruder, whoſe Father was poſſibly put in upon the Sequeſtration of Mr. Joſeph Beaumont.

Decemb. 5, 1662. Preſentatus eſt Ricardus Salmon, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Kelſhull in Com. Hertf. vacantem per ceſſionem cujuſdam Gulielmi Janeway ult. Incubatoris ibidem. [Mr. William Janeway, eldeſt Son of Mr. William Janeway, and eldeſt Brother of Mr. John Janeway, ſucceeded his Father in the Living of Kilſhull Com. Hertf. and was there ejected and ſilenc'd for his Nonconformity.]

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 533. See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. ſecond Edit. p. 525.

Dr. Adiel Baynard Rector of Hadſtock vacated by Mr. Dean Young.

He had been Vicar of Henham Com. Eſſex. 1644.

Jan. 8, 1662. Preſentatus erat Adiel Baynard, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Hadſtock Lond. Dioc. vacantem per promotionem ven. viri . . . . Young, S. T. P. Decani Exon. propter acceptationem alterius Beneficii in eadem Dioceſi incompatibilis. [Edvardus Young, S. T. B. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Hadſtock Com. Eſſex. die 20. Martii 1637. ad preſ. Caroli Regis. —— Adiel Baynard, A. M. admiſſ. ad Vic. de Henham Com. Eſſex. die 1. Aug. 1644. vac. per mort. Simonis Snell ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Johannis Eltonhead, Armig. —— Adiel Baynard, S. T. P. inſtitutus ad Rect. de Hadſtock Com. Eſſex. 23. Jan. 1662. per ceſſionem Edv. Young, ad preſentat. Epiſcopi Elien. —— 13. Martii 1665. Ric. Brian, S. T. B. ad Rect. de Hadſtock vac. per reſign. Adielis Baynard. —— Dr. Edward Young elected and inſtalled Dean of Exeter, Aug. 21, 1662. ſucceeded by George Cary, D. D. inſtalled Sept. 10, 1663.]

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 292, 324.

Le Neve's Faſti, p. 86.

Mr. Simon Potter inſtituted to the Rectory of Fulmere by Non-Subſcription of the late Intruder Mr. Ezekiel King.

Undecimo Jan. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Simon Potter, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Fulmere vacantem propter non Subſcriptionem Declarationi per nuperum Actum Parliamenti pro Uniformitate Publicarum Precum requiſitam ab Ezechiele King Incubatore ibidem. [Dr. Calamy ſays nothing of Mr. King (whom he calls Ezekiah) but that Foulmire [Fulmere] appears from Dr. Walker's Attempt, P. II. p. 305. to have been the ſequeſtred Living of Mr. John Morden worth 120*l.* a Year, ſequeſtred June 17, 1644. and plundred of his Goods and Cattle, having a Wife and ſix Children.]

Contin. p. 164

Mr. Robert Cole Vicar of Elm cum Emneth.

Jan. 23, 1662. Collatus eſt Robertus Cole, A. M. ad Vicariam de Elm cum Emneth, &c.

Dr. Joſeph Beaumont Rector of Conington by Death of Dr. Edward Martin. Account given of them.

Eod. die Jan. 23, 1662. Collatus eſt Joſephus Beaumont, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Conington in Com. Cantebr. vacantem per mortem nat. Edvardi Martin, S. T. P. [See a good Account and great Character of Dr. Edward Martin, Maſter of Queens, Rector of Houghton-Conqueſt Com. Bedf. Dunnington [or Dodington] and Conington in Cambridgeſhire, ſequeſtred from all, with undaunted Courage and Conſtancy. —— He fled into France, returned with his Majeſty in 1660. and died Dean of Ely.] Mr. Joſeph Beaumont was ejected from a Fellowſhip of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, Apr. 8, 1644. and June 11. that ſame Year ſucceeded by one Charles Hotham, who was thruſt into that Fellowſhip by a Warrant from the Lord Mancheſter. In 1643. (if Sir Harry Chancy doth not miſtake) to the Rectory of Kelſhall in Hertfordſhire; but whether he loſt that Living alſo, quære. June 22, 1664. being then Doctor of Divinity, he had the Rectory of Barley in the ſame County conferred upon him, became alſo Maſter of his College, Regius Profeſſor of Divinity, Prebendary of Ely, and died Nov. 23, 1699.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 156.

Ibid. p. 150.

Hiſt. of Hertf Fol. p. 85.

Dr. Will Holder Rector of Norwold Com. Norf.

Mr. Wood's Account of him.

Jan. 28, 1662. Preſentatus eſt Gulielmus Holder, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Norwold Com. Norf. vacantem propter admiſſionem Thomæ Wren ad Rectoriam de Willingham Com. Cantebr. [William Holder, M. A. of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge was incorporated at Oxford, March 21, 1643. and was created D. D. at Oxon. March 12, 1660. He was a Nottinghamſhire Man born: In 1642. or thereabouts, he became Rector of Blechingdon in Oxfordſhire. After his Majeſty's Reſtoration he became Canon of Ely, Fellow of the Royal Society, Canon of St. Paul's, Sub-Dean of his Majeſty's Chapel and Sub-Almoner to him. A great Virtuoſo, and a Perſon of many Accompliſhments; he obtained a great Name for his moſt wonderful Art in making a young Gentleman, Alexander Popham, who was born Deaf and Dumb, to ſpeak, &c.]

Faſti Oxon. ſub anno.

Mr. John Randolph collated to the Rectory of Leverington, but he never gain'd Poſſeſſion of the Church being before legally fill'd by Mr. Rich. Reynolds, Father to the right reverend Lord Biſhop of Lincoln.

Feb. 9, 1662. Collatus eſt Johannes Randolph, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Leverington Inſ. Elien. [George Bayley, B. D. had been ſequeſtred from this Rectory of Lverington about 1646. and lived about twelve Years under his Sequeſtration, with a great Family of Children, and in great Hardſhips and Wants, till within two Years of the Reſtoration. And if I miſtake not, then dying, left three Daughters particularly in a very poor mean and helpleſs Condition, afterwards ſupported by the Corporation for Miniſters Widows.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II. p. 190

Mr. Robert Grymer Rector of Borrow on the Green, from whence Mr. Thomas Wake had been ſequeſtred in 1644.

Feb. 26, 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Robertus Grymer, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Burgh, &c. ad preſentationem Antonii Cage Militis. [Mr. Thomas Wake was diſpoſſeſs'd of this Living worth 120*l.* a Year by the Earl of Mancheſter July 10, 1644, &c. One of thoſe who ſucceeded during the Uſurpation was Samuel Stephenſon who got the Place in 1654.

Ibid. p. 390.

Mr. Tho. Cooke, Vicar of Barton by Ceſſion of Edw. Sterne.

Martii 6, 1662. Collatus eſt Thomas Cooke, A. M. ad Vicariam de Barton per ceſſionem Edvardi Sterne vacantem.

Mr. Dan. Langhorne a licens'd Curate at Ely; a learned Antiquary and Writer.

Mr. Will. Sedgwick mad with Enthuſiaſm. —— Will. Sigiſwick Coll. Caii Cant. A. M. 1638.

Mar. 17, 1662. Conceſſa eſt Danieli Langhorne, A. M. Curato Eccleſiæ S. & Individ. Trinitatis in Civitate Elien. Licentia prædicandi in Eccleſia prædicta & alibi infra totam Dioceſin, &c. [In the City of Ely had been ejected or ſilenc'd ſince the Reſtauration Mr. William Sedgwick call'd Doomſ-day Sedgwick, they who knew him well repreſent him as a pious Man with a diſorder'd Head. — After the Reſtoration he liv'd for the moſt Part at Lewſham in Kent: In 1668. he retir'd to London, and there died ſoon after.

Dr. Calamy's Accoun, p. 117. Contin. p. 155. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 463. ſecond Edit.

Nath. Coga Vicar of Swaffham Bulbeck, D. D. elected Maſter of Pembroke Hall, 1677. died 1693.

Apr. 2, 1663. Collatus eſt Nathaniel Coga ad Vicariam de Swaffham Bulbeck. [Mr. William Izatſon had been turned out of the Vicarage of Swaffham Bulbeck by the Earl of Mancheſter, Apr. 5, 1644, &c.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 279.

Dr. Tho. Wren collated by his Father to the Archdeaconry of Ely, by Death of Dr. Bernard Hale.

Apr. 8, 1663. Collatus eſt Thomas Wren Legum Doctor ad Archidiaconatum Elien. per mort. Bernardi Hale, S. T. P. vacantem. [Inſtalled Apr. 13, 1663. He died in 1679. a Member of the Royal Society.]

Le Neve and Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 810.

Dr. Anth. Sparrow Prebend of Ely.

Apr. 15, 1663. Collatus eſt Antonius Sparrow, S. T. P. ad Canonicatum ſecundum in Eccleſia Cath. Elien. per mortem Bernardi Hale, S. T. P. vacantem.

Dr. Tho. Stephens Rector of Ditton.

Maii 8, 1663. Collatus eſt Thomas Stephens, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Ditton in Com. Cant. Dioc. Elien.

Mr. Will. Banks Rector of Eaſt-Hatley by Non-Subſcription of Mr. Rich. Kennet; nearly related to Mr. Baſil Kennet Vicar of Portling; Father of the Biſhop of Peterborough.

Account of him given by Dr. Calamy.

He practis'd Lay-Conformity, and had a conſiderable Boarding School by Favour of Mr. Stillingfleet, Rector of Sutton.

Ric. Kennet Coll. Corp. Chr. Art. Bacc. 1640. Art. Mag. 1644. S. Th. Bacc. 1655. unus e Prædicatoribus ab Academia emittendis 1648.

Jun. 16, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Gul. Banks Clericus, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Eaſt-Hatley vacantem propter non Subſcriptionem Richardi Kennet ultimi Incubatoris ibidem ad preſentationem Georgii Downing Militis, &c. [Mr. Thomas Goade had been ſequeſtred from this Rectory in the late Times, who ought rather to have been hanged than ſequeſtred, if what is charged upon him in the Century be true. —— Mr. Richard Kennet, B. D. born in Kent, and bred in Corpus Chriſti College in Cambridge, where he was Fellow many Years, and had a great many Pupils. He was turn'd out of his College for refuſing the Engagement. Soon after Mr. Kennet was ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity, Mr. (afterwards Doctor and Biſhop) Stillingfleet aſſiſted him in taking a capacious Houſe at Sutton in Bedfordſhire, where he ſet up a private School, keeping a Conformiſt to teach it. He went to Church Forenoon and Afternoon on the Lord's-Day, and was there with the firſt. He died of a Fever, and was buried in the Chancel at Sutton, Jan. 23, 1670. his Funeral Sermon was preach'd by Mr. Stephens Miniſter of the Pariſh. —— See William Bankes, A. M. ejected from a Scholarſhip in Univerſity College, Oxon. 1648. and Will. Banks, A. M. Prebendary of Bugthorp in the Church of York.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. *p.*249. Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 118. Contin. p. 158.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p 134. Willis of Cathedral of York, p. 128.

Dr. Iſaac Barrow nominated to the See of Man, reſign'd his Rectory of Downham.

26. Junii 1663. Iſaacus Barrow, S. T. P. Rector Eccleſiæ de Downham, &c. reſignationem Rectoriæ ſuæ fecit legit & interpoſuit, &c. unde Dominus ad ejus Petitionem præfatam Reſignationem gratioſe admiſit, &c. [Dr. Iſaac Barrow was then nominated to the See of Man, and conſecrated Biſhop July 5, 1663.]

Willis of Cathedrals, 4to. p. 369.

Dr. Edm. Boldero Rector of Snaylwell Com. Norf.

13. Jul. 1663. Preſentatus eſt Edmundus Boldero, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Snaylwell Com. Cant. Dioc. Norwic. legitime vacantem, &c.

A verbal Licence granted by the Biſhop for a Marriage to be ſolemniz'd between Rob. Wright, Eſq; afterwards Lord Chief Juſtice, and his Lordſhip's ſecond Daughter Suſanna, born at St. Giles, Feb. 25, 1633.

Jun. 24, 1663. Dominus Epiſcopus viva voce Licentiam conceſſit Richardo Ball, S. T. P. atque a Sacris Regiæ Majeſtati Domeſticis ſolempniſandi Matrimonium (abſque trina Bannorum publicatione prævia) inter Robertum Wright de Ædibus Lincoln Armigerum ſolutum, & Suſannam Wren ſolutam Filiam ſecundam dicti Domini Epiſcopi in Sacello dicti Manerii ſui juxta ritum Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ.

Mr. Ralph Garnons Rector of Weſton-Colvile.

Jul. 19, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Radulfus Garnons, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Weſton-Colvile. [There was a Ralph Garnons Clerk, Rector of Tilbury juxta Clare in Eſſex, May 30, 1664. who died in 1680. and the ſame or another Ralph Garnone Clerk, inſtituted to the Rectory of Little-Yeldham in Eſſex, Feb. 23, 1662.]

Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 595, and 690.

Dr. Gibſon Lucas Rector of Little-Granſden by the Ceſſion of Dr. Joſ. Beaumont.

Aug. 4, 1663. Collatus eſt Gibſonus Lucas, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Granſden-parva, vacantem per ceſſionem Joſephi Beaumont, S. T. P.

Mr. Roger Clopton Rector of Downham.

Mr. John Crofts had been ſequeſtred from the Rectories of Barnham and Weſtow Com. Suffolc to which he had been preſented by his Father. See Dr. Walker's Sufferings, &c.

Aug. 11, 1663. Collatus eſt Rogerus Clopton, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Downham Dioc. Elien. vacantem per reſignationem Iſaaci Barrow, S. T. P. jam Epiſcopi Sodorenſis, Aug. 18, 1663. collatus eſt Johannes Crofts, S. T. P. Norvicenſis Decanus ad Rectoriam de Newton vacantem per Reverendum in Chriſto Patrem Dominum Matthæum Elien. Epiſcopum, &c. [John Crofts, Son of Sir Henry Crofts of Suffolk, Brother of Lord Crofts, Fellow of All Souls College, Oxon. was inſtalled Dean of Norwich, Aug. 7, 1660. died July 27, 1670. buried at the upper End of the Middle Iſle, with Epitaph, &c.]

Sir Thomas Brown, 8vo. p. 6. and 44.

Privilege of St. Ethelred granted to ſeveral Perſons.

Privilegium Sanctæ Etheldredæ conceſſum eſt Thomæ Bullis, Samueli Eaſt, Johanni Davies, Antonio Brignold & Johanni Adams de Civitate Elien. 18. die menſis Septembris, A. D. 1663.

Dr. William Holder Rector of Tyd S. Giles.

Octob. 20, 1663. Collatus eſt Gul. Holder, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Tyd Sancti Egidii vacantem per ceſſionem Lucæ Skippon, S. T. P. ultimi Rectoris ibidem.

Mr. Roger Bankes Vicar of Sheprath by the Ceſſion of Tho. Punter.

Octob. 23, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Rogerus Banks, A. M. ad Vicariam de Sheprath vacantem per ceſſionem Thomæ Punter Clerici ult. Incumbentis.

Mr. Ben. Rively Vicar of Newton Com. Norf.

Eodem die preſentatus eſt Benj. Rively ad Vicariam de Newton in Com. Norf. vacantem per ceſſionem Magiſtri Steares ultimi Incumbentis.

Mr. Timothy Swift Vicar of Hunſtanton by Ceſſion of Jo. Guillſon.

Octob. 20, 1663. Preſentatus eſt Tim. Swift ad Vicariam de Hunſtanton in Com. Norf. vacantem per ceſſionem Johannis Guillſon Clerici ult. Incumb. ibidem.

Dec. 19, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Joannes Marſhall, A. M. ad Vicariam de Sutton per ceſſionem Samuelis Garrard ultimi Incumbentis ibidem legitime vacantem.

Mr. Will. Mountford Rector of Brettenham by Death of Tho. Pell.

Dec. 26, 1663. Preſentatus eſt Gulielmus Mountford, A. M. ad Rectoriam de Brettenham in Com. Norf. per mort. naturalem Thomæ Pell vacantem, &c. [Mr. William Alcock, a Man of an unexceptionable Life had been diſpoſſeſs'd of the Rectory of Brettenham, Apr. 10, 1644, &c.]

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 186.

Mr. Rob. Darley Vicar of Swaffham St. Mary's, by Ceſſion of Dr. Gibſon Lucas.

Jan. 6, 1663. Collatus eſt Robertus Darley, A. M. ad Vicariam de Swaffham S. Mariæ vacantem per ceſſionem Gibſoni Lucas, S. T. P. ultimi Incumbentis ibidem.

Mr. Will. Bagley Rector of Little-Wilbraham by Lapſe to the Archbiſhop.

Jan. 15, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Gulielmus Bagley, S. T. B. ad Rectoriam de Wilbraham parva, &c. ad Preſentationem Gilberti Archiepiſcopi Cant. pro hac vice propter lapſum temporis Patroni. [Mr. John Mundy had been ſequeſtred by the Earl of Mancheſter from this Rectory of Little-Wilbraham for refuſing to aſſiſt in the Rebellion, &c.]

Ibid. p. 305.

Dr. Joſ. Beaumont Rector of Teverſham by Death of Edward Sterne.

Jan. 18, 1663. Emanarunt Literæ Commiſſ. directæ Edmundo Boldero, S. T. P. Col. Jeſu Magiſtro, & Marco Frank, S. T. P. Aulæ Pembr. Cuſtodi, &c. ad inſtituendum Joſephum Beaumont, S. T. P. ad Rectoriam de Teverſham vacantem per mort. nat. Ed. Sterne.

Mr. John Peachell Rector of Childerley.

Jan. 28, 1663. Inſtitutus eſt Johannes Peachell, S. T. B. ad Rectoriam de Childerley in Com. Cantebr. ad preſentationem Johannis Cutts Baronetti. [John Peachell, D. D. admitted Maſter of Magdalen College in Cambridge in 1679.]

Mr. James Stanley Vicar of Maddingley.

Febr. 29, 1663. Collatus eſt Jacobus Stanley, A. M. ad Vicariam de Maddingley in Com. Cantebr. vac. per mort. Gulielmi Ranew ult. Incumb.

Mr. Joſhua Wilſon Vicar of All-Saints in South-Lynne, by Reſignation of Dr. Luke Skippon.

Martii 2, 1663. Preſentatus eſt Joſhua Wilſon ad Vicariam Omn. Sanctorum de South-Lynne in Com. Norf. per reſignationem ven. viri Lucæ Skippon, S. T. P. ult. Incumbentis ibidem modo legitime vacantem.

The Biſhop's Mandate for electing a rural Proctor to ſit in Convocation in the Place of Dr. Edward Martin deceaſed.

Martii 17, 1663. Emanarunt Literæ Mandatoriæ ven. viro Roberto King, LL. D. Cancellario in Dioc. Elien. pro citatione ſive ſummonitione Convocationis generalis Prælatorum & Cleri Elien. Dioc. pro Electione & Conſtitutione alterius Procuratoris Cleri ſufficientem authoritatem ab ipſis recepturi ad intereſſendum & perſonaliter comparendum, &c. in Sacra Synodo, &c. vice & loco Edvardi Martin, S. T. P. Rectoris de Connington jam pridem defuncti.

Dr. Joſeph Beaumont elected Proctor for the Dioceſe of Ely.

Electus & conſtitutus eſt per generalem conſenſum Prælatorum & Cleri Elien. Dioc. Joſephus Beaumont, S. T. P. Rector de Connington atque Coll. Sancti Petri in Univer. Cantebrig. Magiſtri ad intereſſendum & perſonaliter comparendum, &c. prout per Literas ſignificatorias ſub Sigillo præfati Roberti King magis appareat. [Quo die & anno clauditur Regiſtrum primum Matthæi Epiſcopi Elienſis.]

The Uſes to be made of this Tranſcript and the Regiſter of Ely.

From this authentick Tranſcript of the Regiſter of Biſhop Wren of Ely, for the firſt three Years following the Reſtauration, we know ſeveral Matters of Fact relating to Patrons, Clerks, and Benefices, that may be of ſingular Uſe and Application in the Knowledge of Things, and Times, and Men. And one particular will appear, that there are but very few of the parochial Clergy depriv'd within this Dioceſe in 1662. for not ſubmitting to the Act of Uniformity, tho' more of the old legal Incumbents had been ſequeſtred about the Year 1644. than in Proportion within any other Dioceſe: This being one of the aſſociated Counties, under the early pretended Reformation made by the then prevailing Powers: And tho' the Zeal of this Biſhop was diſtinguiſh'd above all his Brethren in purging his Dioceſe from diſaffected Miniſters: A Zeal that was apt to carry him beyond the Bounds of the Law. There is at leaſt one Inſtance of it in the Caſe of the Rectory of Leverington in the Iſle of Ely, which had been ſome Years poſſeſs'd by a worthy Perſon Mr. Richard Reynolds, M. A. who having been epiſcopally ordain'd, and having no ſurviving Predeceſſor, and conforming to the Act, had a lawful Title to it: And yet the Biſhop not liking the Man, becauſe he had come in without his Patronage, gave a new Collation, Feb. 9, 1662. to Mr. John Randolph, M. A. who being denied Admittance, commenc'd a Suit againſt Mr. Reynolds, who in the Iſſue obtain'd an Eviction of his rightful Title: In the mean Time he got a Friend to complain to the King of the needleſs and chargeable Vexation given to him; and his Majeſty was ſo gracious as to ſpeak to the Biſhop to give no further Diſturbance: But his Lordſhip was ſo unyielding, as to inſiſt upon defending the Rights of his See; and when the King ſeem'd to expect to be obey'd, the Biſhop bluntly ſaid, Sir, I know the Way to the Tower; wherein his former long Confinement, and his now declining Years might be ſome Apology for his haſty Humour. And this might make the Story more probable, that a Gentleman of good Reputation (a Church Royaliſt) who held an Eſtate by Leaſe from this See, and had ſo much Honour as to pay the Biſhop his reſerv'd Rent during all his Lordſhip's Sufferings; outliving the Uſurpation, and having one Life in the Eſtate remaining, he waited on his Lordſhip to treat for filling up the Lives, decently intimating, that he had been a good Tenant in the worſt Times, and perhaps the only one, who had duly paid his Rent, while his Lordſhip had no Power to demand it, for which he hop'd to be made the more eaſy in a new Leaſe. But the Biſhop (it is ſaid) chid him for ſeeking to be paid for what he ought to have done out of pure Conſcience, and would make no Abatement of the full Fine he requir'd. Weak Men betray their Rights, and wiſe Men are ſometimes too jealous and tenacious of them.

The Zeal of the Biſhop of Ely, Dr. Matthew Wren,

Who did Injury to the legal Right and Poſſeſſion of Mr. Rich. Reynolds, Rector of Leverington, by ſetting up his own Title, and collating another Clerk.

Said to be Mr Progers.

And was ſtout in his Refuſal to deſiſt at the King's Requeſt.

A common Story told of his Lordſhip.

Mr. Reynolds was of Peter Houſe in Cambridge. He liv'd in great Plenty and left a good Eſtate at his Death in 1681. chiefly to his worthy Son and Heir Dr. Rich. Reynolds, now Lord Biſhop of Lincoln.

Some few hiſtorical Matters within the ſame Period extracted from other Manuſcripts relating to the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Ex Collectan. Johannis Worthington, A. M.

Upon the Nomination of Dr. John Coſin to the See of Durham, the Scholars of Peter-Houſe named and preſented to the Biſhop of Ely two Perſons, Dr. Bernard Hale and Dr. Luke Skippon, for one of them to be elected by the Biſhop to ſucceed Dr. Jo. Coſin in the Maſterſhip of that College, and the Biſhop preferr'd Dr. Hale.

Nov. 5, 1660. Dominus elegit & præfecit Bernardum Hale, S. T. P. Archidiaconum ſuum Elienſem atque Elienſis Eccleſiæ Canonicum, per Scholares Domus S. Petri in Univerſitate Cantabr. per ceſſionem Domini Joannis Coſin Dunelmenſis Epiſcopi nominati, ultimi Magiſtri ſive Cuſtodis ejuſdem vacan. in Magiſtrum ſive Cuſtodem una cum ven. viro Luca Skippon, S. T. P. Coelecto ſuo nominatum & preſentatum. Et directæ fuerunt Literæ Scholaribus de obediendo dicto Bernardo tanquam Magiſtro ſuo, ſecundum quod Statuta & Ordines dictæ Domus exigunt & requirunt. Et habuit Literas in forma, & fecit Obedientiam dicto Domino & Officiali & Magiſtris aliis in licitis & Canonicis Mandatis. Præſentibus T. Wren, Guil. Wren, T. Gilbert.

And after the Death of Dr. Bernard Hale the Biſhop collated Dr. Joſeph Beaumont, Maſter of Jeſus, to the Maſterſhip of Peter Houſe.

Upon his ſole Authority, by Devolution to him, according to the Statutes.

Matthæus permiſſione divina Elienſis Epiſcopus dilecto nobis in Chriſto filio Joſepho Beaumont, S. T. P. atque Coll. Jeſu Cantabr. Præfecto Gratiam & Benedictionem. Officium ſive Cuſtodiam Domus ſive Coll. noſtri S. Petri in Univerſitate Cantabr. per mort. nat. optimi viri Bernardi Hale, S. T. P. & Archidiaconi noſtri Elienſis jam vacantem atque ad Præſentationem ſive donationem noſtram jure per Statuta Collegii reſervato pro hac vice ex integro ſpectantem tibi conferimus intuitu Caritatis; teque quem idoneum eſſe ducimus, atque Collegio eidem in quo per multos annos educatus olim es, apprime utilem (σὺν Θεῷ) futurum admittimus: Receptoque a te juramento corporali ad S. S. Dei Evangelia, tam de renunciando omni & omnimodæ authoritati juriſdictioni ac poteſtati forinſecis, ac de agnoſcendo Auguſtiſſimi in Chriſto Principis Domini noſtri Caroli Secundi Regiam ſupremam authoritatem & poteſtatem in omnibus cauſis Eccleſiaſticis atque Civilibus infra Regna ſua, & etiam de Fidelitate ſive Allegiantia dicto Domino Regi Carolo & Succeſſoribus ſuis præſtanda, juxta Statuta inclyti hujus Regni in ea parte edita atque proviſa, quam de obſervando Statuta Collegii prædicti, deque Obedientia nobis & Succeſſoribus noſtris in licitis & Canonicis Mandatis præſtanda, in Magiſtrum atque Cuſtodem Domûs ſive Collegii Sancti Petri prædicti (pro jure devoluto atque Epiſcopis Elienſibus in hoc caſu per Statuta ipſo reſervato) præficimus & adſumimus in eodem per preſentes cum ſuis juribus & pertinentiis univerſis, & curam atque regimen dictæ Domus ſive Coll. & omnium ac ſingulorum eidem quocunque modo pertinentium tibi in Domino committentes committimus: Juribus noſtris Epiſcopalibus & Eccleſiæ noſtræ Cathedralis dignitate & honore in omnibus ſemper ſalvis. In cujus rei teſtimonium Sigillum noſtrum Epiſcopale præſentibus appoſuimus, datis 21. die menſis Aprilis A. D. 1663. noſtræque Tranſlationis ſecundæ (ad Sedem Elienſem ſcil.) Anno viceſimo quinto.

Præfectio Magiſtri Domus S. Petri Cant'.

An Entry made of the Collation and Mandate for Admiſſion.

Memorandum quod 21. die menſis Aprilis A. D. 1663. Dominus Epiſcopus Elienſis præfecit Magiſtrum Joſephum Beaumont, S. T. P. in Magiſtrum ſive Cuſtodem dictæ Domus ſive Collegii S. Petri Cant' per mortem naturalem ven. viri Bernardi Hale S. T. P. ultimi Magiſtri ſive Cuſtodis ejuſd' vacant' & ad collationem dicti Domini Epiſcopi Elienſis pro hac vice (jure devoluto) ſpectan'. Et directæ fuerunt Literæ Scholaribus de Obedientia, &c.

The Biſhop's Admiſſion of the Fellows elect in Peter Houſe Cambridge.

Mr. Will. Sammes.

2. Aug. 1660. Guil. Sammes, A. M. inſtituitur ad Sodalitium in Coll. S. Petri Cant'. Cujus quidem Inſtitutionis Formula ſequitur in hæc verba. Matthæus permiſſione divina Elienſis Epiſcopus atque Collegii S. Petri Cant' jure fundatorio Viſitator, dilecto nobis in Chriſto Guilielmo Sammes Artium Magiſtro, Gratiam & Benedictionem. Ad locum ſive Societatem Magiſtri Joſephi Beaumont jam diu in Coll. predicto vacantem, ad quem per ven. viros dilectos nobis in Chriſto Magiſtrum ſive Cuſtodem atque Scholares noſtros in dicto Collegio electus nominatus & preſentatus utcunque nunc exiſtis, te admittimus, teque in perpetuum Socium Coll. ſive Domus prædict' hodieque admittendorum ordine primum inſtituimus & inveſtimus cum omni emolumento, commodo, jure & intereſſe, eidem Sodalitio ſive Societati quomodolibet debito ſive ſpectant'. In cujus rei teſtimonium, &c. Dat' viceſimo die menſis Auguſti A. D. 1660. & noſtræ Tranſlationis anno 23.

Mr. Jo. Standiſh Fellow of Peter Houſe incorporated M. A. at Oxford, Jul. 13. 1669. See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 850.

Mr. William Daintre.

Mr. Bern. Skelton.

Mr. Mart. Chamberlayne.

Mr. Hen. Tooley.

Mr. Mat. Wilſon.

Similiter inſtitutus eſt Jo. Standiſh ad Sodalitium ſecundum loco Magiſtri Toky.

Guil, Daintre ad tertium loco Tho. Pennyman.

Bern. Skelton ad quartum loco Matthæi Hanſcombe.

Martinus Chamberlayne ad quintum loco Chriſtopheri Banks.

Henricus Tooley ad ſextum loco Ricardi Craſhaw.

Matthæus Wilſon ad ſeptimum loco Joannis Wilſon.

Eodemque die emanavit generale Mandatum pro Inductione eorum hac in forma inſcriptum.

Matthæus permiſſione divina Elien' Epiſcopus atque Coll. S. Petri Cant' jure fundatorio Viſitator, &c.

Mr. John Spurling.

A. D. 1661. Jan. 14. Dominus admiſit Johannem Spurling, A. M. in Socium perpetuum Domus S. Petri in loco Magiſtri Patricii Maxwell, &c.

Mr. Miles Barnes incorporated M. A. at Oxford 1664. See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 834.

Dec. 2, 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Milo Barnes, A. B. ad locum Socii quem Dr. Iſaacus Barrow nuper tenuit in Domo S. Petri Cant.

Nov. 30. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Joannes Pearſon, S. T. P. ad Magiſtratum Coll. Jeſu, cujus quidem Inſtitutionis tenor ſequitur in hæc Verba, viz.

Matthæus

Dr. John Pearſon preferr'd by Biſhop Wren to the Maſterſhip of Jeſus College Cambridge, upon the Nomination of Dr. Stearne to the See of Carliſle.

Matthæus Permiſſione Divina Elienſis Epiſcopus dilecto Filio Joanni Pearſon S. T. P. Gratiam & Benedictonem. Ad Magiſtratum ſive Officium Magiſtri Coll. noſtri B. Mariæ Virginis atque ſanctorum Jo. Evang. & Rhadegundis in Univerſitate Cant. (Collegii Jeſu vulgariter nuncupati) per Dimiſſionem ven. Viri Richardi Sterne S. T. P. Epiſcopi nominati, ultimi Magiſtri ejuſdem, jam legitime vacantem: Nos ad quem ſolum & in ſolidum eſt, & non in alium, Magiſtri Præfectio & Ordinatio ſpectat, te Perſonam idoneam, ætate maturam, Vita, Moribus, & Scientia præpotentem, cujuſque Vitæ Integritas, ac Morum Honeſtas, cæteris vivendi normam pæſtitura ſit (uti ſperamus) in Temporalibus vero providam & circumſpectam, providemus, eligimus, & admittimus: Teque, præſtito per te juramento corporali tam de agnoſcendo Regiam ſupremam Majeſtatem in omnibus Cauſis & ſuper omnes Perſonas tam Eccleſiaſticas ſeu Spirituales, quam Civiles ſeu Temporales infra hoc Regnum Angliæ cæteraque Dominia ſua, quam de Canonica Obedientia nobis & Succeſſoribus noſtris per te præſtanda, ac etiam de obſervando & obſervari faciendo Statuta & Ordinationes ejuſdem Coll. in Magiſtrum Coll. prædicti eligimus, præficimus, & inſtituimus de & in Magiſtratu ſeu Officio Magiſtri, per præſentes cum ſuis Juribus, Membris, & Pertinentiis univerſis, Curam & Regimen dicti Collegii, ac omnium & ſingulorum Sociorum, Puerorum, & aliorum ibidem Studentium ſive Servientium (quocunque Nomine cenſeantur) tibi in Domino committentes, uti & committimus per præſentes. Juribus noſtris Epiſcopalibus & Eccleſiæ noſtræ Elienſis Dignitate in omnibus ſemper ſalvis. In cujus Rei Teſtimonium Sigillum noſtrum Epiſcopale præſentibus appoſuimus, datis Londini in Ædibus noſtris apud Holborne in Com. Midd. Nov. 30. Ann. Domini 1660. noſtræque Tranſlationis ſecundæ (ad Sedem Elien. ſcil.) Anno viceſimo tertio.

Apr. 16. 1662. Exhibita eſt Rev. in Chriſto Patri Domino Matthæo Elienſi Epiſcopo iſta quæ ſequitur Significatio ſive Intimatio de Vacatione Magiſtratus Collegii Jeſu apud Cantabrigienſes.

Reverendiſſime in Chriſto Pater,

Notice given by the Preſident and Fellows of Jeſus College of the Vacancy of their Maſterſhip by the Admiſſion of Dr. John Pearſon to the Headſhip of Trinity College.

Nos Joannes Sherman Præſidens Collegii veſtri vulgo nominati Jeſus College, ejuſdemque Socii Paternitati veſtræ humiliter ſignificamus ven. Virum Joannem Pearſon S. T. P. Collegii noſtri Magiſtrum hoc ipſo Die Collegio veſtro ceſſiſſe, & in Magiſtrum Collegii S. & individuæ Trinitatis admiſſum eſſe. In cujus Rei Teſtimonium Sigillum noſtrum commune Literis hiſce noſtris Patentibus apponi fecimus. Dat. e Coll. Jeſu Cantabr. Apr. 14. A. D. 1662.

Dr. Joſ. Beaumont made Maſter of Jeſus College.

Decimo ſeptimo Die Aprilis, A. D. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Joſephus Beaumont S. T. P. ad Magiſtratum Collegii Jeſus vulgariter nuncupat. per Ceſſionem ven. Viri Joannis Pearſon S. T. P. vacantem. —— Mandatumque eſt Præſidi, Sociis, &c. pro ejus Acceptatione —— & Inductione, &c.

The Biſhop's Inſtitution of new Fellows in Jeſus College Cambridge.

Mr. Woodcock.

A. D. 1660. Die omn. ſanctorum Tho. Woodcock S. T. B. Rutlandienſis inſtitutus eſt ad Sodalitium in Collegio Jeſu vacantem per Promotionem Joannis Boylſton, —— receſſit ante 23. Maii, quo Die Gul. Davy inſtituitur in Locum ejus.

See Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 44. and Contin p. 62.

Mr. Cook.

Eodem Die inſtitutus eſt Gulielmus Cooke Eboracenſis A. M. ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu vac. per Mortem Roberti Clerkſon.

Mr. Skelton.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Guil. Shelton Eſſexianus A. M. ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu vac. per Matrimonium Magiſtri Henrici Beale, &c.

Mr. Jewell.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Sam. Jewel Hertford A. M. ad Sodalitium in eodem Coll. per Mortem Edmundi Lincoln. vac. &c.

Mr. Hough.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Edm. Hough Ceſtr. A. M. ad Sodalitium in eodem Coll. per Mort. Tho. Allen vac.

Mr. Stanley.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Jac. Stanley Ceſtr. A. M. ad Sodalitium in eodem Coll. per Mort. Thomæ Robinſon vacan.

Mr. Mawhood.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Jo. Mawhood Ebor. A. M. ad Sodalitium Coll. Jeſu per Mort. Simonis Hanton vac. &c.

Mr. Darby.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Carolus Darby Suffolc. A. M. ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu per Matrimonium Joannis Taylor vacan. &c.

Mr. Jones.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Alexander Jones Lancaſtr. A. M. ad Sodalitium in eod. Coll. per Matrimonium Gregorii Walker vacan.

Mr. Pullet; of whom ſee A. O. II. 818.

Eod. Die inſtitutus eſt Tim. Puller Hartford. A. M. ad Sodalitium in eod. Coll. per Mort. Antonii Green vacan.

Mr. Sherman.

Nov. 10. 1660. Inſtitutus eſt Joannes Sherman Eſſex. A. M. ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu per Mort. Ricardi Maſon vac.

The Biſhop's Mandate for Reception and Induction of the ſaid Fellows.

Die 23. Nov. A. D. 1660. Emanavit quoddam Mandatum generale a Domino Epiſcopo ven. Viris Ricardo Stearne S. T. P. Magiſtro ſive Cuſtodi Coll. Jeſu in Univerſitate Cant. necnon Stephano Hall & Carolo Buſſey S. Th. Profeſſoribus atque Radulpho Blackſton A. M. ejuſd. Coll. antiquis Sociis —— pro Receptione & Inductione eorundem, &c.

Mr. Jackſon.

Maii 27. 1661. Gul. Jackſon A. M. inſtitutus eſt ad Sodalitium in Coll. Jeſu quod Magiſter Tho. Anſcell nuper tenuit —— per aliquot Annos vacan. —— eaque de Cauſa in Collatione Epiſcopi Elienſis.

Mr. Nouell.

A. D. 1662. Die 9. Maii. Matth. Nouell A. B. inſtitutus eſt ad Societatem in Collegio Jeſu per Collationem D. Epiſcopi Elienſis.

Mr. Gibſon.

Maii 12. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Car. Gibſon Suffolc. A. M. ad Societatem in Coll. Jeſu per Mort. Caroli Buſſey vacantem, &c.

Mr. Davy.

Maii 23. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Guil. Davy A. B. ad Societatem in Coll. Jeſu quam Tho. Woodcock S. T. B. nuper tenuit. [Tho. Woodcock Aul. Cath. Alumnus

Art.

Mr. Wroe incorporated M. A. at Oxford 1669. Chaplain to Biſhop Pearſon, Warden of Mancheſter, &c. Mr. Turner.

Art. Bacc. 1644. Coll. Jeſu Socius A. M. 1648. S. T. B. 1655. Acad. Procurator 1651. unus e Prædicatoribus ob Academ. emittendis.

Jul. 21. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Ricardus Wroe Lancaſtrienſis A. B. ad Locum Socii in Coll. Jeſu quem Sam. Jewel nuper tenuit.

Octob. 7. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt Gul. Turner Lancaſtr. A. B. ad Societatem in Coll. Jeſu quam Mag. Edmundus Hough nuper tenuit.

The King's Letters of Mandate for Mr. Jacombe and Mr. Bates to be Doctors of Divinity at Cambridge.

Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Literæ Caroli II. Regis dat. 9. Nov. 1660. mandantes ut Thomas Jacombe Coll. Trin. M. A. admittatur ad Gradum S. T. P. in Univerſitate Cantabr. —— Tho. Jacombe Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bac. 1643. —— Tho. Jacombe Coll. Trin. Cant. A. M. Anno 1647.

Ibid.

Literæ Regiæ ſub ead. dat. Nov. 9. 1660. mandantes Univer. Cantabr. ut illico admittant Willelmum Bates A. M. ad Gradum & Dignitatem S. Theol. Doctoris —— admiſſus eſt Nov. 22. —— Quidam Gul. Bates Middleſex. admiſſus in Coll. Magd. collatus eſt ad Coll. Regin. Cantabr. Ann. 1644. Art. Bac. Coll. Regin. Ann. 1647. —— Alter Gul. Bates Aul. Cler. Art. Bac. ad Baptiſt. Anno 1651.

Complaints made of the Act of Uniformity; and a Cry of Perſecution:

Beſt anſwer'd by repreſenting ſome Matters of Fact upon the Teſtimony of their own Writers.

Whereas in Conſequence of what they called the Bartholomew Act, many Parochial Miniſters and Curates choſe rather to leave their Benefices and Cures, than to comply with the Terms required by the Law: This Suffering incurr'd in the Name of Conſcience did occaſion great Complaints not only among the Sufferers themſelves, but from the whole Parties who adher'd to them; and did raiſe by Degrees a popular Cry of Perſecution and unmerciful Severities againſt conſcientious Men. It may be therefore proper to rehearſe ſome Matters of Fact, that duly attended to may help to alleviate thoſe Complaints, and ſhew the great Moderation and Tenderneſs of our Governours Civil and Eccleſiaſtical towards thoſe ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters, by repreſenting here, upon the Authority of their own induſtrious Advocate:

In Relation to the Nobility.

Gentry.

Ladies and other Women.

Patrons.

Succeſſors.

They were made domeſtick Chaplains,

Or Chaplains in our Foreign Factories,

Or in Hoſpitals, Priſons, or Chapels of Eaſe,

Or in other Parts of the King's Dominions,

Or taught School, kept Boarders, or were private Tutours, or ſet up Academies;

Or practiſed Phyſick with great Gain,

Or turned Lawyers,

Or undertook other ſecular Buſineſs,

And very mean Employments.

Trades and Occupations.

Some had good Eſtates.

Others married great Fortunes.

Some lived well upon Gifts and Contributions.

Some of the Ejected or Silenced were wild Phanaticks.

Some crazy and diſorder'd in their Heads.

Some few of a ſcandalous Life.

The Judges were tender of them.

The King was very indulgent to them.

1. That the Miniſters who by not conforming made themſelves incapable of holding their Livings, had, after their Deprivation, many great Friends and Benefactors among the Nobility, on whoſe Protection and Countenance they ſeem to have depended, in their declining to conform. 2. Beſides the prime Nobility, there were many of the chief Gentry who were ready to favour and ſupport the nonconforming Miniſters. 3. They received (many of them) great Kindneſs and Bounty from Ladies of Quality, and other honourable Women. 4. Several Patrons of thoſe Livings from whence the Nonconformiſts ſtood ejected, were very kind and indulgent to them, in letting them name their Succeſſors to their own Benefit, &c. 5. Not only the Patrons, but ſome of the conforming Succeſſors in thoſe vacated Livings were very civil and charitable to their ejected Predeceſſors. 6. Many other Miniſters diſabled by not complying with the Terms of Conformity, were taken as Chaplains into good Families, where they liv'd in Peace and Comfort. 7. Several others of the unqualified Miniſters were well provided for, as Chaplains in our Engliſh Factories abroad. 8. Some of them after Deprivation or Silence, were allow'd to officiate as Chaplains in Hoſpitals, in Priſons, in Chapels of Eaſe, and other Places exempt from ordinary Juriſdiction. 9. Some with a tolerable Subſtance withdrew themſelves to Scotland, Ireland, and other Foreign Plantations, where they found a kind Reception, and ſufficient Maintenance. 10. Many others of the diſſenting Miniſters were indulg'd and conniv'd at, in teaching Schools, in keeping Boarders, in being Tutours to young Noblemen, and Gentlemens Sons, in ſetting up private Academies, &c. 11. Not a few of the ejected Miniſters turn'd their Courſe of Life and Studies to the Practice of Phyſick, and thereby liv'd and died in greater Plenty and Credit, than if they had continued in their former Stations. 12. Some few renouncing their Function, turn'd their Heads to the Common Law, and found great Advantage by it. 13. Several who refuſed or rather declined Conformity, apply'd themſelves to other Secular Buſineſs and Employments, and forc'd a Way of thriving in them. 14. Some of leſs Abilities and meaner Spirits made Choice of low Arts of getting a Livelyhood. 15. Some of them ſeem to have returned to their original poor Trades and Occupations. 16. Many of the Miniſters who ſuffer'd Deprivation had good Eſtates of their own, which might induce them the rather to refrain from Conformity, while they had ſufficient Temporals to live upon. 17. Many of the nonconforming Miniſters did much improve their Circumſtances by marrying Women, and eſpecially Widows of good Condition and Fortune; and thereby gain'd by their late Loſſes. 18. Some of them without viſible Income liv'd well upon occaſional Contributions, Gifts, Legacies, and conſtant Collections made for them and their Families. 19. Many of thoſe who were put into the Liſt of ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters were not Puritans, or Preſbyterians, or properly Independents, but were truly Phanaticks, of ſuch ſtrange Principles and Notions, as rendred them incapable of conforming to any eſtabliſh'd Church. 20. Some of the Miniſters who refuſed Obedience to the Law, were hardly capable of judging a Reaſon for or againſt, being confeſſed to be then or ſoon after crazy and diſorder'd in their Heads and Minds, and ſo became great Objects of Compaſſion. 21. Some few of them were very ſcandalous in their Lives and Characters, and were at leaſt no Credit to the Cauſe for which they were preſum'd to ſuffer. 22. Many of the King's Judges ſhew'd a Reſpect and Tenderneſs to thoſe Miniſters of the Separation who became afterwards obnoxious to the Penal Laws. 23. The King himſelf above all was indulgent and favourable to that Party. 24. The Archbiſhops and

Biſhops

The Archbiſhops and Biſhops duly moderate.
Many of them did afterwards conform.
And many other Scholars did ſhake off their Prejudices.
Some conform'd with ſhameful Prevarication.
Some Bigots on one Side were ſo on the other.
The moderate Preſbyterians generally conform'd.
At leaſt were Lay Conformiſts.
Not intending to begin, much leſs to perpetuate a Schiſm.
The Leaders bred up their Sons to Conformity.
Many Inſtances to be given.
Eſpecially Examples produc'd by their own Writers.

Biſhops treated them with great Candour and Moderation. 25. Many of the ſuffering Miniſters were ſelf-condemned, and upon ſecond Thoughts did afterwards conform, and re-entred on their firſt Places, or were admitted to better. 26. Many of thoſe Scholars who had been bred up to the greateſt Prejudices of the late unhappy Times, did at or ſoon after the Reſtauration, eſpouſe the Principles and Cauſe of the Church, and became eminent in our Communion. 27. Some who ſhew'd themſelves moſt averſe to Conformity, did ſoon comply, with ſhameful Evaſion and Prevarication, by no Means conſiſtent with Truth and a good Conſcience. 28. Even ſome of the greateſt Bigots amongſt the late Factions, brought the ſame Spirit into the Church, and were the moſt forward to perſecute their late Brethren. 29. A Multitude of the moderate and peaceable Preſbyterians made but little Scruple to conform, for Unity and brotherly Love, and ſurer Defence againſt the common Enemy the Papiſt. 30. And even of thoſe who would not ſubmit to a miniſterial Conformity, many of them were Lay Conformiſts; and did not at firſt think of forming ſeparate Congregations, much leſs of ordaining Perſons to keep up a perpetual Schiſm. 31. And laſtly, Many of the leading non-conforming Miniſters were ſo moderate and indifferent in the Education of their Children, that many of their Sons conform'd, and prov'd uſeful and eminent in the Church of England. In all theſe Particulars many Inſtances remain upon unſuſpected Tradition, and ſome within Memory of many Witneſſes: But the Examples written by themſelves may be the more proper to remind them, that they do ill to charge the Church with Perſecution, when the Civil Government ordained all the Laws againſt them, as well of Proſecution as of Incapacity, with a View to the Peace and Safety of the State, rather than to any Honour or Intereſt of the Church; and all the Penal Laws were either executed, ſuſpended, or repeal'd, according to the Exigence of Times and Seaſons, when ſtrict Conformity or when full Liberty were thought more expedient for the publick Peace and Safety.

The Nobility generous to many of the nonconforming Miniſters.

1. The late Miniſters who by not conforming made themſelves incapable of holding their Livings, had, after their Deprivation, many great Friends and Benefactors among the Nobility, on whoſe Countenance and Protection they ſeem to have depended in their declining to conform.

Dr. Manton encouraged by the Earl of Bedford and Lord Wharton.
Tho. Manton, S. T. B. Oxonienſis incorporatus Cantabr. 1658.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 43. and Contin. p. 63. Wood's Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 446.

Dr. Thomas Manton was impriſon'd for his Nonconformity, and many Ways a Sufferer, and yet kept up a conſiderable Intereſt at Court, and with Men of Note and Figure. The noble Earl of Bedford who had for ſome Time been his Pariſhioner at Covent-Garden, was his cordial Friend unto Death; and ſo alſo was my Lord Wharton, and many other Perſons of conſiderable Quality.

Mr. Fr. Holdcroft protected by the Earl of Angleſey.
Fr. Holcroft Aul. Clar. Art. Bac. ad Baptiſt. Ann. 1650.
Fr. Holcroft Aul. Clar. Art. Mag. 1654. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Account p. 86.

Mr. Francis Holdcroft, M. A. turn'd out of his Fellowſhip of Clare Hall, and out of his Living of Baſſingbourn in Cambridgeſhire, was indicted at the Aſſizes upon the 35 Eliz. and ſentenc'd to abjure the Realm in three Months Time, or elſe to ſuffer Death as a Felon. The Earl of Angleſey repreſented his Caſe to King Charles, and obtain'd a Reprieve for him, &c.

Mr. Will. Blagrave by the Earl of Bedford.
Gul. Blagrave Coll. Petr. Art. Bac. Ann. 1648.
Gul. Blagrave e Coll. Petr. Art. Mag. 1659. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Ibid. 93.

Mr. William Blagrave ejected from Wobourn in Bedfordſhire, was of great Eſteem with the Family of the Earl of Bedford his Neighbour, to which Family, from its firſt riſing to be noble, it has been natural to have ſuch Men as he was in Reputation, protecting them from Eccleſiaſtical Storms and Tempeſts, and favouring them in their Miniſtry.

Mr. Joh. Thornton by the ſame Patron.

Ibid.

Mr. John Thornton liv'd and died a Nonconformiſt: He was Chaplain to the Earl (afterwards Duke) of Bedford, ſome Years before the Reſtauration of King Charles II. and continued in that Station during the good old Duke's Life, and for ſome Time after he liv'd with the Lady Rachel Ruſſel.

Mr. Rowl. Stedman by Lord Wharton.

Ibid. 98.

Mr. Rowland Stedman, M. A. ejected for Nonconformity from Ockingham in Berks, was after his being ſilenc'd, Chaplain to Philip Lord Wharton, with whom he died Sept. 14, 1673.

Mr. Joh. Jollie by the Earl of Shafiſbury and Lord Delamere.

Ibid. 124.

Mr. John Jollie, Aſſiſtant for a while to Mr. Angier of Denton, going to preach one Lord's Day Morning in the Chapel of Norbury [Cheſhire] after the Act for Uniformity had taken Place, he found the Doors lock'd upon him. The People being unwilling to loſe the Opportunity, by ſome Means or other open'd the Doors, and he preached as uſually. —— A Purſevant was ſent down, who brought up Mr. Jollie, and he appear'd before King and Council. —— The Earl of Shaftſbury upon the Lord Delamere's Letter was his Friend to help him off, and procur'd him his Diſcharge.

Mr. Tho. Travers by Lord Roberts.
Tho. Travers Coll. Magd. Cant. Art. Bacc. 1640. Idem Art. Mag. 1644.

Ibid. 145. Contin. p. 211.

Mr. Thomas Travers ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act at St. Columb-Major in Cornwall, was much favour'd by the noble Lord Roberts, who was Unkle to his Wife.

Mr. Stanley favour'd by the Earl of Devonſhire.

Account p. 180. and Contin. p. 233.

Mr. Stanley, M. A. Rector of Eyam in the Peak of Derby 'till Bartholomew Day 62. when he could not ſerve his People publickly, he was helpful to them in private; eſpecially when the Peſtilence prevailed in that Town. He officiated amongſt them with great Tenderneſs and Affection, during that ſore and very mortal Viſitation, which in that little Place cut off two hundred fifty nine grown Perſons, and fifty eight Children. And yet even at that very Time did ſome make a Motion to the Lord Lieutenant of the County, the noble Earl, Grandfather of the preſent illuſtrious Duke of Devonſhire, to remove him out of Town: Who like himſelf made ſuch Reply as this: That it was more reaſonable that the whole Countrey ſhould in more than Words teſtify their Thankfulneſs to him, who together with his Care of the Town had taken ſuch Care as none elſe did, to prevent the Infection of the Towns adjacent.

Mr. Will. Pell by the Earl of Lincoln.
Gul. Pell Coll. Magd. Cantabr. Art. Bac. Ann. 1654.
Gul. Pell Art. Mag. Ann. 1658. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. William Pell, M. A. ejected from Great Stainton in the Biſhoprick of Durham — impriſoned at Durham for his Nonconformity, removed himſelf to London by an Habeas Corpus, and was ſet at Liberty by Judge Hales. He then liv'd in the Northern Parts of Yorkſhire, and practiſed Phyſick. Afterwards he preached publickly at Taterſhall in Lincolnſhire, as Mr. Young had done before him: And by being entertained in the Earl of Lincoln's Family as a Steward, he was preſerv'd from the Violence that others met with, and to which he had been otherwiſe expoſed.

Account p. 289. and Contin. p. 454.

Mr. Nath. Ranew by the Earls of Warwick and Radnor.

Mr. Nathaniel Ranew ejected from Felſted in Eſſex, was well belov'd by the late Earl and Counteſs of Warwick, who allow'd him twenty Pounds per Ann. during Life. The old Earl of Radnor (ſome Time Lord Lieutenant of Ireland) had a great Reſpect for him, and admitted him to an intimate Acquaintance with him.

Account p. 300. and Contin. p. 460.

Mr. Benſon by Lord Fitzwalter.
Jo. Benſon Coll. Petr. Art. Mag. Ann. 1639.

Mr. Benſon, a nonconforming Miniſter, ejected or ſilenc'd at Little Leighs in Eſſex, was much befriended by my Lord Fitzwalter's Family near Chelmſford.

Account p. 309. and Contin. p. 484.

Mr. Rich. Bures by Lord Mordaunt.

Mr. Richard Bures ejected from the Living of Stourmouth in Kent, was afterward twice impriſoned for Preaching: Firſt in the Marſhalſea in Southwark, and then in Windſor Caſtle. His Deliverance out of this latter Confinement was remarkable. The Lord Mordaunt being at that Time Governour, was one Day viſited by Dr. Lewis, who had been Tutour to him [the Priſoner] in Oxford. Mr. Bures hearing of his being there, prevail'd with the Keeper to convey a Note into his old Tutour's Hands. The Doctor interceded with the Governour for his Diſcharge; and upon his arguing againſt it, he offer'd to be bound Body for Body for him, that he ſhould appear upon Summons if it were needful; and being very importunate at length prevail'd, and he was releas'd.

Account p. 385.

Mr. Joh. Harriſon by Lord Delamere.
Jo. Harriſon Coll. Trin. Socius unus e Prædicatoribus ab Academia emittendis Anno 1646.
Jo. Harriſon Coll. Trin. Cantabr. S. T. B. Ann. 1648.

Mr. John Harriſon was preſented to the Living of Aſhton under Line in Com. Lanc. by Sir George Booth, and reſigning it in 1662. as nonconforming; the ſaid Patron, then Lord Delamere, continued his Kindneſs to him, and offer'd to put in his Son Maurice, who was a conforming Miniſter, into his Place. But Mr. Harriſon fearing his Son might not be fit for that Charge, preferr'd the Advantage of his Peoples Souls, before the Advancement of his Family; and therefore conſcientiouſly wav'd it; and rather made uſe of his Intereſt on the Behalf of Mr. Elliſon, who was a Man of great Worth and a good Preacher, who enjoy'd the Living of Aſhton 'till his Death. Mr. Harriſon living privately was his uſual Auditor; and his funeral Sermon was preached by Mr. Elliſon, who gave him a great Character, but not beyond his Deſert.

Ibid. 392.

Mr. Theoph. Britaine by Lord Shaftſbury.

Mr. Theophilus Britaine after his Ejectment from Brackleby Com. Linc. took a Houſe at Swinderby, about ſeven Miles from Lincoln, where he kept a private School for a Livelyhood. He was thereupon proſecuted by Sir E. L. [Edward Lake] the Biſhop's Chancellour, before whom he appear'd ſeveral Times at the Court at Lincoln, and was at length by the ſaid Chancellour committed to the common Gaol there, —— where he lay for ſeveral Months. At length he by an Habeas Corpus removed himſelf to London, where his Cauſe was heard: And by Means of the Earl of Shaftſbury, then Lord Chancellour, he obtain'd his Liberty.

Ibid. 456.

Mr. Abr. Hume by the D. of Lauderdale.

Mr. Abraham Hume, M. A. upon his leaving Whittingham in Northumberland for Nonconformity, was kindly invited by the Duke of Lauderdale to his Family, where he continued 'till the Five Mile Act drove him away, becauſe he could not take the Oxford Oath. The Duke preſſed him at length to conform, and not only engag'd for a good Living, but alſo that he ſhould be favour'd as to the Oath of Canonical Obedience, the Buſineſs of Aſſent and Conſent, and other Things that he ſcrupled moſt. But he was immoveable, and the Duke grew cold to him, and afterwards ſeem'd by his Carriage to be quite alienated from him.

Ibid. 512.

Mr. Jo. Cromwell favoured by the Duke of Newcaſtle.
Joh. Cromwellus Coll. Magd. Cantabr. Art. Bac. ad Baptiſt. Ann. 1652.
Joh. Cromwell Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. Ann. 1656. Reg. Cant.

Mr. John Cromwell by the Bartholomew Act ejected from Claworth in Nottinghamſhire, was made Priſoner at Newark upon Occaſion of that which was called the Yorkſhire Plot. The Lord Lieutenant of the County, the old Duke of Newcaſtle, was againſt confining him: But ſome of the Deputy Lieutenants were by no Means to be perſuaded to let him have his Liberty. —— Whereupon the Duke wrote to the Council about him, and took off the Edge of Sir William Hickman, and at length prevailed for his Enlargement.

Ibid. 526. Contin. p. 690.

Mr. Andr. Parſons deliver'd by the Lord Newport.

Mr. Andrew Parſons Miniſter of Wem in Shropſhire, at the latter End of 1660. was brought into Trouble on Account of ſeditious Words which were ſworn againſt him, which were theſe, that the Devil was like a King that courted the Soul, and ſpoke fair till he was gotten into the Throne, and then play'd his Pranks. The Witneſs depos'd contrary to the Coherence of the Diſcourſe, that he ſaid the King was like the Devil. He was try'd at Shrewſbury before my Lord Newport, Mr. Serjeant Turner, and others, May 28. and 29, 1661. It was alſo charg'd upon him, that he ſaid, there was more Sin committed now in England in a Month, than was heretofore in ſeven Years: And that there had been more and better Preaching in England for twenty Years paſt, than was ever ſince the Apoſtles Days. —— He was found guilty and fined two hundred Pounds, and ordered to be impriſoned 'till it ſhould be paid. He continued near three Months in Priſon, 'till the Lord Newport without his Knowledge procur'd the King's Pardon for his Fine.

Account p. 555.

Mr. Jo. Salkeld by the Lord Dover.
Said by Dr. Calamy to have been Fellow of Queen's College, Cambridge, but the learned Mr. Baker could not meet with him as a Member of that Houſe, and rather thinks he might be of Queen's College, Oxon as a Cumberland Man.

Mr. John Salkeld turn'd out of the Living of Worlington for Nonconformity, exercis'd his Miniſtry ſometimes in private, and for ſome Years by Connivance in a publick Church till ſome ſeditious Words were ſworn againſt him by one E. S. viz. that he ſhould ſay, Popery was coming into our Nation a great Pace, and no Care taken to prevent it. Whereas many Hundreds of his Hearers beſides could teſtify that his Words were, that the Parliament ſaid, that Popery was coming into our Nation a great Pace, and no Care taken to prevent it. However it being poſitively ſworn againſt him, that theſe were his Words, he was preſently fin'd a hundred Pound, and committed to the common Priſon in St. Edmund's Bury, till the Fine ſhould be paid: Which he refuſing ſuffer'd three Years Impriſonment, and then by the Interceſſion of the Lord Dover with King James was diſcharg'd Anno 1686. and his Fine was afterwards remitted by King William.

Account, p. 641.

Mr. James Fiſher by the Duke of Bucks.
Quidam Jacobus Fiſher Coll. Magd. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. An. 1625.
Jac. Fiſher Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1629. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. James Fiſher ſuffer'd Ejectment from Sheffield in Yorkſhire, was charg'd with being in Plots, and for ſpeaking Treaſon, and was ſeveral Times impriſon'd. —— The laſt Time he was in Priſon, he was deſign'd to be kept there during his Life. But the Duke of Buckingham coming to York, inquir'd into the State of Priſoners in the Caſtle, and finding him and ſome others confin'd there out of Spite, he ſet him and them at Liberty.

Ibid, p. 786.

Mr. Jo. Ryther by the ſame Duke of Bucks.

Mr. John Ryther of Sidney College in Cambridge, after he was turn'd out from Feriby in Yorkſhire was about the Year 1664. for ſeveral Months a Priſoner in York Caſtle, but was deliver'd from thence by the Duke of Buckingham, and ſome Time after came up to London, and was Paſtor of a Congregation at Wapping.

Ibid. p. 833.
Continuat. p. 601.
Athen. Oxon Vol. II. c. 385.

The Earl of Denbigh to Mr. Rich. Martyn.

Mr. Richard Martyn after his Ejectment from Monk's-Kirby in Com. Warwic. was entertain'd by the then Earl of Denbigh. —— And Mr. Loſeby ſilenc'd at the Chapel of Copſon Com. Warwic. —— preach'd again, and was conniv'd at by the Earl of Denbigh, who was Lord of the Place.

Account, p. 750.

Nath. Fiennes, Eſq; to Mr. Tho. Taylor.

The honourable Nathaniel Fiennes, Eſq; of Newton-Tony, who tho' he himſelf liv'd not to be Viſcount Say and Seal, yet was the Son, the Brother, and the Father of thoſe who bore that Title. This noble Gentleman, and after his Death his religious Lady, were very kind to ſeveral Nonconformiſts in the County of Wilts, and particularly to Mr. Thomas Taylor, who without ſuch generous Help, would very difficultly have been able to ſupport or bring up his numerous Family.

Continuat. p. 867.

The Duke of Buckingham to Mr. Chr. Neſſe.

Mr. Chriſtopher Neſſe Lecturer at Leeds and there ſilenc'd in 1662. —— How the Duke of Buckingham would afterwards have complimented him into Conformity, is related by himſelf, in his divine Legacy, p. 203. [Chr. Neſſe Eboracen. Filius Thomæ Neſſe de North-Cave in Com. prædicto Agricolæ, natus ibidem, Literis Grammat. inſtitutus ibid. in Schola privata ſub Magiſtro Seaman per ſpatium decem annorum, natus annos ſedecim admiſſus eſt Subſizator ſub Domino Wood, Fidejuſſore Magiſtro Nicholſon, Mar. 13, 1638. Reg. Coll. Jo. Cant. —— Chr. Neſſe Coll. Joh. Art. Bac. 1641. Reg. Acad. See Mr. Thoreſby's Ducat. Leod. p. 101, 265, 623.]

Coll. MS. Tho. Baker.

Many of the chief Gentry very kind to the Noncon. Miniſters.

II. Beſides the Prime Nobility, there were many of the chief Gentry who were ready to favour and ſupport the Nonconforming Miniſters.

Fran. Pierrepoint, Eſq; to Dr. Tuckney.

Dr. Anthony Tuckney late Maſter of St. John's College in Cambridge, had an Annuity punctually paid him for ſeveral Years by Dr. Gunning; and living at Colwick Hall near Nottingham, was for ſome Time troubled and confin'd, but it was in the Houſe of Francis Pierrepoint, Eſq; where he was treated very civilly, and within a few Months diſcharg'd. —— Mr. Thomas Senior, B. D. Fellow of Trinity, and Lecturer of Trinity Church in Cambridge, ejected and ſilenc'd, lived in the latter Part of his Life at Hackney with Alderman Bewley, and preach'd a Lecture many Years in the Houſe of Alderman Aſhurſt with great Acceptation. —— Mr. Hind after his Ejection from Milton in Berks, was entertain'd in the Houſe of Mr. John Gordon, as long as either he or his Wife liv'd, which was for twenty Years. —— Mr. Thomas Voiſy deprived of Thatcham in Surrey, was apprehended for the North Countrey Plot, and committed to Reading Goal for High-Treaſon; from thence he was removed to Windſor Caſtle. After fifteen Months Impriſonment, Sir Thomas (afterwards Lord) Clifford, whoſe Fellow Collegiate Mr. Voiſy had been accidentally hearing of his hard Caſe at the Secretary's Office, procur'd his Releaſe. —— Mr. William Oliver, M. A. ejected from Launceſton, was much valu'd by the Gentry of Cornwall and Devon. Mr. Secretary Morrice had a great Eſteem for him, and gave him a yearly Penſion for the Support of his Family, after he was ſilenc'd. —— Mr. Burnand a noted Preacher in the County of Cumberland till the Bartholomew Act ſilenc'd him, retir'd to the deſart Places in Auſtin-More, and there took a Farm, — at length Providence favouring Sir William Blacket in his Lead Mines, he fix'd him there to preach to his Miners with an Allowance of 30*l. per Annum.* He had great Succeſs among thoſe ignorant Creatures, and did much good, &c. —— Mr. Henry Corniſh, B. D. diſplac'd at the Reſtauration from a Canonry of Chriſt-Church, Oxon; afterwards liv'd with that pious Knight Sir Philip Harcourt of Stanton-Harcourt in Oxfordſhire, &c. —— Mr. Humphrey Gunter, M. A. caſt out of his Fellowſhip of Magdalen College, Oxford, was for ſome Years very uſeful as a Tutor to ſome young Gentlemen in private Families in Berkſhire and Oxfordſhire, particularly to —— Dunch of Puſey, Eſq; —— Mr. William Pell, M. A. ejected from Great-Stainton in the Biſhoprick of Durham, preached often in London, where he providentially

Alderman Bewley and Aſhurſt to Mr. Tho. Senior.
Tho. Senior Coll. Trin. Cant. Art. Bacc. 1649. A. M. 1653. S. T. B. 1660. Reg. Acad.
Mr. John Gordon to Mr. Hind.
Sir Tho. Clifford to Mr. Voiſy.
Mr. Secretary Morrice to Mr. Oliver.
Sir William Blacket to Mr. Burnand.
Sir Philip Harcourt to Mr. Corniſh.
Mr. Dunch to Mr. Gunter.
A Merchant to Mr. Pell.
Guil. Pell, Coll. Mag. Cantab. Art. Bacc. 1654. A. M. 1658.

Account, p. 80.
See Ath. Ox *Vol.*II.*col.*578
Ibid. p. 88.
Ibid. p. 94.
Ibid. p. 102.
Ibid. p. 147.
Ibid. p. 158.
*Ibid. p.*67.
See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II.
Ibid. p. 69.
Ibid. p. 290.

dentially became acquainted with one Mr. Pell a Merchant, that was very kind to him for his Name-ſake. —— Mr. John Dunce ejected from Haſelton Com. Gloc. dy'd Chaplain to Madam Beck of Batcot near Farrington: Eſquire Dunch of Puſey allow'd him twenty Nobles a Year during his Life. —— Mr. Edmund Spinks of Long-Orton Com. Hunt. after he was ſilenc'd liv'd at Warmington with or near Mrs. Elmes his Wife's Mother, who had a good Eſtate, and made all Nonconforming Miniſters welcome. —— Mr. Thomas Ventreſs, M. A. ejected from St. Margaret's in Canterbury preach'd more privately as he had Opportunity. Sir Robert Hales and his Family at Beakſbourn were his conſtant Auditors and great Friends. —— Mr. Sampſon Herne, M. A. after his Ejectment from Chilham in Kent was entertained very kindly by Sir John Fagg at his Houſe in Chatham Pariſh, where he was not only lodg'd but ſupported by that worthy Baronet, and now and then he preach'd, and at laſt died there. — Mr. John Maidwell was ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity; the religious Sir Thomas Alſton and his Lady had him in very great Eſteem and he preach'd often at their Houſe at Odell in Bedfordſhire. —— Mr. Thomas Dandy, M. A. ſilenc'd at Great-Okeley Com. Northampt. did not preach in the Church after Bartholomew Day, but in the Houſe of Colonel Brooks, who had made the Living of Okely (which was but ſix Nobles a Year) worth forty Pounds per Ann. to Mr. Dandy, and he liv'd afterwards with Mr. Brooks (who was Son and Succeſſor to the Colonel) to his dying Day. —— Mr. John Davis ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at Bywell in Northumberland, afterwards liv'd at Welldon three Miles from Bywell, where he preach'd all the Time of the Severities of King Charles's Reign, ſometimes in his own Houſe, and ſometimes at Sir William Middleton's at Belſay, ſometimes at Mr. Bourſlower's at Appleby, — and receiv'd much Kindneſs from old Sir William Blacket of Newcaſtle. —— Mr. Henry Albin ejected at Weſt-Cammel in Somerſetſhire in 1660. and at Dunnyet in 1662. preach'd twice every Lord's-Day for many Years in the Houſe of Thomas Moore, Eſq; at Spargrove. —— Mr. John Beaton upon his Ejectment from Cardford Com. Suſſex. was kindly receiv'd into the Family of Sir John Fagge of Wiſton, where he and his were freely entertain'd, and dying Decemb. 7, 1680. lyeth interred in Wiſton Church. —— Mr. Nehemiah Beaton, Brother of him 'foremention'd, after his Ejectment from Little-Horſtead in Suſſex was kindly receiv'd into the Family of that worthy Gentleman Colonel Herbert Morley of Glind, where he died, and was buried in Glind Church in January 1662-3. —— Mr. William Jones was ejected from Denbigh in North-Wales. The Five Mile Act forc'd him to remove from the Town. But he found a comfortable Retreat at Plâs Têg in Flintſhire, a Seat belonging to the ancient Family of the Trevors, which was generouſly allow'd him by Mr. Trevor, with Land to the Value of 20*l. per Annum*, there he liv'd for ſeveral Years, and died in a good old Age in February 1678. —— Mr. Dudley Rider after he left his Living of Bedworth Com. Warwick, fix'd with his Family at Weddington, and upon the Five Mile Act, after ſeveral Removes, he at length fix'd at Lynn-Regis in Norfolk, and not long before his Death (which happen'd about 1683.) he was invited into Sir Samuel Clark's Family, and there continu'd till it pleas'd God to remove him to another Life. —— Mr. Peter Ince, after his being ſilenc'd at Dunhead in Wiltſhire, liv'd with Mr. Grove that Ornament of his Countrey for Learning and Piety and publick Spiritedneſs. — Mr. Hugh Everard, when he was turn'd out of Hickleton in Yorkſhire, Sir John Jackſon took him and his Wife into his Family. He was Chaplain and his Wife the Houſe-keeper: He was very uſeful in the Family, and died there Anno 1663. —— When Mr. John Spawford Vicar of Silkeſton, call'd the Minſter in the Moores Yorkſhire, was ejected in 1662. Mr. Robert Cotton (a worthy pious Gentleman in that Pariſh) took him to his Houſe, and kept him as long as he liv'd. He died in 1688. ætat. 80. —— Mr. Abraham Wright liv'd ſome Years after he was turn'd out at Cheavely in Cambridgeſhire: Upon the taking Place of the Five Mile Act he kept ſome Time at the Houſe of Mr. Meadows of Ouſden in Suffolk, who entertain'd him very kindly. —— Mr. Robert Webb was thruſt out of the ſequeſtred Living of Droxford in Hampſhire, with his Family and Goods in a rough and violent Manner. A Gentleman who liv'd in that Neighbourhood (tho' a Papiſt) out of Humanity receiv'd them for the preſent into his own Houſe, till in a little Time the Wife of Richard Cromwell, Eſq; ſent her Coach for them, and brought them to a Houſe of theirs. Mr. Webb had a great Family and was very poor. Eſquire Dunch of Badſley (who was a great Friend to all the Suffering Miniſters of thoſe Parts) was kind to him in his Life, and at his Death left him 10*l.* a Year during Life. —— Mr. Cater liv'd ſome Time after his Ejectment from Gravely Com. Hertford. in the Family of Sir Robert Joſſeline near Sabridgeworth in the ſame County; and when he died left ſomething by Way of Charity, of which the Heir of that Family is one of the Managers in courſe. —— Mr. Joſeph Allen, ejected or ſilenc'd at Penryn in Cornwall with a Wife and three or four Children, had his Subſiſtence from charitable Friends, but principally from the honourable Hugh Boſcawen, Eſq; —— When Mr. Samuel Tapper left the Vicarage of Marrion by Padſtow in Cornwall, and Mr. Henry Banbrigg, who had been ſequeſtred, was reſtor'd to it; he reſided ſome Years with a very worthy Gentleman of that County Richard Eriſey of Eriſey, Eſquire. —— Mr. James Burdwood ejected from St. Petrocks in Dartmouth, and driven from his School there by the Five Mile Act, — had great Reſpect and Kindneſs ſhewn him by Mr. Thomas Boone, a neighbouring Gentleman and his Family. Being oblig'd to leave off Houſekeeping, Dr. Richard Burthogge, who had a great Value for him, entertain'd him and Madam Beck and Eſquire Dunch to Mr. Dunce.

Mrs. Elmes to Mr. Spinkes. Edm. Spinkes Coll. Eman. Cant. admiſſus Dec. 14, 1627. A. B. 1631. A. M. 1635.

Sir Rob. Hales to Mr. Ventreſs.

Tho. Ventreſs Col. Corp. Chr. Cant. A. B. 1630. A. M. 1634. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Sir John Fagge to Mr. Herne.

Sir Thomas Alſton to Mr. Maidwell.

Joh. Maidwell Aul. Clar. Art. Bac. 1630. Art. Mag. 1634. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Col. Brooks to Mr. Dandy.

Sir Will. Middleton, Mr. Bourſlowers, and Sir Will. Blacket to Mr. Davis, who dy'd in 1676.

See Mr. John Davis turn'd out of a Fellowſhip of Magdalen College, Cambridge, in 1650. Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 151.

Tho. Moore, Eſq; to Mr. Albin.

Sir John Fagge to Mr. Beaton.

Jo. Beaton Coll Jeſ. Cant. A. B. 1648. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Col. Morley to Mr. Nehemiah Beaton.

Nehem. Beaton Coll. Jeſu Art. Bac. ad Bapt. An. 1650. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Trevor to Mr. Will. Jones.

Guil. Jones Coll. Joh. Cant. Quadr. admiſſus in Matric. Acad. Cant. Dec. 14, 1621. Art, Bac. 1625. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Sir Sam. Clarke to Mr. Rider.

Dudl. Rider Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1660. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Grove to Mr. Peter Ince.

See Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 207.

Sir John Jackſon to Mr. Everard.

Mr. Robert Cotton to Mr. Spawford.

*Mr.*Meadows *to Mr.*Wright He died about 1685.

Mrs. Cromwell and Mr. Dunch *to Mr.*Webb.

He died Aug. 14, 1675. ætat. 42.

Mr. Cater of Gravely receiv'd into the Family of Sir Rob. Joſſelin.

Hugh Boſcawen, Eſq; kind to Mr. Allen.

Richard Eriſey, Eſq; to Mr. Tapper.

Mr. Boone and Dr. Burthogge to Mr. Burdwood.

Ibid. p. 329.
Ibid. p. 371.
Ibid. p. 373.
Ibid. p. 381.
Ibid. p. 492.
Ibid. p. 494.
Ibid. p. 519.
Ibid. p. 600.
Ibid. p. 685.
Ibid. p. 686.
Ibid. p. 713.
Ibid. p. 748.
Ibid. p. 760.
Ibid. p. 790.
Ibid. p. 791.
Dr. Calamy's Continuat. p. 163.
Ibid. p. 518.
Ibid. p. 531.
Ibid. p. 216.
Ibid. p. 218.
Ibid. p. 246.

A Gentleman to Mr. Weſtley.

Sir William York to Mr. Wright.

There was one Mr. John Wright turn'd out of a Poſtmaſter's Place in Merton Coll. Oxon. for his Loyalty in the Time of the Grand Rebellion. Dr. Walker*'s Sufferings, Part* II. p. 129.

Lady Weſtmoreland and her Sons to Mr. Tookey.

He died Nov. 20, 1670.

Ibid. p. 448.

Ibid. p. 594

Ibid. p. 618.

and his Wife and ſome of his Children, at his Houſe at Bowden near Totneſs for almoſt two Years, &c. —— Mr. John Weſtley, M. A. forced to remove from Whitchurch near Blandford in Dorſetſhire, went to Bridgwater, Ilminſter, and Taunton, in all which Places he met with great Kindneſs and Friendſhip. — At length a Gentleman who had a very good Houſe at Preſton, two or three Miles from Melcomb, gave him free Liberty to dwell in it without paying any Rent; and there he continu'd as long as he liv'd. —— Mr. John Wright after his Ejectment from Edmundthorp Com. Leic. retir'd to Leſingham near Sleeford in Lincolnſhire, where he had a ſmall Eſtate, and there ſpent the Remainder of his Days, lov'd and honour'd by his Neighbours, eſpecially by Sir William York and his Family. —— Mr. John Tookey ſilenc'd at Yarmouth in Norfolk, had been Chaplain to the Lady Weſtmoreland, and Tutor to her Sons, the Lord Townſhend and Sir Horatio Townſhend, the former highly reſpected him to his dying Day, and was often pleas'd to adviſe with him in Affairs of Moment: And the latter us'd often to ſay, he lov'd Mr. Tookey becauſe he was true to his Principles.

III. They received great Kindneſs and Bounty from Ladies of Quality and other honourable Women.

Lady Wilbraham to Mr. Cartwright.

Jo. Cartwright Coll. Jeſ. Cant. Art. Mag. An. 1652. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Counteſs of Exeter to Dr. Jacomb.

Tho. Jacombe Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1643. Idem Coll. Trin. M. A. 1647. S. T. P. 1660. Reg. Acad. Cant.

He died at the Counteſs of Exeter*'s*, March 27, 1687.

Counteſs of Clare to Mr. Adams.

He died Dec. 11, 1670.

Lady Huſſey to Mr. Birket.

Joh. Burkett Coll. Magd. Cant. Art. Bacc. An. 1639. Reg. Acad. Cant.

He died May 5, 1685.

Lady Norcliffe to Mr. Oliver.

Gul. Oliver Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1651.

He died Jul. 10, 1686.

Ladies Liſter and Watſon to Mr. Williams.

He died March 26, 1680.

Mrs. Hutton to Mr. Birdſall.

Lady Rhodes to Mr. Milner.

Jer. Milner Coll. Jo. Art Bac. An. 1651. Reg. Acad. Cant.

He died March 7, 1681.

Lady Wilbraham to Mr. Beresford.

Quidam Sam. Beresford Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. 1637. — Alter Sam. Beresford Coll. Regin. Art. Bac. An. 1651. Art. Mag. 1655. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Lady Vere to Mr. Billio. And Counteſs of Warwick to the ſame Mr. Billio.

He died at Felſted, Apr. 19, 1695.

Mrs. Pheaſant to Mr. Jennings.

Lady Fiennes to Mr. Crofts.

Lady Bromley to Mr. Brumſkill.

Lady Jackſon to Mr. Denton.

Lady Norcliffe to Mr. Waits.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 125.

Ibid. p. 46.

Ibid. p. 66.

Ibid p. 458.

Ibid. p. 459.

Ibid, p. 783.

Ibid. p. 793.

Ibid. p. 796.

Dr. Calamy's Continuat. p. 231.

Ibid. p. 479.

Ibid. p. 514.

Ibid. p. 519.

Ibid. p. 581.

Ibid. p. 951.

Ibid. p. 959.

Mr. John Cartwright after his Ejection from Weſt-Kirby in Wirral, Cheſhire, was Chaplain to the pious Lady Wilbraham at Woodbey, and died Feb. 17, 168$\frac{7}{8}$. —— Dr. Thomas Jacomb ejected from St. Martin's Ludgate, London, met with Trouble after his Ejection: But the divine Providence ſecur'd him of a Screen, by diſpoſing of him into the Family of that right honourable and eminently pious Lady, the Counteſs Dowager of Exeter, Daughter to the Earl of Bridgewater, to whoſe Memory this Acknowledgment is but a due Debt, that when the Stream ran ſo ſtrong againſt many ſuffering, excellent and faithful Miniſters and People, as it did in the Time of King Charles II. this honourable Lady to the utmoſt of her Power was a Comfort and Support to them. Her Reſpects for the Doctor were peculiar, and her Favours conferr'd upon him were extraordinary. —— Mr. Thomas Adams, M. A. ejected from a Fellowſhip of Braſen-Noſe College Oxford, was afterwards Chaplain to the Right Honourable the Counteſs Dowager of Clare, and his Labours were very acceptable in that honourable Family. —— Mr. John Birket ejected from Swinderby Com. Linc. in 1662. liv'd in a Houſe he had bought in Town, and preach'd twice every Lord's-Day to many Hearers, till the Five Mile Act, which forc'd him to remove to Billingborough, the Place of his Birth, where he had not been long, before the Lady Huſſey of Cawthrop ſent for him and committed her three Sons to him (one of which was Sir Edward Huſſey afterwards Member of Parliament for the City of Lincoln) and he fitted them for the Univerſity. He continu'd in that Family eight Years, and was greatly belov'd. —— Mr. William Oliver ſaid to have been ejected from Glapthorn Com. Linc. [but really near Oundale in Com. Northampt.] and after his Ejection to have liv'd in Fotheringhay, was Chaplain to that pious and excellent Perſon the Lady Norcliffe, — and wrote a Book of Inſtructions and Prayers for the Help of teeming Women. —— Mr. Peter Williams ſilenc'd at York, preach'd a Week-Day Lecture at the Lady Liſter's; and after her Death he kept his Lecture at my Lady Watſon's Houſe, and ſhe at her Death gave that Houſe to him and his. —— Mr. Birdſall being ſilenc'd at Selby in Yorkſhire, became Domeſtick Chaplain to Mrs. Hutton of Poppleton, Siſter to my Lord Fairfax, and Eſquire Hutton her Son continu'd his Encouragement, and he died in his Family in 1686. —— Mr. Jeremiah Milner after his Ejection from Rodwell near Leeds, remov'd to a Place near Felchurch, and preach'd at my Lady Rhodes's Chapel at Haughton in the firſt Licence Time in 1672. and afterwards in that worthy and worſhipful Family, where both he and many of his Brethren found loving Entertainment in the hardeſt Times. —— Mr. Samuel Beresford ejected at Derby ſpent the latter Part of his Life at Sheffnall in Shropſhire, and died in October 1697. at Weſton, the Seat of the religious Lady Wilbraham, who was a ſincere and generous Friend to all good Miniſters, whether Conformiſts or Nonconformiſts without Diſtinction. —— Mr. Robert Billio being turn'd out from Wickham near Malden in Eſſex, being favour'd by the good Lady Vere of Henningham, remov'd afterwards to Felſted, where he had the Advantage of the School for the Education of his Sons: The good Counteſs of Warwick, Siſter to Mr. Boyle, ſometimes joined in Prayer with him in her Chamber, and in the Banquet-Houſe in the Wilderneſs; and allow'd him 5*l. per Ann.* towards the educating his eldeſt Son for the Miniſtry, and continu'd it till 1678. when ſhe died. —— Mr. John Jennings who for Nonconformity reſign'd his Living of Hartley-Warphell in Hampſhire, was afterwards Tutor to Mr. Noyes of Tuckwell, and then Chaplain to Mrs. Pheaſant of Langton in Leiceſterſhire, and while he liv'd with her he gather'd a Church out of that Neighbourhood, and for ſome Years after her Death, continu'd to dwell and worſhip God with his Congregation in her Houſe. —— Mr. John Crofts after his Ejectment from Motton in Hampſhire was Chaplain to the Lady Fiennes at Newton-Toney in Wilts. —— Mr. Oliver Brumſkill ſaid to be ejected or ſilenc'd at Loughborough Com. Leic. liv'd with that eminent Saint, the old Lady Bromley Widow to Judge Bromley. —— Mr. Nathan Denton ejected from Bolton upon Dearn in 1662. preach'd for a Year after at the Pariſh Church of Hickleton, at the Encouragement of the Lady Jackſon, Siſter to Sir George Booth, afterwards Lord Delamere. —— Mr. Wait after his Ejectment from Weſtwang in the County of York, continued preaching in his own Houſe, he was well eſteem'd of the Lady

Norcliffe

Lady Wilbraham to Mr. Dan. Williams.

Norcliffe of Langton, who allow'd him 5*l.* a Year towards his Support. —— Dr. Daniel Williams, when in his younger Days he had freely own'd himſelf a Nonconformiſt, making an occaſional Viſit to the pious Lady Wilbraham of Weſton in Salop, he receiv'd an unexpected Invitation to be Chaplain to the Counteſs of Meath in Ireland, and readily accepted it: There he found a Refuge from the Storm, and was in no inconſiderable Capacity of Service.

Ibid p. 969.

The Patrons very kind and tender to them.

IV. And beſides this Tenderneſs and Charity of the Nobility and Gentry and Ladies expreſs'd on many Occaſions towards the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters; there was a great Regard paid to them by the Patrons of thoſe Churches which their Nonconformity left vacant. Some Patrons forbore to preſent a new Clerk, till they had tried all Means to perſuade the former Incumbents to conform and accept a new Preſentation. Some invited their late Miniſters, who had made themſelves incapable of publick Service, to live with them in their private Families as Chaplains, or Tutours, or Stewards, in greater Eaſe and ſufficient Plenty. Others left to them the Nomination of their Succeſſors, by which they had Opportunity of putting in their Sons or Kinſmen, or treating with Strangers for ſome Allowance or other Conſideration to be made to them. Herein the greateſt Credit may be given to the Report of their own Friend and Advocate.

Sir Will. Courtney to Mr. Francis Soreton.

Mr. Francis Soreton ejected from Honyton Com. Devon. had been preſented to that Place by Sir William Courtney of Poderham, whoſe Aunt he marry'd, and to his Houſe he retir'd after his Ejectment, till upon the Indulgence in 1672. he return'd again to his Flock; and when he was impriſon'd upon the Five Mile Act in Exeter Goal, Sir Will. Courtney being then High-Sheriff of the County got him releas'd, and convey'd him in his own Coach to his own Houſe where he continu'd till he died.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 241.

Mr. Manſell to Mr. John Cortman.

Mr. John Cortman, B. D. who for Nonconformity left the Rectory of Thorp-Malſor Com. Northampt. did not preach publickly after his Ejection, but in Mr. Manſell's Houſe that was the Patron, keeping the Living, and employing a Curate. He afterwards reſign'd it to his Son, and himſelf practis'd Phyſick with great Succeſs.

Ibid. p. 492.

Col. Brooks to Mr. Thomas Dandy.
As before obſerv'd.

Mr. Thomas Dandy, M. A. ſilenc'd at Great-Okely in the County of Northampton, had been particularly inſtrumental for the Good of ſeveral Branches of the Family of the honourable Colonel Brooks, with whom he liv'd as Chaplain, removing to his Houſe. This Gentleman had made the Living of Okely (which was but ſix Nobles a Year) worth 40*l. per An.* to Mr. Dandy. But upon his being ſilenc'd in 1662. none coveted ſuch a Living. He did not preach in the Church after Bartholomew Day, but in the Colonel's own Houſe that was near the Church. He kept an extraordinary Awe upon the Children and Servants of that Family. He liv'd afterwards with Mr. Brooks (who was Son and Succeſſor to the Colonel) to his dying Day.

Ibid. p. 494.

Sir John Langham to Mr. Burroughs.

Mr. Thomas Burroughs, B. D. after his Ejectment from Matteſbrook in Northamptonſhire, was taken into the Houſe of Sir John Langham, Patron of the Church, [who is ſaid to have preſented another Perſon upon the Honour of being kind to Mr. Burroughs, as was done in many like Caſes.]

Ibid. p. 496.

Lord Compton to Mr. Auſtin.

Mr. Peter Auſtin ejected from Caſtle Aſhby in the ſame County and Dioceſe, was treated very civilly by the Lord James Compton, Father to the Earl of Northampton, and died at Aſhby much lamented, ſome Time after his Ejection.

Contin. p. 636.

Mr. Juſtice Norton to Mr. Malkinſon.
Will. Malkinſon Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc. An. 1629. Art. Mag. Coll. Eman. 1633. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Malkinſon who was ſilenc'd at Cotterſtock in Northamptonſhire, and had been one of the Lecturers at Oundle, not only liv'd at the Place where he was ſilenc'd to the Day of his Death; but Mr. Juſtice Norton (who was to nominate to that Cure) was very much his Friend, both while he was in his Living, and when he was out of it.

Account, p. 495.
Contin. p. 639.

George Mountague, Eſq; to Mr. Howlet.

Mr. Samuel Howlet, Miniſter of Horton in Northamptonſhire in 1662. and for ſome Time after refus'd Conformity; but was at length prevail'd on by George Montague, Eſq; [Patron] and his Lady, to uſe a little of the Common-Prayer, and doing ſo he continued there till the Reign of King William, and then died of the Small-Pox, and was much lamented.

Ibid. p. 645.

Mr. Hornby to ſeveral Clerks, in the Living of Marſton-Truſſel.

Mr. Walter Hornby Rector of Marſton-Truſſel Com. Northampt. died juſt before the Act of Uniformity took Place, having bought the Advowſon of it for his Son, Mr. Walter Hornby of Emanuel College in Cambridge, who when the Act of Uniformity was in Force refuſed to conform. He preſented Mr. Blackerby to Marſton Living; and upon his removing into Suffolk, he preſented Mr. Boddington, and after him Mr. Pyke, and the Right of Preſentation is in his Family to this Day. As to himſelf, he preach'd ſome Time at Langton under Mr. Blackerby, &c. He us'd to go hear moderate Conformiſts, ſuch as he preſented to Marſton Living: And ſuch as they would join with Mr. Clark and Mr. Shuttlewood and other diſſenting Miniſters in keeping private Faſts. Mr. Hornby though the Patron of the Living, receiv'd nothing out of the Profits, unleſs Mr. Blackerby and his Succeſſors might now and then ſend him ſome ſmall Preſent.

Ibid. p. 646.

The ſeveral Preſentations.

1622, 24. Aug. Gualterus Horneby, Clericus, A. M. admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Marſton-Truſſel Com. Northampt. vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Willielmi Horneby Clerici Rectoris de Seaton in Com. Rutl.

Reg. Dove, Petriburg.

1662, 11. Septemb. Samuel Blackerby Clericus admiſſ. ad Rect. Eccl. de Marſton-Truſſell vac. per mort. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Walteri Horneby veri ejuſdem Patroni.

Reg. Laney, Petriburg.

1662. 23. Martii. Johannes Bodington Clericus A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel in Com. Northton. vac. per Ceſſionem Samuelis Blackerby ad preſ. Gualteri Horneby Gen.

Reg. Laney Petriburg.

1669. 27. Nov. Ricardus Pike Clericus A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel vac. per Mort. Johannis Bodington ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Gualteri Horneby de Shawell in Com. Leic. Gen. veri ut aſſeritur Patroni.

Reg. Henſhaw Petriburg.

1682. 30. Martii. Johannes Howard Clericus A. M. ad Rect. de Marſton Truſſel vac. per Ceſſ. ult. Incumb. ad preſ. Walteri Horneby de Lubenham in Com. Leic.

Reg. Lloyd Petriburg.

There is a Tradition, that when Dr. Robert Wilde the Poet was ejected from the good Living of Aynbo in Northamptonſhire 1662. he had great Favour from the Family of the Cartwrights, worthy Patrons of the Church; and that Mr. Longman who was his Succeſſor oblig'd himſelf to be his Friend.

The College of St. John's Cambr. allow'd Mr. Hodges of Souldern to name his Succeſſor.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 714.

Mr. Thomas Hodges, B. D. Rector of Souldern in Oxfordſhire, had been preſented to it by the Maſter and Society of St. John's College in Cambridge; and when the Act of Uniformity came out, he prevailed ſo much with the ſaid Society, that they nominated his Friend to be his Succeſſor, viz. one William Twyne Fellow of the ſaid College, and then Mr. Hodges leaving the Place, he retired to Okingham in Berks, and became Chaplain to the Hoſpital there, where he died and was buried about January 1688.

Mr. Hodge had a Penſion from his Succeſſor of twenty Pounds per Ann.

He died in Decemb. 1689.

Contin. p. 245.

Mr. Alexander Hodge, M. A. ejected for his Nonconformity from St. Thomas's in the City of Exeter, 1662. Mr. Gould his Patron had ſuch a Reſpect for him that he obliged his Succeſſor to pay him twenty Pounds per Ann. for ſeven Years, which he did. Soon after his Ejectment he went for Holland, —— and was Miniſter of the Engliſh Church at Amſterdam to the Day of his Death.

Mr. Oſborn much favour'd by his Patron Mr. Hendon.

Ibid. 538.

Mr. Joſeph Oſborn had been put into the Living of Benenden in Kent by the Protector's Order. And in 1660. all the Miniſters that were put in by Oliver were to be immediately turned out. But Eſquire Hendon the Patron, who came over with King Charles, finding Mr. Oſborn greatly beloved by the People, and knowing the Living to be but ſmall, would not preſent any one in his Room. And his Brother, who came in after him, became Sir John Hendon, deſired him alſo to continue there, and conform, if poſſibly he could. ——— But he could not.

Mr. Hubbard had a Preſentation in Truſt.

Account p. 763.

Mr. Francis Hubbard, M. A. ejected from Mounton and Barwick in Wiltſhire, had a Right to an Advowſon of an hundred Poonds per Ann. which was left in the Hands of a Friend in ſpecial Truſt for him, but he not conforming it was ſold. He was ſatisfy'd however, that God would provide for him and his, and he was not diſappointed in his Expectation.

Mr. Cooper gave his Living as a Fortune with his Daughter.

Contin. p. 534.

Mr. Cooper Miniſter of Elton in Huntingdonſhire continued there 'till 1662. [and was then ejected or ſilenced]. He being Patron of that conſiderable Parſonage, married his Daughter (who was his only Child) to Mr. Ball the Son of worthy Mr. Thomas Ball of Northampton, and preſented him to it: And his Son Dr. Ball is now in Poſſeſſion of it, or at leaſt was not long ſince. [Dr. Tho. Ball married a Daughter of Biſhop Cumberland, was Rector and Patron of Elton, and Prebendary of Peterborough. He died in 1726. and the Living is reſerv'd in Truſt for his eldeſt Son and Heir.]

Mr. Croſsly was ſhrouded by his Patron Eſquire Dinely.

Quidam Jo. Croſsly Coll. Eman. Cantab. Art. Mag. Ann. 1638.

Account p. 809.

Mr. Croſsly ejected from Bramhope in Yorkſhire, had Robert Dinely, Eſq; for his Patron, under whoſe Wing he was ſhrouded after Bartholomew Day. For he had Liberty by Connivance about two Years, and he died Ann. 1664. the Houſe of this Eſquire Dinely was a common Receptacle for nonconforming Miniſters.

Mr. Burgeſs was allow'd by his Patron to take five hundred Pounds for the next Preſentation.

Quidam Jo. Burgeſs Coll. Jeſu Cantab. Art. Mag. An. 1622.

Contin. p. 282.

Mr. John Burgeſs was ejected from Aſhprington Com. Devon. a Living valued at one hundred ſixty Pounds per Ann. And about the Time of his Ejectment, Edward Giles of Bowden, Eſq; the Patron, very generouſly made him a Preſent of the next Avoidance (or Preſentation) which Mr. Burgeſs afterwards diſpoſed of for five hundred Pounds.

Mr. Jacob had from his Patron an Annuity of twenty Pounds per Ann. and other Favours.

Ibid, p. 291.

Mr. Nathan Jacob had been preſented to the Vicarage of Ugborough Com. Devon. by Servington Savery, Eſq; and being ejected by the Bartholomew Act, he rented a Houſe in the Pariſh, and for ſeveral Years taught the People in private. His Patron, Mr. Savery, who knew how to value ſubſtantial Learning and Piety, was his hearty Friend in the worſt of Times, gave him twenty Pounds a Year towards the Support of his Family, and as the higheſt Teſtimony of his Regard, committed his eldeſt Son, the late Chriſtopher Savery, Eſq; to his Care and Inſpection. He alſo entruſted him with the Education of his Son the preſent Servington Savery, Eſq;

Mr. Cleland had by the Intereſt of his Patron an Indulgence from the King.

Ibid. p. 214.

Mr. Benjamin Cleland, M. A. was of an advanc'd Age when ejected from Stokenham Com. Devon. and continued a Nonconformiſt 'till King Charles II. his Progreſs into the Weſt, and coming to Dartmouth in July 1671. when by the Intereſt of his great Friend and Patron Sir John Fowell with the King, Mr. Cleland was indulg'd the Liberty again to exerciſe his Miniſtry at St. Patrick's, without being obliged to any other Terms of Conformity, than the bare reading of a few Prayers, and ſuch of them as he thought fit, —— ſo happy as to be favoured with a ſpecial Royal Indulgence.

Mr. Herring protected by his Patron in a good School.

Ibid p. 318.

Mr. John Herring, M. A. having been Chaplain to Sir Edward Wiſe of Syddenham, was by him preſented to the Benefice of Mariſtow Com. Devon. in 1632. When the Act of Uniformity took Place, his Patron preſſed him very much to conform: But not being ſatisfied in his Judgment and Conſcience with the Terms, He died in 1688. Ætat. 86.

he was ejected in 1662. after he had enjoy'd the Living thirty Years. He continued in the Pariſh ten Years after he was ejected, in an Eſtate he had there, and kept a School, being protected by the Patron Sir Edward Wiſe, &c.

Mr. Sacheverel had Liberty to recommend his own Succeſſor.

Ibid. p. 424.

Mr. Timothy Sacheverell of Trinity College Oxon. held the Parſonage of Tarrant Hinton Com. Dorſet, worth one hundred ſixty Pounds per Annum. It was in the Gift of Mr. Moor of Spargrove in Somerſetſhire, who had ſuch an extraordinary Reſpect for Mr. Sacheverell, that finding he could not himſelf conform, he freely told him, that if he thought it lawful to hold this his Parſonage and act by Proxy, in order to receive the Profits for his own proper Uſe, he ſhould readily have it, which he refuſed. However, he told him, none ſhould be preſented to the Living, but one that he recommended; and accordingly he recommended Mr. Tyndal (a worthy Man, Brother-in law to Biſhop Fowler of Glouceſter) who was preſented to the Parſonage, and enjoy'd it to his dying Day. —— Mr. Sacheverell continued at Tarrant Hinton after his Ejectment, 'till the Five Mile Act came out, preaching to a ſelect Number.

Mr. More had three Offers of the Church from the Patrons of it.

He died in Auguſt 1699.

Ibid. p. 427.

Mr. Thomas More, M. A. ejected from Hanmone Com. Dorſet. The Family of the Trenchards (in whoſe Gift Hanmone was) had ſuch a Reſpect and Value for Mr. More, that as there were three Vacancies at that Place from Bartholomew Day during his Life, they made a free Offer of the Parſonage to him every Time. But he ſtill refuſed it, &c.

[And many other Inſtances might be given, eſpecially of thoſe Patrons, who were themſelves of a diſſenting Inclination, and had encouraged their Clerks to be the more averſe to ſuch Conformity.]

Their Succeſſors kind and friendly.

5. Not only the Patrons, but ſome of the conforming Succeſſors in thoſe vacated Livings were very kind and friendly to their ejected Predeceſſors.

Mr. Brokeſby to Mr. Warren.

Jo. Warren Coll. Trin. Art. Mag. 1647. Reg. Acad. Cantabr.

Which may be the Reaſon why Mr. Wood takes no Notice of him in Oxford.

Dr. Calamy's Account p. 299.

See Wood's Athen.Oxon. Vol. II. c. 406.

Mr. John Warren, M. A. Miniſter of Hatfield Broadoak in Eſſex. After his Ejection, Mr. Brookſby was put in his Place, by Trinity College in Cambridge, which had the Right of Preſentation. He was a moderate Man, and Mr. Warren's good Friend. He went to Church to hear him, and afterwards inſtructed ſome few that repaired to him, in his own Houſe. And there was a good Correſpondence between them.

Mr. White to Mr. Wells.

Ibid. p. 541.

Mr. Samuel Wells, M. A. was Miniſter of Banbury 'till Auguſt 1662. The Five Mile Act removed him to Deddington. But when the Times would permit, he retir'd to Banbury again, and purchas'd a pleaſant Dwelling, and continued in it 'till his Death. Mr. White (who was afterwards Dr. White, and removed to Kidderminſter) who was the Pariſh Miniſter, and he had a very fair and friendly Correſpondence. He often heard Mr. White, and Mr. White (though ſecretly) would ſometimes hear him in private; and he often uſed to ſay to him, I pray God bleſs your Labours in private, and mine in publick.

Dr. Cudworth's Curate to Mr. Crow.

Joh. Crow Aul. Cath. Cant. Art. Mag. Anno 1639. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Ibid. p. 366.

Mr. John Crow who ſucceeded his half Brother Mr. Herbert Palmer at Aſhwell Com. Hertf. after his being ſilenced in 62. continued with his Family ſeveral Years at Aſhwell, living in great Amity firſt with Mr. Milbourn, and after with Mr. Bland, who were Men of great Moderation and Temper, Curates to Dr. Cudworth, who was Mr. Crow's immediate Succeſſor: And he contentedly join'd with them in the ſeveral Parts of publick Worſhip, and aſſiſted them all he could in Subſerviency to their publick Miniſtry.

Mr. Tillotſon to Mr. Fairclough.

Sam. Fairclough Coll. Regin. Cantab. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. Ann. 1615. Reg. Acad. Cant.

He died Dec. 14, 1677. Ætat. 84.

Ibid. p. 638.

Mr. Samuel Fairclough, ſen. left the Living of Ketton in Suffolk of two hundred Pounds per Ann. a pleaſant Parſonage-Houſe, a fine Glebe, a great Auditory, a loving People, and kind Neighbourhood. Dr. Tillotſon, who was afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury, was by the Patron (Sir Sam. Barnardiſton) preſented to the Living upon his Ejection. And it was no ſmall Eaſe to Mr. Fairclough that a Man of that Worth did ſucceed him.

Mr. Granger to Mr. Lydſton.

He died Sept. 3, 1671.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 225.

Mr. John Lydſton Miniſter of St. Melion in Cornwall, when the Act of Uniformity paſſed, ſome thought he might have conform'd, he being a Man of great Moderation, and having never taken the Covenant: But he could not come up to the Terms requir'd, and ſo quitted his Living to preſerve the Peace of his Conſcience. His Succeſſor, Mr. Granger, ſet the Glebe to him for ſome Years, permitted him to live in the Vicarage Houſe, and boarded with him.

The Incumbent of Pitney to Mr. Willis.

Contin. p. 766.

Mr. Thomas Willis after his Ejectment from Hethfield Com. Som. remov'd with his Family to Stoke, and afterward to Pitney in that County; and in 1682. was interr'd in Pitney Chapel, the Incumbent there having a great Reſpect for him.

Dr. Banks to Mr. Wilſon.

Contin. p. 827.

Mr. William Wilſon, M. A. ejected in 62. from Billinghurſt in Suſſex, —— had afterwards ſeveral Warrants iſſued out againſt him. —— When he could not be ſafe at home, his uſual Refuge was the Houſe of Dr. Banks, a neighbouring conforming Miniſter, where he lay unſuſpected; no one imagining he was gone thither for Shelter.

Dr. Spencer to Mr. Hill.

Contin. p. 857.

See the Friendſhip and Generoſity of Dr. Spencer, Maſter of Bennet in Cambridge, to Mr. Thomas Hill a Nonconformiſt, ejected from Shuttingdon Com. Warwic.

Mr. Monckton to Mr. Thorpe.

Edm. Thorpe Coll. Chriſti Cant. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1639. Art. Mag. 1645. Reg. Acad.

Account p. 679.

Mr. Edmund Thorpe, M. A. ejected from Selſcomb in Suſſex, —— when he removed to Brenchly in the Weald of Kent, he had an agreeable Neighbourhood, and friendly Correſpondence with Monckton the Miniſter of the Pariſh, on whoſe Miniſtry he attended both Parts of the Lord's Day, preaching himſelf between the Sermons.

Mr. Jeffery to Mr. Green. — Contin. p. 625.

Mr. John Green ejected from Tunſted in Norfolk, contracted an affectionate Intimacy with the very worthy Mr. Jeffery, Miniſter of North Walſham. His Acquaintance with him was ſo dear and pleaſing to him while he liv'd, that he deſir'd to be buried in his Church, and as near as conveniently could be, to the Place where he deſign'd to be laid himſelf, which was comply'd with.

Mr. Preſs to Mr. Jolliffe. — Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 326.

Mr. Francis Preſs ſequeſtred in the late Times from the Rectories of Moulſoe and of Caſtle Aſhby, the firſt in Berks, the latter in Northamptonſhire; lived to re-poſſeſs them both at the Reſtauration. His firſt Succeſſor at Moulſoe was Mr. Capon; and after him came one Mr. Jolliffe, whom Mr. Preſs found in Poſſeſſion of it in 1660. and afterward kept as his Curate on that Living.

Mr. Godſon to Mr. Brickley. — Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 406

Mr. Richard Brickley came to the Living of Denberry Com. Devon. in 1646. and loſt it again for Nonconformity in 1662. I have been informed, that he received twenty Pounds per Ann. during Life of Mr. Godſon his Succeſſor in the ſaid Living of Denberry, and that he died a Nonconformiſt at Totneſs ſeveral Years ago.

Dr. Meggs to Mr. Chandler. — Ibid. p. 488.

Mr. Fran. Chandler did officiate at Theydon Mount and Garnon in Eſſex, preaching at the one in the Morning, and at the other in the Afternoon. They were ſequeſtred, and in the Year 1660. he was forced to reſign them both to Mr. (afterwards Doctor) Meggs, who the next Day after his Induction, deſir'd him to be his Aſſiſtant, and allow'd him twenty Shillings a Week for it. Dr. Meggs much preſſed him to conform, and though he could not be ſatisfied with the Terms that were fixed, he continued very kind to him, &c.

Dr. Gery to Mr. Watts. — Ibid. p. 589.

Mr. Henry Watts, M. A. was ejected from Swepſton Com. Leic. in 1662. He was ſucceeded by Dr. John Gery, and maintained a very friendly Correſpondence with him to the Day of his Death; and the Doctor alſo us'd upon all Occaſions to expreſs a great Eſteem and Value for him. —— Removing to Weddington a ſmall Village in Warwickſhire, he lived there above twenty Years, having very friendly and neighbourly Converſation with Mr. Armſtead the publick Miniſter.

The Succeſſor of Mr. Edw. Paſton. — Ibid. p. 724.

Mr. Edward Paſton ejected from Hales Owen Com. Salop. having had Epiſcopal Ordination, he did not keep up any ſtated Meeting in Hales Owen, where he liv'd in great Friendſhip with his moderate Succeſſor, without being forc'd away with any Severity. He preach'd ſometimes for his Brother that conform'd in King's Swinford Church, and ſeveral other Churches and Chapels where he could be conniv'd at.

Mr. Taylor to Mr. Hinks. — Ibid. p. 768.

Mr. Richard Hinks was ejected from Tipton Com. Staff. much in Debt, and utterly inſolvent. He had a Wife and many Children, but God provided for him. His Succeſſor Mr. John Taylor ſuffer'd him to dwell in the Parſonage Houſe upon eaſy Terms, though he preach'd there in the Time of publick Service. He was afterwards impriſon'd for his Preaching. And tho' before the Change of the Times he was warm and hot, yet he then became very cool and moderate; and after Mr. Taylor's Death, leaving Tipton, he liv'd in and near Old Swinford or Stourbridge, and died in great Amity with Chriſtians of various Denominations.

Mr. Pridham to Mr. Snow. — Ibid. p. 772.

Mr. Robert Snow, M. A. after he was ejected from Morchard Biſhop in Devonſhire, Mr. Pridham who ſucceeded him, ſhew'd him great Reſpect, and boarded with him for ſome Time.

Dr. Egerton to Mr. Cope. — Account p. 128.

Mr. Joſeph Cope after his Ejectment was fix'd in the publick Chapel at Haſlington in Cheſhire by the Conſent of the Gentlemen to whom it belong'd, to his Death in Auguſt 1674. The firſt Lord's Day after his Death the Miniſter of Bartomley (in which Pariſh Haſlington is) Dr. Egerton, who had kindly conniv'd at Mr. Cope's having the Chapel while he liv'd, took Poſſeſſion of it himſelf; but was ſo obliging as to permit Mr. Mat. Henry to preach his Funeral Sermon there the Week after, the old Gentleman having deſir'd it.

Mr. Goldſmith to Mr. Tuchin. — Contin. p. 508.

Mr. Robert Tuchin was ejected from the Living of Newport in the Iſle of Wight. His Succeſſor Mr. Goldſmith preached his Funeral Sermon, and would not ſuffer him to be interr'd in the common Burying-place as was intended, but generouſly order'd a Grave for him in the Church.

The Miniſter of Broxley to Mr. Crump. — Ibid. p. 535.

Mr. John Crump Miniſter at Maidſtone in Kent, was of ſo moderate a Spirit, that after his Ejectment the Miniſter of Boxley, two Miles diſtant from Maidſtone, admitted him into his Pulpit, and he preach'd often for him for the Space of two Years. He died and was buried at Maidſtone.

Dr. Gunning to Dr. Tuckney. *Ant. Tuckney Coll. Eman. admiſſus in Mat. Acad. Cant. Jul.*8. 1613. Art Bac. 1616. Art. Mag. 1620. S. T. P. 1649. electus in Profeſſorem Regium per Reſign. Doctoris Arrowſmith Febr. 1, 1655. Reg. Acad. Cant. — Account p. 8.

Dr. Anthony Tuckney had ſufficient Aſſurance in Law given to him, for the yearly Payment of one hundred Pounds out of the Profits of the Rectory of Somerſham Com. Hunt. And the Annuity ſo promis'd was punctually paid to him for ſeveral Years by Dr. Gunning, who ſucceeded him in that Benefice as annexed to the Profeſſorſhip of Divinity in Cambridge.

And among other good Offices and Acts of great Civility which the ejected Miniſters receiv'd from their Succeſſors, their Graves were given, and their Funeral Sermons preached by many of them.

Chaplains in good Families.

6. Many others of the Clergy diſabled by not complying with the Act of Uniformity were taken as Chaplains into good Families, and lived there in Peace and Comfort.

Mr. Tutty Chaplain to Colonel Markham. — Ibid. p. 369.

Mr. William Tutty, M. A. after his Ejectment from the Curacy of Totteridge in Hertfordſhire, went firſt into a Farm, but ſoon became Chaplain to Colonel

Markham, and ſome Time after preach'd in Newgate-ſtreet in the Pariſh of Hatfield [to which Church Totteridge is a Chapel of Eaſe].

Mr. Bryan to the Earl of Donegal.
Noah Bryan Coll. Pet. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. ad Bapt. Ann. 1653. Art. Mag. 1657. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Noah Bryan Preacher in the Town of Stafford left that Place for Nonconformity, and became Chaplain to the Earl of Donegal, and went with him into Ireland, where he died about 1667. Ibid. p. 629.

Mr. Stretton to the Lord Fairfax.
See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 800.

Mr. Richard Stretton quitted the Cure of Petworth in Suſſex 1662. and coming to London, providentially met Mr. James Nalton the very next Day, who carry'd him to the Lord Fairfax, who was in great want of a Chaplain. My Lord took him down with him to his Seat in Yorkſhire, and treated him with great Kindneſs and Reſpect. Upon his Marriage my Lord generouſly ſettled an handſome Annuity upon him for his and his Wife's Life, which was a great Support to him all his Days. Ibid. p. 677.

Mr. Moſton to the Lord Say and Sele.

Mr. Ambroſe Moſton was the ſtated Preacher at Wrexham in North Wales 'till the King's Return, when he gave Way to the ſequeſter'd Miniſter, who was yet living. Having no Children, he was entertain'd by the Lord Say and Seal as his domeſtick Chaplain at his Seat in Oxfordſhire, and his Wife was admitted into the Family with him, and he had much Reſpect. Ibid. p. 714.

Mr. Pickering to Eſquire Dinely.
Gul. Pilkering & Henr. Pickering Coll. Trin. Cant. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. Ann. 1657. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Pickering when ejected from Barley Chapel near Selby in Yorkſhire, was ſome Time Chaplain to Eſquire Dinely at Brambup, whence he remov'd to Morley, and died there in 1680. Ibid. p. 811.

Mr. Whiteway to Sir John Maynard.

Mr. Richard Whiteway, M. A. Fellow of Exeter College in Oxford, when the Bartholomew Act had ejected him, he retir'd into Devon, his native Countrey, and was taken in by Sir John Maynard, for his domeſtick Chaplain, and died in his Family of the Small-Pox ſome few Weeks after. Ibid. p. 75.

Mr. Swinnock to Eſquire Hampden.
See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 382.

Mr. George Swinnock, M. A. ejected from Great Kymbels in Bucks, became Chaplain to Richard Hampden of Great Hampden, Eſq; but upon the coming forth of the Indulgence in 71. he remov'd to his native Town of Maidſtone, where he became Paſtor to a conſiderable Congregation, and died Nov. 10, 1673. Ibid. p. 104.

Mr. Wilſon to Sir Thomas Lee, &c.
Quidam Joh. Wilſon Coll. Regin. Cantab. S. T. B. An. 1657. Reg. Acad.

Mr. John Wilſon, after he was turn'd out from Hucket in Bucks, was Chaplain to Sir Thomas Lee, and Sir Richard Ingoldſby, and then he betook himſelf to the Practice of Phyſick. Ibid. p. 109.

Mr. Sayer to Sir William Waller.

Mr. Sayer, M. A. of Corpus Chriſti College, Oxon. ejected, was ſubject to Melancholy, he was afterwards Chaplain to Sir William Waller. Ibid. p. 75.

Mr. Cowbridge to Mr. Boſcawen.
And ſo Mr. Halſey.

Mr. John Cowbridge, ejected or ſilenc'd at St. Anthony in Cornwall, was Chaplain ſome Years to Mr. Boſcawen. —— Mr. Joſeph Halſey, M. A. had been brought into Cornwall by Hugh Boſcawen, Eſq; and liv'd as Chaplain in his Family. When ejected in 62. Mr. Boſcawen and his Lady after the Five Mile Act invited him to Merther, the next Pariſh to theirs, where he continued preaching on Lord's Days in his own Houſe, and on Saturday Evenings, and Lord's Day Mornings in Mr. Boſcawen's Houſe as long as he liv'd. Ibid. p. 148,

He died Oct. 1711. ætat. 85.

Mr. Morrice to the Lord Holles, &c.
See Rog. Morrice's Epitaph in Stowe's Survey, by Mr. Strype, Vol. II. lib 4. p. 57.

Mr. Roger Morrice, M. A. ejected or ſilenc'd at Duffield Com. Derby, was ſome Time Chaplain to my Lord Hollis, and afterwards to Sir John Maynard. He died Jan. 17, 1701. ætat. 73. and being interr'd in the Burial place near Bunhill Fields, part of the Inſcription over his Grave, was Chaplain to the Honourable Denzil Lord Hollis. Ibid. p. 166. Contin. p. 231.

Mr. Cawton to Sir Anthony Irby; and to Lady Armin.

Mr. Thomas Cawton ordain'd by the Biſhop of Oxford in 1660. 1661. and obliged to leave the Univerſity of Oxford in 1662. became Chaplain to Sir Anthony Irby's Family at Weſtminſter, where he continued 'till 1665. when the Peſtilence obliging Sir Anthony to remove his Family to Boſton in Lincolnſhire (the Air of which Place had been very diſagreeable to Mr. Cawton, when he had been there with the Family two Years before) he was neceſſitated to leave them, and immediately was taken by my Lady Armin to be her Chaplain. Account p. 73

See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 432.
He died April 10, 1677.

Mr. Wheat to Sir John Bright.

Mr. Jeremiah Wheat was a Preacher as a Candidate in the County of Derby, when the Uniformity Act ſilenc'd, though it did not eject him. He was afterwards Chaplain to Sir John Bright, Baronet, of Badſworth in Yorkſhire; and died about the Year 1667. Ibid. p. 205.

Mr. Moxon to Mr. Sheriff Shute.
Quidam Geo. Moxon Coll. Sid. Cant. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1623. Reg. Acad.

Mr. George Moxon ejected or ſilenc'd at Redwinter in Eſſex, was Brother-in-law to Sheriff Shute, and his Chaplain when Sheriff of London; and lived and died in his Brother-in-law's Houſe in Eaton Conſtantine, which was the Place of Mr. Baxter's Birth. Ibid. p. 313.

Mr. Clark to Sir Anthony Irby and Sir Philip Harcourt.

Mr. Thomas Clarke ejected from Godſhill in the Iſle of Wight, became Chaplain to Sir Anthony Irby in 1665. in whoſe Family he continued ten Years. Soon after he was ejected his Wife died, and left him only one Daughter, who was entertained in the Families where he was Chaplain. For as ſhe liv'd with him in Sir Anthony Irby's, ſo upon his there becoming acquainted with Sir Philip Harcourt (who was the Lady Irby's Nephew, and came often to viſit her, and was ſo extremely pleas'd with Mr. Clark's Converſation, that with great Importunity he prevail'd with him to leave Sir Anthony and live with him) he in 1675. carried her down with him to Stanton Harcourt in Oxfordſhire. Some little Time after he came thither Sir Philip's only Son Simon Harcourt, Eſq; (afterwards Lord Harcourt) married her clandeſtinely. After which Mr. Clark removed out of the Family, and went to Portſmouth, where he ſpent the remainder of his Days. Ibid. p. 346. Contin. p. 515.

Mr. Sylveſter to Sir John Bright, &c.
Matt. Sylveſter Notingham Filius Rob. Sylveſter Mercer, natus in Southwell, admiſſus eſt Penſionarius Coll. Joh. Cant. Maii 4. 1654. Art. Bac. ad Bapt. 1656.
He expir'd Jan. 25. 1707-8.

Mr. Matthew Sylveſter of St. John's College in Cambridge, was fixed in the Living of Gunnerby Com. Linc. where the Act of Uniformity found and ejected him. He lived ſome Time with Sir John Bright, as his domeſtick Chaplain, and afterwards with John White, Eſq; of Nottinghamſhire, in both which Families Account p. 449.

lies he was an Ornament to his Function, and met with abundant Civilities and Reſpects.

Mr. Ward to Sir John Hewley.
*Rad. Ward Coll. Sid. Art. Bac. ad Bapt. An.*1650. Art. Mag. An. 1654. Reg. Acad.
He died March 31, 1691. ætat. 62.

Account, p. 507.
Contin. p. 659.

Mr. Ralph Ward, A. M. being diſpoſſeſſed of the Living of Harthorn in the County of Northumberland by the Return of the former Incumbent, retir'd and liv'd privately, but in ſome Time became domeſtick Chaplain to the late worthy and learned Gentleman Sir John Hewley of York, in whoſe Family he was exceedingly reſpected, and ſingularly uſeful.

Mr. Paſton Chaplain or Steward to Phil. Foley, Eſq;

Account, p. 565.
Contin. p. 724.

Mr. Edward Paſton ejected or ſilenc'd in 1662. from Hales-Owen Com. Salop, was afterwards Chaplain to Phil. Foley, Eſq; ——, And Mr. Timothy Thomas remov'd from Morton Chapel in the ſame County, was Chaplain to Mrs. Baker of Guiney near Oſweſtry, and died in that Neighbourhood An. 1676. Mr. Edward Paſton was for ſome time Steward, not Chaplain to Philip Foley, Eſq;

Mr. Nott Chaplain to Mr. Hampden.
Jo. Nott Coll. Eman. Cant. Art. Mag. 1650.
He died Decemb. 28, 1702. ætat. 77.

Account, p. 628.

Mr. John Nott, M. A. after his Ejectment from Sheriff-Hales in Staffordſhire, preached publickly in a Chapel near Hadly for three or four Years while he was ſuffered: Then he removed into the Family of Richard Hampden, Eſq; where he continu'd Domeſtick Chaplain till the Act of Toleration.

Mr. Hilton to Phil. Foley, Eſq;
He died about 1706. ætat. 82.

Ibid. p. 628.

Mr. Richard Hilton ſilenc'd or depriv'd at Weſt-Bromwich Com. Staff. mov'd from one Place to another. He ſpent ſome time at Philip Foley's, Eſq; where he officiated as Chaplain.

Mr. Langſton to Captain Blackwell.
He died Jan. 12, 1703 4. ætat. 64.

Ibid. p. 661.

Mr. John Langſton, Miniſter of Aſh-Church near Tewkſbury in Glouceſterſhire, giving way to the old Incumbent at the King's Return, retir'd to London, and taught a private Grammar-School near Spittle-fields, but meeting with Oppoſition there, he went in 1662. with Captain Blackwell into Ireland, partly as his Chaplain, and partly as Tutor to his eldeſt Son, and return'd to London in 1663. and kept School again.

Mr. Smith Chaplain to William Morley, Eſq;

Ibid. p. 690.

Mr. Zachary Smith ejected from Gline Com. Suſſex, about four Months after Bartholomew taking the Advantage of a Clauſe in the Act of Parliament, preach'd again publickly in Gline Church, but was ſoon ſtruck dumb again. However being epiſcopally ordain'd, he ſerv'd ſome Time as Curate at Lingfield in Surrey within the Dioceſe of Biſhop Morley, but was ſoon outed from thence for not wearing the Surplice. Returning to Gline he was Chaplain in the Family of that worthy Gentleman William Morley, Eſq; and died in a good old Age, and was interr'd in Gline Church on Octob. 2, 1678.

Mr. Wowen and Mr. Cook to Lord Ward and Mr. Foley.

Ibid. p. 777.

Mr. John Wowen and Mr. Richard Cook, both of Trinity College, Cambridge, and both Nonconformiſts. The former was Chaplain to the Lord Ward; and the latter was ſome Time Chaplain to Mr. Philip Foley, and preach'd occaſionally, but had no Living.

Mr. Taylor to Sir Edward Rhodes.

Ibid p. 793.
Contin. p. 941.

Mr. Richard Taylor, after his being ſilenc'd at Long-Haughton in Yorkſhire, became Chaplain to Sir Edward Rhodes, and afterwards liv'd at Mr. Wadſworth's at Swath-Hall near Barnſly; and removing to Sheffield dy'd in Morch 1681.

Mr. Calvert to Sir William Strickland, and Sir William Middleton.
Jacobus Calvert Aul. Clar. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Dec. 17, 1646.
Jac. Calvert Aul. Clar. Art. Bac. An. 1645. Art. Mag. Aul. Clar. An. 1653. Reg. Acad.

Account, p. 831.

Mr. James Calvert had been ſeveral Years at Toppcliff in Yorkſhire, when he was ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity. About 1675. he became Chaplain to Sir William Strickland of Boynton, where he continued ſeveral Years preaching and educating his Son, till both he and his Lady died. Then he remov'd to Hull, and thence to Northumberland to Sir William Middleton's, where he preach'd conſtantly in the Chapel as Chaplain, educated his only Son, was left Tutor to him when his Father died, and was very careful in his Education both at home and abroad.

Mr. Illingworth to Mr. Foley and to Lady Wilbraham.
James Illingworth born at Mancheſter, elected Fellow of Eman. Coll. about the Year 1650. unus e Prædicatoribus ab Academia emittendis An. 1656. Reg. Acad.

Contin. p. 56.

Mr. James Illingworth, B. D. after his Ejectment from a Fellowſhip in Emanuel College Cambridge, was Chaplain to Philip Foley, Eſq; at Preſtwood-Hall in Staffordſhire, where he continued ſeveral Years.—— He died domeſtick Chaplain to Dame Elizabeth Wilbraham, and was buried at Weſton under Lyziard in Staffordſhire, Aug. 30, 1693.

Mr. Evans to Mr. Chancellor Smith, and to Mr. Honeywood.

Ibid. p. 129.

Mr. Daniel Evans leaving Jeſus College, Cambridge, where he could not remain without conforming, was recommended as Chaplain to Chancellor Smith at Norwich, where he continued about three Years: Then coming for London, he was kindly entertain'd in the ſame Capacity by Mr. Honeywood of Hampſtead.

Mr. King to the Earl of Queenſbury.
He died at Sterling not long before the Revolution in 1688. aged about 60.

Ibid. p. 229.

Mr. Daniel King born in North-Britain, by the Intereſt of the Earl of Queenſbury obtain'd a Living in Cumberland, from which he was ejected in 1662. for his Nonconformity. He afterwards return'd to Scotland, and was the Earl of Queenſbury's Chaplain for fifteen Years and more, till the ſaid Earl's Death.

Mr. Hardy to Trenchard and Heal, Eſquires.

Ibid. p. 437.

Mr. Samuel Hardy, M. A. a Nonconformiſt at Badſly Com. Dorſet. after having been Chaplain in Eſquire Trenchard's Houſe at Woolton, was afterward Chaplain in the Houſe of Eſquire Heal at Avery-Hatch in Eſſex for two Years, and then went to Newbury where he died March 6, 1690-91.

Mr. Small to Mr. Davis, Lord Maſſareen and Sir John Barrington.
He died about 1704.

Ibid. p. 474.

Mr. James Small after he was ſilenc'd, lived as a Chaplain in the Houſe of a Gentleman of a good Eſtate nam'd Davis in the Weſt of England. He afterwards liv'd in the ſame Capacity in the Houſe of the Lord Maſſareen in the North of Ireland: And at laſt he liv'd in the ſame Capacity in the Houſe of Sir John Barrington at Hatfield-Broadoak in Eſſex, and continued with him as long as he liv'd, and with his Lady, while the Family ſtay'd there, which was till 1690.

Mr. Farrow to Lady Huſſey, to the Earl of Straggletho rp, and to Sir William Ellis.
He died July 22, 1692.

Ibid. p. 607.

Mr. Joſeph Farrow upon the Terms of Conformity being diſagreeable to him, tho' epiſcopally ordained, after he had been Chaplain to the Lady Huſſey of Cathorp, and Richard Earl of Straggletborp ſucceſſively, was Curate at Boſton to Dr. Obadiah Howe till his Death Feb. 27, 1682-3. and remov'd from thence into the Family of Sir William Ellys of Nocton, where he continu'd Chaplain for nine Years, with great Satisfaction to himſelf and the whole Family.

Mr. Baccaller to Mr. Prideaux.
He died in 1713. wanting little of 99 Years.

Mr. Henry Baccaller ejected or ſilenc'd at Combe St. Nicholas Com. Som. was ſome Time Chaplain to Mr. Prideaux, Father in Law to Mr. Francis Gwin of Ford-Abbey. He had no Eſtate to ſupport him after he was ejected, tho' he had a numerous Family, having ſixteen Children living at once.

Contin. p. 752.

Mr. Taylor to Lord Wharton.

Mr. William Taylor ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity, was for many Years domeſtick Chaplain to Philip Lord Wharton, and died at Newbury in Berks.

Account, p. 39. Contin p. 364.

Mr. Ward to Sir Joh. Wentworth.

Mr. Noah Ward, who left Cambridge upon the Act of Uniformity, and was afterward ordain'd by ſome Miniſters at Sheffield; was ſome Time Chaplain to Sir John Wentworth, in whoſe Family he married. He continu'd till Sir John died, and till his Lady married the Lord Winchelſea, who diſmiſs'd Mr. Ward.

Account, p. 836.

Mr. Fido.
He died January 17, 1714. aged 75.

Mr. Anthony Fido had the Living of Hemminburgh in Yorkſhire, and was ejected there in 1662. He then became Chaplain and Steward in a Gentleman's Family, and afterwards came to London, &c.

Contin. p. 956.

Chaplains in Engliſh Factories.

7. Several others of the deprived or ſilenc'd Miniſters were well provided for as Chaplains in our Engliſh Factories abroad.

Mr. Torey at Middleburgh.

Mr. Robert Torey after his being ſilenc'd at St. Mary Magdalen Bermondſey croſs'd the Seas, and was admitted Paſtor to the Engliſh Church at Middleburgh in Zealand, Nov. 21, 1683. and died in that Station at the End of the Year 1691.

Account, p. 26. Contin. p. 22.

Mr. Hickman at Utrecht.
Henr. Hickman Aul. Cath Cantab. Conviv. 2. admiſſ. in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Apr. 10, 1647.
Henr. Hickman, Oxon. admiſſ. ad eundem gradum quo fuit apud Oxon. An. 1651. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Henry Hickman, B. D. Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxon. after he was ejected, liv'd for ſome Time privately in Worceſterſhire, and was afterwards Miniſter of the Engliſh Congregation at Leyden in Holland, where he was generally much eſteemed and reſpected. He died in a good old Age at Utrecht in the Year 1691. or 1692.

Account, p 69. and Contin. p. 101.

Mr. Hill at Leyden, at Middleburgh, and at Rotterdam.
Joſ. Hill Eboracen. de Bromley in Parochia vocat. Leeds, annos natus viginti admiſſus Penſionar. in Coll. Joh. Cant. Aug. 20, 1646.
Joſeph. Hill, Coll. Magd. Cant. admiſſ. Magiſter Artium An. 1651. Bac. S. Th. 1660. Reg. Acad. Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Joſeph Hill, B. D. having declar'd his Judgment againſt Conformity in St. John's College, Cambridge, upon which his Name was cut out of the College Book, croſſed the Seas in 1663. and having ſeen ſeveral Countries, and reſting himſelf at Leyden for two or three Years: In 1667. he was call'd to be Paſtor of the Engliſh Church at Middleburgh in Zealand, where he continu'd till 1673. when his too late publiſhing his Defence of the Zealander's Choice, occaſion'd the Governours of that Province to oblige him to leave that Place. Whereupon he came to England, and waiting on King Charles II. he, as a Reward for writing that Book, not only gave him a Sinecure worth above 80*l. per Ann.* but alſo offer'd him a Biſhoprick, if he would conform. But being altogether diſſatisfied with the Terms of Conformity, he readily accepted of a Call to the Engliſh Church in Rotterdam, An. 1678. in which Poſt he continued to the Day of his Death, which was Nov. 5, 1707. ætat. 83.

Account, p. 81.

Mr. Hodge at Delf and at Rotterdam.

Mr. Alexander Hodge, M. A. ſometime Fellow of Wadham College in Oxon. ejected for his Nonconformity from St. Thomas's, ſoon after went for Holland, was invited to Delf, where he preach'd a while, and from thence he removed to Amſterdam, where he continu'd Miniſter of the Engliſh Church to the Day of his Death which happen'd in December 1689.

Account, p. 220. and Contin. p. 243.

Mr. Newcomen at Leyden.
Matt. Newcomen Eſſexianus admiſſus in Matric. Acad. Cant. Jul. 6, 1626. admiſſ. Diſcipulus Coll. Joh. Cant. Nov. 8, 1626. Art. Bac. 1629. Idem Coll. Jo. Art. Mag. An. 1633. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Matthew Newcomen, M. A. was ejected from Dedham Com. Eſſex. in 1662. He was ſoon after invited to the Paſtoral Charge of the Church at Leyden in Holland, which he rather accepted, becauſe he knew he ſhould there have the publick Liberty of his Miniſtry. —— He there died of a Fever, which prevail'd much in that City in the Year 1668. or 1669.

Account, p. 204. and Contin. p. 457.

Dr. Richardſon at Leyden.
Quidam Edw. Richardſon Coll. C. C. Cantabr. Art. Mag. An. 1630.
Alter Edv. Richardſon Coll. Eman. Art. Bac. 1639. Reg. Acad.

Dr. Edward Richardſon, was turn'd out of Rippon upon the King's coming in, and continu'd a Nonconformiſt: He travell'd beyond the Seas, and ſucceeded Mr. Newcomen in the Engliſh Church at Leyden, —— where he became ſo expert in the Language of the Countrey, that he printed a Book that is very uſeful for the Learners of Engliſh and Dutch which is called Anglo-Belgica; or the Engliſh and Dutch Academy. Printed at Amſterdam in 8^vo^. 1677. and there he died not long after.

Account, p. 817. and Contin. p. 348.

Mr. Anderſon at Middleburgh.

Mr. David Anderſon ſoon after his Ejectment from Walton upon Thames, croſs'd the Seas and went into Zealand, and ſettled at Middleburgh with five ſmall Children. —— There upon the Deceaſe of Mr. Spang Miniſter of the Engliſh Church, Mr. Anderſon was unexpectedly choſen in his Stead. ——— He grew ſickly and died in March 1677. the Lords of the City became Guardians to the five Orphans which he left behind him.

Account, p. 672.

Mr. Tutchin at Fort St. George.

Mr. Samuel Tutchin, after his Ejectment from Odiham in Hampſhire, went to the Eaſt-Indies, and was Chaplain to the Factory at Fort St. George. He died there, and was bury'd by the Factory, and his Grave was adorn'd with a Monument. The Company alſo ſettled an annual Penſion upon his Widow after his Death.

Ibid. p. 345.

Mr. Quicke at Middleburgh.
See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 792.

Mr. John Quicke, M. A. preaching at Brixton in Devonſhire without Epiſcopal Orders, and finding many Difficulties obſtructing his being farther ſerviceable in the Weſt of England, he came to London and in 1689. was unanimouſly choſen Paſtor of the Engliſh Church at Middleburgh in Zealand, which he accepted upon Condition, that he might be at Liberty to return if he was call'd into his own Countrey. Meeting there with ſome angry Conteſts that he did not expect, he return'd to London July 22, 1681. —— and died in the ſeventieth Year of his Age, Apr. 29, 1706.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 333.

Mr. Malbon at Amſterdam.

Mr. Samuel Malbon, ſome Time after he was ſilenc'd at Bungay in Suffolk in 1662. became Paſtor to a Church in Amſterdam.

Account, p. 659.

8. Many

Chaplains to Hoſpitals, Priſons, &c.

8. Many others of the ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters were allow'd to officiate as Chaplains in Hoſpitals and Priſons and Chapels of Eaſe, and other Places exempt from ordinary Juriſdiction.

Mr. After Chapl. to Woodſtreet Compter.

Mr. John After ejected from Allhallows Honey-lane, London, by the ſpecial Favour of the Court of Aldermen, lived and died Ordinary of Woodſtreet Compter.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 38, 600.

Mr. Fellow Tutor in Chriſt Church, London.

Mr. Robert Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxon. and thence ejected, was afterwards Teacher of the Children in the Blue-Coat Hoſpital of Chriſt-Church, London, in the Art of Mathematicks and Navigation.

Ibid. p. 66.

Mr. Mather Chaplain in Guernſey.
See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 306.

Mr. Increaſe Mather, M. A. Preacher in Glouceſter, tho' he was not properly ejected by the Bartholomew Act, yet the Rigours of thoſe Times drove him from theſe Parts to the Iſle of Guernſey, where he was Chaplain to a Regiment, and from thence he went to New-England, and was Preſident of Haward College in Cambridge.

Ibid. p. 317. and Contin. p. 494.

Mr. Calendrine at Mile-End.
Magiſter Calendrinus Glaſcuenſis incorporatus Cantabrigia anno 1641. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Lewis Calendrine ejected from Stapleford-Abbots in Eſſex, lived in his old Age in an Alms-Houſe at Mile-End, where he officiated as Chaplain.

Account, p. 313. and Contin. p. 485.

Mr. Hardy in two ſeveral Peculiars.
See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 802.

Mr. Samuel Hardy of Charmiſter within a Mile of Dorcheſter, and out of any Epiſcopal Inſpection or Juriſdiction, continu'd in this Place after the Bartholomew Act, being protected from the Biſhop's Courts by his being in a Peculiar, and from the Juſtices by the Favour of the Trenchards, and a little Conformity which he uſed, reading the Scripture Sentences, the Creed, Commandments, Leſſons, Prayer for the King, and ſome few other Things. When Mr. Hardy had liv'd at Charmiſter a conſiderable Time, the Inhabitants of Pool came to him, and gave him an Invitation to their Town, which was likewiſe a Peculiar, and exempted from Epiſcopal Juriſdiction: He accepted of it, and preach'd and pray'd, and convers'd in the ſame manner as he did before.

Account, p. 282.

Mr. Bigley in a Donative.

Mr. John Bigley was Miniſter of White-Colne in Eſſex. This was a Donative that could not be taken away, and ſo he continu'd in it. But he was (as I am inform'd) as truly a Nonconformiſt as any that left their Livings.

Ibid. p. 309.

Mr. Billingſley in a Priviledg'd Place.

Mr. Nicholas Billingſley ejected from Webley in Herefordſhire, by the good Offices of Sir Edward Harley was ſettled at Blakeney in the Pariſh of Awre in Glouceſterſhire, a Priviledg'd Place, the Maintenance (which was at leaſt 50*l. per Annum)* depending upon an Impropriation, which by the Generoſity of a Gentleman had been annex'd to a Chapel of Eaſe in the Village mention'd, &c.

Ibid. p. 358.

Mr. Atkinſon in his Chapel.

Mr. Peter Atkinſon ſen. was Preacher at Ellet Chapel in Lancaſhire. And tho' a Nonconformiſt, he had ſo much Favour with the Gentry that he preach'd quietly at his Chapel for a conſiderable Time after the Act of Uniformity took Place. He died July 17, 1677. ætat. 75.

Ibid. p. 411.

Mr. Smith in a like Chapel.

Mr. Timothy Smith was Preacher at Long-Ridge Chapel in Lancaſhire at the Time of the Uniformity Act in 1662. He did not conform, and yet preach'd frequently in the Chapel afterwards. For it being an obſcure Place, with a ſmall Salary, there was no great ſtriving for it. He died very poor in 1672. aged 60.

Ibid. p. 412.

Mr. Gregge in another Chapel.

Mr. Thomas Gregge of St. Helen's Chapel in the ſame County of Lancaſter, not conforming in 1662. continued to preach moſtly in the Chapel, or openly in Houſes in the Face of Danger, and yet never was impriſon'd. He died in 1681. aged about 44. exceedingly belov'd, and much lamented.

Ibid. p. 413.

Mr. Walker continued in his Chapel.
Quidam Joh. Walker Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1639. Alter Coll. Jeſ. Art. Bac. 1657.

Mr. John Walker of Newton-Heath Chapel in the ſaid County, and one of the Preachers of the Bolton Lecture, preach'd after the Bartholomew Act without conforming to it at Rivington Chapel to a good old Age.

Ibid. p. 414.

Mr. Rock in a Priviledg'd Place.

Mr. Joſiah Rock, Miniſter of Saunby Com. Nott. after his Ejectment in 1662. taught School privately. But ſome Time before his Death, he got into a Priviledg'd Place in the Gift (I think) of Eſquire Diſney, where he preach'd publickly without Conforming.

Ibid. p. 526.

Mr. Barnet in a ſingular Place.

Mr. Joſhua Barnet was ejected from Roccardine Com. Salop for Nonconformity; but being a Perſon of great Moderation, he after ſome Time accepted of a Place in Cheſhire; where he was excus'd from the Surplice, Sign of the Croſs, &c.

Ibid. p. 565.

Mr. Fownes in a Place exempt.

Mr. Thomas Fownes after his Ejectment from Hutton Com. Warwic. liv'd in low Circumſtances in a ſmall Farm which he rented of Sir Roger Burgoyne at Wrexall. When Mr. Hawes left Hunniley, a Mile off, he preach'd in the Church, and continu'd to do it without Epiſcopal Ordination or Conformity, only reading ſome Part of the Liturgy; Hunniley being exempt from Epiſcopal Juriſdiction.

Ibid. p 744.

Mr. Clayton in a Chapel.

Mr. Luke Clayton, Miniſter of Rotherham in Yorkſhire, not conforming, having no Succeſſor provided for him, continu'd to exerciſe his Miniſtry after Bartholomew Day 1662. and continu'd ſo to do till the January following, when he chearfully ſuffer'd the Penalty of Impriſonment.—— He afterwards preach'd at Graſeborough Chapel for ſeveral Years, and died of a Conſumption, June 13, 1674. at about fifty Years of Age.

Ibid. p. 789.

Mr. Heywood in ſeveral Chapels.
Oliver Heywood Coll. Joh. Cantabr. Art. Bac. ad Bapt. An. 1650. Reg. Acad.
He died May 4, 1702.

Mr. Oliver Heywood Preacher at Coley Chapel in Hallifax Pariſh Yorkſhire, was for not reading the Common-Prayer ſuſpended and excommunicate, did notwithſtanding now and then preach in ſome publick Church, where there was a Vacancy, with the Leave of the Church-wardens, in which Courſe he met with no Moleſtation. —— When the Edge of the Five Mile Act was a little worn off, he took more Liberty, and preach'd often publickly in Idle Chapel, Brambup Chapel, Bramley Chapel, Farnley Chapel, Morley Chapel, Pudzey Chapel, and Hunſlet Chapel. —— And in July 1663. he preach'd to his old People in

Ibid. p. 805, 806, 807.

Coley Chapel upon the Abſence of Mr. Hoole, who was then Miniſter, and at the Deſire of many of the People.

Mr. Holdeſworth at Idle Chapel.
Quidam Joſiah Holdſworth Coll. Magd. Cantabr. Art. Bac. 1629. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Joſiah Holdſworth ejected at Poppleton near York in 1662. remov'd thence to Wakefield, he preach'd afterward for a Year in Idle Chapel, and died at Wakefield, Octob. 18, 1677. ætat. 75.

Account, p. 810.

Mr. Bradſhaw in other Chapels.
He died in May 1683. ætat. 73.

Mr. James Bradſhaw ſilenc'd for Nonconformity at Macclesfield Com. Ceſtr. liv'd in his own Houſe at Darcy-Leaver, and obtain'd Liberty for a while to preach publickly at Haughton Chapel in Dean Pariſh; and afterwards at Bradſhaw Chapel, by the Connivance of Mr. Bradſhaw of Bradſhaw-Hall, reading ſome of the Prayers, without ever ſubſcribing.

Ibid. p. 123.

Mr. d'Aranda in the French Church at Canterbury.

Mr. Elias Paul d'Aranda, Aſſiſtant to Mr. Maynard of Mayfield in Suſſex, was ejected from hence by the Bartholomew Act, and was afterwards Miniſter of the French Church in Canterbury.

Ibid. p. 684.

Mr. Boheme at Walcot.

Mr. George Boheme Miniſter of Sleford in Lincolnſhire, continued there till excluded by the Bartholomew Act. He for ſome Time preach'd publickly in the Church at Walcot, within a Mile of Folkingham, after his being ſilenc'd, and was conniv'd at, he reading ſome of the Prayers: But he was at length forbidden by Biſhop Gardiner, becauſe not epiſcopally ordain'd.

*Contin. p.*602.

Mr. Bradſhaw at Rainford Chapel.

Mr. James Bradſhaw fix'd at Hindley in the Pariſh of Wigan Com. Lanc. continu'd there till he was ejected and ſilenc'd in 1662. When King Charles granted Toleration, he mov'd to Rainford, a conſecrated Chapel in Preſcot Pariſh, and there held a fair and amicable Correſpondence with ſeveral of the Clergy of the eſtabliſhed Church, who reſpected him, and ſometimes preach'd for him, which was one means of keeping his Chapel. The Chapel-Wardens were oblig'd at the Viſitation to make their Appearance, and he having a Friend in Court, the Queſtion was commonly propoſed to them in this Manner, Have you Common-Prayer read yearly in your Chapel? To which they could ſafely anſwer, Yes; becauſe once or more in every Year, ſome of the neighbouring Clergy that were his Friends, read the divine Service and preach'd for him. And the Biſhop of Cheſter diſcharg'd Informations againſt peaceable and ſober Perſons; and ſo without being proſecuted, he continu'd his miniſterial Service in the Chapel aforeſaid.

Ibid. p. 568.

Mr. Baxter had great Liberty.

Mr. Nathaniel Baxter remain'd Miniſter at St. Michael's upon Plyer Com. Lanc. till his Ejection by the Act of Uniformity in 1662. Providence afterwards remov'd him into Yorkſhire, where he was Chaplain to Sir William Middleton of Aldworth near Rotherham. And being in thoſe Parts he fell into the Company of —— Pegg, Eſq; of Beauchief-Hall in Derbyſhire, a very ſober Gentleman, who invited him to give them a Sermon at an old Abbey-Church, call'd Beauchief-Abbey, and he comply'd with the Motion. —— After this the Gentleman told him, that if he would let him have the Benefit of his Labours at Beauchief-Abbey, his Steward ſhould pay him 16 l. per Ann. for that there was nothing belonging to the Place but what he thought fit to allow. Mr. Baxter being then a ſingle Man accepted the Offer, and afterwards marrying, liv'd within a Mile or thereabouts of the Abbey, and in a little Time with his Wife's Fortune purchas'd a ſmall Eſtate about the ſame Diſtance from it, and continu'd there ſeveral Years.

Ibid. p. 570.

Mr. Allen in an exempt Place.

Mr. John Allen had been ſeveral Years Miniſter at the great Church in Yarmouth in Conjunction with Mr. Brinſley. After his being ſilenc'd, he took an Houſe at Goulſtone, which is a Place out of the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of Norwich, and often preach'd there.

Ibid. p. 617.

Many went abroad and were well ſettled in other Countries.

9. And beſides this Refuge and Protection given to them in Hoſpitals, Priſons, and Privileg'd Places: Some of the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters withdrew themſelves to Scotland, Ireland, and our American Plantations, where they found a kind Reception and ſufficient Maintenance.

Mr. Moreton went to New-England.

Mr. Charles Moreton, M. A. after his Ejectment by the Act of Uniformity from Bliſland in Cornwall, he liv'd in a ſmall Tenement of his own in the Pariſh of St. Ives, and preach'd privately to a few People of a neighbouring Village, till the Fire of London. Having ſuſtain'd great Loſs by that, he remov'd thither to take care of his Affairs. Being there he, by the Entreaty of ſeveral Friends, was prevail'd with to undertake the inſtructing of Youth in Academical Learning. He ſet upon this Work at Newington-Green, and was extraordinarily well qualify'd for it. —— After about twenty Years Continuance in this Employment he was ſo infeſted with Proceſſes from the Biſhop's Court, that he was forc'd to deſiſt. In 1685. he went over to New-England, and was choſen Paſtor of a Church at Charles-Town, over againſt Boſton, where he died in a good old Age, being near fourſcore.

Account, p. 145.

Mr. Samuel Lee.

Mr. Samuel Lee, M. A. had been Fellow of Wadham College, and a Proctor of the Univerſity in 1651. In the latter End of the Reign of King Charles II. his Fears of the Return of Popery drove him into New-England, where he was Paſtor of the Church at Briſtol, &c. And even ſome had a ſtrong Impulſe which they term'd a Call, to go abroad and propagate the Goſpel. Thus Mr. Joſeph Alleine deprived for Nonconformity from Taunton St. Magdalen in Somerſet, at length receiving a third Call for the Propagation of the Goſpel, he would by all means forſooth go into China to do it, but being diſſuaded by the Brethren, he fed the Flock of God's People in private.

Ibid. p. 36.

And Mr. Joſ. Alleine.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 300.

10. Many others of the diſſenting Miniſters were indulg'd and conniv'd at in teaching School, in keeping Boarders, in being Tutours to young Noblemen, and Gentlemens Sons, in ſetting up private Academies, &c.

Mr. Button a School-maſter and Tutour.

Mr. Ralph Button, B. D. Canon of Chriſt-Church, and Orator to the Univerſity of Oxford, was a great Sufferer for Nonconformity. Beſides a great Loſs in his Eſtate, he was about ſix Months in Gaol for teaching privately two Knights Sons near Brentford, who perſuaded him to it. He died at Iſlington (where he was a Tutour to young Men in his own Houſe) in October 1680.

Account, p. 60. and Contin. p. 90. See Faſti Ox. *Vol.*II. c. 771.

Mr. Cole at Nettlebed.

Mr. Thomas Cole, M. A. ejected from his Principality of St. Mary's Hall in Oxford. He afterwards inſtructed Youth in his Houſe near Nettlebed in Oxfordſhire, and from thence came to London, &c.

Account p. 51. Wood's Faſti Oxon. Vol. II c. 775.

Mr. Chiſhul had a Boarding-School.
He died about the Year 1674.
Mr. Trerithiack a Tutour.
He died in July 1693.

Mr. John Chiſhul ſilenc'd at Tiverton in Devonſhire had a Boarding-School at Enfield in Middleſex, and ſometimes preached there. —— Mr. William Treritbiack, after his being ſilenc'd at Petroakſtow in Com. Devon. went beyond Sea with Colonel Rolle when he was young, as his Guardian and Tutour.

Account p. 240.
Ibid.

Mr. Sagar Teacher of a private School.
He died Febr. 13, 1697.

Mr. Charles Sagar Maſter of the publick School at Blackbourn in Lancaſhire, not conforming, was conniv'd at by the Governours of the School and the Gentry thereabout 'till 68. or 69. After he was turn'd out of the publick, he betook himſelf to the teaching of a private School in the Town, and had many Gentlemens Sons, and others under his Care, &c.

Ibid. 206.

Mr. Walton had a flouriſhing School.

Mr. Walton ejected or ſilenc'd at Weſt Ham near London, afterwards turn'd School-maſter, and had a flouriſhing School, firſt at Biſhops-Hall, and afterwards at Bednal-Green near the City.

Ibid. p. 302.

Mr. Taylor an eminent School-maſter.

Mr. Zachary Taylor after his being ſilenc'd at Rochdale Com. Lanc. taught School firſt at Rochdale, and then at Bolton: He was the firſt Maſter of the School erected there by Mr. James Leaver of London. From thence he remov'd to a famous School at Kirkham in the Field. He died in Febr. 1692. ætat. 74. He was a very good Scholar, and a uſeful School-maſter.

Ibid. p. 400.

Mr. Smith a School-maſter and Preacher.
He died Octob. 20, 1686.

Mr. William Smith after his Ejectment from Paſkington Com. Leic. he removed to Diſworth-Grange, where he continued many Years, teaching Scholars, and preaching conſtantly, either in his own Houſe or in Places adjacent, as Occaſion or Opportunity offer'd.

Ibid. p. 432.

Mr. Wreſſel had a private School.

Mr. Nicholas Wreſſel, M. A. ſilenc'd for Nonconformity at Berwick upon Tweed, in the latter Part of his Life he kept a private School at Stockwell (after he came up to London) where he died in the Year 1695. or thereabouts.

Ibid. p. 503.

Mr. Bindon had a conſiderable School.

Mr. George Bindon ejected or ſilenc'd at Wilton or Batkalton Com. Som. was an ingenious Man, and taught School at Staplegrove. He uſually went with his Family to Church on the Lord's Day in the Forenoon, and preach'd in the Afternoon. His clear Head and great Integrity rendred him very uſeful among his Neighbours in compoſing Differences, and drawing Writings. The Education and Fortunes of ſeveral Perſons were committed to him, which Truſts he diſcharged with a very fair Reputation.

Ibid. p. 602.

Mr. Winny kept a Grammar School.

Mr. Samuel Winny ſome Time after his Ejectment from Glaſtonbury Com. Som. for Nonconformity, had a ſmall Congregation in the City of Briſtol, where he alſo taught Grammar Learning with good Succeſs. There he died in 1700.

Ibid. p. 605.
*Contin. p.*754.

Mr. Sherman and Mr. Fiſher School-maſters.

Mr. Edward Sherman after his Ejection from Stoke by Ipſwich in Suffolk, he became School-maſter at Dedham, and ſo continued 'till he died. Mr. James Fiſher, M. A. of Emanuel College in Cambridge, after his Ejectment from Fatcham Com. Surr. kept a School, and preached in his own Houſe at Darking, where he died 1691. ætat. 86.

Account p. 646.
Ibid. p. 670.
Contin. p. 814.

Mr. Thorpe thriv'd in a private School.
Edm. Thorpe Coll. Chr. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1639. Art. Mag. 1645. Reg. Acad.
He died at Brenchly March 16, 1777-8.

Mr. Edmund Thorpe, M. A. was ejected from Selſcomb Com. Suſſex. He afterwards taught School privately, and was conniv'd at. He had many Boarders and ſo liv'd comfortably. Many Gentlemen in Kent and Suſſex ſent their Children to him, and even three conforming Miniſters truſted him with the Education of their Sons, &c.

Account p. 678.

Mr. Bennet had Boarders and Scholars.
Joſ. Bennet Coll. Joh. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. An. 1649.
Alter Joſ. Bennet Coll. Joh. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. 1658. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Joſeph Bennet ejected from the Church of Brightling in Suſſex 1662. lived in the Pariſh twenty Years after his Ejectment. He ſet up a School, and it began to flouriſh, but was diſperſed again by the Viſitation in 1665. His Motto was God's good Providence be mine Inheritance; and it was anſwer'd to him. He generally had a few Boarders and Scholars to teach, which was at once an Help and a Diverſion.

Ibid. p. 681.
Contin. p. 817.

Mr. Davis Maſter of a Grammar School.

Mr. James Davis ejected or ſilenc'd at Merthyr in Caermarthenſhire, being a good Grammar Scholar, he maintained his Family by keeping a Grammar School; and often preached gratis up and down the Countrey.

Account p. 720. and Contin. p. 845.

Mr. Baſſet got a good Livelyhood.

Mr. Joſiah Baſſet Miniſter of Exall Com. Warwic. after the Act of Uniformity came to London to ſeek a Livelyhood, which he got by teaching School. —— And continuing long in that Courſe of Life, he raiſed ſeveral Citizens, &c. He died Paſtor to a Congregation at Woolwich, in 1695.

Account p. 742.

Mr. Kimberley.

Mr. William Kimberley after his Ejectment from Rydmerley in Worceſterſhire, liv'd very privately, and did not ordinarily preach, but contented himſelf with teaching a School, in which ſome thought he excell'd moſt.

Ibid. p. 776.

Mr. Inman.

Mr. Inman ejected from a Mediety of Hoylland in Yorkſhire, afterward kept School in Clayton, and lived obſcurely, a good Scholar. He died in March 1689. ætat. 66.

Ibid. p. 792.

Mr. Ogden moved from one School to another.

Mr. Samuel Ogden after his Ejectment in 62. from Matlock near Derby, being full of Boarders at his own Houſe, he continued his School for ſome Time

Ibid. p. 189.
*Contin. p.*234.

Sam. Ogden Coll. Chr. Art Bacc. ad Baptiſt An. 1651. Reg. Acad. Cant.

at Mackworth, 'till the Five Mile Act took Effect, which drove him away. He fled into Yorkſhire, but after ſome Time he return'd to his Employment at Derby, where his School flouriſh'd, and he had many Gentlemens Sons with him. In the Year 1685. the publick School-maſter of the Town commenc'd a Suit againſt him, &c. Wheupon Sir John Gell gave him the Free-School of Wirkſworth, whither he remov'd in 1686. and there he continued to his Dying-Day, daily inſtructing his Scholars, &c. He died May 25, 1697. and was buried the twenty ſeventh in the Church of Wirkſworth.

Mr. Burgeſs had many Boarders.

Quidam Joh. Burgeſs Coll. Regin. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 8, 1619.

Quidam Jo. Burges Coll. Jeſ. Art. Mag. An. 1622. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. John Burgeſs, A. M. when the Act of Uniformity, 62. drove him from his People of Aſhſpringten Com. Devon. he retir'd to Hackney near London, where he and ſome other Miniſters join'd in carrying on a private Lecture, and other Exerciſes of Religion, to a Society of about thirty Families. Afterwards he ſate down at Iſlington, to keep Boarders of Citizens Sons, who went to School to Mr. Singleton, who had then a flouriſhing School at that Place: And there he died about 1668. Account, p. 242. and Contin. p. 282.

Mr. Bedford took Boarders.

Iſ. Bedford Coll. Eman. Art. Bac. An. 1637. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Iſaac Bedford Miniſter of Willion Com. Hertf. after his Ejectment retir'd to Clifton, and liv'd upon a ſmall Farm of his own: He took Boarders, and had a Conformiſt to teach them; and there he died about 1667. Account, p. 366.

Mr. Pakeman a Boarding Teacher.

Tho. Pakeman Aul. Clar. Cant. Art. Bacc. An. 1633. Art. Mag. An. 1637. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Thomas Pakeman, M. A. after his Ejectment from Harrow on the Hill, Com. Midd. for Nonconformity, he had the Inſtruction and Boarding of ſeveral Children of Perſons of Quality and Figure; and preached as he had Opportunity. Ibid. p. 468.

Mr. Clark at Walkington.

Petrus Clarke Coll. Joh. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 4, 1622.

Petrus Clark Eboracen. admiſſus Socius Coll. Jo. Cant. Martii 31. 1626. Reg. Acad. & Coll. Joh.

Mr. Peter Clark, M. A. was benefic'd at Kirkby Underhill in Yorkſhire, and there continued 'till the Uniformity Act diſlodg'd him. Thence he retir'd with his Wife and four Children to Walkington near Hull, where he had a pretty Eſtate, that deſcended to him from his Father. There he employ'd himſelf in teaching a private School, boarding Gentlemens Sons in his Houſe; —— and there he continued to the Time of his Death. Ibid. p. 822.

Mr. Cart Tutour to a young Gentleman.

Quidam Joh. Coll. Sidn. Art. Bac. 1640. Reg. Acad. Cant. He died in 1674.

Mr. John Cart Miniſter of Hanſworth in Yorkſhire, reſided here ſeveral Years after his Ejectment in 62. Major Taylor of Wallinwells committed his only Child to his Tuition, when he was ſent by King Charles to fortify Tangier. He was faithful to his Truſt, and his Pupil is a very worthy Gentleman, and uſeful Magiſtrate in his Countrey. Ibid. p. 789. Contin p. 940.

Mr. Tallents a travelling Tutour.

Fran. Tallents, Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. An. 1641. Art. Mag. Coll. Magd. 1645. unus e Pradicatoribus ab Academia emittendis An. 1650. Reg. Acad. Cant. He died Apr. 11, 1708. in the 89th Year of his Age.

Mr. Francis Tallents, M. A. an eminent Nonconformiſt, for the moſt Part attended the publick Miniſtry and the Liturgy a great while, Morning and Afternoon, and was much for occaſional Conformity. In 1670. he travell'd into France as Tutour to two young Gentlemen, Mr. Boſcawen and Mr. Hampden; and ſpent about two Years and a half abroad. The former of the two died at Straſburgh of the Small-Pox, to his great Grief. Account, p. 550. and Contin. p. 722.

Mr Frankland ſet up a private Academy.

Ric. Frankland Coll. Chr. Art. Bacc. An. 1651. Art. Mag. An. 1655. Reg. Acad. Cant. He died Octob. 1, 1698. ætat. 68.

Mr. Richard Franckland, M. A. ejected from Biſhop's-Aukland in the Biſhoprick of Durham, liv'd at Rathmil in Yorkſhire, which was his own Eſtate; where he was perſuaded to ſet up a private Academy in his own Houſe. Sir Thomas Liddall ſent his Son George to be educated under him, and many others follow'd his Example: So that in the Space of a few Years, he had to the Number of three hundred under his Tuition, &c. Account, p. 287. and Contin. p. 452.

Mr. Ferguſon taught Univerſity Learning.

Mr. Robert Ferguſon, ſome Time after his Ejectment from Godmarſham in Kent taught Univerſity Learning at Iſlington, and was after Aſſiſtant to Dr. Owen. But at length he ran ſo far into political Matters, as to fall under general Cenſure. The Duke of Monmouth upon the Scaffold call'd him a bloody Villain: And Biſhop Burnet juſtly a profligate Knave. Account, p. 383. and Contin. p. 544.

Mr. Horrockes had a School of ſeveral young Gentlemen.

Mr. Thomas Horrockes, M. A. ejected in 1662. from the Living of Malden in Eſſex, after a great many Fatigues at laſt ſettled at Batterſea in Surrey, where he boarded and taught young Gentlemen, as two of the Sons of Sir Walter St. John, Alderman Howe's Sons, five of the Lordels, and three of the Houblands, and ſeveral others of good Note. Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 470.

Mr. Swift had a conſiderable Number of Boarders.

Mr. Richard Swift ejected for Nonconformity from Edgworth in Middleſex, remov'd afterwards to Mill-Hill in Hendon Pariſh, where he kept Boarders to a conſiderable Number. Ibid. p. 612.

Mr. Tarrey had a flouriſhing School.

Mr. Thomas Tarrey ejected from Thrapſton Com. Northampt. after ſome Time was invited to the Free-School at Higham, the Salary of which was 10 l. per An. and he had a flouriſhing School, and many Gentlemen ſending their Sons to him for Inſtruction, he grew rich, &c. Ibid. p. 641.

Mr. Birch had a School full of young Nobility and Gentry. He died at Shilton Jan. 22, 1679.

Mr. Samuel Birch, M. A. ejected from one of the three Portions of the Vicarage of Bampton Com. Oxon. ſtay'd at the Vicarage ſome Time after his being ſilenc'd, and continu'd preaching on Lord's Day Nights. At laſt upon Mr. Cook's coming to Bampton, he hir'd an Houſe at Shelton and fix'd there in May 1664. and had a good Number of Boarders. —— The Gentlemen of the Pariſh would not ſuffer him to leave that Countrey: They plac'd him in a Manſion-Houſe in that Neighbourhood, belonging to Eſquire Hoard, and ſent their Sons to him for Inſtruction and Education (which was a ſort of Service for which he was peculiarly qualified) and he remain'd there till the Time of his Death, and had his Houſe continually full of young Nobility and Gentry from many Parts of the Nation. Ibid. p. 710. and Account, p. 541,

This Obſervation may be a little explain'd by ſaying, that of the prime Miniſters ruling and contending in the latter End of the Queen, the Triumviri, were bred in diſſenting Schools; and chiefly under Mr. Birch.

It was obſerv'd, that there were not fewer than fourteen of thoſe that had formerly been his Scholars that were in one Seſſion of Parliament in the Reign of Queen Anne; and ſome of the Chief of the Miniſters of State were of that Number: And on this Account it appear'd to ſeveral obſervant and conſiderate Perſons, ſons, not to have ſo decent an Aſpect, for them to be for bearing ſo hard upon the poor Diſſenters, with reference to their educating their young ones in their own Way (as they were by the Schiſm Bill) unleſs they did it to atone for the Sins of their Youth, when they themſelves were in ſuch Hands.

Many took up the Profeſſion and Practice of Phyſick.

11. Not a few of the nonconforming Miniſters turn'd their Courſe of Life and Studies to the Practice of Phyſick, and thereby liv'd and died in greater Plenty and Credit, than if they had continued in their former Stations.

Mr. Warren in Eſſex.
Edv. Warren Aul. Pembr Art. Mag. An. 1646. Reg Acad. Cant.
He died Apr. 20, 1690.

Mr. Edmund Warren when caſt out of St. Peter's in Colcheſter, continued his Miniſtry, and practis'd Phyſick, and was exceeding ſucceſsful. —— And even they that hated him on the Account of his Preaching as a Nonconformiſt, yet loved him for the Sake of their Bodies. Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 293. and Contin. p. 497.

Mr. Firmin practis'd Phyſick and Surgery.
Giles Firmin Coll. Eman. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Dec. 15. 1629. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Giles Firmin ſilenc'd in 62. at Shalford near Braintree, there and at Redgwell practis'd Phyſick for many Years, and yet was ſtill a conſtant and laborious Preacher. —— He had one conſiderable Advantage above his Brethren, which was the Favour and Reſpect which the neighbouring Gentry and Juſtices of the Peace had for him, on the Account of their uſing him as a Phyſician. He was extremely reſpected indeed by all, being a Man of excellent Parts, and a general Scholar; beſides his Skill in Phyſick and Chirurgery. Account p. 296. and Contin. p. 458.

Mr. Bulkeley at Wapping.
Quidam Joh. Buckley Coll. Sidn. Art. Mag. 1636. Alter Jo. Buckley Aul. Pembr. Art. Bac. 1659.
He died An. 1689.

Mr. John Bulkeley, M. A. Miniſter at Fordham in Eſſex. After his Ejectment he retir'd to Wapping in the Suburbs of London, where he liv'd ſeveral Years, practiſing Phyſick with good Succeſs; adminiſtring natural and ſpiritual Phyſick together —— Seldom did he viſit his Patients, without reading a Lecture of Divinity to them, and praying with them. Account, p. 311. and Contin. p. 487.

Mr. Capel at Strowd.

Mr. Daniel Capel, M. A. parting with his Living of Shipton Moigne in Glouceſterſhire in 62. for his Nonconformity, he practis'd Phyſick in the Town of Strowd in the ſame County, as long as he liv'd. Account, p. 317. and Contin. p. 493.

Mr. Swan in Kent.

—— Mr. John Swan ejected from Ickham in Kent, afterwards turn'd Phyſician. —— Account, p. 381. Contin. p. 537.

Mr. Holbrook in Lancaſhire.
He died in July 1676. aged about 40.

Mr. Richard Holbrook, M. A. when ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at Salford Com. Lanc. he apply'd himſelf to Phyſick; being a Man of good Parts, a ſolid Scholar, and a pious Man. [Ric. Holbrook Coll. Trin. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1652. Art. Mag. 1656. Reg. Acad. Account, p. 396.

Dr. Marſhall in London.
Will. Marſhall Coll. Trin. Art. Bac. 1643.

Dr. William Marſhal after his Ejectment from Lancaſter, travell'd abroad for ſome Time, and then ſettled at London, where he profeſſed and practiſed Phyſick. Ibid. p. 414.

Mr. Olderſhaw in Derbyſhire.
Sam. Olderſhaw Coll. Chr. Art. Bacc. An. 1651. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Samuel Olderſhaw, after his Ejectment from Cole Orton Com. Leic. lived as Chaplain in Eſquire Spademan's Family at Roadnook in Derbyſhire. He afterwards turn'd Phyſician. Account, p. 423. and Contin. p. 587.

Mr. Cary in London.

Mr. Nicholas Cary after his Ejectment from Monmouth came up to London, and gave himſelf up to the Practice and Study of Phyſick, and had Succeſs in curing ill affected Eyes and Ears more than many; and died in Hatton Garden in Holborn. Account, p. 473.

Mr. Cortman in Northamptonſhire.

Mr. John Cortman, B. D. after his Ejection from Thorp Malſor in Com. Northampt. did not preach publickly, yet kept the Living, and employ'd a Curate. He afterwards reſign'd it to his Son, and himſelf practis'd Phyſick with great Succeſs; being particularly famous for curing paralytick Diſtempers, and diſtracted People. Ibid. p. 492.

Mr. Reſbury at Oundle.
Ric. Reſbury Coll. Sidn. Art. Bac. 1629. Art. Mag. 1633. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Richard Reſbury not conforming at Oundle in Northamptonſhire, was much favour'd by the Lord Mountague. He laid down ſix Weeks before Bartholomew Day. He preach'd afterwards at his own hir'd Houſe at Oundle, practis'd Phyſick with good Succeſs, and was adviſ'd with by Perſons of all Ranks. Ibid. p. 493. Contin. p. 639.

Mr. Bromfield in Northumberland.

Mr. Patrick Bromfield Miniſter at Ellingham Com. Northumb. a very facetious but plain hearted Man; he ſuſtain'd himſelf when he was ſilenc'd by practiſing Phyſick. Account, p. 511.

Mr. Rule at Berwick.

Mr. Gilbert Rule, after his Ejectment from Alnewick Com. Northumb. in 1662. went into Scotland, and from thence into France and Holland, where he ſtudied Phyſick, and took his Doctor's Degree. When he returned back, he liv'd for ſome Time in Berwick, and preach'd frequently to the Diſſenters there; and alſo practis'd Phyſick, and in that reſpect was very uſeful, and much valued. He made up his own Medicines, and was much apply'd to. Account, p. 515. and Contin. p. 676.

Mr. Burnet in Oxfordſhire.

Mr. Samuel Burnet ejected from the Living of Enſton Com. Oxon. afterwards apply'd himſelf to the Study and Practice of Phyſick. Account, p. 542.

Dr. Chauncey at Briſtol.
He died July 25, 1691.

Dr. Icabod Chauncey. He was Chaplain to Sir Edward Harley's Regiment at Dunkirk when the Uniformity Act took Place. He afterwards became a Phyſician in Briſtol, and was of good Note. Account, p. 610. and Contin. p. 756.

Mr. Smith at Chard.

Mr. Richard Smith forc'd out of the Living of Whitſtanton in Somerſetſhire, in April 1662. by the Violence and Power of a popiſh Family, remov'd to Dynnington, where he had ſome Eſtate of his own. From thence to Chard, where he practiſed as a Phyſician to divers Families; and was a Man of great Repute, as a Gentleman, a Phyſician, and a Divine. Account, p. 613.

Mr. Stodden.

—— Mr. Stodden was ejected or ſilenc'd at Buckland Com. Som. I think he afterwards practiſed Phyſick. Ibid.

Mr. Reynolds got much from rich and noble Patients.
Jo. Reynolds Coll. Caii Art. Bac. 1650.
Quidam Jo. Reynold Coll. Petr. Art. Bacc. Cant. An. 1660. Reg. Acad.

Mr. John Reynolds ejected or ſilenc'd at Wolverhampton. A Man of more than ordinary Ability for Learning and Preaching. He afterwards practiſed Phyſick, but did not deſert the Miniſtry. He came to London and died there. —— He not only practis'd Phyſick, but took the Degree of Med. Doct. with a Latin Oration publiſhed by him. —— Eminent for his Skill in Divinity, Phyſick, Account, p. 624. Contin. p. 769.

and Law. —— Much came to him from noble and rich Patients, that made uſe of him as a Phyſician. He remov'd to London in Auguſt 1683. and died there the December following.

Dr. Moreton an eminent Phyſician in London.

Mr. Richard Moreton ejected or ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act at Kinver in Staffordſhire, was afterwards an eminent Practitioner of Phyſick in the City of London. He was M. D. and Fellow of the College. He wrote a Treatiſe of Conſumptions, that is reckon'd the beſt extant on that Subject, &c.

Account p. 625. and Contin. p. 772.

Dr. Long practiſed in London.
Geo. Long Coll. Trin. Art. Bacc. Cant. Anno. 1649.
Geo. Long Coll. Trin. Art. Bac. 1653. Reg. Acad.

George Long, M. A. Fellow of Trinity College Cambridge ejected there, and from his Miniſtry in Newcaſtle, not being willing to be unemploy'd, he went to London, and took his Doctor's Degree in Phyſick, having ſpent ſome Time in that Study before: After his Return, he apply'd to the Practice of it with good Encouragement and Succeſs.

Account p. 632.

Mr. French at Cardiff.
Quidam Jo. French Coll. Joh. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1642. Reg. Acad.

Mr. John French ejected from the Living of Wenvor in Glamorganſhire, afterwards practiſed Phyſick at Cardiff with good Succeſs. He died February 28, 1691.

Ibid. p. 731.

Mr. Steph. Baxter in Worceſterſhire.

Mr. Stephen Baxter ejected by the Act of Uniformity from Hardington or Harrington Com. Worc. by which he loſt one hundred forty Pounds per Ann. After he was ſilenc'd he practis'd Phyſick.

Ibid. p. 770.

Mr. Perrot at Barniſton.

Mr. Richard Perrot, B. D. was one of the Preachers in York Minſter. After his Ejectment for Nonconformity, he liv'd for ſome Time with Dr. Robinſon of Barniſton, and practis'd Phyſick with good Succeſs.

Ibid. p. 784. Contin. p. 939.

Mr. Core at Leeds.

Mr. Richard Core ejected or ſilenc'd at Tonge Chapel near Leeds in Yorkſhire, a ſober Man and good Scholar, did afterwards profeſs and practiſe Phyſick. He died at Leeds April 1688.

Account p. 813.

Dr. Clifford in London.
Abraham Clifford Warwic. admiſſ. Socius Aul. Pembr. Ann. 1650. a Benefactor to the Library.

Mr. Abraham Clifford, B. D. ſaid to be ejected from a Fellowſhip of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, and from the Rectory of Quendon in Eſſex: He ſtudied Phyſick, and took his Degree at Leyden, and was a licens'd Practitioner in the City of London. He took the Degree of M. D. at Oxford in 1670. This Dr. Clifford died in the Pariſh of St. Sepulchre's, London, in the Beginning of 1675.

Ibid. p. 90. Contin. p. 128.

Mr. Panton at London.

Mr. John Panton, M. A. of All-Souls in Oxford, ſoon after his Ejectment travell'd into France, and afterwards practis'd Phyſick here in London, conſtantly adhering to the Nonconformiſts.

Account p. 75, 697. Contin. p. 107, 833.

Mr. Brinſley at Yarmouth.

Mr. Robert Brinſley, M. A. after his being ejected from Emanuel College Cambridge, took his Degrees in Phyſick at Leyden, and practis'd at Yarmouth, where his Father had been many Years Miniſter.

Account p. 84.

Dr. Sampſon at London.
Hen. Sampſon of Nottinghamſhire admitted in Pembroke Hall Cambr. 1646. Art. Bacc. 1649. admitted Fellow Ann. 1650. He gave the College fifty Pounds. Collectan. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Henry Sampſon, M. A. Fellow of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, had one of the beſt Livings that was in the Gift of his College, viz. that of Framlingham in Suffolk beſtow'd upon him. Upon the Reſtauration of King Charles, being oblig'd to leave his People, and not being ſatisfied to conform, he apply'd himſelf to the Study of Phyſick, travell'd into France, and viſited ſeveral Univerſities famous for Medicine abroad; ſtay'd firſt at Padua, and then at Leyden for ſome Time. Having taken his Degree, he return'd home, and ſettled in the City of London, where he entred himſelf of the College of Phyſicians, and liv'd and died in good Repute.

Ibid. p. 85.

Mr. Weſtley had moſt Employment as a Phyſician.

Mr. Bartholomew Weſtley Miniſter of Charmouth Com. Dorſet, and ſaid to have been ejected from Arlington, having apply'd himſelf to the Study of Phyſick as well as of Divinity, while he was in the Univerſity, was often conſulted as a Phyſician, even while he was in his Living. But after his Ejectment in 1662. though he preach'd as he had Opportunity, yet he had much more Employment as a Phyſician than as a Miniſter.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 429.

Mr. Beebe practiſed at Rowley Hall.

Mr. Beebe Chaplain to the Regiment of Colonel Knight in the Army of General Monk, was a ſilenc'd Miniſter, and after ſome Time went into Shropſhire, and liv'd with a Relation at Rowley Hall near Bridgnorth, and practis'd Phyſick.

Ibid. p. 1000. Account p. 204.

Dr. Hulſe, an eminent Phyſician in London.
Edw. Hulſe, born at Stanny in Cheſhire, elected Fellow of Eman. poſt 1660.

Mr. Edward Hulſe, M. A. ejected from a Fellowſhip in Emanuel College Cambridge, was afterward an eminent Phyſician in the City of London; [and his Son is now more eminent.]

Ibid. p. 84.

Mr. Lomax was Phyſician, Surgeon, and Apothecary.
Jo. Lomax Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc. An. 1653. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. John Lomax, M. A. of Emanuel College Cambridge, was Preacher at Wooler Com. Northumb. and continued there 'till the Reſtauration. He then remov'd with his Family to North Shields, where he practis'd Phyſick and Surgery, and kept an Apothecary's Shop, there being none there at that Time.

Contin. p. 670.

Some few turn'd Lawyers.

12. Beſides theſe and other Sufferers for their Nonconformity, who found the Profeſſion and Practice of Phyſick more beneficial than that of Divinity: Some likewiſe turned Lawyers and found greater Advantage by it.

Mr. Hitchcock a Counſellour.

Mr. Hitchcock, M. A. Fellow of Lincoln College in Oxford, and thence ejected, became afterwards a Counſellor at Law, and liv'd at Hackney, and atttended the Miniſtry of the Nonconformiſts.

Account p. 75.

Guil. Moſes Aul. Pembr. Art. Bacc. 1643. A. M. 1647.
Mr. Moſes a Serjeant at Law.

Mr. William Moſes, M. A. Maſter of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge [was forc'd to give Place to the right Maſter Dr. Laney]. He afterwards was call'd to be Serjeant at Law. And after his Ejectment he ſav'd the Hall ſome hundreds of Pounds in a Law Affair, for which they acknowledg'd themſelves greatly obliged to him. He had very good Practice as a Counſellor, and died a rich Batchelor.

Ibid. p. 85. Contin. p. 115.

Mr. Sadler Town-Clerk of London.
Joh. Sadler Coll. Eman. Socius Suſſexienſis Art. Bacc. 1638. Reg. Acad.

Mr. John Sadler, A. B. [call'd by Dr. Calamy a general Scholar and an accompliſh'd Gentleman, but by Dr. Walker a very inſignificant Man] depriv'd of the Maſterſhip of Magdalen College Cambridge, to make Way for the old Maſter Dr.

Account p. 83. Contin. p. 116.

Dr. Rainbow, was Town-Clerk of London all the time of his being Maſter of Magdalen, and before, but not long after.

Mr. Benlows a Counſellor and Juſtice.

Account, p. 513.

Mr. Benlows ejected or ſilenc'd at Milforth in Nothumberland, was ſince a Counſellor at Law, and Juſtice of the Peace.

And ſome got a notable Livelihood by drawing Bonds, Bills, Leaſes, making Wills, Covenant Articles, and other Acts and Deeds of an Attorney at Law.

And to other ſecular Employments.

13. And ſeveral who refuſ'd or rather declined Conformity, applied themſelves to other ſecular Buſineſs and Employments, and found the Way of thriving in them.

Mr. May turn'd Brewer.

Contin. p. 77.

Mr. Samuel May, M. A. of Wadham College Oxon. went from the Univerſity to live with Sir Charles Wolſeley at Iſtleworth; and was afterwards Chaplain to Sir William Waller and to Sir John Langham. When the Act of Uniformity took Place, he continu'd to preach occaſionally in and about the City of London. He at length turn'd Brewer for the better Support of his Family.

He died Decemb 13, 1694.

Mr. Wright turn'd Farmer.

Ibid. p. 587.

Mr. George Wright after his Ejectment from the Living of Congerſtone Com. Leic. took a Farm at King's-Heath in the Pariſh of King's-Norton, and manag'd it with great Care and Pains to maintain his Family.

Mr. Reyner turn'd Factor in Holland.

He died at Rotterdam about 1697.

Mr. John Reyner after his Ejectment from Rowleſby Com. Norf. went with his Family over to Holland, and liv'd at Rotterdam, where he was employ'd by his Acquaintance in England, as their Factor, and by that means got a comfortable Subſiſtence for himſelf and Family, &c.

Mr. Truman became a rich Farmer.

Joſ. Truman Aul. Clar. Art. Mag. 1654.

But he does not occur B. D. Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Ibid. p. 693.

Mr. Joſeph Truman, B. D. was ejected from the Living of Cromwell in Nottinghamſhire, and a great Sufferer for his Nonconformity. But it pleaſed God to make up all Mr. Truman's Loſſes, as well as to vindicate and clear his Reputation in a very little Time: For beſides his own Eſtate, he rented 500*l. per Ann.* This Land was of a ſandy Soil, and lay high, and Providence ſo order'd it, that that Year was exceeding wet and rainy; inſomuch that when the greateſt Part of the Corn upon the low Lands was either bad or deſtroy'd, he had ſo large a Crop that Year that he computed that he clear'd 200*l.* beyond his Expectation.

Mr. Sheldrake was a Dealer in Wool and Yarn.

Contin. p. 629.

Mr. William Sheldrake in the ſequeſtred Living of Repham in Norfolk, gave way to Mr. Gardiner the former Incumbent; and finding the Church Doors ſhut againſt him by the Act for Uniformity, he apply'd himſelf for ſome Time to deal in Wool and Yarn to get a Maintenance for his Family.

Mr. Crofton was ſucceſſively Grocer, Farmer and Teacher of Children.

See Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 208, 209.

Account, p 23. and Contin. p. 19.

Mr. Zachary Crofton, who left the Curacy of Aldgate, London, and was ſent Priſoner to the Tower, and again to Priſon in Cheſhire; when he procur'd his Liberty, he was forc'd to ſet up a Grocer's Shop to get a Maintenance for his Family. He ſet up a Son-in-law and his Daughter in [the ſame] Grocer's Shop in London. He afterwards took a Farm at Little-Barford in Bedfordſhire; and again remov'd thence to London, and had a School [of Children] in Eaſt-Smithfield, in this Pariſh of Aldgate, which was pretty numerous, conſiſting ſometimes of an hundred Scholars, in which he continu'd till his Death. [I have been told, it was rather his Daughter's School than his own, and he only aſſiſted her in teaching the Boys and Girls to read.]

Mr. Taylor a Tobacco Merchant.

He died in Nov. 1700.

Contin. p. 789.

Mr. Thomas Taylor ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at St. Edmundſbury Suffolk, after being a Year in Priſon, went to London, and became a Tobacco Merchant, and yet ſtill preach'd occaſionally.

Mr. Bell a Farmer.

Account, p. 513.

Mr. Humphrey Bell, Miniſter of Pontland in Northumberland, was much ſolicited to conform, yet upon mature Deliberation he refuſ'd it, and was content to turn Farmer for a Livelihood.

Mr. Collier in ſecular Buſineſs.

Contin. p. 855.

Mr. Collier ejected or ſilenc'd at Lower Whetacre in Warwickſhire, after his leaving that Place came to London, and applied to ſecular Buſineſs.

See Account, p. 577, &c.

Many of them got very conſiderably by printing and reprinting their Sermons, Books and Papers.

Some in very mean Employments.

14. Some of leſs Abilities and meaner Spirits, were reduced to the Neceſſity of taking up very mean Employments.

Mr. Blackway a Stitcher of Boddice.

Account, p. 332.

Mr. William Blackway after his Ejectment from the Living of Felton near Briſtol liv'd in that City, and was ſo reduc'd, that he was forc'd for a Time to get his Living by ſtitching of Boddice.

Mr. Rowlands made Flouriſhes and Patterns for the Girls.

Ibid. p. 313.

Mr. Ellis Rowlands after his Ejectment from Ruthin in Denbighſhire, was reduc'd to great Neceſſities. His Wife kept School in Carnarvonſhire for a Livelihood; and he was forc'd to make Flouriſhes and Patterns for the Girls to ſew by.

Mr. Bloom a Malſter.

He died Apr. 13, 1686.

Ibid. p. 787.

Mr. Matthew Bloom was at Atterfield Chapel near Sheffield, and afterwards Aſſiſtant at Sheffield. When ſilenc'd, to procure a Maintenance for his Family, he turn'd Malſter, but yet preach'd in private, as he had opportunity.

Mr. Benton follow'd the Malt Trade.

Ibid. p. 791.

Mr. William Benton after his Ejection in 1662. from Thunſcoe in Yorkſhire, took a Farm and apply'd himſelf to Huſbandry for the neceſſary Maintenance of his Family: And afterwards he follow'd the Malt Trade, and preach'd ſometimes.

Mr. Whitehorn a Cutter of Tobacco.

Contin p. 223.

Mr. Otho Whitehorn who held the ſequeſtred Living of Little-Petherick in Cornwall, upon Mr. Pretty's Return to it, was forc'd to ſeek out; and perhaps this may be the Mr. O. W. in the Weſt Countrey, that was forc'd to cut Tobacco for his Livelihood, that is taken notice of in the Conformiſt's fourth Plea for the Nonconformiſts, p. 63.

Mr. Buckler fell to the Trade of Malting.

Mr. Edward Buckler, who had been one of Oliver's Chaplains, and preach'd before him four Times a Year, and had 20*l.* a Year for his Pains, quitted the Living of Calbourn in Hampſhire, reckon'd worth 200*l.* per Annum. After he was ejected he liv'd privately at Bradford-Abbis in the County of Dorſet, where he follow'd the Trade of Malting, and preach'd but ſeldom. Contin. p. 508.

Mr. Finlow in a poor Farm.

Mr. Reginald Finlow, B. A. was oblig'd to reſign his ſequeſtred Living of Stoddeſden Com. Salop. to the former Incumbent Mr. Thomas Amias. He was much expos'd having no temporal Eſtate to maintain himſelf and Wife, and four unhealthy Children. He took a little Farm, and got from it a poor Living for himſelf and Family. Contin. p. 728. Account, p. 566.

Mr. Wait a Thraſher and a Shepherd.

Mr. Wait ejected from the Vicarage of Weſtwang in the County of York. He continu'd in the Place after his Ejectment, and his Wife taught Scholars, and he aſſiſted her, and commonly heard them two Leſſons a Day. He kept three or four Cows, and look'd after them himſelf in the Winter Seaſon. He alſo hir'd the tilling of an Oxgang of Land which he had purchas'd, the Crop of which he us'd himſelf to threſh out in Winter, in order to the Support of himſelf and Wife and Son and two Daughters. He kept alſo about forty or fifty Sheep, which he look'd after in Winter, and fodder'd Evening and Morning commonly in his own Yard: And when Lady-Day came, he turn'd them before the Shepherd. Contin. p. 955.

Mr. Gunter was a Lord's Steward.
He died Nov. 27, 1638.

Mr. John Gunter, LL. B. ejected from Bedal in Yorkſhire, and afterward ſilenc'd at Whittlebury in Northamptonſhire in 1662. retir'd to Helaugh near Tadcaſter in Yorkſhire. He manag'd the Lord Wharton's Concerns in thoſe Parts, and in the North, which requir'd his frequent Journies: But when he was at home, he preach'd conſtantly gratis, &c. Account, p. 820.

Mr. French a Tradeſman.

Mr. Samuel French, Miniſter of Town Malling in Kent, after his Ejectment, for the better maintaining himſelf and his Family, betook himſelf to Trade, for which few were better capacitated. But in the midſt of a great Currency of Trade, finding himſelf conſiderably reduc'd, he left off in good Time. One ſaid, that for Mr. French his Sake, he would never adviſe any Miniſter to meddle farther in ſecular Affairs than mere Neceſſity did force. Ibid. p. 377.

Some poſſibly return'd to their original Trades and Occupations.

15. And ſome of the ſilenc'd Preachers poſſibly return'd to their original Trades and Occupations.

Mr. Ellis had been a Skinner.
Mr. Miller a Bookſeller.
Mr. Jones a Ploughman.
Mr. Joſeph a Huſbandman.

Mr. Edmund Ellis Preacher, and ſilenc'd at St. Phagens in South-Wales was a Skinner from London. —— Mr. Joſhua Miller ejected from St. Andrews in that Countrey was a London Bookſeller. —— Mr. Morgan Jones caſt out from Llanmadock was an honeſt Plowman. —— Mr. Thomas Joſeph ejected for Nonconformity at Llangeinwr. He ſpoil'd an ingenious Huſbandman to become an ignorant Preacher. Account, p. 731. Ibid. p. 732. Ibid.

Mr. Hancock a Butler.

Mr. Troughton a Glover.

Mr. Edward Hancock ejected from the Pariſh of St. Philip in Briſtol, is ſaid by Dr. Walker to have been Butler to Sir George Horner. [And poſſibly he ſet up a Publick Houſe: For it ſeems] he bred his only Son at Oxford, and left him ſome thouſands. —— Mr. William Troughton, Miniſter of St. Martin's in Saliſbury, after the Reſtoration ſilenc'd and put to trouble — had been by Trade a Glover. — Contin p. 756. Account, p. 605. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 966. 2^d^ Edit.

Mr. Buſh a Teacher of A, B, C.

Mr. John Buſh, Vicar of Huiſh cum Langport in Somerſetſhire, firſt taught a Grammar-School while his Wife kept a Shop, and then deſcended to teach A, B, C, to Children. Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 764.

Many of them had good Eſtates of their own.

16. Many of the Nonconforming Miniſters had good Eſtates of their own, which might induce them the rather to refrain from Conformity, while they had ſufficient Temporals to live upon.

Mr. Bagſhaw liv'd upon his own good Eſtate.

Mr. William Bagſhaw ejected or ſilenc'd at Gloſſop Com. Derb. by the Bartholomew Act, did thereupon retire to Ford in the adjacent Pariſh, and liv'd upon his own Eſtate. —— And having a good Eſtate, he had an Heart to honour God with it. Account, p. 200.

Mr. Woodcock had a good Eſtate of his own.

Mr. Woodcock, after his Ejectment from St. Andrew Underſhaft, London, at laſt ſettled at Hackney, and at firſt preach'd in his own Houſe, and afterwards with Dr. Bates, but always gratis, having a good Eſtate of his own. [Tho. Woodcock Aul. Cath. Art. Bacc. An. 1644. Idem Coll. Jeſ. Art. Mag. 1648. Idem Procurat. 1651-2. Coll. Jeſ. S. T. B. 1655. Reg. Acad.] Ibid. p. 44.

Mr. Philips went to his own Eſtate.

Mr. Humphrey Philips, M. A. turn'd out of Magdalen College in Oxon. in 1660. and out of Sherborn Com. Dorſet in 1662. after ſeveral Removes went to his own Eſtate at Beckington, where he liv'd many Years preaching far and near to divers Congregations. Ibid. p. 260.

Mr. Bennet remov'd to an Eſtate.

Mr. Edward Bennet, M. A. ejected from Morden in Surrey 1662. after preaching and lying in Priſon, upon the Death of a near Relation in 1669. he remov'd to his native Place of South-Brewham in Somerſetſhire, where he had an Eſtate, and there he held on preaching privately till he died Nov. 8, 1673. Ibid. p. 278.

Mr. Stockton was bleſs'd with a good Eſtate.
Auoden. Stockton Coll. Chr. Art. Bacc. An. 1649. Idem Coll. Caii Art. Mag. 1653. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Owen Stockton, M. A. choſen Preacher at Colcheſter, and ſilenc'd in 1662. God bleſſed him with a good Eſtate, and he made a good Uſe of it while he liv'd: And when he dy'd was a great Benefactor to Gonvill and Caius College in Cambridge. Ibid. p. 292.

Mr. Creſwick bought an Eſtate of 300l. per Ann.

Mr. James Creſwick, B. D. ejected from Freſhwater, the beſt Living in the Iſle of Wight, afterwards went into his native Countrey of Yorkſhire, and bought an Eſtate of 300*l. per Ann.* at Beal four Miles from Pontefract; and died in Jan. 1691-2. aged 73. or 75. Account, p. 340. and Contin. p. 510. See Feb. 3, 1662.

Mr. Beck was bleſs'd with an Eſtate.

Mr. Robert Beck, M. A. of St. Stephen's near Canterbury, when he was ſilenc'd in 1662. aſſiſted his Brethren Mr. Ventreſs and others in their Work, preaching Account, p. 375.

December 1662.

14 Car. II.

Rob. Beck Coll. S. Petri Cantabr. Art. Magiſter Anno 1645. Reg. Acad.

uſually once every Lord's-Day. God having bleſs'd him with an Eſtate, he took nothing for his Pains, but abounded in Hoſpitality, and all manner of good Works, —— and died in the Exerciſe of Charity to ſuch as were in Want, Aug. 31, 1679.

Mr. Coppin liv'd and died upon his own Eſtate.
Edvardus Coppin Coll. C. C. Art. Bac. ad Baptiſt. An. 1643.
Edv. Coppin Coll. C. C. Art. Mag. An. 1646. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Edward Coppin, M. A. Miniſter of Wooton in Kent, at Bartholomew Day 1662. he did what was requir'd in order to his Continuance in his publick Charge, but was not afterwards eaſy under the Change, and therefore left his Living, and betook himſelf to his native Village and his own Houſe at Beakſbourn, where he liv'd upon his own Eſtate; and was in great Eſteem —— and there died and was buried at Wootton. [I remember the Man, and have heard he was himſelf Patron of the Living, and for his Eaſe diſpos'd of it to another Man.]

Account, p. 386.

Mr. Trench was a Man of great Subſtance.
Not benefic'd at the Time of the Act of Uniformity.
He died March 30, 1689. ætat. 46.

Mr. Edmund Trench, a Nonconforming Miniſter, never receiv'd a Penny on the Account of his miniſterial Labours. He devoted the tenth, and for ſome Years the ſeventh Part of his Income to charitable Uſes, laying out every Year a conſiderable Sum in good Books, and other ways for the Benefit of thoſe he preach'd to. He contributed liberally out of his own Purſe to ſuch young Miniſters as had a diſcouraging Allowance, &c.

Account, p. 390. *and Contin. p.*586.

Mr. Thompſon was rich, and did good.

Mr. Joſeph Thompſon Miniſter at Seſton in Lancaſhire, had a pleaſant Seat and rich Parſonage which he quited in 1660. He was rich, and did good with his Eſtate. He ſpent the latter Part of his Life at Ormſkirk, where he died in 1669. or 1670.

Account, p. 411.

Mr. Latham liv'd nobly on a good Eſtate.

Mr. Paul Latham forſook his rich Parſonage of Standiſh Com. Lanc. in 1662. He had a good Eſtate, and liv'd very nobly. He died in 1663. aged about 54.

Ibid. p. 412.

Mr. Leadbeater had a good Eſtate.
Tho. Leadbeater Coll. Chriſti Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1651. Art. Mag. Coll. Chr. An. 1656. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Thomas Leadbeater after his Ejectment from Hinkley Com. Leic. retir'd into his own Countrey to Namptwich, where he had a very good Correſpondence with the publick Miniſter —— had a good Eſtate, and preach'd privately in his own Houſe, &c.

Ibid. p. 425.

Mr. St. Nicholas had a good Eſtate.
He died at Burbage, May 27, 1698.

Mr. John St. Nicholas ejected or ſilenc'd at Lutterworth Com. Leic. —— He had a good Eſtate, and marry'd the Earl of Kent's Daughter, and was an able Scholar. He died in his 95th Year, and went to the publick Church as long as he was able to go abroad, &c.

Account, p. 426. and Contin. p. 640.

Mr. Mells had a ſufficient Eſtate.

Mr. Moſes Mells, after his Ejectment from Kerton in Lindſey, remov'd to Lincoln, thence to Leſſingham, thence to Sleford Town, where he continu'd the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry, he had an Eſtate of his own, and was not chargeable to the People.

Account, p. 458.

Mr. Whiting had a plentiful Eſtate.
Nat. Whitinge Coll. Regin. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. An. 1631. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Nathaniel Whiting after his Ejectment from Aldwinkle All-Saints in Com. Northampt. gather'd a Church at Cranford. —— He had a plentiful Eſtate and made good Uſe of it, &c.

Account, p. 495. and Contin. p. 640.

Mr. Coates had a Houſe and good Eſtate.
Sam. Coates Coll. Eman. Cant. Art. Bacc. An. 1637. Art. Mag. 1641. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Samuel Coates, M. A. ejected from Weſt-Bridgeford in 1662. remov'd to Wathe near Rotherham in Yorkſhire, and thence to a Houſe of his own at Rawden. He had a good Eſtate, and preach'd at Wathe, at Rawden, and at Idle, gratis, &c.

Account, p. 530.

Mr. Herborn had ſome Eſtate, and was charitable with it.

Mr. William Herborn ejected at Kirton Com. Nott. ſome Time after his Ejectment he liv'd at Watford in Hertfordſhire, and afterwards in his native County of Norfolk. He had ſome Eſtate of his own, and was very charitable with it. At his Death he left ſeveral Legacies to charitable Uſes, and amongſt the reſt to poor Nonconforming Miniſters, &c.

Ibid. p. 537.

Mr. Aſhurſt liv'd handſomely on his own Eſtate.

Mr. James Aſhurſt, M. A. ejected from a Fellowſhip in Magdalen College, Oxon. became a diſſenting Preacher at Newington-Green. He was a Gentleman of a good Family, had a learned Education, —— had ſome Eſtate of his own, and liv'd handſomely and reputably; —— a conſiderable Man.

Contin. p. 104.

Mr. Ray purchas'd an Eſtate.
Joh. Wray Coll. Trin. Art. Magiſter Anno 1651. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. John Ray Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, M. A. quitted his Fellowſhip in 1662. becauſe he could not comply with the Act of Uniformity, liv'd ſometimes at Cheſter with Biſhop Wilkins, and ſometimes at other Places. —— In 1677. he remov'd into Eſſex, and in 1679. remov'd into an Eſtate he had purchas'd in Black-Notley, the Place of his Nativity, in which he continu'd till the Day of his Death, which was Jan. 17, 1705.

Ibid. p. 121.

Mr. Cleland had an Eſtate to live upon.

Mr. Benjamin Cleland, M. A. ejected from Stokenham Com. Devon. after 1671. ſpent the Remainder of his Days for the moſt Part at Pottlemouth, about ten Miles from Dartmouth, where he had an Eſtate.

*Ibid. p.*314.

Mr. Leaver had an Eſtate and a Jointure with his Wife.

Mr. Henry Leaver ejected from St. John's in Newcaſtle. —— He was remarkable for his Generoſity and Liberality. Beſides his Wife's Jointure, he had an Eſtate of his own of about an 100*l. per Ann.* and he had no Children, &c.

*Ibid. p.*655.

Mr. Cromwell had a competent Eſtate.
*Joh. Cromwell Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. ad Bapt. An.*1652. Art. Mag. An. 1656. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. John Cromwell ejected or ſilenc'd at Claworth in Nottinghamſhire, —— died at Barnby-Moore in that County, the Place of his Nativity, where he had a competent Eſtate.

Ibid. p. 691.

Mr. Stephenſon was able to keep a plentiful Houſe.
He died July 15, 1685.

Mr. James Stephenſon, M. A. ejected from the Vicarage of Martock Com. Somerſet. remov'd to an Eſtate he had in the Pariſh. —— Afterward notwithſtanding his many Wandrings and Loſſes (which were not inconſiderable) yet what remain'd was ſo bleſs'd and increas'd, that he was able to keep a plentiful Houſe (to which he was inclin'd, being given to Hoſpitality,) and to be kind to others, and yet provide well for his own, after all.

Ibid. p. 762.

Mr. Arliſh did good with a good Eſtate.

Mr. Arliſh, M. A. ejected or ſilenc'd at Holden in Yorkſhire; was of a very publick Spirit. He had a good Eſtate, and did good to many with it.

Account, p. 822.

Dr. Sam. Winter had a good Eſtate to be rich in good Works.
Sam. Winter Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc. An. 1631.

Dr. Samuel Winter, ejected from his Provoſtſhip of Trinity College near Dublin in Ireland, came afterwards over into England, and exercis'd his Miniſtry in ſeveral Places, eſpecially in the County of Rutland where he died An. 1666. —— He had a good Eſtate, rich in good Works, and one that deviſ'd liberal Things, &c.

Ibid. p. 545.

Mr. Sa-

Mr. Cradock was Heir to a rich Kinſman.
Sam. Cradock Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc An. 1640. Art. Mag. 1644. S. T. B. 1651. & eod. Anno unus e Prædicatoribus ab Acad. emittendis. Reg. Acad.
He died Oct. 7, 1706. in the 86th Year of his Age.

Mr. Samuel Cradock, B. D. left the Living of North-Cadbury Com. Somerſet. about 300*l. per Ann.* for the Sake of his Conſcience. Upon the Death of Mr. George Cradock, he became next Heir-Male to that old Gentleman Mr. Walter Cradock of Wickham-brook in Suffolk, who at his Death gave him his Eſtate: Which ſingular Providence Mr. Cradock us'd to acknowledge with great Thankfulneſs, and accordingly took this for his Motto: Nec ingratus nec inutilis videar vixiſſe.

Account, p. 581. and Contin. p. 731. Add, he was born at Greatham in Rutland, and was Brother to Dr. Zach. Cradock Provoſt of Eaton.

Mr. Edward Hancock, ejected from the Pariſh of St. Philip in Briſtol. He died at Howill within two Miles of that City. He bred his only Son at Oxford, and left him ſome thouſands, &c.

Mr. Pool was enrich'd by a Colliery.

Mr. Thomas Pool ejected or ſilenc'd at Talk on the Hill, Com. Staff. His Father left him a little Land, in which he had dug twenty Years before, and could find nothing: But the Son after his Nonconformity found a Mine of Coals there, which (ſays my Author Dr. Sampſon) in the Years 1674 and 1675. clear'd him 800 l.

Mr. Pindar had a good Eſtate.

Mr. John Pindar ejected or ſilenc'd at Wingfield in Suffolk. He had a good Eſtate and liv'd afterwards at Ouſden, conſtantly frequenting his Pariſh Church till he died in 1682.

Account, p. 659.

Mr. Crook had a conſiderable Eſtate.

Mr. John Crook ejected or ſilenc'd at Denby Chapel in Pennyſton Pariſh, Yorkſhire. He had a conſiderable Eſtate, and preach'd but rarely and privately. He died at Wakefield Jan. 9, 1686-7.

Ibid. p. 792.

Mr. Scurr had a good Eſtate that made him the more unfortunate.
Leon. Skurr Coll. Sidn. Cant. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. An. 1647. Art. Mag. 1652. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Leonard Scurr, ſilenc'd at Beeſton in Yorkſhire, had a good Eſtate in this Neighbourhood; and ſome Time after his being ſilenc'd. He and his Mother and Maid liv'd retir'd at a Houſe in the Park, where Thieves breaking in, robb'd and murder'd them, and ſet the Houſe on Fire, on Jan. 22, 1679-80.

Account, p. 800. Contin. p. 346.

Mr. Tapper had an Eſtate that would bear great Things
He died March 3, 1708-9. aged 73.

Mr. Samuel Tapper, B. A. by Cromwell preſented to the Vicarage of St. Meren in Cornwall, was forc'd to give way to the returning ſequeſtred Vicar.——Out of a good Eſtate he hardly allow'd himſelf what was convenient: To religious Poor, poor Miniſters, poor Scholars, neighbouring Families, and common Objects, 'tis thought he gave away nine Parts in ten of his Income. He continued a ſingle Map, and his Eſtate would bear great Things, &c.

Ibid. p. 221. Account, p. 149.

Mr. Snow had an Eſtate fell to him of twenty thouſand Pounds.

Robert Snow, M. A. ejected or ſilenc'd at Morchard-Biſhop Com. Devon. By the Death of his elder Brother, Mr. Simon Snow Merchant, Burgeſs for the City of Exeter, an Eſtate reckon'd to be worth 20,000*l.* fell to him.

Contin. p. 272. Account, p. 240.

Mr. Stuke had a good Eſtate. He died about 1677.

Mr. William Stuke, M. A. was turn'd out of the Living of Ilſington Com. Devon. and ſettled at Whitcombe in the Pariſh of Truſham, and having a good Eſtate, when the Times would bear it, he built a Meeting-Houſe upon his own Land, and preach'd in it for ſome Years to a large Congregation.

Contin. p. 273. Account, p. 240.

Mr. Moore was a Man of Eſtate.

Mr. John Moore ejected from Clavering in Eſſex, by the Bartholomew Act. He preached afterwards at Eaſton in Huntingdonſhire, where he had an Eſtate, and died in 1673.

Contin. p. 484.

Mr. Weaver had an Eſtate and a large Increaſe of it.

Mr. Humphrey Weaver, after his Ejectment from Crundall in Hampſhire, continu'd preaching in his own Houſe at Crundall, to the Time of his Death in 1696. God having bleſſed him with a large Increaſe of his Eſtate after his Ejectment, &c.

Ibid. p. 507.

Mr Bazely was a Man of Subſtance, and married his Daughter well.

Mr. John Bazely, in Poſſeſſion of the ſequeſtred Living of Broughton in Northamptonſhire, gave way to the old Incumbent Mr. Bentham. And being a Man of Subſtance, after his Ejectment he bought a Houſe and Eſtate at Kettering and liv'd there. A Man of great Note.——His only Daughter was married to Eſquire Morgan of Kingſthorpe near Northampton.

Ibid. p. 643.

[Many other Inſtances might be added from other Writers, and from very ſure Reports, of the diſſenting Miniſters living in more Plenty, and dying with more Wealth, than moſt of the parochial Clergy in the eſtabliſh'd Church.]

Many of them married Women of good Condition and Fortunes.

17. And many of thoſe Teachers who ſuffer'd by Ejection or Silence, did afterwards improve their Circumſtances by marrying Women of Condition and good Fortunes in the World, for better Help and Support to them.

Mr. Hughes married a Woman of good Portion.

Mr. Stephen Hughes ejected from the Living of Mydrym in Carmarthenſhire, ſome Time after his Ejectment, married a pious Woman in Swanzey, whoſe Portion, Frugality and Induſtry contributed very much to his comfortable Subſiſtence and future Uſefulneſs. He was of a publick Spirit, and printed ſeveral Welſh Books at his own Charge, &c.

Account, p. 718.

Mr. Thomas a Gentlewoman of very good Circumſtances.
He died about 1688.

Mr. Titus Thomas, Miniſter at Aſton Chapel, was after the Act of Uniformity the fix'd Paſtor of a Congregation at Salop, where he marry'd a Gentlewoman of very good Circumſtances, that enabled him to be uſeful.

Ibid. p. 565.

Mr. Henry came to a comfortable Eſtate by Marriage.

Mr. Philip Henry, M. A. who was oblig'd to give up Worthenbury to the ſequeſtred Incumbent Dr. Henry Bridgman, and was for ſome time Curate under him; preached ſometimes occaſionally till Bartholomew-Day 62; and at Michaelmas following, he removed from Worthenbury to Broadoak, where he had a comfortable Eſtate that came to him by Marriage, which was a great Support to him, and enabled him to relieve many that were in want.

Ibid. p. 793. There is a printed Account of his Life and Death in 8vo.

Mr. Brice married a Gentlewoman of a conſiderable Eſtate.
He died March 15, 1716.

Mr. John Brice was ſettled Miniſter of Marſhwood Com. Dorſet, and continued there till Auguſt 1662. In his latter Years he marry'd one Mrs. Floyer, a Gentlewoman of a good Family, who had a conſiderable Eſtate, by which means he liv'd and dy'd in Plenty.

Contin. p. 430.

Mr. Prigg had a good Portion to purchaſe Land.

Mr. Nicholas Prigg, ejected or ſilenc'd at Aſhford in Kent, was a celebrated Preacher and one of eminent Parts. Marrying one Mrs. Scot, he with her Portion purchaſed ſome Land, which maintained them after his Ejectment.

Ibid. p. 537.

Mr. Dan. Williams married a Lady conſiderably wealthy.

Contin. p. 970.

Mr. Daniel Williams [afterwards D. D. by a Diploma from Scotland] while a diſſenting Teacher at Dublin, there married a Wife, who was not only a Lady of diſtinguiſh'd Piety, but of an honourable Family, and conſiderably wealthy; and ſo, through the Bounty of Divine Providence, he came to be in more plentiful Circumſtances than any of his Brethren.

Dr. John Owen.
It is a bitter Character given him by Biſhop Parker, that he ſcribbled with rough and diſagreeable Language, with no weight of Reaſon, and with an unheard of Licentiouſneſs in Lying-Hiſtory of his own Times, 8vo. 352.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 558.

See Faſti Ox. Vol. II. c. 750.

[To theſe might be added the great Leader of the Independents, Dr. John Owen, who, after the Settlement of the Church, ſettled himſelf in London, ſet up a Congregation, &c. and at length burying his Wife, married (after ſixty Years of Age) the young Widow of Thomas Doyley, his Neighbour (younger Brother of Sir John Doyley of Cherilhampton near Stadham, Baronet) and took all Occaſions to enjoy the comfortable Importances of this Life. —— And a Man of greater Moderation and a better Style, Mr. John Howe, for a ſecond Wife married a prudent excellent Widow, of a very conſiderable Jointure, that of itſelf was ſufficient to ſupport them in Eaſe and Plenty. There were many other Inſtances of the like kind.

Some liv'd well upon occaſional Contributions.

18. Some of them without viſible Income lived well upon occaſional Contributions, Gifts, and Collections made for them and their Families.

Mr. Jephcot had the Promiſe of two hundred Pounds per Ann. to be collected for him.
Jul. 20. 1662. Inſtitutus eſt per Collationem Gibſonus Lucas, S. T. P. ad Vicariam perpet. de Swafham S. Mariæ in Com. Cantabrig. Reg. Elien.

Contin. p. 151.

Mr. Jonathan Jephcot of Swaſham-Prior in the County of Cambridge, after his being ſilenc'd, and incapacitated for publick Service, had nine or ten Perſons who promiſed to raiſe him among them two hundred Pounds per Annum towards his more comfortable Subſiſtance. They lived in ſeveral diſtant Places, and ſome were Gentlemen of good Eſtates; and for ſome Time they continued their Bounty. But in Proceſs of Time ſome died, and others fell off; and he was ſupported by a School he taught, and a ſmall Eſtate he had of his own.

Mr. Thorpe had Preſents of fifty Pounds the firſt Year.

Account p. 679.

Mr. Edmund Thorpe, M. A. ejected on the Bartholomew Act from Selſcomb in Suſſex, had the firſt Year after his being ejected, to the Value of fifty Pounds given him in Preſents. He afterwards taught School privately, and was connived at. He had many Boarders, and ſo lived comfortably.

The conforming Clergy had an Almoner for them.

Contin. p. 159.

Mr. Robert Wilſon, B. A. Student in Jeſus College Cambridge, an occaſional Preacher, was a zealous Diſſenter. He was eminently pious and charitable, and an Arch-Beggar for the Nonconformiſts, and abundance of Money paſſed to them through his Hands. Among others the learned Dr. Henry Moore, and Dr. Spencer Dean of Ely made him their Almoner.

Mr. Jennings had Money given to diſcharge his Debts.
Ric. Jennings Aul. Cath. Cantabr. Art. Bac. Ann. 1635.
Ric. Jennings Aul. Cath. Art. Mag. 1639. Reg. Acad.

Account, p. 650. and Contin. p. 802.

Mr. Richard Jennings ejected from the Rectory of Combe Com. Suffolk, lived afterwards in the Parſonage Houſe 'till 1678. when he came to London. He entred this Paſſage in his Diary of Remarkable Providences. "Whereas in Auguſt 1662. when I laid down I was in Debt about one hundred ſixty Pounds, " and had but little coming in for myſelf, Wife, and five Children; and was " alſo ſome Years after unjuſtly forc'd to diſcharge a Bond of fifty Pounds, and " the Education and diſpoſing of my three Sons ſtood me in about two hundred " Pounds, yet by God's merciful Providence I diſcharg'd all my Debts."

Mr. John Argor kept a Diary of the ſeveral Sums given to him.

Ibid. p. 466.

Mr. John Argor ſilenc'd at Braintree Com. Eſſex, continued there ſome Time after his being laid aſide. —— He kept a Diary of God's Dealings with him, in ſtirring up Friends to aſſiſt him. I will give a few Inſtances in his own Words. Jan. 2, 1662-3. I received five Pounds two Shillings; this was when I was laid aſide for not conforming. So graciouſly did the Lord provide for his unworthy Servant. On Jan. 3. I received three Pounds nineteen Shillings, the Lord have the Praiſe. And I received three Pounds fifteen Shillings, which was gather'd for me by my Friends. This great Experience of God's gracious Providence I received almoſt at one and the ſame Time: All Glory be to God Bleſſed for ever. On April 2, 1663. I received five Pounds twelve Shillings; ſo graciouſly doth the Lord regard the low Condition of his Servant. Bleſſed be his holy Name for ever. I received likewiſe on the eighth Day four Pounds; ſo good is the Lord in ſtirring up Hearts, and opening Hands to the Relief of his unworthy Servant.

He died at Coptford in Decemb. 1679. ætat. 77.

Yet ſome of them leſs deſerved the Bounty given to them.

19. Many of thoſe that were put into the Number of ejected or ſilenc'd Miniſters were not Puritans, or Preſbyterians, or properly Independents; but were truly Phanaticks of ſuch ſtrange Principles and Notions, as rendred them incapable of conforming to any eſtabliſh'd Church.

Account, p. 39, and Contin. p. 58.

Mr. John Sympſon ſilenc'd in his Lectureſhip at Botolph Biſhopſgate or Aldgate in London, was a great Antinomian and Anabaptiſt.

Mr. Jennings an Anabaptiſt.
And Mr. Frewen.
And Mr. Head.
And Mr. Dyke.

Account p. 330, 332.

Ibid. p. 370.

Mr. Thomas Jennings ejected or ſilenc'd at Brimsfield Com. Gloc. was a moderate Anabaptiſt. —— Mr. Paul Frewen ejected or ſilenc'd at Kemply Com. Gloc. an Anabaptiſt. —— Mr. Joſhua Head ſilenc'd in the ſame County was alſo an Anabaptiſt. —— Mr. Daniel Dyke ejected or ſilenc'd at Great Hadham Com. Hertf. an Anabaptiſt.

And Mr. Breviter.

Ibid. p. 484.

Mr. Breviter in 56. turn'd Anabaptiſt, left his Living, and liv'd at Norwich, and was ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity, though not ejected by it.

And Mr. Hardcaſtle.

Ibid. p. 810.

Mr. Thomas Hardcaſtle ſilenc'd at Bramham in the County of York, was Paſtor to a Society of ſober Anabaptiſts at Briſtol, where they ſent him to the Houſe of Correction. He died at Briſtol, 1679.

Mr. Dyer inclin'd to the Quakers.

Contin. p. 147.

Mr. William Dyer ejected from Choleſbury Com. Bucks. In the latter Part of his Life he inclin'd to the Quakers, and was buried among them in Southwark, in April 1696. ætat. 60.

Mr. Adams an Anabaptiſt.

Mr. Richard Adams, ejected or ſilenc'd by the Act of Uniformity at Humberſton in Yorkſhire. He was an Anabaptiſt, and ſucceeded Mr. Daniel Dyke in the Care of the Congregation at Devonſhire-Square. Ibid. p. 594.

Mr. Swift a Fifth-Monarchy Man.
He died Ann. 1701. aged 86.

Mr. Richard Swift ejected from Edgworth Com. Midd. for his Nonconformity, removed to Mill-Hill in Hendon Pariſh; kept Boarders, &c. He was led away with the Fifth-Monarchy Notions, as well as ſome others that were very peculiar. Ibid. p. 812.

So Mr. Stonham.
He died March 30, 1676.

Mr. Benjamin Stonham Chaplain to Sir Anthony Irby in Lincolnſhire, being ſilenc'd at Ipſwich, came to London. He was zealous for the Millennium, &c. Ibid. p. 787.

And Mr. Woodal.

Mr. Frederick Woodal ejected from Woodbridge in Suffolk, was not only a ſtrict Independent, but zealous for the Fifth-Monarchy. Ibid. p. 799.

And Mr. Brown.

Mr. Robert Brown in the ſequeſtred Living of White Lady-Aſton in Worceſterſhire, and oblig'd to leave it at the Reſtauration, was a Fifth-Monarchy Man, and wrote againſt hearing the Pariſh Miniſters. Dr. Stillingfleet ſaid, That his Jerubbaal contained the Subſtance of all that was ſaid by the Old Browniſts. Ibid. p. 895.

And Mr. Marſden a rigid Separatiſt.
See Biſhop Parker's Hiſtory of his own Times, 8vo. p. 80, 81.

Mr. Jeremiah Marſden ſilenc'd at Ardſley Chapel near Wakefield in Yorkſhire, was known in and about London by the Name of Ralphſon, and under that Name was written againſt by Mr. Richard Baxter in 1684. on the Account of his rigorous ſeparating Principles, which went ſo far as to run down Pariſh Worſhip as idolatrous, —— and was inclin'd to the Notions of the Fifth-Monarchiſts. Ibid p. 945. Account p. 76.

*Mr.*Fran. Bampfield, a Sabbatarian.

Mr. Francis Bampfield deprived of a Prebend in the Church of Exeter, and of his Living of Sherborn Com. Dorſet. was extremely admired by his Hearers, 'till he fell into the Sabbatarian Notion, of which he afterwards was ſo zealous an Aſſertor. *Contin. p.*495.

Mr. Paxford an Anabaptiſt.
Mr. Jer. White took up the Notions of Origen.

Mr. Thomas Paxford after his Ejectment from Clapton Com. Glouc. became an Anabaptiſt, and fell under ſome Cenſures as to his Morals. —— Mr. Jeremy White, M. A. Chaplain to Oliv. Cromwell. —— A Book of his has been publiſhed ſince his Death, entitled, The Reſtoration of all Things: Or a Vindication of the Goodneſs and Grace of God to be manifeſted at laſt in the Recovery of his whole Creation out of their Fall, 8vo. 1712. But this is perfect Originiſm, which is too unſcriptural, too ventureſome an Hypotheſis, to be depended on with Safety. Ibid. p. 506. Ibid. p. 85.

Mr. Poſtlethwait a Fifth-Monarchy Man.

Mr. Gualter Poſtlethwait ſilenc'd at Lewes in Suſſex, was in the Fifth-Monarchy Notion, as appear'd by ſomething he printed, &c. [Gualt. Poſtlethwait Coll. Eman. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. ad Baptiſt. Ann. 1646.] Account p. 675.

Mr. Anth. Palmer Anabaptiſtically inclin'd.
Mr. Zach. Mayne a Socinian turn'd Arian.
Mr. Sherwin fond of the millenary Notions.
Mr. Manning of Socinian Principles.
Quidam Gul. Manning Coll. Caii Cant. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1650.
Mr. Burthogg a Friend to the Papiſts.

[To theſe may be added Mr. Anthony Palmer who got into the rich Rectory of Bourton on the Water in Glouceſterſhire, and about the Time of his Majeſty's Reſtauration driven from his Charge by Force of ſome of the Royaliſts of that Town as a moſt pernicious Perſon; was Anabaptiſtically inclin'd, and a great Favourer of thoſe of that Perſuaſion, and their Tenets. —— Mr. Zachary Mayne turn'd out of a Fellowſhip in Magdalen College Oxon. was an Independent Preacher, much troubled with Socinian Doubts, and ſoon after from a Socinian became an Arian; yet at length by a free Conſideration of the Holy Scriptures, and a ſubduing the Prejudices of his Education, he came to be fully convinc'd of the Truth of the Catholick Faith concerning the Holy Trinity. —— Mr. Sherwin ejected from Wallington and Baldock in Hertfordſhire, bent his Studies very much to the obſcure Prophecies of Scripture, —— and was extremely fond of his millenary Notions. —— Mr. William Manning ejected or ſilenc'd at Middleton in Suffolk, a Man of Parts and great Learning. But he fell into the Socinian Principles, to which he adher'd to his Death; which was in Febr. 1710-11. — And even ſome warp'd toward Popery: A ſcandalous and virulent Pamphlet entitled, Prudential Reaſons for Repealing the Penal Laws againſt all Recuſants, and for a General Toleration, 1687. was generally ſuppoſed to be written by Richard Burthogg, a temporizing Fanatico-Romanus, that is, a Fanatick in Profeſſion, and an Aſſociate with Papiſts in Converſation.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 472. Ibid. 2d Edit. p. 920. Account p. 361. Ibid. p. 659. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 1028. 2d Edit.

Some were crazy and diſorder'd in their Heads.

20. Some of the Miniſters who refuſed Obedience to the Act of Uniformity were then or ſoon after crazy and diſorder'd in their Heads and Minds, and ſo became great Objects of Compaſſion.

Mr. Porter very melancholy and troubled in Mind.
So Mr. Thomas Dawkes ejected from Queen-hithe, London, is call'd a very melancholy Divine.

Mr. George Porter, B. D. who had been Canon of Chriſt-Church in Oxford, and in 62. was caſt out of his Fellowſhip of Magdalen College, was of a melancholy Conſtitution, which ſometimes prevail'd to ſuch a Degree, that for ſeveral Years he had little comfortable Enjoyment of his Friends, himſelf, or his God. There are three Letters of his in Mr. Timothy Rogers's Diſcourſe of Trouble of Mind. Account p. 71. and Contin. p. 104.

Mr. Sedgwick full of Prophecies of Doomſday.
Will. Sedgwick Coll. Caii Cantabr. Art. Mag. 1638. Reg. Acad.

Mr. William Sedgwick ejected or ſilenc'd in the City of Ely, was commonly called Doomſday Sedgwick [from his bold Pretenſions of foretelling the Day of Judgment] they who knew him well repreſent him as a pious Man with a diſorder'd Head. —— He was a conceited whimſical Perſon, and very unſettled in his Opinions. Sometimes he was a Preſbyterian, ſometimes an Independent, and at other Times an Anabaptiſt. Sometimes he was a Prophet; at other Times he received Revelations, and pretended to a Viſion that Doomſday was at Hand, &c. Account p. 117. Athen. Oxon. *Vol.*II.*col.*335.

Mr. Fowler little better than diſtracted.
He died in the latter End of January 1677.

Mr. Chriſtopher Fowler, M. A. loſing his Fellowſhip of Eaton, and being depriv'd of his Cure at Reading for Nonconformity, retired to London, —— he was eſteemed little better than crazed or diſtracted for ſome Time before his Death. Ibid. p. 450.

Mr. Evans under a great Decay of Memory, &c.

Mr. John Evans an itinerant Preacher in Wales, and Maſter of Oſweſtry School in Salop, from whence he was ejected in 62. and underwent ſome Hardſhips that impair'd his Health, and haſten'd that Weakneſs which he fell into ſoon after. —— by which God gave him his Quietus for ſome Time before he died by the Decay of his Memory and Abilities, &c. Account p. 843.

Mr. Alexander was much given to Melancholy. Edw. Alexander Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bacc. 1651. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Edward Alexander, M. A. ejected from Wickham in Kent, was a Perſon (eſpecially after he was caſt out of his Church) given to Melancholy. —— He ſtrove againſt any Habit of Evil, and denied himſelf at laſt to his Prejudice. Ibid. 383.

Mr. Downe had his Reaſon impair'd.

Mr. Mark Downe eminent in the Miniſtry among the Chriſtians at Exeter, had his Reaſon impair'd for ſome Time before his Deceaſe. Ibid. 247.

Mr. Yates had his Intellectuals craz'd.

Mr. Robert Yates ejected for his Nonconformity from Warrington Com. Lanc. in 62. was not long after 72. ſeiz'd by a Palſy, which craz'd his Intellectuals, and rendred him incapable of Work a Year before he died. Ibid. 409.

Mr. Troyſell fell into a fatal Melancholy. Tho. Troyſell Aul. Clar. Art. Bac. 1627. A. M. 1631. He died about 1672.

Mr. Thomas Troyſell Miniſter at Glun 'till the Bartholomew Act; the Iniquity of the Times, and his own comparative Uſeleſſneſs, after his being ſilenc'd, made a mighty Impreſſion upon him, which terminated in a fatal Melancholy. Ibid. 562.

Dr. Cheynell was diſordered, if not diſtracted.

Francis Cheynell, D. D. was put out at Petworth Com. Suſſex, to make Room for Dr. King Biſhop of Chicheſter, in 1660. Mr. Wood, the Oxonian, ſpeaks of his being diſtracted; And I have been told by Mr. Stretton his Curate, that he was indeed diſorder'd in his Brain ſome Years before his Death. Account p. 675. and Contin. p. 817.

Mr. Bryan in Trouble of Mind. Sam. Bryan Coll. Petr. Art. Bac. Ann. 1651. Art. Mag. Coll. Petr. Ann. 1655. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Samuel Bryan Fellow of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, was yet in the Flower of his Age, when he was caſt out of his Living of Aulſley Com. Warwic. —— It pleaſed God ſome Years after to viſit him with Trouble of Mind and Melancholy, under which he died. Account p. 743.

Mr. Sadler not right in his Head.

Mr. John Sadler, M. A. Maſter of Magdalen College in Cambridge, gave Way to Dr. Rainbow the former Maſter in 1660. —— It muſt be own'd he was not always right in his Head, eſpecially towards the latter End of his being Maſter of the College. Contin. p. 116.

Mr. Mitchell diſpos'd to deſtroy himſelf.

Mr. Nathaniel Mitchel ejected or ſilenc'd at North-Walſham Com. Norf. was under more than ordinary Melancholy for many Years. He was reſcu'd in a Battle wherein few eſcape, being under ſore Temptations to deſtroy himſelf. He had ſeveral Times told ſome of his Relations, and Dr. Collinges amongſt others, that he muſt put an End to his Days, not being able to bear the Trouble he was under, &c. Ibid. 622.

Mr. Lawrence fell diſtracted.

Mr. Lawrence was ejected or ſilenc'd at ſome uncertain Place in the County of Devon. —— He being left to himſelf, fell into groſs Sin, preached a publick penitential Sermon on that Account, and afterwards fell diſtracted, and continued in that Condition many Years, &c. Ibid. 381.

Mr. Jonath. Tuckney, M. A. ejected, Fellow of St. John's, Cambr. though a Man of Learning, was rendred uſeleſs by Melancholy. Contin. p. 127.

Mr. Rob. Whitaker a Nonconformiſt Miniſter, was often overcome with Melancholy.

Mr. Truman acted like a Mad-man.

Dr. Calamy places this after the Bartholomew Act, when it muſt be certainly before it.

Joſ. Truman Aul. Clar. Art. Mag. Ann. 1654. non autem occurrit B. D. Coll. Tho. Baker MSS.

[And ſome others by their Behaviour betray'd a great meaſure of Madneſs in them]. Mr. Joſeph Truman, B. D. continued for ſome Time in his Living of Cromwell Com. Not. after the Act of Uniformity took Place; but did not read all the Service in the Book of Common-Prayer. This occaſioned an Indictment againſt him: And when the Tryal came on, the Judge aſk'd him why he did not read the Common-Prayer according to the Directions of the Act and the Rubrick. My Lord (ſays Mr. Truman) ſhall I tell your Lordſhip plainly what the true Reaſon is? Yes! ſays the Judge. Why then, my Lord (ſays Mr. Truman) the true Reaſon why I do not read the Common-Prayer according to the Direction given, is, becauſe there are LIES in it. The Judge was ſo incenſed at this Expreſſion, that he immediately fin'd him five Pounds, for throwing Contempt on the Book of Common-Prayer in the Face of the Court; and he was forced to pay it down immediately before the Court would give him any farther Hearing. —— See the Inconſiſtencies of Mr. William Dell Maſter of Caius College in Cambridge, &c. the Inſtedfaſtneſs of Mr. Shepherd, Father and Son, —— and the Whimſicalneſs of many others, —— beſides many Inſtances in Mr. Wood, Dr. Walker, &c. take one only. Mr. Francis Bampfield, M. A. Miniſter of Shirbourne in Dorſetſhire, was not without great Diſturbance from Quakering Witches, as he pretended, 'till the Act of Uniformity caſt him out, 1662. He was always a Perſon ſo ſtrangely fickle and unſteady in his Judgment, that he was firſt a Churchman, then a Preſbyterian, afterwards an Independent, an Anabaptiſt, and at length almoſt a compleat Jew. So enthuſiaſtical and canting that he did almoſt craze and diſtract many of his Diſciples.

Ibid. 694.

Account p. 83. Contin. p. 131, 132.

Mr. Bampfield was Churchman, Preſbyterian, Independent, Anabaptiſt, and at laſt a Jew.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 571.

He died in Newgate Febr. 16, 1683.

Some few were ſcandalous in their Lives.

21. Some few were ſcandalous in their Lives, and were at leaſt no Credit to the Cauſe for which they were preſum'd to ſuffer.

Mr. Bull a great Sinner and Penitent.

Mr. Bull ejected or ſilenc'd at Newington Com. Midd. a good Scholar, and very agreeable Preacher. As to what remains, I deſire Leave to draw a Veil. — Mr. Stancliffe wrote in the Margin; His laſt Hours and dying Prayers and Tears, with the chearful Reſignation of his Soul to Chriſt, as offer'd to the worſt and chiefeſt of Sinners in the Goſpel, ſpake him both a penitent Sinner, and a returning Backſlider, &c. Account p. 471.

Mr. Thomas a Drunkard.

Mr. Howell Thomas ejected or ſilenc'd at Glyncorrwg in South Wales. He turned a drunken Steward. I am far from thinking ſuch Men as theſe a Credit to the Liſt of Sufferers, &c. Ibid. 732.

Mr. Greenwood had his Memory blackned.

Mr. Wallis a ſcandalous Liver.

Account p. 753. ibid.

Mr. Greenwood ejected or ſilenc'd at Hutton Chapel in Kendal Pariſh Com. Weſtm. was much valued as a Preacher; but accuſed of ſome Things that were ſcandalous, by which his Memory is blacken'd.

Mr. John Wallis, a Nonconformiſt, preached for ſome Time in Kendal Church, but is reported to have been of ſo ſcandalous a Life in ſeveral Reſpects, that his Memory is not worth preſerving.

Theſe Things help much to ſilence the Cry of Perſecution.

They ſuffer'd by no Arbitrary Power, but according to Law.

The Penalty of the Bartholomew Act was only Incapacity of publick Miniſtration.

The Law was made in Things indifferent.

They might indeed ſuffer for Conſcience Sake.

But their Scruples might have yielded to lawful Authority and publick Peace.

Uniformity was eſtabliſh'd for the Peace and Safety of the State.

The Sufferers were treated as Diſturbers of the Civil Government.

And upon that Foot the Laws were executed or relaxed and ſuſpended.

Under the greateſt Severities, Favour was ſhewn by the Judges, by the King, and by the Biſhops.

[Theſe Particulars rightly conſider'd will help to ſilence the Cries of Perſecution, which have been ſo often made and aggravated on this Occaſion of the Bartholomew Act. The ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters ſuffer'd not but according to Law, and no other Paſſive Obedience is requir'd by our happy Conſtitution. And even the Penalty impoſed upon the Breach of that Law was only an Incapacity to officiate in Publick, of which in every well conſtituted Government the ſupreme Legiſlature muſt be the Judge. Nor was that legiſlative Authority exercis'd, but in Things in their own Nature indifferent; and even thought to be ſo by many who choſe rather to ſuffer, than to conform to them. Conſcience indeed is a Sacred Guide, and the Ways of it are known only to God, and to the Thoughts of every Man's own Heart: And we ought in Charity to judge, that all who ſuffer'd on that Account did ſuffer for Conſcience Sake. But Scruples and Doubts may be endleſs, and it is moſt for the Eaſe and Benefit of private Perſons, as well as for the Peace and Order of a publick Society, that a greater Regard ſhould be had to the Sanctions of lawful Authority, than to our ſingular Doubts and Scruples. Eſpecially when that Uniformity was eſtabliſh'd for the Peace and Safety of the State, as well as for Concord and Order in the Church: And it is plain that the Proſecuting of Offenders againſt this and following Statutes for Conformity was under the general Opinion of their being Diſturbers of the Civil Government, rather than as Delinquents in Matters of Conſcience and Religion. And after all the Execution of thoſe Laws was ſometimes enforced and at other Times relaxed, according to the Change of Times and Men. And under the greateſt Severities Juſtice was temper'd with Mercy: As would appear by looking back on the Equity of the Judges, the Clemency of the King, and the Moderation of the Biſhops. To give a few Inſtances as confeſſed by their own Advocate.]

22. Many of the King's Judges ſhewed a Reſpect and Tenderneſs for thoſe Miniſters of the Separation who were afterwards proſecuted upon the Penal Laws.

The Sermon of Mr. Calamy was on Eli's trembling for fear of the Ark of God, and the whole Tendency of it was to raiſe Apprehenſions of the Danger of Religion in the preſent State of Government: And therefore ſeveral Writers reflected on it as ſeditious.

The Lord Mayor ſuſpended his Commitment, and took his Word for ſurrendring himſelf the next Day.

The King ordered his Releaſe in a few Days, far ſhort of the Time preſcribed in the Act.

And yet not willing to aſſume any diſpenſing Power, would have it ſome Deficiency in the Act, which did not appear, nor was there any Explanatory Bill offer'd to ſupply any Defect.

Dr. Calamy's Account p. 6.

Contin p. 11.

[The firſt Example that was made for offending againſt the Act of Uniformity ſeems to be that in the Caſe of Mr. Edmund Calamy, B. D. late Miniſter of Aldermanbury, London.] He was impriſon'd in Terrorem, for Preaching occaſionally after Bartholomew Day; but ſoon releaſed, when it was ſeen what a Reſort of Perſons of all Qualities there was to him in Newgate, and how generally the Severity was reſented. —— When he had continued there for a few Days, he was diſcharged by his Majeſty's expreſs Order. This being afterwards complained of in the Houſe of Commons, it was ſignify'd in that Houſe that his Releaſe from Impriſonment was not owing to the ſole Command of the King, but to a Deficiency in the Act of Parliament, that had not fully provided for his longer Reſtraint. Whereupon there was this Entry made in their Journal: Die Jovis Febr. 19. Upon Complaint made to this Houſe, that Mr. Calamy being committed to Priſon, upon Breach of the Act of Uniformity, was diſcharged upon Pretence of ſome Defect in the Act. Reſolved, That it be referr'd to a Committee to look into the Act of Uniformity, as to the Matter in Queſtion, and to ſee whether the ſame be defective, and wherein.

Mr. Norman favour'd by Mr. Baron Hale.

Account p. 578. Contin. p. 731.

Mr. John Norman, M. A. about ſixteen Months after his Ejectment from Bridgewater Com. Som. was ſent to the County Gaol, and try'd before Judge Foſter at the Summer Aſſizes, Ann. 1663. His Sentence was to pay an hundred Pounds Fine, and to lye in Priſon 'till it was paid. He continued a Priſoner above a Year and half, 'till Baron Hale going that Circuit, took Notice of him, and found out a Way to compound the Fine, at Six-pence in the Pound.

Mr. Stretton had Mr. Judge Rookby his firm Friend.

Account p. 677.

Mr. Richard Stretton ſilenc'd at Petworth for Nonconformity, was made Chaplain to the Lord Fairfax, and liv'd with him at his Seat in Yorkſhire, where he had an Opportunity of being acquainted with many worthy Perſons in thoſe Parts, and among the reſt with Judge Rokeby, who continued ever after his firm Friend.

Mr. Seddon was releas'd by Judge Hale.

Rob. Seddon Coll. Chriſti Art. Bac. 1650. Idem Coll. Chr. Art. Mag. Ann. 1654. Reg. Acad.

Account, p. 167. Contin. p. 232.

Mr. Robert Seddon, M. A. ſilenc'd in 62. at Langley Com. Derb. coming up to London, was taken up as he was preaching in Mr. Baxter's Pulpit: And notwithſtanding that he had before ſuffer'd Impriſonment from the Cromwellians for ſeeking to bring in the King, yet he was ſent to Gaol, where he continued ſome Time: But Judge Hale declar'd the Mittimus void, and releas'd him by the Sentence of all the Court.

Mr. Horrockes acquitted by Judge Mallet.

Ibid. 470. Account, p. 305.

Mr. Thomas Horrockes, M. A. ejected from Malden Com. Eſſex in 62. —— was proſecuted and brought before Judge Mallet, who though ſevere enough of himſelf, yet, as God order'd it, was pretty favourable to him. He reprov'd the Alderman (who appear'd againſt him) ſaying, he thought the Priſoner look'd like a very honeſt Gentleman, and deſerv'd no ſuch Treatment. To which he anſwer'd, that he was a peſtilent Fellow, and had preach'd to five hundred at once through the Grate of his Priſon, but the Sunday before. The Judge ſaid, that this was a Sign he was well belov'd, and he acquitted him. —— He was harraſs'd from one Court to another for three Aſſizes, and his Life was threaten'd:

But

And again cleared by Sir Orlando Bridgman.

But ſome Gentlemen that were his Friends, ſoliciting Sir Orlando Bridgman, who was the Judge, he at laſt was cleared, and ſome of the Juſtices came down from the Bench and embrac'd him.

Mr. Chandler had great Civility from Judge Archer.
He died at Stortford about May 1667.

Contin. p. 489.

Mr. Francis Chandler ſilenc'd at Theydon-Mount and Garnon. —— Dr. Meggs the returning Rector of Theydon-Garnon deſir'd him to be his Aſſiſtant, and allow'd him 20*s. per* Week for it; —— and much preſſed him to conform, and tho' he could not be ſatisfy'd, he continu'd very kind to him. Judge Archer, who was Mr. Chandler's intimate Friend, and ſeveral others of Rank and Faſhion in thoſe Parts, ſhewed him a great deal of Civility and Reſpect.

Mr. Jollie was favour'd by Baron Atkins.
He died near Clitherow, April 16, 1703.

Ibid p. 558.

Mr. Thomas Jollie ejected from Altham Com. Lanc. after ſeveral Impriſonments and Indictments for preaching in publick, for being a Rioter, &c. in 1684. he, by Order of the Lord Chief Juſtice, was apprehended and brought before him at Preſton, where he was oblig'd to find Sureties, who were bound in 200*l.* each, (Judge Jefferies would have had it 2000.) for having frequent Conventicles in his Houſe. When he appear'd at the next Aſſizes, nothing was alledg'd againſt him, and according to Law he ſhould have been diſcharg'd from his Recogniſance; but it was renew'd: However Baron Atkins, then upon the Bench, accepted his ſingle Bond of one hundred Pounds.

Mr. Pell ſet at Liberty by Judge Hale.
Gul. Pell Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. An. 1654. Art. Mag. 1658. Reg. Acad.

Account, p. 289.

Mr. William Pell, M. A. ejected from Great-Stainton in the Biſhoprick of Durham in 1662. was ſoon after impriſon'd at Durham for preaching. He remov'd himſelf to London by an Habeas Corpus; and was ſet at Liberty by Judge Hales.

Mr. Gyles had the Favour of the Court upon an Indictment.
Ric. Gyles Coll. Jo. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1651. Reg. Acad.

Ibid. p. 382.

When Mr. Richard Gyles ejected from Rolvendon in Kent, was proſecuted with ſome of his Hearers for preaching twice one Lord's-Day in the Pariſh Church of Sandhurſt; and fin'd for a Conventicle as to the Morning Meeting: They mov'd, that the Matter of the Afternoon Meeting might be found ſpecially, and argu'd at the next Seſſion before the Court, which was agreed to. And when it was argued, the Appellants had the Judgment of the Court for them, and had their Money which was levied for the Afternoon reſtored.

Even the Judges in the Eccleſiaſtical Courts were favourable to them.

And ſome of the Chancellors and other Eccleſiaſtical Judges were very favourable to the ejected Miniſters.

The Chancellor of Worceſter to Mr. Sparry.

Account, p. 770.
Contin. p. 885.

Mr. Ambroſe Sparry, an ejected Sufferer in the County of Worceſter, had ſo much Friendſhip ſhew'd to him at Sturbridge, as caus'd the Chancellor to connive at his keeping School there again after his Ejectment.

The Chancellor of Briſtol to Mr. Sacheverell.

Ibid. p 425.
Account, p. 269.

Mr. Timothy Sacheverel ejected from Tarrant-Hinton in the County of Dorſet. was ſoon after Bartholomew-Day cited to the Spiritual Court at Blandford, whither a great many People came, in hope of ſomething like a publick Diſputation; at leaſt expecting to hear him very ſeverely reprimanded. But the Chancellor told him publickly, that he did not ſend for him to diſpute with him, as well knowing him to be a Perſon of great Worth, Temper, and Learning; but only deſir'd him to weigh all Matters calmly and without Prejudice, and then left him to do as God ſhould direct him. Whereupon, as ſoon as he had in Form admoniſh'd him, he was diſmiſs'd.

The Chancellor of Oxford to Mr. Birch.
Sam. Birch Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. An. 1661. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Contin. p. 710.
Account, p. 541.

Mr. Samuel Birch ejected in 1662. from a third Portion of Bampton Com. Oxon. ſtay'd at the Vicarage ſome Time after; and at laſt hir'd an Houſe at Shilton and fix'd there in May 1664. and had a good Number of Boarders. In 1665. the Church-Wardens of the Pariſh by the Direction of Mr. Grove the Miniſter, preſented him in the Biſhop's Court for not communicating with them, and for teaching School. But the Chancellor Dr. Ailworth was very civil to him, &c.

Archdeacon Palmer to Mr. Kenrick.

Contin. p. 465.

Mr. Nicholas Kenrick, tho' he conform'd to keep his Living of Earls-Barton in Northamptonſhire, yet he had written againſt the Ceremonies, and was but an half Conformiſt. For which he was cited into the Spiritual Court, but ſkreen'd by Archdeacon Palmer, under Pretence of his bodily Infirmities.

The King above all was at firſt very favourable to them.

23. Above all others, the King was favourable to them, and much inclined to grant an Indulgence to them, and the Parliament would have gone into ſome Temper upon it, if they had not ſtrongly ſuſpected, that his Majeſty's Diſpoſition towards them did not proceed purely from his natural Clemency and Lenity, but from his Affection to the Papiſts, and his Hopes of bringing them into equal Liberty and Toleration. However many Inſtances are given of the King's ſingular Benevolence to ſeveral of them.

His Majeſty granted a ſpecial Licence to Mr. Sam. Doughty againſt Law.
Sam. Doughty Coll. Eman. Art. Bac. An. 1640. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. An. 1644. Reg. Acad. Cant.

Account, p. 425.
Contin. p. 591.

Mr. Samuel Doughty, after his Ejectment from Sibſton Com. Leic. liv'd at Aſhby de la Zouch, and had the King's Licence to preach in his own Houſe there, and yet was convicted by the Lord B. and Lord S. 40*l.* was levy'd upon him, 20*l.* for himſelf, and 20*l.* for preaching in it. He made his Appeal to the Quarter Seſſions, and pleaded his Licence from the King, and that there was neither Sedition, nor breach of Peace, but he found no Relief. Afterwards he complain'd to the King and Council: The Lords were ſent for up to Council: The King was pleas'd to give him his Part; but he could never get it.

He granted a Pardon to Mr. Thomas Roſewell, after he had favour'd him in Arreſt of Judgment.

Account, p. 758.
Contin p. 867.
See his Life and Death and Account of his Tryal, printed 8vo.

Mr. Tho. Roſewell ejected from Sutton-Mandevil Com. Wilts, on Sept. 23, 1684. was committed to the Gate-Houſe in Weſtminſter by the Warrant of the Lord Chief Juſtice Jefferies for High-Treaſon. He was arraign'd Octob. 25. and try'd Nov. 18. at the King's-Bench Bar, and the Jury brought him in Guilty. —— Being convicted, Sir John Talbot who was preſent at the Tryal, was pleas'd of his own Accord to repreſent the Paſſages of it, with his Opinion to King Charles; who gave Direction to the Lord Chief Juſtice Jefferies, that he ſhould have Council aſſign'd him to plead to the Inſufficiency of the Indictment, in Arreſt of Judgment. Accordingly on Nov. 27. Mr. Wallop, Mr. Pollexfen, and Mr. Thomas Bampfield argued upon the Caſe, and the Court took Time till the next

He outliv'd his Tryal ſeven Years, and died Feb. 14, 1691-2.

Term to conſider of Judgment: And King Charles in the mean Time granted him a Pardon, which he pleaded ſome few Days after that King's Death, and was diſcharg'd.

Mr. Swaffield favour'd by Order of the King.

He died at Sarum in September 1681.

Account, p. 759.

Mr. Joſeph Swaffield ejected from Odſtocke Com. Wilts. remov'd with his Family to Sarum, where he preach'd privately in the Town, till King Charles's Declaration of Indulgence; after which he preach'd publickly a Week-Day Lecture. In 1674. he was taken as he was preaching in his own Houſe, and examin'd by the Mayor, who did not commit him for the Conventicle, but bound him over to anſwer at the Aſſizes, for ſaying upon his Examination, that he had heard that the King ſhould ſay, he would abide by or ſtand to his Declaration of Indulgence. Refuſing at the Aſſizes to tell his Author, he was committed to the County Gaol by Mr. Baron Turner as a Spreader of falſe News. He continu'd near a Year under Confinement: But upon his petitioning his Majeſty, the Lord Chief Juſtice North, who went the Circuit in the Summer Aſſizes 1675. was ordered to diſcharge him, which he did upon his paying a Fine of forty Shillings.

Mr. Shaw made Chaplain to the King, and much countenanc'd by him.

John Shaw of Chriſt's College, takes the Degree of Maſter of Arts at Cambridge, An. 1630. when he ſubſcribes the three Articles as requir'd. Reg. Acad. e Collectan. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

He died at Rotherham, Apr. 19, 1672.

Account, p. 828.

Mr. John Shaw, M. A. Maſter of the Charter-Houſe at Kingſton upon Hull, and Preacher at Trinity Church in that Town, and July 25, 1660. he was ſworn Chaplain to the King; but before the expiring of that Year, ſome of the Officers and Soldiers complain'd againſt him to Biſhop Sheldon, and by him to the King; and June 9, 1661. a Letter was ſent down in the King's Name, ſign'd by Mr. Secretary Nicholas, to the Mayor and Aldermen of Kingſton upon Hull to this Purpoſe: You are immediately upon Sight hereof to remove Francis de Wicke, John Rogers, and Richard Wood from their Places of being Aldermen in Kingſton upon Hull: And alſo to inhibit Mr. John Shaw from preaching any more at Trinity Church in Hull. Hereupon he went up to London, and was introduc'd to the King by the Earl of Mancheſter, then Lord Chamberlain. The King told him, he was willing he ſhould continue Maſter of the Charter-Houſe, and live there, and promis'd to take Care of him as his Chaplain, but deſir'd him to ſubmit to his Order of not preaching any more at Trinity Church in Hull.

Mr. Tregoſs ſet at Liberty by expreſs Order of his Majeſty.

He died Jan. 11, 1670-1.

Account, p. 143. and Contin. p. 176.

Mr. Thomas Tregoſs ejected from Milar and Male in Cornwall. —— He was a fourth Time in Cuſtody of the Mareſchal of Bodmin, as a dangerous and ſeditious Perſon. —— But in September 1667. he was ſet at Liberty by a ſpecial Order from the King to the Mareſchal, &c.

Mr. Whiddon had a Proſecution againſt him ſtopped by Order from the King.

Contin. p. 285. Account, p. 244.

Mr. Francis Whiddon, M. A. was ejected from Totneſs Com. Devon. before his Brethren on June 22, 1662. However he ſtill continu'd in the Town, and ſtatedly preached twice on the Lord's Day, and two weekly Lectures, the one at Totneſs, and the other at Bowden a Mile from thence. In 1671. a Countrey Miniſter who was expected failing, Mr. Gilbert Eveleigh the Mayor, and Mr. Anthony Gutheridge a ſenior Magiſtrate of the Town, deſir'd him to preach in the publick Church, which he did Forenoon and Afternoon both, and a young Man of his Acquaintance read the Prayers. Notice was given to Dr. Anthony Sparrow then Biſhop of Exon: To avoid whoſe Diſpleaſure, Mr. Whiddon by the Advice of Friends went to London, preſented himſelf before the King, and begg'd his Pardon, which he granted, and order'd the Proſecution to be ſtopp'd.

He was elder Brother to Dr. George Hickes, Dean of Worceſter.

Mr. Hickes ſent for into Cuſtody ſtole away to the King, who was gracious to him, and promis'd Favour to the whole Party.

And kept his Word in favour to them.

The two Brothers were very rigid in their ſeveral Ways, as by a Courſe of Nature hath ſometimes happen'd in other Families.

He ſuffer'd Death for joining with the D. of Monmouth in 1685.

Contin. p. 337. Account, p. 248. and 762.

Mr. John Hickes ejected from Stoke-Dammarel Com. Devon. in 1662. —— In the Year 1671. he publiſh'd a Pamphlet intitled, A ſad Narrative of the Oppreſſion of many honeſt People in Devon. and other Parts, by Informers and Juſtices, out of their pretended Zeal to put the Act againſt Conventicles in Execution. Tho' Mr. Hickes's Name was not to the Book, yet he was ſoon diſcover'd to be the Author; and two Meſſengers were ſent down to apprehend him, and bring him up to Court. —— Upon the Road Mr. Hickes fell in with them —— and at laſt he took his Cane, and corrected them to ſome Purpoſe, till they begg'd his Pardon: Upon which he immediately took Horſe and rode to London. Being arriv'd there, he by one whom he well knew (who was at that Time a Favourite at Court) obtain'd to be introduc'd to the King's Preſence. The King told Mr. Hickes, he had abus'd his Miniſters, and the Juſtices of Peace. He replied, Oppreſſion (may it pleaſe your Majeſty) makes a wiſe Man mad, the Juſtices beyond all Law have very much wrong'd your Majeſty's loyal Subjects the Nonconformiſts in the Weſt. And he inſtanc'd in ſeveral Particulars of the Troubles they had gone through. The King heard him with a great deal of Patience, and he ſpake with that Preſence of Mind and Ingenuity, that the King ſeem'd affected, and gave him his Promiſe, that they ſhould have no ſuch Cauſe of Complaints for the future. And ſoon after this the Diſſenters had ſome Favour ſhewn them, and Mr. Hickes thereupon came up with an Addreſs from a conſiderable Number of Gentlemen and others in the Weſt of England, and preſented it upon his Knees. The King receiv'd it very graciouſly and aſk'd him if he had not been as good as his Word, having a Reſpect to his Promiſe foremention'd. An Indulgence was granted, and Liberty to build Meeting-Houſes; and by his Majeſty's Favour, Mr. Hickes got back a third Part of what the Diſſenters in thoſe Parts had paid in, on the Conventicle Act. —— He had a Congregation afterwards at Portſmouth; and when the King and Duke of York came thither in a Progreſs; the Governor, principal Officers, and many Inhabitants of the Town, went to Portſdown to meet them, and Mr. Hickes was one of the Company: And as ſoon as the King ſaw him, he took particular Notice of him.

[And indeed the firſt Part of this Reign was one continued Argument of the King's great Indulgence to the Proteſtant Diſſenters, partly from his own good Nature and Generoſity, partly from a Deſire of being popular with all Parties;

ties; partly from an Ambition of Power to diſpenſe with the Laws againſt them; and (as the Parliament ſuſpected) from an Inclination under that Cover to make Way for the greater Indulgence to the Papiſts.]

24. As to the Biſhops, ſome Inſtances of their great Lenity and Charity ſhewn to the Nonconforming Miniſters after their being ejected or ſilenc'd, as ſet forth by Dr. Calamy himſelf, has been already repreſented under Friday Oct. 31, 1662. To which ſome other Inſtances may be added from the ſame Writer.

Archbiſhop Juxon ſo kind to an ejected Miniſter, as to give him Leave to continue preaching one part of the Day in his late Church, with Conſent of his Succeſſor.

Dan. Poyntell Coll. Trin. Cantabr. Art. Mag. An. 1648. Reg. Acad.

Mr. Daniel Poyntel, Miniſter of Stapleburſt in Kent, was drawn to comply farther with the Church than ſome of narrower Principles thought he could, and brought him ſometimes into his own Pulpit in Stapleburſt to preach to his own Flock after Bartholomew Day, yet he was not covetous of the Fleece. He generouſly offer'd the ſucceeding Incumbent to deſire nothing of the Income if he would let him have the Pulpit for his Pains one Part of the Day: The Incumbent granted it, provided he could get Leave of the Archbiſhop. But when Mr. Poyntel (the next Time he had an Opportunity of waiting on his Grace, with whom he was very intimate) had readily got Leave, the Incumbent having been otherwiſe adviſ'd in the mean while, abſolutely refuſ'd it.

Account, p. 379.

Archbiſhop Sheldon promiſ'd great Things to a Kinſman if he would conform, and upon his Refuſal took Care of two of his Children.

Mr. William Grace was ejected from Reveſby Com. Leiceſt. He was nearly related to Archbiſhop Sheldon, to whom Applications were made for him, but no Relief could be obtain'd there, unleſs Mr. Grace would conform; which if he would yield, great Things were promiſ'd: But this mov'd him not to act againſt his Conſcience. Some Time after (I am inform'd) the Biſhop recovered ſo much Humanity, as to take ſome Care of two of the Children.

Contin. p. 594.
Account, p. 625.

Archbiſhop Tillotſon had a great Value for Dr. Bates and converſ'd freely with him.

*Gul. Bates Middleſex admiſſus in Coll. Eman. tranſlatus eſt ad Coll. Regin. An.*1644. Art. Bac. Coll. Regin. An. 1647. S. T. P. Regiis Literis 1660-1. Reg. Acad.

Dr. William Bates remov'd from St. Dunſtan's in the Weſt, London, had his Reſidence for the latter Part of his Life at Hackney, where alſo he exerciſ'd his Miniſtry.—The late Archbiſhop Tillotſon highly valu'd him, and would often (even after his Advancement to that high Station) converſe privately with him, with great Freedom and Openneſs.

Account, p. 49.

The Archbiſhop of York conniv'd at a nonconforming Son preaching for his Father a Conformiſt.

Mr. Robert Sherborne, M. A. Miniſter of Cawood in Yorkſhire was diſabled by the Uniformity Act, yet his Father conforming, and keeping his Living at Brayton near Selby, this his Son went and liv'd with him, and was by Connivance aſſiſtant to him. The Father read the Prayers, adminiſtred the Sacraments, and preach'd now and then; but the Son was the more conſtant Preacher. And he was generally belov'd by the People, and his Labours were greatly ſucceſsful. There were no Informations againſt him: And the Archbiſhop's Connivance at him engaged the Hearts of many good People to pray for him.

Ibid. p. 816.

Biſhop Thomas to Mr. Pruthero.

Mr. Rice Pruthero ſilenc'd in 1662. for Nonconformity in North-Wales, had conſiderable Offers made him if he would have conform'd, from Dr. Thomas then Biſhop of St. Davids, and afterwards of Worceſter, who always carried it to him with a great deal of Reſpect.

*Contin. p.*846.
Account, p 720.

Biſhop King to Mr. Woodman.

Mr. Matthew Woodman, M. A. ejected from the Living of Glynford Com. Suſſex for Nonconformity, was treated with great Reſpect and Kindneſs by Dr. King Biſhop of Chicheſter, who was importunate with him to conform, and on that Condition promiſ'd him his utmoſt Intereſt to make him Dean of that Church.

Contin. p. 830.

Biſhop Hacket to Dr. Bryan and Dr. Grew.

Dr. John Bryan and Dr. Obadiah Grew were Miniſters at Coventry before the Bartholomew Act, 1662. Biſhop Hacket was particularly urgent with them to bring them to Conformity, and gave them leave to preach a Month longer: But then Dr. Grew preach'd his Farewel Sermon. [Joh. Bryan Coll. Eman. Cant. Art. Mag. An. 1638. Joh. Bryan Coll. Eman. S. T. B. An. 1645. Joh. Bryan Coll. Eman. Paſtor Eccleſiæ S. Trin. Coventr. S. T. P. An. 1651. Reg. Acad.]

Ibid. p. 850.

The Biſhop of Worceſter to Mr. Hill.

Mr. Tho. Hill went out from Shuttington Com. Warwic. a Nonconformiſt, yet —procur'd a worthy Worceſterſhire Miniſter to ſupply the Church, who did it without any Notice taken of his Nonconformity — the Nonconformiſts might have kept their Places, if they could have had his Terms: The Biſhop having left the Matter entirely to himſelf.

Ibid. p. 858.

The Biſhops of Sarum to Mr. Tho. Taylor.

Henchman, Earle, and Hyde.

Mr. Thomas Taylor was oblig'd to quit the ſequeſtred Living of Burbich Com. Wilts. and remov'd with eight Children, and his Wife big with the ninth, to Saliſbury, where he liv'd for ſome Time as comfortably, as if he had continu'd in the Vicarage—— Biſhop Henchman and the two ſucceeding Biſhops Hide and Earl and their Courts, giving neither him nor the other Nonconformiſts, that were at that Time in Saliſbury, any Trouble or Diſturbance. —— He was offer'd a Living of 400*l.* a Year by the Biſhop of Saliſbury, if he would conform.

Ibid. p. 866.
Account, p. 756.

Biſhop Lamplugh of Exeter was deſirous to gain over a nonconforming Miniſter, and gave him free Ingreſs and Egreſs to converſe with him.

Mr. John Hoppin, B. D. an ejected Fellow of Exeter College, Oxon. —— Biſhop Lamplugh being deſirous to gain him to the Church, ſent for him to his Palace in Exon. and it being then a Time of great Rigour againſt the Diſſenters, he promiſ'd him a ſafe Ingreſs and Egreſs. When he came his good Lordſhip aſk'd him, why he would not conform? He gave him an Anſwer or two at which the Biſhop ſeem'd a little ſtartled. Upon which he bade him read Hooker's Eccleſiaſtical Policy, &c.

Contin. p. 394.
Account, p. 257.

The Biſhop of Briſtol courted a Nonconformiſt to comply, tho' he had been a Mechanick and no Scholar.

Mr. Thomas Ewins had been a Mechanick, and yet a Preacher at Briſtol. Upon the Reſtoration he ſoon quitted the publick Pulpits. He was no Scholar, yet I am informed he was a judicious and methodical Preacher. ——The Biſhop courted him to Conformity, but he could by no means be ſatisfied to comply.

Account, p. 609.

Mr. John Humfrey, M. A. was for Nonconformity ejected from Froome in Somerſetſhire; —— the Biſhop of Wells had call'd in Mr. Humfrey to aſſiſt at his Ordination; Mr. Humfrey ingenuouſly told the Biſhop that he had only been ordain'd by Preſbyters, and thought that Ordination to be valid and ſufficient. The Biſhop hereupon had an amicable Conference with him, and preſs'd him to renew his Ordination and not deſert him, and in a friendly Manner urg'd him, and ſome other Friends alſo join'd in with him. He had but two Days Time to conſider of it. He indented for ſome little Variation in the Words uſed, and that he ſhould not be put upon any Subſcription, and then comply'd, and was ordain'd by the Biſhop. But it was no ſooner over than he was uneaſy, &c. [Yet he publiſh'd a Book to recommend his Submiſſion to others] entituled, The Queſtion of Ordination, whether and how a Miniſter ordain'd by the Preſbytery may take Ordination alſo by the Biſhop. He tells me he ſhew'd this Book to Dr. Wilkins before he printed it, and that he approv'd it; and adds that Dr. Worth, who was an Iriſh Biſhop told him, that he converted all Ireland (excepting two Scots) with that Book, i. e. he ſatisfied them as to Re-ordination.

The Biſhop of Bath and Wells held an amicable Conference with Mr. Humfrey, and perſuaded him to receive Epiſcopal Ordination.

And he publiſh'd a Defence of it to invite in his Brethren, a Book of great Service, tho' he was afterwards uneaſy and relapſed to his firſt Opinions.

Quidam Jo. Humfrey Aul. Clar. Art. Bac. An. 1651. Alter Joh. Humfrey Coll. Chriſti Art. Mag. An. 1638. Reg. Acad. Cant.

He had the Approbation of his Book given by Dr. Wilkins and Biſhop Worth.

Mr. Humphrey ſays of himſelf, that he was educated at Oxford. Mr. Wood has not plac'd him among the Graduates. Collect. Tho. Baker, MS.

Mr. John Billingſley, M. A. was ejected from Cheſterfield Com. Derby. —— Biſhop Hacket was very earneſt with him to conform, and he told him that if he did, he would do it cordially. Upon which the Biſhop (when other Arguments fail'd) us'd both Flatteries and Threats, but all in vain.

Account, p. 170. *and Contin. p.*233.

Mr. John Chandler of Bromley-parva in Eſſex, I hardly know whether to reckon him among the Conformiſts or Nonconformiſts. He afterwards had the Living of Petto. He had been ordain'd by Mr. John Fairfax and others in the Preſbyterian Way, and would not yield to any thing that might be capable of being interpreted as caſting a Reflection on his former Ordination. Upon his ſignifying this to Biſhop Reynolds, he deſir'd the Company that were preſent to take Notice, that he was as good a Miniſter as he could make him, and told him he might go and preach the Goſpel at Petto. He read ſome of the Common-Prayer, and now and then wore the Surplice, but was threatned for not uſing all the Ceremonies.

Account, p. 315.

Biſhop Reynolds of Norwich in Complaiſance to Mr. Chandler (if this Account be true) did more than he could juſtify.

Iſaac Smithies Cler. admiſſ. ad Rect. de Bromley-parva Com. Eſſex. per ceſſionem Canler die 1 Maii 1662. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 99.

Mr. Nicholas Billingſley, who left Webley Com. Hereford for Nonconformity, mov'd thence to Abergavenny, where he taught a Free-School, till by the good Offices of Sir Edward Harley, he was ſettled at Blakeney in the Pariſh of Awre in Glouceſterſhire, a privileg'd Place, the Maintenance (which was at leaſt 50*l. per Annum)* depending upon an Impropriation, which by the Generoſity of a Gentleman had been annex'd to a Chapel of Eaſe in the Village mention'd. —— Here he liv'd very peaceably for a while, Dr. Nicholſon being Biſhop of Glouceſter, and Mr. Jordan a moderate and pious Man, Vicar of the Pariſh, &c. —— He comply'd ſo far as to read more or leſs of the Common-Prayer, and to wear the Surplice, after the Biſhop had given it under his Hand, that 'twas not requir'd to be worn upon the Account of any ſuppos'd Holineſs in the Garment, but only for Decency and Comelineſs. He would ſometimes treat him with Abundance of Civility, but yet ſend a Suſpenſion after him to be read on the next Lord's-Day. Once he bid him read Prayers, and not preach at all for a Quarter of a Year. One that ſtood by ſaying, I hope your Lordſhip is not againſt preaching the Goſpel, he reply'd, Well, let him go on with his beloved Preaching.

Ibid. p. 315.

Biſhop Nicholſon of Glouceſter was ſo kind to Mr. Nicholas Billingſley, an ejected Nonconformiſt, as to connive at his ſerving a Chapel of Eaſe, and to let him live peaceably in it.

Biſhop Frampton treated him with abundant Civility; and explain'd the Uſe of the Surplice to him.

He continu'd in this Place till the Revolution, when the Biſhop was turn'd out as a Nonjuror, and was ſucceeded by the valuable Dr. Fowler. Before he actually came from London to the Palace, the Chancellor had again us'd his Authority to ſuſpend the Man; who therefore wearied out with the Troubles he had met with, reſolv'd to quit the Place, which he did accordingly, and return'd to it no more, tho' the Biſhop (who blam'd the Chancellor for what he had done) expreſs'd his Deſires to have him return, and the Place was kept vacant for a Year.

And Biſhop Fowler blam'd his Chancellor for driving him away, and invited him to return. And the Place was kept vacant a Year for him.

Mr. John Farrol, M. A. who had been Fellow of Magdalen College in Oxford, upon Mr. L's being remov'd by the Sequeſtrators, was ſent to and ſettled in his Place at Selborn in Hampſhire. But after the King's Reſtoration he was advis'd to reſign his Living to the former Incumbent, — the religious Meetings in his own Houſe were afterwards much wink'd at. His Cuſtom was to go to the Publick, and they that attended his Miniſtry did the ſame. And either before or after the Sermons in the Church, he ſpent his Pains in private. In the latter End of Biſhop Morley's Days, he was frequently deſir'd to viſit his Lordſhip, and upon repeated Aſſurances of being welcome to him he went, and was very courteouſly and reſpectfully entertain'd by him ſeveral Times at his Table. His Lordſhip was free in diſcourſing with him upon paſt Times, &c.

Account, p. 344.

Biſhop Morley of Wincheſter was very courteous and reſpectful to Mr. John Farrol a ſilenc'd Miniſter, whoſe Meetings in his own Houſe were conniv'd at, and he was ſeveral Times entertain'd at his Lordſhip's Table, with free Diſcourſe, &c.

He died in the 80th Year of his Age.

Mr. James Creſwick, B. D. Miniſter of Freſhwater in the Iſle of Wight, —— for his preaching two Lord's Days after the Time which the Law confin'd him to, except he conform'd, two of his Pariſhioners (who were his great Enemies) inform'd againſt him, and attended Biſhop Morley of Wincheſter, who was juſt then making a Viſitation. Mr. Creſwick underſtanding their Intention, himſelf made Application to the Biſhop, and told his Lordſhip what he had done; ſignifying that his continuing to preach was out of his Willingneſs the Pariſh ſhould be ſupplied till another Incumbent came. He added, that he conceiv'd himſelf ſufficiently impower'd for what he did, as he was yet Fellow of St. John's College in Cambridge, which gave him a Privilege to preach in any Church or Chapel at Pleaſure. And producing his Licence, he took the Freedom to aſk the Biſhop, whether that was invalidate by the Act of Uniformity; The Biſhop replied, that he thought not. Mr. Creſwick farther ſaid, then he thought he might yet preach, tho'

Contin. p. 509.

The ſame Biſhop Morley was very favourable to Mr. Creſwick, who had preach'd in his Church beyond the Time of the Act without conforming; yet the Biſhop receiv'd his Application to him, and diverted the Proſecution of him, and only ordered the Church Doors to be ſhut againſt him, that he might no farther offend againſt the Law, and be liable to greater Penalties.

tho' he did not expect any Recompence. But on the Sabbath following the Biſhop ordered the Church-Wardens to keep the Doors ſhut againſt him.

Biſhop Wilkins of Cheſter accepted a Dedication from a nonconforming Miniſter, and treated him and his diſſenting Friend with much Reſpect; and encourag'd them to hope for a Comprehenſion.

Account p. 830.

Mr. James Calvert ſilenc'd at Topcliffe in Yorkſhire. —— Many pious Conformiſts, as Mr. Chr. Jackſon, Mr. Ratcliffe, &c. would have won him over to the Church, but he could not be ſatisfy'd. —— Printing his learned Book concerning the Ten Tribes, in 72. he dedicated it to that excellent Perſon Biſhop Wilkins, on whom he waited at Scarborough-Spaw, together with Mr. Williams of York. He received them with much Reſpect, and encourag'd them to live in hope of a Comprehenſion.

The ſame good Biſhop Wilkins was kind to his old Pupil Mr. Lee, and did often admoniſh him to come into the Eſtabliſh'd Church. Quidam Sam. Leigh Coll. Jo. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. Ann. 1625. Idem Coll. Jo. Art. Mag. 1629. Reg. Acad.

Contin. p. 53. Account p. 36. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 53.

Mr. Samuel Lee, M. A. ſaid to be ejected and ſilenc'd in the Living of St. Botolph Biſhopſgate, London, where he had ſpent his Pains with good Acceptance 'till the coming forth of the Bartholomew Act. [The Living was full at that Time, and long before it: Dr. Robert Pory had been admitted to that Living Auguſt 10, 1660. void by the Death of Mr. Nehemiah Rogers; and reſign'd it in May 1663.] The famous Dr. Wilkin's (afterwards Biſhop of Cheſter) had been his Tutour at Wadham College. —— He was often admoniſh'd by his learned and pious Tutour (who himſelf conform'd immediately upon the Reſtauration) to come into the Eſtabliſh'd Church; but he thought it his Duty in this Caſe to ſee with his own Eyes, and made it his Choice to act in a narrower Sphere.

Biſhop Thomas of St. David's was a true Friend to his old Scholar Mr. Philips; and when impriſon'd as a ſeditious Perſon, he help'd to procure his Liberty; and again a ſecond Time in Priſon, the Biſhops and Judges offer'd him much to conform, and though he would not, they ſet him at Liberty.

Account p. 717.

This Account is before given, p. 820. but not ſo fully.

Contin. p. 843.

Mr. Peregrine Philips had the two Pariſhes of Llangone and Freſhop in Pembrokeſhire, when he was ejected —— he was ſome Time afterwards apprehended by a Warrant from the Deputy Lieutenants, under a Pretence that he was a ſeditious Perſon, and put for ſome Weeks under cloſe Confinement. Afterwards by Means of Sir Hugh Owen and Dr. Thomas Biſhop of St. David's, his Liberty was procur'd. —— He was caſt into Priſon a ſecond Time for keeping a Conventicle in his Houſe, and the Judges and Biſhop Thomas coming then to the Aſſizes at Haverford Weſt, made him conſiderable Offers if he would conform, but nothing prevailing they ſet him at Liberty.

Biſhop Barlow, Biſhop Hall, and even Biſhop Fell were civil and kind to Mr. Gilbert in Oxford.

Account p. 109. and Contin. p. 146.

Mr. Thomas Gilbert, B. D. ejected from Winchendon Com. Buck. and before turned out of Edgmont in Shropſhire, ſpending the latter Part of his Time in a private Life in Oxford. He to the laſt met with much Reſpect from Dr. Hall Biſhop of Briſtol, Dr. Bathurſt, Dr. Jane, and others, [and to my Knowledge had free and frequent Acceſs to Biſhop Barlow and Biſhop Fell, and the Heads of many Colleges and Halls, and did partake of their Civility and Bounty to him, for his many old Stories, and ſome rare Books and Papers that he pick'd up for them].

Biſhop Ironſide of Briſtol was patient and forgiving to Mr. Weſtley, holding a long and mild Conference with him.

Ibid. p. 438.

Mr. John Weſtley, M. A. Miniſter of Whitchurch near Blandford Com. Dorſet. upon Dr. Gilbert Ironſide's being made Biſhop of Briſtol (1660.) ſome of his Neighbours gave him a great deal of Trouble and Uneaſineſs, becauſe he would not read the Book of Common Prayer. —— Mr. Weſtley being aſſured by ſeveral that the Biſhop was deſirous to ſpeak with him, took an Opportunity to wait on his Lordſhip, and had the following Conference with him, as it is recorded in his own Diary. [Wherein by his own Account the Biſhop was more civil to Mr. Weſtley, than he to the Biſhop. His Lordſhip's laſt Words are there repreſented to be; I will not meddle with you. Farewell, good Mr. Weſtley.]

The Biſhops were not Proſecutors.

[Theſe apparent and confeſs'd Inſtances of the Lenity and Charity of the Biſhops of the Church towards the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters not conforming, with many other like Examples remaining, (ſome entred into Books and Papers, and ſome retained in the Memory of Perſons yet living) are a Reproof to thoſe who would repreſent the Biſhops as generally rigorous and ſevere to them; and are on the contrary a ſure Evidence, that moſt of the Lords the Biſhops did commonly uſe all the tender and perſuaſive Ways and Means to win over and reconcile them to a legal Conformity; and when they run themſelves into Difficulties and Penalties, the Biſhops did often interpoſe their Intereſt with the Civil Magiſtrate to cover them and deliver them from Fines and Impriſonments.]

The Numbers of ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters have been much aggravated.

The Numbers of the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters upon the Act of Uniformity have been of late aggravated and miſrepreſented to the World. The Account has been roundly ſwell'd to two thouſand, and to about or even above two thouſand; out of which Calculation it is certain great Abatements are to be made.

They were not properly ſilenced, who were never ordained.

Nor they who had no longer Authority to preach in Pulpits committed to other Men.

Some after ſhort Silence took Licences to preach.

Moſt of the Sufferers refuſed to be ſilent, and would ſtill preach in Houſes and other private Places.

The Word ſilenc'd among the Sufferers is not ſo eaſy to be underſtood: It can hardly be apply'd to thoſe, who at the Paſſing that Act had no antecedent Authority to preach or miniſter in Holy Things: And many of thoſe there were, who had no Ordination at all, nor any other Miſſion but what they thought ſufficient, their inward Call and reputed Seal of the Spirit: And ſuch Teachers not ſent were no more ſilenc'd than any of the common People, who might have ſet up the like Pretenſions to the Spirit. Nor were thoſe properly ſilenc'd, who were unauthorized Lecturers, and Aſſiſtants, and occaſional Preachers in Pariſh Churches and Chapels, where upon the Return or Settlement of legal Miniſters and Curates, there was no further need of them. Some were ſilenc'd only for a ſhort Time, and upon better Conſideration, took regular Licences to preach in the ſame or other Places. Many of them refuſed to be ſilent as the Act requir'd, and would venture to preach beyond the Time allow'd, expoſing themſelves to Pains and Troubles. And even among them who continued to be ſilent in our publick Churches, many of them (ſome contrary to their own Principles) aſſumed

Yet many ſaid to have been ſilenc'd by the Act, had never preach'd before it.

ed the Liberty of Praying or Teaching in their own Houſes or other ſeparate Aſſemblies, where the Profits of their Labour were greater than in their former Stations. And at the Foot of the Account ſhould be added, that many are there put into the Liſt of ſilenc'd Miniſters by Virtue of the Act of Uniformity, who were not actually Preachers before that Time, but were only Candidates or Students deſigned for a ſeparate Miniſtry in Oppoſition to the Eſtabliſh'd Church. And how were theſe ſilenc'd by the Act, who had never before it open'd their Mouths in Publick!

A greater Regard due to the ejected Miniſters.

Yet their Numbers have been aggravated.

They were not properly ejected who held ſequeſtred Livings.

Some rather deſerted their Cures than were ejected from them.

Some ſaid to be ejected had made a voluntary Reſignation or Ceſſion.

Some kept back out of Shame.

Some ſaid to be ejected from one Place accepted another.

Some choſe to retire to their own Eſtates.

And others depended upon Friends and Intereſt.

As to the Miniſters ejected, that indeed is a plainer Caſe, and more to be lamented: Becauſe many of them were Men of great Piety and Virtue, Senſe and Learning, whoſe Characters and Labours would have been of Credit and Service to the Church, if they would have come within the Pale of it; and duly conſulted the common Good of Peace, and Unity, and Charity, and Proteſtant Intereſt. But the Number of the Ejected likewiſe has been multiplied beyond the true State, and great Allowances are to be made. For many have been called Ejected, when they held only ſequeſtred Livings, and were by Law and Conſcience bound to give Place to the old rightful Incumbents. Many others had been too active in the Iniquity of the late Times, and not expecting Forgiveneſs from the Powers they had ſo long and lately oppos'd, they receded from their Livings for Fear and Conſciouſneſs of their paſt Offences, and rather deſerted their Cures, than were ejected from 'em. Some were put into the reputed Number of the Ejected, who really made a Reſignation or Ceſſion of their Livings, and that often in favour of their own Sons or Kinſmen to ſucceed them, or for ſome other Conſideration by concert with their Patrons and Succeſſors. Some had engag'd themſelves ſo far by preaching and printing Books and Papers againſt the King and Church, that they were perfectly aſham'd to conform, for Fear of the Reproaches that would be on both Sides caſt upon them, by their old Friends and by their new, if they ſhould change Sides: And theſe Men, before the Law, had paſſed Sentence on themſelves. Again, ſome ſuffer'd themſelves to be ejected at one Place diſagreeable to them, and afterwards qualify'd themſelves to accept another more convenient Place, and this was not Ejection ſo properly as it was Exchange for the better. Some willingly ſuffer'd the Loſs of their Spirituals, as they had good Temporal Eſtates of their own, and could be content to withdraw from their Labours, and enjoy themſelves in private. Nay, and many who were properly ejected, and did not afterwards conform, found ſo many Friends, Aids, and Contributions; that they lived in greater Plenty and Popularity, than if they had comply'd with the Terms of Church Communion.

Not all the Puritans nor all the Preſbyterians were Nonconformiſts.

Many of them came into the Church, and ſome to the higheſt Dignities in it.

Some of the Aſſembly of Divines.

Some of the Savoy Conference.

And other great Men.

Moſt of the Preſbyterians were for Moderate Epiſcopacy and Reformed Liturgy.

And the true old Puritans kept in miniſterial Conformity.

And wrote zealouſly againſt Separation.

Some Repreſentations have been likewiſe made, as if moſt or all the Miniſters at the Reſtauration of the old Puritan Stamp, or of the Preſbyterian Principles, were ejected or ſilenc'd at once by the Act of Uniformity. Whereas many of them who afterwards attain'd to the higheſt Dignities in the Church had been bred up in the Puritan Way, and moſt of them had gone into the Notions and Scheme of Preſbytery; and yet upon mature Thoughts could judge it lawful and even eligible to conform, for the Honour and Intereſts of the Chriſtian Religion, and for the Peace and Happineſs of this Church and Nation. Such were ſome of the Aſſembly of Divines. Some of the Brethren in the Savoy Conference. Some very conſiderable Preachers and Writers in the late Times, who not only conform'd to the Revived Church of England, but became Pillars and Ornaments of it. Among theſe were the great Names of Reynolds, Ward, Monck, Wilkins, Rainbow, Barlow, Lloyd, Hall, Stillingfleet, Tillotſon, Hopkins, Patrick, Parker, Fowler, Cumberland, Kidder, Fogg, Conant, Lightfoot, Horton, Worthington, Durham, Pittis, and many more of eminent Ability and Figure. In Truth, few were ejected or ſilenc'd as ſtrict Preſbyterians, being moſt of them for what they call'd Moderate Epiſcopacy and a Reformed Liturgy, and they well knew that if they inſiſted on the Divine Right of their Diſcipline, it would be for the moſt Part impracticable in ſeparate Congregations. Nay, and had theſe Men of tender Conſciences been of the ſame Mind with the good old Puritans, they would not have declin'd their publick Miniſtry upon their own private Doubts and Scruples, but ſuffer'd them to be over-weigh'd by Obedience to Authority, and the Good of the Community. Or if they could not have adminiſtred in Publick as Paſtors and Curates, yet they would have join'd as Members in a Lay Communion, and declar'd againſt the ſetting up of Separate Aſſemblies, to divide and weaken the Church and Kingdom: For ſo pacifick was the Profeſſion and Practice of the good old Engliſh Puritans.

Not proper to enquire into the Motives that led aſide many to Nonconformity.

Men may ſuffer with a good Conſcience in a Cauſe not good in itſelf.

It would be invidious to enquire how many of the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters were drawn in by the Advice of their Superiours, by the Example of their Brethren, by mutual Stipulations, by voluntary Promiſes, by the Influence of Domeſticks and Relations, by the Hopes and Expectation of following Changes, and other Reaſons that had ſome Mixture of the World in them. Thoſe who act and ſuffer out of pure Conſcience (if their Principle be miſtaken) do right not to ſin againſt their own Mind and Underſtanding: And in ſcrupulous and doubtful Matters, Men may ſuffer with a good Conſcience, though it be not directly in a good Cauſe.

Not poſſible to know the Reaſons of their Perſeverance in the Separation.

Nor is it poſſible at this Diſtance to examine, much leſs to determine, whether the Perſeverance of many in their Nonconformity was not much encourag'd by the Favour of ſome of the Nobility, by the ſecret Diſpoſition of ſome Patrons, trons, by the Voice of a great Part of the People, by the Glory imputed to Stedfaſtneſs, and by the Engliſh Compaſſion always ſhewn to Sufferers: But above all, by a Reliance and Dependence on the King, who on all Occaſions was expreſſing an Inclination (and as far as he could carry it, a Reſolution) to indulge them, and diſpenſe with the Laws againſt them. However, under all theſe Motives to perſevere.

25. Many of the Suffering Miniſters were ſelf-condemn'd, and upon ſecond Thoughts did afterwards conform, and did enjoy their firſt Places, or were admitted to better. Theſe Inſtances in Fact are allow'd by their Advocate Dr. Calamy.

In the Cities of London and Weſtminſter.

In London, Weſtminſter, and Southwark. I have omitted Mr. Cave and ſome others who were mention'd before, becauſe I ſince underſtand they conform'd, Dr. Meriton, &c. Account, p. 58.

In the Univerſity of Oxford.

In the Univerſity of Oxford. I have not now taken Notice here of Mr. Hand of New College as I did before, becauſe I underſtand he afterwards conform'd; and that excellent Perſon Dr. John Conant. Ibid. p. 76.

In Bedfordſhire.

In the County of Bedford. Dr. Fowler of Norhill was not ſatisfied with Conformity at the firſt, but afterwards conform'd, and was Biſhop of Glouceſter. Ibid. p. 95.

In Berks.

In the County of Berks. Of thoſe who were firſt ejected in this County, I before could hear of no more than four, viz. Mr. Samuel Reyner of Sunning, Mr. William Hughes of Hinton, Mr. William Lee of Wantage, and Mr. John Francis of Eaſt-Ilſley. But of thoſe whom I mention'd before as Nonconformiſts, I have now wav'd Mr. John Bateman of Shenfield, Mr. Hutchins of Bexford or Benford, and Mr. Robert Twiſs of Burſcot, who I underſtand alſo conform'd. Ibid. p. 103.

In Bucks.

In the County of Bucks. I have omitted Mr. Stratford of Marrimore (before reckon'd among the Ejected) becauſe I underſtand he conform'd. Ibid. p. 110. —— Mr. George Maſterſon had been both a Chaplain and Captain under Cromwell. —— But he (honeſt Man) turn'd his Buff into a Canonical Coat, and ſo became Rectus in Curia after the Reſtauration, being zealous for the Church. Contin. p. 148

Cambridgeſhire.

I can hear of but two in the County of Cambridge who afterwards conform'd, and they were Mr. John Nye of Settingham, who had the Living of Quendon in Eſſex, where he liv'd and died in good Repute, and Mr. Cole of Burwell. —— But I am ſince inform'd, he was ſo far from conforming, that he was againſt occaſionally going to Church. Account, p. 119. Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 477. Contin. p. 164.

County of Cheſter.

In the County of Cheſter. In my former Edition I intimated that there conform'd afterwards in this County Mr. Wright of Boſton, Mr. Dunſtan of Northerden, and Mr. Edgly of Thornton, to whom upon further Information I now add Mr. Robert Hunter of Knotterford, who died at Liverpool, and Mr. Edwards of Chriſtleton, who afterwards fix'd in Oſweſtry, and Mr. Haſſel of Harſlynton, and Mr. Matthew Jenkyns, who though he was ejected from Shotwyck in this County in 62. (as he had been before from Greſsford in Denbighſhire in 60.) yet conform'd afterwards, and died in Worral. Mr. Burroughs alſo of Harthill, who was before mention'd as a Nonconformiſt in this County, without the Name of the Place where he was Miniſter, I underſtand afterwards conform'd at Baddeley. And ſeveral in this County were brought in by Biſhop Wilkins's ſoft Interpretation of the Terms of Conformity: This was the Caſe of Mr. Samuel Edgly, of Mr. Colly, and others. —— Mr. Dunſtan (I ſince underſtand) did not conform. Account, p. 136. Contin. p. 174.

The Conformity of many owing to the Moderation of Biſhop Wilkins.

In Cornwall.

In the County of Cornwall. I intimated in my former Edition, that theſe conform'd after their being ſilenc'd, Mr. Robert Jago, ſen. Mr. Leonard Welſtead of Penſance, Mr. Nicholas Teague or Tyack, Mr. Thomas Nicholls of Liſkard, and Mr. Thomas Warner. And now I add Mr. William White of Ladock, Mr. Robert Jago, ſen. Mr. Philip Harris of St. Ewe, and Mr. John Stephens of St. Roch. Account, p. 150.

In Cumberland.

In the County of Cumberland. I have been inform'd ſince my laſt Edition, that Mr. James Cragg of Newkirk (where there is a Chapel belonging to Grayſtock Pariſh) went into Scotland and there conform'd; Mr. John Forward of Bolton, and Mr. John Michael or Myriel of Lamplugh, and Mr. George Yates of Anſtable conform'd alſo. Ibid. p. 261.

In Derbyſhire.

In the County of Derby. Whereas in my former Edition I intimated, that Mr. Matthews of Edlaſton, Mr. James Sutton of Crich, and Mr. Pool of Mugington conform'd afterwards: I now add to them Mr. Wright of Ednall in Caſtleton, and Mr. Higginbotham of Hayfield, who I underſtand alſo conform'd. Account, p. 207. —— Mr. Edward Hollingſhead conform'd, after he had been a Nonconformiſt for ſome Years; and died Curate at Aſhford Chapel. —— Mr. James Laughton I am told alſo conform'd at Dower Chapel. —— But Mr. James Sutton of Crich, and Mr. Wright of Edal, (for ſo it ſhould be, and not Ednal) never conform'd. Contin. p. 236.

In Devonſhire.

In the County of Devon. I had before mention'd the following Perſons as conforming: Mr. John Tickel of Exon, Mr. Richard Bickly of Denbery, Mr. John Law of Hinick, Mr. Richard Conant of Overton, Mr. Joſhua Bowden of Aſhburton, Mr. Bowden of Aſhton, Mr. Bullhead of King's-Aſh, and Mr. Francis Collins of St. Budocks. I now add Mr. Warmſly of Stonehouſe, and Mr. Bowden of Buckland-Filleigh, and Mr. Bubear of Kinnerley; who all conform'd. —— Among the reſt alſo who afterwards conform'd in this County, is to be mention'd Mr. Leonard Prime of Ilfarcombe, who continued ſeveral Years a Nonconformiſt, and then fell in with the Eſtabliſh'd Church, and ſerv'd St. John's in the City of Exon, and after ſome Time was preferr'd to the Rectory of Inſtow near Barnſtaple. Account, p. 257.

In Dorſetſhire. In the County of Dorſet. Of thoſe whom I mention'd as Nonconformiſts, I here omit Mr. Richard Shute of Stalbridge, becauſe I have had Intelligence ſent me that he afterwards conform'd, and was Miniſter of Stow Market in Suffolk, where he died on Febr. 3, 1686. ætat. 54. And I am inform'd that Mr. Hern of Winburn conform'd after a great many Years Nonconformity, having particular Favour ſhewn him. Account, p. 284. —— Nor know I how to quit this County of Dorſet, without taking Notice of one that was at firſt here ejected, but afterwards conform'd, viz. Mr. Joſeph Crabb, M. A. of Beminſter, who was a Man of good Parts and Learning, of a ready Invention, and very facetious and pleaſant in Converſation. After continuing ſome Time a Nonconformiſt, he accepted of Axminſter in Devon, and continued Miniſter there 'till the Day of his Death. Contin. p. 451.

In the Biſhoprick of Durham. In the Biſhoprick of Durham. I mentioned in my former Edition the following Perſons as conforming afterwards in this Biſhoprick; Mr. John Weld of Riton, Mr. Richard Batterſby of Haughton, Mr. Luke Cotes of Sedberge, who afterwards had a Living in Yorkſhire, Mr. Joſias Dockwray of Lancheſter, who was afterwards LL. D. Mr. John Kid of Redmarſhal, Mr. Stott of Whickham, Mr. John Berwick of Stanhope, who was afterwards Lecturer of St. Nicholas Church in Newcaſtle, Mr. Bickerton of Wolſingham, who was alſo afterwards Lecturer at Newcaſtle: Mr. Pariſh of Darlington, who had afterwards a Living in Yorkſhire, Mr. John Timſon of Hellens-Aukland, and Mr. Thomas Boyer of Muggleſwick: And now I add Mr. Daniel Buſhel of Eggſcliff. Account, p. 290.

In Eſſex. In the County of Eſſex. The Perſons whom I formerly mentioned as here conforming afterwards, were Mr. Thomas Harper of Epping, Mr. Howel of Wicklerhow, and Mr. Lathum of Orſet. To theſe I now add ſeveral others, as Mr. Hill of High-Rooding, Mr. Holmes of Writtle, and Mr. Ferris of Norton, who I am told all three conform'd. Ibid. p. 316.

In Glouceſterſhire. In the County of Glouceſter. The Perſons whom I before mentioned as conforming in this County, after they had at firſt refuſed, were Mr. Aylway of Upper Grayling, Mr. Fido of Cold-Aſton, Mr. Hall of Beverſton, Mr. Nathaniel Hall of Avening, Mr. Shene or Sheve of Old Sudbury, Mr. Charles Somner of Alveſton, and Mr. Hern of Hampton. —— I now add alſo to thoſe who conform'd here afterwards, Mr. Barnſdale of Frampton, and Mr. John Lee of Barnſley. Ibid. p. 333.

In Hampſhire. In Hampſhire. —— I cannot find that any who ſtood out firſt in this County comply'd afterwards, except Mr. Humphrey Ellis of Wincheſter, who died Miniſter of Motſton in the Iſle of Wight. Ibid. p. 352. Contin. p. 519.

In Herefordſhire. In the County of Hereford. I underſtand that Mr. Broſter of Wormbridge did conform. Account, p. 359. —— And I have ſince had an Account, that Mr. Malden of Upper-Sapie conform'd, though not to the Satisfaction of his Conſcience. Contin. p. 523.

In Hertfordſhire. In the County of Hertford. In my former Edition I mentioned theſe Perſons following as conforming after they had for ſome Time been Nonconformiſts, Mr. Halſey of Broxborn, Dr. Hickes of Hartingfordbury, who was afterwards Rector of St. Margaret Pattens in London, Mr. Owen of Branfield, Mr. Stallybraſſe of Eſſenden, and Mr. Thornton of Hempſted. And I now add to them Mr. Godwin of Eaſtwick (which was a Sequeſtration) who I underſtand alſo afterwards conform'd.

In Huntingdonſhire. In the County of Huntingdon. Mr. Richard Kidder ejected from Stanground, after ſome Time conform'd, and died Biſhop of Bath and Wells. Account, p. 371.

In Kent. In Kent. —— Whereas I before declar'd, that I could hear of but one in this County who afterwards conform'd, viz. Mr. Daniel Hayes of Preſton: I now add Mr. Oſmaton of Ivy-Church, who was afterwards the publick Miniſter of Little Horſted in Suſſex.

In Lancaſhire. In the County of Lancaſter. —— Whereas I in my former Edition mentioned the following Perſons as conforming in this County; Mr. Bradley Hayhurſt of Leigh, Mr. Aſpinwall of Heaton, Mr. Joſhua Ambroſe of Derby, Mr. William Cole of Preſton, Mr. William Coleburn of Ellinburgh, Mr. Loben of Oldham, Mr. James Booker of Blakely, Mr. William Aſpenwell of Formeby, Mr. Briars of Heapy, Mr. Fiſher of Kirkham, and Mr. Jakeys of Bolton: I now add Mr. Jeſſop of Winwick, who died at Coggeſhall in Eſſex under ſome Scandals: And Mr. Robert Dewhurſt of Whitmouth-Chapel, who I underſtand afterwards conform'd alſo. But as for Mr. Peter Aſpinwall of Heaton, I now underſtand that he liv'd in great Uſefulneſs at Warrington, and died a Nonconformiſt. Ibid. p. 419.

In Leiceſterſhire. In the County of Leiceſter. Whereas I mentioned before Mr. Doughty of Medburn, Mr. Blackerby of Langton, Mr. Jenkin at North Kilworth, and Mr. Blake of Saddington, as afterwards conforming in this County: I now add Mr. Henry Pierce of Claybrook. Ibid. p. 438.

In Lincolnſhire. In the County of Lincoln. There conform'd afterwards in this County Mr. Samuel Male of Beckley, Mr. Richard Sharp of Sedgbrook: And I added alſo in my former Edition Mr. William Laughton of Weſtborough, and Mr. Chriſtopher Read of Baſingham, whom nothing but Death hindred from being fix'd in a Living, after he had for ſome Time ſtood out: And Mr. John Elwood in the Living of Barrowby giving Way in 1660. to Dr. Hurſt, after ſuch Ejectment went to live in Norfolk, where it was generally ſaid he conform'd.

In Middleſex. In Middleſex. Of thoſe who ſtood out at firſt in this County, there were but three that I can hear of who afterwards conform'd, viz. Mr. Ezekiel Hopkins Lecturer at Hackney, an excellent and learned Perſon, afterwards Biſhop of Londonderry in Ireland; Mr. Timothy Hall of Norwood and Southam, who was by King Ibid. p. 433, 473.

James II. prefer'd to the Biſhoprick of Oxon. and Mr. Rolls of Thiſtleworth, who was driven into Conformity by his Sufferings after his Ejection.

In Norfolk. Account, p. 486.

In Norfolk. The Perſons which in my former Edition I had mention'd as conforming, were Mr. John Benton of Great-Dunham, Mr. Mark Lewis of Shipdam, Mr. Elwood of Walcot and Eaſt-Ruſton, Mr. Day of Hingham, Mr. Denham of Cauſton, and Mr. Gooch and Mr. John Newton of Scharming. And I now add Mr. Pool of Romorton, and Mr. Odey of Blitching.

In Com. Northampton. Ibid. p. 498.

In Northamptonſhire. In my former Edition I intimated, that there conform'd afterwards in this County Mr. Dickenſon of Paſton, Mr. Lionel Goodrick of Overton, Mr. Stanley of Corby, Mr. Elborough of Geddington, and Mr. Southwood of Pytchley. I am alſo inform'd, that Mr. Philip Talents (Brother to him of Shrewſbury) did in ſome Time conform, and was Vicar of Moulton in Lancaſhire: —— And that Mr. Gaſcoigne alſo of Warmington, and Mr. Winſton, and Mr. Marſhal (who were mention'd as ejected at uncertain Places) did all conform.

In Northumberland. Ibid. p. 520.

In Northumberland. There conform'd afterwards in this County, Mr. Cole, Mr. Richard Prideaux, Mr. Aſhburnham, and Dr. Knightbridge, all of Newcaſtle; and Mr. Thomas Lupton of Woodborne, and Mr. James Aird of Ingram conform'd in Scotland, after he was ejected in England.

In Com. Nottingham. Ibid. p. 539.

In the County of Nottingham. Whereas I before mention'd theſe following Perſons as conforming afterwards in this County, Mr. Daniel Chadwick of Tollaſton, who fell in with the eſtabliſhed Church in 1666. when the Five Mile Act took Place; Mr. Flower of Staunton, Mr. Kendal of Widmeer-Pool, Mr. Ormſton of Keyworth, Mr. Forth or Frith of Fledborough, and Mr. Fiſher of Blith: I now add Mr. Charles Jackſon of Selſton. —— And as to Mr. Salter ejected from Winthorp, I am told he afterwards conform'd, and accepted of a ſmall Benefice at Conton, where he continu'd till he died. Contin. p. 700.

In Oxfordſhire. Account, p. 543.

In the County of Oxon. Mr. Francis Wells of Adderbury conform'd afterwards; and ſo did Mr. John Hartcliff of Stadham, who died lately Canon of Windſor, beforemention'd as a Nonconformiſt. [Quære.]

In Rutlandſhire. Ibid. p. 544.

In the County of Rutland. Among the ejected and ſilenc'd Miniſters in this County, Mr. Richard Levet of Aſhwell afterwards conform'd. —— Mr. Thomas Philips ejected from the ſequeſtred Living of Glaiſton, is ſaid to have died in the actual Service of a conſiderable Cure: And Mr. John Wells of Barrowden, I am told he alſo afterwards conform'd. Contin. p. 721.

In Shropſhire. Account, p. 572.

In the County of Salop. There conform'd afterwards in this County (as I intimated formerly) Mr. Lea of Shrewſbury, Mr. Haughton, Mr. George Berkley of Weſtbury, Mr. Warter of Ponſbury, Mr. Milward of Powderbach, and Mr. Roberts of Morton-Chapel. And now I add Mr. Worthington of Shabury, who conform'd afterwards in Cheſhire. —— Mr. Tallents, one of the nonconforming Miniſters in this County and the longeſt Liver among them, ſaid, that eighteen of thoſe that were ejected in this County did afterwards conform, and forty others never did. Contin. p. 730.

In Com. Somerſet. Account, p. 623.

In the County of Somerſet. Whereas Mr. James Strong of Ilmiſter, Mr. John More of Allard, Mr. John Chetwind of Wells (who died at Briſtol in 90 or 91.) and Mr. Charles Darby of Mountacute, and Dr. Martin of Evil or Evilton, and Mr. Tompkins of Crookhorn are beforemention'd as afterwards conforming, I now add, that Mr. Thompſon of Lullington conform'd at the firſt; and Mr. Oak of Northover or Ilcheſter conform'd afterwards, and that Mr. Boobier before reckon'd among the Nonconformiſts is mention'd as conforming in Devonſhire.

In Staffordſhire. Ibid. p. 635.

In the County of Stafford. Whereas I before mention'd Mr. Becket of Harlaſton, and Mr. Dunſtal of Shenſton, Mr. Jones of Lapley, and Mr. Nathanael Mott of Abbots Bromley, as conforming here afterwards: I now add, that Mr. Thomas Bold and Mr. Nevill, who were before mention'd as ejected at uncertain Places did after a Time conform. And Mr. Hancock who was mention'd before as ejected, was no Nonconformiſt, but had a Living at Wervilhome.

In Suffolk. Ibid. p. 661.

In the County of Suffolk. Whereas I before mention'd theſe following Miniſters as conforming in this County after being ſilenc'd, viz. Mr. Croſsman of Sudbury, Dr. Iſaac Harriſon of Hadleigh, Mr. John Simſon of Trimley, Mr. Roger Young of Ipſwich, Mr. Samuel Hudſon of Capel, Mr. Havil of Weſt-Geting, Mr. Tucker of Little-Wrotting, Mr. Ray of Stansfield, Mr. John Fairclough (youngeſt Son of Mr. Fairclough of Ketton) and Mr. Thomas of Dabden. I have been ſince inform'd, that of theſe Mr. Tucker never was ſilenc'd, but conform'd at firſt; and that Mr. Thomas did not conform, but was wink'd at and kept his Living, and was never ejected. I have been inform'd, that there alſo conform'd in this County, Mr. Thomas Lupton of Waldringham, and Mr. William Sparrow of Naughton, and Mr. Jeremy Catlin of Barham, and Mr. William Burkit of Mitcham, and Mr. Thomas Holbrough, jun. of Akenham. —— And Mr. Howel before mention'd as ſilenced, died a Conformiſt in this County.

Mr. Miles Burkit of Hitcham. Contin. p. 811.

In Surrey. Account, p. 673.

In the County of Surrey. I cannot hear of any who conform'd in Surrey, after they were once ejected for Nonconformity.

In Suſſex. Ibid. p. 698.

In Suſſex: I can hear of none in this County that conform'd afterwards but Mr. John Walwin of Fittleworth, who was before mention'd as ejected.

In North-Wales.

In North-Wales. Mr. (ſince Dr.) Fogg could not ſatisfy his Conſcience to keep in his Living, but reſign'd Harding a few Days before Aug. 24, 1662. But he afterwards conform'd, and was made at laſt Dean of Cheſter. Mr. John Broſter who was ejected from Penley in Flintſhire afterwards conform'd. —— Mr. Mau- rice Lloyd of Aberhafais in Montgomery afterwards conform'd. —— Mr. Jenkins who was ſilenc'd at Greſſford Com. Denbeigh afterwards conform'd.

In South-Wales.

In South-Wales. In Cardiganſhire, Mr. Rice Powell of Llanbeder, and Mr. Roderick Davis of Llanllobayme, and Mr. Thomas Evans of Iſchard conform'd afterwards. —— In Pembrokeſhire; of thoſe here ejected there conform'd afterwards Mr. Stephen Young of Roſecrowther, Mr. David Williams of Llanvihangel Penpedo; and Mr. Thomas Warren alſo after his Ejectment at Narbreth retir'd into England towards Great-Yarmouth and conform'd. —— In Carmarthenſhire, Mr. Morrice Merideth afterwards conform'd. —— In Glamorganſhire, there conform'd afterwards Mr. Evan Griffyths of Oxwiche, Mr. Pye of Biſhopſton, Mr. Rees Davis of St. Mary's-Hill, Mr. Hilliard of Newton-Nottage, and Mr. Henry Nicholls of Coytchurch. —— In Radnorſhire, Mr. David Jenks that was ejected at Bryngwin and New-church in this County, was a Nonconformiſt fifteen Years, and then conform'd.

Account, p. 717.
Ibid. p. 718.
Account, p. 721.
Ibid. p. 733.
Ibid. p. 735.

In Warwickſhire.

In the County of Warwick. The Perſons mention'd before as conforming afterwards in this County were Mr. Langley of Tamworth, Mr. Perkins of Maxſtock, and Mr. Wilkinſon of Anſty: And I now add Mr. Samuel Hawes of Hunniley, who had afterwards a Living near Warwick. —— Mr. Wilkinſon who was turn'd out at Anſty, was after ſome Years (it was thought by his Wife's Unquietneſs and Importunity) brought to conform, and was Miniſter at Kuoll, and Chaplain to the Lord Brook who liv'd there.

Ibid. p. 752.

In Weſtmoreland.

In the County of Weſtmoreland. There conform'd afterwards in this County, Mr. Thomas Dodgſon of Raviſtondale, Mr. Francis Higginſon of Kirkby-Steven, Mr. John Dalton of Shapp, and Mr. George Fothergill of Orton, who afterwards went to Worſop in Nottinghamſhire.

Ibid. p. 753.

In Wiltſhire.

In the County of Wilts. Thoſe which I mention'd before as conforming in this County after 1662. are Mr. Thomas Maſters who had a Living ſomewhere near Marlborough, Mr. Matthew Hind of Fittleton, Mr. Richard Franklyn of Brombal: And I now add Mr. John Wilmer of Ham, Mr. Foſſet of Cheriton, Mr. John Leg of Dunhead St. Andrew, and Mr. John Norris of Collingburn.

*Ibid. p.*675.

In Worceſterſhire.

In the County of Worceſter. Whereas I heretofore repreſented theſe following Perſons as conforming afterwards, Mr. Thomas Wright of Hartlebury, Mr. Simon Potter of Wolverley, Mr. Hyatt of Grafton, and Mr. Thomas Soley of Mitton. —— And whereas I formerly mention'd Mr. Joſeph Treble as one ejected, tho' at an uncertain Place; I have ſince been aſſur'd from one of good Credit, that he in a very little Time conform'd at Church-Leach in Worceſterſhire at the Importunity of his Wife, &c. —— Mr. William Durham had the great Living of Tredington. —— Dr. Crowther who ſucceeded him, for two or three Lord's-Days preach'd at one End of the Church while Mr. Durham preach'd at the other; till at length Mr. Durham preach'd his farewell Sermon, and left the Place: However he conform'd afterwards, and liv'd and died Miniſter of Breadſtreet, London.

Ibid. p. 777, 778.
*Contin. p.*895.

In Yorkſhire.

In the Weſt-Riding of the County of York. Mr. Henry Swift, Miniſter of Pennyſton, after Impriſonment, &c. was at laſt prevail'd with to take the Oxford Oath, and he read ſome few Prayers to keep his Place, &c.

Account, p. 791.

In the North and Eaſt-Riding of Yorkſhire. Mr. Etherington of Morley ſtanding out a little while and then conforming, ſucceeded Mr. Bovil at Bramley. —— Mr. Timothy Root of Sowrby-Bridge had a great Reputation for Piety, and had been a great Sufferer for Nonconformity, continu'd a Nonconformiſt till 1683. and ſome Time longer. But juſt at the Time when King James granted Liberty of Conſcience he conform'd, and held the Parſonage of Holden in this County.

*Contin. p.*959.
Ibid.

Theſe following Perſons were turn'd out at Bartholomew-Day, and afterwards conform'd in this County of York.

Account, p. 837.

Mr. John Hool of Bradfield, Mr. John Hide at Slawbwait, Mr. Kenion of Riponden, Mr. John Hepworth of Lotwell, Mr. Liſter of Giggleſwick, Mr. Wood of Saddleworth, Mr. Scargil of Chapelthorp, Mr. Moorhouſe of Caſtleford, Mr. Bovil of Bramley, Mr. Moor of Baildon, Mr. Obadiah Lee, Mr. Buckley of Hosford, Mr. Lamb of York, Mr. Denton near York, Mr. Sampſon of Rawcliff.

26. Many of thoſe Scholars who had been bred up under great Prejudices in the late Times, did eſpouſe the Principles and Cauſe of the Church, and became eminent in it.

Mr. Tho. Branker.

Mr. Thomas Branker, M. A. Fellow of Exeter College in Oxford, became a Preacher, but refuſing to conform to the Government of the Church of England, left his Fellowſhip in 1662. retir'd into Cheſhire, where conforming and taking upon him Orders from a Biſhop, became Miniſter of Whitegate: And for his Sufficiencies in Mathematicks and Chymiſtry, William Lord Brereton gave him the Rectory of Tilſton, but he keeping that not long, was afterwards made Maſter of the well endow'd School at Macclesfield in the ſaid County, where he finiſh'd his Courſe in November 1676.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 422.

Some others conform'd.
Mr. Savage.

Mr. Richard Savage ejected from his School of Selſcomb in this County of Suſſex, did afterward, at the Invitation of an Unkle, a dignify'd Clergy-man that was Childleſs, go into Cumberland, and there he conform'd and died in 1674.

Ibid. p. 843.

Mr. Torway.

One Torway who came into the ſequeſtred Living of Dr. Will. Huchenſon at Biſhop's-Cheriton in the Dioceſe of Exon. conformed at the Reſtoration, and by that means kept Poſſeſſion of the Living after the Reſtoration.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 37.

Philip

Mr. Ormeſton.

Philip Ormeſton ſucceeded Dr. Humphry Babington in his ſequeſtred Living of Keyworth in Nottinghamſhire: He conformed upon the King's Return, and died poſſeſs'd of the Rectory of Scrimſby in Lincolnſhire.

Dr. Pittis.

Dr. Thomas Pittis had been ordain'd by Preſbyters in Newport Church in the Iſle of Wight; he afterwards conform'd, and was firſt Rector of Gatcomb in that Iſle, and afterwards of St. Botolph-Biſhopſgate, London, &c.

Contin. p. 511.

Mr. Malden.

Mr. Malden ſaid to be ejected from Upper-Sapie in Herefordſhire, did conform, tho' not to the Satisfaction of his own Conſcience. However he continu'd in the Living till his Death.

Ibid. p. 523.

Mr. Goowin.

One Goowin came into the ſequeſtred Living of Dr. Barlow at Barton in Fabie Com. Leic. and after the Reſtoration he conform'd, and kept the Place.

Mr. Moor.
And ſeveral others.

One J. Moor who had been thruſt into the ſequeſtred Rectory of Leak in Nottinghamſhire, conformed after the Reſtoration, and kept the Living.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. p. 203.
Ibid. p. 206.

Mr. Thomas Neaſt.

Thomas Neaſt, originally of Jeſus-College, Cambridge, was made Fellow of New-College, Oxon. by the Parliament Viſitors, and afterwards by his Warden and Society preſented to the Rectory of Hardwick in Bucks. Thence going to London, he liv'd for ſome Time after his Majeſty's Reſtauration a Nonconformiſt, and preach'd in Conventicles. Afterwards conforming, he became Miniſter of St. Martin's Church in Ironmonger-Lane, and a little before [near five Years after, viz. May 11, 1671.] the grand Conflagration, was preſented to St. Stephen's Church in Coleman-ſtreet, London.

The Church was vacant by his Death before the 19th of December 1678.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 773.

Dr. Henry Eedes.

Henry Eedes was originally of Cambridge. Going to Oxon. he entred himſelf into Magdalen Hall, and by the Parliament Viſitors in 1648. was put in Fellow of Lincoln College, where he behav'd himſelf very factious and turbulent. On the firſt of May 1660. he reſign'd his Fellowſhip, otherwiſe had he tarried there a little longer, he had been expell'd. About which Time, by Money and Friends, he obtained one or two rich Parſonages, and in 1662. became Canon Reſidentiary of Chicheſter, and afterwards Doctor of Divinity at Cambridge.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 775.

Mr. John Tickell.

John Tickell of New-Inn, Oxon. B. A. in June 1649. and being about that Time made Student of Chriſt-Church by the Viſitors, was actually created M. A. in Feb. 1651. In which Year I find him a Preſbyterian Preacher in Abingdon in Berkſhire (having about that Time taken the Engagement, as before he had the Covenant) and in 1654. an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners of the ſaid County for the ejecting of ſuch whom the godly Party then called ſcandalous, ignorant and inſufficient Miniſters and Schoolmaſters, in which Office he was very fierce, &c. Afterwards he retir'd to the City of Exeter —— He refuſed to conform in 1662. but changing his Mind upon the Advice of Friends, he became Miniſter of Barnſtaple, and afterwards of Widecomb near Exeter, where he finiſh'd his Courſe, after he had reſign'd the Rectory to his Son.

Athen. Oxon. 2d Edit. Vol. II. col. 914.

He died on the 30th of June 1694. and was buried in the Church of Widecomb.

Mr. James Brown.
An Army Chaplain.

James Brown became a Student in Oriel-College, Oxon. in 1634. took one Degree in Arts in 1638. but before he took that of Maſter he left the Univerſity, a great Rambler in the Time of Rebellion as well in Mind as in Body, was a Chaplain, as I have heard, in the Parliament Army, and took all occaſions to diſturb orthodox Men with his Diſputes. But after the Return of King Charles II. he changed his Mind, and became Orthodox, and ſo continued, as I preſume, to the Time of his Death. In the Title of a Book printed by him in 1673. he ſays, that he was now a Preacher of the Faith which he once deſtroyed.

Became a Preacher of the Faith which he once deſtroy'd.

Ibid. col. 963.

Mr. Will. Hughes.
Another Army Chaplain.

William Hughes became a Batler or Servitor of Lincoln-College, Oxon. about 1641. Before he took a Degree he ſided with the Puritans or Preſbyterians, became a Chaplain to the Parliament Army, a Preacher up of Sedition and Rebellion, &c. he obtained at laſt for the great Service he had done the Cauſe, the rich Rectory of Hinton near Faringdon in Berks; which at the Reſtoration of the King he was forc'd to leave to the right Owner. —— After the Year 1680. he conformed to the Church of England; and as Mr. Roger L'Eſtrange relates, entred upon Epiſcopal Orders, and ſeem'd ſo great a Convert, that in Michaelmas Term 1683. he the ſaid William Hughes proſecuted his Name-ſake Tanner of Clapham for not coming and receiving the Sacrament according to Law, &c. After his conforming, he became Hoſpitaller of St. Thomas in Southwark, afterwards Miniſter of Kimbolton.

A great tho' late Convert.

Zealous to atone for his former Behaviour.

Ibid. col. 985.

Mr. Samuel Loe.

Mr. Samuel Loe of Magdalen College Cambridge, ſeems to be the ſame with Mr. Loe ejected from the Lectureſhip of Aldermanbury: Appointed one of the Preachers ſent out by the Univerſity of Cambridge in 1661. and with Mr. Samuel Lowe inſtituted Rector of High-Laver in Eſſex, Decemb. 3, 1662. a Man of good Life, and great Charities at his Death.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 36.
Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 368.

The ejected Fellows in 1660.

Note, that the ejected Fellows of Colleges in the two Univerſities by the Royal Viſitation in 1660. are not to be reckon'd among the Sufferers for Nonconformity, being oblig'd to give Place to thoſe who had a former or a better Title. Many of them indeed for want of Countenance and Preferment went into the Road of Nonconformity: And yet many others of them bearing the Loſs of Fellowſhips belonging to other Men, did afterwards conform and fill'd ſome Stations in the Church, of which ſeveral Inſtances might be given. And after that firſt Act of Juſtice for reforming and reſtoring in the two Univerſities An. 1660. thoſe Fellows of Colleges who went out upon the Bartholomew Act in 1662. were no conſiderable Number; and even of them ſome afterwards conform'd.

The ejected Fellows in 1662.

27. Some of the Miniſters conform'd who had been unhappily moſt active in the late Commotions, and had diſtinguiſh'd themſelves very much in a long and eager Oppoſition to the Crown and Church.

Mr. Robert Jago.

Mr. Robert Jago, jun. ſilenc'd in Cornwall, was at firſt a zealous Nonconformiſt, and was in a Jayl three Months for defaming the Liturgy: But as ſoon as he came out of Priſon, a Benefice being offer'd him he conform'd, and afterwards liv'd but ſcandalouſly.

Contin. p. 225.

Mr. Nathaniel Eaton, who did excommunicate all the Churches in New-England.

Mr. Nathaniel Eaton, the firſt Preſident of Harward College in New England, being firſt excommunicated from the Church of Cambridge, he did himſelf excommunicate all the Churches of New-England, and went firſt into Virginia, and then into England, where he liv'd privately till the Reſtauration of King Charles II. then he conform'd, and was fix'd at Biddiford, where he became a bitter Perſecutor of thoſe in that Way which he himſelf had quitted.

Ibid. p. 270.

Mr. Immanuel Bourne.

Mr. Immanuel Bourne, M. A. of Exeter College in Oxford, afterwards Rector of St. Chriſtopher's Church in London, and in 1622. made Parſon of Aſhover in Derbyſhire; when the Rebellion broke forth in 1642. he ſided with the Preſbyterians, and being there moleſted by the loyal Party at Aſhover and near it, he went to London, where he became Preacher to the Congregation in St. Sepulchre's Church, and was much admired by the Brethren. In the Reign of Oliver (about 1656.) he, by the Favour of thoſe then in Authority, became Rector of Waltham in Leiceſterſhire. Yet he conform'd at his Majeſty's Reſtauration, and on the 12th of March 1669. was inſtituted and inducted into the Rectory of Ailſton in the ſaid County, where he died Decemb. 27, 1672. —— He was well read in the Fathers and Schoolmen.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. col. 374.

Mr. Francis Roberts.

Mr. Francis Roberts, M. A. of Trinity College, Oxon. being always puritanically affected, he cloſed with the Preſbyterians in the beginning of the Civil Wars, went to London, took the Covenant, and became Miniſter of St. Auſtin's there, in the Place of a noted Loyaliſt ejected. In 1649. Feb. 12. he was preferr'd to the Rectory of Wrington in Somerſetſhire, —— where ſhewing himſelf a zealous Man of thoſe Times, he was conſtituted an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners for Ejectment of ſuch whom they then (1654.) called ſcandalous, ignorant and inſufficient Miniſters and Schoolmaſters. Yet after his Majeſty's Return, he, rather than loſe his Living, did turn about, took the Oaths again, and conform'd himſelf without Heſitation to the Ceremonies of the Church of England, &c. Doctor of Divinity of Dublin.

Ibid. col. 404.

He died at Wrington in the latter End of 1675.

Mr. Giles Collier.

Mr. Giles Collier of New-Inn Hall in Oxford, when B. A. he departed for a Time cloſing then with the Preſbyterians. In 1648. when the Parliamentarian Viſitors were in Oxford, he proceeded in Arts, took the Covenant, and afterwards became Vicar of Blockley near Eveſham, and a buſy Man, when he was made Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners of Worceſterſhire for the Ejection of ſuch whom the godly Party called ſcandalous, ignorant and inſufficient Miniſters and Schoolmaſters, An. 1654. and after. Yet at his Majeſty's Reſtauration he continued at Blockley, and when the Act of Uniformity was publiſhed, he conformed, not without Regret of ſome Loyaliſts in the Neighbourhood, whom he had much diſpleaſed in the Interval.

Ibid. col. 462.

He died at Blockley the latter end of July 1678. buried the 30th in his Chancel.

Dr. John Bernard.

John Barnard of Queen's College in Cambridge, thence journeying to Oxford to obtain Preferment from the Parliament Viſitors there, was created B. A. in the Pembrochian Creation, Apr. 15, 1648. and on the 29th of September following, he was by Order of the ſaid Viſitors made Fellow of Lincoln College. In 1651. he proceeded in Arts, and about that Time became a Preacher in and about Oxon. At length he became Rector of the rich Church of Waddington near Lincoln. After his Majeſty's Reſtoration he conformed, and not only kept his Rectory, but was made Prebend of Aſgarby in the Church of Lincoln, and in 1669. took the Degrees in Divinity.

Ibid. col. 555.

He died Aug. 17, 1683. and was buried in his Chancel of the Church of Waddington.

Mr. Robert Croſſe.

Robert Croſſe, M. A. Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford. In 1637. he was B. D. and being puritanically inclin'd, he ſided with the Preſbyterians in the beginning of the Civil Wars. In 1643. he was nominated one of the Aſſembly of Divines, took the Covenant, and ſometimes ſate among them, and in 1648. ſubmitting to the Parliament Viſitors he was named by the Committee for the Reformation of the Univerſity to ſucceed Dr. Sanderſon in the King's Profeſſorſhip of Divinity, but he refuſing to accept it, had ſoon after the rich Vicarage of Great Chew in Somerſetſhire conferr'd upon him, where he ſettled in 1653. and in the next Year was conſtituted an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners appointed by Parliament for the ejecting of ignorant and ſcandalous Miniſters and Schoolmaſters (as they were then call'd by the Faction) in Somerſetſhire. In 1660. he conformed, and becauſe there was no Body to claim his Living, he continued there to the Time of his Death. He had the Character of an able Theologiſt and Philoſopher.

Ibid. col. 569.

He died Decemb. 12, 1683. and was buried in his Church of Chew magna.

Mr. Richard Wearg.

Richard Wearg of Trinity College, Oxon. was created M. A. in the Pembrochian Creation 1647. made Fellow of his College by the Parliament Viſitors 1648. being by them taken to be a godly Brother for the Cauſe, as indeed he was. Afterwards he became Rector of Nelſon or Nailſon in Leiceſterſhire, which he exchanged with Mr. John Cave of Cole-Orton for Gateſide near Newcaſtle upon Tyne, he being then a Conformiſt.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 746.

He died about Michaelmas 1687. and was buried in the Church of St. Mary at Gateshead.

Mr. Zachary Mayne.

Zachary Mayne, M. A. of Magdalen College, Oxon. was made firſt Demy and then Fellow of that College by the Parliament Viſitors, took the Degree of B. A. in Ibid. col. 784. Athen. Oxon. 2d Edit. c. 919.

Some ſay only a Lay-Conformiſt.

in 1652. having the Letters of the Chancellor, Oliver Cromwell, fot the Diſpenſation of the want of two or three Terms, in which Letters he is ſtyled eminently godly, and of able Parts. When M. A. he was a godly Preacher in thoſe Parts: But after his Majeſty's Reſtauration he conform'd, and was School-maſter in or near Exeter.

Mr. John Paradiſe.

Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 789.

John Paradiſe, B. A. of Merton College, 1656. was bred up among Preſbyterians, dextrous in Short-hand Writing and repeating of Sermons, was ſoon after made Miniſter of Weſtbury in his own Countrey, left his Preſbyterian Principles, and became a Tory Preacher for the Royal Cauſe.

Mr. Daniel Nicols.

Ibid. col. 793.

Daniel Nicols, M. A. 1657. of St. John's College Oxon. had been by the Parliament Viſitors made Scholar of his College, of which he was afterwards Fellow. He conformed after his Majeſty's Reſtauration, at length became Rector of Scotton in Lincolnſhire.

Mr. Lewis Atterbury.

Athen. Oxon. 2d Ed. Vol. II. col. 910.

Drown'd in the beginning of Decemb. 1693.

Lewis Atterbury, Son of Francis Rector of Milton in Northamptonſhire, and Father of Francis late Biſhop of Rocheſter, ſubmitted while Student of Chriſt-Church in Oxford to the Authority of the Viſitors appointed by the Parliament, took the Degrees in Arts, became a Preacher in the Times of Uſurpation, Rector of Middleton Keyns near Newport Pagnell in Bucks; and after his Majeſty's Reſtauration Chaplain to Henry Duke of Glouceſter, and Doctor of Divinity.

Dr. Thomas Willis.

Ibid. col. 1082.

Thomas Willis of St. John's College Oxon. after the Surrender of Oxon. for the Uſe of the Parliament, he was actually created M. A. by Virtue of the Letters of Sir Tho. Fairfax General. Afterwards being ſubſervient to the Men that were uppermoſt in the Times of Uſurpation, he became one of the Aſſiſtants to the Commiſſioners of Middleſex, and the City of Weſtminſter for the Ejection of ſuch whom the Godly Party then (1654.) called ſcandalous, ignorant, and inſufficient Miniſters and Schoolmaſters; and was benefic'd in that County. After the Reſtauration of his Majeſty King Charles II. he turned about, became Miniſter of Kingſton upon Thames, Chaplain to his Majeſty, &c.

Mr. Joſ. Sedgwick.

Ibid. col. 1112.

Joſeph Sedgwick, Brother to John and Obadiah Sedgwick, became Batler of Magdalen Hall in Oxon. in 1634. took one Degree in Arts, went to Cambridge, took the other there, and was made Fellow of Chriſt's College in that Univerſity. —— After the Reſtauration Mr. Sedgwick conform'd, was benefic'd in the Church, and about the twelfth of June 1675. he was inſtall'd Prebendary of South-Scarle in the Church of Lincoln, being then eſteem'd an ingenious Man.

Mr. Vinter.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 689.

Mr. Vinter Miniſter of Covewald in Suſſex was call'd a moſt remarkable Apoſtate. He was once a zealous ordaining Preſbyter, and an Aſſociate of Dr. Cheynel's, whom he in a little Time much contemn'd. Next he was as warmly Congregational. And when the Times favour'd that Way, he became as vehemently Epiſcopal: Nay, he advanc'd a further Step, and when in the Days of King Charles II. Things look'd moſt favourably againſt Popery, he did not ſtick to ſay, that he could not have thought there was ſo much to be ſaid in Favour of Popery. There never certainly was a greater Weather-cock ſet upon a Steeple, than he was in the Church.

Mr. Roger Griffith.

Ibid. p. 730.

Mr. Roger Griffyth, after he had receiv'd among the Diſſenters more Encouragement than ever he deſerv'd, deſerted them, and became Parſon of New Radnor, and Archdeacon of Brecon, by the Favour and Intereſt of R. Harley, Eſq; and not long after died miſerably in Debt there, to ſay no more.

They diſappointed and deceiv'd one another.

28. And it is obſervable, that many of thoſe Miniſters in their adviſing, about Conforming or not Conforming before the Act, diſappointed and deceived one another.

Mr. Hewſon deceiv'd Mr. Clopton

Will. Clopton Coll. Eman. Cantabr. Art. Bacc. An. 1633. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. 1637. Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Ibid. p. 310.

Mr. William Clopton, M. A. ejected from Reckendon in the County of Eſſex. —— Mr. Nathan Hewſon of Burnham, viſiting him a little before Bartholomew Day 62. aſk'd him What he intended to do? Mr. Clopton anſwer'd, He did not know what he ſhould do. Oh! ſaid Mr. Hewſon to him, never conform. But he did not follow the Advice himſelf; for when the Day came, he gave his Aſſent and Conſent.

One declar'd he would be ſooner torn in Pieces than conform; and yet he yielded to conform.

Ric. Hawes Coll. C.C. Cantab. Art. Bac. An. 1623. Art. Mag. 1637. Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Ibid. p. 356.

When the Bartholomew Act came out, ſuch was the Moderation of Mr. Richard Hawes of Lentwardyn in Herefordſhire, that it was by ſome apprehended he might have conform'd, particularly by one his Neighbour Miniſters Mr. C——y of W——e, who complain'd that he was like to ſtand alone on that Side of the Countrey, being ſo bent againſt yielding to any of the Terms requir'd, though it were but to read ſome ſmall Part of the Popiſh Maſs-Book (as he term'd it) the Common-Prayer, that he declar'd, he would ſooner ſuffer himſelf to be torn in Pieces. But when they went in both together to the Biſhop, this Man (overcome by the Importunities of his Wife, ſoliciting him thereto) ſoon yielded, but to his Death deteſted, &c.

Mr. Keme a Pretender to Saintſhip.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 341.

He died at Albury, Oct. 22, 1670.

Samuel Keme or Kem of Magdalen Hall Oxon. created B. D. in 1636. about which Time he became Rector of Albury near Ricot in Oxfordſhire: In 1661. he put a Curate into his Living, ſided with the Rebels, took the Covenant, was made Chaplain to, and Captain of a Troop of Horſe, —— at laſt a Major, —— a Man of a very ſervile Spirit, a Flatterer, a Time-Server, an Epicure, a Leacher, &c. and yet always a Pretender to Saintſhip, —— yet after the Reſtauration, he turn'd about, endeavoured to expreſs his Loyalty, took the Oaths again, —— and all to keep his Living of Albury, and the Trade of eating and drinking, —— he ſpent all to ſatisfy his Epicuriſm.

Mr. Jo-

Mr. North diſſuaded others, and conform'd himſelf.

Mr. Joſhua North of Church-Taunton Com. Devon. —— did on all Occaſions expreſs a great deal of Zeal againſt Conformity. As he was riding with Mr. Wellman (who left the Living of Luppit for not conforming) a little before the Act of Uniformity was in Force, he vehemently perſuaded him from complying with the Terms to be impos'd, profeſſing that he would not conform, tho' for refuſing he ſhould be hang'd on the next Tree. However when the Day came, he choſe rather to comply, than to part with a fat Benefice worth about 200*l. per Annum, &c.*

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 367.

One urg'd Mr. Lavender not to conform, and thereby got his Place.

Mr. John Lavender left the Living of High-Ongar in Eſſex for Nonconformity 1662. A neighbouring Miniſter was urgent with him not to conform, and yet conform'd himſelf, and on Mr. Lavender's Ejection got his Place.

Ibid. p. 471.

Mr. Potter very vehement againſt Conformity did conform.

Mr. Simon Potter being in a ſequeſtred Living at Wolverley in Yorkſhire, that was in the Gift of the Dean and Chapter, was turn'd out. He was Mr. Read's intimate Acquaintance, born in the ſame Town with him, and ſent by Mr. Baxter to the ſame Trinity College, and ordain'd at the ſame Time with him. When Mr. Read told him what he heard the Terms of Conformity would be, he made Anſwer in theſe Words, that he would be hang'd up at his Door rather than conform. However when he came to the Trial, he did conform, &c.

Account, p. 778.

Some conform'd with very ſhameful Prevarication.

29. Some who ſhew'd themſelves moſt averſe to Conformity did ſoon comply, with ſhameful Evaſion and Prevarication, by no Means conſiſtent with Truth and a good Conſcience.

Mr. Mew who had been of the Aſſembly of Divines, play'd upon the Letters in a moſt fooliſh wicked Manner.

Mr. Mew of Eſſington in Glouceſterſhire, preach'd his Farewell Sermon, as did the reſt of the ejected Miniſters: But the Lord's Day following he read, I A. B. do declare my unfeigned Aſſent and Conſent, &c. without ſaying, I William Mew. A Miniſter (from whom I had the Paſſage) diſcourſing afterwards with him, that he muſt alſo go to the Biſhop, and ſubſcribe as well as read: He reply'd, that by his Subſcription he only declar'd that he did read I A. B. This looſe Diſtinction brought in him, who had been one of the Aſſembly at Weſtminſter, and Mr. Briton of Beeſly. And ſeveral others of this County follow'd upon the like Grounds.

Ibid. p. 332.

30. Some of the greateſt Biggots in the late Factions, brought the ſame Spirit into the Church, and were the moſt forward to perſecute their late Brethren.

Mr. G. Colliere.

When Mr. George Durant was ejected, plunder'd, and dragg'd away with ten Children, from the Vicarage of Blockley in Worceſterſhire, Mr. G. Colliere was thruſt upon the Pariſh, who afterwards became very active in diſpoſſeſſing others of the loyal Clergy, tho' he conform'd and kept the Living upon the King's Return.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 234.

Mr. Evan Griffiths as violent a Perſecutor of the Diſſenters as he had been of the Royaliſts.

When Dr. Alexander Gordon was turned out of the Rectory of Porteynon in Wales, he was ſucceeded by one Evan Griffiths, who had alſo the neighbouring Church of Oxwich. He was a Nonconformiſt in 1662. but afterwards accepted of the Living of Adderley in Glouceſterſhire; and became, as I have been informed, as violent a Perſecutor of the Diſſenters, as he had once been of the Royaliſts.

Ibid. p. 258.

Mr. Edward Byne.

Mr. Philip Hall educated at Wadham College, Oxford, diſturbed, harraſſed, and at laſt ſequeſtred from his Rectory of Upton-Pyne in Devonſhire, had for his only Succeſſor one Edward Byne an Independent, who never adminiſtred the Sacrament during his whole Abode there. He gave up the Living to Mr. Hall on the Reſtoration, and immediately after (how honeſtly is another Queſtion) became Rector of Pyworthy in the ſame County.

Ibid. p. 262.

One Bayly.

Mr. William Harvey a Gentleman of a very good Family, and one of the moſt conſiderable of all the Clergy in the Weſt, had been ſequeſtred from the Vicarage of Burington Com. Devon. for preaching a Cavalier Sermon, and praying for the King. —— His Cure was invaded by three or four Perſons, the Name of one was Miller a ſcandalous Perſon: Another was one Bayly, who afterwards conformed, and had the Vicarage of Winckley in that County.

Ibid. p. 263.

One Ingham.

Mr. Chriſtopher Hindle Vicar of Ribcheſter in Lancaſhire, an excellent Paſtor and extraordinary Scholar, was ſequeſtred for his Loyalty, and one Ingham by baſe and indirect Means got into his Place. This Succeſſor Mr. Ingham, tho' he had never been at any Univerſity, and could ſcarce write his Name, yet the Vicarage being augmented with 40 l. a Year, he conformed on the Reſtoration, kept it, and died in Poſſeſſion of it.

Ibid. p. 268.

Mr. Dacy a ſhameful Conformiſt.

Mr. Thomas Jones, M. A. Rector of Offwell in Devonſhire, had been ſequeſtred, plundred, and expos'd to extreme Sufferings in his Perſon and Family. —— The firſt Perſon who ſucceeded him upon the Sequeſtration was one Mr. Robert Dacy, who was put in by Order of the Committee, and poſſeſs'd the Living about three Years; in ſome Part of which Time he was tried for a Rape committed on Dorcas the Wife of Richard Vildey, a Miller of the Pariſh: And though he was acquitted by the Law, yet he was not ſo in the Conſciences and Opinions of moſt that knew him. The Pariſhioners at length articled againſt him, and got him removed. At which Time he returned to the ſmall Living of Buckland Brewer, which he had left when he came to Offwell. There he continued after the Reſtoration, and after Bartholomew Day too, and I preſume died there, as he had lived, a Monument of the too great Clemency, as well of the Eccleſiaſtical as Civil Government at that Time: Notwithſtanding both the one and the other hath been ſo clamour'd againſt and railed at for Perſecution.

Ibid. p. 280.

Mr. Bradford.

The next Perſon who ſucceeded in the Living of Offwell was Mr. Humphry Bradford, who conformed and kept the Living after the Reſtoration, and died in Poſſeſſion of it Decemb. 12, 1677.

One Taylor.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. *p.*287.

Mr. John Kellond being driven from the Rectory of Pyworthy Com. Devon. about the Year 1651. was firſt ſucceeded by one Legate, and then by one Taylor, who had no other than Preſbyterian Orders, but would have conformed on the Reſtoration could he have kept his Living.

Mr. James.

Ibid. p. 289.

Robert Kingman, B. D. was turned out of the Rectory of Crocomb in Somerſetſhire, by the Committee about 1646. and ſucceeded by Mr. Henry James, Father to Dr. James Maſter of Queen's College in Cambridge, and Regius Profeſſor. Mr. Kingman was never reſtored, but Mr. James conforming enjoyed the Place after the Reſtoration, to the Day of his Death.

Mr. John Marten very baſe.

Ibid, p. 292.

Mr. William Lane, B. D. Rector of Aveton-Giffard, and of Ringmore in the County of Devon. was ejected, impriſon'd, plunder'd, and loſt his Life for Loyalty. As for Barnard his firſt Succeſſor at Aveton-Giffard, — he was, as I have been informed, a Man of a very vicious Life, and fled at length to Ireland, being as I have heard, turn'd out by the Commiſſioners, not on Mr. Lane's Complaint only, but for his Lewdneſs and Debauchery. As for Mr. John Marten the next Succeſſor, though he was named by Mr. Lane himſelf (with the Leave of the Commiſſioners) in hopes to have found ſome Kindneſs from him to his Family: Yet he proved as baſe to them, as Barnard had before done. And as much a Man of the Times as he was, he could conform after his Majeſty's Reſtoration, in order to keep this rich Living.

Mr. Clement Hatch a Man of Wrath and Malice, and baſe Revenge.

Ibid. p. 325.

Mr. Richard Pote Rector of Lydford in Devon. zealouſly affected to the eſtabliſh'd Church and Monarchy was to be caſt out of that Living; —— and after the Miſcarriage of one Attempt to remove him, one Clement Hatch obtain'd an Order of Committee for Mr. Pote's Place, which he forcibly took and kept for fifteen Years, viz. from 1647. to 1662. —— And after the Reſtoration, Mr. Pote being grown Poor and ſtricken in Years, Hatch thought fit to conform, and endeavour'd all he could to keep him ſtill out of his Living: But Mr. Pote found ſome of his old Friends yet alive, who help'd him to bring down a Trial upon an Ejectment againſt this Intruder, and obtained a fair Verdict, and ſoon after the Repoſſeſſion of his Church and Rectory- And now Hatche's Wrath and Malice raging more than ever, carried him into Dartmoor among the Forreſters, and poſſes'd them that their Tithes were not due to the Church of Lydford, &c. So that 140*l.* a Year was reduced to leſs than fifty.

Mr. Flower.

Ibid. p. 338.

Mr. Theodore Price, Vicar of Cardiff in Wales was not only ſequeſtred, but alſo ſought after to be hanged. One Mr. Flower ſucceeded in the Living, who was a Glouceſterſhire Man, and after the Reſtoration returned into his own County, conformed as I have heard, and had a Benefice there.

Mr. Bradſhaw.

Ibid. p 352.

Mr. William Seddon, M. A. Rector of Grapnall in Cheſhire, and Vicar of a Church in the City of Cheſter, had been ſequeſtred, impriſon'd, and ſuffer'd other Hardſhips as a Malignant, &c. and one Mr. Bradſhaw a rigid Preſbyterian was put into the Parſonage of Grapnall. But preſently upon the Reſtoration 1660. Mr. Seddon ejected Bradſhaw again, who tho' a rigid Preſbyterian, yet then trimm'd and got another Benefice, called Lyme in Cheſhire, where I think he died.

An Intruder barbarous, &c. conform'd.

Ibid. p. 353.

Mr. Samuel Shipton Rector of Alderley in Cheſhire, when ejected as a Royaliſt, was not permitted by the Intruder to have any Lodging for himſelf or his Family in the Parſonage Houſe. —— He liv'd to be reſtored, and repaid the Intruder's Barbarity, by induſtriouſly applying himſelf to procure him another Preferment, which by his Intereſt he did, full as good as his own, I think it was St. Mary's, Cheſter.

Mr. Joſh. North.

Ibid. p. 353.

Mr. John Salkeld, B. D. bred among the Jeſuits abroad, and made a Royal Convert by King James, who afterwards call'd him the learned Salkeld; in the Year 1635. became Rector of Church-Taunton in Devonſhire; which he was at length deprived of, and died at Ulculm in Feb. 1659-60. As for his Succeſſor on the Sequeſtration, he was one Joſhua North the Son of a Tanner, who conforming at the Reſtoration, kept the Living till the Time of his Death, which happen'd in the Year 1680. ——

A great Dilapidator in one Benefice conform'd for another, and iuclin'd to Popery.

Ibid. p. 377.

Mr. Troſſe reſtored to his Rights died in 1674.

Mr. Roger Troſſe, M. A. was ſequeſtred from the Rectory of Roſe-Aſh in Devonſhire, by the Committee at Exeter, during the Wars, and diſpoſſeſs'd by a Party of Horſe; plunder'd, ſeiz'd, &c. —— Mr. Croſſe was firſt ſucceeded by one Lee, who was it ſeems, little better than Crack-brained: After him came one who pulled down a noble Hall belonging to the Parſonage, and ſold the Timber of it. — He afterwards conform'd, and had a Benefice in this County, where he was living at the Time when King James's Toleration came out, and then told his Pariſhioners (as I have heard) that they might go to Conventicles, tho' he could not.

A Raſcal and unnatural Villain offer'd to conform.

Ibid. p. 384.

Mr. Tomlinſon, Rector of Freford in Suſſex, was a very harmleſs, honeſt, and inoffenſive Man; his Living about thirty Pounds a Year, very well belov'd by his Pariſhioners. He had a Son of the Fanatick Strain, who inform'd againſt his own Father, and upon his Information, the old Man was turned out, and lived by the Charity of his Neighbours, his Son taking his Living, who would not ſo much as ſee his Father, nor contribute to his Relief in the greateſt Wants; which in a ſmall Time broke the old Man's Heart. The Villain was the hotteſt Man againſt the Ceremonies, and the very firſt that came over to the Church of England, after the Reſtoration: At which Time he had a Living given him, and came to Biſhop Morley for Inſtitution, who hearing the horrible Barbarity uſed to his own Father (tho' the Raſcal at firſt deny'd himſelf any Relation to him) turned him away with Indignation, and gave his Character to all the then Biſhops. He afterwards went into the Army, and died a Trooper.

Mr. Bawden refuſ'd to conform but for a few Weeks only.

Dr. Walker's Sufferings, Part II. *p.*392.

Mr. Henry Wilſon was collated to the Rectory of Buckland and Filleigh in Devon. 1614. by Dr. Cotton then Biſhop of Exeter; and was ſequeſtred and ejected early in the Rebellion. —— He lived to ſee the Return of his Majeſty, and to re-poſſeſs himſelf of his Benefice; but reſided not upon it, being unable to perform the Duties of his Function, by reaſon of his great Age and Infirmities: So that he was forced to ſettle a Curate upon the Living, who was one Mr. Thomas Bawden, the Gentleman whom the Abridgment (p. 305.) makes ejected from this Rectory: Whereas it appears from hence, that he was no other than Curate to the poor ſequeſtred Miniſter of this Place, who had lived to be reſtored. 'Tis true indeed, that Mr. Bawden refuſed to conform at St. Bartholomew's Day, but he continued a Nonconformiſt (as he hath aſſur'd me with his own Mouth) for a few Weeks only; and upon the Death of Mr. Wilſon, which happen'd about two Months after, endeavouring to get this Living, and miſſing of it he went into Cornwall, from whence after ſome Time, he return'd again into Devon. and is the preſent worthy Rector of Aſhton in this County.

One Horroths notoriouſly vitious.

Ibid. p. 400.

Mr. John Warriner, M. A. was ſent by Archbiſhop Laud to the Cure of Colne in Lancaſhire, and about 1645. was dragged out of his Deſk by two Soldiers, and forced to fly into Yorkſhire, where I preſume he died, for he never return'd to Colne afterwards. He was ſucceeded by one Horroths a Perſon notoriouſly vicious. —— However he was permitted to tarry here [upon his conforming] no leſs than ten Years after the Reſtoration, which was, as I apprehend, to the Time of his Death.

Mr. Theoph. Hart a Man of Lewdneſs and Immoralities, murder'd in the Bed of Adultery.

Mr. Cæſar Williamſon, B. D. Rector of Wappenham in Northamptonſhire, was ejected by the Intereſt of Robert Wallop, Eſq; Lord of that Manor; who recommended to the Committee one Theophilus Hart, a young Man who was born at Dacet in Warwickſhire, and was deſigned by his Parents for an Apothecary, and did for ſome Time ſerve for an Apprentice to that Trade. —— The Committee kept their Promiſe to Mr. Wallop, and put in Mr. Theophilus Hart, that precious Man, as he was then called, and who was then alſo admitted Chaplain to Mr. Wallop, one of the King's Judges. —— He kept the Pariſhioners in great Fear by his Cruelty and many Suits of Law, not in Defence of the Rights of the Church, but in Encroachments, and upon Pretence of Dependencies upon his Manor of Wappenham, which he had bought of Wallop. Thus he continued together with his known Lewdneſs and Immoralities till the Reſtoration of King Charles the Second. And Mr. Williamſon not claiming, he conformed by the Bartholomew Act, and being obliged then to be in Epiſcopal Orders, and receive Inſtitution and Induction from the Biſhop of Peterborough; he firſt overlook'd the rightful Title of the Biſhop of Lincoln to the Rectory of Wappenham, by getting himſelf preſented by his Brother, a lewd Lawyer of Northampton. And to paſs Examination, both for Orders and Inſtitution, he bribed James Thornton then Secretary to the Biſhop of Peterborough, and gave him five Pounds and a Brace of Bucks; and thus rigg'd, he return'd to Wappenham a beau Clerk, where he follow'd his old Courſe of Life; but never read Prayers according either to Law, Canon, or Rubrick; but he hired a Curate, and gave him his Board, and five Pounds a Year to read, or rather mangle, the Common-Prayer, and dig in his Garden: And when the Curate on Sundays read the Common-Prayer, while the Pſalm was ſinging, the Clerk went out of the Church to his Houſe, to fetch him to preach; and when he came, he went directly up into the Pulpit, and ſate down, and ſometimes preach'd in that Poſture. He continued in the Poſſeſſion of the Rectory of Wappenham till January 23, 1685. on which Morning a Butcher (one George Tarry of Wappenham) finding his Wife ſtark naked in Bed with Mr. Hart, in Mr. Hart's Houſe, and demanding Satisfaction for the Injury and Affront, and receiving no proper Anſwer to his Demand, but rather threatning Language, the Butcher having in his Hand a broad Axe (with which he had wrench'd open the Chamber Door to catch them) ran to the Bedſide, and cleft Mr. Hart's Head, and the Brains followed the Axe, and Hart expired with his Head hanging out of Bed, over an open Cloſe-Stool, and ſo died without ſpeaking one Word after the Blow was given. [The Butcher's Demand of Satiſfaction was not in the Bedchamber, but had been made ſeveral Times before: The Familiarity between his Wife and Mr. Hart being long ſcandalous and well known to him. Once returning unexpectedly to his own Houſe he found Mr. Hart running out of the Back-Door, and catching up a Clever, he follow'd him over two or three Styles and Hedges, and being not able to overtake him, he ſwore, the next Time he caught him he would be the Death of him; and ſtill finding the criminal Converſation to continue, he watch'd his Opportunity to ſurprize them, broke into the Chamber, ſaw them in Bed together, and while Hart in a Fright was lifting up his Head to ſpeak, the Blow was furiouſly given without a Word. [It is ſaid, that in Spain ſuch a Caſe is not Murder.]

Feb. 14, 1662. Theophilus Hart Cler. ad Rectoriam de Wapenham in Com. Northampt. vac. per ceſſionem ſeu amotionem Cæſaris Williamſon ult. Incumb. ibidem ſeu alio quocunque modo ad præſent. Johannis Hart Armig. ejuſd. Rectoriæ ex aſſignatione Roberti Wallop ut dicitur Patronum ad corroborand. titulum admiſſus & inſtitutus. Reg. Laney Petriburg.

Simoniacal, Fanatical, and horribly Vicious.

This ſad Relation ſeems to have been ſent to Mr. Walker by Mr. Archdeacon Hutton, Succeſſor to Mr. Hart at Wappenham.

Add, the Butcher was condemn'd and hang'd for the Murder, without Regard to the Provocation; which made him the more pitied by his Neighbours.

1686. 10. Junii Johannes Hutton, A. M. collat. ad Rect. de Wappenham vac. per mort. Theophili Hart ult. Incumb. per D. Epiſcop. Linc. pleno jure Patronum. Reg. Petriburg.

William

December 1662.

14 Car. II.

Mr. William Hill an Evidence againſt his own Companions in a Plot, conform'd for a Living, the Reward of his Loyalty.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 291.

William Hill of Merton College, Oxon. (Son of a Committee-Man, a notorious Schiſmatick of Herefordſhire) became one of the Bible Clerks in that Houſe in the latter End of 1647. when B. A. he abruptly left the College having there ſhew'd himſelf a Dunce, a Tale-Bearer to the Parliamentarian Viſitors, and a factious Perſon. Soon after his Father provided him a Parſonage that had belong'd to an honeſt Man, and a Wife, the firſt of which he keeping till his Majeſty's Reſtauration, was then ejected and put to his Shifts. Repairing to London, he fell into the Company of deſperate Fanaticks, did ſeemingly plot with them to ſurprize the King at Whitehall, &c. but he ſecretly betrayed all to Sir Richard Browne, who ſeiz'd ſome of the principal Actors. Hill was the chief Witneſs againſt them, and when they were condemn'd and ſuffer'd Dec. 22, 1662. he wrote a brief Narrative of that ſtupendous Tragedy intended to be acted by the ſatanical Saints of theſe reforming Times, &c. Afterwards for a Reward of his Loyalty, he had a conſiderable Benefice beſtowed upon him in Glouceſterſhire, but being hated by one Party for his Falſeneſs, and by another for his Factiouſneſs, did enjoy it but few Years, he dying upon the Place.

1663. 4^to.

Mr. Jeanes. Henr. Jeanes Art. Bac. ex Aula Nova Oxon. incorporatus Cantabrigiæ An. 1632. Collect. MSS. Thomæ Baker, S. T. B.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 585. Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 195.

Mr. Henry Jeanes, M. A. ſaid to be ejected from Chedzoy Com. Somerſet, tho' he died ſome few Days before Bartholomew 1662. was a Parochial Miniſter in 1635. He was at firſt zealous for the Impoſitions of the prelatical Party, and fond of the modiſh Notions, —— and had been a Scoffer of the Preſbyterians in the Univerſity of Oxford.

Mr. Barker.

Account p. 651. Collect. MSS. Tho. Baker.

Mr. Edward Barker ejected from Eye in Suffolk was bred in Caius College, Cambridge, and while he was there was high for the Church, &c. [Edm. Barker Coll. Caii Art. Bac. 1640. Idem Coll. Caii Art. Mag. An. 1644. Edm. Barker Coll. Caii Socius, unus e Prædicatoribus Academicis An, 1651.]

31. There remain'd a Multitude of the moderate and peaceable Preſbyterians who made no Scruple of conforming to the Terms by Law required for Unity and brotherly Love, and ſurer Defence againſt the common Enemy the Papiſt.

Dr. Thomas Goad an honeſt Puritan.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 453.

Dr. Thomas Goad had ſubmitted to the Men of the Interval, an honeſt and harmleſs Puritan, who had joined with the Preſbyterians, &c. was by one of that Perſuaſion ſaid to be one of the moſt peaceable, moderate, and honeſt Conformiſts of his Acquaintance, —— at length Maſter of Baliol College in Oxford. — He wrote a Book againſt Hereſies and Schiſms, which when publiſhed he loſt his Credit amongſt them, and was the leſſer eſteemed by Mr. Baxter, the Pride and Glory of that Party.

Mr. Joſ. Glanvill a great Admirer of Mr. Baxter.

Ibid. p. 495.

Mr. Joſeph Glanvill of Lincoln College, Oxon. taking the Degree of M. A. in the beginning of 1658. was about that Time made Chaplain to old Francis Rous one of Oliver's Lords, and Provoſt of Eaton College. —— He became a great Admirer of Mr. Richard Baxter, and a zealous Perſon for a Commonwealth. After his Majeſty's Reſtauration he turn'd about, became a Latitudinarian, —— Rector of Bath, Prebendary of Worceſter, and Chaplain to the King.

Dr. Thomas Horton an eminent Preſbyterian.

Ibid. p. 779.

Dr. Thomas Horton Maſter of Queen's College, Cambridge, who had been while Fellow of Emanuel a noted Tutor to young Preſbyterian Scholars, about 1638. became Miniſter of St. Mary Colechurch, London; afterwards Preacher to Gray's-Inn, Reader of Divinity in Greſham College, a Preacher before the Long-Parliament, Vicar of Great St. Helen's in London —— [Conform'd, and was admitted to the Vicarage of St. Helen's, June 13, 1666. as void by the Reſignation of Mr. John Sybbald, who ſeems to have ſucceeded him in 1663. and to have kept the Living in Truſt for him.]

Other great Men.

Dr. Simon Patrick — Dr. Edward Stillingfleet — Dr. John Tillotſon — Dr. Samuel Parker — Dr. Simon Ford — Dr. Thomas Sprat — Dr. John Worthington — Dr. Edward Reynolds — Dr. John Conant — Dr. Edward Rainbow — Dr. Richard Cumberland — &c. great Men, and very many more who had had their Education and their Benefices during the Iniquity of the late Times, and had Senſe and Learning ſufficient to ſhake off their Prejudices, and to rejoice in a reſtored and eſtabliſhed Church.

32. Some of the temporal Lords and other Laymen who had been carried down in the Tide of the late Times, made no ſcruple to conform, at leaſt occaſionally, tho' they would countenance and ſometimes hear their former Teachers: While others came over entirely to the Church, with all the decent Expreſſions of being reconciled to it.

Dr. Henry Stubbe.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 413.

There is an Inſtance in a learned Phyſician Dr. Henry Stubbe, a Diſciple of Sir Henry Vane, who practiſing his Faculty at Stratford upon Avon in Warwickſhire; after the King's Reſtoration, he made early and voluntary Applications to Dr. George Morley for his Protection in his Retirement, aſſuring him of an inviolable Paſſive Obedience, which was all he would or could pay till the Covenant was renounced. When the Reſtauration of the Biſhops was made, he, at the firſt Motion of the ſaid Dr. Morley, then his Dioceſan, received Confirmation at his Hands; and ſoon after took Occaſion to publiſh a Tranſlation concerning the Arts of Grandure and Submiſſion, and in the Dedication thereof to make this mention of himſelf: I have at length removed all the Umbrages I ever laid under: I have joined myſelf to the Church of England, not only upon account of it's being publickly impoſed (which in Things indifferent is no ſmall Conſideration, as I learned from the Scottiſh Tranſactions at Perth) but becauſe it is the leaſt defining, and conſequently the moſt comprehenſive and fitting to be National.

Many were Lay Conformiſts.

Mr. John Ray.
Mr. Thomas Gouge.
Mr. Samuel Clark.
Mr. Zachary Crofton.
Mr. Philip Nye.
Mr. Ferdinando Nichols.
Mr. Hugh Glover.
Mr. John Crow.
Mr. Richard Baxter.
Mr. William Thomas.
He died in 1667.

33. And even of thoſe who would not ſubmit to a miniſterial Conformity, many of them were Lay-Conformiſts, and did not at firſt think of forming ſeparate Congregations, much leſs of ordaining Perſons to perpetuate a Schiſm.

Mr. John Ray, M. A. a good Chriſtian, and great Philoſopher, a Lay-Conformiſt, frequenting the publick Prayers and Sacraments, &c. —— Mr. Thomas Gouge ejected from St. Sepulchre's, went conſtantly to the Pariſh Churches, and ſometimes communicated with them. —— Mr. Samuel Clark of Bennet-Fink, London, tho' not ſatisfied to conform, yet frequented the Church, both as an Hearer and Communicant. —— Mr. Zachary Crofton of Aldgate, while a Priſoner in the Tower, went to the Chapel Service and Sermon [at leaſt inſiſted upon the Liberty of ſo doing] being againſt ſeparating from the Pariſh Churches, notwithſtanding their Conformity, &c. —— Mr. Philip Nye, M. A. a great Leader in the Congregational Way, liv'd to write the Lawfulneſs of hearing the Publick Miniſters of the Church of England. —— Mr. Ferdinando Nichols, B. D. ejected and ſilenc'd at Exeter, went chearfully to Church, and even there was found dead on his Seat. —— Mr. Hugh Glover ſaid to be ejected from Finchingfield in Eſſex, went afterwards to Church with his Family, and did not preach after his Ejectment till the Diſſenters had Liberty given them. —— Mr. John Crow ejected from Aſhwell Com. Hertford, liv'd in great Amity with the ſucceeding Curate, and contentedly join'd with him in the ſeveral Parts of publick Worſhip, &c. Mr. Richard Baxter, and many others. —— Mr. William Thomas, M. A. ejected from Ubleigh Com. Som. 1662. where he had been Miniſter for above forty Years. He continu'd at Ubley after his Ejectment among his old People, and every Lord's Day attended the Publick Worſhip.

Dr. Calamy's Contin. p. 120.
Account, p. 8.
Ibid. p. 12.
Ibid. p. 23.
London, 1683, 4to.
Account, p. 219.
Ibid. p. 307.
Ibid. p. 367.
Ibid. p. 587.
See Mr. Nelſon's Life of Biſhop Bull, p. 22, 23, &c.

Many bred up their Sons to Conformity.

Mr. Fowler.
Dr. Twiſſe.
Mr. Butler.
Mr. Milbourn.
Mr. Woodward.
Mr. Terry.
Mr. Maſſey.
Mr. Oldham.
Dr. Wilde.
Mr. Edmund Calamy.
Dr. Benjamin Calamy Miniſter of St. Laurence-Jewry London in 1683. and Prebendary of St. Paul's in 1685.
Mr. Conſtantine Jeſſop.
Mr. John Fuller.
Mr. Samuel Ainſworth.
Mr. Richard Reſbury.
Mr. Timothy Dod.
Mr. Thomas Burroughs.
Mr. John Weſtley.
Mr. John Barton.

34. Some have thought it a good Credit to the Memory of the non-conforming Miniſters, that they were ſo moderate and indifferent in the Education of their Children, that many of their Sons conform'd, and were uſeful and eminent in the Church of England.

Mr. Richard Fowler ejected or ſilenc'd for Nonconformity at Weſterleigh Com. Glouc. was Father to Biſhop Fowler of Glouceſter. —— Dr. William Twiſſe, Moderator of the Aſſembly of Divines, had a Son Robert Twiſſe Clerk, nominated Miniſter of the New-Chapel in Tuttle-Fields, Weſtminſter, by Sir Robert Pye, and approv'd by the Veſtry, where he continu'd Miniſter till his Death about the latter End of 1674. —— Mr. John Butler, M. A. ſilenc'd for Nonconformity at St. Mary's in Litchfield, had a Son Lilly Butler, D. D. Miniſter of Aldermanbury, London, Prebendary of Canterbury and Chaplain to King George. —— Mr. Luke Milbourn, a ſilenc'd Miniſter at Wroxal in Warwickſhire, had a Son Luke Milbourn, a London Divine of extraordinary Zeal for the Church. —— Mr. Joſeph Woodward, ſilenc'd for Nonconformity at Durſley in Glouceſterſhire, had his Son Joſiah Woodward, D. D. a worthy Conformiſt, who lately died Miniſter of Maidſtone in Kent. —— Mr. James Terry Miniſter, ejected from Miclemarſh in Hampſhire, had a Son Mr. Peter Terry, who had a liberal Education, and conformed, and became Miniſter of St. Martin's in the new City of Sarum, a Prebendary in the Cathedral there, and Rector of Upper-Clatford near Andover in Hampſhire. —— J. Maſſey was thruſt into the Room of Dr. Samuel March, Rector of Patney in Wiltſhire, and continu'd till 1662. —— Father to Mr. John Maſſey made Dean of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. by King James. —— Mr. John Oldham ſilenc'd for diſſenting at Newton Com. Wilts. had a Son of his Name the celebrated Poet, who not only deſpis'd his Father's Way, but vilified his Perſon, in an ill-natur'd Piece intituled, A Character of a certain ugly old Parſon. —— Robert Wilde, D. D. was Rector of Aynho in Northamptonſhire, and left it for Nonconformity. —— He had two Sons that were conforming Miniſters. — Mr. Edmund Calamy, B. D. the moſt eminent of the Preſbyterian Miniſters in London, left behind him a Son named Benjamin, afterwards Doctor of Divinity, a loyal Perſon, an excellent Preacher, and a zealous Man for the Church of England. —— Mr. Conſtantine Jeſſop ſaid to have been Rector of Fifield in Eſſex in 1660. Nonconformiſt. He left behind him a Son of both his Names, and a true Son of the Church of England, who proceeded Doctor of Divinity at Oxford in 1685. and being then importun'd to give me Information concerning his Father and Writings, he ſeem'd not to care to have the Memory of him perpetuated. —— Mr. John Fuller a Preſbyterian Divine of London, ſaid to be ejected from Ironmonger-Lane (tho' he died before the Reſtoration) had three Sons, Thomas, D. D. Rector of Willingale-Doe in Eſſex, Samuel, D. D. Dean of Lincoln, orthodox Churchmen; and a third Francis epiſcopally ordain'd, and a Nonconformiſt by Humour and Chance, without fixing in any Congregation. —— Mr. Samuel Ainſworth ejected for Nonconformity from Kellemarſh in Northamptonſhire, had a Son a conforming Incumbent in Huntingdonſhire. —— Mr. Richard Reſbury, who not conforming laid down the Living of Oundle in Northamptonſhire, had two Sons Church Divines. —— Mr. Timothy Dod ejected and ſilenc'd at Daventry Com. Northampt. bred up his Son John to the Miniſtry, and he conformed. —— Mr. Thomas Burroughs, ejected from Cotteſbrook in Northamptonſhire, had a Son ordain'd and benefic'd in the Church. —— Mr. John Weſtley, M. A. Miniſter of Whitchurch near Blandford in Dorſetſhire, a great Sufferer for his Inconformity, was the Father of Mr. Samuel Weſtley, Rector of Epworth Com. Linc. &c. —— Dr. Samuel Barton Prebendary of Weſtminſter, was the Son of Mr. John Barton, a non-conforming Miniſter in Kent. —— And ſo in many other Inſtances.

Account, p. 330.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 923.
Dr. Walker's Sufferings, P. II. p. 129.
Contin. p. 774.
Account, p. 747.
Ibid. p. 323.
Contin. p. 516,
Ibid. p. 875.
Ibid. p. 880.
Ibid. 633.
Faſti Oxon. Vol. II. c. 899.
Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 155.
Athen. Oxon Vol. II. col. 176.
Account, p. 36, 497.
Contin. p. 640.
Ibid. p. 437.
Athen. Oxon. 2d Edition, col. 1033.

Mr. Tho-

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 562.

Mr. Thomas Porter ejected from Whitchurch Com. Salop. 1662. had a Son who preach'd ſome Time at Tilſtock one of his Chapels. He went afterwards to Bunbury, and the Biſhop of Cheſter would not (ſays Mr. Tallents) give him Orders, till he ſolemnly renounc'd his former Ordination from his Father, and the Claſſis which he ſubmitted to do.

Sam. Willes Coll. Chr. Art. Bac. An. 1630. Art. Mag. 1634. Coll. Tho. Baker.

Ibid. 741.

Mr. Samuel Wills ejected from Birmingham Com. Warwic. after ſome Troubles made his laſt Remove to his Son, Mr. Wills in Shropſhire, a pious worthy Conformiſt, where he died May 14, 1684. ætat. 73.

35. One Thing more might be obſerv'd, that ſome of thoſe who now reſolv'd to be Nonconformiſts, had before conform'd, and need not have been aſham'd of returning to their Mother Church.

Mr. Edmund Calamy had been a Biſhop's Domeſtick Chaplain, and full Conformiſt before the Wars. Some Things not mention'd by his Grandſon Dr. Edm. Calamy.

Collectan. MS. Thomæ Baker, S. T. B. Mr. Richard Smith's Obituary, MS.

Mr. Edmund Calamy, B. D. ejected from Aldermanbury, London, had been Chaplain to Biſhop Felton of Ely, and directed in his younger Studies by him, &c. [Edmundus Calamy Aul. Pembr. Conv. 2. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. An. 1616. Jul. 4. — Art. Bac. 1619. — Bac. Theol. 1632. —— Nov. 7, 1666. Edmund Calamy, once Miniſter of St. Mary Aldermanbury, was buried in the Ground of his late Pariſh Church, then demoliſhed by the late Fire. He was brought the ſame Day from Enfield, where he died Octob. 29.]

Mr. Arthur Jackſon had been many Years a conformable London Divine.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 3.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 437. Obituary of Mr. R. Smith.

Mr. Arthur Jackſon had been Miniſter of St. Michael's Woodſtreet, from the Year 1624. or at leaſt was Parſon of this Church in 1636. tho' ejected from St. Faith's under St. Paul's in 1662. for Nonconformity. —— [Arthur Jackſon Coll. Trin. Art. Bac. 1613. —— Idem Coll. Trin. Art. Mag. 1617. —— Incorporated M. A. at Oxford the ſame Year, July 15. —— Aug. 7, 1666. old Mr. Jackſon ſome Time Miniſter of St. Michael Woodſtreet, there buried in Ruinis.]

Mr. Thomas Gouge.

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 534.

Collect. MSS. Thomæ Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Thomas Gouge deprived in 1662. from St. or Holy Sepulchre's London, had been inſtituted to that Church upon the Terms of Conformity, Octob. 6, 1638. [Thomas Gouge, Son of William, born in London, admitted in King's College, Cambridge, An. 1624. —— Maſter of Arts 1629. elected one of the Univerſity Preachers An. 1638. when he ſubſcribed ex Animo the three Articles of Conformity, as required.]

Mr. Samuel Clarke.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 11.

Mr. Samuel Clark turned out of the Curacy of St. Bennet-Fink, London, had been many Years a conformable Miniſter in the Countrey before he came to London. —— And tho' he was not ſatisfy'd afterwards to conform to the Terms requir'd by Law for the Exerciſe of his Miniſtry, he yet frequented the Church both as an Hearer and Communicant. [Samuel Clark Coll. Eman. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 5, 1617. Art. Bacc. 1622. —— Art. Mag. Coll. Eman. 1626. —— Obiit 25. Decemb. 1682.]

Mr. Thomas Caſe.

Ibid. p. 12.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 440.

Mr. Thomas Caſe ſilenc'd by the Bartholomew Act at London, had not only been epiſcopally ordained, but was Pariſh Miniſter of Erpingham in Norfolk, from whence it is ſaid he was forc'd out by Biſhop Wren's Severity. He afterwards ſettled in the City at St. Mary Magdalen, Milkſtreet, &c. He died May 30, 1682. [Son of George Caſe Vicar of Boxley in Kent, admitted Student of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. 1616. took the Degrees in Arts, Holy Orders, &c.]

Dr. Lazarus Seaman.

Account p. 16.

Collect. MSS. Thomæ Baker, S. T. B.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 440. See Corporations vindicated, &c. By C. Hotham, 8vo. p. 58.

Dr. Lazarus Seaman ejected from All-hallow's Breadſtreet, London, had begun the World a conformable Divine, and was one of the Weſtminſter Aſſembly, when of Emanuel College he took the Degree of Batchelor of Arts 1627. when he ſubſcribed the three Articles of Conformity as requir'd; and did again ſubſcribe when Maſter of Arts in 1631. He was appointed Maſter of Peter-Houſe by the Authority of Parliament, Apr. 11, 1644. in the Place of Dr. John Coſin, who return'd to his Government of the College in 1660. [Dr. Calamy ſeems to boaſt, that even the envious Wood owns him to have been a learned Man. — And yet Mr. C. Hotham, one of his Fellows, and one that ſtands in Dr. Calamy's Liſt, will not own him learned, nor juſt. —— He died about Sept. 9, 1675.]

Mr. William Jenkyn.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 17.

Stow's Survey of London, Vol. II. lib. 4. p. 56.

Mr. William Jenkyn had been a lawfully ordained Miniſter before he was choſen Lecturer of St. Nicholas Accns, London. call'd thence to Hithe near Colcheſter, thence again to Chriſt-Church London in 1641. where he was ejected for Nonconformity in 1662. [Born at Sudbury in Suffolk, An. 1612. admitted of St. John's College, Cambridge, and matriculated July 3, 1628. he went out Batchelor of Arts of St. John's College, An. 1631. when he ſubſcribes the three Articles as requir'd; and ſubſcribes again when he proceeds M. A. of Emanuel College in 1635. —— He died Jan. 19, 1684. in Newgate, and was buried in Bunhill-Fields, with an Epitaph, which Mr. Strype has publiſh'd.]

Dr. William Spurſtow.

Dr. William Spurſtow had been one of the Aſſembly of Divines, among others who went off from their former Principles and Engagements. [Will. Spurſtowe Coll. Eman. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Dec. 12, 1623. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc. An. 1626. Idem Aul. Cath. Præfectus S. T. P. 1649. Reg. Acad.]

Mr. Simeon Aſh. It may not be improper to obſerve how much the young Students in both Univerſities fell in with the Prejudices of their Governors and Tutors. This was the Reaſon, that this ſingle College of Emanuel in Cambridge, bred more of the Puritans and Nonconformiſts, than perhaps any

Old Mr. Simeon Aſh, reputed among the Bartholomew Sufferers tho' bury'd a Day before, had been diſplac'd from a Living in Staffordſhire, for refuſing to read the Book of Sports. [There was one Aſh marked amongſt the Non-Communicants in Emanuel College Cambridge in 1615. and again marked amongſt the Communicants in that College, with Hill, Tuckney, Yates, &c. An. 1616. but, ſays Mr. Baker, I have not obſerv'd him to take any Degree.]

Mr. Anth. Burgeſs, Mr. Will. Jenkyn, Mr. Ralph Venning, Mr. Tho. Brooks, Mr. Tho. White, Mr. Tho. Rutton, Mr. Sam. Slater, Mr. Tho. Watſon, Mr. John Rowe, Dr. William Bates, Mr. George Griffyth, Mr. Stephen Charnock, Dr. Anthony any ſeven of the other Colleges or Halls in either Univerſity.

ny Tuckney, Mr. John Sadler, Mr. James Illingworth, Mr. John Reyner, Mr. Robert Brinſley, Mr. Edward Hulſe, Dr. John Pratt, Mr. Samuel Fairclough, Mr. John Aſherſt, Mr. William Dell, Mr. Chriſtopher Fowler, Mr. Samuel Clark, Mr. Nicholas Lockyer, Mr. William Vincent, Mr. Samuel Wright, Mr. Robert Cook, Mr. William Jeo, Mr. William Taylor, ſen. and jun. Mr. Giles Firmin, Mr. John Larkin, Mr. Hugh Glover, Mr. William Clopton, Mr. Samuel Bautoft, Mr. William Yates, Mr. Nathaniel Eales, Mr. James Bedford, Mr. Edmund Spinckes, Mr. Richard Goodwin, Mr. Robert Parke, Mr. Samuel Doughty, Dr. John Collings, Mr. Benjamin Snowden, Mr. Jo. Brinſley, Mr. William Bridge, Mr. John Lucas, Mr. Edmund Matthews, Mr. Stephen Fowler, Mr. William Malkinſon, Mr. John Lomax, Mr. Jo. Seton, William Reynolds, Mr. Samuel Cates, Mr. John Crompton, Mr. Thomas Hodges, Dr. Samuel Winter, Mr. Samuel Hilderſam, Mr. John Malden, Mr. Samuel Taylor, Mr. Samuel Cradock, Mr. Richard Fairclough, Mr. Timothy Batt, Mr. Samuel Habergam, Mr. Thomas Walker, Mr. John Weld, Mr. John Storer, Dr. John Arthur, Mr. Richard Roberts, Mr. James Fiſher, Mr. Walter Poſtlethwayt, Mr. Jo. Simmonds, Mr. Laurence Fogge, Dr. Jo. Bryan, Mr. Luke Milbourn, Mr. Jo. Baker, Mr. Joſeph Baker, Mr. Gervaſe Brian, Mr. John Ward, Mr. Jo. Giles, Mr. Jo. Croſsley, Mr. Adoniram Bifield, Dr. Tho. Horton, Mr. Stephen Marſhall, Mr. Thomas Parker. These are moſt of them mention'd in the Liſt of Sufferers for Nonconformity, and appear upon the Regiſters to have been all of Emanuel College, beſides great Numbers no doubt of the ſame Society who were forward Preachers up of the unhappy Changes in 1641. and either died before the Reſtauration, or conform'd with it.

Mr. John Crompton.

In much the ſame Caſe of good old Conformity before the Wars were many other City Miniſters: As Mr. John Crompton ejected from Arnold Com. Nottingh. had been ordain'd Deacon by the Biſhop of Cheſter, and Preſbyter by the Biſhop of Coventry and Litchfield, and had taken out the Biſhop's Licence March 1, 1639. [Joh. Crompton Coll. Eman. Cantab. Art. Bac. An. 1632. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. An. 1636.]

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 531.

Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Samuel Hilderſam.

Mr. Samuel Hilderſham, B. D. ejected from Weſt-Felton Com. Salop. had been ſettled Rector there Anno 1628. He was one of the Aſſembly of Divines. A Conformiſt in the old Times, but reſolv'd enough againſt the new Conformity. [And yet this new Conformity was more eligible to moderate Men, than the Conformity in the old Times of Archbiſhop Laud and Biſhop Wren: For excepting the renouncing the Covenant, they found Epiſcopacy more Moderate, and the Liturgy much Reformed. ——— Sam. Hilderſam Coll. Eman. Cant. Art. Bacc. 1612. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. An. 1616. Samuel Hilderſam born in Leiceſterſhire, elected Fellow of Emanuel College about the Year 1620. Samuel Hilderſam, B. D. ſubſcribes the three Articles, as one of the Univerſity Preachers, An. 1624.]

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 530.

Collect. MSS. Thomæ Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Thomas Porter.

Mr. Thomas Porter ejected from Whitchurch Com. Salop. was an ancient grave Divine, and was ſettled Miniſter of Hanmer in Flintſhire long before the Wars. —— When the King came in, he gave way to Dr. Bernard a worthy moderate Man, and ſpent the reſt of his Days in Silence and Affliction.

Account p. 561.

He died June 19, 1669.

Mr. John Batt.

Mr. John Batt ejected from Stoke-Triſter Com. Som. 1662. had been educated in New-Inn Hall, Oxon. and ordained by Dr. Pierce Biſhop of Bath and Wells. —— After his being ſilenc'd he liv'd private, and ſeldom preach'd.

Ibid. p. 613.

He died in July 1664.

Mr. Richard Byfield.

Mr. Richard Byfield, M. A. of Queen's College, Oxon. 1615. was the oldeſt Miniſter in the County when he was ejected from Long-Ditton in Surrey, 1662. was one of the Aſſembly of Divines, &c.

Athen.Oxon. Vol. II. c. 229.

He died in December 1664.

Dr. John Arthur ejected or ſilenc'd at Clapham in Surrey, bred in Emanuel College, Cambridge, muſt have been epiſcopally ordained, and thought the more inclin'd to the Church when he obtain'd a Diploma for the Degree of Doctor in Divinity at Oxford in 1660.

Dr. Calamy's Account, p. 664.

Joh. Arthur Coll. Eman. Cantabr. Art. Bac. An. 1632. ſubſcripſit Articulis. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. 1636. Collect. MS. Tho. Baker.

Mr. James Nalton.

Mr. James Nalton admitted to St. Leonard's, Foſter-Lane, Apr. 13, 1643. and excluded for Nonconformity in 1662. [Jac. Nalton Coll. Trin. Cant. Art. Bacc. 1619. Art. Magiſter 1623. admiſſ. ad Eccl. S. Leonardi Foſter-Lane Lond. Apr. 13, 1643. ad Nominat. Hon. Virorum Dominorum in Suprema Curia Parliamenti congregatorum, juxta Ordinem in ea parte editum. —— Sam. Bolton, S. T. P. ſucceſſit Januar. 26, 1662. per inconformitatem Nalton.]

Newcourt, Vol. I. p. 395.

Mr. Joſeph Caryl.

—— Mr. Joſeph Caryl a Commoner of Exeter College, Oxon. in the Beginning of 1621. in 1627. he proceeded in Arts, and entring into Holy Orders, exercis'd his Function in and near Oxon. for ſome Time. At length Preacher to the honourable Society at Lincoln's-Inn. In 1645. he was made Miniſter of St. Magnus near London-Bridge, ejected by the Act of Uniformity: He died Feb. 25, 1672.

Athen.Oxon. Vol. II. c. 375.

Mr. William Cooper.

—— Mr. William Cooper ejected from St. Saviour's Southwark, had been collated to the Living of Ringmere in Suſſex by Archbiſhop Laud, and was Chaplain to the Queen of Bohemia, and continu'd in her Family in the Hague from 1644 to 1648.

Dr. Calamy's Account p. 21. and Contin. p. 18.

Mr Zachary Crofton.

Dr. Roger Drake.

Mr. Philip Nye.

Mr. John Sheffield.

Mr. Seth Wood.

—— Mr. Zachary Crofton remov'd from St. Botolph Aldgate 1662. —— Dr. Roger Drake from St. Peter's Cheap. —— Mr. Philip Nye from St. Bartholomew, Exchange, who was in Epiſcopal Orders, and officiated at St. Michael's Cornhill in 1630. —— Mr. John Sheffield from St. Swithins, of Peter-Houſe Cambridge, B. A. 1621. M. A. 1625. —— Mr. Seth Wood from St. Leonard-Eaſtcheap, who taking his Maſter's Degree at Magdalen College, Cambridge, in 1632. ſubſcribes the three Articles, &c.

Collectan. Tho. Baker, MSS.

Mr. John

The writing Regicide John Goodwin, Rector of St. Stephen in Coleman-ſtreet, Dec. 18, 1633.
Dr. John Owen.
Joh. Goodwin Norfolcienſis admiſſus Socius Coll. Regin. Cantab. Nov. 10, 1617. Reg. Acad.

Mr. John Goodwin of Coleman-Street. Suppoſe the ſame with John Goodwin a Norfolk Man, admitted Fellow of Queen's College Cambridge, Novemb. 10, 1617. —— Dr. John Owen, who being a Miniſter's Son, was entred of Queen's College, Oxon. in 1628. M. A. in 1635. when he ſwore Allegiance and Fidelity to the King, his Heirs, &c. About the ſame Time he entred into Holy Orders, and when made Prieſt ſwore Canonical Obedience to the Biſhop his Dioceſan, &c.

Wood's Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. c. 555.

Dr. Daniel Greenwood.
Dr. Henry Langley.
Mr. Ralph Button.
Dr. Thomas Goodwin.
Dr. Henry Wilkinſon.
Dr. Edmund Stanton.
Mr. Henry Corniſh.
Mr. John Pointer.
Mr. Thomas Cawton.
Mr. Thomas Riſley.

It was the ſame Misfortune in many of the Heads of Houſes and eminent Profeſſors in the two Univerſities, they had been carried down from the Church by the Stream of the Times, and had acted ſuch Parts, as made them now aſham'd to return to the Communion of it. —— Dr. Daniel Greenwood Principal of Brazen-Noſe College, Oxon. who had been incorporated M. A. at Cambridge, An. 1631. —— Dr. Henry Langley Maſter of Pembroke College, Oxon. —— Mr. Ralph Button, Canon of Chriſt-Church and Publick Orator. —— Dr. Thomas Goodwin Preſident of Magdalen's, who had taken the Degree of Batchelor of Arts of Chriſt College, Cambridge, An. 1616. and his Maſter's Degree of Catharine Hall 1620. He ſubſcribed the three Articles of Conformity, as one of the Univerſity Preachers in 1625. —— Dr. Henry Wilkinſon, Canon of Chriſt-Church and Margaret Profeſſor, who had been a noted Preacher at Oxford in 1638. —— Dr. Edmund Stanton Preſident of Corpus-Chriſti, who had been long in Epiſcopal Orders, Miniſter of Buſhy in Hertfordſhire, and of Kingſton upon Thames, and had taken his Degrees in Divinity in 1634, &c. Apr. 19, 1627. Edm. Staunton, A. M. inſtitutus in Eccl. de Buſhy Com. Hertf. ad preſ. Henrici Ewer de Medio Templo Lond. Armig. —— Mr. Henry Corniſh Canon of Chriſt-Church in Epiſcopal Orders, &c. Mr. John Pointer another Canon of Chriſt-Church. —— Mr. Thomas Cawton of Merton College was ordain'd by the Biſhop of Oxford in 1660. or 1661. and yet afterwards gather'd a Congregation of Diſſenters, &c. —— Mr. Thomas Riſley, M. A. Fellow of Pembroke College, was ordained Deacon and Preſbyter the ſame Day, Nov. 10, 1662. by the Biſhop of Norwich; and yet turn'd aſide into Nonconformity, — and ſome others.

Athen. Oxon Vol. II. col. 352.
Dr. Calamy's Account, p 73.
Contin. p. 100.

Dr. Anthony Tuckney.
Mr. John Ray.
Joh. Ray Coll. Trin. Cantabr. Art. Mag. An. 1651. Reg. Acad.

In Cambridge. Dr. Anthony Tuckney Maſter of St. John's, and Regius Profeſſor of Divinity. Born in September 1599. matriculated in Cambridge of Emanuel College July 8, 1613. B. A. in 1616. and M. A. 1620. S. T. P. in 1649. Maſter of Emanuel 1645. and of St. John's in 1653. On the Reſignation of Dr. Arrowſmith, made Jan. 10, 1655. Dr. Tuckney was elected Regius Profeſſor Feb. 1, 1655. —— Mr. John Ray, Fellow of Trinity College, M. A. was ordain'd in December 1660. by Dr. Sanderſon Biſhop of Lincoln, and yet quitted his Fellowſhip in 1662. becauſe he could not comply with the Act of Uniformity.

Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Among the Countrey Clergy there were great Numbers that had been Conformiſts before the Civil Wars, and yet would not conform after the Reſtauration: To mention only a few of them.

Mr. Thomas Calvert was epiſcopally ordain'd, and was one of the four learned Miniſters that the State with honourable Stipends maintain'd at the Minſter in York, where he preach'd in his Courſe till the Reſtoration of King Charles the Second. [Thomas Calvert, Batchelor of Arts of Sidney College, Cambridge, An. 1625. when he ſubſcribes the Articles, Maſter of Arts at Sidney College An. 1629. when he ſubſcribes again. Collect. MS. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.]

Account, p. 783.

Mr. James Fiſher ejected or ſilenc'd at Sheffield in Yorkſhire, had been in his younger Days Miniſter in London and Preacher, &c. [Quidam Jac. Fiſher Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. An. 1625. Idem Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1629. Reg. Acad.]

Ibid. p. 790.

Mr. John Noble, M. A. ejected from Smeton Com. Ebor. in 1662. had been Miniſter at Whitgift in 1637. [Joh. Noble Coll. Chriſti Cant. Art. Bacc. 1633. Art. Mag. Coll. Chr. An. 1637.]

Reg. Acad. Cant.

Mr. Robert Todd the firſt Incumbent of Mr. Harriſon's new Church at Leeds in Yorkſhire, and thence ejected in 1662. had been ordain'd by Archbiſhop Toby Matthews on September 2, 1621. and preſented to the Vicarage of Ledsham in 1625. Rob. Todd Coll. Jeſ. Cantabr. Art. Bac. 1617. Idem Coll. Jeſ. Art. Mag. An. 1627. Reg. Acad.]

Account, p. 796.

Nic. Lockyer A. B. ex Aul. Nov. Hoſp. Oxon. incorporatus Cantab. Anno 1635. — Nic. Lockyer Coll. Eman. Art. Magiſter 1636. Collect. MS. Tho. Baker.

Mr. Nicholas Lockyer deprived of the Provoſtſhip of Eaton in 1662. entred of New-Inn Hall Oxon. in 1629. took the Degree of Batchelor of Arts, but whether that of Maſter it appears not. And about the ſame Time entring into Holy Orders according to the Church of England, had ſome Cure conferr'd upon him: But upon the Change of Times, he cloſed with the Preſbyterians, then with the Independents, Chaplain to Oliver, Fellow of Eaton, and Provoſt in 1658. —— [and might well be aſham'd to return to his firſt State of Conformity.]

Wood's Athen. Oxon. 2d Edit. Vol. II. col. 777.

Mr. Jonathan Jephcot.

Mr. Jonathan Jephcot, who left Swaffham St. Mary's in Cambridgeſhire, (which yet was fill'd up before the Bartholomew Day) had been long before ordained firſt Deacon, and then Preſbyter, by Biſhop Morton, and fix'd at Shilton, &c.

Account, p. 112.

Mr. John Jones.

Mr. John Jones tho' not conforming in Cheſhire 1662. had officiated for ſome Time in his younger Years at Tarperley Church in the Way of the Church of England, &c. [Quidam Joh. Jones Coll. Chr. Cant. Art. Mag. 1630.]

Ibid. 131.

Mr. Thomas Brook.

Mr. Thomas Brook turn'd out of Congleton in Cheſhire, 1660. had read the Common-Prayer till he read all the People out of the Church, and then thought thought it was high Time to forbear. His Enemies uſ'd to call him bawling Brook, &c.

Ibid. 133.

Mr. John Rogers.

Mr. John Rogers, M. A. ejected from Croglin Com. Cumb. had been (before the Wars) for ſome Time Preacher at Middleton-Cheyney in Northamptonſhire, was a Miniſter's Son, &c.

Account, p. 151.

Mr. John Hieron.

Mr. John Hieron, M. A. a Miniſter's Son, had been ordained Deacon and Preſbyter by Biſhop Morton of Coventry and Litchfield on Trinity-Sunday 1630. had been Pupil to Biſhop Chapel, &c. ejected from Bredſall Com. Derb. in 1662. [Jo. Hieron Coll. Chriſti Cant. Quadr. admiſſus in matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 7, 1625. —— Art. Bac. An. 1628. when he ſubſcribes the three Articles, as requir'd. Art. Mag. Coll. Chr. An. 1632. when he ſubſcribes again.]

Ibid. p. 162.

Mr. Anthony Burgeſs, M. A. ejected from Sutton-Coldfield Com. Warwic. had been an Epiſcopal Divine, and one of the Aſſembly. [Ant. Burgeſs admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. (deſignatus Joannenſis) Jul. 3, 1623. Ant. Burgeſs Coll. Jo. Art. Bac. 1626. Anth. Burgeſs Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. 1630. Elected Fellow of Emanuel College about the Year 1637. the firſt under Dr. Holdſworth Maſter. —— Octob. 22, 1664. Anthony Burgeſs, once Preacher at St. Lawrence-Jewry died about this Time.]

Collect. MSS. Tho. Baker.

Mr. Richard Smith's Obituary in 1664.

Mr. Tho. Baldwin, ſen. ejected from Chadgly in Worceſterſhire was an ancient Miniſter, &c. [Tho. Baldwyne Coll. Chr. Cantabr. Art. Mag. An. 1632. when he ſubſcrib'd the three Articles as requir'd.]

Coll. MSS. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Joſeph Swetnam.
This nice Diſtinction of being really not formally ejected, and making a Seceſſion mixtly voluntary, ſo as to be not expell'd and yet be expell'd by the Act, took Place in many like Caſes, where the diſſatisfied Men made a Reſignation or Ceſſion before the Time of Trial.

Mr. Joſeph Swetnam of Allhallows Derby. He was not formally put out by the Act of Uniformity, and yet really was. For foreſeeing the Commencement of that Act at Bartholomew Day he thought good to make a mixtly voluntary Seceſſion ſome Time before its taking Place, and ſo was not, and yet was expell'd by it. [Joſ. Swetnam Coll. Magd. Cantabr. Art. Mag. An. 1627.]

Account, p. 164.

Mr. Thomas Shermerdine, M. A. turn'd out of Matlock in Derbyſhire 1662. had been divers Years a Preacher, &c. [Tho. Shelmerdine Coll. Chr. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1621. ſubſcripſit Articulis tribus de jure requiſitis.]

Ibid. 166.

Mr. Thomas Ford, M. A. had been an eminent Tutor and Preacher in Oxford in and before 1631. among the ejected or ſilenc'd at Exeter in 1662.

Ibid. 207.

Mr. George Hughes.

Mr. George Hughes, B. D. ejected from Plymouth, had been a conformable eminent Tutor and Fellow in Pembroke College, Oxon. He received the Degree of M. A. June 23, 1625. and was ordain'd about three Years after; and proceeded B. D. July 10, 1633, &c.

Ibid. p. 222.

Mr. Maynard.

Mr. John Maynard, M. A. ejected from Mayfield in Suſſex 1662. entred of Queen's College, Oxon. 1615. In 1622. he went out Maſter of Arts, grand Compounder, took holy Orders, became Vicar of Mayfield, a Member of the Aſſembly of Divines, &c.

Ibid. p. 238.

He was interr'd in Gline Church, Oct. 2, 1678.

Mr. Zachary Smith ejected from Gline in Suſſex had been in his younger Days Epiſcopally ordain'd, and about four Months after the Bartholomew Ejection, taking the Advantage of a Clauſe in the Act of Parliament he preach'd again publickly in Gline Church, but was ſoon ſtruck dumb again, &c.

Ibid.

Dr. George Kendall.

Mr. Chriſtoph. Lawrence.

Mr. Hugh Glover.

Dr. George Kendall ejected from Kenton, had been ſo right in the Court of Charles I. that being of Exeter College, Oxon. when Dr. Prideaux was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter, the King zealouſly recommended Mr. Kendall to ſucceed Rector of that College tho' he loſt it. —— Mr. Chriſtopher Lawrence ejected from Cambe near Dorcheſter had been in 1636. ordain'd by the Biſhop of Bath and Wells, &c. —— Mr. Hugh Glover, Succeſſor to Mr. Stephen Marſhall at Finchingfield in Eſſex, and ſaid to be ejected thence in 1662. (tho' Samuel Biſhop, M. A. ſucceeded by the Ceſſion of Mr. Glover, Sept. 10, 1662.) had been an old Epiſcopal Divine. Born in Leiceſterſhire, of Emanuel College Cambridge, Batchelor of Arts 1630, Maſter of Arts 1634: And at both Times he ſubſcribed the Articles required for Conformity.

Ibid. 239.

Ibid. p. 264.

Ibid. p. 307.
Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 265.
Collect. Tho. Baker, S. T. B.

Mr. Matthew Newcomen.

Mr. John Corbet bred under Biſhop Goodman, not then a popiſh Biſhop.

Mr. Richard Hawes.

Mr. John Crow.

Mr. Tho. Ventreſs.

Mr. John Swan.

Mr. Matthew Newcomen a conſiderable Scholar ejected or ſilenc'd at Dedham in Eſſex, a Commiſſioner at the Savoy, &c. was an old Epiſcopal Preſbyter. [Matth. Newcomen Coll. Joh. Quadr. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 6, 1626. admiſſus Diſcipulus Coll. Joh. Cant. Nov. 8, 1626. Art. Bac. An. 1629. Art. Mag. 1633.] —— Mr. John Corbet ejected from Bramſhot Com. Southampt. firſt began his Miniſtry in his native City of Glouceſter, and there he liv'd for ſome Years under Dr. Godfrey Goodman a popiſh Biſhop of the Proteſtant Church. —— Mr. Richard Hawes ejected from Leintwardine Com. Heref. had receiv'd a Living from the Lord Keeper Coventry. [Ricardus Hawes, Coll. C. C. Cant. Art. Bac. 1623. Ric. Hawes Coll. Corp. Chr. Art. Mag. An. 1627.] —— Mr. John Crow ejected from Aſhwell, had been long in Holy Orders of the Church, &c. [Joh. Crow Aul. Cath. Art. Bacc. An. 1635. Art. Magiſter An. 1639.] —— Mr. Thomas Ventreſs, M. A. of Bennet College, Cambridge, ejected from St. Margaret's in Canterbury, when he devoted himſelf to the ſacred Miniſtry, was ordain'd by Archbiſhop Laud himſelf. [Tho. Ventris Coll. Corp. Chr. Art. Bac. An. 1630. Art. Mag. 1634.] — Mr. John Swan ejected or ſilenc'd at Ickham in Kent. [Joh. Swan Cantianus admiſſus Penſ. Coll. Regin. Art. Bac. 1630.]

Collect. Tho. Baker, MSS.

Account, p. 333.

Ibid. p. 354.

Collect. MSS. Tho. Baker.

Ibid.

Account, p. 372.

Collect. MSS. Tho. Baker.

Mr. Richard Culmer.

Mr. Richard Culmer, a great Incendiary ſilenc'd at the ſequeſtred Living of Minſter in Kent, had been a ſettled Miniſter at Goodneſtone in Eaſt-Kent, till he was driven thence by Archbiſhop Laud, becauſe he would not read the Book of Sports. [Ric. Culmer Coll. Magd. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Jul. 8, 1613.

Account p. 388.

Collect. Tho. Baker, MSS.

1613. Ric. Culmer Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1621.] —— Mr. Robert Park, M. A. ſilenc'd as Lecturer at Bolton Com. Lanc. had been Vicar of Bolton before the Civil War. [Rob. Parke Coll. Eman. Conv. 2. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Dec. 15, 1615. Art. Bac. 1618. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. An. 1622.] Mr. William Bell, M. A. ejected from Highton Com. Lanc. was ordain'd by Dr. Bridgman Biſhop of Cheſter. [Will. Bell Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. An. 1626. Idem Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1630.] Mr. Iſaac Ambroſe ejected from Garſtang in Lancaſhire. [Iſaac Ambroſe, A. B. Coll. Æn. Naſ. Oxon. Incorporat. Cantabr. An. 1631-2. Iſaac Ambroſe Coll. Magd. Art. Mag. An. 1632. ſubſcripſit tribus Articulis de jure requiſitis.] —— Mr. Edward Reyner, M. A. had been near forty Years Miniſter in Lincoln before his Ejectment in 1662. Lecturer at St. Benedict's, Aug. 13, 1626. Parſon at St. Peter's in the Arches, March 4, 1627. [Edw. Reyner Coll. Joh. Cant. Art. Bacc. An. 1620. Art. Mag. 1624.] —— And Mr. George Scortwreth, Mr. Reyner's Colleague and Fellow Sufferer at Lincoln, was of long ſtanding in the Church before his Seceſſion. [Geor. Scortreth Coll. Syd. Art. Bacc. An. 1631. Art. Mag. 1635.] —— Dr. William Spurſtow had been long in Holy Orders before his being Vicar of Hackney, May 3, 1643. [Will. Spurſtowe Coll. Eman. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Dec. 12, 1623. Art. Bacc. 1626. incorporated at Oxford Batchelor of Arts July 15, 1628. Aul. Cath. Præfectus S. T. P. 1649.] —— Mr. Thomas Allen ſilenc'd at Norwich by the Act of Uniformity, had been Miniſter of St. Edmund's in Cambridge, and there ſilenc'd by Biſhop Wren about 1636. —— Mr. John Brinſley ejected from Great-Yarmouth had been Amanuenſis to Dr. Hall then Dean of Norwich at the Synod of Dort, and was elected Miniſter of Yarmouth in the Time of Biſhop Harſnet. [Joh. Brinſley Coll. Eman. Art. Bacc. Cant. 1619.] Mr. William Bridge ſilenc'd at Yarmouth, was born in Cambridgeſhire, Fellow of Emanuel College, proceeded Maſter of Arts Anno 1626. was Miniſter in Eſſex for five Years before he came to Norwich, where he was ſilenc'd by Biſhop Wren in 1637. —— Mr. John Horne ejected from Lynne in Norfolk, had been a Preacher before 1640. and had taken the Degree of Batchelor of Arts of Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1636. when he ſubſcribed the three Articles, as required for Conformity. —— Dr. Robert Wilde ejected from Aynho in the County of Northampton, was epiſcopally ordain'd, born in the County of Huntingdon, admitted into St. John's College, Cambridge, January 26, 1631. Maſter of Arts of that Houſe in 1639. Batchelor of Divinity November 21, 1642. at Oxford, and Doctor of Divinity at Cambridge, by the King's Letters, dated November 9, 1660. —— Mr. Elkanah Wales, M. A. was in his old Age, when ſilenc'd in the Chapelry of Pudſey, three Miles from Leeds in Yorkſhire, born in 1558. died at Mr. Hickſon's at Leeds, May 11, 1669. —— Mr. Joſiah Holdſworth ſilenc'd in 62. at Poppleton near York, had been inſtituted to the Rectory of Ramſden-Craies in Eſſex, April 15, 1630. which he reſign'd in 1645. He died at Wakefield, October 18, 1677. Ætat. 75. —— Mr. Thomas Micklethwait, who refus'd to conform, at Cherry-Burton in Yorkſhire, had been one of the Aſſembly of Divines. He was Father of Sir John Micklethwait the noted Phyſician. —Mr. Peter Clark, M. A. ejected in 62. from Kirkby under Hill in Yorkſhire, had been ſettled Miniſter at Carnaby before the Wars, when being forc'd to take Shelter in London, he was choſen Member of the Aſſembly, &c. —— Mr. Daniel Cawdrey ejected from Great Billing in Northamptonſhire, had been inſtituted to that Church December 6, 1625. by a Royal Preſentation. [Dan. Cawdry, Coll. Petri, Cant. Art. Mag. Anno 1613.] —— Mr. George Martin ejected from Wedon in the Street, or Wedon-Beck, in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, in 1662. had been regular and legal Vicar thereof before the Wars. [Geo. Martin, Coll. Eman. Cant. Art. Bac. 1639.] Mr. John Maidwell ejected from Kettering in the Dioceſe of Peterborough, had been Chamber-fellow with Biſhop Gunning, and ſettled in the good Living of Sympſon in Bucks before the Civil Wars. [Jo. Maydwell, Anl. Clar. Art. Bac. 1630. Art. Mag. 1634.] —— Mr. Richard Reſbury ejected from Oundle, had been of Sidney College, and brought out by the Family of the Montague's, who were of that Houſe. [Ric. Reſbury, Coll. Sid. Art. Bac. 1629. — Coll. Sid. Art. Mag. An. 1633.] —— Mr. Malkinſon ejected from Cotterſtock, had been bred up in Emanuel College, Cambridge, and ſeems to have come in to the lawful Service of the Church ſome Years before 1640. [Will. Malkinſon, Coll. Eman. Art. Bac. 1629. Idem Coll. Eman. Art. Mag. 1633.] —— Mr. Samuel Ainſworth ejected from Kellemarſh in the County of Northampton, had been epiſcopally ordained, or elſe Biſhop Laney of Lincoln had not ſuffer'd him to preach publickly very near him, though a Non-Conformiſt. —— Mr. Peter Auſtin ejected from the ſequeſtred Living of Caſtle-Aſhby, muſt have been regularly ordain'd, or otherwiſe he had not been treated ſo very civilly by the Lord James Compton, Father to the Earl of Northampton. —— Mr. Raymond ejected from Denford cum Ringſted, of near ſeventy Years of Age. —— Mr. Richard Coleſton ſilenc'd at Meres-Aſhby. —— Mr. Francis Fuller, Curate at Warcup, had been ordain'd by his Unkle in Ireland, Biſhop, afterwards Archbiſhop. [Fran. Fuller, Anl. Pembr. Art. Bac. An. 1656.] Not only Mr. Fuller, but Dr. Thomas Manton, Mr. Vincent Alſop, Mr. Edward Bagſhaw, and ſome others, had taken Orders from the exauctorated Biſhops, even in the Times of Preſbytery, and yet upon the following Reſtoration of Epiſcopacy, fell away into Non-Conformity, for Reaſons beſt known to themſelves. And, after all, it will be a ſtanding Opinion, that Non-Conformity in 1662.

Mr. Robert Park.
Mr. William Bell.
Mr. Iſaac Ambroſe.
Mr. Edward Reyner.
Mr. George Scortwreth.
Dr. William Spurſtow.
Mr. Thomas Allen.
Mr. John Brinſley.
Mr. William Bridge.
Mr. John Horne.
Dr. Robert Wilde.

Elkanah Wales Coll. Trin. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1608. Idem Coll. Trin. Art. Mag. An. 1612. Reg. Acad.
Joſ. Houldſworth Coll. Magd. Art. Bac. An. 1629. Reg. Acad.
Tho. Micklethwayte Col. Sidn. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1635 Art. Mag. An. 1639. Reg. Acad.
Petrus Clarke Coll. Jo. Cant. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Jul. 4, 1622. Petr Clark Eboracen. admiſſus Socius Coll. Jo. Cant. Mar. 31, 1626. Reg. Acad.

Mr. George Martin.
Mr. John Maidwell.
Mr. Richard Reſbury.
Mr. Malkinſon.
Mr. Samuel Ainſworth.
Mr. Peter Auſtin.
Mr. Raymond.
Mr. Richard Coleſton.
Mr. Francis Fuller.
Mr. Vincent Alſop.
Mr. Edward Bagſhaw.

Account, p. 402.
Collect. Tho. Baker, MSS.
Account, p. 404.
Collect. Tho. Baker, MSS. Wood's Athen. Oxon.
Account, p. 439.
Account, p. 470.
Reg. Acad. Cant.
Account p. 478.
Ibid. p. 484.
Reg. Acad. Cant.
Account, p. 486.
Reg. Acad. Cant.
Account, p. 801.
Ibid. p 810.
Newcourt, Vol. II. p. 488.
Account, p. 821.
Contin. p. 951.
Account, p. 822.
Reg. Petriburg.
Reg. Acad. Cant.
Account, p. 496.
Contin. p. 636.
Ibid. p. 637.

was moſt excuſable in thoſe young Men, who had not been pre-engaged in the Service of the Church, but being left at Liberty, had been driven down by the Torrent of the Times into the new Ordination by Preſbyters, into the fatal illegal Covenant, and other Bonds of Uſurpation impos'd by the late prevailing Powers. But as to the elder Clergy, who had been regularly educated, and canonically ordained before the Wars, and had given all the lawful Pledges of their faithful Adherence to the King and Church, for them to be carried away by the Iniquity of the Times, and yet at a providential Reſtoration of the former State, to refuſe returning to the Condition from whence they had fallen, this could not be call'd their Conſtancy and Perſeverance: This had ſomewhat of human Infirmities, as well as of Scruples and Tenderneſs of Conſcience. And it is a melancholy Conſideration, that thoſe of the old epiſcopal Clergy were moſt violent againſt the King and the Church, who had revolted from the Oaths of Fidelity given to them. Such were Mr. Hugh Peters, Mr. Stephen Marſhall, Mr. John Goodwyn, Mr. John Nye, and ſome others. But let paſt Offences be forgotten, and paſt Sufferings be forgiven. In our preſent happy Situation, let our Endeavours be unanimous to ſerve God, to honour the King, to preſerve the eſtabliſh'd Church, to maintain the legal Indulgence, to promote the Proteſtant Intereſt, to adorn our Chriſtian Religion, and to live in Peace and Brotherly Love, and in ſuch mutual Charity, as may on all Sides cover a Multitude of Sins.

Hug. Peters Coll. Trin. Cant. Art. Bac. An. 1616. Art. Mag. An. 1622.
Steph. Marſhall Coll. Eman. Cant. Conviv. 2. admiſſus in Matriculam Acad. Cant. Apr. 1, 1615. Idem Coll. Eman. S. T. B. An. 1629. Reg. Acad. Cant.

AN INDEX OF MATTERS and THINGS, and PERSONS and PLACES mention'd in this VOLUME.

N. B. The ſame Thing or Perſon is often mentioned more than once in the ſame Page, therefore the Reader is deſired always to look carefully down the whole Page referred to.

A.

A. J. forſan John Allen, 43, 796.
A. J. Author of two Sermons, 126.
A. R. 527.
Abbeſs, Lady, 70.
Abbot, Archbiſhop, 670.
Abdy, Sir Chriſt. 706.
Abelard, Pet. 705.
Abell, Will. 881.
Aberdeen, Synod, their Addreſs for Loyalty and Epiſcopacy, 428.
Abjuration of Charles Stuart, 52.
Abney, Edw. 546.
Accepted Archbiſhop of York, 398, 405, 406, 585. Dr. Frewin, 587.
Acland Baldwin, 254, 817.
Acrod, John, 668.
Adams, Mr. 354. Ald. 133. Ch. 839. George, 568. John, 884. Nath. 697. Rich 912. Tho. 893. William, 255, 856. his ſeveral Benefactions, 863.
Adamſon, James, 392, 641, 863. John, 425.
Adderly, Will. 402.
Addiſon, Lancelot, 770.
Aderne, Mr. 822.
Adkins, Edw. 187. See Atkins.
Adler, Sir John, 650.
Adlington, John, 384.
Adryan, Rich. 556.
Advice, Ship, 135.
Ady, Tho. 387.
After, John, 901.
Agar, John, 844. Tho. 534.
Agas, Benj. 741. Dan. 217.
Agathocles, 346.
Aget, Sir An. 96.
Ainſworth, Sam. 718, 815, 932, 937. And James 923.
Airmin, Baroneſs, 865.
Aiſlebie, George, 564, 565.
Albans, St. Albans, Earl, 166, 167, 181, 182. See Jermyn Henry.
Albemarle, Duke, 4, 136, 200, 204, 206, 271, 279, 312, 340, 389, 392, 413, 414, 417, 419, 420, 424, 489, 593, 602, 647, 730, 802, 840, 844, 865. See Monk.
Albert, John de Mandeſlo, 655.
Albiis, Tho. de, 217. See White.
Albin, Henry, 892.
Alchorne, Will. 451, 570, 811. 825.
Alckhorne, Mr. 546.
Alcock, Edw. Capt 203. Mr. 822.
Aldborough in Suffolk, 151.
Alden, Mr. 827. Henry, 807.
Aldey, Edw. 204.
Aldred. John, 324.
Aldwinckle, John, 863.
Aldworth, Rich. Eſq; 468.
Aldwyncle, John, 344.
Alexander VII. 297. Dr. 821, 822. Mr. Edw. 913.
Aleyn, Egyd. 825. Peter, 265. Thomas, ibid. The Dr. 825. See Allein.
Alford, Theope. 454, 771, 793.
Alkin, Alderman, 704.
All Souls Coll. Oxon. 77, 156.
Allan, Dr. 407.
Allein, Joſ 270, 902. Allein, Rich. 571. See Alleyn, and Aleyn, and Allen.
Allen, 490, 552. Capt. 587, 588, 683, 685. Dr. 403, 425, 701. Edw. 327. Fran. 178. Jun. Dr. 251. Senior Dr. ibid. John 902. Jonas 361, 362. Joſ. 363, 750, 892. Tho. 164, 887, 937. Sir Tho. 58, 579. Will. 519. See Aleyn.
Alleſſandra, Chriſtina, 72, 300.
Alleſtree, Dr. 368.
Alleſtrey, Rich. 2, 8, 19, 21, 29, 37, 55, 56, 71, 213, 345, 354, 865.
Alleſtry, Mr. 607, 644. Dr. Rich 793.
Alleyn, Dr. 481. Egidius, 585. Tho. 70, 82, 143. Sir Tho. 321. See Aleyn, Allein, Allen.
Allinton, or Allington, Dr. 546. John, 285, 308, 385. Lord, 422. Rob. 285.
Allured, ſee Alured.
Alonzo, Don, 91, 105, 119.
Alſop, John, 830. Vincent. 764, 841, 937.
Alſton, Edw. 765. Sir Tho. 853, 892.
Altham, Sir James, 410.
Alured, 490. John, 156, 178. Col. Matthew, 19, 30, 52, 57, 72.
Alworth, Mr. 821.
Ambaſſador, French, 85, 86.
Ambroſe, Mr. 723. Joſ. 922. Iſaac, 937.
America, an Order to the Corporation for propagating the Goſpel there, 405.
Ames, 783. Will. 881.
Amias, Tho. 908.
Amirant, Monſ. 467.
Amms, Tho. 607.
Amſterdam not abounding with ready Money, but ſupporting its Trade with Paper Credit, 150.
Amyrald, 467. Moſes, 858.
Anabaptiſts, 836. in the County of Lincoln, their ſecond Addreſs to the King, 361. Their own Character, ibid. Their third Addreſs, 383.
Anand, Mr. 457.
Anderſon, David, 900. Sir Edm. his Character, 381. Sir John, ibid. Jonath. 831. Lady 554. alias Munſon Lionel, 479.
Anderton, Philip, 834.
Andrew, Biſhop, 28, 385, 470, 520, 580. Nic. 563. Tho. 178.
Andrews, Biſhop, 372, 490, 554, 566, 736. Col. 127. John, 806. Lanc. Dr. 558, 650. Nic. 46. Tho. 806.
Aneley, Dr. Sam. 750.
Angel, Mr. 802.
Angle, Mr. de l'Angle, 111, 396, 448. his Letter to Dr. Brevint for Epiſcopacy, 466, 475, 591, 846.
Angleſea, Earl, 656, 733.
Angleſey, Counteſs, 658, 754. Earl, 62, 220, 248, 279, 281, 306, 493, 509, 598, 609, 610, 624, 674, 703, 784, 811, 865, 889.
Angus, Earl of,
Annand, 308. Will. 619.
Anneſley, 61, 62. Arthur, 66, 68, 113, 167, 183, 203, 249, 313. Sir Arthur made E. of Angleſey, 408. Ge. 118. Lord, 872. Sam. Dr. 514. Sam. 829.
Anſcell, Tho. 881, 887.
Anſel, Dr. 251. Tho. 231.
Antichriſt, Pope, not, 77.
Antwerp, 101, 105, 115.

Appleby,

INDEX.

Appleby, Ambroſe, 221. Mr. 546.
Apprentices of London, 65.
Arcana, Dogmatum, 43.
Archer, Dr. 546. John, 169, 185, 186, 542. Judge, 525, 915. Serjeant, 23. Sir Simon, 687. Tho. 433, 449. Dr. 791. See Aucher.
Archina, 320.
Ardmagh, Archbiſhop, 623. See Armagh.
Argall, Rich. 789.
Argor, John, 911. Mr. 844.
Argyle, Lord or Marquis, 200, 202, 208, 213, 319, 334, 405, 407, 428. His Speech on the Scaffold, 451, 452.
Arlington, Earl, 865.
Arliſh. Mr. 909.
Armagh, Archbiſhop, 424, 441. See Ardmagh.
Armiger, Sir Clem. 479.
Arminians, 248.
Armorer. Col. 396. Sir Will. 105.
Armſtead, Mr. 897.
Armſtrong. Dr. 599. Sir Tho. 121.
Army diſbanded, 382. Addreſs of the Army in Ireland, 457.
Armyne, Sir Will. 560.
Arnway, Dr. John, 298, 348, 575.
Arras, Abbot, 390. Col. 390.
Arrowſmith, Dr. 601, 853, 935. John 42.
Arthington, Henry, his Letter to the Parliament, 13.
Arthur, Dr. 793, 934.
Arundel, Counteſs, 318, 665. Lord, 476. Henry, Lord, 338. Thomas, Lord, ibid.
Aſh, Dr. 280. Mr. 50, 78, 81, 123, 162, 172, 181, 183, 187, 432. Simeon, 193, 227, 228, 478, 702, 737, 811, 858, 933. Simon, 146. Perhaps all theſe are the ſame Perſon.
Aſhburnham, Mr. 414, 416, 421, 923. John 397, 643, 865. Will. 121, 422, 865.
Aſherſt, John 934. See Aſhurſt.
Aſhfield, Col. 17, 20.
Aſhley, Lord, 62, 381, 832. See Cooper, Cowper and Couper.
Aſhmole, Mr. 459, 595, 736. Elias 595, 859.
Aſhton or Aſheton, Sir Arthur, 496. Geo. 309, 326. Peter 388. Roger 591. Tho. 246, 324. Will. 361, 362, 363.
Aſhurſt, Mr. 515, 758, 814. Alderman, 891. Henry, 377, 668, 749. James 909.
Aſhwell, Nic. 718.
Aſkewe, 408, 599.
Aſpenwell, Will. 922.
Aſpinwall, Mr. ibid. Peter, ibid.
Aſſiſtance Frigate, 148.
Aſtel, Tho. 30.
Aſtley, Dr. 221. Sir Jacob, 786. Iſaac, ibid.
Aſton, Lord, 666. Lord Walter, 866.
Athanaſius, 467.
Atherton, Dr. John, 655.
Athol, Counteſs, 494.
Atkin, or Atkins, or Atkyns, 64, 288. Edward Sir, 45. Lady, ibid. Mr. 539, 540, Sir Rich. 666. Rob. 743, 814. Sir Rob. 410. Serjeant, 161. Tho. 100.
Atkinſon, Edw. 376. Peter, 901. Tho. 682.
Atterbury, Lewis, 309, 927.
Atwell, Mr. 858.
Atwerp, 101.
Atwood, William, 703.
Aubigny, Lord, 360, 579, 590, 696, 738.
Aucher, Anthony, Sir, 196. Dr. 251. John 185, 204. See Archer.
Audley, Baron, 419.
Aumarle, Earl, 200.
Aurange, See Orange.
Auſtin, 202, 467. Eman. 825. Humphrey, 188, 325, 270, 391. Mr. 827. Peter 894, 937.
Axtel, or Axtell, 119, 120, 169. Col. 204. Aan. 180, 240, 272, 274, 275, 282, 285, 286, 348. Latham, 282.
Ayleſbury. Tho. 102.
Aylmer, Dr. Theoph. 778.
Ayloffe, Will. 685.
Aylway, Mr 922.
Ayneſworth, William, 331.

B.

B. Sir B. 387.
B. Biſhop of Peterborough, 584. i. e. Benjamin.
B. Dr. F. 655.
B. E. 645, 787.
B. G. 494, 709.
B. H. i. e. Henry Burton, 350. Eſq; 675.
B. J. i. e. J. B. 72. B. J. Eſq; 127.
B. M. 491.
B. Mr. 837.
B. R. 459, 571.
B. T. 327.
Babindon Humph. 357.
Baccaller, Hen. 900.
Bachcroft, Dr. 869. Dr. Tho. 864.
Bachelor, Mr. 763.
Backhouſe, Wm. 599.
Backlar, Sam. 763.
Backler, Ja. 383.
Bacon, Cornet, 6. Sir Edw. 860. Fran. 636. Sir Fran. 233, 487. James, 594. Lord, 170, 269, 317, 489, 654, 702. Sir Nic. 410. Rob. 593. Tho. 43.
Badcock, John, 591.
Baeſh, Sir Ralph, 666.
Bagley, William, 885.
Bagot, Edw. 865.
Bagſhaw, Edw, 43, 244, 245, 514, 598, 603, 609, 610, 613, 665, 674. his Letters to the Earl of Clarendon, 681, 703, 707, 741, 768. Chaplain to the Earl of Angleſey, his Proceedings in Ireland, 784, 854, 856. his Animadverſions on the Biſhop of Worceſter's Letter, 857, 937. Hen. 525, 768. Mr. 493, 568, 608. 610. William, 908.
Baile, Charles 468. Daniel, 333. Dr. 478, 481, 508, 728.
Bainard, Dr. 546.
Bainbrigge, Chriſt. 433, 449. Tho. 499.
Baines, 783. Paul, 735.
Baker, 440, 882. Alex. 628. Aug. 262. Dan. 545. George, 227, 366. John, 397, 879. Jo. 934. Joſ. ibid. Mr. 227, 524. Sir Rich. 321, 593, 855. Sam. Dr. 554.
Balcanquall, Dr. Gualter, 28.
Balcarres, Counteſs, 322, 557. Lady, 698.
Baldero, Dr. 546. Edm. 263.
Baldwin, Mr. 607. Tho. 936. Tim. 185. Tim. Dr. 401. See Baldwyn.
Baldwyn, Dr. 220.
Balgay, Nic. 401.
Ball, 242, 783. Dr. 251, 472, 480. Edw. 806. Joh. 300, 501, 735, 811, 858. Mr. 895. Rich. 254, 264, 584, 754, 879. Richard, Dr. 882, 884. Thomas, 45, 629. Tho. Dr. 895. William, 875, 876.
Balthaſar, 102.
Baltingglas, 440.
Bambrigge, Mr. 546.
Bamfield or Bampfield, 20, 32, 144, 200, 253, 301. Col. 457. his Regiments Addreſs, 457. Fran. 912, 913. Sir Cop. 65. Tho. 207.
Banbrigg, Hen. 817, 892. Mr. 546.
Bancroft, Archbiſhop, 729.
Banger, Mr. 781.
Bangor, Biſhop, 481, 804.
Banks, Chriſt. 886. Dr. 896. Roger, 884. William, ibid.
Bantoſt, Sam. 801, 934.
Baptiſm, 72.
Barbarin, Cardinal Francis, 287. Francis, 516.
Barbarini, Cardinal, 624.
Barberini, Cardinal, 484. Fran. 799.
Barberino, Cardinal, 504.
Barbon, John, 489.
Barcham, John, 858.
Barcroft, Dr. 251. Hugh, 247.
Barebone, Praiſe God, 52, 80, 101, 567, 602.
Bargrave, 309. Dr. 546, 783. Joh. 324.
Barker, 202, 388. Abel, 719. Dr. 546. Edm. 364, 388, 457. Edw. 9, 31. George, 345. Sir George, 422. James, 386, 638. John, 388, 474, 575, 605, 606. Matt. 402, 560, 761. Will. 153, 204. Will. Dr. 533.
Barkſdale, Clement, 159, 488.
Barkſtead, 396, 646, 662, 663, 664, 665. John, 175, 240.
Barlow, 220, 332, 920. Biſhop, 815, 817, 919. Dr. 316, 546, 571, 633. Mr. 681, 749. Father Rudicind, 408. Tho. 126, 219, 246, 334. William, 309. William, Dr. 554.
Barlows, Mr. 822.
Barnard, 929. Dr. 482. Edw. 210. John, 596, 926. William, 631.
Barnes, 501. F. J. 228. Miles, 886.
Barnet, Joſ. 901.
Barnham, William, 210.
Barnley, Mr. 101.
Barnſdale, Mr. 922.
Barnwell, Sir Richard, 604.
Baron, 56.
Barrow, 501. Colonel, 20. Dr. 34, 35, 133, 251. Dr. 722. Hen. 673, 748. Iſaac, 185, 302. Iſaac, Dr. 702, 880, 884, 886.
Barry, John 330. Mr. 644. Robert, Biſhop, 623.
Bartholomew Act, 747.
Bartholomew, Mr. 144. W. 149.
Bartolus, Dan. 269. Pet. 192.
Barton, David, 800. Dr. Sam. 932.
Barwick, 112, 115, 239, 279. Dr. 97, 251, 284, 302, 368, 508, 524, 549, 570, 629, 630, 702, 866. John, 1, 2, 41, 185, 186, 203, 274, 332, 524, 584, 585. John, Dr. 545, 546, 564, 565, 576, 590, 862. his Letters to Chancellor Hyde, 14, 27, 29, 36, 37, 54, 70. Chancellor Hyde's Letters to him, 1, 7, 9, 10. Mr. 607, 836. Peter, 18, 782. Peter, Dr. 607. See Berwick.
Barwick Gariſon, 136.
Baſher, Mich. 607.
Baſire, Dr. 324. Iſaac, 228, 229. Iſaac, Dr. 526, 709.
Baſſet, Dr. Joſiah, 903. William, 793. William, Dr. 221.
Baſtwick, Mr. 835.
Bate, George, 320, 345.
Bateman, 120. Alderman, 133. John, 921. William, 133.
Bates, Dr. 162, 172, 302, 314, 398, 403, 407, 431, 447, 502, 503, 505, 508, 519, 650, 701, 748, 753, 933. Sir John, 410. William, 283, 308, 312, 398, 888. William, Dr. 743, 779, 843, 917.
Batchilor, John, 572.
Bateman, 473. Baron, 415. John, 550.
Bath and Wells, Biſhop of, 414, 415, 416, 420, 667, 918.
Bathurſt, Chr. 332. Dr. 721, 722. Edw. 829. John, Dr. 866. Ralph, Dr. 397.
Batt, John, 934. Tim. ibid.
Battely, 186.
Batten, Sir William, 344.
Batterſby, Rich. 922.
Battle, Ralph, 830.
Batty, John, 358.
Bawden, Tho. 777, 930.
Baxter, 62, 110, 117, 123, 162, 170, 172, 178, 180, 187, 195, 196, 214, 237, 268, 269, 279, 280, 283, 287, 294, 295, 300, 303, 305, 312, 314, 355, 359, 661, 669. Mr. 364, 377, 397, 398, 407, 423, 425, 426, 430, 431, 432, 433, 447, 499. his Account of diſputing in the Savoy Conference, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 515, 516, 518, 519, 521, 529, 534, 535, 541, his Account of printing the Papers paſs'd in the Savoy Conference, 550, 551, 574, 592, 593, 602, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 625, 629, 658, 700, 712. his Letter to Dr. Earles, 713, 727, 739, his Reflections on the Act of Uniformity, 740, 748, 749, 759. his Particularities of himſelf and Wife, 765, 783, 851, 855. Mr. of Windſor, 247. Ben. 702. Nat. 902. Richard, 38, 39, 41, 42, 43, 91, 143, 170, 181, 182, 208, 245, 261, 270, 272, 300, 302, 322, 557, 559. had ſo unhappily engag'd himſelf againſt Epiſcopacy, &c. that he cou'd not come off with Honour, 568, 594, 596, 619, 698, 735, 764, 820, 932. Stephen, 906.
Bayes, Sam. 807.
Bayley, or Bayly, 203, 928. Dr. 533. Francis, 115. George, 883. John, 206. Lewis, 350. Mr. 519. See Baylie.
Baylie, Dr. 672. Richard, 221, 272. Rich. Dr. 424. Tho. 830. See Bayley.
Baynard, Adiel, 265. Dr. Adiel, 883.
Baynes, 205. Adam, 67. Tho. 250, 483.
Baynned, Dr. Adiel, 882.
Bazeley, John, 807, 910. Mr. 428.
Beacher, William, 809. See Beecher.
Beadle, John, 801, 841.

Beal,

INDEX.

Beal, or Beale, 159. Dr. 28, 807. Hen. 887. Mr. his Letter to Mr. Hartlib, 871.
Bealing, Mr. 723.
Bear, or Beer, George, 198, 199.
Beaſly, Mr. 822.
Beaton, John, 892. Nehemiah, 571, 892.
Beauchamp, Richard, Earl of Warwick and Aumarle, 200.
Beaumont, Dr. 251. George, 263. George, Dr. 518. Joſeph, Dr. 213, 264, 879, 882, 883, 884, 885. Joſ. Dr. 883, 886, 887.
Beck, George, 669, 675. Madam, 892. Rob. 908.
Becket, Mr. 923.
Beddingfield, Col. 377. Sir Tho. 169. Tho. 534.
Bedford, Mr. 186. Earl, 78, 413, 414, 486, 742, 889. James, 754, 882, 934. Iſaac, 882, 904. Sam. 882. William Duke of, 258.
Bee, Cornelius, 350.
Beebe, Mr. 906.
Beech, Andr. 332.
Beecher, William, 575, 806. See Beacher.
Beeſeley, or Beeſley, Briton, 928. John, 153. Mr. 168.
Behmen, Ja. 396.
Behmeniſts, ibid.
Belcher, John, 363.
Beleſton, Tho. 210.
Beling. Mr. 803. Rich. 604.
Belk, Dr. 251. Thomas, 221, 881. Will. 204, 220.
Bell, Humph. 907. William, 270, 796, 937.
Bellarini, Signior, 237. his Letter to Father Young, 661.
Bellarmine, 750.
Bellaſis, Bellaſiſe, or Bellaſyſe, Sir Hen. 410, 538. Lord, 12, 144, 424. Rogerſa, 538. Sir Rowland, 410.
Bellew, Barth. 622.
Bellieure Pleſſis, Monſieur, 415.
Belt, Tho. 449.
Bendiſh, Rob. 210.
Bendlowes, Edw. 300. Will. 527.
Bendy, Edw. 240.
Benedictines, 521.
Benefield, Dr. Seb. 705.
Benjamin, Biſhop of Peterborough, 398, 584, 605, 728.
Benlows, Mr. 907.
Bennet, Mr. 560, 808. Capt. 472, 512. Col. 33, 705. Edw. 908. Sir Harry, 91, 788. his Letter to the Duke of Ormond, 832, 840. Sir Hum. 121. Jervaſe, 67. Sir John, 410. Joſ. 903. Matt. 500, 513, 597. San Johanneſius, 345. Rob. 550.
Bennion, 102.
Benſon, Mr. 890. Edw. 265, 333, 526. George, 219, 233, 265, 333, 334, 584. Geo. Dr. 482. Sam. 333.
Bentham, Joſ. his Sufferings, 428, 514, 772, 812. Mr. 807, 910.
Bentley, Will. 534.
Benton, John, 923. Nehemiah, 801. Will. 907.
Beresford or Beriſford, Dr. 546. Rich. 285. Sam. 893. Tho. Dr. 796.
Beridge, Baſil, 481, 585. John, 699.
Berkenhead, Dr. John, 620.
Berkley, 157. Charles, 345. Sir Ch. 167, 364, 404, 410, 789. Geo. 923. Lord, 133, 181, 204, 321, 523, 555, 684. Lord John, 167, 865. Rob. 345. Sir Rowland, 535. Sir Will. 314, 655, 703.
Berks, E. 417, 424, 426.
Berkſhire, Earl, 121, 156, 167, 791.
Bernard, 186, 266. Dr. 144, 934. James, 597. Nicholas, 41, 269, 520, 597. Rich. 541. Rob. 169. Sign. 415. Will. 472.
Berners, Joſias, 3.
Bernham, Rob. Eſq; 423.
Berrow, John, 706.
Berry, 11, Colonel, 17, 18, 20, Egid. 685. James, 38.
Bertie, Edward, 148.
Berwick, Dr. 398. John, 922. See Barwick.
Bethel, Colonel, 19, 54. Sir Hugh, 6, 7. Slingſby, 3, 35.
Bethunes, Monſ. 497.
Bett, Mr. 771.
Beveridge, John, 441. William, 353, 810.
Beverley, Sir Tho. 642, 768. Tho. 375, 865.
Bewley, Alderman, 891.
Bible, Holy, preſented to King Charles II. he promiſes to make it the Rule of his Actions, 152.
Bickerton, Mr. 922.
Bickley, Rich. 921.
Biddle, John, 760.
Bidgood, 332.
Bidulph, 133.
Bifield, Adoniram, 934. See Byfield.
Biggs, Serjeant, 142.
Bigley, John, 901.
Bigot, Sir Franc. 229, 297.
Billinger, Iſabel, 763.
Billingſley, Nich. 901, 918. John, 918.
Billio, Rob. 893.
Billoway. Mr. 832.
Bindon, Geo. 903.
Bingham, Biſhop, 790.
Birch, 61. Colonel, 62, 66, 253, 303, 383, 389. John, 489. Sam. 734, 904, 915.
Bird, 670. John 513. Tho. 446.
Birdſall, Mr. 893.
Birkenhead, Dr. 740. Colonel Henry, 203. Dr. John, 829.
Birket, John, 893.
Birkſtead, John, 156.
Biron, Erneſtus, 68.
Birſtal, Mr. 144. Birſtall, William, 285.
Biſhop, George, 372, 490. Henry, 360. Sam. 765, 936.
Biſhops, 23, 67, 463, 464, 465, 466, 562. to ſit and vote in Parliament in Caſes of Blood, 620. moderate upon the Act of Uniformity, 804. no Proſecutors of the ejected Miniſters, 919. A Commiſſion to conſecrate the Scots Biſhops, 577.
Blackamore Frigat, 396.
Blackerby, Mr. 752, 894, 895, 922. Sam. 768.
Blacket, Sir Will. 891, 892.
Blackhall, Offſpring, 831.
Blackheath, 163.
Blackleach, John, 616.
Blackloe, 286, 353. Mr. 382. Tho. 389, 390.
Blackmore, John, 78. William, 805.
Blackſtone, 156, 178.
Blackway, William, 907.
Blackwell, John, 180. Sam. 555. Tho. 763.
Blagrave, Dan. 156, 240. William, 889.
Blague, Martin, 84.
Blaicklay, Rob. 618.
Blake, 391, 408. Mr. 922. Admiral, 536. Alex. 376, 388, 391.
Blakeſtone, 490.
Blanc, Monſ. le, 300.
Bland, 614. Eſdræ, 446. Mr. 896.
Blandford or Blanford, Dr. 482. Mr. 220. Walter, 219, 224, 334, 345, 585.
Blemel, John, 709, 751, 752, 853.
Blencow, Mr. 607.
Bletſoe, Tho. 745.
Blondel, 205. David, 487, 553, 618, 742.
Bloodworth, 120, 133. Mr. 822. See Bludworth.
Blount, Tho. 243.
Bloys, William, 43.
Bludworth, 51, 64. See Bloodworth.
Blundſton, Dr. 390.
Boate, Margaret, 781.
Bochart, 591, 782. Monſ. 467, 469, 846. See Bouchart.
Boddington, John, 768, 895.
Bogan, Zachary, 217, 488.
Boggis, Rob. 363.
Boheme, Geo. 902.
Bohemia, Queen, 149, 157, 158, 159, 440. her Character, 448, 627, 693. her Death, 871.
Bois, John, 879. Mr. 836.
Bold, Hen. 648. Tho. 305, 317, 923.
Boldero, Dr. Edm. 881, 882, 884.
Bolingbrooke, Earl of, 374, 605.
Bolles, Mr. 751.
Bolt, Rich. 46.
Bolton, Dr. 747, 934. Rob. 317, 471, 668, 735. Sam. 471. Dr. Sam. 232. Wood's Account of him, 397, 605, 668, 835, 845.
Bond, Dennis, 373, 536. John, 222. Sir Tho. 19, 55.
Bonwick, John, 836.
Boobier, Mr. 923.
Booker, James, 922. John, 595. Rich. 755.
Boon, Tho. Eſq; 35, 892.
Booſie, Dr. 642, 772.
Booth, Mr. 480. Sir Geo 17, 64, 65, 101, 103, 133, 169, 255. made Lord la Mere, 409. Valen. 797.
Boothby, Will. 35.
Boreel, John, 338. Will. 338.
Boreman, Dr. 251, 611. Rob. 226, 281. Rob Dr. 724, 734. William, 865. Sir Will. 422, 734.
Borſet, Mr. 801. Sam. 835.
Borloſe, Edm. 332.
Boroughs, Tho. 675.
Boſbury Church, 861.
Boſcawen, Mr. 904. Hugh, 892.
Boſcobel, 243.
Boſe, Monſ. du, 462. his Letter, 475, 846.
Boſphett, Sam. 835.
Boſtock, Rob. 327.
Boſton, Tho. 755.
Boſwell, Dr. 390. Sir William, 504.
Boteler, Mr. 423, 424. Edw. 42, 253, 381, 554. Lady Mary, 824. Phil. 309. Tho. 382. Sir William, 842.
Bouchart, 486. See Bochart.
Boughen, Dr. 861. Edw. Dr. 597. Chaplain to Biſhop Howſon, 842.
Bovil, Mr. 924.
Boulſton, Dr. John, 575.
Boult, Mr. 870.
Boulton, Dr. 368.
Bound, Mr. 822.
Bourchier, 490. John, 156. Sir John, 178, 183.
Bourdeux, Monſ. 85.
Bourflower, Mr. 892.
Bourne, Imanuel, 926. Richard, 333.
Bowden of Aſhton, 921. Joſ. 921.
Bowles, Mr. 137, 152, 301, 818. Edw. 302, 747. Mr. of York, 6, 7. Chaplain to Lord Fairfax, 19, 22.
Bowman, Rob. 153.
Boyer, Tho. 922.
Boyle, Mr. 868. Dean, 440. Mic. Dr. 365. Rob. 269, 377, 758, 765, 875. Rob. Eſq; 458, 489, 515, 553, 572.
Boylſton, John, 887.
Boynton, Sir Edw. 410.
Boys, Mr. John, 47, 456. Sir John 47, 66, 135.
Brabourne, 333. Dr. 481, 482. William 203, 841.
Bracegirdle, Juſtin, 764. See Braſgirdle.
Brackley, Viſc. 410.
Bradford, 353. Humphrey, 929.
Bradiſh, 826.
Bradley, Mr. 839.
Bradſhaw, 84, 127, 278, 282, 736, 783. Mr. 805, 929. Dr. 546. Edw. 30. Henry, 203, 286. James, 805, 814, 818, 819, 902. John, 149, 150, 156, 194, 325. His body hang'd on the Gallows, 367, 370, 371. His Effigies burnt, 454, 867. Lord Chief Juſtice, 603. Nath. 745, 879, 882. Rich. 35, 160. Will. 319.
Bradwell, Sam 309.
Brady, Dr. 251. Rob. 332. Dr. Rob. 870.
Braganza, Ducheſs, 696.
Bragg, Rob. 751, 853.
Brague, 54.
Bramble, Archbiſhop, 186. See Bramhall.
Bramhall, Biſhop, 363, 381, 649, 820. Dr. 571, 861. John, Dr. 517. John, Dr. Archbiſhop, 21, 111, 186, 288, 487, 513, 534. See Bramble.
Braimſton, or Brampſtone, Dr. 251. Sir John, 410. Moundiford, 220. Sir Moundiford, 657.
Brand, Chriſt. 499. Rob. 882.
Brandenburgh, Marq. 424.
Branker, Tho. 924.
Branteen, Tho. 867.
Braſgirdle, Juſtin. 570. See Bracegirdle.
Brathwaite, Richard, 192.
Braw, Mag. Juſtin. 139.
Brawdriff, Allen, 225.
Brecknock, Earl, 207. Mr. 742. Tho. 632, 729.
Breda, 97, 99, 105, 112, 113, 115, 117, 118, 119, 124, 128, 135, 142, 146, 147, 148, 166, 172.
Bredwardine Church, 860.
Brent, Sir Nath. 197.
Brereton, Mr. 868. Lord, 121. Lord Will. 575. William, 875.
Breſmal, Mr. 476.
Bret, Colonel, 30. Mich. 68.
Breton, Clement, 234. Dr. 251, 737. John

237, 220. See Bretton.
Brett, Arthur, 262, 543. John, ſenior, 668. Madam, 345. Tho. Dr. 843.
Bretton, Clem. 322, 330. John, 334. Rob. 546. Dr. Rob. 852. See Breton.
Brevint, Dan. 173, 332, 395. Dr. ibid. 463, 466.
Breviter, Mr. 911. Rich. 674, 856.
Brian, Biſhop of Winton, 296, 626, 668. See Duppa, Biſhop.
Brian, Biſhop of Cheſter, 398, 632, 640. Gervas, 934. Richard 883. See Bryan.
Briars, Mr. 922.
Brice, John, 910. William, 819.
Brickley, Richard, 897.
Brideoake, Dr. 481. Ralph. 203, 219, 584, 779.
Bridge, 800. Sam. 636. Will. 934, 937.
Bridges, Col. 57. Gab. 720. George 298, 857. Noah, 542, 655. Sir Tho. 410.
Bridgewater, or Bridgwater, Earl, 153, 156, 495, 597, 605, 634, 642, 656, 657, 865.
Bridgman, 271, 273, 276, 331, 360. Henry, 213, 219, 332. Hen. Dr. 537, 551, 552, 564. John, 264. John, Dr. 684. Lord Chief Juſtice, 393, 493. Lord Keeper, 852. Sir Orlando, 121, 169, 179, 287, 288, 684, 915.
Bright, Mr. Hen. 539. Tho. 618.
Brightman, 783.
Brignold, Anth. 884.
Bringhurſt, Iſaac, 390.
Brinſley, Mr. 301, 902, 934. John, 266, 934, 937. Rob. 906. Sam. 790.
Briſtol City, a Tumult there for a free Parliament, 50, 602.
Briſtol, Biſhop, 783. Earl, 105, 203, 207, 360, 424, 498, 598, 696, 852.
Britain, or Britaine, Mr. 749. Theoph. 890.
Briton, Mr. 780
Broadſtreet, Mr. 378. Sim. 532.
Broderick, or Brodrick, Sir Allen, 533, 642, 768, 771, 852.
Brodin, Bonaventure, 801.
Broghill, Lord, 89, 181. Earl of Orrery, 178, 263, 873.
Broke, Robert, 43, 703. See Brooke.
Brome, Ph. 220.
Bromfield, 64, 120. Alderman, 34. Colonel, 25. Lawrence, 51, 217, 297. Sir Lawrence, 179, 304. Patrick, 905.
Bromley, Lady, 893. Sir Will. 410.
Brook, or Brooke, 157. Henry 65, 67. Joſhua, 344. Lady, 739. Lord, 133, 747. Peter, 64, 67. Robert, 43. Tho. 935. See Broke.
Brookbank, Joſ. 217, 591.
Brookes, or Brooks, Col. 892, 894. Rich. 740. Tho. 553, 594, 756, 933.
Brooking, John, 719.
Brookſby, Mr. 896.
Broom, Alexander, 216. Tho. 198, 199.
Broſter, Mr. 922. John, 923.
Brough, 576, 577. Dr. 482. Dr. Will. 751, 853. Will. 584.
Broughton, Andrew, 176, 240. Sir Brian, 865. Hugh, 725, 736.
Brouncker, or Brounker, Mr. 685. Lord, firſt Preſident of the Royal Society, 875. Viſcount, 868. See Brunker.
Brown, 501, 596. Mr. 51, 64, 101, 186, 512, 587, 588, 617, 825 Ald. 133. Alex. 607. Arnold, 344. Dr. 251. G. 11. Sir Geo. 410. James, 925. Jo. 137, 139, 153. His laſt Will, 862. Judge, 758. Major General, 65, 96, 163, 840. Sam. 169. Serjeant, 307. Tho. 333. Dr. Tho. 345. Sir Richard, 167, 228, 229, 271, 276, 284, 313, 330, 356, 389, 403, 482, 486, 657, 675, 739, 740, 827, 845, 931. Sir Rich. Lord Mayor, 363, 549. Rob. 912.
Browning, Dr. 251. Tho 263, 806.
Brownrig, Dr. 773, 826, 836. Dr. Ralph Biſhop of Exeter, 18, 41, 304, 332, 348, 471, 554, 573, 618. Dr. Ralph, 778.
Bruce, Alexander, 147. Andrew, 189. Dav. 332. Lord, 101, 133, 728.
Brudenell, Rob. Baro. 345. Lord, made Earl of Cardigan, 410. Mrs. Mary, 866.
Brumſkill, Oliver, 893.
Brunker, Viſcount, 121. See Brouncker.
Brunſell, Henry, 285, 880. Dr. Hen. 743, 882. Sam. 165.
Brunſwick Lunenburgh, Duke of, 113, 149.
Bruſſels, 97, 101, 119, 137.
Bryan, Dr. 818, 917. Jo. 934. Noah, Chaplain to the Earl of Donegal, 898. Rich. 221. Sam. 913. See Brian.
Bryenton, Rich. 363.
Bryerly, Rob 362, 363.
Bubear, Mr. 921.
Bucar, Ben. 635.
Bucer, 205.
Buchanan. George, 332. Hiſt. of Scotland, 176.
Buck, Mr. 132, 135, 142, 234, 868. James, 42. John, 46. Tho. 41, 207.
Buckenfield, Rob. 203.
Bucker, Edw. Oliver's Chaplain, 908.
Buckeridge, Dr. 681.
Buckingham, Ducheſs, 496. Duke, 132, 160, 164, 181, 413, 414, 417, 419, 424, 555, 671, 891.
Buckley, Mr. 315, 334, 924. Francis, 127.
Buckner, William, 218.
Bucks, County Addreſs to Gen. Monk, 43.
Budd, David, 309.
Bugg, 214. Francis, 73.
Buggs, F. 367.
Buiſſon, Monſ. 476.
Bulkley, or Bulkeley, 192. John, 830, 905.
Bull, Mr. 779, 913.
Bullingham, Nich. 881.
Bullis, Tho. 884.
Bullivant, 275.
Bulſtrode, 67.
Bulteel, John, 534.
Bunce, Sir James, 133.
Bunch, Thomas, 22.
Bunning, Rob. 331.
Bunworth, 857.
Burden, 14.
Burdwood, James, 892.
Bures, Rich. 890.
Burgate, J. 798.
Burgeſs, Mr. 54. Anthony, 298, 301, 793, 816, 820, 933, 936. Cornelius, 171, 219, 238, 248, 298, 304, 305. Dr. 74, 76, 215, 267, 320. Elizæus, 879. John, 895, 904. Dr. John, 816.
Burgh, William, 121.
Burghley, Lord, 551.
Burgoyne, 332. Sir John, 747. Ro. 309. Sir Rog. 705.
Burk, John, 623. Theobald, 622.
Burkit, Will. 923.
Burles, Edw. 812.
Burnaby, Mr. 830.
Burnand, Mr. 891.
Burnap, Sam. 777.
Burnell, Dr. 591.
Burnet, Sam. 905.
Burney, Richard, 71, or 171.
Burrel, Dr. 620.
Burrhill, Will. 883.
Burrough, or Burroughs, Mr. 747, 921. Edw. 73, 149, 155, 171, 378, 518, 531, 594. Jeremy, 245, 269, 553. Tho. 894, 932.
Burt, 144. Dr. Will. 790.
Burthogg, Rich. 892, 912.
Burton, 265. Mr. 763, 783. Henry, 216, 350, 827. Hezek. 375, 706. John, 860. Rob. 320, 858. Sam. 730. Tho. 541. Will. 179.
Burwell, Dr. 251. Tho. 213, 612.
Bury, Arthur, Son of Dr. John Bury, 363, 616. Edw. 595, 860. John, 487.
Buſbequii Epiſt. 299, 595.
Buſbey, or Buſby, 43. Dr. 104, 345, 412, 480. John, 482. Richard, 199, 227, 584, 603. Dr. Rich. 575, 865.
Buſcawen, Col. 537.
Buſh, John, 908. Sir Ralph, 410.
Buſhel, Dan. 922. Edw. 35.
Buſhnel, Walter, 206, 217, 267.
Buſſy, Charles, 880, 881, 882. Dr. Ch. 887.
Butcher, Rob. 808.
Butler, Dr. 932. John, 265, 932. Lilly, 843. Maj. Gen. 180. Sir Phil. 410. Sir Ro. 121.
Buttolph, Dr. 546.
Button, Mr. 830. Ralph, 213, 903, 935. Sir Will. 115.
Buyfield, Rob. 857.
Byam, Henry, 236.
Byde, Sir Tho. 344.
Byfield, Ben. 374, 375. Rich. 934. See Bifield.
Byne, Edw. 928.
Byſhe, Sir Edw. 523.

C.

C. D. ſuppoſed Dan. Cawdrey, 725.
C. C. J. 625, 725, 821, 834.
C. J. V. 318.
C. R. i. e. Cromwel Richard.
Cabo Verde, Biſhop, 652, 659.
Cade, Anthony, 318. Ja. 221.
Cadwallader, Morgan, 801.
Caen, 95, 100, 486.
Cæſar, 332.
Calamy, Mr. 50, 66, 68, 69, 77, 78, 81, 115, 123, 129, 139, 152, 172, 175, 178, 180, 181, 182, 187, 195, 197, 248, 280, 281, 295, 301, 302, 303, 398, 430, 431, 456, 500, 506, 611, 702, 730, 743, 746, 747, 753, 778, 801, 836, 843, 851, 855, 914, 932, 933. Benj. 843, 932. Edm. 162, 193, 227, 228, 319. Right Reverend Mr. Edm. 146. Edw. of Chriſtmas-Day, 589.
Calba, Don Michael de, 320.
Calendrin, Monſ. 476.
Calendrine, Cæſar, 827. Lewis 827, 901.
Calthrop, Sir Charles, 410.
Calveniſts, 466.
Calvert, James, 899, 919. Tho. 596, 935.
Calvin, 144, 190. John, 243, 298, 317.
Cambridge, Univerſity, 427, 456. Vice-Chancellor, 374.
Camden, Mr. 711. Viſcount, 366.
Campden, Earl, 364. Viſcounteſs, 425.
Campen, 139.
Campfield, Jeremiah, 30.
Campian, Edm. 496. Father, 407.
Campion, Sam. 237.
Cancefield, Char. 385.
Canne, John, 74, 363:
Canneus, Simon, 464.
Canon, Mr. 789. Peter, 607. Tho. 400, 808.
Cant, Alexander, 524. Andrew, 524.
Canterbury City, 150, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163. Archbiſhop, 150, 279, 368, 373, 380, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 509, 526, 544, 567, 696, 720. Church, 544.
Capell, Dan. 905. Eliz. Dowager, 364, 457. Sir Hen. 410, 633. Lewis, 300. Lord, 158, 199, 371. Made Earl of Eſſex, 410, 457. Lud. 189, 848.
Capet, Mr. 719.
Capon, Mr. 897.
Capper, Mr. 231.
Car, or Carr, Mr. 809. Rob. 743, 844, 882. See Carre.
Caracene, Marquis, 20, 22, 104, 118.
Carbery, or Carbury, Earl, 121, 535, 636.
Careleſs, 596. Tho. 423.
Carew, John, 156, 168, 175, 178, 240, 272, 274, 275, 276, 281, 348. Or Carey, Mr. John, 173. Sir Rich. 297.
Carey, Eſq; 239.
Carlingford, Earl, 685.
Carliſle, Biſhop, 420, 564, 680. Earl, 5, 62. Lucy, Counteſs, 308, 318. Mr. 360.
Carliſle Gariſon, 136.
Carlton Guy, 218, 224, 303, 332.
Caron, Redmund, 622.
Carpenter, Mr. 430. Dr. Hen. 796, 812. Mr. Hen. 397, 643, 656, 657, 811. Rich. 401, 657, 824.
Carre, Mr. 286. Cuthbert, 30. Nic. 332. See Car.
Carrington, Will. 760.
Carſwell, Fr. 310.
Cart, John, 904.
Carter, Ch. 808. Dr. 546. John, 333. Tho. 815.
Carteret, Geo. 865. Sir Geo. 167, 413. Lady, 404.
Cartwright, 501, 783. Mr. 827. Chriſtopher, 300. Dr. 818. Sir Hugh, 121. John, 708, 893.
Cary, Geo. 591. Dr. Geo. 883. Nich. 905. Dr. Rob. 744.
Caryl, or Caryll, Mr. 855. Joſ. 363, 402, 488, 619, 743, 934.
Caſaubon, Dr. 608, 645. Meric. Dr. D. 192, 204, 215, 714, 727, 790, 796.
Caſe, 152. Andrew, 783. Dr. 162. Mr. 139, 398, 407, 780, 855. Tho. 312, 743, 933.

INDEX.

Caſhal, Archbiſhop, 288, 312.
Caſſilis, Earl, 696.
Caſtell, Dr. 493, 871. See Caſtle.
Caſtelnaut, Madam, 98, 170.
Caſtillion, 620. John, 204, 791. Mary, 791.
Caſtle, Dr. 251. John, 384. See Caſtell.
Caſtlenant, Madam, 111.
Caſtleton, Lord, 133. Lady, 645.
Caſtor Manour, 229.
Catechizing, 72.
Cater, Mr. 892.
Cates, Sam. 934.
Catherina, Princeſs, 534. her Marriage, 696. her Portion and Jointure, 698. her Birth and Age, ibid. Lord Sandwich's Account of her Incapacity of Childbearing, ibid. Biſhop Burnet's Account of her, ibid.
Catherine, Queen, 560. See Q. of England.
Catlin, or Catlyn, Jeremy, 923. John, 424.
Cave, Mr. 921. John, 926. Dr. Will. 739.
Cavendiſh, Lord, 414, 494, 824.
Caverley, James, 622.
Cauthorn, Mr. 808.
Cawdrey, Dan. 570, 725, 764, 937. Rob. 764.
Cawley, Mr. 23, 60, 153. Will. 156, 178, 240.
Cawton, Mr. 728. 841. Tho. an Account of him, 593, 702, 898, 935.
Cecil, 824. Edw. 104. Sir Tho. 835.
Cellars, John, 840. See Sellers.
Centurion, Ship, 144.
Chabret, Mon. his Letter to Dr. Colladon, 474, 846.
Chace, Mr. 391. See Chaſe.
Chaderton, Will. 669.
Chadwick, Dan. 923.
Chalcedon, the Council of Calcedon, of the four chief Councils, 15, 487.
Challoner, or Chaloner, Mr. 704. Arthur, 46. James, 178, 614. John, 3. Tho. 33, 156, 178, 240. his Character, 540.
Chamberlain, or Chamberlayne, Dr. 251, 546. Edw. 103. Geo. 380. Lord, 181, 182, 426. See Mancheſter, Earl of, Major, 51, 64. Mark, 755. Martin, 886. Will. 185, 186, 203, 328.
Chambers, Dr. 301, 771. Humphrey, 217, 752. Rich. 772.
Chancellor, 381. Lord, 377, 404, 425, 426, 692.
Chancy, Will. 199, 493.
Chandler, Mr. 881. Fran. 897, 915. John, 918. Rich. 563.
Charenton, 93, 98, 170, 187, 486. Dr. Coſin in Communion with the Church there, 94.
Charles, Lord Gerrard, 563.
Charles I. King. None of his Letters found at Naſeby decyphered, but thoſe which they found ſo, &c. 70, 85, 103, 127, 195, 242, 297, 298, 299, 314, 319, 320, 324, 325, 347, 348, 365, 371, 474, 477, 478, 485, 584, 613, 614, 615, 616, 654, 774. died a Proteſtant, the Spirit of God reigned in his Heart, 93. left his Children three Commands, ibid. which the Duke of Glouceſter was determin'd to obey, ibid commends Mr. Hooker's Works to his Children, 385.
Charles II King, his Letters to Otway, 2. to Monk, 8, 106. to the Speaker, ibid. to the Houſe of Lords, 108. to the Generals Monk, and Montague, Generals at Sea, 109. to the Lord Mayor of London, 109, 746. to the Houſe of Commons, 478. to the Governour and Colonies of New England, 531. to the Archbiſhop of York, 564. for Epiſcopacy in Scotland, 522. to the Univerſity of Cambridge, 515, 600. to the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough, 700. to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, 794. to Mr. Cawton, 728. His Coronation, 411.
  —— 102, 103, 204, 300, 319, 320, 381, 382, 392, 468, 474, 479, 484, 517, 519, 523, 530, 534, 536, 556, 582, 612, 616, 627, 647, 667, 695, 697, 720.
  His Declaration to all his loving Subjects, 848. in which he promiſes Pardon and Toleration, and promiſes that he will be determin'd by Parliament, 108.
  His Proclamation againſt all Meetings of Quakers, Anabaptiſts, and Fifth-Monarchy Men in Scotland, 364. for obſerving of Lent, 367. in Favour of the impriſon'd Quakers, 445. for ordering the Reſort of People to Court for the Cure of the King's Evil, 727, 731.
  His Anſwer to the Anabaptiſts Addreſs, 383. to the Militias of London, 403.
  His Speeches to the Parliament, 434, 492, 511, 561, 691, 638.
  Againſt profane Drinkers, 460.
  Biſhop Burnet's Account of him, 698. his Religion, 598.
  Spain offers him a Portion with a Proteſtant Princeſs, 393. but embraces the Propoſals of Portugal, 394. Sir Robert South's Account of the Match, ibid. imputed to the Management of Chancellor Hyde, that Imputation taken off by the Earl of Rocheſter, ibid. the Match oppos'd by the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, 431. Biſhop Burnet's Account, that the King reſolved not to marry a Proteſtant, ibid. the Form of the Marriage, 696. Biſhop Burnet's Account of it, ibid.
  Favourable to the diſſenting Proteſtants, 915, 916.
  His Charter for founding the Royal Society, 874. his Application and Advice to the Society, 877.
Charles, Royal Ship, 157, 159, 160, 162, 163, 588, 632, 659, 660, 676, 684.
Charlton, Dr. 572. Job, 198. Margaret married to Mr. Baxter, 766. Serjeant, 360, 479, 648, 676. Walter, 674. Walter, Dr. 386, 527.
Charnock, Steph. 933.
Chaſe, Rich. 253, 481. See Chace.
Chatham, 162.
Chauncy, Dr. Icabod, 905. Will. 874.
Chaworth, Dr. 220, 434, 650. Rich. 345, 841.
Cheeſeman, Dan. 383.
Chelſea College, 654.
Cheping Ongar, 797.
Cheriton Ship, 135.
Cherry, Sam. 787.
Cheſten, Rob. 754.
Cheſter, Mr. 65. Sir Hen. 410.
Cheſter, Biſhop, 551, 564. See Ferne. Caſtle, 206. Mayor, 524.
Cheſterfield, Counteſs, 255. E. 422, 684, 685.
Chetwind or Chetwynd, Dr. 522. John, 923. Walter, 865. William, 865.
Chevers, Sarah, 738.
Chewney, Nich. 41, 347.
Cheynel, Dr. 816. Francis, 266, 913.
Chicheſter, Biſhop, 420.
Chickley, Sir Hen. 121.
Chiffinch, Mr. 416, 421.
Chilcot, Rob. 374, 375.
Child, Mr. 719.
Childerſon, Benj. 607.
Childrey, 317.
Chillenden, 427.
Chillingworth, 597. William, 244.
Chilniſky, 697.
Chipping Norton, 168.
Chirk Caſtle, 68.
Chiſhul, John, 903.
Chiſwell, Rich. 776.
Cholmley, Mr. 19, 55, 71, 96. Sir Henry, his Letter to the Parliament, 71, 133.
Cholmondeley, Rob. 345.
Chriſt-Church Deanery, 29.
Chriſtina Alleſſandra, 72.
Chriſtmas, Edward, 384.
Chriſtophilus, Richard Lord, 212. Richard, 198, 272.
2 Chron. vii. 13, 14, 125.
Chryſoſtom, 463, 467.
Church, the State of the Church of Ireland, 440. Churches in France no Precedent for Churches in England, 463. Reſpect the Churches of England, 469. Fill'd with worthy Men, 789. Clergy of the Church of England greater Sufferers than the Nonconformiſts, 821, 842.
Church, Joſ. 790.
Churchill, Sir Winſton, 642, 768, 771.
Chylinſki, 707.
Clanrickard, Lord, 7.
Clapham, Mr. 822.
Clare, Sir Ralph, 359. Capt. Tim. 119, 120 See Cleere.
Clarendon, Chancellor, 393, 473, 642, 658, 709, 757, 760, 788. Earl, 250, 307, 3. 382, 431, 456, 501, 533, 552, 574, 57, 578, 580, 656, 696, 698, 723, 733, 787, 802, 826, 841, 865, 877. Lord, 2, 3, 5, 454, 480, 498, 521, 538, 620, 624, 648, 666, 672, 681, 730. his Daughter, 382. See Hyde.
Clarges, 33, 34, 37, 54, 55, 57, 77, 82, 83, 85, 86, 87, 113. Mr. 136. Commiſſary, 26. Thomas, Dr. Brother to Monk's Wife, 12, 46, 68, 96, 133, 135. Mr. Tho. 6. Sir Tho. 145, 150, 151, 156, 321, 593.
Clarke, 37. Mr. 82, 398, 407, 431, 673, 765, 822, 831, 869, 894. Capt. 134, 660. Eliz. 326. Eſſex, 333. Gab. Dr. his Death, 681, 682, 773. John, 332, 363, 618, 827. Sir John, 338. Peter, 904, 937. Sam. 102, 311, 312, 315, 372, 392, 487, 554, 860, 932, 933, 934. Sir Sam. 892. Tho. 328, 898. Tim. Dr. 875. Will. 207, 253, 770. William, Dr. 527, 646.
Claver, Rob. 309.
Claxton, Law. 73.
Clay, Capt. 635.
Claypole, Eliz. Oliver's Daughter, 536.
Clayton, Dr. 220, 508. Luke 901. Rich. 585. Tho. 100. Tho. Dr. 180. Sir Tho. 380.
Cleave, Henry, 47.
Cleaveland. 270.
Cleaver, Joſeph, 30.
Cleer, Capt. Henry, 25. Lady, 870. See Clare.
Cleg, Mr. John, 481.
Cleland, Ben. 895, 909.
Clemens, 467.
Clement, 168 Gregory, 156, 161, 272, 274, 276, 240, 283, 284, 348.
Clements, John, 422.
Clendon, Tho. 648.
Clerk, Dr. 251. Mr. Francis, 162.
Clerkenwell, St. James, Church, 344.
Clerkſon, Rob. 887.
Cleveland, Earl, 156, 338, 555.
Clever, Mr. 758.
Cleyton, Ric. 481.
Cliffe, John, 797.
Clifford, Abraham, 906. Lord, 376. Tho. 604. Sir Tho. 891.
Clifton Clifford, 364. Sir Jer. 121, 364.
Clinton, Lord, 410.
Clipſam or Clipſham, Fran. 656, 667.
Clobery, Colonel, 10, 95, 57, 115. Col. John, 1, 2, 112, 114, 176.
Clomartie, Lord, 722.
Clopton, Sir John, 523. Roger, 884. Tho. 330. William, 756, 927, 934.
Clotterbooke, William, 789.
Clotworthy, Sir John, 263.
Cluet, Dr. Rich. 763.
Clutterbucks, Mr. 359.
Coates, Sam. 249, 909.
Cobbet, Colonel, 20, 119, 120, 184.
Cock, John, 345.
Cockaine or Cockayne, 596. Geo. 402. Tho. 402.
Codde, John, 647.
Codrington, Rob. 735.
Coe, Sam. 831.
Coga, Nath. 884.
Coget, Sir Peter Jul. 102.
Coignart, Mr. 469.
Coke, Edw. 759. Franc. 333, 576, 584. Lord, 787, 865. Roger, 300, 858. See Cook.
Colbert, Monſ. 395.
Coldſtream, 159.
Coldwell, William, 575.
Cole, Mr. 723, 823, 839, 921, 923. Abraham, 540, 611, 652. Fran. 482. John, 314, 331, 476. Rob. 883. Tho. 837, 903. William, 922.
Colebran or Colbrand, Dr. 546. Rich. 231, 304, 388.
Colebron, William, 812.
Coleburn, William, 922.
Coleman, Mr. 809. Tho. 805.
Coles, Mr. 835. John, 718.
Coleſton, Rich. 806, 937. Tho. 603, 806.
Coiet, Dr. John, 469.
Colf, Abraham, 761.
Colladon, Dr. 474. Dr. John, 569.
College Leaſe, 338.
Colleton, John, 390.

Collier,

INDEX.

Collier, Mr. 907. Giles, 926. Henry, 325.
Colliere, G. 746, 928.
Collings, John, 724, 934.
Collington, Mr. 390.
Collingwood, William, 203.
Collins, David, 203. Dr. 398. Dr. John, 720. Dr. Sam. 880.
Collinſon, William, 804.
Colly, Mr. 921.
Colvile, John, 220.
Comber, Tho. 224, 303. 332.
Comenius, John Amos, 126, 321, 530, 857.
Commentary, 72.
Committee for plunder'd Miniſters, 60.
Common-Prayer, ſome proſecuted for not reading it, and a Preſbyterian queſtions how far by Law they are bound to uſe it, 374. Commiſſioners for reviewing it, 398, 402. Exceptions againſt it, 431, 432, 462, 474, 564, 566, 568. Alterations in it, 585, 633, 666, 689, 741. Letters Patents to examine printed Books of it, 823, 837, 841. See Service Book.
Commons Houſe, 128.
Commonwealth, its Excellency, 73.
Complyn, Mr. 144.
Compton, Biſhop, 818. Sir Char. 556. Henry, 297. James, 894. Sir William, 121, 135, 563.
Comyn, Fran. 831.
Conant, 920. Dr. 141, 398, 748. Mr. 323. John, Dr. 180, 772, 843, 844, 921, 931. Rich. 921.
Conde, Prince, 20,
Coney, Sir Sutton, 121. Sir William, 121.
Coningſmart, Count, 415.
Conne, 501.
Conſcience, 74.
Conſtable, 490. Tho. 636, 831. Sir William, 178. William, 156, 537.
Convocation open'd, 434.
Conway, Viſcount, 865.
Conyer or Conyers, Tobias, 58, 727, 765.
Cook, 168, 278, 279, 282. Mr. 283, 284, 285, 747. Brian, 344. Capt. 420. Col. 179, 706, 742, 771. Edward, 457. Fran. 326. Sir Geo. 344. James, 702. John, 175, 176, 240, 272, 274, 277, 348, 580. Leonard, 739. Marmaduke, 387. Ralph, 219, 226. Ralph, Dr. 481. Rich. 553, 899. Rob. 826, 934. Roger, 881. Tho. 265, 333, 482, 607, 881, 884. William, 887. See Coke.
Cooper, 353. Mr. 22, 398, 407, 807, 895. Sir Anth. Aſhley, 13, 25, 30, 35, 61, 82, 101, 120, 167, 313, 381. made Lord Aſhley, 409. Ben. 380. Joſ. 855. Rob. 500. Tho. 358. Will. 312, 934. See Couper.
Cooper or Cupper, Vincent, 807.
Coot, Sir Charles, 8, 25, 54, 89. made E. of Montrath, 263. Richard, ibid.
Cooth, John, 316.
Cope, Sir Anthony, 59. John, 596. Joſ. 897. Capt. William, 59.
Copewell, 406.
Copley, Godfrey, 234.
Coppin, Edw. 909.
Corbet, Mr. 592. Col. 356, 755. Edw. Dr. 72. H. 424. John, 3, 295, 387, 593, 936. Margaret, 72. Miles, 24, 46, 156, 178, 240, 396, 646, 662, 663, 664, 665. Rich. 268. Rich. Dr. 244. Sir Tho. 121, 662. William, 361, 362, 363.
Cordell, Nich. 252.
Core, Rich. 906.
Cork, Earl, 121, 376, 377. Timothy, 68. William, 68.
Corker, James, 522.
Cornelius, Dr. 251. John, 357.
Corniſh, Hen. 891, 935.
Cornwall, Dutchy, 583. John, 593.
Cornwallis, Sir Ch. 410. Sir Fred. 167. made Lord Cornwallis of Eye, 409, 415, 419, 420. See Frederick.
Corraro, Angelo, 503
Correa, Franciſco de Silva, 659.
Cortman, John, 836, 894, 905.
Coſh, William, 30.
Coſin or Coſins, Biſhop, 407, 502, 504, 506, 507, 566, 737, 805, 814, 816, 818. Dean of Peterborough, 21. Dr. 23. join'd with the Church of Charenton, 94, 188, 229, 270, 279, 280, 283, 294, 322, 388, 389, 391, 474, 486, 631, 670. John, 215, 234. John, Dr. 202, 222, 260, 323, 330, 332, 353, 681, 731, 886, 933. Rich. Dr. 597. William, 550.
Coſtmore, Mr. 710.
Coſtrop, Rich. 545.
Cotes, Luke, 922.
Cotterel, Sir Charles, 270, 486, 499, 853.
Cotton, Mr. 821. Dr. 481. Edw. 242, 363, 387, 584. Edward. Dr. 345. John, 601. 823. Rob. 892. Sir Tho. 685.
Covent, Fr. 782.
Coventry, 118, 402, 602. Mr. 588, 617, 685. Hen. 397, 643. Sir John, 410. Lord, 812. Tho. 228. William, 404, 642, 768, 771.
Covenanters, 450.
Covery, Tho. 194.
Council of State of the Rump, 3.
Couper, Mr. 50. See Cowper.
Courtman, John, 836.
Courtney, Mr. 12, 65. Sir William, 894.
Couſins, John, 177.
Couteur, Monſ. 395, 494.
Cowbridge, John. 898.
Cowdrey, Dan. 301.
Cowley, Abr. 489, 595. Dr. 870.
Cowper, Sir Anthony Aſhley, 3, 18, 59, 66, 86, 113, 133. Mr. G. 35. See Cooper.
Cox, Col. 150. Dr. 822. John, 834. Major, 51, 64. William, 333. William, Dr. 363.
Crabb, Dr. 546. Joſ. 819, 922.
Cradock, 116. Francis, 244. Dr. John, 681. Samuel, 880, 910, 934. Walter, 910. Zach. 221.
Cragg, 362. James, 921. John, 401, 428.
Craily, Rob. 332.
Crandon, Mr. 619.
Crane, Dr 251. Rich. 488. Rob. 220.
Cranfield, Leonel, Lord, 155.
Cranford, Mr. 747. Dr. Iſaac, 547.
Cranmer, 589.
Cranwell, Luke, 541.
Craſhaw, Rich. 886.
Craven, Earl, 156, 344, 448, 627. Lord, 871.
Crawford, 101, 197. Earl, 65, 76, 80, 140, 577. Lord, 66, 129.
Crawforth, Rich. 383.
Crawley, Dr. 251. Rob. 226. Tho. ibid.
Creed, Dr. 246, 345, 450, 481. Major, 17, 20, 120, 184, 119. Will. 73, 232, 260, 494, 563, 584. Will. Dr. 199, 457.
Creighton, Dr. 14, 242, 368, 480, 571.
Creſſy, 604, 696. his Letter to Mr. Markham, 732. Father, 209, 330. Hugh, 203, 206, 218, 386. Mr. 262, 263, 454, 498, 521. Serenus 480.
Creſſett, Francis, 274.
Creſwick, James, 819, 908, 918.
Crew, 61. Biſhop, 814. Mr. 508. Capt. 327. John, 297. John, Eſq; 66. 388. made Lord Crew, 409. Tho. 162.
Creyghton, Rob. 74, 227.
Criſp, 508. Sir Nich. 121, 133.
Crockram, Sir Brice, 48.
Croere, M. 367.
Croft, Dr. Herbert, 538, 590, 626. See Crofts.
Crofton, 348. Rectory, 230. Mr. 180, 383, 500, 783. Zach. 73, 217, 317, 304, 375, 384. ſent to the Tower, 397. his Character, 402, 458, 501, 516, 554, 596, 698, 703, 736, 797, 907, 932, 934.
Crofts, 202. Biſhop, 815. Mr. 807. Charles, Baron, 167. Dr. 186, 233, 251, 482. Herb. 219, 584. Dr. Herb. 482, 641. John, 893. Dr. John, 324, 224, 884. See Croft.
Croigly, Eugen. 798.
Croiſe, 214
Croke, Rich. 596.
Crompton, John, 934.
Cromwell, 282, 277, 325, 326, 327, 345, 346, 347, 441, 466, 648, 663, 757, 804. Mrs. 892. Eliz. his Mother, 536. El. his Wife, 150, 202. John, 890, 909. Oliver left Monk in Scotland, 13, 72, 82, 85, 102, 135, 138, 149, 153, 156, 161, 188, 206, 247, 267, 270, 283, 299, 303, 319, 346. his Body taken up and hang'd on the Gallows, 367. his Boaſt of killing 40000 Scots, 367, 370, 371, 377, 384, 389. his Effigies burnt at York, 454. Mr. Goodman's Character of him, 427, 536, 614, 651. See Oliver. Rich. 5, 42, 83, 141, 202, 348, 384, 568, 629, 651. See Richard. Robina his Daughter, 323.
Crook, 596. Col. 67. Col. Unton, 18, 32. John, 102, 910. Major Unton, 6, 43. Sam. 394.
Croon, Mr. 635. Will. 791.
Croſland, Theod. 881.
Croſs, Mr. 546, 822. Geo. 811. Rich. 309. Rob. 929. Tho. 331.
Croſsfield, Mr. 822.
Croſſin, Mr. 817.
Croſsly, Mr. 895. Jo. 934.
Croſſman, Mr. 923.
Crouch, Mr. 684. Dr. 481. John, 246, 262, 703. Tho. 632.
Crow, John, 896, 932, 936.
Crowcher, Mr. 78.
Crowle, Eleanor, 599. Geo. ibid.
Crowther, Dr. 382, 502, 924. John, 640. Joſ. 203, 219, 550, 584. Joſ. Dr. 247, 640. Nath. 769. Ri. 328. Tho. Capt. 25.
Crump, John, 897.
Croxal, Randal, 698.
Croyden, Dr. Geo. 345.
Cudworth, Dr. 552, 896. R. 216, 222, 778. Ralph, Dr. 835.
Cuff, Mr. 817, 822.
Cullen, Lord, 370.
Culmer, Mr. Rich. 645, 936.
Culpeper, Judith, 204. Lord, 167, 255, 852. Lord John, 203, 307. Marg. Lady, 255. Ni. 823. or Coleper, Tho. 204. Tho. 612. Sir Tho. 204, 613.
Culverwell, Rich. 800.
Cumberland, 920. Dr. 424. Rich. 490. an Account of him, 555. Dr. Rich. 931.
Cupper, or Cooper Vincent, 807. See Cooper, Cowper and Couper.
Curl, Dr. 539.
Curtis, Anne, 211. Mr. 390, 426. Capt. 344. John, 513, 835. Peter, 385.
Cuſack, James, 621.
Cuthbert, George, 210.
Cutler, Mr. 181.
Cuttance, Capt. 134, 159, 617, 634.
Cyphers, the Art of Decyphering, 70.

D.

D. H. 349, 372
D. D. J. 487, 527, 696.
D. W. 571.
Dacres, Sir Will. 121. R. 350.
Dacy, Rob. 928.
Daille, 62, 111. Mr. 94. Monſ. 170, 467, 503, 591, 598, 846.
Daintre, Will. 886.
Dale, Tho. 607.
Dalliſon, Sir Charles, 198, 199.
Dalton, Dr. 251. Mr. 225. John, 924. Mich. Eſq; 528. Tho. 226, 332.
Dance, 359.
Dandulo, Philip, or Rigep. 212, 390.
Dandy, Tho. 892, 894.
Daniel, Ed. Dr. 696.
Danſon. Tho. 40, 245.
Danvers, 490. Col. 839. John, 156. Sir John, 178. Lord, 682.
D'Aranda, Elias Paul, 902.
Darby, Charles, 887, 923. Dorothea Helena, Counteſs, 255. Darby, Michael, 227.
Darcy, Oliver, Biſhop, 621.
Darley, Mr. Hen. 35. John, 654. Rob. 885.
Dartford, 163.
Daſhfield, John, 210, 333.
Daſhwood, 614.
Davenant, 332. Dr. 242, 546, 558. John, 221, 346, 388. Rob. 219. Will. 219, 246, 472.
Davenport, Chriſt. alias Franciſcus a S. Clara, 402, 407. an Account of him, 790. Geo. 751. John, 454, 487, 542, 835. Ralph, 800. William, 706.
Daventry, 119, 120.
Davers, William, 787.
David, 189. Reſtored, 195.
Davies, Mr. 832. Dr. 816. Francis, 316. John, 553, 554, 613, 856, 859, 884, 892. John, of Kidwelly, 655. Nicholas, 332. William, 480.
Davis, Dr. 481. Edw. 682. Francis, 239, 584. James 903. John, 513, 651. Rich. 807. Roderick, 924. William, 468.
Daviſon, William, 331.
Davy, Rob. 541. William, 887.

INDEX.

Dawkes, Tho. 912.
Dawney, Mr. 101.
Dawſon, Rich. 513.
Day, Dr. 546. Mr. 923. Geo. 832. Martin, 351. Matt. 203, 285, 336, 755. Wentworth, 363.
Dayrell, Dr. Walt. 555, 790.
Deacon, William, 350.
Deakin, John, 30.
Deal-Caſtle, 163.
Deane, 490. Col. 209. Henry, 231. Rich. 156, 178, 184.
Decyphering Art, 70.
Dee, Dr. Francis, 650.
Deering, Sir Edw. 642.
Degge, Simon, 865.
Delamere, Lord, 889, 890.
Delavall, John, Eſq; 388.
Dell, Mr. 869. William, 402, 913, 934.
Delves, Nich. 837.
Demetrius, Daniel, 338.
Den, Henry, 358.
Denbigh, Earl, 123, 891.
Dendy, Edw. 176. Serjeant, 278.
Denham, Mr. 923. John, 299, 312. Sir John, 410, 649.
Denton, Mr. 924. Nath. 893.
Derby, Counteſs Dowager, 302, 494. Earl, 19, 28, 158, 203, 413, 414, 641. Lord, 55, 70, 95, 112.
Dering, Sir Edw. 216, 768.
Dermot, Mac, 622.
Derry, Biſhop, 440. See Bramhall.
Deſborough, 5, 11. Col. confin'd to his Houſe by the Parliament, 17, 155, 180. Major, 827.
Deſbrowe, Col. 20.
Deſe, Oliver, 604.
Deſmond, Earl, 121.
D'Eſpaigne, John, 823.
Deverell, 116.
Devonſhire, Earl, 121, 494, 889.
Dewhurſt, Rob. 922.
Diamond, Capt. 537.
Dichons, Nich. 882.
Dickenſon, Mr. 923. An. 127. Dr. 762. Edw. 760.
Dickinſon, 80.
Dickſon, Mr. 822. David, 22, 227.
Didoclavius, 205.
Diepe, 263.
Digby, Sir John, 496. Sir Kenelm, 246. 286, 287, 875. Lord Kildare, 493. Lord Rob. 865.
Digges, or Diggs, Dudley, 618, 823.
Diggle, Edm. 338, 473 John, 720.
Dillingham, 641. Dr. 601. 368. Geo. 621. Sam. 707. Theoph. 216, 222. Dr. Theoph. 615, 646. William, D. D. 42, 216.
Dinely, Rob. Eſq; 895.
Dingley, 231.
Diſher, Capt. 25.
Dive, Francis, 865.
Divine Arithmetick, 72.
Dixey, Sir Wolſtan, 254.
Dixwell, Colonel, 3, 185. John, 156, 178, 240.
Doblins, Joſ. 344.
Dobſon, Iſaac, 544.
Dockwray, Joſias, 922.
Dod, 783. Mr. 180, 758. John, 361, 362, 687, 807. Rob. 817. Tim. 807, 932.
Dodderidge, John, 769.
Dodgſon, Tho. 924.
Dodington, John, 133.
Dodſworth, Roger, 429.
Dodwel, Henry, 317, 621, 786.
Doe, Charles, 338.
Dolben, 284, 345. Dr. 368, 508, 834. John, 213, 380, 584. John, Dr. 427, 481, 526, 792, 829, 836. Sir John, 669.
Doleman, 326.
Dolgarno, 269.
Dominicans in Ireland, 798. See Iriſh Remonſtrance.
Dominick, Dr. 619.
Domville, 288.
Dona, Count of, 81.
Donne, Dr. 750, 843. Dr. John, 487.
Doolittle, Tho. 788.
Door of Salvation, 72.
Doore, Church, 861.
Dorcheſter, Marquis, 121, 167, 204, 244, 300, 392, 414, 419.
Dorcheſter, a Letter from thence excuſing the Non-obſervance of the 30th of Jan. 371.
Doriſlaus, Dr. Iſaac, 536.
Dormer, Mr. 35.
Dorrington, 781.
Dorſet, Earl, 422, 495, 585, 627, 791, 865.
Dorſetſhire, Marquis, 865.
Dorwood, Mr. 749.
Dove, Mrs. 270. Rob. 879.
Dover, Earl, 121. Lord, 891.
Dover Town, 146, 150, 157, 159, 160.
Dougan, Dan. 621.
Doughty, Mr. 922. John, 199, 269. Sam. 915, 934.
Douglas, 59, 65, 68, 81, 83, 96, 101, 110, 115, 117, 118, 121, 124, 129, 134, 140, 146, 162, 173, 175, 178, 179, 180, 185, 186, 187, 197, 200, 202, 205, 211, 213, 222, 227. Mr. 66, 75, 78, 80, 84, 99, 147, 166. Sir John, 686. Sir Joſ. 671, 676, 684, 686. Rob. 22, 216, 227. Tho. 642, 736, 772, 856.
Doway, Col. 407.
Dowdſwell, Dr. Will. 219, 334, 481. Will. 584.
Down, John, Biſhop, 370.
Downe, Mr. Mark, 913.
Downes, 158, 159, 163, 272, 282. Col. 239. Dr. 251, 318. Elkanah, 761. Dr. Elkanah, 560, 780. John, 156, 178, 184, 240.
Downhall, Henry, 207.
Downholt, Dr. 251.
Downing, Dr. 778. George, 23. Sir Geo. 646, 662, 663, 665, 827.
Dowſe, Mr. 822.
Dowty, Dr. 412.
Doyley, Sir Will. 210, 383.
Drake, Dr. 251, 398, 450. Sir Francis, 20. Frigate, 162. Rich. 220, 648. Rich. Dr. 490. Dr. Roger, 751, 934. Sam. 556. Will. 312, 325, 345, 398.
Draper, Joſ. 553. Sir Tho. 640.
Drayton, Mich. 857.
Drelincourt, Monſ. his Letter to Monſ. Stroupe, for reſtoring the King, 93, 111, 170, 461, 462, 467, 847.
Dromore, Biſhop, 623.
Drope, Edw. 156, 473. John, 724.
Drudius, 139.
Dryden, John, 674.
Duart de Silva, 653, 659.
Dublin, Archbiſhop, 784.
Duck, Charles, 800.
Ducket, Charles, 317. Paul, 756, 771, 812.
Ducy, Sir Hugh, 410. Sir Will. 410.
Duels, 230.
Duff, Matt. 622.
Dugard, Will. 447, 765, 862.
Dugdale, Dr. 398. James, 227. James, Dr. 400. John, 534. Will. 429, 636, 856.
Dumfreis, Miniſters of, 474. Earl, 523.
Dune, Lord, 100.
Duncain, Dr. 489.
Dunce, John, 892.
Dunch, Mr. 891, 892. of Badſley, ibid. Edm. 345.
Duncon, Dr. 117, 229. Mr. 47.
Duncum, Dr. 681.
Dunford, 782.
Dungar, Major, 685.
Dunkeld, Biſhop, 684.
Dunkirk, the Parliament takes Care to ſupply the Soldiers there, 4, 60. The Spaniards deſirous of it, 91. It was ſtipulated for the Benefit of Portugal, that Dunkirk ſhould never be parted with to the Spaniards, 91, 99, 101, 163, 170. Mr. Greenhalgh his Account of it, 715, 723, 757. Commiſſioners for the Sale of it, 760. Sold to France, 766. How the Engliſh became Maſters of it, and how they parted with it, 767. Reaſons for the ſelling, and Objections againſt the Sale of it, 770. Articles of the Treaty, 802, 803.
Dunſtal, Mr. 923.
Dunſtan, Mr. 921.
Duport, 507. Dr. 251, 703. James, 103, 104, 321, 854.
Duppa, Biſhop, ſee Saliſbury Biſhop, 30, 218, 244, 347, 649, 651, 652, 667. Biſhop King's Account of his Birth and Education, 668, 774. his Death, 650. his Will, ibid. Brian, 252, 253, 265, 272, 345. Brian, Dr. 641. Dr. 644.
Durant, George, 746, 928. John, 596. Tho. 254. Will. 596.
Durby, Dr. 822.
Durell, Mr. 462, 474, 494. Monſ. ibid. Dr. 750. John, 591, 709, 787. Dr. John, 395.
Durham, 920. James, 299. Will. 73, 818, 924.
Durham, or Dureſme Biſhop, 403, 414, 415, 416, 420, 421, 479, 564, 605, 628, 667, 680, 831.
Durie, Mr. John, 137, 138, 193, 197, 198, 299.
Durrant, Mr. 251.
Durry, Dr. 251.
Durſton, William, 332.
Dury, Mr. 868.
Dwalphintramis, 349.
Dyer, Mrs. 396, 712. Mr. Sam. 751. Will. 911.
Dyke, Dan. 769, 911, 912. Jer. 484.
Dymock, Sir Edward, 422.
Dyſart, E. 390.

E.

E. D. Edw Bagſhaw, 609, 610.
E. Earl, Biſhop, 345, 805, 817, 818, 834. Dr. 115, 368, 398, 508, 546, 683. John, Dean, 671. John, Dr. 29, 648, 823. Mr. 23, 186.
Earles, Dr. 399, 713. his Letter to Mr. Baxter, 714. John, 584, 630. John, Dr. 480, 564, 565. Luke, 433, 449.
Eaſt, Sam. 884.
Eaſtgate, Mr. 822.
Eaton, Byrom, 220. Dr. 763. Mr. 215. Nat. 372, 926. Tho. 501.
Eccleſiæ Ang. Suſpiria, 72.
Edgar, Ezekial, 755.
Edgcombe, Sir Rich. 410.
Edgly, Mr. 921. Sam. ibid.
Edinburgh, Biſhop, 810.
Edlyn, Philip, 761.
Edmundſon, Mr. 822. Hen. 488, 858.
Edſay, Hen. 765.
Edward Biſhop of Cork, 541. of Norwich, 398, 399, 538, 584, 605, 728. of Roſs, 425.
Edward IV. 75, 199. Prince, 303.
Edwards, 490. Mr. 921. Dr. 251. Hum. 156, 178. Rich. 253, 763. Tho. 221, 254, 835.
Eedes, Hen. 925.
Eeles, Nath. 934.
Egerton, 783. Dr. 897. Sir Philip, 554, 732. Randolph, 865. Sir Will. 410.
'Εικων Βασιλικη, 774.
Ekins, Alexander, 601.
Elborough, Mr. 923. Tho. 783.
Elcock, Anthony, 234, 330, 331. Dr. Anthony, 564.
Elford, Tho. 770.
Elizabeth, Princeſs, 871. Q. of Bohemia, 627, 693. See Bohemia Queen.
Elizabeth, Wife of Biſhop Gauden, 773.
Elleſden, Capt. 371.
Ellice, Dr. Humph. 801. See Ellis.
Elliot, John, 193, 377, 378. Mr. 416, 421.
Ellis, Mr. 23, 518. Clement, 215, 453, 455. Dr. 353, 385, 390, 426. Edm. 702, 908. Henry, 286, 287. Humph. 922. John, 215, 245, 266, 542, 550, 592, 662. Tho. 429.
Elliſon, Mr. 890.
Ellys, Mr. 870. Sir John, ibid.
Elmes, Mrs. 892.
Elphin, Biſhop, 288, 557.
Elſon, 362. John, 363.
Elſton, John, 361, 362.
Elton, 840.
Elwood, Mr. 923. John, 922.
Ely, Biſhop, 27, 55, 97, 420, 449, 551, 610. See Wren. Lord, 100. Sam 826.
Elys, Edmund, 317.
Emanuel College, 515.
Emery, Geo. 782.
Endecot, or Endicot, John, 377, 518. John, Eſq; 531, 532.
Enderbie, Percie, 429.
Endter, Jo. Andrews, 246.
England, black Tribunal, 127. Confuſion, 41. Ch. 72.
Englegrave, Henricus, 43.
Ent, Dr. Geo. 875.

INDEX.

Epiſcopacy, 462, 463, 467. in France, 466. Lutheran Churches quieted under Epiſcopal Government, 465. in Scotland, 441. an Act of Council for reſtoring of it, 529. Biſhop Burnet's Thoughts on the Reſtitution, 577.
Eraſtian Treatiſe, 243.
Eraſtianiſm, 178, 201.
Eraſtians, 173.
Eraſtus, jun. 235. 243. Tho. ibid.
Eriſey, Rich. 892.
Earl, Eraſmus, 169.
Erſkyne, Will. 875.
Eſcoſier, Mr. 476.
Eſme Duke of Richmond, 230, 262.
Eſpagne, John d', 636.
Eſpernon, D. 424.
Eſſex, Earl, 282, 207, 373, 607.
Eſtcott, Mr. 508.
Eſtrade, Count de, 499.
Eſtrades, Count de, 723, 733, 757, 766, 788, 802.
Eſtrange, ſee L'Eſtrange.
Etherington, Mr. 924.
Evan, Evach ap, 641.
Evanke, Geo. 824.
Evans, A. 267, 320. Cath. 738, 899. Geo. 203. John, 647, 816, 863, 913. Mich. 480, 584. Mich. Dr. 734. Tho. 924. Will. 253. Zach. 618.
Eveleigh, Gilb. 916.
Evelyn, Mr. 117, 272. John, 424, 859, 875. John, Eſq; 527, 618. Sir Joh. of Wilts, 66.
Everard, 116. Capt. 142. Hugh, 892. John, 621.
Everit, Abra. 618.
Eves, Geo. 316, 458.
Euſtace, Sir Maurice, 288, 365, 441, 515, 548, 624.
Ewer, 490. John, 812.
Ewers, Iſaac, 156, 178.
Ewins, Tho. 917.
Exeter City, 207. City Churches, 246. Tumult there for a free Parliament, 32.
Exeter, Biſhop, 373, 413, 414, 468, 471, 489. See Gauden, Biſhop. Counteſs Dowager, 893. Earl, 119, 366.
Exit Tyrannus Regum ultimus, 227.
Exod. xv. 26. p. 125. xx. 12. p. 348.
Exon, Earl, 15[illegible].
Eyre, Colonel, 25, 30.

F.

F. G. 242.
F. F. G. 361, 366. i. e. Geo. Fox. See Fox, Geo.
F. R. 171, 216.
Fabrian, Edm. 837.
Face, Joſ. 194.
Fagg, 25, 26. Col. 3. Sir John, 892.
Fagor, Mr. 821.
Fairbrother, Dr. 251. See Fayrbrother.
Fairclough, i. e. Featley John, 223.
Fairclough, Dr. 546. James, 433, 449. John, 923. Rich. 934. Sam. an Account of him, 768, 769, 896, 934.
Fairfax, Col. 23, 72. Hen. 400. John, 918. Lady, 282. Lord, 3, 6, 7, 8, 19, 66, 101, 116, 133, 282, 898. Tho. Lord, his Letter to Parliament, 13. Sir Tho. 183. Dr. Will. 805.
Fairfoul, 578.
Fairfull, Andr. 577.
Fairwell, Arthur, 580.
Faith, Myſtery of it, 72. Faith and Reaſon, 73.
Falconbery, Lord, 5.
Falconbridge, Lord, 86. See Faulconbridge.
Falkland, Lord, 35, 59, 78, 133, 176, 325, 598, 666. Viſcount, 546. See Faulkland.
Fall, Steph. 361, 363.
Fanaticks publiſh fair Stories, 401.
Fane, Sir Fran. 410. Dr. Hen. 596. Sir Hen. 410. Sir Vere, 410. Will. 480, 584.
Fanſhaw. Rich 299. Sir Rich 537, 559, 560, 588, 829. Mr. Tho. 68. Sir Tho. 410, 493, 529.
Farley, Elliot, 539.
Farmer, Ralph, 349. Rich. 861.
Farrar, 501.
Farrington, Tho. 761.
Farrel, John, 918.
Farrow, Joſ. 899.
Fauconbridge, Viſc. 530. See Falconbridge.
Faulkland, Lord, 267. See Falkland, Lord.
Faunt, Mr. 65. George, 35, 338. Sir Will. 338.
Fawcet, Sam. 788.
Fayrbrother, Will. 264. See Fairbrother.
Feak, Mr. 793.
Fearne, Dr. Hen. 434, 448, 480, 564. 565, 629, 684. See Ferne and Cheſter Biſhop.
Featley, Dr. 317, 367, 654, 842. Dan. 40, 215, 223, 244, 351. Dr. Dan. 194, 243, 855. John, 194, 223, 230, 243. Dr. John, 555.
Fell, Biſhop, 345, 919. Dr. 368, 508. Henry, 357. his Writing to the King, 361, 545. Sir Hen. 43. John, 124, 213, 332, 584. John, Dr. 315, 479, 481, 484, 514. Margaret, 194, 211, 366, 384, 445. Sam. 272.
Fellow, Rob. 901.
Feltham, Owen, 553.
Felton, Nich. 882.
Fenn, Mr. 697.
Fenns, Bedford, 255.
Fenſham, Mr. 862.
Ferguſon, Rob. 904.
Ferne, Dr. 481, 668. Hen. 584, 585. Dr. Hen. 231, 393, 547, 649, 655, 670, 881. Dr. H. Biſhop, an Account of him, 643. his Will, 644. See Fearn.
Ferrer, Capt. 636.
Ferris, Mr. 922.
Fetherſtone, Alex. 333.
Fettiplace, Tho. 618.
Fiddis, Mr. 546.
Fiddles, Tho. 309.
Fidelity, 72.
Fido, Mr. 922. Anth. 900. John, 808.
Field, 612. Mr. 538. Rob. 543.
Fielder, 61.
Fiennes, Mr. James, 59. Lady, 893. Nath. 891. Will. 73.
Fifths not duly paid, 392.
Finch, Edw. 330, 792. Sir Heneage, 169, 250, 271, 275. 345, 393, 516. his Feaſt at the Inner Temple, 523, 877. Hen. 96. John, 250. John, Dr. 469. John, Lord, 202, 315. Sir John, 483, 792.
Fincher, Major, 33, 34, 64.
Fines, Major, 586.
Fingale, Earl, 622.
Finlow, Reginald, 908.
Finmore, William, 333.
Firebrace, Sir Baſil, 567. Charles, of Melford hall, Eſq; 567. Hen. 567. Dr. Hen. 567.
Firebraſs, Hen. 422.
Firmin, Giles, 554, 764, 905, 934. Tho. 761.
Firth, Will. 618, 787.
Fiſh, Jeremias, 698, 790.
Fiſher, Mr. 922, 923. Monſ. 576. Edw. Eſq; 589. James, 891, 903, 934, 935. Payne, 370. Sam. 40, 194, 246. William, 424. 640.
Fiſhmongers in London, their Petition to his Majeſty againſt recalling the Proclamation for keeping of Lent, 375.
Fiſherton Manor, 388, 389, 474, 605.
Fitch, Col. Thomas, 35. Col. 25.
Fitton, Mr. 390.
Fitz Gerard, 635.
Fitz-Gerrald, John, 622.
Fitz-herbert, Rich. 210.
Fitz Ranna, 622.
Fitz-Simons, James, 604, 622.
Flatman, Tho. 348.
Flavel, Tho. 363, 660.
Flea, Mr. 822.
Fleetwood, 5, 10, 11, 30, 46, 102, 272, 273, 282. Charles, 184. Dr. 482. General, 8, 26, 156, 540. Colonel Geo. 18, 33, 35, 178, 181, 240. Ja. 585. Ja. Dr. 632. Lord, 39
Flemming, Barth. 622. Giles, 386, 638.
Fletcher, Mr. John, 197. Sir John, 406.
Flood, Will. 806.
Florentini Hiſtoria, 74.
Flower, Mr. 923, 929. Chriſt. 265. John, 618. Rich. 879.
Floyd, Mr. 806. Humph. 565.
Floyer, Mr. 910.
Foelix Scelus, 73.
Fogg, 920. Mr. 551, 923. Laurence, 934.
Fogorty, Cornelius, 621.
Foliot, Mr. 789.
Foot, Alderman, 3. Hellen, 554, 858.
Forbes, Ducan, 524.
Force, de la Duke, 462. Ducheſs, ibid.
Ford, 133. Mr. 144, 301. John, Eſq; 424. Rich. 51, 388. Simon, 351, 370, 786. Simon, Dr. 843, 931. Steph. 168. Tho. 299, 936.
Foreſight Ship, 144.
Forſter, Sir Rob. 288, 704, 708. Will. 853. Will. Dr. 546.
Forteſcue, Sir Edw. 317.
Forther or Frith, Mr. 923.
Forward, John, 921.
Foſſet, Mr. 924.
Foſter, 271. Lord Chief Juſtice, 362, 393, 561. Joſ. 512. Sir Rob. 169. Mr. W. 480. Walt. 584. Will. 832.
Fothergill, 331. Geo. 924.
Foulis, Mr. 615.
Foulkes, Will. 585. See Fowkes.
Fountain, H. 186. Jo. 169. Serjeant, 23.
Fouquet, Monſ. 431.
Fowel, Sir John, 895.
Fowke, 66. Alderman, 25, 34. John, 100. Phin. 221.
Fowkes, Will. 481. See Foulks.
Fowler, 920. Mr. 777. Mr. of Crick, 833. Chriſtopher, 912, 934. Dr. 251, 918, 921. Matthew, 247. Matt. Dr. 788. Rich. 932. Stephen, 790, 934.
Fowles, David, 812.
Fownes, Tho. 901.
Fox, Geo. 73, 155, 171, 194, 211, 214, 215, 237, 286, 288, 356, 357. his Character, 366, 384, 445, 605, 651, 726, 738. See G. F. John, 218. Stephen, 422, 570, 865.
Foxcroft, Dan. 376.
Foxes and Firebrands, 7.
Franc. James le, 787.
Frances, Martin, 880.
Francis, John, 921.
Francius, Dr. 327.
Franck, or Frank, Dr. 546, 729. Mark, 203, 329, 376, 584, 841, 882. Mark, Dr. 480, 618, 665, 742, 750, 837.
Franckland, Rich. 814, 904. Mr. Tho. 648.
Franklin, Francklin, or Franklyn, Dr. 546. John, 880. Lemuel, 835. Rich. 332, 924. Will. 285, 332.
Freckleton, Rob. 771.
Frederick, Alderman, 133. Charles, 612. Count Palatine, 627. Lord Cornwallis, 612. See Cornwallis Lord.
Freekleton, Rob. 327.
Freeman, Dr. 251. Sir Geo. 410. Irenæus, 349, 543. Rich. 263, 591. Tho. 656, 667.
Freere, Dr. 251. Mich. 190. See Frere.
French Churches in London, 460. The Engliſh Liturgy uſed in them, approved by the moſt eminent Miniſters in France, 474. the firſt reading of it in them, 494.
French, John, 906. Nic. Biſhop, 623. Peter, 323. Sam. 908.
Frere, Hen. 385. Mich. 221, 332. See Freere.
Freſnaye, Monſ. de la, 847.
Freſtwell, Col. 121.
Frewen, Accepted, 296, 323, 354, 270, 272, 252. Archbiſhop of York, 407. Biſhop, 221, 309, 473. See York Archbiſhop. Paul, 911.
Friers, Oliver's, 322.
Frieſendorf, Monſ. 415.
Frith, Mary, 725.
Froyzal, Mr. 301.
Fry, or Frye, 490. John, 178.
Fryer, Mr. 844.
Fulham, Dr. Edw. 203, 206, 219, 310, 345.
Fuller, Biſhop, 815. Dr. 654. Fran. 772, 808, 932, 937. J. 296, 312, 641. John, 523, 772, 932. Rob. 526. Sam. 808. Sam. Dr. 772, 932. Sam. Dean of Lincoln, 4, 861. Tho. 724, 731, 808, 879. Tho. Dr. 4, 220, 309, 312, 321, 351, 364. his Death, 523, 576, 772, 932. Will. Dr. 28, 220, 251, 302, 829, 880.
Fulman, Will. 237, 123.
Fulwood, Mr. 188. Dr. 481, 546. Francis, 242, 287. Fr. Dr. 812. Gervaſe, 882.

Furley,

Furley, Benj. 214, 215.
Furnick, Edw. 755.

G.

G. G. 170.
G. J. 595.
G. J. 654. i. e. Gregory, Jo.
Gabrie, Sam. 534.
Gaches, 110. Monſ. 461, 483, 591, 846. His Defence of Biſhops, in a Letter to Dr. Brevint, 463. Raimond, his Letter to Mr. Baxter for reſtoring the King, 91, 170.
Gadbury, John, 300, 655, 786, 858.
Gage, Dr. 382. Sir Hen. 496.
Gale, Sim. 651. Theoph. 782.
Galloway, 105. Major, 10.
Galton, Edw. 841.
Gardiner, 345. Mr. 907. Dr. 482. Edw. 666. J. 216. James, 357. Jam. Dr. 231. John, 153, 362, 363, 751. Dr. John, 633. Rich. 213. Sam. Dr. 865. Sir Will. 410.
Garland, 156, 272, 273, 282. Auguſtine, 178, 240.
Garnet, 497.
Garnons, Ralph, 884.
Garrard, Sam. 885.
Garret, 188. John, 709, 806.
Garrod, Rob. 599.
Garvaſe, Dr. 251.
Gaſcoigne, Mr. 923.
Gataker, Mr. 747.
Gates, Abraham, 879.
Gatford, Dr. 251. Lio. 207.
Gauden, Biſhop, 304. Son of John Gawding, ibid. his Works, 304, 305, 368, 372, 385, 386, 407, 507, 554, 562, 581, 666. his Death and Character, 773, 804, 814. Charles, 642. Dr. 41, 67, 69, 72, 73, 102, 123, 125, 126, 132, 144, 147, 179, 186, 215, 279, 317, 616, 652, 703, 729, 730. Sir Dennis, 642, 775. Mrs. 642. Elizabeth, Biſhop Gauden's Wife, 773. John, 297, 642. John Biſhop, 360. John Dr. 194, 323, 402, 618, 641, 697, 725.
Gaudy, Lady Mary, 699.
Gavelkind, 192.
Gaven, Tho. 763.
Gaul, John, 299.
Gawding, John, 304, 775.
Gawee, Mr. 822. Tho. 539.
Gaylan, 635.
Gayon, Monſ. 846.
Gayre, Sir Rob. 410.
Gear or Geare, Allen, 846. William, 596.
Gearing, W. 298.
Gearnon, Anth. 621.
Gee, Mr. Edw. 162. Geo. 366.
Geeres, John, 153.
Geery, Dr. 482. See Gery.
Gell, Rob. 170, 267. Sir John, 904.
Geneſis, 37, 38, 351.
Geohegan, Peter, 622.
George, Biſhop of Briſtol, 532. of S. Aſaph, 574, 579, 584, 605, 632, 640. of Wincheſter, 865. of Worceſter, 323, 398, 577, 584, 587, 626, 632. Lord Digby, 598. Fields St. 163.
Gerard or Gerrard, Mr. 96. Sir Francis, 183. Sir Gilb. 61, 64, 66, 72, 328, 388, 389, 459, 460, 519, 579, 605, 606, 628, 631, 649, 859. Lady, 202. Lord, 156, 164, 255. Lord Charles, 846.
Geree, 501.
German, Hen. Lord, 155. Dr. Mich 852.
Gerſon, 205.
Gery, Dr. 546. John, Dr. 897. Rob. 739. William, 309, 224, 584. Dr. Will. 524, 591. See Geery.
Gething, John, 481.
Getſius, Joh. Daniel, 873.
Giavarina, Signieur, 415.
Gibbes or Gibbs, Charles, 427, 640, 881. Char. Dr. 697, 797. Nat. 330, 839, 845. Sir Ralph, 697. Rich. 351.
Gibbon or Gibbons, Dr. 397. Mr. 502. Col. 162. Hen. 621. John, 312, 791.
Gibby, Sarah, 401.
Gibſon, Charles, 881, 887. John, 607. Tho. 364, 390, 613.
Giffard, Fran. 397. Nath. 681. Tho. 364.
Gifford, Benjamin, 46. Geo. 591. Henry, 328. Peter, 243.
Gilbert, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, 865. Biſhop of Briſtol, 584, 728. Biſhop of Lincoln, 323. Biſhop of London, 354, 358, 398, 434, 489, 577, 584, 587, 626, 739, 745, 832. Tho. 919.
Gilby, Sarah, 487. Sir Thomas, 55.
Giles, 325. Edw. 895. Jo. 934.
Gillingham, Dr 822.
Gilpin, 301. Dr. 546. John, 764. Randal, 380.
Gilſon, Tho. 854.
Giſby, George, 270, 271.
Gladman, 566.
Glanning, Sir Nich. 410.
Glanvin, Sir John, 169, 544. Joſ. 402, 529, 609, 735, 835, 867, 931. Winifred, 544.
Glaſcock, John, 553.
Glaſcow, Archbiſhop, 660, 671.
Glaſton, Rectory, 141.
Glemham, Dr. 482. Hen. 210, 333, 584.
Glencairn, Earl, 134, 197, 523, 577, 578.
Glendall, 242.
Glenn, George, 252, 334.
Gliſſon, Alice, 720. Dr. Fran. 595.
Glouceſter or Gloceſter, Biſhop, 372, 416, 500, 580. Duke, reſolved to obey his Father's Will, 93, 94, 105, 119, 128, 133, 144, 149, 157, 150, 160, 161, 164, 166, 167, 171, 181, 185, 204, 216. Died of the Small Pox, 261. his Character by Mr. Philips, 261. by Mr. Eachard, 262, 386.
Glover, Hugh, 932, 934, 936. John, 765.
Glyd or Glyde, Mich. 446. Capt. William, 830.
Glynne, 310, 186. John, 169.
Goach, Dr. Tho. 754.
Goad, Dr. 527. J. 837. Tho. 386, 884, 931. Dr. Tho. 540.
Goadyer, Francis, 359.
Goblet, Col. 17.
Goddard, Jonathan, 197. Jonath. Dr. 875.
Goddel, Zach. 325.
Godman, William, 158.
Godolphin, Dr. 487. Sir Fran. 410. Dr. John, 594. Sir William, 345.
Godſon, Mr. 897.
Godwyn, Mr. 922. Edm. 832. Philip, 779. Tho. 488.
Goffe, Dr. Steph. 539. William, 156, 178, 240, 264.
Goldman, Fran. 830. See Gouldman.
Goldſmith, Mr. 897. Matt. 881. Ralph, 531.
Golſton, Rich. 666.
Gomer, Iſaac, of Smyrna, baptiz'd Paul, 404.
Gooche, Mr. 923. Jo. 883.
Good, Mr. 252, 822. John, 322. Tho. 219, 333, 585.
Goodier, Fran. 604, 786.
Goodman, Biſhop, 700, 703. Dr. 706, 936. Mr. his Character of O. Cromwell, 427, 822. Godfrey, 303, 827. John, 375, 472, 706.
Good old Cauſe, the ill Effects of it, 44.
Goodrick, Fran. 389. Lionel, 827, 923.
Goodwin or Goodwyn, 553. Dr. 152. John, 58, 180, 189, 230, 239, 269, 278, 454, 529, 616, 711, 727, 777, 793, 935, 938. Maj. 184. Phil. 330, 331. Rich. 934. Rob. 25. Tho. 773. Tho. Dr. 935.
Goodwin, Mr. 925. Alex. 928.
Gordon, Dr. 684. Dr. Alex. 758. John, 891.
Gore, Sir John, 666.
Gorge, Dr. 480. Sir Arth. 121. Lord, 636. Tho. 202.
Gorges, John, 270. Lord, 856. Tho. 397, 584.
Gormers, Monſ. 415.
Goſtlin, Dr. John, 870.
Goſtling, Mr. 821.
Goſtwick, Sir Edw. 338.
Gouan, Capt. his dying Speech, 459.
Gouge, 350. Tho. 312, 346, 347.
Gough, 326, 362. Dr. 747. John, Dr. 371, 480, 527. or Goff, John, 567. Tho. 796, 838, 932, 933.
Gould, Mr. 895.
Gouldman, Fran. 351. See Goldman.
Gouldſton, Joſ. 585.
Gowen, Monſieur, his Letter to Monſieur Chabret, 475.
Gower, Mr. of Dorcheſter, 185.
Gowler, John, 363. Leonard, 361, 362.
Grace, William, 917.
Grandiſon, Viſcount, 121.
Granger, Mr. 896.
Grant, John, 153. Tho. ibid.
Grantham, Ship, 135.
Grantham, Tho. 383.
Graunt, John, 613. Dr. John, 779.
Gray, Mr. Andrew, 72. Hen. 883. Dr. Nich. 880. Rob. 207, 332.
Greathead, Edw. 249.
Greatrakes, Valentine, his curing the King's Evil by touching, 873.
Greaves, Edw. 812. Sir Edw. 506. John, 648. Dr. Nich. 812. Tho. 324. William, 832.
Grebner, 859.
Green, Dr. 822. Mr. 805. Anth. 887. Chr. 210. James, 501. John, 450, 897.
Greenfield, Tho. his Faſt Sermon, 470, 471.
Greenham, Rob 155.
Greenhill, Mr. 770.
Greenvill, Mr. Bern. 105, 117, 118. Sir Bevil, 87, 88, 89. Dennis, 773. Sir John, King Charles II. his Letter to him, 9, 24. his Character, 87, 91, 97, 104, 105, 106, 110, 114, 117, 128, 129, 132, 136, 144, 145, 146, 148, 192, 322. made Earl of Bath, 408. Sir Richard, 5.
Greenwood, Mr. 914. Dr. Dan. 222, 935. John, 673, 748.
Gregg, Tho. 901.
Gregory, 119. Mr. 251. Francis, 15, 162, 300. John, 216. See G. J. Sam. 254.
Grenhalgh, John, his Account of Dunkirk, 715.
Gres, Gabriel du, 321.
Greſwold, John, 749.
Grevil, Algernon, 738.
Grew, Dr. 301. Jonath. 816. Dr. Obadiah, 818, 917.
Grey, Dr. 251. Edw. 199. Enoch, 792. of Wark, Lord, 123, 176, 177. Mr. 135, 757. Nich 272. Tho. 156.
Gridell, Tho. 373.
Griffin, Edw. 392. Lady Eliz. 632.
Griffith, Biſhop of Offory, 597. Camber, 513. Dr. 96, 97, 116, 137, 196, 236, 245, 296. Geo. 363, 933. Hugh, 501. John, 203. Matt. 756. Dr. 451, 472. Roger, 927. Suſannah, 45. Tho. ibid. William, 210, 648, 721.
Griffiths, Biſhop, 508. Evan. 758, 924, 928.
Grigg, 55. Tho. 500, 751.
Grimes, Ellis, 26. Sir Tho. 338.
Grimſtone, Sir Harb. 66, 123, 131, 146, 307, 254.
Groſs, David, 242. Rob. Le, 701.
Grotian Religion, 43.
Grotius Hug. 300.
Grove, Mr. 892. Rob. 149, 153. William, 652.
Groves, William, 699.
Grymer, Rob. 883.
Guadilopa, Ducheſs, 698.
Gubbard, 231.
Guillard, Mr. 476.
Guillim, 300. John, 858.
Guillſon, John, 884.
Guiſe, D. 496.
Gulſton, Dr. 822. Joſ. 480.
Gumble, 1, 4, 23, 34, 49, 57, 80, 99. Dr. 546. Dr. Tho. 495.
Gun, Capt. 617.
Gunning, 58, 285. Biſhop, 816. Dr. 251, 279, 280, 390, 398, 425, 433, 447, 450, 482, 502, 503, 505, 506, 507, 508, 550, 551, 600, 601, 608, 610, 611, 733, 897. Peter, 185, 204, 212, 330, 375, 491, 585. Peter, Dr. 480, 626, 627, 637.
Gunter, Humphrey, 891. John, 908.
Gunton, 345, 270. Mr. 376. Simon, 177, 218, 229, 238, 265, 403, 570.
Gurdon, John, 151.
Gurnall, Mr. 409, 751. William, 372, 528.
Gutheridge, Anth. 916.
Guthrie, James, 406, 452. his dying Speech, 459.
Guyon, Monſ. 467.
Gyles, Nat. 156, 203. Rich. 915.
Gwyn, Dr. Owen, 572.

H.

H. E. 708.
H. F. 736.
H. J. 321, 553, 856.

H. J. 724. ſuppoſed to be James Howell.
H. R. 595.
H. R. Eſq; 127, 269.
H. S. 725.
H. Sir T. 40.
H. W. 298.
Habernfeld, Andreas ab, 504.
Habergam, Sam. 934.
Hacker, 116, 168, 282, 285, 286. Colonel, 35, 204, 208, 209. Francis, 282, 348, 240, 272, 274.
Hacket, 279, 572, 711. Biſhop, 368. his Advice againſt the Increaſe of Popery, 701, 713, 725, 738, 816, 820, 917, 918. Dr. 398, 481, 508. Andrew, 865. John, 226, 272, 397. Dr. John, 231, 482, 587, 590, 612, 613, 652, 657, 866. Dr. Tho. 375, 441, 547, 752.
Hacon, Joſ. 758.
Hadley, Dr. 752.
Hague, 145, 148, 149, 150, 159. Iſaac, 30.
Hains, Major, 602.
Hakewell, Dr. Geo. 265. William, 169.
Hale, 130, 186. Baron, 914. Bernard, 222, 264, 327, 584. Bern. Dr. 879, 884, 886. Dr. 251, 480. Matth. 307, 169. Matth. Eſq; 478.
Hales, Bernard, 185. John, 203, 218. Sir John, 646. Sir Rob. 892. Sir Stephen, 410.
Halford, Rich. 35.
Halke, John, 225, 764.
Hall, 362, 440, 920. Biſhop 169, 302, 593, 818, 820, 834, 919. Capt. 686. Dr. 736. Fran. 203, 671, 707. Geo. 584. Geo. Dr. 203, 204, 219, 251, 303, 363. Hen. 366, 501, 673. Lord, 100, 480, 591, 657, 684, 796. Mr. 139, 922. Nat. 922, Philip, 928. Rich. 719. Rob. Dr. 387. Stephen, 264, 524, 597, 879, 881, 887. Tho. 217, 245, 269, 594, 827. Tim. 922. William, 177, 203, 247.
Halle, William, 570.
Halloway, 199.
Halls, Hen. 380. William, 141. his Character, 380, 381, 580, 602, 804.
Halſey, Mr. 922. Dr. James, 788. Joſ. 898.
Halſted, Dr. Hen. 797.
Halſwell, Hugh, 822.
Halton, Tim. 219, 481, 585.
Hamilton, 578. Duke, 371, 577. Mr. 822. Sir George, 338. Lord, 199. James, 227, 577. William, 514.
Hammond, 490. Anth. 376. Dr. 29, 58, 71, 73, 123, 124, 205, 217, 246, 280, 317, 470, 551, 644, 666, 702. Henry, 348. Hen. Dr. 38, 199, 269, 406, 484, 514, 858. John, 390. Tho. 178.
Hampden, Mr. 904.
Hamper Office, 68.
Hampton-Court, the Honour and Manor of it ſettled upon Geo. Monk, 67, 68. he declines the Offer and chuſes 20,000 l. 68.
Hampton, William, 370.
Hams, Stephen, 668.
Hand, Mr. 921.
Hancock, 233. Mr. 923. Edw. 908, 910.
Hanibal, Ship, 135.
Hanmer, Jonathan, 817, 819. Mary, 619. Sir Tho. 551.
Hannum, John, 836.
Hanſcomb, Matt. 886.
Hanſley, John, 202, 480, 584.
Hanſon, William, 553.
Hanton, Sim. 887.
Harcourt, Vere, 234, 265, 326, 331. Sir Philip, 891. Sim. 898.
Hardcaſtle, Tho. 911.
Harding, 749, 836. Dr. 302.
Hardres, Dr. 251. Peter, 204, 207. Peter, Dr. 480.
Hardwick, Edw. 315.
Hardy or Hardie, 101. did not preach before the General in the Babyloniſh Habit, 110, 128, 154, 620. Dr. 368, 523. Matth. 494, 504, 576, 605, 614. Nat. 219, 326, 584, 657. Nat. Dr. 404, 481, 616. Sam. 759, 899, 901.
Hare, Sir Ralph, 210, 796.
Harecourt, Dr. 546.
Harlewin, John, 719.
Harley, 61. Coll. Edw. 66, 780. Sir Edw. 86, 410, 655, 803. Major, 76. Rob. 68.
Harman, Reyner, 733.
Harmer, 300. Joh. 162. 618, 725.
Haro, Don Lewis Mendez de, 320, 394.
Harper, John, 843. Tho. 922.
Harres, Mr. 251.
Harrington, Mr. 67. James, 269, 567. Sir James, 3, 178, 490. Oceana, 194.
Harris, Dr. 251. Mr. 730, 841. Edm. 873. John, 226, 333. John, Dr. 253. Malachy, 213, 643. Philip, 921. Rich. 236, 655, 808. Rob. 73, 334. Rob. Dr. 571. Tho. 362, 363, 687. Will. 779.
Harriſon, 168, 275, 276, 277, 279. Mr. 508. Brian, 344. Col. 153. Cuthbert, 818, 819. Dr. 546. Edw. 787. G. Major, 156, 175. John, 199, 493, 825, 874, 890. Iſaac, Dr. 923. Lanc. 433, 449. Ralph, 265. Rob. 333. Tho. 156, 239, 272, 274, 348.
Harroden, Lord Edw. Vaux, 531.
Hart, 596. John, 798. Theoph. 560, 930.
Hartcliff, John, 923.
Hartlib, Sam. his Account of himſelf, 868. his Letters to Dr. Worthington, 868, 870, 871. to Lord Herbert, 872. his Petition to the Commons, 872.
Harvey, 272, 274, 282. Chriſt. 348, 591. Col. 184. Dan. 161. Dr. 506. Edm. 178, 240. Will. 928.
Harwood, Ant. 376. Dr. 482. Rich. 219, 224, 334, 584. Tho. 330.
Haſilwood, Rob. 556.
Haſlerig, 37, 54, 55, 57, 59, 61, 82. i. e. Sir Arthur's Son, 120. Sir Arthur, 3, 5, 9, 10, 11, 19, 75, 78, 79, 136, 180, 236, 356, 490, 514. See Hazlerig.
Haſtal, Dr. John, 224.
Haſſel, Mr. 921.
Hatch, Clement, 784, 929.
Hatley, Mr. Griffin, 481.
Hatton, Lord, 47, 376, 631.
Havers, Hen. 826.
Haughton, Lord, 101. Mr 923.
Havil, Mr. 923.
Haviland, Matt. 787.
Hawden, Geo. 825.
Hawes, Mr. 901. Rich. 815, 927, 936. Sam. 924.
Hawkes, Tho. 513.
Hawkins, John, 790. Will. 763.
Hawles, Dr. 481. Mr. 115. Anthony, 203, 218.
Haworth, Will. 769.
Hawtain, Edw. 332.
Haydon, John, 734.
Hayes, Dan. 922.
Hayhurſt, Bradley, 922.
Hayne, Rob. 879.
Haywood, Mr. 780. Will. 245, 575, 838. Dr. Will. 480. Sir Will. 226.
Hazlerig, Sir Arthur, 737. See Haſlerig.
Head, John, 833. Joſhua, 921.
Heale, Matt. 78.
Heardman, John, 761.
Hearts Eaſe, 72.
Heath, Mr. 571, 822. Sir Edw. 410. Fran. 663. James, 523, 746. Rich. 820. Roger 330. Will. 779.
Heaver, John, 376. John, Dr. 632, 641.
Heavers, Dr. 546.
Heins, 566.
Hemming, or Hemings, Joſ. 589. Will. 867.
Hempſteed Church, 606, 860.
Henchman, 279, 280, 281, 288, 296. Biſhop of Saliſbury, 407, 818. Dr. 37, 706. Humph. 299. Humph. Dr. 123, 272. Rich. 42, 317, 540, 594, 792. Ro. 332. Tho. 493, 513. Will. 166. See Hinchman.
Henden, Edw. Lord, 332.
Hendon, Mr. 895.
Henrietta Maria, 307, 373, 385, 598. See Queen Mother. Princeſs, 303, 306, 353, 365, 767.
Henry, Biſhop of Cheſter, 646. of Chicheſter, 296, 354, 398, 453, 584, 587, 626, 668, 728. See King, Dr. Duke of Glouceſter, 331, 332. the Great, 298. the III^d^ K. 103, 130. the IV^th^ K. 297. the IV^th^ of France, call'd a Heretick, 93, 127. Mr. 816. Mat. 897. Philip, 552, 699, 910. Prince, 654.
Henſhaw, Dr. 481. Mr. 546. Ben. Major, 404. Joſ. 234, 841. Tho. 875. Tobias, 285.
Hepworth, John, 924.
Heraut, Mr. 476.
Herbert, 617. Biſhop, 632. Dr. 482, 546, 809. Mr. 560, 587, 588, 635. James, 671. of Worceſter, Lord, 133, 192, 202, 872. Sir Phil. 410. Will. 263, 585.
Herbon, Will. 909.
Hereboord, Adrian, 317.
Hereford, Biſhop, 420. Earl, 207. Lord, 157. Lord Viſcount, 133, 419.
Herle, Mr. 568.
Herne, Mr. 922. Hen. ibid. Sampſon, 892.
Heron, Mr. 749, 809. Sir Edw. 410.
Herring, 783. John, 895. Rich. 819.
Hertford, Marquis, 141, 153, 161, 162, 167, 180, 220, 255.
Heveningham, 272, 274, 282, 285. Will. 177, 178, 239.
Hewet, John, 309. John, Dr. 373. See Hewit.
Hewit, Dr. 349. Sir George, 737. Sir Tho. ibid. See Hewyt.
Hewlet, cut off his late Majeſty's Head, 179. Will. 240.
Hewling, 68.
Hewſon, Col. 155. John, 156, 178, 240. Nath. 756, 861, 927.
Hewyt, John, Dr. 102. See Hewet.
Heydelberg, 188.
Heydon, Hen. 673. John, 319, 595, 759, 859.
Heylin, or Heylyn, 508. Dr. 234, 244, 345, 398, 412, 527, 681, 683. his Death and Character, 682. Hen. ibid. Peter, 42, 236, 348, 514. Dr. Peter, 320, 321, 389, 450, 453, 680, 822.
Heyricke, Rich. 487.
Heyward, Capt. 134.
Heywood, Dr. 412. Nat. 734. Oliver, 722, 901. Will. 380.
Hibbart, Hen. 637.
Hibbert, Hen 675, 778.
Hickeringill, Edm. 457, 809.
Hickman, 43, 170, Eliz. her Petition to Lord Clarendon, 826. Henry, 244, 317, 456, 750, 786, 900. Hen. Dr. 859. Sam. 826. Tho. ibid. Will. 272, 648.
Hicks, or Hickes, Dr. 566, 706, 922. Edw. Dr. 446. Geo. Dr. 618. John, an Account of him, 916. Lady Mary, 457.
Hiders, the ſeveral Sorts of them, 396.
Hieron, John, 936.
Hierony, Abbas, 426.
Hierome, Monſ. 461.
Higgins, Will. 482.
Higginſon, Fran. 924.
Higgs, Thomas, 46.
Highmore, Nat. 300.
Higmore, Nat. 595.
Hilderſam, Sam. 934.
Hilderſham, 783. Mr. 735.
Hildgard, Chr. 309.
Hill, 933. Mr. 508, 922. Abraham, 875. Aug. 618. Edw. 230. Joſ. 682, 900. Rich. 345. Rob. 270, 333. Serjeant, 23. Tho. 657, 896, 917. Tho. Dr. 601, 611. Will. 330, 839. the firſt Diſcoverer of the Fanatick Plot, 845. his Character, 845, 931.
Hilliard, Mr. 924. See Hilyard.
Hills, Will. 668.
Hilton, Hen. 393. Rich. 899.
Hilyard, Mr. 546. See Hilliard.
Hinchman, Biſhop, 507. See Henchman.
Hinckes, Rich. 356.
Hind or Hinde, 501. Mr. 891. James, 839, 845. Matt. 924. Dr. Sam. 360. William, ibid.
Hindle, Chriſt. 928.
Hinkley or Hinckley, John, 410, 859.
Hinks, Rich. 897.
Hinton, Dr. 822. John, 316. Will. 882.
Hirſt, James, 567. William, ibid.
Hitch, Dr. 546. Henry, 265, 882. Rob. 234, 376, 584, 585. Rob. Dr. 467, 474, 565, 737.
Hitchcock, Mr. 906. Rob. 326.
Hitchman, Edw. 584. James, 482.
Hoar, Leonard, 831. William, 332.
Hobard, Greg. 605.
Hobart, Sir John, 35. Sir Nat. 657. Sir Richard, 234.
Hobbs or Hobbes, 26. See Leviathan, 320. Tho. 245, 300, 734, 735. Will. 470.
Hobſon, Dr. 251. Will. 231. William, Dr. 486, 754.
Hodge, Alex. 895, 900.

Hodges, 124, 129, 139, 149, 151, 190, 234. Dr. 251, 306, 328, 446, 470, 490, 494, 509. Mr. 128, 133, 749, 840. Moſes, 714. Tho. 219, 233, 895, 934. Tho. Dr. 538, 805, 810. William, 481, 584. Dr. William, 599.
Hodſkin, 363. Mr. 737. Roger, 361, 362.
Hodſon, Phineas, 234.
Holbech, Dr. 251. Tho. 203, 213, 737. Tho. Dr. 862.
Holbrook, Rich. 905. William, 736.
Holbrough, Tho. 923.
Holdcroft, Fran. 889.
Holden, Rich. 383.
Holdepp, Mr. 822.
Holder, William, 264, 393, 697, 879, 882. William, Dr. 844, 883.
Holdſworth, Dr. 456. Joſiah, 902, 937. Richard, 231, 351, 471. an Account of him, 572, 573, 600. Dr. Rich. 553, 845.
Holdworth, Rich. 668.
Holhead, ſen. and jun. Dr. 546.
Holiday, Barten, 348. Barten, Dr. 401, 481, 543.
Holingworth or Hollingworth, Dr. 774. Ralph, 324, 550. Ralph, Dr. 597. Richard, Dr. 304.
Holland, 33, 353. Col. 67. Cornelius, 175, 240. Earl, 199, 371. John, 385. Sir John, 61, 66, 133, 210. Secretary, 286, 287. Tho. 333.
Holland, States of, 124, 148.
Holled, Jeremy, 449. Jonathan, 449.
Holles or Hollis, Mr. 208. Denzil, Eſq; 66, 76, 133, 149, 167, 177, 409. Jer. 433. Jonath. 433. Lord, 62, 248, 279, 306, 509.
Hollington, William, 433, 449.
Hollneſs, Mr. 822.
Holloway, Mr. 141, 821.
Holmes, Mr. 135, 806, 922. Geo. 827. Nath. 553, 827. William, 358, 603.
Holt, John Goodhand, 88. Sir Rob. 611. Tho. 227.
Home-Lacy Church, 861.
Honylove, Tho. 345.
Honywood, Dr. 481. Dr. Mich. 207, 231, 237, 251, 309. Mich. 584. Sir Rob. 705.
Hood, Dr. 220, 251, 294. Mr. 822. Paul, 309, 332. Paul, Dr. 378, 615.
Hook, Rich. 395, 547, 626, 853. Dr. Rich. 538. Rob. 456.
Hooker, Mr. 385, 386, 520, 554, 736. Richard, 372, 385, 705.
Hool, Mr. 902. Charles, 74, 321, 326, 550. John, 924.
Hooper, 501.
Hope of Glory, 72.
Hoper, Dudley, 309.
Hopkins, 920. Mr. 817. Ezekiel, 738, 922. Dr. Ezek. 843. Rob, 362.
Hopper, Dr. 546.
Hoppin, John, 917.
Hopton, John, 376. Lord, 224, 228, 229, 232, 657.
Horden, John, 685.
Horn, John, 595, 859, 937.
Hornby, Walter, 768, 894.
Horrocks, Tho. 833, 904, 914.
Horroths, 930.
Horſman, Nic. 724.
Hortenſia, Niece to Cardinal Mazarin, 393.
Horton, 490, 920. Dr. 398, 431, 748. Francis, 329. Tho. 42, 156, 178, 216, 399, 934. Dr. Tho. 856, 864, 931. William, 376.
Hoſkins, Edw. 198, 199.
Houblon, James, 801.
Hough, Edm. 887, 888.
Houghton, 220. Mr. 508. John, 455, 601. William, 486.
Howard, Bern. 555. Capt. Lawrence, 192. Col. 113, 114, 118, 167, 313. Dr. 121. Sir Charles made E. of Carliſle, 409. Hen. 418, 420, 555. John, 768, 895. Lord, 210. Philip, 35, 67, 156. Capt. Phil. 161. Sir Phil. 164. Rob. 674. Sir Rob. 321, 648, 859. Sir William, 121.
How or Howe, Dr. 601. Mr. 751. 853. John, 647, 814, 911.
Howell, Mr. 297, 922, 923. James, 169, 232, 268, 514, 528. James, Eſq; 500, 595. Tho. 203, 328. William, 486, 571.
Howes, John, 45, 859. of Chriſtmas-Day, 589.
Howlet, ſee Hulet, 272. Sam. 807, 894.
Howorth, Dr. 482. John, 218, 237, 570, 585. Theophilus, 237.
Howſon, Dr. 682.
Hoyer, Mr. 138.
Hubbard, Francis, 895.
Hubberthorn, 114. Rich. 40, 194, 288, 296, 594.
Hubberton, Rich. 364, 651.
Huddleſton, George, 354.
Hudſon, Mr. 752. Sam. 923.
Hugh, Biſhop of Landaff, 584.
Hughes, Mr. 301, 814. Geo. 936. Dr. John, 265. Lewis, 769. Stephen, 910. William, 490, 854, 921, 925.
Huiſh, Alexander, 254.
Hukeley, 276.
Hulet, William, 184, 272, 282, 284. See Howlet.
Hull, the Gariſon to be well provided for, 3. the Gariſon commanded there by Overton, 71. Fairfax, 72.
Hulſe, Edw. 906, 934.
Hulſius, Anthony, 147.
Hume, Abraham, 890.
Humfrey or Humphrey, Biſhop of Sarum, 323, 398, 446, 574, 579, 584, 587, 626, 632, 728, 771. See Henchman, Dr. Mr. 429. John, 456, 458, 527, 571, 673, 835. his Defence of Re-ordination, 918. Nat. 844.
Humfryes or Humphreys, Mr. 761. Hugh, 333. Humph. Dr. 350.
Huncks, Col. 179, 282.
Hungerford, Mr. Ed. 60. Sir Edw. 410.
Hunſdon, Lord, 123.
Hunt, Euſ. 309. Fran. 402. Rich. 788. Tho. 527, 655.
Hunter, Joſ. 127. Rob. 921.
Huntingdon, Rob. 296.
Huntington, E. 865.
Hurleſton, Nicholas, 344.
Hurſt, Dr. 176, 179. Hen. 593, 754.
Hus, John, 245, 319.
Huſbands, Edw. 132, 151.
Huſon, Mr. 784.
Huſſey, Sir Edw. 893. Lady, 893.
Hutchenſon, Mrs. 396, 712.
Hutchins, Mr. 921.
Hutchinſon, 61, 80, 146. Col. 67, 175, 177, 497. George, 227. Mr. 251. John, 156, 169, 788.
Hutton, Henry, 332. John Archdeacon, 930. Matt 234. Rob. 556. Rich. 720.
Huyſen, Jaſper van, 745.
Hyatt, Mr. 924.
Hyde, 97, 115, 134, 142, 167, 199, 220, 271, 283. Alexander, 219, 253, 518, 584. Anne, 247. Suſpicion of her being married to the Duke of York, 381. Biſhop, 818. Dr. 480, 822. Edw. 74, 223, 533, 687. Edw. Dr. 247, 332, 360, 734, 835. Edward, Lord, made Earl of Clarendon, 410. Sir Edw. 23, 390. Francis, 338. George, 778. Hen. 380, 410 James, Dr. 777. John, 924. Juſtice, 288, 360. Lawrence, 380, 393. Lord Chancellor, his Letter to Mr John Barwick, 7, 14, 20, 26, 27, 29, 36, 37, 54, 70, 74, 79, 112, 166, 202, 279, 288, 294, 296, 304, 307, 310. his Letter to the Vice Chancellor of Oxford, 378, 387, 392, 394, 395, 471, 477, 479, 498, 521, 599, 642, 643, 768, 803. See Clarendon. Lory, 721. Rich. 219, 652, 657. Rich. Dr. 518, 763, 853. Sir Rob. 169. Tho. Dean, 315.
Hynde, Gilb. 329.
Hypocrites, 72.

J.

J. H. 170.
Jacie, Henry, ſee Jeſſie.
Jackeman, Walter, 643.
Jackſon, 51, 64. Mr. 398. Abraham, 238. Sir An. 121. Arthur, 76, 152, 305, 702. an Account of him, 756, 933. Ch. 919, 923. Hen. 595, 705. Jo. 312, 756. Sir John, 892. Lady, 893. Tho. 442, 668. Tho. Dr. 670, 681. Will. 406, 442, 881, 887.
Jacob, 332. or Jacobs. Abraham, 238. Francis, 334. John, 232. Will. 232.
Jacomb, Dr. 398, 403, 407, 502, 505, 546. Nath. 895. Sam. 72. Tho. 72, 308, 312, 888. Dr. Tho. 743, 893. his Character; 852.
Jago, Rob. 921, 926.
Jakeys, Mr. 922.
James, Hen. 929. John, 560, 563, 569, 828. King the Iſt, 483, 649, 654. King the IId, 599. Marmaduke, 309. Royal Ship, 157, 471. Tho. 749. Valent. 383. Will. 332. Duke of York, 3. See Royal Highneſs.
Jameſon, Dr. Tho. 778.
Janeway, John, 835. Will. 837, 883. See Jenoway.
Janſeniſts, 144.
Jarvis, Will. 263.
Jay, Chriſtopher, 210. George, 222.
Ibbot, Edm. 720.
Ibbotſon, 559.
Iconoclaſtes, 230.
Jeacock, Capt. John, 5.
Jeanes, Mr. 751. Mr. A. 73. Henry, 193, 199, 246, 594, 744, 777, 931.
Jeffery, Mr. 897. John, 567.
Jeffries, John, 121.
Jenkin, 508. Mr. 752, 922. Lluellin, 378. Will. 933.
Jenkins, 186. Mr. 172, 924. Dav. 554. Judge, 236. Dr. Leoline, 556. Sir Leoline, 221, 387. Matt. 921. Will. 601, 743. his Character, 792, 855.
Jenks, David, 924.
Jennings, John, 893. Rich. 911. Tho. ibid.
Jenoway, Will. 836. See Janeway.
Jeo, Will. 934.
Jephcot, Jonathan, 733, 814, 911, 935.
Jeremy, Biſhop of Down and Connor, 440. See Taylor, Biſhop.
Jermyn, Earl of St. Alban's, 119, 166.
Jeſſey, or Jeſſie, Mr. 137, 138. Henry, 242, 269, 402, 833, 858. See Jacie.
Jeſſop, 151. Mr. 185, 922. Conſtantine, 217, 932. Tho. 789. Will. 68, 131.
Jeſton, Will. 837.
Jeſuits, 396, 485, 495, 496, 544.
Jewel, Biſhop, 527. Sam. 887, 888.
Jews, 378.
Ignatius, 205, 463.
Illingworth, James, 899, 934.
Imber, Mr. 822.
Ince, Peter, 892.
Inchequin, Earl, 719, 725. Lord, 179, 237, 255, 732.
Ingeham, or Ingham, Mr. 47, 928.
Ingelo, Dr. 204 Nat. 266.
Ingoldſby, 67, 68, 118. Col. 5, 119, 120, 135. Rich. 156, 169, 329. Sir Rich. 410.
Inman, Mr. 903.
Joel, Will. 541.
John, Archbiſhop of Armagh, 440, 473. See Bramhall, Dr. John, Biſhop of Durham, 354, 398, 585, 632, 640, 865. of Exeter, 398, 584. of Lich. and Cov. 713. Biſhop of Roch. 296, 323, 398, 450, 503, 584. Biſhop of Worceſter, 728.
Johnſon, 322, 442, 501, 807. Dr. 546. Ezekiel, 231. Fran. 214. Hugh, 203. Jonath. 309, 404. Samp. 575. Tho. 210. Will. 270, 309, 594.
Jollie, John, 889. Tho. 915.
Jolliffe, Mr. 897. Ja. 780, 808.
Jones, 168. Mr. 923. Alex. 887. Dr. 412, 481. Edw. 333. Hen. Dr. 451. Sir Hen. 59. John, 156, 175, 240, 272, 274, 276, 283, 284, 348, 550, 935. John, Col. 24. Morgan, 908. Nat. 324, 873. Rich. 458. Sam. 816. Theoph. 8. Tho. 928. Walter, 199, 203, 345, 585. Will. 239, 481, 584, 701.
Joplin, John, 831.
Jordan, Mr. 918.
Joſeph, of Arimathea, 464. Tho. 908.
Joſſelyne, Ezekiah, 751. Sir Rob. 892.
Joyce, Cornet, 176. George, the Perſon who murder'd King Charles the Firſt, 173, 736.
Joyner, Iſaac, 526.
Irby, Sir Anth. 869.
Ireland, 73, ſecur'd, and the Quakers and Anabaptiſts baniſh'd out of it, 77. A Proclamation by the Lords Juſtices and Council, for a ſolemn Humiliation on the 30th of Jan. 365. againſt the Aſſemblies of Papiſts, and all other Sectaries, 366.
Ireland, Mr. 390.

Irenæus, 467.
Ireton, 277, 602. Ald. 179. Col. 209. Hen. 149, 156, 325. his Body hang'd on the Gallows, 367, 370, 371.
Iriſh, Brigade, 43. Clergy, 477. Proteſtants, 410. Rebels, 158, 159. Remonſtrance, 515, 548, 620.
Ironſide, Mr. 482. Biſhop of Briſtol, 424, 919. Gilbert, 219, 295, 328, 331, 354, 594. Dr. Gilb 788. Rad. 584.
Iſaac, John, 541, 827.
Iſam, Mr. 833.
Iſham, Juſtinian, 650. Tho. 833.
Italy, 270.
Iter Boreale, 127.
Juan, Don de Sorſa, 652, 659.
Judicial Aſtrologers, 43.
Ives, Will 234, 252, 265.
Iveſon, Lan. 376.
Juniper, Will. 725.
Ivory, Rob. 765.
Juxon, his Character, 666. Archbiſhop, 917. Biſhop, 218, 817. Dr. 77. Will. 252. Tranſlated from London to Canterbury, 264. his Character, ibid call'd by K. Charles I. the good Man, 264, 363, 812. Will. Dr. 671.
Ixem, John, 374, 806.
Izatſon, Will. 884.

K.

Katherine, Princeſs, 486. Queen, 829. See Portugal Infanta.
Kawley, John, 685.
Kaye, William, 373, 384.
Keeble, 199. Serjeant, 181.
Keen, Edm. 770, 883.
Keeling, 704. Serj. 482.
Keith, Rob. 524.
Kelk, Tho. 881.
Kelliſon, Dr. 390, 483.
Kellond, John, 929.
Kelly, Lam. 798.
Kelſay, John, 383.
Kelſey, Colonel, 17, 20. John, 221.
Kelyng, 199. John, 198, 271. Serjeant, 828.
Keme, or Kem, Sam. 927.
Kempe, Edw. 221, 881. Geo. 541. Will. 210, 333.
Kempſton, Col. 827.
Kendall, Mr. 50, 923. Geo. 812. Dr. Geo. 936.
Kenion, Mr. 924.
Kennet, Baſil, 884. Rich. 780. an Account of him, 884. William, 192.
Kenrick, 566. Mr. 749. Nich. 807, 915. Ralph, 870.
Kent, County Declaration for a free Parliament, 47.
Kent, Anthony Earl of, 216. George, 224, 236.
Kerby, Rich. 553.
Kerry, Biſhop,
Kettleby, Fran. 441.
Kiberd, Hen. 790.
Kidd, John, 922. Peter, 363.
Kidder, 117, 920. Biſhop, 830. Rich. 853, 922.
Kidderminſter, 669.
Kiffen, 68. Will. 358.
Kildare, Biſhop, 451. E. 440, 640.
Killbye, Rich. 772.
Killigrew, Dr. 412. Henry, 252. Dr. Hen. 199, 345. Sir Peter, 146.
Killingworth, 130.
Kilmurry, Lord, 68.
Kilſby, Rob 395, 626.
Kimberley, Will. 903.
Kincairdin, E 578.
King, Benj. 218. Biſhop, 407, 488, 508, 791, 816, 818, 917. Mr. 841. Col 166. 330, 383, 389. Dean, 861. Dr 30, 481. Dan. 899. Edw. 489. Ezekial, 882, 883. Henry, 234, 252, 266. H. Dr. 649, 650. John, 234, 272, 370 Sir John, 263. Phil. 203, 234. Phil. D. D. 121. Rob. 222, 620, 882. Rob. Dr. 885. Will. 642.
Kingman, Rob. 929.
Kingſale, 163.
Kingſhip, againſt it, 73.
Kinnerſley, Mr. 415.
Kirby, Mr. 24.
Kircher, 871.
Kirk, Sir Lewis, 121.
Kirkham, Walter, 344.
Kirkhoven, John, 255.
Kitchen, or Kitchin, Mr. 756. John, 596, 633, 751.
Kitchingman, Mr. 870.
Kite, Capt. 535.
Knatchbull, John, 104.
Knell, Paul, 299.
Knevet, Sir John, 410.
Knight, 113. Mr. 752. Col. 129, 163, 164. Iſaac, 770. Major, 37. Sir John, 484.
Knightbridge, Dr. 923.
Knightley, 61, 328. Rich. Eſq; 66, 297. Sir Rich. 410.
Knights of the Bath, 68. created, the Form and Manner of their Creation, 410.
Knot, Edw. 504.
Knox, Mr. 243. John, 298.
Kynnerſley, Clem. 153.

L.

L. C. 387, 527.
Lacy, Dr. 644 Nat. 550. Rainald, 68. Will. 239, 524, 789.
La Force, Ducheſs, 846.
Lahorne, 71.
Lake, Dr. 450. Mr. 822. Edw. 297, 558. Dr. Edw. 375. Sir Edw. 512, 547, 620, 890. John, 556, 768. Dr. John, 747.
Lakenby, John, 597.
Lamb, Dr. 822. Mr. 367, 924. James, 199, 232. Sir John, 669. Lionel, 367, 478. Tho. 358.
Lambert, the Iriſh Brigade under him declare for the Parliament, 5, 6, 7, 30, 54, 67, 78, 84, 98, 102, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 136, 169, 247, 348, 366, 602. Capt. 685. Col. 20, 34, 62, 114, 115, 704, 709. Frances, 181. General, 1, 2, 8, 10, 11, 12. John, 240, 490, 563, 668. John, Col. confin'd to his Houſe by the Parliament, 17, 78, 84, 79, 236. John, Eſq; 3, 59.
Lambrook, Tho. 234.
Lamotte, Monſ. 415.
Lamphire, Dr. 508. John, 153, 332, 592, 764.
Lamplugh, 620. Biſhop, 814, 819, 917. Dr. 401, 481, 773. Tho. 252, 584. Dr. Tho. 791, 792.
Lancaſter, Sir James, 344.
Landaff, Biſhop, 481, 628.
Landguard Fort, 146.
Lane, Sir George, 167, 255. Peter, 755. Will. 929.
Laney, Biſhop, 368, 376, 380, 390, 407, 508, 804, 813, 815, 817, 822. Dr. 37. 906. Dr. Ben. 208, 222, 306, 323, 326, 354, 681. Mr. 546. Mrs. Jane, 518. Tho. 218, 264, 830. Tho. Dr. 760.
Langbaine, Dr. Ger. 514.
Langdale, Sir Marmaduke, Baron of Holm, 96, 167. Marmaduke, Lord, 517.
Langham, Mr. 674. Ald. 133. James, 267. Sir James, 655. Sir John, 675, 894. Mary, 267. Lady Mary, 655. Tho. 149.
Langhorne, Dan. 884.
Langley, 501, 783. Dr. 242. Mr. 555, 666, 924. Henry, 213. Hen. Dr. 935. Ja. 535. Tho. 811. Will. 216.
Langſton, John, 899.
Langworth, Mr. 822.
Lant, Tho. 778.
Lanthony Abbey, 207.
Larkin, John, 934.
Laſby, John, 636.
Laſſels, Francis, 164, 177.
Latch, John, 655.
Latham, Paul, 909.
Lathum, Mr. 922.
Latimer, 501, 589.
Lavallis, Arthur, 242.
Laud, Archbiſhop, 193, 226, 235, 310, 317, 323, 474, 552, 645, 654, 670. Dr. 370, 681, 682.
Lauderdale, 62, 66, 96, 99, 110, 117, 202. Duke, 890. Earl, 65, 76, 80, 101, 140, 312, 483, 568, 577, 846, 853. Lord, 414, 629. See Lawderdale.
Lavender, John, 811, 928.
Laughton, Will. 922.
Law, John, 921.
Lawderdale, 469, 523. See Lauderdale.
Lawrence, Mr. 913. Chriſ. 936. Edw. 755. John, 181.
Laws, Hen. 873.
Lawſon, 120, 148. Dr. 880. George, 358, 603, 758, 806. Sir John, 537, 559, 560, 588, 617, 632, 653, 659, 668, 685, 697, 791, 804. Vice Admiral, 3, 35, 36.
Lax, Mr. 809.
Laxton, Tho. 222.
Layfield, Dr. 171. Mr. 468. Dr. Edw. 480, 590, 866.
Lea, Mr. 923.
Leach, Dr. 251. Tho. 199.
Leadbeater, Tho. 909.
Leader, Tho. 550.
Leake, Sam. 832.
Leaver, Hen. 909. James, 903.
Lechmore, Mr 23.
Leddra, William, 490.
Lee, alias Warner, 929. Mr. 36. Hen. 219. John, 219, 481, 734, 922. Obadiah, 934. Rich. 324, 591. Sam. 673, 806, 902, 919. Will. 489, 921. See Leigh.
Leech, Dr. 481. Sir Sim. 410.
Leeds, 376. John, 882.
Leek, John, 571.
Leg, John, 924. See Legg.
Legate, 324, 929.
Legg, Col. 397, 643. Mr. 563. Geo. 865. Will. 121, 865. See Leg.
Leghorn, 117.
Leiceſter, 33. Earl, 123, 167.
Leigh, Ed. 300, 734, 867. Sam. 543. Tho. 736. Tho. Eſq; 422. See Lee.
Leighton, 175. Dr. 660. Rob. 577.
Leightoun, 580. Sir Eliſha, 579. Rob. 578.
Leiſley, Jo. 360.
Le Neve, William, 523.
Lent, 558.
Lenthall, 102, 111, 112. Col. 54. Mr. 157. Sir John, 35, 513. Speaker, 26. See Speaker. Will. 22, 68, 100, 179, 217. his Death, 761.
Leonard, Mrs. 56. Arthur, 535.
Leſlie, Henry, 245.
Leſly, or Leſley, 440. Biſhop, his Death, 404. Dr. John, 467. Dr. 365.
L'Eſtrange, 232, 295, 574. Mr. 608, 611, 681. Roger, 96, 348, 375, 459, 501, 528, 550, 558, 571, 592, 625, 707, 725, 792, 857. Sir Roger, 321.
Letts, Will. 560.
Level, Bedford, 255.
Levens, Mr. 533.
Leventhorp, Charles, 835. Sir Tho. 68, 666.
Lever, Mr. 588, 617.
Leveſon, Sir Rich. 460.
Levet, Rich. 923.
Leviathan, 26. Chancellor Hyde encourages Mr. Wren to anſwer it, 10. See Hobbs, Hyde and Wren.
Levingſton, James, Viſcount of Kimardin, 533.
Levinz, Col. 406. Col. Rob. 442. Dr. Will. 397.
Lewelyn, David, 808.
Lewellin, Martin, 262, 345.
Leweſen, Cath. 866.
Lewis, 61, 133. Dr. 822, 890. Don de Almeida, 617. Mr. 253, 645. Geo. 628. Jer. 808. Mark, 246, 923. William, 751. Sir William, 66.
Lewkenor, Sir John, 410.
Lexington, Lord, 121.
Ley, Mr. 429. alias Lee, John, 676. his Character, 687.
Leyburne, Dr. 286, 287, 353, 382, 385, 407, 426. Dr. Geo. 373, 389, 725.
Litchfield, Biſhop, 658. Cathedral, 652. See Litchfield.
Liggot, Lion, 395.
Lightfoot, 920. Dr. 398, 407, 431, 736, 748, 763. John, 324, 328. Dr. John, 725.
Ligne, Prince de Ligne, 253, 271.
Lilburne, 272, 274, 275, 282. Col. 6, 7, 183. Rob. 156, 239, 240.
Lillingſton, 170.
Lilly, 217. John, 595. William, 173.
Limerick, Biſhop, 440.
Linch, Andrew Biſhop, 623.

Lincoln, Biſhop, 385, 538, 554, 736. See Robert Dr. 251. Earl, 123, 142, 422, 495. 890. Edm. 887.
Lincoln's-Inn Society, 601.
Lindſay, Iſabel, 578.
Lindſell, Dr. 681, 682.
Lindſey, Anne or Anna Maria, 322. Earl, 76, 167, 373, 392, 410, 414, 424. Iſabel, 578. Richard, Capt. 25.
Ling, 882.
Liſle, Geo. 789. Sir Geo. 468. John, 175, 239. Lord Com. 35.
Liſter, Mr. 924. James, 331. Martin, 7. Tho. 178.
Litchfield, Earl, 262. and Coventry, Rob. Biſhop, 218. See Litchfield.
Litcott, 566.
Litler, Rich. 735.
Little, Birch, 861.
Littleton, Mr. 508. Adam, 371, 723. Sir Hen. 535. Sir Tho. 121.
Liturgy, 398, 425, 447, 462, 474, 475, 483, 494, 499, 506, 525, 574, 611, 637, 678, 749, 846. See French Churches and Common-Prayer.
Lively, Mr. 822.
Liveſey, Mich. 156. Sir Mich. 35, 178, 240.
Livii, Conc. 299.
Lizard, Mr. 683.
Loben, Mr. 922.
Lockey, 251, 252. Tho. 329. Dr. Tho. 345.
Lockhart, 56, 60, 99, 761. William, 170. Col. William, Governor of Dunkirk, his Letter to the Parliament, 3, 4, 43. Sir William, 86.
Lockier, 116, 839. Nich. 192, 708, 801, 934. Oliver's Chaplain, 935.
Loe, Mr. 11. Sam. 490, 925. See Lowe.
Loftus, Dr. Dudley, 365, 456, 772.
Lomax, Mr. 818. John, 906, 934.
London, Biſhop, 360, 383, 403, 413, 414, 415, 416, 420, 421, 422, 430, 448, 449, 460, 478, 479, 503, 507, 512, 544, 563, 605, 608, 620, 627, 630, 631, 640, 657, 658, 660, 667, 671, 672, 696. his Letter to the Dean of Peterborough, 720. City, 50, 51, 71, 404, 746. Lord Mayor, 371, 423. Militia, their Addreſs to the King, 403. Mr. Baxter's Account of the Election of Proctors for the Clergy of London, 430. Miniſters, 744, 745, 747, 753. Ship, 157, 159.
Long, Mr. 621, 783. Geo. 906. Nehemiah, 618. Tho. 363, 744.
Longman, Mr. 895.
Longſtaffe, John, 738.
Loomes, 68.
Lord General, i. e. Monk. See Monk.
Lord Primate, his Direction for the Conſecrating of Iriſh Biſhops, 365.
Lords their Letter to the King, 133. and Commons, their Addreſs to the King, 446. order the Solemn League and Covenant to be burnt, 450.
Lord's-Supper, 72.
Lorkin, Edw. 226.
Lorn, Lord, 202. Pardon'd, 782.
Lort, John, Eſq; 601.
Loſeby, Mr. 891.
Lothian, E. 774.
Love, 273. Mr. 3, 751, 792. Alderman, 3. Chriſtopher, 194, 373. Dr. 207, 547. John, 468. Nicholas, 178, 240. Rich. 188, 215, 216, 393. Dr. Nich. 644, 880, 881. William, 67.
Lovelace, Mr. 47, 160. Fran. 839. Joh. 533.
Loveland, Joſ. 224, 482, 584.
Lovell, Dr. 390. Rob. 553, 638.
Loughborough, Lord, 121.
Lowe, 375, 706, 835. Sam. 925. See Loe.
Loweman, Mr. 822.
Lower, Dr. 245. Tho. 121, 375, 873. Sir William, 112, 873.
Lowrie, Mr. Rob. 454.
Lowth, Sim 392.
Lowther, Mr. 455. William, Eſq; 364.
Loyalty the Principle of Proteſtants and not of Papiſts, 126.
Lloyd, 669, 920. Biſhop, 815, 816. Dr. 479, 481, 698. Mr. 320, 450. David, 239. Geo. Dr. 545. Hugh, 315, 323, 806. Humphry, 231, 481, 521, 585. Hum. Biſhop, 350. John, 203, 206, 218, 594. John, Dr. 397. Maurice, 924. Tho. 806. William, 250, 374, 806.
Lucas, Sir Charles, 468. Dr. 546. Dan. 659. Gibſon, Dr. 733, 882, 884, 885, 911. Gibſon, Eſq; 363. Humph. 808. John, 934. Sir John, 842. Lord, 121, 506.
Lucius, King, 465.
Lucy, Biſhop, 597, 822. Dr. 822. Eliz. 75. Mr. 821. William, 276. William, Dr. 323.
Luddington, Dr. 481, 546. Steph. 376. Steph. Dr. 231.
Ludlow, 1, 5, 46, 50, 54, 273, 282, 315, 340, 839. Mr. 646, 662, 663, 827. Edm. 11, 156, 178, 240, 246. General, 7. Lieutenant General, 24.
Luellyn, Dr. 220. Martin, 185.
Luke, vi. 36. p. 58. x. 20. p. 143. xx. 14. p. 299. Diſciple of Philip, 465. Nat. 634, 635.
Lukin, H. 269, 298. 458.
Lumley, James, 330. Viſcount, 121.
Lupton, John, 383. Tho. 923.
Luſhington, Dr. Tho. 470, 587.
Lutheran Churches quieted under Epiſcopal Government, 465.
Lutherans, 466.
Lutterel, Edw. 513. Francis, ibid.
Lux Evangelica, 43.
Lychfield, John, 825.
Lydall, John, 333.
Lydcott, 37, 57, 129. Col. 114.
Lydiat, Tho. 764.
Lydſton, John, 750, 896.
Lye, Tho. 312, 743, 759.
Lyford, William, 349, 458.
Lynch, Aylmer, 315. William, 621.
Lynnel, William, 544.
Lyon, John, 322.

M.

M. E. Dr. 759.
M. M. H. 386, 736.
M. J. i e. forſan Maimbourgh, 215, 594. J. Mr. 381.
M. J. i. e. J. M. See Milton.
M. T. 514, 597.
M. T. Eſq; 319, 386.
Macedo, 385.
Mackenzy, Dr. 660.
Mackworth, Mr. 560. Col. Humph. 536.
Maddin, Rich. 798.
Maddiſon, Humph. 831.
Maddocks, Mr. 822.
Mael, John, 334, 491.
Magdalen Coll. Ox. 156. Col. 515.
Maidwell, John, 892, 937.
Maimbourg, 385.
Major, Gabriel, 791,
Maiſland Sluice, 163.
Maker, William, 873.
Malach. iv. 2, 3. p. 121.
Malbon, Sam. 900.
Malden, Mr. 922, 925. John, 934.
Male, Sam. 922.
Maleverer, 490. Tho. 156. Sir Tho. 178.
Malevory, Sir Rob. 121.
Malkinſon, Mr. 807, 894. William, 934, 937.
Mallery, 68.
Mallet, 271, 288. Judge, 914. Mr. Mich. 685. Tho. 364. Sir Tho. 169.
Mallory, Tho, 333.
Man, John, 790. Rich. 789.
Manby, Dr. John, 322.
Mancheſter, Earl, 62, 124, 128, 135, 156, 157, 159, 160, 161, 162, 164, 172, 180, 181, 187, 190, 198, 209, 211, 221, 248, 279, 306, 392, 410, 413, 414, 424, 456, 486, 519, 524. his Letter to Dr. Tuckey, 600, 667, 670, 686, 742, 854, 869, 872, 882. Lord, 80, 123, 167, 239, 748. Lord Chamberlain, 447, 701.
Mandevill, Lord, 133, 414.
Man, Sir William, 47, 66.
Man, Iſle of, Miſtakes about the Biſhops of that Place corrected, 302. Biſhoprick, 55, 331, 333.
Maningham, Mr. 822.
Manly, Rob. 385.
Manning, Dan. 790. William, 912.
Manſel, Dr. 27, 37, 387, 451. Mr. 836, 894. Fran. 221. Lord, 414. See Maunſel.
Manton, 59, 65, 67, 69, 152, 180, 187, 349. Dr. 144, 162, 172, 182, 280, 302, 319, 398, 402, 407, 519, 753. Mr. 50, 77, 84, 139, 555. Tho. 146, 227, 228, 358. Dr. Tho. 543, 743, 778, 889, 937.
Manwaring, Mr. 101, 312. Roger, 640, 669.
Mapletoft, Mr. 883. Edm. 879. Rob. 213, 231.
March, Dr. Rich. 564. Rob. 203. Dr. Sam. 932. Tho. 472.
Mardyke, 99.
Marget, Mr. Thomas, 25.
Margetſon, Dean, 440. Dr. James, 365.
Maria Thereſa, 320.
Marinel, Ph. 189.
Markes, Rob. 210.
Markham, Col. 25, 897. Mr. 732. Fran. 547. Rob. 378.
Marleburgh, Lord, 672.
Marriages, 338.
Marriot, John, 668. Rich. 855. Tho. 553.
Marſh, 288. Mr. 870. Dr. James, 843. Rich. 233, 330. Dr. Rich. 473. Tho. 579, 606.
Marſhal, 501. Mr. 747, 855, 923. Anthony, 226. Dr. 251, 682. Eſdras, 491. John, 885. Stephen, 308, 319, 323, 536, 765, 778, 934, 938. William, 905.
Marſham, Ferdinando, 421.
Marſden, Jeremiah, 912.
Marſin, Count, 424.
Marſton, 142.
Martel, 190, Charles, 268. Monſ. 847.
Martha, E. Middleſex's Daughter, 471.
Martin or Marten, 67, 272, 274, 282, 355, 362. Col. 3. Dr. 99, 480, 831, 923. Mr. 546, 822. Edward his Letter to Mr Richard Watſon, 47, 100, 117, 221. Dr. Edw. 644, 657, 670, 675, 702, 882, 883, 885. Geo. 937. Henry, 156, 178, 185, 239, 240, 567, 626. John, 191, 929, Rich. 362, 843. Tho. 833, 863. See Martyn.
Marton, Tho. 835.
Martyn, Mr. 471. Frygate, 512, 537. Dr. Edw. 725. Nat. 524. Rich. 891. Tho. 835. William, 554. See Martin.
Marvin, Sir Audley, 440.
Mary, Princeſs of Great-Britain, Dowager of Orange, 319. Princeſs of Orange, 264, 303, 307, 332, 343. See Orange Princeſs. Queen Mother, 457, 560, 829. See Queen Mother.
Maſon, Dr. 251. Dr. Charles, 472. Hen. 500. Mr. 822. John, 246. Rich. 332, 345, 887. Rob. Eſq; 405.
Maſſey, Edw. 592. J. 932. Major General, 161.
Maſſie, Col. 593. Edw. 457.
Maſters, Mr. 47. James, 398. Tho. 592, 924. William, 380.
Maſterſon, Geo. 319, 459. Chaplain and Captain under Oliver Cromwell, 921. John, 591.
Mather, 288. Increaſe, 901.
Matthew v. 3. p. 319. x. 33. p. 160. Archbiſhop of Canterbury, 728. Biſhop of Ely, 296, 574, 579, 584, 707, 728. Griffith, 801.
Matthews, Mr. 921. Anne, 823. Edm. 934. Philip, 709. Rich. 823. Tobias, 238. Sir Toby, 308, 318.
Maudit, John, 74.
Maunſell, Mr. 71. See Manſell.
Maurice Prince of Naſſau, 113, 148. See Naſſau Prince.
Mawhood, Jo. 887.
Maxey, Hen. 376.
Maxwell, Patrick, 886.
May, Mr. 685. Sam. 907. Tho. 536.
Maydwell, John, 853.
Mayor, John, D. D. 72.
Mayes, John, 570.
Maynard, 123, 186, 206, 207. Mr. 23. Banaſter, 866. John, 121, 169, 310, 860, 936. Sir John, 595, 845. Joſ. 482, 585, 772, 844. Serj. 66, 595. Tho. 150.
Mayne, 345. Dr. 481. Jaſp. 213, 584. Dr. Jaſper, 234, 626, 698. Zach. 787, 912, 926.
Mazarine, 61, 119, 270, 540. Cardinal, 85, 320. his Death, 393, 394, 395, 431, 539, 540.
Mead, 233. Matt. 268, 402, 554, 743, 770. See Mede.

Meadows, Mr. 892. Sir Tho. 833.
Meara, Edm. 245.
Meare, John, 219.
Medbury, Tho. 772.
Medcalfe, John, 385.
Mede, Mr. 868. See Mead.
Meekirke, Edw. 324.
Meers, Rob. 231. Sir Tho. 209, 604, 676.
Megges, Dr. 546, 915. Mr. 897. Ja. 446.
Meighen, Tho. 685.
Meldrom, Col. John, 537.
Mello, Don Franciſco de, 394, 415, 486.
Mells, Moſes, 909.
Menard, Monſ. 742.
Melo, Don Franciſco de, 91.
Mennes, Sir John, 672. See Minnes.
Mercurius Politicus, written by Marchimont Needham, 117.
Meredith, a Jeſuit, 396. Mr. 482. John, 427, 640. John, Dr. 221, 363. Rich. 210, 333.
Meres, Fran. 384, 385, 742.
Merick, Dr. Will. 556.
Merideth, Morrice, 924.
Merifield, 199.
Meriton, Dr. 921. George, 264. John, 265, 312, 371, 500, 513, 751. Tho. 612.
Merret, Chr. 317, 787. Dr. Chriſt. 636.
Merrick, Lord William, 620. See Meyrick.
Merriot, Tho. 732.
Merris, Capt. Rich. 25.
Merry, 116.
Merryweather, John, 381.
Mervin, Sir Audley, 557, 733. Rich. 242. Dr. Rich. 591, 781.
Metcalfe, Father, 396.
Metford, James, 237, 390, 397. John, 534.
Mew, 620. Dr. 508. Mr. 749, 780, 928. Peter, 231, 326, 584. Dr. Peter, 791, 812.
Mews, Dr. 481, 672. Dr. Peter, 657, 752.
Mewin, Dr. 482.
Meyne, 272, 273, 282. Col. 179. Sim. 156, 178, 240.
Meyrick, John, 545. See Merrick.
Micah, 6. 8. p. 125, 304. 19. p. 321.
Michael, or Myriel, John, 921.
Michaelſon, Dr. John, 769.
Michel, David, 493.
Micklethwait, Mrs. Anne, 127. Joſ. 338. Sir John, 592. Tho. Father of Sir John, 937.
Middleſex, Earl, 133. Lord, 157. Martha his Daughter, 471.
Middleton, 60, 197, 202. Earl, 309, 406, 577, 761. John, 224, 334, 482, 634, 636, 791. Lord, 671. Tho. 345. Col. Tho. 35. Sir Tho. 7, 8, 54, 68, 70, 115, 276. Sir Will. 892.
Milbourn, Mr. 896. Luke, 932, 934.
Mildmay, Sir Henry, 127, 153, 183, 490, 613, 614.
Miles, Mr. 502.
Militia, Bills for the Militia, 71. See London Militia.
Militiere, 281. Monſ. de la Militiere, 111, 381.
Miller, 928. Joſhua, 908.
Millington, 272, 274, 282. Gilbert, 156, 178, 240.
Mills, Dr. 349, 566, 574. Dan. 831. John, 100, 213. John, Dr. 180.
Milner, Chriſt. 740. James, 764. Jeremiah, 893. John, 556.
Milton, 23, 170, 180, 270, 711. John, 73, 96, 189, 230, 239, 776. See M. J.
Milward, Mr. 923. Rich. 685. Tho. Capt. 133.
Miniſters, the Committee for plunder'd Miniſters, 60. diſſenting Miniſters refuſe to read ſo much of the Liturgy as they had no Exceptions againſt, 432. buſy about the Act of Uniformity, 740. in and about London leave their Churches, 747. petition the King for an Indulgence, 753. fail in their Expectation, 805. Nonconforming Miniſters allow of Lay Conformity, 783. an Account of the ejected and ſilenced Miniſters, 919. See Preſbyterians.
Minnes, Sir Jo. 634, 635, 653, 660. See Mennes.
Minos, Capt. 653.
Mitchell, Arth. 524. David, 199. David, Dr. 703. James, 578. Nath. 913. Rich. 841.
Mocket, Mr. 769.
Mohun, Lord, 675, 681, 686.
Moine, le Monſ. of Epiſcopacy and Preſbytery, in a Letter to Dr Brevint, 173.
Moleſon, Rich. 253.
Mollineux, 67.
Molliere, Monſ. de la, 674.
Mompeſſon, John, Eſq; 654. Tho. 389. Sir Tho. 526.
Monarchy, fifth Monarchy Men, Overton, 71, 73, 363, 381, 384, 615.
Monck, 920.
Monckton, Mr. 896. John, Eſq; 6. Philip, Col. 6.
Monk, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. K. Charles II. Letters to him, 8, 10, 11. his Letter to the Speaker, 12. left in Scotland by Cromwell, where he made himſelf as terrible as Man could be, 13. his Letter to the Gentlemen of Devonſhire, 32, 35, 39, 48, 55, 56, 57, 60, 61, 71, 74, 79, 84, 100, 102, 104, 106, 111, 112, 114, 119, 127, 128, 132, 134, 142, 159, 162, 163, 164, 167, 169, 170, 180, 181, 184, 197, 199. Biſhop Burnet's Character of him, 205, 217, 233, 236, 246, 312, 315, 322, 328, 356, 394, 431, 646, 700, 757, 804. Biſhop, 804. Eliz. 580. Mr. 133. Hen. 68. Nicholas, 20, 24, 66, 192, 217, 322, 354, 640. Nic. Dr. 364, 580, 590.
Monmouth, Duke, 479. Earl, 471.
Monſon, Lord, 178. Sir John, 410, 572.
Montague, Admiral, 60. Edw. 76, 79. Col. Edw. 66, 76, 79. Sir Edw. 5. Gen. 86. 139. Geo. 894. Viſcount, 422. Walter, 598. See Mountague.
Montbrun, Marq. de, 415.
Montfort, Dr. John, 879.
Montgomery, E. 413, 414, 422, 423. Viſcount, 440.
Montrath, Earl, 263, 288, 441, 515, 548, 549, 604.
Montroſe, 319, 445. Marq. 528, 703.
Moody, Lively, 570, 764. Rich. 742.
Moor, 178, 326, 490, 763, 896, 924. Andrew, 300. Dr. 251. Sir Fran. 835. Dr. Hen. 402, 911. J. 925. John, 156, 910. Tho. 445, 892. See More.
Mootham, Capt. 134.
Moray, Sir Rob. 613, 875.
Morcock, Mr. Edward, 137.
Mordaunt, 161. Sir Charles, 758. John Viſcount of Aveland, 167, 599. Lady, 599. Lord, 2, 7, 19, 54, 87, 110, 112, 113, 115, 890. Mr. 91, 104, 135.
Morden, John, 831, 883.
More, Hen. 95, 300, 351, 595. Dr. Hen. 823. John, 923. Redmund, 621. See Moore.
Moreland, Mr. 135.
Moreton, Biſhop, 373. Ch 902. Rich. 906. Will. 681.
Morgan, Col. 114, 725. Eſq; 807. Gen. 19, 271. Mr. 822. Dr. Edm. 722. Rob. 208, 481, 584. Sir Tho. 732. Will. 647.
Morice, ſee Morrice, Sec. 563.
Morin, Monſ. 847.
Moringe, Mr. 822.
Moriſin, Sir Charles, 457. Sir Rich. ibid.
Moriſon, Sir Charles, 364. Fran. 655.
Morley, 25, 26, 57, 61, 279, 280, 281, 288, 296. Biſhop, his Character of Dr. Saunderſon, 209, 368. Spiritual Guide to the Ducheſs of York, 385. his Character of her, 385, 390, 407. his Account of Dr. Baxter, 423, 502, 503, 505, 506, 507, 508. his Reception and Inthronization at Worceſter, 535, 551, 611, 658. his Character, 666, 713, 728. his Anſwer to Father Creſſey's Letter, 732, 814, 816, 819, 918. Col. 3, 13, 18, 35, 47, 66, 892. Dr. 36, 79, 88, 96, 97, 115, 116, 144, 282, 359, 425, 931. Geo. 95, 111, 121, 213, 273, 315, 345. Geo. Dr. 449, 473. his Complaint of Mr. Baxter, 534, 685, 686. Sir Will. 410.
Moroſini, Mich. 503.
Morrice, 50, 86, 114, 162. Mr. 81, 97, 105, 161, 394. Secretary, 261, 550, 629, 676, 891. Roger, 898. Mr. Will. 66. Lord Clarendon's Character of him, 87, 89, 410, 478. Sir Will. 167, 183. See Morris, 555, 840.
Morris, ſee Morrice, 313. Secretary, 249, 286, 287, 500. Will. 20, 531. Sir Will. 206, 207, 220. See Morice.
Morton, Biſhop, 41, 360. Dr. 344. Tim. 618. Sir Will. 121, 198, 199.
Morus, 360.
Moſcovia, Duke, 572.
Moſeley, Mr. 822.
Moſes, Will. 216, 222, 502, 788, 906.
Moſſe, Richard, 46.
Moſſom, Dr. 251, 733. Rob. 88, 143, 171, 207, 331.
Moſton, Ambroſe, 898.
Moſtyn, 481, 584.
Mott, Mark, 769. Nath. 923.
Mould, Tho. 568.
Moulin, Lewis du, 350. Monſ. du, 448, 467. Peter du, 23, 204, 330, 702. Dr. Peter du, 462, 478, 497, 540, 615, 742.
Mounſon, Lord, 490, 613, 614. Sir John, 619.
Mountague, 120, 148, 151, 162. Biſhop, 725. Mr. 652, 671, 673, 676, 686. Lord Abbot, 539. Admiral, 114, 118, 157, 158, 159. Edward, 114, 118, 141, 204. made Earl of Sandwich, 205, 533, 129. Gen. 142, 146, 159, 167. Geo. 807. Lord, 134, 184, 286. Dr. Rich. 650. Vice Admiral, 163. See Montague.
Mountford, John, 648. William, 885.
Mountrath, 365, 624. See Montrath.
Mourhouſe, Mr. 924.
Moxon, Geo. 898.
Moyne, Monſ. his Letter to Dr. Brevint for Epiſcopacy, 463. Sam. 602.
Muddleford, James, 50.
Mukworth, Tho. 383.
Mulcaſter, Tho. 226.
Mules, Mr. 588, 617, 634, 653, 659. See Myles.
Muley, Mr. 617.
Mulgrave, Counteſs, 42. Earl 381. Edm. E. 42.
Mundy, Francis, 397, 482. Fran. Dr. 345. John, 885.
Murder, 72.
Murderers, ibid.
Murray, Richard, 242. Sir Rob. 454, 577.
Murrey, Mr. Mungo, 390.
Myles, Mr. 559, 560. forſan Mules.

N.

N. H. 351.
Naiſh, Hugh, 224, 334.
Nalton, Ja. 442, 471, 668, 702, 934.
Nanſcoine, 781.
Narbane, Walter, 245.
Naſeby, Ship, 144. afterwards call'd the Royal Charles, 157.
Naſh, Anth. 621.
Naſſau, Frederick, 113. Prin. 415, 499. See Maurice Prince of Naſſau, and Will. Princeſs, 149.
Naudens, Gab. 527.
Nayler or Naylor, Mr. 870. Dan. 425. George, 246. J. 594. James, 349, 473, 491.
Neal, Archbiſhop, 29. Dr. 546, 681. John, 404. Sir Paul, 868. See Neil.
Neaſt, Tho. 467, 925.
Neave, Mary, 595.
Nedham, Mr. Tho. 68.
Needham, 117. March. 80, 370, 529, 867.
Needler, Benj. 800.
Negus, John, 833. Strickland, 807.
Neile, Dr. 681. Mr. C. 566. Dr. John, 564, 565. Sir Paul, 875. See Neyle.
Nelſon, Mr. 133. James, 740.
Nelthorp, 120.
Neſſe, Chriſt. 891.
Nevil or Newel, 807. Mr. 3, 5, 35, 923. Nevil, Clem. 644. Harry, 705. Hen. of Holt, Eſq; 376, 644. John, 328. Rob. 632. Tho. 645. See Newell.
Newark, Lord Viſcount, 346.
Newberry, Jo. 221. Ship, 135. Walt. 682.
Newborough, Rich. 334.
Newburgh, Sec. 197.
Newcaſtle, Duke, 390, 890. E. 494. Gariſon, 136. Lady Margaret, 320. Marquis, 255, 424. retires to his Countrey Seat, 455. Ship, 135.
New Coll. Ox. 149, 151, 153.
Newcomb, Tho. 132.
Newcome, Rob. 225.

INDEX.

Newcomen, 295. Mr. 398, 431. Dr. 546. Matt. 162, 188, 319, 778, 900, 936. Tho. 265.
Newcourt, Mr. 446, 708.
Newdigate, 186. Rich. 169.
Newdyate, Mr Serjeant, 23.
Newel or Nevil, Mr. 807. Dr. Rob. 681. See Nevil.
New England, 362. An Addreſs of their Loyalty, &c. 376. inclin'd towards Epiſcopacy, 377.
Newlin, Dr. Rob. 221.
New-Park, 137.
Newport Andrew, 8, 54, 556. Lord, 543, 890. Lord Francis, 8. Rich. 534.
Newſon, Sam. 541.
Newſted, Chr. 203, 852, 874.
Newton, Mr. 749. George, 270. John, 338, 923. Dr. John, 764.
Neyle, John, 331. See Neale.
Nicholas, 56, 96, 97. Dr. 412, 822. Edw. 186, 225, 279, 400, 405, 447, 600, 647, 700, 729, 746, 794. Sir Edw. 167, 220, 456, 528, 788. John, 167, 219, 524, 790. Sir John, 410, 696. Dr. Matt 185, 202, 210, 424, 480, 522, 526, 601. his Daughter, 526. Secretary, 21, 27, 37, 173, 288, 313, 371, 426, 460, 524, 642. William, Dr. 213.
Nicholſon, 332. Biſhop, 508, 815, 817, 918. Dr. 546. Otho, 309. Tho. 657, 811. William, 353, 386, 481.
Nick, Lord, 808.
Nicols or Nichols, 501, 783. Dan. 221, 330, 668, 842, 927. Ferd. 932. Fran. Dr. 863. Hen. 924. Joſ. 735. Tho. 921. William, 332. William, Dr. 264, 566.
Nixon, John, 860.
Noble, John, 935.
No Blind Guides, 96.
Nodes, Geo. 837.
Noel, Henry, 216.
Nonconformiſts, 723, 758, 760, 763. Indulgence and Favour ſhewn to the moderate ones, 780, 787. fail in their Expectation of Indulgence, 805. their diſtinguiſhing Characters, 844. See Miniſters.
Nonconformity, the Motives to it, 707.
Nonſuch Fregate, 135.
Norcliffe, Lady, 893.
Norfolk, County, Addreſs to the Commons, 43. Duke, 338. James, 68.
Norman, John, 914.
Norris, Edw. 783. Francis, 210. Sir Fran. 309. John, 924. Sir John, 34. Lord Mount, 118.
North, Mr. 148, 617. Arthur, 642. Chief Juſtice, 916. Joſhua, 928, 929. Tho. 682.
Northampton, Earl, 121, 153, 156, 244, 504. Town, 118, 119, 144.
Northcot, Sir John, 20, 65.
Northrop, Mr. 648.
Northumberland, Earl, 123, 167, 405, 410, 414, 424.
Norton, 61, 490. Mr. 378. Baſil, 373. Greg. 156. Sir Greg. 178. John, 40. Juſtice, 894. Ric. Col. 66, 822. Tho. 612. Sir Tho. 738.
Norwich, Biſhop, 528, 579, 825. Dean and Chapter, 720. Earl, 121, 167, 181 Sir John, 555.
Norwood, Mr. 135. Hen. 421.
Noſe, Mr. 822.
Nott, John, 899.
Nottingham, Earl, 250. Town, 116.
Novel, Mr. 887.
Nourſe, Tim. 598.
Nower, 300. Fran. 858.
Noy, Joſeph, 242. William, 316, 527.
Noyes, James, 428.
Nye, 839, 840. Mr. 518, 684, 852. John, 323, 555, 756, 921, 938. Philip, 184, 269. his Caſe preſented to the Parliament, 602, 779, 932, 934.

O.

O. M. 244.
Oak, Mr. 923.
Oakley, William, 78, 338.
Oaſland, Hen. 855.
Oates, John, 771.
Oath to renounce the Title of Charles Stuart and whole Royal Family, 3.
Oblivion Bill, 172.
Odey, Mr. 923.
Offley, Dr. 251. Galf. 247.
Ogden, Mr. Sam. 903.
Ogilby, 328. Mr. 455, 868, 871. John, 244, 300, 411, 429, 787, 812, 823.
Ogle, Viſcount, 121.
Okey, 72, 396, 646, 663, 664, 665. Col. 25, 68, 83, 119, 120. John, 78, 156, 178, 240.
Oland, Capt. 827.
Oldenburgh, Hen. 875, 876.
Oldcorn, 497.
Olderſhaw, Sam. 905.
Oldham, Edw. 425. John, 932.
Oldſworth, Giles, 636, 646, 855, 856.
Olearius, Adam, 655.
Oley, Barnaby, 249, 334, 489. Thomas, 807.
Oliver, C. 127, 575. See Cromwel. Dr. 220, 508, 533. John, 152, 221, 334, 375, 473. Dr. John, 481, 552, 555. Rich. 547. William, 891, 893. Some of his old Officers Quakers, 782.
Olliffe, Mr. 837.
Only, Dr. 568. Nicolaus, 330.
Onſlow, Sir Ric. 66.
Opdam, Adm. 157.
Orange, Lady of, 149. Prince, 95, 113, 157, 158, 159, 250, 424, 473, 499, 575, 673. Princeſs, 105, 154, 250, 306, 386. See Mary Princeſs. Princeſs Dowager, 149.
Origen, and his Opinions, 387, 527.
Origo Proteſtantium, 545.
Orleans, Father, 498.
Orme, Capt. 366.
Ormond, 55, 105. Ducheſs, 494. Duke, his Character by Biſhop Burnet, 207, 241, 279, 395, 410, 413, 414, 424, 494, 517, 544, 555, 556, 577, 604, 622, 623, 624, 640, 667, 684, 685, 686, 732, 733, 771, 786, 798, 824. Lady, 486. Lord, 21. Marquis, 97, 147, 167, 173, 180, 207, 213, 285, 286, 371, 392, 700.
Ormſton, or Ormeſton, Mr. 923. Philip, 925.
Orrery, Earl, 178, 263, 288, 365, 441, 515, 516, 548, 604, 624, 636, 733, 811. See Broghill, Lord.
Orſingham, Will. 361, 362.
Orton, Richard, 35.
Oſbaldſton, Rob. 835. Dr. Will. ibid.
Oſbaſton, Hen. 827.
Oſborn, 79. John, 74. Joſ. 895. Will. 329.
Oſland, Henry, 748.
Oſmaton, 922.
Oſſor, Griff. 584.
Oſſory, or Oſſery, Biſhop, 480. Counteſs, 494. Earl, 207, 733. Emelia, Counteſs, 255. Lord, 247, 382, 414.
Oſtend, 270.
Oſterwicke, 62.
Oteley, John, 607.
Otway, Mr. 1, 10, 55.
Oudart, Mr. 306.
Overal, Biſhop, 372, 566.
Overbury, 319. Lady Anne, 646.
Overton, Col. 3, 59, 71, 72, 328. Mr. 765. Richard, 18.
Oughtred, Will. 320, 721.
Outram, Dr. Will. 843.
Owen, Dr. 29, 76, 77, 81, 215, 299, 367, 789. Mr. 421, 422, 816, 922. Hen. 599. Dr. John, 429, 669, 823, 911, 935. John, 245. Nat. 636, 831. Rich. 203, 219, 793. Tho. 553. Will. 232, 239, 853. Dr. Will. 481.
Oxeley, Amor, 526.
Oxenbridge, John, 541.
Oxenden, Sir George, 344.
Oxford, 379, 405. Biſhop, 71, 220, 401, 783. See Robert. Earl, 149, 133, 181, 356, 386, 392, 413, 414, 424, 513. Lord, 157. Univerſity, 111, 112, 180. the Chanceilor's Letter to the Vice-Chancellor, 378. the Univerſity's Letter to the Chancellor, 379. Petition the King ro have their Rights and Privileges reſtored, 399. Order of Council for confirming their Privileges, 426, 456.
Oxman, Will. alias Orſingham, 361, 362.

P.

P. Mr. 552.
P. M. 860. See Pool, Matt.
P. S. 709.
P. T. 542, 736.
P. T. alias D. 383.
P. W. Life of King C. I. 169.
Pack, Alderman Chriſtoper, 146, 181, 206.
Packenham, Tho. 226.
Packer, Col. 20.
Packington, John, 345. Sir John, 123, 124, 359, 535, 562.
Paddington, Curacy, 599.
Paſton, Mr. Rob. 161.
Page, Mr. 822.
Paget, 783. Lady, 330. Lord, 422.
Pagit, Ephraim, 401, 472, 489.
Paine, [Jonathan, 769. Rich. 550. Will. 493.
Pakeman, Tho. 830, 904.
Palatine, Prince Elector, 303, 424.
Palden, Grig 19.
Palk, Tho. 867.
Palmer, 288. Archdeacon, 806, 807. Anth. 833, 912. Dudley, 875. Francis, 325. Sir Geof. 591. Horbert, 670, 896. Jeffrey, 169. Sir Jeff. 677, 835. John, 77. Tho. 833.
Panke, Mr. 218, 229, 546. Sam. 285.
Panton, John, 906. Tho. 121.
Papiſts, 281, 364, 479, 483, 484, 485, 503. free from Perſecution, 538. inſtrumental in procuring the Death of K. Charles I. 539, 656, 781. See Roman Catholicks.
Paracelſians, 396.
Paradiſe, John, 370, 927.
Paris, Tho. 668.
Pariſh, Mr. 922. Geo. 789. Geo. Dr. 576.
Park, St. James's, 46.
Parke, John, 615. Rob. 934, 937.
Parker, 205, 300, 783, 870, 920. Archbiſhop, 605. Col. 17. Dean, 440. James, 835. John, 198, 199. Dr. John, 366. Maj. 127. Matt. 494. Philip, 43. Sam. Dr. 931. Serjeant, 23. Tho, 772, 934. Tho. Dr. 427. Will. 334. Will. Dr. 67.
Parkhurſt, Ferdinando, 216.
Parkinſon, Edw. 441.
Parks, Capt. 134.
Parliament, for a free Parliament, the Addreſs or Declaration of the Devonſhire Men, 20. General Monk's artful Letter to the Devonſhire Men on that Subject, 32. Tumult in Exeter for a free Parliament, 33. An Addreſs from the County of Bucks for a free Parliament, deliver'd to the Speaker by Pye and Fincher, 34. for which they are both ſent to the Tower, ibid. Addreſſes to General Monk for a free Parliament, from the Ciry of London, ibid. from the County of Northampton, ibid. from the Gentry of Buckinghamſhire, 35, 43. Oxfordſhire, 35. and Norfolk, 35, 43. from Suffolk, 35, 43. and almoſt all Counties, 35. which much provoked the Rump Commiſſioners, 34, 35. The County of Suffolk addreſs the City of London to that Purpoſe, 43. A Mutiny in the City declaring for a free Parliament, 46. Declaration of Kent for a free Parliament, 47. for which ſome were impriſon'd, 47. ſet free, 60. A Tumult in Briſtol for a free Parliament, 50. Clarges adviſes his Brother Monk to return into the City, and declare for a free Parliament, 54. Oxford County declares for a free Parliament, 59. and Yorkſhire, 60. Prynne's Account how he was ſecluded, 60. Monk's Letters to all the Regiments, concerning the Admiſſion of the ſecluded Members, and free Parliament, 62. Monk's Speech to the ſitting and ſecluded Members, 63. Secluded Members admitted, 64. Long Parliament, or Rump Parliament, the Hiſtory of it, 85. A Declaration of Parliament in Scotland, for diſſolving and annulling the ſolemn League and Covenant, 364. Parliament in Scotland condemning the Actings againſt K. Charles I. 427. Ceremonies in the opening of the Parliament in Ireland, 440. Parliament Members excuſed paying Poſtage of Letters, 447. Parliament meeting, 562, 601.

Parma, Duke, 497.
Parnack, Rectory, 165.
Parr, R. Biſhop, 162, 302. Biſhop, 702. Barth. 363. Rich. 317. Dr. Rich. 545, 546, 554, 859. Rob. 467, 709.
Parry, 120. Biſhop, 371, 700. Benj. 650. James, 127, 297. John, 482.
Parſons, Dr. 705. Andrew, 543, 890. Rob. 496, 497. Will. 231, 328, 550.
Partridge, Nath. 769.
Paſchal, And. 221, 524.
Paſham, 496.
Paſk, Mr. 783. Tho. 204, 222, 584, 769. Dr. Tho. 480, 615, 754. his Character, 777, 792.
Paſton, Edw. 897, 899. Sir Will. 825.
Paſtor Fide, 299.
Patrick, 920. Dean, 230. Dr. 376, 596. Mr. 871. Simon, 42, 72, 127, 218, 269, 298, 778. Dr. Sim. 642, 931.
Patſhall, John, 362.
Paul, Dr. 482. Dr. Will. 405. Will. 584.
Paulet, Will. 266.
Paul's Dean, 360.
Pawlet, John, 272.
Paxford, Tho. 912.
Payne, Mr. 822. Joſ. Eſq; 210. Will. 329, 513.
Peacham, Hen. 597.
Peachell, John, 885.
Peachie, John, 553.
Peacock, Dr. 251. Richard, 263, 769.
Peak, Mr. 869.
Pearſon, Dr. 81, 226, 238, 251, 398, 425, 433, 502, 505, 506, 508, 733. John, 226, 264, 265, 267, 351, 524, 551, 579, 584, 671, 740. John, Dr. 424, 448, 547, 608, 610, 611, 744, 752, 880, 881, 886, 887. Rich. 351, 457, 695. Rich. Dr. 572, 573, 811. See Pierſon.
Pecker, 566.
Pedro, Don, 659, 660.
Peele, Tho. 456.
Peers, Laurence, 324.
Pegg, Mr. 902.
Peirſon, Dr. 480. See Pearſon and Pierſon.
Pelham, 490. Nicholas, 345.
Peregrine, 156, 178.
Pell, Mr. 574, 575. Tho. 885. William, 890, 891, 915.
Pembroke, Counteſs, 736. Earl, 151, 413, 414, 422, 423, 455, 483, 488, 638.
Penning, 51.
Pennington, 180, 272, 274, 282. Iſaac, 178, 240, 243, 542, 594, 596.
Pennyman, Dr. 546. Tho. 263, 886.
Penroſe, Cap. 134.
Penruddock, Edw, 121. George, 121.
Penry, John, 673, 748.
Penſance, 242.
Pepper, Zach. 879.
Pepys 221. Sam. 188, 697.
Percy, Hen. Earl of Northumberland, 308. Lord, 414, 555.
Perinchief, Dr. 319.
Perkyns, Mr. 735, 743, 924. Edw. 755. Tho. 558, 771. William, 317.
Perne, Andrew, 718. Dr. 327.
Perrot, John, 468. 545. 824. Rich. 906. Rob. 813.
Perſon, Dr. Cuth. 882.
Peruſianus, 465.
Petchell, John, 591.
Petcom, Monſ. 415.
Peterborough, Biſhop, 449, 416, 544, 633, 641, 743. Dean and Chapter, 218, 376, 388, 389, 391, 459, 460, 472, 474, 544, 575, 579, 605, 700, 721, 732. E. 121, 586, 617, 628, 634, 635, 721, 746.
Peters, 501, 800. Hugh, 36, 150, 169, 176, 184, 240, 272, 274. 277, 281, 282. Biſhop Burnet's Account of him, 283, 284, 299, 348, 362, 365, 714, 938. John, 255. Peter, 255.
Peterſon, Dr. 481. Dr. William, 590.
Petit, Sam. 882.
Petrie, Alex, 673.
Pett, Peter, 513, 859.
Petter, Geo. 554. John, 554.
Petty, Dr. 73, 298, 870. Dr. William, 406, 703. Sir William, 875.
Peyton, Algernoone, 263, 584. Dr. 251, 882. Lady, 458. Sir Tho. 458.
Phaganus, 465.
Phaire, Coll. 179.
Pheaſant, Mr. 893.
Phelps, Mr. 203. John, 150, 176, 178.
Philalethes Iren. Aletheus Velita, 269.
Philip de Trieu, 655.
Philips, 598, 839. Col. 421. Edward, 244, 321. Edw. Eſq; 593. Fabian, 195, 266, 321, 636. Fran. 650. Geo. 330, 839, 845. Dr. Geo. 650. Humph. 908. John, 453, 454, 545, 859. Katherine, 320. Peregrine, 820, 919. Tho. 141, 262, 325, 380, 923. W. 787.
Philo Baſileus, Philo-Clerus, i. e. Rich. Carpenter quem vide.
Pickering, Dr. 566. Mr. 898. Edw. 114, 148. Sir Gil. 177.
Piedmont, Proteſtants, 146, 206, 288, 338.
Pier, 159. Dover Road, 159.
Pierce. See Pierſe, 58. Biſhop, 818. Dr. 368, 398, 468, 669, 751. Dr. 482, 505, 506, 508. Mr. 123. Edw. 835. Hen. 922. Rob. 534. Tho. 170, 173, 204, 216, 244, 310, 317. Dr. Tho. 434, 453, 481, 557, 637, 743, 855. William, 480, 584.
Pierpoint, 294. Mr. 62. Rob. 68. William, Eſq; 66. William, 101.
Pierrepoint, Fran. 891.
Piers, Dr. 744. William, 227, 252, 345.
Pierſe. See Pierce. Vincent, 224.
Pierſon. See Pearſon and Peirſon. Dr. 368. John, 188. Dr. John, 485. Rich. 247.
Pight, Henry, 324, 550.
Pigot, John, 865.
Pike, Rich. 768.
Pillar of Gratitude, 238.
Pindar, Dr. 251, 769. John, 698, 790, 910. William, 265, 646. Dr. William, 591.
Pink, Mr. 822.
Pinkney, Leonard, 422.
Pinkneys, Agmond. 226.
Pinſon, Mr. John, 660.
Pittis, 920. Dr. 925.
Plantagenet, Arthur, 75, 199.
Plat, Hugh, 300. Lawrence, 385.
Pledger, Elias, 312, 765.
Pleydell, Mr. 749.
Plowden, Edm. 223.
Plume, Mr. 546. Tho. 309.
Plunket or Pluncket, Sir Nich. 799. Patrick, 623, 799.
Plymouth, Borough, 206.
Pocklington, Dr. John, 238.
Pocock, 345. Edw. 213, 300. Dr. Edw. 654.
Pointer, John, 935. Tho. 808.
Pointz, Rob. 527.
Poland, Proteſtants, 146.
Poleman, Joachim, 736.
Pollard, Sir Hugh, 364, 730, 844.
Polwheele, 332. Degory, 224, 232.
Polycarpus, 463, 467.
Poole, Capt. 634. Mr. 923. Matthew, 39, 245, 312, 502, 755. Steph. 253. Tho. 910.
Poner, Francis, 702.
Ponte, Conde de, 588, 652, 653, 659, 660, 673.
Pope, Dr. 590. 721, 854. Edw. 791. Walter, 232, 534.
Popery, 72. againſt it, 76, 396, 544.
Popham, 61. Col. 66, 537. Alex. 697, 883. Francis, 345. Sir Fran. 410.
Pordage, Sam. 542, 736.
Porter, Dr. 546. Mr. 301. Edmund, 220. Geo. 912. Juſtice, Henry, 211. Tho. 933, 934.
Portington, Roger, 513.
Portland, Earl, 150, 206.
Portman, Rich. 402. Tho. 660. Sir William, 270, 410.
Portugal, 394, 471. Forces ſent there, 725. Infanta of, 394, 395, 471. See Catherine, Katherine, and Queen of England. Queen, 653, 659.
Pory or Porey, Dr. 455, 502, 504, 576, 579, 728, 769. Rob. 202, 203, 220, 251, 494, 584, 800, 919. Rob. Dr. 480, 572, 758, 777.
Poſtlethwayt, Walter, 912. 934.
Pote, 784. Rich. 929.
Potter, 272, 273, 282. Biſhop, 373. Dr. Chriſt. 572. Hannib. 221, 332. Simon, 832, 882, 883, 924, 928. Vincent, 156, 178, 240.
Potts, Charles, 543. Sir J. 66.
Povey, Capt. 672. Rich. 811.
Powell, a Jeſuit, 406. Mr. 738. David, 429. Gabr. 476. Hen. 860. Hen. Eſq; 606. John, 343, 816. Rice, 924. Rob. 331, 333, 337, 481, 482. Tho. 219, 343. Vavaſor, 241, 268, 488.
Powle, Sir Rich. 410.
Pownell, Ezekiel, 202.
Powys, Lord, 192.
Poyntel, Dan. 917.
Poynter, John, 213.
Prat, 610. Dr. 934.
Prayer, a Form, for the 30th of Jan. 368. for the 29th of May, 452. at the Healing the King's Evil, 731. for St. George's Chapel at Windſor, 765.
Prayers extempore, 572. and Tears, 42.
Preſbyterians, 117. the Riſe of the Name, 305, 424, 463, 616. againſt the Bill of Uniformity, 656, 722, 748, 829, 851. See Nonconformiſts.
Preſbytery. Rigid Preſbytery heavier than moderate Epiſcopacy, 70.
Preſident Frigate, 163.
Preſs, Fran. 897.
Preſton, 501. Dr. 251, 480, 822, John, 351. Nich. 207, 584. Capt. Tho. 613.
Pretty, Mr. 907. Rich. 333.
Priaulk, Dr. 481.
Priaulx, John, 232, 584. Peter, 232.
Pricæus, Dr. John, 857.
Price, 57, 350, 440. Dr. 22, 81, 546. Mr. Chaplain to Gen. Monk, 4, 57, 142, 143. his Character of Gen. Monk, 699, 822. Edw. 490. Gab. 755. Herbert, 121. John, 153, 316, 488. Dr. Rob. 366. Theodore, 929. Tho. 392. Dr. Tho. 440. Will. 594.
Pricket, John, 482.
Pride, Tho. 149, 156, 326.
Prideaux, 682. Biſhop, 71. Dr. 77, 936. Mr. 617, 635. John, 594. Rich. 809, 923.
Pridham, Mr. 897.
Prigg, Nich. 910.
Prime, Leonard, 921.
Primroſe, Dr. 448. Mr. ibid. Sir Arch. 197. Geo. 815.
Prince James, 835.
Princeſs Royal, 157, 158, 159, 559.
Pritchard, Biſhop, 500. Gyles, 361, 362. John, 513. Tho. 333.
Pritchett, Biſhop, 725, 814. John, 500, 751, 756, 841. Dr. John, 613.
Proctor, Luke, 839.
Progers, Mr. 416, 421.
Provang. invented by Rumſey, 314.
Proud, John, 344.
Prugean, Fran. 403.
Pruthero, Rice, 818, 917.
Prynne, his Account how he was ſecluded, 60, 237, 242, 661. Mr. 84, 150, 181, 330, 389, 429, 479, 504, 615, 683. Will. 42, 43, 44, 72, 73, 74, 96, 103, 126, 128, 233, 235, 245, 268, 319, 383, 495, 612, 670, 764, 859.
Pſal. xxi. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. p. 147.
Puckering, Henry, 104.
Puleſton, Mr. 551. Hamlet, 194.
Pullen, Mr. 47. John, 309, 481. Sam. Dr. 366. Tuam, Dr. 440. See Pulleyn.
Puller, Tim. 493, 887.
Pulleyn, John, 231, 270, 584. See Pullen.
Pully, Rich. 830.
Pulton, A. 231.
Punter, Tho 884.
Purbeck, Lord, 180.
Purchas, Sam. 273.
Purefoy, 490. Geo. 410, 859. Will. 156, 178.
Pye, Mr. 924. Sir Edw. 121. Sir Rob. 33, 64, 76.
Pyke, Mr. 895.
Pym, Mr. 536. Edw. 224, 844. John, 361, 362, 363.
Pyndar, Will. 326.
Pyne, John, 184.

INDEX.

Q.

QUAKERS, 7, 39, 122. their Addreſs to the King, 361. Releaſed, 364. their Declaration againſt all Sedition, Plotters, &c. 366 in New England, 371, 377, 378, 396, 384, 452, 455, 468. their Riſe, 472, 490, 518. the Validity of their Marriages diſputed, 525, 531, 532, 605, 641, 651, 675. Orders for their Marriage, 726, 746, 763, 836.
Quarles, Dr. 251, 482. Mr. 251. John, 265.
Queen, Mother, 306, 322, 328, 353, 545, 599, 651, 653. See Henrietta Maria, and Mary Q. Mother. Of England, 653, 654, 659, 671, 673, 675, 676, 686. her Marriage, 696. an Account of her, 698, 699. See Catherine, and Catherina, and Katherine.
Quicke, John, 900.

R.

R. A. 675.
R. B. K. 350.
R. P. 327.
R. T. 327.
Radcliffe, Edw. 344. Sam. Dr. 222.
Radnor, E. 890.
Ragotzi, Geo. 526.
Rainbow, 920. Biſhop, 814. Dr. 482, 907. Edw. 222, 326, 353, 354, 388. his Anſwer to Blake's Petition, 391, 584, 628, 631. Edw. Dr. 328, 570, 931. Tho. 353.
Rainsford, 199. Serj. 556. Rich. 489. Sir Rich. 763, 771.
Raleigh, 62. Mr. Car. 35. Sir Walter 514. See Rawleigh.
Ramſden, Henry, 233.
Ramſey, John, 718. Will. 594, 597. Dr. Will. 854.
Rand, Rich. 827.
Randall, John, 735. Martha, 594. Rich. 226.
Randolph, John, 883, 885.
Ranew, Nat. 789, 890. Will. 885.
Rant, Tho. 210.
Ranters, 40, 92, 124.
Ratcliff, 919.
Rathband, Mr. 771. Will. 811.
Ravaillac, 297.
Rawdon, 840.
Rawleigh, Sir Walter, 298, 675, 744. See Raleigh.
Rawley, Dr. 480. Will. 489, 585.
Rawlin, John, 317.
Rawlins, James, 474
Rawlinſon, Dr. 672. Mr. 398, 407. Chriſt. 581. Curwen, 580. John, 197, 204, 312. Monk, 580.
Rawſon, 637. Mr. James, 328
Ray, Mr. 923. Edw. 607. John, 909, 932, 935.
Raymond, Mr. 806, 937.
Raynardſon, Sir Abraham, 547. Lady, ibid.
Raynsford, Sir Rich. 642.
Rayworth, Mr. 518.
Read, 566. Dr. 595. Mr. 758. Chriſt. 922. Col. 114, 142. Nicholas, 344. Philip, 513. Tho. Dr. 597.
Reading, Mr. 160. John, 204.
Reddrick, or Rederick, John, 811, 833. Rich. 636, 833.
Rede, Mr. 813.
Redman, 1, 2, 95, 112, 115, 116. Col. 30, 55, 56, 71. Dr. 546. John, 309. Dr. John, 797.
Rees, Mr. 924.
Reeve, Tho. 879. Dr. Tho. 371, 700.
Reeves, Dr. 368.
Regeneration, 72.
Reignardſon, Sir Abraham, 271.
Rereſby, Will. 285.
Reſbury, Dr. 852. Rich. 807, 905, 932, 937.
Reſolution Ship, 249.
Reſtwich, Sir Tho. 121.
Retchford, John, 769. Will. 541, 769.
Retz, Card. de, 599.
Reve, John, 769.
Rev. xvi. p. 349.
Reveſby, Dr. 546.
Reynell, Edw. 268.
Reyner, Edw. 937. John, 48, 67, 907, 934. Sam. 921.
Reyners, Dr. 390.
Reynolds, 152, 920. Attorney Gen. 35. Biſhop, 349, 402, 403, 407, 499, 507, 508, 791, 804, 809, 817, 824, 918. Dr. 67, 69, 76, 77, 81, 96, 121, 125, 128, 139, 172, 175, 178, 180, 181, 187, 195, 248, 280, 281, 283, 295, 301, 302, 303, 306, 398, 431, 516, 519, 590, 748. Mr. 3, 165. Edw. 44, 45, 76, 190, 193, 252, 267, 334, 354, 482. Edw. Dr. 82, 162, 180. Warden of Merton Coll. 197, 222, 363, 380, 655, 862, 931. John, 72, 705, 789, 905. Rich. 781, 883, 885. Sollicitor, 23. Tho. 768. Will. 934.
Reynoldſon, Ald. 133.
Rhine, Count Palatine, 424.
Rhodes, Dr. 251. Mr. 135. Joſ. 247. Lady, 893.
Rich. 277. Col. 25, 67, 68, 79.
Richard, ſee Cromwel, 135. Biſhop of Carliſle, 398, 579, 585, 605, 632, 640. John, 363.
Richards, Mr. 822. John, 378.
Richard Ship, 144.
Richardſon, Lord, 35. Chriſt. Eſq; 424. Edw. 900. Nicholas, 334.
Richmond, Duke, 156, 130, 262, 522, 569. See Stuart.
Richmond and Lenox, Duke, 218, 424.
Rider, Dudley, 892. Tho. 881. Will 348. Sir Will. 344.
Ridgway, Rob. 791.
Ridley, 501, 589. Sir Tho. 654.
Riggs, Edw. 839.
Riland, Mr. 738, 739. John, 268, 326, 333, 575, 859, 867.
Ringroſe, John, 786.
Ringſtead, Mr. 822.
Riſden, Tho. 752.
Riſley, 294. Tho. 935.
Ritſchel, Geo. 542. John, 487.
Rivers, Benj. 884. Earl, 404. Lady, 842.
Rives, John, 481.
Rivett, John, 206.
Roan, 98. Duke, 122. See Rohan.
Robert, Biſhop of Lincoln, 354, 398, 584, 605. See Lincoln. Biſhop of Oxon, 574, 579, 584, 605, 632. See Oxford Biſhop.
Roberts, Mr. 923. Francis, 301, 926. Geo. Dr. his Death, 397. Ger. 194, 238. Lord, 153, 167, 307, 313, 392, 613, 889. Rich 934. Tho. 827. Will. 252. Sir Will. 706.
Robina, Ol. Cromwell's Daughter, 323.
Robinſon, 26, 30, 34, 35, 46, 48, 57, 120. Mr. 3, 22, 24, 25, 369, 747, 841. Alderman, 11, 96, 133, 161, 164. Edw. 287. Hugh, 224. Hugh, Dr. 634. John, 373, 518, 602. Sir John, 156, 181, 236, 238, 396, 405, 501, 563, 710, 782, 811, 845, 865. Luke, 33, 67, 178, 179. Nath. 773. Tho. 887. Will. 372, 532, 597. Will. Dr. 265, 326.
Roch, Philip, 621.
Rochel, 98.
Rocheſter, Biſhop, 196, 220, 416, 667. Dean and Chapter, 620. City, 163. John, Earl, 332, 382, 394.
Rock, Joſiah, 901.
Rodonda, Count, 652.
Roe, 596.
Rogers, 501. Mr. 372, 593, 797. Benj. 204. Dr. Chriſtopher, 213, 764 Dan. 809. Edw. 378. Dr. Geo. 859. John, 402, 792, 814, 916, 936. Nehemiah, 618, 919. Rich. 792. Sam. 221, 309, 563. Walter, 333. Will. 646. Zach. 805.
Rohan, Duke, 298. See Roan.
Rokeby, Judge, 914.
Rolfe, Mr. 822. Will 808.
Roll, Mr. 458. Robert, 3. Rob. Col. 387, 457. Sir Sam. 458.
Rolles, 64. Mr. 923.
Rolph, Mr. 822.
Rolt, Mr. 560, 588, 617, 814.
Roman Catholicks, 469, 476, 477, 478, 498, 615, 620. See Papiſts.
Rombald, 54, 56. Mr. 607.
Rondelet, Monſ. his Letter to Monſ. Chabret, 475.
Rood, Edw. 881.
Rook, Mr. 727. Capt. 665 Lawr. an Account of him, 721.
Rooſe, Hen. 809.
Root, Tim. 924.
Roſcaracke, 121.
Roſciter, 118. Col. 86. See Roſſiter.
Roſcommon, Earl, 338.
Roſe, Sam. 46.
Roſewell, Tho. 699, 915.
Roſſe, Capt. 811. Alex. 759. Tho. Eſq; 429.
Roſſiter, 327. Col 66, 161. See Roſciter.
Roterodamus, Eraſmus, 470.
Rotheram, John, 526.
Rothes, Earl, 146, 166, 523, 600.
Rothwell, Francis, 344.
Rotterdam, 148.
Rouſe, Gran. 488, 708, 801, 931.
Row, 272, 274, 282. Dr. Cheyney, 879. John, 560, 780, 933. Owen, 156, 178, 183, 240 Sir Thomas, 273.
Rowel, Mr. 188. Rob. 202, 294.
Rowlands, Ellir, 907.
Rowlandſon, John, 576.
Rowles, Benj. 835.
Rowlet, Mr. 808.
Roy, Mr. le, 94, 111, 170.
Royal Highneſs, 471, 472. See York Duke.
Royal Society, 868. The Charter of King Charles II. for founding it, 874. Statutes of, 877.
Royal Sovereign, 162.
Royſe, Geo. 219.
Royſton, R. 514. Rich. 314, 775, 776. Town, 363.
Ruddiard, Sir Ben. 638.
Rule, Gilbert, 905.
Rumbal, Mr. 415, 417, 420.
Rumbald, 70. Mr. 18, 19. Mr. Will. 62.
Rump, created a Council of State, 3. The burning the Rump, 58.
Rumſey, Walter, 314.
Rupert, Prince, 259, 555, 671, 832, 878.
Ruſhout, James, 345, 534.
Ruſhworth, 68, 665 Mr. 209. John, 176.
Ruſſel, Biſhop, 652. Father, Prieſt, 91. Mr. 394. John, 121, 317, 835. Lord, 253. Rich. 545.
Ruſt, Biſhop, 425, 541.
Ruthen, Rob. 121.
Rutherford, 803. Lord, 563, 721.
Ruting, John, 812.
Rutten, Mr. 800.
Rutter, Mrs. Dorothy, 646. Sam. 302, 333, 545, 546. Sam. Biſhop, his Death, 701.
Rutton, Tho. 933.
Ruyter, de, 587, 588.
Ryland, John, 482.
Ryley, Will. 487, 542.
Ryther, John, 891.
Ryves, Bruno, 203, 247, 360. Bruno, Dr. 55, 408, 605, 770. John, 584.

S.

S. Mr. 658.
S. C. 372, 638.
S. J. i. e. J. S. See Smith, Tho.
S. J. 361. i. e. Stevens, John, 541.
S. L. 616.
S R. 383, 500, 736.
S. S. 192, 350.
S. T. 595.
S. W. 348.
Sacheverel, 302. Mr. 453, 545, 546. Philol. 757. Tim. 896, 915.
Sacket, John, 357.
Sadler, Mr. 595. Anne, 866. Anthony, 191, 215, 268, 330. John, 222, 906, 913, 934.
Sadlier, Ralph, Eſq; 378. Anne, 666.
Sagar, Ch. 903.
Sagittary, Fred. 534.
Saint Albans, Duke, 483.
Saint Andrews, Archbiſhop, 660, 722.
Saint Aſaph, Biſhop, 449, 450, 481, 686. See Griffith, Dr.
Saint Burien, 845.
Saint Clare, Lord, 65.
Saint Cyprian, 463, 467.
Saint Davids, Biſhop, 604, 628.
Saint John, 464. Lord, 3, 66, 144, 262, 806. Lord Charles, 178. Lord Chief Juſtice, 61. Oliver, 141, 179, 188. Mr. Serjeant, 23. Sir Walter, 42.
Saint Nicholas, John, 909.
Saint Paul, 465.
Saint Paul's, London, 544, 549, 590, 811.

Dean

INDEX.

Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, 866.
Saint Peter, 465.
Sale, Richard, 296.
Saliſbury, Biſhop, i. e. Duppa, 97, 220. See Sarum, Biſhop. E. 424. Tho. 192, 269. See Saluſbury, Tho.
Salkeld, John, 891, 929.
Sall, Nich. 621.
Salmaſius, Claudius, 189, 205, 230, 270.
Salmon, Col. 602. Rich. 836, 883.
Salter, Mrs. 923.
Saltern, William, 650.
Saluſbury, Tho. 571. See Saliſbury, Tho.
Salway, Major, 23.
Samburne, Mr. 822.
Sampſon, 800. Mr. 924. Hen. 906.
Sams or Sammes, John, 789. William, 886.
1 Sam. xv. 35. p. 350. x. 27. p. 370.
2 Sam. xv. 25. p. 159.
Samuel, Rich. 395.
Samwayes, Dr. 251. Peter, 207.
Samwel, Rich 863. Sir Richard, 165.
Sancroft, Dr. 641. Mr. 454, 574. William, 324, 641, 647. William, Dr. 633, 743.
Sancta Sophia, 262.
Sand, Lady, 673.
Sandeland or Sandiland, And. 565, 585.
Sanders, 116. See Saunders.
Sanderſon, 172, 269. Biſhop, 309, 347, 520, 521, 525, 551, 573. his Service in the Convocation, 632. his Articles of Viſitation, 727, 805, 814, &c. to 818, 825. Dr. 37, 232, 244, 321, 425, 505, 507, 575. John, 861. Ralph, 740, 744. Ranulph, 345. Rob. 74, 217, 221, 299, 309, 317, 326, 357. Rob. Dr. 494. Tho. 758. See Saunderſon.
Sandford, Mr. 835.
Sands, Lord, 181. Mr. 155. Sir Tho. 671, 676. See Sandys, Sir Tho.
Sandwich Caſtle, 163. Earl, 60, 249, 395, 413, 414, 417, 424, 469, 471, 512, 537, 558, 559, 587, 617, 634, 652, 659, 672, 685, 697, 698, 757, 760, 801. Lady, 559.
Sandys, Sir Tho. 356. See Sands Sir Tho. Tho. 576.
Sangar, Gab. his Character, 404.
Sanger, Gab. 312.
Sankey, Sir Hierome, 298.
Saravia, Dr. Hadr. 520.
Sarum, Biſhop, 449, 455, 499, 658, 816. See Saliſbury, Biſhop.
Savage, Anth. 332. Sir Edw. 121, 869. Henry, 267. Dr. Hen. 634. John, 381. Rich. 924.
Savery, Mr. 895.
Savill, Anne, 344. John, ibid.
Savoy Conference, 407, 499, 501, 504, 516. an Account of it, 525. a Queſtion upon the Iſſue of it, 629.
Saunders, Anthony, 345, 360. Col. 50, 54. Lucas, 612. See Sanders.
Saunderſon, Biſhop Morley's Character of him, 209, 288, 296. Biſhop, 354, 355, 407. Rob. 345. See Sanderſon.
Sawyer, Fran. 714, 836.
Say or Saye, 186. Dr. 508, 540. Mr. 3, 19, 175, 220. John, 239. Rob. 219. Viſcount, 73. William, 156.
Say and Seal, Lord, 153, 167. Viſcount, 123, 660. James his Son, 660.
Says, Evans, 169.
Sayer, Col. 457. Mr. 808. Rob. 221.
Saywell, Dr. 249. Dr. William, 880.
Scargil, Mr. 924.
Scarron, Monſ. 856.
Scarſdale, E. 865.
Scattergood, 641. Ant. 351, 708.
Scawen, Rob. 489.
Scheveling, 148, 150, 157, 159.
Schomberg, 60, 471, 804.
Schrymſher, Ger. 309.
Scobel, Henry, 100.
Scortwreth, Geo. 937.
Scot, 26, 30, 34, 35, 46, 48, 52, 54, 57, 82. Mr. 3, 22, 24, 25, 66, 922. Mrs. 910. Cuthbert, 183. Dr. John, 234. Philip, 781. Rich. 312. Tho. 101, 127, 156, 175, 176, 204, 240, 272, 274, 275, 276, 283, 284, 348. Tho. Eſq; 18. Tho. Secretary, 20, 33. William, 284.
Scotland, 484.
Scotter Manor, 700.
Scowen, Mr. 67, 84.
Screven, Geo. 591.
Scrivener, Matt. 750.
Scroop, Adrian, 121, 156, 176, 177, 184, 185, 240, 272, 274, 276, 283, 284, 348. Sir Adrian, 410.
Scudamore, 581. James, 860. Sir John, 410, 607. Lord, 634. Viſcount, 600, 606, 627. his Charities, 705. his Endowment of ſeveral Churches, 860. his great Charity to the diſtreſſed Clergy, 861.
Sculteus, Abraham, 572.
Scuropulus, Sylveſter, 74.
Scurr, Leonard, 910.
Scutum Regale, 53, 103.
Seabrook, John, 427.
Seal, Viſcount, 73. and Signet given to Mr. Morrice, 114.
Seaman, 300. Dr. 172, 723. Laz. 222. Laz. Dr. 752, 933.
Seamour, Mr. 414, 416, 421.
Searl, Mr. 822. Hen. 783.
Seaton, John, 808. See Seton.
Sebright, Edw. 533.
Secker, William, 594.
Seddon, Lawrence, 333. Law. Dr. 474. Rob. 914. William, 929.
Sedgwick, Mr. 747. John, 788. Joſ. 927. Obadiah, 216, 266, 358, 536, 594, 881. William, 386, 884, 912.
Secluded Members. See Parl. Free.
Seekers, 396.
Sefton, Ro. 325.
Seignior, George, 226.
Seile, Dr. 784.
Selby, Mich. 570.
Selden, Mr. 685, 763. John, 348, 857.
Sell, Oliver, 357.
Selleck, John, 227, 468, 584.
Sellers, John, 839, 845. See Cellars.
Senior, Tho. 891.
Seppens, Rob. 796.
Sequeſtrations, 303.
Serle, Geo. 571.
Serrarius, Claudius, 74.
Serrori, Hyacinth, 320.
Service Book, 146. See Common-Prayer.
Seton, Jo. 934. See Seaton.
Seymour, Lord, 167. Sir Jo. 68.
Shaftſbury, E. 889, 890.
Shakerley, Col. 389.
Shapley, William, 719.
Sharp, 66, 67, 68, 83, 87, 101, 115, 117, 118, 121, 124, 129, 162, 175, 176, 178, 179, 180, 186, 187, 197, 200, 205, 211, 213, 227, 578, 580. Archbiſhop of Andrews, 22. Biſhop Burnet's Remarks upon him accuſing him of Treachery and Diſſimulation, 134. Dr. 251. Mr. 50, 61. his Letter to Douglaſs, 65, 75, 77, 78, 80, 81, 84, 96, 99, 110, 134, 140, 146, 147, 166, 185, 222, 427, 523. James, 173, 202, 577. Jeffrey, 265. John, 779, 866. John, Dr. 575. Rich. 922. William, 546.
Sharrock, Rob. 320.
Shattock, Sam. 531.
Shaw, Mr. 822. John, 544, 916. Sir John, 390. Sam. 595, 815, 856.
Sheaf or Sheafes, Dr. 480, 546. Grindall, 227, 231, 584.
Sheapard, John, 861.
Sheffield, Col. 86. Jo. 312, 793, 934.
Sheldon, 578, 666, 742. Archbiſhop, 77, 385, 815, 917. Biſhop, 358, 368, 407, 450, 599, 673, 820. Capt. 535. Dan. 865. Dr. 77, 279, 288, 447, 575, 580, 644, 701, 748. againſt any Indulgence to the Diſſenters, 753. Edw. 245. Gilbert, 190, 221, 265, 303, 345. Gilb. Dr. 600.
Sheldrake, William, 907.
Shelton, William, 636, 887.
Shence or Cheve, Mr. 922.
Sheppard or Shepheard, Mr. 913. Hen. 853. Nich. 47. Ro. 325. Tho. 102. William, 823.
Sherard, Capt. 366.
Sherborne, Rob. 917.
Sherburn in Dorſetſhire, 144.
Sheringham, Ro. 299, 593.
Sherley, William, 655.
Sherlock, Rich. 185, 489.
Sherman, 116. Dr. 251, 546. Edw. 903. John, 213, 232, 433, 449, 552, 882, 887. Dr. John, 528. Tho. 765.
Shermerdine, Tho. 936.
Sherwin, Mr. 912.
Sherwood, John, 812.
Shingley, Mr. 822.
Shippon, Luke, 247. forſan Skippon, 251.
Shipton, Sam. 929.
Shires, George, 309.
Shirley, Edw. 597. James, 268, 823. Seymour, 534.
Shore, Jo. 424.
Short, Ames, 215.
Shower, John, 836.
Shrewſbury, 413, 414, 602. Earl, 199, 496. Town, 115.
Shute, Chriſt. 203, 231. Dr. 251, 480, 513. Rich. 922. Tim. 363, 660. W. 838.
Shuttlewood, Mr. 894.
Sibbs, 501.
Sibthorp, 236. Father, 396. John, 669. Rob. 226. Dr. Rob. his Death and Character, 669.
Sidney, Col. 515. Sir Philip, 736.
Sikes, Geo. 712.
Silburn, Rob. 178.
Silleſbye, Matt. 863.
Simmonds, Jo. 934.
Simpſon, Sydrach, 222. Tho. 810.
Simſon, John, 923.
Sinclare, Lord, 76.
Sing, Edw. Dr. 366.
Singleton, Mr. 904. John, 385.
Sion College, 84.
Skelton, Bern. 880, 886.
Skepper, Chriſtopher, 30.
Skingle, Will. 726, 801.
Skinner, 332. Auguſtine, 255. Dr. 4, 808. John, 344. Rob. 252. Will. 255.
Skipp, Edm. 764.
Skippon, 490. Dr. forſan Shippon, 251. Luke, Dr. 880, 884, 885, 886.
Skrimſher, 332.
Skytte, Lord, 868, 870.
Slater, Mr. 771, 780, 841, 854. Sam. 933.
Slatyer, Will. 239.
Sleidan, John, 553.
Slingſby, Sir H. 116, 373. Hen. 875.
Sloten, Cornelius van, 300.
Sly, Richard, 345.
Small, James, 899.
Smallwood, Allen, 263. Dr. 251. Geo. 547, 800. James, 254. Matt. 203, 254, 325, 585. Dr. Matt. 565.
Smart, Tho. 807.
Smith, 272, 273, 282, 286, 348. Mr. 184. Arthur, 807. Bryan, 263. Dr. 251, 354, 481. Sir Edw. 642, 768. Eliz. 354. Eraſmus, 423. Eſq; 239. Ever. 307. Fran. 300, 537. Hen. 156, 178, 240, 345, 380, 838. Sir Hugh, 410. James, 232, 242, 363. James, Dr. 625, 658. Sir James, 224, 389, 830. John, 77, 87, 127, 227, 269, 312, 361, 362, 841. John, Dr. 858. Sir John, 496. Lady, 869. Major, 72. Mal. 68. Nic. 504. Rich. 905. Sir Rich. 869. Rob. 591. Sam. 350, 751. Seb. 345, 404. Seb. Dr. 406, 479. Tho. 39, 216, 327, 332, 333, 406, 470, 594, 636, 736. Sir Tho. 121. Tim. 901. Will. 490, 903. Zach. 899, 936.
Smithies, Iſaac, 918.
Smithſon, Col, 35, 50, 116.
Smyth, Sebaſt. 495.
Snell, 148. Mr. 113. Geo. Dr. 676. Simon, 883.
Snow, Rob. 897, 910. Simon, 910.
Snowden, Ben. 934.
Soame, Dr. Tho. 206, 219. Tho. 203.
Soames, Dr. 373.
Solemn League and Covenant, 101, 364, 450. Preſbyterian Miniſters ſcruple the renouncing it, 722.
Soley, Tho. 924.
Somerſet, Duke, 255, 288, 774. Frances Ducheſs, 319.
Somner, Mr. 47. Ch. 922. Will. 192.
Some, David, 745. Tho. 755. See Soame.
Sons, 319.
Sophia, Princeſs, 628.
Soreton, Fran. 894.
Soubize, Duke, 460, 494.
Souch, 177. Mr. 822. Anthony, 254. See Zouch.
South, Dr. 251, 279. Mr. 482, 533. Dr. Rob. 345, 556. Rob. 161, 214, 321, 379,

379, 533, 576, 658, 826. Tho. 599.
Southampton, Earl, 161, 162, 167, 180, 185, 220, 232, 375, 381, 392, 395, 424, 698, 774, 802, 865. Lord Treaſurer, 768.
Southwell, Sir Rob. 394, 395, 431, 698.
Southwood, Mr. 923. Ben. 375.
Spain, 393.
Spang, Mr. 900.
Spanhemius, 846. Fridericus, 483.
Sparke, Edw. 192, 213. Edw. Dr. 467, 783.
Sparkes, Dr. 251, 748. Edw. 772. Edw. Dr. 852.
Sparling, Capt. 134.
Sparrow, 579. Anthony, 220, 346, 372, 584. Wood's Account of him, 596, 882. Anth. Dr. 401, 675, 879, 884. Biſhop, 817, 845. Col. 833. Dr. 251, 398, 482, 502, 505, 506, 508. Sam. 596. Will. 797, 923.
Sparry, Ambroſe, 915.
Spawford, John, 892.
Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, 491, 582. See Turner, Sir Edw.
Speculum Politiæ, 73.
Speed, John, 823.
Speering or Spering, James, 221, 360, 570. Dr. Ja 558.
Speke, Geo. Eſq; 599.
Spelman, Clem. 55, 115. Mr. 96. Sir Henry, 297, 344, 594
Spencer, Capt. 840. Dr. 896, 911. Dan. 51. John, 351, 425, 782, 857.
Sperton, Mr. 68.
Spilſbury, John, 818.
Spinage, Capt. 119.
Spinckes or Spinks, Edm. 892, 934.
Spotſwood, Archbiſhop, 758. Hen. 613.
Spragge, Capt. 512.
Sprat, Dr. 721, 931. Tho. 286, 790, 881.
Sprigge, Mr. 138. Will. 319.
Sprint, John, 730. Sam. 814.
Sproſton, John, 793.
Spurling, John, 886.
Spurſtow, 187. Dr. 139, 162, 182, 280, 319, 398, 407, 793, 800. Will. Dr. 529, 543, 778, 933, 937.
Spurway, 840.
Squire, Mr. 822.
Srott, Hen. 865. forſan Scot.
Stackhouſe, Tho. 385.
Stafford, Capt. 366. Lord, 142. Earl, his Declaration to the Lords after his Condemnation, 477, 494. Viſcount, 507. Will. 799.
Stalham, John, 792.
Stallybraſs, Mr. 922.
Stamford Town, 366.
Stamp, Will. 771.
Stancliffe, Sam. 755.
Standfaſt, 266. Rich. 210, 333.
Standiſh, 229. Jo 886.
Standon Vicaridge, 666, 866.
Stanhop, Cath. 255, Geo. 330.
Stanley, 332, 550. Sir Charles, 410. Dr. 822. Mr. 889, 923. Edw. 234, 376, 518, 534, 641, 853. Edw. Dr. 616, 633, 724, 763. Ja. 885, 887. Tho. 300, 668, 854.
Stansfield, Mr. 749. James, 539.
Stanton, Edm. 935.
Stanwix, Rich. 829.
Stapeley, An. 156.
Stapleton, or Stapylton, Mr. 546. Bryan, 270. Sir Rob. 121, 595, 834.
Stareſmore, Tho. 754.
Starkey, Geo. 596. Hen. 479.
States General, a Memorial preſented to them by the P. R. of Great Britain, 250.
Statholme, Will. 332.
Staughton, Dr. Edm. 180, 221. Dr. Nic. 368.
Staunton, Edw. 882.
Stawell; Sir John, 163, 191. his Sufferings and Death, 631. Ralph, Eſq; 632.
Stayner, Mr. 635, 685. Sir Rich. 146, 617, 628, 634, 835.
Stearne, Mr. 884. Edw. 881, 882. John, 317. See Sterne.
Stedman, Roland, 889.
Steel, Lord, 377.
Stephens, Mr. 861, 884. Jeremy, 223, 254, 297, 563. Mr. John, 142, 541, 921. Sir John, 56, 121. Tho. 485, 490, 594. Dr. Tho. 884.
Stephenſon, James, 909. Sam. 883.
Sterling, Iſaac, 745.
Stermont, James, 387.
Sterne, Biſhop, 368. Biſhop of Carliſle, 407. Archbiſhop of York, 508, 814. Dr. 502, 861. Edw. 884, 885. Rich. 222, 329. Rich. Dr. 323, 880, 887. See Stearne.
Sterry, Peter, 555.
Steudling, George, 481.
Stevens, John, 541. Major, 588.
Stevens of Lambeth Marſh, 153.
Stevenſon, Mr. 541. John, 490. Marm. 372.
Steward, 56. Dr. 261. Sir Rich. 536.
Stewkley, Tho. 161.
Stileman, John, 834.
Stiles, Dr. 251.
Still, Henry, 326. John, 652, 699.
Stillingfleet, 920. Biſhop, 815. Dr. 480, 497, 637, 661. Mr. 747, 884. E. 262, 237, 705, 706, 797. Dr. Edw. 931. John, 834.
Stillington, Mrs Dorothy, 127.
Stocker, Mr. 747.
Stockton, Owen, 791, 908.
Stodden, Mr. 905.
Stone, Capt. 67. Ben. 751, 756. Chriſtopher, 234, 252, 289, 330, 380, 388. Dr. 546. John, 633. Sam. 549.
Stoneham, or Stonham, Ben. 912. John, 556.
Stoning, John, 810.
Stopford, Joſhua, 309, 331.
Storer, John, 934.
Stoughton, Mr. 225.
Stoupe, Mr. 185.
Stout, Cuthbert, 161.
Stradling, Edw. 534. George, 329, 358, 359, 514, 585, 701, 834, 841. Geo. Dr. 636, 826. John, 358.
Strafford, Earl, 424, 558, 691, 711, 712. Tho. 310.
Strange, 840. Geo. 363.
Stranſius, Lawrence, 246.
Stratford, Mr. 921. Dr. Nich. 843.
Streate, Capt. 535.
Streater, 119, 566. Col. 19, 118.
Street, Mr. 665. Tho. 371, 553.
Strethill, Ralph, 761.
Stretton, Mr. 913. Rich. 266, 816, 898, 914.
Stricland, Mr. 33, 188.
Strode, Will. 244, 268.
Strong, James, 923. Will. 536.
Stroude, Ellen, 382. or Strode, Will. 35, 537.
Stroupe, 170.
Stuart, Char. I. K. Oath to renounce the Title of Ch. Stuart, and the whole Royal Family, 3. the Soldiers againſt him, 6, 71, 74, 100. Ch. II. 68. Dr. 386. Eſme, 522. See Richmond Duke. Lord of Newbery and Earl of Litchfield, 262. Rich. 329, 349. Rich. Dr. 554.
Stubbe, Hen. 729, 823. Dr. Hen. 734, 931. Mr. Hen. 712.
Stubbs, 278. Francis, 330, 839, 845. Henry, 269, 814. John, 194, 214, 215, 545.
Stuke, Will. 910.
Stupeley, 490.
Sturdy, Mr. 48, 50.
Sturton, Edw. 332.
Styles, Col. 46.
Sudbury, Dr. 480. John, 199, 296, 584. Dr. John, 587, 629.
Suffolk County, its Addreſs to Gen. Monk for a free Parliament, 43. to the City of London, 43. Earl, 123, 156, 354, 405, 410, 414, 684, 685.
Sugge, Triſtram, Dr. 366
Sumner, Rob. 218, 237. Will. 66.
Sunderland, Dorothy, Counteſs, 216.
Sutcliffe, Dr. Matt. 590.
Sutterville, Ch. 612.
Sutton, Hen. 481, 584. James, 921.
Sutton Manour, 229.
Swadlin, Dr. 861. Tho. 370. Dr. Tho. 797.
Swaffield, Joſ. 554, 860, 916.
Swallow, Major, 833.
Swan, John, 905, 936. Will. 246. Sir Will. 162.
Swarth, Geo. 513.
Swearing, ſee Quakers, 102. The Caſe of Swearing, 102,
Sweden, Queen, 72.
Sweit, Egid. 369.
Swenckfield, 572.
Swetnam, Joſ. 936.
Swift, Mr. 755. Hen. 924. Rich. 904, 912. Tho. 238, 844. Tim. 884.
Swiftſure Ship, 157, 159.
Swinden, Toby, 331, 576.
Swinnock, George, 72, 217, 245, 297, 541, 594, 724, 759, 898. Joſ. 495.
Swinſen, John, Eſq; 66. Mr. John, 67.
Swinton, 79. John, called Lord Swinton, 208. Mr. 187.
Sybbald, John, 931.
Sydenham, Col. 23, 179. Dr. 822.
Sydſerfe, Biſhop, 578.
Sykes, Rich. 788.
Sylveſter, Edw. 250. Matt. 815, 898.
Sylvius, Æneas, 28.
Symmes, Edw. 778.
Symonds, Edw. 774. Sam. 558, 827.
Symons, Tho. 726.
Sympathetick Powder, 246.
Sympſon, Will. 296.
Symſon, John, 797, 800, 911. Tho. 786.
Syng, 440.
Synnick, Dr. 622.

T.

T. R. 513.
Tabor, Humphrey, 830.
Talbot, John, 199, 621. Sir John, 535, 840, 915. Peter, Biſhop, 7. Col. 652, 653. Mr. 686. Sir Gilb. 875. Rich. 811.
Tallents, Mr. 923. Francis, 904. Phil. 923.
Tangier, 558. Joy there for the Match with Portugal, 559, 781, 829.
Tanner, 251. Mr. 180. Tho. 151.
Tapper, Sam. 817, 892, 910.
Tarante, Prince, 424.
Tarry, Geo. 930. Tho. 772, 904.
Tatnal, Rob. 811.
Taverner, Capt. 840. Phil. 755.
Taunton Town, 270.
Taleur, Mr. 508. John, 378.
Taylor, 929. Biſhop, 449, 723, 733, 787. Capt. 266. Dr. 58, 440. Mr. 78, 81. Jeremy, 121, 193, 245, 246, 319, 320. Jer. Biſhop, 365. Jeremy, Dr. 611, 633. John, 156, 482, 668, 887, 897. Ralph, 607. Rich. 899. Sam. 934. Silas, 654. Tho. 351, 816, 818, 891, 907, 917. Will. his Death, 529, 543, 793, 800, 821, 900, 934. Zach. 903.
Teague, Nic. 921.
Teddiman, 249. Capt. 697.
Tempkins, Tho. 268.
Templar, Humph. 364.
Temple, 61, 301. Col. 179, 181, 239. Dr. 808. James, 156, 178, 240, 272, 273, 282. Peter, 156, 178, 240, 272, 273, 282. Rich. 65. Sir Richard, 35, 410. Sir Jo, 66.
Templer, Benj. 364, 604. Humph. 613.
Teniſon, Archbiſhop, 231, 566, 626. Dr. 546. Philip, 224, 252, 263. Tho. Dr. obſerves the Spirit of Popery at Court, 842, 880.
Tenton, Sir Henry, 35.
Terrant, Jer. 744.
Terret, 322.
Terrick, Rich. 865.
Terringham, Sir Will. 410.
Terry, Edw. 170, 273, 384, 858. James, 932. Peter, 932.
Th. H. 45.
Thalwall Eubule, Sir, 221.
Thatch, Mr. 749.
Thauler, Dr. John, 346, 858.
Theyer, John, 598.
Thomas, 840. Biſhop, 818, 820, 917. Mr. 923. Abiel alias Fretwell, 708. Howell, 913 River, 854. Sam. 592. Tim. 899. Titus, 910. Will. 219, 239, 430, 481, 584, 618, 923.
Thomas Archbiſhop of Caſhal, 312. Biſhop of Gallway, 302.
Thomlinſon, Mr. Matt. 24.
Thompſon, 61. Mr. 270, 765, 780, 822, 923 Ald. 133. Auditor, 22, 23. Col. 3, 35, 66. Father, 824. Iſa. 571, 632, 729, 783. John, 68. Joſ. 843, 909. Rob. 751. Tho. 253. Will. 818, Thoreſby, John, 599. Ralph, 747.
Thorn, Giles, 207, 231, 481.

INDEX.

Thornborough, Giles, 853. Will. 334.
Thorndike, 58. Mr. 398, 508, 861, 871. Herbert, 14, 244, 329, 529, 584, 618, 853. Mr. Rob. 480.
Thornton, Mr. 37, 101. 808, 922. James, 309. John, 889. Tho. 740.
Thorold, Sir Will. 121.
Thoroughgood, Mr. 645, 665. John, 199. Sir John, 330. Nic. 727. Tho. 193, 378.
Thorp, Edm. 896, 903, 911. John, 383. Rich. 833. Serjeant, 23.
Throckmorton, Arthur, 669. Dr. 481. Ralph, 196, 207, 231, 584. Ralph, Dr. 467, 587, 591.
Thruſcroſs, 58.
Thurloe, Mr. 135. John, 68. his Account of the King's Letters to the Houſe of Commons, and Gen. Monk, to Montague Lord Gen. 129, 150. Secret. 149.
Thurman, Hen. 45.
Thurſcroſſe, Dr. 390.
Thynne, Tho. 345.
Tichbourn, 272, 274, 275, 282. Ald. 181. Sir Hen. 473. Rob. 156, 178, 240.
Tickell, John, 749, 921, 925.
Tillotſon, 920. Archbiſhop, 917. Dr. 796, 896, 931. Mr. 502, 747. John, 843. Dr. John, 769.
Tilſley, John, 815.
Time, 102.
Timothy, 464.
Timſon, John, 922.
Tindal, 501.
Tinmouth Gariſon, 136.
Tirconnel, Earl, 623.
Tirwhit, Tho. 297. Tho. Dr. 570.
Titus, 464.
Tobacco, a Proclamation againſt planting it in England, 404.
Toby, Mr. 727. Sir Anth. 702. Lady Cath. ibid.
Todd, John, 363. Rob. 935.
Toky, Mr. 886.
Toland, Mr. 5, 74, 642.
Toleration, Sectaries of all Sorts for it, 707.
Toll, Tho. 596.
Tombes, John, 170, 245, 269, 281, 619, 765, 817.
Tomkins, Mr. 923. Tho. 170, 364, 458, 501.
Tomlinſon, Mr. 929. his Son, ibid. Matt. 151.
Tomſon, 406.
Tonge, Tho. 330.
Tongue, Eſrael, 780. Tho. 839, 845.
Toogood, Rich. 210, 333.
Tookey, John, 893.
Tooley, Hen. 886.
Topſham, Anthony, 231.
Toppe, Hen. 529.
Torey, Rob. 900.
Torrington, Earl, 200.
Torway, 924.
Tourney, Rob. 526.
Towers, 294. Biſhop, 218, 238. Dr. John, 306, 244. Will. 165, 218, 238, 244, 570, 670.
Towerſon, Gab. 812.
Towood, Rich. 482.
Townley, Charles, John, and Rich. Eſq; 541.
Townſhend, Sir Horatio, 35, 133, 210. made Lord, 409. Lord, 62, 720, 893. Mr. 415. Sir Ro. 702.
Townſon, John, 219.
Trapezond, Archbiſhop, 567.
Trapp, Mr. 749. John, 269, 301.
Travers, Tho. 889.
Tray, Rich. 493. Will. 817.
Treble, Joſ. 924.
Tredagh, Ship, 135.
Tregois, Tho. 916.
Tremouille, Ducheſs, 599.
Trench, Edm. 909. Edm. Dr. 867.
Trenchfield, Caleb, 725.
Trerthiack, Will. 903.
Treſher, John, 491.
Threvethick, Will. 387, 457.
Trevor, 61. Mr. 892. John, Eſq; 66. Sir Tho. 410, 865.
Triglandius, Corn. 95, 473.
Trinity Houſe, 344.
Triplett, Tho. 332, 345, 403. Tho. Dr. 607.
Trodd, 836.
Trollop, Sir Will. 253.
Troſſe, Rog. 327, 929.
Trott, Edw. 745.
Troughton, Iſa. 472, 579, 606. Will. 908.
Troutbeck, Dr. 546. John, 243.
Troyes, Biſhop, 463.
Troyſell, Tho. 913.
Trueman, Joſ. 816, 907, 913.
Truſſell, Mr. 822.
Truth, 102.
Trye, Anth. 242.
Tuam, Archbiſhop, 799.
Tuchin, Rob. 897.
Tucker, Mr. 923. Nat. 734. Tho. 210. Will. 719.
Tuckney, 933. A. 216. Dr. Anth. 482, 600, 601, 891, 897, 925. Dr. 398, 431, 756, 807, 814, 934. Jonathan, 913.
Tudor, Dr. 546. Fulke, 285.
Tuffany, 362.
Turke, Col. 476. Sir Sam. 867. Tho. 780.
Tull, Mr. 822.
Tully, Dr. 345, 771. Tho. Dr. 655. Tim. 331.
Tunſtall, Frederick, 332.
Turberville, 232, 332. Henry, 269, 696.
Turenne, Princeſs, 98, 111, 170, 462, 846.
Turner, 288, 319. Brian, 756. Ch. 186, 187. Dr. 23, 60. Sir Edw. Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, 271, 442, 478, 509, 561, 656, 657, 687. Jerome, 217, 321. Serj. 890. Tho. 208, 226, 629. Tho. Dr. 424, 451, 480, 520, 590, 862, 866. Will. 888.
Tutchin, Sam. 900.
Tutt, Mr. 822.
Tutty, Will. 897.
Twickden, Joh. 376.
Twiſden, 186, 288. John, 703. Tho. 169.
Twiſleton, Col. 50, 54.
Twiſs, Rob, 921, 932. Will. Dr. 536, 932.
Twynne, Will. 895.
Tyler, Mr. 839. Evan. 707.
Tyndall, Mr. 896.
Tyringham, Anthony, 252.
Tyrrel, 186, 288. Commiſſioner, 3. James, 347. Lady, 713. Serjeant, 23. Tho. Eſq; 604. Tim. 126, 127, 347.
Tyrſis, Duke, 512.
Tyrwhit, Tho. 881
Tythes, ſee Quakers, 84. a Defence of them, 74.

V.

VALENCE, Anne, 344. Robert, ibid.
Valentia, Viſcount, 405.
Valentine, Baſil, 321.
Valgornero, 320.
Vanbenthuzen Gerrard, 338.
Vane, 5, 54, 84, 602. Sir Fran. 121. Sir Henry, 3, 10, 11, 12. expell'd the Houſe, 17, 20, 46, 58, 70, 179, 236, 240, 263, 356, 490, 563, 668, 704, 706, 708, 709. his Speech on the Scaffold, 710, 711. Tho. Dr. 386.
Vaniſts, 396.
Vaſſal, Mr. Sam. 67.
Vaſſells, Sir George, 64.
Vaughan, Mr. 808. Edw. 239, 481, 584. Hen. Eſq; 364. Hen. of Derwith, 364. Sir John, 410, 603. Rob. 636, 867.
Vauquelin, Monſ. 847.
Vaux, Edw. Lord Harroden, 531.
Vecchius, 516.
Venables, 115. Will. 865.
Venn, or Ven, 490, 663. John, 156, 178. Rich. 323.
Venner, 354, 355, 356, 363. his Inſurrection, 366, 381, 383, 384, 711. Ralph, 320. Tho. 361, 362. Toby, Dr. 400.
Venning, Ralph, 402, 933.
Ventreſs, Tho. 892, 936. See Vintreſs.
Vere, Lady Mary, 528.
Vernatty, Mr. 635.
Verney, Sir Grevil, 410.
Vernon, Edw. 865. Geo. 682. Hen. 237. Lord, 392.
Veron, Francis, D. D. 245.
Uffington Rectory, 324.
Vic, Monſ. de la, 475.
Vicars, John, 101. Sam. 830.
Victory of Truth, 111.
Villars, Edw. 121.
Vilvain, Dr. Rob. 862.
Vincent, 120, 251. Mr. 51, 64, 133, 780. Alderman, 25, 34, 96. Cane, John, 735. Nath. 593, 755. Tho. 771. Will. 934.
Viner, ſee Vyner, Alderman, 146. Tho. 72, 149, 214, 641.
Vines, Mr. 373, 747. Rich. 222, 758.
Viney, Rob. 206.
Vink, Peter, 751, 853.
Vinter, Mr. 927.
Vintner, Dr. 251. Henry, 231.
Vintreſs, Mr. 808. See Ventreſs.
Underhill, T. 39, 40.
Underwood, Tho. 756.
Uniformity, Act, 712, 740. Debate in Council about it, 742, 744, 748. a Diſcourſe upon the Act, 812. Complaints againſt it, 888. Bill, 656, 657, 658, 676.
Unton, 596.
Voiſy, Tho. 891.
Voſſius, Gerardus Johannes, 74. Iſaac, 74, 513.
Votes of the Parliament. See them in Year, Month and Day to which they belong. Of the Houſe, 102.
Votier, Dan. 751.
Vowel, —— Eſq; 20.
Voyce, Edward, 314.
Uſher, 205. Archbiſhop, 195, 196, 736. Biſhop, 143, 173, 181, 200, 385, 397, 554. James, 347. Lord Primate, 520.
Uſſerius, James, 126.
Utbird, Capt. 635.
Utye, Eman. 404, 527, 540, 646. Sam. 405.
Vyner. See Viner Ald. 206. Tho. 314, 807.

W.

W. F. 424.
W. G. 594, 782.
W. H. 351. Gent. 192.
W. P. i. e. Walſh, Peter.
W. R. 514, 559, 831.
W. T. i. e. Sir Tho. Widdrington.
Wachter, Abraham, 338.
Wade, Chriſt. 571.
Wadſworth, Tho. 747, 751.
Waferer, Mr. 822. Myrth. 324.
Wafre, Sim. 622.
Wager, Capt. 134.
Wagſtaffe, John, 270. Major, Richard, 25. Tho. 775.
Wainwaring, Sir William, 482.
Wainwright, Rob. 844.
Wait, 272, 273, 282. Col. 239. Mr. 893, 908. Tho. 156, 178, 240.
Wake, Dr. Geo. 579, 602. Tho. 880, 883.
Wakefield Ship, 135.
Wakeman, Edw. 754. Rob. 485.
Walden, 750.
Waldenſes, Proteſtants, 288.
Waldew, Ja. 749.
Waldoe, Dan. 442.
Wale, 120. Alderman, 61, 133.
Wales, Elkanah, 937.
Walker, Mr. 747. Anthony, 460, 594, 782, 836. Anth. Dr. 843. Clem. 170, 316, 514, 597. Dr. 23, 60, 428, 744. Edw. 300, 666. Sir Edw. 162, 167, 523, 595. Geo. 811, 887. John, 901. Joyce, 227. Nat. 790. Obadiah, 598, 674. Tho. 214, 773, 844, 934. Walter, 865. William, 269, 880.
Wall, 345. Geo. 606, 705. John, 45 169, 332.
Waller, 186, 272, 274, 282, 602. Anne Lady, 553. Mr. 508. Sir Hardreſs, 8, 24, 42, 156, 178, 185, 239, 563. Tho. 169. Sir William, 66.
Wallet, Tho. 455, 613.
Walley, Mr. 800.
Wallis, Dr. 162, 182, 187, 280, 398, 407, 431. John, 914. John, Dr. 607, 697, 739, 856.
Walloon Church, 147, 448. their firſt Church, 460, 461, 474, 475, 828.
Wallop, Mr. 3. Rob. 178, 390, 490, 613, 614.
Wallworth, 352.
Walmer, Caſtle, 163.
Walmſley, Rich. 756.

Walpole,

INDEX.

Walpole, Arthur, 221, 264, 332. Edw. 796. Sir Edw. 410.
Walrond, 220. A. 294.
Walſal, M. 546. Fran. 449. Francis, D. D. 159, 199, 313, 352.
Walſh, Father, 477. his Letter of the Order of S. Francis, 484, 603. Mr. 799. Peter, 286, 352, 604, 620, 622, 623, 624, 636, 702. See Welſh.
Walter, Sir William, 607.
Waltham, 659.
Walther, 221.
Walton, 57, 328. Biſhop of Cheſter, 407, 508, 820. Mr. 903. Bryan, 203, 323, 329, 351, 358. Bryan, Dr. 537. an Account of him, 569, 570, 644. Col. 3, 18, 19, 33, 35, 178. Dr. 503, 644, Iſaac, 244. Valentine, 155, 239.
Walwyn or Walwin, Mr. 467. John, 923. Rob. 594. William, 191, 203.
Wappenham Coppices, 156.
Warcup, 111. Edm. 270.
Ward, 800, 840, 920. Biſhop, 721, 817, 819. Dr. 368, 481, 529, 546, 618, 868. Mr. 811. John, 555, 934. Noah, 900. Ralph, 899. Rich. Capt. 25. Seth, 584, 648, 744. Seth, Dr. 221, 242, 253, 363, 555, 590, 591, 658. An Account of his Promotion, 730, 733, 746, 844, 867. Tho. 740.
Warder, Sir Ed. 115.
Ware, de la Lord, 181.
Ware, Mr. 771. Jonas, 781.
Wareham or Warham, Fran. 554, 754, 858. Geo. 385.
Waring, Richard. See Warring, 331.
Wariſtoun, 78, 99.
Warmeſtry, Warmiſter and Warmiſtree, Dr. 390. baptizes a Jew, 404, 607, 608. Tho. 584. Dr. Tho. 121, 212, 217, 224, 334. an Account of him, 568.
Warner, Biſhop, 368, 508. Harman, 219. John, 252, 648. John, Dr. 865. Tho. 921.
Warr, Mr. 771.
Warren, Mr. 769. Edm. 905. John, 591, 896. Rich. 327. Tho. 924.
Warreſton, Lord, 12.
Warriner, John, 930.
Warring. See Waring, Edmund, 78.
Wartenſius, Sam. 855.
Warter, Mr. 923.
Warters, Anth. 476, 718.
Warwell, Mr. 809. James, 191.
Warwick, Counteſs, 893. Earl, 133, 146, 200, 594, 710, 782, 890. Mr. 56. Sir Philip, 360, 507.
Waſhbourne, 334. Dr. in his Sermon clears the King of Popery, 381, 453, 487. John, 232. Tho. 224, 232. Tho. Dr. 367. William, 219.
Waterhouſe, Edward, 170, 299. William, 735.
Watkinſon, Peter, 405.
Watſon, 117, 209, 362. Mr. 99, 780. John, 597. Lady, 893. Lord, 364. Richard, Dr. Edw. Martin's Letter to him, 47, 100, 228, 229, 371, 458, 571, 657. Tho. 267, 594, 702, 743, 744, 933.
Watts, Dr. 171. Hen. 897. Ja. 364, 613. Sir John, 666. Rich. 220, 797, 804, 881. William, 333, 482, 650.
Waugh, Rich. 603, 618.
Wauton, Valentine, 156.
Wayte, Col. 179. Tho. 275.
Wearg, Rich. 926.
Weaver or Weever, 61, 59. Humphry, 910. John, Eſq; 66. Mr. 3, 25, 35.
Webb, Agnes, 334. Mr. 822. Charles, 769. Fran. 392. Hen. 866. Joſiah, 243. Rob. 863, 892.
Wedderburne, Pet. 530.
Wedon, Coppices, 156.
Weedon, Mr. 251.
Weeker, Dr. John, 595.
Weeks, Dr. 730, 845.
Weigelians, 396.
Weilks, 566.
Weiman, Chan. 499.
Welchman, Tho. 806.
Weld, John, 922, 934. Sir John, 840. Tho. 792.
Weldon, Rob. 269.
Welds, Tho. 712.
Weller, Rich. 879.
Weſſitt, Dr. 546. Tim. 188, 309.
Wellington, Mr. 647.
Wellman, Mr. 928.
Wells, Fran. 923. John, 362, 780, 923. Sam. 896. William, 328, 329, 569.
Welſh, Peter, 479. See Walſh.
Welſtead, Leonard, 921.
Wendy, Mr. 101. Sir Tho. 410.
Wentworth, Lord, 167, 338. Peter, Dr. 503. Tho. 808.
Weſt, Mr Edmund, 35. Lewis, 332.
Weſtfield, Biſhop, 373. Tho. 329. Dr. Tho. Biſhop, 194.
Weſtley, Barth. 906. John, 893, 919, 932. Sam. 932.
Weſtminſter, Dean, 417, 420, 421, 534. Dean and Prebends, 412, 413, 416.
Weſton, Sir William, 637.
Wetham. See Whetham, Col. 80.
Weyman, Monſ. 415.
Whaley, 362. Mr. 697, 808. Dan. 697. Nat. 428.
Whalley, Edw. 156, 178, 239, 264.
Wharton, Lord, 80, 123, 156, 889. Mr. 645.
Whately, John, 613.
Wheare, Degory, 724.
Wheat, Jeremiah, 898.
Wheeler, Mr. 870.
Whetham. See Wetham, 52. Col. 50, 54. Col. Nat. 50.
Whetſtone, Roger, 283.
Wheytbie, Tho. 246.
Whichcot, B. 216. Ben. Dr. 825, 880, 881.
Whiddon, Mr. 709, 719. Fran. 750, 817, 916.
Whincop, Dr. John, 540.
Whiſtler, Mr. 822.
Whiſton, Edw. 777. Hen. 571. Joh. 555.
Whitaker, 501. Mr. 747. Jer. 308, 373. Rob. 913. Wi. 312.
Whitby, Oliver, 481.
White, Iſle of, 123.
White, Tythes, 218, 229.
White, 61, 300, 327. Biſhop of Ely, 220, 322. Mr. 407, 425, 478, 556, 763, 792, 896. Ch. 67. Col. 3, 67. James, 563. Jeremy, 808. Chaplain to Oliver Cromwell, 912. John, 345. Major, 47, 328. Rich. 246. Tho. [illegible] or de Albiis. See Albiis, 221, 223, 270, 286, 300, 326, 382, 389, 480, 554, 555, 595, 709, 724, 781, 799, 933. alias Blackloe, Tho. 625. Tho. Dr. 265, 856. Will. 47, 921.
Whitehall, 157, 163. Chapel, 153.
Whitehead, 39. George, 40, 73.
Whitehorn, Otho. 907.
Whiteway, Rich. 898.
Whitfield, Mr. 367. Jo. 310, 789. Will. 367.
Whitford, John, 104.
Whiting, 56, 327. Mr. 806. Nath. 909.
Whitley, Col. 54. Matt. 230.
Whitlock, Keeper of the Seal, 10, 11, 17. James, 574. Lord, 33.
Whitlock's Memoires, 10.
Whitmore, Sir ——, 410.
Whittingham, William, 299.
Whitwell, 332. Dr. 251. William, 264.
Wicherley, Daniel, 333. See Wycherley.
Wicke, Francis de, 916.
Wickham Rectory. 161, 183.
Wickham, Barlow, 329. Hen. D. D. 2. Tobias, 2, 71, 234, 270, 329, 330, 331.
Wickins or Wickens, William, 243, 267, 596.
Wickliff, John, 319.
Widdrington, 186. Dr. 251, 552. Lord, 66. Rad, 216, 375. Sir Thomas, 3, 7, 23, 76, 169.
Widows, Tho. 596.
Wigan, William, 538.
Wiggans, William, 772.
Wightwych, Henry, 222.
Wigmore, Dr. 251. Dan. 879. Gil. 207.
Wilbraham, Lady, 893.
Wilcocks, Joſ. 830.
Wilcox, James, 481.
Wild, 440. Dr. 127, 197, 204, 373, 390, 546 George, 226. Geo. Dr. 349, 363. Recorder, 96, 133. Rob. 308. Rob. Dr. 194, 895, 932, 937. Serjeant, 23. Sir Will. 109. See Wyld.
Wildbore, Godfrey, 631. John, 570. Rob. 631. See Wyldbore.
Wildman, Major, 567, 602.
Wilford or Willford, Edw. 226. Francis, 213. Fran. Dr. 657, 702, 725, 882. Rog. 713.
Wilkins, 920, Biſhop, 805, 815, 817, 818, 819, 921. See Cheſter, Biſhop. Dr. 194, 269, 590, 778, 814, 868, 918, 919. John, 331. John, Dr. 576, 625, 658, 880, 875, 876.
Wilkinſon, 553, 597. Dr. 72, 127, 213, 246. Mr. 924. Hen. 332. 487, 666, 737. Hen. Dr. 935.
Willes, Hen. 772, 812.
Willet, James, 709.
William Archbiſhop of Cant. 323, 346, 405, 406, 584, 832, 854. Biſhop of Bangor, 584. Biſhop of Bath and Wells, 503, 584, 605. of Gloceſter, 489, 579, 584, 587, 605, 626. of St Davids, 584, 728. Prince Frederick of Naſſau, 149. See Naſſau, Prince.
Williams, Biſhop, 45, 192, 349. Mr. 919. Dan. 771, 893, 911. Dan. Dr. 788, 829. Dav. 924. Edw. 67. Dr. Griffith, 867. Sir Griffith, 804. J. 353, 533. John, Dr. 708. Sir Jo. 332. Owen, 781. Peter, 893. Phil. 327. Prieſt, 353.
Williamſon, Cæſar, 930. Rob. 218. Tho. 700, 853.
Willis, 698. J. 459. John, 571, 812. Nat. 231. Sam. 299. Tho. 74, 245, 300, 332, 345, 754, 896, 927. Tho. Dr. 673.
Willoughby, Fran. 104. Lady, 618. Lord, 11.
Willowes, Mr. 870.
Wills, Mr. 607. Sam. 933.
Willymot, James, 768.
Wilmer, John, 924.
Wilmore, Tho. 866.
Wilmot, John, Earl of Rocheſter, 533.
Wilsford, Dr. 251.
Wilſon, Dr. 358. Mr. 858. Char. 612. Edw. 777. Hen. 777, 781, 930 John, 221, 299, 491, 885, 886, 898. Matt. 504, 886. Mic. 478. Rob. 637, 911. Sam. 229. Tho. 372, 879. William, 797, 896.
Wilton, John, 203.
Wiltſhire, Geo. 526. Lawr. 538.
Wimpew, 253.
Winchelſea, 255. Earl, 144, 153, 161, 604. Lord, 146.
Wincheſter, Biſhop, 672, 720. See Winton, Town, 144.
Wincop, Tho. 879. Tho. Dr. 882.
Wind, Rich. 221.
Windham, Anne, 243. Hugh, 169. Mr. Serjeant, 23. Mr. Wadham, 198, 199, 271, 307.
Windſor Caſtle, 135. Lord, 535, 669, 811.
Winford, Sir John, 535.
Wingate, Edw. 67. Edm. 787.
Wingfield, John, 385. Richard, ibid. Sir Richard, 366.
Winnard, Tho. 790.
Winne, Edw. 481, 546.
Winniffe, Tho. 482.
Winnington, Mr. 749.
Winny, Sam. 903.
Winſton, Mr. 923. Sam. 376.
Winter, Dr. 934. Dr. Sam. 909. Mr. William, 18.
Winterton, Dr. Ralph, 192.
Winthorp, 532.
Winton, Biſhop, 88. See Wincheſter.
Wiſe, Sir Edw. 410, 895. James, 836. Tho. 210.
Wiſhart, Dr. 493. Geo. Dr. 703. Rob, 703.
Witham, Peter, 756.
Witherington, Ralph, 207.
Withers, George, 269, 352. his Character, 648, 859. Ralph, 601. Rob. 288.
Wittie, Dr. Rob. 239.
Wodenote, Theop. 231.
Wogan, Tho. 156, 178, 240.
Wolley, Edw. 388, Edw. Dr. 387, 543. John, 333.
Wolſeley, Charles, 320.
Wolſtenholme, Sir John, 376.
Womack, Dr. 251, 383. Laurence, 224, 247, 253, 264, 333.
Womock, Dr. 482, 611, 736. Lawrence, 386. Law. Dr. 429. See Woomach.
Wood, 80. Dr. 161, 183, 251, 254. Mr. 924. Ant. 595. Sir Hen. 422, 556, 653, Rich.

Rich. 916. Seth, 560, 780, 934. Tho. 326, 332, 333, 345. Will. 411, 666.
Woodal, Frederick, 912.
Woodbridge, Dr. 398. Mr. 301, 398, 431. John, 790.
Woodcock, Mr. 756, 908. Fran. 811. Tho. 751, 887.
Woodford, Sam 324.
Woodhead, Abraham, 598, 674.
Woodhouſe, Horatio, 786. Sir Phil. 210.
Woodman, Mr. 818. Matt. 917.
Woodrow, Mr. 577, 578, 580.
Woodward, Edm. 599. Geo. 751. Hezek. 309. Joſ. 814, 932. Mich. 219, 332. Mich. Dr. 790.
Woolnough, Hen. 836. Tho. 401, 487.
Woomach, Dr. Laurence, 880. See Womack.
Worceſter, Biſhop, 415, 423. his Account of the Conference between him and Mr. Baxter, 607 to 611, 625, 656. Biſhoprick, 71. Lord, 202. Marqueſs, 414, 419, 496.
Worſley, Rob. 390.
Worth, 440. Dr. 187, 195, 366, 918. Mr. 807.
Worthenbury Chapel, 551.
Worthington, 920. Dr. 755. Mr. 923. John, 127, 216, 222, 226. John, Dr. his Letters to Mr. Hartlibb, 867, 868, 871, 931. Nat. 375.
Wotton, Sir Hen. 860. Sam. 571.
Wowen, John, 899.
Wray, Sir Bourchier, 410. Sir John, 353. Sir Will. 338.
Wren, in the Tower, ſee Ely Biſhop, 14, 21, 175, 220, 596, 885. Mr. Son of Biſhop Wren, encouraged by Chancellor Hyde to anſwer the Leviathan, 16, 26, 194, 868. See Leviathan. Char. 220. Chriſt. 375. Dr. 84, 360, 861, 880, 881, 882. Matt. 252, 300, 534, 607, 875. Tho. 220, 332, 745, 884. Will. 220.
Wrench, Mr. Rich. 524.
Wreſſel, Nich. 903.
Wright, 115. Mr. 70, 95, 773, 921, Abraham, 218, 386, 488, 892. Chriſ. 309. Geo. 907. John, 527, 893. Peter, 496. Rob. 684. Sam. 934. Tho. 924. Will. 841.
Wroe, Rich. 888.
Wroth, Sir Hen 121.
Wyat, H. 332.
Wyche, Sir Cyril, 643.
Wycherley, Will. 316. See Wicherley.
Wylde, Dr. ſee Wild, 196. Sir Will. 699.
Wyldbore, 218, 237. John, 830.
Wyltſhire, Mr. 225.
Wynard, Mr. 599. Will. Eſq; ibid.
Wyndham, 186.
Wynne, Edw. 584. Morgan, 196, 587.

Y.

YANVIS, Will. 883.
Yarrington, Capt. 562.
Yate, John, 236. Tho. 219, 222.
Yates, 933. Dr. 508. Geo. 921. Rob. 913. Will. 934.
Yaxley, John, 203.
Yelverton, Sir Hen. 611, 703.
York, 116, 134. Archbiſhop, 368, 503, 507, 544. See Accepted, Archbiſhop. a Letter from the Archbiſhop and Biſhops of the Province to the lower Clergy, 564. Church, 544. City, an Account of its Antiquities, 76. Ducheſs, 382. her Character by Biſhop Morley, 385, 390, 611, 671. Duke, 105, 119, 128, 133, 141, 149, 157, 159, 160, 161, 163, 164, 166, 167, 171, 181, 185, 204, 216, 219, 247, 264, 303, 343, 356, 357, 360. declares his Marriage, 381. Biſhop Burnet's Account of it, 382, 414, 415, 419, 422, 424, 426, 479, 484, 486, 523, 524, 559, 560, 563. his Letters to the Earl of Peterborough, 577, 586, 595. his Religion, 599, 642, 653, 657, 676, 686, 696, 757, 829, 840, 878. See James Duke of York. Mr. 479. Sir Will. 893.
Young, 119. Dr. 481, 488, 822, 883. Mr. 603, 890. Edw. 41, 363, 584, 883. Edw. Dr. 591, 631, 744, 746. Father, 237, 661. Hen. 406. J. 775. John, Dr. 253. Patrick, 329. Ralph, 605. Roger, 923. Steph. 924, 372. Tho. 222, 778. Tho. Dr. 319. Will. 833.
Younger, Will. 372, 638.

Z.

ZANCHY, Sir Hieron. 73, 192.
Zouch, 570. Dr. 220. Rich. 217. Rich. Dr. 387, 401. Will. 238. See Souch.

FINIS.